THE CARROLL RECORD.

VOL. 16. Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone, 3-R.

TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND, SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1910.

No. 50

NEWS NOTES HERE AND THERE

Condensed Items of Interest from County, State and Our Exchanges.

Ex-President Roosevelt sailed from London today (Friday) for New York. The political effect of his return is still an interesting problem.

Baltimore is considering the project of holding a National Exposition, in 1914, in celebration of the 100th. anniversary of the battle of North Point, and the birth of "The Star Spangled Banner." The chief obstacle scenario to be the The chief obstacle seems to be the pro-posed Panama Exposition.

Plans have been perfected by Mr. Munsey, publisher of the Baltimore News, for a new eighteen story building on Calvert street. The cornice will be 235 ft. from the sidewalk, and the entire building will be a model of its class, not only as a newspaper home, but for office use.

The railroads have agreed after a conferencs with President Taft and Cabinet, to withdraw increased rate schedules, and to file no more increases until the new railroad bill becomes a law and goes into effect. The injunction suit brought against the railroads will now be withdrawn.

The regular Republican candidates carried Iowa and Wisconsin, at the pri-maries, over the "insurgent" candidates, except that in Iowa three of the latter carried Congressional nominations. The result is claimed as a victory by both sides. It is thought that the state convention in Iowa will be fully controlled by the regulars.

The Maryland Editorial Association will hold its semi-annual meeting, July 18, on a steamboat from Baltimore to Washington. The trip will cover several days, and a program of addresses and business will be arranged. On arrival at Washington, a side trip to Mt. Vernon will likely be taken, and arrangements will be made for seeing the sights of the city.

Col. Buchanan Schley, of Hagerstown, has been reappointed State Tax Commissioner, notwithinstanding the fact that he has been liberally criticised as an "absentee official" of the champion class. Even the Governor appears to have experienced a change of heart, as he voted for him notwithstanding his recent strong condemnation of officials who do not stay on their job. "Nothing to say" seems to be the word all along the line.

That he might acquire his education, That be might acquire his education, Mr. Charles E. Beachley, one of the graduates of the Middletown High School, a son of Mr. William Beachley, residing about five miles from Middle-town, near Reno's Monument, on South Mountain, walked about 12,000 miles. For four years he has walked to school

Letter from Mt. Clemens, Mich For the RECORD

In my last letter to the RECORD I promised to give the expense and what constituted a thorough bath. Upon entering a bath house the first thing nec-essary is the purchase of tickets at the office, which can be bought each day, or, you can buy ten tickets for $5.00, which is the regular price, 50 cents each, whether you purchase one or ten, as you see fit. In case you buy ten tickets and do not need them, by reason of your being cured, or are called away on busi-ness, the tickets will be redeemed at the price register areas price paid for same. You then select your attendant, whose duty it is to help you undress, in case you are not able to do so yourself and are then brought into the bathing-room where your bath has already been drawn, and are left to soak for 10 or 15 minutes also to start perspiring, when the attendant then places a towel over your face and starts rubbing and manipulating the muscles starting at the neck and rubbing downward to the feet, after which you are turned over in the tub and the process is the same as before after which you are laid on a cot and wrapped in a blanket and take a thorough sweating; but in case of a tonic bath the water is cooled before getting out of the tub. You are then wiped off and go into the cooling and smoking room to thoroughly cool off before dressing. This constitutes a thorough bath. The cost of your attendant is 25 cents, or as much more as you see fit to give him, but it is the same here as at many other places, the "tip" is practiced and most persons pay 50 cents for each treatment, as better service is the result, al-though you are not compelled to do so. The cost of board varies in price from $5.00 a week to $25.00 and even higher. Very good board can be had from $8.00 to $10.00 a week, which is about the average price paid by most persons who come here for treatment.

The patients who are not so badly crippled can spend their time fishing and boating on Lake St. Clair, which is near the city limits; also a very pleasant afternoon can be spent at the Panacea Springs where crowds congregate and drink Panacea water for hours, and it is wonderful the amount of this water that can be drank, as it is put up in ½ gallon bottles and a person usually drinks one bottle at least, especially if he stays there any length of time.

Patients are supposed to drink from six glasses to 1 gallon per day and quite a few who are unable to go to the Springs have it brought to their boarding houses.

I have seen some wonderful cures since being here; almost every day you can notice how much better this or that person walks than a day or two ago, or some one who had to be wheeled to the bath house, in a few days walking about without the use of a cane or crutch. Inflammatory rheumatism is the most easily cured, although very painful and many persons being swollen very much in a few days the swelling is reduced and the rheumatism disappears.

In my own case, being of long standing, it takes a longer time, but am still in hopes of being greatly benefitted, even though it takes time. The weather here has been very disagreeable as it has in all kinds of weather, in order that he might graduate, and his ambition was provement would be much more rapid. been cold and rainy since I came here

Brown-Eyster.

ter of Rev. C. M. Eyster, of Baltimore, was married last Wednesday to Edward

Royston Brown, son of Capt. John ter was given away by William F. Gardner, the best man being Clarence

The ushers were John D. Lippy, of Gettysburg; Dr. G. Bruce Geyer, Martins-ourg, West Virginia; John L. Giles and

Albert Sloman, of Baltimore. The wedding march was played by the organist, George W. Poehlman. The bride wore a gown of mode marveaneaux, with a white picture hat trimmed with white hyacinths and crystal wheat, and Reindollar-Kittinger.

Mr. J. J. Reindollar, of Fairfield, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth Kittinger, of Chambersburg, were married, on Wednesday,

June 8, at the home of the bride. They will be at home, at Fairfield, where Mr.

Reindollar is engaged in the hardware business with his father. The many relatives and friends of the groom in Taneytown, extend their best wishes and con-

MARRIED.

YINGLING-HAHN. - On June 4th.,

Brown, Mr. Delph Yingling and Miss

Obituaries, poetry and resolutions, charged for at the rate of five cents per line. The regular death notices published free.

HECK.-On June 3, 1910, in Taney-town, Mr. Uriah M. Heck, aged 64 years, 1910, at Union Bridge, by Rev.

DIED.

Oh, how sudden was the summons. When word came that he ws dead; Time was too short to say farewell, To those he loved so well.

We did not want to part with you, But God knew what was best. Some day we hope to meet again In that sweet land of rest.

What grief and pain he suffered here, None of us will ever know: For Jesus took him home with him, Where no tears will ever flow;

I miss him—oh, how sad was the parting!— But there's a thought I do love well, When my lite from this earth is departed, I may go home with my brother to dwell.

By his sister, Mrs. Anders.

5 months and 19 days.

Ella Hahn.

Mr. Robert Shugh Reindollar, son of

L. Clemson, a cousin of the bride.

Miss Treva Marguerite Eyster, daugh-

FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS. House Passes Substitute for the Bill as Passed by the Senate.

The postal savings bank bill passed the House, on Thursday evening by a vote of 195 to 101. Twenty-four Democrats voted for it, and four Republicans against it. The bill is a compromise, differing materially in some of its features with the Senate bill. Whether it will now go into conference, or whether the Senate will recede and accept the House bill, reports do not state.

The bill allows interest at 2 per cent. on funds placed in the postal deposits. The Senate bill provided that postal savings depositories should be established in all Presidential offices. This was re-garded by the House Republicans as a too-extensive beginning of a new and untried system. The House bill pro-vides for such postal depositories as the board of trustees may designate.

Under the terms of the bill passed by the House, a board of trustees is created, consisting of the Postmaster-General, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attor-ney-General, who shall declare what ostoffices shall become postal savings banks. Deposits in these banks made by any one person shall not be more than $100 a month or exceed a total of $500. An account may be opened with $1, but stamps of 10 cents each will be issued for those desiring to accumulate money to be deposited. On deposits 2 per cent. per annum interest is to be Any depositor so desiring can ex-change his deposits for Government bonds to be issued in denominations of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100 or $500, to bear interest at 21 per-cent. a year.

The money accumulated in these postal savings banks is to be deposited in both National and State banks in the vicinity of the postoffices in which the money is deposited by the people, such banks to pay 2¹/₂ per-cent. interest.

Five per-cent. of the total deposits is to be retained by the Secretary of the Treasury as a cash reserve. Not more than 30 per-cent. of these deposits may be withdrawn by the Government at any one time for investment in bonds of the United States, remaining 65 per-cent. to remain on deposit in the banks.

The banks are required to give as security for the deposits they receive "public bonds or other securities supported by the taxing power," which re-stricts such securities to some form of National, State, municipal or other such bonds approved by the board of trustees in charge of the postal savings banks.

A Family and Social Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther T. Sharetts gave a reunion, or pic-nic, to their brothers and sisters and their families, as well as to Mr. Sharetts' numerous tenants and number of invited friends, in a grove at "Bushy Maples," near Keymar, on Wednesday. Such a gathering was a novelty for the neighborhood, the idea having been revolving in the host's mind for several years, and to say that it was a most enjoyable and successful

New York, June 6.-The Lincoln Memorial Road Association, formed to promote the construction by the Federal government of a memorial road to Abraham Lincoln from Washington to Gettysburg, Pa., was organized here today These officers were elected:

The Lincoln Memorial Rcad.

President, Truman Newberry, of Detroit, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy; vice president, Samuel Hill, of Seattle, secretary, James T. McCleary, ol Mankato, Minn.; treasurer, Robert A. C. Smith, of New York city.

A bill to carry out the plan was intro-duced in the United States Senate by Secretary of State Knox when he was senator from Pennsylvania. This bill passed the Senate, but failed in the House. A similar bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Lafean, of Pennsylvania, but no action on it has been taken.

The association does not intend to ask for public subscriptions of any kind. Whatever expenses are connected with the work of the association will be met by the officers personally. Those form-ing the association believe that the national memorial to Lincoln should be paid for entirely by the national govern-ment. The road, as planned, is to be about 72 miles long and about 200 feet wide. The estimated cost is $2,500,000.

New Windsor College Commencement.

Commencement at New Windsor College closed on Wednesday with the reg-ular exercises in the college hall. The first event was a piano recital by the students, on last Friday evening. The baccalaureate service was held in the Presbyterian Church, New Windsor, on Sunday morning, when a discourse to the graduating class was delivered by Rev. De Witt M. Benham, Ph. D., of Baltimore. On Monday evening the address to the Philokalian Literary So-ciety was delivered by Wm. W. Fraser, A. M., of Washington, D. C. On Tuesday evening the annual oratorical con-test took place in the college hall.

At the commencement exercises four Students were graduated. They are Misses Katherine A. Streett, Mary L. Foard, of Harford county; Miss Ivy Fowler, of New Windsor, and Herbert S. Gaither, of Ellicott City, Miss Streett delivered the salutatory and Mr. Gaither the valdiatory organo. the valedictory oration. The exercises began with vocal music by Miss Nellie M. Dunkle, and Rev. Thomas L. Springer offered an invocation. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Dunkle and Miss Bessie M. Foard. Addresses to the gradnates were delivered by George H. Birnie on "The Value of Education;" by Rev. W. A. Price on "The Christian College," and Rev. Archibald Campbell on "The Honor of Graduation." The degree of doctor of divinity was on "The Honor of Graduation." The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Rev. Archibald F. Camp-bell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of Baltimore, and Rev. Davis L. Rathbun, of California.

of California. Names of prize-winners were an-nounced, as follows: In elocution, Miss Ivy Fowler, gold medal, with Miss Mar-garet Engle, of Ellicott City, almost a tie; general proficiency, Miss Margaret Engle, gold medal, with Miss Fowler and Miss Mary L. Foard the small frac-tion of a unit belind her: first honor in tion of a unit behind her; first honor in paratory mathematics, Miss Elizabeth Gilbert, of White Hall, gold medal, with Miss May Vanek, of Baltimore, a close second.

LOEB CATCHING SMUGGLERS.

How the Wealthy try to Evade Paying Customs Duties on Valuables.

Collector Loeb, of New York, is raking in the wealthy smugglers, at a great rate, and his new system, which has its agencies abroad, will save the government hundreds of thousands of dollars, if not millions, a year. Within the past two weeks, many prominent men and women have been arrested and convicted, upon charges preferred by the customs officials. Millionaires, great customs officials. Millionaires, great politicians, noted society beauties and financiers have been caught in the meshes of the law, powerless against it despite their wealth and prominence, and the array of confiscated jewels, laces, gowns and furs is taxing the appraisers' stores to the utmost capacity, and all of this is due to the skillful net spread for their unwary feet by William Loeb.

Some of these so-called smugglers are facing imprisonment, others have been forced to pay heavy fines, women have crept, bowed with shame, to country laces where they might hide the brand of the law emblazoned upon them, and men have renounced great positions and prospects to wait till the nine days' wonder is over and the world turns from the stories of these modern pirates to some other news.

North, Southeast and West, all cities are blazoned upon the rolls of the smuggling army, and the latest upon whom the searchlight of the law has flung its glare are four of the most noted society women of Wisconsin, beautifully gowned, serenely confident they would escape even the suspicions of the inspectors.

These ladies had declared to the officials dutiable property amounting to only $160.00, while a search revealed property worth $3000. A recent case from Massachusetts resulted in a fine of $7000.00, while a Minnesota fine of $5000.00 has just been paid, and so the cases run. For years, "fooling the in-spectors" has been carried on until it has been reduced to a science, but Mr. Loeb seems to be too much for the best laid plans.

Here are strange stories of shoes with hollow heels, of rag dolls whose cotton sides are stuffed with jewels of which the doll's prattling little owner knows nothing, of sausages stuffed with optum, of laces and diamonds sewed into dress linings, of loaded revolvers whose alleged bullets are diamonds and pearls, of cheap trinkets whose bits of glass are mixed in with real gems, and of all the plans evolved by clever men for hoodwinking the inspectors, but for each of these Mr. Loeb has worked out a method of detection.

"There is always a flaw in their best laid plans," he says, "and it is our part to find that flaw. One man was detected through an inspector bumping into him on the pier and feeling a hard substance under his coat. Anothor was detected by her nervous gossip with a stewardess, while still others are traced as purchasers of false trunks, etc., from the manu-facturers of Antwerp and went down upon our suspect list long before they took passage for the home port.

The real point in our favor is the ir resistible desire on the part of the modern smugglers to talk. They always tell somebody, and so in time it gets back to It hasn't been two days," he continued, "since I had a case that was almost a tragedy. A woman, the second wife of a Wall Street banker, had been smuggling things for some time. Every-body knew it but the husband, and at ast the woman quarreled with a friend who sent me an anonymous letter telling about it. I sent a man to her house and she confessed at once, gave up the jewels and paid thousands in duties and fines, exacting only one return from mea return pleaded for on her kneesthat was that I should not tell her husband, who would divorce her if he knew. Her allowance is mortgaged for years to come to pay up all this, but I don't think she will smuggle again." Chuckling over their skill and ability to "fool the customs men." these modern pirates steam toward America all unconscious that that brown-eyed, sternfaced man sitting at his desk in New York has before him that fateful list upon which his or her name appears. together with the valuable things bought in Europe, and an interesting description of the dressmaker who made out a bill for $100 for that $500 dress purchased, and the story of the bargaining for those clever walking shoes with their satin-lined heels where the gems glitter in such seeming safety. "Diamond and jewelry dealers all over the world are co-operating with us now," says Collector Loeb, "and every large purchase is recorded. We, of ourse, can do nothing with the manufacturers abroad who aid and abet this defrauding by manufacturing means of carrying smuggled goods, but so long as we know about these purchases it really doesn't matter where they hide them, as we are sure to find the things in time. Fashionable smugglers." he continued, his voice rising a little indig-nantly, "are the first to raise the American flag and shout about their citizenship when they get in trouble abroad, but they won't do their part toward paying the Government when they come home. Sixty-one out of 200 passengers lately have proved to be smugglers to asmall degree, while the big cases like 'sleeper trunk' affairs are, I am thankful to say, growing smaller each month. The customs officer who boards the ship at Quarantine and looks over the declarations of the passengers naturally becomes suspicious if he finds that a man who recently purchased hundreds of dol-lars' worth of jewels has only declared one gold watch valued at about $50. Nathange. The owners of the line not only built man's baggage. Then if he knows of a it at their own expense, but own their instruments and will maintain the line, paying to the C. & P. Company an annual charge per phone for connec-tions with the Taneytown and Union trunks contain costumes without labels they do say that there was firing with-in the borough limits, but nobody was bridge exchanges. The use of the serv-ice, outside of these two exchanges, is he begins to look for the Paris labels (Continued on Fourth Page.)

Are You Fully Insured?

The most dangerous season of the year for fire and storm damage to prop-erty is at hand. Especially considering the present high cost of replacing such property, there should be no hesitation in carrying ample insurance, both by property owners and tenants. Insurance is a legitimate necessary expense, as much as rent and taxes, and no matter how much one may desire to save the cost of insurance, it never pays to take the risk.

Within the past ten years, storm insurance has become a very general in-vestment for protection, and as its cost s not great, a large percentage of the best business men among the tarming fraternity carry such insurance along with fire

Short term insurance on wheat is also wise investment, and many more carry it, several months during the harvest season, than was the case some years ago; still, there are too many who take a big risk.

Many persons are very careless as to their insurance protection, especially those who hold continuing policies, renewed by paying a certain percentage each year. Many of these policies were issued years ago, when everything was low in price, and do not cover either increased valuation, nor the increase in amount of insured items now owned. The result is that when a fire occurs, the insurance covers but a small portion of the actual loss. In other words, while values have increased all along the line, the insurance protection has been neglected.

-10-0-01-Better Care of Boy Prisoners.

The case of a young boy, named Rippeon, who was picked up near Walkers-ville, last week, as "homeless," and lodged in Frederick jail with a dissolute woman, has aroused state-wide attention, and serves to call official attention to the fact that there is need for better care of such cases on the part of county authorities.

Under present conditions, as is pointed out by the State's Attorneys for the various counties and by the sheriffs, who have a chance to see the deplorable possibilities of moral and physical contam-ination in the existing arrangement, youngsters, ranging in age from 4 to 12 years, against whom there is absolutely no criminal charge, but who are simply unfortunate enough to lack proper guardians, occupy cells in the jails for three or four days and nights at a time in company with dissipated men and women who are held for serious crimes. The Rippeon boy was finally taken to Baltimore, and turned over to the Henry Watson Children's Aid Society, where he will be properly taken care of. This Society is ready to take charge of all such cases and jusite that boys all such cases, and insists that boys need not be shut up in jail with criminals, but be committed at once to the care of the Society.

Both the Attorney General and the Governor have interested themselves in the situation, and admit that there must be a change made at once. The Chief Judges of the various circuits in the state have been asked for suggestions for improving conditions. Pending some solution to the question, St. Mary's Injustrial School has also offered to receive boys, and care for them, while awaiting trial. It would appear that each county, without much cost, ought to be able to provide some suitable place of detention for the few cases of children of the dependent class that come before them, and we doubt whether there is any real excuse for the use of the jail, or at least for confining the cases with the criminal or dissolute, as was done in Frederick.

realized at the commencement exercises at Middletown last week.

It is confidently expected by those interested, that the fifteenth annual con-vention of the Maryland Bankers' Association, which will be held at the Blue Mountain House June 21 to 23, inclusive, will prove the best and most instructive meeting the Association has ever enjoyed. It is stated that the program will be of unusual interest. The report of the committee having charge of the "Uniform Banking bill" will be espec-ially interesting, in view of this bill having been enacted into law at the recent session of the Legislature.

A newspaper, if it has any brains. conscience and muscle back of it, must continually decide between doing its duty and injuring its pocket. In any position but that of an editor the public s able to separate the individual home from the collective citizen. But if the carried a bouquet of bride's roses. editor does not please them, it's his pocket they aim at. Thus it is that newspapers learn who their friends are. The man who reads a newspaper and ad-mires it all the year around, yet gives his business support to some other concern, is not a friend of the paper.

6 9

Playford Bowling aged seventeen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel I. Bowling, of Friendsville, Md., recently had both arms severed by the saw on a mill upon which he was employed as setter. He was at work on the carriage of the mill when gratulations. his cap blew off his head; in attempting to recover it he threw out his right arm which was caught by the saw and severed between the elbow and shoulder. Intui-tively he threw out his left arm and this also was caught by the saw and 'cut off just above the wrist. The severance of both members was done in the twinkling of an eye. As soon as possible the injured boy was taken to Friendsville where his injuries were dressed, and from last reports he will probably live.

Fifteen persons were injured by automobiles in Baltimore during the month of May, according to the accident report compiled by Patrolam James Manning Of the 15 accidents, two were fatal and the result of one is yet undetermined. The accident report for the month of May is quite a full one. There were 350 mishaps that did not result fatally and 22 that did. Dogs bit 48 persons; three were injured by motorcycles; 28 were run over or struck by wagons, and 109 were injured in various street-car accidents. Of the fatal accidents, two persons were killed by automobiles, four were burned, five were drowned and five were killed by falling from and being struck by steam cars. There were six suicides, and 14 persons attempted self-destruction.

asion, but mildly describes it. Dinner was served at midday, in the GEO. E. KOUTZ.

grove, on long tables, chiefly to the family connections, over 100 partaking of a very elaborate as well as substantial meal, and at about 5 o'clock the tables again did duty for an abundance of oothsome refreshments, when perhaps 150 were served. Fully 200 persons, all, were present during the day, which Brown, of Baltimore, at First German United Evangelical Church, of which Rev. Mr. Eyster is pastor. Mr. Eyster performed the ceremony, and his daughwas an ideal one for an outdoor gather-

Mr. and Mrs. Sharetts are to be congratulated, not only for conceiving such a happy event, which combined the features of a family reunion, as well as an outing for their tenants and friends, but for the admirable manner in which the details were arranged. and the general success which attended it. Everybody was happy and good humored-even the tables failed to "groan," a 28 they commonly do at reunions, if newspaper correspondents are to be credited. It was not a "groaning" occasion, but perhaps some of the participants in the strenuous athletic stunts of the afternoon, "groaned" the next day. A home-made and ingeniously simple merry - go - round furnished hilarious amusement for the young folks, but a rather low down experience for some of the more elderly ones, which demon-strates that the scriptural injunction, 'each according to his (or her) ability is a pretty good one to follow, even when pic-nicing. The good old-time bag race, wheeling match, various foot races and long and high jumping contests, as well as other feats of agility added spice and interest to the purely social and fraternal features of the day. Everybody had a fine time-a happily conceived event carried out in a happy manner.

A Gettysburg Story.

The Star Independent, of Harrisburg, prints the following: "At the time of the battle, Gettysburg had a Burgess named H. J. Stable, a fine, great-hearted man, who was the foundand editor of the Gettysburg Com*piler*, the Democratic organ of Adams county. In the spring of 1863 the Borough Council had forbidden the firing of guns within the borough limits, and as July drew near Bugress Stahle issued the usual proclamation against the firing of guns in the borough. The Union army under Meade and the Confederate army under Lee were both headed for Gettysburg, and the story goes that the doughty Burgess sent messengers to Meade and Lee that if they violated the ordinance against change. firing guns within the borough limits he The o would have them both arrested and fined. What replies the two commanders sent back is not a matter of history, and Burgess Stahle would never tell. But the fight took place all the same, and they do say that there was firing witharrested.'

Conference of the Brethren.

The National Conference of the Church of the Brethren is being held at Winona Lake, Indiana, and large crowds are in attendance. The program is a varied one, and somewhat crowded, the days being very busy ones for all.

The Church of the Brethren is growing, and with growth comes new probems, but the outlook is most promising. The church is especially active along educational lines, and its missionary work has grown wonderfully. All of the sermons and reports have been optimistic, showing conditions generally to be prosperous.

The Assembly Review published daily, ontains the following, in its issue of Monday;

"One of the hard things to do is to estimate the number of visitors to these great meetings. It is safe to say that there are more members present already than we have had since the Harrisburg Conference, when we estimated the Sunday crowd at sixty-five thousand. By noon yesterday there were fully forty thousand people here and they were still coming. During the afternoon con-ditions fluctuated, for some began to leave for side-trips and a few for home, while others came in to take advantage of the business sessions which began Tuesday. It was necessary to divide the crowds and hold services in every available public hall as well as to furnish speakers and auditors to all the city churches. Notwithstanding the crowded condition of things the people are being nicely cared for and good order prevails everywhere. These are minor considerations compared with the high spiritual atmosphere permeating all.

A New Telephone Line.

A new telephone line, connected with the Taneytown Exchange of the C. & P. system, is now in operation. The owners and builders of the line are Messrs. M. Dutterer, Wilson L. Crouse, Luther T. Sharretts, Edwin H. Sharretts, George Winemiller, Wm. A. Devilbiss, Wm. E. Ritter, Peter Baumgardner, Charles Wilhide, Isaiah, Lewis and David Reifsnider. These, with Messrs. Bruce Weant and Mr. Lowman, as renters, are now regularly connected and can be called through Taneytown Exat regular toll rates.

Flour Made From Alfalfa.

Omaha, Neb., June 4.- In ancient writ the story is told of a man who went out and grazed with the cattle, living and growing fat on the grass of the mead-ows. Since then grass has not been regarded as quite the food for human consumption. However, possibly due in a measure to the advance in the price of food-stuffs, man is returning to a grass diet, not only finding it palatable, but fat producing as well, taking the place of meat and wheat flour bread. The new food is alfalfa, and Omaha is the first city in the country to put the prevender upon the market. Until quite recently alfalfa was con-sidered a food for animals. For years it has been fed to cattle and horses and used as pasturage for hogs. Now, however it is serving another purpose, and the dry leaves are being ground into meal and flour, mixed with wheat flour and sold on the market as composition, out of which bread and pastry are being made.

In other words, the time has arrived when, if a man has a large field or a little patch of alfalfa in his back yard, he can shoulder his scythe, go out, cut down his grass, cure it in the sun, haul it away to the mill and, if he so desires, there exchange it for flour made of alfalfa hay, bring it home and turn it over to his wife or the servant, who, in turn, will convert this alfalfa hay meal or flour into bread, biscuits, pancakes or pastry, all of which goes to show that the world continues to move, and that the trusts are not going to get absolute control of the food supplies unless they extend their grip over the hay crop of the West.

想这是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是是 June is the last month in our business year, at the end of which comes our annual statement. We always desire those indebted to us, to settle their accounts during this month; and this year we desire it all the more, on account of the recent purchase of a new Engine and other equipment. RECERCICE CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR

NON-PARTISAN.)

SENATOR LAFOLLETTE, of Wisconsin, occupies an unenviable position, as he is practically without a party. The Republicans would rather see a Democrat | erty of innocent citizens. When it does, elected in his place, and the Democrats | it ought to pay the damages. will not take him up, so he is practically left to make a personal campaign for re-election. Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, is not much better off, for even and sometimes influence their enforceif the "regulars" are back of himwhich is not strongly apparent-he will could, if they would, change all this, do have a "hard row to hoe," as the Democrats are fighting hard for the legislature.

GOV. CROTHERS may be a far-seeing man, and perhaps a very honorable and patriotic one; but really, by putting "two and two together," it begins to look as though he has been playing a cute hand in politics, in which he has quietly secured most of the trumps for himself. His appointment of Dr. Hering, to such an important and active post as the Public Service Commission, will hardly be justified on the score of "the right man in the right place." There are dozens of vigorous men, physically and mentally, in this state, who would have fit the post very much better, or at least just as well.

The difficulty is, the liquor interests, the sporting classes, and men with special axes to grind, make our lawsment-and the greater majority, who not interest themselves enough in legislation to compel a change. There is little use in saying what ought to be done, when one will not do it when he can.

> ---The Battle About Over.

After all the fuss and ill-feeling, both the Railroad bill and the Postal Savings Bank bills will be passed by Congress and become laws, while both have been considerably amended, and worked into passable shape, to the extent that the Republican majority and a portion of the Democrats, are satisfied, the fact is apparent, after all, that a very large amount of the debate and contention was mere wind and quibbling, much of which grew out of the objectionable and arbitrary tactics of those in charge of the bills, and who assumed to pose too strenuously as "knowing all about" what is best for the country, and by too strongly ignoring the representatives of a very large section of it. The Republican leaders must hereafter recognize that a small coterie of Senators and Representatives from the Eastern and New England states can no longer and New England states can no longer dominate the destiny of the whole party, or they will wake up with total loss of power, and that before long. The mid-low West and its rorresentatives must dle West, and its representatives, must be recognized, as by right it ought to is not honest enough to deal honestly be, even if so doing means the shelving of some of the leaders who have "had Md. their day." On the whole, this has been a great Congress for Democratic opportunities tration, and the opportunities have been accepted. The double opportunity was ty policies, and to aid in aggravating point-which regards everything fair ocratic minority, especially as the Re-It is believed, however, that the remainder of the session will be spent by A PROPOSED new title for Col. Teddy | the Republicans in trying to heal over a

The Legal Profession.

Lawyers trained in the old schoolwho have seen how "freedom broadens. slowly down from precedent to precedent"-very properly feel that legal usages should not be lightly altered. To throw down the ancient safeguards would pave the way for the invasion of many of the substantial rights of the people and make the administration' of justice uncertain in the same degree that it becomes simple. The true remedy, the only effective remedy, is for the lawyers themselves to rise to a higher and broader conception of their duty as citizens and as officers of the court. Having at their fingers' ends in the import trade that they have in the the complexities of the law, scientifically evolved and yet subject to great abuse, they should realize that it is excellent to it will arrive at no very distant date.

"It cured me," or "It saved the of my child," are the expressions hear every day about Chamberla Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Rem This is true the world over where valuable remedy has been introduc No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

Yields Must Increase.

Government statistics show that agricultural imports have increased greatly during the past 50 years. The figures show that they have increased even faster than the country's population during that period. Agricultural exports also have increased. Farm products never have held the important place export trade. Yet such a condition is promised and trade records indicate that have a giant's strength, but to use it Farm exports last year were smaller

Fel

Fe

Fe

Fe

D=00000	parties; but, as dispensers of liquors	complains that ladies dresses have ad-	Stock Exchange, but as long as these	⋩∎⋧∎⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓⋧⋓
THE CARROLL RECORD	cannot be reached, in cases of this sort.	vanced, say $5.00 or so, on a $40.00 dress, while the $100.00 and $200.00 ones.	shares are dealt in with $900,000,000 of	HESSON'S DEPARTMENT STORE.
Published every Saturday, at Taneytown. Md., by The Carroll Record Printing and Publishing Company.	punish secondary victums for injuries to themselves and to third parties generally.	are really much higher-don't you know or poorer in quality.	three-fourths of the Clearing House bank loans in New York, any change in
P. B. ENGLAR. Editor and Manager.	In Maryland, as well as in other states, the recklessly driven auto has already	been making so much money, of late,	the average of stocks will affect business. A fall in shares was due. It would	We are Offering Great Bargains in every De-
BOARD OF DIRECTORS. DR. C. BIRNIE, Pres. G. A. ARNOLD. GEO, H. BIRNIE, V. Pres. JOHNS, BOWER.	taken a heavy toll of unnecessarily	that the fashionable set has been com- pelled to "bid up" to get ahead of them;	have come any way. It was precipi- tated by the close of a large speculative	partment of this Mammoth Store.
GEO, H. BIRNIE, V. Pres. JOHN S. BOWER. F. H. SEISS, Sec. & Treas. P. B. ENGLAR. E. E. REINDOLLAR.	been done to prevent it. As long as a	in other words, the common people are	movement, which ended when large
TERMS: One Dollar per annum in advance. Six months, 50c. Trial subscriptions, Three months, 25c. Please do not receive this paper after your subscription has expired, unless you mean to pay for it. The label on paper contains date to which the subscription has	most difficult for sober experts to handle, this line of extermination of life and	"putting the tariff" on the rich, for that is their only hope of distinguishing them- selves from the poor. In looks, or good sense, they fall so short of superiority that the pocket-book must be emptied to	pending issues, by the injunction pro- ceedings brought by the Government against the advance in Western freight	It will pay you to look through our Stock of Carpets, Matting, Linoleums, Oilcloth and Rugs, before making your purchase elsewhere.
been paid. All subscriptions will be discontinued on their expiration, when requested to do so;	business. The railroads very properly	enable them to buy expensive labels for	other products, which checks the recent	Dry Goods. Ready-made Clothing and no credit subscription will be continued longer than one year after the time to which it has been paid. This provision is to be con- sidered merely as an extension of credit, or a favor, to subscribers, and is not a fixed rule for cul eases	and make every effort to prevent those	themselves—then get what satisfaction they can by blaming their necessities on the tariff.	profits which have been made the basis of heavy Western bank loans that must now be liquidated.	 This department is filled to overflow with all the newest fabrics on the market; beautiful line of Figured and Plain Lawns, at 5c yd. and up. We are now showing the nobbiest and most up-to-date line of Men's and Boys' Clothing that has ever been shown in this place, and at prices that will appeal to you all.
ADVERTISING rates will be given on ap- plication, after the character of the business has been definitely stated, together with in-	but as yet there seems to be no law,	The Legal Profession.	Intrinsically the addition of 2.8 per cent. of cotton acreage, reported by the	Waistings in all the leading shades. Goods carried over from last season are locy yd. and up to the finest silks. are being sold at a sacrifice.
formation as to space, position, and length of contract. The publisher reserves the privi- lege of declining all offers for space.	toward protecting the public from auto-	President Taft in his speech before the graduating class of the Ohio Northern	Government last week, is a larger in- crease to the national wealth than the	Cotton Crashes, at 5c. Linen Crashes, at 8, 10 and 12c. Nice line of Men's Neckwear, at 10c
All advertisements for 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 7th pages must be in our office by Tuesday morn- icg, each week; otherwise, insertion cannot	mobile "drunks." As long as this class of "joy riders"	University referred to the disgraceful condition in which we find the adminis-	share market loss. Nothing can be bet- ter than the crops. They are all good.	Red Table Damask, at 25c and up. and upward. White Table Damask, 25c and up. Ladies' Jabots, 10 to 25c.
be guaranteed until the following week. Entered at Taneytown Postoffice as Second	kill or cripple only themselves, there is not so much loss; at least, the responsi-	tration of the criminal law in this coun- try and called upon the bar to cleanse	The cotton yield should be, other things	 Good Apron Gingham, 6 and 7c. Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5 to 45c. Lancaster Gingham, 8c. Men's Handkerchiefs, 5 to 25c. Dress Ginghams, 9, 10 and 12c. Men's Fine Shirts, 45 to 90c.
Class Matter.	bility is divided between the drinker and seller of the brain-stealing stuff; but,	itself of those who, in the interest of	being equal, a fith larger this year than last. Wool continues to work down.	 Dress Ginghams, 9, 10 and 12c. Men's Fine Shirts, 45 to 90c. Calicoes, 6 and 6½c. Men's 50c Work Shirt, 45c. Muslins, 5c and upwards. Large assortment Men's Suspenders.
SATURDAY, JUNE 11th., 1910.	when such fellows pursue their damage	their clients, forget their obligations as officers of the court and their duty as	Footwear is not in demand and hides and leather lower.
All articles on this page are either original, or properly credited. This has al-	to entirely innocent citizens and their property, we are led to wonder how	citizens. It was not only a timely appeal for the remedy of a crying evil, but	July wheat fell 2 cents in New York ways been a fixed rule with this office, and we suggest the adoption of it by our exchanges.	much longer this "free country" of ours can stand present conditions.	speaking, as he did, with an intimate	and rose and fell in Chicago. July corn rose in both. While corn rose on weather	When you say Shoes we are right in it. This department as usual is full of all the leading styles of Ladies' and Misses;
THE BRITISHERS realize, by this time, that giving T. R., the "freedom of the	Last week, for instance, a so-called	knowledge of the facts, he pointed out the one way by which the proposed	too cold for the young plant, good weather can yet change this. Wheat	Men's and Boys' Shoes and Oxfords, at prices that defy competition.
city of London'' was an unsafe proposi-	ended in a collision with a farm team,	remedy can be effected. The proverbial charge that the law in	steadily falls and meats tend down- wards, while July lard futures fell half a	P. SWe have 25 pair Ladies' Oxfords, regular price
tion, as it was accepted too literally for those who wanted to hear only compli-	cupants of the auto, very serious injury	this country is a web in which the little flies are caught, while the big ones	cent a pound in New York, though rising	 was $1.00 and $1.25 that we are closing at 59c. These are odds and ends and will not last long.
ments and high sounding platitudes. Teddy shoots for the mark, every time,		break through, has been only too well	in Chicago. The whole movement is towards big	See our new line of Curtain and Groceries.
without much consideration for the feel-	and harness, not counting a completely	confirmed by the many miscarriages of justice. Overzealous attorneys have	crops and cheaper food, which should advance railroad shares. Much is ex-	T Portier Goods, 10 to 20c vd.
ings of the target. His remarks on the English occupation of Egypt are said to	wrecked borrowed automobile. The question now is—Who is to pay this	availed themselves of strained technicali- ties and dilatory pleas, and all the other	pected from the conference between	Men's Fine Straw Hats, 50c to $5.00. White Sugar, have "sent a thrill" through the coun- try, which has been regarded in some	loss, supposing the auto driver recovers	machinery known to the subtle legal	President Taft and railroad presidents, who plead for no interference with the	Youth's Straw Hats, 25c to $1.00. Rolled Oats, 5c. Suit Cases, $1.00 and up. Corn Starch, 5 and 10c.
sources as impertinent from a visitor.	are of the opinion that the state ought	rights of their clients, while permitting the facts to be brought out, is a con-	advance in rates. The injunction against these asked by Attorney-General Wick-	Umbrellas, 50c and up. Prunes, 8 and 10c.
SENATOR LAFOLLETTE, of Wisconsin,	to pay every cent of it, for the reason that the state has no right to permit	ception of the duty of counsel for the	ersham has been followed by a reduc-	Boys' Leather Belts, 25c. Canned Corn, 8 and 10c.
occupies an unenviable position, as he	drunken travellers of any sort to use the	defense which seems to have no part in present-day procedure. The ingenuity	tion in equipment orders from many railroads, affecting iron and steel de-	Ladies' Belts, 10c and up. String Beans, 8c. 1-lb. Package Currants, 8c.
is practically without a party. The Re- publicans would rather see a Democrat	t erty of innocent citizens. When it does,	with which damaging facts can be stifled seems to have become, in many	mand. Quotations have yielded, though	* McCall Patterns, 10 to 15c. 1-lb. Package Seeded Raisins, 10c.
elected in his place, and the Democrats will not take him up, so he is practically	it ought to pay the damages.	instances, the measure of legal skill and		E UEGONIO DEDADTMENT GTODE left to make a personal campaign for	the sporting classes, and men with	acumen. It has brought reproach upon the whole body of the law. The lay-	of my child," are the expressions you	. Incoodit o ber mittinent o one re-election. Senator Beveridge, of In- diana, is not much better off, for even	special axes to grind, make our laws— and sometimes influence their enforce-	man, seeing the most obvious considera- tions of fairness and common sense vio-	hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.	╺ ●★●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●☆●
if the "regulars" are back of him-		lated in the name of the law, develops a	This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced.	4 Per Cent. Paid on Time Deposits.

4 Per Cent. Paid on Time Deposits. Birnie Trust Co., The TANEYTOWN, MD.

Total Assets, $577,468.53.

This Bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent., payable on and after March l0th.

Note the Progress of this	Bank in the last 5 Years.
TOTAL DEPOSITS.	TOTAL LOANS.
b. 9, 1905$356,266.52	Feb. 9, 1905$363,190.84
b. 9, 1906 431,179.68	Feb. 9, 1906 424,944.85
b. 9, 1907 473,300.04	Feb. 9, 1907 479,167.13
b. 9, 1909 505,164.09	Feb. 9, 1909 512,463.54
bruary 9, 1910 512,426.31	February 9, 1910 515,115.65
BACINE MARKET AND A DESCRIPTION OF A DES	and the second

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.

THE RAILROADS do owe a great deal to the public, and they should be subject to the same powers that grant their existence-their charters-but they must be left alone sufficiently to make money for their stockholders, and to keep their plants improved and up-to-date. If the government-National or state-draws the screws too hard, the general public, as well as the railroads, is bound to suffer. It looks to us as though anti-railroad-phobia has become a political question to much too great an extent, like the tariff question, and that politics with either.

ONE GETS NEW views of things generally by patient and direct observation, and remembering what one sees and to embarrass the party of the adminisreads. We see and hear many things, in which we are not directly and personally interested, and take but little ac- given to oppose administration and parcount of their importance and frequency; indeed, certain conditions may be of al- party dissension. Indeed, the result, most continuous existence, without our viewed from a purely political standrealizing the fact. When we become personally interested; when we look for that gains partisan advantage-has been and make note of, certain evidence, we decidedly favorable to the present Demare often surprised that we never observed it before. All depends on the publican disagreement over the tariff is trend of our minds-on our willingness | still fresh in mind. to see, and be convinced.

is "Chief Justice of the World." Now, good many of the raw spots, and that that is something like, whether taken when when adjournment time comes a seriously, or otherwise ! The scheme is fair degree of harmony will have been to have a commission of five, with Roose- leached. velt at the head, to keep the whole world sweet, by bringing about universal peace and uniting the nations of the world in a policy of limiting naval and army expenditures. Such a Court, or Commission, seems to be actually a settled accomplishment, but, whether our T. R., will head it, is another matter. We doubt whether the job would suit him, for if the world would get too good, there would be no heads to punch-no use for the "big stick."

Joy Riding.

The automobile "joy ride," which is simply another name for a drunken spree on wheels, is getting to be a widespree on wheels, is getting to be a wide-spread criminal nuisance, and needs a to $1.25 a pair. Poor woman! How the to $1.25 a pair. Poor woman! How the 000 more on them May 21 two weeks or for all such wounds as also for Burns, strong dose of undiluted justice. As a tariff raises the cost of the necessaries of 000 more on them May 21, two weeks matter of fact, those who smash up life! We wonder how much profit the ago, than last Saturday. Not over 5 to machines and kill and cripple them- importer has per pair on these indispensselves, are not primarily the responsible able articles? The same writer also curities of the country are afloat on the town, Md.

Blaming it on the Tariff.

Monthly Magazines, complains because 1890, 1895 and 1901, each of the last of fifteen years ago she could dress on these followed by good years after re-$400.00 a year, while now it costs her covery. Caution comes because no one $3000.00. Just think of that as an illustration that the tariff is robbing the people ! Perhaps if that poor woman's husband had not made himself rich, through prosperous times, she could still manage to dress herself on $400.00 a year? And New York during a "reaction" as last this sort of twaddle, from a spendthrift devotee of fashion, helps to form public sentiment !

blames the tariff for raising $1.00 hosiery | twenty leading securities included in the like a giant is tyrannous. More completely than any other body of men, perhaps, the legal profession holds in its own hands the remedy for the abuses which degrade it. The bar, as the President has said, "must cleanse itself."--Balt. News.

Kept the King at Home.

writes Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Easy, but sure remedy for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 25c. at R. S. McKinney's drug store, Taneytown, Trade, Price, Stocks, Crops.

The sudden severe fall in railroad shares during the past week concentrated business attention. The average of twenty active shares fell about $5. and sixty active shares, including the twenty, fell $2.50. As more of the share lists were included the average fall would grow less. Every such fall is concentrated on the few active speculative shares. The list as a whole suffers little and bonds scarcely at all.

This is the broad difference between a 'reaction'' and a "panic.'' The "panic' shatters all prices. The "reaction" affects only the shares in which speculators are speculating. One destroys intrinsic value. The other depresses quotations. One deranges and sometimes destroys business. The other stops speculative profits. One kills the flock. The other only "shears the lambs." Every "reaction," however, brings caution. There was a "reaction" early A smart woman writer in one of the in 1907 and 1893 and there also was in can tell where "reaction" will stop. The banks object to time loans and time loans are the life of business. The banks prefer at such a time to loan on call and the rate for call loans is often easier in week. Business is, however, affected because the borrowing power of securities is reduced. A firm borrowing Another writer, of the same sort, $1,000,000 on an assorted lot of the than during 1908 both in quantity and value.

The decrease in quantity exported is, of course, much greater than the decrease in value, owing to higher prices. The demand for more food is going to help further increase farm imports. It should also serve to increase home production, and perhaps decrease that part which is usually exported. The greater part of our farm products are needed EDW. E. REINDOLLAND, EDWID right here at home. The country should GEO. H. BIRNIE, Cashier. MARTI G. WALTER WILT, Ass't Cashier. MARTI MILTON A. KOONS and in addition to considerable exporting of farm food products.

We have the farms, but how about the farmers? The farms will only produce in proportion to the intelligent and intensive management accorded by the farmers. If such management results in lower average yields, then there is trouble ahead. But if average yields are increased there are possibilities galore. America knows very little of intensive farming. We have not yet been forced to it. The country is just beginning to realize that it is coming. The man who is growing more per acre each year, and maintaining the fertility of the soil, is the one who will solve the great food problems of the future.

The Farmers' Review sends out the above to its many readers and we may hope that it will awaken the farmer to the facts therein contained. The grange has always advocated intensive rather than extensive farming. More than thirty years ago among other things said in its declaration of purposes, a document which clearly sets forth the aims and objects of the grange to reduce our expenses, both individual and corporate; to buy less and produce more, in order to make our farms self-sustaining; to diversify our crops and crop no more than we can cultivate; to condense the weight of our exports, selling less in the bushel and more on hoof and in fleece; less in lint, and more in warp and woof; to systematize our work and calculate intelligently on probabilities. -National Grange Lecturer.

A Dreadful Wound

from a knife, gun, tin can, rusty nail, fireworks, or of any other nature, de-mands prompt treatment with Bucklen's Arnica Salve to prevent blood poison or Boils, Sores, Skin Eruptions, Eczema, ago, than last Saturday. Not over 5 to 7 per cent. of the aggregate railroad se-R. S. McKinney's drug store, TaneyReceives Deposits Subject to Check. Pays Interest on Time Deposits Discounts Business Notes. Makes Loans on Approved Security. Gives Special Rates to Weekly and Monthly Depositors.

- Legal Depository for Trust Funds. Authorized to Accept TRUSTS of Every Description-as Receiver, Trustee, Administrator, Executor,
- Assignee or Guardian. Collections promptly attended to. We have Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent, inside a Fire and Burglar Proof Vault, at from $1.00 to $3.00 per year, according to size.
- You have Valuable Papers, such as Insurance Policies, Deeds, Mortgages, Bonds, Stocks, Certificates, etc., which should be kept in a safe place—you cannot afford to be without a box at this price.

DIRECTORS:

J. J. WEAVER, JR., Vice-President. EDWIN H. SHARETTS. MARTIN D. HESS.

82

ENGLISH SPARROW PEST.

Uncle Sam Tells How to Get Rid of the Multitudinous Gormand.

The department of agriculture has just issued a bulletin, by Ned Dearborn, assistant in the biological survey, which tells farmers how they may rid their premises of the English sparrow, which has been inspected and condemned as a nuisance, though some good points, notably that of destruction of obnoxious insects, are admitted in its favor.

Mr. Dearborn says the sparrow's natural diet consists of seeds, though it eats a great variety of other foods. The English sparrow seems to be the champion bird gormand and thief. It even steals houses made for the good birdies. It destroys small fruits, such as cherries, grapes, pears and peaches. It nips off tender garden vegetables as they appear above ground. "The evidence against the English sparrow is overwhelming," continues Mr. Dearhorn, who offers these suggestions, among others, for its extermination:

The most effective method of preventing the increase of sparrows in a locality is to destroy their nests at intervals of ten or twelve days throughout the breeding season. By a concerted and continued movement to destroy every nest after the eggs are laid English sparrows in any locality may be gradually reduced without resorting to shot or poison.

Preliminary to the following destructive measures sparrows should be baited until they are attached to the spot selected for their execution Seeds, grain or waste from the table. if supplied regularly, will soon establish a feeding place. If a general campaign is to be undertaken enough such feeding places should be maintained to attract to them practically all the English sparrows in the neighborhood. This can easily be done in winter when food is scarce. After thus baiting the sparrows they may be trapped or shot.

Traps alone are inadequate to exterminate sparrows, but a reduction of

SMALL FORTUNES IN TREES, Hints to Farmers Who Are Prone tc Cut Up Fine Logs For Fuel. Today there are comparatively few pioneer farms which must be cleared out of the forest, but there are many which still possess enough timber for fuel cutting and for commercial uses on a limited scale. In the light of recent warnings as to the menace of c. scarcity of timber in the future, farm ers need not be admonished to avoid useless waste of trees. The average farmer does most of his tree cutting in the winter when he has time to do the work. But perhaps the average farmer has not considered the commercial value of his trees. The writer spent some time at a small hotel in a village in southeasterr Missouri a few years ago and was delighted with the big open fireplace in the hotel office. Roaring fires were built therein, and it was good to sit in front or at the side and watch the flames suck upward. Only wood was burned-no coal-and that made the real delight of the open fire.

One day the writer saw the hotel man bring in several huge log cuts and dump them by the fireplace. The landlord put on a log now and then and achieved a fine fire. The burning logs threw off a faint, peculiar scent which seemed familiar-a memory of boyhood. Investigation discovered that the log cuts were of splendid, perfect walnut-one of the scarcest woods nowadays. Any big walnut tree is worth many dollars more for cabinet work than for fuel, as it would seem almost anybody should know by this time. That man burned up about $200 worth of walnut. It is well always to bear in mind that the fine big tree you are cutting down and cutting up for fuel or fence rails possibly might bring you as much as a load of wheat or corn if you would haul it to the nearest market.

Homemade Feed Mixing Box.

Specialties in Popular Prices! A TRICK IN FENCING 5c, 10c and 25c Goods—Popular Prices among every shopper that goes the rounds.

Today, we can give you, for the above popular prices, a better, cleaner, nobbier, and more up-to-date article in every respect, than ever before in the history of our store. As we advance to greater values can also save you financially, and at the same time give you STRICTLY NEW GOODS and right up to the minute in style and quality.

We are now occupying our new quarters, not alone for our own comfort, but that we might be in a position to give to our trade a more satisfactory deal, a better article for the money, and at less per cent. of profit added, all on account of a curtailment of several hundred dollars expense. This enables us to sell goods at a price that we need fear no competition.

Look over our Stock, as there are many new things added since our move.

We aim only to keep the best and most up-to-date merchandise on hand at all times, and at such popular prices so there can be no variation in price, if quality alone is considered.

We are thankful for the appreciation extended by the people for the change we made.

D. M. MEHRING. 2nd Door York St. Side of Central Hotel, Taneytown, - - -Maryland. THE -Taneytown Savings Bank DOES A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS. Has been in continuous existence for twenty-three years; and has declared forty-six Semi-annual Dividends. 4 Per-cent. Paid on Time Deposits. Extends such Accommodations as are consistent with Safe and Conservative Banking. We Invite Your Account. D. J. HESSON, Pres. CALVIN T. FRINGER, Vice-Pres. WALTER A. BOWER, Treas. GEO. E. KOUTZ, Ass't Treas. -DIRECTORS-JOHN S. BOWER. CALVIN T. FRINGER. LEONARD ZILE. CHAS. H. BASEHOAR. NORVILLE P. SHOEMAKER. EDMUND F. SMITH. LUTHER W. MEHRING. H. O STONESIFER. JOSHUA KOUTZ. DANIEL J. HESSON 10-23-9 AUTOMOBILES METZ. - Prices, $378 and $475 Two Cylinders, 12-horse power. Two Passenger. Bosch Magneto. Schebler Carburetor. Six speeds forward, one reverse.

Wheelbase 81 inches. 28x3 Pneumatic Tires. Weight, 650 lbs. Speed, 2 to 40 miles per hour.

We Are Now Ready to Demonstrate. We Want Live Sub-agents. Telephone or write for particulars. Be quick ! Angel Vehicle Works and Garage, RAYMOND K. ANGEL, Manager. MIDDLEBURG, - - - MARYLAND.

One Highiy Distressing to an Accomplished Swordsman.

TURNS A DUEL INTO A FARCE.

Used by a Weak or a Timid Opponent It Renders His Adversary Practically Helpless-A Case of Two Playing at the Same Game.

A long and interesting chapter might be written on the humors of duels which never came off or which in some way fell short of deserving the name. A case which occurred a few years ago in Paris, the particular home and harvest field of the habitual duelist. merits mention.

A peaceable looking gentleman was walking down one of the boulevards with a lady on his arm when out of a cafe sprang a man, who dealt him a Meanwhile the tanks filled with water, violent kick. The victim turned, only to meet the horrified apologies of the aggressor, who begged to assure him that it was wholly a mistake in identity. Instead of insisting upon an exchange of cards and the other customary forms, the kicked man answered, with much warmth, but admirable self control: "I cannot, sir, accept your expression of regret as sufficient. Your action may have been a mistake, as you say, but acquaintances of mine may have witnessed it and will go away and spread the news that I have submitted to an insult without avenging it. I must therefore and instantly slap your face with equal publicity." The other most becomingly assented, the first sufferer administering a ringing blow on his ear, and the affair ended with entire satisfaction on both sides

Weak or timid fencers are sometimes taught by their masters to keep a more skillful antagonist busy by fixing the who have lost their lives in this persword in one position, aimed straight at his sword hand, and then not moving except to retreat when pressed too hard. It is highly distressing to an I can breathe, though I am sure we accomplished swordsman to have to face a learner so instructed, for it means a great outlay of energy and wind to little purpose.

Comte de Diou ouce thus chased a retreating adversary across plowed fields for a mile and a half and finally under the wheel of a cab for the poor satisfaction of giving him a slight prod in the back. Dr. Clemenceau in his famous duel with M. Deschanel, after a swift and wearisome pursuit. halted, shouldered his rapier like a walking stick and strolled back to his original place, throwing the contemptuous remark over his shoulder, "And now, monsieur, I will await you here.'

Catulle Mendes had a similar run after Lugne Poe through the forest of St. Germain, which he ended by flinging his own sword into the bushes, with the angry exclamation. "I am willing to die from exhaustion by the roadside, if need be, but not from running after a poltroon."

A yet funnier incident was that which occurred in Toulouse, where a lawyer of some note named Cazeneuve was called out by a landed proprietor whom he had offended by a speech in court. He repaired at once to a fencing master, as he knew nothing whatever about handling a sword. This

JAPANESE HEROISM.

The Brave Record of the Loss of a Submarine Vessel.

Subjoined is the translation of a message written by Lieutenant Tsutoma Sakuma, who was in command of the Japanese submarine No. 6, which foundered while maneuvering in Hiroshima bay. The message was found in the conning tower of the submarine after she had been brought to the sur-

"It is with the deepest regret that I write this message to describe the loss of this boat with my fellow officers and men, due to my own fault. I would here specially mention that all steps have been taken to raise her, my comrades and men working earnestly and calmly till the end. I ordered the ship to dive with the engine running, but as I found she went down too far I tried to shut the valves which admit the sea water to the ballast tank, but unexpectedly the chain working these valves broke, and I was left helpless, unable to control the boat. and the boat went down at an incline of about twenty-five degrees. After striking the bottom the water began rushing in, the switchboard was immersed in water, all electric lights went out, the fuses burnt away, and the boat was filled with poisonous gases. so that we experienced the greatest difficulty in breathing.

"Under these conditions we worked our very utmost with the hand pumps to empty the main ballast tank, which, I believe, we succeeded in doing, although we could not read the gauges owing to darkness. No electric current was available, as I mentioned before, and our last hope of rising to the surface lay in working the hand pumps only

"I write this in the dim light coming from the conning tower-11:45 a.m.

"I earnestly beseech his majesty to grant me forgiveness and to succor the families of my comrades and men ishing boat. This is my only wish. 12:30 p. m.

"It is with the utmost difficulty that must have blown out the gasoline entirely from the tanks. I cannot continue any more. 12:40 p. m."-London Times.

A DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

She Tried to Fascinate Hubby and Was Rudely Shocked.

She had been reading that a titled Englishwoman advises married women to flirt with their husbands. As she finished the article her husband came home to dinner.

She ran to meet him.

"A littie late tonight. duckydoozelum," she said, with a dimpling smile. "What's that?" he growled.

She looked at him archly. "Don't you dare to kiss me!" she tittered. "Gee," he cried, "I don't intend to!

What put that in your head?" She half closed her eyes and covly surveyed him through the drooping lashes.

"Don't you want to sit here by me on the sofa?" she cooed.

"No, I don't. Why, you told me only yesterday that the springs were getting weak. Aren't you feeling well?"

ENGLISH SPARROWS STEALING HOUSE.

numbers can be effected by using a shallow box not less than four feet square, open on one side and covered with woven wire on the other. One side of this trap rests on the ground, while the opposite side is supported by a stick eighteen inches long. Near the upper end of this stick is attached a long cord, and between the top of it and the edge of the trap is placed a chip. By setting the trap over bait and pulling the cord from a sheltered point of observation when a flock of sparrows is beneath it numbers of them may be caught. Instead of the box described above, by which the birds are taken alive, an old door or similar device may be employed as a deadfall.

Sparrows are accustomed to feed in close flocks, and when thus assembled a large number can be killed by a charge of No. 10 shot.

Many persons will be surprised to learn that the English sparrow is good to eat. Mr. Dearborn says the bird has been eaten for centuries in Eu. rope. In America it is served often under the disguise of the reed bird. Farmers who shoot or trap large numbers of the birds will find them very palatable food.

Plowing by Motor.

The gasoline motor plow of the Gas Motor works of Deutz, near Cologne, is designed to take the place of the steam plow and is claimed to be an important advance in agricultural machinery. Though gasoline is more costly than coal, the fuel expense for plowing by the new method proves to be about the same as by the old. Steam plows are drawn back and forth by a strong rope between two heavy locomotives, but the single gasoline locomotive travels to and fro across the field, pulling one of its two multiple blade plows at each trip. Being reversible, with an equal pull in each direction, the locomotive avoids the trouble of turning around, a slight turn of the wheels giving the shift through the plowing width. From twelve to twenty-two acres can be plowed in twelve hours, and the driver does this with only occasional assistance from another man, while the steam plow requires the constant services of five men. Having only a fifth of the weight of the steam plow, the new machine needs no special permit for traveling on ordinary roads and bridges.

"There's always plenty of work on the farm," as the hired man said when his city cousin asked him how he managed to pass his time in winter when the nonfarming season was on. The hired man spoke gospel truth, as every farmer knows. But there are ways of making the work easier, winter as well as summer. Some farmers do many things in a haphazard, slipshod way, just as their ancestors used to do them, and never take the trouble to think up more modern methods. By this neglect they cause themselves much extra work.

MIXING STOCK FEED.

A certain farmer in Indiana whose neighbors mix feed for the stock in the old laborious way, simply pouring water from a bucket into the mixture and stirring it, has contrived a very simple but handy arrangement for mixing feed. He found an old flat box which had been used years before for mixing mortar when the farmhouse was rebuilt. Rains of several seasons had washed out all vestiges of clinging lime. From the well in his back yard he ran a flume of two inch wooden pipe which had been used formerly for draining a marshy place. With hig boy pumping at the well the farmer has a constant stream of water flowing into his mixing box while he stirs the feedstuffs. Into a sack near at hand goes the mixed and moistened feed, ready to serve, and this Indiana man says the cows surely do like it put up that way.

-9-3mc

teacher gave him the usual advice about keeping his adversary at arm's length with the poised and immovable rapier, but strongly enjoined him not to retreat. It so happened that the landed proprietor, being equally ignorant, applied to the same master for instruction. The master, who was somewhat of a wag, gave him the lawyer's lesson in duplicate.

When the two men met and their seconds had duly placed them a long and tedious stillness ensued. For more than five minutes each foeman stood with his sword arm extended at full length, waiting for the other to advance. Then the seconds intervened, claiming that both had proved themselves men of honor and courage and that nothing further was necessary but to shake hands and be reconciled.

And this recalls the occasion when Lieutenant Randolph Ridgely of our army while in the Mexican war was sought by two young officers who had quarreled and each of whom wished the lieutenant for his second. It was finally arranged that he should act as second for both. On the field, where the adversaries were armed with shotguns, Ridgely measured off a line of ten paces and placed them respectively at its two termini, cocked his own revolver and announced that he would give all the orders himself and in his own way and that he would shoot down whichever of his principals disobeyed him in the slightest particular. Then came the orders, very deliberately uttered: "Present arms!" "Carry arms!" "Shoulder arms!" "Take aim!" They took careful aim and waited almost breathlessly for some minutes for the command to fire. It never came. Instead came the orders: "Present arms!" "Carry arms!" "Shoulder arms!" "Right about face!" "Front!" "Forward march."

They recognized his commands as given in deadly earnest and knew that it would be instantly fatal to rebel. He kept them marching till they reached his tent. There he halted them and bade them stand at parade rest till they had listened to a lecture on the folly of dueling which fairly made their ears ring. But he seasoued his dose of rebuke with a few words of praise for the soldierly mettle they had shown in facing each other's gun without flinching, and the two men became fast friends from that hour .- New York Post.

She laughed softly and shot him a side glance and drew in her cheeks and flashed her white teeth and perceptibly winked.

He drew back suddenly.

"What's the matter with you?" he demanded. "Who are you imitating? Can't you make your face behave?" She picked up the paper she had been reading and flung it into the decorated wastebasket. "There's nothing the matter with me," she coldly replied.

"Just mugging for fun, eh? Glad of that. Stimson was telling me today about a lot of trouble his wife is having with her facial nerves, and I was afraid you'd caught it. Ain't that confounded dinner ready?"-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Popular Jokes.

The most popular joke which has been published in any language in the history of the world is stated to be that which appeared in an obscure corner of the Punch almanac for 1845. It read, "Advice to persons about to marry-Don't!" It would be interesting to know who was its author. Another, founded on a similar subject, was the "Advice to persons who have 'fallen in love'-Fall out." One of the most brilliant things that ever appeared in our contemporary was the brief dialogue between an inquiring child and his impatient parent: "What is mind?" "No matter." "What is matter?" "Never mind."-Westminster Gazette.

The Parting.

"Benson was a good friend of mine. and I hated to lose him. He always wore a cheerful smile and seemed in the best of spirits. It will be hard to find another fellow so genial, so full of the joy of life."

"What's the matter? Has Benson left town for good?" "No."

"Surely he isn't dead?" "No. He borrowed $5 from me this morning."-Birmingham Age-Herald.

Then He Made a Home Run. He-What kind of stone would you like in the ring, darling? She-Oh, Jack, dear. I've heard so much about baseball diamonds. Do you suppose they are very expensive?-Boston Transcript.

To maintain oneself on this earth is not a hardship, but a pastime, if one will live simply and wisely .- Thoreau.

THE CARROLL RECORD

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1910.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Latest Items of Local News Furnished by Our Regular Staff of Writers.

All communications for this department must be signed by the author; not for publi-cation, but as an evidence that the items con-tributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted. The RECORD office is connected with the C. & P. and United Telephones, from 7 a. m., to 5 p. m. Use telephone, at our expense, for important items on Friday morning. We pre-fer regular letters to be mailed on Wednesday evening, but in no case later than Thursday evening. evening

We are in hopes that the cool weather will prevent an epidemic of "Spring among our correspondents. Fever Some of them are immune, we know, but there are others not so safe. Whenever you feel an attack coming on, "write it off."-ED. RECORD.

Uniontown.

Invitations are out for Gettysburg College Commencement next week, June 10-15. There are 50 graduates, 3 young ladies and 47 young men, 3 of whom are from Carroll County., Harry Baughman, Uniontown; Grover Knipple and George Bowersox, Silver Run; all have parts on the Commencement program Burrier Cookson and Ezra Caylor were in Washington, this week. Mrs. Julia Trite and daughter, Jennie, have gone to the mountain for the summer Charlie Lamb, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is improving. Miss Fannie Michaels and a friend, from Baltimore, visited Mr. and Mrs.

Troutfelter. G. T. Mering is home from Baltimore, this week. Eliza Wilson from San Mar Home for the Aged, is visiting friends, in town. D. Myers Englar and Alfred Zollickoffer made an auto trip to Washington, this week. Miss Mary Baughman, Margaret and Catherine Beachman, with some friends from Westminster, made an automobile trip to Gettysburg College and the battlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Washing-on, are visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. J. ton, are Weaver.

Fr ellburg.

The first game of ball for the season will be played here, Saturday afternoon, when the Uniontown team will cross bats with our birds. The public is kindly asked to come out and give a shout or two, and help to kindle entrusiasm. Same to begin at 2 o'clock.

At night, the Jolly Jokers, of Mayberry, will give a comic entertainment in the hall, here, for the benefit of their band. An open air concert given previous by the band.

The Church of the Brethren will hold their regular services in the Chapel, this Sunday night. Cnarles Owings moved to nis home, near Mayberry, this week. Mrs. Henry Eskard is seriously ill at this time with paralysis. The colt which had lockjaw, died for Charles Myers. It was a fine one and yalued at $100. It was said that the cherries were frozen. The people of Westminster, thought otherwise, this week.

home, Monday, after spending several days with their daughter, Mrs. M. C. Flohr, in Washington. Misses Coral Diller and Jennie Weybright, of near town, took the teacher's examination in Westminster, this week.

Detour.

Caleb Wolfe narrowly escaped being caught by train No. 2, on Monday, at the crossing near town. Miss Vallie Shorb attended the Com-mencement exercises at New Windsor College, this week. Marking attended the Com-ing boards for travelers. The attempts to bribe

Mrs. Martin L. Fogle, of Arlington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. R. Weybright Milton Clem, wife and son, of Walk-ersville, spent Sunday at Peter Koons'. Mrs. Edward Essick and children, pent a few days this week, visiting at William Eyler's, in Thurmont. Dr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Diller are spending a few weeks with their daugh-ter, Mrs. Webster Harnish, in'Brooklyn. During doctor's absence, his son Dr. R. R. Diller, who recently graduated at the U. of M. is attending his patients. Misses Carl and Ethel Rinehart, of Dayton, Ohio, are visiting at Samuel Weybright's. Harvey Frock's new porch is nearing completion, under the skillful super-vision Charles Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whitmore visited friends in Union Bridge, Sunday. Harry B. Fogle spent last Wednesday with his aunt, Mrs. Philip Stansbury, near Stony Branch. Eldridge Waesche was in Westminster, Monday, on business. E. L. Warner gave his store a fresh coat of paint, which adds to its attractiveness. Master George Shildt is on the sick

William Hollenbaugh continues to im-

Jacob Myerly was the first to make hay here, this season. W. C. Miller attended the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Uriah Heck, in Taneytown, on Sunday.

Ladiesburg.

The Ladiesburg Sabbath School has postponed their annual Children's Ser-vice until Sunday evening, June 26, in-stead of June 12, as heretofore announced

Miss Reta Morningstar is spending a few weeks with her grand-parents, Reuben Bohn and family. Walter Wantz, of Westminster, spent from Saturday until Monday with his friend, Miss Bessie Bohn. Miss Ella Hahn and Mr. Delph Yingling, were quietly married on Saturday evening, June 4, in Union Bridge, by Rev. Brown. Lewis Birely spent several days the past week with his cousin, Joseph Eyler and family. at Iron Ridge. Relatives from Baltimore are spending some time with Mrs. John Smith. Reuben Morningstar spent a few days with his grand-parents, Reuben Bohn and family Way, Saturday evening. Preaching at the Chapel, Sunday af-ternoon, at 2.30. Young People's Society at 7.30.

Pleasant Valley.

A carrier pigeon came to the residence of Mr. J. Edward Sheets. He found it in his garden the latter part of May, much fatigued. It has a brass band on one leg and a silver band on the other; (Continued from First Page.)

that she has clipped out. She won't Rev. and Mrs. T. J. Kolb, returned throw them away, because they've got to be sewed back as soon as she lands. So it goes. The false-bottom trunk is easy to detect, for it is more shallow inside than outside. Then, too, we know pretty well who has bought those trunks, for whose purchase we get such excuses as 'They are a protection against rob-bers,' 'They are to keep laces from the damp,' They are merely extra trays,' or as you heard, doubtless, They are iron-

The attempts to bribe customs officials are continuous, but not successful, while Mrs. Guy Warren and Miss Mar-guerite Miller spent Tuesday at Clagett Dorsey's, near Taneytown. growing in number. Jealousy, spite and a desire for money all play their parts in this work of tracking smugglers. The would be buyer who is outbid by a fel-low-countrymen in a shop abroad will send notice of the purchase to the customs officials, with an anonymous tip that the purchaser intends to smuggle

The man who is jealous will betray his iriend, if there is a woman in the case, and in many instances the lure of playing detective, of being a part of the great juggernaut of the Government, is what keeps these informers continually watchful. "Fashions really play a prominent part in this question of smuggling," said Mr. Loeb. "When bustles were in fashion, that was a favorite way to bring things Then, too, not long ago there was a woman who declared all her gowns had been made in this country, taken abroad with her and then brought back. It sounded plausible. But when it was found that they were all still in advance of the fashions the gowns were confis-cated and she paid the duty. Big hats are great hiding places for rare laces used as trimming underneath silk bows, etc., while even false calves and padding of all kinds are safe receptacles for the little things which women bring in. The biggest obstacle in the way of the smugglers is the fact that it is never too late for the watch dogs of the port to pounce upon them. You may have poince upon them. You may have brought things in a year, two years or three years ago, but if rumors of it reach this department of the Govern-ment it may yet descend upon you and demand the duty. That is why the de-sire to tell is always so fatal.

"The time must come," says Mr. Loeb, "when all these cases brought before the judges in the United States Court will put a stop to smuggling. It must reach a point when at least the men who have stood at the head of their State, or who have served their country in the army, or the women who make up its aristo-cratic sets, will for the sake, if not of justice, of escaping notoriety stop this bringing in of small articles. We are willing to be lenient. If we find a woman bringing cigars and she tells us they are included among her personal effects, we will at once decide that if she gives them away at her dinner table to men that is personal use, and let her bring them in. We will interpret the law in its broadest sense, but we are going to put a stop to smuggling. Just now the publicity given all these big cases, tragic as they are, has set a lot of people to smuggling, just to see if they can do it. They are trying lots of new games but as one by one we catch them gives them away at her dinner table to Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Koons spent Mon-day evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Birely. Quite a number of people from this place attended the festival at New Mid-way Saturday evening time yet.

Tyrone.

The Lutheran congregation of Baust's will hold their Children's service on Sunday morning. The program will be a very good one. Ralph Marquet left, on Monday, for Hanover, Pa, where he expects to work in the ice plant. Milton Hymiller left, on Monday, for

For the Children A French Poodle Acts as Chauffeur.

The dog members of the Curly Poodle club held an "at home" recently. The miniature motor shown in the picture was a feature of the occasion, with the French poodle Olga, a prize member of the club, acting as chauffeur He was a funny looking dog with his tiny beady eyes covered with automobile glasses and his body wrapped in a blanket.

A School For Cats. "Let's play school," meowed Tabby. "Yes, let's." answered the others. So they made Tabby teacher, and the fun began. The cats simply wouldn't sit still, and then Farmer Jones' big. fat. juicy chickens kept running up and down, peeping in at the barn door. "Um, how I'd relish a chicken pie!" whispered Ted to Malty. "Shall we bag school and help ourselves outside?"

"After awhile. We'll watch our chance," replied Malty.

The lesson on the blackboard was 'how to catch mice and eat them properly." All was going well until a robin flew into the barn and perched itself saucily on a rafter.

"Meow!" cried Malty. "I want it." "Meow!" said Ted. "I'm hungry too.'

"Silence!" shouted Miss Tabby. "Flossy, leave the room for miscon-

Ted were planning their escape, Flossy came in, carrying a big fat mouse in her mouth.

transformed into a dining room. Away went books and slates and pencils! Over went benches and desks! On to the mouse went the cats, and in less time than it takes to say "Jack Robinson" poor mouse was a thing of the past.

About Horseshces.

Horseshoes are lucky hung up over a door because they keep the devil out of the house. It happened in this way: Good St. Dunstan was a famous blacksmith, and the king of evil, who used to travel around the world in person before he became so busy, stopped at the saint's forge one day and asked the blacksmith to put a shoe on his hoof. St. Dunstan knew the person he had to handle. He took the ropes that he used to tie horses with and bound

YOUNT'S

Shoe Specials.

7 pair Ladies' Heavy Shoes, sizes 3, 4 and 7, - - 9 pair Ladies' White Oxfords, sizes 3, 4, 5 and $5\frac{1}{2}$ -\$1.00 pair. 75c pair. 7c. 10c size Whittemore Oil Paste, 5c. Whittemore'' Baby Elite, An Packa 10. Can Dumplin

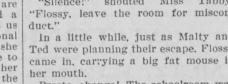

Coffee,	15c lb.	Sydmore Toilet Soap.	4c cake.
3-lb. Can Stringless	Beans, 10c.	"Easy Ironing" Starch,	4c.
Kan Korn Syrup.	9c Can.	10c Can Caustic Soda,	8c.
Lunch Biscuit,		100 Can rumpkin,

"Yours Truly Pork and Beans, - - 10 and 15c per can.

YOUNT'S

C. EDGAR YOUNT & CO., TANEYTOWN, MD.

In a little while, just as Malty and Presto, change! The schoolroom was here, on Sunday last. Mr. Walsh, one of the contractors for the macadamized road, was married, in Westminster, on Tuesday, and came here to Hotel Windsor where they were given a serenade.

New Windsor.

John Snader and Miss Minnie Summers were married at the Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday morning, by Rev. Gill, after which they were driven to Westminster. Miss Mary Vanek, of Baltimore, is visiting Miss Marie Smelser.

Miss Edna Wilson is visiting at Union Bridge.

Mrs. Florence Norris, nee Englar, of Huntington, Pa., is visiting her parents here.

Kump.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Little and children, Mrs. Isaac Gelwicks, all of Emmitsburg, spent Saturday and Sun-day last, with Mr. and Mrs. T. Classon.

Mrs. J. A. Kump attended com-mencement of the high school, at York, last Thursday, of which her niece, Rhubie Weist, was a graduate.

Your correspondent and Mr. and Mrs. John Teeter, attended commencement at Edward Cummings, near Pleasant Valthe Blue Ridge College, Union Bridge, last week.

Misses Grace and Luetta Currens visited their uncle, at Fairfield, one day them. this week.

Mr. A. J. Graham added to his property a very pretty iron fence. Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Williams returned home, last Tuesday, from their stay with their daughter, Mrs. J. Ed. Bair. The trip seemed to benefit Mr. Williams as he appeared a couple years younger after his return home, but Mrs. Williams seemed about the same and was not at all well while away.

Keymar.

W. F. Cover and wife are spending some time with friends in Virginia.

Richard Dorsey and friend, of Balti-more, spent from Saturday till Monday with his sister, Mrs. R. W. Galt. Mrs. G. B. Haugh and son, of Clear-spring, spent a few days at her home,

Miss Caroline Reisler made a recent visit to Westminster. Miss Carrie Stonesifer, who spent the past month with friends in Ohio, returned home, last week.

Mrs. Ida Shildt and nephew, spent Wednesday, in Baltimore.

Miss Aggie Barr, of Gettysburg, and Mrs. R. S. McKinney, of Taneytown, were the guests of R. W. Galt and wife, this week.

Mrs. Chas. Garber and Mrs. Sarah Dorsey, are suffering with grip at this new coat of paint.

Kelso Anders, of Baltimore, visited the silver band has engraved, "P. B 64260.'

Charles Warehime, on returning from picking cherries, killed a black snake which measured 4¹/₂ feet in length. Charles Myers is spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi

Myers Mrs. Edward Hahn has returned home, after spending a week with her daugh-ter, Mrs. E. C. Ebaugh, near Carrollton. Joseph P. Yingling has about completed an addition to his barn.

Taylorsville.

People are busy plowing corn and picking their early cherries. Rev. and Mrs. Cecil have returned home after spending some time in the West. Mrs. Thomas Barnes spent Thursday with Mrs. George Young and family. Jesse Cummings received a shower of post cards on his birthday. Pius Babylon visited his daughter, on Wednesday

Mrs. Eurith Franklin is visiting friends in Baltimore. Theo. Cummings, wife and three children, spent Monday with his brother.

Please send all news to your correspondent, as she will take best care of Keysville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clingan, of Taneytown, visited at A. R. Six's, recently

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Barnes and family, of Linwood, spent Saturday and Sunday at Mr. Edward Knipple's. Miss Nora Forney, of Baltimore, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Forney, few days last week. "Daddy" Dern, our aged citizen is on the sick list. He was 92 years old last January. We are very glad to hear of Norman Baumgardner's improvement. Children's-day service Sunday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock.

Bark Hill.

On account of the weather being bad last Sunday, the Children's service will be held June 19th., afternoon and night. Rev. Hummelbaugh, of Pennsylvania, preached here, Sunday morning and vening Miss Helen Foreman, of Union Bridge, is spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. John Rowe.

Miss Romaine Hann spent a few days last week with Rex Biddinger and wife, near Linwood.

Frank Rowe and wife have returned W. W. Sweigart is giving his house a home after spending some time in Baltimore.

Odenton, where he expects to be agent for the Geo. H. Rundle Co. James Yingling and Jacob Haines have improved the appearance of their houses by adding new porches.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will clear the sour stomach, sweeten the breath and create a healthy appetite. They promote the flow of gas-tric juice, thereby inducing good diges-tion. Sold by all dealers.

Perfumes In Ancient Days.

Old as the history of the world itself is that of the queen of flowers The ancient Greeks and Romans reveled in roses. They were used lavishly at their feasts. In the time of the republic the people had their cups of Falernian wine swimming with blooms, and the Spartan soldiers after the battle of Cirrha refused to drink any wine that was not perfumed with roses, while at the regatta of Baiae the whole surface of the Lucrine lake was strewn with flowers.

Making a Lawn.

On his English tour an American was admiring the velvety smoothness of a certain sward, and, being possessed of land and an overpowering confidence that with money all things are possible, he asked the head gardener how to produce such a lawn. And the gardener said: "It's easy enough, sir. All you need do is to remove all the stones, plow up the ground, plant it with grass seed and roll it for 300 years."

Our Friends.

If we choose our friends for what they are, not for what they have, and if we deserve so great a blessing, then they will be always with us, preserved in absence and even after death, in the amber of memory .- Cicero.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin erup-tions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, pnrify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely, complexion, good health. Try them. 50c. at R. S. McKinney's drug store, Taneytown, Md.

the devil so tightly that that gentleman could not move. Then the saint set to work. The devil roared and screamed as St. Dunstan put a redhot iron shoe over the hoof and pounded it in with long nails. He pleaded with his captor to let him go, promising anything in return.

"If I let you go," said St. Dunstan, "will you promise never to enter a house that has a horseshoe nailed over the door?"

"On my honor as a gentleman I promise," said the devil solemnly, and then St. Dunstan let him go. And from that day to this, so they say, the devil has never entered a house so protected.-Chicago News.

The Scarecrow Game.

A straw agure, completely dressed, is fastened to a tree in such a way that it hangs about a foot from the ground. He must have one arm fastened akimbo to his side and the other hanging free. After the players have had their eyes bandaged and been furnished with a stick the game begins. The object is to thrust the stick through the opening made by the arm which is fastened akimbo. Whoever succeeds in doing so may claim a prize. Of course it often happens that the player misses and receives a light pat for clumsiness from the straw man's hanging arm. If any player misses the goal and passes the naughty straw man the bandage is removed and the player is considered out of the game.

Conundrums.

Why is wit like a Japanese lady's foot? Because brevity is the sole of girl to be candid? Because she cannot be plain.

Why are parliamentary reports called "blue books?" Because they are never re(a)d.

benevolent man? Because he stops at the sound of whoa (woe).

The Stars We Can See.

According to the best astronomers, the number of stars that can be seen by a person of average eyesight is about 7,000. The number visible through the telescope has been estimated to be between 75,000,000 and 80.000.000.

Most Perfect Single Ladder Made.

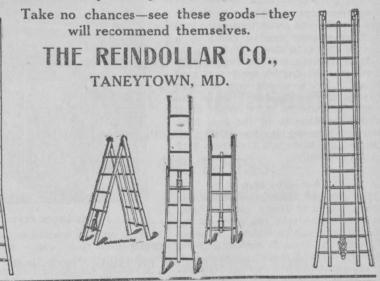

---- AND THE --

The Extension Ladder can be extended any number of steps at a time, to twice its length. Can be telescoped to one-half its length. Every Ladder comes apart, giving two distinct Ladders. The weak point in all Ladders is where the two sections join, when extended. In the Center-Rail Ladder this weakness is overcome by the steel center plate reinforcing the center rail when ladder is extended. No other Extension Ladder can show this reserve strength.

SINGLE LADDERS.

The most perfect single ladder made. Material, Norway Pine; selected hardwood rounds; every round "shouldered," driven clear through and nailed. Full width at top, and spread at base in proportion to length.

Workmanship Unsurpassed. Light, but Strong.

6-4-4t

Notice to Creditors.

This is to give notice that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Carroll County, in Md., letters testamentary tion upon the estate of late of Carroll County, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased, are here-by warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers properly authenticated, to the sub-scribers, on or before the 4th day of Decem-ber, 1910; they may otherwise by law be ex-cluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under our hands this 4th day of June, 1910.

ELIZABETH J. HAINES,

ARTHUR C. ENGLAR, LUTHER KEMP. Executors.

Floral Antiseptic Tooth Powder for cleansing and beautifying the teeth. For that "tired feel- Make the teeth white and purifies the ing"--take The Record. breath. 10c bottle.-Get at McKELLIP's.

organisms called bacteria into so much prominence that search has been made to ascertain whether they existed during the early geological periods. Not long since the fact was announced that Regnault had discovered bacteria in coal. Continuing his researches, he found evidence that bacteria were probably coeval with the first appearance of organic life on the earth. They attacked vegetable tissues as well as the bones and teeth of animals; but, as a rule, they belonged to species distinct from those of today.

Bacteria.

Modern investigations as to the origin of diseases have brought the little

Why is it useless to expect a pretty

Why is your nose in the middle of

Why is a well trained horse like a your face? Because it is the scenter.

NEW SHORT STORIES

Colonel Hepburn a Philosopher. Colonel Pete Hepburn of Iowa was one of the ablest debaters in the national house of representatives for twenty years. This is not an expression of opinion, but a statement of fact which all men conversant with national affairs accept as they accept axioms. But there was a time when Hepburn was obscure, and he went to congress after an awful struggle with Colonel Sapp, who had previously represented the district for a number of years. Colonel Hepburn tells a good story about his entrance upon active duty in Washington. Hopsays:

"In the lottery drawing of seats I had drawn a seat over in the corner on the Democratic side in what they derisively called the Cherokee strip.

"YOUNG FELLOW, BE HAPPY."

It was a disagreeable place to be, for the doors opening into the speaker's lobby were right alongside 'the strip,' and all of us were catching colds on account of the open windows across the lobby. I was cursing my luck day after day and trying to get some one to trade with me when one morning just outside of the brass railing and leaning on it I saw my predecessor, ex-Congressman Sapp, and I said to myself:

"'Young fellow, get satisfied and be happy. Any old seat on the inside of that rail would satisfy Sapp today.' And I've had some tough seats in the drawings during the past quarter of a century, but I've never kicked. I know that any fellow who can get the nomination and get a place here should be satisfied with any old sort of seat so long as he's a statesman or believed to be one."

A Snob.

Paul A. Sorg, who recently drove four-in-hand from New York to Atlantic City, a distance of 134 miles, has, like so many rich society men, a ha tred of snobbishness.

"Sorg," said a member of the Knickerbocker club, "called one afternoon at nouveau riche. A card

His Athletic Neighbor. A young man inmate of a boarding house had been disturbed night after night by the boarder in the next room doing things with a punching bag he'd rigged up in the room some way. At breakfast each morning the young man would look over the crowd and wonder who the bag puncher might be, but there was no one in sight but a bunch of women and eight or ten men with narrow chests and retreating chins. One night he made up his mind to knock on the bag punching roomer's door and ask him to put over his exercise until daylight when all the world's awake. The man might be small enough to bulldoze even with all his athletics. The door opened and there, clad in a tight fitting red jersey, was a robust, hyxom woman of perhaps thirty summers.

"And what did you say to her?" the young man was asked.

"I was so startled," replied he, "that I asked what afterward seemed to me the most natural request I could have made. I asked her if she'd lend me a couple of matches."-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Persistency of Colds.

Why is it that we are so heavily subject to colds? Other epidemic diseases-measles, typhoid, scarlet fever. diphtheria-may get hold on us once and there is an end; it is not usual to have any of them twice. We brew in our blood immunity. The poison of the disease evokes in us its proper antidote. Our blood cells make a sort of natural antitoxin and keep it in stock. so that we are henceforth protected against the disease. A well vaccinated nurse, for example, works with safety in a smallpox hospital, where the very air is infective, but her blood is so changed by vaccination that the smallpox cannot affect her. By scarlet fever, again, we are, as it were, vaccinated against scarlet fever. The reaction of our blood against the disease immunizes us. No such result follows influenza or a common cold. We brew nothing that is permanent. We are just as susceptible to a later invasion as we were to the invasion that is just over .- London Spectator.

The Festive Codfish.

A correspondent of the New York Post says that the codfish frequents "the tablelands of the sea." The codfish no doubt does this to secure as nearly as possible a dry, bracing at mosphere. This pure air of the submarine tablelands gives to the codfish that breadth of chest and depth o lungs that we have so often noticed The glad, free smile of the codfish is largely attributed to the exhilaration of this oceanic altitoodleum. The cor respondent further says that the "cod fish subsists largely on the sea cherry." Those who have not had the pleasure of seeing the codfish climb the cherry tree in search of food or clubbing the fruit from the heavily laden branches with chunks of coral have missed a very fine sight. The codfish when at home rambling through the submarine forests does not wear his vest unbuttoned as he does while loafing around the grocery stores of the United States -Bill Nye.

A High Priced Fricassee.

Lord Alvanley, a noted wit and high liver in England a hundred years or so ago, insisted on having an apple tart on his dinner table every day throughout the year. On one occasion he paid a caterer $1,000 for a luncheon put up in a basket that sufficed a small boating party going up the Thames. Being one of a dozen men dining together at a London club where each was required to produce his own dish, Alvanley's, as the most expensive, won him the advantage of being entertained free of cost. This benefit was gained at an expense of $540, that being the price of a simple fricassee composed entirely of the "noix," or small pieces at each side of the back, taken from thirteen kinds of birds, among them being 100 snipe, 40 woodcocks and 20 pheasants-in all about 300 birds.

SIM SIMPKINS.

Sim Simpkins don't believe in things; His fancy never spreads its wings, He says that "two an' two is four An' so shill be ferevermore." When Morse got up the telegraph Old Sim read of it with a laugh, And then says be: "Huh! Needn't tell me. 1 don't beheve what I can't see."

And when 'twas said electric lights Should gleam and glimmer through the nights Old Sim said: "Shucks! How'll you send fire

A-scootin' through a solid wire?" He proved that it could not be done By argument that weighed a ton When "Humph!" said he. "You needn't tell ane. I don't believe what I can't see.'

When Bell announced the telephone Old Sim read of it with a groan And wiped his specs and slowly said: "Th' feller's plainly off his head. Th' idy! Talk an' I could hear Ten miles away all plain an' clear! Huh! No, six-ree; You needn't tell me!

1 don't believe what I can't see."

The wireless telegraph made Sim Deny its truth with language grim. "It's nothin' but a pesky sham. Now, who could breathe a tellygram?" And when the Wrights got up and flew Old Sim just took another chew, And "Umph!" said he. "You needn't tell me! I don't believe what I can't see."

Don't think this shaft is aimed at Sim And that there's only one of him. Oh, gentle reader, you and 1 Learn of some truths, but do not try To make them true, but wisely frown, And arguments we try to drown. And argumenis we try to drown With "No, sir-ree; You needn't tell me! I don't believe what I can't see."

In Doubt.

-Chicago Post.

"Charles, you would better walk down to papa's office and see him about our engagement." "Clara, I can walk to your papa's office, but I may need some help to get back."

His Money.

A poor beggar received a monthly allowance of $5 from a rich man. The money used to be paid to him regularly by the bookkeeper. On one occasion when the poor man came around the bookkeeper handed him only $3. 2 Cakes Sapolio for 5c. The poor man remained standing quietly until the bookkeeper asked whether there was anything else he wished. "You must have made a mistake," he said. "I always get $5."

"Yes," replied the bookkeper; "that has now been changed."

"Changed? Why?" "You see, the boss recently married off his eldest daughter, and he had a great deal of expense, as you may imagine-the dowry and so forth. You can easily understand"-

"Yes, yes." grumbled the beggar. "Give your employer my best wishes and tell him that if he ever marries

Washing-day has always been "Blue Monday," week in and week out. But now all this is changed, and changed so thoroughly, that many a woman don't She can't realize that with a QUEEN WASHER, 'Blue Monday' is a thing of the past and a joke. How does the Queen Washer do all this? The simplest sort of a way. You turn a light, ball-bearing crank—the Queen Washer does the rest. It's as easy as beating eggs. A free trial will convince u07

Paint Your Buildings With

A Paint that one gallon makes two every time, reducing the cost and saving you money, and is fully guaranteed. Poultry Supplies.

Oyster Shells, 55c, in 100 lb Sacks; Primo Chick Feed, 24c by the small quantities, $2.25 in 100 lb Sacks; Grit Charcoal, Powders and Cracked Corn. WANTED ! Several good Second-hand Buggies and one Secondhand Surrey; if in good condition will allow a fair consideration in exchange for new vehicles.

CHAS. E. H. SHRINER, Tanevtown, Md.

GREAT BARGAINS — AT — S. C. Ott's Store

In order to show my appreciation to my Friends and Customers, I have de-cided to give them the advantage of a few bargains which I have been able to buy. Note the following low prices: 3 Crown Loose Muscatel Raisins, 5c lb.

Cosmo Butter Milk Soap, 5c cake. 3 Cakes Tube Rose Soap, Regular Price, 25c; Now, 10c.

1 Cake of Sydmore Soap and 1 Box

Sydmore Talcum Powder; Regular Price, 15c; Now, 8c 1 Glass Jar Talcum Powder, 10c. Canned Peas, 8c can; 3 cans for 21c. Green Goose and Big 3 Scrap Tobacco, 7 Packs for 25c. Fire Foe Starch, 2c pack:

Try Our New 20c Coffee, save 10 of the Red Sacks and return them and get a pound free. Don't miss these bargains, for they

Our 23rd Business Year!

Twenty-three years ago we began to handle FERTI-LIZERS in a small way. During all these years we have endeavored to give our trade the best goods on the market, full value for their money, with the result that each year has brought us increased orders with larger sales. At the beginning of this season, (1910) we find ourselves in better shape than ever before to handle this branch of our business, and we hope with the facilities we now have to make this the banner year for our Company. Our new Fertilizer House, 36x80, just completed, and fully equipped with modern machinery, enables us to mix, bag, and deliver 30 to 40 tons per day.

WE MIX IT WHILE YOU WAIT!

The advantages of our present method over the old (Shovels and Screens) are in evidence on every side. Cannot explain on paper, just take time enough to come and see for yourself, and be convinced that we are in a position to satisfy your wants along this line, and do it satisfactorily, as we have once of the best plants in Western Maryland. You will see the different ingredients in bulk, and you will see them go through the mixer, over the screens, into the bag, ready for delivery. What you see you must believe, and you will find our goods in better condition than ever before. We offer Two Specials, $\frac{1}{2}$ - 8 - and 1, For General Purposes.

1 - 8 - and 4, Specially for Corn and Wheat. These goods will be sold at attractive prices, and guaranteed to be equal to any on the market of the same Analysis. Buyers who furnish sacks get a reduction of $1.00 per ton, but empty sacks cannot be returned for credit.

We want your trade for Spring and Fall. Come and see us, or our Agents; if we do not have what you want, will be glad to quote you prices on any formula you may suggest.

Very Truly,

To Coal Consumers.

For a number of years we have had many requests for a cash price on coal, and after due consideration, we have arranged the following schedule of prices. On all coal delivered and settled for up to August 1, 1910, we will allow a discount of 25c a ton

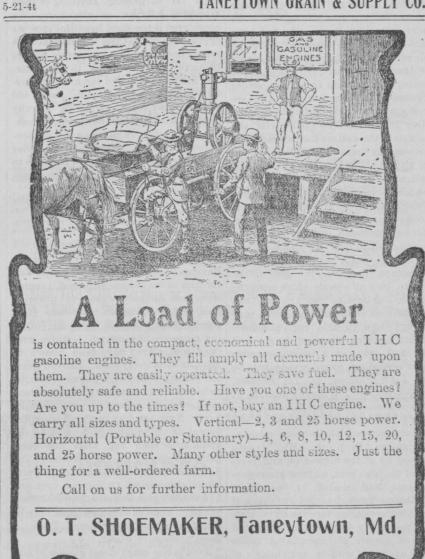

The following prices are for net tons of 2000-lbs., for May, June and July, delivered in town limit

Hard White Ash Egg, Stove and Nut,	-		$6.25
Hard White Ash, Pea,	-		4.75
Red Ash Lykens Valley, Egg, Stove and Nut,		-	6.50
Red Ash Lykens Valley, Broken, -	-		6.25
Red Ash Lykens Valley, Pea,		-	5.25

For the benefit of the country trade who have there own teams, we make a concession for coal on the yard of 25c a net ton. We hope to see our friends and customers take the benefit of the lowest prices of the season. We have on hand the best grades of coal, which will be well screened before delivered.

We will continue to handle the celebrated "Elk Garden" coal for threshing and smithing. Thanking you for the past liberal patronage and asking for its continuance. We are-tray stood in the drawing room, and on top was the card of an English duke. Sorg, waiting for his hostess to descend, took this card and quietly stuck it under the carpet.

Very Truly Yours, TANEYTOWN GRAIN & SUPPLY CO.

"A week or two later he called again. The duke's card was back in its place. It had been carefully scraped and cleaned. Sorg put it behind a mirror.

"But it was found again, and, though afterward he hid it in flowerpots and vases and coal scuttles, it always turned up, scrubbed clean and carefully dried, on top of the card tray.

"So at last Sorg hid it in the family Bible, and that was the end of it. Mrs. Nouveau Riche went into mourning."

The Cold Young Lawyer.

Mrs. Sol Smith, the veteran actress whose eightieth birthday was celebrated by a dinner of the Professional Women's league in New York, said of the modern spirit at this dinner:

"The modern spirit is more mercenary than the spirit of the fifties. I know a very beautiful girl-in my day she'd have been married off at twelve -but, though she is now twenty-five, her matrimonial prospects are dark and gloomy.

"At a tea I pointed the beautiful creature out to a young lawyer and said:

"'There's nothing sweeter and lovelier than that girl in America. Why don't you try for her hand?'

"'What has she got in it?' the young lawyer coldly answered."

The Rest Cure.

Speaker Cannon at a dinner in Washington, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, praised a Washington physician.

"The doctor has a neat way," he said, "of hitting off a case.

"There was a Kentuckian-from the blue grass region, you know-who called to be treated for a red nose. "'Doctor,' the Kentuckian said.

'what shall I take, sah, to remove the redness of mah nose?' "'Take nothing, especially between meals,' the doctor answered."

A Witty Bishop.

"The late Bishop Foss," said a Philadelphia physician, "once visited me for some trifling ailment.

"'Do you, sir,' I said to him in the course of my examination, 'talk in your sleep?'

"'No, sir.' he answered. 'I talk in other people's. Aren't you aware that I am a divine?'"

Our Eccentric Phrases.

Why do we always talk of putting on a coat and vest? Who puts on a coat before a vest? We also say putting on shoes and stockings. Who puts on shoes before the stockings? We also put up signs telling people to wipe their feet when we mean their boots or shoes. And a father tells a boy he will warm his jacket when he means to warm his pantaloons. We are a little eccentric in our phrases at times.

An Odd Epitaph.

The following epitaph is to be found in a cemetery within seven miles of New York's city hall:

Reader, pass on; don't waste your time O'er bad biography and bitter rhyme. For what I am this crumbling clay in-

And what I was is no affair of yours.

In the Game. "I am in the hands of my friends." said the political sidestepper. "Yes," replied the harsh critic, "and every time your friends look over their hands they seem impatient for a new deal."-Washington Star.

The Proper Tree.

Curious Charley-Do nuts grow on trees, father? Father-They do, my son. Curious Charley-Then what tree does the doughnut grow on? Father-The "pantree," my son.-Purple Cow.

Never Good. Fogg-That's a bad cold you have old man. Fenderson - Did you ever hear of a good cold, you idiot?-Bos ton Transcript.

A fool's heart is in his tongue, but a wise man's tongue is in his heart .-Quarles.

off another daughter he may do it with his own money, not with mine." -Maccabean.

His Error.

The young man who loved the daughter of the widow had called to get the mother's consent to lead the fair girl to the altar, but he blundered at the very outset.

"I have come, madam," he began in a voice that was agitated and beseeching, "to ask you for the blessed privilege of working for your dear daughter, taking care of her, giving her a home and"-

He got no further. The widow, with indescribable eagerness, threw herself into his arms. "I gladly give you the privilege," she cried. "You don't know how I have hoped and longed for a model man like you to be my darling daughter's father!"-Chicago News.

Why He Was Gallant.

A stout woman entered a crowded car and took hold of a strap directly in front of a man seated in the corner. As the car started she lunged against his newspaper and trod heavily on his toes. As soon as he could extricate himself he arose and offered her his seat.

"You are very kind, sir," she said, panting for breath.

"Not at all, madam." he replied. "It's not kindness; it's simply self defense." -Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Reason.

"Talking about women," observed 4-23-tf the peach to the potato, "I can't bear these so called notable housewives with their energy in providing for their families."

"Why not? What effect do they produce on you?" asked the potato. "They jar me." answered the peach. -Baltimore American.

A Proper Name.

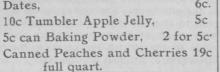

"You have christened your baby Halley's Comet?" "Yes. It's unusual, but appropriate. He's a bright spot in one existence that gets us up at all sorts of unearthly hours."-Washington Star.

The Real Job.

Him-I-I don't know how to tell you how I love you.

Her-Don't worry about that. I'll take it as it comes. What you want to get nervous about is how to tell papa about it .- Chicago Record-Herald. ALLEN NURSERY CO., . . . ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Glass and Brass Washboards, 29c Lot of Potatoes, 40c. We have a full line of candy from 6 to 40c lb. 12 to 35c lb. Coffee. Don't fail to try Gillie's guaranteed package coffee.

> Yours Truly, OTTO BROS.

WANTED-50 Head of Cows every week. Farmers having the above for sale, drop me a card and Iwill call and see the same, and pay the bichest market wine. d and I will call and see the same, and pay highest market price. I also buy and sel

SCOTT M. SMITH, Phone 31-3 Taneytown, Md.

WANTED

At once. Men to represent us, either locally or traveling. Now is the time to start. Money in the work for the right men. Apply at once and secure territory.

4-23-4mo

Let us print your PROGRAMS, MENUS, SHIPPING TAGS, LABELS and all other kinds of Commercial or Law Printing

Give us one order and you will give us another

THE CARROLL RECORD SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1910. OUR HOME DEPARTMENT.

Original and Selected Articles of Interest to the Home.

We invite contributions to this department from all readers who have something to say on topics which relate especially to home im-provement, social conditions, or moral issues. While we disclaim all indorsement of senti-ments which may be expressed by contribu-tors, and desire to be as liberal as possible, we at the same time request all to avoid person-alities, and stick to proper expressions of opinion.

All articles for this department must be in All articles for this department must be in our office not later than Monday morning, of each week, to be guaranteed insertion the same week, and all articles must be signed with the name of the author, even when a nom de plume is given.

FROM THE EAST INDIES. By DR. S. G. A. BROWN.

From the time we entered Manila bay we realized that we were in Southern climes. The weather suddenly became excessively warm and the humidity became so great that conventionality was thrown aside, as was also coats, collars and cuffs. Sleeping on deck became a necessity, and in the gray dawn of the morning the early riser would have a picture presented to him not unlike that of the coolies lying about the docks at most ports visited. The spell of the Southern Cross is upon us. The ship glides lazily through the limpid waters whose placid surface is a glassy smoothness; fleecy clouds here and there indolently endeavor to protect us from the sun's rays, but their feeble efforts are of no avail. We are not quite awake in daytime, nor wholly asleep at night. We are indolent, lazy and lack ambition; even sleep is a luxury we dare not dream of. We have failed to realize the vastness of time or space, yet somehow as the shadows of evening throw their mantle about us, our letoargic minds arouse themselves, we feel a sudden loneliness, and our thoughts inadvertently turn to those beautiful lines: Lead Kindly Light, amidst th' encircling

Lead Thou me on. The night is dark and I am far from home; Lead Thou me on Good Friday, March 25, we arrived at Labuan, Borneo. Labuan faces Victoria Harbor and lies on a smaller island about six miles square. Borneo proper is one of the largest islands in this section. North Borneo, including Labuan belongs to Great Britain. There are extensive coal-fields about seven miles north of Labuan; the coal is of good quality and much of it is exported. Labuan is an insignificant village, including twenty-five whites, eight of whom are women. It has been the scene of many piratical raids, although in recent years it has been comparatively quiet. The Dyaks, or head-hunters, of the interior are a fierce, war-like race, consequently England keeps stationed here about 800 soldiers, most of whom are East Indian Sikhs, great stawart fellows who are among Great Britain's most loyal and trustworthy subjects.

Previous to our arrival, there had been arranged for us a special program to be rendered by the Dyaks who had been considered it the most beautiful spot we escorted from the interior. Some of ever gazed upon. The morning-glory is bear from now on in joy and seasorrow in our real. 'Given on March 27, 1910. POSEIDON."

Batavia, Java, which we next visted, lies six degrees (420 miles) south of the equator. It has been justly termed the Pearl of the Orient. We landed at the village of Tandjong-Priok and proceeded thence by trains five miles to Batavia. The harbor contained a great number of ships loading cargoes of sugar to be taken to the refineries at Hong-Kong and Europe. Others were taking cargoes of tea, coffee and spices. Batavia has a population of about 100,000. Most of the houses are one-story, wooden, thatch covered buildings surrounded by groves of tropical ferns, palms and fruit trees. Java is one of the most densely populated places in the world, the people numbering 30,000,000 or about 600 to every acre. They raise three crops a year and almost every plant or tree bears some kind of fruit. You can tavel about in Batavia either by trolleycar, victoria, or dos-a-dos, a doubleseated two-wheel vehicle, the roads being smooth as billiard tables.

It is a most wonderful place, blessed with balmy airs, and one is enchanted with the charms of the tropical moonlight nights when the silvery shafts of illumination penetrate through vegetation and creepers that drape the sides of the driveway. Many Holland officers are here, thus greatly augmenting the social life. We found them to be courteous gentlemen.

Batavia has modern, up-to-date, wellstocked stores. There are four large banks here. Among the various industries may be mentioned the silversmiths who hammer out beautiful designs in silver relief for all kinds of ornaments, exhibiting great dexterity. Java hats are manufactured, forming a profitable industry. In a short time this will rival the world's market against the expensive Panama. Palms from which the hats are made, grow freely in low, marshy places. The shoots are abundant and reproductive. The plaiting of the hats is done entirely under water.

About forty miles south of Batavia lies Buitenzorg, the pride and show-place of Java. Located in its botanical garden are the governor-general's palace and many homes of high officials. The botanical gardens are conceded to be the best scientific tropical gardens in the world and without doubt are the most beautiful. Joining the gardens is a beautiful park where hundreds of deer in a semi-wild state dart to and fro. These wonderful gardens are the study-grounds for the nations of the earth, who annually send representatives there to increase their knowledge of botany. They contain the finest avenue of canarie trees in existence, varying in height from 75 to 100 feet without a branch, forming a green glistening arch overhead. Their symmetrically straight trunks are covered with drooping ferns, creepers and palmleafed plants, blooming orchids, and every known tropical plant with a tendency to climb. The gardens contain a lake covered with lotus and Victoria regia far surpassing anything of their kind seen in Japan or elsewhere. We

PRINCESS MARY.

England will now have three queens,

the queen dowager, the new queen and Princess Mary. The latter is the only girl among the six children in the royal household and has long been a pet of the English nation. She celebrated her twelfth birthday on the 25th of last October and is said to be as pretty and lovable a little princess as ever

Princess Mary was always a great favorite with King Edward, who kept her constantly in his company at San-

"Mary is as much a boy as the rest of them," her father said once. "She enters into the sports and recreations of her brothers with enthusiasm and can hold her own with them in most

Plays Cricket Like Boy.

having once "clean bowled" Prince

Arthur of Connaught with the first ball she pitched to him. She practically lives in the open air, fishing and boating continually throughout the

Once last summer she and her brothers, Prince Edward and Prince Albert, were boating on the Thames

when a skiff containing two Eton boys

"Why didn't your mother teach you to steer before she let you come out

"Why didn't yours teach you man-

In common with her brothers she has been trained to be thrifty and to save the money allowed her. Each of the children receives a stated sum every week, never under any circumstances to be exceeded. In the case of Princess Mary, however, she need never ask for an exceptionally large allowance, for she has a savings account of no small proportions, accumulated by weekly visits to the postoffice savings bank. She understands the system, does her own depositing

Plays Jokes Upon Brother.

While her brother, Prince Edward,

now heir apparent, was at the naval college at Osborne she sent him a large, attractive looking parcel. As and frequently verifies her account.

on the river?" said one of the boys.

collided with their boat.

ners?" replied the princess.

She can play cricket and boasts of lived outside a book of fairy tales.

dringham or Balmoral.

games."

summer.

"I suppose that every woman who motors works out the theory of complexion treatment which best suits her," declared a woman the other day whose face does not look as though she had traveled thousands of dusty miles in her automobile in the last few years. "You see, it is useless to use water," she went on emphatically. "Perhaps soft water might be cleansing, but you can't get it while traveling. So I experimented for the best results in the most condensed form, and I've found what suits me. "Before we start-indeed, while I

-

Milady's

Mirror

200

am dressing for the journey-I smear my face and throat, too, with cold cream. The cream is made from white wax, with just enough almond oil and rosewater to make the wax soft. You see, my object is not to make a tissue builder, but to prevent dirt from getting into the pores, to make a mask, and I object to grease. Therefore I melt some white wax in a cup by putting it into boiling water, and then I remove the cup from the heat and stir in the oil and rosewater. When I can I put in a little more rosewater than oil, and I always scent the mixture with a few drops of essence of roses.

This goes in last in order that the heat shall not detract from the fragrance." What of the Color of Your Hair? The color of a woman's hair as given to her by nature-not by peroxide, henna and the like-is more than a matter of beauty and harmony with the complexion.

According to the phrenologist, who closely considers every part of the human body in connection with character, the color of the hair is a distinct betrayer of one's disposition and mental and moral capacity. Thus straight black hair that grows coarse and thick is supposed to belong to the woman who is industrious and orderly, but will never set the world on fire with her mental capacity.

Straight hair, moreover, indicates greater power to rule others than usually belongs to the envied curly head. Auburn hair, though not generally known, is said to denote a kindly, sympathetic nature, but give one or two tones deeper and the red headed sister will be hot tempered, domineering and jealous.

Fine glossy brown hair with chestnut hues is thought to accompany an acute mind, and usually the owner has strong intellectual tastes.

Curly black hair is supposed to indicate an intense, passionate nature, with a touch of coarseness.

Drab or dun colored hair usually means a commonplace, nondescript, colorless person without strong likes or dislikes and with small capacity for friendship.

years old? There is one-Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Once in the family, it stays. It is not a doctor, does not take the place of a doctor. It is a doctor's aid. Made for the treatment of all throat and lung troubles. Ask your own doctor his opinion of it. Follow his advice. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. You cannot recover promptly if your bowels are constipated. Ayer's Pills are gently lax-ative; act directly on the liver. Sold for nearly sixty years. Ask your doctor all about them.

Clyde Fitch's Joke.

"Clyde Fitch was an indefatigable worker," said an actor who has played in many of the Fitch comedies. "When he had a play on the stocks he would labor over it day and night, often scarcely pausing for his meals and getting very little sleep; consequently his health suffered. He would work until on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and then his physician would step in and force him to knock off. "During one of these periods of enforced idleness he was lounging in the Players club one day when Harry B. Smith, the prolific comic opera librettist, strolled in.

"'What are you doing now?' asked Smith.

"'I am in my doctor's hands,' replied Fitch. 'He tells me I'm in a bad way and has absolutely forbidden me to do any brain work."

"'That's tough,' said Smith. 'How do you manage to put in the time? "Oh. I'm writing the libretto of a musical comedy!' replied Fitch, with one of his cynical smiles."-New York Times.

If you are not satisfied after using ac-cording to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach. improve the digester regulate the bowels. Give them a trial and get well. Sold by all dealers.

Hair Monstrosities.

French theater managers in the eighteenth century had worse evils than picture hats to contend against. Marie Antoinette, who was short even according to French standards, set the fashion of high coiffures, and ultrafashionable women prided themselves on measuring four feet from their chins to the tops of their heads. These structures took about six hours to erect, the hairdresser mounting a ladder in the process. Some coiffures were almost as broad as they were long, with wings sticking out about eight inches on each side of the head. For the "frigate" coiffure the hair was rippled in a huge pile to represent the waves of an angry sea and surmounted by a fully rigged ship. As a consequence of these monstrosities disturbances in theaters occurred almost daily until an ordinance was issued against the admission of women with high coiffures to the floor of the house. -Chicago News.

Marvelous Discoveries

mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill men, and that wonder of wonders -Dr. King's New Discovery-to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial Couldn't Talk.

De Style-You say that loving pair of deaf mutes were sitting in the parlor and didn't carry on a conversation? Gunbusta-They couldn't. for they were holding hands.-New York Press.

I never knew an early rising, hardworking, prudent man, careful of his earnings and strictly honest, who complained of bad luck .-- Addison.

J. S. MYERS. J. E. MERS, Westminster, Md. New Windsor, Md

Drs. Myers, SURGEON DENTISTS,

Are prepared to do All Kinds of Dental Work, including

ALUMINUM PLATES.

DR. J. W. HELM. SURGEON DENTIST,

New Windsor - - Maryland.

Will be in Taneytown 1st Wednesday of each month.

I have other engagements for the 3rd Saturday and Thursday and Friday, immediately preceding. The rest of the month at my office in New Windsor. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered.

Graduate of Marvland University, Baltimore, Md. C. & P. Telephone. 5-1-10

If you need any kind of a horse, such as a fine driver or heavy draft horse, I can supply you. Always have at my stable a good number from which to select. Also buy stock of all kinds. W. H. POOLE,

C & P Tel. 8-K Taneytown, Md

one secures an instrument that has passed through all experimental stages; the result of many years of study and experience. The production of creators and masters of the art who have made Piano building a labor of love rather than a labor for gain. No fancy prices for reputation or name; just a fair price for a

Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

BIRELY'S Palace of Music,

Cor. Market and Church Sts.,

Littlestown Carriage Works.

9-19-tf FREDERICK, MD.

first-class artistic Piano.

their principal exhibitions were a Malay war dance, a Chinese devil dance, spear shooting and caribou races. Altogether it proved a most interesting event. There is not much worthy of notice in Borneo. Native' huts are built on poles over the tide-water, the natives themselves being most scantily dressed, and few tourists ever visit the island. They are Malays, small, muscular, swarthy.

Sunday, March 27, was Easter, and at 1 o'clock, a. m., we crossed the equator, without a jar, into the southern hemisphere. We found it just as warm as the side from which we came. From time immemorial it has been the custom for Neptune (Poseidon) the god of the Bamboo is seen growing in clumps and seas, to visit all vessels which cross the equator, and baptize into the sea-faith all earth-born children of meg who may not have been in this region before. Sabbath morning drawned bright and clear and we had a most impressive Easter service on board conducted by Rev. John Phillips, D. D., lecturer, Egyptologist, etc., of Binghamton, N.Y. In the afternoon great preparations were made for the reception of Poseidon and here. Nutmegs may be found lying like the initiation of earth-born novices. Promptly at 2.30 p. m., His Majesty green outer shell one finds fine coral followed by all the dignitaries and servants of the high seas, all most grotesquely attired, and headed by the Royal Sub-Marine Band, boarded our ship and took their respective stations on a platform previously prepared. After a grand German speech all uninitiated ladies were baptized with a sprinkling of previous perfumed water, while the men were given a free lather, shave and hair cut, and then amid many incantations salt-water tank prepared for the occasion. Each person was given a handsome engrossed certificate of baptism, that of the writer reading as follows:

"We, Poseidon the only, son of Chronos, Prince Trident, lawful ruler of the violent blue high seas, earth-girdler and earth-shaker, have most graciously permitted the earth-born S. G. A. Brown on board of our friendly Hamburg-American Liner "S. S. Cleveland" to pass carefully over cur equator.

'This, in our rea-law, declared equator christening, is appropriately and satisfactorily done. "The christened child bears in this region, according to custom, the name of BOJAHN, which he must everywhere abundant, its purple flowers being two to three inches in diameter. The life-plant is one of the most universally spread over the island. Every old wall or rocky road margin is literally covered with its large fleshy leaves, making the plant quite conspicuous, its pendulous flowers of greenish-purple color of bladder-like formation on stalks 18 to 30 inches high, attracting much attention.

Gorgeous flowers in the sunlight shining, Blossoms flaunting in the eye of day: Fremulous leaves with soft and silvery lining, Buds that open only to decay.'

The alligator or avocado pear grows on handsome trees with showy foliage. thickets never before witnessed, ranging from fine feathery canes to towering giants whose stems are more like giant trunks soaring 100 feet in the air, forming a canopy like ostrich feathers over ones head. They have been known to grow an inch every hour. Banyan trees, fan palms, mahogany, papaw (bearing delicious fruit resembling musk-melon) are among the many fine trees growing acorns on the ground, and breaking the veins enveloping the dark kernel. The delicious mangosteen and luscious rambutan grows here. Coffee, tea, coca and hemp are grown extensively. Bread, sausage and candle-like fruits may be found hanging everywhere. Truly a most productive island.

Java is one magnificent garden of luxuriance, said to surpass Brazil, Jamaica and Sarawak all combined, with the greatest volcanoes rising out of it-one given the task of spading up the and gesticulations immersed in a large hundred of them being active. It is the greenest, the most beautiful, and the most exquisitely cultivated spot in the East, the most picturesque and satisfacbit of the tropics. Its forests are adorned with everlasting green, with thousands of flowers, whose odor never dies, while the sea wind rushing through the bananas and the tops of the palms together with the music of rushing waterfalls, from a euphony in sound not to be found elsewhere. We shall always remember it as a pleasant dream of the vague past.

> Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold on a guarantee that if you are not satisfied after using two-thirds of a bottle according to directions, your money will be refunded. It is up to you to try. Sold by all dealers.

had been delving into the ries of cooking and sending the products of her skill to her brother, he expected a feast and invited two friends to assist him in disposing of it. When the three of them opened the package, however, all they found was a wax faced doll dressed in the uniform of the Naval academy, bearing a tag in his sister's handwriting, "Isn't He Pretty ?"

That the little princess is well educated may be gathered from the fact that her schooling began at the age of four years under a governess. At the age of eight Princess Mary was able to talk fluently with the French ambassador in his own lauguage.

Lessons in the royal schoolroom begin at 7:30 a. m. in the summer and at 8 a.m. in the winter. There is an hour's instruction before breakfast. three hours before noon and two hours in the afternoon. Especial attention is paid to English history, in connection with which study frequent visits are made to the British museum for the inspection of original documents.

A Fashionable Cure.

If one could get well by going off to a fashionable sanitarium and making garden, why couldn't the same pursuit in one's own back yard prove as beneficial to the health and more so to the purse? Doubtless it would, but as with all remedies that cost little it is hard to convince some people of their value.

"Gardening as a curative pastime," says an exchange, "is the newest idea, introduced by the head of a fashionable sanitarium for nervous women, and each patient has her own particular plot to look after. She is even ground and is expected to spend a it regardless of the weather. On clear days, after the garden hour, the entire force of fair women is supposed to turn out and rake and burn leaves and fagots as another way of playing amateur farmers.'

Baby's Irish Lace Cap. Bonnets for tiny babies are made of baby Irish crochet and cut like Dutch

They are mounted on an undercap of padded crepe de chine.

The Irish lace is threaded with tiny satin ribbons of blue or rose color, and a big cabbage-like rosette is fastened at each side where the cap strings run. stomach and so prevent indigestion.

Pure golden hair means ideality. It is rarely found on women of gross nature-unless bought-and its owner usually has fine sensibilities and is a lover of music and the arts.

Camphor Ice.

Some women find nothing so softening to the skin as camphor ice. This can be bought with good assurance of purity, but is easily made at home from the following recipe: Six drams of camphor, six drams of white beeswax, six drams of spermaceti and two ounces of olive oil. Put in the ingredients together in a porcelain lined saucepan and melt until smooth. Set the pan in a larger vessel of hot water or use a double boiler to prevent burning.

Pour into small glass jars to cool. Porcelain jars used for certain cheeses are excellent to keep this grease. That not intended for immediate use can have the lid sealed on with strips of adhesive plaster.

When making the grease in hot weather half the quantity is sufficient.

Wavy Locks.

Even the straightest locks in the world can be made wavy by the simple process of wetting the hair with alcohol and pinning it in little loops tight down to the head. Do not put the alcohol on with your hands or brush, but use a little wad of absorbent cotton and dab the alcohol lightly over the hair. Then, taking a strand at a time, pinch it into loops about two inches apart and pin each loop snugly down. This can be done across the back of the head as well as on the top and sides, and the hair will wave and be perfectly dry in about half an hour, especially if a thin piece of veiling is certain part of each day cultivating | tied all over the head as tightly as possible.

To Develop the Neck.

The quickest way to accomplish good results in developing the neck and filling out the hollows is to inhale deeply and force the breath against the throat, holding it for ten or twenty seconds. As you inhale rise on your toes; as you exhale drop on your heels. It is well to stand before a mirror while practicing this to see that the breath fills out every hollow.

Remember that fresh air and open air exercise brace the nerves of the affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. Its the surest cure, James M. Black of Asheville, N. C., R. R. No 4 writes it cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c. and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guar-anteed by R. S. McKinney, druggist, Taneytown, Md.

Yet He Meant Well.

Just as the train was leaving the Fifty-eighth street elevated station a man who had got off there burried along the platform and spoke to a passenger sitting by an open window in the smoking car.

"Quick," he cried. "Please hand me that package. I left it on the seat when I got out just now."

"Sure." said the passenger, picking up the bundle and tossing it out of the window

"Thanks!"

"Hey, there! What are you doing that for?" demanded the wrathful, red faced man sitting next to him. "Why: he"-

"You double dyed idiot, that package belonged to me! It was $15 worth of laces and ribbons I was taking home to my wife!"

Over the scene that followed let us draw a veil.-Chicago Tribune.

"All Things Come." The magnate looked up impatiently from his work. "Well, my good man," he snapped at the diffident rural person who stood twirling his rusty hat, "what can I do for you?'

"I guess ye don't remember me, Hank." faltered the caller. "But you an' me use ter go swimmin' together in th' ol' town. Then you got a job in th' bank, an' I got a job in th' grocery store."

"This is all very interesting, and I seem to remember your face. But come to the point-my time is valuable.'

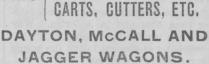

"Yes. Hank. You got a better offer and left the old village. I stayed plugging along in th' grocery store." "Well, well?"

"Well, Hank, when you left you owed $73.62 on a grocery bill. Here's where you pay un! -Cleveland Leader.

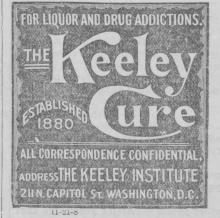

Simple, Harmless, Effective. Pure Charcoal Tablets for Dyspepsia,

Acid Stomach, Heartburn and Constipation. 10¢ and 25¢.-Get at MCKEL-LIP'S. 10-23-6mo

Repairing Promptly Done. Low Prices and all Work Guaranteed. LITTLESTOWN, PA., Opposite Depot.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL,

Lesson XII .- Second Quarter, For June 19, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xiii, 1-9, 18-Jas. i, 21-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We step back quite a bit in the order of events to take up this and the next two lessons on the "Mysteries of the Kingdom," but perhaps it does not matter much how we step if only we step into the light and keep step with dropped from his shoulders and he our blessed Lord in His thoughts and was light hearted and free. So may purposes. Although verses 10 to 17 are not included in our lesson we must look at them, as there we find the reason why He taught in parables. The rulers having determined to kill Him (xii, 14) our lesson chapter opens with the statement that the same day He went out of the house and sat by the seaside. A simple statement of a fact, but very suggestive of another fact-that He was about to go out from the house of Israel and begin to gather from the sea of nations another people during this age who will reign with Him in the next or kingdom age (Matt. xxiii, 37-39; Acts xv, 14-18).

When the disciples asked Him why He taught in parables, His reply was, "Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given." And then he quoted from Isa. vi the prophecy concerning this blindness. The kingdom of God, or of heaven, was no mystery, for it was plainly revealed in all the Old Testament. The sufferings and glory of the Messiah were all fully revealed, but that there should be a long period between the sufferings and the glory, that the kingdom would be at hand and then postponed for a whole age, this was not revealed until by the Lord in these parables, and later to and by Paul. A concordance will enable any one to see that the word "mystery" is used of God in Christ, Christ in His people, the blindness of Israel, the resurrection of the just, the development of iniquity, the end of this age. This whole age between the rejection of Christ and His coming again in glory is the time of the mysteries of the kingdom which our Lord sets forth in these seven parables of this chapter. Mark and Luke each give the first one-the parable of the sower-the understanding of which seems all important, for our Lord said when asked for its significance, "Know ye not this parable? And how, then, will ye know all parables?" (Mark iv.)

From our next lesson we learn that the field is the world (verse 38), and we must bear in mind that it is a world lying in the wicked one and that he is the god of it. It is an evil age and ever growing worse as far as the fear of God is concerned (I John v. 19; II Cor. iv, 4; Gal. i, 4; Rom. xii, 1, 2; II Tim. iii, 1-5). Alongside of unparalleled progress on many lines there is unparalleled iniquity, unbelief, re-jection of the Bible as the word of seek the source of such a life. God and of the deity of Christ and of His atonement for sin. We are nowhere taught to expect any improvement in these matters during this age. but we are faithfully to sow the seed of the word of God everywhere and expect just what we are taught in this parable. Some set their hearts on certain results and say we must have this or that we must have fifty or a hundred conversions, we must have a revival, the town must be taken for God. etc. Happier are those who are in harmony with the Lord and who rest on His assurance that His word will accomplish that which He pleases (Isa. lv, 11). It is incorruptible seed. the word of life, and He has promised to watch over it (I Pet. i, 23; Acts v, 20; Jer. i, 12, R. V.). The hearts of men are the soil, and some are beaten so hard by the going to and fro of the things of this life that the seed can scarce find entrance, and the devil is always watching to catch it away lest they should believe and be saved Other hearts are hard within, rocky hearts, but with enough soft soil to receive the seed. Such appear to enjoy the word; they say it does them good. they receive it gladly, but they are easily offended, cannot stand any persecution. In others the soil is good enough to grow thorns and the seed does find a lodging, and it grows, but the thorns grow so fast that there is no fruit. The cares and pleasures of this life, the deceitfulness of riches, the lusts of other things, choke the word, and no fruit is brought to perfection. In the first two kinds of soil there is no indication of salvation. I am inclined to believe that this third kind of soil indicates a possibility of salvation, but saved as by fire (I Cor. iii, 14, 15). The fourth kind of soil is good by the grace of God. There is an honest reception of the truth. They hear it and understand it and keep it and bring forth fruit with patience, even to thirty, sixty or a hundred fold. All through this age this is what we are to expect and only this. It is ours to sow the seed, the pure seed of the word of God, everywhere and at all times, with confidence in Him that He will accomplish His pleasure by it always. Blessed is that servant whom his Lord when He cometh shall find so doing. Who can estimate the honor of being a laborer with God? Who would not say, "Here am I, send me!" But we must be sure that we preach only the preaching which He bids us, that we carry only His message.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning June 19, 1910. Topic.-The yoke of Christ.-Matt. xl, 28-30. Comment by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

These verses are among the most gracious and comforting ever spoken by Christ. The invitation "Come unto Me" was not addressed to all who bore physical or mental burdens that were heavy to bear, but to the sinful burdens of man. Christ was speaking 23-Memory Verse, 23-Golden Text, to the Pharisees, who were trying to carry their own burdens of sin, as represented by Christian's burden in the "Pilgrim's Progress." To these He would give rest by taking the burdens of sin from them by His death upon the cross. When Christian reached the cross and looked upon it in fatth the bundle representing this burden any one be who will follow his example and allow Christ to take his burden of sins, which He is able to do, because on the cross He paid the penalty of man's sin.

When, however, we have become Christians and have lost the burden of sin there are still burdens to be We still need spiritual rest. borne. We are still often "weary and lone and sad" and still need to come to Christ and find rest in Him. Christ deceives no one. He does not say that burdens will end with becoming Christians, but points out the way of getting relief in them, not by getting away from them. These burdens He likens to a yoke, and the figure taken from the Old Testament refers to the yoke placed upon cattle

1. He asks us to take His yoke upon "Take My yoke upon you." The yoke of Christ is a double yoke. It is on Him and on us, and under such circumstances it is not so burdeusome. If we walk steadily with Him the yoke will be easy and He will bear the heavier part of the burden. In carrying the cross with Simon of Cyrene Christ bore the heavier part, that which contained the crossbeam, while Simon simply held up the bottom of the upright beam. Such will be our position if we take Christ's yoke upon us. "The cross is not greater than His grace.'

In taking Christ's yoke we become His disciples, for we learn of Him. The principal method of learning is through His example, "Learn of Me, for I am meek and lowly in heart." Meekness and humility are examples of His virtues which we must copy. Christ is the greatest teacher the world ever had, for He taught with perfect knowledge the greatest things of life-the mutual relations between God and man, of those between man and man and especially concerning the future life. Still, His greatest power as a teacher of morals and religion was in the life that He lived. In following His example we are to learn of Him. Moreover, it is in thus becoming like Him that we have the greatest success in winning others to Him. Christlikeness is more winsome than ability to teach theology. Saintliness has more power in making disciples than the power to teach religion from a scientific standpoint. Let men see Christ's yoke is easy. It is a yoke, and there are burdens with it, but it is easier than any other yoke. We must bear some yoke-the yoke of Christ. "the yoke of the law" or the yoke of Satan. The yoke of Christ may seem hard at first, but it grows easier as we become more accustomed to walking with Christ and at death leaves us forever. "The yoke of the law"-trying by our own righteousness to save ourselves is most galling, becomes more so as we advance in life and at death brings no relief. The yoke of Satan seems easy at the start. How pleasant seemingly to do as we please, to give free reign to our appetites and passions, but later on how burdensome the yoke of Satan becomes! Body and mind become impaired. Religion has no power in our lives. We are yoked indeed. We may try to escape our dreadful condition, but the yoke increases in size and becomes more burdensome, almost beyond endurance, and when death comes we still find no release. Indeed, torture turns to torment. The rich man when he died, according to the parable of Christ, so suffered. "In hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torment." How different from the condition of one who has worn the yoke of Christ in his lifetime! To him "there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying; neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away." Some yoke you must bear in this world. In the light of the above facts how can you do else than take Christ's yoke upon you?

The Surprise He Experienced In the Upper Air.

By ALFRED C. PICKELLS. [Copyright, 1910, by American Press Asso-ciation.] "Pup" Shea woke up.

As far as vigilance over his wireless apparatus was concerned, it mattered little whether he had dozed twenty minutes or all day. The day was that kind which puts wireless stations on land temporarily out of commission. A half hour before and at like intervals during the morning he had been unable to hear anything but the sputtering of atmospheric electricity.

"S-O-S!" It may or may not have been meant for the distress signalthe letters were so long diawn out. Pup waited. Presently his own call. "Qn," broken and mingled with a confusion of sounds, came struggling through the receiver, and finally a long rumble of nature's electricity that destroyed any semblance of code signals.

Pup thought of the high power station at Cape Hatteras and without waiting longer switched in the sending apparatus. He repeated "Ha" many times, slowly and distinctly, and again changed over and listened. Except for the same sputtering and jumble of letters there was no response, and once more, after adjusting for all the power his station was capable of, he sent Hatteras' call rushing through space.

The unusually loud crackling of the sending outfit brought Shultz from the engine room.

"What's the matter, Pup?" asked the chief, wiping the black engine grease from his hands with a ball of waste. Pup repeated what he had heard.

Shultz's face became serious. "It's worth looking to, anyhow," he said. "I'll go over to the signal station and see if I can get Hatteras on the wire.'

He returned in a short time and said: "It's all right, Pup. There ain't no Binnses offshore. Hatteras says he's been trying to talk to Diamond shoals lightship all morning, but he can get manager. "Mr. O'Keane." he said, "let me pull the show off for you." "I know you sailors have the nerve to do all sorts of stunts, but you're up against it hard when you tackle a balloon. "That's all right," replied Pup, unrolling his clippings, "but I ain't green on balloons. Glance over them.' O'Keane glanced, and when he read Pup's army papers he said: "That's a big temptation, Pup. You'd save the day for us." It was agreed that Pup should make the ascent, then descend to within a few hundred feet of the earth with the open valve before making the parachute leap.

Pup hurried across to the station. When he returned he was clad in a brilliant red bathing suit, and he took his place on the double bars of the trapeze, eager and confident. O'Keane grasped his hand. "I appreciate this. Pup," he said warmly. 'Keep your nerve and be careful. All ready?'

Pup nodded. The ropes were released, and he sailed rapidly skyward. Below, the pilotboat, which had agreed to come after him in case he went offshore, was heading in his direction. It seemed down there as if the world had flattened out, making a great level map. Old Point Comfort. Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Cape Charles were all in view, and he unslung his marine glasses. As he adjusted them and turned them first on the cape the red and black double squares of the United States hurricane signal flashed back at him through the lenses. It had been hoisted since his ascent, and he glanced skyward anxiously. Overhead there were long mare's tails and in the northeast a rapidly gathering thickness. He had been stationed on that coast long enough to know its signs, and this one had proved its truth.

The westerly breeze had died out. Seeing the pilotboat almost beneath him, Pup grasped the valve rope to begin his descent when a few isolated bits of scud came from out of the northeast, a puff of air fanned his cheeks, and the balloon swung slowly around, facing him eastward. At the sight which met his astonished gaze his eyes widened, and he exclaimed. "Holy Mike!"

Again he unslung his glasses. A vessel lay far out at sea, miles beyond the sea level limit of vision from the coast and even barely visible to his naked eye. But with the magnified view through the glasses he saw that great clouds of smoke were rolling not only from her funnels, but from fore and aft, and an occasional bit of flame leaped through them. At her bows there was no white foam, indicating that the steamer was at a standstill. The few tiny dots to the east and north proved to be small boats filled to their capacity with humanity.

The parachute was the quickest means of descent, and Pup chose it without hesitation. But in his haste to shake it out he let go the rope which held it upright to the trapeze. It ran out swiftly, the canvas toppled over downward, and before he was aware of it it had jerked itself loose from his hands and, turning completely over, shot downward through space with the swiftness of an arrow.

His brain whirled for a moment; entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat — no smell — no smoke.

Why? Because The New Perfection Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat —no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it — conse-quently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operespecially in summer. Its heat oper-ates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners: the 2 Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet. Every dealer everywhere; if not at yours, write for Descriptive Circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., LL. D., President

A handsomely illustrated Hand-Book and a Catalogue giving full information will be sent on application.

BALTIMORE, MD.

ISSUED MORNING, AFTERNOON AND SUNDAY

BIBLE READINGS.

Lev. xxvi, 13-17; Deut. xxviii, 47, 48; Matt. v. 1-12; Luke xxiii, 34; Isa. xlvi. 3, 4; John xiv, 1-3; xv, 1-16; Pet. v. 5-7. 10; Rom. viii, 18; Rev. xxi, 1-7.

Christian Endeavor Among Indians. While Dr. Clark was in Spokane, Wash., on his way home from India he was visited by Peter F. Corbett, a highly educated Nez Perce Indian, who is prominent among the ranchers of northern Idaho and is identified with the state bank of Kamiah.

He told Dr. Clark that more than 500 Indians on the Nez Perce reservation belong to the Christian Endeavor soclety. In the town of Kamiah there are ninety-five members. A peculiar feature of the situation is that the members almost all are the older people of the tribe. There are six Presbyterian churches on the reservation. and the work is progressing all the time.

A VESSEL LAY FAR OUT AT SEA.

nothing through. And if they can't work in that short distance we might as well take a vacation. But never mind. Pupsie," he added teasingly. slapping his assistant on the shoulder: "vou'll get your opportunity yet. Somebody's always doing something startling.

Cape Henry was to be the scene of a balloon ascension and a parachute leap that afternoon, an event which had awakened more than the ordinary interest in Pup. In his varied career he had handled balloons, once assisting his elder brother, who did not only high air, but, according to Pup, high grade, acts in a valve balloon with which, when the upper currents permitted, he ascended and descended several times for the amusement of his spectators before he made the final leap in his parachute. Then, too, Pup had served an enlistment in the signal corps balloon squad of the army, and, though the total experience was confined to manual labor on terra firma, the presence of a kindred subject magnified his knowledge, and he surveyed the preparations with the critical eye of an authority and discoursed upon aeronautics among his associates.

At the conclusion of his watch at the station Pup strolled over to the casino. A glance at the balloon attendants told Pup that something had gone amiss, and, diving under the ropes, he asked, "Where's Flyup?"

"Too much heat," came the immediate reply. "They got him over there." In the casino office Pup found that the professor had been returned to consciousness, but that he had been made too weak to attempt an ascent.

"I guess it's up to you to make a speech," he said when later he and the casino manager emerged from the eastward. office and walked across the lower pavilion to the balloon inclosure.

"We're in a devil of a fix, Pup, that's sure," replied the manager, glancing at the crowd. He seemed undecided for the moment.

Pup surveyed the balloon tugging at bottom of the boat. "I guess I've lost then, excited and eager to descend, he grasped the valve rope and gave it a violent pull. In an instant, gasping and choking, with the air roaring past his ears and the blood rushing to his head, he dropped toward the blue sea. "There he comes!"

The cry came from scores of lips as the spectators saw the parachute start in its descent. But the cheer that broke forth died away to a tense silence. They watched with bated breath while the bit of canvas continued to fall at the same high rate. Then something like a groan filled the air.

"My God, what's the matter!" exclaimed Shultz, turning to the professor. "It doesn't spread out. He'll be killed!"

The professor was already training a pair of glasses on the parachute. 'He is not in there." he said. "He must have dropped it."

As he spoke the big sphere dropped suddenly and swiftly, watched in frightened silence, until within about 200 feet of the earth it slackened its pace and came to a stop. By this time it had drifted farther westward with the shifting wind and was shaping a course for the Chesapeake bay. But they could easily see the red clad figure of Pup on the trapeze.

"A few more pulls on the valve will bring him down." said the professor. "Can you signal?"

Shultz stripped his big navy neckerchief from the collar of his blouse and tied it to a cane.

"He's signaling now." he said, waving an acknowledgment. Then he repeated with a pause between each word: "Passenger-liner - about - hundred-miles-offshore-bearing-eastby-south-on-fire-disabled. Passengers-in-small-boats. Send-help." Shultz darted across the sand hills to the signal station. In a few moments the news was telegraphed to Norfolk and flying from the signal masts in brilliant colors. The pilotboat barely waited to answer it, then steamed swiftly seaward.

It was nearly an hour before Pup worked the balloon slowly downward. Just as he plunged into the water to escape the collapsing canvas the cruiser Prairie raced out the capes, heading

"See that, Pup!" shouted Shultz as they steadled the surfboat in the seaway until Pup grasped the gunwale. "Bully for you! What did I tell you this morning?"

Pup scrambled over the side. "Cut While he pondered over the matter it," he said, floundering weekly into the its ropes, then suddenly turned to the my nerve. No more balloons for me."

Is the Cheapest High-Class Newspaper in the United States and will be mailed to Subscribers for

10 Cents a Week for 13 Issues OR $5.20 A YEAR

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD is gathered by the well-trained ecial correspondents of THE SUN and set before the readers in a concise and interesting manner each morning and weekday afternoor

As a chronicle of world events THE SUN IS INDISPENSABLE. while its bureaus in Washington and New York make its news from the legislative and financial centers of the country the best that can be obtained

AS A WOMAN'S PAPER THE SUN has no superior, being morally and intellectually a paper of the highest type. It publishes the very best features that can be written on fashion, art and miscellaneous matters.

THE SUN'S market news makes it A BUSINESS MAN'S NECESSITY for the farmer, the merchant and the broker can depend upon complete and reliable information upon their various lines of trade.

By Mail THE SUN (Morning or Afternoon) is 25c. a Month or $3 a Year THE SUNDAY SUN, by Mail, is 10c. a Month or $1.00 a Year And THE SUN, Morning, Afternoon and Sunday, . . $5.20 a Year

Address All Orders to

THE A. S. ABELL COMPANY BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

........................

Wind Storm

Insurance

Is becoming almost as general as Fire Insurance. Why? Because losses are numerous, and unpreventable. Care, and personal efforts often prevent fires, but no human agency can prevent storms.

VERY LOW COST

secures a Policy, at present; but the Companies are likely to advance rates, as they are too low to be profitable. We do not guarantee present rates to last throughout the summer; therefore, it will be wise to insure now. All Buildings must have good roofs and be in good repair, and insurance must be taken to AT LEAST HALF OF THEIR VALUE.

P. B. ENGLAR, Agt., Home Insurance Co., N. Y., TANEYTOWN, MD.

ROB'T S. MCKINNEY,

TANEYTOWN.

DRUGGIST,

........................

MD. - -

TANEYTOWN LOCAL COLUMN.

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

Miss Marv Reindollar is visiting among friends in Baltimore.

The Presbyterian church is being equipped with acetylene gas fixtures.

Mrs. J. W. Witherow attended the Commencement exercises at Woodstock, Va., last week.

Attention is called to the early closing notice of the merchants of Taneytown, in another column.

Mr. E. Clarence Ott will enter the employ of the Reindollar Co., next week, as general salesman.

Mr. Frank H. Elliot left, on Wednesday, for Pittsburg, to take charge of a drug store for the summer.

Mrs. M. Ross Fair and children, are spending some time in Westminster, with her sister, Mrs. John D. Belt.

at the regular service hour, in the Lutheran church, on Sunday morning.

Messrs, Robert V. Arnold and Jos. A Hemler visited Washington, D. C., and St. Mary's county, the first of this week.

Misses Elizabeth Annan and Eliza Birnie spent the week in Chambersburg, Pa., attending Commencement at Wilson College.

held in the Reformed church, Sunday morning and evening; preparatory services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. A. C. Eckard, of near Mayberry, raised some strawberries that measured from 6 to 7 inches in circumference, and thinks they are hard to beat, for size.

At the Presbyterian church, on Sunday night at 8 o'clock a sermon appropriate to Children's Day will be delivered on the subject: - "Our children and our town."

A festival and supper for the benefit of St. Joseph's church, will be held on the lawn adjoining St. Joseph's school, this Friday and Saturday evenings, and on next Saturday evening, the 18th.

Mr. Isaac F. Deleplane, of Waynesboro, was among a number of relatives who attended Mr. Uriah Heck's funeral, last Sunday. Mr. Deleplane is a brother of Mrs. J. Frank Kiser, of this district

Last week we turned out a lot of job printing for Philadelphia and Baltimore, and this week we have an order from Tennessee. The "wheels must go round" whether we get enough work at home, or not.

Misses Lillie and Bertha Hahn at-Ridge College, Union Bridge, last Wednesday, and were accompanied home by county.

without it, as I consider it the best, cleanest and most sensible paper of which I have any knowledge."-A. L. SLAGENHAUPT, Littlestown, Pa.

Mrs. H. E. Weant, who has been visiting in Baltimore, for two weeks, returned home this Friday evening.

Two of the oldest citizens of this district, living near Walnut Grove, Mr. Emanuel Overholtzer and Mr. Tobias Hawn, are quite ill at this time.

The following members of the Taneytown Fire Company attended the State Firemen's Convention, this week: Chas. O. Fuss, Burgess S. Miller, Wm. A. Erb. Frank Kuhns, James H. Reindollar and Wm. E. Burke.

Mrs. Margaret Stott, and sister, Miss Anna Galt, have been quite ill during the past week, requiring the services of a trained nurse. Mrs. Stott is improving, while Miss Anna, who has typhoid fever, is experiencing about the usual course of the disease.

Get ready for the 4th of July! A public meeting of citizens will be held in the Opera House, next Tuesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, to consider the question of holding a suitable demonstration in Taneytown, July 4th. Attend this meeting and give your views on the subject ! A game or two of baseball, perhaps a Children's-day services will be held parade and a patriotic addrees, with a good exhibition of fire-works at some appropriate spot, at night, are among the things talked of.

Chance for Record Readers.

In order to test the RECORD'S great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with Rob't S. McKinney the popular druggist, to offer one of his best selling medi-Regular Communion services will be cines at half price to anyone who will cut out the following coupon and present it at his store:

COUPON This coupon entitles the holder to one 50c package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, 25c. I will refund the money to any dissatisfied customer. ROB'T S. MCKINNEY.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in Taneytown and so positive is Druggist R. S. Mc-Kinney of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache and liver troubles that he will, in addition to selling it at half price, refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure

-.... Orphans' Court Proceedings.

MONDAY, June 6th., 1910.-Daniel B. Shaeffer and Edgar H. Shaeffer, administrators of Jeremiah Shaeffer, deceased, returned report of sale of personal prop-erty and additional inventory of debts. Annie M. C. Starner, administratrix of George W. Starner, deceased, returned inventory of personal property. Ruth A. Ritter, executrix of Edward

B. Ritter, deceased, returned inventory tended the Commencement at Blue of personal property and received order to sell personal property and stocks. Letters of administration on the estate nesday, and were accompanied home by Mr. Geo. D. Hicks, of Washington to Frank J. Shriner, who returned in ventory of debts and settled his first and final account. "I enclose $1.00 for renewal of the RECORD. I could not think of doing Irwin, administrator of Roger B. Irwin, ed, returned inventories of money and debts. Order of Court passed directing Westminster Deposit and Trust Co., to pay to John E. Bankert, amount deposited in his name by Thomas H. Bankert, admr. d. b. n. c. t. a. of Jacob Bankert. de-George M. Ott, admr. of Matilda Ott, deceased, settled his first and final account.

The State Road Commission.

The State Road Commission and the highway division of the Geological Survey were consolidated on Wednesday, in accordance with a bill passed by the last Legislature. In the future all road work will be done under the supervision of the Road Commission.

After accepting the work of the commission, it was decided to meet again Saturday morning, when the organizations of both departments will be consolidated. Most of those interested in road construction in the State are anxious that Mr. Walter W. Crosby be re-elected chief engineer of the commission. While there is no opposition to him by any member of the commission, some of his friends fear efforts might be made to reduce his salary from the amount re-ceived, while acting as chief engineer for the commission and survey. He re-ceived $2,400 a year from the survey and $3,600 from the commission, making a total of $6,000. Unless the commission pays Mr. Crosby this salary his friends believe he may decline to remain with the commission

By the consolidation of the two roadbuilding departments it is expected that the State will effect a saving, although it is not thought many employes of either department can be dropped at this time In addition to spending the $5,000,000 road loan the commission will also spend the $1,000,000 road loan provided by the last Legislature for the purchase of the Conowingo and other bridges and the construction of the Baltimore and Annapolis boulevard; complete the Washington and Baltimore boulevard and continue the State road work. All of this will come under the chief engineer of the commission.

The final report of the highway division of the Geological Survey has been issued. The report shows that in the five years that the State Aid act has been in operation surveys have been made on 316.50 miles of road. Plans have been made, and estimates aggregat-ing $1,855,447.67 have been furnished on 249.12 miles of road. Contracts have been let aggregating $1,500,000 for 175 miles of road.

There have been completed 125.54 miles, at an aggregate cost of $8,016 a mile including bridges. There are also 49 miles under construction which are on the average 52 per cent. completed, for which the total contract price is $490,000, which amounts to 25.48 miles of completed roads at a cost of $254,-The total construction under this act represents $1,261,100 or $8,350 a mile on the average, including bridges. Of this amount the State has paid approximately one-half and the counties and abutting property owners the other balf.

'Economy is Wealth.'' Clean your old clothes with Lum Tum Clothes Cleaner. Leaves no smell. 15c a bottle.-Get at MCKELLIP's. 10-23 3mc 10-23 3mo

A Surprise Birthday Party.

(For the RECORD.

A most enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler, on Thursday night, June 2nd., in honor of the 31st. anniversary of Mr Fowler. The guests arrived about 7.30 p. m., and soon all were merry. The young folks indulged in various games, while the older ones enjoyed a lively conversation. At 10.30 the guests were invited to the dining room where the table was burdened with tempting and elegant refreshments, and at a late hour all departed for their respective homes, wishing Mr. Fowler many more happy birthdays.

Those present were, Messrs. and Mes-dames Harry Fowler, William Robertson, Frank Miller, Tom Fowler, Charles Bankert, John Fowler, William Sipes, John Green, Edward Gilbert, Edward Yingling, Samuel Gllbert, Harvey Beard, Annie Copenhaver, Susie Wilson; Misses erna Wilson. Jennie Davidson, Mary Babylon, Irene Bankert, Mary Copenhaver, Helen Beard, Edna and Bertha Gosnell, Mirand Greenholtz, Helen Gilbert, Ruth Fowler, Edna Robertson, Evelyn Fowler, Margaret Fowler, Edna Gilbert; Messrs. P. J. Babylon, George owler, Calvin Wilson, Denis Reindollar, William and Benton Flickinger, Maurice Bankert, Paul Robertson, Roger Gilbert, Sterling and Weldon Yingling, Edgar and Sterling Miller.

Teddy unt Me unt Gott.

(A Revision.) Der Kaiser of dis Vaterlandt Unt Gott on high all dings commandt— Eggsept, of course, you understandt, Dare's Teddy.

It used to be dot me unt Gott Could run der vorldt as vell as not, But now of help ve get a lot From Teddy.

Who told us two unt two makes four Unt neffer either less or more Unt all about our ancient lore ? Vy, Teddy.

Who sait to me, "I like you Bill ?" Who helped me not to keep right still Unt talk of animals to kill ? Dot Teddy.

Who told me vat mein army needs Unt how vords doesn't count mit deeds? Who valks und talks der vile he reads Dot Teddy.

Who told me dings I neffer knew? Who told me vat I ought to do Unt how to say "Dee-lighted !" too ? Dot Teddy.

Dare is no bleak unt lonesome spot Vich ve don't cheer—I tell you dot! Der vorldt iss bossed by me unt Gott— Unt Teddy.

-Jefferson Toombs in Harper's Weekly. Why He Applauded. "Are you foud of music?" asked a stranger of the young man at the concert who was applauding vigorously after a pretty girl had sung a song in a very painful way.

"Not particularly." replied the young man frankly, "but I am extremely fond of the musician.'

Special Notices.

General Advertisements will be inserted under this heading at one cent a word, each issue. Real Estate for sale, Two Cents each word. The name and address of advertiser must be paid for at same rate; two initials, or a date, counted as one word. Cash in ad-vance, unless other terms are mutually agreed upon. Postage Stamps received as cash.

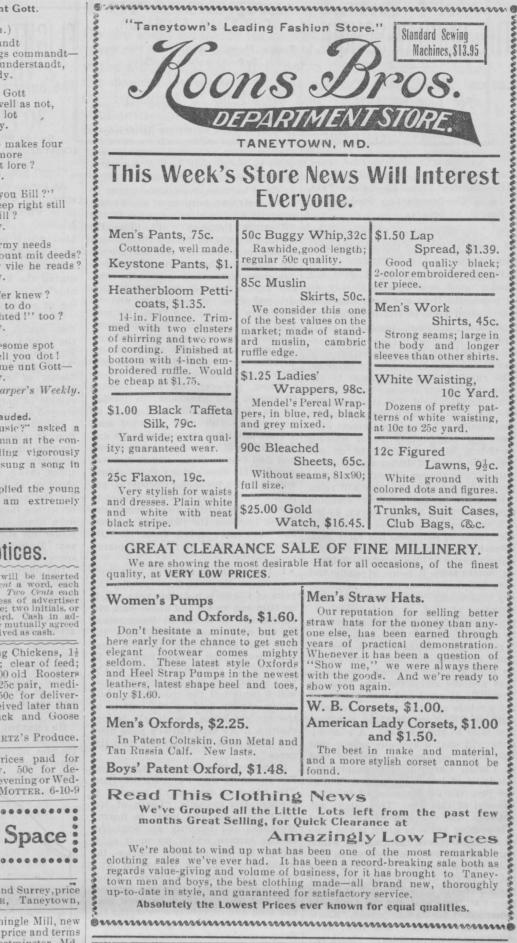

EGGS WANTED! Spring Chickens, 14 lbs., 20c to 22c lb.;

saw in good order. For price and terms

I WILL HAVE at my stable on June 18, 1 carload of fresh Cows, Springers and Heifers, and also some fat cattle and Bull from Virginia. Come and see them, all who are interested in stock of this kind .- ERCY F. HARVER, Frizell burg.

BLACKSMITH ANVIL wanted, second-hand, good condition, by HANSON

Old chickens, 14c lb.; 500 old Roosters wanted. Good Squabs, 25c pair, medi-um 20c pair; Calves 7c, 50c for delivering. Poultry not received later than Thursday morning. Duck and Goose feathers for sale. -SCHWARTZ'S Produce. HIGHEST CASH Prices paid for Eggs, Calves and Poultry. 50c for de-livering Calves Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning .- G. W. MOTTER. 6-10-9

ONE GOOD second-hand Surrey, price $50.00.-D. W. GARNER, Taneytown,

FOR SALE. Chase Shingle Mill, new apply to L. D. MAUS, Westminster, Md.

FOGLE, near Middleburg.

We acknowledge the receipt from Hon. Jos. A. Goulden, of New York, of a ceased. copy of the year book of the Department of Agriculture for 1909. The volume is handsomely illustrated and contains a vast amount of valuable information, statistics, etc.

The following item appeared as a "local" in last week's Sentinel: "The city authorities are taking steps looking to a thorough cleaning up of the city, and request all persons to clean the grass and rubbish out of the gutters in front of their residences."

Mr. John T. Dutterer, living on the Westminster road, has had his already handsome property additionally improved by putting down 626 teet of concrete walks. The work was done by John W. Stouffer and Martin L. Buffing. ton, the Taneytown artists in that line of work.

At the Commencement exercises at Massanutten Academy, Woodstock, Va., last week Miss Grace Witherow and crease from the Rural Delivery service; Miss Irene Fringer were candidates for graduation diplomas, the former being valedictorian of her class, and the latter receiving honorable mention for Senior girl's medal.

Prof. Howard E. Slagenhaupt, son of A. L. Slagenhaupt, of Littlestown, well known here, received the degree of A. M., at Franklin & Marshall College, this week. He has also been unanimously elected principal of Stevens High School at Lancaster Pa., at a salary of $15,000 a year. His many friends will be glad to hear of his success.

Mr. Chas L. Kuhns has been awarded the contract for operating the lighting plant and pumping station, he being the lowest bidder. It is to be hoped that the lighting schedule will be more satisfactory than it has been in the past. No lights should be turned out before 12 o'clock, and the "moonlight" schedule should te abolisded entirely, except perhaps during several winter months, under very favorable conditions which can be determined only from day to day. Depending, in advance, on the moon to satisfactorily light the streets, is a very foolish proposition.

Mary C. Shearer and William C. Shearer, admrs. of William H. Wilson, deceased, returned report of sale of per-sonal property and settled their first ac-

Letters of administration on the estate of Eugene Trayer, deceased, granted unto John Milton Reifsnider, who received warrants to appraise personal property and real estate, also received order to notify creditors.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will brace up the nerves, banish sick headache, prevent despondency and invirgorate the whole system. Sold by all dealers.

Postmasters Get More Pay.

The following postmasters in this section of the state will enjoy an increase in salary, beginning July 1. The increase is due to the increased business of the Emmitsburg from $1600. to $1700. Frederick New Windsor $2700 to $2800. $1200. to $1300.

Sykesville $1400. to $1500 Woodsboro $1500. to $1800. Middletown, Frederick county, suf-fered a reduction from $1200. to $1100. Most of the offices are unaffected, either way, by the adjustment.

Compound Syrup White Pine and Tar for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c .- Get 10-23-6mo at MCKELLIP'S.

Carroll's Health Officers.

Health officers were appointed last Friday by the County Commissioners as Taneytown, Dr. Frank H. Seiss; Uniontown, Dr. Luther Kemp; Myers, Dr. Levi Wetzel; Woolery's, Dr. Robert F. Wells; Freedom, Dr. M. D. Norris; Manchester, Dr. John F. H. Weaver; Westminster, Dr. Charles R. Foutz, for the district and at large; Hampstead, Dr. Richard C. Wells; Franklin, Dr. Edwin D. Cronk; Middleburg, Dr. Chas. H. Diller; New Windsor, Dr. George H. Brown; Union Bridge, Dr. James Watt; Mount Airy, Dr. W. E. Gaver; Berrett, Dr. D. B. Sprecher.

Our Best Citizens all read The Record.

Lame shoulder is almost invariably caused by rheumatism of the muscles and yields quickly to the application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is not only prompt and effectual, but in no way disagreeable to use. Sold by all dealers.

----Conserving the Income.

"How do you account for the high cost of living ?'

The rubicund gentleman addressed glanced at a check for $8.35, representing the cost of his modest meal, handed the waiter $10, with instructions to keep the change; pulled out a cigar that the interviewer recognized as a 50 center, and leaned back in his chair. "All rubbish," he said. "People live beyond their means and then grow about it. It's their own fault." "I see. You believe that everybody should save part of his income ? 'Exactly.

"Umph-umph. Sounds reasonable. But what proportion of it do you think he should salt down? Suppose, for in-stance, the man earns $1.10 a day, and has a wife and five children, and some of the babies get sick occasionally, and the older ones need clothes in which to go to school, and the landlord wants his rent right on the nail, and a pair of kid's shoes lasts a month, and the instalment on the sewing machine is 50 cents every two weeks, and he carries enough in-surance to bury him, and enough medicine for his wife is half a dollar a throw, and everything that the members of his household eat and drink and wear costs more than it used to, and gets higher all the time, do you think he ought to save a very large proportion of his income

"You do not state the case fairly. Doubtless the man has vices. I am certain he smokes.

"I forgot that. Yes, he pays 5 cents a package for tobacco, and a package lasts 10 days

"Ha! Shiftless fellow. And, of course, he has the nerve to complain. He'll cut out luxuries before he gets any sympathy from me." - Philadelphia Ledger.

More Appropriate.

"I teach my parrot only short words "

"Do you? Now, I should think that parrots were better adapted to learning polysyllables."

TWO SHEPHERD PUPS, for sale by CORNELIUS STOVER, near Taneytown.

FOR SALE.-12-light Chandelier, light extension Chandelier, and Hall Lamp, used in Presbyterian church. Apply to JOHN E. DAVIDSON OF R. S. MCKINNEY, Taneytown, Md. 6-11 tf

MAYBERRY BAND, Ice Cream Festival, in Marker's grove, for benefit of Band, Saturday, June 18th. 11-23

NOTICE. - Ice for sale at S. W. Plank's meat market. Let all orders at Plank's store for wagon delivery.—W. J. STOVER. 6-11-2t J. STOVER.

PAIR BAY MULES, (Mares) 2 years old, for sale, by P. H. SHRIVER, Tre 6-4-2t vanion.

THE MINSTREL TROUPE, of Mayberry, will hold an entertainment for benefit of the Mayberry Band, in the hall at Frizellburg, on Saturbay evening June 11. Program will begin at 8 o'clocks Admission 10 and 15c. Everybody come

DENTISTRY.-DR. A. W. SWEENEY, of Baltimore, will be at the Hotel Bank-ard, Taneytown, from June 13 to 18, for the practice of his profession. 5 28 3t

THERE'S A CHANCE that a fire can be put out, on your premises, but nothing on earth will stop a storm ! Better get a Storm Policy, and don't worry ! P. B. ENGLAR, Ag't., Home Ins. Co., Y., Taneytown.

A NEW LINE of all the Latest Spring Millinery. Best styles of Ladies' Waists, White Goods, Underwear, Etc.-MRs. M. J. GARDNER.

FOR RENT .- The Store Room and Basement known as the Eckenrode Store on the Square, in Tanevtown, Md. session May 1, 1910.—Apply to JOHN H. DIFFENDAL, Taneytown, or MRS. J. G. PETERS and T. O. ECKENRODE, Middletown, Pa. 4-2-tf

ROAD NOTICE.

We, the undersigned residents and tax-pay-ers of the 3rd. Election District of Carroll County, desire to nave the road changed over the land of Filmore S. Bowers, so as to make it more convenient; the change to be at the expense of the said Filmore S. Bowers, BIRNIE SHRINER. E. A. FISHER, PAUL RINEHART. HARRY SPANGLER WM. A. CRABBS. JOSEPH STUDY. Published June 4, 1910. 64-6t

"Does your heart ever reach out for "No, but my hands do when my husband is not at home. There are three buttons at the back of my gown that I

We ask for a share of general plumbing work, such as installation of Gas Fixtures, Hot Water, Steam and Furnace Heat, Water Circulation of all Kinds.

Well Drilling, Pumps and Roofing a Specialty.

All work entrusted to us will be promptly executed and fully guaranteed. All work and material at the very lowest prices.

H. A. ALLISON & CO.,

TANEYTOWN, MD

Early Closing Notice

The following merchants of Taney town have decided to close their places of business on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, at 6 o'clock, commence ing June 20, until further notice D. M. Mehring. C. Edgar Yount.

The following will close at 9 o'clock,

Sam'l C. Ott. Otto F. Hirt. John McKellip.

All of the above will close at 11 o'clock

Association.

Proposals for Bridge.

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Commissioners of Carroll

County, for a Steel Bridge and superstructure over Alloways creek at the Gettysburg Mill Co's dam. Bids will be received until 11.30 o'clock, on Monday, June 13, 1910. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the Commissioners. Bids will be asked for the structure and superstructure separately. Certified check of $200.00 must be deposited with each bid. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all

Oats Mixed Hay. By Order of the Board, Baltimore Markets. GEO. W. BROWN,

GEO. W. BROWN, J. S. FINK, B. F. STANSBURY,	Corrected Weekly. Wheat,
Commissioners. E. DODRER, Clerk. 6-4-2t	Corn
The Record will sell	Hay, Mixed,
	Straw, Rye bales, 11.50@12.5 Potatoes

Out of Her Reach. the unattainable?"

can't reach."

D. J. Hesson. Koons Bros. Mrs. M. J. Gardner. the same evenings-N. B. Hagan. Otto Brothers. S. Bower. Wm. Hull. D. B. Shaum. S. C. Reaver.

4-23-tf

R. S. McKinney.

on Saturday nights.

6-11-2t

O. E. DODRER, Clerk.

it for you--What is it

Reindollar Bros. C. E. H. Shriner. S. White Plank.

SHARRER & GORSUCH, WESTMINSTER, MD.

The Taneytown Business Men's 300 New Suit Patterns

in our Tailoring Department. Don't buy a Ready-made Suit for Men or Boy's until vou see our handsome styles and low prices.

Taneytown Grain and Hay Market.

Corrected weekly, on day of publication. Prices paid by The Reindollar Co. Wheat, dry milling 95@95 70@,70 Corn, dry..... 700.70 45@45 Timothy Hay, prime,......13.00@13.00 9.00@11.00 Bundle Rye Straw, 7.00@.700