MARYLAND FISH LAWS

General Fishing Regulations Above Tidewater.

Unlawful for any person over 18 years of age to fish by means of rod, hook and line in any waters of this State above tidewater, without procuring and having in possession at the time of fishing a license. Resident of State, cost of license $1 non-resident of State, cost of license, $5.00. From the licenses obtained from fishermen last year the State received a sum approximately $15,000 which is being expended in fish hatchery work, the distribution of bass, trout, crappe and other fish. Were it obligatory for both fresh and salt wa-ter fishermen to procure licenses that sum without a doubt would be doubled within a year. A strenuous fight is to be made at the next Legislature to make it illegal to fish in any waters of the State without license.

Persons owning land, their families tenants and their families bordering on the waters above tide are not required to purchase a license to fish while standing on their own shore. License can be purchased from the Clerk Circuit for Carroll County. Licenses expire on the 31st. of Decemspecies of fresh water fish (except trout) July 1st. to Nov. 30, inclusive.

Unlawful to use a gig or gig iron or have in possession with lights in or near the waters of this State above tide.

Lawful to catch eels by use of a slat basket known as Chesapeake Bay eel pot at any time. Lawful to use dip net for suckers, cat fish, carp and eels, Feb. 1st. and April 1st., inclusive. Unlawful to take in any one day more than 20 trout, unlawful to take in any one day more than 20 bass. Unlawful to take any trout less than 6 inches, any bass less than 9 inches. Lawful to set out-line or trout line, however, no one line shall contain more than 25 hooks. Unlawful to use live bait on any out-line or trout line. Unlawful to place or allow to go into any of the waters of this State any material which is destructive to fish life.

It is a penitentiary offense to use any dynamite in any of the waters of this State for the purpose of killing fish.

Deputy Game Warden for Carroll Co.

Set Tomato Plants Early.

Efforts of the growers, canners and Maryland Extension Service to put the canning tomato crop on a higher paying basis to the grower by improving the yield per acre will this season center largely around the production of early, high quality plants. Getting plants into the field as early as weather conditions will permit is an important factor in the yield, says County Agent Burns today. The early set plants are able to make considerable development before foliage diseases check their growth and in addition have a chance to set a large percentage of the fruit before high temperatures of mid-summer seriousinterfere. Numerous experiments followed by repeated field trials under practical conditions in the State have shown this to be true. Two principal methods of producing early plants of good quality will be recommended to growers the com-ing season. One will be the use of the cloth covered cold frame and the other the planting of seed in the open under conditions that will favor quick and sturdy plant growing. The securing of early plants will go a long way to secure the grower a better and larger yield of tomatoes. Now is the time to prepare for the simple experiment of a cold frame, which will insure your plants from eight to ten days earlier than you could normally have them without such protection. It is the purpose of the County Agent to see as many growers as possible but he cannot see them all, so get in touch with him at the office and receive the bulletin entitled "More Tomatoes from Fewer Acres" put out by your State College.

THE LINEBORO CHURCH DISPUTE.

Judge Parke Proposes Amicable Settlement of Trouble.

VOL. 34

A dispute of somewhat long stand-ing between the Lutheran and Reformed congregations at Lineboro, this county, has reached the Court stage, temporarily, when Judge Parke gave an opinion making it incumbent on the two congregations to reach an agreement, in default of which further action by the Court will follow. To give more than a brief review of the case in our columns, would require more space than we have to give to such matters; therefor we give the essential facts as they seem to stand at present.

at present. Largely, the story is the old one of disagreeing denominations using one "union" church property. In 1854 the two congregations united in a union in, so far as the church prop-erty is concerned, in an act incorporchurch in Carroll County." Previous to the present litigation, and until recently, the two congregations worshipped separately, on alternate Sundays, each having its own pastor. A Sunday School was also organ-ized as a Union School, and held its meetings in the church every Sunday. In addition to Lutheran and Reform-ed members it had some members of other denominations, and the school was not under the control of either church. About a year ago the Luth-erans decided to withdraw from the union school, in order to conduct a separate denominational school, and then the trouble commenced.

The Reformed congregation continued as before, as a union school, and claimed the right to have the use of the church every Sunday to the exclusion of any right on the part of the Lutherans, which eventually brought about a clash when both schools at-tempted to meet at the same time on tempted to meet at the same time on the same day. The Lutheran congregation then applied for an injunction against the Reformed congregation, which an-swered by filing a cross bill. The Lutheran bill asked for a dissolution of the corporation, the appointment of a receiver, and an equitable divis-ion of the proceeds of a sale of the ion of the proceeds of a sale of the property; but prior to this the Luth-eran congregation offered to pay the Reformed congregation the sum of $6000. for all of its interests in the property, which the latter declined. Judge Parke in a very lengthy decision dismissed the injunction asked by the Lutherans and sustained the demurrer, and offered the advice that as the differences between the two congregations are not insurmountable that a harmonious division of time be arranged that would fairly conserve the rights of the litigants; but stated that the court has the power to institute receivership proceedings, and do so in case no agre Classis and the Middle Conference of the Lutheran Church will now take a the towns of the county. The solicit-hand in the matter in line with the ors and chairmen will be asked to atopinion and suggestions of the court, tend a meeting next Tuesday evening conferring together and with the trustees of Lazarus Church in an effort to arrange a schedule for the services of the congregations and Sunday Schools which will be satisfactory to all; and that the Reformed Classis has named as its representatives the Rev. John N. Garner, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church, West-minster; the Rev. Guy P. Bready, pastor of Taneytown Reformed Church, and Levi D. Maus, layman, of Baust Church, to act in conjunction with representatives to be appointed by the officers of the Middle Conference of the Lutheran Church; and that April 12 has been named as the date for the get-together meeting.

TRUCK AND AUTO COLLIDE Man Killed and Woman Driver Seriously Injured.

The large milk truck that passes through Taneytown from Thurmont had a collision on Saturday forenoon on the Westminster-Reisterstown road about five miles from Westminster, with a two-passenger coupe, the own-er and driver of which was Mrs. Eleanor Ward, of near Reese, who had as a passenger Robert Norse Ireland, of Glens Falls. Mr. Ireland was killed Glens Falls. Mr. Ireland was knied and Mrs. Ward was seriously injured. The truck was operated by Mehrl Warehime, of Union Bridge, and Frank Weddle, of Thurmont, was rid-ing with him. The Towson graduates are found in the schools of every county in the State, but with a majority in Baltimore, Frederick, Montgomery and Washington counties.

"The Frostburg graduates teach in greatest numbers in Garrett, Allegany and Washington, but from one to six of them are teaching in Freder-ick,Carroll, St. Mary's, Charles, Montgomery and Prince George's counties. The bandit drove his automobile alongside of Harner's truck, stepped on the running board, flashed a light into Harner's face and pointing a revolver at his head order-ed him to stop. When Harner obeyed the robber went through his pockets and stole nearly $600. The light from the flashlight so dazzled Harner that he could give only a very meager description of the bandit."

County Primaries, May 1st.

The date for primaries in Maryland has been set for Tuesday, May 1st. As yet, there are no known contests for President, U. S. Senator, or for the House of Representatives.

For delegates to the State Convention there are seven on the Republi-can side; Theo. F. Brown, George Melville, Geo. P. B. Englar, Webster C Thomson, Robert S. McKinney and C. Ray Fogle, five to be elected.

The Democratic candidates are Horatio T. Wentz, Lemuel Gosnell, Lester S. Patterson, Robt. E. Lee Hutchins and Michael E. Walsh.

Girls 4-H Clubs in Carroll County.

The Sykesville and Taneytown 4-H Clubs have recently re-organized for the year. Both clubs have decided to take "Own Your Own Room" as their project for the year. Each girl will study her own room conditions and make as many improvements as possible during the year. Painted articles linens, and furnishings will be included in the year's work. In addition to this, each girl will take care of her own room. A great deal of interest has been show in the meetings already held.

The Warfieldsburg 4-H Club, after a vacation of several months, will meet again the first of April and will continue the clothing project already started.

Favorite Sons.

Running through a stack of newsapers representing every state in the Union you will be amazed at the flaming headlines devoted to the Presidential ambitions of a score of favorite sons. Few of them will survive the first convention ballot.

Why these booms?

The active political experience of today's politicians and candidates dates from the McKinley administration. Every favorite son knows that until a few months before his nomination Major McKinley was a shy little man with less hope of reaching the White House than nearly any favorite son today. He got there.

So did Roosevelt, whom the politicians attempted to drop into political oblivion. He inherited the Presidency once, won it once, and handed it on to the favorite son he picked from Ohio.

Then a comparatively unknown professor from a politically unimportant state walked between the factions to the White House.

He was followed by Harding, a man who went into the convention with nothing but the primary vote of Ohio and fourth place in the Indiana primary, and came out first.

He was followed by a strike-breaking governor of a safe state to whom the Vice-Presidential nomination was A handed by a lot of tired delegates who knew little more than his name until be sent to the State Convention with knew little more than his name until he was nominated.

Being "smart" in our dealing, and getting the very best out of our bargains on the ground that every fellow must "look out for himself," is not good business-not the kind that lasts on either side. We must do a great deal more than make sales and deals in life, in order to make a real creditble life; for at the end-and often before it-we lose more than we gain, both of this worlds rewards and of the rewards that come at the end of life.

That a crisis of unemployment is to the contrary. again upon us, and that it is of a new and unexpected type, coinciding not with a period of depression, with curtailment of production and the shutting down of industries, but rather with an era of abnormally large production, is asserted by Evans Clark, writing in the New York Times. Mr. Clark believes that the cause is the great extent to which hand work in the situation. has been replaced by machinery-a reason to which appeal has been made ever since textile machinery began to be used in England in the last century, but generally pronounced invalid by economists. The rate of replacement, however, has been abnormal of late, and Mr. Clark holds that the consequent inability of the industries to absorb the men whose work machinery is now doing, may well account for present labor conditions. He writes:

"At a time when American prosthat period. perity has become an international sensation, when American efficiency has become the eighth wonder of the world, the lodging houses are crowded to capacity with men who want work, but can not find it, and the employment agencies struggle with hordes of applicants for jobs that do

"Unemployment has always been associated with hard times. When business was bad, the factories laid off their men. But business always picked up again, and jobs were to be had for the asking.

"The present employment crisis is distinctly different. No marked and general decline has set in that can be compared to conditions in years of depression. The United States Steel can be found for the business atmosphere-is operating at 89 percent. of capacity this month, compared with 60 percent at the close of last year.

"The use of electric current-another good index of industrial activity -registered a 7 percent. higher level than in the same month last year.

"Some other influence is at work which has not been generally recognized, but which, gathering strength with the years, now emerges as an issue of national importance. A Cleveland housewife who was entertaining some very special friends from out of the city, wanted to have a dinner that would linger in their memory for some time to come. What could be nicer, she thought, than a roast suckling pig?

Accordingly the little pig was sent home from the butcher's, unwrapped and laid on the kitchen table, where her small son caught sight of it and burst into tears.

"Don't cook that dear little piggie!" he wailed, disconsolately. His mother sent him from the kitchen and picked the pig up to carry it across the room.

"In that moment," she reports, "my courage failed me. There was something so much like a little baby about that poor little pig that I set it down in a hurry. I realized then and there that I didn't have the nerve to cook it. Like my son, I wiped the tears out of my eyes and put the 'dear little piggie' out of my mind forever. We had roast beef for dinner."

Makes It Worthwhile.

The knowledge that ones work and service is wanted because it is worth the price, or is perhaps appreciated regardless of price, makes the keeping-on job worth while. If business was merely making sales and money profits, it would be a sordid existence -a game without pleasure or justification; one without exercise of the better qualities in humanity.

There is no disgrace connected with the honorable making of money, and if this line is carried out one will at the same time make a great many other things worth more than money; it will mean the making of friends, helping to build up communities, establishing good character, helping others to do as well, or better, than we can do.

Which Will You Save?

YOU can save pennies or save chicks. Poul-try yard facts show that ordinary untested rations and mixtures such as hard boiled eggs and oatmeal save pennies but not chicks. Usually 50% of them die. Poultrymen who are making money invest one penny more per chick and save 90 to 100% of their chicks. They feed Purina Chick Startena, the buttermilk starting ration containing Cod Liver Oil. We'll be glad to tell you of a feeding plan that's as simple as A B C. It saves chicks and brings them through to early maturity.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

- Take

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords - an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

Feeser, his wife, by Joseph Edward Classon and Louise M. Clas-car, his wife, by doad doted February son, his wife, by deed dated February 27, 1918, and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll County in Liber E. O. C. No. 132, folio 12, etc., and is now Paragraphs for Farmers.

The incubator should be disinfected thoroughly after each hatch, the dis-infectant being thoroughly applied to all interior parts after the machine has been cleaned and all dirt and down removed. Care should be taken to use an efficient disinfectant, such as a saponified cresol solution. After the hatching season is over, clean and disinfect the incubator, empty the lamp, and carefully store the parts inside the machine.

Farm fires each year take the lives of about 3,500 people and destroy or damage property to the extent of $150, 000,000. The principal causes of fires in order of their national importance, according to David J. Price and Harry E. Roethe of the United States De-partment of Agriculture, are: lightning, defective chimneys and heating apparatus, sparks on combustile roofs, careless use of machines and smoking, spontaneous ignition of hay and other agricultural products, careless handling and storage of gasoline and kerosene, and faulty wiring and improper use of electrical appliances.

Weeds in the seed wheat are a common means of increasing the weed crop on farms wherever wheat is grown. In an investigation to determine the amount and kinds of weed seeds being sown with wheat, 55 samples of seed wheat were collected from as many grain drills operating on farms in the main spring-wheat' areas of Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Only two drills were sowing clean seed. The seed wheat in the others contained an average of 2 per cent by weight of weed seed, indicating that an average of 53,000 weed seeds per acre were being sown on these 53 farms. When weeds in large numbers grow in the field with wheat, they crowd and shade the crop, and use moisture and fertility in the soil that would otherwise be available for the wheat. Clean land and pure seed will result in the production of more wheat, and it will bring a better price on the market.

HAUNTED BY GHOSTS OF MEN THEY SHOT

Faces Seen on Windows at County Courthouse.

Birmingham, Ala.-Seemingly from the world of spirits an unseen hand has impressed the pictures of two faces upon panes of glass in windows at the Pickens county courthouse at Carrollton, Ala.

Such men as Probate Judge B. G. Robinson, Sheriff Lester May, Rev. W. A. McCain, pastor of the Baptist church, and other well-known citizens of Carrollton, vouch for these pictures. They have been viewed by several hundred citizens of Pickens county. One face, they say, has been visible on one of the windows ever since the courthouse was built in 1876. Recently a second picture appeared on a new pane of glass inserted in an attic window by J. E. Oglesby, carpenter, to replace a pane broken by a storm.

The old face is said to resemble Sam Burhalter, a negro, who was killed many years ago while trying to evade arrest for burning the old Pickens county courthouse. This face is full of troubles and crossed with pain.

The new face resembles that of Lee Summerville, a negro who killed Deputy Sheriff Burt Johnson in November, 1926. He was shot to death recently by a Sumter county deputy sheriff, at York, Ala. The face may be seen a distance of two blocks.

Neither picture indicates whether the faces are white or black. They are purely studies of expression.

Soon after the second face appeared, the glass was removed from the window, washed with acid and replaced. At a close view of the two panes of glass nothing can be seen.

"These pictures are not an hallucination," said Judge Robinson. "Any one who cares to do so may see them at any time, just as many hundreds of people have seen them in the past." He says the images move from place to place on the glass when the sky is cloudy.

Largest Optical Glass Ever Cast Is Flawless

Washington .- An event of great interest to the scientific world occurred here when the largest piece of optical glass ever cast in the United States was uncovered at the bureau of standards and found to be flawless. The great disk, 70 inches in diameter, 11 inches thick and weighing 3,500 pounds was cast in May, 1927, and has been cooling for nine months.

The glass is destined for the Perkins observatory at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio, for use as a concave mirror in a new reflecting telescope. An entirely new process, devised by A. N. Finn, a scientist, was used. Four unsuccessful attempts to cast the piece were previously made.

A thousand pounds of special broken glass, 4,600 pounds of sand and chemicals were poured into a single pot in a gas-fired furnace at the bureau on May 7. The molten mass was stirred by hand for six hours and run into a special electrically controlled mold at a temperature of 2,400 degrees Fahrenheit. Throughout months the temperature has been gradually lowered, over periods as slowly as 41/2 degrees per day.

Families who through several generations possessed sufficient wealth to enable them to escape manual work developed skins of a very fine texture, and through the latter the veins showed blue. That would be especially apparent in the hands and forearms. The skins of those who, unblessed with wealth, had to work became hard, and the veins were hardly discernable.

Unfulfilled Prophecy

Joseph Jefferson, celebrated actor, believed he would be remembered by posterity as a painter rather than for his stage triumphs. One day, toward the end of his life, he was showing William H. Crane-Mr. Crane relates the incident in "Footprints and Echoes"-a painting he had just finished.

"Do you know, William," he said, "1 think that whatever lasting fame will be mine when I am gone, will come through my brush and not through anything I have done on the stage." "I don't suppose," comments Crane, "anyone loks at Jefferson's paintings today, or even remembers that he was a painter.'

Papal Claim Still Stands

In 1871 the Italian government ab sorbed as part of the territory of Italy much of the property over which the pope of Rome bad exercised and claimed jurisdiction and possession. The Italian government placed to the credit of the Vatican a sum of money and certain guaranties which have not been accepted by the Roman authorities. It is said that the Italian government is anxious to adjust the matter, but so far the papal claim has not been diminished, which is temporal power or jurisdiction over the disputed territory.

Flower Names

The names of many flowers find their origin in proper nouns. Back of them there are often biographies. The beautiful Japanese flower, wistaria, discovered by Nuttall, was not named after him, but in honor of one of his scientific friends, Casper Wistar, a professor of anatomy at the University of Pennsylvania. The gentian gets its name from the Illyrian king Gentius, who was the first to discover its properties. Quassia was named after Quassi, a negro slave in Suriname, Dutch Guiana, who used its bark as a remedy for fever.-Mentor Magazine.

New Test for Diamonds

A method by which the quality of diamonds can be definitely determined and imitations detected has been discovered by M. Malaval, chemical head of the police laboratory at Lyons, in collaboration with Professor Locard. The stones are photographed under the light of ultra-violet rays filtered through a screen, sunlight being too diffused for the purpose. Diamonds of the first water make a brilliant image, while inferior stones are merely shadows.

Dogs Leading Blind Make Rules at Berlin

Berlin.-Requests by the lead dogs for the blind are contained in a pamphlet published by the association of Berlin's blind:

"Do not pat us.

"Do not try to lure us away from our masters.

"Do not feed us. Our master supplies us with sufficient food and delicacies.

"If you want to help our master, do it on the other side, not on the side on which we are leading him.

"Facilitate our crossing a street during the hours of busy traffic by calling to us the moment the street is clear.

"Keep a watch on your own and other dogs lest they annoy us.

"Don't molest us by your inquisitiveness.

"If you have a complaint to make about us do it with the organization of which our master is a member; the local association of the blind."

Plowing for 110 Hours Called World Record

Tamarac, Minn.-Harold Anderson of Tamarac claims the record for continuous plowing. He remained at the throttle of his tractor for 110 hours with out sleep, and left the machine only long enough to eat and fill the fuel tanks of the machine.

The youth left his home with the tractor and two bottom plows at seven o'clock on a Monday morning and plowed continuously until nine o'clock the following Friday night. Farmers in the neighborhood timed the operations.

In the 110 hours he plowed 60 acres with the tractor running at slightly under normal operating speed and covering a distance of about 240 miles, Anderson lost eight pounds during the five days.

JESUS THE SUFFERING MESSIAH

LESSON TEXT-Mark 8:27-38. GOLDEN TEXT-Whoever will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me.

PRIMARY TOPIC-Jesus the Great Hero. JUNIOR TOPIC-The Heroism of Jesus. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-

IC-The Cost of Being Loyal to Christ YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP IC-Jesus Interprets His Messiahship

I. Peter's Confession of Christ (vv. 27-30).

Two questions of Jesus provoked this confession. 1. "Who do men say that I am?" (vv. 27, 28). This question referred to the opinions of the people regarding Jesus. Some believed Him to be John, the Baptist, some Elijah, and some, one of the prophets. They all recognized Him to be a teacher or prophet with more than human authority and power. Jesus was not content with this acknowledgment. Had He been satisfied with this He would not have been molested in Jerusalem, for the Jews willingly acknowledged Him as much more than a human teacher. 2. "Who say ye that I am?" (vv. 29, 30). Jesus persistently claimed to be the God man. the very Son of God incarnate. He wanted the personal opinion of the disciples concerning Himself.

II. Jesus' Teaching Concerning the Cross (vv. 31-33).

He charged the disciples not to make public His Messiahship as that would precipitate the crisis. The disciples had much need of instruction yet, to prepare them for the crucial hour of the cross.

1. What He taught (v. 31).

(1) "The Son of Man must suffer many things." He suffered physical weariness and hunger, ridicule and contempt and even misunderstanding. (2) "Be rejected of the elders. chief priests and scribes." These were the nation's official representatives. the very ones who should have known and received Christ and recommended His reception on the part of the na tion. Truly He came to His own and His own received Him not (John 1:11)

(3) "Be killed." This announcement was startling to the disciples. They had not yet come to realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion and the cross. (4) "Rise again." Though this was utterly incomprehensible to the disciples, He showed them that this would be the glorious issue of His death.

2. How the disciples received His teaching (v. 32).

So unwelcome was His teaching touching the cross that Peter, the spokesman of the disciples, rebuked Him. Peter later saw through this es the light of glors darkı the RELIEF COMES. RELIEF COMES. Mrs. Earnest Boshers, Lafollete, Tenn., writes: "My little bo~ has been sick for two years with a bad stomach and occa-sional fits. Have had three doctor's with him and have bought all kinds of medicine. None did him any good until we tried your Roseletts. Since taking them he has not had any fits and is doing nicely." Read the letters printed at the right. They are from successful farmers who use sound farming methods and "AA QUALITY" goods.

These and hundreds of similar letters prove that, whatever crops you grow, "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers will help you get more profit for every dollar invested.

The superior crop-producing power of "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers is due to-

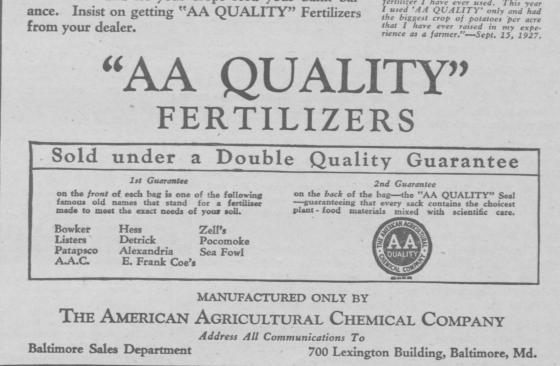

- 1. Great care in selecting the materials from which the plant-food elements are derived.
- 2. Formulæ based on a thorough knowledge of local crop and soil conditions; formulæ continuously checked and studied by a group of experts; formulæ tested by over 60 years of successful crop production.
- 3. Perfect mechanical condition, assured by extra care and the most exacting standards of manufacturing.

Biscoe, of Valley Lee, St. Mary's Co., Md., says: "I take pleasure in writing you concerning 'AGRICO' Fertilizer ('AA QUALITY') which I used on my tobacco and corn crop this year. I consider that I got an increase of three barrels of ear corn, or 15 bush-els of shelled corn, due to the use of 'AGRICO.' Biddison, of Kingsville, Baltimore Co., Md., says: "This year I bought a large run-down farm on the Lincoln Highway and began to use 'AA QUALITY' Fertil-izer. I planted 1½ acres of Savoy cabbages, not getting them in until very late. Nevertheless, I had a won-derful crop, and sold on local mar-kets 8,000 heads, averaging 4 pounds a head, and buried for Winter about 1,700 heads. When I bought the farm it would grow about 15 bushels of wheat per acre, but by the use of your fertilizer I have increased its yield to 30 bushels, and have also increased in the same proportion the yield of hay, which I now get about three tons per acre. My corn crops have been averaging from 100 to 125 bushels of ear corn per acre, all of which is exceptionally good."—Aug. 21, 1927.

LARGEST CROP IN HIS EXPE-RIENCE . . . Mr. J. W. Clemson, of Halifax, Dauphin Co., Pa., says: "I find from experience that AGRI-CO Fertilizer ('AA QUALITY') is very satisfactory in every respect, and that I get much better results by using it than with any other kind of fertilizer I have ever used. This year I used 'AA QUALITY' only and had the biggest crop of potatoes per acre that I have ever raised in my expe-rience as a farmer."—Sept. 15, 1927.

hilltops beyond (I Pet. 1:3, 4).

3. Jesus rebukes Peter (v. 33). He told Peter plainly that his attitude was due to his being under the influence of the devil.

III. Jesus Going to Jerusalem to Die (Mark 10:32-34).

Jesus went to Jerusalem with the consciousness of the awful tragedy of the cross before Him; the treachery of Judas, the fiery persecutions of the priests, the unjust judgment, the delivery to Pontius Pilate, the mocking, the scourging, the crown of thorns. the cross between malefactors, the nails and the spear all were spread before Him. He moved on to His goal, not by external necessity but a fixed purpose. He had not only come 'to minister but to give His life a ransom for many." The joyous outlook of the victory which was to be accomplished through the shedding of His blood led Him forward (Heb. 12:2)

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (Mark 8:34).

The law of the Christian life is suffering. To follow Christ means to turn one's back upon the world. To repudiate the world means to incur the hatred of the world; to be Christians means to share Christ's suffering.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 34). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. All people practice self-denial, but only Christians deny self.

2. The cross must be taken up (v. 34). This means the suffering and shame which lie in the pathway of loyalty to God. To live the godly life means suffering (II Tim. 3:12).

3. Christ must be followed (v. 34) This means to have the mind of Christ (Phil. 2: 5) and to perform the service of Christ. The blessed issue of following Christ is a life of freedom here and now, and eternal life hereafter. 5½x8 1-2 with 6¼ envelopes, Hammethan Bond grade. Must Cry Unto God

It is not enough for the soul to be in need; the soul must also cry unto God. Need alone is the begetter of despair, but need with crying is the birthplace of prayer. The very distresses the soul is in are the birththroes of such prayer .- James H. Mc-Cenkey.

LAST PAGE EDITORIAL. "Swallowing" Pride.

The expression is more or less common that we sometimes "swallow our pride" and do certain things; not because we want to, but because of a certain force that is strong enough to compel the doing of some act that is not only disagreeable, but a positive-ly hard job to make up one's mind to accept.

Sometimes, this "swallowing" of pride is a good thing for us—helpful discipline. We are apt to be rather too much set in our ways; and to have the props knocked from under, every now and then, makes us better acquainted with compromise and sacrifice, and being just a little more properly human.

Our pride keeps us from doing some good things, as well as many bad ones. Usually, it keeps us going straight. When pride means self-re-spect and correct living it is difficult to have too much of it; but sometimes there is a stuck-up-ishness that imitates real pride, and this deserves to get bumps and a calling down-a "swallowing."

Sometimes we need to go to somebody and make an apology for some-thing that we have done that is wrong; or we may have to ask a favor; or perhaps volunteer to do something that we ought to do, or may have neglected doing; and in all such cases it will not hurt us, but may be actually beneficial, to "swallow" a little pride of the kind of which we have been displaying too much.

Humility is not weakness when it leads to doing a right thing; and all of us have had the feeling of happiness after doing some particularly disagreeable-as we thought-thing, that we had been neglecting, just be-cause we lacked the courage to do it —could not "swallow" our pride.
