THE BALLOT FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Easy to Mark When You Are Gareful, and Know How.

The ballot, of course, is large, on account of the names and voting spaces of 54 candidates, and the three constitutional amendments with 6 voting spaces. It is also large because there are Socialist, Communist, and Labor candidates for the state offices that takes up 11 voting spaces. The names of candidates are arranged in three columns. In order to vote for all Republican or Democratic candidates 21 × marks will be nevessary...Voters need not mark their ballots for, or against, the amendments if they desire not to do

There is no Democratic candidate for State's Attorney, and no Repub-lican candidate for Surveyor. With these exceptions, both Republican and Democratic voters may mark their ballots for one candidate for Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and for Representative in congress, these five candidates being voted for in the first column of the ballot, in the order named.

In the second column, the ballot should be marked for one candidate for Clerk of the Court, three candidates for County Commissioner, one candidate for State Senator, four candidates for House of Delegates, one candidate for County Treasurer, and one candidate for Sheriff. In the third column, the ballot should be marked for one candidate for Register of Wills, and three can-didates for Judges of the Orphans' Court. Then comes the name of Theo. F. Brown, Republican for State's Attorney, and John J. John,

Democrat, for Surveyor. These are followed by the three Amendments, the first of which is for or against calling a convention for amending the Constitution of the State; the Second for or against granting power to deputies in the Treasury Department to sign and countersign checks, warrants, etc., and the third for or against a Bond issue of $200,000 for roads in Carroll County.

Special care should be taken not to vote for more than THREE for Com-missioners and Judges of Orphans' Court, nor for more than FOUR for House of Delegates, as so doing would not count for any of the candidates; but, LESS than three or four may be voted for without invalidating the bal-lot. The words "vote for one" and "vote for three" and "vote for four" appear above each group of candidates.

The square for the \times mark immediately FOLLOWS the name of the party to which the candidate belongs. Should a ballot—or even two—be spoiled in marking, call for a new ballot. DO NOT attempt to correct a mistake by rubbing out, or by scratching out, a mark, and making another as all ballots defaced in any way will be thrown out. If by accident, the pencil makes a hole in the ballot, do not use it but call for a fresh one. DON'T forget your spectacles, if you need them for reading. DON'T go into the voting room until you have first made yourself familiar with the ballot—unless you are an "old hand" at voting. DON'T put off voting until late in the afternoon; and DON'T stay away from the polls entirely. It is important that the ballot be opened up carefully, and folded back in the way in which it was received. is also important not to mark the ballot too hastily, or carelessly, and to make the marks plain; but it is equally important that unnecessary time be not taken. Voting is not "shopping" trip, nor an act to be dal-lied with. Do the job as expeditiously as possible, and give room to oth-The polls open at 6 A. M., and close at 7 P. M.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN WRECK Amos Warner, Frizellburg, Received a Fractured Skull.

Amos Warner, proprietor of the dairy at Frizellburg, who serves Chas. F. Cashman, Taneytown, with the daily supply of milk for his customers, was taken to Maryland General Hospital, on Sunday, in the County ambulance. Mr. Warner was on his return trip from Taneytown, and when about half way home his truck and a car bearing a Pennsylvania license, collided. Mr. Warner was thrown out and his truck forced off the road into a field.

Raymond Sauble and Abram Dutterer, of Taneytown, arrived on the scene shortly after the accident, and found Mr. Warner partly unconscious, and the driver of the Pennsylvania car about to leave, but gave some as-sistance in caring for Mr. Warner, and loft without giving our inform time left without giving any information as to the cause of the wreck. Mr. Warner was removed to his truck or the car. The driver of the coupe which col-lided with the Warner truck, has been located in Philadelphia, his name being John L. Long. Carroll County au-thorities will give the case full in-vestigation. Mr. Warner is reported to be still in an unconscious condition at the hospital.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK ON PINE HILL

> Two Other Men Thrown Out, One Badly Injured.

Last Sunday night, about 10:00 o'clock, a serious automobile mishap occurred on the Taneytown-Emmitsburg road, between the Pine Hill School and Monocacy bridge—a piece of road that always calls for careful driving. Richard E. Francis, proprietor of a Gettysburg gasoline service station, received a fractured skull from which he died on Monday afternoon at the Gettysburg Hospital. His companions were Harry Hartzell and Preston Weikert, of Fairfield, the former being seriously hurt about the head and body, while Weikert was not seriously hurt. seriously hurt.

The exact responsibility for the accident has not been clearly stated, but Francis, the driver of the car, must have lost control while going at a rapid gait, as the car evidently turned over several times. The injur-ed men were discovered by John J. Hockensmith, Taneytown, who remov-ed them to Dr. C. M. Benner's office, for treatment, and from there they were taken to Gettysburg Hospital, in the Gettysburg ambulance. Hartzell and Weikert were thrown clear off the car when it turned over, but Francis was caught in the wreck-age. The probability is that the case will be investigated further.

THE THREE AMENDMENTS.

The first Amendment (or all three) that may be voted on next Tuesday or not, just as the voter decides, is one authorizing the calling of a Constitutional convention for the pur-pose of making amendments to the Constitution of the state. 310 KILLED BY AUTOS

Three hundred and ten persons have been killed by automobiles so far this year, as compared to 285 during a similar period in 1929, E. Austin Baughman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, stated last week in discuss-ing the necessity of the Save-a-Life campaign, which begins November 1 and continues through the month. During the campaign period motor-ists are required to have their machines inspected for mechanical defects at any one of a number of gar-ages, repair shops, service stations and automobile dealers' establish-ments which will be certified as offi-ciel invertible dealers' and a sofficial inspection stations. Official stickers certifying that they have passed the inspection will be at-tached to the windshield of cars in good condition.

"Brakes, lights, horns, steering me-chanism, windshield wipers and rear-view mirrors will be the salient points of inspection," Mr. Baughman said. "These parts or equipments are among the first to become defec-tive, and when defective are responsible for a large number of the seri-ous accidents that happen every year. "The Save-a-Life campaign is really an intensive effort to cut down the accidents in Maryland and to make the State a model in this respect. The campaign is directed solely against reckless driving under service condi-tions, because such defects are one of the leading causes of motor-vehicle accidents.

"The inspection is compulsory un-der the provisions of Chapter 259 of the General Assembly of 1929, which authorizes the Commissioner of Mo-tor Vehicles to require the inspection of the safety factors of all automobiles."

Every motor vehicle owner, or op-erator, will have to show evidence that his car has been inspected before

PART OF ELECTION LAW HELD INVALID

Applies to the Declaration of Intention by Voters.

The following is a condensed report from the Annapolis correspondent to the Baltimore Sun;

"Declaring a section of the 1929 election laws unconstitutional, Judge F. Neal Parke, sitting with Judges William Forsythe and Robert Moss, in the Anne Arundel County Circuit Court, on Tuesday upheld the petition of Wilbur Petherbridge to have the name of Ralph D. Keadle stricken from the voting books of the county. Judge Parke ruled that the section require a deduction of intertion to requiring a declaration of intention to vote from persons coming to Maryland from any other State violated the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, in that it discriminated between residents of States and persons from districts and terriand persons from districts and terri-tories. The election laws of 1924, he said, included the words "district" and "territory" when dealing with prospective voters.

The 1924 act provided they had to notify supervisors of election of their intention of becoming citizens a year in advance of voting. The new law held only affidavits of two persons were necessary to prove residence of a year. The Keadle case was the first of 325 to be tried before the Circuit Court The 325 cases are appeals from the action of the election judges in the Eighth, Seventh and part of the Second district of the county who refused to strike from the voting books certain names presented to them by Republican leaders. The majority of the persons under question were registered Democrats.

Under the ruling of the court any person on the suspect list who swore on his affidavit he had lived elsewhere and who did not file his declaration of intention, would be stricken off the registration books, if the opinion of the lower court is upheld by the Court of Appeals.

In the 325 cases, it is alleged by the Republicans, the persons named live in Washington, but that during the summer reside along the shores of the county. Under the State law, which requires a person to have lived in Maryland for one year prior to his registration, they claim these persons have not complied with the law.

unemployment can be conquered. We must visualize the danger ahead and face the problem." Fifteen large cities and four states have undertaken relief projects—the states being New York, Ohio, Illinois and Massachusetts. The Presidents Emergency Committee is not for the purpose of finding jobs for individuals, but to treat the whole subject in a broad way, so that local agencies can co-operate in the same direction—as in a campaign.

Loan funds are being established in numerous places for the purpose of loaning families small sums to be paid back in instalments, without interest. In the meantime, buying power is bound to be lessened, and economy must be practiced. All of this is largely applicable to the cities and manufacturing centres. The agricultural districts, even with the losses caused by the drought, are in much better shape by comparison. In many such sections, unemployment is comparatively unknown. Farmers who have had a sound start, and are unencumbered by heavy debt, will continue to get along by good manage-ment, and country towns are immeas-urably better off for the winter's outlook than the cities.

Everybody who is qualified to vote should come to the polls next Tuesday and exercise their privilege as a voter, conscientiously and according to their best judgment, without paying too much attention to campaign noise, nor to mere personal grudges or

It is a difficult matter, especially for new voters who know little about the ins and outs of politics, to be able to make a choice between candidates, or issues, but it should be the steady purpose of all qualified to vote intelligently, for the men they feel to be best qualified, and this is especially true in voting for candidates for at Waynesboro, Pa. county office.

An unusually large number of pa-trons were present Wednesday night to welcome our new grade teachers: Miss Emily Race, of Frostburg, de-partment of Arts and Mathematics, and Miss Katherine Anders, of West-minster, teacher of the first grade. Prof. Jas. C. Biehl, Associate Supt. of Schools of the county of Frederick, made an address on P. T. A. programs. Miss Race gave readings from Joseph Vance Cooke, Henry Van Dyke, and Jas. Whitcomb Riley. The music by the Hess male quartet was especially pleasing. The Domestic Science de-partment of the High School served refreshments.

For years the Bureau of Standards at Washington has kept a man at work studying heat and light rays. He spent a lot of time without seeming to give any return. One day, however, the War Department addressed a letter to the Bureau of Standards. When soldiers went into camp in the summer time, it said, it got very hot under the army tents. Could anything be done to lessen this heat?

The inquiry was referred to the man who had been studying stellar radia-tion. "Yes," he said, "something can be done. Paint the army tents with aluminum and the heat will not come through." On the same theory it would pay to paint the roofs of houses with Aluminum Paint. Ice wagons should have their tops painted with Aluminum Paint. NO SMOKING, NOR FIRES IN PENNA. WOODS.

Governor Fisher, of Pennsylvania, has issued a proclamation that the smoking of tobacco in any form, and the building of camp or other fires within woodland, or within 200 feet of woodland, is a crime punishable by fine of $100.00 for violation.

The Governor's order was issued after the recommendation of two state departments against the closing of state forests to hunters; but the Governor exercised his authority, as stated, with the view of eliminating fire losses due to the extreme drought.

them for his insignia when his own ambition was as ceaseless as the work of the busy bee.

For twenty years, it is estimated, the bees in the house now occupied by Mr. Buxton labored faithfully and hoarded a huge store of honey. In fact, the honey reached such proportions that when it was first discover-ed several weeks ago there were about 270 pounds of it! Many a dark secret has been "smoked out" by heat, 'tis said, and so it was with the secret of the bees.

The honey was found between the second and third floors of the house, in the ceiling of the first floor, and in the walls, and was taken out in big cakes, some of which were said to be three inches thick and from 20 to 24 inches in length. The presence of the hidden honey was first noted when "something sweet" was seen dripping through the ceiling and walls, the ex-planation given being the intense heat of the Summer. It was then dis-covered that bees had been going through a crack in the walls and had made homes for themselves in the rafters .- Frederick News.

Odd Beliefs Current Among Early Settlers

When Milwaukee was very young, its population consisted largely of those who came from Europe, although New England and Canada furnished considerable quotas. Most of the immigrants came from the British isles, Germany and the Scandinavian countries. Many brought with them superstitions and so-called wise cracks, though they weren't so called then.

Some of our first Norwegian sailors insisted that thunder was the voice of the Almighty. They said that if you joked about thunder you would incur wrath.

It is said that Frenchmen who were here with Solomon Juneau insisted that burnt brandy would stunt a dog's growth and that in this way poodles and rat terriers were originally created.

Egyptian Ruler Thought to Have Record Reign

It is believed that the reign of Pepi II of the sixth Egyptian dynasty is the longest on record. According to James Henry Breastel, Pepi II ascended the throne of Egypt about 2566 B. C., when he was only six years old, and reigned 91 years. Some of the ancient writers estimate the length of this reign as high as 100 years. The reign of Louis XIV of France is the second longest on record. He ascended the throne in 1643 at the age of five and reigned until his death in 1715-a period of 72 years. Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary reigned nearly 69 years-1848 to 1916. Queen Victoria reigned longer than any other English sovereign-64 years. She ascended the throne in 1837 and reigned until her death in 1901. Henry III of England reigned from 1216 to 1272a period of 56 years. The reign of Pedro II of Brazil was also a long one. He was emperor from 1831 to 1889-58 years.

Reveals Crocodile's Age

Even the big-game hunters of Africa, most of whom are deploring the disappearance of the country's game, have little to say in defense of the crocodile. They are vicious and destructive and valuable animals are liable to wander within reach of .a "croc" without observing the latter's presence. Buffalo cannot escape. They are caught in the great jaws and dragged under the water and their bodies stocked in a "larder" under the banks until such time as the crocodile is in need of food. The stories of their long life is questioned by some but in the interior of one killed was found a bead of a kind not seen in the protectorate for at least 150 years; it was one of those used by the Stuart companies to barter for ivory, gold and slaves. Some indication of age!

+ FARM + CUTTING DOWN ON

FEED MEANS LOSS

Curtailing Mash in the Late Summer Reduces Eggs.

Cutting down the poultry feed, especially the laying mash, in summer means that laying will be seriously curtailed not only for the present sea-son but later.

"Our experimental records show that to curtail or discontinue the laying mash to hens during late summer will result in poor yields of eggs later," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college. "The body of the hen must be maintained first, and if sufficient feed is not furnished, she will use that given for egg production to build up her body. Production of eggs will fall off and if the hen draws on her body supply of nutrients, she will suffer in vigor so that production later will not be satisfactory."

If not sufficiently fed, the hen will draw on her body supply of fat to build the yolk of the egg and on her storehouse of minerals and vitamins to put into the egg. This drainage affects the condition of the body, says Doctor Kaupp, and undermines the health of the bird. He insists that the hen needs a mash feed along with the right amount of grain each day. When putting on the new growth of 8,000 feathers, she needs additional care and attention.

White corn fed alone will not give a hen all the food nutrients needed. While the egg is 65 per cent water, it also contains 10 per cent of fat, 14 per cent of protein and 11 per cent of minerals, mostly in the shell. Therefore, laying hens must have a good laying mash and grain feed each day in the year. In addition to this, each hen must also have at least seven pounds of green feed to each 100 birds every day.

If these requirements are met there is no reason why some eggs might not be secured throughout the summer and the body of the bird suffer no diminution in vigor for future production.

Mites Are Infallible

Indications of Filth Lice and mites are infallible signs of filth and neglect. When a hen house becomes thoroughly infested it is no small job to get rid of the vermin. If the hen house is small and of little value it is advisable to burn it down, provided other buildings are not endangered. If this is not practicable the house must be turned inside out and thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Throw out the roosts, feeding and watering utensils; litter. droppings boards and even the floors if necessary. Burn old litter. Scrub roosts and floors, walls and ceiling

A new breed of hen, not much heard of as yet, is called the Red Leghorn. It was recognized by the American Poultry association in August, 1929. This is what is sometimes called a "manufactured breed"; in other words, it is produced by cross-breeding. A report on the new variety says that the first crosses were made with Sussex Brown Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds. Further crosses were made with the stock got from the cross with Brown Leghorns. Buff Leghorns have earned a high reputation for egg production, but the new red variety promises to eclipse all other varieties because of its vigorous constitution, which it has inherited from its Rhode Island Red ancestry. The variety was first exhibited at Oakland coliseum show in 1925, and since then it has become fairly popular with American ntilitarians.

Mythological Bi1 ---

Probably the best known of the fabulous birds of prey were the roc, which was a bird so enormous that it obscured the sun where it flew and carried away men in its talons; the phoenix, which was a bird with a beautiful voice and a long tail like a peacock's, which was supposed to rise from the ashes of fire; and the harpy, which was a terrible bird with a woman's face and breast and great claws like an eagle's, which pursued men who had sinned.

Magnification

The magnifying power of a tele-scope is proportional to its length as well as the shortness of focus of its eyepiece. Thus the use of different eyepieces yields different magnifying powers, but those exceeding 1,000 are seldom used because of the trembling of the earth's atmosphere. Compound microscopes may magnify as much as 4.000 times.

Whipping the Cat

Among the many customs which were observed until quite recent times in England, there was one particularly cruel one, that of whipping a cat to death at Shrovetide. It appears to have been popular in one Midland village especially, that of Albrighton, in Shropshire, for a former inn sign there read: "The finest pastime that is under the sun is whipping the cat at Albrighton !" This was finally taken down as late as in the Nineteenth century.

Ford Digs Two Mile Tunnel for A Billion Gallons of Water a Day

NI EARLY a billion gallons of water a day-more than is used by the cities of Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Washington combined-will be the capacity of a huge tunnel now nearing completion at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan.

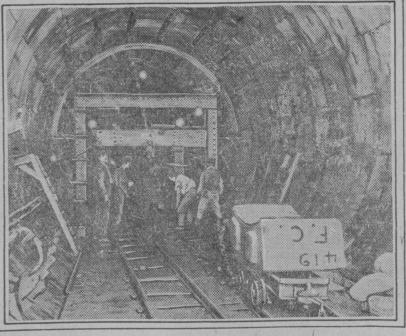

The tunnel will replace the present water intake system which supplies the Ford plants with 500,000,000 galons a day. At the same time the company is remodeling its power house to greatly increase the power output. Both improvements, costing several million dollars, are being made to enlarge the production facilities of the Ford plant.

Sixty Feet Under Ground

In constructing the waterway, the largest of its kind ever undertaken by a single business concern, the engineers are burrowing sixty feet under ground for a distance of two and a fifth miles. They have gone under main highways, railroads, street car tracks, bridges, a cemetery and a creek.

One of the most difficult tasks was that of tunneling under Baby Creek at a point which is crossed by a railroad bridge and where also a large sewer is under construction by the city of Detroit. The piles that provide the foundation for the bridge and those driven by the company constructing the sewer formed a network on each side of the creek. It was the task of the Ford engineers to burrow under the creek, sewer and bridge, going between the piles without striking or weakening them.

Boring of the tunnel is accomplished by means of a shield-a large steel

Garden Raiding Cow Is

Found; Boys Absolved Sharon, Pa .- Nocturnal visits of a cow, discovered recently by Sharon residents, vindicated boys in the district who were blamed for raiding gardens in the city.

For some time vegetables in gardens had been pulled and considerable damage done nightly. One night, the tinkling of a bell attracted a resident. He found that "bossy" had pulled up the stake to which she had been chained and visited the gardens for a more diversified meal than was obtainable in the burned-out fields in which she was pastured.

Child Buried by Ton of Concrete; Found Unhurt

Monticello, N. Y .- Notified that a child lay crushed under a concrete block which weighed nearly a ton, six men worked frantically to raise it. After considerable labor the block was jacked up. Underneath, the youngster was found uninjured. He had been caught in a depression of the block, and escaped its weight.

Derivation of "Tariff"

According to Edwards' "Words, Facts and Phrases," the word "tariff" comes from the Moorish name "Tarifa," a fortress that stands on Cape Tarifa, a Spanish promontory commanding the entrance to the Mediterranean. When the Moors had possession they levied duties at certain fixed rates upon all merchandise passing in or out of the straits. The Century dictionary and other authorites on etymology, however, give the word a different origin. It comes from an Italian word, "tariffa," meaning "casting of accounts" or "list of prices," which was itself derived from the Arabian "arif," meaning "knowing."

An "adjustable" owl is on view at the zoo, London. It is known as a quite unlike its elongated self.

Theory Made Real

A few years ago at a meeting a banker opined that the total amount of money in the world ought to be equivalent to the total wealth of the world; else, he suggested, people would never be able, to pay their debts. He explained that in the United States there were $20 of wealth for every dollar of money, and therefore there was but one chance in twenty of a debtor's paying his debts. "I will give $5," he said, "to anyone who can disprove that statement." When no one accepted the challenge, a wag suggested it was because there was only one chance in twenty of getting the promised $5.

To the Voters of Carroll County

During the time I have been privileged to serve Carroll County as REGISTER OF WILLS, I have tried to fill the office with care and fidelity, and at the same time I have tried to be courteous to all, whether interests have been large or small.

The experience I have had in the office, I believe, fits me all the better to continue that kind of service during the coming term, if you honor me with your confidence and your votes. If elected, I shall try my best to serve the interests of all the people of the County.

I respectfully solicit the support of the Voters of the County.

It has not been possible for me to call on all of you personally, without being absent from my office more than I ought to be. I believe you will appreciate fidelity to a public officer's work, and that you will take this open letter as a personal request.

In this election, party prejudice as well as personal prejudice should not figure. Every voter and taxpayer should be on the alert to select candidates, (regardless of party), who are both capable and

It would be a catastrophe not to re-elect Charles W. Melville as County Commissioner of Carroll County. To elect three new mem-bers who know little or nothing of the actual machinery of a $1,000,-000 concern (Carroll County) would be a business blunder of colossal

Mr. Melville meets the requirements for the job, as his past record proves. When he went into office the County owed approximately one-quarter of a million dollars—today it owes only $141,000. When he went into office it had 69 miles of hard roads. Today it has 241 miles. During his administration the County has built four High Schools and rebuilt three; the School Board expends $360,000 as com-pared with $145,916.37, the amount previously spent. All of this has been accomplished with only a slight increase in the tax rate. Money expended for schools is the best investment any community can make. The wealth of any County, State or country is always in direct propor-tion to the education of the populace.

Real Estate and Adjustable Owl

European Scops owl, and, though insignificant in size, being normally less than six inches high, it is regard-ed as a great rarity. The color and markings of its plumage are like those of a tree trunk. When at rest the owl elongates its body and sits motionless in such a position that it resembles the stump of a branch. But a remarkable change comes over it when alarmed. It blows out its body, which visibly grows in size like a toy balloon being inflated. The bird is then almost globular in shape and

Exploring the Skies

A test rocket which Doctor Goddard shot into the air, a projectile 9 feet long and 21/2 feet in diameter, sheathed in aluminum, flashed up the 60-foot shaft skyward with incredible speed. The performance convinced the scientists who witnessed it that a larger mechanism might successfully explore the unknown air regions above the earth. In this test a camera, a barometer and the mechanism came down to earth by parachute uninjured.

LIME FOR THE LAWN AND THE GARDEN.

Fall is the time that the home gardener and suburbanite is quite likely to look back over his spring and summer efforts in lawn keeping and gardening In appraising the results obtained,the sacks, block and fall,wheelbarrow,corn too often, we lose sight of the fact sticks. that the lawn is a crop and if properly maintained, a permanent crop of beauty. Like all farm crops, lawn grasses require an agreeable seed-bed. Lawn and garden soils, through leach-ing and cropping, lose their lime content and become acid or "sour." This condition is easily corrected by apply-ing a moderate application of lime every three to five years. The amount to apply varies with the soil require-ment. If this operation has not been performed in recent years, 50 pounds of hydrated lime per thousand square feet (or equivalent in other mater-ials) should be sufficient. By doing this work in the Fall, the lime neutralizes considerable of the soil acids by spring.

In addition to lime, rotted manure In addition to lime, rotted manure or compost may also be applied in the Fall. This should be well distributed over the surface of the lawn and worked into the grass with a rake. Commercial fertilizer is quite gener-ally applied early in the spring to supply the necessary plant foods and give the grass a quick, healthy start.

TERMS OF SALE-On real estate. a deposit of $250.00 will be required on day of sale; the balance in 30 days, when a clear deed and possession will be given. On personal property, cash will be required.

We would not think of going back to dirt roads and inefficient schools any more than we would think of going back to the coal oil lamps for the slightest amount of economy involved.

The writer has lived in seven different Counties in the State and he can truthfully say that he has never known the finances so well managed as in Carroll.

For the well being of our County, not merely for Mr. Melville, we should see that he is returned to administer the County's affairs in an efficient and trustworthy manner.

A Taxpayer and a Democrat,

H. P. PORTER, Hampstead, Md.

13 SOUTH STREET BALTIMORE, MD.

October 28th., 1930.

Hampstead, Maryland.

DEAR MR. PORTER:-

MR. HARRY P. PORTER.

I have checked the balance sheet figures which you submitted to me showing the condition of the Carroll County, Maryland, finances as of June 30, 1930, and checked them against the statement published on the first page of The Democratic Advocate of Westminster, Md., under date of October 24, 1930.

I would call attention to two discrepancies, as follows:

The balance sheet as submitted by the County Commismissioners shows a liability of but $2,000. Carroll County School Bonds; the published statement refers to $5,000. School Bonds. There is unquestionably an error of $3,000.

The acknowledged debt of the County as of June 30th. last con-

Notes, Warrants, etc......$109,715.58 Bonds approaching early maturity.... 33,000.00 Total.....$142,715.58 Deducting the latter, which has been fully pro vided for through the budget and will be met out of taxes at a net debt figure for the County amounting to.....$190,357.52

In view of the above I should be inclined to question the motives of those responsible for giving wide publicity to the unqualified and unexplained figure of $336,073.10 as representing the County's debt when, as a matter of fact, all of this amount has been fully provided for with the exception of that shown as the net debt, amounting to $190.357.52.

The $190,357.52 noted above consists of $141,000 of bonds (the $174,000 gross, less the $33,000 soon to mature and provided for) and of later maturity and $49,357.52 of notes, warrants, etc., for which immediate provision is not necessary.

I might observe in passing that the balance sheet of the County in my opinion makes a commendable showing.

Very truly yours,

CHALMERS S. BRUMBAUGH, Statistician. -Advertisement

NEW IDEA FOR CHANNEL BORE

Frenchman Says That Latest Scheme Overcomes Military Objections.

Paris .- Now that Britain has rejected the scheme of constructing a channel tunnel, M. Philippe Buneu-Varilla has had another idea. M. Buneu-Varilla had a great idea about digging the Panama canal back in the '80s. He backed Ferdinand de Lesseps in that enterprise and the French people lost a lot of francs before the plan was abandoned for lack of cash.

M. Buneu-Varilla got another idea during the battle of Verdun in 1916 which was not so bad and consisted in piping up plenty of fresh water for the poilus in the trenches and filtering it by a special process which he is now applying all over France.

But M. Buneu-Varilla's newest project is the best of all. He proposes a "mixed passage" for the traversing of the channel, which he claims will include all the best features of the tunnel with none of its drawbacks and dangers and will not be nearly so expensive as the tube.

Would Built Jetty.

The idea is to build a long jetty or viaduct from Calais, across the shoal water, aimed straight for England. He estimates this might be a mile long. From the English end, he proposes a similar viaduct over the shoals, stretching a mile or more toward France. 'At either end of these jetties he would construct enormous elevators which would lower railway trains down into water-tight cofferdams to the entrance of the tubes which would be constructed on the bottom of the channel to traverse the deeper part in the middle.

The trains would proceed through the tunnel to the other side, there to be raised in another elevator to the jetty and thence proceed on their way to their destination.

M. Buneu-Varilla says the most attractive feature of this scheme is that it overcomes the military objections raised in England against abandoning the insularity of the tight little island and permitting direct ingress from the European continent. In time of war, the British defense commission insists there would be danger that an invading army, might cross through such a tunnel and seize England.

"A few shells fired against the elevators would so wreck them they could no longer lower trains down to the tunnel," M. Buneu-Varilla points out, adding, "A few more shells would destroy the viaducts leading out across the shoals." Then he caps the climax by observing, "Dropping a few depth charges would totally destroy the tube under the center and deeper part of the channel."

Sees Lower Cost.

He estimates the scheme could be accomplished by the expenditure of a tenth of the $150,000,000 required for the tunnels and that it could be built more quickly.

the State by the issuance of a proclamation by Governor Albert C. Ritchie. This proclamation calls upon all municipal authorities, the press, schools, motor organizations, civic and commercial bodies to co-operate in the "SAVE-A-LIFE" Campaign.

The purpose of the Campaign is not only directed against the faulty mechanism of automobiles, but also takes into consideration the human element which after all, is responible for a great number of the automobile accidents. It is felt that these campaigns go a long way to awaken the consciousness of the public for safety, and the Campaign in reality is also an educational one.

Commissioner Baughman stated that it is felt that if ten or fifteen minutes of time can be obtained from the average motorist as his contribution towards this worthy SAVE-A-LIFE Campaign, it will go a long way towards reaching that human element. We get ten or fifteen minutes of the motorists time that he takes to go into one of the official inspection stations to have his car inspected, and after his car is found to be safe, or put in a safe condition, and as long as the little sticker is on the windshield after that few minutes of time, it is a constant reminder to him to be careful and considerate of other people's rights.

Service stations and garages in every community of the State will be appointed to serve as Official Inspection Stations from November 1st to November 30th, inclusive. During this period every motor vehicle owner in Maryland is requested to drive or, send his car or truck to one of these official stations to be examined regarding its safety factors.

The motor vehicle owner is free to choose any inspection station he desires. Official windshield stickers will be issued in the name of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, and one of these will be placed on every motor vehicle inspected that passed inspection as being in good mechanical condition, insofar as its safety factors are concerned. Cars that reveal mechanical defects that render them unsafe will have to be put in good order before an official sticker will be affixed to the windshield.

"The 'SAVE-A-LIFE' Campaign inspection of motor vehicles will be devoted chiefly to the brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, mirrors, obscure license tags and drivers' license;" said Commissioner Baughman in announcing the Campaign to reduce automobile accidents and prevent fatalities in the State of Maryland. These are the items most likely to get out of order on the average motor vehicle, as statistics show that they are the most frequent cause of accidents.

"We want no unsafe motor vehicles on the roads of Maryland and the cooperation of every citizen and motor vehicle owner in having his car inspected between November 1st and 30th will go a long way towards saving lives and preventing accidents. It is perfectly obvious that the best driver in the world cannot stop a car that has no brakes or warn pedestrians or other cars if the horn is not working.

The campaign is made official for equipped to be operated on the highways without menacing the users of the highways, and may refuse to register any motor vehicle which has not been so inspected, or is unsafe or improperly equipped, and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of the above mentioned section of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles may authorize properly qualified persons to make inspections without expense to the State or to the owners of motor vehicles; and

WHREAS, E. AUSTIN BAUGH-MAN, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of the State of Maryland, has, under the authority above mentioned designated the period from November 1st to November 30th, 1930, inclusive, for such inspections; and

WHEREAS, the inspections and resulting compulsory adjustment and correction of any faulty mechanical safety factor of all of the motor vehicles in the State cannot but contribute to the reduction in deaths and injuries.

NOW. THEREFORE, I ALBERT C. RITCHIE, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, do hereby proclaim and publish the month of November, 1930, as the

"SAVE-A-LIFE" PERIOD

I strongly urge all public officials and individuals to co-operate with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in the enforcement of the compulsory requirements for the inspection and adjustment of the safety factors of all motor vehicles in the State of Maryland during the period mentioned.

In view of the vital importance of the purpose of this "SAVE-A-LIFE" Campaign, I urge all local safety councils and committees, motor clubs, chambers of commerce and civic organizations, public transportation companies, insurance companies, etc., to lend their active aid and co-operation.

GIVEN under My Hand and the Great Seal of the State of Mary-GREAT SEAL land, at the City of Annapolis this OF MARLAND Seventh day of October, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty. (Signed)

ALBERT C. RITCHIE, Governor.

Crafty Andy Carnegie Stirred Up Students

Once when Andrew Carnegie was visiting his sister-in-law on Jekyll island she told him she could not get any letters from her sons who were at Yale. She was anxious about them. Carnegie bet her he would have a letter from them as soon as the mail could reach New Haven and return. The bet was accepted.

He wrote the boys that their mother was worried about them; that he was visiting her; that all were very well at their nome news that would interest them. Then he added that he was enclosing $5 for each, and he signed himself their affectionate uncle.

Iceland Althing First of World Parliaments Iceland in June, 1930, celebrated two great events: the one hundred nineteenth birthday of Jon Sigurdsson, its George Washington, who wrung home rule from Denmark in 1874; the thousandth anniversary of the althing, oldest parliament in the world.

A century before the battle of Hastings, 850 years before our own government was founded, the franklins (free landowners) of Ireland were living under a constitution (the constitution of Ulfiot) and a regularly constituted lawmaking body. The althing met in midsummer and was the occasion for great feasts and merrymaking, as well as numerous bruises, lacerations and concussions.

What political life and law were like in the old days is recorded in Iceland sagas and law codes. The althing did not function perfectly, nor did the judicial system which was set up, the real governing being done by the various chieftains; nevertheless, the althing forms a magnificent tradition. It looks down from its hoary eminence with paternal solicitude for such youthful bodies as the English house of commons and the United States congress.

Philosophy of Error

A responsible public board was charged with making errors in judgment by critics. It was charged that this board had over a period of years made a number of mistakes.

To this, one of the men thus attacked, answered, "There are only three types of persons who never make mistakes: The liar, because he never admits them; the fool, because he doesn't know when he makes them; and, thirdly, the oyster, because he never does anything.

"We do not think we are either fools, liars or oysters. No one engaging in a large enterprise can foresee everything. Sometimes hindsight is better than foresight."-Boston Globe.

Henry Hudson

Henry Hudson made four notable voyages to America from 1607 in search of a northeastern passage to China and latterly a northwestern one. He explored the coasts of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, the Hudson river and Hudson strait and bay. He win-tered in the bay, in 1610-11, at the foot of James bay, and on his return voyage was set adrift with eight companions in a small boat and never again heard of. "Of all the dark mysteries of the merciless ocean, no mystery lies wrapped in deeper shadow than that which hangs over the fate of Hudson.'

Curiously, no one will even consider the alternative of improving conditions of the channel crossing-namely: the widening of the entrances to Calais and Boulogne harbors to permit the operation of bigger boats than can now enter these ports. Channel steamers are now limited to about 35 feet beam because of the narrow passage between the jetties.

A train ferry, carrying an entire train, could be utilized so that passengers could be saved the bother of changing, with the attendant miseries of baggage porters. With passports and luggage examined on the boats, it is believed two hours could be clipped from the present time of the service, reducing it to about four and one-half hours, which is about as fast as exponents of the channel tunnel claim it could be made in.

THIRD ANNUAL SAVE A LIFE CAMPAIGN OPENS

November 1st to 30th Dates Announced by Commissioner Baughman

GOV. RITCHIE ISSUES PROCLA-MATION

"In an effort to reduce automobile accidents and eliminate loss of life, caused by motor vehicles in Maryland, the third annual SAVE-A-LIFE CAM-PAIGN will be conducted from November 1st to November 30th, 1930, inclusive," it was announced by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles E. Austin Baughman.

Many requests all over the State have been received by the department asking this department to stage another "SAVE-A-LIFE" Campaign, in an effort to make for safer driving upon the Maryland highways. During this period the provisions of Chapter 259, of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1929, authorizes the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to require an inspection of the safety factors of all automobiles. This provision will be put into effect during the month of November.

Recent national figures from previous State-wide SAVE-A-LIFE Campaigns in other States, show that over sixty per cent of the cars inspected have been found in ar unsafe condition for operation upon the highways. The modern automobile is good for tens of thousands of miles of service and it is entirely safe in the hands of a careful driver, but being a piece of machinery it requires a regular mechanical inspection to keep it in good running order and to operate it economically and safely.

The Commissioner stated that 409 people were killed in motor vehicle accidents in the State of Maryland during the year 1929. "This represents," he said, "a big increase in fatalities over the preceding year. Such an appalling carnage must be stopped." he asserted, "and the co-operation of the good people of Maryland with this department in the 'SAVE-A-LIFE' Campaign, and then, too, a continuance of the support accorded the State police will do much, we hope, to bring about an appreciable decrease in automobile fatalities in the State of Maryland."

Governor Albert C. Ritchie's proclamation calls upon the officials in every community and various civic and industrial organizations to lend their whole-hearted support to the State-wide movement for greater motor vehicle safety, The text of the proclamation follows:

WHEREAS, hundreds of lives are lost, thousands of persons are maimed, and hundreds of thousands of dollars of property damage occurs in Maryland annually through motor vehicle accidents; and

WHEREAS, irrefutable statistics show that the faulty condition of the safety factors of motor vehicles is responsible for a large percentage of these deaths, injuries and property damage: and

WHEREAS, Section 189-A, of Article 56 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, vests in the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of the State, authority to require the inspection of motor vehicles to determine whether or not they are unsafe or improperly

Couldn't Pass Up That

Chance for Easy Money "One reason why auto insurance rates are no cheaper than they are," says an auto club official, "is the tendency of most people to magnify minor accidents in the hope of obtaining larger adjustments. Most of the insurance companies give the policy holder the benefit of the doubt and therefore base their premium rates accordingly.

"I am sorry to say that the majority of policy holders seem to be like Jones.

"Jones, you know, had been in a collision but it was so insignificant that he passed it up without a thought. Next day, however, he met a friend who asked:

"'Hello, Jones, I thought you were seriously injured in an accident yesterday?'

"'So I discovered when I read the morning papers,' admitted Jones, adding, 'I'm on my way home to bed right now and have sent for my lawyer.' "

SIMON PETER, FROM WEAKNESS TO STRENGTH

LESSON TEXT-Mark 8:27-29; Luke 22:31-34; John 18:25-27; 21:15-17. GOLDEN TEXT-Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marveled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Weak Man Be-

Strong, YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—How Christ Gives Strength.

I. Peter Confessing Christ (Mark 8:27-29).

The time was near at hand when Christ should make the supreme offering of himself for sins on the cross. Knowing the tragic experience through which the disciples would pass because of it, he sought to prepare them for it by leading them into the apprehension of the cardinal doctrines of the Christian faith such as: the integrity of his person, atoning death, resurrection, and second coming.

Peter's confession was provoked by two questions of Jesus.

1. "Whom do men say that I am?" Opinions differed, but all recognized him to be a teacher or a prophet with more than human authority and power. 2. "Whom say ye that I am?"

Jesus persistently claimed to be the very Son of God. He would have his disciples to possess a personal and experiential knowledge of himself as to being God manifest in the flesh. II. Christ Warning Peter (Luke 22:31-34). 1. He told him of Satan's desire concerning him (v. 31). Satan is constantly striving to destroy men.

2. Christ's prayer for Peter (v 32). He prayed that Peter's faith fail not, not that he should escape the siftings.

Peter's confidence (v. 33). His fall began when he refused to listen to Christ's words about the cross. Believers begin to weaken when they no longer desire to hear about Christ crucified.

4. Denial announced (v. 34). This was to take place three times before the crowing of the cock.

III. Peter Denying His Lord (John 18:25, 27).

1. Before the servant maid (vv. 15-18). Peter blundered in attempting to follow Jesus at this time (John 13:36).

Presumptuous boldness frequently leads into embarrassing positions. Under the taunt of the Jewish maid he openly denied the Lord.

Witnesses of cloudbursts have often described the water as coming down in masses or streams rather than in drops. This characteristic is said to have been observed in the celebrated New York .- Despite the widespread drought of recent months, the present cloudburst of July 26, 1819, at Catskill, N. Effects of Terrific Rains.

"In some places," writes I. E. Houk of this storm, "the streams were so concentrated and of such magnitude that gullies ten to forty feet deep and several rods long were washed out where no drainage channels or depressions had ever before existed. One man stepped from his door into water which he supposed to be about two feet deep and was drowned in ten feet of water."

Actual streams of falling water were also observed in Carter county, Tenn., on June 13, 1924, when the rainfall amounted to twelve inches in three hours, and where gullies of the same sort were formed.

Probably the most disastrous cloudburst on record was one that occurred in the Kii peninsula of southern Japan on August 19, 1889, during the passage of a typhoon. The resulting flood drowned more than 1,500 persons and ruined about 400,000 houses. Nearly 9.5 inches of rain fell in two hours.

Directed Against Reckless Driving and Mechanical Defects

NOV. 1ST TO 30th THE DATES

Official details of the third annual "SAVE-A-LIFE" Campaign for the inspection of all motor vehicles in the State of Maryland from November 1st to November 30th, inclusive just made public by a proclamation of Governor Albert C. Ritchie, was announced by E. Austin Baughman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

"Brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, rear view mirrors, license tags and operator's license, will be the salient points of inspection," E. Austin Baughman said, "since these parts of equipment are among the first to become defective and when defective are responsible for a large number of the serious accidents that happen every year. The official inspection will have the co-operation of garages, automobile dealers, repair shops and service statons in every community of the State, which have indicated their willingness to serve as official service stations and make the required mamination of all motor vehicles. Leading motor organizations, civic and commercial bodies, insurance companies and railroads have expressed their willingness to co-operate with the "SAVE-A-LIFE" Movement "Save-a-Life" Campaign has become so popular in the State of Maryland that the public has again requested the department to stage this third campaign. Many letters have been received from motorists and civic organizations throughout the State, asking that we again launch this worthy campaign and endeavor to make for safer driving on the Maryland State Highways. The "SAVE-A-LIFE" Campaign is really an intensive effort to cut down the accidents in Maryland and to make the State a model in this respect. The campaign is directed solely against reckless driving and mechanical defects which are apt to develop in cars and trucks under service conditions, because such defects are one of the leading causes of motor vehicle accidents. It is the belief of automobile authorities through the United States that if all motor vehicles could be easily and quickly controlled by their drivers the accident rate would rapidly diminish.

the motor vehicle owner is at liberty to choose any official station he prefers.

4. The inspection will be free of charge, any adjustment or repair found necessary to ensure the safe operation may, at the owner's order and with his permission, be charged for at the usual rate of charge by the service station or garage. Any agreement in this connection is solely between the motor vehicle owner and the Inspection Station.

SHORE SHORE

5. Brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism, winshield wipers and license tags will be the chief points of inspection.

6. Every motor vehicle owner or operator will have to show evidence that his car has been inspected before he can obtain his license tag for the year 1931.

7. The inspection is compulsory, under the provisions of Chapter 259 of the General Assembly of 1929, which authorizes the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to require the inspection of the safety factors of all automobiles.

The co-operation of the motoring public is earnestly sought by the Motor Vehicle Commissioner to make this drive a great success and in the interest of public safety every car and truck in the State of Maryland should be wearing its official inspection emblem of civic co-operation and mechanical good crder by November 30th, 1930, when the Campaign ends.

Job for His Lifetime Washington .- The District of Columbia government has a man on its pay roll it can't get rid of.

Dr. William Tindall, who has been in the city's employ for 61 years, was given a lifetime job by an act of congress. Tindall is an authority on the history and development of the National Capital and served as secretary to its last two governors and all of its boards of commissioners until 1912. Although he reached the compulsory retirement age a decade ago, Tindall's period of service was extended several times because of his value to municipal officials. The new product, which has been on the market but a short time, is ground very coarsely and is being delivered to various points in the State in bag containers. It mixes readily with other feeds and can, therefore, be used to replace a large part of the hay in dairy and livestock rations. In the case of horses it may be used practically as the sole roughage.

Owing to the low cost and value of this feed, dairy and livestock farmers should make an effort to get in touch with their respective county Agents who have samples of the prod. uct. Approximately 25 manufacturers of oat products are able to supply the new Feed, it is said.

Beautiful Capetown

The sea voyage to South Africa is the fair weather voyage of the world. Capetown, once a remote outpost of civilization, is today one of the world's finest cities. It is not only beautiful and delightfully situated but the cape is historical as well, for it was here in 1487 that Dias saw the sea-route to India and this incited Columbus, who in his search for India found America instead. The discoveries between 1487 and 1497 mark this era as the dawn after the Dark ages and the first rays hit the cape when Dias discovered his way around.

Fire-Resistance

The word fireproof is probably a less appropriate term than fire-resistive. Buildings can be constructed so that they can withstand a complete burning out of contents without any collapse of structural members. There will, of course, be damage to finish and trim. They can also be constructed to withstand exposures from fires in adjacent buildings without communicating fire to the inside of the building, although here again there may be damage to facing material and window glass and shutters. Fire-resistive buildings greatly decrease the destructiveness of fires in providing less opportunities for fires to start, less likelihood of rapid spread, greater ease of extinguishment, and less hazard to neighboring structures.

Peter was now warming himself at the enemy's fire. When questioned, he denied his relation to the Lord. Separation from everything that is opposed to the Lord is necessary in order to have a clear testimony (II Cor. 6:14-18).

3. Before the kinsman of Malchus (v. 26).

This man had seen Peter with Jesus in Gethsemane (v. 10) when Peter rashly cut off the ear of Malchus. He put the question straight to Peter. "Did I not see thee in the garden with him?" At the utterance of the third denial, the cock crew, reminding Peter of Christ's warning (Mark 14:72). IV. Peter's Restoration (John 21:15-17).

Peter had thrice denied his Lord. Therefore, before his reinstatement in the Lord's service he must thrice confess his love for Jesus. In this reinstatement and commission of Peter is set forth the motive and nature of the service which has Christ's approval in all times. Love for Christ, not primarily love for the sheep, proves the genuine shepherd.

"Feed my lambs."

The word "feed" as well as "lambs" signifies that the work here enjoined is that of nurturing babes in Christ. 2. "Feed my sheep."

The word here means to feed, guide, correct, and lead the maturer classes of Christians. It carries with it not alone responsibility of feeding, but corrective discipline. Failure will inevitably follow if this be attempted without love.

3. "Feed my sheep."

This doubtless relates to the care of aged Christians. The word "feed" returns somewhat to the meaning as in the first instance where he says, "Feed my lambs," so that the minister's responsibility to care for the aged is equivalent to that of the young. Peter was to express devotion to Christ by a martyr's death.

over the cooler surface of a mountain. so that its supply of warm air is temporarily cut off. Thus is explained the special frequency of cloudbursts in mountainous regions.

Difficulties in Measuring.

The extreme intensity of rainfall occurring in cloudbursts is as much a matter of speculation as is the extreme force of the wind occurring in tornadoes, and in both cases the uncertainty is due to the lack of instrumental records. The cloudburst, like the tornado, is limited to a small area, and it rarely happens that a rain gauge is placed at the point of heavfest rainfall in one of these showers. Moreover, an ordinary rain gauge, even if suitably located, would give no indication of the rate of fall during short periods of time. Such information can be obtained only with an automatically registering gauge which makes a continuous record of the rainfall, minute by minute, and gauges of this type are, as a rule, found only at the more important meteorological stations and observatories.

One of the fastest showers ever measured with an automatic rain gauge was that of May 1, 1908, at Porto Bello, on the Isthmus of Panama, in which 2.47 inches fell in three minutes. This record of intensity was surpassed on April 5, 1926, at Opids' Camp, on the west front of the San Gabriel range in California, when 1.02 inches of rain (115 tons of water to the acre) fell in one minute. This deluge was caught by two automatic rain gauges, standing side by side, and their records agreed, so that the figure above given is altogether trustworthy.

That decidedly heavier downpours than those just mentioned sometimes occur is inferred from the great amount of soil-washing observed in connection with certain cloudbursts. This phenomenon has been noticed not only in hilly and mountainous country, where the flow of the storm water is concentrated by the effects of slope, but also in comparatively level regions, where huge cavities are sometimes made by the mere impact of the falling water.

One such cavity resulted from an afternoon thunder shower in 1916 on a moor in the county of Durham, England. Eleven years after the shower its effects were still strikingly visible. On a gentle slope the top layer of grass and peat had been washed away to a depth of about four feet over an area of about twenty by forty wards. On the Cheviot hills, in July, 1893, the upper layer of peat over an area of from thirty to forty acres was

The official method of the campaign in automobile inspection will be as follows:

1. Every automobile and truck in the State will be inspected by a competent mechanic in a reliable service station, to be appointed with the approval of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, and if the car or truck is found to be unsafe, or to have mechanical defects, it must be put in safe condition before the official inspection sticker will be affixed to the winshield.

2. Official inspection stickers will be issued to all cars and trucks that have been examined and found in good condition, or that have been put in good condition after having been examined and found to need adjustment.

3. In order to remove any possible cause for resentment or inconvenience, hardship or loss of time on the part of the automobile or truck owner.
