Profit in Lime to the Farmer.

The LeGore Combination of Lime 1 ton of wheat worth $ 20.00 4 tons of hay

110.00 Cost of 1 ton of lime about 4.00

This will leave as a profit to farmer $106.00 How can the farmers afford to put off liming and expect to make up the great loss in their future crops? The LeGore Combination of Lime is guaranteed to show paying results for twenty years. If the farmers lime for grass, wheat and corn, they will grow good crops and lay the foundation for permanent improvement. The farmer makes more clear money by the use of one ton of lime than the manufacturer does from the sale of 100 tons. Putting off liming is like putting off doing what is right—the longer you wait the harder it will go. It does not pay to put out any crop with-out liming if the field has not had any lime for 4 or 5 years.

If the farmers wish to grow abundant crops of wheat, grass and corn profitably, they must use a good combination of the salts of lime

GAPES IN CHICKS.

4 Disease Which Usually Carries Off Many of the Youngsters.

Gapes is one of the most serious causes of loss among chicks. It is caused by small worms that accumulate in the windpipe until the chicks suffocate. The affected chicks constantly try to dislodge the worms by gaping and shaking the head. If the chicks are quite large, they can usually manage to throw off the disease. If, however, the disease attacks small chicks, they usually succumb to it or day in the front yard of her father's

One of the Dainty Operations In Modern Dentistry.

THE WAY THE INLAY IS MADE.

Fashioned in Fragile Gold Leaf, the Matrix Is Sunk by Vibration In Semifluid Asbestus and the Mold When Set Filled With Porcelain.

This was an upper front tooth that had once been nicely filled with gold, but fresh decay having set in around that filling it had become necessary to fill the tooth again. This time, the Then on both sides of the water it dentist said, he thought he would fill it with porcelain.

All the processes of making a porcelain inlay are interesting. Having required depth and shape, the dentist next proceeds to make a matrix or mold of it in gold foil, which he is enabled to do without breaking this delicate material by the use of a bit of sponge between it and the crowding tool. So he crowds the gold foil down around within it everywhere to fit into the cavity perfectly and gets the depth all around the edge of the mold so exactly that the inlay to be made in it when set into place will not only fit perfectly in the cavity, but fit into it with its edges flush all around with the surrounding surface of the tooth. The mold thus made of the cavity in the tooth may look like the tiniest of tiny gold cups or it may have some irregular shape, according to the shape of the cavity; but, whatever its shape, this mold of gold foil is so slight and thin that a touch would crush it, and it seems indeed as if a breath would blow it away, as probably it would, and you may wonder how a solid piece of porcelain can ever be formed in a mold so frail and delicate, but it is all really very simple, as you will

Now the dentist takes a small metallic holder about the size and shape of a very small clam shell, which he fills with powdered asbestus mixed with water, and on top of this yielding material, handling it gently with a pair of pliers, he sets the delicate little gold mold, with its closed end down, resting so on the surface of the moistened powdered asbestus. This holder has a lip on one side of its edge, by which it can be lifted with a pair of pliers made for the purpose and serving thus as a handle for it. Lifting the little saucer now by this handle, the operator rubs on the han-

"THE HOLY CITY."

Thirty men, red-eved and disheveled, were lined up before a judge of the San Francisco police court on one occasio before the earthquake had destroyed the city and set away all its municipal june tions. It was the regular morning company of "drunks and disorderlies." Some were old and hardened; others hung their heads in shame. Just as the momentary disorder attending the bringing in of the prisoners quieted down, a strange thing happened. A strong, clear voice from below began singing:

'Last night I lay a-sleeping,
There came a dream so fair.' Last night! It had been for them all a nightmare, or a drunken stupor. The song was such a contrast to the horrible fact that no one could fail of a sudden shock at the thought its words suggested. 'I stood in old Jerusalem,
