THE CARROLL RECORD.

VOL. 19. Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone, 3-R.

1

1

3.

TANEYTOWN. MARYLAND, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1912.

Future of the Republican Party.

NO. 17

Please watch the Date on your Paper.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Gleaned from the County and State and our Exchanges.

George E. Marker has sold his farm of 122½ acres, lying along the Westminster and Littlestown turnpike, to Alfred Stevenson, of Spring Mills, for $18,000. This is within a fraction of $147.00 an acre.

John Schrank, who confesses that he meant to kill Col. Roosevelt because he wanted a "third term," is undergoing examination as to his sanity. In case he is found insane, he will likely be comexamination as to his sanity. In case he is found insane, he will likely be com-mitted to some institution.

J. A. Wayland, the Editor of Appeal to Reason, a widely circulated Socialist newspaper, printed at Girard, Kansas, committed suicide, on Sunday night. The publication was under charges, preferred by the government, for circulating defamatory matter. The suicide is supposed to have been due to despondency over things in general.

--Leslie Wood, of Union Bridge, was ar-rested at Hagerstown, Saturday, having tried to sell his father's team. Wood tried to self his father's team. Wood drove to Hagerstown, Friday night, and offered the horse and buggy first for $260 and then for $200. His brother arrived, Saturday, and took the team back to Un-ion Bridge. The prisoner will have a hearing on the charge of disorderly con-duct. – Frederick Examiner.

Rev. Dr. L. L. Sieber, for the past year and a half District Superintendent of Western Maryland for the Anti-Saloon League, has offered his resignation, to take effect January 1, 1913. Dr. Sieber re-signs his work to take charge of the Luth-eran Temperance League of his own de-pomination which aims at educational nomination, which aims at educational and temperance work in the Lutheran churches, Sunday Schools and young peo-ple's societies. He will have his headquarters at Gettysburg, Pa.

President and Mrs. Taft will ask Presi-dent-elect and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson to be guests at the White House. The President wants to ascertain before sending the invitation when it will be most convenient for the President elect and Mrs. Wilson to come. It is likely that the in-vitation will be given at the time the President-elect goes to Staunton, Va., his

Red Lion on Monday on business, and it is said bet heavily that Wilson would not bananas, malaga grapes, lemonade and

Home Mission Week in Taneytown. The schedule of services, topics and speakers for "Home Mission Week" in the churches of Taneytown, has been arranged as follows:

ranged as follows: Sunday evening, Nov. 17, "Our Coun-try's Debt to Christ," Rev. D. J. Wolf, in the Lutheran church. Monday, "Units in Making Our Coun-try God's Country," Rev. Seth Russell Downie, in the Lutheran church. Tuesday, "The Immigrants," Rev. D. J. Wolf, in the United Brethren church.

church. Wednesday, "The Rural Regions and the Cities," Rev. L. B. Hafer, in the United Brethren church.

Saturday, "Our Country's Opportunity for Christ," Rev. Seth Russell Downie, in the Reformed church. Sunday evening, Nov. 24, "Unity in Making Our Country God's Country," Rev. Charles E. Schaeffer, D. D., in the Performed church.

Reformed church. Dr. Schaeffer, the only visiting minister in the list, is Superintendent of Home Missions of the Reformed Church in the United States.

All the services will begin at 7.30 p.m., except the service on Monday night, which will be held promptly at 7 o'clock.

Myers-Zimmerman.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Zimmerman, near Taneytown, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Saturday No-vember 9, at 1 p. m. The contracting par-ties were Walter Myers, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers, of Frizell-burg, and Miss Grace Zimmermam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Zimmer-man Miss Mag Zinwerman, sister of man. Miss Mae Zimmerman, sister of the bride, was bride's maid and Mr. Lloyd Lambert, best man. The Misses Helen and Edna Albaugh, cousins of the bride were flower girls. Miss Bessie Zim-merman, sister of the bride played the wedding march. At the appointed hour, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bridal party entered the wedding room where, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends Rev. G. W. Baughman, pastor of both the bride and groom, performed the wed-ding ceremony according to the rites of the Lutheran church.

The bride was gowned in a cream satin The bride was gowned in a cream satin messaline, trimmed with embroidered lace and beaded trimming, and carried a white wedding booklet. Her going away gown was dark blue serge with hat to match. The bride's maid wore a light blue satin messaline, and carried a show-or borrout of observation er bouquet of chrysanthemums.

coffee were served.

U. S. SENATOR RAYNER IS DANGEROUSLY ILL -...

Physicians Still Hope for a Favorable

Turn in His Condition. Washington, Nov. 14. — United States Senator Isidor Rayner, who is ill at his Washington home, 1320 Eighteenth St., northwest, had not shown any improve ment tonight. He did not rest so well last night, and during the day his condi-tion did not improve. When seen at his father's home at a late hour, Mr. Wm. B. Rayner, son of the Senator, said his father's condition was not as favorable as it was yesterday. it was yesterday.

The doctors in attendance have ordered The doctors in attendance have ordered absolute quiet for their distinguished patient. No one was allowed to see him during the day. Members of Senator Rayner's family still hope for a favorable turn, although the fact is not disguised that his condition is extremely critical. At his bedside are his wife, his son, William B. Rayner, and two grandsons. For nearly two years he has been a suf-ferer from neuritis. It did not become acute until about six months ago. Sena-tor Rayner and his family then believed tor Rayner and his family then believed rest and quiet would soon restore his normal health and no alarm was felt. At that time he would remain at his home for two or three days at a time, following which he would feel better and would again take up his work in the Senate. Just before the close of the last session of Congress, Senator Rayner's condition because of the last session of Congress, Senator Rayner's condition with the quiet persistance that some woagain take up his work in the Senate. of Congress, Senator Rayner's condition became worse. Only a few of his inti-mate friends knew of his suffering. He went to his country home at Cambridge, Md., where it was hoped a rest would benefit him. He showed some slight im-provement, but it was only temporary.

----Emmitsburg will Celebrate.

A big demonstration, celebrating the election of Wilson and Marshall, will be held in Emmitsburg, next Tuesday even-ing. There will be bands of music, decorated floats, plenty of colored fire and enthusiasm in general. It will be the aim of the promoters to hold a creditable jollification, in which all parties can join, and a cordial invitation is extended to adjoining districts to participate. Taney-town district is especially invited to turn out in full force.

-000-

Auto Owners as Responsible as Drivers, When in Car.

The judge said the streets of the city belonged to the people, and that the speed of automobiles should be regulated to the The bride received a walking power of pedestrians. The court said that an owner of an automobile, when he occupied it, was supposed to direct the mode of its use, and that it was not the driver who was concerned in getting to a particular place at a particular venience. -000-

FROM THE ELECTION'S LATEST RETURNS.

Items Affecting the Status of General and State Results.

Champ Clark is going to be re-elected Speaker of the House, and Oscar W. Underwood again chosen as floor leader if the Democrats, according to a number i prominent Democratic leaders whose advice and suggestions have been sought by lovernor Wilson in the campaign just losed. There will also be a special sesclosed. sion of Congress to revise the tariff, according to these leaders, whose close as-sociation with Mr. Wilson makes their assertions particularly valuable. In Iowa, the Republican candidate for Governor was elected by 3000, the first returns being reversed by the complete unt.

Senator Bourne, of Oregon, one of the original Roosevelt men, was defeated for re-election, having received a smaller vote than either the Democratic and Republican candidates. Senator Bourne was an ardent champion of the "recall" propo-sition, and has been himself one of the first victims.

It is believed that Zapata county, sit-uated far down in the Rio Grande border region of Texas, is the champion Taft county of the United States. There were 375 votes cast in the county and every one of them was for the Taft Presidential electors. Four years ago the same county cast a solid vote for Taft. The counties adjoining it are nearly solidly Democratic. All but five voters in Zapata county are Mexican-American citizens.

In the state of Washington the result was greatly mixed. Roosevelt carried the state, the Democrats elected the Governor, while the Republicans elected all other state officers, and the legislature is Republican, though some of the members elect are more or less identified with the Progressive movement.

In Illinois, Dunne (Dem.) was/ elected Governor, receiving 446,278; Deneen (Rep.) received 324,296, and Funk, Pro-gressive, received 309,457. Dunne's vote was 187,475 short of the combined vote of the other two conditions. of the other two candidates.

The vote in a number of states was much short of the Presidential vote of 1908. For instance, there was a shortage of 150,000 in Indiana; 62,000 in Ohio; 33,000 in New Jersey; 80,000 in Nebraska; 70,000 in Kansas, and other states fell here retriitbanding the network department short, notwithstanding the natural growth in the number of voters. In 21 states Taft received more votes than Roosevelt, while the latter was ahead in 27 states. Taft carried his own state, Ohio, by 69,000 over Roosevelt, and New York by 96,000.

Victor Berger, of Wisconsin, the only Socialist in Congress, was defeated for re-election, although the Socialist vote throughout the country has about

The line-up in the Senate appears to show a Democratic majority of two, if the close vote in Oregon holds. This figuring is said not to include two Senators to be elected in Illinois, where the outcome is doubt on account of the closeness of the legislature.

Much comment has been advanced, Much comment has been advanced, since the election, as to the future of the Republican party. Many are again pre-dicting, as they did in 1892, after Harri-son's defeat by Cleveland, that the party is on its "last legs;" but what happened in 1894 and '96 is still fresh in memory, and the wisest prophets will go slow in reading the funeral service of the G. O. P. The Progressives are making a great deal of noise, just now, as being the 'second' party, and the successor to the Republi-can organization, but the general public s not taking very serious account of such talk.

The Republican party still has practi-cally half of the U. S. Senate, a consid-erable minority in the House, and many state governments. This is more than enough vitality to bridge over the wounds it has received in its own household, and by another year it is likely to be again in good fighting trim. Already a conference has been held in St. Louis, in which Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, Senator Works, of California, Missouri, Senator Works, of California, and Senators Cummins and Kenyon, of Iowa, were the leading spirits, looking toward a great "get together" movement and a reorganization of the party along more progressive lines. It is not at all probable that the old party will be swal-lowed by the new, but it is more likely lowed by the new, but it is more likely that the rejuvenated Republican party will put out of business the new party which was born hastily during well understood circumstances. The Philadelphia Record, which stands among the best Democratic authority in among the best Democratic authority in this country, says: "There is no reason why the Republi-can party should not continue to be a powerful body if it heeds the signs of the times. These demand the elimination of bossism and that the interests of the peo-ple shall be placed above those of cor-porations and special privilege. This is the spirit which now dominates Western Republicans and it is bound to prevail in the Eastern States if the party is to be revived here. With the passing of Roose-velt as a candidate—and the recent elec-tion certainly put a quietus on his thirdtion certainly put a quietus on his thirdterm aspirations—the Progressive party seems likely to undergo a gradual process of disintegration. The Republicans can still make a fair showing in Congress and in a number of States. Their party needs in a number of states. Then party facts a vigorous purification, however. They have just had a dreadful shock, like that of an anæmic person who takes a cold plunge, but the reaction is likely to prove beneficial to them. It will not be well for the Democrats to bank too heavily on the expected demise of their old enemy. We are inclined to think that, long after we are inclined to think that, long after the Progressive movement has joined the Populists, the Native Americans and other vanished parties, the G. O. P., chastened by stern discipline and humbled in spirit, will still be doing business in this coun-try."

try." Many prominent men in the Republi-can ranks, in Maryland, have expressed themselves as being very favorable to reconciliation with the Progressives, but that it must come about in a proper way and with honor to the historic principles of the Republican party. They say that if this is impossible, and it is a question between being Democrats or Bull Moosers, they will go with the Democrats. The general opinion is, that the state Progressive leaders will be unable to hold more than an insignificant following together to form a permanent third party. as most of the Roosevelt vote has no idea of leaving the Republican party.

(For the RECORD.) On Saturday, Nov. 9, 1912, the Union Bridge Farmers' Club met at the home of Henry Fuss. Probably the thought that came to each one, as we gathered at this hospitable home, was one of thankfulness that our host and brother member, who, since we last met had been called upon to all were ready to respond to this call and we were soon gathered around the table and as usual enjoying the fine menu that skillful hands had prepared. After all had partaken of the feast the gentlemen walked to the old graveyard that has recently been cleaned and sowed with grass seed under the management of Alfred Englar, of New Windsor. It now pre-sents a very creditable appearance. Re-turning to the house the meeting was or-renzized Minutes of last meeting read ganized. Minutes of last meeting was of and approved. Daniel Wolfe stated he had written to Dr. Hill concerning the Farmers' Institute, but had not received A reply. Miss Anna Wolfe, of Committee C, read an amusing story, "Achieving the impos-sible." A wife not being satisfied with the style of hat worn by her husband men possess, she invited him to accompany her to a gents furnishing establish-ment and taking matters in hand she soon ment and taking matters in hand she soon accomplished her object. The hat was purchased, accepted by the husband and the impossible was achieved. Miss Grace Wolfe read, "Lessons from Mountain Folk." Some stories of life among the Kentucky mountains picturing the grand-our of the bills unterabed by the advance eur of the hills untouched by the advance of civilization. The woman of the story was unable to read or write, yet lived always in grateful recognition of the joys of existence and of the opportunities of growth. The meaning of the story is a lesson in gratitude. Of course, the cement dust came in for its share of talk. Naturally, the women of the club are much concerned on ac-count of their inability to keep their homes and surroundings in a decent condition, while the offending dust continues daily to insinuate itself into every nook and corner. Their labor is rendered fruitless, for with all their care to scrub and clean, the next day may bring an increased amount. The beauty of flowers

Union Bridge Farmers' Club.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—The rights of the public against the reckless running of automobile were defined by Judge Sulzberger, in the Criminal Court here to-day when he held that an owner of a car who occupied it when an accident occurred was as guilty of manslaughter as the driver. The question came up when Judge Sulzberger sentenced to ninety days' imprisonment a driver on President elect goes to statution, vie, inspectively interpreted in the house was decorated with evergreen or. This will be Christmas week, and the President probably will ask them to stop over after the jubilee.
C. M. Jordan, of Lancaster, killed himself on last Friday at the Red Lion Hotel, near Lancaster. He shot himself in the head, and his body was found in the evening. Jordan was a veteran of the Spanish-American War. He came to the diant are freshments, consisting of the Spanish-American War. He came to the diant of the spanish-American War. He came to the diant of be elected president. Since the election he had been melancholy, and when he large number of gifts. did not appear for his meals employees of the hotel broke into his room, where G. W. Baughman, Andrew H. Albaugh

Great preparations are being made at Western Maryland College for their annual football game with the Md. Aggies, to be played at Westminster, Md., on Saturday, Nov. 23. This is the big bone game of the season for the Western Maryland boys, and nothing will be left undone to make it a big affair. Enthusi-asm is at its height. Mass-meetings and yell practices are held each evening. A band will be on hand for the occasion and this, together with the cheering and singing, is expected to be a feature and send the W. M. boys to victory.

-00

A well-conducted paper is like a banquet, says an exchange. Everything is served up with a view to selection. Help yourself to what you want and do not condemn the entire spread because pickles and onions may be included. If you do not relish them, somebody may find them palatable. Be generous and broad enough to select gracefully such reading matter from a paper as will be agreeable to your mental taste. You, as an individual, are not compelled to swallow everything. We do not all think alike on every subject, and it is a good thing, as it makes more variety, and variety is the spice of existence.

Martin Stouter, of near Emmitsburg, died at his home, on Tuesday, as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Pen-Mar, on Sept. 5. At that time Mr. Stouter and wife and party of friends were returning from Pen-Mar. On account of the glare of the lights Mr. Stouter mistook the road and plunged over a very rocky embankment and went 100 feet or more down the mountain side. He was caught under the machine, while the others in the automobile escaped with minor injuries. Mr. Stouter was remov-Hagerstown, where it was found his back had been broken and he was otherwise at Emmitsburg.

In announcing that 8,566 articles lost the groom in the mail, aggregating $13,000, would cels post requirements that all parcels- in Erie. the return card of the senders.

they found his dead body lying across the bed. man, wife and daughter, Evelyn, Sterling Zimmerman, wife and son Vernon, Arthur Angel and wife, Misses Bessie and Mae Zimmerman, Otto Myers, wife and son, Charles, John Harmon and wife, Clarence Myers and wife, Mrs. Annie Stoner, E. Shuff, Samuel Strine and wife, Miss Ruth Hummer; George Albaugh and wife, and Guy Albaugh, of Walkersville; John Wachter and wife, Jesse Lehard and son, Chester, Harry Albaugh and daughter, Mrs. Cora Clem, of Woodsboro; Mrs. Martha Putman and Miss Byrdie Gilbert, of Frederick; Lewis J. Wachter and wife, Miss Emma Miller and Vance Ruth and Emmet.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 14, at 7 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers, gave a reception to their son, Walter and bride, on their return from Washington and Baltimore. About sixty guests came to honor the occasion. The evening was supper of roast chicken, ham, oysters, potato salad, potato chips, celery, roll and biscuits, harlequin ice cream, cake, duction and prices announced today, bananas, coffee and cocoa. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums.

handsome gifts of china, glass, aluminum, granite, silver, bedding, table linen and 000; flaxseed, $39,693,000; rye, $24,370,cash. They will make their future home near Frizellburg. Later in the evening 000; buckwheat, $12,526,000. the friends and relatives gave them a the friends and pleasant serenade.

Tredway-Buffington.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Henry F. Harrison, 2503 Elsinore avenue, Baltimore, Tuesday at noon, when her daughter, Miss Caroline Buffington and also the daguhter of the ed to the Washington County Hospital, at late Dr. John A. Buffington, was married to Dr. T. Palmer Tredway, of Erie, Pa. broken and he was otherwise He was later taken to his home the members of the immediate families, was performed by Rev. S. B. Tredway, of near Havre de Grace, Md., father of

The bride wearing a gown of violet be sold at the annual auction sale of the charmeuse and carrying white chrysandead letter office on December 16, Post-master General Hitchcock issued a note brother, John F. Buffington. The matron warning against carelessness to all of honor, Mrs. Frank M. Olmstead, wore Christmas gift senders and parcel post blue charmeuse and carried yellow chrys-patrons. Mr. Hitchcock pointed out anthemums. The groom was attended that during the year, over 4,000 articles by E. McClure Rouzer, as best man. The had escaped from the wrappers in the house was decorated with potted plants mail, about 500 of them being pieces of more or less valuable jewelry. He ad-vised the public to conform to the par-in extended trip North. They will live post packages must bear the distinctive postage stamps, which will be ready January 1 next, and must have attached was formerly Mrs. Mollie Buffington (nee Englar) of New Windsor.

Corn the King of Crops.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.-A corn crop of 3, 169, 137,000 bushels, or 281,921,-000 bushels more than the greatest crop of corn ever grown in any country of the world, is the feature of the country's most remarkable agricultural year in history, according to the November crop report of the United States Department of Agriculture issued today. The report completed the Government's preliminary Wachter, of Raysville; Harry Freet, Lloyd Lambert, Samuel Lambert and wife, Albert Rowe, wife and children, Deed The Source of the nation's principal farm crops. This great crop of corn was worth November 1, to farmers $1.850. crops. This great crop of corn was worth, November 1, to farmers, $1,850,-776,000

The enormous sum of $4,171,134,000 represented the farm value, November 1, the United States crops of corn, hay wheat, oats, potatoes, barley, flaxseed, rye and buckwheat. With the value of the growing cotton crop and the crops of pleasantly spent in a social way, and later the guests were served with a handsome supper of roast chicken, ham, oysters, will mount well beyond $5,000,000,000. Upon the preliminary estimates of prothe value of the crops figure out as follows: Corn, $1,850,776,000; hay, $854,615,000; The bridal couple received a number of wheat, $603,639,000; oats, $476,169,000; potatoes, $188,501,000; barley, $120,845, Brown--Stansbury.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Stansbury, of Middleburg, on Thursday evening, Nov. 14, at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Edith T., became the bride of Mr. Allan L. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, of near Taneytown. The wedding march was played by Miss Bes-sie Harbaugh, of Middleburg. The

The bride was attired in a gown of pearl messaline and carried bridal roses, while the groom wore the conventional black. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Chas. H. Hastings, a which was very elaborate wedding dinner was served. The bride's travelling suit was of blue serge, with picture hat trimmed with plumes. After an extended trip to Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia, Mr and Mrs. Brown will reside on a farm near Taneytown.

-0.0-

Postmaster A. F. Hostetter, of Hanover, Pa., died suddenly at an early hour on Thursday morning. Some affection of the heart is the announced cause of his death. He is also said to have been very despondent since the election, in which his close personal friend, Congressman ished work the next day after order is Lefean, was defeated.

Committee D., Henry R. Fuss and family and Wm. J. Ebbert and family,to report at next meeting. Adjourned to meet at the home of Jesse W. Fuss and wife, at their con-

LYDIA L. SMITH, Secretary.

-----The World in Baltimore.

been exceeded by the attendance which over 3000 voters in the state wrote them has marked the enterprise since the open- on, and they were counted. ing day, October 25th. Successful as were the Boston and Cincinnati expositions. the one now in progress in Baltimore is more so, both in point of numbers of issue. Some of the districts people entertained and in interest taken that a recount will be made by those connected with the city churches. marked the special days can be gained from the fact that the special massmeeting for children, Sunday, Nov. 2, not only was the Lyric theatre, auditorium and galleries, completely filled, but, after the Missionary Play hall and the cratic by perhaps 200. Lecture hall (the two accomodating perhaps six hundred people) had been filled, an open air program was given to satisfy the thousand or more people who clamored for entrance which could not be mined until the last precinct is in. granted them. There is a close race for supremacy popularity on the part of the Exposition hall, the Pageant hall and the Missionary Play hall. In the Exposition hall the Baptists exhibits of nations, with the hundred or more daily demonstrations by stewards in costume, attract much attention.

But at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening, this attention is transferred to a large degree to the Pageant hall, or Lyric auditorium, where the Pageant of Darkness and Light is given by a cast of local talent which now has reached a superb stage of training. The pageant is a decidedly majestic spectacle, carried out with the dignity deserved by its theme, its setting and the accompanying music

The Missionary Play hall is not behind the others in claiming its share of patronage, and its seating capacity of about 400 is tested almost daily. Perhaps the most popular features of the play hall are the two plays by Miss Helen L. Willcox, "The Pilgrimage" and "Two Thousand Miles for a Book," and the wonderful motion pictures of S. R. Vinton, although the lesser plays and the costume lectures are proving very popular.

-000-

Invitations or Announcements.

We are printing, from new type, pretty correct wedding invitations and announce ments. Really, engraved work is not better; it only costs more, and perhaps for that reason is considered more "tony." Mail orders can be handled satisfactorily, if it is not convenient to call at our of-fice. As a rule, we can furnish the fin-crats will agree to any "referendum" given.

All week the count of the votes in California has been on the balance between Wilson and Roosevelt. The last count

In round figures, the popular vote seems to stand about as follows:

Wilson, 6,450,000 Roosevelt, 4,200,000 Tait, 3,500,000 795,000 Debs,

In spite of the fact that the names of All anticipations concerning The World in Baltimore Missionary Exposition have ballot in California, by the Progressives,

The exact status of Congress has not yet been definitely announced, but it is practically as was stated in last week's issue. Some of the districts are so close

The vote in Idaho has been changing Some indication of the crowds which have from Taft to Wilson, and vice versa, al most every day. The latest is that Taft will likely have several hundred plurality, the vote being nearly complete

The vote for Governor, in Washington, is still in doubt, but likely to be Demo-

The vote for Governor in Kansas is still incomplete. It is so close between the Republican and Democratic candithat the result will not be deter-

Roosevelt's Nicholas Longworth, Col. son-in-law, was defeated for Congress, in Baptists Change Bible.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.-What is probably the most radical version of the Holy Bible was placed on sale here to-day at the American Baptist Publication So-ciety rooms. It is a Baptist Bible for Baptists only, and much of the old text has been entirely changed.

In that portion of the New Testament where the conversion of the Saviour is described, in place of using the Greek "baptizo" the literal translation "immerse'' is used, so as to conform with the Baptist teachings that Christ went down into the water for his baptism. All the archaic forms of the King James and revised versions have been eliminated, and little of the old-fashioned respect for generally accepted ecclesiastical teachings remains.

The new Bible is called the "Improved Version," and is as different from the old Scriptures, so long the accepted creed Protestant denominations, that practically no other church will be able to use it, because it interprets the Scriptures to mean solely what the Baptist Church teaches. Hundreds of new words are explained as actual translations of

The "referendum" is being advocated, in a good many sections, for the election of Postmasters, instead of their appointment. It is hardly likely that the Demo such questions which extends voting privileges to members of other parties.

Orphans' Court Proceedings.

MONDAY, Nov. 11th., 1912.-The last will and testament of Elizabeth Lynch, late of Carroll County, deceased, admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted unto Nathaniel H. Baumgartner, who received warrant to appraise and order to notify creditors.

The last will and testament of James W. Koontz, late of Carroll County, deceased, admitted to probate and letters testamentary, granted unto Jacob Farver, who received order to notify creditors.

Alice L. Harnish, administratrix w. a. of William H. Harnish, deceased, settled her first and final account.

TUESDAY, Nov. 12th., 1912.—Mary Miller, executrix of Peter Miller, de-ceased. settled her first and final account. E. Abbott, administratrix of Mary David Abbott, deceased, settled her first and final account.

Nathaniel Baumgartner, executor of Elizabeth Lynch, deceased, returned in-ventory of money and list of debts, and received order to sell personal property. Eli T. Yingling, administrator of Eliz-abeth Yingling, deceased, settled his first and final account.

MARRIED.

MORELOCK-FOULK.-Walter A. Morelock, of Harney, and Miss Margie E. Foulk, of Gettysburg, Pa., were married at the Lutheran parsonage, in Emmits-burg, on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, by Rev. Chas. Reinewald, D. D.

BAKER-SELL. - On Nov. 12, 1912, at the Reformed parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Mr. Charles Baker and Miss Lillian Sell. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Baker, and the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sell, both of Taneytown district.

Church Notices.

Services next Sunday at Baust Reformed church, at 2.30 p.m.: subject, "Our Country's Opportunity for Christ." Young People's Society at 7.30 p.m.; subject, Common Mis-takes." Ira Rodkev, leader. MATIN SCHWEITZER, Pastor.

Harney-Sunday school at 9 a. m.; preach-ing at 10 a. m. Taneytown-Sunday school at 1.30 p. n..; Prayer and Praise meeting at 6.15 p. m.; preaching at 7 p. m. L. A. STANGLE, Pastor.

Preaching in the Church of God, Union-town, Sunday, at 10.15 a.m.; Communion, at 7 p.m.; Sunday School, at 9 a.m. Preaching at Frizellburg, at 2 p.m. L. F. MURRAY, Pastor.

Presbyterian church-9 a. m., Bible school; 10 a. m., morning worship, offering for tem-perance; 6:20 p. m., C. E. meeting. Piney (reek-1 p. m., Bible school; 2 p. m., worship hour.

THE CARROLL RECORD Facts, As We See Them, Relating to the Roosevelt Vote. NON-PARTISAN.)

Published every Friday, at Taneytown, Md., by The Carroll Record Printing and Publishing Company.

P. B. ENGLAR. Editor and Manager. BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DR. C BIRNIE, Pres. G. A. ARNOLD, GEO, H. BIRNIE, V. Pres. JOHN S. BOWER, F. H. SEISS, Sec. & Treas. P. B. ENGLAR, E. E. REINDOLLAR,

TERMS: One Dollar per annum in advance. Six months, 50c. Trial subscriptions, Three months, 25c. Please do not receive this paper after your subscription has expired, unless you mean to pay for it. The label on paper contains date to which the subscription has been usid been paid. All subscriptions will be discontinued on An subscriptions will be discontinued on their expiration, when requested to do so; and no credit subscription will be continued longer than one year after the time to which it has been paid. This provision is to be con-sidered merely as an extension of credit, or a favor, to subscribers, and is not a fixed rule for all cases for all cases. ADVERTISING rates will be given on ap-plication, after the character of the business has been definitely stated, together with in-formation as to space, position, and length of contract. The publisher reserves the privi-lege of declining all offers for space.

All advertisements for 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 7th pages must be in our office by Tuesday morning each week; otherwise, insertion cannot be guaranteed until the following week.

Entered at Taneytown Postoffice as Second Class Matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15th., 1912.

All articles on this page are either original, or properly credited. This has al-ways been a fixed rule with this office, and we suggest the adoption of it by our exchanges.

WE HAVE SEEN no tabulated return of agricultural State of Kansas, that party other thousands were persuaded that he dential election. received 30,000 votes and elected a few was too partial to the Catholic church; As the Progressives propose to legally minor officials.

-000

remain "forty years in the wilderness," and also that this time it is "surely dead" indicate a doubt of the other.

-000-

THE COMING four years is likely to develop new leaders of political thought, and very likely a reformation of political parties. It is hardly likely that the Rewould mean political folly, and the continued gift of power to the Democratic sides cross over to the other-assuming gressive.

-000-

JUST NOW, it will be wise for both Republicans and Progressives to make no hasty long-range, pledges as to their future course. Doing important things with haste, is apt to call for repentance later on, and just now a good many are in that state, whether honest enough to their recent political course; and it will be well for both themselves, and greater interests, for all hands to take a quiet rest and think things over, before saying just what they will do hereafter.

The Roosevelt vote, so far as it relates publicans and Progressives will be over directly to the actual support of Pro- the appointment of judges and clerks of gressive party policies, does not seem to election.

all who would honestly analyze results. publican party as a National body. We future selections of judges and clerks. think our deductions are fair, and that The question is one which will have to they have been abundantly verified, both be passed upon by the Supervisors of by events before the election, and the re- Election in Baltimore city and in each turns on personal grounds alone. Some of it cials for the State primaries and general went to Wilson, but the major portion of election will be appointed. candidate than Mr. Taft.

cies are concerned, they profited by the by half.

headed by Senator Lafollette, who both ers helped to originate its policies, and fight acknowledge it, or not, with reference to party been so led, and have received only the votes of those honest in their chamhardly have been of sufficient power to have defeated even Taft, without Roosecandidate, like Judge Hughes.

May Ask Courts To Decide.

The next big break between the Reus to have been formidable, considering | These places are held by Republicans the noise that party has made. The and Democrats, as the law says that the party had the luck of profiting by two two leading parties shall be given equal main facts, entirely aside from the merits representation in each registration and of Progressive propaganda, and these election office. Col. Roosevelt having facts must be taken into consideration by polled more votes in Maryland last Tuesday than did President Taft, the Pro-These two facts relate to the vote of gressives are claiming that they are one Roosevelt in two ways, and also to the of the two leading parties, the other be-Progressive party as headed by him; and | ing the Democratic party. The Republithere is, at the same time, a relation of cans dispute this claim and will demand the two which bears directly on the Re- that their organization be recognized in us to determine what his political action county. It will not likely come up until First, there was a large anti-Taft vote, late next spring, when the election offi-

it went to Roosevelt. This vote did not The Progressives declare that they will by any means represent a repudiation of test the law and get the courts to construe the Republican party, or its policies, nor | the meaning of the words "the two leadspecial admiration for Roosevelt, and | ing parties." Republicans contend that certainly not the indorsement of the they mean the two parties which polled Progressive platform. It was a vote that the highest number of votes in the State would have gone to any other Republican at a Gubernatorial election, while Progressives contend that they mean the two Thousands of farmers and others de- parties which polled the highest number - that are so energetically at work to the Socialist vote, but it is said to be clared against the President because of of votes at the last election held in the nearing the million mark. Even in the his activity for Canadian reciprocity; State, which in their case was the Presi-

many protestant ministers, and their in- demand that their organization be recogfluence, were against him because of this, nized in making one-half of the appointand moreover disliked him for being a ments, it is being suggested by a number THE OLD PREDICTIONS are going the Unitarian; the trusts that were prosecuted of Progressives and Republicans that rounds, that the Republican party will under his administration, hit back; while some plan be instituted to have the courts many thousands had a personal grouch pass upon the question as soon as possiagainst him, for various reasons; all of ble. If the supervisors in the city and beyond resurrection. The one seems to which put together immensely increased counties wait until next spring to make an opposition vote, to which neither the appointments it is declared that the Roosevelt nor the Progressive movement case could not be tried by the Court of can lay the slightest well-founded claim. Appeals until the fall campaign was on Second, so far as the Progressive poli- and the supplemental registration over. Under the law it is said the supervisors popularity of "Teddy" Roosevelt. Many in Baltimore city or in any county, if thousands of voters cast their ballots for they so desired, could at an early date publican party will stay "split," as that "Teddy," not knowing, nor caring, any- appoint a few election officials, recognizthing about Progressivism-it was a mere ing only the Republican and Democratic name to them. Therefore, deducting organizations, and then the Progressives party; but, in the realignment likely to from the Progressive party's vote the could enter suit. If this plan were take place, there will be many from both Republican anti-Taft vote, and the per- adopted, the case would be heard both sonal vote which Roosevelt would have by the lower and higher courts this winthat one party will be radically progres- secured on any, or no, platform, and the ter and a decision rendered which would sive, and the other conservatively pro- net genuine Progressive vote would have be followed in making the appointments problems will be wrestled with everywhere been very heavily discounted—perhaps when the time comes. By this plan the question would be kept out of the State In all fairness and political honesty the campaign and would prevent much con- thing for those who master them; but, Progressive movement should have been fusion among the people and party work-> its battles, long before Roosevelt even Progressives will agree to such a suit has recognized the movement as a stepping not been determined, but a member of stone for his own ambition. Had the the Board of Supervisors of Baltimore on in corn-growing and cotton-growing situation, said that it was the only solupionship of the movement, it would tion of the question and that personally old-fashioned man now is in apple-growhe believed it should be done.

The Democrats would not be concerned velt in the ring, and certainly would in the proceeding, as in their case they the unskilled ? not have defeated some other strong are one of the two leading parties in the State, for in the Gubernatorial campaign Aside from the Democrats who voted | their ticket ran second and in the Presi- | isting conditions. It seems highly ad-The very weakness of Gov. Wilson be- licans, who simply took a long stroll from ficials are appointed by the boards of su- every detail of the science as well as the fore the election, is making him strong home, and who are not specially informed pervisors upon the recommendations of art of our respective farm processes. And the party organizations.-Balt. Sun.

tises the Christian virtues cannot be misgoverned. On the other hand, no nation can escape evil if the man in the voter's booth is either selfish or dull. The tariff, the "trusts," the referendum and the initiative that we have been discussing so furiously during the past summer and fall are important matters, but not one of them, or all of them put together, is so important as the quality of the electorate. For months we have been criticising candidates and doctrines: now that we have counted noses and found out what the most of us desire, will it not be well for each of us to turn from criticism of others to criticism of ourselves ? Will it not be well for each of meant; for each of us to ask himself, "did I vote in my own interest, or in that of the republic ? Did I lazily accept catchwords and party badges as my guide, or did I really give my mind to the issues of the campaign ?" If we cannot answer such questions with a clear conscience, -as, thank God many of us can, then certainly we should not postpone making good resolutions until New-year's. It will be four years to another Presidential campaign, but we can begin at once to make the next one wiser and purer; we can give more and more of our support to those agenciesreligious or educational or purely personal make men wiser and better, and by so doing help them to appreciate the fact that no one can misgovern them except themselves .- Youth's Companion. -200-

The Perils of Progress.

Apples, peaches, pears and other fruits are now grown by specialists rather than by the ordinary farmer who also grows live stock, grain and hay. The specialist is a man who has worked out the whole problem of fruit-growing, knows when to spray and why, how to cultivate and use cover crops, when to fertilize, and when not to do so. He ships in carload lots, or works up trade as skilfully as a drummer.

Progress in fruit-growing has cut through the ranks of farmers like a knife, dividing the skilful and successful from the unskilled and unsuccessful. Is not this what is likely slowly to come about in all sorts of farming '

We seem to be entering upon a period of change and rapid progress. Farm on lines quite new to most of us. The study of better methods will be a fine what of those who do not? Will they not be actually worse off than now? Whether or not the Republicans and | Will they not be face to face with a more bitter competition ?

Let us suppose that improvement goes city, who declined to publicly discuss the until the unskilled man, or the old-fashioned one is as much handicapped as the ing. Such progress is quite possible within a decade or so. What will become of

The question is worth a little thought. Progress hath her perils-she upsets exdential fight it was first. The election of- visable for every one of us to master it is certainly necessary for our governments to see to it that our educational system is such that progress may unify rural life into an intelligent whole, rather than divide into an upper layer of specialists and a lower body of the unskilled. -Farm and Fireside. -004 Woman Suffrage Marching On.

D. J. HESSON,

Taneytown, Md.

Note the Progress we have made

HESSON'S DEPARTMENT STORE

The Birnie Trust Company

TANEYTOWN, MD.,

HAS MADE FOUR REPORTS TO THE STATE OF MARYLAND DURING THE PRESENT YEAR.

> The 1st was Feb. 20th, showing deposits $559,501.41 The 2nd was April 18th, showing deposits, $579,649.94 The 3rd was June 14th. showing deposits, $584,857.05 The 4th was Sept. 4th, showing deposits, $598,035.49

WE SUCCEED

Because we give liberal treatment to everybody. Because we are correct and accurate. Because you can depend on us. And because we are prompt, polite, courteous.

> E. E. REINDOLLAR, President. GEO. H. BIRNIE, Cashier.

Not A "Hair Trigger" Politician.

after it; at least, all classes and parties of, nor concerned about, Progressive docwill give him respectful attention, and trines. They are Republicans still, on will be glad to cheer all of his efforts to the tariff, and the majority of them could make a wise and broad-minded ruler of not have been won away, this year, by the destinies of the country, so far as any other man than Roosevelt. they are placed in his hands. The shouters and political enthusiasts admire a practical politician-which Gov. Wilson is not-but the thoughtful and business classes prefer the deliberate statesman, which he does seem to be.

What the country does not want, as a whole, is "one man rule." This country is not Russia, nor Mexico; and while the American people came near giving their paved, by easy stages, not to expect too first positive exhibition of "losing their much from pre-election argument and head," they have been saved from what promises. The following, from the we think would have been an unhappy experience; and after all the hub-bub we have passed through has finally subsided, we think it would be a difficult matter for circumstances to so centre themselves as to produce in the future another like exhibition.

There is no existing good reason why the precedent against the third term should ever be broken in this country. | There is also no sane reason why President Taft, and men like him, should ever be accorded the positive contempt of any considerable number of honest, levelheaded voters; nor is it ever wise for our people to be misled and swayed by triffes tained by the farmers the cost of living is to the extent of seriously trying the strength of our form of government.

Gov. Wilson has already stated in a speech, that he is no "hair trigger" type of politician. His statement is both a rebuke and a warning. By it, we understand that he does not mean to be either an impatient refo me, nor one with such personally fixed opinions that he feels that he "knows it all" and needs no advisers.

Whether after March 4 he will be able to steer clear of the harsh criticism which has, for the past four years, been heaped high markets for the producers and cheap on President Taft-as we think, largely without justification-and whether he will be able to satisfy the elements in his party likely to become almost as discordant as those in the Republican party, are at present unknown problems; but the whole country, irrespective of party, feels that he is an honorable, high-toned. intellectual and well meaning gentleman, and public sentiment will be slow to. condemn him.

for Roosevelt, the rest are largely Repub-

404 Has the Tune Turned Already ?

It is strange talk to hear from Democrotic authority, that "the tariff is not responsible for the high cost of living," but we must remember that the election is now over, and that the way must be Houston, Texas, Post (Dem.) is likely but the fore-runner of many more "letting down easy" dreams connected with a reduction in the tariff. The Post says: "One of the chief factors in the cost of living in the United States as compared with the cost of living in Europe is the igh cost of production in this country. We have higher wages in America than are paid in Europe. Democrats are not advocating a reduction in wages. Our farmers, as a rule, are obtaining the highest prices for food products they ever obtained. We want cheaper food, but Democrats are not favoring a reduction of the prices which the farmers obtain.

We have reason to believe that despite unnecessarily high, but we are going to be disappointed if we depend too much on the Tarif. There are so many econom-Gov. Wilson has already stated in a brief but plainly understood form of speech, that he is no "hair trigger" type problem that the country needs.

If we are to solve the problem at all, we will have to go beyond the Tariff, otherwise we are going to fall far short of our expectations. Tariff reduction is go-ing to help some, but not very much. The Democratic party must reduce the Tariff according to its promises, but we lo not want the country to expect too much when there are other phases of the living problem to be treated before we markets for the consumers." -000 but the crowd cheered, as, with burned hands, he held up a small round box, "Fellows!" he shouted, "this Bucklen's Arnica Salve I hold, has everything beat for burns." Right! also for boils, ulcers, Arnica Salve I hold, has everything beat for burns.'' Right! also for boils, ulcers, sores, pimples, eczema, cuts, sprains, bruises. Surest pile cure. It subdues inflammation, kills pain. Only 25c at R. S. McKinney's, Taneytown, and H. E. Fleagle's, Mayberry.

Only A Fire Hero

-Thoughts After Election.

We have just passed through a Presidential campaign in which public questions, really appalling both in their number and in their importance, have been ncessantly discussed. Especially striking has been the faith shown by large numbers of people in the value of forms and methods, either old or new, in bringing about good government.

In reality, of course, we shall not uproot the weeds in our public garden either with new hoes or old ones, unless we apply to hoes. Certainly one of the most useful instruments for bringing about a cleaner political life is the secret ballot. But if the secret ballot enables the laboring man or the poor clerk to vote as he wishes without fear of a tyrannous employer, it also enables the smug hypocrite to vote without fear of detection for the evil-he desires, instead of for the good to which he pays lip service.

Obviously, good goverment rests ultimately on the moral and intellectual value he perfectly virtuous and perfectly wise, the form of our government would be a matter of indifference. For on what does the politician count who wishes to exploit the public for his private advantage? Invariably he counts upon his ability to offer to some large class of voter a tempting bribe to blink his infractions of the cording to the intelligence of the class West. from whom he seeks power. To shrewd business men he either promises some special privilege or else plays upon their the species'' ever does such a masculine fear of losing one that they enjoy; to the thing.-Balt. Evening Sun. saloon-keepers and others who live by vice, he promises a discreet protection; to the dull and credulous fellows, he swears that "seven half-penny loaves shall be sold for a penny." As long as there are large classes in the community susceptible to this sort of management, so long will adroit and unscrupulous men play upon their selfishness or their cre-also my brother of a severe cold in his dulity-no matter what the form of gov- chest and more than 20 others who used ernment.

In the five States in which woman suffrage amendments were submitted on Tuesday the "advanced woman" won in four-Arizona, Kansas, Michigan and Oregon-and was beaten in only one-Wisconsin. There are now ten States in which they can vote. Oregon, which has twice defeated the proposition, fell into line Tuesday and surrendered to the ladies

It must be admitted even by the opponents of woman suffrage that their cause is marching on. It is still a far cry, however, from ten to forty-eight States, and though they have crossed the mountains and leaped over Lake Michigan, they have still a weary journey before them, and into, for the most part, a of the man in the voting-booth. Were hostile country. The variations in public opinion on the subject are shown by the opposite verdicts in Wisconsin and Michigan, and it is clear that the suffragists still have to reckon with many unknown currents and cross-currents. Ohio, it will be remembered, rejected suffrage only a few months ago, and the conservative East will probably prove harder to moral law-a bribe real or illusory, ac- conquer than the more unconventional

> Yet they certainly have a right to crow over Tuesday's results, if "a female of

Porto Rico's New Wonder.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barceloneta, writes 'Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug

WE CAN CROWD YOUR STORE IN THE SAME WAY

0F CANNON ELIMINATION

Washington .- The practically complete returns of the general Congressional elections show that the political classification of the next House of Representatives will be: Democrats, 297; Republicans, 122; Progressives, 16.

This gives the Democrats a majority of 159 over Republicans and Progressives combined, and a plurality over the Republicans of 175. During the Congress session which ended in August the Democrats had a majority of 66 over the Republicans.

Many notable changes in the personnel of the House of Representatives will result from Tuesday's Congressional landslide. The most conspicuous figure that will disappear from public life in consequence of the great Democratic victory is ex-Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, familiarly known as "Uncle Joe," who has been defeated for re-election from the Eighteenth District of Illinois by F. J. O'Hair. Until last evening the result in Mr. Cannon's district was in doubt, but the completed count shows that Mr. Cannon has lost by a narrow majority

This is Mr. Cannon's second defeat for Congress. He was out of the House of Representatives for one term, having been defeated for election in 1890. He was even then a veteran member of the House. Since 1892 "Uncle Joe" has been sent back regularly to Washington, and for many years was the dominating figure in the lower branch of Congress.

James R. Mann, the Republican floor leader in the House, has been re-elected from the Chicago district which he has represented for many terms. But other Republican House leaders from Illinois shared the fate of Mr. Cannon. Representative William B. McKinley, Chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and President Taft's manager in the pre-convention campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination, shared the fate of many of his Republican associates in the House. Another Republican House leader from Illinois who suffered defeat is Representative William J. Roddenberg, one of ex-Speaker Cannon's lieutenants. Still another prominent House Republican to be buried under the Democratic victory is J. H. Davidson of the Sixth Wisconsin District. He has been a conspicuous member of the House for many years, but has shown decided Progressive leanings for several terms.

The Democrats made a clean sweep of the Indiana Congressional districts and retired the veteran Crumpacker, who had been foremost in the Republican ranks in the House. Representative Edwin Ebenezer Hill of Connecticut suffered defeat also. His State, like Indiana, is sending a solid Democratic delegation to Congress, which politically is a remarkable cverturn in a State that is strongly devoted to the protection policy. Representative Sereno E. Payne, who was floor leader of the Republicans in the House during Mr. Cannon's incumbency of the Speakership, was returned from New York. Joseph W. Fordney, another of Mr. Cannon's lieutenants and firm friends, was elected from the Michigan district that has sent him back to Congress time and again. Representative Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Col. Roosevelt, did not escape defeat in the First Ohio District, which is located in the City of Cincinnati, Mr. Longworth ran as a regular Republican, and his strength in the district was weakened by the fact that he was opposed by a candidate of his father-inlaw's new third party. Another conspicuous member of the House who was rejected by the voters of his district is Representative Cyrus Sulloway of New Hampshire. Sulloway is a giant in size and always attracted much attention from the galleries when the House was in session. The defeat of the two Republican candidates for Congress from his State was one of the great surprises of the the election.

These articles and illustrations must not be reprinted without special permission.]

TWO BAD TRILBY TROUBLES. I.-SCALY LEG.

Mr. Mutans Sarcoptes is generally found where John Bughouse is on the job, for he is a filth parasite and burrows under the scales on a fow!'s trilbys and soon a whole flock has the nasty affliction.

Lift a portion of the chalky accumulation and the glass shows it full of cavaties, each occupied by a Mrs. Sarcoptes with a Rooseveltian family. Rather bloody business to allow these parasites to burrow into a hen's legs end eat 'em alive and the trouble is so easily prevented or stopped. Where it exists clean up, thoroughly whitewash walls, roosts, nests, drop ping boards and disinfect floor. Where scale is thick, soak fowls' legs in sweet oil, gently remove crusts and apply sulphur ointment or a mixture of three parts lard and one of coal oil.

Photo by C. M. Barnitz.

SCALY LEG.

Repeat until limb is natural. Broodies with scaly leg always pass the parasite to their chicks. II.-BUMBLE FOOT. If it's a feat to fit feet, what sort

OH, YOU MILKMAIDS. Our milkmaids do not wear a hobble. They need not strain to throw a curve The hobble's used out in the country To hobble mules with too much nerve.

Our milkmaids do not wear high heels, But they don't have that Broadway strut That makes one think of a giraffe Or fat duck waddling in a rut.

Our milkmaids are sweet, fair and rosy. The beauty doctors they don't need. The city girls must pad and paint, Because they quickly go to seed.

Our milkmaids waste no time on fudge. The one thing city girls can make, But no one on the great big ball Can beat them on pie, bread and cake.

Our milkmaids do not hunt for beaux, Like city girls for men a-gunning. The town and country dudes fight duels For milkmaids, they're so awful stunning.

Our milkmaids do not marry counts, Because they only wed real men. Their husbands they don't have to buy, Because the men are stuck on the

Our milkmaids marry and raise boys That high position do attain. The town girls marry and parade With bull pups fastened to a chain. C. M. BARNITZ.

VARIETY OF FEED TO MAKE

GOOD.

Seems awful for men to work in a fertilizer factory-to skin, carve and cook dead horse-but their smeller gets Its edge knocked off. Same way with the palate. When this watchdog of the stomach must taste the same food every day the dog figuratively kiyis and runs. The palate deadens on the food, the appetite fails, and finally a distaste develops, and the food becomes disgusting.

That's why boarders knock at that hateful hash and omnipresent prune. Same with the hen. She has her likes and dislikes. Like man, the way to make her pony up is through the stomach. Her natural inclination is to select just what her system needs. She will balance her own ration for best results if the variety is there to select from. If she wants to make eggs, mostly protein, and some bungler throws down corn, more corn, all corn. he will not feed her egg machine, but will clog it with fat. She will become hog fat, her stomach will rebel, and she will die of indigestion or apoplexy The practical feeder feeds for a rea He wants Biddy to enjoy her son. food, to have a snappy appetite. He tries to feed so that her ration will not be one sided, but serves such a variety that her food may be well balanced between protein and carbohydrates. He feeds a mixture of grains, supplements these with byproducts, meat foods and greens. This increases palatability. promotes hen health and produces the maximum of fine eggs.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS. Certain Pennsylvania fanciers have become so excited because some editors judge poultry at the shows and at the same time solicit advertisements that they have jumped to the conclusion that under such circumstances these editors can't give exhibitors a square deal and so they want the A. P. A. to pass a law that no editor may judge. These fellows are getting the "Ha! Ha!" everywhere. To come down to brass tacks, we'd sooner any day trust an editor with our chickens than a preacher. Little turkeys have more appetite than capacity and most turkey feeders have more generous kindness than sagacity. The result is whenever a poult runs at them and peeps they fill him up, then he gets pain in his tum my and throws up his toes. The Young Men's Christian association is going in for instruction in vari ous phases of agriculture, especially poultry culture, a popular branch with the rising generation. The Pennsylva nia department of agriculture has been aiding some of the associations in this work, and it is a good move. We have lectured before a number of them and found much interest taken in the sub ject. It is claimed the zoo at Cincinnati has the only live wild passenger pigeon in existence. This is questioned by certain old Michigan hunters who used to ship them from the famous Michigan roosts by the carload. There is a $1,000 reward offered for a real pair of these pigeons. But if found, where would they breed? On what would they feed? One reason the great flocks died out is because the forests. their nesting place, were cut down. It is remarkable how many hotels and restaurants buy cold storage eggs by the case and sell them to their trade for strictly fresh eggs. They are in the same class as the grocer man who violates the law, and both ought to be prosecuted. Here's one from the Canton Sentinel: "When subscribers bring us big eggs for the puropse of having made of them mention in these columns, we must request that the eggs be of recent origin. A little ancient egg is bad enough sometimes, if it is broken. but a big egg is simply a stench in the public nostris and resembles a church scandal." We recently attended a banquet where nearly all the guests were ministers and responded to the toast. "Chicken, the Preacher's Special Delight." As the toastmaster was a Baptist preacher who ate heartily of chicken, we charged him with heterodoxy, for Baptists to be orthodox must eat waterfowl. Lawyers, of course. will stick to the fat goose. Marking turkeys by fastening a ring for a hog's snout to the wattle is a method that belongs way, way back when compared to punching the foot web or slipping a bright aluminium band with your initials on the turk's

Anty Drudge Tells How to Avoid Scalding Children.

Ethel-"Oh, mama! Harold put his hand into the boiling water in the washtub and scalded it just awfully."

Anty Drudge-"Just as I told you. Boiling clothes is dangerous as well as wasteful. If you would use Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, you'd save time, money and hard work and there wouldn't be any danger of the children getting scalded."

Hot weather is bad enough without a hot fire and steaming suds in washing clothes.

There is a better way.

Fels-Naptha soap will cleanse your clothes in cool or lukewarm water, without boiling or hard rubbing, in summer or winter.

It will do the work in less than half the time and make your clothes sweeter, cleaner and whiter.

> And the clothes will wear longer. Think of it!

Why should any woman risk her health and shorten her life by wearing herself out with hard work, and subject herself to discomfort in boiling clothes and rubbing them through hot suds?

Follow easy directions on the red and green wrapper.

DESTROY THE STORKS

IN GERMANY THEY ARE CONSID-ERED ENEMIES OF SPORT.

Prejudice Is Resulting in Their Systematic Slaughter in Parts of the Fatherland, and the Birds Are Rapidly Being Thinned Out.

No one who has any delight in Hans Andersen's tales can hear unmoved that the stork has fallen upon evil times. Four years ago it was noticed that they were building less on Turkish house-tops' and their diminishing numbers were regarded by the superstitious Ottomans as an evil omen for the future. of the race in Europe, On leaving Europe at the end of summer, they seem to penetrate far down the interior of Africa. One that had been caught and marked in Prussia was captured in Natal, near Colenso. Whether the disappearance of wild animals from South Africa before the advance of the settlers also affects the storks is a question not yet settled. However that may be, attention is being drawn anew to their dwindling numbers in Alsace, now that they are getting ready to leave for the south. German scientists have ascertained that they are also getting fewer in the Palatinate, Hesse, and Franconia. The country people are making valiant efforts to maintain the numbers of their visitors by placing artificial nests on the roofs of their houses, and even by feeding them artificially.

But the storks in Germany have to contend with a prejudice most difflcult to eradicate. They are looked upon as enemies of sport. It is true that they sometimes raid the families of hares or find their food in ponds well stocked with fish. But the damage they do in this way is negligible in comparision with the great boon they confer on farmers by destroying mice and moles.

If we we are to believe the German ornithological paper. "Mitteilungen uber die Vogelwelt," a bad example in the treatment of this useful bird has been set in high places. The Grand Duke of Oldenburg is said to have given orders for the curtailing of the number of storks in his state. Fifty per cent. of them are to be shot down. By depriving the female birds of their male admirers, the Grand-Duke hopes to "cut down the birthrate." The German paper containing this announcement protests against a barbarity which deprives villages of their old-established guests, but it adds that similar cases are reported from Upper Franconia, where the owners of sporting estates are actually compelling the peasants to remove the storks' nests perched on their cottage roofs.

The paper appeals to the public to put a stop to this work of destruction. In Alsace happily such brutal methods are unknown. There the bird which symbolizes such venerable traditions is treated with universal respect.

Couldn't Stand for Wager. Baylis Steele, capitalist and promo-

HONEST BUSINESS MEN NEED HAVE NO FEAR.

1

Woodrow Wilson, Presidentelect, issued this statement: elect, issued this statement: There is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear.

No man whose business is conducted without violation of the rights of free competition and without such private under-standings and secret alliances as violate the principle of our alw and the policy of all wholesome commerce and enterprise and enterprise of need fear either interference or embarrassment from the administration. * *

The responsibilities of the task are tremendous, but they are common responsibilities which all leaders of action and opinion must share, and with the confidence of the people behind us everything that is right is possible. possible.

of a fit does Biddy get when she gets a corn on the sole of her feet? Hard to scratch for corn with a corn, but when that corn is bruised and swells and bumble foot results, "Ah, there's the rub!"

Bumble foot results where fowls jump down from high perches to hard floors.

The ball of foot swells, web puffs up between toes, abcess forms, foot gets

Photo by C. M. Barnitz.

BUMBLE FOOT.

bot and, if not treated at once, gan rrene sets in. To cure, wash foot, draw sharp knife across ball of foot, cutting deep, and squeeze out pus and blood; then paint with carbolic acid and bandage. passing the rag across cut between toes, around shank and back again. Paint again if necessary. Place patient on straw, away from roosts and foot will soon heal. Some big guns claim bumble foot is hereditary. This is hot air.

DON'TS.

Don't talk about Nero, the cruel tyrant, nor of Shylock and his pound of flesh if you work a horse hard all day and skimp his feed.

Don't worry over a failure. What's the use to waste time whining? The sun behind the cloud is shining.

Don't keep surplus fowls in unpro fluctive period. Sell them before summer egg vacation and the molt.

Don't be afraid to sweat. The man who often takes a sweat will not so soon pay nature's debt.

Don't point the long finger at others Be charitable unto others if you would have them show charity toward you.

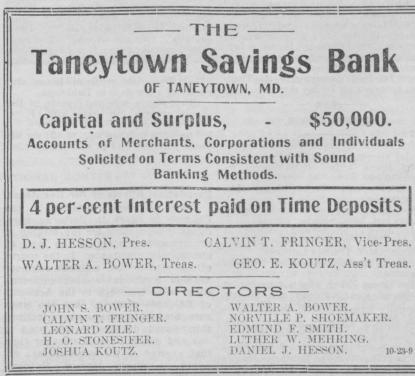

People can talk about which plan is the best, but anyone who wishes to know the truth about the matter, has only to compare the VOUGH, part for part, with the leading makes of the century. We are always glad to have anyone make these comparisons, as the wonderful strides of progress made in the construction of the VOUGH Pianos

Is A Revelation To All who investigate. The best Piano to be had today, if actual construction and results are judged, is the VOUGH Piano. JL You can see and examine these Pianos at ter, one day became involved in a dispute over a question of Biblical history.

"Elijah was a lucky man," he remarked. "Instead of being compelled to linger and die of some unpleasant disease, he was carried to heaven in a whirlwind."

"You're wrong," protested the party of the second part, who happened to be afflicted with an impediment in his speech. "Bay-Bay-lis, you're r-r-rwrong. Elijah went to heaven in a chariot of fire."

"You can't convince me that that good old man was struck by lighting," retorted Steele, and the dispute waxed warm. After it had raged for some three minutes it reached the betting stage.

"Bet you I'm right," said Steele. "T-t-t-taken," said the party of the second part.

"What'll we bet?" asked Steele. "W-w-w-well," stuttered the other, "seeing that you d-d-d-don't know any m-m-more about Scripture than you do, I g-g-g-guess it had b-b-b-better be a-a-a Bible." And Steele admits that right there he backed out.

Bought and Paid For.

"You say this is worth $5," said the wary customer. "Now, do you guarantee that I'm getting $5 worth of value for my money?"

"Five dollars' worth of value!" flashed the bright young clerk. "Why, mister, for every one of them things we turn out there's four middlemen, seventy-eight drummers, five banks, two railroad pools, eighteen advertising agencies, seven lawyers and 842 billboards all running up expense accounts and adding value to that there article so fast that the company's practically giving you the 34 cents spent on patent royalties, shop up. keep, raw material and labor."-Puck.

Getting Even With "Greatness." "It is my delight to meet a Great Man," grimly said the Old Codger. "I extract a deal of glee from having a paunchy, self-important, ultra-inflated, prominent citizen in a fancy waistcoat announce to the Personage: 'Oh, Senator Humshak, permit me to present to you Mr.-er-Hawhum!' Then, as the Presence graciously grasps my hand with the clinging clutch of a cuttlefish and unctuously remarks that he is gul-lad to see me, I like to note how it seems to galvanize him into new life and causes him to submit me to instant and keen scrutiny, to have me innocently inquire: 'What is the name, please?""

THE CARROLL RECORD

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15th., 1912. SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Latest Items of Local News Furnished by Our Regular Staff of Writers.

All communications for this department must be signed by the author; not for publi-cation, but as an evidence that the items con-tributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted. The Record office is connected with the C. & P. Telephone from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Use telephone at our expense, for important items on Friday morning. We prefer regular let-ters to be mailed on Wednesday evening, but in no case later than Thursday evening

UNION BRIDGE.

Miss Italy Bond is now enjoying life in the Monumental City. Disappointed in starting for her visit on Oct. 31, she succeeded in getting away on Saturday, No vember, 9

Miss Marguerite Fry, of Oxford, Md., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Brown, Visitors at Geo. W. Abbott's home on Sunday were, Miss Eva Gosnell, of Loys, Md., Antonio Rosello, Raymond Gosnell and Carl Abbott, of Baltimore.

Miss Ethyl Abbott spent Tuesday evening at the home of her uncle, John T

Gosnell, at Loys. George H. Eyler is now watchman at the Union Bridge Banking and Trust Company's Bank. James Lambert, wife and daughter, Ada, of New Windsor, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Tozer.

Clyde Burgee, of Western Maryland College spent Sunday with his Grandmother Tozer.

James A. Seabrook has made noticeable improvement since last week. His speech is more distinct and he now has no trouble in recognizing his acquaint-ances. He has been sitting up daily since Sunday. The change for better is very

Sunday. The change for better is very gratifying to all. Miss Pauline Snyder, who started on a visit to Harrisburg and other places, on Oct. 2nd., returned home Saturday, Nov. et al. Sunday in the morning she spoke in the Luth-eran church, giving an idea of the work of the Deaconesses in this country, and the morning she spoke in the spoke in the spoke in the spoke in the morning she spoke in the spoke i 9th. She says she was charmingly en-tertained while away, her entire visit being filled with enjoyment. J. Calvin Wentz, Mrs. Charles Wentz

ing was taken to the Maryland University Hospital, and an operation was per-formed on the afternoon of that day; accounts received of her condition since are

A Democratic jollification over the suc-cess of the party at the election, on Nov. 5th., was held in town on this Thursday night. Several houses were prettily dec-orated with flags and Chinese hanterns. The stores had their windows nicely The stores had their windows nicely dressed and the proprietors had every-thing fixed in their rooms in spic span order for the occasion. Houses were il-luminated but as many of the citizens are Republicans and the blow which they preceived lately was so stumping they are received lately was so stunning, they ap-peared to fail to realize the importance of the occasion and neglected to illumi-nate. The parade was a very creditable affair. J. W. Little, C. E. Engle & Co., K. Waskins, Frank Wilson, (ice man) S. Engelman (barber) had floats in the procession illustrating their lines of busi-ness Hollenberger & Ereach had a form ness, Hollenberger & Frock had a forge in operation to illustrate their particular line of work. The crowd that gathered to see this political demonstration was one of the largest we have ever had in town. After the parade a meeting was organized and C. O. Clemson and M.

UNIONTOWN.

Mrs. G. Fielder Gilbert and daughter, Catherine, spent several days with Jesse Farner's family, at Linwood. The Democratic Club is arranging to accident at Pen-Mar, on Sept. 5th. Mr. old a big torch-light procession, on Sat-

The funeral of Charles Clingan was largely attended, last Sunday; Rev. L. F. Murray and Elder W. P. Englar held the services. His pastor, Rev. W. Lyons, had come to take charge, but on account of an attack of lumbago, was compelled to return to Washington. The pall-bearers were Myers Englar, Will Caylor, Henry Sittig, Frank Haines, Alfred and Elwood Zollickoffer. Mrs. Annie Babylon is home, after several months' stay with Miss Galt, in turned home on Tuesday. Mrs. E. G. Cover, of Easton, is with her mother, Mrs. Lanie Shaw.

the need of more volunteers for the work. The church was decorated with fruits, vegetables and flowers, which were the gifts of the congregation to the Home. J. Calvin Wentz, Mrs. Charles Wentz and Hiram Wentz, of Highfield, visited C. Pierce Snyder and family, Thursday evening, and took in the parade and its accompanying amusements. Mrs. David E. Little became seriously ill Saturday night, and on Tuesday morn-ing more theory of the Marchead University of the congregation to the Home. On Wednesday, Rev. Baughman ship-ed to the Motherhouse, 2100 lbs of fruits and vegetables, consisting of 220 quarts of fruit, 8½ bushels of potatoes, cabbage, turnips, beets, onions, apples, pears, pumpkins, dried corn, beans and hard and vegetables, consisting of 220 quarts of fruit, 8½ bushels of potatoes, cabbage, turnips, beets, onions, apples, pears, pumpkins, dried corn, beans and hard soap. This donation was from the four congregation Rev. T. H. Wright has had services each evening during the week. Union service will be held, Thanksgiv-ing Day, in the M. P. church, at 10 a.m. Sermon by Rev. L. F. Murray.

-0.0 TYRONE.

Harry Myers, wife and two children, Ernest Myers, wife and son, spent Sun day with their sister, Mrs. Ezra Spangler, at Baltimore. Samuel Crouse and wife, Ira Rodkey and wife, and Miss Carrie Brown spent Sunday with Arthur Benedict and family, at Snydersburg. The trip was made in Mr. Crouse's auto

Mrs. Chas. Phillips spent several days with her daughter, Mrs. Luther Zimmer-man, at Sell's Mill.

Sterling Zimmerman, wife and son, at-tended his sister's wedding, on Saturday,

EMMITSBURG.

Martin Stouter died at his home near this place, on Tuesday morning, the re-The Democratic Club is arranging to hold a big torch-light procession, on Sat-urday evening. Our public school will render a Thanks-giving Day program, on Friday, 22nd., at 2 p. m., as follows: Singing by the school. Responsive reading by the school. Thanksgiving Day; Guy Cookson. Origin of Thanksgiving: Loretta Weaver. Loves Old Sweet Song; Elmer Murray and Nelle Hawn. Selection from Hiawatha; Edna Robertson. Dialogue, "The Habit of Horrowing," Ethel Bankerd, Garland Heltebridle, Carrollton Murray, Maurice Englar, and Shreeve Shriner. Instrumental Solo; Frances Heek. A Li. tle Question; Hilda Englar. Song, "Little Deeds," by the school. Instrumental Solo; Ruby Rodkey. My Shadow; Wilbar Englar. A Nut to Crack; Ruth Ellen Myers. What A Boy Can Do; Grace Deviloiss. Reading of President Taft's Thanksgiving Proclamation; Elmer Murray. A Home-sick Boy; Hilda Davis. When the Band Plays Dixie: by the school, Knowim How; Macel Dingle. Selection from "The Courtiship of Mil s Stan-dish," Eliza Zollickoffer. Not Home-sick; Nellle Hann. When the Frost is on the Pump kin: Ruby Rodkey. The funeral of Charles Clingan was largely attended, last Sunday: Rev. L.F. Stouter was taken to the hospital at Ha-

John S. Messler and wife, and a few friends, were entertained on Thursday evening, the 7th., at the home of Mrs. Odela Dorsey.

Odela Dorsey. Grandmother Hesson is very ill at the home of her son, John. Mrs. Albaugh and Mrs. Cover, are spending the week in Baltimore. Mrs. Fielder Gilbert, of Uniontown, is be built before Spring.

Taneytown. Harry Haines is home, to enjoy some sport with his gun. The hunters have brought in a large number of rabbits. Brook Gilbert and family, of Wash-ington, who were at John Clingan's, re-turged home on Tansday. Elder Abe Snader and wife, Alfred nglar and wife, of New Windsor, were allers at Linwood Shade, this week. Dayhoff, Ella Heltibridle, Clara Bower-sox, Mary Stuller, Verna Wilson, Merle Earnest, Catherine Bowers; Messrs Carsprained knee.

Miss Gertie Yeakle is the guest of Mrs. Charles Haines.

BELLEVIEW.

Ira Crouse and family, Emanuel Study and Scott Study, spent Sunday with Mil-ton J. Study and family. Clarence Crouse, of Mountville, spent Saturday and Sunday, with friends in this visibit.

this vicinity Oliver Hesson and family, of Springdale, have moved to this locality, where Mr. Hesson will take care of her invalid tent. Mrs. Irwin Dutterer and daughter, of Silver Run, spent Monday with Mrs. John Fuhrman.

Miss Mary C. Sayler, only daughter of M. F. Sayler and wife, of Motters, and Mr. Ralph R. Ruggles, only son of F. A. Ruggles and wife, of Queen Annes, were quietly married Tuesday, Nov. 12, 1912, at 10 a. m., by the bride's pastor, Rev. Hammersly, of Thurmont, at the parson-age of the Methodist Episcopal church. Although there were no invitations, many costly presents were received from their many friends. Their attendants were Mr. Newell Fitz, of Motters and Miss Fay berning Jinmichan, whe and solv, at tended his sister's wedding, on Saturday, near Sell's Mill.
Washington Camp No 10, P. O. S. of A. will hold a public meeting in their hall on the evening of Nov. 26. S. Sec., Wm. James Heaps, of Baltimore, S. M. of F., Rev. W. L. Seabrook of Westminster Surprise Parties. (For the RECORD.) A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Samuel Null, Nov. 6, in honor of his 69th. birthday. Their children were all home but one; the evening was spent in conversation and music, both vocal and instrumental, and the young folks enjoyed all kinds of parlor games. At 10 o'clock all were invited to the dining room to a game that all enjoyed. About 60 were present, a number being detained on account of the threatening weather. All returned to their homes af-ter wishing the host and hostess many more pleasant birtidays.

(For the RECORD.) A delightful surprise party was given at the home of Harry J. Wilson and wife, on Friday evening, Nov. 8, in honor of Mr. Wilson's birthday. At an early hour the folks gathered and took him by complete surprise. Games of different kinds were indulged in until a late hour, when a call was heard to come and partake of the good things, consisting a cakes of all kinds, candy, nuts, bananas, lemonade and cocoa, when all departed for their homes, wishing Mr. Wilson many more happy birthdays.

Those present were, H. J. Wilson, wife and family, Edw. Dayhoff and wife, Luther Stultz and wife, John Stone and wife, Wm. Bowers and wife, Thos. Fritz and wife, Edward Stuller and wife, John Earnest and wife, John Dayhoff and wife, Samuel Heltabridle and wife, Wm. Davis spending the week in Baltimore. Mrs. Fielder Gilbert, of Uniontown, is the guest of Mrs. Jesse Garner. Joseph Englar, has lumber ready to commence his barn. The house will not built before Spring. Mrs. Joseph Bowers gave a quilting, on hursday.

roll Warren, Harry Harman, Raymond Brown, Amos Grimes, Roy Haines, Car-roll Crabbs, Phay Fritz, Glennie Crouse, Ralph Lambert, John Waltz, Roy Earnest, Bayl Fritz, Edward Steller, Doci 1999 Paul Fritz, Edward Stultz, David Miller.

On Wednesday night, Nov. 13th, amid the showers of rain and the dark shadows of the night, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Fair was the scene of a very pleasant surprise party, in honor of the latter's birthday.

The following persons were present: Calvin T. Fringer and wife, Joseph W. Brown and wife, Chas. Hockensmith and wife, Franklin Bowersox and wife, Chas. Kemper and wife, Samuel Mehring and wife, David Mehring and wife, Washing-wife, David Mehring and wife, Washing-ton Witherow and wife, Henry Lambert and wife, Albert Rapp and wife, Lewis Elliott and wife, Greenberry Null and wife, Edward Myers and wife, James Reindollar and wife, Worthington Fringer and wife, Dr. C. M. Benner and wife; Mrs. Laura M. Lentz, of Gettysburg, and Theo. C. Fair, of Carlisle, Pa.; Misses Edna Mehring, Mary Fringer, Mabel-Lambert, Effie Fringer, Grace Fair, Jessie Brown, Clara Hockensmith, Anna May Brown, Clara Hockensmith, Anna May Kemper, Clara and Blanche Null, Thelma Fluhart; Messrs. James Reindollar, Jr. Wilbur Mehring, Oliver Lambert, Norman Baumgardner, Harry Witherow, Howard Brown, John and Edward Hock-ensmith, Walter Null, Paul Myers, and Walter Fringer. At a late hour, after all had been filled with a sumptuous collation of all the dencacies of the season, good-bye's and congratulations were extended to the hostess and all retired to their respective homes

-0.0-Floral Antiseptic Tooth Powder for cleaning and beautifying the teeth, Make the teeth white and purifies the breath. 10e bottle.—Get at MCKELLIP's. WARM, COZY ROOMS are quite possible in cool, damp weather if you use a Perfection Oil Heater.

Carry it from room to room, you can have heat wherever you wish it in a few seconds time.

These stoves are very convenient and absolutely dependable. They are smokeless, odorless, easy to operate; with nothing to get out of order.

We have all styles and sizes at prices ranging from $2.90 to $4.25.

DOLLAR BROS.& (O. EADING HARDWARE DEA TANEYTOWN.MD.

SARBAUGH, Jeweler, Wishes to inform the people of Taneytown and vicinity that we have made arrangements with Robt. S. McKinney, Druggist, whereby our patrons can leave at his store any repairs, such as Watches, Glocks, Jewelry, &c, and same will be called for on Tuesday of each week and returned the following Tuesday. Orders for any goods will be received by Mr. McKinney, or you may send us a card, or letter, explaining what you wish, and our representative will bring a nice selection for you to choose from. All goods guaranteed as represented.

ALL REPAIRING GUARANTEED.

Our representative will be in Taneytown on Tuesday of each week, between the hours of 9.30 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.

CHAS. F. SARBAUGH,

Cor. Square & Broadway, HANOVER, PA.

Miss Ethel Study, spent Monday with her grandmother, Mrs. Emanuel Study. Mrs. Study has not improved to any ex-

A few persons from this locality, at-tended the Democratic demonstration at Hanover, Tuesday evening.

-000-

MOTTERS.

Walsh, of Westminster, made short speeches. People then quietly returned home. Great good humor appeared to characterize the evenings proceedings. Music was supplied by bands and drum corps from Union Bridge, Woodsboro, and Taneytown. Delegations were present from Johnsville, Woodsboro and other nearby places. The parade contained a number of handsomely decorated touring cars.

BLUE RIDGE COLLEGE.

Attention ! A rare treat for all who will come ! Prof. J. M. Coleman, of Geneva College, will speak to us here in the college chapel, next week, beginning on Nov. 18, Monday evening, at 7.30. He will give four lectures on "Social Ethics." They are all to be given next week, but the exact hour for the remaining three will be announced later. Prof. Coleman has studied at the Chicago University, University of Michigan, and day Bonne University, in Germany. He has edited several text books. He is a scholar He has of no little repute. This is an opportunity that does not come to your door every day, so better arrange for an hour of your time to come and listen to something instructive and practical. Everybody welcome. No admission.

Miss Sara Diehl, of Sam's Creek, en-

Miss Sara Dient, of Sant's Oreck, rolled this week as a student. Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Maugans, of Maugansville, spent last Saturday and Charles Kiser and family, spent Sunday Charles Kiser and family, spent Sunday

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Forney, and Al-dine Shaver, wife and son, all of Freder-ick, made a short visit to friends at the college, on last Sunday.

Prof. Guyton and family have now located in town.

Miss Eleanor Ford spent Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Miss Hilda band and four children, the youngest of Brown, of near town. Eld. C. D. Bonsack spent Saturday in Waynesboro. He attended the gradu-ating exercises of the Teacher Training class of the Sunday School, in that place.

Mr. Hicks finally returned from his trip, after having voted for the defeated Teddy

On Monday, the Hiawathians met to elect new officers. The following were elected: Bucher John, President; Edith Bonsack, Vice-president; Susie Utz, Secretary and Treasurer; Grace Holsinger, Editor of Torchlight; Edwin Moog, Sargeant-at-Arms.

Don't forget the public program by the Hiawatha Society, on Friday evening, Nov. 22.

A Great Building Falls

when its foundation is undermined, and if the foundation of health—good diges-tion—is attacked, quick collapse follows. On the first signs of indigestion, Dr. King's New Life Pills should be taken to tone the stomach and regulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Pleasant, easy, safe and only 25c at R. S. McKinney's, Tan-eytown, and H. E. Fleagle, Mayberry.

Rev. W. L. Seabrook, of Westminster, munity, and her friends, while wishing and Rev. Martin Schweitzer, of Union her greatest success, sincerely regret that Bridge, have promised to be with us. her presence will no longer be felt in her former abode.

On Sunday afternoon, Sister Sophia head sister of the Deaconess Home, Baltimore, addressed a large audience at Baust, on "Deaconess work." The church was tastefully decorared with fruit and vegetables for the Deaconess Home, con-sisting of 66 jars of fruit, 14 heads of cabpage, potatoes, sweet potatoes, pumpkins, dried fruit and home-made soap.

> ------KEYSVILLE.

Miss Margaret Shorb has returned home from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Shryock, of near Creagerstown.

C. H. Valentine and wife, entertained Wilber Shorb, wife and son, Edward, of Pine Hill; Robert Valentine, wife and son, Carroll, of Hobson Grove, on Sun-

Mrs. Sarah Frock, spent a few days visiting friends in our town. George Frock and wife, visited on Sunday, Mrs. Frock's parents, Frederick Dorcus, of Creagerstown.

Some of our neighbors have begun to butcher, as the season is here. Harry Fleagle and wife, of Copperville, spent Sunday with Peter Wilhide and with his brother, William Kiser's, near Hobson Grove.

John Frock, wife and children, visited at Mr. Fuss's, near Harney, on Sunday. Mrs. Harry Clabaugh died, Tuesday evening, of tuberculosis. She was 29 years old. Mrs. Clabaugh leaves a huswhich is an infant three weeks old, to mourn her loss. Interment in the Thurmont cemetery on Friday morning. -000

NEW WINDSOR.

Mrs. Milton Myers, of Pen-Mar, spent

Sunday evening here, with friends. Mrs. Jennie Gettys, of Baltimore, turned to her home, on Sunday, after spending the week with her sister, Mrs. lie Smelser

Miss Jennie Zepp, of Baltimore, spent Sunday last, here, with her parents. Mrs. Jesse Flickinger and daughter, of Hawk's Hill, spent Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Truman Lambert. J. Frank Russell has had his dwelling repainted. Miss Emma Ecker, who is teaching at Ecker and wife.

Ellsworth Ecker has accepted a position in Ensor's hardware store.

A number of persons from here, visiting "The World in Baltimore." are Raymond Anders, of St. Louis, is visiting his parents.

.... MIDDLEBURG.

James Briscoe, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Angell, died last Saturday, and was buried Sunday, at 2 p. m. Serand was burled sunday, at 2 p. m. Ser-vices at the house conducted by Rev. C. H. Hastings, interment in the M. E. cemetery. The parents have our sym-pathy in their sad loss, but they have this comfort that it is safe with Him who said Suffer the little children to come unto Charles McKinney, wife and two daugh-ters, have returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherman, at Salisbury, Md Mrs. David Mackley, is spending the week with her son, in Frederick, and friends in Thurmont.

Miss Grace Lynn visited friends in Baltimore, last Sunday. Mrs. Maud Krise, of Rocky Ridge, spent several days with her sister, Mrs.

Charles Angell. A number of our young people attended the parade in Union Bridge, Thursday night. Revival services will begin in the M. E. church, this Sunday evening, Nov. 17.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

The following named pupils were pres ent every-day during the past term in the public school: Mary, Mable, Margaret and Pearl Myers, Fannie Yingling, Rachel Devilbiss, Fern Myers, Herbert Smith Herman Logue, Walter Smith, David Geiman, Clarence Welk. Those who missed one day were: Helen Zepp, Ruth-etta Wantz, Amy Hahn, John and Geo.

Helwig. Levi Myers has returned home after spending a few days in Baltimore. Oliver Myers, wife and friends, of Baltimore, spent a few days with E. C. Yingling and wife. Preaching this Sunday, at 2 p. m.;

Sunday School, at 1 p. m. ------

Paradoxical Effects of Air Resistance.

There has been installed in the Champs de Mars in Paris an aerodynamic laboratory for the making of experiments relating to the laws of atmospheric resistance. In the course of his studies one eminent engineer verified a curious statement communi-Smallwood, spent Saturday and Sunday last, here, with her parents, Ellsworth of Sciences—namely, that the pressure upon a square surface inclined thirty-seven degrees to the wind is one and one-half times stronger than that exerted on the same surface exposed at ninety degrees .-- Harper's Weekly.

-000 Revising the Tariff.

"Gentlemen," said the newly-elected President, "the Tartff is about to be re-vised. How shall we do it ? I await your pleasure.

'Revise it so that I may buy things cheaper," said the consumer promptly. "Revise it so that I may get a better price for my product," said the manufacturer.

"Revise it any way you like, so long as you cut off none of my profits," said the monopolist. "Revise it so as not to offend any of the people who make campaign contribusaid the politician. tions "Revise it according to the judgment of experts who have studied it," said the college professor.

"Don't let experts have a hand in it whatever you do," admonished the" prac-"Revise it in such a way as not to hurt business,'' said the business man. "Revise it upward. It's too low,'' said the stand-patter. 'Revise it downward. It's too high,' said the Democrat. "Abolish it," said the Free-Trader. "Gentlemen," said the newly-elected President, "I have heard your pleasure in the matter of the Tariff. Anybody wishing my job for the next four years may have it."-Brooklyn Times. Dutterer, Eli M. Ohler, Harry B. Duttera, Maurice C. Reaver, Martin Diehl, Mervin & BroReindollar, N. A Deberry, Geo. E. Eyler, Charles E.

Economy is Wealth.

Clean your soiled grease spot clothes with Lum Tum Clothes Cleaner. Price 15c per bottle, at McKellip's Drug Store.

Verlaine's First Book

A letter fished out of the collection of an autograph hunter reveals the occasion on which Verlaine's work first attracted the attention of a critic. It was written in 1867 by Eugene Vermersch to the editor of an ephemeral review entitled L'Esprit Nouveau, and it runs as follow: "My Dear Editor.-I owe you every apology for not responding sconer to your kind invitation to contribute to L'Esprit Nouveau, but I had not an idea in my head, and I did not like to send you any rubbish, as that would have been impolite and ungrateful. If your columns are still open to me, I will ask for space for a review—an appreciation of the 'Poemes Saturniens,' by Paul Verlaine, the unknown work of an unknown poet, which has fallen into my hands by accident. Will you allow it to pass unobserved like 'a star in the daytime or a flower by night,' as Monselet puts it? No you will not, you who style yourself with your wife all the evening at the L'Esprit Nouveau."

to make him famous..

Null, J. F.

Clousher, David S. Ohler, William

Fisher, Mrs. Milton Shorb, Tolbert

Foreman, Chas. A. Strevig, Edward

Fogle, Wm. & DavidSterner, E. G.

Flickinger, Wm. H.Shorb, Harvey Fogle, Wm. & Benj. Smith, Wm. T.

Overholtzer, Maurice

Ohler, Harvey

Ohler, Birnie

Ohler, Milton

Ohler, Albert J.

Rowe, Albert M.

Reaver, Stanley C.

Snider, Hickman

Stambaugh, Cleve

Stuller, Mrs. John

Shoemaker, R. G.

Stonesifer, Chas. P.

Shoemaker, Wm.L.

Shoemaker, Jno. M. Stonesifer, Wm. J.

Shoemaker, Geo. A

Whimer, Anamary

Study, Hezekiah

Unger, James L.

Wantz, Josiah

Wolf, Albert S.

Warren, Frank Wilhide, Peter

Waybright, S. A.

Teeter, J.S.

Spangler, Samuel Sauble, Geo. R.

Study, Wm. A

Stonesifer, R. A.

Reck, Harry

Reaver, M. A

Sell, Harry J.

Study, Jos. H.

Biddinger, Claude

Conover, Martin

Clabaugh, Judge

Crouse, E. A.

Edwards, Paul

Eckard, Curtis

Fink, Chas. E.

Fair, Wm. G.

Frock, H. R.

Fuss, Emanuel

Fink, Arkansas

Feeser, Birnie J.

Frock, Jesse W.

Hess, Norman R.

Hess, John E. E.

Hahn, Abm, J.

Hess, Elmer S.

Hawk, Elmer

Hahn, Luther

Harner, James

Hahn, Newton J.

Koontz, Mrs. Ida

Koontz, Herbert N.

Hiner, Oscar

Kiser, Frank

Kiser, Wm. T

Leppo, Cyrus

Koontz, John T.

Lescallette, Chas.

Flickinger, W. H.

oe, Joseph

Crebs, Elmer

Examiners' Notice.

The undersigned have been appointed by formissioners of Carroll County to examine and determine whether a new public road, petitioned for by Charles W. Young and nine-teen others, shall be opened and located, the and tancytown roads at the intersection of on the bed of the old road between Mary A. Garner's and Charles Young's land to the shads of John Stultz and Elias O. Garner, thence through the lands of said Stultz and faile school-house land, thence through the lands of said school-house and said old road to the school-house land, thence through the lands of said school-house and said John Stultz to the ter Dale School-house. — Marker School-house and said John Stultz to the school-house lands, thence through the lands of said school-house and said John Stultz to the ter Dale School-house. — Marker School-house

EQUITY NO. 4691.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County.

In the matter of the Trust Estate of I. Forrest Otto et. al. Edward O. Weant, Trustee.

Ordered this 31st. day of October, A. D., 1912 that the sale of the real estate made and re-ported in the above entitled cause by Edward O. Weaut, Trustee, under and by virtue of a deed of trust from I. Forrest Otto and others, duly execu ed and recorded, be finally rati-fied and confirmed unless cause to the con-trary thereof be shown on or before the 2nd, day of December next, provided a copy of this order be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll County, Maryland, once a week in each of three successive weeks previous to the 25th. day of November, A. D., 1912.

The report states the amount of sale of real estate to be $2820.00.

OSCAR D. GILBERT, Clerk. True Copy Test:-OSCAR D. GILBERT, Clerk. 11-1-4t

Simple, Harmless, Effective.

Pure Charcoal Tablets for Dyspepsia Acid Stomach, Heartburn and Constipa tion. 10c and 25c.-Get at McKELLIP's

A Complete Change. "Do you mean to say that you flirted masked ball and didn't know her?" "That's right. But she was so but few people read it, and it failed deuced agreeable-how was I to know her?"-Tit-Bits.

Lemmon, Jesse

That was Verlaine's first review, cisco and the Asiatic fleet at Manila. The fashionable practitioner threw In the mobilization in New York a glance at the dust-covered road and waters will be 120 ships, including the aughts Wyo new 26,000-ton dread

Farm Machinery of All Kinds

Wagons, Buggies, Harness, Feed wills, I. H. C. Engines.

We handle only first-class Machinery and are in a position to give the best pos-sible prices. Call and see us for anything you need before purchasing. We want your patronage and will do our best to MANURE SPREADERS of the DAIRY MAID CREAM SEPARATORS guaranteed none better on the market. Repairs of all kinds promptly furnished.

Call on, or phone to-

The Home Insurance Co NEW YORK

Total Assets, $32,146,564.95 Surplus to Policy Holders, $18,615,440.71

Fire and Windstorm Policies on the paid-up insurance plan. No Premium Notes and No Assessments. Prompt and fair settlements of all losses. No better insurance in the world. For full information, call on-rubbed his hands gleefully. His trunk was packed, his professional attitude was laid aside, and his carriage was due. But the assistant who was to act as administering angel during his absence did not share his master's good spirits.

P. B. ENGLAR, Agent, tf Taneytown, Md.

"I hope everything will be all right while you're away, sir," he said, nervously.

"Sure to-sure to," replied the great M. D.

"I've-I've had such little experience," stammered the young man, desperately.

"Nonsense! You don't need experience with fashionable patients," exclaimed he who knew their ways, grabbing his hat. "They're as simple as A, B, C. Find out what they've been eating and stop it. And ask them where they're going for their holidays, and send them somewhere else!"

NO. 4692 EQUITY.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, in Equity.

Tobias A. Martin, Mortgagee,

Charles R. Martin, Mortgagor.

ORDERED, this 22nd, day of October, A. D., 1912, by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity, that the sale of the mortgaged real estate made and reported in the above entitled cause by Tobias A. Martin, Mortgagee, by virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage from Charles R. Martin to the said Tobias A. Martin, bearing date on the 25th day of July, in the year Nineteen Hundred and Ten, and recorded among the Real Estate Mortgage Records of Carroll County, in Liber O. G. D., No. 57, foli-28, etc., be finally ratified and confirmed; unless cause to the contrary thereof be shown on or before the 2nd day of December, next; provid-ed, a copy of this order be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll County, Mary-land, once a week in each of three successive weeks before the 15th, day of November, next. The report states the amount of the sale

The report states the amount of the sale to be $$90.12%. OSCAR D. GILBERT, Clerk,

True Copy-Test:-OSCAR D. GILBERT, Clerk. 10-25 4t

$18 TO $35 PER Take a 4 week's Course in our Up-to-Date Repair Shop. Big domand for competent men AUTOMOBILE COLLEGE 2 West Preston Street Baltimore. - Maryland ming and Arkansas. There will be 43 ships assembled at San Francisco and 20 at Manila. Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, will command the mobilization in New York; Rear Admiral Southerland the fleet at San Francisco and Rear Admiral R. R. Nicholson the Manila mobilization. President Taft and Secretary of the Navy Meyer, accompanied by foreign naval attaches and members of both houses of congress will be aboard the new battleship Arkansas on the day of the review, which will probably be on the last day of the mobilization, Oct. 15. The ships will begin assembling in the Hudson river on or about Oct. 12. The last of the arrivals, the torpedo flotilla of the reserve fleet, will arrive on the night of Oct. 13.

The line of battleships will consist of the Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The armored cruisers Montana, North Carolina, Tennessee and Washington.

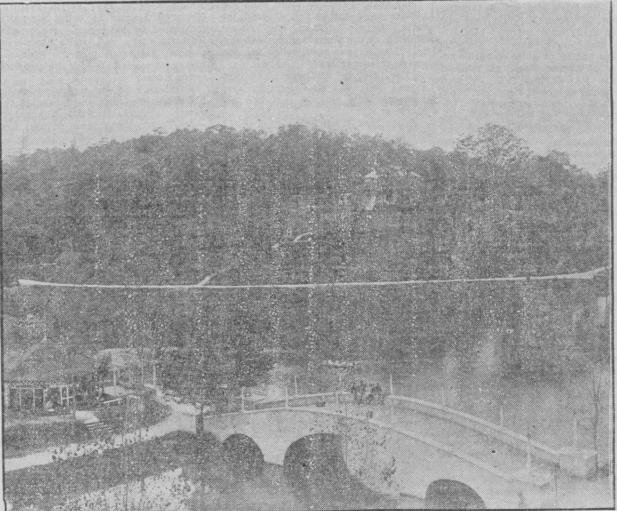

The scout cruisers Birmingham, Chester and Salem.

Destroyers Ammen, Burrows, Drayton, Flusher, Lamson, McCall, Mac-Donough Mayrant, Monaghan, Patterson, Paulding, Perkins, Preston, Reid, Roe, Smith, Sterett, Terry, Trippe, Walke, Warrington, Whipple and Worden.

Torpedo boats Bagley, Bailey, Barney, Biddle, Blakely, Cushing, Dahlgren, Davis, De Long, Du Pont, Ericson, McKee, Mackenzize, Manly, Mor-Porter, Stockton, Stringham, ris. Thornton, Tingley and Wilkee.

The submarine flotilla and colliers and tenders.

Make Women Clean Streets. Of the many systems of street cleaning adopted by various countries that used by the French government of Porto Novo, Dahomey, West Africa, is most economical. The native police examine the streets, and at any part which requires cleaning they stop the women and girls who happen to be passing at the time, and order them to sweep the rubbish into heaps. The men are exempt from this unpaid work, as, naturally, it would interfere and retard the trade of the colony.

VIEW OF LAKE AND FORESTRY BUILDING, NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION. Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. and Oct. 1913.

The above view shows the Forestry Building, completed, National Conservation Exposition. To the left of this building, as an annex, will be erected the Mirerals Building. These buildings will occupy the most beautiful site on the grounds, the elevations being such as to afford a bird's-eye view of lakes, drives, buildings and amusement district.

SITION.

Grounds For Amusement District.

NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPO- Park, as it is known, will be famous to the back of the grounds. It does always hereafter The plan decided not require a stretch of imagination to upon by the exposition management in picture the appearance of this section this feature will, when carried out, af- when illuminated at night. This plan Knoxville, Tennessee, September and ford the most unique display and ar- is part of the general landscape work

October, 1913, Provides Attractive rangement of grounds ever seen in a which will be carried out in all parts midway section. The lay of the land of the exposition grounds. The manis such as to permit of a street that agement feels that one of the greatest

The section of the grounds of the will traverse the section from the main attractions which the exposition can National Conservation Exposition, gateway on the lake to the lower end, present to visitors can be formed by National Conservation Exposition, Knoxville, Tenn., September and Octo-ber, 1913, which has been set aside as toward the upper side of the grounds toward the upper side of the grounds the amusement district, will be ar- back to the lower park entrance. This fine buildings and exhibits, and the toranged by landscape architects with a will afford a series of terraces, and the cality lends itself to the most artistic view to making the location one of amusement places will be so arranged plans that a landscape artist could deextraordinary attractiveness. Terrace as to rise in tiers from the lake front sign.

THE CARROLL RECORD FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15th., 1912.

Copyright, 1911, by H. K. Fly Co. CHAPTER XXXV.

Mr. and Mrs. Little Jimmie. Mrs. Sammy Whitcomb had longed for the sweet privilege of squaring matters with Mrs. Jimmie Wellington. Sneers and back-biting, shrugs and shudders of contempt were poor compensation for the ever-vivid fact that Mrs. Wellington had proved attractive to her Sammy while Mrs. Wellington's Jimmie never looked at Mrs. Whitcomb. Or if he did, his eyes had been so blurred that he had seen two of her-and avoided both.

Yesterday she had overheard Jimmie vow sobriety. Today his shining morning face showed that he had kept his word. She could hardly wait to begin the flirtation which, she trusted, would render Mrs. Wellington helplessly furious for six long Reno months.

The Divorce Drummer interposed and held Jimmie prisoner for a time, but as soon as Mr. Baumann released him, Mrs. Whitcomb apprehended him. With a smile that beckoned and with eyes that went out like far-cast fishhooks, she drew Leviathan into her net.

She reeled him in and he plounced in the seat opposite. What she took for bashfulness was reluctance. To add the last charm to her success, Mrs. Wellington arrived to see it. Mrs. Whitcomb saw the lonely Ashton rise and offer her the seat facing him. Mrs. Wellington took it and sat down with the back of her head so close to the back of Mr. Wellington's head that the feather in her hat tickled his neck.

Jimmie Wellington had seen his wife pass by. To his sober eyes she was a fine sight as she moved up the aisle. In his alcohol-emancipated mind the keen sense of wrong endured that had driven him forth to Reno began to lose its edge. His own soul appealed from Jimmie drunk to Jimmie sober. The appellate judge began to reverse the lower court's decision, point by point.

He felt a sudden recrudescence of jealousy as he heard Ashton's voice unctuously, flirtatiously offering his wife hospitality. He wanted to trounce Ashton. But what right had he to defend from gallantry the woman he was about to forswear before the put out her hand. He seized it hungrily and clung to it: "Good-bye?aren't you getting off at Reno?" "Yes. but-"So am I-Lucretia"

"But we can't afford to be seen together. Still holding her hand, he temporized: "We've got to stay married for six months at least-while we establish a residence. Couldn't we-ercouldn't we establish a residence-er -- together?"

Mrs. Wellington's eyes grew a little sad, as she answered: "It would be and sat down. "Mamma will be waittoo lonesome waiting for you to roll home."

Jimmie stared at her. He felt the regret in her voice and took strange courage from it. He hauled from his pocket his huge flask, and said quickly: "Well, if you're jealous of this, I'll promise to cork it up forever." She shook her head skeptically: 'You couldn't."

"Just to prove it," he said, "I'll chuck it out of the window." He flung up the sash and made ready to hurl his enemy into the flying landscape.

"Bravo!" cried Mrs. Wellington. But even as his hand was about to let go, he tightened his clutch again, and pondered: "It seems a shame to waste it.'

"I thought so," said Mrs. Jimmie, drooping perceptibly. Her husband began to feel that, after all, she cared what became of him. "I'll tell you," he said, "I'll give it to old Doc Temple. He takes his straight." "Fine!"

He turned towards the seat where the clergyman and his wife were sitting, oblivious of the drama of reconciliation playing so close at hand. Little Jimmie paused, caressed the flask, and kissed it. "Good-bye, old playmate!" Then, tossing his head with bravado, he reached out and touched the clergyman's shoulder. Dr. Temple turned and rose with a questioning look. Wellington put the flask in his hand and chuckled: "Merry Christmas!"

"But, my good man-" the preacher objected, finding in his hand a donation about as welcome and as wieldy as a strange baby. Wellington winked: "It may come in handy for-your patients."

And now, struck with a sudden idea, Mrs. Wellington spoke: "Oh, Mrs. Temple."

"Yes, my dear," said the little old lady, rising. Mrs. Wellington placed in her hand a small portfolio and laughed: "Happy New Year!"

Mrs. Temple stared at her gift and gasped: "Great heavens! Your cigars!'

"They'll be such a consolation," Mrs. Wellington explained, "while the doctor is out with his patients."

Dr. Temple and Mrs. Temple looked at each other in dismay, then at the flask and the cigars, then at the Wellingtons, then they stammered: "Thank you so much," and sank back. Wellington stared at his wife: "Lucretia, are you sincere?" "Jimmie, I promise you I'll never smoke another cigar.'

"My love!" he cried, and seized her hand. "You know I always said you were a queen among women, Lucretia."

Kathleen froze up again as she | the whole length of the car, clinging snapped: "With that-train-acquaintance, I suppose.'

"Oh, no," Mallory amended, "I mean I haven't had breakfast.' But Kathleen scowled with a jealousy of her own: "You seem to be getting along famously for mere trainacquaintances." "Oh, that's all we are, and hardly that," Mallory hastened to say with too much truth. "Sit down here a moment, won't you?" "No, no, I haven't time," she said, ing for me. You haven't been in to see her yet?" "No. You see-

"She cried all night." "For me?"

"No, for papa. He's such a good traveler-and he had such a good start. She really kept the whole car awake."

"Too bad," Mallory condoled, perfunctorily, then with sudden eagerness, and a trial at indifference: "I see you have that bracelet still." "Of course, you dear fellow. I wouldn't be parted from it for worlds." Marjorie gnashed her teeth, but Kathleen could not hear that. She gushed on: "And now we have met again! It looks like Fate, doesn't it?"

"It certainly does," Mallory assented, bitterly; then again, with zest: "Let me see that old bracelet, will you?"

He tried to lay hold of it, but Kathleen giggled coyly: "It's just an excuse to hold my hand." She swung her arm over the back of the seat coquettishly, and Marjorie made a desperate lunge at it, but missed, since Kathleen, finding that Mallory did not pursue the fugitive hand. brought it back at once and yielded it up:

'There-be careful, someone might look."

Mallory took her by the wrist in a gingerly manner, and said, "So that's the bracelet? Take it off, won't you?" "Never!-it's wished on," Kathleen protested, sentimentally. "Don't you remember that evening in the moonlight?" Mallory caught Marjorie's accusing eye and lost his head. He made a ferocious effort to snatch the bracelet off. When this onset failed, he had recourse to entreaty: "Just slip it off." Kathleen shook her head tantalizingly. Mallory urged more strenuously: "Please let me see it." Kathleen shook her head with sophistication: "You'd never give it back. You'd pass it along to thattrain-acquaintance."

"How can you think such a thing?" Mallory demurred, and once more made his appeal: "Please, please, slip it off.'

"What on earth makes you so anxious?" Kathleen demanded, with sudden suspicion. Mallory was stumped. till an inspiration came to him: "I'd like to-to get you a nicer one. That one isn't good enough for you."

Here was an argument that Kathleen could appreciate. "Oh, how sweet of you, Harry," she gurgled, and had the bracelet down to her knuckles, when a sudden instinct checked her: "When you bring the other, you can have this."

She pushed the circlet back, to his wife as if she were Francesca da Rimini, and he Paolo, flitting through Inferno. The flight ended at the stateroom door with such a thump that Mrs. Fosdick was sure a detective had come for her at last, and with a battering ram. But when Jimmie got back breath enough to talk, he remembered the ing. train-stopping excitement of the day before and called out: "Has Mrs. Mallory lost that pup again?' Everybody laughed uproariously at this. People will laugh at anything or nothing when they have been frightened almost to death and suddenly relieved of anxiety. Everybody was cracking a joke at Marjorie's expense. Everybody felt a good-natured grudge against her for being such a mystery. The car was ringing with hilarity, when the porter came stumbling in and paused at the door, with eyes all white, hands waving frantically, and lips flapping like flannel, in a vain effort to speak. The passengers stopped laughing at forged his way aft from the front, Marjorie, to laugh at the porter. Ashton sang out: "What's the matter with you, porter? Are you trying to crow?"

Everybody roared at this, till the porter finally managed to articulate: "T-t-t-train rob-robbers!"

Silence shut down as if the whole crowd had been smitten with paralysis. From somewhere outside and ahead came a pop-popping as of firecrackers. Everybody thought, "Revolvers!" The reports were mingled with barbaric yells that turned the marrow in every bone to snow.

These regions are full of historic terror. All along the Nevada route the conductor, the brakemen and old travelers had pointed out scene after scene where the Indians had slaked the thirst of the arid land with white man's blood. Ashton, who had traveled this way many times, had made himself fascinatingly horrifying the evening before and ruined several breakfasts that morning in the diningcar, by regaling the passengers with stories of pioneer ordeals, men and women massacred in burning wagons, or dragged away to fiendish cruelty and obscene torture, staked out supine on burning wastes with eyelids cut off, bound down within reach of rattlesnakes, subjected to every misery that human deviltry could devise.

Ashton had brought his fellow passengers to a state of ecstatic excitability, and, like many a recounter of burglar stories at night, had tuned his own nerves to high tension.

The violent stopping of the train. the heart-shaking yells and shots outside, found the passengers already apt to respond without delay to the appeals of fright. After the first hush of dread, came the reaction to panic. Each passenger showed his own panic in his own way. Ashton whirled round and round, like a horse with the blind staggers, then bolted down the aisle, knocking aside men and women. He climbed on a seat, pulled down an upper berth, and, scrambling into it, tried to shut it on himself. Mrs. Whitcomb was so frightened that she assailed Ashton with fury and seizing his feet, dragged him back in-fists, demanding that he protect her and save her for Sammy's sake. Mrs. Fosdick, rushing out of her stateroom and not finding her lus- to be Marvin Hughitt-spent his 27,cious-eyed husband, laid hold of Jim- 383d day being exactly as consistent mie Wellington and ordered him to as he has been throughout the other go to the rescue of her spouse. Mrs. 27,392. Wellington tore her hands loose, crying: "Let him go, madam. He has a then she began to flutter. "But we'd better hide what we can. I hope the rah-rah-robbers are ge-gentlemenmen."

She pushed a diamond locket containing a small portrait of Sammy into her back hair, leaving part of the chain dangling. Then she tried to stuff a large handbag into her stock-

Mrs. Fosdick found her husband at last, for he made a wild dash to her side, embraced her, called her his wife and defied all the powers of Nevada to tear them apart. He had a brilliant idea. In order to save his fat wallet from capture, he tossed it through an open window. It fell at the feet of one of the robbers as he ran along the side of the car, shooting at such heads as were put out of windows. He picked it up and dropped it into the feed-bag he had swung at his side. Then running on, he clambered over the brass rail of the observation platform and entered the rear of the train, as his confederate, driving the conductor ahead of him. while a third masquerader aligned the engineer, the fireman, the brakeman and the baggagemen.

(lube Continued.) ----

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. 'I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50c at R. S. McKin-ney's, Taneytown, and H. E. Fleagle, Mayberry.

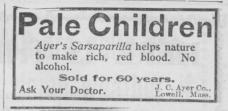

HUGHITT SAYS MUST KNOW MEN TO SUCCEED

The most consistently inconsistent human paradox of these strenuous

Search . No. by night of new outrages against the natural law and order of things. If we were scheduled to take the trip with Charon tomorrow morning he would either go tonight or wait until tomorrow afternoon, charter a scow and negotiate the Styx by himself.

He has made a dozen or more millions out of his inconsistencies. With him they are marketable commodities with fixed values. His aptitude for the unexpected rescued him from the to the aisle, and beat him with her serene and satisfied at the head of a turmoil of a farmer's life and left him

SAMP AN OLD SOUTHERN DISH

Freparation of Corn That Recuires. Long Cooring and Watching, but Is Well Worth It

This is a preparation of corn which requires long slow cooking. Select very white and evenly-cracked samp. Wash it thoroughly and put it to scake over-night in lukewarm water. Next. day throw that water off and cover with fresh cold water; bring gradually to a boil and boil for five hours. As the water becomes absorbed add fresh boiling water from time to time. When certain the grains are tender throughout drain off any water that remains. Salt should be added with the last water poured on so that it may permeate the samp; allow one tablespoonful to one cupful ci samp measured uncooked. Put the samp in a farina. kettle with milk to more than cover. Let it cook gently, with the cover off. for one hour or until the Lilk is absorbed and the samp creamy. Add forthe quantity given one tablespoonful of butter. Serve when it n.eits. This is an old-fashioned southern dish easily prepared over a low fire. It can not swell properly during the cooking unless it is kept covered with boiling water.

When any is left over it may be formed into thin cakes, or sliced thin, cut in regular pieces, dipped in egg and fine cracker crumbs and baked brown in the oven. It will be found delicious.

No Flies on Bohemia.

This consulate has from time totime received letters from manufacturers of various sorts of fly paper in the United States who wish to extend their trade. These letters have been fully answered, giving the names and addresses of local dealers, and also the various sorts of American and other fly paper sold here.

It is not possible to work up an extensive trade in Bohemia as there are not sufficient flies to exterminate. In most of the dining rooms during the course of a meal perhaps three or four flies appear during the season. In restaurants there are very few flies.

Here screen doors to keep out flies and other insects are unknown. The buildings are all constructed of brick, stone or concrete. The docks along the river front are of granite. The pavements and sidewalks are made of granite blocks. There are no wooden sidewalks, stairways or buildings in the city. Decayed vegetable or animal matter is not openly exposed to flies, and the streets are frequently cleaned during each day. There are no open drains in the city to attract and breed flies. I can only ascribe the absence of flies to the lack of breeding places .-- Consular and Trade Reports.

Her Course. An Episcopalian deaconess, who times celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary in and about Chicago the other day rounding out a pretty fair record for having never done the expected thing at the expected time. Inconsistency is his middle name. He revels in it by day and dreams world? Jimmie's soul was in turmoil. and Mrs. Whitcomb's pretty face and alluring smile only annoved him.

She had made several gracious speeches before he quite comprehended any of them. Then he realized that she was saving. "I'm so glad you're going to stop at Reno, Mr. Wellington.

"Thank you. So am I," he mumbled, trying to look interested and wishing that his wife's plume would not tickle his neck.

Mrs. Whitcomb went on, leaning closer: "We two poor mistreated wretches must try to console one another, musn't we?"

"Yes,-ves,-we must." Wellington nodded, with a sickly cheer.

Mrs. Whitcomb leaned a little closer. "Do you know that I feel almost related to you, Mr. Wellington?"

"Related?" he echoed, "you?-to me? How?"

"My husband knew your wife so well."

Somehow a wave of jealous rage surged over him, and he growled: "Your husband is a scoundrel."

Mrs. Whitcomb's smile turned to vinegar: "Oh, I can't permit you to slander the poor boy behind his back. 'It was all your wife's fault."

Wellington amazed himself by his own bravery when he heard himself volleying back: "And I can't permit you to slander my wife behind her back. It was all your husband's fault."

Mrs. Jimmie overheard this behind her back, and it strangely thrilled She ignored Ashton's existence and listened for Mrs. Whitcomb's next retort. It consisted of a simple, icy drawl: "I think I'll go to breakfast."

She seemed to pick up Ashton with her eyes as she glided by, for, finding himself unnoticed, he rose with a careless: "I think I'll go to breakfast," and followed Mrs. Whitcomb. The Wellingtons sat dos-a-dos for some exciting seconds, and then on a sudden impulse, Mrs. Jimmie rose, knelt in the seat and spoke across the back of it:

"It was very nice of you to defend me, Jimmie-er-James."

Wellington almost dislocated several joints in rising quickly and whirling round at the cordiality of her tone. But his smile vanished at her last word. He protested, feebly: "James sounds so like a-a butler. Can't you call me Little Jimmie again?"

Mrs. Wellington smiled indulgently: "Well, since it's the last time. Good-bye, Little Jimmie." And she

She beamed back at him: "And you always were the prince of good fellows, Jimmie." Then she almost blushed as she murmured, almost shyly: "May I pour your coffee for you again this morning?" "For life," he whispered, and they moved up the aisle, arm in arm. bumping from seat to seat and not knowing it. When Mrs. Whitcomb, seated in the dining-car, saw Mrs. Little Jimmie go or I'll scream!" pour Mr. Little Jimmie's coffee, she choked on hers. She vowed that she would not permit those odious Wellingtons to make fools of her and her Sammy. She resolved to telegraph and despair. Marjorie laid her hand Sammy that she had changed her | on her throat and in pantomime sugmind about divorcing him, and order him to take the first train west and meet her half-way on her journey home.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A Duel for a Bracelet.

All this while Marjorie and Mallory had sat watching, as kingfishers shadow a pool, the door wherethrough the girl with the bracelet must pass on her way to breakfast. "She's taking forever with her toilet," sniffed Marjorie. "Probably trying to make a special impression on vou."

"She's wasting her time," said Mallory. "But what it she brings her mother along? No, I guess her mother is too fat to get there and back."

"If her mother comes," Marjorie decided, "I'll hold her while you take the bracelet away from the--the-from that creature. Quick, here she comes now! Be brave!"

Mallory wore an aspect of arrant cowardice: "Er—ah—I—I—" "You just grab her!" Marjorie explained. Then they relapsed into attitudes of impatient attention. Kathe leen floated in and, seeing Mallory, she greeted him with radiant warmth: "Good morning!" and then, catching sight of Marjorie, gave her a "Good morning!" coated with ice. She flounced past and Mallory sat inert, till Marjorie gave him a ferocious pinch, whereupon he leaped to his feet:

"Oh, Miss-er-Miss Kathleen." Kathleen whirled round with a most hospitable smile. "May I have a word with you?"

"Of course you can, you dear boy." Marjorie winced at this and writhed at what followed: "Shan't we take breakfast together?"

Mallory stuttered: "I-I-no, thank you---I've had breakfast."

Mallory's hopes sank at the gesture. He grew frantic at being eternally frustrated in his plans. He caught Kathleen's arm and, while his words pleaded, his hands tugged: "Pleaseplease let me take it-for the measure

-you know!" Kathleen read the determination in his fierce eyes, and she struggled furiously: "Why, Richard-Chauncey! -er-Billy! I'm amazed at you! Let

She rose and, twisting her arm from his grasp, confronted him with bewildered anger. Mallory cast toward Marjorie a look of surrender gested that Mallory should throttle Kathleen, as he had promised.

But Mallory was incapable of further violence; and when Kathleen, with all her coquetry, bent down and murmured: "You are a very naughty boy, but come to breakfast and we'll talk it over," he was so addled that he answered: "Tbanks, but I never eat breakfast."

CHAPTER XXXVII.

Down Brakes!

Just as Kathleen flung her head in baffled vexation, and Mallory started to slink back to Marjorie, with another defeat, there came an abrupt shock as if that gigantic child to whom our railroad trains are toys. had reached down and laid violent hold on the Trans-American in full career.

Its smooth, swift flight became suddenly such a spasm of jars, shivers and thuds that Mallory cried: "We're off the track."

like a bolster hurled through the car. He brought up with a sickening slam across the seat into which Marjorie had been jounced back with a breathtaking slam. And then Kathleen came flying backwards and landed in a heap on both of them.

Several of the other passengers were just returning from breakfast. and they were shot and scattered all over the car as if a great chain of human beads had burst.

Women screamed, men yelled, and then while they were still struggling against the seats and one another, the train came to a halt.

"Thank God, we stopped in time!" Mallory gasped, as he tried to disengage himself and Marjorie from Kathleen.

The passengers began to regain their courage with their equilibrium.

wife of his own to defend." Jimmie was trying to pour out dying messages, and only sputtering, forgetting that he had put his watch in so close to the end of my rope? his mouth to hide it, though its chain was still attached to his waistcoat Anne Gattle, who had read much about Chinese atrocities to missionaries, gave herself up to death, yet rejoiced greatly that she had provided a timely man to lean on and should not have to enter Paradise a spinster, providing she could manage to convert Ira in the next few seconds, before it was everlastingly too late. She was begging her first heathen to join her in a gospel hymn. But Ira was of advancing is to know men. roaring curses like a pirate captain in a hurricane, and swearing that the villains should not rob him of his bride. hands and tried to drag her husband to his knees, crying: "Oh, Walter, Walter, won't you please say a prayer?-a good strong prayer?"

But the preacher was so confused that he answered: "What's the use of prayer in an emergency like this?" "Walter!" she shrieked.

"I'm on my va-vacation, you know," he stammered.

Marjorie was trying at the same time to compel Mallory to crawl under to go calling on friends. a seat and to find a place to hide Snoozleums, whom she was warning

He was sent flopping down the aisle | not to say a word. Snoozleums, understanding only that his mistress was in some distress, refused to stay in his basket and kept offering his services and his attentions.

> Kathleen was trying to faint in Mallory's arms, and forgot everything else in a determined effort to prevent her. After the first blood-sweat of abject fright had begun to cool, the passen> were not after lives, but loot. Then from Mallory's protection, ran to Mrs. as a hopeless task.

what shall we do, dear Mrs. Wellington?" she cried.

"Don't you dare call me Mrs. Well-Little Jimmie Wellington had flown.' ington!" Mrs Whitcomb screamed; railroad system of some 9,000 miles of track and $200,000,000 of assets. This man-his name just happens

"I don't see why any one should be interested in my birthday anniversary," said Mr. Hughitt at his summer home in Lake Forest. "Why do they keep reminding me that I am getting

"You know, I have a confession to make, and my birthday anniversary is a good time to make it. Really-I don't deserve half the credit I have been given for the remarkable success of the great railroad I happen to preside over.

"I'll tell you the honest truth. It wasn't I who did it. It was the small army of efficient and faithful men I had around me.'

Mr. Hughitt declared that the secret

Hughitt is not of the Hawley or Harriman type of railroad magnates. He was essentially a builder, never a gambler. His life has been one of Mrs. Temple wrung her twitching constant and steady growth, with none of the great successes and failures which left both these others bent and seared.

> He is as straight as an Indian, alert and handsome as are few men at his age.

The folks expected him to stay at home and make something of a celebration of the event. Instead he went to the office, intent upon running the lailroad. But everybody at the office seemed to expect him, so he decided

VALUABLE LITTLE SWEET BOX

Is Easily Made and Its Usefulness Will Commend It to the Housekeeper.

A "sweet box" has become an insti tution in our family. It consists of a stout cardboard box. lined with a sheet of wadding generously sprinkled with a favorite sachet powder. The wadding is glued over the top edge, thus making the cover fit tightly. It contains two or three loose, very sweet sachets. Any little gift or bit of work, if laid away for a day or two in the sweet box with a sachet between its folds, comes out delicious, ly perfumed. All through the year we find many things are sweetened that would not be, were it necessary to hunt up or buy sachet powder each time.

had been recounting some of her experiences as a missionary in China. said: "I was talking to a Chinese convert one day, and somehow the conversation turned to fashions. I told him something about the constant changes of fashion in our part of the world and described some of the styles of dress worn by American. women. 'There is one good thing about your Chinese costumes,' I remarked. 'they are not subject to change.' 'Not often,' he admitted, 'but they do change somewhat from time to time, especially the cut of sleeves. But you-does the fashion of your dress ever change?' 'Never,' I laughed. 'I wear this black habit year in and year out and mean to wear it always.' He looked at me wonderingly for a moment and then said with a note of sincere admiration in his tone: 'Ah, how you must love your faith to be willing always to make yourself look as you do.'"

Mentistry.

J. S. MYERS, J. E. MYERS Westminster, Md. New Windsor, Md.

11

yé.

Drs. Myers, SURGEON DENTISTS, Are prepared to do All Kinds of Dental Work, including ALUMINUM PLATES.

DR. J. W. HELM, SURGEON DENTIST,

New Windsor - Maryland,

Will be in Taneytown 1st Wednesday of each month. have other engagements for the 3rd Saturday and Thursday and Friday, im-mediately preceding. The rest of the month at my office in New Windsor. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered.

Graduate of Maryland Universty, Balti-C. &. P. Telephone. Md. 5-1-10

Suddenly Mariorie realized that gers came to realize that the invaders came a panic of miserly effort to conceal treasure.

Kathleen, finding herself banished Whitcomb, who had given Ashton up

"What shall we do, oh, what, oh

Lesson VIII .- Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 24, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark ix, 1-13. Memory Verses, 9, 10-Golden Text, Luke ix, 35 (R. V.)-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson, like the last, is recorded by Matthew and Luke as well as by Mark. It was the one occasion on which the glory which was always in Him was allowed to shine through in fest no appreciation of what has been this particular way. In the tabernacle and in the temple the glory of God was always in the holy of holies above the mercy seat, between the cherubim, but the veil concealed it-the veil which was rent in twain from the top to the bottom in the midst when He died and which, we are told in Heb. x, 20, repre sented His flesh or body. John says that "the word was made flesh and tabernacled among us, and we beheld His glory.'

As he makes no record of the transfiguration, possibly he refers to it in this saving, as well as to His whole life on earth. Peter undoubtedly refers to the transfiguration when he says, "We made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and were eyewitnesses of His majesty," for he mentions the holy mount and the words from the Father (John 1, 14; II Pet. i, 16-18).

In connection with the coming of Christ in glory which He mentioned in last week's lesson He said that some of those who stood there would not taste of death till they had seen the kingdom of God come with power or the Son of Man coming in His kingdom. Then after six intervening days, or, as Luke says, about eight days. He took Peter and James and John into a high mountain, apart by themselves, and as He praved He was transfigured before them. It seems to me that the wonder was not that the glory now shone through the veil of His flesh, but that it was always there, yet concealed. But it was, as to His whole life, the time of His appearing as one to us, sin excepted (Heb. ii, 14).

His face did shine as the sun, and His raiment was white and glistening, shining, white as the light, white as snow. When Moses came down from the mount the skin of his face shone so that he had to wear a veil while he talked with the people (Ex. xxxiv, 29-That must have been reflected light. He did not wear the veil when he went in to talk with the Lord and possibly only after he had done talking with the people. Stephen's face seems to have reflected something of the same light (Acts vi, 15). How wonderful the statements concerning us in Matt. xiii

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 24, 1912. Topic. - The Christian virtues. - XII. Gratitude.-Ps. cxlvii, 1-20. (Thanksgiving day meeting.) Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Gratitude is one of the most beautiful of all the Christian graces. What is more becoming than a proper expression of appreciation of benefits that have been received, whether from God or from man? Yet it is a grace that is very often sadly lacking. How many receive blessings and benefits from their fellow men and yet accept them as a matter of course and manidone in their behalf! Inappreciation of kindnesses done is one of the chief hindrances to continued well doing. It is not that good is done for the purpose of praise, but the lack of gratitude stamps the one benefited as unworthy. But men are especially ungrateful to God. "Every good and perfect gift" comes from God, and yet how thankless we are in spite of all His goodness and of all our unworthiness! At this national Thanksgiving season we may well search our own hearts and see if we have rendered unto our God gratitude for all His benefits unto us. There are many reasons for gratitude to God. For national blessings today we may well be grateful unto Him. What nation has He more abundantly blessed in the past year than our own? We enjoy peace and prosperity unexcelled in the history of the world. We have had abundant crops, industrial prosperity, national and international peace. What more as a nation could we ask from the God of nations? The blessing of God has been poured out upon His church in our land. There has been no great spiritual revival, yet steady and sure progress has been made. The great Christian denominations have more than held their own. Such great causes as temperance and social and political righteousness have been advanced. Souls have been saved and saints built up and comforted in their most holy faith. All are blessings come from God, and we should not only feel grateful, but express our gratitude. For the blessings of home and individual life we have reason for thanksgiving unto God.

There are various ways of expressing gratitude to God. First of all, it should really be felt in the heart. By meditating upon the character and the goodness of God we should be filled with a feeling of gratitude toward Him. True gratitude must always begin in the heart. But it should not end there. It should also be expressed in words and in deeds. In private and in public worship we should devoutly thank our God for all His benefits. But above all we should express our gratiude in deeds. Has God been kind to us, let us in His name be kind to others. Has He helped us in the 43; I John iii, 2. Consider for a little time of need, let us in His name help these two men from heaven who are others in their hour of need. Has He talking with Jesus and whom the three forgiven us, let us forgive. In every favored disciples saw and seemed to act let us show increased consideraknow, for Peter mentions them by tion and devotion to Him and to His cause. The best "thanksgiving is thanksgiving."

HOW THEY PROPOSE

What Men Do and What They Say.

By HERBERT DROCER.

"Mama, how do men propose?" Rosie asked. She glanced shyly at er mother.

Mrs. Farnam looked up, a merry twinkle dancing beneath her hazel brows, which soon disappeared, to be succeeded by a more steady, questioning gaze. At thirty-five, she appeared scarcely older than her daughter. In fact, the two had been mistaken for sisters on more occasions than one. The widow was round faced and plump.

The two had paused at their task of dusting and rearranging the furniture. In the dining-room, where they had dropped into seats, was the confusion that one might expect where an only daughter had celebrated her seventeenth anniversary with a birthday party the evening before. "Mama, did you hear me?" repeated the girl. "Yes, daughter," replied the mother. "I was merely wondering why you asked."

"Because I want to know how men propose-and what they do-and what they say-and whether they-"

But Rosie got no further. The mother, leaning back in her chair, broke out in a laugh so clear and hearty that the daughter, too, in spite of her puckered lips and look of hurt surprise, finally caught the infection and smiled.

"Ma. please do be sensible," at last the girl broke in, persuasively.

"Well, daughter, I am. But, really, you will soon be able to answer that with more authority than I. It only happened to me once," hesitating reflectively, "and that seems such a long, long time ago."

As the widow ceased speaking, a tear glistened in her eye. After a brief interval of silence the girl crept up to her mother's side and folded her arms gently about the latter's neck.

"There, mama, don't feel bad," soothed the daughter, filled with recollections of the loneliness and the struggles that her mother endured,

"But, mama, he's so much older than I."

"Yes, you are very young-too young to marry-not too young to become engaged. How old is Henry?" "I don't know," replied the maiden, candidly. "I never thought to ask him. But he seems-oh, even older than you."

The mother laughed. "And this from a little girl who should not try to flatter her mama."

During the month or so that followed Henry came regularly, sometimes so often as two and three times a week, to the Farnam residence. Since the morning after her birthday party Rosie had seemed less at ease and, at times, half frightened, when in his company. Especially was this the case when they were not joined by her mother, who usually, because of the cold weather and the necessity of economizing in fuel, sat with the two. At such intervals when the widow was absent, Henry, also, was restless and wandering in attention.

But it could not be winter always. Spring breezes came at last over the Ozarks into Missouri. The sun shone, robins flitted between the boughs of maples beginning to rejuvenate with the rise and flow of sap through their trunks, and out in the pasture, just then turning faintly to green, young colts frolicked and raced beside their mothers. Life and love were unfolding from a single bud.

Then, on a night, when Henry came, the weather was warm. He called to them through an open window as he passed and, hurrying around to a side door, he entered the dining room, where the mother and daughter sat. Mrs. Farnam remained with the couple only a short time, when, without pretext, she withdrew to the front porch.

She was gazing absently into the east, where the moon was rising, and giving only a half attentive ear to the medley of insect voices just then awakening, when she was startled, not a half hour after she had found her seat, by the sudden appearance of Rosie, who rushed to her side and whispered breathlessly in her ear.

"Oh, mama, mama," the girl exclaimed in subdued tones, "I just know Henry is going to propose! What shall I do?"

"Do! Why, I thought you wanted him to propose. "No; I don't-I don't-not since you told me," she cried, almost on the verge of tears. "Well, daughter, what's caused you to think all this? Did he say-" "He said he wanted to see you. I know he wants to ask if he can propose." "How silly!" interposed the mother,

"Oh, he said he wanted to see you alone-that he must see you-that he couldn't stand it any longer-that-" "It? Stand what, dear?"

"Oh, mama, do go in-do! And tell him that he must not propose to me, any more, and that I'm going to be an old maid, and that-

"Don't worry yourself so, little girl --- it's nothing!" enjoined the mother, as she arose

Rosie, left alone, for a time grew more excited. Then, as the minutes passed and her mother did not re-

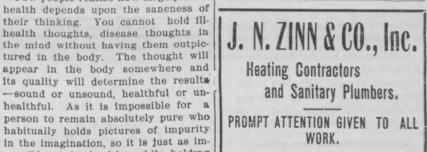

Small Farm Machinery

of all kinds. New Holland Mills, The coming man will radiate health Corn Shellers, Churns, &c. Repairs and gladness as naturally as the rose for all Washers and Wringers. Call exhales beauty and fragrance. He will on, or Telephone toradiate life and vigor as naturally as

L. K. BIRELY,

MIDDLEBURG, MD.

Phone 9-12 Union Bridge.

only healthful thoughts he cannot possibly radiate anything unhealthful. We reflect only the results of our with a laugh not wholly natural. thinking. Few people realize how largely their name.

It was over 1,400 years since Moses died and was buried on Mount Nebo (Deut. xxxiv) and perhaps 900 years since Elijah was taken from the side of Elisha on the east of Jordan by a whirlwind and horses and chariot of fire (II Kings ii), yet here they are. alive and well and recognized, as no doubt we shall know all in the glory without introductions. They talked with Jesus about His decease, which He should accomplish at Jerusalem (Luke ix, 31).

By virtue of that atoning death they and all the redeemed from Abel onward had enjoyed centuries of bliss, as It were, on a promissory note now about to be paid. None are in glory nor ever can be except by virtue of that precious blood in due time shed on Golgotha. It is the blood that maketh atonement, and without shedding of blood there is no remission of sins (Lev. xvii, 11; Heb. ix, 22). The disciples were heavy with sleep (Luke ix, 32), and so 'it was also in Gethsemane. Are we mot all in a measure asleep to the great things of God? How often we talk as foolishly as Peter, who suggested the three tabernacles, not knowing what to

That is a good word for us, "Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Eph. ii, 14) As Peter spoke a cloud overshadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear ye Him." And they saw no man any more save Jesus only with themselves (verses 7, 8; Matt. xxvii, 5-8) To Him give all the prophets witness. and so it must be Jesus only. The Lord alone shall be exalted. See now the kingdom in miniature-the Lord Jesus glorified and with Him the risen saints represented by Moses and the trans lated saints represented by Elijah. The three disciples may represent all Israel made righteous and the multitude at the foot of the hill the people to be blessed when the kingdom comes.

1

Blessed are all who see the glory of His kingdom, endeavor now to walk worthy of it and live to hasten it. As they came down from the mount He charged them to tell no one of the wonders they had seen till the Son of Man should be risen from the dead, but just what that saying meant not one of them could tell (verse 10), for they did not believe that He was to die. They remembered some of the last words of Malachi concerning Elijah and spoke of them, and Jesus indorsed them and said that they would surely be fulfilled, but that there had been already a fulfillment in John the Baptist.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. iv, 3-8; Ex. xv, 1-18; Ps. xcii, 1-3; xcv, 1-11; c, 1-5; cxvii, 12-19; cxxii 6-9; Gal. vi, 10; Eph. v, 15-21; Col. I, 12-19; Rev. v, 8-14.

A Family Worship Meeting.

Family worship is unknown in many homes. Many Endeavorers never saw It practiced. Therefore it might serve a good purpose occasionally to have the pastor close the regular Christian Endeavor prayer meeting with a family worship service.

The service might be introduced with a word of explanation. After that the society should be viewed as a family and worship proceed just as it would at home. The object lesson ought to have a fine effect and may help some young people when they get homes of their own to establish in them a family altar.

Set Up a Standard.

Faithfulness implies standards. No one can tell whether he is faithful or not unless he knows what he is expected to do. When a scholar has a lesson to get his fidelity is in getting that lesson. If no lesson were assigned he would have no measure of fidelity. Every successful worker sets standards for himself. This is the reason for our Christian Endeavor pledge. It is the standard of faithfulness that we have set up for ourselves .- Amos R. Wells.

Efficiency Hymn.

Written for the North Carolina Christian Endeavor convention.] We would be faithful servants, Efficient, brave and true, Prepared, equipped and willing Our Master's work to do. Lord, fill our hearts with longing, With earnestness and zeal, To tell the world of Jesus, His mighty love reveal.

May each young life be guided To find a useful place And, finding it, to fill it, Dependent on God's grace. May not one talent hidden In darkness fail to bring The promised double portion To render to our King Efficiency in study, Efficiency in prayer, Efficiency in labor, For Jesus anywhere; With every power developed With consecrated skill, Efficient in our efforts To do our Master's will. -Rev. Robert E. Steele, Lumberton, N. C. "I Want to Know How Men Propose."

following the death of a father whom the girl could not remember. "It was foolish of me to ask such a silly question. I might have known it would lead to something like-"

"No, dear, not silly at all. And I'll not be a baby again. There," as a smile rekindled her face. "I really mean it, you will have a proposal before your next birthday comes.

"Oh, mama, mama, do you really think so? And why?'

"Can't you see? It's plain to everyone. When he wasn't hanging at your elbows last night, he was .ripping around after me. And why else should he be so considerate to me, if I were not the mother of the girl he likes?" "Who? Who, mama? Do you mean-

"Yes, Henry, of course. I am sure he-

"Oh, I hope so-I hope so."

The mother regarded her child thoughtfully, then asked: "Do you really love him so much?" "Now, mama, why do you put it that way?" returned the girl, while a shadow seemed to gather over her brows. "No, come to think of it, I don't believe I love him at all, I-"

"Why, daughter, you amaze me," cried the mother in astonishment. "Then why were you so delighted? I can't understand."

"Because-because," plainly abashed. "I just wanted him-anyone-to propose. I ranted to see how he would act, and what he would do, and what he would say, and all that."

Rosie pulled a ring, set with emeralds and pearls, from her finger and toyed with it in her lap, during the silence that ensued. The mother looked on, then arose and walked to the window where she stood gazing at the whirling eddies of snow driven with the late February storm. When she turned back into the room, she seemed less perplexed, and said in a matter-of-fact way:

"Henry is a splendid chance, my little girl. He has a good heart and a good business. I am not eager for you to marry-and there is lots of time yet-but any mother wants to see ber daughter-" turn, her agitation began to pass away, and gradually she became calm. Suddenly she leaped upright from her chair, at the prompting of a bold and through the parlor toward the folding doors that separated it from the dining room. The doors were a foot or two apart, and over them was hung a curtain. Screened within its folds, she stood in an attitude of listening.

Why shouldn't she hear what was being said between Henry and her mother? It concerned her.

At the first she distinguished no word or sound. Then, there came to her cars a low, suppressed sob, that oi a woman's. Could her mother be rying? And why? Then, a voice-Henry's.

It's you, Mrs. Farnam-Mary, it's ou : love-it's you, you I have always loved. There-don't cry. Do look up and tell me-"

But Rosie could restrain herself no longer. Tearing the curtains apart, she burst into the room. Between her cries and tears and half hysterical laughter, she rushed to them, and, in an effort to gather the two within her arms, embraced both, exclaiming:

'Of course, Henry, she loves you. Of course she does; she always did and always will. And now, mama," with a little shout of delight, "I know how they do, and what they say, and 'now they act, and-I'm a goose!"

(Copyright, 1912, by the McClure News-paper Syndicate.)

The Victous Circle.

Apropos of the rise in meat prices, Representative Redfield said the other day in Brooklyn:

"The way everything keeps going up, it will soon become discouraging. I can imagine an idle savage from the tropics saying scornfully to some industrious clerk or mill operative:

" 'Why do you work?' " 'To live.

" 'And why do you live?'

" 'Why do I live?"

" 'Yes, that is what I said. Why do you live?"

" 'Er-er- to work' "-St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Lack of Tact.

"What made you ask Mrs. De Style such a personal question as did she belong to the progressive movement?"

"Why not? Nothing personal in that."

"Isn't there. She's on her way to Reno to get a divorce from her third husband."

possible to be healthy while holding the disease thought. There cannot be harmony in the body with disease in the mind.

Health or Sickness of Body Reflection of the Mind.

Men of the Future, Orison Swett Mar-

den Asserts, Will Be Free From

Many Weaknesses Inherent in Present Race.

he breathes. Because he will think

The belief in weakness, in feebleness, the conviction of physical inability always precedes the actual condition; the weakness, the deficiency appears in the thought before it is manifested in the body.

As long as you think you are a weakling, you will be one. If you think deadly negative thoughts, they will produce corresponding pictures in the body.

Not only do our own thoughts and convictions tend to bring about corresponding ones in the body, but the thoughts and convictions of others as to our condition have a similar effect. Continue to tell a man that he looks haggard and worn and sickly, and that he must do something for himself; keep constantly asking him what is the matter with him and you will very soon produce a mental picture of bodily illness which will be reflected in his body.

Sound health is based upon sound thought. If our thinking is faulty, our health must necessarily correspond. If our thought is not solid, our health will be faulty.

Health is harmony, and we cannot have perfect health while there is discord in the thought. The body is just a reflection of the mind. It will be weak or vigorous according to the thought.

The future physician will be a trained psychologist, a real educator of the people, showing them how to think properly; explaining how right thought makes right life; that their bodily conditions are simply reflections and outpicturings of their mental attitudes, present and past, and how, by changing the thought they can change the life .- Orison Swett Marden in the Nautilus.

His Possession.

A rustic, who did odd jobs for the village blacksmith, asked leave of absence for the following day, which was granted.

During the morning his employer noticed him, dressed in his Sunday best, coming down the road from the direction of the church, sheepishly followed by a woman who kept about two paces to the rear, on the opposite side of the road.

Jerking his thumb over his shoulder in the direction of his companion, and at the same time indicating her with a movement of his head, the yokel solemnly ejaculated: "Got 'er!"

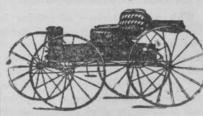

When in need of Heating with Hot Water, Steam, Vanor, Vapor Vacuum, or Hot Air, let us make you an Estimate (which costs nothing). Call on, or write-J. N. ZINN & CO., Inc. CHARLES TOWN, W. VA.

Phone 86.

8-16-6m

yourself and cl t in style and flt. fectin style and fit, Price—none higher U 15 cents. Send for free Pattern Catalogu. We Will Give You Fine Presents for getting sut scriptions among your friends. Send for be Premium Catalogue and Cash Prize Offer THE McCALL COMPANY, 239 to 249 West 37th St., NEW YOF Littlestowa Carriage Works.

Manufacturer ot -CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, PHAETONS, TRAPS,

GARTS. CUTTERS. ETC.

JAGGER WAGONS.

Repairing Promptly Done. Low Prices and all Work Guaranteed. LITTLESTOWN, PA.,

TANEYTOWN LOCAL COLUMN

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

A. G. Riffle has rented the former Otto store property, for one year.

Madge Cook, of Baltimore.

the home of John J. Buffington, in Baltimore

Mrs. George Koutz and son, Herman, visited her brother, Curvin Bankert and family, at York, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gruel, of Baltimore, visited relatives of Mrs. Gruel House, therefore, just a little better than (nee Null) in town, over Sunday.

Mrs. Mary L. Motter, of Washington, D. C., is here on a visit to friends, and looking after her business interests.

Elmer Hawk, of this district, raised three pumpkins on one vine which weighed 200 pounds, the heaviest weighing 90 pounds.

The chicken soup supper by the Sunday school of the Reformed church, will be held in the Opera House, this Satur-day afternoon and evening. No less than 18 State delegations to the No less than 18 State delegations to the

There were all sorts of grins to be seen in Taneytown, a few days after the elec-of Taneytown, to succeed R. S. McKinney, whose term expires in March, 1914.

Hon. Jos. A. Goulden, who has just been elected to Congress from his old district, will pay Taneytown a visit on Saturday, and will likely remain about ten cially, but they will not exceed 12 or 14 all told.

The N. C. R. has again replaced the floor, and part of the bridge timbers, over the "mill road." What is needed there is a concrete arch, or a reinforced concrete bridge.

One of H. L. Baumgardner's mail wagon horses died suddenly, last Saturday. This is one of the drawbacks to mail carrying, and often results in seriously reducing their year's pay.

Sallie and Quintuella Fuss, of Mt. Union, also Albert Ohler, wife and daughters, Mary and Ruth, of Bridgeport, spent Sunday last with Walter Brower and family.

Dr. F. H. Seiss attended the meeting. of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland, this week, at Cambridge. Mrs. Seiss accompanied him as far as Baltimore, where she took in "The World in Baltimore.'

of the W. H. and F. M. Society of the a 50 cent box of the specific will be sent Reformed church, will speak in the Re- you by mail, charges paid. Do not put formed church, on Sunday morning, at it off. "One today is worth two tomorthe regular church hour, and at Keys- rows." ville in the afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

Announcement has been made of the

W. F. Hahn, wife and two daughters L. W. Hahn, wife and daughter, and Russell Pall, of Bradford, Ohio, who spent some time with relatives in this vicinity, have returned home. Mrs. L. W. Hahn is a daughter of Mrs. Susan Zepp, of Taneytown. The Next House of Representatives.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.-Accord Miss Amelia Annan is the guest of Miss ladge Cook, of Baltimore. ing to the returns received up to this evening from the Secretaries of State of Mrs. Milton Reindollar is visiting at he home of John J. Buffington, in Balti-it out that the Democrats in the next House will fall just three shy of having 300 out of the 435 members, as a result of the political landslide of November 5. The Democratic membership will be 297 and the Republicans, including Bull Moosers and other brands of Progressives, will have 138.

The Democrats will have in the next a two-thirds majority—two-thirds of 435 being exactly 290. This is the largest percentage of the total membership of the House any party has had since the Fifty-fourth Congress, when in a House of 356 members the Republicans had 246 of the total, or 69.3 per cent. In the great landslide of 1890, which swept the Democrats into power in the House, the party elected to the House of the Fifty-second Congress 263 out of the 356 mem bers, or 66 per cent. of the total. In the next Congress the Democrats will have next House will be solidly Democratic, being those from Alabama, Arkansas, in Taneytown, a few days after the elec-tion. Some happy, some sickly, and some more of a "blink" than a grin. There are said to be seven, or more, candidates for appointment as postmaster eight States of Oregon, Washington, South Dakota, North Dakota, Vermont, Utah, Wyoming and Idaho. But some of these Republicans are Progressives or Bull Micessing States of Sta Bull Moosers. The exact number of Pro-gressive Republicans in the new House Clerk Trimble is not yet able to state offi-

The Pennsylvania delegation will con-sist of 12 Democrats and 22 Republicans, including in the latter those who ran as

Bull Moosers. -CHANCE FOR RECORD READERS.

Coupon worth 25c if Presented at R. S. McKinney's Store.

In order to test the RECORD's great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with R. S. McKinney the popular druggist, to offer John Delaplaine and wife, and Misses one of his best selling medicines at half price to anyone who will cut out the fol-

If you cannot call at his store, cut out Miss Gertrude Cogan, Field Secretary the coupon and mail it with 25 cents, and

-4.04-Find Mr. Taft Cheerful.

TRUSTEE'S SALE ---- OF VALUABLE -----Farm Stock, Implements and Household Furniture, Near Silver Run, Carroll County, Maryland.

The undersigned Trustee, by virtue of the authority contained in a deed of trust from George W. Fogle and Ida A. Fogle, his wife, to J. Calvin Dodrer and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll County, will sell at public sale, on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30th., 1912, beginning at 9 o'clock, a. m., on the premises, known as the Hull farm, in Myers' District, Carroll County, Md., about 3 miles west of Silver Run, being adjacent to Marker's Mill, all that stock farming implements, growing grain, household furniture, etc., of which the said George W. and Ida A. Fogle, his wife, were possessed, described in part as follows:

8 HEAD OF HORSES, 7 head of good work and driv-ing horses, and 1 colt; 10 head of milk cows, 2 calves, 3 bulls; three 4-horse wagons, beds, side-boards, hay carriages, fifth chain, single trees, etc.; Superior grain drill, horse rake, 2 spring-tooth harrows, 1 roller, falling-top buggy and pole, 3 sets single harness, set double harness, breechbands, front gears, plow gears, collars, line, chains, etc.; 2 Champion binders, 8-ft and 6-ft cuts; 3 mowers, hay tedder, riding corn plows, barshear plows, drags, shovel plows, corn planter, 7 head of hogs, from 100 to 125 lbs each, including one boar; and many other articles too numerous to mention.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE

for a well furnished house, including stoyes, chairs, beds and bedding, car-

About 200 bbls corn, 2500 bundles of fodder, and a lot of hay; also half interest in 70 Acres of Growing Grain.

TERMS OF SALE. - All articles under $10.00 cash on day of sale; all articles over $10.00 credit of three months will be given, purchasers to give notes with approved security with interest from day of sale, or all cash at the option of the purchaser

J. CALVIN DODRER, Trustee. Charles O. Clemson, Attorney, J. N. O. Smith, Auctioneer.

W. Upton Marker and Guy W. Haines, Clerks. 15-3t

Before You Buy a SUIT or OVERCOAT, See

Sharrer & Sorsuch Westminster, Md.

1000 Handsome Garments to select from, and at prices which mean dollars saved.

Suits to Order At Low Prices.

A BIG

meat vessels, for sale by HILL & BAUM-GARDNER. 11-15-2t WANTED, at once ! 100 second-hand Buggies and Runabouts, in trade. High-est allowances.--ANGEL VEHICLE WORKS & GARAGE, Middleburg. 9-20-eow

THE LADIES AID SOCIETY of Baust Reformed Church will have their first annual Oyster Supper, on Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 28, at Crouse's Hall, Ty-rone. All are invited. 11-15-2t LOAD OF APPLES-good cookers and keepers, from the mountains, at my place, next Tuesday. Also have a good 1-horse wagon for sale.—D. C. FISCEL, near Uniontown.

SHOOTING MATCH at Bruceville, Md., Thanksgiving Day.-GUN CLUB.

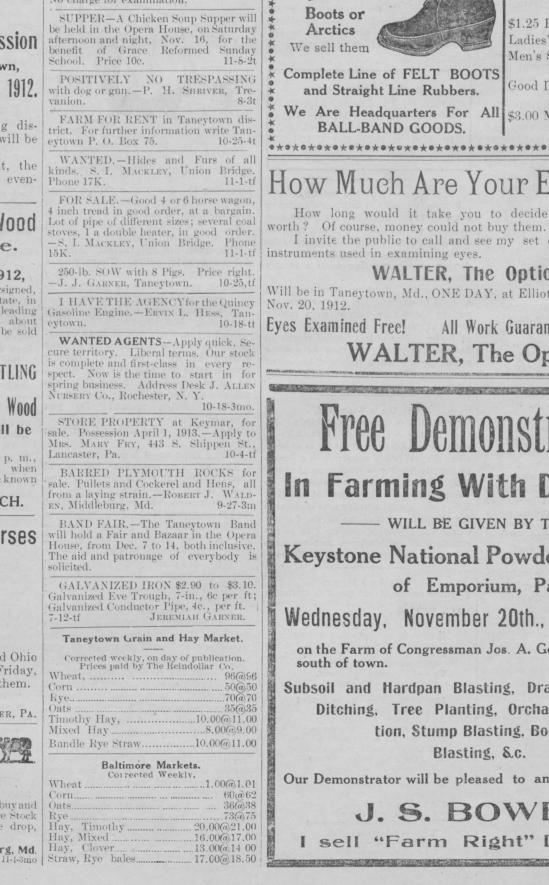

EIGHT PIGS, 6 weeks old. For sale by P. H. SHRIVER.

NOTICE.-After November 30, 1912, I intend to quit Blacksmithing in gener al, but will continue to do wood working -J. T. WANTZ. JUST RECEIVED the latest styles in Winter Millinery, lowest prices. New styles in Ladies', Gent's and Children's Shoes and Rubbers. A special line of Ladies' and Children's Underwear. Give us a call.—Very respectfully, MRS. M. J. GARDNER.

at Elliot House Taneytown, Wednes-day, Nov. 20th., 1912, one day, with a full line electrical instruments for the purpose of examining eyes and fitting glasses. All diseases of the eye treated. No charge for examination.

Standard Sewing

Machines, $13.95

he wears. His Shoes must be comfortable and serviceable.

Only good, strong leather will do for the Heavy Work Shoe, and only the very best workmanship will put strong leather together to stay STAR-BRAND SHOES are made of crome-tanned, waterproof leather. They are lockstitched and have strong soles. They are made on roomy, comfortable lasts, and will outwear any other Work Shoe you have worn.

'Star-Brand'' Shoes Are Better

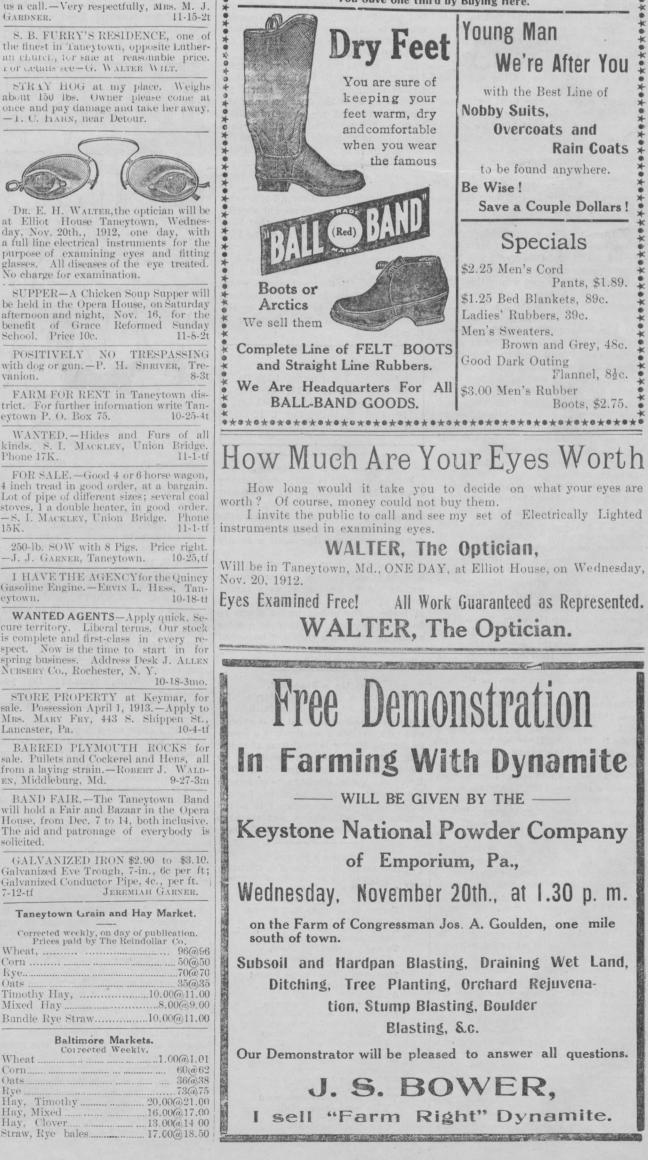

FASHIONABLE MODELS Ladies' Suits and Top Coats, Children's and Misses' Coats and Sweaters. At Exceptionally Low Prices. Many New Models Added To Our Millinery Display.

Tremendous variety of shapes and styles becoming to every age. Handsome materials in all sorts of novel and beautiful trimming combinations.

READY-TO WEAR HATS.-Smart and nobby styles for Women and Girls, marriage, Nov. 6, of Thaddeus Crapster, son of the late Woods Crapster, of Taneytown, a Lieutenant in the U.S. Revenue Cutter Service, to Miss Marie Louise White House, said: Phillips of Hillsboro, Texas. It is said ''President Taft does not show a trace that the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crapster will be in Norfolk, Va.

1

Next Monday night, the 18th., is the date for the appearance of "The Moran Sisters," the second number of our en-tertainment course. With the exception of several readings, it is a musical numof several readings, it is a musical number from start to finish. Rememaer, we ber from start to finish. Rememaer, we crats on the tariff. Should that party must have a good attendance at every fail to make good on the tariff and cause number, in order to come out even on hard times, the country will swing back the course.

Miss Anna Wilhide, of Baltimore, formerly of Taneytown, is educating two publication, but as it is such a worthy, and at the same time, unusual, work, especially for a lady to engage in, that we feel like giving it at least brief publicity.

We again have on hand, a supply of Red Cross Christmas seals, the sale of which is in the interest of the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. The seals, this year, are very pretty, containing the head of Santa Claus, thereby making them very appropriate for attaching to Christmas packages and letters. As usual, they can be had at McKinney's drug store, or at the RECORD office, at 1¢ each.

With over 100 farmers advertising in there should be no doubt of how they regard hunting and trapping on their lands; and common honesty on the one hand, and common respect for owner's rights. on the other, should cause a discontinuance of a practice which not only has no justification, but is illegal besides. From our personal knowledge, hunters-often careless boys-largely have themselves to blame for the opposition of the farmers.

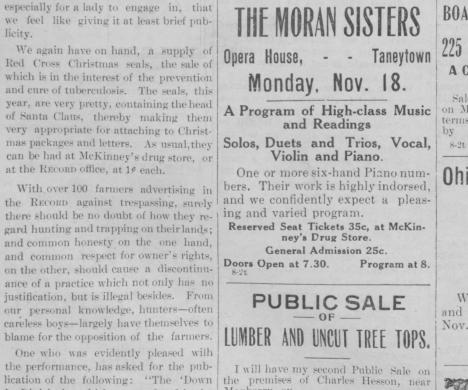

One who was evidently pleased with In Dixie' play which was rendered in the Mayberry, on Opera House, a week ago, is certainly deserving of a few words of praise. The at 1 p. m., 10,000 ft. of Boards, Oak to the unfavorable weather, was highly given. last display of their talent in Taneytown.", F. J. Albaugh, Auct.

Nov. 13.-Ex-Senator Washington, Mason, of Illinois, and Representative Dalzell were among the President's call-ers today. Mr. Mason, when leaving the of ill feeling or bitterness. He is the same big man he always was, without a whim-per or a kick. There is a big difference between standing in the spotlight of victory and the shadow of defeat." Ex-Senator Hemenway, commenting pend upon the legislation of the Dem to the Republicans in a jiffy. If the Dem-ocrats make good, I am willing to admit that it looks like eight or more years for the Demograte '' the Democrats." "As to the third term party, I have young men for the ministry, entirely at her own expense, at Gettysburg College. This information came to us, not for real party of opposition to the Demotalent they displayed as comedians and musicians was exceptionally fine. The audience, which was not so large, owing TERMS:- A credit of 3 months will be TERMS:- A credit of 3 months will be Persons having stock tosell, please drop, GEO. W. STAIR.

TUESDAY, NOV. 26, 1912,

tricts will take part. There will be evolve P. O. Box 75. 10-25-4t speaking and music.

If the weather is inclement, the parade will be the next clear even- Phone 17K. ing.

Lumber and Cord Wood At Public Sale.

On Monday, Nov. 18, 1912, On the premises of the undersigned, lately Dr. Clotworthy Birnie's Estate, in Carroll County, Md., on the road leading from Taneytown to Westminster, about 24 miles east of Taneytown, will be sold at Public Sale OAK

BOARDS, PLANK & SCANTLING (FULL-EDGE;) 225 Cords Cak and Hickory Wood A Credit of 3 Months will be given. Sale to commence at 1 o'clock p. m., on Monday, November 18, 1912, when terms and conditions will be made known A. M. KALBACH.

7-12-tf Will receive an express load Ohio and Kentucky Horses, on Friday, Nov. 15, 1912. Call and see them. Corn Rye. H. W. PARR, Oats HANOVER, PA.

Highest Cash Prices paid; also buy and sell Horses, Hogs, Sheep and Live Stock me a card. TAIR. ERCY F. HARVER, Frizellburg, Md. 11-15-2t C. & P. Phone.