In elaborating on these two objectives Mr. Hellman stressed the importance of organizations such as Kiwanis setting the example by fol-Withur Mehring attended the opening ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hoagland, two roads could be followed, one the two roads could be followed, one the pathway captioned indifference or apathy, having such guideposts as too much trouble, don't have time, what's the use, and why should I, or the other to a pathway containing the following signs to a more full and happier way of life for both the club and the individual members. Upon this highway one might find the following sign posts, progressing citizenship, recposts, progressing citizenship, recognition of individual responsibilities, the desire for freedom of relig-ion, speech, freedom from want and freedom from fear, and self govern-ment. He stated that by following this latter pathway, those Kiwanians who would do so would enjoy the

Hugh Jackson at several important meetins held at the nation's capitol and in so doing he served as the spokesman for Kiwanis International at these offers It should be served as the spokesman for Kiwanis International at these offers It should be served. International at these affairs. It seems quite evident from what he learned that we as a nation are definitely experienzing a period of cold war, and that the only successful way to meet this challenge victoriously is to experience greater unity than has before been demonstrated. Mr. Hellman had the privilege of sitting in on a meeting with the European Construction Administration, commonly known as the E. C. A., headed by Mr. Paul Hoffman who is the President of the Studebaker Corporation and is on leave from this company to administer the affairs of this organization. He stated that the job thus far accomplished by the E. C. A. has been an admirable one and that their organization is to continue to function for another year. He further informed those present that Ki-wanis International concurs in the findings of the Hoover Commission. Despite the mistakes that may or may not have been made by the State Department, Mr. Hellman stated that, we as Americans should keep ourselves informed as to the affairs of today and direct our prayers and guidance of those who have the responsibility of leading the affairs of this department. In concluding his remarks he stated that the United Nations organization despite the many obstacles with which it is faced has in the last 18 months averted three wars in the near East and that in addition to this, through the efforts of this organization, much has been done toward the alleviation of human suffering in some of the less fortunate countries of the world. There will be no meeting of the local Club at Taney Inn on next Wednesday, however, on Tuesday all members of Kiwanis will join with those of the Lions Club and meet at Basehoar's restaurant in Littles-town, Pa. On Wednesday the 26th as many members as possible are urged to attend the inter-club meeting to be held at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore. On May 3 there will be another ladies night, the meeting in charge of Kiwanian George Harner.

MINSTREL SHOW A SUCCESS

The Minstrel Show sponsored by the Health & Welfare Committee of the Taneytown Lions Club with Kermit Reid acting as chairman of the program, and presented by the Keys-ville Homemakers' Club in the local high school auditorium on Thursday evening, April 20 was a good success as evidenced by the large attendance. This public interest shown was appreciated by the Lions Club. It was the first show of its kind to be presented in Taneytown for a number of years and everyone who had the privilege of attending experienced

This is one way to get to work

In an emergency, telephone workers always seem to find a way to reach their posts. Without call they often volunteer for emergency assignments. During a recent flood, one operator came to work in a rowboat. In a heavy snowstorm, one group arrived on skis and snowshoes, another in a milk wagon. One girl even came in a hearse. This spirit of willingness and determination has become a telephone tradition. We call it "the spirit

For buying and selling: for news worth telling

In business as well as personal matters, distance is no barrier for Long Distance. Use this fast, low-cost telephone service to locate extra "hands" or repair parts for machinery . . . to find your best buys and your most profitable markets. Use it also to keep in close touch with faraway relatives and friends.

A word to be respected

When you hear the word "emergency" on your telephone party line, it usually means there's no time to lose. That's why it's important to give up the line quickly when another party explains why he must make an emergency telephone call. The "good neighbor" policy on party lines works both ways. FEESERSBURG

The registration of future first graders took place Monday at the Elmer Wolfe School with 20 being registered. This was about half of those expected. The county health doctor and nurses were present to examine each child and Dr. T. Legg gave immunization shots to those who needed them. Mrs. Truman Myers, Mrs. Paul Reese and Mrs. Charles Messler, Jr, helped with the registration.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Miller, daughter Virginia and son, Stevie; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tanner, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davies and son, Carl, of Discount Villers Mr. of Pleasant Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lease and son, Charles, Jr., of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilhide and son, Earl II and Mrs. Frank Martin.

Music lovers of Baltimore and vi-cinity were given a rare treat Monday evening when Arturo Tos-canini and the N. B. C. Symphony Orchestra stopped off in Baltimore on their cross-country tour and gave a concert at the Lyric Theatre. About 6,000 persons jammed the hall to see the world famous conductor draw from the orchestra, music that both the music lovers and critics call "perfection of orchestral performance in our time." Toscanini is 83, yet has the vigor and tireless energy which makes him want tot bring his music to all those who wish to hear it. There must have been many who were unable to get tickets to hear him, but thanks to the radio and recordings everyone, everywhere that likes good music is familiar with his orchestra.

Sunday visitors of the Earl Wilhides were: Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. John Koch, of Baltimore. In the evening they attended Winter's Church to hear the oint Lutheran Parish choir sing the Easter Cantata "Our Living Lord' by Ira B. Wilson.

Wilbur Shenfey, Westminster known by many in our community by his association with the Lutheran Brotherhood was badly burned in an accident and is at the Maryland General Hospital, where his condition was considered serious.
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Staub and children, of Keysville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fink, Sunday. Sunday visitors of the Russell Bohns were: Mr. and Mrs. Claude Deberry and two daughters.

Under the sponsorship of the El-mer Wolfe P-T. A the Keysville-De-tour Homemakers' Club gave a minstrel show in the school auditorium Wednesday evening. The performance was well received and the ladies who took part are to be congratulated for their talent. The performance included two acts. In Act I the Ladies' Aid, meeting at the home of Tabitha Plunkett, decided to fill its treasury by giving a minstrel show. In Act II, the minstrel was presented. The cast was made up of the following persons: Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Mrs. Miles Neidig, Mrs. Cecil Priest, Mrs. Ralph Dinterman, Mrs. Luther Dilly, Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. James Coshun, Mrs. Floyd Wiley, Mrs. Edward Co-shun, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Mrs. Donald Harner, Mrs. Melvin Bostian, Mrs. Lulu Birely, Mrs. Robert Stine, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner, Mrs. Loren Austin, Mrs. Earl Snook, Thelma and Ramona Snook. Miss Vallie Shorb was the pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Pfoutz gave a party for their son, Bobby, and 16 of his classmates Saturday evening from 7 to 10 P. M., in honor of Bobby's 13th daughter, Friday evening. birthday. The young people spent a Mrs. Grace Warren, spental M very happy evening playing games. watching television and doing justice to the refreshments. Birthdays can never come around too often at this age, especially when someone gives a party.

To anyone suffering from pride. even in its most innocent form, a visit to any public library will chase it from the heart. As one surveys the mighty array of sages, saints, historians, scientists, poets and philosophers whose treasures one will never be able to admire—still less enjoy—the brief tenure of our existence here dominates mind and spirit Think of all the wonderful tales that have been told, and well told, which you will never have time to know. Think of all the searching inquiries into matters of great consequence which you can never pursue. Think of all delighting or disturbing ideas that you will never share. Think of all the mightly labors which have been accomplished for your service, but of which you will never reap the harvest. Then think of your pride and see if it is still in your heart. Chief concern among the farmers right now is the weather. The cold wind and lack of rain have played havoc with grass and pasture. Last year this time cattle were grazing in meadows and fields with grass a foot deep-this spring it is barely an inch high. Wheat and barley looks stunted too. It is too early to get pessimistic, but one hopes that it will not be a dry season.

The Elmer Wolfe P.-T. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting in the school auditorium Monday evening, April 24th, at 8 P. M. Mrs. Donald McIntosh will be in charge of the program which will be a musical one and very interesting. The public and parents will get a first hand showing of the musical talent of our school children. There will also be nominations for officers of the P.-T.

A. for next year.

Speaking of musical talent our English mocking bird is back and spends the entire night singing a solo from our house roof. We wish someone would explain to us why he or she insists on singing when everycert and imitated every bird we had ever heard. How long the concert lasted we can't say for sleep finally overtook us.

It's too bad that their married life was patterned on their linen show-ers: They thought in terms of "his" and "hers" instead of "ours."

of evil from which obnoxious odors emanate.

As whether we need better homes, depends upon these influences and examples coming from our homes. I am not assuming the role of a judge or a critic of modern life, only so far as to recommend to each of you a self induced survey of community and community life, and then to urge that corrections be made to correstant to the covering design for home pond to the original design for home making as intended and planned by the loving Father of all mankind.

Now the modern trend in house building has robbed the home making possibilities of many of its en-couraging features. We have atcouraging features. We have attempted to economize on construction of houses by over lapping the borders of homes and thus the centralization of social life, that once had the flavor of individual homes, has changed the course of our social choices and individual professoraes into an appartment. vidual preferences, into an apartmental view of living, influencing and les-sening our particular preference for anything personal or outstandingly different. We are lost in the group. In short we follow the masses regardless of where we are going.

Thus the apartmentalize homes suffer a great handicap from the exercise of personal wishes and at the ercise of personal wishes and at the same time have been robbed of the possibility of the development of a possibility of the development of a helpful and cooperative attitude in life. The crowded portions of our population are doing very little towards building home life on a firmer basis for progress or endurance.

The heart of home life is affection, a direct outgrowth of love, and today our homes, at least a great many of them do not recognize this basic reason for their existence.

As citizens of a rural section of

As citizens of a rural section of pur state we have so many reasons our state we have so many reasons for holding fast to the privilege af-forded us, in our individual endeavforded us, in our individual endeavors, for progress and improvements in our mode of living, that our city friends do not have. Hence it is almost obligatory for us to conserve the strength and dependability of our homes, by fostering that attribute of love and affection for one another that will eventually drive out hatred and prejudice and hypocrisy and intolerance from our community life and bring into the foreground the possibility of better homes. possibility of better homes.

Now just a moment about our gardens. Many a person has been fooled by the notion that a garden is a matter of luck, however you can get a better conception of a better garden not by luck but by licks. Good luck may come in some parts of the luck may come in some parts. luck may come in spasmodically, but good licks are needed continuously. The garden idea of our rural sections The garden idea of our rural sections have suffered a great deal from the change in our farming methods, the old time garden with its neatly arranged squares of ground nicely kept in shape by a board boundary, with clusters of flowers at each corner, and beds of perennials along the borders, is now a thing of the past the tractor cultivation has uprooted all such tor cultivation has uprooted all such spots of beauty and now in long rows everything is planted to gain the end in cultivation with the least manual labor. However this does not prohibit the development of better gardens. Each one of us, either farmer or farmer's wife ought to have at least contact enough with mother earth, to plant and cultivate and develop certain plants, or shrubs or flowers, as will not only beautify the garden but will produce sufficient of everything is planted to gain the end garden but will produce sufficient of the necessary vegetables as will suf-fice for the needs of the family. Bet-Jonathan Dorsey, Sykesvine, Ma. Sterling R. Schaeffer

The ideas of homes and gardens are apparently interlocked with one another. Better homes built upon a fondness of the best in life will naturally look to mother nature to assist in making home life attractive, and better gardens producing and charming us with their beauty and worth will make our home life worth

should any business

All that present income taxpayers ask is that all business pay federal income tax on business incomes in exactly the same way and on the same basis. Co-operatives and other big tax-exempt business corporations DO NOT do this. They are able to escape payment of close to a billion dollars in federal income taxes every year. Since they are in direct competition with private TAXPAYING business, this is the worst kind of tax injustice. Paying income taxes on profits will not put Co-ops or anyone else out of business any more than paying income taxes puts presently-taxed firms out of business.

WRITE your congressman and senators!

Right now Congress is asked to INCREASE present income tax rates. Tell your Congressman and Senators to tax the untaxed first before increasing yours or anyone else's federal income tax rates. Nation Going Soft

Lesson for April 23, 1950

FTER the fraternity dance one of the "brothers" shot another, for no good reason. Well, there was a reason of a sort. The killer was drunk, on liquor the fraternity had bought and served him. His excuse, when arrested, was that when he was

"tight" he was trigger-happy prominent motion picture star divorces her husband for cruelty. It comes out at the trial that he was Dr. Foreman mean anyhow, and that all his meannesses got worse when he was drunk. One wonders: Did she know

Every day the papers carry re-ports of cars that "went out of control" with serious or fatal results. Careful reading of the story too often brings out the fact that the boys had been visiting a night-spot or two before the crash. Survivors will tell the police they couldn't have been drunk, they had only had a few beers. Well, you don't have to be drunk to let a car get out from your control. This writer personally has observed a driver who had had exactly one beer run a car right of the pavement in broad sunlight.

him very well before she married

Gets Monotonous, Doesn't It?

A SEX CRIME is common who sheds middle-aged man who sheds SEX CRIME is committed by tears over it afterward and car hardly remember anything about it "I never would have done it if I had been sober," he says . . . A girl i found murdered in a men's room ing-house, a nice girl too.

Nobody was drunk-they had only been taking a few drinks
. . . A 27-year-old woman was shot and killed during an argument with her sister-in-law. The shooting, it was claimed, was accidental. They had been having some friendly beers in a near-by tavern "for a couple of hours" before the shooting.

After they got home, there was an argument. One woman got her husband's revolver out to scare the other woman, and the first thing she knew, she was being arrested for murder. Her husband told the that when sober his wife wa "deathly scared" of guns.

(Beer, the brewers' ads tell us, the friendly drink, it is the drink of moderation; "Beer Belongs." I dees, indeed, but where? Possibly that unfortunate killer-woman has believed what the ads told her.) .

The Truth About Liquor

WELL . . . this could be strung out to the length of several col- T. Tracey 101 102 95 298 umns, without half trying. Th above items are not from som chamber of horrors conducted h the W.C.T.U., not from a sermon k some Anti-Saloon league preacher but gathered from newspaper item from a few days' papers in a cit which certainly is not prejudice against liquor.

The truth about liquor can never be learned from the advertising pages, it can be better learned from the news columns. Better yet, if you want to know the truth about it, ask the lawyers, doctors and ministers you know. Ask the lawyers if their business would be brisker or slower if liquor were not in existence.

Ask the doctors whether steady drinkers have stronger or weaker resistance to disease. Ask the min isters if they know of any troubles in their congregations due to liquor (And if even church people have troubles with it, what about people with no religion?)

Drink and Doom

TT IS NOT TRUE that if liquor were totally abolished from the earth, all the troubles of mankind would vanish. Man has too much meanness in him. A sober scoun drel is one of the worst. But it is true that liquor lends itself all too easily to all sorts of troubles, all sorts of sins. When Amos thunders against the evils of his time, drunkenness is one of the sins prominent

Remember that in Amos' time there was no whisky, no brandy, no distilled liquors, only "mild" stuff like wine. Every denunciation of drink in the Bible is directed against what would now be called light wine and beers.

One thing is as certain now as it was in Amos' time: A nation that insists on having its liquor is not the nation God will insist on saving when its day of doom arrives.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown Agriculture 4-H Club held their monthly meeting, March 27, 1950, at 8 P. M. at the Club house at the home of Mary Null. Our meeting was opened with our 4-H Pledge with 24 members and chicken was an Mambers answared 6 visitors present. Members answered the roll-call response by naming a large river. We also welcomed one new member to our club. Mr. J. R. Schabinger, our assistant county agent attended our meeting and helps us with our problems. We had the reading of the minu as and approved. and we also had the treasure report.

In our old business we had a report of our bake sale which was held March 4, 1950. Had a report from the committee that was in charge of purchasing a new projector for our club. Had a report of our rrofits that we had made from our source dance that was held March 25, 1950.

In our new business we discussed that we would like to have another square dance within a few months. We are now planning to hold a skat-ing party. The committee that has charge of it are: C vin Amoss and Douglas Waddell. Plans were made to take pictures of each club mem-her and their projects. Had reports from the following club members:
Donald and Robert Bollinger and Douglas and Harry Waddell on their Spring Hog Show. We also had two ew elections as follows: Vice-President. Mary Klein, and Correspo ing Secretary, Charles Gartrell, Mr. Schabinger presented our club with a banner for our splendid work that we had done throughout the year of 1949. Had a demonstration on "Making Rope and Rope Halter" by Robert and Donald Pollinger. Robert and Donald Bollinger.

Our meeting was then adjourned. Refreshments were served to all. We welcome all new members.
