COUNTY MINISTERS MEET IN TANEYTOWN

Address by Rev. A. N. Ward, D. D. Pres. W. M. College.

The first meeting of the Carroll County Ministerial Association to be held in Taneytown, was that of Monday in the Presbyterian Church. The meeting opened with Bible reading and prayer by Rev. J. Walter Englar, of New Windsor. Rev. J. L. Nichols presided. The meeting was largely informal in character, and there was no special business transacted. Remarks were made by Dr. Elderdice, Revs. Shipley, Edwards, Englar, and others.

The ministers present were: Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Elderdice, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Ward, Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Shipley, Rev. and Mrs. J. Walter Englar, Rev. and Mrs. A. P. Snader, Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Field, Rev. and Mrs. M. T. Tabler, Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Edwards, Rev. and Mrs. W. V. Garrett, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Wachter, Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Sanner. Wachter, Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Sanner, Jr., Revs. H. T. Stephens, D. D., T. D. Ritter, Guy P. Bready, J. L. Nichols, J. W. Reinecke, L. F. Murray, W. F. Sunday and R. R. Genois.

Short talks were made, on invitation, by laymen Merwyn C. Fuss and P. B. Englar, the former on the ad-vantages of Christian Endeavor as a Young People's organization for all denominations, and the latter on the advisability of holding the meetings of the Ministerial Association in the larger towns throughout the county, making them of special importance to the cause of righteousness, and publishing the proceedings in the county papers.

Rev. A. N. Ward, D. D., President of Western Md. College, delivered a forceful address on topics of general interest, emphasizing greater need on the part of the church to combat all of the various forces of evil, and to | nicel take greater interest in the acts of our | time. legislative bodies.

Dr. Ward deplored the character of the Baltimore papers in many respects, and complimented the county weekly press for maintaining higher standards, and for its influence in helping to block undesirable legisla-tion. The point that he failed to emphasize was that the city papers find it profitable to publish the sort of papers they do; which means that, financially, it has not been demonstrated that it "pays" to publish strictly clean and "dry" papers, either daily or weekly. There is hardly a weekly paper in the state, in all probability, that can credit its financial profitableness to its moral status.

General discussion developed indorsement of the idea of distributing the meetings of the Association throughout the county, and it may be that some plan will be arrived at, at a succeeding meeting, by which the idea may be carried out.

the At the close of the meeting visitors were served with an excellent luncheon, on the lawn at the Presbyterian Manse, provided by the churches of the town, where for an hour or more a very enjoyable social time

(The Record expected an account of this meeting to be sent in, but up to the hour of going to press, none had arrived.—Ed).

Notice to School Patrons in Taney-

The Parent-Teacher's Association will meet at the school-house, Monday evening, July 7, at 8 o'clock. This meeting is in the interest of a new school building for Taneytown.

The prospects for a new building are very bright at this time, and the hearty co-operation of the whole community will do much toward making the prospect a reality. All members of the Parent-Teacher's Association, all school patrons, and all citizens of the community generally, are earnestly requested to be present at this meeting. Business of supreme importance will be discussed and transacted.

Frederick County's Tax Rate.

The tax rate of Frederick county, has been fixed at $1.35 on the $100.00, an increase of 17 cents for the year.

The increased rate, one of the com-missioners claimed, is due to the large public school appropriation, increase in the cost of public road maintenance, an increase of two cents on $100 for the sinking fund and to other expenses that had to be met. Provision had to be made improvement to two new roads, Liberty to Johnsville and Woodsboro to Ladiesburg, not included in last year's budget.

It is understood that the school appropriation is approximately $325,000 or 65 percent of the entire levy. The next largest appropriation is for roads. The commissioners endeavored as far as was in their power to keep down the rate, and the budget list was gone over a number of times and reductions made wherever this was possible. It has been apparent for some time that the next rate would be increased.

In making up the budget many items are fixed by law. It is understood that the school appropriation was cut and that the road items, although above the total of last year, were kept down to a minimum. One of the commissioners stated that the new rate of $1.35 is the lowest that could be fixed in view of appropria-

A Letter from Morrison, Ill.

On account of my brother's sickness and death I was called to Morrison, I... And on the evening of June 17, wife and I left Taneytown.

The trip across Ohio and part of Indiana, on Friday 18, was very unpleasant in consequence of the intense heat and dust. After reaching Logansport, Ind., it was better, they having had rain the day before. Between Logansport and Chicago we passed through a heavy rain. We arrived in Morrison, at 9:30 and found my brother conscious, but unable to talk. On Sunday night he had the third stroke from which he never rallied. He passed away on Wednesday morning.

It has been very wet ever since we were here, raining every other day. I have seen acres of corn ground covered with water. The fore part of the season was comparatively dry and farmers were not hindered in their work as ours in the East. On arriving here the corn was all planted, up nicely and some plowed the second good. I saw some very heavy grass. Wheat and oats are very good. Oats grow as tall as wheat, and there is so much of it raised.

Morrison is a beautiful town of over 8000 inhabitants. The principal industries here are the Illinois Refrigerator plant, and the Libby McNeil & Libby Milk Plant. The buildings of the Milk Plant cover nearly 3 acres and employs, at present about 150 hands. The average amount of milk received daily is 85,000 lbs. A carload of sugar lasts them 3 days. The product of the milk is mostly put in barrels and used for making candy and ice cream. A large quantity is

They have a well kept cemetery ere. The driveways are all paved with brick and so arranged that you can get to all parts without sticking in the mud, in wet weather.

The churches in Morrison are: Presterian, M. E., Baptist, Swedish, Holland (known as the Dutch Reformed) English Lutheran, Catholic and Christian Science.

From here we go to Fulton Co., to visit wife's brother, C. J. Baumgardner, from which place I may have more to say.

Dr. George Henry Brown.

Doctor George Henry Brown, Carroll County's widely known and universally-beloved physician, died on June 23, at his home in New Windsor. The immediate cause of his death was bronchial pneumonia, the culmination of several months of severe suffering with bronchitis and neuritis, throughout which, with indomitable courage, he remained in active

Dr. Brown was born in Thurmont, his life-long home.

In 1863, he was graduated from the School of Medicine of the University of Maryland, and immediately volunteered for service as surgeon in the Union Army. At the close of the war, he returned to New Windsor, and entered into partnership with his father, Dr. E. Lincoln Brown, a physician of exceptional ability, to whom his son has always modestly attributed his own success. As a diagnostician, Dr. Brown had few equals, and no superiors. His remarkable insight has become traditional at the University Hospital, as in his own practice; and it will always be a matter of wonder to his colleagues, and of pride to his patients, that he chose to remain at the arduous post of "country doctor."

Combined with a brilliant mind, alert to every phase of progress, Dr Brown possessed that rare gift, "an understanding heart." His wise and kindly spirit, his broad charity, his mellow humor, his unfailing sympathy, cured sick souls, as his skillful hands healed broken bodies.

There has come to its close a career of more than sixty years of unremitting labor, of unstinted sacrifice, of Christ-like devotion to the afflicted. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for

COUNTY TAX RATE TAKES A JUMP

Fixed at $1.50 an Increase of 10c Over Last Year.

The County Commissioners of Carroll County announce that the levy for county taxes for 1924 will be at the rate of $1.50 on the $100.00 on an assessable basis of $33,155,500.00, an increase of 10c over 1923, when the rate was $1.40. They state that the rate for 1924 would have been considerably less than that for 1923, if it had not been for the extraordinary expense for the repair or construction of bridges destroyed by floods, about $30,000.00, and the increase in mandatory items in the school budget, and the act of the Legislature of 1924, compelling the County to raise annually the sum of $8,000.00 for the volunteer fire companies of the county. The Tax budget for 1924 is as fol-

Amount Rate $262,464 .7773 33,765 ,1000 Public Schools County Roads County Jail .0162 Lateral Road Bonds 12,000 Bridges in flood of 1923 100,000 .0296 Circuit Court 6,000 .0177 Election Expenses 12,000 .0355 County Treasurer .0053 County Commissioners 3,200 .0094 Tax Collector 1.800 .0053 States Attorney 3,000 .0088 County Agent Incorporated Towns Care of Insane 10,000 10,000 .0296 7,000 .0207 Notes in Bank Erroneous 3.000 County Home 8.500 Bridges under Contract 12,000 Volunteer Fire Cos Annual Pensions Court House Vital Statistics 2,000 1.000 Justice of Peace Public Printing Supervisor of Assessm't 1,500 Court Stenographer Orphan's Court Ref. School Boys & Girls 1,500 Local Assessors 1,500 County Board of Health 1,000

500 .0485 $503,829 $1.50

The greatest problem of the Commissioners in fixing the rate for 1924 was the school budget submitted by the Board of Education. Included in that budget the Board of Education asked for $80,000 for a new school building or $3,000 for a double portable building at Sykesville, and $80,000 for a new school building, or $15,000 for five portable buildings at Taneytown. The gross amount asked for by the Board of Education including new buildings at Taneytown and Sykesville was $488,613.62, which if granted, would have necessitated a levy of $1,473 for school purposes alone. The asking, including portable buildings at Sykesville and Taneytown and exclusive of new buildings, was $346,513.62 which if granted, would have necessitated a levy of $1.107 for school purposes alone.

In returning to the Board of Education its budget, with the statement of allowances, disallowances and reductions, the County Commissioners call attention to the fact that they have allowed only such items in the budget as are made mandatory by law, such as teacher's salaries, salaries of Superintendent and Supervisors, and exercised their perogative of disallowing or reducing such items as are not mandatory; because the granting of all demands of the Board of Education, both those that are mandatory and those not mandatory would have imposed upon the taxpayers a burden too grievous to be born. In 1923, there was levied for school purposes 70c on the $100.00; this year Md., on September 4, 1842. In his early childhood, his parents removed to New Windsor, which then became $80,0000.00 for a new school building at Sykesville was disallowed, and $3000.00 granted for a portable building at that place. The asking of $80,-000 for a new building at Taneytown was disallowed. The asking of $15,000 for five portable buildings at Taneytown was neither granted or disallowed, three builders acting independently of each other, and each without knowledge of the findings of the other, have examined the present Taneytown school building, and all pronounce it unsafe for use. A reputable builder, employey by the Commissioners has submitted to them an estimate of the cost of reconstructing the present building. The County Commissioners have disallowed the asking of the Board of Education for $80,000.00 for a new school building at Taneytown, and inthey cannot levy so large a sum as $80,000.00 for a new building at Tanevtown or elsewhere. They have made to the Board of Education three pro-

1-To have the present school building at Taneytown reconstructed according to specifications submitted.

2-In view of the fact that the County Commissioners have been informed that citizens of Taneytown have made an offer to deed to the Board of Education, free of cost to the county, a site for a new building at Taneytown. If the Board of Education wishes to take advantage of this offer, and will consent to the erection on such site so provided, a new school building, the cost not to exceed $40,-000.00 or $45,000.00, the County Commissioners will provide such sum, under certain conditions, less such sum town.

WARNING TO NEWSPAPERS

False Statements, and Sending out Papers Contrary to Law.

Lon E. Martin, editor and business manager of the Taylorville (Ill.) Daily Courier, has been indicted by the federal grand jury on six counts, for defrauding the government in filing false affidavits of circulation, and mailing papers to unpaid sub-scribers as second class postage instead of the one cent postage which the law requires. Martin, it is alleged, made false affidavit to the post office department regarding the circulation of his pa-The second indictment was for continuing to send papers through the mail to subscribers who were more than a year in arrears, thus defrauding the government.

The indictment was the outcome of an audit of the Courier's circulation record by postal department inspectors. Two Taylorville daily newspapers, published in a town credited by the census bureau with 5,806 inhabitants, according to their statements to the postoffice department had a combined circulation approximately equal to the inhabitants of the town—this in face of the fact that two daily papers at Springfield, 28 miles away, and two at Decatur, 38 miles away, had large carrier routes in Taylorville.

Complaint was made to the third assistant postmaster general at Washington, by a foreign advertiser who used both the Taylorville papers that the field did not warrant such a circulation as the two papers claimed. The audit was ordered.

After the inspectors made their audit, Mr. Martin made a new sworn statement to the postoffice for the six months period prior to October 1, 1923, recording his circulation as 2, 548, a reduction of 1,347, or approximately 33 % percent. The case was taken up by the district attorney at Springfield and the indictments fol-

It is said that records show that Mr. Martin owes the postoffice department $6,500 in postage on papers he continued to send through mails at the pound rate in place of at the rate of 1 cent each, as provided by law after subscribers are a year in arrears. Some of the subscribers were found to be as much as ten years in arrears.-American Press,

A Good Investment.

Dr. John S. Fulton, Director of the State Department of Health, says: "Remember that if it is a good idea to have your automobile overhauled every now and then-and you certainly will agree to that—it is equally important to pay as much attention to your own human machine. Don't wait until the machine breaks you a good going over. To keep the human machine in good running or-der, you ought to have a health examination, at least once a year.

"And while you are about it, don't forget the children. To be kept well, babies should be examined at least once a month; the children under school age, every six months, or oftener, and the school children at least once a year. Nothing on earth pays such large dividends as an investment in health.

"Remember that health protection in an intelligent community is a mat-ter of supply and demand. People have been aroused to an understanding of what they need in the way of such protection will get it, if they insist upon having it. When the members of a community want schools, improved roads, police or fire protection, the first step toward getting what they want, is to get together; and the next is to insist upon having what they want, and to keep on insisting until they get it. All phases of health protection—the safe-guarding of water supplies, disposal of sewage, control of typhoid, malaria, smallpox, diphteheria, and other communicable diseases, and along with them all other measures for safeguarding the health of grown-ups and children—belong in the same Any community that insists upon having them, can get them."

CONVENTION IN LONG DEAD-LOCK.

Sixty-one Ballots Taken Without Indicating the Nominee.

On Friday, the list of states was finished, as well as the oratory, which had become very tiresome. The folowing nominations were made; Brown of New Hampshire; Gov. Bryan, of Nebraska; Cox, of Ohio; Davis, of W. Va.; Gov. Silzer, of N. J., and Glass, of Va., or 16 in all. Speech after speech was made in seconding. As the committee on Platform was not ready to report, the convention adjourned for the day.

After an all night session the committee on Platform failed to agree on the commonly called Ku Klux plank. Chairman Cummings, on Saturday morning, made a brief speech to the convention, stating this fact, and telling of the seriousness of the situation, which finally reached the point when the committee engaged in prayer. Mr. Cummings closed by voting the convention to recess until 3:00 o'clock.

On the reassembling of the convention; the fight over the Klan plank opened on the floor, and after several hours of debate, the resolution manding the condemnation of the Klan by name was defeated by the narrow margin of 546.15 against condemnation by name and 541.85 for condemnation. The convention adjourned in an uproar at 2:00 o'clock Sunday morning.

William J. Bryan made his first appearance on the floor in an address against naming the Klan, and was jeered and hissed by the galleries and by some of the delegates, but he was not scared by the demonstration and was rather encouraged to make sterner effort.

On Monday, the voting continued until the 15th. ballot, ending in a dead-lock, with McAdoo leading with 479 votes. Smith 305½, John W. Davis 61, Cox 60, Underwood 39½. Others scattering votes. Necessary to choice 732. The voting of Tuesday changed the face of the situation by showing a weakening of the McAdoo strength, and an increase of that of John Davis. The thirtieth ballot stood, McAdoo 415½, Smith 323½, Davis 126½, Cox 61, Underwood 39½, with others scattering, Gov. Ritchie had 171/2 votes. Davis increased during the day from 63 to 129½.

During the day William Jennings
Bryan tried to stop the increase for Davis, alleging that he was too close to "Wall St," and that in the event of his nomination, and assuming that La Follette would run, the latter would draw more Democratic than Republican votes; but his efforts had no efdown, or "smashes up." Go to your fect. It was part of the news of the family doctor, and get him to give day that Gov. Smith, of New York, would accept second place on the ticket with any candidate for President other than McAdoo.

The balloting of Wednesday reached the 42nd., with slight variations, Mc-Adoo passing the 500 mark on 40th., closing on the 42nd. with Mc-Adoo 503.2, Smith 318.6, Davis 67, Cox 60, Underwood 39½, Ralston 30, Glass 28½, Ritchie 17½. Wm. Jennings Bryan made a platform effort for McAdoo, which was generally considered as his best to stampede the convention to McAdoo, but without success. The day closed with strong talk of a caucus and com-

The voting on Thursday showed no material change. The day was marked by changes of small blocks votes, but at the close the leaders stood practically as on the opening vote. The 61st. ballot was taken about 1:00 o'clock this Friday morning, when the convention adjourned until this (Friday) afternoon at 1:00

The leaders stood at the close; Mc-Adoo 4691/2; Smith 3331/2; Underwood 42; Davis 60; Ralston 371/2; Cox 54; Glass 25. Ritchie 161/2.

FOURTH OF JULY THOUGHTS.

What the Celebration Should Mean at Present Time.

Our national holidays are too much given over to mere outward manifes-tations of observance and too little to recognition of the underlying ideas which give these festivals importance. Independence day should set the American people thinking of the real and permanent meaning of the Declaration of Independence, and the vital significance of the Fourth of July.

The story of the birth of American nationality is one of the most inspiring in all the annals of mankind. No other nation has been born of such high purpose, broad vision and unselfish spirit of service to humanity.

The Declaration of Independence was signed by a company of greater men than ever before had been joined in the founding of a nation. Their act represented something far higher and nobler than mere personal dissatisfaction with the existing order. They were men who would have better served their personal advantage by desisting from this act. Moved by the purest patriotism, they launched defiance against a powerful military power, supposedly capable of crushing the feeble forces of the colonies, knowing that monarchy was sure to define their act as treason and probably would punish their act with death.

Americans on Independence day should dedicate themselves anew to the principles, the traditions and the ideals of the great republic—the most wisely conceived, the most strongly developed nation of all times, where the widest range of opporunity, the loftiest level of intelligence and the highest plane of life for the masses has been attained in all the history of

It is a time for re-reading the story of the nation's birth, of the heroic struggle for independence, the most romantic and the most thrilling chapter in human history, the story of the young republic's growth from feeble beginnings to its present high estate of power and influence.

Too many Americans do not comprehend their country. Patriotism has been ridiculed until they are ashamed to manifest it. The institutions of this country have been attacked until they fear to have faith in them.

To know your country is to love it, to cherish it and to stand ready to defend it-to return the scoffings of the skeptics with scorn and to rebuke the maunderings of the superficial sapheads who imagine that they are manifesting mental superiority and moral breadth by decrying their country and the citizen's love for it and his purpose to defend it against all enemies, foreign and domestic.

The truth about the man who professes to love all other 'countries' as well as his own is that he loves no country at all. He is lacking in that instinct of loyalty to things worth while which differentiates that patriot from the traitor.

Have faith in America! Have love for America! For love of this republic s love of humanity, which this republic through all its life from the beginning has served so well by example and action.—National Republican.

Women at the Convention.

This year 465 women are attending the Democratic national convention in New York City in an official capacity as delegates or alternates. Four years ago there were only 86 women delegates and 202 alternates at the San Francisco convention. This year there are 143 women delegates-atlarge, 34 district delegates, 78 alternates and 210 district alternates. The line-up of the state delegations show that New York with 48 women is sending the largest. Missouri includes 30 women in its delegation, and Massachusetts 28.

The three states of Louisiana, Florida and South Dakota failed to name a woman delegate. The southern states are sending some of the most interesting delegates. For example, from Georgia comes Mrs. Mary Harris Armor who has thrilled thousands of men and women throughout the country by her appeals for prohibi-tion and dry law enforcement. From Kentucky comes Mrs. Cromwell, secretary of state in that commonwealth, and said to be one of the leading women parliamentarians in the country.

Many of the women delegates at the New York convention received their initiation into politics in the suffrage campaign. There are women in the New York delegation who worked with Susan B. Anthony and Dr. Shaw to win the vote for women. Some well-known Tammany women are also members of the New York delegation.—American Issue.

Political "Scoring".

A little while ago a convention at Cleveland "scored" the Democratic party. Later, another convention at St. Paul "scored" both old parties. Last week the Democratic National gathering "scored" the Republican administration. Another one is coming along—is it at Chicago—that will again "score" both parties. Then the voters will have their innings until November 6, when votes, not talk, will do the real "scoring."

America is a great country, and its politics is a great game-of talka sort of argument, or pleading, by lawyers before a jury. Hear one side, to it; but, hear the other side, and better not write editorials at all. that looks good, too. Then, when other fellows prove conclusively that both sides are wrong, it becomes evident that "scoring" by argument settles nothing.

Really, when we get all of the evidence in, it appears almost as though this country is full and running over with aspirants for office, none of whom are fit for the job of governing anybody or anything.

Our affairs seem to be managed mostly by liars and robbers, and by those who are unfit for leadership, all aiming to "do" the poor "people"; and selves overrun by another crowd, as bad as, or worse than the one put out.

Every four years we try our hand at housecleaning, Nationally, but never feel like trying the same crowd twice. There is no such thing in our to think it necessary to "jump on" deserving another, because there is plished actuality. No wonder a lot of they find themselves without influence people say "what's the use" and stay doesn't help a little bit. The game still goes on.

The truth is, we either have too politics, or there is a remarkably large number of mistaken honest men running our parties. If neither of the above, then we must be witnessing a continuous performance of the "outs" against the "ins", which means, in you are overlooking the most importplain words, a fight against "govern- ant part of your job and neglecting ment," no matter which side governs.

Boiled down, we suspect that our boasted American self-government is ald. not greatly better than that of any country where kings rule, and where the people have little to say about public affairs, and that everywhere on the face of the earth there is always a crowd wanting to get what another crowd has—a very animalish way "doing" somebody, for self-interest. Let the "scoring" go on.

The Next Congress.

This country, taken as a whole, is strongly conservative. It is not apt to go off, hap-hazard, or be stampeded into following exaggerated progressivism. The sound sense of the country-and it is distinctly in the majority-stands back of safe and sane policies, and is not ready to "scrap heap" our past policies as having suddenly been found worthless. Great improvements do not come so, whether in industry, business or legislation. We build our soundest structures, always, on tested foundations and with tested materials.

We are emphasizing greatly too much, the oneman election—the President—probably because of his extensive power of appointments, and we are apt to think too much of "what is in the election of President for me," rather than what Congress will do for all of the people—the country as a whole.

We like to see candidates personally interested in their election; but, the voters should give greatly more thought of what may be back of the "interest" of candidates. Somehow. it is disgusting to see a man pursuing a political nomination, or election, in order to win; to see him in the thick of the fight working for himself. We wonder how much chance the office has to "seek the man" and whether there is not greatly too little of this. Boosting one's self for public office, has its limitations. Let more of the people realize this, and ask questions—of themselves, as well as of others.

Negroes in the North.

Delegates from all parts of the country to the annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People-"friends in council" for the welfare of two races—are meeting in this city to discuss soberly what the Negro may reasonably expect from society and what return he will make for a decent consideration of his rights as man and citizen.

Whatever conduces to the prosperity and contentment of the Negro is to the advantage of the whole community. As the Union could not exist half slave and half free, so we cannot have an ideal condition while any part of our population is politically oppressed and industrially submerged. The South must treat the Negro with consideration or it will lose many more of its indispensable artisans. With a lure not merely of better wages but of fairer living conditions, the North The past Congress was a wind-mill | will draw increasing numbers of those guided, are an asset, not a liabilitytablishments and in the community at large. ### "The Man We Want."

Advertisements which include these words are appearing frequently in the papers. They are widely distributed, throwing open the avenues of opportunity to the "right man," wherever he may be. Usually they are addressed to young men, but as ability is sought it is reasonable to conclude that fellows turned 50 who have not lost ambition and possess brains, energy, enthusiasm, ideas and adaptability would not be barred on account of age. The advertisers seem to want supermen. At any rate they have important work to be done and they announce their readiness to pay generously for the services of those who can qualify.

The significance of these quests for high class men by large business organizations goes far beyond their affirming the truth that there "always is room at the top." Not only is there room, but there does not appear to be anyone capable of filling the vacancies and getting the big money. Not only are there highly desirable places "going begging" in this time of general business depression, but the managers of big business envisage the approach of hetter times and are making preparations and there appears to be no other way minded, prejudiced or spineless, he had to meet increased demands, enlarge their sales and improve their service.

> Verily, these are golden days for courageous youth of America who have also the ability of which business is so much in want. Golden ground which has so many scared into inactivity. "The man we want" who know themselves, have confidence in themselves, possess the courage to If you want your editorial page to attempt new things, to come forth

Osage indians Tallest of Tribes of North America

Missouri, unlike many other states, never had a large number of Indians, Indian tribes, or warlike chiefs of ability. The Osage Indians were the only tribe peculiar to and historically native in Missouri. The "Missouris," who took their name from the river, were living there when Marquette and Joliet made their famous trip in 1673, but they had originally gone there from the vicinity of Green Bay, Wis. They were never a strong tribe, writes Raymond W. Thorp in "Adven-

Other Indian tribes in Missouri came late, as the Sauks. Foxes and Delawares. These originated east of the Mississippi and settled in Missouri during the Spanish period.

The Osages were the distinctive Indians of Missouri, and well might the state be proud of them. The great artist, Catlin, states that the Osages were "the tallest race of men in North America, either of red or white skins." Few Osage braves were under six feet in height, many were six feet six inches, and some were seven feet tall. They were well proportioned and good looking, and in movement they were quick and graceful. In war and the chase they equaled any. Although living close to the white man for decades they late retained their primitive customs and dress.

Maternal Co-operation

A fond mother, to whom her youngest son was indeed a Joseph asked him one day why he associated with "those low persons who live under the hill by the railroad tracks." He replied by introducing his mother to Mrs. Timothy Byrne, whose claim to fame rested in her parenthood of Timmy, Jr., the leader of the "gang." "This, mother, is Mrs. Byrne, an' she's teachin' Timmy to be a policeman, an' if he gets licked in a fight she licks him. Timmy hasn't been licked in more'n a month now. Mother, she's a grand woman, an' a great help to

The 'Owling Howl

A new-rich cockney went to Devon to see a country house that he thought of buying and as the head gardener was showing him over the grounds a peculiar screech was heard from a neighboring thicket.

"What was that?" said the cockney, with a start.

"An owl sir," said the gardener. "Yes, yes, my man, of course," said the cockney, "but what was 'owling?" -Pittsburgh Telegraph.

Medicinal Vegetavies

Curative qualities are possessed by most vegetables and fruits. Spinach has a direct effect upon the kidneys, while onions, garlie, leeks, and shallots contain medicinal qualities which have a marked effect upon the circulatory system. A raw onion eaten before going to bed is an excellent remedy for insomnia, while soup made from onions has a soothing and restorative effect upon weak digestive or-

Lettuce and cucumbers cool the system; beets and turnips are excellent appetizers, and celery has such an admirable effect upon the nervous system that it has been known to cure neuralgia and is of great use in rheumatic cases. Tomatoes are good for the liver. Figs, currants, cherries, and strawberries are cooling and purifying. Eaten first thing in the morning, it is claimed an orange will cure dyspepsia sooner than anything else.

Scientists and the Child Thomas A. Edison said in a recent

"A scientist's mind is like a child's. It asks all sorts of ridiculous and impossible questions, then answers them. "The scientist confronts every phenomenon as the little boy confronted the fat man at dinner. Studying the fat man's stomach carefully, he said:

Geiman, of near here, took some of his neighbors, on their initial trip to Baltimore to visit relatives, and friends, and have a general good time sight-seeing, which was all ac-complished in due time, reaching home at 12 o'clock at night. Those in the party were Edw. Krideler, Sr., in his 82nd. year, Mrs. Edw. Krideler, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John J. T. Baumgardner. Among their ramblings they reached the wharf, where the waves of Chesapeake Bay brush up against 'Maryland, My Maryland,' All the persuasion the chaueffer could be appropried that the leaf command did not influence the leader, Mr. Krideler, who is 81 years young, to consent to take his party on an aeroplane or steamboat ride, but day. the party did not object to visit the important centers of interest, even to going up into some of the "sky-scrap-er" buildings. We do not think any of the party made the expression, as a party did from this neighborhood, when they first got into the city, in asking where is Baltimore? But when they arrived at the door of "Home Sweet Home," they were all tired, foot-sore and weary.

Skeleton of an Embryo in One Dinosaur

Scientists, digging for fossils in the sand of the Gobi desert in Mongolia, have come upon the eggs of the prehistoric beast known as the dinosaur. Just as the ancient egg of the boarding-house breakfast table occasionally contains an embryo chicken, so in one of these Mongolian eggs, although it was deposited by a dinosaur "best layer" 10,000,000 years ago, the pure white skeleton of an unborn dinosaur can still be seen, says London Tit-Bits.

Five of these eggs were found together and within a foot or two of them crouched the huge dinosaur mother, as if she had been overtaken with disaster, probably in the form of a sandstorm of terrible violence, just as she had finished her morning lay-

The desert region of Mongolia is proving a happy hunting ground for the geologist and fossil seeker, for the high table land is almost waterless and the atmosphere is dry. Thus fossils have not been crushed out of all semblance to their original shape or pounded to pieces by water action.

It is a growing opinion among geologists that the animal dispersion took place in this region and that the dinosaur of Mongolia found its way into America, followed down the ages by the mammals, by way of the Bering straits bridge, which is supposed to have connected Asia and America.

The Why Superstitions By H. IRVING KING

CABBAGES AND LOVE

I'M MANY parts of the country a girl who is becoming anxious about her prospects of matrimony goes out to a neighbor's cabbage patch at night, steals a cabbage and places it over the house door. The man upon whom the cabbage falls when the door is opened is the man she is destined to marry It is held by most authorities that this charm can only be worked with success upon Allhallowe'en and that the girl should go through a graveyard on her way to steal the cabbage. In some sections it is believed that something of the physical characteristics of the girl's future husband can be divined by the shape and size of the cabbage stolen. In no case can she select the cabbage but must take the first that comes to hand-some say pull it with her eyes shut. In Scotland the same superstition is a common Hallowe'en custom, handed down from time immemoral, and was glorified in poetry by Robert Burns. Only in Scotland they do not put the whole cabbage but only the stalk over the door and say that the amount of earth clinging to the cabbage root indicates the size of the fortune the girl's husband will have. This superstition is inherited from our barbarous ancestors of northern Europe to whom cabbage and kale were nearly what onions and garlic were to the Egyptians. Egyptians even deified the onion and if the Teuton and the Celt did not exactly deify the cabbage they held it in high respect as possessing many mystic qualities and gave it a place only a little lower than the grain god. ## ROMANCE OF WORDS

"MELODRAMA"

NOWADAYS, if a theatrical producer were to advertise a "melodrama" and then produce what is commonly known as an & operetta or play in which spoken lines alternate with songs, it is probable that the public would enter a strong protest, claiming that the producer was guilty of misrepresentation. But that the manager's announcement would be correct. may be seen by an examination of the term-a compound of the Greek words melos, a song, and drama, a play or action.

The early melodramas were, therefore, plays in which music was introduced, either as an additional entertainment or as a means of further explaining the progress of the production. When the Italian school produced "operas" the word "melodrama" was gradually pushed into the background-to be revived at a later date in connection with the plays of a tense, exciting nature, In these, it was customary to use an orchestration filled with music of a suggestive, creepy variety, certain strains being indicative of the entrance of the villain, others of the hero, the heroine, the love scenes, the struggles and the like. In the modern school of theatrical production these artificial aids have been discarded to a great extent, but the name melodrama continues as evidence of the fact that the music was once there.

Since the stroke first came upon him he has been very low, so the end was not unexpected, although there were times when there seemed to be a

Mr. Angell was for about 30 years one of the business men of the city, retiring from the dry goods business, to which he had given his attention, about 14 years ago. He came to Morrison from Taneytown, Md., where he was born on Feb. 27, 1856, to assist his cousin, Charles Angell, in the dry goods business, the latter afterward selling his business to the late O. H. Brown, of Dixon, when he was in business in this city. Mr. Angell continued with the new owner for a number of years, finally starting in business for himself.

Mr. Angell came to Morrison in 1880, and five years later was united in marriage to Miss Mary Hall, who preceded him in death two years ago this coming month. Two children were born to them, they being Florence, who is now Mrs. H. W. Burch, of this city, and Albert, who passed away in 1918 while serving as a musician with the A. E. F. in France.

In addition to Mrs. Burch, Mr. Angell is survived by a brother, J. A. Angell of Taneytown, who with his wife has been present during his final illness, and four sisters, they being Mrs. Ida Flohr, of Taneytown, Mrs. Mary Hawk, of near Harney, Ella Feeser and Mrs. Annie Baker, both of Taneytown. ### Cleopatra Not a Vamp; Was Model Housewife

Egyptian women's costumes in the days of King Tut-Ankh-Amen actually resembled "ill-fitting nightgowns" more than anything else, and their famous "vamps" were nothing more than model housewives, Arthur Weigall, formerly inspector general of Egyptian antiquities, told an audience in Minneapolis the other day, says the Minneapolis Journal.

Weigall was with Howard Carter on the expedition which discovered the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, and told of the discoveries as he saw them.

He verbally painted the early Egyptians as a "fascinating and picturesque people, a young people filled with the joy of living.

"There never was a more mistaken idea than that Cleopatra was a vamp," Weigall said. "She was just a little bit of a soul, and in this day would be considered too domestic. She thought she was married to Julius Caesar, and later on she also thought she was the wife of Mark Antony. But she learned eventually, that she was the wife of neither, and from the most reliable sources we

"I insist she was a model housewife because she had a family of six children and was devoted to them.

"As for the kind of costumes that are called 'King Tut' today, they were unknown at that time. Women's costumes then were positively hideous. Women today would not wear them, and, if they did, would probably land -Advertisement in jail."

Lighthouses in Italy to Be War Memorials

While nearly every town and village in Europe has erected memorials of one kind or another in honor of the soldiers who fell in the World war, Italy enjoys the distinction of being 6-20-7t the first of the nations to commemorate the heroism and sacrifice of life of their sailors by erecting lighthouses. The funds for these appropriate monuments are being raised by a committee composed of the leading Italian admirals and officers of every rank representing the navy service, together with a picked number of army generals and statesmen, says the Washington Star. Thus far $600,000 has been subscribed, and by way of beginning three great lighthouses of the purest white marble, 80 to 100 feet high and Roman in style, are in the course of construction at the most conspicuous and useful points of the coast, dominating the Adriatic, the Tyrrhenian and the Ionian seas. The very powerful lights will cast their rays through the bars of an ancient bronze "ara" or altar. It is intended to dot the whole coastline of the Italian peninsula, of Sicily and of Sardinia with memorial lighthouses of this kind.

Something to Think About By F. A. WALKER

THE WEAKEST LINK

HE old story of the chain and its weakest link, quite as familiar to bright school children as are the names of William and Mary, gets but scant recognition from present-day folk, so occupied with frivolities that they have no inclination to look for the core in proverbs.

"A chain is a chain," they will tell you, so why philosophize anent its weakest link or the carelessness of a blacksmith!

A good many of us are indisposed to search into the reason and nature of things because it involves a little real thinking.

We are strong and grand and noble. We have great affairs to handle, so why bother with antiquated saws which are apt to scrape our fine sensibilities or cut off a rotten bough or two of our self-esteem, which would never do, because we should be forever disgraced before our friends.

We hear a great deal about the "missing link," but little is said regarding the "weakest link," which really concerns the truly noble men and women who are seeking to brighten the world and make it better, by giving encouragement to the weaklings of humanity and helping them to become strong and self-dependent.

It is good to meet these humane people and hear them talk, praising others but never complimenting themselves. They realize the frailties that hold them back in their efforts to do good, but keep pressing forward, deaf to tattling tongues and doing the best they can.

They know that somewhere in their physical and moral make-up there is a weak link likely at any moment to snap. But this knowledge does not deter them from doing their full duty. We, who doubt their sincerity, would be a sorry lot indeed if these good souls were not among us. Without them our chain might break and our ship be lost, for we incline to obstinacy, snobbery disbelief, irreverence, extravagance, looseness of speech, selfishness, hate, disrespect for the aged and disregard of the commandments. Theirs is a life of love and devotion, filled with well doing and an abundance of faith. And ours, shame upon us, is just the opposite, held here by a chain of many weak links, liable to break at any hour and set us adrift upon storming sea, unlighted by a single ra;

VARIETY FOR YOUR TABLE

THE kind of food we serve to our families depends largely upon the family. If there are children in the family, they need plain, wholesome, easily-digested food. They also should have plenty of fruit and vegetables. During the warm weather a day without meat is advisable and all meats should be cut down in quantity. The overfat are much better if they will go without a meal occasionally, letting the digestive tract have a rest.

Butter, cream and rich foods should be avoided by those who are inclined to put on weight. Starchy foods, like potatoes, should be eaten sparingly.

Nitrogenous foods are easily decomposed, especially during the warm weather. The by-products from this decomposition are more or less poisonous and care should be used in serving all such foods.

Baked Chicken in Milk.

One may use skim milk for this dish if there is any reason to cut down on the fat for the family. Prepare the chicken as for fricassee. Place in a baking dish after it has been rolled in seasoned flour and fried a delicate brown in butter. Cover with sweet milk and bake for several hours in a moderate oven. The milk will cook down and with the flour make a delicious gravy to serve with the chicken.

Graham Gems.

Take one cupful each of graham flour and sour milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one well-beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of melted shortening. Mix and drop into well-buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven. This amount makes six good-sized gems.

Fruit Cream.

Break one egg white into a bowl, add one-half glass of jelly and two tablespoonfuls of sugar; beat until stiff enough to stand. Serve in sherbet cups topped with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Has Anyone Laughed At You Because—

You stop to play with a child on the street? Maybe the folk that laugh at you wish that they, too, could be natural enough to give in to the feeling of loving children enough to stop and pat or speak to them. Think of the fun it is to get a little smile or a "hello" out of the little things? You are enriched every time you get a smile out of anyone, much less a baby, who is so trustful. Keep it up; don't let any sneering pal let you lose so simple, so sweet, even holy a joy.

Too many people think so much of what the other fellow thinks that they strangle every decent instinct they have. Be glad that you have good instincts and hold on to them in this hustling, bustling, thwarting (unless we hold on tight) world. Don't worry if they call you old batch or old maid when you meet a child.

Your get-away here is: The greatest souls in the world have celebrated the child in story, picture, verse and song. Why shouldn't you have your share of celebrating, too?

TAXES

THIS Company's aim is to exercise the greatest possible economy in the conduct of its business. A substantial part of the increased costs in the past few years has been offset by economies in management.

But there is one item of considerable size—taxes—over which we have no control and which is constantly becoming more and more a factor of importance in the cost of giving telephone service.

In 1914 this Company paid in taxes in the State of Maryland $274,000; in 1919 we paid $386,000. This year our tax bill will be about $1,000,000; an increase in five years of more than $600,000. The increase in this single item is nearly as much as the entire increase in rates granted us in 1920.

Based on the taxes per telephone, in 1919 we paid $3.23 for each telephone in service. This year we will pay approximately $6.00 for each telephone in service, an increase of about 85 per cent. Out of each dollar received from subscribers for service, we will pay 10.5 cents in taxes.

This statement is not made as a protest against taxation, but because we believe our patrons should understand the extent to which the taxes we pay affects the amount of their telephone bill.

THE BIRTH OF JESUS

Savior which is Christ the Lord."—
Luke 2:11.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Baby Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC Great Hopes Centered in the Birth of

I. Jesus' Birth Foretold (Micah 5:2). This prediction was made some 700 years before. God moved the emperor to enforce the decree of taxation just in time to cause Mary to be at Bethle-

II. Jesus' Birth Announced to Mary and Joseph (Luke 1:26-38).

The mighty archangel Gabriel was sent by God to the little town of Nazareth to Mary, a Jewish maiden, who was betrothed to a carpenter of that village by the name of Joseph, solemnly announcing that she should give birth to the Messiah and that this son should not be Joseph's son but should be the child of the Holy Ghost (Matt. 1:18-21). Later the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph, also, making the same announcement to him, and added that the child should be called Jesus, which means that Jehovah will save His people from their sins (Matt. 1:

III. The Prediction Fulfilled (v. 7). This took place at a most propitious time. The Jews were under the power of the Romans. Not only did the birth of Christ occur when all systems of religion and morality were tottering upon their foundations but at a time most suitable for the introduction of the Gospel. The whole world being under one rule made it possible for Christ's ministers to go from city to city and country to country unmolested. The Almighty rules in the whole universe and is never behind in His

The surroundings of Christ at His birth were of a humble sort. The Eternal God condescended to be incorporated with humanity-to be born in a manger, becoming the poorest of the poor that none might be hindered in coming unto Him.

IV. Christ's Birth Announced (vv. 8-

1. By Whom? The first Gospel sermon was preached by an angel of the Lord. Thus we see that the exalted ministers of God were interested in men and had part in the announcement of God's plan of salvation.

2. To Whom? His birth was announced to the shepherds who were keeping watch over their flocks by night. The fact that the glorious Gospel message was first sounded forth to them shows that poverty is no barrier to its reception. God does not reveal Himself primarily to and great men of the earth, but oftentimes conceals from such and discloses to the poor. (James 2:5).

3. The Nature of the Message. It was good tidings of great joy. It was good tidings because the darkness of heathendom, which had so long covered the earth, was beginning to vanish. The casting out of Satan, the prince of this world, was about to take place. Liberty was soon to be proclaimed to those who were in bondage. The way of salvation was to be open to all. No longer was the knowledge of God to be confined to the Jews, but offered to the whole world. Glorious news this. So glorious that a multitude of the heavenly host accompanied this announcement with their song of praise. Thus we see that the first Gospel sermon was in the open air. The minister was the angel of God, the choir were the angels, the audience made up of humble shepherds. V. The Shepherds Investigating (vv.

They did not stop to argue or raise questions, though these things were no doubt passing strange to them. They went immediately to Bethlehem, where they made an investigation and found everything just as represented. They had the privilege of first gazing upon the world's Savior, the very Lord of glory. They returned with gratitude in their hearts, praising God for all those wonderful things which He had revealed unto them.

VI. The Shepherds Witnessing (vv. 17-20).

They found things as announced. When they beheld the Lord of glory they could not remain silent. Therefore, they went back praising God. Those who really hear the Gospel message cannot be silent. If they really hear they must tell it out to others.

— THE — CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

--- From ----Moody Bible Institute Monthly Chicago, Ill.

July 6 In His Steps (7) How Jesus Treated Friends John 15:13-15; Luke 10:38-42

The fifteenth chapter of John presents a threefold relationship tween the Lord Jesus Christ and His believing people. Under the figure of the vine and its branches He shows that their relation to Him is a vital and vitalizing one. They share in His life even as the branch shares the life of the vine. In the second place, they are His friends, and as they share in His love. In the third place, they are His disciples and share in His labors. So then, Christian believers participate in the life, the love, and the labor of their Lord. This describes the high and holy calling of the Christian.

In considering a topic like this, it should be remembered that Jesus was God manifest in the flesh. As such, all His ways were perfect, including His treatment of friends. His friendship is extended as a matter of grace. The proper response to that grace is an obedient life. No other friendship is based on "If ye do whatsoever I command you." None but deity could rightly say that. It would be presumptuous for a man, even a good man, to make such a requirement as a basis for friendship, but with Him it is different, because He is different. He is the Lord of glory and God over all, who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven.

The Scripture lesson from Luke shows the value of this divine friend-ship. One of the two sisters, Mary, regarded its cultivation as the main thing in life, transcending everything For this she was commended by the Lord, who referred to her choice in the words: "She hath chosen that good part which shall not be taken away from her." To sit at His feet is to receive from Him a continuous unfolding of His glory and life of a disciple and leads to greater 701.

Among the many fine growths of roses in town, this Spring, is a rambler display at Mrs. Winemiller's, on George St. About 30-ft. in length, that deserves special mention. It amply repays for the training and attention it has received. Another display of roses and many old-fashioned flowers and shrubs, along the Fairview Ave. sidewalk at Mrs. Stott's attracts deserved notice.

The citizens of Taneytown and district should do their very best in the matter of helping to secure a new school building here. A reading of the article on County Tax Rate, in this issue, will give a fair idea of the present situation. We do not want "five portable buildings." At best, they would be a most unsatisfactory make shift. It looks to us as though the best way to meet the situation is to secure, and donate to the School Board, a suitable new location for a new building. It can be done, if all help in the proper liberal spirit.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of "The Border Cities Star" published in Windsor, Canada-30 pages-containing a lengthy address by Chas. E. Redeker, formerly of Baltimore, and known to some of our readers, his subject being an advocacy of the establishment of Building and Loan Associations in Canada, in order to promote the building and owning of homes. Mr. Redeker is engaged in the Real Estate business. and is well equipped to handle the subject. We have clipped his argument, perhaps for future use, or reference.

LAST PAGE EDITORIAL. National Conventions.

Evidently, there is room for improvement in National political conventions. The Republican convention was criticised and belittled because it was too tame-too much like a cutand-dried affair, in which the delegates had no function other than to indorse President Coolidge.

The Democratic convention aimed to show the real work of "the people" and uncork real enthusiasm, as an object lesson to the country of how a real convention should function. The life was there, as well as competition —there was nothing "cut and dried" about it—but, whether it was an improvement over the Republican event, is a question open to doubt—or choice.

The outstanding truth is that the so-called "enthusiasm," held to be so desirable, is largely a provided for in advance product, and a matter of leather-lunged endurance. The spontaneous character of the applause in such conventions, is practically nonexistent as a genuine article, and is more apt to degenerate into house" antics, than anything worthwhile as an asset. Selecting candidates for the Presidency should be a calmly deliberate procedure, rather than one of making noise, appealing to excitement, made to order oratory, and sentimental byplay, if we seriously consider the exalted and all-important character of the office to be filled.

There are too many delegates from states to begin with, too much space for "shouters," and the Presidential primaries have not helped to better the general question, so far as the average individual can see. Men best qualified to select candidates are overwhelmed-if sent as delegates-and are surrounded by too many distracting influences. To our way of thinking, the Republican convention was the most dignified of the two, and that the party will enter into the campaign, at least without any convention sores to heal -which does not mean that there are

-Advertisement July Union Services.

The usual schedule of July Union evening services in the Taneytown churches, will begin on July 13, and end August 3. The dates, places of service and preachers is as follows: July 13, United Brethren Church, Rev. G. W. Shipley.

July 20, Presbyterian Church, Rev. G. P. Bready. July 27, Lutheran Church, Rev. T.

August 3, Reformed Church, Rev. W. V. Garrett.

Republican Campaign Plans.

Republican plans for the campaign are being quietly prepared, while the Democratic convention is working out its big problem in New York. Brig. Gen. Dawes, candidate for Vice-President, arrived in Washington, this week, along with members of the Reweek, along with members of the Republican National Committee, for a series of conferences with the President, and to outline plans for later activity.

This week, the President further outlined policies of rigid economy in all departments, looking toward the bringing about of still greater reduc-tions in Federal taxation, and as a help toward saving the situation due to the lavish expenditure of money by the last Congress, and as an evidence that he will help the working out, even of vetoed measures.

He made the statement that during three years of the present administration, there was a net reduction in the public debt of more than $2,720, 000,000, and a saving in annual interest, alone, of more than $120,000,000 annually.

Terrific Storm in Ohio.

A terrific storm swept over north-ern Ohio, on last Saturday afternoon, doing property damage estimated at $50,000,000, and killing about 100 people, with many more injured. The worst force of the storm was felt at Sandersky, Elyria, Lorain, Cleveland Akron, Youngstown and Alliance. The hardest hit was Lorain, where the damage is estimated at $25,000,000, and 70 killed, with more than 7000

In 1920 there were but 15,000 radio receivers in the country. Now there are 5,000,000, and with loudspeakers and extra headsets probably 10,000,-000 people listen in every day.

Reassuring "Miss Jones"

As they boarded the train they had every look of being a bridal couple. The young man carefully escorted the young woman to a seat, while the interested passengers smiled indulgent-

Then, extending his hand to the supposed bride, he said, in a very loud voice, "Well, Miss Jones, the train is about to pull out, I wish you a very pleasant journey," and, doffing his hat, he hurried off the train.

But the young woman seemed nervous. By and by she called the porter, and in a whisper gave him some mysterious message. He came back in a moment and said in a voice audible to every one: "Yo' all right, ma'am. He's in de smokin' compartment."-Harper's Magazine.

Britain rias Smallest Cathedral in the World

The smallest cathedral in Great Britain, and possibly the smallest in the world, is the cathedral of the diocese of Argyle and the Isles, situated on an island in the Firth of Clyde. It provides accommodation for only 100 worshipers.

St. Asaph cathedral, too, is notably small, but in the commanding beauty of its site it yields to none of the greater cathedrals, except, perhaps, that of Durham.

In the middle of the vale of Clwyd, which stretches from Ruthin to Dhyl, stands a ridge forming a kind of backbone to the valley, washed on the east by the River Clwyd and on the west by the River Elwy. On this ridge is perched St. Asaph cathedral.-London

Light on the Subject

Five electric signs on Broadway in New York make use of nearly 36,000 incandescent lamps, or more electric lamps than were used in the entire United States in 1881, two years after Edison brought out his first incandescent lamp. Three of these five premier signs which help to spread the fame of Broadway are theatrical announcements. The fourth is an automobile tire advertisement. The fifth and largest of all is a chewing gum sign, in the operation of which 19,000 lamps are used. It is abundant testimony to the progress of the electrical industry that the 36,000 lamps in Broadway's five greatest electric signs consume but 890 kilowatts of current, or only one-quarter of that required for the lamps burned in the United States in 1881. Moreover, the volume of light which they give is twice as great.

Wined Out of His Mine

Dick Wick Hall in the Salome (Ariz.) Sun says: Saleratus Bill Withers has just got back from New York where he went to sell his mine. Bill says when they saw his rich ore they wined him and dined him and wimmined him and signed him up on some dotted lines so fast and artistically that he don't remember yet just what he ate or drank or whether he is married or sold his mine or not, so he's just waiting and wondering who got beat-but he says he don't care much so long as he is back here again with the other burros because New York is a hell of a place for a white man to have to try to live and no wonder most of them is crazy back there.

Three Bulls

"William Butler Yeats, the Irish poet who has received the Nobel prize," said a publisher, "is a collector of Irish bulls.

"One of his bulls concerns a politician who warned his audience: "'I warn you, friends, that my remarks will be pointed to the verge of bluntness.' "Another bull concerns a priest who said sadly in a sermon:

"This is a wretched world. We never strew flowers on a man's grave till after he's dead.'

"And a third bull concerns a Belfast parson who prayed: "'We thank Thee for this spark of grace; water it, Lord!"
