Healing Agencies.

IN BALTIMORE

Baltimore has been greatly inter-ested, this week, in the appearance there of James Monroe Hickson, an Englishman, who claims to be the medium through which operates a Divine healing influence. Mr. Hickson appeared in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church, and treated hun-dreds of afflicted people, some of dreds of afflicted people, some of whom claimed to be greatly bene-fitted by his service of prayer and "laying on of hands" in imitation of the ministrations of Christ while on earth.

The extent of the actual performance of his cures may be doubted; but there is at least no sign of "fake" about the man's work, as it bears all the signs of the genuine earnestness and belief in the man as and belief in the efficacy of prayer as a healing agent, and no credit is taken to himself. Apparently, there was at least some evidence of immedi-ate benefit, but Mr. Hickson warned ate bencht, but Mr. Hickson warned against the thought, stating that in most cases the cures would be grad-ual if faith was strong enough. "My work," said Mr. Hickson, "is to revive in the church the ministry of healing, the power that was pos-sessed by the church in Apostolic times and up to the end of the Fourth Century. After that the church be-Century. After that the church became worldly and lost that power. We believe that if ever there was a time when the revival of that power was needed it is now. We believe that the gift of healing is a gift of God, and that through Christ the sick can be healed by the level sick can be healed by the laying on of hands. The Scriptures teach us that, and if we accept the Scriptures, we must accept that also must accept that a must accept that also. That is all there is to it."

Some have taken exceptions to treating the situation in this way. They say that the state-wide primary is open to all, and that any man has the same privilege of annoucing him-self, openly, as did Mr. Weller; and that holding "conferences" looks like laying the foundations of a factional line-up, rather than entering into a free for all primary contest. As a matter of fact, the primary plan brings these fights, no matter whether the line-up be made before, or after, the lists are closed.

The advocates of the conference plan also argue that there is nothing disloyal. nor wrong, with trying to find another candidate by conferring together, but that so doing is merely a combination of the party convention and primary election plans; and that without some such plan the man who first anounces himself may bank on ing Mr. Weller a walk-over. Just why these, and their friends, may not justifiably get together, pool their preferences and unite on one, instead of generating under the state of the stat Asked if cures were ever actually made at the altar, he said that they were, but not often. Usually, he said, they were effected after a period of time, and that he was constantly receiving latters from cities in which er has in some way-not made pub-lic- made himself conspicuously entitled to a clear field, and that trying to oust him is representative of both bad faith and bad politics.

The Record is interested in this sit-ation largely because of the text it way, if there is to be any, must come going forward under the drive of Chairman Hays. The national oruation largely because of the text it furnishes with reference to the statewide primary. The dialogue between the pot and kettle adherents of the two sides in this contest cuts but little figure. The predominant fact is that nominations do not come, under the present law, nor did they come under the old convention plan, with-out line-ups and contests between "the organization" and "anti-organ-ization." In the last analysis, the result is the same. Therefore, we prefer the old system of nominations because they were not made a burden of debt on the taxpayers, under the de-ceitful cloak that "the people" make their choice of candidates.

what is that Vision hovering there—and what is that Voice the cold winds ing: bear to the ears of our souls ? "I was hungry, and ye gave me no meat—I was naked, and ye clothed me not."

Today—yes, today while we are preparing our gifts for Christmas— many more of these little children—not a hundred, nor a thousand, but TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND of them—are still wandering uncared for and alone in that dead land, "their weazened skins clinging in fear to their mettling hones" and they are arring out with gasping breath, "I am could be licensed between December

ed for and alone in that dead land, "their weazened skins clinging in fear to their rattling bones," and they are crying out with gasping breath, "I am hungry ! I am hungry ! I am hungry !" and the Voice of One who watches us as we prepare gifts to celebrate His birthday, comes again to the ears of our souls—"I am hungry ! I am hungry !" an 'hungry !" Now the children, and the mothers, in Armenia are dreading the winter. "Just human remnants they are, not protected, many of them, from the ele-ments by even the dignity of rags. The most favored have merely shredded rags" How shall we sing our Christmas songs, and laugh, and light the candles and give beautiful gifts, while the pleading Voice cries in the ears of our souls—"I am naked and cold !—naked and cold !" BUT WE CAN feed and clothe these perishing ones—some of them— before it is too late. Herbert Hoover cabled from the Caucassus, "It is im-possible that the loss of 200,000 lives can at this day be prevented, BUT THE REMAINING FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND CAN possibly be saved." They need not starve, and freeze and die if WE will save them. In the name

They need not starve, and freeze and die if WE will save them. In the name of Him who saw the multitude "as sheep not having a shepherd, and was moved with compassion toward them," who exclaimed, when His disciples would turn them away, "They need not depart; give ye them to eat !" Open now your heart and purse and give to these Christians whom He loves—WHO ARE SUFFERING FOR HIM, AND WITH WHOM HE IS SUFFERING. They need not die ! Give ye them to eat !

They need not die ! Give ye them to eat ! HE fed five thousand hungry people in the wilderness, and said to His followers, "These things that I do shall ye do also, and GREATER THINGS THAN THESE SHALL YE DO." Today nearly eight hundred thousand destitute Armenians—His people—need food and clothing. HE took little children in His arms and blessed them. Today WILL YOU take one, or more, of these sad. cold, hungry little children of Armenia OUTUPD and clothing the dest is His nemes and give them food and warmth into YOUR arms and heart, in His name, and give them food, and warmth, and life ?

What a joyful CHRISTMAS it will be, when with your songs and your laughter, you hear a Voice of wondrous sweetness speaking TO YOU, "O ye blessed of my Father, I was hungry and ye gave ME meat. I was naked and ye clothed ME. Inasmuch as ye have done it to these My brethren, ye have done it to ME."

He does not take into consideration the amount of clerical labor involved to protect his ownership of the car and establish the liability and identity if the unscrupulous driver. While it is true that contribution to road maintenance is material, yet records that are kept of each license are important, and there is not a question on the application blanks that is not essential. To determine what fee to charge, the year, model number and bore of cylinders are ne-cessary. To identify the car in case it is stolen, the maker's number stamped in the metal and the type of body must be given. To assist in es-tablishing responsibility in case of an accident, and in locating driver's cards in case they are lost, the number of the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person who usually drives the car is required. Finally, the owner of the car must sign the blank legibly and thus certify that he assumes responsibility for that par-ticular car. All this information may be obtained outside the office and application with check to cover the cost may either be presented at the office or mailed in any time after December 1st

A careful reading of the application blank will save delay and many mistakes. One reason why licenses are delayed is because the applicant has not given correct information on the blank. In such cases, the blank and check are returned for correction. Where several licenses are included in one check, all must be returned, for the reason that with the thousands of checks received daily, there could be no credit system devised to take care of those applications returned for correction while those that are filled out properly are issued. It is better to send a separate check for each license desired. In order to RETURN TO WORK E. Austin Baughman, commission-er of Motor Vehicles, has issued a circular letter of instructions with Average Increase in Wages About 39 Cents a Day.

> After losing over $20,000,000 in wages, and causing a shortage of approximately 36,000,000 tons of coal, the mine leaders, on Wednesday, or-dered the miners to return to work, and accept the increase of 14% wages alloted to them, pending final settlement and a full investigation of

As a As a result of the strike, the country was fast approaching a complete shut-down of industry and widespread suf-fering among its 100,000,000 inhabitants.

> The decision of the miners came after many hours of debate, in which the radical element of the general committee made incendiary speeches against operators and others inter-ested in settlement of the strike and for a time threatened to defeat efforts to settle the strike at this time. The conservative element, led by Acting President John L. Lewis and Secretary-Treasurer William Green. finally gained control of the situadown practically all opposition by the time the question came to a vote. Expressions by Government officials

Director-General Hines, in a formal statement, assured that dislocation statement, assured that dislocation created by the strike could not be remedied instantly. me any more than there is in that electric lamp in the ceiling. It can give no light but for the power that comes to it through the wires. And I cannot heal except by the power that comes through me to those who suffer, as the electricity comes through the wires."

What manner of man is this healer ? Just an ordinary man, common-place in appearance. There is nothng, outwardly, about him to indicate possession of any remarkable powers. But he does not claim to possess, of himself, any remarkable power. He is no "miracle man," he says, and he dislikes to be called one. He does not heal. Christ heals; he is simply a medium through which the healing is done. His faith is simple. He believes that Christ can heal the sick as He healed them nearly 20 centuries ago, and as his disciples healed them through Christ by faith. That is all there is to it. Nothing occult, nothing mysterious, nothing but a simple and a childlike faith in the power of Christ to cure.

Taneytown Postoffice Equipment.

The Taneytown Postoffice is now up-to-date in equipment, postmaster Burke having installed a complete new outfit made by one of the leading manufacturers of this country. The wood-work is oak, with separate window for Money Orders, Parcel Post, Delivery and Stamps. The boxes are metal front with combination locks, also lock drawers for those receiv-ing much bulky mail. The outfit also includes stock and blank cases, writing desks, and every needed convenience for the business, and is the equal of any in the state outside the larger cities.

It is the intention to keep the of-fice open for a reasonable time, after regular hours, in order that those with lock-boxes can get their own mail, and this will likely be the cus-tom on holidays. The carriers also have more light and better working facilities. Postmaster Burke has effected a lease of the building to the Postoffice Department for a term of ten years, in consideration of the installation of the new outfit.

Women Get After Shoe Prices.

The women of Philadelphia who brought turkeys down in price, by not buying them at the high prices, are going after shoe prices in the same effective way. At a meeting of shoe manufacturers and representa-tive women of Philadelphia, last week the manufacturers tried to place the blame of high-priced shoes, saying that the women not only demanded many styles of shoes "but in all the colors of the rainbow."

The women countered by asking, "Who designed the styles ?" "Why it is that a pair of conservative style shoes can not be bought at a reason-able price ?" and "Why are chil-dren's shoes also high ?" shoes also high ' dren's

At the close of the meeting the women pledged themselves to thrift campaign which calls for the necessity of not buying things at excessive prices, and to keep a close account of household expenses. They mean to look into the question of just prices much more closely in the future, and as the meeting was attended by women from Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey, the movement may become widespread.

Stores Open 6 Hours in Baltimore.

The most of the retail stores in Baltimore, except those dealing alto-gether in food, are open only from 11:30 A. M. to 5:30 P. M., during the period the fuel-saving order is in effect. Most of the factories are running on a schedule of 30 hours a week, but such factories as do not use coal are not affected. Labor is affected greatly by the order, as it will place mechanics and other work-ers on half-time. Many railroad men Francis Clay Keefer and Emily are also laid off, because of reduction in train service.

General Wood and Champ Clark as Presidential candidates next year, would give the whole country a feeling of confidence that the country is along old lines.

"Just after the world war" will be something to talk about, twenty years and more from now. Just fix in mind a lot of the present remarkable experiences, and tell the younger folks all about them. They will be interesting, even if there are stranger things then.

Getting into the political arena for 1920 is in the "forehanded" class at present, and we wonder why ? For the Presidency, the activity may be explainable, but even candidates for minor county offices have announced themselves. Perhaps in some cases the scriptural injunction-"The first shall be last, and the last shall be first," will apply.

Persecuting a sick man is always a most disreputable business, and when this course is pursued with reference to the President of the United States, the name for the act would be difficult to frame in words. There is nothing wrong in inquiring into the mental condition of the President, and into his general fitness for conducting the great affairs of his office, but it does seem that there is more spiteful innuendo than dignified directness in much of the comment that is abroad in the country, relative to his illness.

Must Pay, Sooner or Later.

prosperous, and free spending, and exempt from sacrifice making, as long as the debt is unpaid-and has not even quit growing. It is charged against every one of us by the U.S. government, and we have both interest and principal to pay. We can't do this as long as we keep on living and spending at the same ratio as we did before the debt was upon us, and it is folly for us to try to keep up the deceptive argument and effort.

Time to Come Back to Earth.

The press of the country has very generally refrained from advising people not to buy extravagantly priced food and merchandise, because nobody wants to "knock" industry and business and the circulation of money; but, this quietude on the part of the press shows distinct signs of being capitalized and misused, and recently there are evidences that the papers of the country are loosening up and saying more of what they think-as well as more of the truth. The cost of living will never stop going, unless somebody hits it, and hits it hard. Within six months time, a different story can be recorded if purchasers and consumers generally put the screws down on buying high-priced stuff of all kinds. Manufacture and production will not stop. Nobody need worry about that. going to "stay put" and do business There will always be plenty of merchandise and food at fair prices, when the unfair prices can't be had, and the longer the demand for a general come down is delayed, the harder it will be to bring it about. Business has been taking care of itself, and has at the same time been too much "taken care of." Now let everybody stand on their own bottom and speak their mind without nursing anybody, or playing soft pedal. A good place to start the plan, is with Washington. It is high time that the capital be cleaned out of place-warmers, and the army of pretenders at earning their pay be sent back home where they can perhaps be of more real service, if not so profitably -for themselves-employed.

- Let everybody at least begin the New Year with the idea that the war is over, and that war-time prices are over too. We must some time come down to earth again, and the newspapers of the country ought to spread the news to those who do not seem to know it.

Should Be Quarantined.

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure-the sooner one rids himself of a cold, the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold. -Advertisement

Splendid Cough Medicine.

"As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Cham-berlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only too pleased to relate my experience and only wish that I had known of its merits years ago," writes Mrs. Clay Fry, Ferguson Station, Mo. "I give it to my children when they show the slightest sumptoms of being slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs, a very few doses will re-lieve me, and by taking it for a few days, I soon get rid of the cold." -Advertisement

Famine in Midst of Plenty.

The following very striking statement has been used this week, in the Baltimore papers, as an advertisement by one of the city banks:

"America is rich in raw materials, but today, authorities estimate that we are behind our normal needs 1,300,000 homes, 450,000 factories, 6,000 hotels, 5,000 schools and insti-tuions, 55,000 apartments, 120 freight terminals, 14.000 railroad stations and freight sheds.

It's a big order and no work chirk-er or indsutrial obstructionist can be permitted to block the way.

Five hundred thousand men, or less than one-half of one percent of the country's population refuse to mine coal. If they remain idle much longer they will force a complete tie-up of American industry.

It's not a case of 500,000 mine workers against a few hundred mine owners, but it's 500,000 men refusing to work on the one side, and a Na-tion of 110,000,000 people, with their right to work and live, on the other.

The mine workers and owners are a minority and it is not within their province to decide that they can bring industrial stagnation, sickness, suf-fering and even death itself, to the people of the world's greatest Nation

No group of 500,000 people has the right to inflict suffering upon 110,-000,000.

Suppose for instance that the country's water supply were private-ly owned and operated by a halfmillion men who said "You can't have water because we won't work." How many children would we let die of thirst? How long would we listen to the argument of the "right to strike" ?

Work, and the right to work, must continue without interruption-production must be increased to take care of our ever increasing needs and the mailed fist of concerted Amercan opinion should book no contrary thought."

Newspaper Print Shortage.

There is today in the hands of the manufacturers less than three days' supply of paper for the newspapers of the country.

The Newsprint Service Bureau of New York, representing the paper manufacturers, has notified the Amer-can Newspaper Publishers' Association that an immediate cut of 10% in consumption is essential. The American Newspaper Publishers' Association has notified every newspaper publisher of America throughout the United States reduce the average consumption of news-print paper by at least 10% many newspapers will soon be compelled partly or wholly to suspend publica tion. The Association has asked all newspapers to comply strictly with the regulations of the War Industries Board for conservation of newsprint paper and that every economy in the use of paper be observed. In order to accomplish fully the necessary and desired results, every advertiser using display space in the newspapers printed in this district is necessary big advertising requested to reduce his advertising space between now and Christmas by 10%. It is essential that every adver-tiser comply with this request in or-der that the present danger of exhaustion may be averted and that all newspapers in the country may con-tinue regular publication.

The existing crisis can only be met by sincere and voluntary co-opera-tion on the part of advertisers and

Our Own Masters.

We have been told that America is to save the world and rescue civilization from dissolution, but we must do it in our way; in the way that has made us, in a little more than a century, the most unified, the most virile, and the most potent single power in the world. And when we ask ourselves what it is that has given us this unity, this virility, and this potency, the answer is, that we have founded this nation upon principles of law, and upon the guarantees of individual rights under the law. That is our great contribution to civilization; and if we are to be of use to other nations. old or new, our first thought must be to remain our own masters, to preserve our independence, to control our own forces as a nation by our own laws, and to protect our heritage of organized liberty from any form of detraction or perversion, - David Jayne Hill in the South American Review.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They act gently on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated, give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect.

SHANEBROOK-On Nov. 23, 1919, at Kump, Anna Arlene, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shanebrook, aged days.

We had a little darling once She was our darling pride, We loved her, ah ! perhaps too much For soon she slept and died.

She was a little lamb So innocent and bright, Her stay with us was short But now she is robed in white.

Death has robbed us of our baby, Oh can we help but shed a tear, But we know that she is happy, With the loved ones gone before. BY HER PARENTS.

In Loving Remembrance of our dear / daughter,

GRACE C. HYSER, who died one year ago, Dec. 15, 1918.

A tear within a mother's eye, A mother's breaking heart Can only tell the agony How hard it is to part. A bitter grief, a shock severe, To part with one we loved so dear; Our loss is great, we'll not complain, But trust in God to meet again.

Day by day we saw her fade and gently

Yet in our dreams we often prayed that she might longer stay; If love and care could death prevent, Thy days would not so soon be spent,

One we loved has died and left us, For the dark and silent tomb; Closed her eyes in sleeping slumber, Faded in her early bloom.

BY HER PARENTS. By HER PARENTS. One year since you have passed away, If you only knew the changes That have happened since that day. BY HER SISTER.

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 14

AT THE TRIAL, CRUCIFIXION AND RESURRECTION OF JESUS.

LESSON TEXTS-John 18:15-27; 19:25-27;

20:1-10; 21: 15-19. GOLDEN TEXT-For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosevver believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life .-John 3:16

John 3:16. Since the lessons of the quarter center in the lives of Peter and John it will be well to include in the day's lesson the incidents in their lives from the trial of Jesus to his resurrection. This will en-able us to use the committee's alternative lesson "The Prince of Peace" for a "The Prince of Peace," for a Christmas lesson next Sunday.

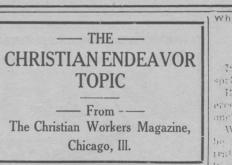

I. Peter Denies the Lord (18:15-18, 25-27).

1. Before the servant maid (vv. 15-18). Peter's first blunder was to attempt to follow Jesus at this time. Christ had told him that he could not follow now (13:36). Presumptuous boldness oftentimes places one in an embarrassing position. In such cases compromise or cowardly denial usually follows. Wisdom as to our weaknesses should move one to avoid unnecessary trials. John, seeing Peter standing at the door, introduced him to the house of the high priest. Here under the taunt of a Jewish maid he openly denied his Lord.

2. Before the servant and officers (v. 25). Peter had not only ventured where it was not necessary, but was warming himself at the enemies' fire. Having quailed before the sarcastic impudence of a servant maid he openly denied his relationship with the Lord when questioned by the officers and servants at whose fire he was warming himself. To have a clear and independent testimony, one should be separate from sinners (II Cor. 6:14-18). 3. Before the kinsman of Malchus (vv. 26, 27). This man had seen Peter with Jesus in Gethsemane when Peter in his rashness smote off the ear of Malchus (see verse 10). Hearing Peter's denial, this servant of the high priest put the question, "Did I not see thee in the garden with him?" When Peter uttered the third denial the cock crew, bringing to his attention the warning words of Jesus (Mark 14:72). This is an example of what a disciple of Jesus may do in the hour of great temptation.

II. Jesus Commits His Mother to John (19:25-27).

Though suffering the indescribable anguish of the cross he tenderly remembered his grief-stricken mother and charged John to care for her. Mary had other sons who should have cared for her, but they were unbelievers till after Jesus' resurrection. He knew that his mother would have better care at the hands of the beloved disciples than at the hands of her own children who

December 14 How to Use the Bible

Psalm 19:7-11; Matthew 4:1-4 Bible should be used for the purpose of conversion and for wisdom (x for the maintenance of joy and for enlightenment (v 8); for cleansing (v 9); for the sweetening of life (v10); and for warning against error and danger (v 11). These are prac-tical things, and their value as applied to life is obvious.

The New Testament verses show us the way in which our Lord used the Bible. It was to him "the sword of the spirit," and it did its work as Humanly speaking our Lord, such. conquered the adversary by the use of the Word.

We must use the Bible for defense against Satan. None is exempt from his attacks. "Your adversary the devil as a roaring lion walketh about seeking whom he may devour, whom resist steadfast in the faith." In order to stand fast against attack, we must read and make full use of the foresight you can command and you Bible. Store it away in the memory, at least "a verse a day to keep the the the stand a good chance of develop-ing that scored of the stand a tempter away." Then plan to read the Bible through. To be an intelli-gent christian, you will need to do this. Three chapters a day for about fourteen months will suffice to take you through the Bible.

Until you find a better plan, follow this one, and continue reading. You will make many rich discoveries, and your knowledge of God will continue to increase. If read with faith and prayer, and with the purpose of put-ting into practice the truths of the Book as they are discovered, it will prove to be a most fruitful way of Thrate of the famous Bath coteries, using your Bible. How Copper Protects Steel.

In a paper recently read by D. M. Buck before the American Society for Testing Materials, it was brought out that very small amounts of copper have the effect of reducing corrosion in steel. Tests were made of open-hearth stee' with various copper additions, so the; there was from 0.012 to 0.254 per reat of copper in the ingots. These were rolled into sheets and exposed to the stmosphere in the Connellsville cohe region, together with a number of pleces in which there was no copper. It was found that a mere trace of copper was sufficient to prevent rapid corro.ioo.

Polo coating is suitably chosen for this belted coat that serves many purposes. A novel back trimming is formed by rows of stitching which extends over the shoulder as front trimming.

No. 3640

For the mature figure this Coat will be a joy, due to the simplicity of line and general utility, with an ample fullness that is held to the figure by an all around belt with the slip fastening. The three long strips from neck to hip as trimming give the graceful long line so much a feature of the new silhouette. The detail of the strap from side seam ending at the top of tailored pocket with a button relieves severity. And the novel scarf collar that throws back across the shoulder when closed is another worth while feature. No. 3455 did not believe in and love Jesus. Love to Jesus is stronger than human affection

III. Peter and John at Jesus' Tomb (20:1-10)

When Mary came in breathless haste. announcing the fact of the empty tomb, Peter and John ran to investigate. When John came to the tomb he gazed into it, but when Peter came he went in. John with holy reverence hesitated to enter, but Peter through his impulsiveness entered at once. The difference does not lie in the fact that one loves more than the other, but in their different temperaments. One should not expect the same behavior from all. This investigation was convincing (v. 8).

IV. Peter's Restoration and Commission (21:15-19).

Peter had thrice denied the Lord. so before he again entered the service he had thrice to confess his love for Jesus. In this commission to Peter is set forth the motive and nature of service which is incumbent upon all Christian ministers and teachers.

1. His motive-love for Christ. Love is the supreme qualification for service for Christ; it is the very spring from which all activity flows. It is not learning and eloquence, but love that makes a pastor. (1) "Feed my lambs." The word for "feed" as well as "lambs." signifies that the work here is that of nurturing the babes in Christ. (2) "Feed my sheep." The word here means to feed, guide, correct, and lead the maturer class of Christians. It carries with it not only the responsibility of feeding, but correction and discipline. If this be attempted without love, failure will inevitably ensue. (3) "Feed my sheep." This relates to the care of the aged Christians. The word "feed" returns somewhat to the meaning in the first instance where he says, "feed my lambs," so that the ministers' responsibility to care for the aged is equivalent to that of the young.

By direction of Baltimore Presbytery, Rev. Seth Russell Downie, on Sunday next, declares vacant the pulpits of the Piney Creek and Taneytown Presbyterian Churches, in order that he may continue his ministry in Frostburg, Md., Sunday, December 21st.

A fire alarm was sounded, on Wednesday morning, due to an automobile owned by the Garage Co. catching fire in front of the garage. The Fire Company was right on the job, in a few minutes, but Mr. Humer was equal to the occasion with a chemical extinguisher, no water being needed. The auto was pretty badly damaged about te top.

The December purchase of books will be found in the Public Library, this week. In addition, a very interesting story of The Hudson Bay Co., The Wilderness Trail has been given by Mrs. Ralph Sell. Anyone who desires to join the Association, by the payment of the fee, $1.00 for the year Jan. 1, 1920, to Jan. 1, 1921, may have the privileges of the Library the rest of this year, free.

The Record has never carried so much advertising in a single issue as this week, and the congestion is likely to prevail next week, also. While the reading matter features are greatly reduced, at this particular season the advertisements are of special interest and value to readers.

The paper scarcity, like that of sugar, may be due in part to "hoarding" and to the fear that none may be had, causing thousands of consumers to buy so far ahead as to cause an abnormal demand, more than the mills can handle. At any rate, the situation is a serious one for the near future.
