USE CARE IN MARKING THE LARGE BALLOT

Seventeen Marks Required to Vote for all Candidates.

The ballot, this year, will require care in handling and in marking. It is large and cumbersome and the names are in two columns. Seventeen (17) X marks will be required to vote the full ticket—7 X marks in the first column, and 10 X marks in the second column.

The candidates' names will be marked, as follows, in the first column, one X in each group—

- For Governor.
- For Comptroller.
- For Attorney General.
- For Clerk Court of Appeals.
- For State Senator.
- For State's Attorney.
- For Sheriff.

In the second column one X mark must be made in each group

- For County Commissioner.
- For County Treasurer.
- The next group requires 4 X marks, as 4 are to be elected.
- For House of Delegates.
- The next group requires 3 X marks, as 3 are to be elected.
- For Judges of Orphans' Court.
- The last single X mark is to be made

For County Surveyor.

Remember, to make 7 X marks in first column of ballot, and 10 X marks in the second column, or 17 in all.

On the State ticket part of the ballot, "Socialist" and "Labor" candidates' names appear; but for County offices only "Democratic" and "Republican."

As the party name appears close up to the square for the X mark, those who can read and see well will have no difficulty in making their marks where they want them.

It will be necessary to be careful about opening and folding the long ballot, in the narrow booth. Watch carefully how it is when you get it, and fold it back the same way.

If you spoil a ballot do not try to "fix it up" in any way, but ask for another ballot and be careful not to spoil it again. Each voter is entitled to two extra ballots, but no more.

Mark the X mark inside of the square following the name, and use the pencil in the booth.

Do not go in the room to vote, until you have made yourself fully acquainted with the ballot, and how to mark it. If you do not see well, you will need your spectacles.

Do not put off voting until late. Come in as early in the day as possible. The main thing is TO VOTE. Don't fail to do it.

TO CARROLL COUNTY VOTERS.

Notwithstanding the importance of the coming election—State and County—both parties have been unable to arouse much enthusiasm. This is not necessarily a misfortune, nor does it indicate real apathy. The voters of the County are reading and thinking more for themselves, and depending less on oratory and parades for enthusiasm.

The real fear is that the voters will be as quiet and unconcerned on election day, as they have been during the campaign; that they will let their occupations appeal more to them than even the very important personal duty of expressing their convictions on candidates.

The Record trusts, and believes, that this will not be the case. Along with increased intelligence must come increased desire to participate in shaping the country's public affairs; which, after all, are our own affairs. Should Carroll county voters show themselves careless, next Tuesday, it would be a misfortune; and not only that, but a reflection on their good business qualities. Come out, and show that being quiet does not stand for lack of interest!

Be neighborly. See that voters in your community are going to vote, and take some of those along in your auto, who have no quick going way of their own.

A Corner Stone Service.

The Church of God of Westminster is planning for great things to happen on the second Sunday of November, the 9th, at which time there will be a corner stone service, and much preparation is being made for that day. A special program is being prepared, all of outside talent, both as to speakers and the music.

A cordial invitation is extended to all readers of this paper to be present on this occasion. Come, and bring your friends. The service will be held on the foundation. The carpenters have finished the work of laying girders, joists and a temporary floor; a large platform has been erected for the speakers and choir. The chairs from the Firemen's building will be rented, and there will be seats for many people. There will be a band of music, which will render two sacred concerts, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

The names of those who contribute towards the building will be placed in the corner stone. If you do not contribute, be sure and come to enjoy the program. Come prepared to stay the whole day. There will be something of interest going on all the time. By special request of the pastor,

REV. JOHN H. GONSO.

Make your plans to go to the Election, next Tuesday.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Help to Keep Carroll County in the Front Line.

The third annual roll call for membership in the Red Cross will be conducted next week. The campaign will open on Sunday, Nov. 11. But do not wait to give in your name until the end of the race. Get in the game the first day and then help the movement along.

During the war the Red Cross demonstrated its usefulness, and now we ought to keep it as strong in times of peace as it was in war. Let there be no deserters. Let every old membership be renewed, and let us have many new ones. The membership fee is one dollar as heretofore.

No Magazine subscriptions will be connected with memberships this year, but persons who want the magazine can subscribe for it just as they do for any other paper or magazine whether they are members or not. We simply are asked to get straight memberships at one dollar each. No dollar will be put to better use, for there is a great work ahead, and it is to be carried into every community.

Taneytown district has been organized for the campaign. Mr. M. A. Koons is chairman of the drive for the whole district, and it ready with receipt books, new badges and window cards. These are different from the old, so see that you have a new card in your window and wear a new pin at the very beginning of the week.

Taneytown will be canvassed by a committee of ladies under the lead of Mrs. F. H. Seiss. Harney and vicinity will be under the direction of Mrs. Mark Snider and helpers whom she selects. Other workers for the district are:

- Mrs. Edward Bankard, Mrs. D. W. Stouffer, Mrs. Stewart King, Miss Edith Hess, Miss Mary Fringer, Mrs. J. N. O. Smith, Miss Margaret Hess, Mrs. Wilbur Shorb, Mrs. C. H. D. Snyder, Mrs. Chas. B. Kephart, Mrs. Calvin Valentine, Mrs. Ellis Ohler, Mrs. Geo. Crabbs, Miss Mabel Lambert, Mrs. Jesse Angell, Mrs. Edw. P. Myers, Mrs. George Clabaugh, Mrs. David Brown.

Have de Grace Appeals for Help.

A letter has been sent to all the ministers of Maryland, signed by H. D. Stewart, Pastor M. E. Church, H. W. Richmond, Pastor Presbyterian Church, E. L. Gross, Pastor Baptist Church, and W. C. Kilpatrick, Pastor Grace Reformed Episcopal Church, all of Havre de Grace, asking for help in the fight against race track gambling.

Among other things the letter says: "Won't you come over to Macedonia and help us?"

"The Havre de Grace Race Track gambling has brought—tut utter demoralization here in Havre de Grace, from children, five years old, to the older men and women, it has us. It's gamble and shoot crap all the time. Simply no regard for law and order. Boys of tender age pick winners; older boys openly play the races. All moral standards are being broken down, until there is a steady stream of young men and women flowing over into the discard of human society, and most of it is directly traceable to the Race Track follower and gambling. We can give all specific evidence necessary. The better element of our citizens are anxious to have gambling outlawed."

Because of these conditions we cry for help to every Maryland Pastor in freeing our county and State from the curse of RRace Track Gambling. Help us Brethren, or Havre de Grace is doomed."

This appeal is from only one of the places in Maryland where these conditions prevail. The same may be said of the other gambling centers. The condition is a shame and a disgrace for Maryland.

We urge every voter who has any concern for morals and decency to vote for only for candidates, for either branch legislature, who are known to be openly opposed to any further toleration of this disgraceful practice. Find out what your men stand for.

Legion Post Organized.

Some of the men of Westminster and Carroll county who served in the war against Germany met, and organized a local post of the American Legion.

The American Legion is a veterans organization. Its purpose is non-political and non-partisan; it will keep alive the principles of justice, freedom and democracy for which these veterans fought, and will preserve the future generations, the history and incidents of their participation in the war. Also, it will cement and perpetuate the ties of comradeship formed in the service.

The local post is known as Carroll Post No. 31 of the American Legion. Its officers are: Peter N. Samois, Post Commander; Ober S. Herr, Vice-Post Commander; D. Eugene Walsh, Post Adjutant; Norman B. Boyle, Post Finance Officer.

The Post has launched a campaign to secure members throughout the county from Nov. 1 to 11; all those joining prior to Nov 11 will be charter members.

Marriage Licenses.

Elwood Snader Zollickoffer, and Florence Gertrude Devillbiss, both of Uniontown.

Paul Thomas Fair, and Margaret Alice Eckard, both of Taneytown.

Elias Oliver Ibe and Fannie Rebecca Beegle, both of Spring Mills.

OUR ROADS AND SCHOOLS

Time for the Whole County to Agree on an Equitable and Specific Plan.

The time seems to have arrived for adopting a different treatment of the road and school question, from the one heretofore in force. As long as roads and schools were matters for repair, and for comparatively inexpensive replacement, it was an easy matter for the County and School Commissioners to pick out the ones most needing improvement, and proceed to have it done. Now, we seem to have gone beyond our old-fashioned needs and demands, and old methods will not answer.

Neither County Commissioners nor School Commissioners can, with full justice, be left to build a fine road here, and an expensive school building there, perhaps on the insistent request of a few people who "have a pull" stronger than other people have, or maybe through mere political preference or influence.

If we are, in fact, facing at this time, an insistent demand for good hard roads and up-to-date schools everywhere, it must not be a matter of building a few at a time, with the weakest to be supplied last. Such a course will mean contention, and bad feeling, as neither set of Commissioners can escape criticism for their selections, no matter how wisely they may decide.

The question ought to be decided as to what the whole county wants, and is willing to pay for; and this can be done only by a vote of the people on a specific proposition.

A survey of the needs of the county should be taken, by competent commissions, both as to roads and schools. The school side of it should be comparatively easy, as each election district can be gone over, and the consensus of opinion taken as to local needs and desires.

The road question is somewhat different, because of its connection with a State plan of road-building; but, even this, we believe, can be satisfactorily adjusted if the districts and whole county will get together and decide upon a complete county system, fair to all of the districts, then ratify, or reject, it by a referendum vote.

The present plan is justly unsatisfactory, to the officials, to the taxpayers, and to the districts that do not get their share.

Any wholesale plan such as this would require a bond-issue to finance it, a matter also for a referendum vote, and for legislative sanction. We present the idea because it is in the minds of many all over the county, as it is likewise in the minds of many that the present plan of providing schools and roads will not do for continuance.

Let us get at this matter in a business-like way and stop the contention. At present, we have too few men taking the responsibility for demanding and spending large sums of money, then putting it over on the tax-payers to foot the bills. Our system is wrong. Let us work out a better one.

There should be no "high tax" question in this County. There is none, in fact, for which anybody is particularly and justly to blame. The present big increase in the rate, as against the borrowing money plan, demonstrates only a difference of opinion, in finance, and no wrong-doing; and this difference in opinion will exist as long as we fail to state specifically what we want, and how we want to pay the bills.

THE FARMERS CONGRESS.

An Important National Convention in Hagerstown.

The National Farmers' Congress, being held in Hagerstown, is the most important meeting of the kind ever held in this state, and will perhaps be the most important Farmers' Congress ever held anywhere, due to the unusual importance of the matters that will come up for discussion and action.

The sentiments expressed indicate no sympathy for radicalism as it is being expressed through strikes, and the extreme demands of labor; but it seems evident that a stronger Farmers' organization will be worked out in order to give greater power to themselves in matters affecting their interests. A. P. Sandles, of Ohio, was enthusiastically applauded when he expressed this sentiment.

"We are now," said Mr. Sandles, "at the mercy of the politicians. Every politician that comes along says he was born on the farm and so was his wife. He's going to buy a farm as soon as he can save up enough money and come back to live the great life. And the poor farmer votes for him and that is the last the farmer ever gets out of it."

"Not so labor. Labor has got these big politicians bluffed. The big politicians down in Congress are scared so badly they haven't got the nerve to do for Uncle Sam what he really needs to have done for him."

"The reason is that labor is organized. They stick together and act together and vote in a solid chunk. And if there is anything that a politician can listen to it's a crowd."

Concerning professional organizers among labor, Mr. Sandles said: "If you could get the truth on some of those fellows you would find the stamp of the Kaiser is on most of them. They are foreigners, for the most part, and they are over here making trouble in America. They don't know anything about America. Yet they will come over here and influence our own honest workmen—for whom we will do much in the way of helping from the neck down, protecting his body by safety devices and giving him insurance, but for whom we do precious little from the neck up—they work on our American product, and before long he has got the fever, and is waving the red flag."

"There is only one thing to do with those fellows, and that is either to shoot 'em or ship 'em." Prolonged cheering greeted this statement.

It was also brought out clearly in the discussion that the farmers are strongly opposed to government regulation of the prices of farm products, but believe in the regulation of market prices based on "supply and demand."

Pastor Petrea and Wife Remembered

Dr. J. J. Weaver, in behalf of St. Paul's Lutheran congregation, Uniontown, on Sunday night after service, presented to pastor Petrea and wife a purse containing more than $40.00. This gift is most highly appreciated, not merely for its intrinsic value, but as an evidence of the hearty co-operation on the part of the congregation. The congregation has the sincere thanks of the pastor and wife.

"A FOOL AND HIS MONEY."

A Few of those Who are Responsible for Abnormal Times.

Spendthrifts are doing more, nowadays, to prevent this country from getting back to normal times, than any other class. They are not only interfering seriously with fair living costs, but are diverting labor into fields of unnecessary production and keeping it from speeding up necessary production, thereby continuing burdens unnecessarily on those who can not afford to carry them.

Some of the commodities we have to buy are necessarily high, while others are unnecessarily high. Any custom, or fashion, that encourages the purchase of expensive unnecessary, closely exemplifies the adage, "The Fool and his money are soon parted," and that other expressive one, "That beggars mounted, run their horse to death." The country is suffering greatly from its big army of foolish people with money.

Who are some of them? It is difficult to make up a list; but generally, the most foolish are those who have never been used to extravagance, and are now only temporarily able—or think they are—to imitate the big income class. We venture the following special list.

Those who buy automobiles, who do not have their homes or business equipment paid for, and who are thereby doing without other things much more necessary, largely in order to try "keep up with" those more able.

Nearly all instalment, or other, purchasers of luxuries and household furnishings, out of keeping with their real status in life.

Those who go to "sales" and buy unneeded articles, at abnormal prices just because they have the money in their pocket.

All who do not have a good sized interest bearing bank account, who are living up to, or beyond their present income, and are not laying up for "rainy days."

Those who buy the choicest cuts of meat, and the higher priced of everything, when more modest priced articles would answer as well, and permit "laying by" a surplus.

Most of the purchasers of confectionery at from 80c to $1.50 a pound, and cigars from 8c to 15c each, and other like foolish waste.

Those who buy hats and shoes at from $10.00 to $15.00, especially when they represent style, rather than service.

All who buy things at present high prices simply because they are accustomed to buy them at low prices—who think they must "keep up" custom.

All who buy the same quantity of pork, and other meat, that they used to buy.

Those who neglect painting their buildings, or buying needed winter coal and clothing, yet find money to spend for unnecessary.

Those who keep up "their car" who do not keep up their church dues.

The kind of fool who complains of "taxes" and the higher cost of living, who "blows in" easy money without complaining.

"Get rich quick" people of all classes who think a few hundred dollars in their pockets represents inexhaustible wealth—or act like it.

But, let the whole truth be told. There is another big class of fools—the real rich ones (with money) who flaunt themselves before the world like peacocks and super beings, in disregard to the suffering—to the need of Good Samaritanism—that exists throughout a great portion of the world, much of it caused by the war and through no fault of the victims.

These haughty rich, too, are a menace greater than we, or they, may know. They too should be more careful how they open their purses only to self-indulgence. They should remember Dives!

THE MINERS SEEM SURE TO GO ON A STRIKE.

Government Ready to Fight Against Union Force.

President Wilson, last Saturday, issued an ultimatum to Union Labor that was part an appeal and part a command, that there should be no strike of the miners on Nov. 1. He did not state what the action of the government would be, in case the strike is called, but he did very bluntly state that the mines would be operated, and the country not be permitted to suffer for want of coal this winter.

The indications are that the strike will be held, as the leaders show no disposition to prevent it, but reply by wordy arguments as to the justice of their cause, and blame the operators for refusing to comply with their demands.

It is current opinion that the government will proceed to the prosecution of miners union leaders, under the law that makes it a crime for two or more persons to limit the production of food products or to interfere with transportation facilities. Military protection will also be given to all who work.

Why Sugar is Scarce.

Increase in consumption with the advent of prohibition and the failure of the administration to place an embargo on the exportation of sugar were given as the principal factors in the sugar shortage on Wednesday by Herbert Hoover, formerly United States food administrator, testifying before the House sub-committee on foreign expenditures.

"The appalling fact in the sugar situation in this country is the rapid increase in consumption, which since the adoption of prohibition is growing enormously," said Mr. Hoover. "From a normal consumption of eighty pound per-capita the consumption for this year has increased to ninety-three pounds per-capita. And an evil of the situation is the manufacturers of candy and soft drinks are able to buy their supplies in quantity and in advance, taking advantage of any depreciation in price, whereas the householder is compelled to buy from day to day and to pay top prices."

"It was not until about the 1st of July that we could make an intelligent estimate of the European situation," continued Mr. Hoover, "and at that time we figured that the production there was only 70 per cent. of normal. Production in the eastern hemisphere is away down as a result of lack of shipping facilities during the war and highly speculative conditions, which discouraged the growers. Production in the western hemisphere had increased, but not enough to meet our own greatly increased consumption. The sugar equalization board estimates that it will take at least 2,000,000 tons more than we have in sight to tide us over this year. The equalization board believes it will be necessary to ration the sugar trades—that is, the makers of candy and soft drinks."

Mr. Hoover confirmed the fact that the president of the sugar equalization board had gone to President Wilson on August 19 and urged that an embargo be placed on the exportation of sugar and added: "I made representations to the President independently regarding the situation in Europe last July and suggested an embargo, I understand the war trade board did not approve an embargo."

Additional Jurors Drawn.

The following jurors were drawn to fill vacancies: Augustus L. Morelock, in place of Josiah G. Wantz, of District No. 1; Alvin G. Dutterer, in place of Joseph Cookson, of District No. 3; Chas. E. Brengle, in place of John T. Cauthorn, of District No. 5; David H. Frankforter, in place of John C. B. LaMotte, of District No. 6; R. Abner Parke, in place of John A. Murphy, of District No. 7; Charles E. Harrison, in place of John W. Shipley, of District No. 13; Robert K. Billingslea, in place of R. Abner Parke, of District No. 7.

The "Wets" are Active.

Some of the "wets" are reported to be very active at this time, in a quiet way, in the county election. Although the liquor issue is as dead as Adam, it still remains alive in the minds of some, and there are those of a fraternal spirit who are working together for votes. A "wet" vote counts as much as a "dry" one, and if calling up sorrows on the departure of booze will get them, the argument is worked, even if those who deliver the goods are laughed at afterwards for being "easy."

Steel Strike About Over.

The Steel Workers' strike has been a failure, as men are returning to work everywhere, but in a defiant mood for the future. They claim that the experience gained is laid up for the future, and that the army caused failure this time. The plants are not yet working full-handed, but unless the miners' strike next week causes a change, normal conditions will soon be reached.

Owing to the unusual demand for political and other advertising, this week, we are compelled to omit a number of articles that would otherwise have appeared.

The Commissioner Job.

If there is one ill-paid, yet very important, fail-to-please-everybody, job, it is that of County Commissioner. The Record has had an experience, covering over twenty-five years, of observing contests for this office, and of hearing arguments for and against the acts of our Commissioners, and our conclusion is that the same old story bobs up at nearly every election, that something "was done wrong" consequently, it is time to turn somebody out, and put somebody else in; and when election time comes again, to go over the same story to turn out the very fellow that was put in to replace the "other fellow" who was a misfit.

Criticism is a great thing. Even these charges of wrong-doing have their compensation, as they unquestionably show that our public officials are closely watched, which is apt to make them careful as to how they handle a public trust, which, in the case of the Commissioners, is the most important of all trusts—handling and spending the money taken from the people in the shape of that unwelcome thing—taxes.

And yet, we would not fancy the Commissioner job, at double the pay—and election guaranteed. Men who do their best, and who perhaps have superior judgment, are often condemned, off hand, before their acts are understood and before they have had time to demonstrate the wisdom of their judgment. They are "damned" if they do, and damned if they don't," by somebody, and there is no escaping the penalty. Being a Commissioner is much like being a Juror—it is an unthankful job, that somebody must take, and very often those most anxious for the position are those least fit to have it.

Will it be War, or Peace?

Will November 1 be memorable as marking the time of beginning of a great civil strife in this country? And, if so, what will be the name and cause of the war? It could not be a war of labor against capital, in truth; for fully three-fourths of the labor in this country is peaceable, and, if not fully satisfied, is yet convinced that capital and industry means to be fair to its employees; and that employers, for the greater part, are themselves laborers like themselves who wish for an early settlement of the world's greatest upheaval.

We can hardly conceive of a warfare between employers and employees in this boasted of, free country. There must be some devilish propaganda at work that is making enemies of friends, and which is entitled to be rooted up and destroyed. Surely there can be no real grounds for fighting between interests dependent on each other. There is an aggravating element, or thing, concealed somewhere, that is parading itself under false colors.

A man can not possibly change his whole nature, because he joins a labor union. Another man can not possibly become an oppressor of his fellow man, as soon as he becomes an employer of labor. Those who must buy the products of labor and capital, surely do not deserve to be continuously penalized because they are not identified with either class.

No, the American masses, as a whole, are honest and peaceably inclined; but a leaven of some poisonous sort is impregnating the whole lump, and makes the coming of November 1 a great question mark. We believe, yet, that something is going to happen that will stay our present intemperance; and, by the way, suppose liquors were on sale, now, to add to the perils of the times?

We believe the whole trouble is confined to a very few people, comparatively speaking, who have set a large number of other people to wrong thinking, and that nine-tenths of the whole number are not full-blooded Americans.

Three Questions in One.

If we cannot have a League, or Commission, of our own people, that can reach an agreement between American capital, labor and the public, in the interest of all concerned, how can we expect to have a League of Nations that will agree over, and settle, questions between Nations, of much more serious importance than wages and working hours?

If all-Americans can not harmonize, among themselves, and bring about their own social and industrial peace, how can we expect Americans, Germans, French, Italians, English, Japanese and a dozen or so others, speaking different languages and having all sorts of foreign tastes and tempers, expect to get together and "live happy ever after"?

Why should this country—or a large element of it—be so eager to try a League of Nations, without first being able to demonstrate among ourselves that the "American way" is a good way for all the world? These three questions are one. What is the Answer to it?

The Slimy Trail of Politics.

"Politics," as we know it, at election time, even when among neighbors, is quite apt to develop ugliness of temper, and unkind speech and methods, such as would hardly be used at any other time, or for any other purpose. Men who pose as christians and general uplifters, who will exert themselves for the poor and suffering, and who preach almost equal to those who are specially commissioned as representatives of the Divine Master, sometimes fall from their pedestal, and become the next thing to jugglers with truth and honesty.

Given the proper incentive, and the animal will likely show up in the best of us. Not that we realize it, or mean to lose our religion, or to be unfair to our neighbor; hardly that, but there does seem to enter into our moral fabric, a meanness—a streak of desiring to win—that for the time we are not our normal, fair-minded selves, and we come near to "playing the game" like the "low down" politician that we flatter ourselves we despise—that we are "not as other men are." And then, when all is over, we are just as apt to satisfy ourselves by reflecting that "the end justified the means," which, by the way, is mostly a horrible doctrine, and an unsafe one for us to elect to use righteously.

If we ever realized it, we conveniently forget it, that equally honest men can honestly disagree, both in their acts and in their opinions. We forget, if we ever knew it, that no man can ever quite regain his influence over men for wise direction and advice, after he once shows his own fallibility as a safe and true mentor. "Politics," as we know it, and play it, usually leaves a slimy trail behind, and he is the exception who goes that way, and comes to the end, clean.

Pity the Sufferers.

This sentiment is capitalized—traded on. The coal diggers are appealed to, to continue working, in order that suffering may not follow their quitting work. The mine owners are appealed to, to grant wage demands, for the same reason. The handlers of food know the dependence of the country on food distribution—that suffering will follow if it is not distributed. Everywhere, the necessities of the people—their food, clothing, coal—are used as bludgeons to force wage payers to surrender, rather than that refusal may cause individual want among the innocent and helpless.

Settlement of demands, on absolute merit, has largely been lost sight of. The sympathies of the people are urged to support force, often when force means robbery. We are asked not to hurt the robber, because so doing would hurt somebody else. Punishment as a reformatory expedient, and denial as a remedial agency, must not stand in the way of pleas to prevent suffering, even if so doing places a premium on illegitimate methods and the use of unfair force.

How long can such a propaganda be endured, and this country remain a safe and fit place in which to live?

An Agreeable Surprise.

"About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the time, night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

Get the Facts.

The most astonishing difference of opinion is manifested in regard to the essential and principal causes of the high prices. It seems strange that the American people can go along suffering from these conditions, without locating the cause with a greater degree of scientific accuracy.

The labor leaders say the cause of high prices is profiteering. Other people, while admitting that profiteering helped, believe that the high cost of labor and falling off of production are the principal causes. The workers have been trying to lift themselves by their own bootstraps, and in getting their wages advanced, have lifted prices by an equal or greater amount.

Such differences of opinion as to actual facts make it almost impossible for the different elements to get together in such a gathering as the Labor Conference at Washington.

The government should have taken steps to locate more exactly, by figures of scientific accuracy, how far these various causes are responsible. Take the price of shoes, in which a general thing a shoe that used to cost $5.00 is now costing about $10.00 to $12.00. It should be possible by studying costs in a dozen representative factories, to determine with scientific accuracy, how much of that advance is due to profiteering, how much to lowered production.

Manufacturers, middlemen, and retailers should be willing to show up their books with utmost frankness to get these facts determined. It will never be possible for the different elements to get together, until they can reach an agreement on the exact facts of the case. Those facts must be determined through statistical investigation by authorities in whom everyone shall have confidence.—Frederick News.

Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation

Chamberlain's Tablets have restored to health and happiness hundreds who were afflicted with indigestion, biliousness and constipation. If you are troubled in this way, give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased for they will benefit you.

Do You Live With Your Family?

The Youth's Companion is published for those families who purpose to live together, work together, play together and read together. The editors believe that a united family means a united nation.

It is surprising how many stories—over 250—are printed in the 52 weekly issues. Every member of the family will enjoy reading Charles B. Hawes' serial, The Son of a "Gentleman Born," in 10 chapters, beginning in an early issue, and the 8 other serial stories by Elsie Singmaster and others.

New subscribers for 1920 will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1920.
 2. All remaining weekly 1919 issues.
 3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1920.
 4. All the above for $2.50.
 5. McCall's Magazine for 1920, $1.00—the monthly fashion authority.
- Both publications for only $2.95.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Commonwealth Ave. & St. Paul St., Boston, Mass.

New subscriptions received at this office.

Constipation.

The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best accomplished by proper diet and exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed, and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

TAI SHAN A SACRED PLACE

Chinese Mountain Said to Be the Oldest Permanent Place of Worship on Earth.

There are five sacred mountains in China, and the most sacred of all is Tai Shan, the Great mountain, said to be the oldest permanent place of worship in the world. In 2000 B. C. Tai Shan's crest had been a regular scene of sacrifices and prayers for nobody knew how long. Emperors and lesser officials, even Confucius the Wise, journeyed up the long, narrow trail of Tai Shan to come near to the God of Heaven and Earth and made their prayers before Him.

Since those days of simple worship, many temples and shrines have been built on Tai Shan's slopes. Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, all are represented, and there are temples, too, to the Lady of the Mountain, who is called by some a fairy, by others a goddess, and by others the spirit or soul of the mountain. Whatever her character, the lady is well represented on her mountain top and her shrines are popular.

The journey up the mountainside is accomplished by the traveler partly in a swinging chair supported by Chinese bearers and partly on foot. The "Way" consists of a granite walk, interrupted every little while by flights of steps which stretch on and on and become steeper and closer together until the pilgrim has mounted 6,000 steps and the peak of Tai Shan is reached.

Here there are more temples and thick incense and grave old priests who announce a pilgrim's presence to the gods by ringing deep-toned bells. A little way off is pointed out a rock overhanging a sheer precipice. From this rock, called "The Rock of the Love of Life," persons who had sick relatives used to fling themselves, hoping that the sacrifice of one life would appease the gods so that the other would be spared. Now the dangerous cliff is barred, and pilgrims are forced to appeal to the gods in the conventional Chinese methods.

WILL BE WONDERFUL ROAD

Highway of Solid Granite in the Rocky Mountains a Rival of the Applan Way.

Taking example from the famous Applan way, which has the name of being the first great road undertaken by the Romans as a public work, the state of Colorado, with the help of an appropriation by the United States government, is building a highway of solid granite in the Rocky mountains. No other highway in the world, it is predicted, will provide travelers with so magnificent a scenic setting, close to a sheer fall of 3,000 feet on the other side of the great concrete posts and cables that will safeguard vehicular traffic. One gets an idea of the road from the practical statement that it is costing $25,000 a mile to build. Like the Applan way, on which long stretches of pavement first traveled over 300-odd years before the Christian era, still remain practically perfect, the chairman of the Colorado highway commission believes that Colorado is creating a work which will defy the centuries and stand, on completion, as the most wonderful road in the modern world.

Quite Comfortable, Thank You.

A comfortable widow is Mrs. Amanda Jackson, colored. She is drawing three $57.50 pensions, or $172.50 a month, for the loss of three husbands during the war, and will draw that amount for 20 years. Mrs. Jones' husband died of spinal meningitis soon after entering the service and taking out a $10,000 insurance policy. The widow married one Smith. He took a maximum life insurance policy in her favor and was killed in action. Then Mrs. Jones-Smith married Private Jackson, a returned soldier, who also named her in a $10,000 policy. Influenza made her a widow a third time in less than two years. The war risk bureau declines to make known her address, doubtless fearing that she would be inundated with offers of marriage.

Brother to the Mosquito.

The prolonged drought has produced a prolific host of insects, and certain species of gnats are developing a disconcerting interest in ankles, says London Daily Mail. Some women are wearing linen bandages as a protection.

An official at the Natural History museum, South Kensington, states that the chief offender is a tiny insect bearing the long name of Ochlerotatus dorsalis, which breeds in estuaries and explores inland. It is to be found all around London, especially on the Surrey downs.

Another bloodthirsty gnat is the Pullcaris, which is labeled at the museum as "particularly troublesome in the evening. Its bite is severe, and with many people causes bad sores."

Spanish Birth Rate.

Now it is in Spain that they are beginning to worry about the rising death rate and the falling birth rate. Dr. Gomez Ocaña presents in El Siglo Medico (Barcelona) statistics for several years, showing that in 1912 the death rate was 21.6 per 1,000 population, and that by 1917, before the advent of the pandemic of influenza, it had risen to 26.16. And the birth rate fell from 31.60 per thousand in 1912 to 29.2 in 1917.

Official figures for 1918 are not yet available, but in the city of Madrid the death rate rose in that year to 80.37, while the birth rate fell to 26.70. The figures for 1918, however, are abnormal because of the pandemic.

+ THE AMERICAN RED CROSS +

+ IN TIMES OF PEACE +

The RED CROSS, while fulfilling America's obligation to the stricken peoples of Europe, must respond to the call at home to meet the greater peace-time responsibilities revealed by the cessation of war. This means:

AT HOME

I. Organization of the nation's Health forces by co-operation with existing agencies and by independent action in unorganized communities. Education of housewives, school children and other groups in food preparation, home hygiene and care of the sick.

II. Expansion of Home Service in those communities where no similar service exists to provide the same help to civilian families that has been given families of our fighting men. (In ninety per cent of the Home Service communities there existed no similar agency.) Providing an Information Service to explain facilities offered by the government and private sources. Inspiring co-operative effort to make communities safer and better places in which to live.

- III. Emergency relief in epidemics and disaster.
- IV. Permanent duty with the Army and Navy.
- V. Helping the nation's fighters back to civilian life.
- VI. Child welfare work.
- VII. First Aid.

IN EUROPE

- I. Relieving distress among war sufferers and helping their countries recover from the war.
- II. Distribution of surplus stores donated by the American army.
- III. Helping the war orphans in Europe through the Jr. Red Cross.

"The master-problem of civilization is to engage as many people with as much enthusiasm in the upbuilding processes of peace, as, by the traditions of the ages, it has always been possible to enlist in the destructive adventure of war. When people shall have learned to sacrifice themselves as readily on the altar of the commonweal as they sacrifice themselves on the altars of war, the world will be saved, and not until then."

The Ford Will Bring Them Back.

The following appeared a few days ago in the "State Register" of Springfield, Ill.:

Many are the stories of Henry Ford and his popular automobile, but Hillsboro is relating what it calls the best of the season, and the facts in the case are true. It happened in one of the leading churches of the city that the pastor took for the text of his sermon, "Better Church Attendance."

The pastor held that the automobile has taken more people away from the church than any other thing. He concluded with the exclamation: "The Ford car has taken more people to hell than any other thing that I can mention!" Where upon an old lady in the congregation began to clap her hands and moan: "Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord!" "What's the matter sister?" asked the pastor.

"The Ford never went any place that it couldn't make the round trip, and I am sure that all of those people in hell will be back," she answered. "So praise the Lord."

You shall never be forgotten. Never shall your memory fade: Sweetest thoughts will ever linger. Round the grave where you are laid.

Sleep on, dear Cousin, and take thy rest. God calls you home, he thought it best. He saw you suffering here so great, And opened wide the golden gate.

By her Loving Cousins, MARIE AND PEARL SIMPSON

Realizing, they say that the high cost of living is felt by the barbers as well as by everyone else, the employing barbers of Baltimore, have announced that on November 1, they would advance the prices in downtown shops, except hotels, of shaves from 15 to 20 cents, and of hair cuts from 35 to 40 cents, and would give their employees $5 a week increase in salary and half they take in over $30. This increase, it is estimated, will enable a barber to make not less than $40.00 a week. The employing barbers figure it this way: If a barber takes in $50 in a week he gets $20 salary, plus $10 commission, plus from between $10 to $15 in tips.

European farmers are getting back on the job again, and by another year the demand for American food products will be very much less than at present, which must mean lower home market prices.

Eggs and How to Get Them

forms a seasonable subject for this time of the year, and when prices are as high, with every prospect of going much higher. The conditioning of the fowls is the important thing at present, with special attention for getting them over an early moult. For ten years we have been headquarters for everything in the poultry feed and remedy line, carrying such reputable lines as

Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea

Barker, Pratts', Little Giant, and the celebrated CONKEY'S Poultry Remedies, which we especially recommend. The Conkey line is made without filler, and is all medicine. Conkey's Poultry Tonic is composed of materials that promote the activity, which consumes heating-foods in the blood. These, when not consumed, produce sluggishness, but when consumed, the blood is left rich in egg-making material, and THE HEN HAS TO LAY. No forcing—just healthful stimulation.

He looked at her, yawned, and then drawled languidly, "I can't get up to wait on you today, lady. Come in some time when I'm standing up." Can you imagine such laziness? Why we'd be tempted to shoot a man if such a thing happened in our store.

DELCO-LIGHT News for Carroll and Howard Counties

The Fair season has come and about gone. We are sorry the rain prevented us seeing all our friends and patrons, but there are plenty of other opportunities.

We had more company this year than ever before in the way of competitive farm lighting systems and it made us feel mighty proud as we looked these new comers over, that we were permitted still to be representing Delco-Light.

It was a source of both pleasure and amusement to have interested farmers express their opinions and to hear the comments that came to us as exhibitors. Although, impossible to refer to more than just a few of the more common comments and inquiries as regards our competitors, we shall recall just a few. They ran about as follows:

"Oh, this is the Delco-Light exhibit. I told you that over there was not Delco-Light. It had too many fixtures, too many water tanks, radiators, fans, belts, oil cups, etc. See how Delco-Light cools, that fan in the flywheel cools it; yes, to be sure it cools it better than those almost drowning in water. Just feel over it."

"And look at that battery; that is the battery that makers of the famous Exide have constructed for Delco-Light. See, it has no props to hold the plates up, etc.; it is made heavy and swings from the top of the jars. See the rubber separators between the plates in addition to the wood. None of those over there have that."

"And this is the Delco-Light power stand. It does away with belts, line shafting, and the necessity of running a high-speed 3 or 4-horse engine to do what a child could do by hand. Just turn this switch and this little motor does the work, much more economical and with much less wear and tear on the plant, than by running a high-speed engine, belts, line shafting, etc. Yes, to be sure I have one just like this."

"Oh, there is the Delco-Light direct-from-the-well water system. See how it works. There is nothing more than a small controlling tank. The pump starts whenever a faucet is opened and the water comes direct from the well. It is entirely new in design; the motor starts off slow and gradually at first, so as to be easy on the battery. That is the next thing for me. My wind wheel is not very satisfactory any more."

"Here read what this sign says. It is the American Board of Fire Underwriters' approval of Delco-Light, see it says Delco-Light is the only electric farm lighting system passed by that Board. Every farmer ought to know that."

Many questions were asked by those less familiar with electrical plants. They wondered why other plants could not get their engines to burn coal oil, and cool with air. Many questioned closely why Delco-Light looked so clean, simple, run so smoothly, etc., in comparison to others.

Some wanted to know why Delco-Light was adopted by the army almost exclusively, when there were so many other kinds also.

Hundreds would ask the question, "How much higher in price is Delco-Light than other makes?" These were not aware of the fact that Delco-Light sells for only a few dollars higher than the cheapest, and a few hundred dollars lower than some of the highest priced ones. This was readily understood, when it was explained that more Delco-Light plants are made in a single day than are made by all the other companies put together, in a week.

One farmer was heard to remark that if he had to do without the light, water, and power furnished by Delco-Light, his farm would be for rent or sale in the Spring.

Most of these expressions and questions were answered, not by Delco-Light representatives, but by dozens of satisfied users, who gathered about the exhibit to learn of new electrical appliances for use with their plants, and to invariably express their appreciation of what Delco-Light had brought in to their homes.

Just to show the loyalty of Delco-Light users, one farmer while standing near an engine outfit of some kind, chanced to hear one of the representatives remark: "Yes, this is an electric light plant. Down in Carroll county we are installing two and three of these, to every Delco-Light that is being sold." The farmer referred to, turned to look long enough to say "Oh, what a liar!" Friends and competitors, it is hard, indeed, to put anything over on Delco-Light, no matter how low you stoop, for Delco-Light has made good—made good to the extent that it is now recognized as the Standard of the World.

Mr. Herbert Frock, progressive merchant at Snickersburg, is helping build and boost his business, by the aid of Delco-Light—best wishes Mr. Frock.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton DeVries, prominent farmers, near Sykesville, after returning from the mountains, decided that to return to the use of oil lamps was unpleasant and unhealthy—Delco-Light is going to furnish their electrical requirements.

Mrs. John Simmons and daughters, of Snickersburg, feel that they may as well enjoy electrical conveniences as city folks—Delco-Light is making their home bright and cheerful. May it serve them long and well.

Mr. Joseph Donovan, State's Attorney for Howard Co., after considering various ways of furnishing light and water for his beautiful country home, has decided on the Delco-Light and water way. We believe he made no mistake. Mr. Donovan, 100,000 satisfied users have paved your way—best wishes.

The coal oil that used to smoke the lamps of Sandy Mount Church, near Westminster, is now going to be transformed into electrical service, through the use of Delco-Light. Rev. Clough and his congregation have our best wishes. This makes three of the Reverend's churches to be brightened by Delco-Light.

When Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gross decided to build a new house over on the Manchester pike, one of their first decisions was to purchase Delco-Light and Delco-Light direct-from-the-well water. Mr. and Mrs. Gross, we congratulate you. Delco-Light will be one of the important factors of your home.

It is quite amusing to note that our competitors are advising the trade that Delco-Light is over-sold by the thousands, and that a plant purchased now cannot be furnished before late Spring. This is the same old, old story. These fellows haven't enough business to keep them out of mischief, and they don't know enough to keep their mouths shut.

It is true that a few weeks ago, 6,000 Delco-Light plants were sold in one day; but what of this, with a modern factory. Such small daily orders soon melt away. Then, too, General Motors Co., with its neat little sum of $1,020,000,000 capital, with which Delco-Light has linked its resources, are more than doubling the present enormous capacity. There will be enough to go around.

There are three things to take into consideration in the purchase of an electric lighting plant and water system:

- 1st—THE MANUFACTURER,
- 2nd—THE PLANT ITSELF, and
- 3rd—THE DEALER WITH WHOM YOU DEAL.

Let Persuasion not guide your choice—See that you get the Best—Made by the Best—Represented by those who have a fair knowledge of the business and have made a success of it—the cost is but little or no more to begin and far less to continue.

This is the Fall Season of the year, with long busy evenings; children's lessons to be taught, lots of water to be used, with but little time to pump it by hand. There's a Delco-Light plant and water system waiting for every home. If, by some chance, we have overlooked your requirements, it has been done unintentionally; write your requirements in, or phone them to New Windsor, Md., 56, or Delco-Light Products, Washington, D. C., 1219 E St., N. W.

Vote for Martin D. Hess
FOR COUNTY TREASURER

I desire to call to the attention of your readers the superior ability of Martin D. Hess, as County Treasurer, over his opponent. I am an auditor and adjuster for one of the largest bonding companies, and in that position check the accounts of many public officials who handle money. I have not in all my experience of years seen a man in like position with the pep and industry displayed by Mr. Hess. I have found occasion to observe his work in the office, and I found him careful, painstaking and fully competent for the office of County Treasurer. His experience in a bank in Carroll County, and his business training fully equip him for the position he has so ably filled.

His opponent asks for a sympathy vote, AND THIS SHOULD NOT BE GIVEN HIM, because a man should not be elected to political office because he needs the money. Seek ability first. It is not good business practice to be charitable with the county money.

Mr. Hess deserves great credit for his act when he was first elected as County Treasurer, by requiring the County Depository to pay interest on its deposit. How do we know that if the opponent of Mr. Hess should be elected that he would not go back to the practice of losing this interest that was in vogue prior to Mr. Hess being elected County Treasurer.

Vote for Hess, Mr. Taxpayer, if you wish good service and the money of the County carefully handled.

Very truly yours,
G. R. BABYLON.

(An unsolicited testimonial, addressed to the readers of The Record, and not sent for publication by Mr. Hess.)

H. PEYTON GORSUCH
Republican Candidate
FOR House of Delegates

TO THE VOTERS OF CARROLL COUNTY:

I have been unable to make a canvass of the county, or see a large number of the voters personally, and while I am sure the voters will not regret this as it has meant one less candidate to interview, I want to ask you for your support and influence, with the assurance that I will appreciate it.

If elected, I will go to Annapolis unfettered by pledges or promises, except to the people of Carroll county to represent them as diligently, honestly and efficiently as within the power of my humble ability.

I am neither a Super-man or a Miracle-man, and will make no promises of things impossible, or to perform miracles in legislation, but I can promise, if elected, to support and vote for measures for the best interests of the people of our county and State.

I shall favor the repeal, or drastic amendments to, the present costly and unsatisfactory Direct Primary Law. I shall oppose a bond issue for the county, unless the voters are given the right to vote upon the question. I am in favor of the best roads and schools possible within our resources, but not to the extent of placing a tax burden upon our people which for many would be difficult to bear.

I am unalterably opposed to closing the country schools, and in favor of paying the teachers a living salary, for unless this is done we will soon have no teachers.

I shall stand firm against waste and extravagance in the Legislature and State affairs, and oppose the creation of more useless and costly State Boards, to regulate everything under the Sun, as also more offices to give "jobs" to politicians and "lame ducks."

I shall favor proper legislation in the interest of the farmer, as our county is an agricultural county and upon the success and prosperity of the farmer depends the success and prosperity of the labor, business and professional interests of the county.

If elected, my consistent effort will be for good government and economy, and on questions that affect the interests of the people of the County and State, I shall not allow partisanship to influence me, believing "he who serves the people best, serves his party best."

If the voters of the County believe I can represent them acceptably, I will appreciate their votes on NEXT TUESDAY.

Respectfully,
H. PEYTON GORSUCH.

To the Voters of Carroll County:

On Tuesday next you will be called upon to elect a State's Attorney for the coming term of four years. Perhaps no officer in the county has more to do with the peace and security of the people than that of State's Attorney. It is important, therefore, that, regardless of political affiliations, the State's Attorney should be a man who is qualified by experience and training to discharge the duties of the office efficiently. I therefore respectfully request the voters, without regard to party, to consider carefully the respective merits of my opponent and myself, and if, after such consideration, they can give me their support, I shall greatly appreciate it.

THEODORE F. BROWN.

To the Voters of Carroll Co.

The time is drawing near for you to vote for a candidate for Carroll County Commissioner. No doubt you are asking yourselves the question, "For whom shall I vote and for what does he stand?" As this is an important question, I feel that it is my duty to let you know where I stand on some of the important questions which will come before the Board of County Commissioners during the term of the man now about to be elected, so that you may have an opportunity to judge for yourselves who would make the better Commissioner.

I have been asked the question, "Where do I stand on the school question?"

I am in favor of keeping open the primary schools all over the county for as long a term as it is possible to do with the money that is appropriated for school purposes, and to secure the best teachers that can be obtained, and for that purpose to pay reasonable salaries to the teachers. I am in favor of building high school buildings in parts of the county where they are demanded, at a reasonable price. I am not in favor of running the county in debt to do so. I think every boy and girl should have an opportunity to attend a high school if he or she desires to do so.

At this time I do not think that we are in a position to close the primary schools at different parts of each district and haul the little children four or five miles over the rough roads to a high school, when they can obtain the same within walking distance of their homes.

I have been asked the question, "What do I think of building more State Aid Roads?"

In reply, will say that I am in favor of building as many miles of State Aid Roads as the tax-payers of the county wish, provided it can be done without increasing the tax rate. This is a matter in which the tax-payers should have some say, I think. I am also in favor of keeping the county dirt roads in the very best possible condition that can be done.

If elected Commissioner I promise the people the best business administration that it is possible to give, and to reduce the tax rate as soon as normal conditions are restored, thus making that possible.

OLD KING SOLOMON WAS A WISE OLD BIRD

Knew How to Save His Shekels By Putting Them Into Safest Investments Bankers Could Find.

Old King Solomon was a wise bird. He distributed a lot of mighty good advice.

But he is dead. You are alive. You will have to make your own decisions and determine your own course of action and your own future. It will not do you a bit of good to try to communicate with Sol and have him solve your problems for you.

If you got his ear, you probably would not take his advice.

You will have to acquire your wisdom as Sol acquired his, by gaining a broad view-point and taking advantage of your own experience and that of others. Solomon was a mason before he was a king and a miner as well, so his view-point probably would not be much different from that of wise workers of the present day.

You may be sure that the high cost of living was a problem in Solomon's day as well as in 1919 and that the purchasing power of a shekel, minted from the gold of Ophir, fluctuated just as does the dollar minted at Philadelphia.

But Solomon knew that thrift and saving, the stimulation of production and the elimination of waste would solve those problems just as the wise working man knows it today. He laid up a lot of coin through safe and conservative investment just as wise men and women have put money for the future in Liberty Bonds, Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps. Also there is no record that anyone ever took any of that coin away from Old Sol by inducing him to speculate in wild cat stocks.

He left one bit of advice, the wisdom of which the years have not changed. He said: "A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children."

You can follow that advice by steady consistent saving and investment in War Saving Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates and in Liberty Bonds at present prices. These securities bought now will be an inheritance for your children's children.

Sol had to get wise. You can get wise just as he did. If you fail to save you will repent through many years.

Are you an American? The 1919 Savings Campaign is an all-American movement. That means it is for every man, woman and child resting under the sheltering folds of the Stars and stripes.

Do you belong to a live savings society?

If so, you have made the right start. Keep on saving and investing in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps. Attend the meeting of your society and learn the habit of happy thrift.

How doth the little Busy Bee, Improve each shining hour? He gathers honey all day long, From each and every flower. How doth the worker in our land, Insure some future rest? He saves some money every day, Wisely to invest.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT OUTLINES REMEDY

Tells How High Cost of Living Problems May Be Solved by Every Man and Woman.

President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, in a recent discussion of the high living cost said:

"Punishing profiteers is a good thing, but it won't reduce the cost of living. If we had all their hoarded goods it would do little good.

"Only the operation of inexorable economic laws can bring us back to tolerable conditions. The remedy is to save, to practice public economy and private thrift. We must save and invest in productive industry. Borrowing for non-productive reasons means bankruptcy."

In the opinion of the best economist in the United States the people's greatest weapon against high prices is the government's Thrift campaign. Every family should have a budget, just as every successful business has a budget. The first thing on that budget should be the amount to be saved from the weekly or monthly income—not the amount to be spent. Make what you save govern the amount you spend, not what you spend govern the amount you save.

War Savings Stamps bring 4 per cent interest, compounded every three months. Hit high prices below the belt by investing in United States securities. The dollar you save today may be worth twice as much five years from now.

SING A SONG OF SAVINGS STAMPS

Sing a song of Savings Stamps, The cost of living's high. But have you counted all the things

These Savings Stamps will buy?

They help to take that little trip. Or buy some needed clothes. How many things they'll help you get Goodness only knows.

OUR NEW VIRTUE

In fog or sunshine, snow or rain, it's comforting to have this thought—I have not spent my every gain, and thus reduced my funds to naught—it's pleasant through the muggy days to sit inside a cozy room, and realize the dismal haze cannot surround you with its gloom; to know, through purchase wisely made, investment planned with sober care, your income's bulk will never fade, but through such rainy days appear! Last year and this, an agency for teaching folks this gospel bright has strenuously impressed on me the way to duck the water-bright; "A dollar saved—the interest gained"—this is the lesson sound and true, which keeps the wayward dollar chained and makes the 4 per cent accrue. Thrift! That's the answer to you, sir! The thing that flamed our battle lamps, and helped to down the Prussian cur; in other words, WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

Cinders are no more worthless than good intentions which go no farther. Buy those War Savings Stamps now

Every time you buy a Thrift Stamp you are striking Old Man Gloom on the jaw.

A Little Talk About Surplus

"SURPLUS" IS MORE THAN A RAINY-DAY FUND. IT IS AN EVIDENCE OF GOOD MANAGEMENT.

In the case of a Bank, a railroad, or a business institution, a large surplus means that the management is wise enough not to distribute all the profits in the form of dividends, but to reserve a portion for future use—it may be for emergencies, or it may be simply to invest in material, real estate, or something else requiring capital, and the possession of a surplus renders it unnecessary to borrow the money.

Every individual ought to have a surplus in the form of a savings account. It is exactly the same with the individual as with the corporation—his surplus indicates that his personal expenses have been kept so well within his income that there is something left over. It also shows that he has not used it all up in "dividends" of pleasure, but like a wise business man has "salted" some of it down for the future.

How much "surplus" have you? If you have never started a surplus fund, do so at once and keep adding to it. This Bank pays interest on "surplus accounts."

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies superlative value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling. "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL
LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 2

TEMPERANCE LESSON.
(World's Temperance Sunday.)

LESSON TEXT—Jer. 35:1-3, 12-14, 18, 19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.—1 Cor. 10:31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A true temperance story.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What alcohol does.—Prov. 23:31, 32.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The clean strong life.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Our personal responsibility for temperance reform.

I. The Rechabites Tested (vv. 1-5).

In the days of Jehoiakim the Lord charged Jeremiah to bring the Rechabites into the house of the Lord and test them regarding the drinking of wine. This he did in a place where the people might behold them, the aim being to teach Israel by example. The father of the Rechabites had given command that they should not drink wine. Their filial obedience put to shame the Israelites for their lack of obedience. Jonadab, the father of the Rechabites, was only a man, but the one whose commands Israel were disregarding was the Almighty God, their Creator and Savior. It is God's plan that every man be tested. Being a free agent he only can have character through testing. It was for this reason that God placed Adam and Eve in Eden and permitted the devil to test them. While we should be concerned with the removal of temptations from men, we should be more concerned with teaching them their responsibility and showing them how to overcome.

II. The Filial Loyalty of the Rechabites (vv. 6-11).

Though they were out of their own country, in the midst of a foreign people, they refused to drink wine, declaring that they had been true to the instruction of Jonadab all their lives. Obedience to his instructions had been practiced by all men, women and children. It is a fine thing when children keep in memory their fathers and render obedience to their commands.

III. The Loyalty of the Rechabites in Contrast With the Disloyalty of the Israelites (vv. 12-16).

1. The appeal (vv. 13, 14). He made the appeal on the basis of the filial loyalty of the Rechabites. He reminded them that the Rechabites were obedient, though their father was dead long ago. He also reminded them that he had spoken to them in person, rising up early to do so.

2. The ministry of the prophets (vv. 15, 16). When the people failed to render obedience to God he sent to them the prophets, who plead with them to amend their ways by turning away from their idols. Matthew Henry indicates the points of contrast somewhat as follows: (1) The Rechabites were obedient to one who was but a man; the Jews disobeyed the infinite and eternal God. (2) Jonadab was dead long since and could not know of their disloyalty or correct them from it. God is all-wise and lives forever and will punish for disobedience. (3) The Rechabites were never put in mind of their obligations, but God sent his prophets who rose up early to remind them. (4) Jonadab left the charge, but no estate to bear the charge; but God gave the people a goodly land and blessed them in it. (5) God never tied up his people to any hard task like Jonadab did, yet God's people disobeyed him and the Rechabites obeyed their father.

IV. Judgment Upon the Jews for Disobedience (v. 17).

God declared that he would bring judgment upon them according to what he had said. Judgment is determined upon those who disobey and rebel against God.

V. Reward of the Rechabites for Their Loyalty (vv. 18, 19).

Because they had been true to the commands of Jonadab they should have continued representation before God. God has such regard for filial obedience that he lets not act go unrewarded.

God Knows His Own.

The church must keep herself pure. Neither false doctrine, nor false life, is allowable. The searching eyes of God see every corner of his dwelling-place. Nothing is hidden from his search. "The Lord knoweth them that are his, and them that are not his cannot deceive him. So, "let everyone that nameth the name of Christ, depart from iniquity."

The Miracle of Divine Grace.

The miracle of divine grace is too great for our understanding. The most dreadful thing about sin is the terrible feeling that the sinner can never again be as though that sin had never been.—Rev. Reginald J. Campbell in the Churchman.

Power of Prayer.

Prayer is the summing up of the Christian life in a definite act, which is at once inward and outward, the power of which on the character, like that of any other act, is proportioned to its intensity.—Benjamin Jowett.

What We Will and Must.

There is no contending with necessity, and we should be very tender how we censure those that submit to it. "This one thing to be at liberty to do what we will, and another thing to be tied up to what we must.—L'Estrange.

Why She Had Not Married.

A famous woman novelist was once asked why she had not married. "I have three things about the house," she said, "which represents so closely the characteristics of the average man that I don't want any more of him."
"What do you mean?" her friend asked.
"Well," the novelist replied. "I've got a dog that growls all the morning, a parrot that swears all the afternoon, and a cat that stays out all night."
(We'll bet there was one more reason—lack of a good chance.—Ed.)

Race Track and Other Gambling.

"No man has fought harder, in the Legislature of Maryland or out of it than the editor of the Whig to drive the gambling racetracks out of this State—and we are ready to fight again. But by the great horn-spoon we don't feel much like keeping up that sort of a fight unless the people who are with us show some signs of a decent moral constituency. We have no personal ill-will toward the "ponies." We like to see them stepping faintly along the highway; don't know if we wouldn't like to see them extended in a bruising "hoss race."
"What we do hate is the moral poisoning of a community by the infernal gambling that goes along with the races. And we hate that moral poison in one form just as much as we do in another. Why isn't there just as much moral obliquity in betting on a slot machine or a paddle wheel or a chance book as there is in betting on a horse race? "You've got to show me." And until you do, consarned if we want you hanging around our sanctum with your hypocritical gabble about "racetrack gambling."
"Why is racetrack gambling any worse than any other kind of gambling? Hello! Williams is out "for the fellows that play the races." No, he's doggone if he is. But, Williams is out to tell a lot of folks—and tell them to their teeth—that they are filling their communities with the gambling spirit and the gambling habit by a lot of gambling devices that are not one whit better than betting on the ponies. Pick that out of your eye.—Elkton Whig.

After the Moults— EGGS

REMEMBER, going through the moult is like going through a long spell of sickness. To force out the old quills and grow new feathers saps a hen's vitality.

If you expect your hens to be fall producers and winter layers, then feed them Poultry Pan-a-ce-a during and after the moult.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a will start your pullets and moulted hens to laying

It contains Tonics that put your moulted hens in fine condition—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulted, run-down hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains internal antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. It pays to feed Pan-a-ce-a regularly.

It brings back the singing—it brings back the scratching—it brings back the cackle. That's when you get eggs; and it's eggs you want—fall eggs, winter eggs—when eggs are eggs.
