

THE TANEYTOWN RECORD.

Vol. 2., No. 40.

TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND, SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1896.

$1.00 Per Year.

Locals and Personals.

Regular services at the U. B. church on Sunday, at 2.30 p. m.

M. C. Dutta is off on a business trip to Philadelphia and Collegeville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Guild returned from their wedding tour on Saturday evening.

Miss Virginia Motter, a student at Wilson College, is at home for the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Jennie E. Peters, of Harrisburg, Pa., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ekekerode.

Regular Easter communion services will be held in the Reformed and Lutheran churches on Sunday morning; preparatory services on Saturday afternoon.

A very pleasant surprise party was given to Miss Mabel Lambert, of Middle St., on Friday evening, by a large number of her young friends.

The bill providing for the issue of water bonds for Taneytown, has been signed by the Governor, and will come up for adoption or rejection by the voters, in May next.

Mr. John T. Shriner of S., left at the Record office on Thursday, an abnormal egg, which measures 9 1/2 inches around the centre, 8 inches the long way around, and weighed nearly 44 ounces.

Misses Bessie and Rietta Keindollar are at home spending the Easter vacation. They are accompanied by Misses Alma Reid and Hester Lewis. All are students of Irving College, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

A free stereoscopic entertainment will be given in the Reformed church, Wednesday evening, the 8th., by two young men, J. W. Gilds and R. Spangler, of Ursinus College, Pa. The public is cordially invited.

The republican district primaries will be held on Saturday the 11th, and the county convention on Monday the 13th. The Taneytown district primary, will be held at the Buffington House, from 4 to 5 p. m.

Lewis Eline, of McSherrystown, has moved into the brick hotel (formerly Franklin House) which will hereafter be known as the Hotel Eline. S. C. Smith, the former proprietor, has rented the Groff House, Frederick, and expects to take charge in a few days.

Dr. C. Birnie returned from Annapolis on Tuesday night, feeling perpetually satisfied that his duties as legislator are over. As chairman of the Ways and Means committee, he had in charge a great deal of the real hard and important work of the session, both in committee and on the floor of the House. The Doctor regards the work accomplished by the legislature as being altogether creditable, and, in many respects, ahead of former sessions.

Garfield, son of W. F. Clinzan of New St., who left the place he had been living at several months ago, and whose whereabouts has since been unknown to his parents, has at last been found through an advertisement in the Hagerstown Globe. He is living with a farmer about four miles north of Hagerstown, and appears to be perfectly contented. If boys must run away, they should at least let their parents know that they are alive and well, and thereby save them a great deal of unnecessary worry.

The Spring and Summer arrangement of services in the Piney Creek Presbyterian church will go into effect on the approaching Sabbath, April 5th.—Services the first three Sabbaths of the month at 10 a. m. Sabbath school one hour before service. It is the desire and the request of the officers of the school, and the pastor, that those who are interested in the reorganization of the school, should come early next Sabbath and elect officers and teachers, and attend to such matters as will make the school efficient and successful.

Two young men named Herbert Thomas and William Stover, of this section were arrested late on Saturday night by constable Miller, at the instance of Joseph Coe, charged with stealing a pair of blankets belonging to him. They were taken before Squire Orndorff, where Stover charged Thomas with being the thief; the latter, however, stoutly denied the charge. They were committed to jail in default of bail, to await the action of the grand jury. The blankets were found on the horse driven by the parties named, but neither of them seemed able to tell how they came there. They were lodged in the town lock-up until Sunday when they were taken to jail. It is said that Thomas has since secured bail.

The U. E. Society of the Lutheran church, will hold a Birthday Muscular in the church on Easter Monday evening at 7 p. m. A large number of invitations have been issued, enclosed with which are dignified silk bags. It is the idea of the Society to give pennies as the recipient is years old. Those who do not find it convenient to attend the entertainment, can hand the bag to any member of the entertainment committee: Misses Rena LeFebvre and Anna M. Motter, Mrs. F. H. Seiss, and Messrs. Will Wagner and John Koons. The program promises to be most enjoyable. As the proceeds will be for the benefit of the new church, it is hoped that the returns from the effort will be liberal. Those who received no special invitation, are hereby generally invited.

NOTES FROM EVERYWHERE.

Items of current news boiled down, for busy readers.

The garment worker's strike in Baltimore has ended in a complete surrender of the strikers, and Mr. Airy voted on Tuesday, by an overwhelming majority, to issue $400 worth of bonds for the improvement of the streets of the town.

Mr. S. M. Birely, of Thurmont, Frederick county, sent eleven hundred dollars worth of pulp wood to the Spring Grove Mills, Pa., last month.

The marriage of ex-president Harrison to Mrs. Mary Scott Dimmick will take place in New York next Monday. The ceremony will be altogether private.

The "movers" were so unfortunate as to have the worst roads of the season, for a job which is not pleasant, even under the most approved conditions.

Among the real estate transfers noted in the Frederick papers this week, is the item, "Mordecai C. McKinstry, et al., to S. B. McKinstry, real estate, $8,500."

Those who contemplate improvements in the way of building, are becoming impatient at the delay caused by the weather, which is anything but spring-like.

United States revenue officers made a raid on distilleries in the mountains, near Emmitsburg, last Thursday, and captured a still on the place of Samuel Wagman.

The Westminster Fire Department will lay the corner stone of its new building on Easter Monday afternoon. There will be a parade of firemen and the Westminster band; the ceremonies will be interesting.

The Eastern District meeting of Maryland, to be held at Sam's Creek (German Baptist) church on the 21st, will, in all probability, instruct her delegates to General Conference to ask that the annual meeting of 1897 be held in Carroll or Frederick county, Md.

Much satisfaction is expressed in Frederick county, over the passage of the Reassessment bill. It is thought that there will be no mortgage foreclosures. The county will be divided into eight assessment districts, and there are numerous applicants for the position of assessors.

Dr. Sprekel, of Hanover, who was recently indicted for furnishing intoxicants to persons of intemperate habits, had a trial before Squire Sell, but was acquitted, as the evidence to prove that he had not acted professionally, was insufficient to prove a plain violation of the laws.

An exchange wound up a complaint to a young school man with a word about "the reputation for teaching she bears." The next day she met the editor and chased him down the street with a blue umbrella and at every jump in the road she screamed that she had never taught a she bear in all her life.

Governor Lowndes has issued to Hon. George L. Wellington, his certificate of election as United States Senator. A joint resolution was passed in the House, directing the Governor to issue a certificate, but it never came from the committee in the Senate. It is claimed that the failure of the resolution to pass will not prevent Mr. Wellington from securing the seat.

The suit of Geo. L. Stocksdale, Westminster, against the W. M. R. R., for ejectment, has been decided in the Court of Appeals, in favor of the Company. This is a reversal of the opinion of the Superior Court of Baltimore. The decision of the court is that the plaintiff could not recover for ejectment, but might have a case for breach of contract, and that the ticket was defective, the conductor was right in not accepting it.

Mr. James T. Kelley, chief clerk of the freight department of the Western Maryland Railroad, has been appointed solicitor and traveling freight agent of the road, to succeed Mr. Daniel C. Hedding, recently elected police commissioner. Mr. Kelley has been with the Western Maryland Railroad for about fifteen years, and his appointment is regarded as an excellent one, as he is an energetic worker, very popular and thoroughly qualified for the position.

On last Wednesday, at noon, from some unknown cause, fire originated among the outbuildings, at the toll-gate one mile west of Liberty, and completely consumed in a short time the stable, corn house, buggy shed and other outbuildings. Mr. John T. Rippeon, the gate-keeper, is said to be the loser of the buildings, also of about 7 tons of hay or corn, 10 bushels of chop, 1 barrel of oil, and other articles, as there was no insurance. Had it not been for the timely assistance of Mr. Thomas B. Maynard, Mrs. Rippeon might have been seriously burned.—Examiner.

Suit has been entered against S. L. Johns, a cigar manufacturer of McSherrystown, Pa., before the U. S. Court in Philadelphia, by W. H. Moyer, of Traverse City, Michigan, through his attorney, O. G. Turner. Mr. Turner claims that Johns had given Moyer a credit of $2000, and furnished him cigars; that last January, robbers entered his store, bound and gagged him and stole $4700 in cash; that later, Johns came to Traverse City, and had Moyer arrested and thrown in jail, on the charge that the robbery was a "put up job" to cheat his creditors. Damages are now claimed to the amount of $10,000, for the destruction of Moyer's reputation and business credit.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS.

Closing scenes and business of the remarkable session.

The close of the legislature was attended with all the racket and confusion usual on such occasions, and the same quantity of preserving order; even a squad of police from Baltimore only succeeded in preserving a semblance of order, such was the jam of people which invaded the floors and forced even the members from their seats. While many bills were rushed through hastily, and many yet remain on the files of the Senate and House, it is believed that no objectionable measures passed, and no very important ones were left.

The event of the day, the bill which everybody talked about, was the re-assessment bill, and the ever prevalent question was, "Will he sign it?" and "Will the supplementary measures pass?" The latter were not passed without a great deal of trouble. The Senate first incorporated the provisions of the measure in the compromise bill, after a number of attempts were made to prevent it, and sent it to the House where it was taken up at the night session and passed under suspension of the rules. A last attempt was made to exempt mortgages, but it was defeated 78 to 3. The only change made by the House was the exemption of tunnels, which the Senate agreed to later.

The bills were signed by the Governor and presiding officers at the speaker's desk, about 1 p. m. amid uproarious applause, and then after the signatures had been affixed, the Governor presented Mr. Bankard with the silver pen which had been used. The bill as passed exempts tunnels, (a concession to railroads) the shares of local building associations, and a bond sealing feature which provides that bonds shall be assessed at their face value for 74 cents for state purposes, and 30 cents for county purposes. With the exception of these new features the bill is as stated in the last issue of the RECORD. As the law only goes into effect after the levy of next year, the legislature of 1898 will have an opportunity to correct any very inequitable features of it, before the taxes are collected.

The House bill providing for the election of school supervisors by the people failed of passage in the Senate, this, with the failure to consider the local veto bill, constitutes two important bills defeated in that body. Possibly the best law passed during the session, next to re-assessment, is the Reform League election law. It is pronounced by all parties, as being one of the best election laws ever adopted by any state, and, like re-assessment, has come at last after several attempts.

Speaker Mudd was presented with a handsome silver tea service, valued at $850, by the members and employees, irrespective of party. Delegates Orl and Johnson made presentation addresses, and the Speaker responded with a great feeling. President Bruce was presented a handsome silver punch bowl, on behalf of the Senate.

An attempt was made by delegate Bye, to present resolutions asking for an investigation of the methods by which Wellington was elected Senator, but the speaker made use of parliamentary privileges, and refused to allow them to be presented. The resolutions provided for the investigation of charges of corrupt bargaining away of state offices, which implicated Mr. Wellington, the Governor and Judge David W. Sloan, and that members were influenced in their votes by promise of office.

The Elections bill was signed on Thursday, together with 143 others. About the same number remain to be signed, among them the Free Book bill; all of them will be taken up early next week.

The Farmers' Market.

What will be known as a Farmers' Market will be established in Baltimore this summer, the location of which will likely be on North Avenue, between Charles and St. Paul streets. The building will be erected by the company, composed principally of farmers of Baltimore and Harford counties, and space will be rented to farmers and producers only, who will deal directly with the consumer.

The plan will do away with the Middleman, and it is thought, will benefit both consumer and producer. The farmers say that they are not aiming so much at getting better prices, as they are to get rid of the city dealers, who under the present system, have things in their own hands, and pay what they please for produce.

MARRIED.

LEATHERWOOD—BLOOM.—At the parsonage in Union Bridge, April 2nd, by Elder E. W. Stoner, Mr. Charles D. T. Leatherwood, to Miss Annie Bloom, of Baltimore, Md.

DIED.

Obituaries, poetry and resolutions charged for at the rate of five cents per line; the regular death notices published free of charge.

WENTZ—On March 31st, in Carroll Co., Mrs. Elizabeth Wentz, aged 87 years, 1 month and 3 days.

ANGELL—On March 30th, near Taneytown, Ada, infant daughter of Maurice and Sarah Angell, aged 6 months and 8 days.

YEISER—On March 17th, in Carroll Co., Md., Mr. Absalom Yeiser, aged 69 years, 11 months and 23 days.

BOWERS—On March 22nd, in Carroll county, Catharine Bowers, aged 75 years, 6 months and 9 days.

CROUSE—On March 30th, at Taneytown, Norman, infant son of Samuel and Clara Crouse, aged 9 months and 10 days.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Who can give any information about Conrad Hiner?

Our Copperville correspondent sends us the following interesting letter, which explains itself. Possibly some of our older readers will be able to furnish the desired information.

Mr. W. E. O. Hiner of this place, received a letter a short time ago, from Joseph W. Hiner, of the firm of Hiner & Waters, attorneys-at-law, of Chicago, asking for information with regard to one Conrad Hiner, who emigrated from Holland to this county, then Frederick county, sometime in the last century. Mr. Hiner has so far failed to receive any information with regard to any one of that name, except in one case; a friend of his told him that his mother had spoken of him frequently in her lifetime. He would like to hear from any one that could give him the information desired.

Mr. Hiner, upon receiving this communication, at once went to hunting up the deeds and other papers in his possession. They are both numerous and interesting, as he has in his collection the administration papers of three successive generations. These papers contain the signatures of a great many of the Frederick county officials, from 1783 up to the formation of this county; we find among others, the names of Schley, Butler, Key and Brooks.

In the examination of these papers, the first evidence of the presence of the Hiner family in this vicinity, is a deed dated Nov. 8th, 1783; this deed was made by Norris Ellis, which conveyed to Herbert Hiner a tract of land, "Bedford" containing 205 acres, more or less, having for its northern boundary, "Great Pipe Creek." On the 27th day of the fourth month, 1784, we find another deed executed as above, for the same amount of land, also lying on "Great Pipe Creek," for which the sum of £650 was paid. The northern boundary of this land must have started a short distance below Otter Dale Mills. We forgot to mention that the sum paid for the first tract of land described above, was £300. The next deed was made by John Shaw, of Bucks county, Pa., 8th day of July, 1792, for which the sum of £1200 was paid; this time 400 acres.

On the 26th of April, 1795, we find another deed, this one by John Banks, of Baltimore county; 250 acres for £1200. On the 18th day of May, 1796, we find another deed, from John Shaw, of Berks county, Pa., 400 acres for £1000. The above land was all bought by Herbert Hiner. The first two tracts were called "Bedford," the last three by the name of "Retirement corrected." They all amount to 1460 acres of land, for which the sum of £4350 was paid, an average of nearly 43 cents the acre—a pound contains, if we mistake not, $4.83.

Other papers follow; we will notice only two tax receipts, paid by Henry S. Hiner, a son of Herbert Hiner, in 1840 and 1845; the first receipted by Tobias Coak, collector, and the latter by Josiah Baumgartner. He was assessed at $4,962, in 18 cents per $100, amounting to $821; this is quite a contrast, as he owned the farm which J. Thaddeus Starr now owns, who no doubt pays about $60 or $70 taxes.

A full history of the descendants of Herbert Hiner, would make interesting reading for many of the readers of the RECORD, as they were at one time quite numerous, as well as prominent. Three of his grandsons were physicians, and one of them, the late Rev. Elias Hiner, of Baltimore, was a prominent minister of the German Reformed Church. We are informed that some of the relatives of W. E. O. Hiner, of Copperville, a great grandson, at one time fondly hoped that he also would be a minister of the Gospel; in this they were disappointed. Whether Orl missed his calling, or the calling missed him, we are not able to say.

A great many of the Hiners went west, as well as to other places, and although there are a great many of their connections still in this part of the country, yet to our knowledge, there are but three representatives of them who bear the name of Hiner. They are John Christian, of Taneytown, W. E. O., of Copperville and son, Oscar.

An "April fool" Joke.

Flemingsburg, Ky., April 1, 1896. Editor RECORD.

This being, as you will see by the heading, what is known as All Fools day, (in this country at least) on which nearly every one feels at liberty to play some practical joke on his friends, and the Editor being about as good a subject as I can think of to-day—I take advantage of it—by enclosing one dollar for subscription. I hope you may appreciate the joke.

If I can get the time to spare from my business, I would be glad to give you at some time—though at irregular intervals—my impressions of the people of this State, of which I have now been a resident for more than 30 years. There is quite a misconception in the minds of most Northern and Eastern people, as to the character of the people of Kentucky.

Their judgment is formed mainly from newspaper clippings which are very often misleading, inasmuch as they hold the Kentuckian up in the light of a Texas cowboy, rather than the whole-souled, generous, social and hospitable being, that I have found him to be.

G. W. WILT.

(The joke is all right—so will the proposed articles be.—Ed.)

Lots of people were "April-fooled" in more ways than one.

Correspondence.

A communication has been received, postmarked Linwood, which cannot be used because it was not signed by the writer. All newspapers insist on knowing who their correspondents are—not for publication, but as an evidence to be used to protect the paper, if necessary.—Ed. RECORD.

Harney.

Common services were held in St. Paul's Lutheran church on last Sunday morning, but owing to inclemency of the weather, the audience was not as large as usual. Thirteen new members were added to the church.

On next Sunday evening, the Lutheran Sunday school will hold their annual Easter entertainment. The program is a good one, and it is believed that the entertainment will equal, and perhaps surpass, those of previous years.

Moving still continues to be the order of the day, but by the time this issue reaches the readers, every person will be fixed up in their new homes.

Mr. J. Newcomer spent several days in Baltimore, during the week, in the interest of his business.

Our town thinks of going into the wholesale mud business in the near future. Active preparations have been going on for quite a while, and it is known that a large stock is on hand at present. The business will be conducted by the Friends of Mud, or the Improvement Kickers, but the location of the firm's office has not been definitely decided upon. We hope, however, to be able to give the street and exact number in the near future.

Copperville.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Angell, died on last Sunday night about half past eleven o'clock, at their home near Otter Dale Mill. The cause of his death was pneumonia; it was buried on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wantz attended the funeral of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crouse, of Tyrone, on Tuesday afternoon. Interment took place at Taneytown. Mr. Wantz is a brother of Mrs. Crouse.

The warm weather of the last few days is having the effect of making the wheat and grass, which looked like as though they were dead a short time ago, look green again.

Ridge.

Mrs. N. C. Stansbury and Mr. Chas. Stansbury have returned home from a pleasant trip to Baltimore, where they attended the Conference of the M. E. church.

Mr. James E. Mort and family attended the moving of Mrs. Mort's sister, who moved below Middleburg.

Mr. J. W. Troxell, who has been ill with lagrippe is very much better.

Miss Effie Mort, of Keysville, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mort.

Mr. James T. Hays purchased the Siebold farm, which is in close proximity to the Charlotte Milling Company's (Makell's) mill.

Gamber.

As this is my first letter from Gamber, I will endeavor, for the benefit of your readers, to describe this place.

Gamber is situated on the Nicodemus road, about 9 miles south-east of Westminster, and 3 miles south of Finksburg, with which it is connected by the Mechanicsville and Finksburg turnpike. It lies in a rich farming district and contains five stores, two blacksmith shops, one cannery, one doctor, one hotel, post-office, shoemaker, carpenter, three hucksters and other conveniences suitable for a bustling country town; besides it is the main telephone office between Westminster and Sykesville.

It contains about 300 inhabitants, also two churches and one school.

On account of the illness of the teacher at Poole's school house, school has been discontinued until next September.

Mechanicsville Council, No. 78, Jr. O. U. A. M. are making preparations to hold an entertainment in Horner's hall, at Finksburg on Saturday eve, April 4th. Proceeds for the benefit of Council.

Mr. W. S. Gamber, a prominent citizen of this place, is suffering greatly from a very sore ankle caused by the bursting of a vein.

Ex-Sheriff E. B. Arnold made sale of his personal property at his country home, Smallwood, on Saturday last, and we are informed that he received fair prices for his goods.

There are a great number of fittings in town this spring; former residents are exchanging dwellings and others from the country are moving in. Among the latter is Mr. N. B. Gardner, who having rented his farm in Freedom district, has moved into the house lately occupied by Mr. George Benson, who has moved to his own farm, near Potapoco Station, W. M. R. R.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Maurice Wheeler, a former resident of this place but now of Baltimore, is very ill at his home in Baltimore.

Mr. Kison K. Knox, a highly respected young man of this place, is very ill of consumption, with no hopes of his recovery.

Rev. S. W. Coe of Providence M. P. church, preached his farewell sermon to the Jr. O. U. A. M., on Sunday last, at 3 p. m.

There will be Easter services in Mt. Pleasant M. E. church, on Sunday April 6th, to which let there be a large turn-out and hear of the Lamb that was slain yet liveth again.

Union Bridge.

W. D. Engelman, son of the late Eden Engelman, took charge of his father's mill on April 1st. A Mr. Vingling, of Westminster, will be the head miller.

The following changes of residence took place during the past week; Mr. H. H. Rowe's family moved from South Main St., to Baltimore. Mr. Rowe still continues in the employ of the W. M. R. R., in their shops at this place. Mr. Abraham Appler has taken the house vacated by Mr. Rowe. Mr. U. Six, of the firm of U. Six & Sons, bakers, has moved to his farm near town. Mr. Albert Six, his son, still continues in charge of the bakery at the old stand.

Mr. W. S. Eckenrode has rented Dr. S. R. Wright's property, on West Broadway, occupied at present by Mr. Sentz, who will remove to Mr. Jos. Wilson's property on South Main St. Mr. O. H. Smith and wife have moved to Thurmont, Md., where he will open another bazar. The store room lately vacated by Mr. O. H. Smith, is now occupied by Mr. C. P. Snyder, who has a full line of green groceries on hand, at lowest prices. Mr. W. O. Little has moved to Mrs. Dumm's property on West Broadway. Mr. C. F. Myers, of McKinstry's Mills, has moved to the Urner property on South Broadway, lately vacated by W. O. Little.

Mrs. Rev. R. L. Patterson, who has been ill, is improving. Mrs. H. D. Fowler, who has been sick, has improved and is able to be out of doors.

The Union Bridge singing class, under the direction of Prof. Edwin Hoover, of Hagerstown, is rapidly improving. On Tuesday evening last, they succeeded in singing correctly, a piece of music, in probably thirty minutes, while the Professor informs us it required two full lessons to get this same piece correctly sang by one of his classes at another place.

Pensions of Minor Children.

Washington, April 1.—Rulings of the last administration were reversed in a decision rendered today by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds, in a pension case having a bearing favorable to a large number of claims now on file. The ruling holds under a widow and minor children under sixteen years of age survive a soldier, the children may, after attaining the age of sixteen, and where the death of the mother occurs thereafter without payment to her of any part of the pension, apply in their own right and receive the same pension as the father would have been entitled to had he been totally disabled. This pension is to commence from the date of his death, and to continue until they respectively arrive at the age of sixteen years. This holding entitles those whose rights to it would be prudent on the part of the owners of this risk, to refuse to rent to them unless they have some assurance that they will conduct their exercises in a respectable and decorous manner, and vacate the risk at a reasonable hour. Among the disgraced features of the occasion was that of an alteration between a man and woman, during the progress of which, the latter was almost denuded of her clothing. Such performances are a disgrace to our town, or any civilized community, and measures should be taken to prevent a repetition of them.

Expenses of the Legislature.

Comptroller Graham figures the appropriations of the legislature at $127,000, which is but $2000, in excess of the usual amount appropriated. The amount would have been considerably less, except for the cost of an unusual number of contested election cases, two in the Senate and three in the House, amounting to $6,000. An act of deficiency bill was passed, carrying with it $10,000, but the Comptroller thinks that not more than $2,000 of it will be needed. The total cost of the last legislature was about $160,000, and the one before that about $145,000.

Orphan's Court Proceedings.

MONDAY March 30th., 1896.—Sarah C. Bialer, executrix of Elias Bialer, deceased, settled first and final account.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Rebecca Hesson, deceased, granted to Ida A. Hesson.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Mary A. Taylor, granted to Barton W. Taylor.

Wm. K. Leppo, bonded as guardian of William M., Robert E., Mary E., and David H. Leppo.

Martin Beachtel, executor of John Beachtel, deceased, settled first account.

Christiana Harrison, administratrix of Reuben H. Harrison, deceased, returned list of sales of goods and chattels and list of debts.

John T. Snyder, executor of Mary C. Snider, deceased, settled first and final account.

TUESDAY, March 31st., 1896.—Chas. A. Smith, executor of Elizabeth Maxwell, deceased, returned list of debts and settled first and final account.

Geo. R. Gehr, executor of John T. Orndorff, deceased, late guardian of Clarence G. Orndorff, settled second and final account.

The last will and testament of Elizabeth Wantz, deceased, admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted to Noah F. Fleagle.

Charles V. Wantz, executor of Ann E. Babylon, deceased, returned inventory of goods and chattels.

Jacob J. Weaver, Jr., administrator will annexed of Sarah D. Ferguson, deceased, returned inventory of goods and chattels, inventory of real estate and list of debts.

M. P. Annual Conference.

The sixty-eighth annual session of the Maryland Conference, M. P. church, convened in Allnut Memorial church, Baltimore, on Wednesday. Included in this conference are 205 churches, 150 pastors, and a membership of about 23,000. Rev. Dr. John D. Kinzer, president, opened the conference, and made his annual report, in which he referred to the gratifying work accomplished during the year, despite hard times and the usual difficulties.

The annual conference sermon was preached by Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College. The late Rev. Thos. E. Conburn, of Lynchburg, Va., was to have delivered the sermon, and had it all prepared, but was taken ill suddenly, and died; the sermon delivered by Dr. Lewis, was the one written by Rev. Conburn, and was delivered by him at the request of the deceased. After the appointment of the regular committee, Rev. Dr. Kinzer was re-elected president with but little opposition.

Conference communion services were held at night. Rev. Dr. S. B. Sutherland was in charge of the service. There were four deaths during the past year, and after communion, memorial services were held. There was an obituary committee on each death, the chairman having charge of the memorial services. Rev. James K. Nichols died at Johnsville, Md., May 5, 1896; Rev. John W. Charlton, at Leesport, Va., February 23, 1896; Rev. Dr. Thomas E. Conburn, at Pittstown, Pa., March 11, 1896; Rev. D. W. Bates was the other member of the conference who died since the last session.

Rev. S. R. Murray was granted a release from the Chestertown charge on March 16th., according to the report of the president, and given papers of withdrawal from the conference and church.

Surprise Party.

A most pleasant and enjoyable surprise party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Koons, near Harney, on Friday evening, March 27th. The event being in honor of their two sons, Birnie and Willie, to celebrate their 21st birthday. At an early hour the guests began to arrive and were very cordially received by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Oiler. Social games, plays and music were indulged in during the evening. At 11 o'clock all were invited to the dining room where a table was spread with many delightful things to refresh the inner man, to which all did ample justice. At an early hour all repaired to their respective homes, thanking their host and hostess for a most enjoyable and well spent evening.

Those present were: Misses Flora Spangler, Nettie Slagle, Douglas Newcomer, Phoebe Newcomer, Maggie Waybright, Cora Waybright, Bruce Neely, Ruth Snider, Margie Waybright, Hattie Waybright, May Hill, Ella Bowers, Lovie Shriver, Alveta Shriver, Minnie Snider, Messrs. Birnie Koons, Willie Koons, Walter Snider, Homer Hill, Charles Leber, Norman Hess, Oliver Waybright, Ervin Hess, Clarence Oiler, Simpson Shriver, George Conover, Harry Myers, Charles Spangler, Warren Hill, James Pitzer, Hanson Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Koons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Koons and son, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Clossher and son, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Oiler and daughter.

The Susquehanna Shad.

When we attack the general proposition that there is nothing perfect in this world, we must agree to except the Susquehanna shad. It represents perfection in all its phases, and the only thing more perfect than one Susquehanna shad is another Susquehanna shad. Also the shads differ in brightness, and the angels are said to vary in glory, and while all Susquehanna sh

ENTERED AT TANEYTOWN POSTOFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER

SATURDAY, APRIL 4th., 1896.

SPEAKER REED enforces the rule against smoking on the floor of the House. At last it is known where the title, "Carroll" Reed, comes from.

If our statesmen are not allowed to puff their havanas, and spit on the floor, in a building which belongs to the people, it is an evidence that this is not a free country, and "Carroll" is too mild—the ought to be impeached.

Reassessment at Last.

The Cambridge platform on which Governor Lowndes was elected, declared that a republican victory in the state would insure to the people the prompt passage of a reassessment law so framed that every person holding property in the state shall contribute his proportion of public taxes for the support of the government, according to his worth in real or personal property. The legislature made an honest effort to fulfill this pledge, and the Governor, contrary to the fears of many, affixed his signature to the bills, and reassessment is an assured fact after many years of waiting.

The supplementary bill which were put through in the very last day of the session, relieves the compromise bill of some of its main objectionable features, and taken all in all, it is generally believed and hoped that the assessment measure as it stands, will go a long way toward making taxation absolutely equal and just.

Whether it is right or wrong, the people want it and are wholly responsible for it. If it is unjust or imperfect, the people can be depended on to ask that it be made right, and future legislative and executive powers will do well to obey these requests, whatever they may be.

The "tax dodgers" played a sly, yet transparent game; so easily seen through, in fact, that no one was fooled except those who wanted to be. The compromise bill, really presented no features differing materially from those which had been presented early in the session, therefore, the railway magnates, the bond and mortgage holders, and all the poor dear capitalists who need protection because it will help the poor, had ample time to "sing their titles clear" and "make their wants and wishes known" long before they did, but, that was not their plan. They saw that the passage of any measure would be delayed until the close of the session, and they thought that by concentrating their clamors and tom-toms at this time, they could raise such a fearful din that the Governor would be scared out of his wits, and use his veto power. For once, their plans miscarried, and the people have been remembered.

Spring Advertising.

A judicious use of the columns of the Record, or any other newspaper of a good circulation in a prosperous community, for the purpose of advertising wares for sale, can only have one result—profit to the advertiser, and others. As we have repeatedly stated, it is not simply paying for a certain amount of space and filling it with something that makes advertising pay. Advertising, in name, may be both poorly done, and overdone; advertising, in reality—good advertising—always pays, and is never overdone.

Too many persons are ready to say that advertising does not pay, when it is simply their way which does not pay. The fact is, there are but few really good advertisement writers. It is equally true that there are but few who do not get some good out of their way of doing it, and if they would but try to improve—try to find the right plan—and give the matter the same study and attention they give their business, there would be few dissatisfied ones.

At the beginning of this spring season we ask our patrons to take renewed interest in this subject; we want you to patronize the Record, and we are anxious that you should do so willingly and be benefited. A satisfied customer is always better than a dissatisfied one, therefore we are interested, not only for our profit, but for the profit of the advertiser.

Probably we can help one another if you will drop in and talk the matter over.

Let us also say to our subscribers, that they can help both the paper and the merchant, if they will not only read the advertisements, but let the merchants know that they read them. Don't forget to say occasionally, "I saw your advertisement in the Record." This will be direct evidence that money spent for space is not wasted, and also a help and an incentive to make attractive and popular announcements in the future. Here is a three-handed game, which, to be profitable to all, must be well played by all.

The Legislature.

The work of the legislature is now in history, and, whether its efforts have been good or bad remains in part to be seen. Republicans will no doubt point to this, their first work, with pride, while the democrats will see nothing good in it, and argue that their return to power is necessary. Without attempting to discuss the political phase of the question, the Record thinks that, while there are some disappointments and shortcomings, the results seem to be, on the whole, very satisfactory.

A number of good measures have been passed, and some have fallen by the wayside; when the responsibility rests for the fallen, is not our mission to attempt to point out, nor shall we say that all the good that has been accomplished has been done by one party. That this legislature had a large amount of difficult work to perform, is a fact beyond question. When we attempt to change the laws relating to taxation, elections, public schools, the liquor traffic and civil service, we include all of the great questions of the day, and involve all classes in a discussion in which some must be left dissatisfied, no matter what the conclusion may be.

Let us hope that the cause of reform has advanced, and that hereafter, no matter which party may be successful, that legislation will be "for the people, of the people and by the people." Independence in voting, is one of the pronounced signs of the times, which is likely here to stay; if it is, even the disreputable practices which brought it about have served a useful purpose, and we can claim to be a step nearer the ideal government. Let the people, hereafter, demand better men on the legislative portion of their tickets, and no longer allow it to be a dumping place for those who have been disappointed in securing something better, then the result will be to remove the great power heretofore possessed by the wire pullers and professional spinsters, and place it where it properly belongs—with the people.

The Care Exercised.

No good newspaper knowingly publishes a citizen or maliciously publishes an article reflecting upon him.

On the other hand, the greatest care is exercised to print the truth, where it is not hurtful, and scores of good readable articles never see daylight, although absolutely true, because they might result disastrously to the persons they concern. Every reporter is cautioned to secure the exact facts in every article he brings in, and all important stories are thoroughly verified. The next step is to ascertain, in delicate cases, if the article is libelous, and the next is to ask, will it do more harm than good to publish it?—Hanover Herald.

Depending on Chance.

One of the saddest and most hopeless positions in which a human being can be placed is one in which he depends upon chance. The moment persons live beyond their legitimate incomes, the moment they shirk honest, resolute work, they have taken a step downward. It seems strange that any mothers should seek such a life for their children. Yet this is precisely what they do when they bring up their children in virtual idleness. They must know the pitilessness of the world toward the incapable, and that a thousand lives are ruined for one fortune made by chance luck. The habit of sincere work cannot be acquired with mature years. It must be the result of careful education from the earliest years of a child's life. It is always easier to do housework one's self than teach a daughter to do it, but that is no reason for avoiding the task.

It is the duty of the girl to learn work in the house, to assist her mother, as it is the duty of her brother to help his father or do his mother's chores. It is an injustice to the children to do this work for them. The mother who does her children's school tasks, because such a device is easily found out. Yet there are many mothers who know that only some marvelous throw of fortune's dice can save their children from hard work or a life of beggary, yet who still seem to trust to the chance. In the case of the daughter there is always the golden dream of the moneyed prince who may come to throw his fortune at her feet. Sentimental and absurd that a son, who has had no training in any way, shall be able to achieve a fortune by his wits. How many sons are led by ambitious mothers to forsake the honest craft of their fathers in order to follow the gentilities of a profession for which they have no aptitude.

No man in the land is more independent than the craftsman. Few young men, however, are willing to give their time to learn a trade, as they do in foreign countries, and by the apprentice system many trades are practically forbidden to any but the few. The establishment of trade schools has partly remedied this matter, yet there are only a few young men who are wise enough to learn a trade thoroughly. When they have picked up a smattering of knowledge they too often consider themselves equipped for work and wages. The country is full of these half-learned workmen who never have been taught at home regular method in their work and have had scantiest training.

In every department of trade where the workman is intelligent, thorough and trustworthy, there is work to be done. In the richest counties in the Eastern States it is difficult to find such mechanics—men who can be trusted to do their work properly. Where such are found they are always in demand. Their ability and trustworthiness have made them practically monopolists of their work. There is probably in every town or county one or two builders who have gained such a reputation for workworthiness that they are the first choice, and people are willing to wait for them rather than employ any one else. There is no chance. Such workmen do not look for "jobs."

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The lesson of all this is plain, for it has often been repeated by philosophers and teachers. No one can afford to live by chance. No mother can afford to bring her children up to a life of idleness. "Ascending from the lowest to the highest through every scale of human industry, that industry followed gives peace. Ask the laborer in the field, at sea or in the mine, and none of those who are true workmen will ever tell you that they found the law of heaven an unkind one—that in the sweat of their face they should eat bread until they returned to the ground."—N. Y. Tribune.

What is an American Sunday?

In the course of the local option hearing at Albany, recently, Mr. Carl Schurz pertinently asked, "Where do you find the American Sunday?" The German reformer then answered his own question by the statement that "You will find it no more in the large cities." As to the accuracy of this assertion, it all depends upon what constitutes an American Sunday. Boston has one conception of Sunday and New Orleans has another. The Sunday of Coney Island and Rockaway is not the Sunday of Chautauque and Ocean Grove. Sunday in a frontier town is one thing, and Sunday in a New England hamlet something entirely different. New York under Roosevelt has a Sunday of one kind, and Milwaukee, with its open beer gardens, has a Sunday of another kind. All of these communities, however, are American communities. Which of them represents the "genuine article" in the matter of Sunday observance? Is it New Orleans or is it Boston? Is it Asbury Park or is it South Beach? Do the American descendants of the countrymen of Martin Luther, who is said to have spent a good part of each Sunday in rasping an old fiddle, stand for the true American Sunday, or do the American descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers, who spent practically the whole of every Sunday in religious devotions? By what right can the Sunday of one class of the American people be declared to be more American than the Sunday of another class?

As a question of fact, the American Sunday is a good deal of a myth. There never has been and probably there never will be a Sunday which represents the same idea in every section of this country. Cotton Mather kept one kind of Sunday, and the cock-fighting, horse-racing squire of Virginia quite another. If an American Sunday has any fixed meaning at all it signifies a Sunday in which the greatest degree of personal liberty is permitted consistent with the maintenance of peace and order.—N. Y. Advertiser.

THE TITLE of one of the latest books out, is "How to live on twenty-five cents a day." This is so delightfully ambiguous, that the book will likely have a large sale—there are lots of people who would like to learn such a great secret.

Our Indians.

"Our Indians" is the title of a strong article by Hon. Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Interior, published in the Youth's Companion of March 36th.

Perhaps there is no national theme which arouses more quickly the sympathies of all fair-minded Americans. The Indian who once had complete liberty to hunt and occupy this fair land has found the United States Government a master whom he cannot understand. Secretary Smith gives much valuable information about the present condition and prospects of the Indians, their increasing numbers, their education, and indicates the position of the present national administration toward them.

He closes the article by saying: "While I have not criticized the action of our forefathers and of our fathers in the treatment of the Indians, I urge without hesitation that among this people can be found a field for missionary work as worthy of Christian zeal as in those countries far away from our own."

This article is one of a Series by American Statesmen, appearing in The Companion, including articles by Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. H. A. Herbert, Secretary of the Navy, and Hon. J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture.

I. E. Wing tells the Ohio Farmer that beef or mutton tallow melted and mixed with kerosene makes a very superior lubricator.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEVITIES.

When sending to the New York market, remember that all poultry for this market should be mottled and have legs and feet on.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEVITIES.

A woman's "guess" is more accurate than a man's. Your wife "guesses" that your sick-headaches come from your stomach and the result is a slight attack of biliousness.

IN THE APIARY.

Shallow Frames Versus Deep Frames For Wintering Honey Bees.

First.—Irrespective of the depth or shallowness of the frames, does the amount of comb which the cluster of a colony covers at the beginning of winter, suffice for its needs?

The Epitomist is a large one already. We are not self-satisfied, and desire to have our light shining in no more homes the coming year than it has ever done before.

FARMING WITHOUT MANURE.

A Brief Account of Results Obtained Upon a Wornout Connecticut Farm.

Keeping live stock to maintain the fertility of the land is accepted as the best plan by the majority of farmers, but there are some who tell us that this is not the best way under all circumstances.

The fertilizers relied on are tobacco stems, castor pomace, bone meal, superphosphate, muriate of potash and nitrate of soda. Tobacco stems are applied to a greater extent, according to cost, than anything else.
