HALLOWE'EN PARADE

On Monday of this week the first (to our knowledge) Hallowe'en Parade was held in Taneytown under the supervision of Hesson-Snider Post No. 120. Following the parade, consisting of young and old, dressed in many types of costumes and lead by the fine Legion Drum Corps a block par-ty and street Dance was held on York Street near the Square.

Quite a large crowd of people were present to hear Dusty Stardon and his Rhythm Ramblers and to witness the dancing and cake walk. Prizes were awarded to the participants in the parade as follows:

During the evening prizes donated by the merchants of town were giv-en out. The small children had been well remembered at the party given them on Friday evening, so contestants were twelve years or over. The winners were: Funniest individual costume, Mrs. Howell B. Royer; most original individual costume, Wayne original individual costume, Wayne Crum; best dressed, George Hughes; funniest couple, Donald Leister and Victor Geiman; most original couple, Mr. and Mrs. David Little; best dress ed couple, Mrs. Earle Markle and Nancy Smith; oldest person present in costume, David Little; winners in the potato race for the girls was Vickie Diller, for the boys Jack Webb and Billy Crapster; pie eating con-tests Stanley Frock, Billy Crapster and — Barnhart; sack race, Robert Waddell. The rainy evening on Friday did not dampen the spirit of the children for the Kiddies' party. The Fire-men's Building was crowded and the youngsters were treated to refreshments.

Let's make this an annual eventeveryone doing something to help the American Legion to entertain the children and grownups during this holiday

TRIP MADE IN THE INTEREST OF MERCHANDISING

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid left Mr. and Mrs. Bowning, motoring to here Wednesday morning, motoring to York, Pa., where they joined a group consisting of 75 members and wives of the AG Stores. This group boarded two busses and commuted to Cam-den, N. J., arriving there at 11 A. M. They were met by representatives of the Boscul Coffee Company who took them on a tour of their plant.

CHURCHMEN MEET AT TANEYTOWN

E & R Church Conference of Carroll County Held

Due to the inclemency of the weather there were only 75 men in attendance at the semi-annual Carroll Co. Minister-Laymen Consistorial Conference meeting held on Friday night at Grace E & R Church, Taneytown. A very tasteful turkey dinner was served by the Women's Guild of the host church, the invocaton hav-ing been given by the Rev. Mr. Morgan Andreas, minister of Grace Church.

Following the meal the men joined in some group singing led by Del-mont Koons. Miss Blanche Stull was the accompanist. Two selections, "To America" and "Praise and Adoration" were sung by the male quartette of the host church. It was com-prised of Murray Baumgardner, Ed-gar Fink, Delmont Koons and Harry Mohney.

Ernest Brillhart, Manchester, president of the conference, served as the toastmaster for the evening. The program featured the theme of Evan-gelism. The Rev. Mr. Leister, re-signed pastor of the Manchester Charge, introduced the first speaker, the Rev. Dr. Claude Snyder, St. Lou-is executive secretary of the De-partment of Town and Country Churches in the Board of National Missions.

Mr. Snyder said, "Evangelism Mr. Snyder said, "Evangelism must be a part of the program of every congregation on behalf of the pulpit and the pew. The minister must spiritually enrich the congre-gation. There must be a spiritual motivation which prompts the heart of ell in ell'the relationships of life. of all in all the relationships of life. There must be a removal of the barriers that keep us living in mental and social isolation. All laymen must give constant evidence of Christian living. All should give silent, daily witnessing of following after Christ." Dr. Snyder challenged all men to be more regular in their attendance of worship at the House of God as he said, "We are wrong in thinking that a 40% attendance of our members is good, and that 50% is very good. The weakness of our testimony is shown by the ready excuses we offer to escape service on our part to the church when we are challenged." He also urged all to have "informed atti-tudes on the basic social issues in county, state and nation needing loy-al action on the part of your people. We must bring pressure to bear upon those who make the final decisions. We must also unfold and integrate others into the fellowship of Christ. There is a movement from the city to the country and town and these people must be won for the Master. There is more needed than a mere invitation to church. A prolonged effort is needed to make all men a part of the activitity and life of the Hartsock, Jimmy Houck. church. All the auxiliary organiza- Grade One (Mrs. Gass tions of the church have an evangelistic sense in the life of the congregation. This tests the spirit of the organization. The fact that we do not own the congregation but are owned by God through the congregation should spur on the program of the church and the community. Each congregation must have a sense of fellowship before it can invite others into its group." Dr. Snyder concluded by saying. "our young mem-bers must be challenged to be faith-ful to their promises and obligations, and these must be met with a strong affirmative appeal, and this can best be accomplished as they receive faithful guidance from their parents already in the church." The second speaker, the Rev. J. Odell Zechman, minister of the Cavetown Charge, and synodical chairman of the committee on Evangelism, was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Ed-mund Welker, minister of Emmitsburg Church and president of the ministerium. As a son of the parsonage Mr. Zechman congratulated the laymen of Carroll County for working to-gether so well in their common tasks. Basing his opening remarks upon the thought of Plato, Rev. Zechman said, "To have a better society, we must have better individuals. By the grace of God the transformation takes place in man through the life of Jesus Christ. We are custodians of a divine recipe to change all men so the Kingdom of God can come. Our the Kingdom of God can come. Our task is to make Christians to become better Christians." He strongly reit-erated what Dr. Snyder said, as he said, "There must be a quickening of the spiritual life of the church. You have an ear of so much by maxim laymen can do so much by moving out into the community and having men become Christians. Our task is not to ask men to become Churchmen, but to become Christians. To assimilate people into the church is a very definite and vital part of the churchmen." He challenged all men with the thought that "Churches grow through the laymen promoting the evangelistic work of the church." He then concluded with the words of St. Paul who said, "O men keep that which has been entrusted into your care." The meeting closed with the singing of "Fairest Lord Jesus" af-ter which there was a period of informal fellowship.

The first shot will mark the pavement at the spot the signal is given; a second shot will mark the street where the brake pedal is first depressed; thus showing the driver's reaction time; and the third gun will be fired when the car is stopped, showing the dis-tance required for stopping. Because of the extreme hazards in making emergency stops at high speeds, the tests will be limited to 20, 30 and 40 miles per hour. Police drivers will be used for the highspeed tests.

The program will begin with a 30minute lecture and movie in the high school auditorium to be followed by the demonstration on the street. Students, teachers and traffic officers will do the actual driving for the tests. A group of students will do the measuring and recording of the osults

Mr. Pontius will also give a demonstration of correct and incorrect methods of turning a car around along with other safe driving rules. Farm Bureau safety demonstration programs have been given before the student bodies of more than 1400 high schools and colleges in 14 eastern states. Their popularity is evidenced by many invitations for return engagements and an increasing demand for the program to be brought to other schools. Mr. Shower said that invitation is extended to the general public to attend.

Mrs. Slagen and I have been reading with much pleasure your travel-ogue sketches in the Carroll Record. In Part III, October 21, you refer to the Land of the Sky, and state that this name was given to the Asheville area by Christian Reid. Christian Reid was the pen name of a woman, Mrs. Frances Fisher Tierman, a resi-dent of Salisbury. The house in which she lived is No. 327 W. Innes St. I pass it on every trip into town. The college is on the same street. In front of the house, on a grass plot in the middle of the street, is a granite memorial monument with this inscription on it:

APPLE BUTTER MAKING

If the farmer has a good orchard, and no farm is complete without one, he or better the women are now busy preparing to make that big barrel kettle of apple butter for winter use.

What a gala time we used to have down on the farm at apple butter making time. All hands were set to work and kept busy peeling, coring and slicing apples placed in tubs of water to add to the kettle as soon as the barrel of cider had been half boiled away. Then as the apples were added, and this began about twilight, the stirring began, two hands (or better four hands) to the job, usually a young man and a young woman. How many happy matches have been made in the great Free State, at apple butter making would be a pleasant thing to know.

The old negro quarters still standing on the farm had an immense fire place, stone bottom and at least ten feet wide, with a hugh iron crane at i the right side on which the apple butter kettle was hung.

About midnight the full cooked, well browned mass had been well best part to us youngsters was the whit leather, that clung to the top of the kettle.

Do you make apple butter? If so you know what I mean. W. J. H.

> EDWARD H. MILLER. EARL BOWERS, Auct. CARL HAINES, Clerk. 10-14-4 10-14-4:

Reports in the Capital show that 3,800,000 workers are out of employment, plus several million more who are "partly unemployed."

All this idleness of workers occurs at a time when the Nation and its institutions need millions of workers to carry on the operations to produce goods, machines, and thousands of different kinds of food, clothing, and material, which to every family are the necessities of life. As might have been expected 'our country is growing poor, and slipping steadily backwards at a time when we ought to be living in the lap of comfort and luxury. When every man should be on the job the workers have walked out on their employers, obeying like sheep a small number of labor bosses for the newly-invented reason that workers must be given "pensions" apparently instead of wages.

The steel mills, coal mines, railroads and factories of all kinds, small and large have always kept the wheels of progress running-but now, when we need them most they go tooting a "new world to conquer," viz: Old Age Pensions.

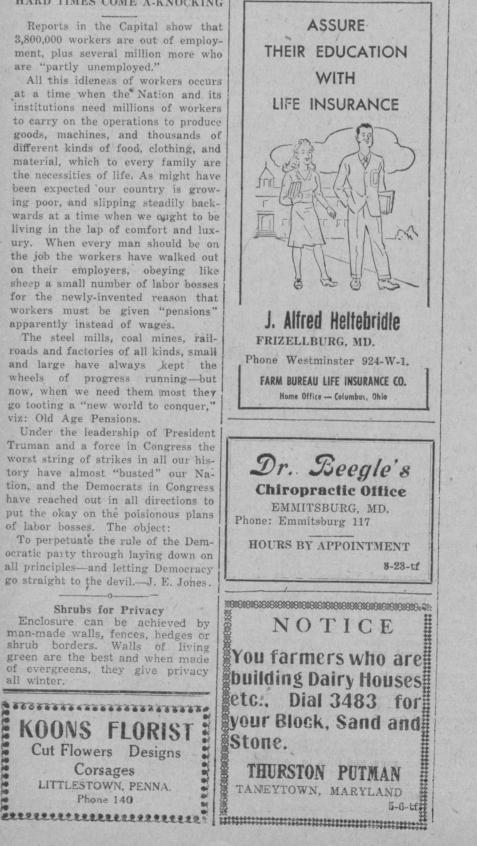

Under the leadership of President Truman and a force in Congress the worst string of strikes in all our history have almost "busted" our Nation, and the Democrats in Congress have reached out in all directions to put the okay on the poisionous plans of labor bosses. The object:

To perpetuate the rule of the Democratic party through laying down on all principles-and letting Democracy go straight to the devil .-- J. E. Jones.

The Power that made Buick Famous

TF you want to know what's "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902-U.S. Patent No. 771095-and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the ideathen. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freelygets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily - others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel-and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valvein-head principle.

And more recently-with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available-a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"-and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And-we might add-it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

FEESERSBURG

The Hallowe'en parade sponsored by the Lions Club of Union Bridge by the Lions Club of Union Bridge attracted a goodly array of witches, goblins, and comic strip characters Monday evening when the children and grown-ups of the community turned out to see and be seen and cut a few capers. One small boy wanted to know why the grown ups acted so silly but when he is on the shady side of 40, he will know that it's always the grown up folks who do the silly things whether its parading as a comic strip character or just being in their natural role as mother and Dad. Hallowe'en was invented for every one, the young and the not so young. In olden Druidic days it was the night when Saman, lora of death held carnival. Good people built huge bon fires on the highest hills to ward off the legions of evil that winged through the darkness on black wings. Civilization gradually tied Hallowe'en to the christian festival Hallowe'en to the christian festival of All Saint's Day and the Koman festival honoring Pomona, the god-dess of fruit trees. When the chil-dren duck for apples now, its in mem-ory of the forgotten Pomona. Like avoin the children the set on the set of every other custom Hallowe'en has changed with the times. Childish pranks have given way to Vandalism and elaborate plans have to be made to keep children and adults busy that night so that one's property is safe. It might not be a bad idea if now and then a real witch did ride a broomstick and the "old haunted house" was still standing in every community.

Virginia Lee, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fink fell from a sofa and fractured her collar bone and shoulder. She was taken to the Annie Warner Hospital, in Gettysburg, Monday and a cast applied, which she will have to wear for several weeks.

It passed in a moment, but I often wondered about. Now, I know it's ple a long hidden instinct handed down from our cave dweller ancestors, tell-ing us it's time too, to prepare for winter.

The triple three card party celebrated its annual Hallowe'en dinner, at which time the families of the members were invited to enjoy the festivities with them. At an early hour they motored to Big Pipe Creek Park, where Mr. and Mrs. George Shriner awaited to receive them. The room was aglow with burning embers in the large open fireplace making it a most welcome sight as we came in out of the chilly rain. After greetings were exchanged a long table was arranged in the center of the room and laden with many good things to tempt the appetite. Twenty-four members and invited guests sat down to enjoy these boun-ties. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing various games Mr. and Mrs. Shriner contributed much in making it a pleasant evening.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY DINNER

The annual dinner meeting of the Carroll Co. Historical Society was held at the Methodist Church, Westminster, Thursday, Nov. 3, with a large attendance of local members also some from Baltimore and Way-nesboro. This being the tenth anniversary of the society a special program of great interest was prepared and greatly enjoyed.

An award was presented to the Society for the outstanding work done in collecting data of historical interest regarding Carroll Co. for having obtained the most complete record of veterans of World War II, this due largely to the untiring effort of Dr. Arthur Tracey, Hampstead.

November 6-12 Is National 4-H Club Week

Many 4-H clubs are planning programs for National Ach.evement Week of the organization which is November 6-12. Much of America is unfamiliar with 4-H club purposes and the good 4-H does. "How can we reach those persons who have not learned about our clubs." members write, "what should we try to show the public during achievement week?"

The aims of the week are: to report the year's total accomplishments of 4-H members; to highlight the contributions of 4-H members to food production and conservation; to aid parents in understanding the accomplishments of their boys and girls; to recognize individual achievement; to develop plans for the coming year and to stimulate enrollment.

In many states, clubs will be reorganized and goals set for the coming year. Nationally, as well as on a state basis, the week will feature greetings to club members by prominent government officials.

The public may be reached through newspaper releases and advertisement, circulars, display cards on streetcars and busses and displays in stores and store windows. Achievement award banquets may be held and exhibits featuring projects.

The challenge to leaders during this special week was expressed by the late Dr. C. B. Smith, former assistant director of the federal ex-, tension service.

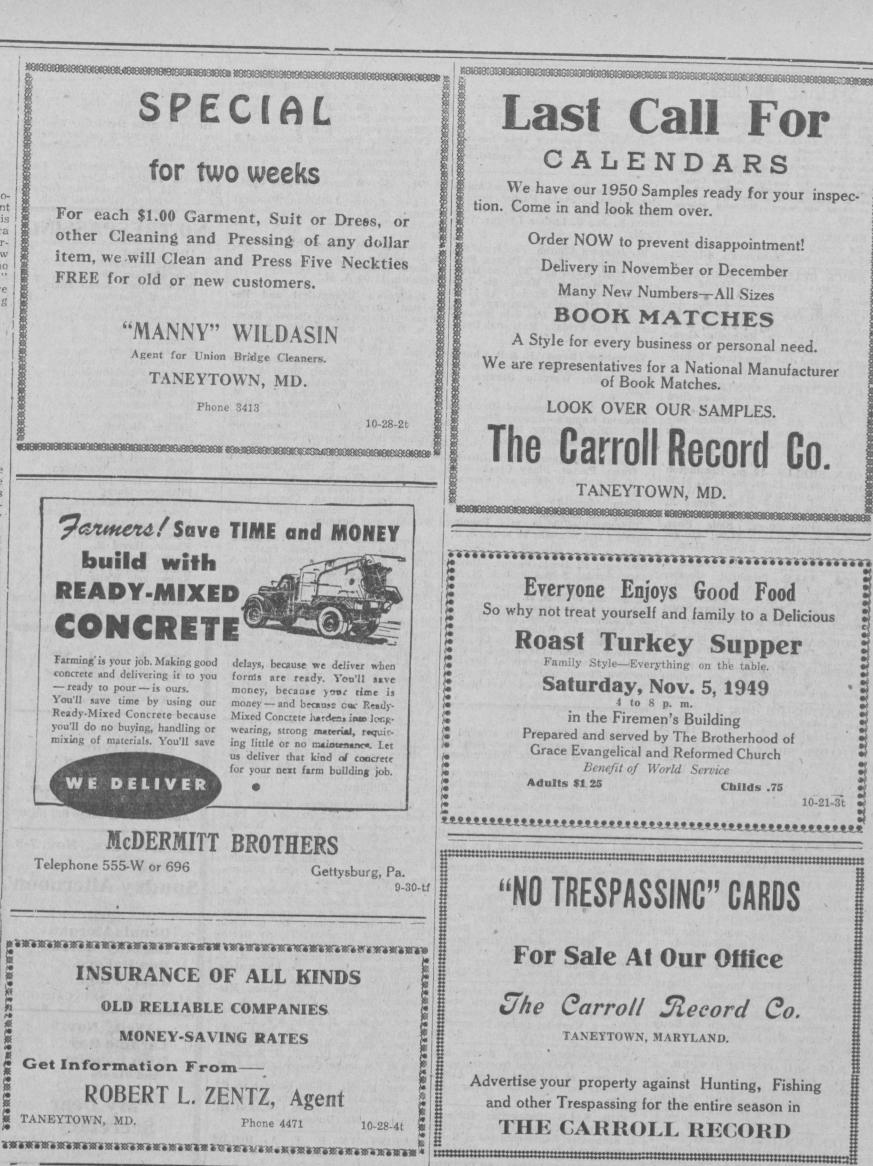

"If we continue in 4-H work to stress great living in the minds of rural youth and train men and women who have regard for efficiency, 4-H club work will grow."

Prepare for the Harvest

A THOUGH the Bible tells us that in the five porches of Bethesda "lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water" (John 5:3), Jesus healed but one man from among them. Perhaps others were unaware of the Master's presence or failed to recognize him and did not feel the power of the healing Christ because they were still so wrapped up in themselves. Are we sometimes so fettered by material beliefs, so blinded by the opaqueness of self-love, that we cannot perceive the healing Christ, ever at hand to bless?

The harvest time of healing begins for us when we are ready to drop some of our worldly beliefs and materiality. Then the desire to understand and obey God, Spirit, makes us receptive of Truth. It opens the door to Christ, God's spiritual idea, who says (Revelation 3:20), "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."

In order to admit the Christ into consciousness there must be faith in God and willingness and determination to forsake old landmarks of sin, ignorance, and superstition. Every effort to be better, to forsake erroneous thinking and acting, is a step in regeneration.

The Bible says (Proverbs 16:1), "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord."...

The man at the pool had surely reached his time of harvest through preparation of the heart. Jesus' pure spiritual discernment readily detected the unspoken desire to forsake sin and rise higher, and he blessed him accordingly. Another incident illustrating preparation of thought and consequent readiness for healing is related in Acts (14:8-10): It is that of a man whose feet were so crippled that he had never walked. He was listening intently to Paul preaching. The account tells us that Paul, "perceiving that he had faith to be healed," bade him stand up, and the man leapt up and walked. . . .

"Faith to be healed" is important. Jesus often commended the faith of one whom he had healed. Humility and faith, linked with inspiration and spiritual understanding, reap a rich harvest of spiritual healing.... Healing is at hand when thought is prepared to acknowledge unreservedly as a present fact the perfection of man in God's image and likeness. We must not think of resurrection and salvation as something attainable only in the future or after death.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has written in "Unity of Good" (p. 11): "Jesus required neither cycles of time nor thought in order to mature fitness for perfection and its possibilities. He said that the kingdom of heaven is here, and is included in Mind; that while ye say, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest, I say, Look up, not down, for your fields are already white for the harvest; and gather the harvest by mental, not material processes."—The Christian Science Monitor

God Our Comfort Lesson for November 6, 1949

A<sup>S</sup> THE ENGLISH language keeps on changing, words do not always keep on meaning what they once did. "Comfort" is one of these. When our Bible was translated into English in 1611, the translation most English-speaking people use, the word "comfort" had" a b i g g e r meaning than most people put into it nowadays. We think of it as meaning soothing; but it is a bigger idea than that. God is not merely a soothing Dr. Foreman

God. We think of "comfort" as meaning to make comfortable; but it is a stouter word than that. God does not always make his people comfortable. The word means to strengthen, to steel against fear and despair, to put backbone into people.

"Fear Not, O Worm!"

AT THE TIME of the prophecies we study this week, the Israelites had been kicked around a good deal. They had felt the conqueror's boots, they were discouraged, as all good people are when somehow God seems to be letting evil forces triumph. Their little world had split wide apart, their little nation had been blown to the winds.

To those people, torn by terrors and bowed down by wretchedness, people who were in serious danger of developing a once-for-all "inferiority complex," people who were about to lose all their backbone, the great prophet brings his messages: "Comfort ye my people, saith your God."

The whole idea is in this one sentence (Is. 41:14): "Fear not, O worm Jacob! . . . I am your helper, saith the Lord." God does not in h

God does not indulge his people in foolish pride. Beside the Almightly they are worms, insects. Nevertheless, worm though he may be, the man who trusts in God will not be afraid. He will not trust in his own powers, he will not trust in luck, he will trust in God.

A worm by itself is nothing; but with God on his side, the weakest of men can say with Paul, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" God's men do not get their courage up by flexing their muscles or admiring themselves. They grow in courage as they grow in the knowledge of God.

Goodness And Power

ANY ONE who saw "Edward, My Son" will remember the tragedy of that family. A boy's character went slowly to pieces, because his father was determined that nothing should be too good for him. To gain his purpose the father ran rough-shod over everyone who stood in his way, and eventually ruined the lives of all around him, including his son's and his own. The mother, on the other hand, could see, as the father could not, what his indulgence was doing to the boy, making him a weakling and a rat. But she was too weak to stand up against her husband, and her life too was ruined. That story is a kind of parable.

The prophet reveals a God who is both powerful and good; but suppose God were only good but not powerful, or only powerful but not good? Then the world would be in a mess, as that boy Edward was in a mess.

But these three are all in the same God. A God who is power only, might do as Edward's father did, destroy his children without even intending to do so. A God who is goodness only, might want to do right by his world yet not be able to do so, like Edward's mother. A God who knew what was right but neither wanted nor was able to do much about it, would not be a God at all.

God Is Not Weary

SUPPOSE GOD were indeed powerful, good and wise, and yet grew tired from time to time? Suppose all God's good qualities came and went, unpredictably, like the wind on a spring day?

No; God is the Maker and Keeper of Promises, the Covenant God. He does not grow faint or weary; that is our anchor of comfort.

The earth changes, and men with it; but the Word of the Lord abides forever. His "covenant of peace" does not waver. We do not need to lean gingerly on the Almighty. He will bear all our weight.

U.N. Extends Control Over Narcotics

The General Assembly of the United Nations recently approved a new protocol extending international control over a number of synthetic drugs which had been developed in recent years and had remained outside the scope of previous conventions on the control of narcotics. Above are some of the drugs brought under international control by the new Protocol. Previous conventions covered only natural narcotics, such as opium, cocaine and morphine.

Will you leave these to your children?

Men have died to leave you these 4 symbols of freedom:

A door key – your right to lock your door against illegal government force and prying.

(Fourth Amendment, U. S. Constitution) A Holy Bible – symbol of your right to worship as you wish.

(First Amendment, U. S. Constitution) A pencil – freedom to speak or write what you think, whether you agree with the government or not. (First Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

And a free ballot - your right to choose the kind of government you want - your protection against government tyranny. (Article I, U. S. Constitution)

These symbols have no meaning in countries where government controls everything – for there the individual man or woman has no freedoms. But there are people who are trying to give the U. S. government more and more control over American life. "Let the government start," they say, "by taking over certain industries and services — the doctors, the railroads, the electric light and power companies."

Most of these people – like most Americans – don't want a socialistic U. S. A. They have other reasons for government control. But when government, moving step by step, controls enough things, you have a socialist government, whether you want it or not. You'll be controlled, too. Then what freedoms will you be able to pass on to your children?
