Death of Miss Rose Hemler.

For the RECORD.) Last week's RECORD announced hat Miss Rose A. Hemler, daughter of Mr. Lewis J. Hemler, of near this place, had undergone an operation in St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore. We regret to announce now, that on Friday (Sept. 24th.) the dread summons came, and the brave, pure soul of this most highly esteemed and universally beloved young woman took its flight to that home not made by its Creator and Redeemer. On Monday last, all that was mortal of Rose Hemler was consigned to its last resting place beside her sainted mother and five generations of kindred in old St. Joseph's cemetery of this place.

How to Modernize an Old Lambrequin. The old fashioned lambrequin had its use, and a reminiscence of it is often seen in a narrow piece of rich silk looped across the curtain in some fanciful way. When the window is a bow, the silk is carried along all the windows from one pole to another, forming a continuous upper drapery. This strip of silk is also used in the case of windows near together. Another artistic plan with two windows quite close together is to use one long curtain at each window, the two long ends hanging on the outside, the short inside ends drawn together at the top between the two poles and fastened there in graceful folds. One long piece of stuff is often thus used in place of two separate curtains.
