EXCELLENT OFFICIAL RECORD BY COUNTY TREASURER.

Martin D. Hess Reports Figures to County Commissioners.

It is with keen regret to-gether with considerable relief, that I relinquish the office of County Treasurer and Clerk to your Honorable Board, which I have filled since December 3, 1915. I want to thank you as a Board, and individually, for the many kindnesses conferred upon me during that time. I deem it not out of order to bring to your attention at this time a brief summary of the business transacted by this office during the four years of my incumbency.

On Dec. 3, 1915, my predecessor transferred to me $2596.23 cash tofrom tax collectors amounting to $86 882.83. At the same time loans amounting to $42,000.00 from the several banks of Carroll county was transferred to my official care.

During the seven months of the ficsal year ending June 30, 1916, I collected interest on the county's daily balance (something that was never done before) to the amount of

From July 1, 1916, to June 30, 1917, the business transacted by this office amounted to $542.675.23. The loans carried over from the previous year were all paid. The interest received on daily balances amounted to $1,315.68. On July 1, 1917, there was a cash balance in bank of $16,267.24 and no loans outstanding.

From July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, the business transacted by this office amounted to $520,313.73. The amount of interest received on daily amount of interest received on daily balances amounted to $1,347.98, and no money borrowed during the year. From July 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919, this office transacted business to the amount of $737,944.00. Owing to the necessity of Carroll county doing her part in raising the 4th Liberty Loan your Board bought $15,000.00 worth of the registered Bonds, which you yet have. Also due to a misunderstanding with the Board of Education, you were obliged to borrow $30,000.00, which has since been paid off. The interest since been paid off. The interest collected on daily balances during these 12 months was $1,834.47, together with interest on the $15,000 4th Liberty Loan Bonds amounted to

From July 1, 1919, to November 30, 1919, a period of 5 months this office has transacted business to the amount of $601,775.48. No interest has been collected during these 5 months, for the reason that the banks in which I have deposits credit the interest December 31 and June 30, but your humble servant begs to inform your Board that the accrued interest on daily balances in the several banks to date is about $987.00.

I wish to inform you that I am transferring to my successor, Mr. Samuel J. Stone, seventy-eight thousand, five hundred and eighty-nine dollars and fifty-six cents.

During thes four years it has been the invariable rule of this office to pay all bills as soon as passed and ordered paid by your Board.

I had hoped to be elected for another term of two years as Treasur-er of Carroll County, yet, I realize, that the people had a right to decide otherwise, and I assure you that it is without bitterness toward anyone that I retire from office.

Hoping that I have made many friends in Carroll County, I shall al-ways recall with pleasure the four years spent at the Court House in Westminster.

Yours respectfully, MARTIN D. HESS.

(No candidate for re-election to a public office relishes being defeated, and especially when defeat seems to represent public gratitude for faithful and efficient services rendered. It will be a long while before this county secures the services of a better official than was Mr. Hess, who unfortunately, perhaps, was too modest to parade his just claims for reelection, and the people forgot about them; but fortunately the loss of the office to Mr. Hess, personally, cuts no He will at least enjoy an earned rest from the responsibilities of public office, and has ample afof his own to employ his time. —Ed. Record.)

THE LIBERTY CALENDAR.

Thirteen Months of Twenty-eight Days and Each Month Alike.

It is a pretty difficult job to keep track of all the new schemes, these days, and it is hardly essential that we should so burden ourselves, as many of them are not worth the time it takes to post-up on them. This may be true of the proposed "Liberty Calendar," but as it has reached the stage of being "introduced in Congress," it may be just as well to be able to talk about it (?) intelligently. An association has been formed, with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., to boost the project. This is all there is to it—to have all of the months of the year constructed alike, with 28 days, as follows: Mo. Tu. We. Th. Fri. Sa. Su. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 The plan makes New Year's day an independent holiday, not included in any week or month. Another in-dependent holiday, called "Correc-tion day" is provided for leap year, and is not included in any week or

The remaining 364 days are divided into 13 months of exactly four weeks each, every month beginning with Monday. The thirteenth month comes in like this: January, February, "Liberty," March, April, etc.,

ary, "Liberty," March, April, etc.,
The advantages for the system are claimed to be "immense." This is about the whole list; saving of mental effort; all holidays and anniversaries would always fall on the same day each week; a promissory note given for any number of weeks, months or years, would always come due on the same day of the week it was given; Friday and Easter Sunday would always be on fixed dates. Quite a strong list, isn't it?

Just what would happen to birthdays, and the like, and other special days heretofore remembered on the 30th and 31st, does not seem to be provided for. What the almanac and calendar manufacturers think of the scheme, may be imagined.

40 Persons Meet Horrible Death.

Forty persons died of tuberculosis in Carroll county last year. There have been 199 deaths from tuberculosis in the years 1914-18 inclusive. There are over 400 active cases in Carroll county at the present time, and the majority of them will die within the next 10 years. Each of these cases is a center of infection for other people and will spread the disease unless the patient is taught how to protect those with whom he comes in contact. You may be the next person to be infected. More than 10% of our people already have it. Help eradicate this scourge. Buy Red Cross Xmas Seals. # THE SENATORIAL CONTEST IS COMING TO THE FRONT

The Weller and Goldsborough Camps Centers of Interest.

The recent announcement by Mr. O. E. Weller that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, has not met with partywide enthusiasm, but means a fightor a compromise, something like in the case of the nomination for Gov-ernor. Mr. Weller is a strong party man, and evidently controls the ganization," but is not the Moses that the whole party will enthusiastically fall in line back of.

Mr. Weller is not only a heavy campaign contributor, but his close political friends are those who fill the big end of the Republican chest, and in addition play the game for all it is worth; so, there is no discounting the formidability of Mr. Weller as a candidate, nor his claims in that direction; and yet, there is still enough old-fashioned sentiment alive to want a candidate for Senator who fits the job all over—in case he gets it—and this can be said without any great disparagement of Mr. Weller's own qualifications in that direction, especially when comparison is made with most of the men in the Senate.

The biggest man in the party in Maryland, so far as Senatorial timber is concerned, is Hon. Phillips Lee Goldsborough. He is a man who could step into the Senate and make his influence felt at the outset. He knows politics, nationally and locally, and is the leading public speaker of the State, regardless of party. is, in fact, oversupplied with the sort of ability that would fit in the U. S. Senate, but which does not fit so well in a State with numerous would-be

Mr. Goldsborough is very much engaged in banking, and supposed not to have political aspirations of the easily ignited sort, especially considering some of the past chapters of Maryland's political history, which seem to record a somewhat well known enmity between Mr. Weller and himself, and with but slight chances of the hatchet being buried, so far as the two are concerned. There are others "prominently mentioned" in connection with the nomination—Edwin G. Baetjer, J. Kemp Bartlett, John B. Ramsay and W. Bladen Lowndes—but, unless something is done soon in the way of getting another candidate on the track, the party is apt to settle down to the Weller prospect, although it is reasonably convinced that "Phil" Goldsborough would be by long odds the dandiest candidate, as well as a top-notch Senator.

The scalp that is at stake is that of Senator John Walter Smith. Nothing much is being said in that camp as to the nominee, as Senator Smith has the matter safe on cold-storage for himself—if he wants it—and he does. But, with the recollection of that 165 plurality of Mr. Ritchie, for Governor, so fresh in mind, there would be pleasurable anticipations of a very hot time should a Republican spell-binder of the Goldsborough class get the Republican invitation.

Strange Sounds in Baltimore.

Last Sunday, in Baltimore, 113 persons were arrested, either for working, or selling, in violation of the Sunday laws. The American the Sunday laws. The American said this "weighty burden of ancient statutes made Baltimore groan." As Baltimore has been "groaning" so long—according to the American—it is a wonder it did not "give up the ghost" when "only" 113 arrests were made in the whole great city, the most of which were for driving trucks ice cream wagons, and the like. As the police department promises to do it again next Sunday, we will know what it is if we hear a noise in the direction of Baltimore. But, this may be worse yet. The Philadelphia Ledger's special from Baltimore, said; "Baltimore had the last straw placed on its creaking vertebrae today, with the enforcement of the blue laws." Why in the world does Baltimore use "straw" on its backbone? Why not use tire tape? And if the thing "creaks" why not use tar, or oil? "Creaking" and "groaning" is a mighty bad combination of symptoms.

Grandmother Sun just said, the "lid was clamped down," which is not so bad. We will take "clamping the lid" any time in preference to "groaning. It did not use big type headings, nor waste five columns of good white paper on what happened to the lid on just ice cream, and such little etceteras.

The News confined itself to the news, getting no more excited than to call the laws "blue" and "hoary," and rather boastfully stated that the employees of their office both "worked" and "sold" papers. So, the story is to be continued, next Sunday, when nobody knows what may happen.

URGES GENERAL COAL SAVING. May Return to War-time Measures for all Consumers.

Attorney-General Palmer has appealed to the country to save coal wherever possible, and not to be influenced by threats of lack of coal in-to creating sympathy for further concessions to striking miners that would insure unreasonable prices, not only for coal, but for all commodities for the next three years.

For the first time since the strike the government has moved to limit the use of anthracite as well as bi-tuminous coal. Dr. Garfield's injunction to retail dealers that deliveries be limited only to the actual requirements of domestic consumers, applies to all kinds of coal. Restrictions on public utilities which furnish power, light and heat are designed primarily to conserve bituminous coal, which is the standard "steam" coal. These restrictions, however, are expected to conserve anthracite where it is used in "steam" sizes in some sections of the east.

Coming at a time when the miners are showing no disposition to return to work at the wage icreases of 14% adjudged fair by the government, the statement of the fuel administrator is significant of the lengths to which officiol Washington is prepared to go to end the strike without further compromise.

With public utilities curtailing power to the less essential users, retail dealers scrutinizing deliveries and cities and States supervising the consumption of coal generally, the nation may expect to be on a genuine coal ration even without the use of the federal powers vested in the fuel administration.

"The wage increase proposed by Dr. Garfield," says the Attorney-General, "equalizes the average miner's wages with the present high cost of living without increasing the price of coal. This is fair to the miners and protects the public. The cost of living is now at the high point. To grant the demands of the miners would make the cost of living still higher. The new wage contract would run three winters and therefore would maintain a higher cost of living for substantially three years. "Such a situation cannot be tolerated. In addition to this, Dr. Garfield suggested a consultative body to investigate more completely the whole situation, to be composed of representatives in equal number of the miners and operators and to be presided over by the Secretary of the Interior. Such a body would investigate among other things, the profits of the operators, and if these should be found to be unreasonably high, the public should receive the benefit in a decreased price of coal, after the miners have had their wages finally adjusted on a fair basis. I understand this plan is acceptable to the operators. If the miners return to work and agree to the plan a way would be immediately open for permanent settlement.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION MORE SERIOUS EVERY DAY

Country isn't worth it.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Members of the Senate engaged today in a sav-age attack upon the Administration's policy in the past toward Mexico and demands were voiced for armed intervention, since, it was declared, by no other course did it seem possible for this nation to offer its citizens on either side of the border the protection to which they are entitled, or to exact a decent respect for American sovereignty at the hands of an outlaw government.

Two resolutions bearing upon the relations with Mexico were offered. The first was fathered by Senator Ashurst, Democrat, of Arizona, calling upon the War Department, in the name of Congress, to order enough troops to the border "to at least safeguard the lives of Ameri-cans on their own side of the inter-national line." The second proceeded from Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, and instructs the President to withdraw recognition of the Carranzista Government, to sever all diplomatic relations with that regime and thereby to pave the way for war. These Senators took occasion to assail / the Adminstration in bitter terms for what they declared to be its failure to act with greater vigor for the protection of American lives, even if American property should be left unguarded. Senator Ashurst was particularly causite in his references to the War Department, which he charged with total indifference to the repeated appeals of himself and other border representatives in Congress for the dispatch of troops to stand guard on the border against the invasions of Mexican outlaws.

Five Billions Wanted for 1920.

Billion dollar Congresses, a few years ago, were a reproach, the only answer being "this is a billion dollar country." But, we are dealing in different figures now, and with good prospects for their long continuance. Secretary of the Treasury, Glass, has just put in his claim for Five Billions with which to run the government in 1920, the biggest item of which is over a Billion for interest on bonds and other debts.

The spending festival is now approaching the paying-up stage, which many appeared to forget would come, about the time war contracts were being made. Among other big claimants is the Army for one billion; the Navy for over five hundred millions; Pensions over two hundred millions; public works, near three hundred millions, etc., etc.

The sum total of the situation is that it is now costing five times as nuch to run the government as it did in the year immediately preceding the war.

THE RECORD FOR CHRISTMAS

We are not specially urging that the Record be used as a "Christmas gift," on the score of its being a profitable transaction for us; but as all of the papers in this county have been acting Santa Claus for two ture shepherds. years, we merely mention the idea again that if anybody wants to "gift" somebody with a lot for a dol-lar, the Record presents one of few such chances.

The Hanover and Littlestown Turnpike Company unanimously decided to accept the offer of the state and county of $34,652.50 for its turnpike, exclusive of toll houses and other personal property. All of the local turn-pike companies have now accepted the offers made for the pikes leading out of Hanover, and according to a recent statement of the county commissioners, the gates will come down on December 15th.

Dr. Elmer C. Fahrney, of Hagerstown, one of the regular advertisers have spent $39,585, and the Demo-crats $22,079—quite a sizable sum intestinal and rectal diseases and will return December 8th.

TO CURB EXTRAVAGANCE.

Estimates for Running Government to be Greatly Reduced.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Demand that the utmost economy be exercised in government expenditures was made in the Senate today by both Republican and Democratic leaders during a discussion of the financial situation. Possiblity of war with Mexico was mentioned, and it was pointed out that this would entail enlarged appropriations.

Chairman Warren, of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the estimates of $4,865,000,000 for the next fiscal year, as prescribed recently by Secretary Glass were aboslutely startling.' He said this compared with estimated revenues of $6,035,-000,000, from all sources, including the Postoffice Department. "When the burden of taxes we are carrying is considered, and the war behind us, it seems to me," said Senator Warren, "that the time has come to shut the gates entirely on new requisitions, new departments and new commissions."

Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, declared Congress would not provide the money requested in the estimates, adding that several Senators had agreed to talk bills to death, if necessary. He urged that the war risk insurance bureau be abolished, and that many of the government employees in Washington be discharged asserting that the number had been increasing instead of decreasing since the war ended."

Chairman Wadsworth, of the military committee, pointed out that the army estimates of $982,000,000 were $200,000,000 more than this year's appropriations, and apparently were based on a peace time army of 500,-000 men. "I can assure the Senate," he said,

"that not with my consent will there be any army of 500,000 men."

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, a member of the committee, said he would join Senator Wadsworth in opposing an army of 500,000 worth in opposing an army of 500,000

Questions Requiring Answer.

Evidently, more of the country is becoming obsessed with the idea that the best time to "get things" is when the "getting is good." If the miners, railroaders, and steelworkers, can "get theirs" by demanding it, and using the pressure of "no work" unless they succeed, why should not everybody else do the same thing?

There is no valid reason why the classes named should be the pets of the public, and be fed at a select table. Work is work, and fair pay is fair pay, no matter who the worker is.

Perhaps some of the close readers of the Record may think we have this labor and wage subject "on the brain." Well, we have. Perhaps our frequent references to it may be monotonous? Well, it is becoming a monotonous subject everywhere—and a momentous one too.

As a matter of present and future fact, the whole country is likely to hear even more and more along this line, until all of the workers of the country "get theirs too."

If there is a "grab game" on hand, let's all have a share in it. Why not? If the National administration can "fix things up" for the miners and railroaders, why not for everybody?

We are patriotic American citizens, tax-payers, home-makers, free born, and in our different activities necessary to the prosperity and welfare of our country. How long will the meek consent to have the buck passed to them, and quietly accept it?

If the way to "get ours" is to "unionize" and "strike," why let the plan be monopolized largely by those not 100 per cent. American?

Is an American citizen as good as a half-and-half, or less than half, American, or is he not?

Our country has for the past year been spending a vast amount of valuable time, energy, paper and ink, discussing a League of Nations for the peace of the world. Isn't it about time that we spend a little more of these things to bring about a "square deal" for all Americans?

A Bill Against Sedition,

The Record has frequently advanctoo much of its boasted freedom. So self-satisfied and unconcerned and order. have we been that perhaps but few realize that, even now, with all of our new emergency war legislation, we practically lack the law and constitutional authority to eradicate the "Red" movement that seems rapidly growing throughout this country, with the openly avowed purpose of bringing about anarchy and governmental chaos, and with hundreds of periodicals circulating their pernicious doctrines.

The want of sufficient law to proceed against such criminals, happily, is likely to be soon supplied if Bill 10650 introduced in the House of Representatives Nov. 17, by Representative Davey of the 14th Ohio District is passed. It defines sedition, and apparently effectually penalizes it. The time has arrived when the United States government must take decisive action against the rabid classes, and discard kid-glove meth-

The Turkeys "Came Down."

In the Philadelphia market, last week, housewives boycotted the highroosting turkeys, and they came down in price to as low as 40 cents, and even then did not move fast. There is a pretty big lesson in this short story. The reason that things are "high" is because people pay the price. There would be more "turkey" experiences, if the people choosed to bring them about.

As long as buyers content themselves with the "aint it dreadful" expression, but continue to peel off the greenbacks, the period of "dreadfulness" will continue. Will there be $20.00 shoes, next? Very likely. Buyers of $12.00 and $15.00 shoes, at present, are incubating the $20.00 breed rapidly. Let the fancy priced stuff remain on the shelves, then see what will happen.

Wear the old duds, the old hats and shoes; use the old automobiles, the old carpets, the old machines; and do without "the latest" for a while longer, and see whether the "turkey" proposition does not increase. The boastful complainers are doing a lot toward creating and continuing a cost of living, that is as unnecessary as a furnace heated house in July.

Splendid Cough Medicine. "As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only pleased to relate my experience and only wish that I had known of its merits years ago," writes Mrs. Clay Fry, Ferguson Station, Mo. "I give it to my children when they show the slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs, a very few doses will relieve me, and by taking it for a few days, I soon get rid of the cold."

An Unreachable Crime.

It is not at all strange that our men at the head of big affairs in this country are breaking down under the strain of responsibility. "Nervous prostration," the physicians call it, but it is in reality overwork mentally -the most serious breakdown that can overtake anybody. There are men who profess to doubt, when men complain of mental work making them "dead tired"-men who think the only kind of work is physical, and ed the opinion that this country has, that none other counts toward bodily for many years, been afflicted with exhaustion except the kind of work that is performed by the body.

There never was a greater mistake. Men may break themselves down by "freedom of the press," for so long overtaxing the strength of the body, that we have almost decided that but they can do it as easily, and more completely and lastingly, by wide-open "home of the free" policy. already suffered in the performance of its functions. ### The New Labor Party.

We note with some gratification the adoption by the new Labor party of planks calling for the abolition of the United States Senate, national ownership of banks, nationalization of all public utilities and basic industries, and the indictment of judges for fearless interpretation of the law.

The bane of the two-party system is that as the leaders of each party can be fairly sure of their rank and file no matter what the platform, they are free to bid almost any price for the relatively small mobile vote that holds the balance of power. If that mobile vote is the radical vote, the hope of getting it and fear of losing it render the temptation very great to both parties to promise legislation that is neither approved nor wanted by the nation at large.

For years past, both parties have been trying to ride two horses; marring sane and broad-minded economic legislation with sops to class feeling, that could not but result in confusion as to the law's intent and the public purpose. The country has been heading toward a realignment into moderates and radicals, there has been abundant need of such a realignment, and yet neither party could afford to dcclare outright for either policy.

The growth of radicalism since the war has been undeniable and great. If both the parties were free to bid for its support now, the price might be run up far beyond the point of safety to the nation with the actual risk proportionate to the number of the discontented and rash. We get a taste of the possibilities in the unrestraint with which William G. Mc-Adoo makes his first popular play for support for the Democratic nomination. If each succeeding candidate felt impelled to make an increasingly violent appeal to class feeling, where would the country end ?

There can be no fear that a Labor party so avowedly radical as that which is now orgnizing could carry the country, even though it draw from the ranks of both the others. But the segregation of the radicals into a group that proposes to go it alone and is not open to appeal from the Bryans and McAdoos materially narrows the chasm that candidates of the two older parties may feel that they must try to straddle.

A milder platform might be dangerous. It would draw thousands away from both the Republican and Democrats, nor is it likely that the menace would be appreciated in time for a successful fusion of the older parties against it. The further toward the extreme the line of demarcation is pushed, the better. But it is well that those who choose to put themselves the other side of it should be there, away from the temptation of either Democratic or Republican candidates to go after their support. -Baltimore News.

Should Be Quarantined. Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids him-self of a cold, the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

EVADED LAW THIRTEEN YEARS

Noted Indian Outlaw Forced by Affection to Surrender to Police of British Columbia.

Simon Gun-a-noot, notorious Indian outlaw and "bad man," has experienced a change of heart. He has given himself up after evading the police and the white man's law for 13 years, says a Vancouver (B. C.) dispatch to the Toronto Globe.

Among his tribesmen in northern British Columbia the elusive Gun-anoot was regarded as a great hero, not because of his success in evading the law, but because of his great feats of strength, his prowess as a hunter, his mastery with the rifle, and his intense religious fervor. Undoubtedly the affection of his tribesmen assisted greatly in his remaining at large so long. Of the vast resources of northern British Columbia he probably knows more than any white man. This is said to be especially true of mineral wealth.

During the 13 years Simon has been a fugitive from justice he is said to have never been out of British Columbia. The government has spent $50,000 to get him, without success. His reasons for surrendering, he says, were to obtain civilized comforts for his sick wife and education for his Simon will face trial on a charge of murdering Alex McIntosh and Max Le Clair, two white traders, whose bodes were found on the trail outside Hazelton, B. C. It is alleged that Simon fought with them, claiming that he did so because they gave his young wife liquor.

IS OLDEST LIVING LANGUAGE

Speech of Lithuanian Peasants Recognized as the Most Ancient Still on Human Lips,

"Viri trahite jugum"—"Men, drag the yoke"-sighed the Roman politician when Nero turned down the request of the Amalgamated Togamakers' union for an eight-hour day and raised taxes to pay for the autumn series of orgies and a new fiddle.

"Vyrai, traukite jungan," echoes the Lithuanian of the present day, as he and his fellow refugees shoulder their packs and set out for the return trip to the farms whence they were driven before Lithuania had set up its present republican form of self-government.

This striking similarity between the modern Lithuanian and the ancient Latin language is no mere coincidence applying to those few words only. Lithuanian is the oldest living language in the world today. It resembles most the primitive Sanskrit and is probably older than Greek or Latin, with which philologists find it has much in common. It is entirely different from German and the Slavic tongues.

Prof. A. Millet of the College of France says: "If you wish to hear from the human lips some echo of what the language originally common to the Indo-European may have been. go and listen to Lithuanian peasants

Thus, the other day, "in conformity with ancient usage," the master, the wardens and the clerk of the Gardeners company duly waited upon my lord mayor at the Mansion house, and presented him with specimens of flowers, vegetables, and herbs in remembrance of the long association of the guild with the City. And my lord mayor was very gracious. as lord mayors, no doubt, have been for the last 300 years and more, and the master and the wardens and the clerk were duly reverent, and duly courteous, too, as on behalf of the guild they presented to "my lord mayor" lady" a bouquet of orchids.

War on Yellow Fever.

The International health board (Rockefeller Foundation) continues to wage relentless war against yellow fever in the parts of the world that are regarded as the seedbeds of this disease. It is hoped that by this radical plan yellow fever may eventually be altogether eliminated from the world. An epidemic was reported in Guatemala in June, 1918. The board dispatched Dr. Joseph H. White to the scene, and an energetic campaign was organized, resulting in freeing Guatemala from the disease in a few months. Late in the year a corps of 125 men was put to work destroying stegomyia mosquitoes in the city of Guayaquil, Ecuador, for the purpose of ridding that city of yellow fever. Since last November the yellow fever work of the International health board has been directed by General Gorgas, late surgeon general of the army.

December 7 Truths That Jesus Taught Matthew 5:3-12

The character of Kingdom citizens is the message of the Scripture lesson. They are first of all "poor in spirit," not "poor spirited." They have no goodness of their own to make them presentable to God, and know no means of getting any. They are without spiritual resources of their own. Recognizing their spiritual need, they come to the King, saying from the heart,

"Nothing in my hand I bring, Simply to Thy cross I cling."

"Theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Theirs is the kingdom of neaven. This is the only and indispensable condition of entering the Kingdom. Blessed indeed are the "poor in spirit," for they qualify for entrance into the Kingdom.

Kingdom citizens "mourn" they Kingdom citizens "mourn," they mourn the sin that caused the spiritual poverty, they mourn the sin round about them, but they shall be comforted with the fact and consciousness of forgiveness, and with the promise of that time when sin shall be no more.

Kingdom citizens enter also into the blessing of the meek. Meekness is not weakness. On its active side it leads to obedience, on its passive side to endurance and suffering. "The meek shall inherit the earth;" they get it by giving it up.

Furthermore, the Master taught that the citizens of the Kingdom would be righteous and merciful.

Mercy without righteousness is moral indifference, more sentiments, right. indifference, mere sentiment; righteousness without mercy is cold and unattractive.

Purity of heart in verse 8 is suggestive of the heart that has one object before it, an undivided heart. It is that singleness of purpose which, next to yieldedness of the life to the divine will is of all things most neces-The pure in heart see God. They see Him here, as well as hereafter. Although the world is full of God, only a few see Him. Why? Because the heart is set on created things, rather than on the Creator, and seeks its satisfaction at the "broken cisterns which can hold no water.'

Blessing is next pronounced upon the peace-makers. God is "the God of peace." "He made peace by the blood of the cross." The true peacemakers are everywhere recognized as the children of God. They have fel-lowship with Him in the work of peace-making.

The Master thus spoke a sevenfold blessing on the citizens of His Kingdom. Then He taught that such qualities as were emphasized in His words would not find favor on earth. The pathway of the true citizen of heaven will often be one of reproach, persecution and slander. Nevertheless, let not the life be embittered, but rather "rejoice and be exceeding glad." Steadfastness will win.

and the future will bring the reward. And now let us remember that the 3rd Chap. of John chronologically and logically precedes the fifth chapter of Matthew. Before any can enter into the blessings of the Kingdom life they must be born from above. Adherence to the ethical teachings of Christ demands as a prerequisite an entrance into the heart of the resurrection life of Christ.

An Argument. "Shoes grow on trees," said Bud. "They do not," said Marjorie.

Boys and Girls Gain Health At Maryland Tuberculosis Association's Preventorium At Claiborne.

Betty is a frail, big-eyed little girl of 7 years. Her father is a patient at a tuberculosis hospitalandhermother "since Daddy went away" has to work all day. in a factory to keep Betty and her two baby brothers, Tom, aged 51/2, and Jerome, who is 4, from going hungry to bed.

Last summer, Betty, leading Tom and Jerome by the hands, arrived at Claiborne on the ferry from Annapolis and pretty soon the three of them were joining in a group of merry youngsters playing "mulberry bush' on the sandy beach of Eastern Bay The trio were among the patients who during the past months have enjoyed the benefits of the preventorium operated by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association at the Claiborne Cottages Twenty children have been treated at the cottages and all of them have shown marked improvement.

The preventorium was opened sev eral months ago as a place where children from 4 to 12, boys and girls from all parts of the state, who had been seriously exposed to or were, for varying reasons pre-disposed to tuber culosis, or suffering from mal-nutri tion or chorea, could live practically out of doors and get the treatment needed to prevent the threatened do velopment of tuberculosis.

So very successful has been the ex periment that it is hoped to make the Claiborne Cottages a permanent part of the work of the Maryland Tubercu losis Association. The cottages have closed because there is no fund to keep them opened longer. The work of the Maryland Tuberculosis Asso ciation, like that of all the 1000 affil iated organizations of the National Tuberculosis Association, depends largely for its financial support on the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals This year the seals were ready for distribution on December 1. Through out the entire country an intensive campaign to show the menace of the disease, that yearly takes a death toll in the United States more than three times as great as the number of lives lost by the American armies on the battlefields of Europe, is under way.

To finance this fight, more than a half billion of the little Red Cross Christmas seals must be sold. Maryland's quota is $125,000 worth of the seals. This will enable the state to carry on and develop its work and to provide for the operation of the Claiborne Preventorium all the year round. At present there is no place, where Maryland children can be given their chance to win back the health lost through no fault of their own.

Every seal is a penny's worth of prevention and cure. The stamps this year are unusually pretty, done in three colors, and are Christmassy. The officers of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, which will be in general charge of the seal sale in Maryland are: Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs, president; George A. Colston, treasurer; Joseph S. Ames, secretary; A. E. Sinks, executive secretary, and Arthur Ellt Hungerford, campaign director.

Co-operating in the organization of the work are the local tuberculosis as sociation of Allegany, Anne Arundel, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Garrett, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Queen Anne, Somerset, Washington, Wicomico, Prince George, Cecil, Charles and Caroline counties.

In Talbot, Baltimore, St. Mary's. Worgester and Calvert, in which there are no permanent organizations, volunteer committees are being formed to put over this special piece of work.

In the state last year, 2,914 persons died needlessly of tuberculosis. The tuberculosis death rate in Maryland is 44 per cent higher than the average death rate from the disease in the country as a whole. The record is not one of Maryland to be proud of. It can be reduced by educational and preventive work. Every seal will help.

************** Among the 150,000 persons who are killed each year by tuberculosis in the United States, there are more than 12,000 children under 5 years of age. It is not true that these children inherited tuberculosis. Science has demonstrated that tuberculosis is a communicable disease. caused by a germ transmitted after birth. One life saved from tuberculosis is thousands of dollars donated to your town. And think of the happiness, too. BUY RED CROSS CHRIST-MAS SEALS - THEY SAVE LIVES.

"The battle against tuberculosis is not a doctor's affair; it belongs to the entire community.'

SELF-DENIAL MEANS SUCCESS | MESOPOTAMIA TO 'COME BACK'

Much Food for Thought in Analysis of the Lives of One Hundred Average Men

The American Bankers' association has compiled and published the actual life experience of 100 men. It is an illuminating analysis of the good and bad fortune that come to the average of mankind. Here it is:

At age 22: 100 men all strong and vigorous with good mental and physical capacity.

At age 35: 5 have died; 10 are wealthy; 10 are in good circumstances; 40 have moderate means; 35 have saved nothing.

At age 45: 16 have died; 3 are wealthy; 65 are self supporting, but without resources; 16 are no longer self-supporting. At age 55: 20 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are in good circumstances; 46 are self-supporting, but without means; 30 are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support. At age 65: 36 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are wealthy; 6 self-support-to defray funeral expenses: In spite of all preaching, economy and thrift are not common qualities. The large majority of men insist on living up to their income regardless of the amount of those incomes. Selfdenial is a hard thing, yet self-denial nine times-out of ten is the secret of substantial success.—Wheeling Intelli-

INSPIRED AT ODD MOMENTS

Brilliant Thoughts That Have Come to Men of Genius in Their Hours of Repose

There is a photograph, with which most of us are no doubt familiar, of Mark Twain at work in bed-holding his writing pad on his knees, and having the things he needed for his labor disposed about on tables on either side. But the idea of working in bed was not original with Mark. Many eminent men before him did the same thing, a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger says, Indeed, no, small part of the world's literary treasure has been produced between the sheets by physical indolent although mentally active men of genius.

One of the best known lines in English poetry came into its author's head when he was actually asleep. While visiting at Minto, Thomas Campbell one evening went to bed early, with his mind full of a new poem. About 2-o'clock in the morning he suddenly awakened repeating, "Events to come cast their shadows before." Ringing the bell sharply, he summoned a servant. The man found Campbell with one foot in bed and one on the floor.

"Are you ill, sir?" he asked. "I was never better in my life," said the poet. "Leave the candle and bring me a cup of tea."

Seizing his pen he put down the happy thought, changing "events to come" into "coming events," and over the noninebriating cup, he finished the first draft of "Lochiel's Warning."

Twenty-Year-Old Trout.

The death has occurred in the south of Scotland of a trout which for twenty years had survived in a well. The fish was caught in an adjoining stream - the river Evan, a tributary of the Annan, near Moffat, and was placed in a well formed in a burn adjacent to a remote railway signal-box, a few miles north of Beattock, on the Caledonian main line. The signalman who at the time was in charge of the cabin took a lively interest in the fish as also did various engine drivers and other workers on that section of the line, when intervals permitted of their visiting the "aquarium," with its solitary occupant. The trout gradually became quite tame and docile, and was accustomed to swim boldly to the edge of the well to receive tit-bits from visitors, in the form of worms or insects suitable to its appetite.

Churches' Weathervanes.

Weathervanes seem to date from early times. According to Ducange, the cock was originally devised as an emblem of clerical vigilance. The large tail of the cock was adapted to turn with the wind. Many churches have for a vane the emblem of the saints to whom they are dedicated. St. Peter's Cornhill, London, is surmounted with a key, St. Peter having the keys of heaven and hell. St. Laurence has for a vane a gridiron, and St. Laurence at Norwich has the gridiron with the holy martyr extended upon the bars. A gilt ship in full sail is the vane upon St. Mildred's Church in the Poultry. St. Michael's, Queenhithe, has a ship, the hull of which will hold a bushel of grain, referring to the former traffic in corn at the hithe .- London Chron-

Wouldn't Give Up Easily.

Mother was to entertain company, so Billy was put to bed earlier than usual. Billy resented this, and as an excuse said he didn't like to have the women see him in bed when they went upstairs to lay aside their wraps. Prophecy That Ancient Land Is to Be Redeemed From Present State of Barrenness.

It may be remembered that, when Cen. Sir Stanley Maude had to lay down his work with his life in Mesopotamia, that work was taken up and carried on successfully by Gen. Sir W R. Marshall. The expedition which he sent up the Euphrates freed that river from the Turks, and just before he armistice the force which he led up the Tigris from Bagdad captured the entire Turkish army of 7,000 about 50 miles south of Mosul, the city which stends on the west bank opposite the runs of Nineveh. Since then the country has had peace, and all the way north and west from Basra there has been a notable revival of commerce and agriculture, with a beginning of the great irrigation scheme devised by S'r William Willcocks. It was through irrigation that in ancient times the land developed its extraordinary fertility, and traces remain of the network of canals that formed the center of ing by labor: 54 are dependent on Erbylonia.

Is there to be a renewal of that fertility in place of the desert barrennes produced by Turkish neglect and maladministration? General Marshall. who has returned to England, is of that opinion. Speaking recently at Durham he made one very remarkable statement. As a result of experiments, he said, it was believed that Mesopotamia would become the finest cottongrowing country in the world. That is a large expectation, too large to disturb cotten growers in other countries. Details of the experiments, showing surprising results, will have to be hade known before the "sea island" territory of Georgia, South Carolina and Florida can believe that its supremacy is threatened by Mesopotamia, or that the beautiful long-stapled silky wool of its peculiar variety can be excelled anywhere.

American Footgear Considered by Unfortunate Serbian Woman as Altogether Too Beautiful to Wear.

Anything that will keep the feet from the ground is considered a shoe in Serbia. In the remote rural districts of the country it is said that many of the people live and die without owning a pair of shoes. In the bitterest weather they travel through mud and snow without adequate foot covering. They consider themselves fortunate if they can secure old gunny sacks or heavy cloth, which they tie about their feet with twine in winter.

The first American-made shoes that were distributed by the American Red Cross created a tremendous stir among the people of the distant villages. One old woman who had never owned a pair before took the shoes that had been given to her to her home and put them on a shelf above the fireplace. She was as pleased as a child to own them, but nothing could induce her to wear them. She said that she intended to save them for fetes, or perhaps for her burial. They were "much too beautiful to be worn," she

How They Got Pink Cheeks.

The belles of earlier days are said to have used the juice of red geranium flowers to give pinkness to their fair cheeks, the effect thus obtained being of greater naturalness than that bestowed by rouge

One wonders how they did it. For the sake of experiment some red geranium blossoms were macerated in a small porcelain dish with a very little water. The water did turn pink. But surely for a rouge substitute a lot of the flowers would be needed to furnish juice enough. The juice of red geranium flowers is a solution of pigment contained in the petals. It is cell sap. And the same remark applies to most other kinds of flowers, which owe their beautiful colors to pigment solutions. In the case of yellow flowers, however, such as crocuses and buttercups, the pigment is not held in solution but is deposited in a granular form in the walls of the cells-an entirely different method of painting.

How Mine Fires Are Stopped. Coal-dust floating in the air in clouds is just as likely to cause explosions in coal-mines as fire-damp, and there are three ways of overcoming the danger. The commonest method is to use water to lay the dust. Then there is the plan of rendering the dust non-inflammable by mixing with it ordinary rock-dust. This is done by applying a coating of the rock-dust to various parts of the mine, and the plan is very effective. Another way is to set up a trough filled with rockdust in various parts of the mine. When an explosion occurs the dust is automatically thrown from the troughs to the floor of the mine, and the cloud of incombustible dust filling the air at this point stops the passage of the hurning coal-dust.

AZORES IT A STANDSTILL

Population Has Shown Little Change in Last Century-Lost Trade in Sugar and Tobacco.

The population of the Azores is about 245,000, the number of inhabitants having changed but little in the last century, and, if anything, having diminished. This fact is probably due more to various political and social conditions than to climatic, agricultural, or other conditions of the islands. In the early days the Portuguese literally "raised cane" on the islands, and established a large sugar trade with England and other countries. Tobacco and fruits were also produced in great quantities, but, with the discovery and settlement of Brazil and other South American countries, Portugal rather discouraged production in the Azores in order to aid her colonies in South America. With the sugar and tobacco trade snatched from them, the Azoreans began the cultivation of the vine, and the making of wine and other liquors became one of the chief industries of the islands. The population consists mainly of Portuguese, Moorish, and Flemish settlers, with a few negroes and a fair sprinkling of English settlers.

How Slang Phrase Began;

Did you ever hear anybody say, when some one made a very radical statement, "Oh, he's off his hook?" That bit of slang is very old. In the medieval times the bent pieces of iron on which the hinges of the big gates rested were called the hooks. Whenever the gate was off its hook, of course, there was something wrong; hence the expression.—Boston Post.

A Little Talk About Surplus "SURPLUS" IS MORE THAN A RAINY-DAY FUND.

IT IS AN EVIDENCE OF GOOD MANAGEMENT. In the case of a Bank, a railroad, or a business institution, a large surplus means that the mangement is wise enough not to distribute all the profits in the form of dividends, but to reserve a portion for future use—it may be for emergencies, or it may be simply to invest in material, real estate, or something else requiring capital, and the possession of a surplus renders it unnecessary to borrow the money.

Every individual ought to have a surplus in the form of a savings account. It is exactly the same with the individual as with the corporation—his surplus indicates that his personal expenses have been kept so well within his income that there is something left over. It also shows that he has not used it all up in "dividends" of pleasure, but like a wise business man has "salted" some of it down for the

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 7

PETER AND JOHN ASLEEP IN GETHSEMANE.

LESSON TEXT-Mark 14:32-42.
GOI DEN TEXT-Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.—Mark 14:38, ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Mat. 26:36-56. Lyik 39:09-61. 6; Luke 22:39-54; John 18:1-11. PRIMARY TOPIC—An Angel Strengthening Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC-Peter and John Fail INTERMEDIATE TOPIC - Asleep on SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC-Jesus Depends upon His Disciples.

I. Christ's Suffering (vv. 32-34).

1. The place (v. 32). The garden of Gethsemane—an inclosure containing olive and fig trees, beyond Kidron, about three-fourths of a mile from Jerusalem. The name means olive-press. The name is significant of the occasion. Edersheim says it is an emblem of trial, distress and agony. Perhaps the garden was owned by one of Jesus' friends.

2. His companions (v. 35). He took with him the 11 disciples, that they might share, so far as possible, this sorrow with him. Being a real human being he craved sympathy. He bade them watch with him. While he knew that he must "tread the wine-press alone," he had a keen appreciation of sympathy so far as those who loved him could give it. The behavior of the disciples shows the utter limitation of human sympathy. 3. His great sorrow (v. 34). This is the same as the "cup" in verse 36. It was not primarily the prospect of physical suffering that was crushing him; it was the suffering as a sinbearer—the sensations of his pure soul coming into contact with the awful sin and guilt of the world. Only pure and refined natures can understand this. In addition to this, there was the judgment stroke from the holy God as it fell upon his Son instead of the sinner. God caused the iniquities of the world to strike upon Jesus (II Cor. 5:21; Isa. 53:6).

II. Christ Praying (vv. 35-42).

Though he prized human sympathy in the hour of supreme need, his only recourse was prayer. The sympathy of our friends is helpful, but in the great crises of life we can find help only when we go to God in prayer. "Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray" (James 5:13).

1. The first prayer (vv. 35-38). (1) His posture (v. 35). He fell on his face, prostrate on the ground. In the hour of our great need we naturally prostrate ourselves before God. This is a becoming posture. (2) His petition (v. 36). "Take away this cup from me." By the cup is meant his death on the cross. He did not desire to escape the cross. No doubt it was most grievous to him to face its shame, but he pressed on, knowing that for this cause he had come into the world 12:27, 28; cf. Heb. 2:14). He prayed that the "hour might pass from him," that is, that his life might be prolonged to die on the cross at the appointed time to make atonement for the sins of the world. The burden was so great that it seemed his life would be crushed out. His prayer was heard (Heb. 5:7). When God hears our prayers he grants the petition desired (I John 5:14-15). Angels ministered to him, giving the necessary grace to endure to the end (Luke 22:43). (3) His resignation (v. 36). His will was in subjection to the Father. He knew that his death on the cross was the will of God the Father; for he was the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. (4) The disciples rebuked (v. 37). He singled out Peter, since he had been the most conspicuous in proclaiming his loyalty (John 13:38). Though he would go with him to death, he could not watch one hour. (5) Exhortation to the disciples (v. 38). "Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation." The only way to be able to stand in the time of trial is to be watching and praying. Jesus knew that although the disciples meant well, they would fail in the trial unless aided from above. The flesh is too weak to stand the strain.

2. The second prayer (vv. 39, 40). He withdrew the second time from his. disciples and uttered the same words in prayer. This was not vain repetition. It is proper to repeat our requests. He found the disciples asleep again. Their shame and confusion was more marked than at first.

3. The third prayer (vv. 41, 42). He uttered the same words in his third prayer (Matt. 26:44). He now tells the disciples to sleep on and take their rest, as the hour had come for his betrayal. There is such a thing as being asleep when wanted and awaking when it is too late. If the disciples had been praying they would not have fallen asleep.

Kindness, Cheapest of All. The cheapest of all things is kindness, its exercise requiring the least possible trouble and self-sacrifice .-

Opportunity.

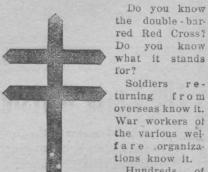

Some men seem to expect opportunity to drive up to the door and take them for a joy ride.

Rights of Others. Zeal is very blind, or badly regulated, when it encroaches upon the rights of others.-Quesnel.

DOUBLE-BARRED CROSS IS REALTH ENBLEM

Insignia Of Anti-Tuberculosis Work Throughout World Is 17 Years Old.

Designed by Frenchman.

Soldiers returning from overseas know it. War workers of the various welfare organizations know it. Hundreds of French and Belgian refugees know it. Disabled French and Italian soldiers hold it in veneration. Down in the French Province of Lorraine it is second in esteem only to the Lorraine Cross, which it somewhat resembles.

The double-barred Red Cross is the world-wide emblem of the world-wide fight against tuberculosis. It has flown over tuberculosis camps in all the allied countries. It has waved from the front of rolling tuberculosis clinics that have visited the most isolated ru ral districts of the United States. It waves today over camps in America where thousands of American soldiers and sailors are fighting tuberculosis contracted from exposure at the front from being gassed, from the "flu" and from other experiences during the war

In October, 1902, the Internationa. Anti-Tuberculosis Association adopted the double-barred Red Cross as the em blem of the world-wide fight against tuberculosis. It was proposed by Dr G. Sersiron, of Paris. It is a combination of the Croix de Lorraine and the Greek Cross. Both crosses are symbolic of charity and help to humanity. Four years later, in 1906, the double barred Red Cross was carried into America. It was in this year that the National Tubercolosis Association was formed and during the intervening years the cross has been carried all over the United States by the National Association and its affiliated State and local organizations that now number

The Maryland Tuberculosis Association is one of these affiliated organizations. It is doing its part in the big nation-wide campaign to be waged against tuberculosis. Owing to war conditions and the flu epidemic of last winter, the death rate from the dis ease has increased 16 per cent. A campaign of education, prevention and cure will be carried on with increased effort. To finance the fight, $6,500,000 worth of Red Cross Christmas Seals for 1919 must be sold. Maryland's share is $125,000. Of this amount $100,000 will be raised in the City of Baltimore and the remainder in the counties. "Every seal is a penny's worth of cure and prevention."

The county quotas are: Garrett, $800; Allegany, $2,500; Washington, $2,375; Frederick, $3,100; Carroll, $2,000; Montgomery. Remember when winter coats used to be made of thick bulky materials that seemed necessary to keep out the cold?

But this is a winter of soft luxurious fabrics that will keep you just as snugly warm and perhaps even more so, and at the same time are so much lovelier and more pleasing to wear.

And after all. these fabrics are not prohibitive in price. At least these Wooltex models---and there are many more just as lovely as these illustrations---represent the very newest and most talked of fabrics and are reasonably priced.

When you see this label in a coat you know you are getting not only dependable fabrics but also the latest style and the finest tailoring.

(For the Record.)
On Thanksgivinw Day the corn shocks in Ira Rodkey's field, near Baust church, could be seen melting away like snow before the Spring It was not the warmth of the Sun, however, but the warmth of the hearts of Mr. Rodkey's friends and neighbors that did it.

The shocks began to tumble early by Thos. Shoemaker, Chas. Kuhns, in the morning, and soon the golden ears began to by. There were 34 husking in the morning and 53 in the afternoon. By 3:30 o'clock the last shock disappeared and 150 barrels of corn awaited transportation to the

> Even a destructive fire has its comensations. Mr. Rodkey is assured that he has really many friends and kind neighbors, who are ready to prove their loyalty in case of need.

There would have been even more huskers, of it had not been for the previous night's heavy rain and the fact that Mr. Uriah Foglesong's corn was husked at the same time.

A fitting close to the day's helpful task was the Thanksgiving service held at Baust church in the evening, which was largely attended.

The following helped to husk Mr. Rodkey's corn: Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rodkey, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rodkey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rodkey, Mr. and Mrs. David Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keefer, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. NOT HIS NAME.

The train was pulling into the station and as the passengers crowded to get off the hotelman walked up and down calling: "King George, sir? King George?" Coming up to an old gentleman from the country, he said, while stooping for the man's bag:

"King George, sir?"
"No, sir," replied the old man, "you're mistaken. I'm just plain Abraham McCarthy."—Harper's Maga-

Helium Gas Cheapened.

Up to 1915 the total output of helium gas in all the world had probably been less than 100 cubic feet, and it was worth about $1,700 a cubic foot. But just before the armistice was signed a shipment of 150,000 cubic feet of helium gas was sent to Europe, and it costs less than 10 cents a cubic Helium gas was first discovered on the sun, by spectroscopy. It is the best gas for use in balloons, because it is not inflammable. It is now extracted from the natural gas of Texas and Kansas.

The method is delicate and complex, but is based upon the fact that the principal constituents of natural gas liquefy when cooled to about minus 329 degrees F., but that helium remains a gas at that temperature, and hence is easily separated.

BUILDING COMMITTEE.

CARD OF THANKS.

As an appreciation and gratitude of the kind treatment accorded me through my term in office that I served as Judge of the Orphans' Court of Carroll County. I feel it my duty to thank the citizens of Car-roll County for their gratitude, and kind treatmen while in office, and especially those people which I had an pportunity to meet in the Orphans' Court. Hoping that with my associates we have offended no one on the matters that were brought before us for our decision. I assure you that my motto was always equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

I feel grateful to all the officials in the court house for their pleasant greetings at all times, making special mention of my associates Judges Myers and Haines, not forgetting Mr. Arthur, Register of Wills, and his deputies, Messrs. Brooks and Lippy, feeling exceedingly proud of the agreeable manner in which we were together, being without a discord during my term of 4 years. I can-not help mentioning the Attorneys of the bar for their courtesy, thanking them for their kind advices at all times. Hoping that I have filled the office of Judges of the Orphans' Court satisfactorily. Thanking one

I am most respectfully, MOSES J. M. TROXELL.
