A SERIOUS MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT.

Fatal Results Expected From a Collision with Buggy.

Harvey Utz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Utz, near Kump, while on his way to Frederick, on his motor cycle, ran into the rear of a buggy driven by James F. Hill, at about 5:30, Wed-nesday morning, near the Sauble home on the State Road. The motor cycle struck the rear axle of the buggy and threw the rider to the road with great force, causing a fracture of the base of the skull, list left calls. left collar bone, and ribs on the left side. He was brought to town for medical treatment, and later hurried to Ferederick Hospital. He is not expected to recover.

Mr. Utz is said to have been on his way to work at the Ideal Garage, Frederick; while Mr. Hill, in company with a son, was on the road to Harry Anders', near Bridgeport, to husk a son the road at husk corn. The collision occurred at about 5:30 o'clock, before full daylight. Hill says he was on the right side of the road with two wheels off the concrete, and that he had a light-ed lantern on side of buggy. He did not know of the approach of the motor cycle until it struck. The supposition is that if Mr. Utz saw the buggy at all, he must have been going at great speed and could not stop in time to prevent the crash.

Two of the wheels of the buggy were broken, but the occupants were

THE C. E. RALLY. Interesting Meeting held in Taneytown, Sunday, Oct. 8.

The Christian Endeavor Rally in the Reformed Church, last Sunday afternoon, was a well attended and quite an interesting and helpful event. Merwyn C. Fuss, presided, and due to forty minutes delay in arrival of the speakers on account of auto trouble the program proper was preceded by a song service.

The first speaker was Spencer E. Sisco, State Secretary, whose appeal was to stir up the gifts that God has given to us, and to make them active and effective; that these gifts become useless through disuse, like the buried talents. The tendency is toward becoming too mechanical and formal in christian work. Christian Endeavor, if properly conducted is a great world-wide help; its plan represents a process of development of knowledge training, work and results, doing God-given tasks.

Carroll M. Wright, Field Secretary, developed the theme of service. Christian Endeavor gives young people something to do-to reach, to hold, to instruct, to train and to inspire. C. E. results in developing men and women to manage big tasks, and has been the basis of great accomplishments in many ways.

He told of its world-wide efforts and successes, and that at present it was emphasizing four ways of going forward—in the home—the church—the community—and the great world at large, all depending on systematic graded training and effort.

George R. Smith, State Junior Superintendent, illustrated various plans for enlisting the interest of juniors, and lamented the fact that our inclination was to overlook the great value of little things-of neglecting the Jr. C E., and of taking advantage of the natural aptness of children to be imitators, and to remember early lessons and impressions in after life.

He showed the plans of using the Bible Alphabet, the string of pearls, and the use of sashes and buttons. Junior work is the real training school in the church for the children. Guy L. Fowler, County President, closed with a brief address, commenting on the excellence of the program and urging a good attendance at the

NEITHER SO VERY DRY, NOR SO VERY WET.

Attorney Wayne B. Weeler Says Wet Sentinent is Waning.

Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, says "Maryland is not so dry as some of the drys could wish, nor yet as wet as some of the wets would like to be-lieve." He is not at all downcast over the situation, but says the newspapers play up the activity among bootleggers and moonshiners, but have not so much to say over the successes of law enforcement. He says:

"Enforcement is getting along. Everywhere the public is coming to realize that law enforcement, whereever the issue arises, is one which cannot be evaded by officials, judges or people without imperiling all law and undermining the foundations of society. The declaration by the judiciary section of the American Bar Association on this point was in line with the conclusions of thoughtful men everywhere.

"The Federal enforcement measures are becoming more thoroughly systematized and the mobile force of officers, which goes from one State to another without notice even to the local commissioners, is making life burdensome for law violators and putting lax officials on their mettle. The moral effect of this mobile force is tremendous."

Report of the County's Public Health Nurse.

Miss Hayman, public health nurse, whose work is supported by Carroll County Chapter American Red Cross, and Carroll Co. Tuberculosis Association, from Sept. 13 to 30, visited the following schools: Oak Grove, Good Hope, Winfield, Green Valley, Good Hope, Winfield, Green Valley, Mayberry, Baust, Clear View, Blacks, Buchman, Walnut Grove, Piney Creek, Oregon, Fairview 2, Sweet Air, Har-Oregon, Fairview 2, Sweet Air, Harney, Wisners, Chestnut Grove, Krudelm, Bishs, Cherry Grove, Humberts, Bearmount, Pleasant Valley, Pleasant View, Taylorsville, Deep Run, Mt. Miss Hayman inspected 632 pupils finding 798 defects, consisting of bad teeth 346, enlarged tonsils 181, adenoids, 71, defective vision 204, hearing 4, and skin disease 9. In addition 471 showed malnutrition, being 10% or more underweight, and 11 were mentally deficient. At each school she gave a talk upon person-

INCOME TAX DODGERS.

About 16,000 Who have not Paid their Uncle Samuel.

Sixteen thousand or more residents of Maryland and the District of Columbia, who have no doubt been chuckling to themselves or their friends over their escape from payment of any tax at all or the small amount that they did pay will very soon have a chance to chuckle on the 'other side of their face."

T. Huber Koontz, director of the field forces of the Internal Revenue Department, under the direction of Internal Revenue Collector Tait and with a force of 30 or 40 deputies has already begun a campaign to clean up all of the "ragged ends" of the 1920 income tax. Some of his deputies are now at work in the counties, where, it is said, there are a number of farmers and business men who turned in non-taxable returns and who will have to make adjustments.

The office force has been auditing the 1920 returns filed last March since the date of their filing, and has been discovering discrepancies at the rate of 1,000 a month. It has been estimated by officials that about 10,000 of the 1040-A taxable returns will have to be adjusted, and that about 6,000 of the non-taxable returns will provide some taxable basis. The audit will not be entirely competed until the first of the year, but the field forces will proceed with the collection and adjustments at once. The whole force will be put on the work the latter part of this week.

League of Women Voters.

On Thursday, October 13, in the Firemen's Building, Westminster, there will be held a meeting of interest to every woman in Carroll county. The meeting is under the auspices of the women's clubs of the county in co-operation with the League of Women Voters. The purpose is to perfect the organization of the league in Carroll county and to arrange for citizenship schools in various sections. Miss Engel and the State president of the league will be among the interesting speakers of

There will be a business meeting, followed by lunch and social hour. The program of the afternoon will begin at 2 o'clock. There will be no evening session.

The League of Women Voters is strictly non-partisan. It urges women to affiliate with the party of their choice and work through that party for the improvement advocated by the league. Its aims are to give women instruction in the art of county, State and national housekeeping and to unite women of both parties to work for the passage of laws that are vitally concerned with the welfare and happiness of the women and children of county, State

Hints to News Writers.

All news items, properly stated, contain answers to five questions—Who? What? When? Where? Why? For instance, an ordinary death notice is made up something like this:

John A. Jones Died suddenly What? October 10, 1921 At Brownsville From pneumonia Why? Or, an automobile accident, in.

terms like this; Henry Thomas Was seriously hurt What? Last Monday When? on the State Road Where? in an auto collision Why? These are the essentials; the details follow, to whatever extent is necessary to round out the information properly attaching to the event. By observing this simple guide, our correspondents will be able to writeup news items in an orderly manner, Other live sections such as Deer and avoid round-about sentences.

In writing for the press, it is the established custom to state the climax in the first paragraph; while in story writing, or public speaking, the climax, or ending of the story, is of-ten held back until the end. The difference is based on the fact that when we read a news item we want to get the bare facts quickly; while when reading a story, or hearing a speech, we are ready to be entertained at length, and perhaps be held in pleasurable suspense.

It often happens in a newspaper office that perfectly good news arti- ening the school. With the co-operation of all our cles are not used, for the reason that they are told as stories, long drawn out, without condensation in a paragraph or two; therefore, in case of scarcity of space, rather than omit the whole write-up, a paragraph or two can easily be used, when the article is so prepared.

Democratic Women Active.

The Women's Democratic Club, of this county, is quite active in its efforts, and holds weekly meetings on Monday night, with Mrs. Frank P. Fenby as president. The next meeting will be held on Monday night, Oct. 17. Claims are made that the number of Democratic women registered, last week, is larger than registered by the Republicans.

U. S. Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, died suddenly, in Washington, on Wednesday evening from a stroke of paralysis. He had returned home from Europe, on Monday night, and had attended a session of the Senate during the day.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

The following resolution was passed by the Board; that all teachers who failed to qualify during the past summer for the proper renewal of their certificates were not entitled to the full salary allowed for their grade of certificate, and therefore Supt. Unger was authorized to reduce their salary to second class for the particular grade of certificate with the understanding that if they failed to qualify before the opening of school in 1922, their salary would go back to provisional grade, and in case they did qualify for the renewal of their certificate by August 1st., they were to receive the regular salary allowed according to the certifi-

Supt. Unger reported to the Board that a delegation had been before him with respect to the transportation of children from the Freedom school district to Sykesville. After a very thorough discussion of this question, the Board came to the conclusion that as it had put a request for funds for this purpose in the budget and that the same was cut out by the County Commissioners it would refuse to agree to any arrange-ment whatsoever for which it had to be responsible with respect to hauling the Freedom children.

YEGGMEN IN GETTYSBURG. Bank at Arendtsville 'also Visited, but not Successfully.

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 12.—A band of yeggmen visited Adams county early this morning and blew off a vault door at the Gettysburg Postoffice, later going to the village of Ardentsville, nine miles distant, where they set off two charges of high explosive in a fruitless effort to get into the vault of the Ardentsville National Benk

National Bank.

The gang was seen in Gettysburg about 2:30 A. M., and at Ardentsville 45 minutes later. The Cettysburg Postoffice is located in the $200,000 Federal Building recently built, of modern construction. Entrance was gained through a door in the basement, which was pried open.

From the basement the yeggs got to the lobby and gained entrance to to the lobby and gained entrance to the work room by smashing a heavy window in the office door of Postmas-ter Charles S. Duncan. The lock of the vault door was blown off, but the yeggs left without going farther, evidently being frightened away. Discovery of the damage was not made until three hours later ,when a clerk opened the office for the day. At Arendtsville the bank was entered through the basement, and several residents of the town saw the men at work, but were afraid to give the alarm because of heavy guards on the outside of the building. Blankets were used at Gettysburg to deaden the sound of the explosion, and it has since been found these were stolen from farm properties near the town.

At both places tools of the burg-lars were left behind in their hurried flight.State and local officers were quickly notified, but the gang had a start of several hours. Earlier in the night a high-powered car with strangers who acted suspiciously stopped here and their number was taken. This and other information is in the hands of the authorities.—Balt. Sun.

Next Februray is the time set by union coal miners to meet and announce their new wage demands, but no strike is expected that is likely to affect the coal situation and prices, this winter. It is probable that in arriving at a wage scale for next year, facts will be brought out concerning the present exorbitant prices for coal that will show that these prices are not by any means nor to freight rates. The country at large will be glad of an opportunity to have the whole question shown up. There is no class of labor more House bill had a lot of weak spots, deserving of just treatment and fair wages, than the miners.

The Arbuckle Crowd.

The defenders of "personal liberty" and booze, must have some difficulty in keeping company with the Arbuckle booze party that resulted in the death of one of the female guests, and that has been shown up to have been a most disgraceful orgie. And the worst of it is, this was only one of many such "joy parties" held by the movie fraternities, as side issues connected with their

These affairs could not, and would not, be held without plenty of liquor. It is the stuff that furnishes the attraction, and also the sin, of the parties. And one need not go to California to find such extravagances. As the wet enthusiasts glory over the fact that Prohibition laws are being violated everywhere, this is regarded as convincing that Prohibition must therefore be wrong.

It is a fine bit of logic, and a fine set of moral principles to tie to. So much so, that a few more Arbuckle cases will do more for Prohibition than an army of law enforcement ofdecency yet has the majority.

Candidates for Legislature. ...

Maryland has always taken the wrong view with reference to the calibre of the men it invites to become members of the Legislature, in the pay it offers, and is only concerned about the matter at the wrong end of the subject-about election time, and during the session-instead of at the time when the pay is fixed.

We will now hear a great deal about sending men who are "safe" for moral measures, and are apt to wish that a higher standard of men might be sent. In making this comment, we cast no reflections on present nominees of either party; for as a matter of fact, Carroll County's candidates are much better than the size of their pay warrants, and we are fortunate in the fact.

But, these men will be tried hard with anti-election pledges of various kinds, and whenever such trials are presented it is always best that those so tried stand among the best citizens of the county, and are not men who will resort to subterfuge merely to gain popularity and votes.

It is all well enough for candidates to stand on their dignity and refuse to commit themselves in advance to any hard and fast pledge; but in a general way they cannot refuse to at least give to voters the trend of their views on all important questions. Our "Delegates," as we call them, are in fact "representatives," and how can voters send "representatives" without knowing him in with the most important comwhat they stand for?

Every member of the legislature must have a certain amount of freedom to change his opinions, and his vote, to fit developments; therefore, absolute first and last pledges should neither be asked nor given; but honest convictions and preferences should be made known, and every candidate should be man enough, and dependable enough, to reasonably satisfy conscientious voters on any measure in which they are interested.

Tax Revision Bill.

The Tax Revision Bill, that was unacted on at the last session of Congress, is having a fight for its life in the present session, and it looks as though only the ghost of the original bill will survive. The trouble is as it has always been-efforts to get from under taxation. Just now, Republican Senators from the agricultural states, assisted by Democrats, are telling the administration where to get off, which means off about everything the farmer sells in a manufactured or semi-manufactured state. The Philadelphia Ledger says of the situation;

"The whole thing is to be revised out of all semblance to the bill that came out of the House in August and that recently came to the Senate floor | there too, and we know. If you want from the Finance Committee. Senator Penrose and the committee, the Preswholly due, either to miners' wages, ury and the House of Representatives are now watching the work of weeks broken up on the rocks of Senate op-

> The fight was inevitable. The and the Senate committee failed to eliminate them and went on making others that were indefensible. Now there seems to be nothing else for it than a straight-out, radical revision on some such terms as are being laid down by the Senators from the agricultural States who are being aided and abetted by the Democrats. The "offensive" has passed from the Administration forces to the "bloc" Republicans and their Democratic allies and well-wishers.

The maneuvering is on, but agreement may be slow to come. The crack of the party leash begins to echo; but the response is not all that it might be. There is black and bitter war over the transportation taxes, the excess-profits tax, the Smoot sales tax, and the fighting rages from the low brackets to the high in the income-tax schedule. And after the Senate calms its fiance and much clamorous warning Drum-Horse of British and American Cavalry Bands Must Be of Distinguished Appearance.

There are grades of honor, even among horses. We are apt to think of the war horse as a proud animal, and so he is, and has a right to be, for he is called upon to be as brave as he is proud. But proudest and most dignified of all horses of the army is the animal that is called upon to fill the position of drum-horse in the regimental band. In the American and British armies cavalry bands are mounted, and the most honorable position in all the band is that of the bearer of the kettledrums. The horse is selected for his distinguished appearance. He is often piebald, altho sometimes pure white.

Something more than mere beauty of form is required of the drum-horse. He must be trained until he becomes a dignified and graceful bearer of the handsome trappings that pertain to his high calling. His education is severe and prolonged bringing him up to that point where his pride and intelligence make him equal to the duties required of

USED BAMBOO TO MAKE CLOCK

Remarkable Work of Italian Considered Well Worth the Money He Asks for It.

An eight-day clock whittled out of Constanzo Renzi, of Rome and valued at $50,000, is on exhibition in the jewelry and silverware division on the fourth floor of the Bush Terminal sales building, says the New York Times. Two years were required to make the clock, which is made entirely of bamboo with the exception of the leaden weight and two small glasses which serve as gongs.

The clock, with its complicated bamboo mechanism suggesting a miniature steel skyscraper in course of construction, stands about 71/2 feet high. At any time by looking at it one can tell the hour, minute and second, the day of the week and the month of the year, as well as the phases of the moon.

The clock strikes the hours and quarter-hours, a cane mallet forced by a cane spring striking two goblets which serve as bells. The chimes are regulated to indicate the time to those who cannot see the clock. At noon, if desired, a small flag is raised, the raising being preceded by a whistle from a bamboo tube, and one minute after the noon hour a cannon at the top of the clock is discharged.

Saw the Six Hundred Ride to Death. William Richardson, a Crimean war veteran and an eye witness to the charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava, died here recently, aged ninety years. He, with seven members of the crew of a British merchant vessel, deserted the humdrum sailing ship at Constantinople and enlisted in the navy with the Saucy Arethusa. When the old wooden battleship was put out of action at Sebastopol he and 55 others volunteered for land service in the Greenhill battery. While at headquarters he was only about twelve feet from Lord Raglan when he handed an order to Captain Nolan, who carried the message to Lucan, who issued the order for the charge to Cardigan. - St. Catharines correspondence Toronto Globe.

Electrifying Water.

Plain water can be made to taste like champagne, is the claim of the inventor of a new device. The invention consists of an electrical apparatus comprising a small circular tank that contains an electric cell from which two electrodes extend. One electrode is placed in the glass of water and the other is pressed against the drinker's cheek. A slight current passes through the water, giving it a sparkle similar to that of sparkling wines—at feast so the inventor says.

GEESE QUITE EASILY RAISED

Kept Generally in Small Flocks on Farms and Purchased by Experienced Fatteners.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

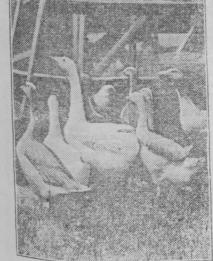

There is a demand usually for young geese from June to January, although most of them are sold around Thanksgiving and Christmas. Ten-weeks-old goslings of the largest breeds of purebred geese weigh up to ten pounds when forced for rapid growth, and sometimes are profitably marketed at that age as green geese. Large cities containing a foreign population offer the best markets for geese.

Geese usually are killed and picked the same as other kinds of poultry, but are much more difficult to pick than chickens. Generally the veins in the back of the mouth are severed with a long-bladed knife, followed with a blow on the back of the head with a short club. The wings are picked to the first joint, and the feathers are removed from the neck half way to the head, pulling with the feathers and not back toward the head. The soft pin feathers and fine down may be removed partly by rubbing the body with moistened hands or by shaving the skin.

The dry picking of geese is rather difficult. The most common practice is to scald or steam the goose feathers before picking. This can be done over a wash boiler three-fourths full of boiling water, laying the dead goose on a burlap sack stretched tightly over the boiler, and steaming first the breast, then the back, and then each side. The whole process of steaming will not take more than two or three minutes, and the goose must be kept moving to prevent scalding the flesh The goose is steamed until the feathers can be pulled out easily, and the head usually is laid under the breast to keep the breast from scalding. After picking, the bird is singed over an alcohol flame, the alcohol usually being burned in shallow tin plates.

Another method for removing the down is to sprinkle powdered rosin over the body of the goose and dip it into hot water, which melts the rosin to that it and the down can be rubbed off easily, leaving the body clean. Geese may also be steamed by scalding slightly and wrapping the body tightly for five minutes or longer in burlap or cloth to allow the steam to work thoroughly through the feathers. Some markets prefer dry-picked geese, while in other markets no difference is made in scalded or dry picked.

Geese are raised successfully in all parts of the United States, but are most abundant in the South and the Middle West. Slightly more than one-tenth of the farms in the United States reported geese in the census of 1910.

Mature Geese and Partly Grown Goslings Will Get Their Living From a Good Pasture So Long as the Grass Remains Green.

Practically all there are in this country are in small flocks, and few, if any, farms are devoted entirely to their raising. Fattening, however, is conducted as a special business on a large scale in the producing sections, in which case the geese are collected from the general farms, usually over a large area, and fattened for a few weeks before they are killed.

On farms where there is plenty of grass or pasture land geese can be raised successfully in small flocks. A natural supply of water is, of course, essential. The birds are very hardy, both young and old, and rarely are affected by any disease or insect pest. Grass forms the bulk of the feed, and It is doubtful whether it pays to raise them unless it is available. They are the closest known grazers. Both mature geese and partly grown goslings will get their entire living from a good pasture so long as the grass remains green. A body of water where they can swim is considered essential during the breeding season, and is a good feature the rest of the year.

If you have not already done so it will be well to cull out and sell off such stock as you do not intend to winter. In fact, it is generally desirable to have September and October cullings for the purpose of marketing such old and young stock as it will not pay to carry through the winter

POULTRY CACKLES

PREPARING MARKET POULTRY

Fow's Should Not Be Given Any Hard Feed From Eighteen to Twentyfour Hours Before Killing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Poultry should be kept without any hard feed from eighteen to twenty-four hours before killing, but a light meal of soft feed can be given up to twelve hours before killing. Water should be given them up to time for killing, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. ready to kill, suspend the fowl by the legs and, using a knife, cut the vein at the back of the throat through the mouth. As soon as this vein is cut run the point of the knife through the roof of the mouth into the brain and give the knife a slight turn, which causes the bird to lose all sense of feel-while the birds are still bleeding, the picker should remove the feathers, being careful not to tear the skin. If the picker waits until the bird is partly cold, the feathers will be difficult to remove. As soon as picked the fowls should be hung in a cool place until thoroughly cold. If the weather is warm and fowls are to be packed in ice where no cold storage is available, they should be placed in a tank of ice water until all the animal heat has left

When birds are scalded before removing the feathers they are immersed in hot water, which should be a little below the boiling point, as soon as they are through bleeding. They should be immersed three or four times and then picked clean. Be careful not to overscald, as this will cause the outer surface of the skin to rub off, If fowls are to be shipped dry, they should be hung up until the skin becomes thoroughly dry. If they are to be packed in ice, they should be left in cold water several hours or until they are to be packed.

TEACHING CHICKS TO ROOST

Difficult to Keep Young Fowls Clean
When Permitted to Remain on the Floor.

It is often advisable to teach the chicks to roost when 8 to 12 weeks of age, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. When they are allowed to remain on the floor, it is difficult to keep them clean and to keep them from crowding. If wide roosts—3 to 4 inches—are used, there is but little, if any, more danger of crooked breasts than if the chicks are allowed to remain on the floor.

The chicks can generally be taught to roost by putting the perches near the floor, but if this plan is inconvenient or does not prove effective the chicks may be placed on the perches after dark for a few nights until they have learned to go there of their own accord. Where a large number of chicks are brooded together around a brooder stove it is a good plan to place roosts in the house when the chicks are four to five weeks old, so that the larger and stronger chicks will start using the roosts while the weaker chicks still stay around the brooder hover.

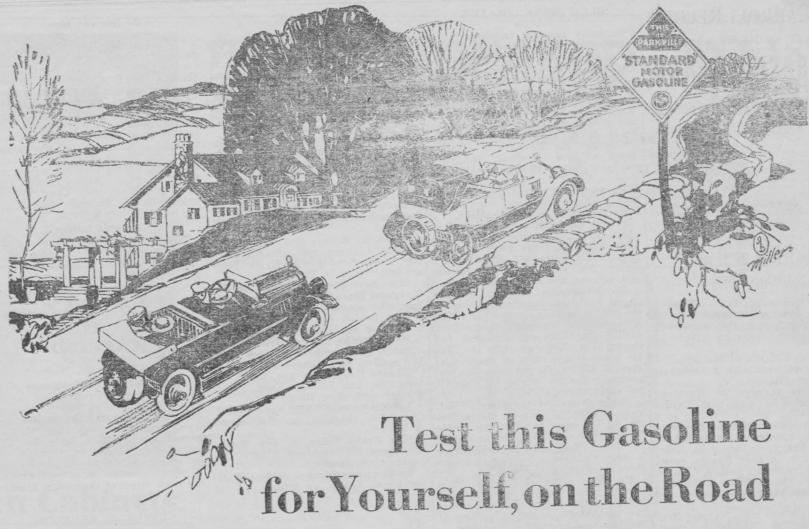

Don't see how many chicks you can hatch out, but rather how many you can raise at a profit.

Keep the poultry, as well as all other living things on the farm, on good terms with you by keeping on good terms with them.

There is mighty little mone; in fowls that are always kept hungry, but there is also a difference between well-fed and overfed hens.

Don't try to see how many fowls you can keep, but how well you can keep them. Don't overcrowd your houses or yards; crowding is dangerous.

By the way, don't forget about lice. Sometimes they are hard to find, but it is ten chances to one that they are present and they should be exterminated immediately.

QUESTION OF TREE PLANTING

Problem Is Worthy of Very Much More Consideration Than Is Usually Given It.

What kind of tree should one plant beside one's home? asks Good Housekeeping. Obviously it should be a fast grower. Also it should be ornamental. Preferably it should give a shade that is lofty and not too dense. A productive tree will answer as well as one that is merely ornamental. If a grafted tree is planted rather than a seedling It will produce in a very few years.

Nut trees are both ornamental and productive. The black walnut and the pecan seem to be well suited to this sort of planting. Why not try one or the other, or possibly both, one on each side of the house?

The black walnut is a rapid grower, reaches large size, and has foliage of great beauty. A mature tree will produce a great quantity of nuts. The pecan is also large and beautiful, as well as long-lived. Among the most beautiful and stately of the trees at Mount Vernon are pecan trees planted by George Washington and still in excellent condition. Commonly one thinks of the pecan as a tree for warm latitudes only. Both it and the English walnut will thrive much farther north than is commonly supposed. For planting near the house, then, the black walnut, the pecan or a good shagbark tree would be an excellent choice. The foliage of the walnut is always beautiful and in the fall the leaves of both the hickory and the pecan are symphonies in brown.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF PAINT

Great Mistake to Imagine That the Only Use of the Brush Is for Ornamentation.

Observation in most localities leaves the impression that too many buildings suffer from lack of painting. A great many property owners seem to assume that the use of the paint brush is the special prerogative of the rich, that it holds no advantage for the average man, if he can forego the pleasure of having ornamentation about. But painting is not chiefly valuable for ornamentation. It is chiefly valuable for sanitation, greater life, better service.

While paint does, of course, serve to improve the appearance of property, it is far more useful for protection than for ornament. A small amount of money and work expended in keeping a valuable piece of machinery painted will greatly add to its length of life. The same may be said of buildings.

Another useful object which is accomplished by painting is the improved sanitary condition of buildings and outhouses. The cost of such work (painting) is small, the necessary equipment is not expensive, and with proper care this will last a lifetime.

Beacons for Motorists.

The flashing beacon used on the high seas by the leading nations of the world is now to be used as a highway guide for motorists.

Like the beacon at sea, the city traffic is an unwatched light, automatic in operation for months at a time. Fuel is supplied by an acetylene gas accumulator in the base.

To these beacons and highway lighthouses is applied the national system of colors approved by the committee of standards of the American Association of State Highway Officials, and by other national organizations and many cities in the United States. Red is used for first degree danger, yellow for second degree, and green for traffic danger only.

Two hundred cities are reported to have standardized on this national color signaling, which is that of the railroad systems, and almost as many have made installation of the flashing light traffic beacon as an effective warning for drivers who are partially, or wholly, color blind, and those who find it hard to distinguish the ordinary signal from other city lights. The flashing beacon is the invention

Advantages of City Planning.

"City planning is merely a common sense set of rules and regulations for the city's growth," declares Charles A. Favrot, an ardent advocate of the proposed "City Planning Commission."

"A city plan shows where homes should be built, where industries should be located, and how traffic should be regulated so as to carry people from one part of the city to another with the minimum delay, while at the same time protecting the city's paving and the lives of its chil-

The gold mining bureau of Kwangyinshan, Kirin province, China, has discovered deposits of diamonds in a gold mine now being worked, says Millard's Review. The stones are large and of an appreciable fineness, and specialists have given the opinion that the deposit is worth while as a working proposition.

CHANGES IN MAPS OF WORLD

Almost Impossible of Belief Has Been the Increase in Knowledge in the Christian Era.

Mapmakers are having a busy time in these days of everchanging boundaries. Europe has regrouped itself, and the old map of our schooldays is wrong from top to bottom.

But what tremendous changes have taken place in the Christian era, a comparatively short time in the history of the world, observes a writer in London Answers. The Roman's map of the world was the Middle sea -the Mediterranean-and the lands washed by its waves. To sail out of the Straits of Gibraltar-the Pillars of Hercules-was as great an adventure as being shot in a rocket to Mars would be today!

For another thousand years, after the decline of Rome, very little progress was made. India was a sort of fairyland, China-or Cathay-might have been in the moon, Russia and Siberia were wholly out of bounds. America was not dreamed of, Australia had never been heard of, no European ship had ever sailed on the Then, quite suddenly, came the age of exploration. The Spanish and Portuguese navigators, followed by the great English adventurers, doubled the world's land area for the map makers. But even then the maps were fearful and wonderful. America was a piece of all guesswork. The greater part of Africa the same. Even Europe looked like nothing on earth, and where they were at a loss they drew fabulous beasts and birds to fill up the spaces.

BRINGS BACK ACTION OF BRAIN

Remarkable Power of Smelling Salts When the Seat of Reason Is Violently Affected.

When Carpentier sent that one terrific blow against Dempsey's chin in the second round of their battle for the championship, and Dempsey staggered, dazed by its force, one of his seconds applied a bottle of smelling salts to his nose.

When a woman faints, smelling salts are placed beneath her nose, and she revives. The reviving effect of smelling salts is due to the ammonia they contain. Aromatic spirits of ammonia have the same effect. Ammonia is a very powerful stimulant to both the lungs and the heart. In full strength, the fumes of ammonia are intensely irritating to the lungs and throat, as any fireman who has helped to put out a burning factory in which ammonia was stored can testify. In a very weak solution it irritates only sufficiently to stimulate. When inhaled, the gas affects the nerves ending in the nose, throat and lungs; so quickly do these carry the news to the brain and so instantaneous is the response by way of the pneumogastric and other nerves that the lungs expand to draw in air and the heart at once pumps more rapidly-Buffalo Express.

Dog Biscuit for Breakfast.

Judge Jean H. Norris tells the funniest true story of domestic difficulties. Here it is:

In the tragedy of misunderstandings, it is a relief to run across a case that is strictly humorous. Entertainment of this sort was furnished in one instance by a husband, arraigned for nonsupport, who declared that he had left home because he had been given dog biscuit for breakfast.

"That ain't no foundation for a hard day's work!" he complained. "I always have oatmeal porridge in the morning; but that precious pup was sick and wouldn't eat his regular fare. So the missus gives him my porridge, and then breaks up his biscuit and tries to pass it on to me. Wasn't that enough to make any man leave home?"

Asked if she liked the dog better than she did her husband, the woman burst into a pean of praise for her

"The dog's a delicate little thing and awfully fussy about his food," she explained. "I thought if the dog biscuits didn't hurt him they certainly wouldn't hurt a strong man like

THE G. A. R. MEMBERSHIP IS RAPIDLY FADING AWAY. -Figures compiled at the national headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic show that at the annual national encampment held in Indianapolis in September more than 10,000 of the Civil war veterans who attended the encampment of 1920 were counted among the missing, as the ranks have been depleted to this extent through the last year.

Total membership of the G. A. R. today is 93,155, while its membership in 1920 was 103,258.

Total membership is scattered among 4,445 posts in every state. Ohio, with 10,241, has the largest membership, with Pennsylvania second with 9.122: New York third, 8,795; Illinois fourth, 6,868; Indiana fifth, 5,949; Massachusetts sixth, 5,356. No other states have 5,000 or more members. Members in the old Confederate states total approximately 2,200.

The G. A. R. was organized in Illinois in the spring of 1866. By July, 1866, there were 40 posts in Illinois, representatives of which met in convention and organized the state department. Posts were organized in other states, resulting in the first national encampment being held in Indianapolis November 20, 1866. Ten states were represented at this encampment, 21 states in 1867, 24 in 1868, 37 in 1869, having 2,050 posts.

In 1890, reports taken as authentic declare that the membership was 409,489, the highest mark recorded. From 1878 to 1890 the growth was rapid, being from 12,000 to 85,000 annually. Since 1890 the decline has been constant, except for a 3,-000 gain in 1906, said to be due to prospects of favorable pension legislation. The membership of late years is as follows: 159,863 (1915); 149,074 (1916); 135,931 (1917); 120,916 (1918); 110,357 (1919); 103,258 (1920); 93,155 (1921).

The 1920 national encampment voted to meet every year as long as a single member survived. Brig. Gen. John L. Clem, addressing the Army and Navy club, Washington, maintains he is the youngest G. A. R. member. He is seventy-one years old, having enlisted as a drummer boy when eleven years old. The question of who is the oldest member always brings up hundreds of claimants and no reliable record has been obtained.

DECORATION OF CELLULOID

How Poker Chips, Combs and Other Articles Can Be Ornamented in Color.

Articles of celluloid can be decorated by using colored solutions of celluloid dissolved in glacial acetic or amyl acetate. If the article to be decorated is ivory-white, the celluloid used for the solution should be dissolved in amyl acetate, which another name for the so-called "banana oil."

To prepare the article, three parts of paraffin and one part of white wax are melted at a low temperature, and either painted or flowed over the surface to be worked upon. The design is then transferred to the wax coating; this is done by making the design on tracing paper and transferring it to the wax by following the outline with the point of a pencil or stylus, leaving the design indented in the wax. After removing the transfer the wax is scraped from the parts to be colored with a sharp-pointed instrument, broad spaces being freed of wax with a sharp penknife. If sevieral colors or shades are to be used. only the lines for one color are cut and that color applied: these lines are then covered over with wax before the next color to be used is applied. To prepare the colors, small cuttings of colored celluloid are dissolved in either of the above-mentioned chemicals, using small wide-mouthed bottles. If colored celluloid is not obtainable, aniline dyes dissolved in alcohol can be added.

After the work has been completed. the wax can be easily removed from the article by rubbing with a soft rag and gasoline.-Bertha G. Morey, Ottumwa, Ia., in Popular Mechanics.

Why a Match Cost $300.

It cost a ranchman in the San Isabel national forest, 15 miles southwest of Canon City, Colo., nearly $300 for the pleasure of throwing a burning match, after lighting his pipe, among the dry leaves and starting a miniature forest fire. The man, whose name is withheld at the request of the forest officials, is said to have made no attempt to extinguish the blaze until it had got beyond his control. Forest Ranger J. J. Lowell, at Wetmore, 20 miles away, saw the smoke, hastened to the scene and with great effort succeeded in getting the fire under control and thus averting what threatened to be a most destructive forest fire.

How to Plant Fruit Trees.

Dynamite is being used very extensively all over the United States in planting fruit trees, says the American Forestry Magazine. Some of the largest nurseries advocate it and some of the most prominent commercial orchards are using the method exclusively in new plantings.

Women Preachers Want More Women Preachers.

When its doctrines are expounded by women preachers men will be more eager to attend church, according to Miss M. Madeline Southard, president fo the International Association of Women Preachers. Speaking at the convention of the association at the Jackson Boulevard Christian church, Chicago, Miss Southard accused men preachers of "feminizing the church." She gave Frances Willard as her authority for the claim that women preachers were needed to interest men in the work of the church.

"One still hears occasionally that the ordination of women will feminize the church," said Miss Southard. "But that is impossible, for a men-monoply of the pulpit has already accomplished

"Frances Willard said, concerning this, 'Men have been preaching for 2,000 years and a large majority of the converts have been women. Suppose that women should share the preaching power, might it not be reasonably supposed that the majority of the converts under their administration would be men?'

"We women who preach invite a comparison of the number of strong, thoughtful men in our audiences with the number found in the average au-

Miss Southard quoted from SS. Peter, Paul, and Luke as authorizing women to preach and to prophesy. She declared that men sought to bar women from the pulpit for selfish rea-

"Men, even clergymen, never get excited when women scrub their office floors or wash their soiled clothes for a livelihood," she said. "It is only when women approach the more remunerative or more desirable vocations that lively fears of the disruption of the home are expressed.

"Since the preacher's quest is the discovery and the development of personality, women's training has preeminently fitted her for it. Through the ages man was busy with wars and the hunt of material and commercial values, while to the woman was consigned all developing human personalities through the most critical years. This child-care has peculiarly fitted her, when educated along all lines, to understand and deal with the grown-up children of church and community."

AIN'T NATURE JUST GRAND?

Why the Sky Is Blue and Fish Make No Noise Going Through Water.

Why is the sky bfue? Not one person in a hundred could give a satisfactory answer to the question. And yet the explanation, as given by Prof. W. H. Bragg, at the Royal institution, is quite simple.

The blue sky, he explained, is due to the interception by particles in the atmosphere of the blue rays which form a part of the white light of the sun. The parts of white light conveyed in longer red and yellow light age to jump the many substances in the atmosphere and are seen only at sunrise and sunset.

The professor illustrated his meaning by showing a disk of light on the screen which, passing through a bowl of water, became gradually redder as the water got cloudier, till at last, after an imitation of the sun in a November fog, it faded away.

some of the mysteries of sound. If you put a stick in a revolving bowl of water, it sets up little whirlpools behind it. In the same way, the wind rushing past trees forms whirlwinds on a small scale, and these cause those sounds so admirably described by the imitative word "soughing." Similar sounds are set up by telegraph wires.

Why is it that fishes make no disturbance when swimming through the water, although there is a rushing noise when a stone is flung in?

This is explained by the fact that in the latter case, it is the filling of the cavity that is made, rather than the mere impact, which causes the noise, whereas the body of the fish is so shaped that when it moves through the water it leaves no such cavity behind it and therefore there is no disturbance.

Why "Red Sea."

The Red sea is really red in spotsthe color being due to the prevalence of a minute bright red plant, a kind of seaweed. This plant is said to be so small that 25,000,000 can live and thrive within a single cubic inch of water. Therefore, instead of being mottled with red, the sea appears in many cases to be scarlet in shade. A red dye, which tradition says was used hundreds of years ago, is made from this weed, but, in the places where it is not found, the waters of the Red sea are as blue or green as those of any other body of water.

Why Dogs Bark.

It is a curious fact that dogs bark only when they are in association with man. The dog in a state of nature merely growls, howls, or whines. Possibly the act of barking is a dog's attempt at speech; it would certainly seem like it sometimes; as, for instance, when a pet dog sees you carrying food, he will bark as his way of asking for some.

Another dog, which is in the habit of going to bed at sundown, will bark to tell you he is ready when the time

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC

A Letter to the Church at Corinth.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC

Some Problems of an Ferly Church,

-Some Problems of an Early Church, 1. Party Spirit in the Corinthian Church (1:10, 11).

In this church rival factions were contending against each other. Some were for Paul, some for Apollos, some for Peter, and some for Christ. The cause of this condition was failure to see that the membership composing His body cannot be divided. By one Spirit all were baptized into the one oody (12:13).

II. Love the More Excellent Way (I Cor. 13:1-13).

All of the Spirit's gifts are good, but the most valuable of all is love. all can preach or interpret tongues, but all can have the gift of Love in this chapter is the more excellent way of chapter 12:31.

(1) The Pre-eminence of Love (vv. 1-3). It transcends (1) speaking with tongues. For men to possess the loftiest eloquence and be lacking in love is to be as booming brass and clanking cymbal.

(2) The gift of prophecy—the ability to unfold mysteries. To be able to Penetrate the mysteries of nature and providence is good, but to love is bet-

(3) Faith of the most vigorous kind, even such as to remove mountains, is of less value than love.

(4) Philanthropy of the most generous sort, causing one to surrender all earthly goods for the sake of the poor is praiseworthy, but unless actuated by love is valueless before God. (5) Heroic devotion which leads to martyrdom is profitless unless backed

The Attributes of Love (vv. 4-7). (1) It is long-suffering and kind.

(2) It is free from envy. Those who love are entirely free from the spirit engendered because of the superior worth and success of others.

(3) It is free from boasting and vanity. Love strives to do good to all and is not careful to seek their admiration and applause.

(4) It is decorous. Love is always Polite and mannerly; knows how to behave at all times.

(5) It is unselfish. It is always seeking the good of others and is forgetful of self.

(6) It does not t does not allow itself to be aroused to resentment. It is not quick tem-

(7) It takes no delight in evil; does not impute evil motives to others; is not suspicious. It is forgiving. Love has no sympathy with that which is evil, but sympathizes with that which is true; has a common joy with it.

(8) It beareth all things. It wraps itself in the gracious mantle of love and shuts all evil out.

(9) Love is trustful; it looks into the future with confidence.

(10) Love is hopeful; it seizes the things of the future and brings them into the present, appropriating them

(11) Love is firm. It is free from vacillation. It intelligently sets its attention to things that are right and with unvarying strength holds fast. 3. The Permanence of Love (vv. 8-(1) It outlasts prophecy. Prophecy in the Scriptures means both a foretelling of events and the teaching of the Word of God. Prophecy as prediction shall be fulfilled; prophecy as teaching shall be brought to an end in that day when teaching is not needed

(Heb. 8:11; Jer. 81:34). (2) It outlasts speaking with tongues. The race once spoke the same language, but as a judgment for sin and rebellion God brought confusion and caused the people to speak many tongues. The day is coming when the redemption wrought by Jesus Christ shall have been accomplished in all its fullness; all nations shall be brought back to one tongue. (3) It outlasts knowledge. The knowledge we now have is only relative, but the day is coming when this relative knowledge shall be done away by the coming in of a wider and nobler intelligence; the twilight shall be lost in maturity, for at Christ's coming we shall see Him face to face and shall be like Him. Love will always abide, for God is love.

The Search for God.

The search of men for God has been an age-long search, throughout the centuries men have groped in darkness with the cry, "Show us God," the deepest hunger of the heart, and the deepest perplexity of the mind. When Phillips Brooks was called in to give some religious instruction to Helen Kellar, spending her life in darkness and isolation, she greeted him with one sentence slowly spelled "Please tell me something that you know about God."-Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

October 16 Lessons from Patriots of the Past and Present Nehemiah 4:1-14

The true patriot must be a leader both by example and precept. A real faith in God and the cause which he represents will characterize him. Faith qualifies for leadership. Moses, Joshua, Elijah, Nehemiah, Paul, Luther, Wesley and Moody, were all men of faith, and were all great leaders of the people of God. Their followers were, in the main, loyal. Loyalty is the price men will pay to a real lead-

A real leader of God's people in the cause of righteousness must be trained in the school of prayer. Nehemiah is a conspicuous example of this. Our Scripture lesson shows that his chief weapon, though not his only one, was prayer. He used it first, then did the will of God as wisdom and prudence directed. When rejected and reproached by the opposition, he prayed, then labored. When threatened by anger and conspiracy, he prayed and set a watch. When opposed by dscouraged workers, he overcame by speaking words of comfort and courage with such evident sincerity that his people, fired by his enthusiasm, responded loyally and worked willingly for the cause which Nehemiah championed. The need of intelligent and enthusiastic patriotism is as great today as ever. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety. Freedom of speech, liberty in religion, and equality before the w are blessings which must always be defended at whatever cost.

Not only must the gains of the past be preserved, but the progress of the present must be promoted. The Smith-Towner Federal educational Bill provides an appropriation of one hundred million dollars for the promotion of educational activities in the various States. Of this amount, $7, 500,000 would be spent in the fight against illiteracy and a similar a-mount would be spent for the Amercanization of foreign-born residents. For the Federal program for training teachers, $15,000,000 is set aside and $20,000,000 for health education. According to the Biblical Review the bill has the almost unanimous approvl of educators all over the country, out is opposed by the church of Rome. In evidence of this, another magazine tes the fact that the Knights of Col-bus are becoming especially active opposing this bill. According to he reported statement of Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, a nationwide protest is being organized a-gainst the measure. Mr. Flaherty asserts that the bill is a menace to the parochial school system of the Ro-man Catholic Church. Intelligent pa-triotism must see to it that the Church of Rome is not allowed to unduly assert its will in measures such as this. The bill has the cordial and rigorous support of the Protestant churches, chambers of commerce, civic organizations and national educators. In matters of this nature inthat the greatest good of the greatest ashore, but that before they or the number may be secured.

Fashions in China.

Notwithstanding the popular western fancy that fashions never change in China, the Chinese woman is painstakingly particular as to the exact length and fullness-or scantiness-of her coats, skirts and trousers. She is carefully precise about the width of bias bands or braid or lace that she uses for trimming, the number and arrangement of fastenings, the shape and height of her collar. All of these details vary as tyranically from season to season—under Shanghai guidance—as certain style features do with us under the leadership of New York or Paris. Moreover, as against our four seasons, the fashion devotee of China takes account of eight.

Tractor Hauls Gun Over Water.

In line with similar experiments in France and England, a submarine tractor has been developed in this country which is capable of traveling through water to a depth of ten or twelve feet. By the simple expedient of equipping the carburetor with a periscope, air is insured for the gasoline mixture. The seat of the driver is high enough so that ordinarily there is no particular danger of his taking an involuntary bath. Provision is made for the mounting of a small fieldpiece on top. The vehicle is shown by a full page illustration in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

DO YOU SIT DOWN PROPERLY?

Sometimes That Is a Little Mistake in Daily Existence That Tends to Shorten Life.

It is said that there is a right and a wrong way of doing everything.

Yet how many of us realize that there is a right and a wrong way of sitting down, climbing stairs and so on? asks a London Tit-Bits writer.

Sitting down on a chair seems so easy that it is impossible to do it the wrong way, but a specialist, lecturing recently, pointed out that the habit many people have of sitting on the edge of a chair is very injurious. A certain nerve is sat upon, and the result is sciatica, caused through the nerve being injured.

Walking up stairs is another thing that nine out of every ten people do the wrong way. The usual method is to place the ball of the foot on the stairs and then take the whole weight of the body on the part of the foot, the heel never being placed on the right way, however, is to place the whole of the foot on each stair. If this is done, there will not be so much fatigue when the top is reached.

The habit of bolting eggs and bacon, coffee and other things, and then running for a train or bus, is fatal to the digestive system. The food is not properly masticated, and the whole body is disorganized by the wild rush for the train.

How many people drink a gallon of water a day? This is the amount that should be taken if one wishes to retain good health.

Many people go wrong in cleaning their teeth. The habit of merely washing the outside of the teeth is wrong. The back and top of the teeth need just as much attention. Decay sets in as easily at the back and on the top of the teeth as anywhere else. Remember also that the top of the teeth is the part that comes in actual contact with food.

Standing does not appear to be a particularly difficult operation, but notice people standing in a railway sta-Notice the men, with their hands buried in their pockets, backs bent, and heads dropping forward; and the women with their feet at extraordinary angles, and so on.

The body, when one is standing, should be balanced equally on the two feet, which should be turned out slightly. The whole body should be held upright, including the head.

Talking to a doctor, the writer asked him what effect doing such things in the wrong way would have on the life of an ordinary healthy person. He replied that it was difficult to generalize, but that doing something in the wrong way daily might lessen life by fifteen years or more.

Ho, Hum, How Sleepy We Are! A story of a drifting mine which came ashore on the Durham coast some time ago, and gave rise to an amusing incident, which might have easily resulted in a tragedy, is told by the London Morning Post.

"One Saturday afternoon the mine sweeping division at the admiralty received a long-distance telephone call from the local Durham police, who stated that a mine had been washed coast guard could warn people off, a miner-who had lunched well-had clambered on top of it and gone to sleep. What were they to do? They were given strict injunctions not to attempt to arouse the man, because in waking up suddenly he might break one of the 'horns,' with disastrous results to himself and others. Two hours later the police, in a very relieved voice, reported that the man had awakened of his own accord and had slid off the mine into safety."

Artificial Precious Stones.

Gemstones owing their attractiveness to art are not now mere imitations, but the actual stones are produced artificially, as in the case of rubies and sapphires. In other instances, natural minerals are improved artificially. An important industry exists in the artificial coloring of the semi-precious agate, and giving new colors to other stones has been attempted. At the Reno station of the United States bureau of mines, radium has been used to obtain a more valuable tint. A colorless Colorado tepaz has been given a pleasant yellow, and, while this has not proven permanent when exposed to light, experiments are being continued with the hope that light-proof shades may be eventually produced.

More Than Their Share. The 25th of May was annual cleanup day in our village. Several of us women were busily engaged in cleaning an alley. Seeing a small ash pile topped with a few tin cans near a stone wall, we stopped, and I remarked: "Well, I guess we'd better get busy cleaning up Mr. J---'s rubbish. Suppose he and his whole family are off spending the day fishing while we stay at home and clean up his hirt." A low, long-drawn whistle was heard from below the wall, and Mr. J- suddenly appeared, rake over shoulder. His sole remark was:

Hides Vary In Quality.

"M-e-o-w!"-Exchange.

Hides differ widely in quality and desirability for making leather. There are tanners of goatskins, for example, who never during a period of years have used skins except those coming from India. Others tan skins from Africa or South America. The leather they produce is known by buyers and they would not accept skins of a difterent origin.

It's wasteful to "rush" your heater to make two or three rooms comfortable. The economical way is to warm the house all over with your coal heater and then keep those rooms you use most comfortable and cozy with the additional heat of a Perfection.

The Perfection Oil Heater is simplicity itself -no trouble to take care of it-and it burns for about 10 hours on a single gallon of kerosene. Most hardware, housefurnishing and department stores sell Perfection Oil Heaters—blue or black, with nickeled trimmings if you like.

Thursday, October 20th

A New Feature this year will be the Big Show.

There will be the usual large display of the choicest farm products and the prizes for the best will be worth more than a $1000. In addition special cash prizes amounting to $125 will be offered for the best entries in the street parade. There will be an exhibit of interest to everyone sent to Gettysburg under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture and many other new features that will be well worth coming miles to see.

The 'Human Fly' will be attraction of the day.

Harry Gardiner, who last year thrilled fifteen thousand spectators in the Gettysburg Center Square, when he climbed a 3-story building, will again be the entertainment feature of Farmers' Day. Two other noted climbers lost their lives during the past year, but Gardiner, the original "Human Fly" is still willing to take his life in his hands.

Come to Gettysburg, October 20 and bring an exhibit.

TANEYTOWN LOCALS

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

Nineteen Republicans and seventeen Democrats were registered in this district, on Tuesday.

Harry A. Anders is reported to have a case of blood poisoning, due to a sore hand, but is improving.

Mrs. Murray E. Ness, wife of Rev. Ness, of Baust Church, is visiting relatives and friends in York.

There is just one Taneytown in the United States, but there is a Taneyville and a Taneycomo, both in Mis-

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clark and two sons, of Baltimore, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hess, near town. Walter A. Bower has been suffering with an infected foot, a near approach to blood poisoning, but is getting better. With two candidates on the county ticket, from opposing sides, the vote in this district may be expected to be "out" in full force. Rev. D. J. March has been assigned to Rayville, and Rev. W. C. Wachter to take the Taneytown charge. The changes will take place promptly.

(For the Record.) Those who spent last Sunday at the home of Denton Slick and wife, was officially completed. were: Wm. Koch and wife, and Wm. Strawsbaugh and wife, of York, Pa.

Merwyn C. Fuss has bought the two vacant lots between the Palmer property and his own, on Baltimore street, extended, from Harry L. Baumgardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Galt, entertained to dinner, at Hotel Carroll, on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Smith Chamberlain and daughter, Dottie, Mrs. Annie Black and Glenroy Black, of Diehl Brothers, near Sell's Mill, grew quite a crop of turnips, this year, among which was one weighing 33/4 lbs. Turnips are like peopleevery now and then there is an unusually fat one.

Mrs. F. H. Seiss, of Takoma Park, D. C., spent several days here, the first of the week, part of the time overseeing the packing up and loading of the remainder of her household goods for removal to her Takoma Park home.

A public meeting was held in provement. Sykesville, last week, favorable to the formation of a county baseball league for next year, and Sykesville wants to be "in it." Taneytown sentiment will likely take the same Postmaster Wm. E. Burke, attended the convention of the National Association Postmasters, in Washington, this week, of which he is a member of the Executive Committee. The convention was held in the Postoffice Department building.

D. J. Hesson has bought the Haines property (formerly the old Stone Hotel) on the corner of Baltimore and Frederick Sts., and in due course of time expects to build an up-todate mercantile building. He will No service. secure possession, on Nov. 1.

Evidently, there will be no safety gates, or flagman, placed at the railroad grade crossing in Taneytown, without special legislation to that effect. In the interest of public safety, this street crossing should be protected—and a legislature will meet this winter.

Mrs. E. M. Dutterer, entertained Mrs. Addie Woerner and daughter, Miss Lorrainne, of Frederick, on Sunday, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Frances M. Diffendal's 75th. birthday. The day was spent in social conversation, and vocal and instrumental music by Miss Woerner.

Topper the "copper" does not get all of the auto law violators, but he gets some of them. Considering the extreme liberality of the laws regulating speed, it is a wonder that the laws are so numerously violated. What the conditions would be, without the activity of the "cops," one can hardly imagine.

Last Friday evening, several men in an auto ran down Baltimore St., at fast speed and came within a few seconds of being struck by the mail train going north. By turning short to the left, and the brakes working, a collision was avoided, but the escape was of the "hair's breadth" variety. They had a right to expect either a flagman, or a gate, to warn them; but, they were also exceeding the speed limit, and not exercising proper care in approaching the crossing.

Miss Myra Grove, of Glen Rock, Pa., is visiting her friend, Miss Mary Hesson.

John S. Bower, of Hanover, spent last Sunday in town, visiting his son and daughter.

Mrs. Lavina Fringer has returned home from an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. Frank Brown, at Columbus. Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shaum were given a wedding dinner, last Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, near Littlestown. A number of invited guests were present from Taneytown and Littlestown.

How Better Than Pills?

The question has been asked. In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is ,they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

—Advertisement How to Make Sauerkraut.

The making of saurekraut offers a good means of utilizing surplus stocks of cabbage and at the same time enables the housewife to carry over into the winter months a vegetable food that helps to vary the diet at a time when meat is often too largely

Unless very large quantities are desired, 4 or 6 gallon stone jars are the best containers. The United States Department of Agriculture recommends the following method: Select only mature, sound heads of cabbage. Quarter them and slice off the core portion and shred. An ordinary slaw cutter or a large knife will

One pound of salt for every 40 pounds of cabbage makes the proper strength of brine to produce the best results. This may be distributed as the cabbage is packed in the jar or it may be mixed with the shredded cabbage before being packed. The cabbage should be packed firmly but not too tightly. When full, cover the jar with a clean cloth and a board cover or plate. On the cover place a weight heavy enough to cause the brine to come up to the cover. If the jar is kept at a temperature of about 86° fermentation will start promptly and should be completed in from 6 to 8 days. A scum soon forms on the surface, which should be skimmed off from time to time.

After fermentation is complete, the kraut should be set in a cool place. If the cabbage is fermented late in the fall or if it can be stored in a very cool place, it may not be necessary to The contract for street lighting do more than keep the surface skim-tetween the Burgess and Commis- med and protected. Otherwise, it will be necessary to take measures to prevent spoilage. This may be done by one of two methods: (1) A layer plied to a clean surface, this effectually seals the jar and protects the Some of our readers are skeptical ter the fermentation is complete, contents from contamination. (2) Afpack the kraut in glass jars or cans, of salt to a quart of water, to completely fill the jars. Seal the jars

He Had a Hunch.

A Youngstown man was an enthusiastic spectator at the Kentucky Derby, Having little knowledge of the sport and desirous of placing a small bet just for the excitement of the thing, he looked over the list of contenders until his eyes rested on 'Behave Yourself.'

The Youngstown man, as the news reports have since told the world, was among those who "cleaned up, because Behave Yourself was the Derby winner.

"How in the world did you hap-pen to pick the winner?" asked a friend.

"I had a hunch."
"Hunch?"

"Yes, 'behave yourself' is the last thing my wife said to me when I left home."-Youngstown Telegram.
