TANEYTOWN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Plans for the annual Vacation Bible School were completed last Tuesday night in the preparatory institute held in the Lutheran Church, according to a report by the dean, Rev. Charles S. Owen. Miss Mabel Dawson, Director of Religious Education of the Maryland-Delaware Council of Churches, led the institute. Miss Dawson is very popular in Taneytown. With her came Miss Edith Martin, a recognized leader in the religious education circles of Baltimore. These trained leaders met with each teacher privately and showed them how to use the course of study and correlate the various projects of work, play, worship, and hand crafts. The effort proved very illuminating to the teachers and will make our school this year more effective than ever before.

The Vacation Bible School, slated to begin on June 19, has become an outstanding summer event in the community. It has proved popular with both parents and children. After a week's vacation the children become delighted with this program of interesting and helpful activities for them. It is unlike the public school classes in that the sessions are much more informal. The teachers and students work out together their various projects of interest. Our largest attendance on record was last year, the first year that it was held in the public school building.

Through the courtesy of Prof. Shower, rooms have already been assigned to the various classes which will meet there from June 19-30.

The following faculty have been selected to head the various departments: Kindergarten: Mrs. A. W. Garvin, assisted by Janey Flickinger. This department is for children 5 or over who have not yet been to school. Grade 1. Miss Beniah Engler assisted by Mary Jo Robb. Grade 2. Mrs. William Copenhaver assisted by Shirley Null and Nancy Heiner. Grade 3. Mrs. Harry Mohney assisted by Joyce Owen and Loraine Sauble. Junior Department, Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner assisted by Janice Naylor and Jane Gilds. Intermediate Department, Eugene and Betty Stambaugh.

The Arts and Crafts for girls will be in charge of Caroline Shriener, Wanda Mehring and Jane Gilds. The mechanical crafts will be in charge of Rev. A. W. Garvin, and Rev. Morgan Andreas will have charge of the sports.

The following sons of members were present: John Breth, son of Sam Breth, John Skiles, Jr., son of John Skiles; Francis Nelson, son of Darrell Nelson; Kenneth Wright, son of Raymond Wright, and Donald Smith son of David Smith. Mr. Edward Howarth was again introduced as the guest of Kiwanian Wallace Yingling. Next week's meeting will be in charge of Harmon Albaugh of the House and Reception Committee and will be centered about a topic which should be of interest to every member, that being Greater Safety on the Highways.

"FARM MEETING" OF BANKERS

Officers and directors of all banks in Carroll, Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, and Washington counties have been invited to participate in an agricultural meeting next Wednesday, June 14. This was announced today by Herbert S. Hyatt, Damascus, chairman of Group Two, Maryland Bankers' Association.

This will be the fifth in a series of six meetings which are being held in every section of the state between May 31 and June 15, sponsored by the Maryland Bankers' Association, the University of Maryland, and the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, these meetings are designed to acquaint bank officers and directors with changing farm conditions, to illustrate the interdependence of agriculture and banking, and to emphasize the harmonious relationships which exist in Maryland among farmers, bankers, and the agricultural college of their state university. A similar series of meetings was held in Maryland during the fall of 1947.

Beginning at 3:00 p. m. (Daylight Saving Time), the bankers will visit the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Kline, Mt. Airy, Carroll County, to observe methods of crop rotation, soil conservation, and other examples of good farm management. Various details of the farm's operation will be explained by L. C. Burns, agricultural agent of Carroll County, who will be in charge of this tour. He will be assisted by several specialists from the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Maryland. According to Mr. Burns, the Kline farm was selected because it is representative of the area and is centrally-located.

The evening session will be held at the Mt. Airy Volunteer Fire Department. It will be preceded by a dinner at which the Baltimore Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank will be host. Edward A. Wayne, Vice-President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, will serve as chairman of this session at which the economic and financial background of the Kline farm will be described. The general purpose of this discussion will be to illustrate the close relationship between constructive banking and modern, progressive farming practices. It will also show the important part which credit (or the expenditure of capital funds) and the "know how" of the professional agricultural workers have contributed toward increasing the value and productivity of the farm.

In addition to bank officers and directors, representatives of various State and Federal agencies, as well as "others active in the field of agriculture," have been invited to participate in this meeting.

Hubert P. Burdette, President of the First National Bank, Mt. Airy, was instrumental in planning this series of agricultural meetings. He is chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Maryland Bankers' Association.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

The schools of Carroll County will officially close on Tuesday morning, June 13th about 12 noon. Pupils will be in regular attendance at school through June 9th, and will return on the morning of June 13th for their reports and for appropriate closing exercises. Pupils will not be at school on Monday, June 12, when teachers will be engaged in clerical work related to statistical reports and pupils reports for the current school year.

PAPER COLLECTION

Boy Scouts Will Gather Rags and Paper Saturday

Scouts of the Flying Eagle and Pine Tree patrols under the leadership of Francis McNair and Fern Bachman will gather paper, rags, iron and magazines tomorrow (June 10) in Taneytown. Assistant leaders of the two patrols involved are John Perry and Thomas Sell. Coming every six weeks, regularly, these collections provide funds for patrol equipment and activities, and just now the Troop's share is devoted to the expenses of three delegates to the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, June 30th to July 6th.

The Taneytown Lions Club has made possible the sending of one Scout, and another recent contribution has been received from the Reformed Christian Endeavor Society, with more aid expected from other civic groups besides the Volunteer Fire Company, who were first to respond. The mammoth encampment of 48,000 boys and leaders will provide a once-in-a-lifetime experience for all those privileged to take part.

The past few weeks have been busy ones for all members of the Troop, which meets Thursday evenings in the Scout Hall, provided through the generosity of John M. Hoagland, and one of the finest in the district, especially after its heating problem was solved with the assistance of George L. Harner and A. D. Alexander. In warm weather it is the focal point from which all outdoor activities begin. Scouts met there first before cutting wood in the Alexander farm, then left from it to travel to Frederick for swimming at the "Y". Troops leaders' councils are held Saturdays in the hall, and they congregated there for practice and embarking for the recent Deep Run Camporee at Carroll District. The Raccoon patrol sparked the fine field event performance by placing first and bringing home an aluminum cooking service for amassing 20 points, closely followed by the Panthers of Troop 420, Westminster. Robert Bowers, Raccoon leader, also had representatives of the other Taneytown Patrols under his care, and those attending besides him were Philip Lawyer, Francis McNair, Larry Eckard, John Perry, Donald Lawyer, Carroll Houck, Robert Sentz, Robert Rock, and James Schildt.

The Scout Hall didn't see much of its usual inhabitants last week, for the early program consisted of a softball game on the school grounds. The team chosen by Francis McNair finally nosed out that headed by John Perry. Volunteers were afterwards selected, however, to distribute fliers urging citizens to vote, and the following assisted in this project before school Monday, requested by the Kiwanis Club: Robert Sentz, John Perry, Richard Davidson, Fern Bachman, Andrew Alexander, Francis McNair, Richard Crushong, Russell Walker, and Robert Ohler.

Next Thursday a swimming meet at Kump's Dam will be featured, and twelve Troop leaders' council members have distributed committee responsibility among themselves so as to make this a highlight of the summer schedule. On June 22nd it will be softball again. It is hoped that a parents and Scout outing in August will climax an eventful season, which also will include a week's camp at Broad Creek, the 1500-acre outdoor paradise of the Baltimore Area Council.

For the paper collection tomorrow rags are particularly solicited, as they bring the greatest return. In case of rain a later date will be set after consultation with the Messrs. Petry, Westminster, scrap dealers. Your cooperation in saving paper, rags, and magazines for the Scouts is deeply appreciated, enabling them to carry on their mainfold activities without an impossible financial load.

WASHINGTON BOUND

Although no member of my class is able constantly to predict favorable weather, it seemed as though the class picked one of the most beautiful days of spring for our trip.

On Friday, June 2, 8:20 A. M., the chartered bus left the school ground, Washington bound carrying the members of the class of 1951 and a few friends. Mrs. MacDonald, our advisor, with Mrs. Earl Roop, Mrs. Paul Shorb, both of near town, and Mrs. Archie Wantz, Frizellburg, acted as chaperones for the day. Robert Harner and David Wilhide were among the group also.

A few government buildings were visited, one being the Library of Congress. Here, we saw the Gutenberg Bible written in Latin which is said to be the oldest Bible in the world. While in the Supreme Court building, a guide directed us to the room where the "Big Nine" met. A solid marble spiral stairway supported by nothing is located in the building.

We were unfortunate in not being able to visit the Bureau of Engraving and Printing because of limited time.

Our stop at the National Airport was worthwhile because large passenger planes are not seen frequently in this community.

Last but not least was our tour through the F. B. I. building. The guide showed and explained the many departments to us. Arriving home about 6 P. M., all felt the time was well spent because of the information we obtained. BETTY JANE HAHN.

MORE PLANS FOR TANEYTOWN'S PARK

U. of M. Assists in Planning and Beautifying the Grounds

The Taneytown Recreation Association had on display at the ball game in Memorial Day the master plan for the community park. This plan was prepared by the University of Maryland and is now on display in the window of the Taneytown Mutual Fire Insurance Co., East Baltimore Street. This master plan provides complete recreational facilities at the park. The first step has now been completed which was the building of a baseball field and the grandstand which is, we were told by many who were in attendance at the game, and there were a lot of people there who saw the project for the first time, that it was as fine a ball field as they had seen anywhere, even in towns much larger than Taneytown. The Association is operating on a pay as you go basis and baseball is self-supporting. It even goes beyond this as it puts money in the general fund which will be used to develop and maintain the general project.

The next step in the master plan will be that of providing playground facilities for the youngsters. This will necessarily mean two steps. Small playground equipment for the tiny tots will be separated entirely from the larger equipment to be used by the older and more active youngsters. This will make supervision much easier. It is planned to start immediately with the development of a playground adjacent to the ball field area and the beautification of this area. Flowers and shrubbery will be planted in keeping with the general plan as prepared by the University of Maryland. The directors of the recreation association report that they are now ready to proceed with the playground section of the park. There is some money available now for immediate use in developing the playground area. More money is needed and people of the community are requested to renew their membership in the association. The directors point out that their promise of making only one drive a year still stands. It has been more than a year since the association has made a drive for funds and this was due to the fact that the overall plan was not received from the University of Maryland. Now that the plans are here, definite arrangements are being made to proceed with the whole project.

A few people have done wonders with the money furnished them by the community. More interest and more financial support will provide Taneytown with a recreation park, of which the community can be justly proud.

LADY FIREMEN MEET

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Taneytown Fire Company held its regular monthly meeting in the social hall on Thursday with the president Mrs. Carroll Garber presiding. Devotions were conducted by the chaplain, followed by the order of business.

The secretary, Mrs. Catherine Clinegar called the roll of officers and committee members and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Four applications for membership were made and voted into the organization. The approaching State Convention at Ocean City was discussed. Numerous bills were presented and ordered paid.

Reports of the various committees were made. The Sunshine Chairman reported that the committee had been active. Mrs. Ruth Baumgardner, chairman of the delegates to the county convention at Hampstead gave an account of the proceedings.

It was voted to present each new baby with a gift and Mrs. Hazel Lambert and Mrs. Ruth Fowler were appointed to have charge of the presentations.

Mrs. Norman Sauble, chairman of the high school Alumni banquet to be held in the high school auditorium on June 17 asked that the waitresses be on hand at 6:30 P. M.

Twenty-two members turned out at drill practice, on Tuesday evening at the school ground. The next practice will be held next Tuesday at 6:45 P. M. Donald Smith is the instructor.

The president Mrs. Garber invited the members to hold the July and August meetings on her lawn.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Madeline Haifley and Mrs. Lloyd Lambert.

KEYSVILLE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Missionary Society will meet Tuesday evening, June 13th at 8 P. M., in the Keysville Lutheran Church with Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh and Mrs. Ruby Dilley as leaders. The theme for the evening is the Lutheran Church in British Guiana. The Missionary Society invites everyone, men, women and children to attend this meeting. Rev. and Mrs. Paul Levi Foulk of Hanover, will be with us. Rev. Foulk will bring the message. He is not a stranger, many hear him every Sunday morning on the radio. The Hanover Missionary Society will be with us. We are looking forward to an excellent program of music and speaking. The special music is coming mainly from Hanover. We are so anxious to share this program with you, please plan to attend.

THIS 'N' THAT (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Your Observer was told recently by a government official who is the architect for the remodeling of the White House that through the sentimental value of the public, the exterior of the White House will be just the same as olden days. He continued to state that it would have been best to tear the entire House down rather than remodel and repair as the wood was really rotten. It was so bad that the piano had gone right through the floor and this was the real reason for further investigation and inspection, thoroughly of the building. No one realized the danger of the building until this happened. That architect instead of commuting daily from Baltimore found it necessary to reside in Washington until the job is completed.

Now, here's to all the milk companies in Carroll County and nearby territories. Be sure the milk you place before the public is 100%. Why? The big companies in the big cities surrounding are getting country-wise. Nuff sed.

That reminds me that nice "Dairy Bar" at Frizellburg is spreading out fast for there will be very soon a grand place to eat on the second floor and serving chicken dinners 'n everything. There is a wise man if you ask me. Your Observer investigated that one for you and by the time this column goes to press those nice polite waitresses will be ready to serve you and you and you. Best wishes, Mr. Milkman.

Calling all the executives of the Taneytown High. Your Observer called one evening to see all those lovely girls and hear our own orchestra whose leader is most talented. I did not know there were so many 'goodlookers' around our town and there was a real peach in a pink affair. As to that orchestra, Your Observer predicts that it will surely go places as the leader understands thoroughly the selections that are required at all the special affairs. He makes a grand appearance with his excellent personality and each artist fits in beautifully. Frankly, Your Observer enjoyed every minute. The songs made a big hit which showed real quality in the baritone voice of the orchestra leader. Only one thing was needed and that more lighting. When my opinion was asked I was called 'old fashioned' because I suggested this. It will be dim enough still with two more lights placed on the side walls, one on each side in the centre. Hope the Supt. of the Carroll county schools remedies this situation before the next affair is held in that attractive room. The decorations were sweet and much credit should be given those who aided in this effort.

How sorry Your Observer was to miss the trip to Washington with the crowd but due to the sprained knees realized, I could not do all the walking but many thanks for the kind invitation extended to me. Hope it will mean a 'rain check' for a later date!

My little ten year old with two other children missed the school bus twice and talk about nice people around our town who were wonderful to them allowing them to use the phone and would have brought them home if a taxi had not been available. Thanks to Rob-Ellen Store! That meant much to a child perhaps more than you will ever know!

One of those fine characters plus being amiable around our town is the Doctor's wife and Mother of a big family. She is always the same sweet person—never changing no matter what hour of the day!

So long, folks until next week. D. V. Have a grand week-end and drive carefully. Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Neal Powell and Miss Mary Shriver were hostesses for a miscellaneous bridal shower for Miss Ruth Perry, Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Powell. The house was attractively decorated with pink and white roses and peonies. The dining room table was set with pink and white, and in the center of the table was a miniature bride.

Miss Perry received many beautiful and useful gifts. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perry, and her marriage to Alvah Stone-sifer, Jr., will take place Saturday.

The guests were: Mrs. Clyde Hesson, Mrs. Mary Donnetella, Mrs. Lulu Basehor, Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, Mrs. James Burke, Patsy Burke, Margaret Rodkey, Mrs. Erma Haifley, Mrs. Truth Ensor, Mrs. Mary E. Rodkey, Mrs. Catherine Martin, Fay Martin, Mrs. Treva Anders, Mrs. Morgan Andreas, Mrs. Harry Forney, Mrs. Raymond Perry, Jane and Mabel Perry, Miss Ruth Stambaugh, Miss Mary Fringer, Mrs. Guy P. Bready, Mary Ellen Leh, Mrs. Janet Smith, and Mrs. Allen Feeser, Mrs. Samuel Unger, Mrs. Jesse Unger, Mrs. Miriam Rodkey, aunts of Miss Perry.

Best uses for nitrogen fertilizers on dairy farms this year are as top dressing on stiff-strawed oats and on timothy meadows to rebuild a hay reserve and help make up the loss of 1949 seedings.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1950

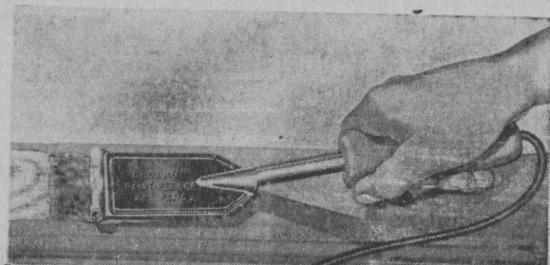

FLAG DAY

Flag day, June 14th is universally celebrated thruout the Nation, and rightly so. The flag is rightly named Old Glory for it is actually the oldest flag in the world. Other nations are older but their flags are all younger than the American flag.

The flag is honored in its use. It flies at half mast on the death of prominent citizens. The flag that flew over Ft. McHenry during the second war with England was made by Mary Pickersgill at the little Flag House in East Baltimore. The original flag made by Betsy Ross at the flag house in Philadelphia was made at the command of General Washington. The five pointed star was the creation of Betsy Ross.

It could easily have been made by cutting an apple across for the seeds of the apple are arranged in a perfect five pointed star. Our flag has never been lowered in defeat to any armed force, and please God, it never shall be, for it stands for all that is honorable. The flag has never been raised against any people aggressively, and has never been lowered defensively. May it always fly as it has.

FEESERSBURG

Installation services were held for the pastor-elect Rev. Donald Warrenfeltz, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M., in St. Luke's (Winters) Church, near New Windsor. The Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, Professor of Preaching and director of the field work at the Gettysburg Seminary delivered the sermon. The order for installation was read by the Rev. Dr. Frank Fife, president of Maryland Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. R. Miller pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Funkstown assisted with the service. Incidentally this is the home church of Rev. Warrenfeltz and many friends and members of the church were present to witness the installation services. The Parish Choir under the direction of Mrs. Blaine Broadwater sang "Rejoice in the Lord" and "Be Still My Soul." The service was well attended and beautifully executed.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walz, Clear Ridge were entertained at a fried chicken supper Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Wolfe. M., in the Westminster high school auditorium. Only one graduate from the Elmer Wolfe school will receive a diploma. He is George William Dilley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dilly, of Detour. The boy's chorus of the Elmer Wolfe school will sing "Stout Hearted Men" as their share in the combined program and Rev. Samuel Harley, pastor of the Union Bridge and Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren will pronounce the invocation. Admission to these exercises are by ticket only which may be secured at the school offices.

The ten most popular flowers grown in the garden are petunias, zinnias, marigolds, asters, sweet peas, snapdragons, nasturtiums, portulaca, annual larkspur and sweet alyssum. Only one is missing in my garden. They are portulacas, and I don't even know what they look like.

Just as we appreciate an adult whose word is his bond, children appreciate parents who keep promises. When you promise a ten-year-old a special gift for her birthday—she wants the present, sure, but the kept promise proves how important she is to you.

With a younger child, the feeling is deeper still. For him, the promise of a trip to the Zoo is something he can count on in a hard-to-understand world. And, when it comes to keeping a child's character development, one example by parents is worth three lectures on the importance of keeping one's word. If something happens which keeps you from fulfilling your promise explain why. But you must act in good faith—for that is what really matters.

"Who'll bring a bone will take one." Great-grandma used to say.

"Who'll bring a bone of gossip will carry one away."

"Who'll bring a bone will take one" And she who talks to you About somebody else is sure To talk about you 'too!

Working in a garden means different things to different people. To some it means drudgery, to others it is an inspiration. One person may see onions, lettuce and cabbages and nothing more. To others growing things means beauty and a kinship with nature. Digging and planting in the warm brown earth brings peace of mind or it can bring resentment that man must work so hard for his daily bread. To me, gardening is a relaxation and an excuse to get away from the monotony of housework. Nothing drives cobwebs from one's mind as fast as a hoe and a package of seeds. The smell of freshly turned soil acts like an intoxicating elixir and an hour or two on bended knee pulling weeds is a sure cure for insomnia. Yes, one can find more in a garden than vegetables.

ANOTHER INSTALLMENT ABOUT THE SOUHT

Rev. Owens Continues Description of Trip

XVI
The Shenandoah Valley, between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghany Ranges, with its crossing mountain gates, has been called the Switzerland of America. In place of the eternal snow, however, is the perennial green. For nearly two centuries this Valley has been known for its live stock, its sheep in countless folds, its cattle on a thousand hills, its dairying industry, water power, lumbering, haunts of wild game, sportsmen's paradise, bubbling mineral springs, artesian hot springs, and healing waters.

Along the way are many clusters of tourist's cabins to accommodate the traveler. A double room cabin with all conveniences, can be rented for about $5.00 per night. Along the way also are numerous tourist homes which provide excellent accommodations for about $1.50 per person over night.

ENDLESS CAVERNS
One of the most attractive features to the tourists in this Valley, are the subterranean caverns. These underground wonderlands, are among the most famous in the world. There a person, like Alice in Wonderland, disappears through a hole in the ground into a mysterious fairyland of sights and scenes too gorgeous to describe. The little girl, you recall, in the popular story, went to sleep, and in a dream, disappeared down a rabbit hole, and awoke in a wonderful land of fabulous mystery. Here, you too, without going to sleep, duplicate the story of Alice in Wonderland, by disappearing down through what was once a rabbit hole, into a strange world below. For it is reported that in 1879 two boys first discovered the Endless Caverns by chasing a rabbit through his hole in the ground into that subterranean world. There what you see exceeds all imagination. It surpasses the most fantastic fairy stories. It appears that all the fairies of America have withdrawn into these caverns as their last stand against our disbelief in them. Here the high vaulted chambers exceed the splendor of the most richly adorned temples of the earth. No gifted artist ever painted such glorious sights. It all reminds you of the Poet Dante's visit to the Celestial Regions, or Milton's descriptions of Paradise.

The Valley has many of these underground caverns. People, in great numbers from all over the world come to see these marvels. We stopped to visit the one at New Market. This one is called Endless Caverns, because no end has been found. It has been explored and opened up to the public for a distance of two miles. Never anywhere on earth have we looked upon such dazzling splendors as this underworld of nature has fashioned out of the stalactites and stalagmites, the limestone icicles far below the surface of the earth. In these regions of the earth's blackest darkness, electric lights reflect and re-reflect the brilliance of the various formations.

The names of these chambers suggests the splendor therein. Here are a few: The Valley of Endless Trouble, a bride and groom marching to the wedding altar; Solomon's Temple; Diamond Lake; The Arctic Circle; Palace of the Fairies; Fountain of Youth; Mount Vesuvius in Eruption. The Oriental Palace; and many other descriptive names. Equally descriptive names have been coined to describe the majestic formations in the various other underground caverns in the Shenandoah Valley.

WINCHESTER
The little town of Winchester, at the north end of the Valley, so near us, is within itself a rich storehouse of historic renown. This is the place where you usually leave the Valley Pike for points in this vicinity. Even the names of the streets preserve the lore of early days—Washington, Braddock, Wolfe, Loudoun, etc. It was here that General Braddock began his ill-fated march against Fort Duquesne where he met defeat at the hands of the Indians, and lost his life. It was here that young George Washington, after Braddock's defeat, had his headquarters while defending the frontier against the Indians. From here also Daniel Morgan, the Thunderbolt of the Revolution, rushed to Boston with his Rifle Company to join the Minute Men. In the Civil War great battles were fought in the area of Winchester. Here indeed, very near us, is one of the most historic little towns in America, and a shrine of democracy.

HARPERS FERRY
On the final lap of our journey home, we came by Harpers Ferry. Here is another distinguished and historical land mark in the Shenandoah Valley. It is our next door neighbor, just beyond Frederick. The great valley begins here where the Shenandoah River joins the Potomac to push through the gap of the Blue Ridge. Few places in America are so well remembered. Thomas Jefferson said that Harpers Ferry was a feature of sublimity and wonder. Perhaps it is best known by John Brown and his ill-fated rebellion. Many years before the Civil War the Government had an arsenal there. Because of this fact, John Brown, feeling himself called by a vision from heaven to free the slaves, chose Harpers Ferry to launch his campaign. His raid on the arsenal in 1859 led to his execution, out of which came the famous song: "John Brown's Body lies this morning in the grave." Many have said that this little village, with its steep streets and precipitous bluffs, above the two joining rivers, is much more like one of the picturesque towns of the old world than the new. Both nature and historic lore, have favored this little town in American tradition.

JOURNEY'S END

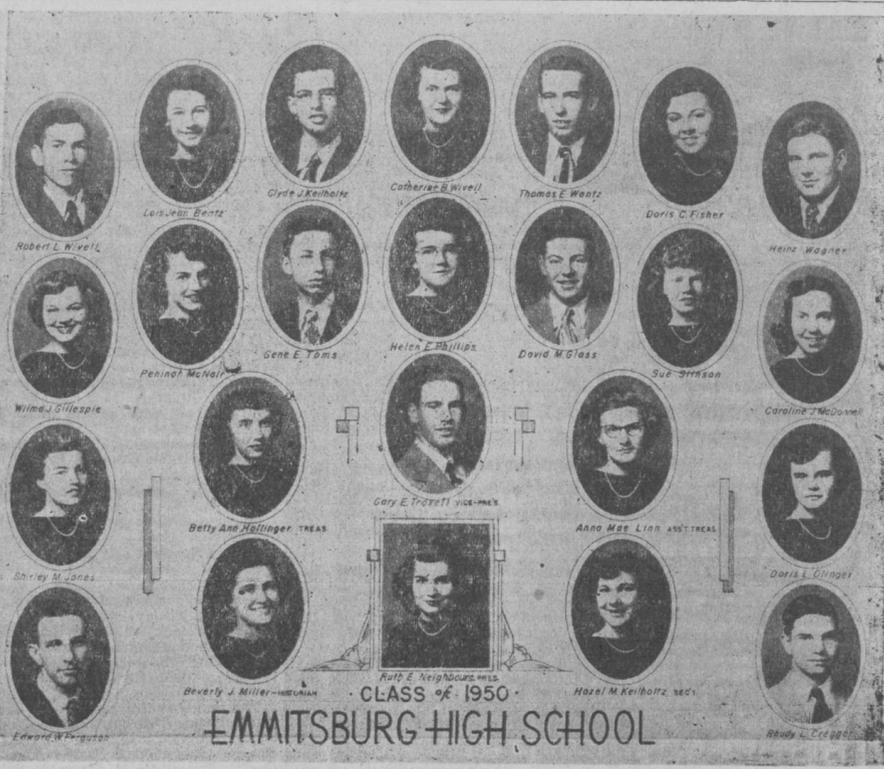

From Harpers Ferry we reached home the evening before the wedding the next day. When the hour of the wedding arrived the next noon, the car refused to start. Having finished the long journey successfully, it stopped completely dead. We had to get a neighbor to take us to Piney Creek for the wedding ceremony, and almost failed to get there on time, a distance of two miles. But the couple were married, and so far as I know, have lived happily ever after.

This happy conclusion ends the travelogue. Many thanks go to the numerous people who have expressed their pleasure in reading the story from week to week, and to this paper for making it available to the public. When the story began last fall there was no thought that it would continue this long. One episode suggested another until these sixteen chapters have been written. The undertaking has accomplished its purpose, however, if it has stimulated greater devotion to our Country, and deeper appreciation for its beauties, and enabled each one to see the truth expressed by the Poet in "America the Beautiful":

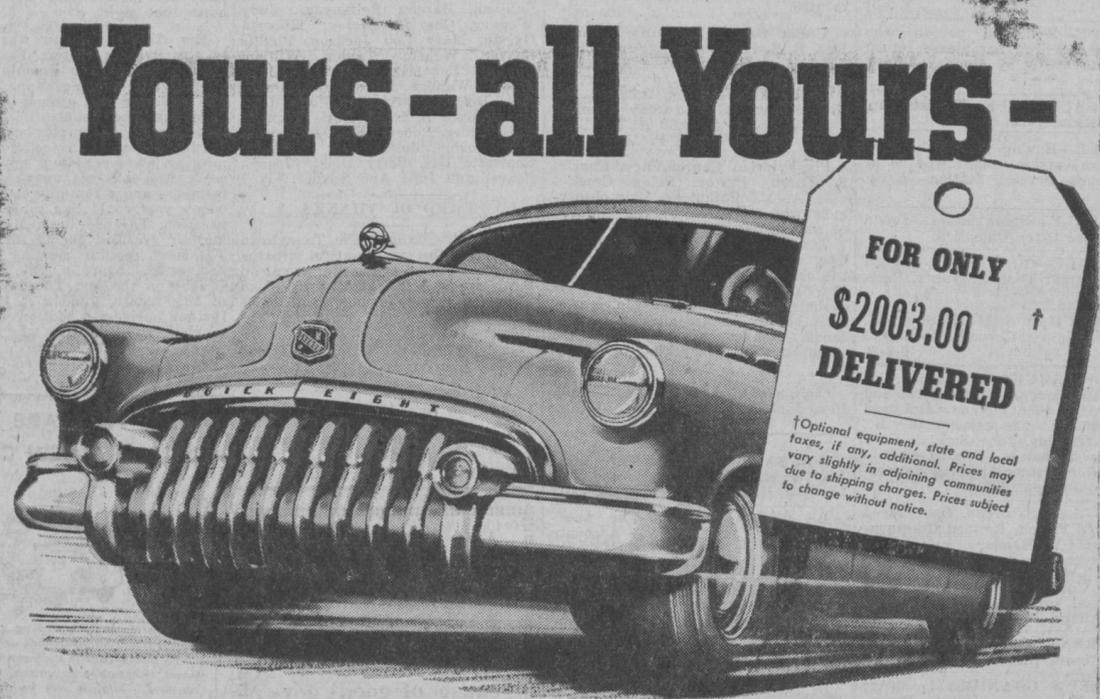

"O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
America, America,
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea."

Farmers who cut cordwood-sized trees out of farm woodlots get excellent and economical firewood, allow the full growth of sawlog trees and save thousands of cords of wood that would go to waste.

A cow has the capacity to eat 3000 pounds of total digestible nutrients about 12 tons of green material—to make milk in a 180-day grazing period.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lessons
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Zephaniah, especially 1:12-18; 2:1-3; 3:16-20.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 111:1-10.

Repentance

Lesson for June 11, 1950

ZEPHANIAH seldom has been any reader's favorite prophet. His pictures of doom are enough to send shudders down any one's spine. It is as realistic as if he were describing H-bomb day. But the main point of Zephaniah is plain and practical: Repent! For selfish man and stubborn nation, that is the first necessity of all. Repentance is not merely regretting something one has done. Anybody can do that—and go right on committing the same sin. Furthermore, a man's regret for something he has done may be for a wrong reason.

Dr. Foreman

Suppose an adulterer is sorry for the publicity he got when the newspapers caught up with him? Suppose a lazy farmer is sorry, at harvest time, that he didn't work harder during the summer? That sort of thing is not repentance at all.

Also, repentance is not just repentance-in-general. It is one thing to say, "O God, I am a sinner." It is quite another thing, and a harder one, to kneel and say to God: "You know well what a liar I have been."

Repentance is not real unless it is honest; and it is not honest till the repenter looks squarely at his own sins, knows them for real sins and is willing to call them by the ugly names they deserve.

Repentance As The Bible Sees It

THE BIBLE MEANING of repentance is something radical, something life-changing. As the prophets and our Lord set it before us, it means a total change of inner attitude and viewpoint. It does not mean so much stopping something you enjoy, as it means enjoying something altogether different from what you used to enjoy.

For example, you never truly repent of pride until you are really humble on the inside. You never have fully repented of selfishness so long as your biggest "kick" comes from kicking other people around. Repentance means a redirection of life. It means loving whatever good you hated and hating whatever evil you loved.

The question is: Are you content to be what you are, as you are, or do you sincerely want to be a better, indeed a different person? For that, the grace of God is necessary. For repentance means nothing short of being made over.

Are you aware that by yourself you are doomed to be yourself, your worst self? What is needed is not that you shall make yourself over, what is needed is that you shall pray God to make you over. His grace is not forced on the unwilling. The change may not come all at once, not overnight. Yet surely, and it may be swiftly.

There have been persons whose lives have changed in a single night, in a single moment. There are others whose life-transformation has come slowly. But wherever real repentance is, there the Spirit of God has been at work.

Why Repentance Is Needed

ZEPHANIAH POINTS UP the same two reasons for repentance that we find all through the Bible. One reason is the judgement of God; the other is the promise of God. These are two sides of the same thing.

Man does not live in his own universe. He lives in a universe which he could not have created—in a sense he is a guest of it. It is a universe God created in love, and rules in love. Work and live "against the grain" of God's law of love, and you are headed for destruction.

To repent means that you come out new, in the image of God. Not to repent means that you are a breaker of God's laws because you do not like his laws. To repent means that (in the language of the ancient Psalmist) you love the law of God.

To the unrepentant, the laws of God are like the bars of a cruel cage. To the repentant, the laws of God are like rails to a locomotive—the highway of power.

Readers who wish to examine the Bible's teachings on repentance should read "The Meaning of Repentance" by William Douglas Chamberlain, published by the Westminster Press.
