Dorothy Koons, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Koons, Middle Street, Taneytown, was slightly injured and her bicycle demolished late Wednesday afternoon when she was riding at the junction of York Street and Fairview Avenue, and was struck by a car driven by Geraldine Grossnickle, a worker in the Blue Ridge Rubber Factory, who was leaving from work. The car was moving at a moderate rate and stopped immediately. The child was taken to the office of Dr. F. T. Elliot, who found no bones broken, but the patient was suffering from bruises, other minor injuries and shock. It was a fortunate escape from worse injuries.

REGISTRATION DAYS.

Of Unusual Importance to Voters

The Board of Supervisors of Election for Carroll County has designated Tuesday October 1, and Tuesday, October 8, as Registration days. The registration offices will be open on these dates from 9 A. M. until 7 P. M., and will be the only opportunity for registration before the election, Nov. 5th.

All new residents as well as all persons becoming of age on or before Nov. 5, should register to be eligible to vote on election day.

SHORB FAMILY CHICKEN

DINNER.

(For The Record.) The Editor of The Record said he had the pleasure of viewing the old and new chicken house of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shorb—how fine it was. He should have been there on Sunday, Sept. 8, and seen it then when that gorgeous table was spread for between thirty-five and forty members of the Shorb families. The table was fine and so was the chicken house, when the rain began to pour all had a joyous time eating, talking and laughing, and planning for another good time next year. Time came to depart so wishing each and all much success until another year, for maybe we can have another drink plenty of water and stay in bed new chicken house with lots of big until your doctor says you may get chickens in.

THE OPEN SEASON FOR COLDS.

With the open season for colds at hand, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health suggests some ways by which they can be warded off or at least reduced to their lowest terms. Here they

1-Keep yourself as fit as possible. Substitute the simpler and more nourishing foods, for rich mixtures. Eggs, milk and other dairy products, fruits and green vegetables that are in the market now in great abundance, are rich in the vitamins that are a protection against colds,

Add them to your diet. Drink several glasses of water every day. 2.—Dress according to the weather. Keep comfortably warm. Have a sweater handy or a warm coat to slip on when the days turn cold suddenly Light a fire or turn on the heat if your house is damp and chilly. If you are a housekeeper, get out your blankets—and use them.

3.—Avoid sudden chilling. Change as quickly as possible to dry shoes and dry clothing if you are caught unprepared in a drenching rain. 4.—Get some exercise in the open air everyday-a brisk walk, if can't do more than that. Hold your head up and breathe deeply as you walk. Keep your sleeping quarters and your working rooms well ventilated, and get plenty of sleep.

5.—Colds are catching. Don't go where people are coughing or sneezing. Wash your hands before eating. 6.—If your powers of resistance have been lowered and a cold "catches" you, don't fight it. You will save time and strength and get well more quickly if you go to bed, eat lightly. up. Don't wait, either, until you are seriously ill to send for your doctor. CHILD'S AID SOCIETY Report of Second Quarterly Board Meeting.

The Second quarterly Board meeting of the Carroll County Children's Aid Society was held in the Westminster Library Room on Monday, September 9, at 2:00 P. M. with a very good attendance. Mrs. Frank T. Myers presided over the meeting. Following the regular order of business Miss Bonnie M. Custenborder, Director, made her service report concerning the 46 children under care. Beside routine supervision and visiting, 100% of the children were given physical examinations, and 98% dental corrections; glasses were provided for two and three children had tonsil operations.

Board members made impromptureports of work done during the quarter; such as visiting children, and transporting them to doctors, dentists, hospitals, etc.

Many plans were made for the coming financial campaign which will be conducted October 7-19. Dr. J. Rich-ard Myers will again serve as Carroll County campaign chairman. with him will be Mr. Ralph Hoffman, Mrs. David H. Taylor, Mrs. Bruce Bair, Mrs. Gloyd Lunch, Mrs. Henry Achley, Mr. Stanford, and Mrs. Peare Wantz, Jr.

Miss Custenborder's report follows: "On May first, there were 46 children receiving care in foster homes, eleven new cases have been reported of children who were felt to be in need of care, because of their conditions or their behavior. Of this number, there were committed to the Children's Aid Society by the court; homes were found for two girls and another girl was placed with relatives as a temporary plan until she can be admitted to an institution for mental defectives; the girl is a sex delinquent and her parents cannot control her; the other five are still in their own homes where the conditions are being studied.

The Children's Aid Society is required to provide routine examinations for all children in its care; 100% have been given thorough physical examinations, and 98% have had dental corrections; glasses were provided for two girls, and three children had tonsil operations.

The service clubs and the doctors and dentists in the county cooperated in taking care of these physical needs the transportation was provided by volunteers

Four children were taken to mental clinics and three others were taken to the sanatorium for chest X-rays. During the quarter two wards were committed to institutions, one girl being sent to Montrose School and a boy was sent to Cheltenham School; both had come from bad home environment and failed to adjust in the foster homes. It became possible to return another boy to his own home where the conditions have improved; boy was in a boarding home for two and a half years where he received good training: he graduated from the elementary school and is now in High School. On August 31, there were 46 children under supervision and placed as follows: 5 with relatives, 4 in wage homes, 11 in free homes, and 28 in boarding homes. In the family department, 14 families received advice with their prob-lems and in several cases assistance was given in the form of clothing and shoes; milk and medical care have been supplied in several homes where the budget cannot provide these necessities. Volunteer contributions from interested citizens have made these services possible. 425 articles of clothing and 75 pairs of shoes were given to children in boarding homes and to families in temporary need of aid. 360 office interviews were held in the interest of foster children and family cases."

Respectfully submitted, BONNIE M. CUSTENBORDER,

REPUBLICANS SWEEP MAINE.

Ordinarily, that Maine went Republican in a state election in a presidential election year, would be not much more significant than that Alabama went Democratic, was it not that Maine has at times gone Democratic, while Alabama has never gone Republican.

The main difference is that this time the Republican vote was distinctly higher than usual—about 70,000, and is expected to be much higher in November. The recent election was for Governor, U. S Senator, and Members of Congress.

ROOSEVELT FOR DRAFT AND UNIONIZED LABOR.

out of European War.

As his first political speech of the campaign, President Roosevelt, on Wednesday, flatly approved conscription of what he called non-cooperative industries. His speech was to unionized labor for support.

He spoke, in the first place, before a convention of the Teamsters Union which earlier in the day had endorsed him for a third term; he recited the gains for labor, which he contended were the result of New Deal legislation; and, emphatically, he asserted that national defense needs require no relaxation of these reforms.
"I am convinced," he said, "that a break down of existing labor and social legislation would weaken rather than increase our efforts for defense. Continuance of them means the preservation of the efficiency of labor. It means the return to work of several million still unemployed."

He said: "The people must decide whether to continue the type of gov ernment, which has fostered progress to date, or whether to turn it over to those who by their action, if not always by their word, have shown their fundamental opposition to the main objectives toward which we have worked and to which we are definitely committed for the future." Discussing national defense plans and reporting them progressing satisfactorily with a growing popular unity behind them, the chief executive said that "in all of these plans for national defense, only those who seek to play upon the fears of the American neonly discover an estimate American people discover an attempt to lead us into war."

He served notice, for one thing, upon manufacturers of munitions vital to defense, that their services, their plants and their products may be commandered in case of necessity. "No business is above its Government," he declared, vigorously, "and Government should be empowered to deal adequately with any business which tries to rise above its Govern-"Just so long as we continue to call upon men to train for combat and for service behind the lines, will we also continue to call upon the industrial plants of the nation for the service which they can give." "The nation is adopting the principle of selective universal training of its young men," the President reminded, then added: "On the same principle, no reasonable person can object to giving the Government power to acquire the services of any plant or factory for adequate compensation, if the owner refuses to make its services available to the this defense needs of the nation.

K. OF P. TO AID DEFENSE.

A special National Defense Committee of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, including two Washing-tonians, will meet here soon to discuss measures to be taken by the fraternal order in line with the national defense program, local officials of the organization revealed today following receipt of orders from L A. Tuggle, major general commanding, at national headquarters, Dan-ville, Ill.

Officers of the Uniform Rank composing the committee are Brig. Gen. Francis C. Keefer, chief of staff, Westminster, Md.; Brig. Gen. W. F. Lord, Fostoria, Ohio; Col. J. Allan Dunn, Salisbury, N. C.; Col. H. B. Watson, Tucson, Ariz., and Capt. Charles L. Stoll and Sergt. James S. Eiseman, both of Washington.

In establishing the committee by direction of the order's Supreme Assembly, Maj. Gen. Tuggle pointed out the Uniform Rank should be "a potent factor" in the defense preparations.

Sergt. Eiseman said that the rank's regular program of drills and its military pattern in general should prove of value. He emphasized that no new activity would be undertaken until the committee had met with War Department and other defense officials to learn how the men of the order might be fitted into the defense

The Military Rank's active membership, which he estimated as between 10,000 and 15,000 in the United States, has been increasing since defense became a prime concern, Sergt. Eiseman added.—Washington Star.

-11-THE WAR IN EUROPE.

The raiding of London by the Nazis air forces, and Berlin by the British, was the feature of the week. Both cities were hard hit, and both forces sustained heavy losses to invading vessels.

London appears to have been the hardest hit. One of the hits was a corner of Buckingham palace, the home of the King, but the damage was not serious. Practically all of the bombing is done at night. Nearly all of the war activities now centre in the English channel and the cities of London and Berlin.

The bombing of London is reported to have been curbed a bit, but a new plan of attack is sure to follow. Most of the bombing is being done at

Random Thoughts

DENY YOURSELF.

A good mother gave this advice to her children—"Deny Your-self," meaning the cost follies in fashion and habits of youth and early married life; and she lived this advice herself.

She was not stingy nor unresponsive to the others. She was "the good neighbor" kind and was highly respected throughout her long life, by rich and poor alike.

Her life was worth while, and at its end she left a very modest estate; but her having lived in the community benefited every-body who knew her.

Self-denial is not practiced very much in these later days, by the young; but instead there is a "Come easy, go easy" practice that seems to scorn saving and economy, as though it was representative of ignorance and P. B. E. foolishness.

PRAYER OUR GREAT NEED.

The President, the Congress, and all the leaders in essential preparedness are all a jitter about, man power, and armament, and ships. These things are all quite necessary but they are not the one thing now needed.

'God still rules the destinies of men, and while He permits evil to flourish for a season, and let's the good suffer, He has never yet permitted "the righteous to perish or his seed to

THEORETICAL ADVICE.

The Carroll Record has for a long while been trying to publish a worthwhile weekly newspaper. It receives all sorts of advice from publicity experts, but not so much from subscribers, and we sometimes wonder whether the advice given know-except theoretically-how to operate a weekly newspaper successfully. The following is a specimen received last

"Certainly, people of your community—people of the town and farms—should buy your newspaper.

Delve Texas Lake For La Fitte Ship

Might Be Much Gold in It, And There Mightn't.

AUSTIN, TEXAS.-Maybe there's a lot of gold in the old vessel and maybe there isn't. At any rate, modern science will delve deep into a Texas lake to attempt recovery of a ship that Jean La Fitte scuttled 120 years ago while trying to escape a United States revenue cutter.

The long-lost brigantine dashed into a shallow lake a little way up from the gulf and there La Fitte sank it rather than have it fall into government hands. The vessel now rests 20 feet under the sands of a

The ship was discovered in its watery grave 90 years ago by Jake Sherman, farmer. It was covered then by only four feet of sand. Several legends and rumors sprang up after the discovery, one being that several wealthy persons had offered rich rewards for maps showing the location of the ship. Then there was the episode about the 101-yearold Mexican giving a map drawn on a hogskin to a son and the map being examined by the Shermans who said it was accurate.

G. C. Chambliss Jr. of Beaumont has hired Price Daniel, a lawyer of Liberty, Texas, and they have started out to salvage the vessel in legal CAMBRIDGESHIRE, ENGLAND. —An old man of 80 whose son was "killed in action" in 1917 has discovered, after 23 years, that his son is alive and well.

In 1917, Percy Cox of Wimblington, Cambridgeshire, was posted killed. His father refused to stay in the village where the war memorial was a constant reminder of his grief, and moved away to Lakesend, Wisbech.

Percy, meanwhile, unaware that he had been reported dead, left a hospital and joined the Australians. He again was wounded and sent to a hospital in Sydney. Fifteen years ago he returned to England and tried to find his father, but was unsuccessful and concluded he must

Speaking Groups In Every County To Urge Adoption Of Natural Winds People's Court Amendment

Preliminary plans for the organization of a speaker's bureau in each of Maryland's twenty-three counties are now well under way, it was announced by W. Clinton McSherry, Frederick attorney and State Chairman of the Non-Partisan Citizens Committee for the Adoption of the People's Court Amendment. Way was cleared for this action when the Maryland State Bar Association at its annual convention at Atlantic City unanimously approved the recommendations of its Legislative Committee urging state-wide support for the Amendment designed to reorganize the largest Civil Court in the State. Immediately following the convention Mr. McSherry conferred with Reuben Oppenheimer, General Chairman of the Non-Partisan Committee, and other key members of the group.

As a result of this conference, it was decided to organize speaker's committees in each county. These groups will be in a position to furnish speakers to various civic and social groups desiring a full explanation of the reasons why the reorganization of a court in Baltimore City has been made the object of a State-wide nonpartisan campaign.

It also planned to have these committees furnish "minute men," who will be available to speak at the various political rallies that will precede the general election in November.

This plan, according to Mr. Me-Sherry, has been enthusiastically received by a number of outstanding members of the Maryland Bar who have been approached relative to organizing the committees in their respective counties.

Exploration Halted in Many Sections by War

NEW YORK.-Add casualties of war: Exploration. Roy Chapman Andrews, director of the American Museum of Natural History, says the museum has only nine expeditions in the field this year compared with 20 to 60 in recent years.

"The European conflict has enormously curtailed exploration," he explains. "The Antarctic, South America and South Sea islands are about the only places where one can carry on field work. Even then there is always the possibility of losing collections in shipment. Our plans for future expeditions except those listed are nonexistent."

Advice from several other scientific institutions tends to confirm Dr. summary.

To Make Music

Texas Panhandle Studies Ingenious Apertures in Canyon Cliffs.

AMARILLO, TEXAS.-The whistling winds that pump water for the cattle industry of the Texas Panhandle some day may produce natural music as aesthetic as a Strauss

Those same, near-constant winds are believed capable of producing natural plains' music or Beethoven sonatas in a gigantic "wind organ." This "wind organ" was planned for the cut-up country of beautiful Palo Duro canyon, 25 miles southeast of here. The idea of capturing the music of the plains wind was originated several years ago and developed by Guy A. Carlander, Amarillo architect, until it is now known to be an engineering possibility. Cliff to Be Carved.

The wind instrument would be built in the form of a small memorial dug into the side of the cliff of the canyon. In the wall, which would be the cliff wall, slender openings would be cut to utilize the winds and drafts of the canyon.

Wind would play upon the instrument for both controlled and uncontrolled sound music. It could furnish power to play recorded pieces or left uncontrolled to produce its own natural melody.

"The wind produces, under certain conditions when loosed against proper furniture, sills, reeds, and hollow tubes, noises which are interesting, weird, fantastic, and at times, beautiful in composition and sound," the originator said.

Technical Aspects Studied. "I have gone far enough into the technical and engineering details of this idea to know that it can be successfully constructed and operated," Carlander said. "It should be an unusual attraction, so different as to excite the curiosity of everyone." The proposed wind organ is only one of the projects planned by Panhandle boosters who hope to see this area rivaling the Grand canyon of Colorado as a tourist attraction.

Other developments projected include a natural rock building to be known as Coronado Lodge. It would rise at the wall of the canyon. Also planned is a large amphitheater for rangeland sports-roping, bulldogging, and bronco busting.

FEESERSBURG.

We had a week of Sunshine, then more rain, and everything around us looks thriving and beautiful—even the weeds and lawn mowers are still in operation. It may be our imagination, or loss of memory, but is seems to have been the greenest summer we've ever known, and maybe winter will be whitest—and that will be love ly too, but anyhow we love each season best.

Our tonsil victims, Mrs. Viola Day-hoff Baker, who had been removed in a Baltimore Hospital; Miss Charlotte Bohn at the Gettysburg Hospital, and June Bostian at Frederick Hospital all are recovering now, but agree it was an unpleasant experience and caused real suffering and some stitches. Glad that's over.

Mr. Stover who was in a critical condition the first part of this year, went to the Hospital where an abscess was removed from his stomach, and be began to recover—is getting along nicely

A number of folks from the S. S. at Mt. Union, attended three family reunions on Sunday: The Stansbury's, the Angell's, and the Utermahlen's at Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge, we've not heard what became of them when it began raining about 2 P. M.

The funeral procession of John W. The funeral procession of John W. Sixx passed thro' our town on Wednesday of last week, enroute from his late home in Union Bridge to the Methodist Church in Middleburg where Rev. P. J. Sampson conducted the service. Mr. Sixx lived for many years in and around Middleburg and serviced to be accompletely friend. The seemed to be everybody's friend. The accident some years ago that cost him the sight of one eye was very hard to bear: then the illness of the months reduced his strength, until the Master said "It is enough"—and his spirit departed this life on Sept. 1st. Interment was made in Middleburg cemetery. Rest.

Last Wednesday some of our folks boy visited the Washington Monument on South Mountain, near Boonsboro. Just a huge pile of stones, as some one said—"Shaped like an old-fashioned bee hive," erected in 1827 to the memory of the First President of the U.S. and believed to be one of the finest monuments in his honor. It is wide enough to enter, and has a spiral stone stair way leading to an observatory near the top, which gives a wide out look of the surrounding country. In Sad But Loving Remembrance of our dear Husband and Father, JOSHUA BEINAMAN, who passed away one year ago today, September 11, 1939

When I saw my precious husband, Whom I tendered with such care, Slowly fading from my presence, How my aching heart despaired.

Dearest husband, thou has left me, And thy loss I deeply feel; But 'tis God who has bereft me He can all my sorrows heal. BY HIS DEVOTED WIFE.

We had a father, who was kind and true, And now he has left us, we shall see him no more, He has gone to join the Angels, on that beautiful shore.

Rest in peace, dear father, your work is o'er. Your willing hands will work no more, A loving father, both true and kind, A truer father you could not find.

By his son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. LOUIS BIEKER. One year ago you left me, dear father, How I miss your loving face Oh! you left me to remember, None on earth can take your place.

By his son and daughter-in-law MR. & MRS. FRANKLIN REINAMAN. Just a year ago we laid you to rest, And folded your cold hands upon your breast, In silence you suffered, in patience you bore, Until God called you home to suffer no more. MRS. BESSIE ECKARD.

APPROACH OF WINTER, AND MOTORING.

Annapolis, September 10th.-With the approach of winter, with its longer nights, Governor Herbert R. O'Conor's Maryland Traffic Safety Committee urgently requests of all motorists the courtesy of dimming lights when approaching another vehicle. Complaints reaching the office of the Safety Committee here report that bright lights were a potential cause of accidents in all sections of the State over the Labor Day holiday, and that Maryland motorists generally are ignoring this simple safety measure.

If motorists would realize it, the Safety Committee points out, failure to accord this simple courtesy to approaching motorists may well involve a high degree of danger for the oc-

Baffles American Tourists

The thing that always baffles American cruise passengers passing through the Panama canal is to see the sun rise from the Pacific at Panama City and set in the Atlantic at Colon. The reason is that the canal runs from the northwest at Colon to the southeast at Panama City and although Panama City is on the Pacific, it is east of Colon, which is on the Atlantic. Officers of the Grace Line ships have the most difficult time explaining this and, when a passenger asks whether the ship is proceeding east or west and the steward correctly replies that she is moving either north or south, an argument is certain to ensue.

Florida's Edible Fish

Of the more than 300,000,000 pounds of fish caught in Florida waters annually, little more than one-third are of the edible variety, according to R. L. Dowling, state supervisor of conservation. The non-food fish, mostly menhaden and sharks, are used in the manufacture of fertilizer, oils and novelties, Dowling emplained.

New Martian Oasis Seen, Find Clouds 20 Miles Up

Discovery on the planet Mars of a new dark green oasis, and a new canal leading to it, and of clouds standing at the almost incredible altitude of more than 20 miles, was announced from New York by Earl C. Slipher on his return from South Africa.

He brought 8,000 photographs, taken at Blomfontein, at Lamont-Hussey observatory, when the planet was closest to earth in 15 years last July and August. Stationed at Lowell observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., he went to South Africa because vision there was better.

His photos supply a wealth of in-formation, which while not proving that there is life and vegetation on Mars, challenges science to find some explanation.

With Mrs. Slipher he returned on the steamer Brastagi from Capetown. The steamer passed through the South Atlantic area and the Brastagi's officers prepared manifestos of cargo and destinations in case the ship was stopped by a belligerent warship.

The new oasis is a dark spot about 50 miles in diameter below and to the right of the lower tip of Mars Syrtis Major. The latter is a large, dark area, shaped somewhat like South America. From what would be its "Cape Horn" region, Slipher photographed and saw a new canal about 500 miles long, running off to the right and ending in the oasis.

Neither of these two features had ever before been seen on Mars. Under the theory that vegetation explains the dark areas and canals, the new formation would indicate progress of some sort on the red planet

Dr. Slipher said he did not know what the dark areas and canals

"But," he added, "if they are not vegetation, no suggestion has been made that explains them." He also verified another canal which previously had never been seen clearly. The high clouds were photographed at the edge of the planet, where their altitude could be judged by the somewhat clear zone between them and Mars' surface. They developed in about 24 hours from a long haze patch directly over the planet, which Slipher said seemed to be clouds.

Most of this haze vanished and in its place the high cloud wheeled off to the planet's edge. High clouds have been seen before in this edge position on Mars, but they seemed to be under 20 miles altitude.
"These clouds, I suspect," said

Slipher, "necessitate the conclusion that Mars clouds may be more than 20 miles above the surface.'

This places Martian clouds five to ten miles higher than earth clouds and goes far to substantiate the presence on Mars of considerable atmosphere. Thinness of Mars atmosphere has been one of the theories opposing possible life there.

Spurns $25,000 Legacy

To Wed Man of Choice NEWARK. - Cupid's arrow has proven gold-tipped after all for Virginia Cocalis, 24-year-old Wellesley college graduate, who sacrificed a $25,000 legacy to marry the man of her choice.

The girl was wed to George Mc-Millan, 27 years old, former Washington and Knoxville, Tenn., newspaper man, despite a provision in her father's will that she would forfeit her legacy if she married a man not of the Greek Orthodox faith. McMillan is a Baptist.

After the ceremony, the bride's sister, Mrs. Maria Cabouras, said the newlyweds would receive "many gifts" from the family. She indicated the "gifts" would more than compensate the girl for her deci-

Dynamite Truck Crashes; No One Even Scratched

COLUMBUS. - It isn't often a truck driver carrying 8,000 pounds of dynamite can crash into a utility pole and live to tell the tale. Glenn Helms, South Connellsville, Pa., is the exception. His dynamite-laden truck skidded near here, bounced across a ditch, tore through a picket fence, bowled over a utility pole, narrowly missed several trees and finally stopped a few feet from an unoccupied house-without Helms suffering a scratch.

"Dynamite won't explode unless it's under pressure," explained Helms, "and mine wasn't under pressure."

THE MARRYING OF NELLIE GRAY

By ELSIE J. PEARSON (McClure Syndicate-WNU Service.)

OU all know Nellie Gray, who lives on the hill in a big house, has a very nice family, a sport car and a hauteur as affected by the "very best" people. And, of course, if you know her, you know Bob Swett - big, jovial, well liked, well known, with a record of achievement in his town in this or that activity, and a good job with a comfortable income,

But poor Nellie Gray; no one knew her well, not even herself. Her mother taught her the proper expressions of scorn, how to smile without warmth, but all her embellishments to the old-time art of being highly snobby she had precociously taught herself. She built for herself a shell of coldness, and even her friends were not familiar enough with her to be contemptuous of her. But these porch oracles predicted a great come-down for Nellie some day; in fact they thought they could trace it already.

It was generally admitted by the fairer sex that Bob Swett had the requirements for an ideal beau. Knowing this himself, undoubtedly, was the reason he had aspired to Nellie. His aspirations were on the verge of realization, friends of the two thought. About a hair and a half ahead of Marmaduke Paunceforte, known to the discerning ragamuffins of the lower village as "Dish-rag" Paunceforte. This was by virtue of Bob's having two certified nights a week, one at home, and one theater night, while Paunceforte rated but one, and that not inviolate. Mr. Gray frankly liked Bob. Mrs. Gray thought it unbecoming and a weakness in one to express anything but dislike. And Nellie was afraid of letting herself slip because of what people might say of the match.

Bob kissed her one night, and it was not quite fair. She stumbled on a vine on the porch stairs, and gallant Bob, lucky boy, was right there to catch her. He held her for a moment longer than he should have done and then he noticed how conveniently close her face was, how alluring her lips, and so he kissed her. Nellie, contrary to his expectations, nestled her blonde head on his shoulder and seemed quite satis-

The door opened, though they didn't hear it, and a heavy creaking tread was heard, one peculiar to overfed, underworked matrons.

If one can imagine shock, grief, surprise, hauteur, anger and coldness all burning in two words, imagine then how Mrs. Gray disturbed the peace with her "WHY, HEL-EN!" Nellie, dutiful daughter, well trained, guiltily disengaging herself, went and stood beside her mother. Mrs. Gray pierced poor Bob with her eyes, then roasted him to a turn on the spit of scathing scorn.

"Mr. Swett, to think that you dare -just think of it-dare to force your cheap and unwelcome affections on my Helen, on her own grounds, in her own home! Like a vulgar tradesman, snatching kisses at back doors. If I were you, I'd go now; and in the future, if you cannot control your emotions, it is better, for decency's sake, to see little of Helen.'

"Mother, you don't-" Nellie began. Mrs. Gray put a capable hand on Nellie's mouth, and said:

"Now, now, dear, it's all right, and I'll see that it won't happen again." With that she swept the unwilling Helen into the house, and the door slammed behind the two. Bob gaped at the door, and a large round tear of humiliation and anger stood in each eye. He smacked his fist into open palm, and ground out, "By the holy mackerel, I'll marry her, in spite of the old woman." He went crunching down the graveled driveway. "She doesn't want a real man," he modestly observed, 'with a bean on his shoulders, and a little gumption. She wants a wishywishy rotter, with money and a rotten name among real men. These pin-headed girls, they're disgusting.' But he was unwilling to believe it, so he banished those evil thoughts with a mental wish for the final disposition of amiable Mrs. Gray. But opposition worthy of its name always acts as a spur to a man worthy of his caption.

He called her up in the morning, and found that she had a golf engagement and a dance scheduled with Marmaduke for the afternoon and evening. Bob tried to give his voice an authoritative tone.

"Nellie," he began, "I must see you tonight." "Really," she raised her voice to that dangerous level, "and If I can't?" "Oh, I know you better than that. It's a question of whether you will or you won't, not whether you can or you can't. Is your mother still huffy, or had I better meet you down town?"

Silence for a moment, then the voice back on a normal level said, "Oh, you persistent wretch. Down town, I suppose. Bob, you know, I almost quarreled with mother over you last night. She said some perfectly horrid things about you. She doesn't mean them, I know for sure. And, Bob, I didn't mind last night at all. I hope you didn't feel bad over what mother said. The same time at the same place then. Bye-bye."

"Well, that's that," said Bob, as he hung up with a satisfied air. He paid a hurried visit to the City Hall, conferred with certain officials, then paid a visit to the jeweler, and picked out two articles of jewelry with great care, and even accepted the clerk's advice on a certain mat-

He met her that night at the same place at the same time, and, oh, occasion for great joy! there was a moon out. They both looked up at the moon, then at each other, and were highly satisfied, for they were good to look upon, and soothing to the eye. When they were in the cab, he felt her hand, and found a certain finger, and she made no move. She held up her hand to inspect his activities, and he knew with her smile that all was well. And because he was big and strong and well liked, he sealed the bargain with a kiss.

Then he began his great plea. He marshaled facts, arguments, pleas, entreaties, expostulations and threats, even, in a grand array and paraded them before Nellie. Bob, still with his satisfied smile, helped her out in front of an office, and because he was a clever lawyer, and some little convincer, they went

When it was quite all over, kiss, ring and all, the door jumped violently inward, and Papa and Mamma Gray stood framed in the doorway, incredulity frankly written on their faces. When they understood that the damage had been done, Mr. Gray, with a twinkle in his eye, and a familiar deep throated chuckle, wrung Bob's hand with hearty approval. "Knew you two were bound to do it. And good luck to Nellie was weeping on her mother's shoulder. "I got Bobbie's note tonight saying that he was going to marry you down here, and we hurried right down to be in time for the ceremony. Dear, dear, and I have been waiting 20 years to marry you in grand style, and then you had to do it in this dingy little hole. But I was so afraid for a while that you were going to marry Marma-

Miniatures of Washington Worn as Sign of Grief

The fashion for personal adornment with memorials of recently deceased relatives or of persons held in particular esteem reached its height in the decade between 1795 and 1805. It was an age of exaggerated and often ridiculous sentimentality for which the display of mourning jewelry afforded an individual and apparently satisfactory form of expression, writes Stephen Decatur in "American Collector."

In view of the reverential affection with which George Washington was regarded by all who knew him and, in fact, by the American people as a whole, it is not surprising that, following his death December 14, 1799, a veritable flood of jewelry appeared especially designed in his memory. Almost, it would seem, every one in the country felt his death as a personal bereavement and desired to wear some token indicative of this sentiment. Much of this Washington r al jewelry took the form of lugubrious miniature paintings set in pins or lockets, a familiar type of memento mori then extremely popular and which, apparently had first come into use about the middle of the Eighteenth century. Commonly, these miniatures depict a sorrowing female, beneath a weeping willow tree, languishing over a cinerary urn, a bust of Washington, or a tomb either carved with a bas-relief of the general or marked merely with his name and death date. Since this type of work was seldom scorned even by the best artists, many of these doleful scenes are beautifully executed; often, too, they are set in frames which are excellent examples of the goldsmiths' art.

But the miniature painters did not confine themselves solely to the production of melancholy subjects; miniature portraits of Washington met a wide, popular reception.

Dreary But Diamond Laden The sandy shore of South West Africa is literally studded with dia-

Along the 850 mile coast, for 30 to 80 miles back from the Atlantic, there is a dreary waste of undulating sand and shifting dunes, but this miniature coastal Sahara is the country's jewel box.

Near here, in 1908, German railroad workmen discovered diamonds. The gems are supposed to have been washed up by the sea. Dredges also bring them up off shore.

In 1934 these sands gave up $5,710,500 in diamonds; in 1935 more than twice that sum; in 1936 almost three times the 1934 amount.

These otherwise barren beaches yield about one-fifth of the world's annual supply. The gems are small but brilliant and of good quality. Half the country's revenue is paid by the diamond output.

The sand hills from which the iewels are "mined" vary in height from 30 to 100 feet along the coast, and rise to 300 and 400 feet three miles inland Those protected with a sparse growth of vegetation do not shift, but others often move as much as five feet on a stormy

Senator Radcliffe Active In People's Court Move

United States Senator George L. Radcliffe took "time out" this week from pressing affairs in Washington and his own campaign for re-election to urge the people of Maryland to approve the People's Court Amendment when they go to the polls in November.

Senator Radcliffe, a member of the all-important Committee on Finance, has been closely confined to his Washington office during the preparation of the new National Defense Budgets. This week, W. Clinton McSherry, Frederick attorney and State Chairman of the Non-Partisan Citizens Committee for the Adoption of the People's Court Amendment, was authorized to make public the following statement by Senator Radcliffe:

"The reorganization of the People's Court (made possible by the 1939 General Assembly) was doubtless a step in the right direction, but it has become apparent that further changes in the Court procedure and organization are desirable. The proposed Constitutional Amendment offers possibilities for the development of the People's Court along sound and helpful lines. It seems to me that this Amendment is indeed very desirable and should be adopted by the voters in the November election.'

Commenting on the Amendment

Mr. McSherry said:
"The fact that the Amendment is being strongly supported by Senator Radcliffe, former Governor Nice, Governor O'Conor, Mayor Howard Jackson of Baltimore and Addison E. Mulliken, the Republican Gubernatorial nominee in 1926, vouches for the nonpartisan nature of the proposed legis-

...rtistry Can Be Employed

Also at the Dinner Table America's housewives can now be real artists even without palettes. That's the contention of Mrs. Lucille Fisher, well-known New York floral artist, who advocates artistry at the dining table as a means whereby every woman can express her individuality and charm to her home and gain a reputation for graciousness.

"A woman's ingenuity," Mrs. Fisher says, "can be expressed in no other place so successfully as in her table arrangement, whether that table is for a family gathering or for guests.

Suggested by Mrs. Fisher for a gay table are short-stemmed flowers of almost any variety in very low containers at either side of a soft green polished plate glass plaque, to simulate flowers bordering a still pool.

Another arrangement which can be duplicated by any hostess, utilizes two glass apples, holding pink roses and set on a mirrored glass plaque at one end of the table, while on the opposite end, the roses are placed in a glass log on a mirrored plaque. The attractive arrangement at either end eliminates the annoyance to guests caused by a center arrangement of flowers.

Municipal Taxes Low

In Washington State OLYMPIA, WASH.—City taxes in Washington are nothing if not varied -ranging all the way from 45 mills down to no levy at all.

The little town of Milton, a suburb of Tacoma, got through the year without having to levy any 1940 taxes at all for municipal purposes, realizing enough revenue from state liquor funds and other money to obviate a property tax levy.

Another little hamlet, East Stanwood, led the state with 45 mills. Under the state's 40-mill tax limitation law cities are allowed to levy only 15 mills a year, but many of them hold special elections to approve higher levies. The average larger-city levy is around 16 to 18

THE EVER-PRESENT GOD

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 139:1-12, 23, 24. GOLDEN TEXT—If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love hem, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.—John 14:23.

"The Psalm of the Unavoidable God"-so Abingdon characterizes Psalm 139, but goes on to say, "It's main theme is 'God Cares.' cares personally and individually. The omniscience and omnipresence of God, in the trying of the hearts of men, rightly brings fear to the ungodly, but to those who love and serve Him it can bring only assurance and joy.

The sublime concept of God here presented is an evidence of the divine inspiration of the Bible, for no human philosopher could ever have attained to or expressed such an understanding of the true nature of God. Only the infinite, all-knowing God, speaking through man, could give us this magnificent Psalm. It reveals that

I. God Knows Everything (vv. 1-6)

He is entirely unlimited in His true and eternal knowledge of things. Man is always limited in his knowledge of himself, of the world in which he lives, and of God, except as He reveals Himself. Our knowledge is not only partial, but progressive, going from one fact to another; but God knows all things perfectly and entirely from the beginning, yes, from all eternity.

One might well suppose that such a Being would be concerned only with the great and mighty forces of the universe, but we are told that He has an exact and intelligent understanding of and interest in even such simple details of life as our 'downsitting and . . . uprising.'

God is not so foolish as man. He does not put things and power above personality. He is interested in you and in me-is vitally, personally and blessedly concerned about each one of us. Knowing all about us, He builds a garrison of understanding love around us (v. 5; see Phil. 4:7 R. V.), and keeps His eternally powerful but tender hand upon us, if we permit Him so to do. Reader, have you submitted your life to His control through Jesus Christ our

II. God Is Everywhere (vv. 7-12). In our humanity we are limited, not only in knowledge, but also in our ability to be in more than one place at a time. The Bible tells us what our reason would expect; that God, the infinite One, is everywhere at all times. This does not eist would have us believe) that God is lost in nature, bound up in the rocks and trees, but that He is everywhere immanent in majestic power and love, sustaining all things, controlling and directing the destinies of His universe. He is not afar off. letting the world care for itself (as the deist would say),

> "But here in present majesty, As in His courts on high

The man who would hide from God and flee from the Holy Spirit finds no comfort in these verses. He may attempt to hide in heaven or in the abode of the dead, but God is there. If he could ride with the speed of morning light (v. 9) to the uttermost parts of the earth, God is there before him. Darkness, which men think will hide their evil deeds. is like daylight to "Him with whom we have to do" (Heb. 4:13).

But why flee from a loving God? Why not come to Him in loving obedience, and then with the psalmist rejoice that we "cannot get beyond the circle of His love"? What a blessed truth it is that wherever these lines are read-in the home, the church, in a hospital, in a jail, in an airplane, in the depths of a mine, in darkness or in light, in the great city, or by one living alone in the wilderness-God, the infinite, allknowing, eternal, loving God, is He is right at your side, there. reader. Turn to Him, count on Him, love Him, serve Him.

III. God Searches Man's Heart (vv. 23, 24).

Verse 3 of our psalm teaches that God searches the hearts of all men, but here we find the psalmist wisely inviting God to search his own heart. It is one thing to know a universal truth; it is another matter to make it personal. It is one thing to know that God, against my will, is pointing out to me the sin and rebellion of my heart; it is quite another thing to open my heart voluntarily to His searching scrutiny.

Why did the Psalmist ask God to search him? That in trying his thoughts any wickedness might be revealed and put away. That is the important point. It is not enough to know that sin is there. We must ask God to give us grace to put it out, that He may then lead us in the "way everlasting."

The Word of God points the way of righteousness in both heart and Who will decide this day to walk in that way-in fellowship with the all-knowing, ever-present Lord?

1940 PROCLAMATION OF THE GOV-ERNOR OF MARYLAND PROPOS-ING AMENDMENTS TO THE CON-STITUTION OF THE STATE.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto two new sections, to be numbered 41-A and 41-B under a new sub-title "Part V-A—People's Courts," and to follow immediately after Section 41 of said Article, providing for the establishment of People's Courts; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

ned voters of the State for adoption of rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following two new sections, to be numbered 41-A and 41-B under the new sub-title "Part V-A—People's Courts," and to follow immediately after Section 41 of said Article, be and the same are hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

to be numbered and sub-titled as aloresaid:

PART V-A—PEOPLE'S COURTS.

41-A. There is hereby created a People's Court of Baltimore City. Said Court shall consist originally of a Chief Judge and two Associate Judges; the number of such Judges may thereafter be increased or decreased by the General Assembly by law but no such decrease shall affect the term of any Judge then in office or his right to stand for election for further terms as hereinafter provided. The Judges of said Court shall have the qualifications prescribed by Section 2 of this Article and shall have practiced law in the City of Baltimore for a total period of at least five years; shall hold office subject to the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 of this Article with regard to retirement and removal from office; and shall receive from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City such compensation as shall be fixed by law by the General Assembly, which shall not be diminished during continuance in

The Governor shall appoint to said Court, to take office on the first Monday of May, 1941, one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1942; one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1944, and a Chief Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1946; and, upon the creation of any additional office on said Court by increase in the number of Judges pursuant to this Section, shall appoint an Associate Judge for such term, not exceeding eight years and expiring on the thirty-first day of December immediately following a Congressional election, as the law creating such office shall prescribe. If any vacancy occurs during any such original term, the Governor shall appoint a successor to serve for the remainder of such term. After the expiration of said Court shall be for eight years from the expiration of the preceding term, and shall be filled as follows:

(1) Any incumbent Judge of said Court shall be eligible, at the Congressional election immediately preceding the expiration of his period of appointment or term, for election or re-election to succeed himself (a) for a full term of eight years, except as provided in (b) hereof; or (b) for the unexpired remainder of the current eight year term, if his appointment will expire before the end of such term. No person other than an incumbent Judge shall be eligible for election to said Court.

(2) Whenever a vacancy shall occur on eligible for election to said Court.

(2) Whenever a vacancy shall occur on said Court from any cause the Governor shall appoint to said Court a Judge who shall hold office under such appointment until the thirty-first day of December immediately following the first Congressional election occurring six months or more after the date of his appointment. No Judge of said Court, who has stood for election to succeed himself and not been elected, shall thereafter be appointed to said Court, and no Judge of said Court, who has failed to stand for election when eligible, shall be appointed to succeed himself.

(3) In order to qualify for election or stand for election when eligible, shall be appointed to succeed himself.

(3) In order to qualify for election or re-election an incumbent Judge shall file with the Supervisors of Election of Baltimore City not later than thirty days before the date of the applicable election a certificate signed and duly acknowledged, stating the basis of his eligibility and the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible for election. Thereupon, the name of such Judge, together with a statement of the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible, shall be placed upon the ballot to be used in said City in such election, with no party designation whatever and with no opposing candidate, with space provided to permit any voter to cast his vote for or against the continuance in office of such Judge; if the votes cast for or against his continuance in office, such Judge shall hold office for the unexpired remainder of the term or for the full term of eight years, as the case may be.

Liness his office shall have been abalished.

Unless his office shall have been abolished pursuant to this Section, each Judge of said Court shall continue to hold office after the expiration of his period of appointment or term until a successor shall qualify. As used in this Section "Congressional election" means any of the biennial elections at which members of the House of Representatives are regularly chosen.

Said Court shall have such jurisdiction

ify. As used in this Section "Congressional election" means any of the biennial elections at which members of the House of Representatives are regularly chosen.

Said Court shall have such jurisdiction (which may be made exclusive as to any classe or classes of civil cases in Baltimore City), with such right of appear, therefrom, and the Chief Judge and Associate Judges thereof shall have such powers and duties, as the General Assembly shall prescribe from time to time by law. The Judges of said Court shall have full power to regulate by rules the administration, procedure and practice of said Court; such rules shall have the force of law until rescinded or modified by said Judges or the General Assembly. Unless otherwise provided by law, (1) all powers granted by this Section or by law to said Court or the Judges thereof as a body may be exercised by a majority of the Judges thereof, and (2) said Court shall not be a Court of Record.

There shall be a Chief Constable of said Court, who shall perform therein the duties prescribed for Clerks of Court by Section 10 of this Article and such other duties as shall be prescribed by law or by rule of said Court. Such Chief Constable shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, all original, subsequent and additional constables and clerks employed pursuant to this Section, and shall supervise and clerks. There shall be appointed originally fourteen such constables and sixteen such clerks; the number of either may, on the joint recommendation of said Court and said Chief Constable, be increased by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City; no vacancy in the position of any constable shall expressly find that the filling of such vacancy is necessary for the efficient operation of said Court. After adoption of this Section no constable shall be appointed by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City pursuant to Section 42 or Section 43 of this Article IV, but constables in office upon the adoption of this Section shall hold office for the remainder of their terms, and the constables first appointed under this Section shall take office at the expiration of such terms.

41B. The General Assembly shall have power by law to establish a People's Court

41B. The General Assembly shall have power by law to establish a People's Court in any county, or any part thereof, incorporated city or town in this State, except Baltimore City, and to prescribe and from time to time to alter (1) the number, qualifications, tenure, and method of selection of the Judges of any such Court, and their powers, duties and compensation, except that the term of office or compensation of any Judge shall not be reduced during his continuance in office; (2) the jurisdiction of any such Court (which may be made exclusive as to any class or classes of civil cases in such county, or any part thereof, city or town) and the right of appeal therefrom; (3) the number, qualifications, tenure, method of selection, duties, and compensation of all constables, clerks or other employees for such Court; and (4) all other matters relating to such Court, After adoption of this Section the Governor shall not be required to appoint any particular number of Justices of the Peace in any county or in any of the several election districts of the counties as now provided in Section 42 of the Constitution.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing sections hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1940, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT"

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR PEOPLE'S

"This amendment provides for establishing People's Court in this State by adding two new sections numbered 41A and 41-B to Article IV of the Constitution. The first section (41-A) establishes a People's Court for Baltimore City and regulates or provides for regulating all matters relating to the Court, the Judges of the Court and the Constables and Clerks. The second section (41-B) authorizes the General Assembly to establish a People's Court in any other county, incorporated city or town of this State and to provide for all matters relating to said Court and the Judges. Constables, Clerks and Employees of said Court"; and below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For People's Courts Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceeding had in accordance with said Article XIV. adoption or rejection.

Section I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring, that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts," of the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

ed by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third (and) the sixth and seventh, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, (and) the sixth circuit, and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit, In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes and the circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the circuits at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of asaid intermediate terms, to whic

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be apointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's, and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge is elected from the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successors shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge is elected from wontgomery County and the remaining associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be a resident of said county and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any confidence or candidates for candidates or candidates or candidates or candidates as the cas election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled offices or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall be subject to the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges of the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges of the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges for the seventh circuit shall are seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall are seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall aready reside in said county in which event only one of said associate judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judges or two associate judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judges or two associate judges than herein permitted to resi

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts," of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it exected by or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two Houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department." sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts," the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any one of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms, to which jurors shall on the how circuits, including the second, the third and the sixth

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County, and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate in the said Associate six months are second to the said t ment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serva until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit bergin provided for and elected by the

The additional judge for the sixth circuit The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected

In accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1, of Article II, title "Executive Department," of the State Constitution, to provide that a Governor shall not be eligible to succeed himself for the term directly following that for which he was elected and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection. Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That Section 1 of Article II, title "Executive Department," of the State Constitution, be and the same is hereby repealed and re-enacted with amendments to read as follows:

Section 1. The executive power of the State shall be vested in a Governor, whose term of office shall commence on the second Wednesday of Januaray next ensuing his election, and continue for four years, and until his successor shall have qualified and he shall be ineligible to succeed himself as Governor for the term directly, following that for which he was elected.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1940, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CITY OF ANNAPOLIS, THIS 29TH

OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE

HUNDRED AND FORTY.

Man, 98, Killed by Auto,

Outlived 13 Children Frank Simpson is dead. The 98year-old Civil war veteran met death in an automobile accident.

Whenever Frank Simpson was asked if he had any friends or relatives, he always said, "I've outlived them all!" He was 98 years old.

Simpson outlived all his 13 children. His wife, Louisa, died 41 years ago. His sister died 36 years ago, and his last surviving brother, 34 years ago. But "Old Man Simpara", lived 20 son" lived on.

Once, in one of the few times he ever talked about himself, Simpson revealed that when the Civil war broke out-he was about 19 thenhe had fled New York state and swam the St. Lawrence river into Canada, to avoid being conscripted.

In Ontario for years Simpson made a living, and reared his family. After a while, he drifted west, and for a time worked in a cheese factory in British Columbia. Fiftyfive years ago, he moved into the State of Washington and had lived there ever since. In Spokane for many years he plied his trade—a many years he plied his trade—a carpenter. In 1928, Simpson came to Seattle. He was in his late eighties and could get no work.

Simpson applied for relief in 1931, and received payments off and on thereafter. But many times he failed to show up—and no one knew why. Towards the end, he was receiving $30 every month as an oldceiving $30 every month as an oldage pension Simpson's last years were spent like many another man who can be seen walking aimlessly up Second Avenue South, down Washington street, listening half-heartedly to street orators, then shuffling on. No one knowing where he had been in his life, and no one-including himself-knowing where he was going.

Perhaps Simpson's only distinction among the old men was that he soon would have reached a hundred years; when Simpson was a baby everyone still was talking about Andy Jackson, who had just left the presidency. And when Simpson came to the State of Washington, Seattle hadn't yet had the fire which burned a village and created a great city.

Harmless Elements May Make Deadly Poison

Strange as it seems, deadly poison may be made from harmless elements-it takes only carbon, hydrogen and oxygen to compound lethal carbolic acid. Strangely, too, some deadly poisons are rendered perfectly harmless when they are in compound with other elements.

Phosphorus is very poisonous. As little as one-eighth of a grain of it has been known to cause death-and there are 7,000 grains in a pound At one grain each-eight times the minimum lethal dose-a pound of phosphorus would kill 7,000 people.

In the normal human body there is about two pounds of phosphorus. Much of it is phosphorus carbonate, which is found in the bones. Harmless compounds of phosphorus are

Weaving Popular Again

Weaving of tweeds from native New Brunswick wool is rapidly developing as a favorite homecraft, and is being taught to classes of girls under the dominion-provincial youth-training plan. In Fredericton, N. B., the revived art is being taken up not only by youngsters but by society women, too-the latter interested in its "cultural" aspect.

New Brunswick women's interest was quickened when they saw government-sponsored style shows displaying modish garments tailored from the home-woven tweeds at little cost.

The weavers are conducting the revival in a streamlined modern manner. Like milady's hosiery, the color tones of the especially dyed yarns bear distinctive names; atmospheric of New Brunswick, they include goldenrod, copper, spruce green, sandstone red, strawberry, blueberry, Fundy gray.

Dental Fluoroscope

A fluoroscope which would permit the dentist to make a fluoroscopic examination of teeth without taking X-ray pictures is offered in a patent (No. 2,179,249) issued to Armando F. Conto of Chicago. It is shaped like the ordinary dentist's mirror. It is made up of a fluorescent screen, hermetically sealed in a ring be-tween two thin sheets of plastic material known as "Pyralin." Mounted on a long handle it may be inserted in the mouth.

When X-rays are directed against the teeth they pass through and strike the fluorescent screen, to produce an image or "shadowgraph" of the teeth on the fluoroscope, which reveals the presence of any decay or cavities.

Body Temperatures

The body temperature to most people means 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. Yet actually the temperature of the body is seldom exactly at this level but varies in a daily rhythm, with a minimum somewhere between midnight and 6 a. m. and a maximum between about 4 to 6 p. m. The elephant, the largest mammal and the animal whose heat production is greatest in proportion to its surface, has the lowest body temperature of any large animal, only 96.6.

CHEVROLET SALES.

Chevrolet dealers sold at retail nearly a quarter of a million new and used passenger cars and trucks in August, it was announced this week by William E. Holler, general sales manager. The month's sales report registered gains as high as 59.3 per cent over comparable periods, with new truck sales topping the list.

During the month, a total of 63,116 new passenger cars and trucks were retailed, an increase of 29.2 per cent over the same period last year. In the final 10 days, 21,507 new passenger and commercial cars were sold, a gain of 31.8 per cent over the compar-able period last year and 12.1 per cent ahead of the preceding period this year.

Used car sales for the month totaled 162,428, a 33.4 per cent increase over last year, and a gain of more than 5,664 units over July this year. Figures of the final 10-day period show a total of 66,183 sales, 41.7 per cent ahead of the same period last year and 38 per cent in advance of the second 10 days of August this year.

Truck sales for the month were

Truck sales for the month were 16,538, an increase of 30.4 per cent over 1939, with the final 10-day figure hitting 6,641. This is a 59.3 per cent advance over the same period last year and is 42.4 per cent ahead of the preceding period this August.
