SIDELIGHTS ON NEXT WEEK'S FAIR EVENTS

Superb Programs, Practical Exhibits,
Sensible Displays.

(For The Record.)

No man, woman or child needs hesitate to attend the great Victory Fair, next week, at Ohler's Grove. As a matter of fact, those who fail to take advantage of the four days of unparalleled opportunity will show a woeful lack of real appreciation of an honest-to-goodness and exceptional privilege. There is all too little going on in this community to shake us loose from the humdrum life we lead. Without decent relaxing, we are sure to become provincial, stale, fossilized, moss-backed, back-numbered, cranky, and, to all intents and purposes, dead.

The management of the Carroll County Victory Fair has spared no pains nor expense to make this year's occasion a real oasis in a desert life. While everything but the parson's stipend has soared beyond reach of most of us, the price of admission to the Fair grounds remains the same as in happy, by-gone days. Fourteen cents a day to those who buy season tickets! Try to get anything like "value received" for that amount anywhere; and yet right here at home for 55c—but why talk about it further! You couldn't get to hear Dr. Holt alone for that price in any Lyceum Course, even if you were "under sixteen."

Look on page five of this issue of the Carroll Record. Note the endless list of worthwhile things scheduled to please your eye and ear and tickle your fancy. Pry yourself loose from the soil, the pots and kettles and saunter out into God's first temple, under the fine old trees of the grove, and so get a new grip on life, put "pep" into your work, learn something worthwhile about your task on the farm, in the kitchen, on the playground.

The four days of the Child Welfare Conference in itself, equals, if not exceeds, the greatest thing our State has ever planned for the mothers and babies.

On Wednesday afternoon, 13th, there will be two of the most noted children's specialists in the country; Miss Julia Lathrop, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, Washington, and now on the Chautauqua platform; and Dr. J. N. Knox, Children's Specialist, of Mt. Vernon Hospital.

Never has there been in this country a more wonderful chance for the farmer to bring his problems and have specialists help him to the right answer.

See how the Agricultural College tears itself loose and comes right up to our doors, takes off its coat, rolls up its sleeves and gets right down to the business of showing us what to do and why we should do it that way. Note that the Md. Public Athletic League is back of the great Sports Meet of Friday and comes prepared with medals for all winners of certain specified events.

Backed by the National League to Enforce Peace, by the Children's Department of the U. S. Labor Bureau, by the State Board of Health officially and personally, by the Md. State Agricultural College, graced by the presence and address of his excellency, the Governor of Maryland, and his Attorney-General—not to mention the extreme eminence of Dr. Holt's place on the program—where's the human scare crow who dares lift his penny tin whistle and try to play his sickly tune of "scat?"

Get in on this one chance within reach of the poorest person or the meanest tighwad in the land.

"Hoop'er up" for all your worth and for at least once in a century show the other counties around us that they have nothing at all on dear old Carroll.

The Record has been unable to accommodate about two pages of advertising this week, because we had not the time, or necessary help, to run a supplement; moreover, we doubt the value of supplements to the advertiser, as well as their profitability to the publisher.

MRS. PITTINGER RELEASED.

The Case May be brought Before the Grand Jury Later On.

At the final hearing of Mrs. Wm. H. Pittinger and Arthur Wilson, in Frederick, on habeas corpus proceedings, both were released from custody. In discharging the prisoners Judge Worthington said there was nothing to prevent the grand jury from making a further investigation of the case, but that he did not believe the circumstantial evidence sufficient for holding the prisoners.

The proceedings began Tuesday of last week and were carried over until Friday when the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Pittinger, taken at the preliminary hearing, was read. In rendering his decision, Judge Worthington paid a tribute to the zeal of State's Attorney Anders and Sheriff Klipp for working up the case. He said suspicious circumstances had been developed that gave color to the theory of murder and which justified the suspicion of the officers that a crime had been committed. After reciting these circumstances he said it was up to the State to prove the guilt of the accused and that the evidence did not substantiate the murder theory. The testimony of the physician who made the post-mortem examination and discovered that the dead man's skull had been crushed, he said, was not satisfactory.

"My idea," said Judge Worthington "is that Pittinger committed suicide. All of the evidence of the State is purely circumstantial."

Carroll County Agricultural Exhibit.

The Advisory Council of Carroll County met in the County Agent's office, Monday night. A large number of delegates from the different organizations in the county were present. Special arrangements were made and committees appointed for the County Agricultural Exhibit which will be held Nov. 19, 20 and 21st.

The most important committee appointed was the committee on prize money. In order to award prizes for the best products and to the Boys' and Girls' Clubs $400 will be necessary. This amount will have to be raised by subscriptions from the business men of the county and towns. As the most popular counties of the country are noted for their fairs and exhibits, it is up to every Carroll County exhibit this year a success. This can only be done by seeing that everybody has several exhibits, and those who can, will help swell the prize fund.

"All aboard for Carroll County."

The following have been appointed by Advisory Council, on the Advertising Committee for the County Exhibit which will be held at the Armory Nov. 19, 20 and 21.

Robert S. Shriver, Westminster; E. A. Wolfe, Union Bridge; P. B. Englar, Taneytown; H. P. Gorsuch, Westminster; E. O. Diffendal, Westminster; Dr. Ehrhart, Westminster.

A Warning to Emmitsburg.

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, last week, served notice on Emmitsburg and vicinity that the re-established Chronicle had been operating in the field, six months, and that adequate support "has not been forthcoming," and asks these questions—"Are the people of this thriving community willing again to be without a local paper? Are the merchants hereabouts satisfied to be without a medium in which to advertise their merchandise?" The announcement closes with, "Unless there is a decided increase in the number of subscriptions this publication will be forced to give way to the paying end of the business."

As a bit of timely advice, seriously given, we place before all patrons of weekly papers the necessity of their continued and increased support, in every way, of their local newspapers, and that there be no complaint, nor withholding of business, in cases of reasonably increased prices for service. There is no service so great, or necessary, in any community, as that rendered by the home paper, and it must have adequate support—or quit.

Marriage Licenses.

Raymond John Geiman, of Millers, and Minnie Willa Martin, of Bachman's Valley.

Cecil J. Hill, of Taneytown, and Margaret Toop, of Westminster.

Herman Stewart Miller, of Red Line, Pa., and Hazel Viola Stine, of Dallastown, Pa.

Steward Stanley Schmidt and Janie Abbott, both of Manchester.

William Joseph Feeney, of Baltimore, and Edith Horning, of Westminster.

John Roy Wolford, of Martinsburg, W. Va., and Anna Cecelia Case, of Westminster.

Republican Primary Contest.

The Republicans of the county will have a primary election contest. At a special meeting of party representatives, held at Westminster, on Tuesday, to try to eliminate contests, the effort failed, as none of the candidates were disposed to withdraw. There will therefore be contests for the nomination for Senator between R. Smith Snader and Herbert R. Woodin; for State's Attorney between Wm. L. Seabrook and Theodore F. Brown; and for Sheriff between Herbert J. Motter and present Deputy Sheriff Bloom.

CLEATED TRACTION ENGINES MUST OBEY LAW

Two Owners Arrested For Causing Damages to Roads.

There is a section in the Maryland automobile law which says that no cleated motor vehicle can be operated on improved highways of this State, and traction engines are classified as motor vehicles, and licensed as such. And the law is to be enforced. "It is on the statute books and it is up to us to see that it is enforced," says Commissioner of Motor Vehicles E. Austin Baughman.

The controversy has come to an issue W. E. Gillis, tried before Justice Shipley, of Lisbon, Howard County, for operating a traction engine, cleated, over the National pike, near Lisbon, and fined $1, was before Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Baughman, Baltimore, last Friday, to show reason why his license tag to operate should not be suspended.

At the hearing before Justice Shipley, three State road engineers testified that the damage caused by the Gillis engine on the day of the arrest, resulting from a singlet tire over a short stretch of road (from one farm to another) was conservatively $275.

S. Mullinix, Mt. Airy, is also under arrest, charged with five different offenses, for operating his outfits, cleated, over improved roads. Mullinix, was called before Commissioner Baughman for an investigation, Saturday. It is alleged that the Mullinix outfits have caused several thousand dollars' worth of damage to roads.

(We have been looking through the papers for action in these two cases, but have been unable to see any note of how they were disposed of.—Ed. Record.)

Fight Opened Against Meat Packers.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Anti-trust suits against the great meat packing firms were announced today by Attorney-General Palmer as the first concrete development of the Government's campaign to reduce the high cost of living.

Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy, who have been pictured in the investigations of the Federal Trade Commission and before Congressional committees as a great combination in control of food products, are to be haled again before the Federal Courts by special prosecutors.

The evidence in hand Attorney-General Palmer declared, indicated "a clear violation of the anti-trust laws." Whether the prosecution would be civil or criminal, the Attorney-General declined to state, merely recalling that the law provided for both.

The history of all the Government's anti-trust prosecutions in 25 years does not show a single individual ever serving a jail sentence for a violation. There are evidences that the Government hopes for some in the present campaign.

Democratic State Ticket.

The Democratic State Central Committee, at its meeting at the Rembert, Baltimore, on Wednesday, made the following nominations:

For Governor, Albert C. Ritchie, of Baltimore.

For Comptroller, Mayor Brooke Lee, of Montgomery county.

For Attorney General, Mr. Thomas J. Keating, of Queen Annes County.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals, Caleb C. McGruder, of Prince Georges county.

The Baltimore Sun says of the nominations:

"The ticket is a harmony ticket and is the ticket which the party people at the Rembert wanted and which they believed could be elected. The Lee forces are recognized by the Smith State organization in the nomination of Major Lee. And Mr. Keating, the nominee for Attorney-General has not always been an organization man, having supported Senator Lee for the nomination for Governor in 1911, while Mr. Ritchie is not regarded as one of the State people's stalwarts, although he has been with them in late fights. The truth is that the ticket is less a State organization affair than any nominated in years. And because it is a party ticket, rather than a factional ticket, the party leaders last night believed that there would be more harmony in this campaign than in any in years, and that, despite the plain fact that a hard fight is ahead, the election will go to the Democrats. They plan to begin fighting today and to continue fighting until November."

Daylight Bill Again Passed.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The Senate decided today to have the proposal for repeal of the Daylight-saving law again run the gantlet of President Wilson's veto. By a vote of 41 to 12, the Senate passed and sent to the President the separate House bill repealing the Daylight-saving measure.

During brief discussion of the House bill several Senators predicted that the measure, like the daylight repeal rider on the Agricultural bill, would be vetoed. The separate House bill was passed June 18, but action in the Senate was suspended until today, and in the interim, the President vetoed the rider and the House was unable to enact it over the veto.

JAIL BREAKING FAILED.

Jail Robbers and Others Almost Work a Get-away Scheme.

Frederick, Aug. 3.—A jail delivery of 11 prisoners was prevented last night by Sheriff Charles H. Klipp, who in all likelihood saved the life of Deputy Sheriff Wesley Staley. Robert Ogle, who with Walter Weinhart, of Baltimore, held up the officials of the Walkersville Savings Bank at the point of revolvers and robbed the bank of $2,800 about two weeks ago, is said to have headed the plot. The prisoners were armed with pieces of pipe, iron from radiators and legs from their cots, ready to assault Deputy Staley on his final round to lock them in their cells.

The attempt was discovered by Sheriff Klipp about 20 minutes before the time for locking up the prisoners for the night. A negro trusty was called from the jail corridor to do some work and when he was taken back the Sheriff noticed other prisoners standing in groups conversing in an undertone. Becoming suspicious, the Sheriff summoned Deputies Staley and Dutrow and started an investigation.

The lock on the cell door of Ogle and Weinhart was found broken and patched in a manner to escape notice. It was also discovered that the lock on the door leading to the jail yard was picked. Another door, however, with a padlock on the outside, would have prevented the prisoners from going further. To get around this difficulty they had dug their way through the read wall of the jail and, after removing a number of brick and going in a half foot, encountered a steel grating, which stopped the progress of their work. The prisoners involved were:

Norman Ogle and Walter Weinhart, alleged bank robbers; Robert Brooks and Theodore Becraft, Brunswick, charged with stealing a horse and buggy; Frank Johnson, Joseph Gains and Ernest McCann, charged with stealing an automobile in Baltimore; George Gibbons, Mt. Airy; Robert Ashbaugh, LeGore, and Harry Johnson, charged with larceny, and Daniel Worthington, a suspect.—Sun Cor.

Catharine Conaway, executrix of Wm. H. Conaway, deceased settled her first and final account.

Chas. Carr, executor of Wm. T. Carr, deceased, received an order to sell real estate.

Frequency of Feeding Chickens.

Some poultrymen feed their flocks twice a day, while others feed them three times a day. The best plan is to feed fowls in confinement three times a day and those having free range in summer twice a day. When there is a very long interval between feeds it is difficult to keep fowls busy which are kept in confinement. Idle fowls often contract bad habits, such as feather pulling and egg eating, besides going out of condition from lack of exercise.

In case it is not convenient to feed three times a day, the moistened mash may be fed in the morning, and at the same time the noon feed of grain may be scattered in the litter, which will keep the fowls busy a great part of the day.

For those who can not conveniently feed their fowls early in the morning a good plan is to scatter grain plentifully in the litter after the birds have gone to roost. This grain will furnish feed for the early morning.

Some poultry keepers can look after their fowls only once a day. If this is in the morning, moistened mash may be fed, followed by throwing grain in the litter to furnish feed for the remainder of the day. If it is in the evening, before dark, a moistened mash may be given, and either after the fowls go to roost or in the morning, before daylight, grain may be scattered in the litter for eating during the day.—U. S. Dept. Agriculture.

The apple crop of Pennsylvania will be below normal, largely due to a heavy drop in June.

THE GOVERNMENT CALLS HALT ON STRIKE SITUATION.

Cannot Reduce Living Costs While a Strike is on Hand.

A walk-out, or strike, of railroad shopmen, that threatens to involve the whole country, commenced this week. As yet, the trainmen have not taken action, but it is generally conceded that they are in sympathy with the shopmen. The strike is, of course, for more pay, and accompanies a demand to Congress that the government take over the railroads and operate them, giving the workers not only higher wages, but a share in the profits of operation.

Permanent solution of the railroad problem was declared to depend upon the removal of returns to capital as the sole purpose of operation, and the Director-General, accordingly, was asked to recommend to President Wilson that he attempt to obtain early passage by Congress of organized labor's bill to eliminate private capital from control of the railroads and to give the employees a share in the profits. The unions declared the belief of the workers that transportation rates should be sufficient to guarantee just wages, maintain the properties and give equitable returns on money invested.

Coupled with the situation is the cry of "profiteering" in the matter of the "cost of living," and of abnormal profits to big capital. Just what will be the culmination of the beginning strike, nobody can foretell. It may be the forerunner of practical Bolshevism in this country, anarchy and ruin. It may mean the test of strength between union labor, and the forces of government. It may call for a show-down as to the political power of the over 2,000,000, or more railroad unionists in this country, and the other millions of unionists in other lines of work, as against the remainder of the people.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, by a unanimous vote, without regard to party has decided that while the Railroads are under government control, the President and Director General have ample power to deal with the situation—that responsibility for action is on the President and Director-General, and not on Congress. This may be the exact situation but it is not satisfying. Congress should not dodge, but accept the responsibility, even if it means taking it out of the hands of the President where it now rests.

The shopmen apparently demand an increase from 68c an hour to 85c, and 60c an hour for their helpers, the increases to date back from January 1st. Their present actions are in spite of the advice of leaders, as the union officials have not ordered strikes.

The President is trying to handle the situation by calling on the unionists to go back to work and await results on the action taken by the government to reduce living costs through prosecutions of the meat packers and others. He accepts the opinion of the Senate that he is free to act, and so far as labor is concerned says he cannot take up their claims while an unauthorized strike is in progress. He will appear before Congress today, and give a full outline of his plans.

Already, railroads have curtailed freight and passenger service, and have announced a number of freight embargoes. About 1500 employees of the Norfolk and Western road, at Roanoke, Va., have voted to return to work. It is estimated that at present about 300,000 men are out.

A Serious and Strange Accident.

Luther Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fox, of near Harney is lying in a serious condition at the Carlisle hospital as the result of an unusual accident, when the wooden handle of a pitch fork pierced his intestines and bladder.

Mr. Fox, who is 26 years old, for the past 17 months has resided with his father-in-law, Emory G. Starnier, in Cumberland township. Prior to that time, he lived at the home of his father, on the Littlestown-Harney road.

At 6:30 o'clock, on Saturday evening, work for the day had been completed on the Starnier farm, and Emory Starnier, his son, Willis, and Luther Fox and several farm helpers were descending from the hay mow after unloading the last load of oats.

Luther Fox pitched his fork down from the loft, and the implement struck prongs downward in some hay on the barn floor. When he had descended the ladder within two rungs of the floor, Fox jumped backward and landed upon the knobbed end of the fork which tore open his intestines, went deeply into his body and pierced his bladder.

Feeding Europe Costs Us Dear.

There is absolutely no question but that the one great cause of the high cost of living in this country, is the exportation of immense quantities of food to Europe, and there can be no material reduction until this demand ceases. It is therefore for the American people to say whether they want exportation reduced, or whether they are willing to leave matters go as at present, and keep on paying the price.

Nine-tenths of all the automobiles bought by Adams county, Pa., residents this year, went to people engaged in farming pursuits.

ARMY FOOD TO BE SOLD.

An Effort to Break Prices for Benefit of Consumers.

Immense surplus stocks of provisions held by the War Department are to be sold direct to consumers, or to municipalities in the interest of consumers. The sale begins on Monday, August 18, and at prices materially lower than those regularly prevailing. Parcel post may be used for distributing the purchases, but the purchaser will have to pay the postage from the place of storage.

As we understand it, canned goods will be sold by the case, or carton, but definite instructions along this line, or as to where orders may be placed, do not seem to be definitely given. Prices for food are quoted as follows:

Meats—Corned beef, No. 1 can, 30 cents; No. 2 can, 58 cents; 6-pound can, $2. Roast beef, No. 1 can, 29 cents; pound can, 41 cents; 2-pound can, 66 cents; 6-pound can, $2.20. Corned beef hash, pound can, 23 cents; 2-pound can, 40 cents. Bacon, in crates, 34 cents per pound; in 12-pound tins, 36 cents per pound.

Vegetables—Baked beans, No. 1 can, 7c; No. 2 can, 13c; No. 3 can, 18c. Stringless beans, No. 2 can, 11c; No. 10 can, 48c. Corn No. 2 can, 12c. Peas, No. 2 can, 11c. Tomatoes, No. 2 can, 11c; No. 2 1/2 can, 13c; No. 3 can, 15c; No. 10 can, 45c. Pumpkins, No. 2 can, 6c; No. 3 can, 9c; No. 10 can, 24c. Squash, No. 2 can, 6c.

The numbers of cans available for sale in each commodity range from 22,030,235 of the No. 3 cans of tomatoes, to 1,025 cans No. 10 size of pumpkin. The largest amounts otherwise are 15,000,000 No. 1 cans and 19,000,000 No. 2 cans of corned beef, 12,000,000 each of the 1 and 2-pound cans of roast beef, 11,000,000 each of the 1 and 2-pound cans of corned beef hash, 13,000,000 cans No. 3 size, baker beans, 18,000,000 Uo. 2 cans of corn, 10,000,000 pounds of crated bacon, and 6,000,000 pounds of bacon in 12-pound tins.

The sale, the War Department said, "will be the largest direct sale to the American people ever attempted." The prices were stated to be "materially lower" than those prevailing in the commercial market and the food was described as being in excellent condition. "All the commodities," the statement continued, "were Government inspected and prepared in accordance with army specifications."

The department said surplus property officers at Boston, New York, Baltimore, Newport News, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Ft. Sam Houston, El Paso, Omaha and San Francisco had been directed to make the sales. Presumably the regular zone rates for parcels post will apply from these cities in determining the cost to purchasers by the parcel-post system.

Labor and Other Troubles.

The Chicago street-car men voted down the action of their leaders and went back to work, on Saturday, on a compromise proposition. The men gain an increase from 48 to 65 cents an hour on the surface lines, and from 51 to 67 cents on the elevated lines, with an 8-hour day, and time and half time for overtime. The result will mean an increase in fares to the travelling public.

Representatives of 42 local unions of stockyard employees at Chicago voted for a general strike today, unless militia, policemen and deputy sheriffs, on duty to prevent race rioting, are withdrawn from the yards. More than 100,000 persons are employed in the yards. A strike was virtually begun yesterday, when hundreds of white men quit work after 3,000 of the 15,000 negro workers returned to the yards under troop protection. They had been compelled to remain at home because of last week's race rioting. The union men said they objected to negro non-union workers, and not to the workers simply because they were negroes. They claimed that about 5,000 white men walked out, but the packing company officials placed the number at about 650.

Thirteen of New York's leading "legitimate" theatres were closed Thursday night by an actors' strike, called an hour before the curtains were to go up, by the Actors' Equity Association. More than 15,000, including many who had braved the Brooklyn street car strike in order to reach the theatres, were disappointed. In most cases the suspension of performances was announced from the stage after managers had waited from 15 to 30 minutes to see whether the actors would put in an appearance.

Blind Persons in Carroll.

Miss Jane N. Christopher, State Home Teacher for the Blind, and Miss Minnie E. Hicks, Vice-President of the Maryland Association of Workers for the Blind, are completing a canvass of Carroll county in the interest of the blind. Doubtless most of our readers will be surprised to know there are thirty-five blind persons on record from this county. Five of these have been educated in the Maryland School for the Blind, three have received instruction in various trades at the workshop and still others would be glad to receive instruction in their homes if the necessary arrangements could be made.

Anyone knowing of a blind person, or one whose sight is seriously impaired, will confer a favor upon the individual and upon those who are seeking his best interests, by sending his name to 501 W. Fayette Street, Baltimore, Md.—Sykesville Herald.

Do Without—Don't Buy!

The government, and the newspapers of the country, working in harmony to the same end, could put a stop to the advance in prices, within a few weeks, or a month. The big question is, whether it would be wise to do so. It might be like throwing a monkey-wrench into delicately constructed machinery running at high speed—a wreck of the machine. The remedy for the price situation, is an organized strike on the part of customers, and the motto, "Do without—don't buy!"

We realize that it is considered bad policy to stop buying, and restrain business. Panics are precipitated because of loss of confidence and withdrawal of money from circulation. But, the present situation is abnormal, and old considerations no longer fit. There is a strong likelihood that there are a good many people in this country making capital, not only of the needs of other people, but are banking on their continuing to buy, at any price.

No thoughtful person having the best interests of the country at heart wants a crash—a panic. The plan to pursue, if at all possible, is to compel a stop in the upward tendency, then encourage—perhaps force—prices steadily downward to a fairer level to all. Whether this can be done is very doubtful, the likelihood being that when the turn comes, it will be a rout, and this may mean financial chaos, and perhaps ruin in some instances.

But, the stop must come. It dare not, in fairness and safety, be left go on. An overburdened people must, and will, throw the monkey-wrench, before long, no matter who it hurts.

The fact is, a large part of the responsibility for exorbitant prices, rests, not so much on "profiteering," as on ourselves. Much of our buying is from force of habit; some of it because we have not the courage to admit that "we can't afford" to buy things. Some of us are trying to "keep up" with others; others are slaves to fashions and the latest seasonable styles. We keep on, as though we must, buying things we could easily do without.

If the situation represents a game, in which advantage is being taken of our weaknesses—a game that represents a question of the survival of the strongest—then, the sooner we play our side of the game the better, and stop being made easy victims. "Do without—stop buying!" can be worked without a vast amount of real hardship, or sacrifice. Everybody should eat sufficient food, and buy sufficient clothing, and have sufficient fuel, and supply other comforts and care of the body; but, let us take more account of the kind and quantity of what actually constitutes "sufficient."

Continuously putting up costs of labor, and of the cost of products of labor, is no remedy. It is dangerous and unfair, because millions of people cannot increase their incomes. Even many of those who are handling lots of money, are not benefitted, but are helping to injure others. If prices go upward because of demand, the logical thing to do, when prices become unbearable, is try to help stop the "demand." Every purchase, not a necessity, helps to put up, and keep up, prices of everything.

Keeping "business moving" is a policy that we have always believed in, and it appears like revolutionary advice to advocate anything else; but the time appears rapidly coming when self-preservation will demand doing that which has always been considered rash, and the government may well take thought seriously of the danger of the present situation and try to overcome it by more gentle means than the masses will eventually use, right or wrong.

We rarely look to organized labor for any advice as to reducing living costs. These organizations usually take their own very effective ways of helping themselves, without much warning, or thought for others than themselves. William G. Lee, however, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has sounded a warning in a rather different spirit, that deserves, and is receiving, wide attention. He says that if there is no reasonable remedy in living costs, another demand will be made, October 1, for greater pay for railroad men. We quote a news report of his claims, as follows:

"Mr. Lee made public an abstract of the report of hearings recently held by the board of railroad wages on the trainmen's demands, and declared an 'upheaval' was nearer in this country today than ever before, due to the unrest arising from mounting living costs. The railroad and Government departments had better be assisting 'to crush profiteering' by the 'packers and other industries,' he said, than 'shouting across the table at each other' at hearings to consider still further increases.

"All of us are to blame," he said, 'because we are exerting every effort to get more money for ourselves and better conditions. Every day we must realize that the profiteers are taking double from the working men what is given them; and the trouble with the people on the hill (Capitol), with us and with every corporation and with everybody, is that we are exerting ourselves to get the dollar, while the working man is merely existing and while the profiteering is piling up millions.

"I will admit to you, gentlemen, that we are going the wrong way. I admit to you that it is time to call a halt; and I admit to you that until we get together, until we commence together to stop this, there will be hell in the country—and it is nearer today than I ever knew it in my experience. Just let somebody drop a match in this country of ours and it will be a sorry day for all of us.

"Unless my vision is most terribly obscured, then there is something coming to us pretty soon in this country that we had better take notice of. We had something of peace in this country prior to the war conditions. We were getting along fairly well until profiteering became so noticeable everywhere, and until the commodities that working people are compelled to pay for were permitted to be increased, doubled and trebled, without any question, and often seemingly with the approval of the government.

"We are nearer war in this world today, I believe, than when the Kaiser threw down the gauntlet. Our lawmakers are to blame, in my opinion, because the masses of the people would be behind them if they would attempt to correct it, and surely there is power to correct it; but instead they are playing politics, as some of these labor organizations are playing politics, and it is the same all down the line."

Mostly Junk.

This office is receiving, daily, masses of publicity stuff, all wanting free advertising, some of it good, but the most of it junk, so far as our use is concerned. A partial list is as follows:

Treasury department, census department, war department, and navy department, reports and needs; labor schemes of various kinds; Henry Ford's edited trial reports; Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Belgian Relief, American Legion, Y. M. C. A., Naval Recruiting, aid for French Children, M. E. Temperance Bureau, appeals and propaganda; Metric System benefits; moving picture promotion; sugar and beef interests publicity; anti-postal zone and pro-postal zone promotion; all sorts of prohibition and anti-prohibition and equal suffrage and anti-equal suffrage, arguments and speeches, and much more along the same general line.

In addition to these, there are the products of the advertising departments of big advertisers, such as the International Harvester Co., the Cash Register Co., Electrical Appliances, etc. Good roads bureaus, and building booms, Peace League propagandists add to the list; while there is a separate list of a more or less local character, all after an interview with the public—as "news," free of charge.

The most of this expensive campaigning is mere waste, because its fate is the waste basket, and baled scrap.

Sewering County Towns.

The State Board of Health, apparently by authority of law, is ordering the larger towns of the county to establish complete sewer systems. Both Westminster and Union Bridge have so far resisted the order, and just what the outcome will be, remains to be seen. Taneytown, in common with the other towns of the county, needs a sewer system, the only objection being the cost of such a system, especially at the present time when prices for materials and labor are fully 100% above normal.

In our judgment the Board of Health should go slow in using pressure, at this time. It is indefensible that such costly improvements should be enforced just now, and it is wholly natural that even progressivists in our county towns should resist the order. So far as we are able to judge, there are no conditions, nor results, detrimental to public health, that are now worse than they have been in the last ten years; and there is no evidence of sickness of any character, epidemic in our towns to any greater extent than in the county at large.

Open Treaty Sessions.

Congratulations are to be offered the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations for holding open sessions for consideration of the peace treaty during the hearing of experts. The traditions of a century are thus swept aside. Open covenants openly arrived at, the formula of Mr. Wilson finds adoption by the Senate committee while Mr. Wilson himself continues confidential conferences with members of the upper house. The material that he imparts probably is of a nature that would be inadvisable to give to the public; at least until the President goes upon his speaking tour, when he may feel that addressing the people directly he should give them practically unlimited confidence.

The Senate committee that has been the target of so much unjustified attack invites direct criticism by holding open sessions. Thus it will enable the people to know all that the committee discovers from hearing members of the American delegation, such as Mr. Lansing and experts like Mr. Bernard M. Baruch. The course is bold and sincere, and is in accord with American sentiment. There should be nothing hidden that is not brought to the light.—Balt. American.

When you want a pleasant physic, try Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. They are highly prized by people who have become acquainted with their good qualities. They only cost a quarter.

American vs. Irish Freedom.

The convention of the American Federation of Labor has voted an indorsement of the covenant of the League of Nations with the sole proviso that "nothing in the instrument can be construed as denying the right of self-determination and freedom to Ireland as recognized by the convention."

In other words, the convention was quite ready to bind the United States to a foreign agreement more complicated and far-reaching than any ever attempted in this country or any other. It was ready to vote without study or deliberation for a treaty pledging the United States to depart from traditional policy and to plunge into the center of old world politics, assuming responsibilities to which the convention had given virtually no consideration except that involved in a brief debate.

All this, which means so much to the delegates themselves, to their children, and their children's children the convention was ready to assent to light-heartedly. But when it came to the question of Ireland, the convention would take no chances.

We do not think this is common sense, much less Americanism. Concede everything that the most extreme Irish patriot says of the Irish question, still Americans ought not to be more zealous of the rights of any other people than they are of their own national welfare.

The Peace Treaty with the covenant will end American independence in the old sense. Its opponents believe it will seriously restrict our freedom of action. Its friends concede that it will restrict it in some degree. But the A. F. L. convention resolves all these questions of American independence with hesitation in favor of the Treaty, while it is so jealous of Irish freedom that it is made the object of a special reservation.

Why is not American independence as precious to the delegates of the A. F. L. as Irish?

Of course, we know it is. The convention accepted Mr. Gompers' indorsement of the covenant and did not consider American independence involved.

But this action was not marked by the alert Americanism the convention has shown in most other matters. It reflects rather the fashion nowadays, being more concerned with the troubles of other peoples than with the very serious problems confronting our own.

It would be better for us and better for the world if we corrected this. The world needs a strong United States, but even if it did not, we need it and our needs and interests—the needs and interests of 110,000,000 perfectly good Americans—are at least as worthy of consideration as the needs or interests or ambitions of any other people.—Chicago Tribune.

An Old Fault Finder.

An irritable and fault-finding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and bowels that act regularly is usually good natured. When troubled with indigestion or constipation, take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

From —
The Christian Workers Magazine,
Chicago, Ill.

August 10
Speech, Wise and Unwise.
James 3:1-18.

Speech is the exponent of character, and it also determines destiny. See Matthew 12:37. In the light of this, how forceful are the words, "Let your speech be always with grace seasoned with salt," and how necessary is the prayer, "Set a watch before my mouth and keep the door of my lips."

The whole of this third chapter of James has to do with speech. It gives instruction concerning the tongue. In verses 1 and 2 the tendency to talk too much is rebuked. The word "masters" is really "teachers." In the gatherings of the early church the presiding officer was not the sole speaker as he is now. Religious meetings took the form largely of question and answer. This form, although useful for many purposes, had in it an element of danger. Those without the gift of teaching or the ability to answer correctly, assumed to be teachers and thus brought upon themselves obligations that they could not fulfill and the "greater condemnation" as a consequence. Against this the words of verse 1 are directed.

The power of the tongue is seen in verses 3-5, 7, 8. Horses are controlled by bits and bridles, ships are directed by the use of the helm or rudder, beasts and birds and reptiles of all kinds are tamed by men, but "the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison." Rules and regulations, education and legislation, all have failed to tame the "unruly evil."

The cause to which this condition is traceable, is found in the closing words of verse 6 and also in verse 14. The "strife of tongues" arises from strife in the heart. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh."

Something corresponding to the experience in Ezekiel 36:25-27 must take place in us before we can know "the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free." Although "the tongue can no man tame," yet the impossible with man is possible with God. In Christ Jesus provision is made for the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, and the fruit of that indwelling is self control (See Galatians 5:22,23, R. V.). This includes the taming of the tongue and its proper use in "wise speech."

To Help You Win

Riches—power—happiness. The average man places these as his goal. He dreams about having them.

But the average man is slow to take a practical step towards that goal. He is content to dream about it—and never gets there.

The most practical start is to start a savings account. Rockefeller had to save his first thousand dollars. It earned the rest of his fortune.

Character Earns Credit

Saving men not only have capital for their efforts. In saving, they establish a reputation which will make it easy to secure additional capital when necessary.

A farmer has frequent need for capital if he is striving continually to improve his property. How important it is then that he build up his credit—establish his character.

The easiest and quickest way is to start a savings account.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1883 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At 5 o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man."

Mrs. Fannie Sappington and two daughters spent a few days with Dr. Arthur Angell and wife, of Hamilton.

Mrs. Newman is spending some time with her sister in Littlestown.

In Loving Remembrance of our dear aunt, MRS. EDWARD FORNEY, who departed this life one year ago, August 9, 1918.

Oh how sudden was her death,
When the word came that she was dead.
Time was too short to say farewell,
To the one we loved so well.

The aunt we loved so dear is gone:
'Twas hard to say good-bye;
But God knows best she is at rest;
We shall meet her by and by.

By her loving niece and nephew,
MR. and MRS. MELVIN T. HESS.

Oh how hard we tried to save her;
Prayers and tears were all in vain.
Happy angels came and took her,
From this world of toil and pain.

DAVID M. HESS.

In Sad but Loving remembrance of our dear little niece, RUTH A. CROUSE.

Just to think, one year ago today,
Since we have laid our darling little niece away.

Rest in peace, dear Ruth:
One year has passed away.
If you only knew the changes,
That happened since that day.

Death has robbed us of our niece,
Whom we loved and cherished dear;
It was Ruth, yes, dear Ruth;
Can we help but shed a tear.

Beautiful, lovely she was but given,
A fair bud to earth, to blossom in heaven.
Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth alone her casket keeps;

Oh, how sad the summons was for her
Father, mother, brother and sister.

By her loving Uncle John and Aunt SALLIE ALBAUGH.

In Sad but Loving remembrance our dear little daughter and sister, RUTH A. CROUSE, who died one year ago, August 9, 1918.

Lovingly and tender we laid her to rest,
Away from earth's sorrow and care;
And now she is waiting to welcome us home,
With the blessings of heaven to share.

Alone in her silent grave,
'Neath the sod and the dew:
Never a moment forgotten,
In silence we think of you.

Sleep on, dear daughter Ruth, and take your rest,
God called you home; He thought it best;
He saw your suffering here was great,
And opened wide the Golden Gate.

The charms of life from us have fled,
Have all been buried with the dead,
And hidden from our sight.

Dear Ruth, when the weeping willows
over us weep,
And in our silent graves we sleep,
It will be then, and not before,
That we will think of you no more.

By her loving Father and Mother,
You are resting in peace, dear sister;
One year has passed away;
Thou art gone, but not forgotten;
We think of you each day.

Gone from our home, but not from our hearts,
Budded on earth to bloom in heaven;
Keep her, Jesus, in Thy keeping;
'Till we reach that celestial shore.
Then, oh Mother, let us have her,
To keep and love her as before.

By her loving Sister and Brother,

Kangaroo Scored Knockout.

"Ned Kelly, the old buck kangaroo, has been having a fight with the boss staff of the axis deer herd," said Sergeant McGee of the San Francisco park police, "and it is the first time I ever heard of two herbivorous animals so widely different in species finding common ground for a quarrel."

"As a matter of fact, it was the axis deer that started the trouble. He was trying to show off before the does and started butting at poor old Ned Kelly who was peacefully lolloping about with no thought for trouble. The first butt of the deer set Ned thinking, the second set him mad, the third—well, Ned Kelly just turned about and gave the axis deer one wallop under the stomach with its tail. You could hear the smack five blocks away, and it simply knocked the deer flat. It dropped as if it had been shot, while Ned Kelly just hopped away as happy as a bird."

Workers Go Ahead of Shirkers.

Most of us are unwilling to give ourselves to our work for ten hours out of the day, much less 20—indeed, five hours of work is as much as most of us really accomplish, and many of us far less than that.

There is no royal road to success any more than there is to learning. It is said that there is no such thing as an average man or woman, but if each of us would live up to our possibilities there is no limit to what we might accomplish. In any business office you will find the workers and the shirkers, and very often it may seem that the shirkers get just as far ahead as the workers, but the probability is that, should you go back after a year and a day to any one of these same offices, you will find that those who had labored had forged away ahead of those who had idled.

ANOTHER SPHERE FOR WOMEN

Possibility That the Fair Sex Will Carry Off Honors in Field of Naval Architecture.

"The women who have stormed the fortress of naval architecture have won a place in what is perhaps the most interesting professions in the world," says Manchester Guardian. "Mr. Chesterton has commented on the odd fact that, while men have been building houses from the beginning of time, they have not achieved anything like a perfect house, but the position as regards ships is still more curious. Your house may not be a perfect house, but, with proper precautions, you can be sure of getting what you planned and of getting a house that will stand. Even now it is far otherwise with ships. Take the case of racing yachts. Two yachts may be built on similar plans by the same firm; one will be a triumphant success, the other a rank failure; no one seems to know why. Big liners are built nowadays in pairs or triplets; yet any seafaring man will maintain that they are entirely distinct in every essential particular, and even in the matter of speed there will almost certainly be a difference. Stranger than all is the case of warships, which seem to delight in puzzling their architects. In the case of one class of splendid cruisers in our own navy radical changes had to be made after trial trips, and it is pretty well known that some designs have been far from coming up to what was expected of them; yet at this date it would have been supposed that experts could not be deceived. However, it may perhaps be said that woman will find a natural affinity for these little peculiarities."

REGULAR CYCLES OF THOUGHT

Might Be Described as Periodical Waves Passing Through and Agitating the Human Mind.

Just as we find a mathematical rule at many of the bodily movements, just so thought may be supposed to have its regular cycles. Such or such a thought comes round periodically, in its turn. Accidental suggestions, however, so far interfere with the regular cycles, that we may find them practically beyond our power of recognition. Take all this for what it is worth, but at any rate you will agree that there are certain particular thoughts that do not come up once a day, nor once a week, but that a year would hardly go round without your having them pass through your mind. Here is one which comes up at intervals in this way. Some one speaks of it, and there is an instant and eager smile of assent in the listener or listeners. Yes, indeed; they have often been struck by it.

All at once a conviction flashes through us that we have been in the same precise circumstances as at the present instant, once or many times before.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Origin of Japanese Language.

"The closest relation of the Japanese tongue is with ancient Hebrew, although, in some cases, words show a great resemblance to Arabic, which conserves the more archaic features of the parent speech."

This conclusion has been reached by Dr. Robert Armstrong Stewart of Johns Hopkins university after an investigation of the origin of the Japanese language, according to the Japan society, for which he has prepared a statement. Continuing, he says:

"In the course of the investigations there were established the mutations that go far to proving the original unity for the Aryan and of the Semitic speech and that explain the points of correspondence noted between Japanese and Indo-European. Hence, it develops that primarily through the Semitic, and secondarily through the Indo-European, Japanese is related to our English tongue—a fact that should conduce to quickened interest of the two peoples in one another and lead to a better understanding."

Romance of Business.

Platinum worth $2,415,000 and weighing 23,000 ounces was recently brought into this country. It traveled from Russia as the personal baggage of a Massachusetts business man, who had undertaken on his own responsibility to secure it for the government. To this task he gave over a year of his time without remuneration, advanced his own funds, overcame an uncounted number of dangers, obstacles and hardships, and sacrificed his health. A tragic ending to the story of commercial romance is supplied by his death, four hours after his return, from exhaustion.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Now They Help Missionary.

The death of a cat caused a man and his wife, members of the Trinity M. E. church in Washington, to decide that it would be possible for them to support a native missionary in China as their contribution to the centenary movement in which the Methodist Episcopal churches are to spend $105,000,000 for war reconstruction and home and foreign missions during the next five years. It was costing them $3 a month to feed the cat, and until kitty passed on they didn't see how they could afford to give $50 a year to support a native missionary in China.

'Twas Said

—at a luncheon table by the joker of the party. "I had a dream the other night and thought I was in business with a rich man. We were selling potted flowers but to discontinue. I wanted the pots and the flowers as my share, and business was bad and we decided took them."

"What did the rich man want," asked one of the guests innocently. "Oh, he wanted the earth."

Pretty rich, isn't it? Almost sounds like some customers that we once heard about from a distant friend of ours. Wanted the Earth and everything in it whenever they made a purchase. Which reminds us of how different our regular customers are when they trade in this Store. ### BEYOND ALL OTHER DEBTS

Leaning Turrets of Benares Recall to Men Their Deep Obligation to Their Mothers.

You can repay all services, all kindnesses, either by money, or service, or love, or devotion, but a mother's debt you can never repay. Bhupendranath Basu writes in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts. Those of you who have been to India and visited Benares must have noticed the leaning turrets on the banks of the Ganges. Benares is the holiest city of the Hindus, and temples erected there were considered as earning great merit for both those who built them and those in whose memory they were built.

Tradition says these turrets are the remnants of a Hindu temple which a dutiful son erected to the memory of his dead mother, believing that he would thereby repay the debt which he owed to her. When the temple was completed after several years—for you can even now see it was a great temple of stone—and was about to be consecrated, the son was filled with the pleasure which comes of a duty discharged, and he cried out: "Now, mother, I have after all been able to repay my debt to you," and lo! and behold, the temple began to lean toward the earth, and was about to fall, when the pious builder, remembering his blasphemy, exclaimed: "Oh, mother that art in heaven, truly I am sinful, for how can I think of repaying my debt to thee?" and the fall of the temple was arrested, but the leaning turrets still preach a great lesson to devout Hindus who visit Benares.

MOORS HAVE NOT LOST HOPE

Despite Long Dispossession, They Still Hope to Return to Granada and the Alhambra.

At Granada, I remember, that the guardianship of the Vela (or Watch) tower at the extreme western point of the Alhambra, directly overlooking the city, has been in the hands of one family for several hundred years—practically since the conquest, in 1492! During a stay of several weeks at Granada, I cultivated that family, consisting of an aged crone, a middle-aged daughter and a scapegrace grandson called Escamillo.

Upon the top of that tower hangs the famous "wishing bell" that is believed to insure a husband to any girl who can knock it with her knuckles sufficiently loud to make it ring. The bell is about seven feet above the nearest perch, and that is where Escamillo comes in. He allows the anxious girl to climb upon his back and then stands erect so she can reach the object of her hopes. The gratuity is never less than a peseta (19 cents), and the fees often equal $1,000 a year.

That bell is supposed to be rung hourly throughout the night to apprise the sleeping people in the city

Find a Moth Exterminator.

Experiments of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, have demonstrated that naphthalene is uniformly effective in protecting woollens from clothes moth infection and in killing all stages of the insect. A red cedar chest readily killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae. It did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all the resulting larvae almost immediately. Red cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the flannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.—Des Moines Register.

INDIAN KNEW WHERE TO DIG

Red Man's Action and Finds Have Considerably Mystified Residents of Missouri Town.

The region about Caruthersville, Mo., is rich in lore about hidden gold and silver and mounds rich with pottery. Too, there are great, strange caves to be found thereabouts, never ending subjects for speculation and wonderment, say the Kansas City Star.

A few years ago an Indian went to Caruthersville with several skin maps and dug up pottery that was worth several thousand dollars. He offered $1,500 to be allowed to dig into one mound near the town. However, the owner decided that if the mound was worth so much money for exploration purposes he would do the exploring. He did and found nothing.

Some time later the Indian returned to that section, hired a man with a wagon and team and drove out into the country to a spot where three pecan trees grew in a triangle. He dug down and unearthed two boxes, so heavy that a man could not lift one end of either. He had them shipped away and to this day their contents is a much discussed mystery of that locality.

Began Life in Coalpit.

Sir Joseph Cook, the minister of the Australian navy and one of the commonwealth's delegates to the peace conference, began life in a coalpit in Staffordshire, England. While a working miner he sought to improve his education in every way, and in his spare moments in the pit acquired a knowledge of shorthand. At the age of twenty-five he decided to try his luck in Australia and went to New South Wales in 1885. He obtained work in a mine near Sydney and took an active interest in promoting the welfare of his fellow-workers. He then became secretary of the local miners' union and this proved the stepping-stone to political life.

"It's a Cinch"

CANNOT LOSE MONEY IF INVESTED WISELY

Funds Put Into War Savings Stamps
Are Absolutely Safe and Yield
Handsome Profit to Holder

Government securities afford the safest and most practical investment in the world. A War Savings Stamp is a promissory note for $5 if redeemed at maturity, or for the original cost of the stamp plus accrued interest if redeemed before maturity.

It was only after America entered the great world conflict that the small wage earner in this country was afforded the opportunity of investing in government securities; of becoming co-partners with the government. That there are today more than 20,000,000 holders of government securities is a fact which speaks for itself.

When you buy a War Savings Stamp you are helping the government. To be able to make a loan to the government, even as small as the sum represented by a War Savings Stamp, is a proof of patriotism and also a practical manifestation of that spirit of national thrift and individual savings which has come to us as a permanent heritage from the war.

WEALTH OF NATION GROWING RAPIDLY

In Washington some of those experts, who are masters of figures, and who have a mind attuned to statistics, frequently dig up queer things. One of this type has figured out that the total wealth of the United States is $300,000,000,000. Then he figures out the new wealth produced annually, which he terms "net income." This gets into dizzy figures, too. He estimates that last year the national wealth increased $18,000,000,000, which he admits is going faster than the normal. Another Washington official points out that one of the best ways to conserve this national income in wealth is for individuals to buy War Savings Stamps.

ONE SAFE PLACE FOR LIBERTY BONDS—THE BANK—PUT YOURS THERE

The Cumberland (Md.) Evening Times prints the following, which should be a reminder to all who are now keeping their Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps in boxes around the house or in broken tea pots or in mattresses:

Mrs. William B. Dever, wife of Fireman-Engineer Dever, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, of Rowlesburg, W. Va., threw $1,650 worth of Liberty Bonds into the Cheat river, back of her home, by mistake, with rubbish she had cleaned from their home. The valuable bonds have not been recovered although a diligent search of the Cheat river bottom in that vicinity has been made.

W. B. Dever's great loss of bonds has a parallel. W. W. Wood, Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineer, lost $150 worth of Liberty Bonds from his pocket. They were a $100 and $50 issue. Engineer Wood intended to deposit the bonds in a local bank. They have not been located.

A laborer unloading a car of coal at Paw Paw, Saturday, found a $100 bond in the coal. It is thought to have dropped from the pocket of a car loader at the mines. The laborer reported the matter to the company's station agent at Paw Paw. It is said, with a view of returning it to its owner.

VALUE OF SAVINGS BECOMES APPARENT

One of Great Lessons of War is That of National and Individual Thrift,
Now Rapidly Growing

Now that the new German government has accepted the inevitable, and has officially signed the peace terms dictated by the allies and the conditions associated with them, the greatest and most disastrous war that ever scourged the world is ended.

For nearly five years the world has been topsy-turvy. The things that were needed yesterday are no longer required, and the activities of the great war establishments and munition plants are being diverted to the manufacture of implements of peace.

There must now be a readjustment. Governments that have thought in billions and spent money with a lavish hand, must retrench and think in millions and even smaller amounts, and must gain a new perspective.

Viewed in the retrospect the part played by America in the great world war is one of the most glorious chapters in history. And in the making of this brilliant history the plain American citizen played a stellar role. The mountains of munitions, the equipment for the millions of soldiers, the great ships that carried the men across the ocean, could not have been provided had not the common people of America provided the money.

Much of this money was obtained through the sale of Liberty Bonds and War Savings and Thrift Stamps. This great volume of money has not been wasted. First it brought permanent peace to the world, and now that real peace is here, every cent that was so invested will come back to those who aided their government, and it will come back with interest.

This war that is now happily ended has taught the people the value of saving. They went into the saving game as much through patriotism as anything else. But now that they are reaping the returns, and see that what they did with a patriotic motive is a real foundation for future fortune, they have gained a new confidence in their country, and they will continue to buy the securities the Treasury Department offers, and will make the country many-fold more prosperous than it would have been had not the war instilled the lesson that will prove invaluable in future years.

PAYING OFF THAT MORTGAGE

Theodore Roosevelt said: "Thrift is merely the use of hard common sense in the spending of money." Paying off the mortgage on the installment plan by buying War Savings Stamps is one of the uses of this hard common sense.

Not only does this plan offer a practical way of saving small amounts of money, but small amounts may be earning interest as soon as they are set aside toward the collecting of the larger sum. This interest in turn materially helps to reduce the 6 per cent interest rate commonly charged on mortgages.

When the mortgage comes due it may either be paid off in whole, or in part and renewed, the method of saving through War Savings Stamps being employed until the principal is liquidated.

"May the vast future not have to lament that you neglected it." Buy Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps.

Is the glue on the back of War Savings Stamps flavored with peppermint or wintergreen? Buy one and find out.

HOW WOUNDED ANIMALS CURE THEMSELVES WHEN INJURED OR SICK

Few people realize how many animals are constantly getting hurt and sick. The wild animals seldom get sick from what they eat, but the domestic animals frequently do. Wild animals get injured from fighting with other animal enemies. In all cases, animals have a way of doctoring themselves that is remarkable.

Animals suffering from fever eat nothing, keep quiet, seek darkness and airy places, drink much water and sometimes plunge into the water from time to time. When a dog has lost its appetite it eats that species of grass known as "dog's grass." Cats also eat grass, catnip, etc., when sick. Sheep and cows in the same circumstances seek out certain wild plants.

If an ant's foot is cut, other ants will cover the wounded part with a transparent fluid from their mouths. If a chimpanzee is wounded it stops the flow of blood by placing its hand on the wound or dressing it with leaves and grass.

A ferrier had an injured eye. It remained lying under a counter, avoiding heat and light, although it had been its habit to keep close to the fire. It adopted the general treatment—rest and abstinence from food. The local treatment consisted in licking the upper surface of its paw, which it then applied to the wounded eye, again licking the paw when it became dry. Cats, when hurt, also treat themselves by this simple method.

The methods adopted by most of the wild animals for doctoring themselves are unknown to man, but there is no doubt that every animal has the ability to skillfully doctor itself.

TO FOIL "PESKY" TERMITES

Why Furniture That Is Intended for South America Must Be Thoroughly Poisoned.

Furniture makers who want to make a market for their wares in South America will have to poison the wood thoroughly. This is the warning issued in a bulletin of the United States department of commerce prepared by Trade Commissioner Harold E. Everley. The reason is that unless the wood be so treated the termites will eat it.

When hatched, the termite is "an active, crawling six-legged creature that very soon begins to feed on its choice food—wood." It works secretly, burrowing innumerable tunnels, running usually with the grain and leaving only a thin shell on the outside. Often their presence is unsuspected until some person on taking hold of a chair, the top of a desk or a panel of a bureau finds his fingers break through as if the object was made of eggshell, and then the whole thing collapses.

The hardness of the wood makes no difference to the termites, the only woods that escape destruction being Spanish cedar, resinous Georgia pine and others that contain a substance disagreeable to the taste of the termites. No varnish protects, and the lumber must be thoroughly impregnated with a chemical poison that will remain effective even after kiln drying.

How Cat Hypnotizes Birds.

Ever hear of hypnotized birds? That's what happens when a cat fixes her eyes on a mature bird, and makes it flutter helplessly toward the cruel claws.

This is the time of the year when bird tragedies are most common. So Miss Matilda Root, chairman of the Animal Protective league, has begun her appeal to cat owners.

"The young birds suffer more than the mature ones," said Miss Root. "Now is the time when people should begin to think about protecting the fledglings before they start to fly."

"Great care should be taken to feed the cats well. House cats will not hunt for their meals when their stomachs are full."

"Mature birds can generally keep out of the way of danger. That is, except when the cat uses her power of mesmerism."

"My own pet nearly caught a large robin that way."

How New Fuel Is Made.

Liquids and solids do not ordinarily mix, and the idea of combining coal and petroleum to make a new fuel sounds rather chimerical at first, says Popular Mechanics magazine. Yet that very thing has been done, and successfully, by pulverizing the coal so finely that it forms a colloidal or suspended mixture with oil. This compound passes freely through all regular oil pipes and burners, so that it can be used for power and heat without equipment change; and it generates a greater heat value than oil alone.

How to Keep Castaways Dry.

Louis O. Anderson has invented a "storm cover" for boat and rower so completely that waves and rain will roll off it as water rolls off a duck's back. The suit, which includes a head piece, is made full at its junction with the rubberized cover, says Popular Science Monthly, so that the oarsman may try to paddle with one of his oars while sitting in the stern with his tail spread out behind him. His other oar makes a backbone for the cover.

BASIC PRINCIPLE IS FAITH

Whole Child Character Built on It,
According to Writer in Mother's Magazine.

A man never marries the woman he jokes about, and never jokes about the woman he marries. If women followed the same rule, marriage would be the gainer. And if wives worried less about the unborn and used more reason about the children that are born, a single generation would revolutionize society.

The boys of today are Fathers in the Making. The kind of fathers they turn out to be will depend entirely upon the influences that form their characters as children.

I have said the man's faith in woman is stronger than woman's faith in man. Do not forget that truth. But, even when faith flies out of the window, love may remain.

Keep this distinction between love and faith clearly before you, because the foundation of the home, and the basis upon which child character is built, is faith.

First, there is the faith of the husband and wife, each in the other.

Second, there is the faith of the child in the mother.

Third, the faith of the child in the father.

Fourth, the faith of parents in the child.

Fifth, the faith of the child in the true principles of life, and its own duties and rights as a human being.

These five elementary influences determine the character, and in the absence of and other force greater, usually remain the moving impulses of the individual all through life.—John Horace Lockwood, in Mother's Magazine.

Oil and Helium in Canada.

Canadian commercial enterprise is again before the British public in the form of two announcements, the first being that exploitation of the oil fields of Western Canada on a large scale is in contemplation.

The second announcement refers to the discovery in large quantities in Western Canada of helium, the lightest known gas after hydrogen, which is more suitable than the latter for filling airship envelopes, as it is non-inflammable and nonexplosive.

Trade With Nicaragua.

Declared exports to the United States from Bluefields, Nicaragua, amounted to $2,715,222 in 1918, an increase of $1,283,452, compared with the value of the 1917 exports. Bananas were the chief article of export, the value of those shipped being $1,101,609 in 1918, a large increase over the 1917 shipments of $204,992.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs.

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is included in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease. Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, in sealed packages.

Kid—Paw wants to know, Mr. Jones, if you'll trust him for a 15-pound turkey till pay night?

Butcher (amazed)—He didn't say that?

Kid—Well, not exactly. All he wants is two pounds of pork sausage, but I thought I'd begin high and then come down bit by bit if you proved stubborn.

Such Is Life.

"Man is a creature of routine. Goes to work and then goes home."

"That's right. If Shakespeare were to come along we'd be glad to see him, but what would we do with him?"

"Dunno. Get him to autograph the family volume of his plays and then close the book."

Drew a Dummy.

Hostess—I'm sorry you found Miss Biggle a poor conversationalist.

Jack—Poor conversationalist? She's absolutely the limit! Why the only thing she said to me the entire evening was "no," and I had to propose to her to get her to say that.

Physician Asserts it is Caused by Obstruction of Outflow of Lymph, Due to Muscular Effort.

The assumption that close application is the cause of myopia or nearsightedness is not regarded as a satisfactory explanation. In a recent number of the Lancet the theory is advocated by Dr. Ethridge Green that the primary and essential cause is an obstruction of the outflow of the lymph. The obstruction may be produced by severe muscular effort, such as lifting heavy weights, when a feeling of tension is always experienced in the eyes, which appear, in extreme cases, to be starting from the head. This is more especially the cause of progressive myopia among warehouse men, porters and others whose work involves excessive effort, while with those engaged in sedentary occupations the form of exercise taken may be responsible, as, wrestling, rowing, digging and also coughing. Thus when signs of commencing myopia appear anything likely to increase the intraocular tension should be avoided. There is no need to avoid reading.

I. Paul Called to Macedonia (Acts 16:9-12).

The inclination of Paul and his companion was to tarry in the province of Asia, preaching the Word, but they were hurried along against their inclination. Realizing that the Spirit knew best they obeyed. In the guidance of the Spirit we find him just as active and as faithful in closing doors as in opening them. Those who are disposed to do the will of God should heed this fact. Being hemmed in on all sides, Paul saw in a vision a man of Macedonia pleading for help. He now saw clearly the mystery of the closed doors about him. As soon as the divine way was known they rendered immediate obedience. As true servants of God they did not question his wisdom nor delay action. Christ, the Divine servant, is the pattern of obedience for all time.

II. Paul Winning Lydia to Christ (Acts 16:13-15).

With Paul as leader, the missionaries went to Philippi where they spent several days studying the conditions there. The Jewish element in the city was very insignificant, as they could not afford a synagogue, making it necessary for the devout people to frequent the river side for worship. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women gathered there. A certain woman by Thyatira, a proselyte, he lived in his message and was baptized. The work of the Lord here had a very humble beginning, but it was destined to transform all Europe and the world. Lydia's is a typical conversion, therefore it is worthy to note—

1. Her attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13).
2. She listened to the preaching of the Word of God (vv. 12-14).
3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14).
4. She was baptized (v. 15).
5. Her household believed (v. 15).

III. The Blessed Issue of Soul-Winning (James 5:19, 20).

The business of soul-saving is the most important in which a human being can engage. Anyone who has been saved can point lost souls to the Savior. Christ came to save the lost (Luke 19:10). It is the blessed privilege of all Christians to labor together with God in rescuing the perishing. The result of soul-saving is twofold:

1. It saves souls from death (v. 20). Meditation upon the three words "saves," "soul," "death," will make us conscious of the tremendous importance of soul-saving. We must realize the value of the souls before we can give ourselves to the work of saving them. A soul is of more value than the whole world (Matt. 16:26). God valued souls so much that he gave Jesus to die for them (John 3:16).

2. "Hides a multitude of sins" (v. 20). God's way of hiding sin is to save men from it. Every sinner has a multitude of sins, therefore every soul saved hides that multitude of sins. When sins are thus hidden they are out of God's sight forever. "As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us." (Psalms 103:12). He remembers our sins against us no more. (Isa. 43:25.)

Open to the Light.

The heart of a true Christian appears like such a little white flower as we see in the spring of the year; low and humble on the ground; opening its bosom to receive the pleasant beams of the sun's glory; rejoicing as it were in a calm rapture; diffusing around a sweet fragrance; standing peacefully and lovingly in the midst of other flowers round about; all in like manner opening their bosoms to drink in the light of the sun.—Jonathan Edwards.

What Trial Is.

That which purifies us is trial, and trial is by what is contrary.—John Milton.

Despondency and Hope.

Despondency is ingratitude—hope is God's worship.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Growth.

To become like Christ is the only thing in the world worth caring for, the thing before which every ambition of man is folly, and all lower achievements vain. . . . Reflect the character of Christ and you will become like Christ.—Henry Drummond.

What Heaven Is Like.

Heaven is where love is, and where love is there heaven is. Our homes and the homes of our neighbors should give to each of us some idea of what the real heaven is like.

SENATOR WARFIELD IS AGAIN IN THE FIELD

In Cogent Statement to Carroll County Voters
He Stands Unreservedly upon his Record and Asks for its Approval.

TO THE VOTERS OF CARROLL COUNTY:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the State Senate, subject to the Democratic Primaries.

The people of Carroll County, to whom I am grateful, elected me to the Senate in 1915, pledged to economy and efficiency in the public service and to advocate the abolishing of needless offices and to a business administration of public affairs. How well I discharged the trust then reposed in me, I leave to you, whom I have served, to decide.

As a member of the Finance Committee I did my part in reducing the expenses of the legislative sessions of 1916 and 1918 as compared with the sessions of 1912 and 1914, over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The same committee also approved the Budget System of finance, which system I consider a great safe-guard surrounding the receipts and expenditures of public money.

Our State appropriated, and placed at the disposal of the Council of Defense, two million dollars to meet emergencies arising from the world war and, notwithstanding this fact our State taxes did not advance, which still leads me to believe that under normal conditions our taxes can be reduced.

I believe in encouraging agricultural interests in every possible way. I am in sympathy with the advanced position our State has taken in the building of our highways, in the strengthening of our educational system and other constructional legislation.

I am better prepared from experience to serve you now than before, and I ask your support that I may be returned to the Legislature to complete the work I have started in the interest of our State and County.

Her First Lesson.

The newly married man came home from his office happy. He was greeted as newly married men are greeted—with a kiss—and this, in fashion of his kind, he returned with interest. "Of course, we shall go out to dinner, darling," he remarked.

"Yes, dearest," replied the happy young woman.

"But one of these days we shall have a dinner here, darling, shall we not, of your own cooking?"

"Of course, dearest," she replied, "I am getting along famously with my cooking lessons."

"And it will be such a change," he continued, "from the monotonous fare of the restaurants."

"There were more kisses."

"Did you take cooking lessons today, darling?" he asked.

"Yes, dearest."

"And what did you learn?"

"There was pride in her tone as she replied: 'Today, dearest, I learned how to boil water.'—Ohio Observer.

To Stop Extract Drinking.

Demands for lemon extract, Jamaica ginger, milder brands of cologne and other alcoholic-containing liquids now on the market has increased so greatly lately that the earnest attention of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has been called to this phenomenon, says a dispatch from Baltimore.

Well-founded suspicions exist among the collectors of internal revenue that these preparations are being diverted from the ostensible purpose for which they were made. Indications are that a large number of persons who are not satisfied with 2.75 beer are taking to stronger and less customary drinks.

So it was stated last week by the Chief Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the Maryland district, Lewis M. Milbourne, that the office had received orders from Commissioner Daniel C. Roper that the Bureau of Internal Revenue would have to deal with manufacturers of alcoholic preparations which are allegedly for non-drinking purposes. The Maryland office has been ordered to notify all holders of permits for the manufacture of such preparations of this change of policy.

Strict accountability is the principle of this new attitude. The manufacturer and pharmacist not only will be held strictly accountable for full compliance with all provisions of the present regulations, but also for making sales to concerns or individuals against whom the finger of suspicion is pointed.

If a country storekeeper begins ordering lemon extract by the dozen cases, it is up to the manufacturer to find the reason for such unprecedented demand, and then not to help supply it. It will be up to the manufacturer to prove that he is not deliberately supplying the preparations for the illegal purpose of being sold as intoxicants and not as flavoring extracts or medicines or perfumes.

A CAMOFLEUR.

A good story is told by the dean of Carlisle. It concerns a clergyman who, taking occasional duty for a friend in one of the moorland churches in a remote corner of Cumberland, was one day greatly scandalized on observing the old verger, who had been collecting the offertory, quietly abstract a half-crown before presenting the plate at the altar rails.

After the services he called the old man into the vestry and told him, with emotion, that his crime had been discovered.

The verger looked puzzled. Then a sudden light dawned on him.

"Why, sir, you don't mean that old half-crown of mine? Why, I've led off with this last fifteen year."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Free From Commercialism.

"You insist that art is free from commercialism."

"I do," replied Mr. Stormington Barnes. "It is well known that Hamlet is the longest part known to the classic drama. Yet any actor would be willing to play it without charging overtime."
