MEMORIAL DAY

Will be observed Saturday, May 30

Taneytown's observance of this holiday will be in keeping with the times this year. The route of parade will be shortened, due to the efforts to save gasoline that is so vitally needed in defeating the enemy.

The parade will form at the Uniontown road at 1:30, with short services at the Soldier's Memorial, proceeding to the Reformed cemetery where the main program will be given. Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, of Gettysburg, will be the principal speaker.

The usual decorating of graves in the other cemeteries will be made by the families and friends of the departed ones.

DREAMS AND VISIONS

Our good friend L. B. H. rightly exclaims the fellow who predicted the end of war Nov. 28th. We could all hope he was right, but in the face of the fact that Hitler has robbed all the invaded countries to feed his Nazi hordes, and the added fact that he has, and still butchers hundreds of thousands of the innocent in all countries invaded, is pretty conclusive proof that the fight will last a while yet. I used to be one of the "short war" guys, but now I fear it will last years, certainly four or five more, and maybe longer. We might as well get used to less food and clothing and all other things considered a part of the American Way of Life. That way is closed for the duration, and we will do well to realize the fact.

Joseph was a dreamer, and his brethren sold him into Egypt for his dreams, but this sale was their own salvation when Joseph rightly interpreted Pharoah's dream of seven fat and seven lean years. Belshazzar dreamed, and the hand writing on the wall terrified him, but Daniel, prophet of God, interpreted it rightly, but that didn't save Belshazzar.

In a later article for another publication, perhaps next week if the editor agrees I shall tell of a dream-vision had by a friend of undoubted veracity, whom I knew nearly half a century ago.

I can not interpret either my own dreams or the dreams of others, but I believe them interpretable, so will tell next week of a dream or vision had in his youth by a minister who later became the secretary of the general Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Pretty big guy, eh? Yes, I think so, and knowing him fairly well, I have complete respect for his opinions, and for his veracity.

COUNTIAN FOUND DEAD

Louis J. Tanner, 69, was found dead in the woods near his home, not far from the old Patapsco road, Thursday morning. Dr. James Marsh, New Windsor, Carroll County Medical Examiner, who with Sheriff Walter L. Shipley investigated, said that death was due to a heart attack and had probably occurred about twenty-four hours before the body was discovered by Edgar Lockard, a neighbor.

TANEYTOWN KIWANIS CHARTER NIGHT.

Observed with 112 Members and Guests present.

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting at Sauble's Inn, on Wednesday evening, May 20, observed the third anniversary of its organization with the celebration of its annual Charter Night. Besides, practically its own membership, together with a number of invited guests, there were present visitors from the Baltimore, Reisterstown, Pikesville Kiwanis Clubs. There were present in all one hundred and twelve persons. Visiting Kiwanians were introduced by their respective Club officers.

President Robert Smith presided. Group singing, which was a feature of the program, was in charge of Raymond Wright, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

Dr. Zinn, of Baltimore, President of the Capital District, was introduced and spoke briefly, congratulating the Taneytown Club upon its achievements during the three years of its life, predicting larger activities for the future. He called attention to the coming annual convention of Kiwanis International to be held at Cleveland in June, and urged that every Club in the District have a delegation present at the convention.

The program was in charge of the Committee on Attendance, Harry M. Mohney, chairman. The following numbers were given:

Vocal solos by Mrs. Marion Rue, Mrs. Wallace Yingling accompanist: "The Reconciliation," and "Who is Sylvia?" Duets by Mrs. Howard Baker and Mr. Delmont Koons, "Believe Me if all Those Enduring Young Charms" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Rev. Nevin E. Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed Church, at Hanover, was introduced as the speaker of the evening. In his usual humorous and yet serious way, Rev. Smith challenged those present to realize the importance of the individual as opposed to the mass, and predicted that when the present crisis in our nation can be evaluated it will be found that success will have been possible because individual men and women have made their contribution of thought and service.

FINE LETTER FROM A SERVICE MAN

May 13, 1942.

To my friends on The Record Staff: Just a few lines to express the greatfulness I feel to you all for sending me the Record. It is so good to get all the happenings at home. I find out that my friends keep me pretty well informed but they don't elaborate on the news.

I was very sorry to hear of the death of your Editor. He will be missed so much in that locality.

I really would like to tell the folks back home all my activities and our camp and equipment, but me are asked to do it so I must save it until our enemies are licked.

If you find this note worth publishing you may do so. I might add that I would like to write more people and more often but time doesn't permit. We are training for war in war times and we are using every minute available. Best wishes to you all.

HARMAN G. ALBAUGH.

PUBLIC WORKS DEFERRED

According to announcement Monday by Brig. Gen. Philip B. Flemming, Federal Works Administrator, all Federal public works projects not directly connected with the war effort are to be sidetracked for the duration. He said:

"A complete reexamination of the 1,400 projects on the program had been under way for about a week and doubtless would result in the abandonment of many of them.

The principal objectives of the review of projects are: Elimination of all except those which are indispensable to the direct war effort.

Further restrictions of the use of critical materials to an "irreducible minimum."

Col. William M. Carey, FWA chief engineer, is directing the review. Exhaustive studies of all projects are being made through FWA regional organizations. Members of the chief engineer's staff are obtaining first-hand information from engineers in the field and reexamining all projects from the standpoint of their absolute war necessity.

Some of the projects which may be halted or greatly modified already have been started. The majority still are in the planning stage.

"Unless a project is indispensable, it will be side-tracked for the duration," said General Fleming. "This means that many approved projects, some of which were given a green light prior to Pearl Harbor, may be abandoned."

TO OUR PATRONS

On account of no Rural Mail delivery on Saturday (Memorial Day), May 30, 1942, The Carroll Record will go to press Thursday, instead of Friday of next week. Please send your copy for advertisements, news, etc., one day earlier than usual.

MAY TERM OF COURT

Judge Jas. E. Boylan, Jr. Presiding.

The Circuit Court for Carroll County finished the trial of criminal cases in two days—Monday and Tuesday, with Judge James E. Boylan, Jr., on the bench. The trial of civil cases will begin next Monday.

The most notable case was that of Charles A. Warner, Jr., colored, an inmate of the Maryland Penitentiary, who was brought here by special guard. He had been indicted on four counts at the May term of the court, charged with burglary on March 12, 1941, at the dwelling of Norman B. Boyle, Willis St., prominent banker of that city.

On being found guilty by the jury the prisoner was sentenced by Judge Boylan to ten years in the Maryland Penitentiary. This sentence will start upon completing a five-year term he is now serving as the result of conviction in a Baltimore county case, having served about a year of that sentence.

Quite a number of cases of minor importance were tried. Other more important cases were these:

Ralph C. Myers, Westminster, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $1,342.50 from Western Maryland College while employed there. He pleaded guilty to the second count of the indictment, embezzlement, and not guilty to the first count of larceny which the state then abandoned. He was sentenced by the court to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction. Mr. Myers was represented by D. Eugene Walsh. Complete restitution was made before indictment, it was reported.

Robert Leon Carr, U. S. A. pleaded guilty to the larceny of money in the sum of $27.82 from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station at Sykesville. He was sentenced to two years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

Samuel Pickett, indicted for false pretense, giving a bogus check in the amount of $10 for gasoline purchased, pleaded guilty to the charge through his attorney, Theodore F. Brown. He was sentenced to 18 months in the Maryland Penitentiary.

Taneytown Choral Club.

The Taneytown Choral Club closed its work for the summer with a concert before a large audience in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney, Md., on Sunday night, May 17th.

At the last rehearsal the president Mrs. Emerson Rue, conducted a short business meeting when the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, David Hess; Vice-Pres., Delmont Koons; Secretary, Hazel Hess; Treasurer, Daniel Nail; Director, Mrs. Wallace Yingling and accompanist, Miss Hazel Hess.

The Choral Club members wish to thank the patrons, patronesses, the Kiwanis Club and all who so liberally helped to support the club and make this year a successful one.

The Choral Club will resume its work Oct. 1, 1942.

"PRODUCTION SOLDIER" LAUDED

Addressing the 37th. Annual Convention of the Maryland-District of Columbia Federation of Labor at Hagerstown, Monday, Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor paid high tribute to the "Production Soldier." Without the all-out effort of the "Production Soldier," he told the assembled delegates Democracy's cause would be doomed, indeed.

"Labor has every reason to be pleased with its achievements during these past critical months and with the position it now holds as a result of its splendid performance in this respect."

"In view of the fact that our State has enormous amounts of war contracts and is playing such an important role in providing necessary war equipment, the entire State, all its people, as well as those who are enrolled under the banner of labor, may well be proud of the record achieved," the Governor assured them.

Contrasting the situation of labor in free America as opposed to the situation in Germany itself, the Governor revealed that $29,026,326.52 had been paid out in Unemployment Compensation to workers of the State, and that the Reserve Fund totaled $41,662,295.87, as of April 30th.

In the field of industrial accidents, the Governor declared that approximately $2,000,000 had been paid in benefits during 1941; that the average waiting time between application for hearing and mailing of the award had been reduced from 46 days to 19 days, and other new procedures instituted for the convenience of Maryland's workers.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Gettysburg, May 18, 1942
To the Carroll Record Manager:
Dear Sir: Enclosed find amount for renewal subscription to The Carroll Record.

I was sorry, indeed, to have read of the passing away of The Record's fine editor, a few weeks ago. The Record came into our home in its early days of printing, and has been ever since. First my father, S. U. Reck, and after his death I, myself, have always had it, and find much of interest in it. I hope "Random Thoughts" column will be continued. Very truly,
ANNA M. RECK.

THE WEEK OF WAR REPORTS.

Departments' and Boards' Activities.

The White House reported the nation's vast cargo ship construction program is on schedule and "the American people can be assured that shipyards will do the job assigned to them." The statement said shipyards delivered 120 new vessels in the first 130 days of this year, 20 percent more than were built in all of 1941, and the production peak has not yet been reached.

American shipyards are building merchant vessels faster than ever before in the history of the world, the White House said. Cargo ships are being built in less than one-half the time.

TEN YEARS AS PASTOR CELEBRATED

The Rev. Walter E. Waybright recently celebrated ten years as pastor of the Chanceford Charge in York Co. Pastor Waybright has had a very successful ministry in this thriving rural parish. On the occasion of the anniversary a purse of $84.50, and a basket of flowers were presented to the Rev. and Mrs. Waybright.

During this decade the confirmed membership of St. Luke and St. James churches had a 33 percent net gain. The pastor officiated at the baptism of 160 infants, 112 funerals, and 42 weddings, and a total of 193 new members were received into both congregations. The apportioned benevolence paid in 1942 by St. Luke was 45 percent larger and by St. James Church was 95 per cent larger than a decade ago. The parish paid out for all forms of local expense and benevolences the sum of $55,584. Both congregations have satisfactorily completed major building programs—The Lutheran.

Mrs. Weybright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hockensmith, Middle St., Taneytown.

NAVAL RECRUITING OFFICER WILL BE IN TANEYTOWN

For the convenience of the young men of this community who desire information in regard to enlistment, either in the regular Navy or one of the different classes of naval reserves a Representative of the Navy Recruiting Service will be in Taneytown at the Postoffice Building on Wednesday, May 27, 1942 from 12:30 P. M. to 4:30, he will also make regular visits to this postoffice at the same time every other Wednesday in the future.

The U. S. Navy urgently needs young men to fill the many vacancies that now exist in our fast expanding fleet and air force. Each vacancy that exists is for a skilled position. The Navy offers free training in all these different positions plus a good salary that is practically all clear money. For those who want to make a career of Navy life and many of those who go in now will like it so well they will want to do just that—there are pensions after 20 years of service and many other benefits.

"Young Americans" cannot show a finer spirit of patriotism than by voluntary enlistment in the United States Navy.

SYNOD WILL MEET

The Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church will hold its annual convention in the Seminary Chapel at Gettysburg next week. Synod will open with the Holy Communion on Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Business sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, with a public service on Tuesday evening addressed by Rev. Dr. Edgar Rees Tulloss, president of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. The final service will be the ordination service on Wednesday evening.

Preceding the Synod, the Synodical Brotherhood will hold its convention at the same place with the opening service Sunday evening. Monday will be devoted to business and a discussion of the practical work of the Brotherhood. The Brotherhood banquet will be held Monday evening before the opening of Synod. A men's chorus from Trinity Church, Taneytown, will sing at the Sunday evening service. Merwyn C. Fuss will be the delegate of Trinity to the Brotherhood and Wm. B. Nail to the Synod.

TAX LAW TAKING SHAPE

The Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives is making enough progress on the income tax law for next year to enable us to know about what to expect to pay on the income of this year. The figures are not finally settled, but they are fairly well agreed upon.

To begin with, the exemptions are expected to be only $500 for a single person, which is less than $10 per week, and $1200 for a married couple, which is $23 per week. Then the rates will be nearly doubled for the lowest group, and very largely increased for the higher groups. The lowest rate as tentatively agreed upon is 6% for normal tax and 12% for surtax, making a total of 18% of all income above the exemptions.

The combined rate on income above $2000 will probably be 21% and above $4000 25%.

There has been an effort to abolish credit for earned income, but the latest proposal allows it to stand as before.

FIREMEN CONVENED

At Manchester on Thursday, May 21st

This year's convention of the Carroll County Fire Companies, held at Manchester, on Thursday, May 21 was a one-day affair. There was no parade due to the inclement weather.

The business meeting was held as usual and the following officers were elected for the following year: Pres., Emory Minnick, Union Bridge; Vice-Pres., James F. Burke, Taneytown; Treas., O. Warehime, and Sec'y, A. R. Yingling. The convention will be held in Union Bridge next year and in Taneytown in 1944.

State President Duke, of St. Mary's County was in attendance.

COMMENCEMENT AT WESTMINSTER

Degrees were conferred upon 117 graduates and three candidates for the degree of Master of Arts at the 72nd commencement exercises of Western Maryland College in Alumni Hall, Monday at 10 o'clock. Millard E. Tydings, United States Senator from Maryland, delivered the commencement address.

Senator Tydings spoke on "Freedom and its Preservation," tracing the rise of freedom from the time of Solon of Athens down through history to the passage of the Bill of Rights. He stressed the fact that there was little freedom left in the world outside of this country. He asserted it should be our chief concern to preserve this freedom and exhorted the graduates to carry on for the survival and development of democracy.

One hundred and fifteen graduates received their A. B. degrees and two their B. S. degrees. Eight were graduated cum laude and two summa cum laude.

Honorary degrees were conferred as follows: Upon Major General Milton A. Reckord was conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws; David Roger Englar, Admiralty Law, New York City; Judge William Henry Forsythe, Chief Judge of the 5th Judicial District, Ellicott City, Md.; and Charles Robert Miller, president of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, Baltimore, each a Doctor of Laws degree; Albert Buckner Coe, pastor 1st. Congregational Church, Oak Park, Ill.; John Milton Rogers, pastor St. Mark's Methodist Church, Baltimore and Norman Wallace Twiddy, District Supt., New York East Conference of the Methodist Church, Stanford, Conn., each a Doctor of Divinity Degree.

CAUTION WITH CHEMICALS

The public should be cautioned against the purchase of prepared extinguishing compounds for handling incendiary bombs, until they are tested and approved, warned Chief J. W. Just, State Fire Coordinator.

He revealed that a number of such products are now being offered for sale to the general public.

The United States Bureau of Mines has stationed an explosive engineer at College Park, Md., for the purpose of investigating and testing all materials and devices designed for the handling of bombs. All local directors of county defense organizations have been instructed by the Maryland Council Defense to submit all such materials to the State Fire Coordinator for investigation and tests.

Chief Just cited the case of one extinguishing compound which is being sold through department stores. The advertising for this product states, "even a child can use" and that its action is "to form a vaporous layer of oxygen over the flame and smother it." The actual fact is that the powder is highly explosive in dust cloud form.

Random Thoughts

(This is a reprint of an article formerly published in the Record. Owing to the popularity of these Random Thoughts we will for a time reproduce others of the same type.)

AN EARLY START

When one loses an hour early in a day, or a day early in the week, one has lost something that must be made up, or a permanent loss will be sustained. In our office, a holiday early in the week, with the mechanical end not functioning, means, for instance, getting our weekly issue into the mails in town for customary delivery to subscribers.

When one plans going on a large trip on a certain date, an early start, is most desirable. Or if an important engagement is entered into at any particular hour of the day, any member whose presence is needed should not take the liberty of being lazily late.

If one can not with reasonable assurance perform certain scheduled duties, he should not accept appointment or election. Being late in something that can not be successfully "laughed off" but represents what it is—inexcusable carelessness, no matter how "big" one may think himself to be, and need not bother about as little a fact as making a lot of just common folks wait, he is none the less reprehensible.

Promptness is one of the prime virtues. It is the same as paying a debt when promised, or being truthful to those who depend on him.

FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1942

"BUSINESS AS USUAL"

Taneytown with its share of war burdens and responsibilities indirectly affected by war conditions is still "carrying on" with a smile.

Young men being called to service, many citizens accepting war work in nearby cities and towns has decreased the town's population. The loss—temporary, we hope—of a large industry has lessened employment, reducing the purchasing power of many people in the town and vicinity.

Sugar rationing has affected the "sweet tooth." Many homes that had cake and ice cream on their menus are now faced with the elimination or at least a great reduction in these delicacies for the duration.

Automobile, gasoline and tire rationing has reduced the traffic on the streets, the business in stores; in fact everywhere in the town is a noticeably "slow-down" of business but every citizen is or should be determined to keep Taneytown on an "even keel" with "Business as Usual."

HIDDEN POISON

We are all familiar with stories of murder committed by concealing poison in food or drink, and with the more pleasant and justifiable procedure of luring children into taking medicine by burying it in jelly or other palatable substances. In either case the real objective is accomplished without the victim detecting the deadly portion, or the patient tasting the disagreeable dose.

We have lived to see something like this in wholesale measure in the field of political economy. A destructive force has gripped the United States, as well as other so-called democracies of the world. Socialism as an unmasked philosophy, and as a political issue, never got far in this country; but now, under the plea of emergency, and wearing a mask, it has eaten like a cancer into the very vitals of our liberty.

We quote two paragraphs from an editorial in The Christian Century, under the head of "America in Revolution." It appeared in the issue of May 13th:

"One afternoon last week a short, youngish man, his frame already carrying a good many pounds of excess weight, a cigar clamped between his teeth, walked into a room in Washington filled with reporters. He had come, he said, to announce the promulgation of a "General Maximum Price Regulation" which would fix the prices of most of the goods and services to be sold in this country after the middle of this month. At the same time he told of new regulations to freeze rents in 323 areas scattered throughout every state except North Dakota. By this single act the government took control of the cost of housing for most people of the United States, together with the cost of food and clothing for all Americans. The man whose executive order had brought this to pass was Leon Henderson, federal price administrator.

Mr. Henderson is not an elected officer of the United States. He is a government employee, a satirist who has risen by successive appointments to his present place of power. When he scrawled his name at the foot of the series of regulations which he published that afternoon—they filled two eight-column pages of the New York Times for April 29th—he was, in the words of that paper, imposing "a new design of living" on every person, every household and almost every business in the United States. "Every single person in the United States," President Roosevelt had predicted in a radio address timed to coincide with the Henderson order, "is going to be affected by this program." With the essentials for living rationed and their prices fixed by government, with profits about to be limited, with working conditions controlled and power given the government to tell every person where he must work and when (and soon, we predict, for how much), Mr. Henderson had become a central figure in a far-reaching, though bloodless, revolution."

We submit that we have a fair statement of fact, except as to the last sentence. No man can say that such a revolution, if carried through, would be bloodless. We submit, further, that if such a program were continued indefinitely, backed by the power of government and the resources of the public treasury, people would rise, and at the cost of their lives, their fortunes, and in defense of their sacred honor, would strike the chains of slavery from their limbs and break the bull-dog grip of their despotic taskmasters. L. B. H.

MAKING MATTERS WORSE

The statement quoted in the foregoing editorial would be horrible enough in itself, but it appears doubly so when the Editor of The Christian Century takes the stand that this must be a permanent thing. He says:

"Here and there individuals are trying to convince themselves that all that is happening in the United States today is, merely the adoption of a series of temporary measures to meet a war emergency. Let the emergency pass, let peace be declared and they predict that the nation will drop back into the capitalistic pattern which it has followed from its birth. But is this just a war emergency program, destined to pass with the war?"

Then the argument is carried on, and without giving any details of a planned America, the conclusion is reached that "The revolution is here; there can be no turning back."

All the while such pleas and arguments are being presented by men in the name of religion, economy and educational advance, but they are entirely foreign to Christianity in its true sense, and they are the very essence of insecurity and dishonesty.

What is the next step after a regimented America, according to these theorists, who so roundly condemn the system under which America grew to greatness? It is a regimented world, a super-government, to which every nation would surrender its sovereignty. For this they openly appeal.

It is high time for people of all classes to acquaint themselves with what is going on. It is time that they should know the subversive ideas and plans of these revolutionists for revolutionists they are. Do not feel that you must keep quiet while poison is being fed to the multitudes under disguise. If you believe in liberty, if you believe in genuine Americanism, let the world know it. L. B. H.

GAS RATIONING

(For The Record).

Last Friday, 17 Eastern states went on a strict gasoline rationing program.

Is this legal?

The Fourteenth Amendment to our Federal Constitution forbids the Government or any State to deny its residents the equal protection of all laws.

Where are our courts? Have they all adjourned for the duration of the war?

It is not my opinion that the Government does not have the power to prohibit the use of gasoline entirely, if it is absolutely necessary to win the war.

But, according to the laws of our Constitution, no laws can be effective that give preferences or privileges to one part of the country and not the other.

A ration program, such as the sugar ration, would probably be termed Constitutional because it covers the nation as a whole. But this 17 state gasoline ration does not seem Constitutional in my opinion.

Why must we be rationed? Is it because there is an acute shortage of gasoline?

That hardly seems to be the case. Because thousands of gallons of gasoline are now being dumped daily over the plains of Texas, as there is a shortage on storage space. And, on the other hand, we are told that there is no possible way of getting it to the East.

Yet there are hundreds of railway tank-cars standing idle in freight yards all over the country. Couldn't these be used?

We are told that, due to enemy submarines, all shipping has been stopped in the Atlantic. Thus, the transportation of gasoline was stopped cold, as this was the chief way of getting it here.

But, surely, no submarine could possibly torpedo a train. Then why aren't those idle cars put into use transporting gasoline? Because, according to government officials, the railroads must be kept clear for the transporting of defense materials.

Then—how about a pipe-line? But no—the Government cannot spend money on such a project. They need it for defense. Yet we still can afford the CCC, NYA, etc., which were organized, primarily, to relieve the unemployment situation. But does this still exist? Not with factories and defense plants advertising daily for thousands of workers. Let's abandon the CCC, etc., and build a gasoline pipe-line to the East. It seems to me this would be more appreciated than those organizations now existing. W. R. SELL.

RADIO ANNOUNCING

Recently the radio and newspapers announced the death of a prominent radio announcer, Grahame McNamee. Besides being a great radio announcer for many years he was also a noted singer.

McNamee, upon coming on the radio would address his friends with "Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience, this is" etc. McNamee was famous as a sports announcer—football and baseball—broadcasting many world series ball games.

Another well-liked radio announcer that passed to the Great Beyond was Floyd Gibbons. Still ringing in many memories is the radio salutation of Gibbons "Hello, boys and girls, this is your old friend" etc., followed by his typical rapid-fire reporting of world events and his personal experiences as a world-wide traveler. These two announcers equalled and excelled many of the present day "artists."

We have some announcers on the radio today—and we have in mind a few from nearby stations—that would neither make "low rate" auctioneers nor hog callers. Their pronunciation or dialect is best described as "Chop, Chop," in "sing-song" fashion, and are so hard to understand that they are almost unintelligible.

SOWING AND REAPING

"What-so-ever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

A. Hitler may sow dragon teeth of destruction and mock at destiny, his deeds will over take him and he and his nation will pay, Hitler may not be solely responsible for the terrible holocaust now ravaging the world, he is none the less the means by which the armageddon is thrust upon earth. Prophecy declares that Armageddon is to occur in Asia-Minor and Hitler's destructive forces are moving in that direction, and may arrive before this gets into print.

I am not competent to interpret prophecy, but my understanding is that at Armageddon the hosts of the Lord and of Satan will engage in deadly combat and that Satan will be conquered in the end.

Whether this is Armageddon or not I cannot say, but believing in the truth of Scripture, I must believe that they who take the sword will perish by the sword.

Since 1923 Hitler has been preparing the German people for war. He thus got a great start which at first proved advantageous, but in the end will prove his downfall. Hitler in time will be crushed, and the things for which he stands will be destroyed "They that take the sword will perish by the sword."

This devastating fire and destruction may encompass the world. We shall be in it up to our neck, in fact we are already in. The die is cast—either democracy or autocracy will triumph. The world is not big enough for both systems to live side by side.

I have faith in Democracy and believe that after it is all over the world will be the better for the purge. Wars leave the world better than they found it. This war will be no exception.

"God moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform." W. J. H.

GOVERNOR O'CONOR SAYS—

Our enemies say that the free institutions of democracy are inefficient, wasteful and impractical.

It is up to us to prove that they are wrong—by demonstrating that the freedoms we enjoy, give us more strength than they can muster through all their controls. We will prove it in the way of free men driven by our own loyalty and determination.

Civilian Defense offers the best medium of demonstration. A strong, well-trained and alert civilian defense organization not only will minimize destruction from aerial invasion but above all will offer conclusive evidence to our enemies that an aroused body of free men are invincible when their liberties are threatened.

THE DEMOCRATIC WAY

A real democracy is a nation in which the characteristic opinions and feelings of every type of citizen find expression.

The right to praise or to criticize are equally inherent in the citizens of a democracy, and must remain if democracy is to survive.

We are at war—total war—with unconscionable and brutal foes. For the duration it will be necessary for us to adopt the tactics of the foe because they are utterly incapable of reading any other language.

Here in America honesty and uprightness are concomitants of the soil and of the very air we breathe. No other land could have discovered and developed the rail-splitter, and turned him into the leader capable of producing the Gettysburg address or the letter to Mrs. Bixby.

We lead, others follow, or it would be better put if we said copy.

It was a tinkering, dreaming, shiftless, honest, but never-do-well who created the horseless carriage at the age of 40, while at 70 he became the richest man in the world, and now that we are at war has turned his great plant and his own genius to making necessary implements of war. Henry Ford is a world leader, and when he speaks the world stands at attention.

It took America to produce in a little bicycle repair shop the curved wings that has made the airplane a possibility.

John on Palmos must have envisioned airplane bombings in this second world war when he wrote the Revelation.

Hitler, Hiroto, Mussolini—the trinity of evil genius—can any one doubt that the devil has been unchained for a season?

Maybe this cruel war is God's way of chastising us.

Avarice and greed has laid hold of mankind.

Man has forgotten how to pray.

If this war turns mankind back to God it will be worth the price—terrible as that is now, and it will grow worse. W. J. H.

KEEP OVERCOATS HANDY

The world is growing cooler. Dr. Charles G. Abbot, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and two of his fellow-workers, L. B. Aldrich and W. H. Hoover, declared today the sun, from which the earth derives all its heat and on which all life depends, is approaching another winter in its output of heat.

The cycle of heat and cold, which appears to vary through a twenty-three-year period, is due to reach its coolest point in about 1945.

Thus, they declare, the summers of the next three years are due to be cooler and the winters will be colder with heavier snowfall. They suggested that last winter, which in Russia was the severest winter in many years, and which turned the tide of the German advance, may be a foretaste of the weather to come.

The Smithsonian secretary and his colleagues have published the sixth volume of a series of observations of the heat of the sun during the last twenty years. The studies were conducted at three of the most remote and hottest places on the earth's surface.

From day to day and sometimes from hour to hour, scientists sent out on the institution's expeditions have measured the sun's heat with instruments capable of detecting a variation of a millionth of a degree change in temperature. They made their observations through deep tunnels hewn out of the solid rock where the earth's temperature remains constant and does not affect the solar measurements.

"JAPAN'S SAFETY"

They were Army planes, those American bombers over Japan on April 16. Presumably they took off from a land base and can take off from the same base again—and again That is the most vital point in the report just rendered in Washington.

That they arrived over Tokyo in the midst of a broadcast about Japan's safety and freedom from bombs is interesting. But it is far less important than the information that they were able to bomb accurately military and industrial targets and to set fires which burned two days. Most important of all is the hint that the bombing of Japan need not depend on putting the flight deck of an aircraft carrier in range.

Amateur strategists will be guessing almost as frantically as the Japanese about where the planes were based. That Washington now says they were Army planes means either that the bases have been spotted by the enemy or have been made safe from Japanese seizure. As to "Japan's safety" it will never be the same again.—The Christian Science Monitor.

There's nothing mysterious about the way advertising works.

It's like the salesmen who go from house to house looking for customers.

Advertising does the same job on a larger scale.

It's quicker—reaches more people—at a lower cost per call.

In other words, it's a time saver, which means it's a money saver as well.

Canadian War Workers Take Aptitude Tests

Passed by Censor

If a woman seeks employment at one of the rifle and machine gun ammunition plants somewhere in Quebec province, she does not simply walk in, give in her name and find herself hired. She must first be interviewed by a specialist. If she gets by this first step, she proceeds to an examination room, a corner of which is shown here, and undergoes various tests. The two tests illustrated in this photo might be called the jig-saw and mirror tests. At the right squares are being fitted in their appropriate places, and at left, an applicant draws an object, only the reflection of which appears in a mirror, with both left and right hands. There follows arithmetical and classroom tests to determine ability, speed and discrimination.

THURSDAY: THE LAST DAY WITH THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:14-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—This do in remembrance of me.—Luke 22:19.

The last day! How quickly it comes, and how fleeting yet meaningful its moments.

We do not know what our Lord did on Wednesday of Passion Week. In all probability He remained in Bethany to rest in fellowship with His friends. Surely He needed that day of quiet, for that which had gone before, difficult and strenuous as it had been, was as nothing to that which lay before Him.

Late on Thursday He and His disciples came to the upper room where Peter and John had already made preparation for the observance of the Passover (Luke 22:8). This feast had (since that great and awful night of Israel's redemption out of Egypt's bondage) pointed forward to the Christ and to His cross as the fulfillment of the type of redemption by the shedding of blood. But now the hour had come for Him to give Himself in that death, and so He set aside the Passover (because it has been fulfilled) to establish the great Christian feast of remembrance—the Lord's table, which now shows forth His death till He come.

I. The Final Passover (vv. 14-18).

Our Lord looked forward with intense desire to the Passover which He now observed with His disciples, for it was the last celebration of that feast recognized by God. All that it had foreshadowed of deliverance and hope was fulfilled in Him who now sat at the table. He had moved forward with resolute purpose to this day when His mission on earth was to be accomplished, and He was to become the Christian's Passover lamb (I Cor. 5:7).

The fact that He had looked forward to it with desire does not minimize the deep darkness of either Gethsemane or Calvary. Remember that, when in the garden He faced that hour and thought of the possibility of the cup being taken from Him, He said to the Father, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt." Praying concerning the same matter (in John 12:27), He said, "Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour."

II. The First Communion (vv. 19, 20).

Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover which had just been observed, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we call communion or the Lord's table.

His words are significant, "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (I Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in recalling His death for them, but they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. They testify to the world that they believe and cherish these truths.

This feast is rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion with Him and with one another. Let us not neglect it!

Our Lord also spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means covenant. The Lord's table therefore speaks of our allegiance to Him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and our devotion to His service. That is why the Christian Church speaks of communion as a sacrament, a word from the Latin sacramentum, meaning oath, and essentially an oath of allegiance.

III. The Folly of the Disciples (vv. 21-30).

Someone may say, "That point does not belong with the other two. Both the Passover and the Lord's Supper are for the joyful remembrance of deliverance and redemption." The objection is well taken except for one thing—we are dealing with human beings as they are, not as they should be and could be by the grace of God.

Here in the inner circle of the twelve there was one traitor. It seems impossible, but apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. A sad and soul-searching fact is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

What about the strife regarding position? Shameful as we agree that it was, it still goes on in the church. Not even the remembrance of our Lord's death and the reminder that He is coming again is enough to keep men from wanting to be greatest.

Too Many of Kin Confess Killing 8-Year-Old Girl

Mother and Brother Both Insist Upon Their Guilt in Murder.

DETROIT.—"I killed my sister. You'd better come to my house."

Chief of Police Floyd Crichton, unaccustomed to such things in his suburb, looked up and stared into the dark face of Edward P. Bennett, 15 years old, of Lincoln Park, Mich., a junior in Lincoln Park high school.

After asking a few questions of the slender boy and puzzling over his excited answers, Chief Crichton, a physician, and several policemen accompanied him to a two-story brick and green shingle house. Into the kitchen they marched and on the floor they found the body of Patricia Ann Bennett, eight years old, a fourth grade pupil in Lincoln Park's Raupp school, daughter of Peter B. Bennett, a brass foundry employee. Except for bruises on her throat, Patricia Ann's body was unmarked. On a chair near the body sat Mrs. Mary Koziol Bennett, 34 years old, wife of Peter, mother of Edward and Patricia Ann, weeping and hiding her face in her hands.

"I Did It!" Wails Mother.

"I killed her," she said, staring at the policemen.

Edward shouted: "She's just trying to shield me. I did it."

Mrs. Bennett brushed a strand of dark hair from her careworn face. "Why, you weren't even home at the time. I did it! I did it!"

She broke down, sobbing. For more than an hour, the boy clung to the same story. Then he told Rusinack:

"All right. I wasn't there. But I didn't want them to arrest my mother."

Meanwhile, another assistant prosecutor, William R. Bolio, had continued the questioning of Mrs. Bennett.

"My husband accused me of running around with other men," she said. "He even denied that he was Patricia Ann's father. It drove me crazy, I guess."

"I was down in the basement cleaning up—both the children were there. Then Edward wanted to go out to get a present for a party he was going to a friend's house."

"After he left I decided I would put Patricia Ann out of her misery. I choked her for ten minutes, until she was still."

Chief Crichton said the child had been in good health and of normal intelligence.

Not 'Mercy' Slaying.

Dr. Austin Z. Howard of the hospital staff sent Mrs. Bennett to the mental observation ward. He described her condition as "dangerously despondent."

Two policemen remained at the house until the father arrived from the brass foundry.

Questioned by Bolio, he asserted there was no truth in the mother's statement about him.

"I never doubted that Patricia was my own child," he said. "I did accuse Mary of running around with other men, however, and we separated for a few years after an argument over the question a year ago. We had patched up our differences and nothing happened recently to upset our family life."

Doubt that the slaying was of the "mercy" variety was expressed by Chief Crichton.

Crichton indicated that instead he believed a quarrel between the child and her mother had immediately preceded the killing and that the mother might have acted in a fit of anger.

The chief advanced the theory that Patricia was at play when her mother sprang upon her. Playthings were found scattered over the basement floor.

U.S. Army Engineers Cut Road Along Panama Canal

BALBOA, CANAL ZONE.—A new Panama canal safeguard has been established in a 48-mile trans-Isthmian highway—the first such road ever built—over which army machines can travel ocean-to-ocean in two hours.

At places the route is only a one-way graded trail hacked through dense tropical jungle, but army trucks traversed it for the first time this week, demonstrating its availability in any emergency involving the vital canal and closely paralleling railway.

The highway adds a third and well separated route to the canal and railway, which hitherto were the only avenues of heavy transport across the Isthmus of Panama.

Begun in December, 1940, as a joint Canal Zone and Republic of Panama enterprise, the highway assumed enormous military significance after the United States and Panama entered the war.

Now it becomes the job of the Public Roads Administration, during Panama's present "dry season," to lay a two-way 50-mile-an-hour concrete highway before arrival of the "rainy season" that would speedily reduce this strategic highway to the jungle from which it was so recently reclaimed.

Granted a full quota of dry weather, the job will be done in two months, John Hubbard, public roads engineer in charge of the project, predicts.

Waitress' Murder Mystery Solved By Camera Eye

SLAYER BREAKS DOWN UNDER QUESTIONING; TELLS STORY OF LOVE AND JEALOUSY.

PHILADELPHIA. — Philadelphia's say Detective Herman Goldstein has a camera eye. His latest exploit of this kind occurred the other day—a Friday afternoon—when a large packing case in a debris filled alley was found to contain the body of a pretty blonde.

She had been dead about 10 hours. Goldstein looked at her and recalled that he had seen her before, just once, when she was working in a Ridge avenue restaurant. Straight to the restaurant went the police and ascertained that the young woman was Mary Burbulis, 22 years old, alias Mae Burns, formerly of Morristown, N. J.; a waitress. The restaurant fronts on Ridge near 12th street, not far from 13th and Hamilton streets, where the death alley is.

Found in Packing Case. According to the restaurant folk, among them Waitress Stella Burkhardt, a suitor of Mary Burbulis had coffee in the establishment at 6 a. m. that day. It must have been about the time the girl was killed. The detectives promptly set out in search of the suitor, and it was only four hours after the discovery of the body in the packing case that they found him at 11th and Spring streets. He proved to be William H. Delancey, 33 years old, alias Ray Harris DuBoise, alias George Ryan; native of Philadelphia; alumnus of the prison at Michigan City Ind. When first approached, the suspect gave his Du Boise alias and said he was an unemployed short order cook.

Police said Delancey had served a four year prison term in Michigan City for larceny; had been arrested in Washington, D. C., for conducting a "badger game," and in Philadelphia in 1938 for carrying concealed deadly weapons. He is a native of Philadelphia, but has roamed over wide areas of the country.

Through the night of questioning, detectives said, Delancey remained comparatively calm. He was constantly furnishing police with the names of other men with whom the girl had associated during the butlerly existence she had led since leaving her home in Morristown to come to Philadelphia.

Killer Breaks Down. About noon on the day after the slaying, and after Delancey had asserted his ignorance of the whole affair all night, Stella Burkhardt arrived at detective headquarters. This was embarrassing, for Stella served him that cup of coffee at 6 a. m. when, according to his protests to the police, he was far away from the murder neighborhood. And that was about the hour of Mary's death.

The Navy finds that the typical sailor is from somewhere in the South Central States, has a high school education, is unmarried, and is 23 years old.

The typical Navy seaman is blue-eyed, brown-haired, medium built; he weighs 168 pounds and stands 5 feet, 10 inches in his stocking feet.

WEEK OF THE WAR

time originally allotted. "The progress made thus far is easing our shipping problem, but there will be a shortage of ships until sinkings throughout the world are brought under better control and the ship-building program gets into full production," the statement said.

A joint Army-Navy communique reviewed the progress of the war to date. The communique said that during a period of preparation for offensive action, a "number of successful thrusts" at the Japanese had worked a "lasting effect upon the strategic situation." Among such strokes it listed the naval raids on the Gilbert and Marshall Islands, Wake Island, Marcus Island, and the bombing of Japan itself. It included also the destruction of Japanese ships in the battles of the Coral Sea and Macassar Straits, the accomplishments of American submarines in the Far Pacific and the numerous raids by American planes based on Australia.

The joint communique also reported that during the first three weeks of the war, about 600,000 American troops moved to battle stations, many of them overseas. Unified command is now in effect in every theatre of war. The defense of the Philippines, the communique said, "demonstrated the comparative weakness of the Japanese as an individual fighter," a factor which "alone forebodes disaster for the enemy Japanese in the future when the battle is met on terms approaching equality."

The office of price administration said the general ceiling on retail prices, now in effect, is expected to cut the cost of living by 1 1/2 percent. The Labor Department reported that by mid-April, families of wage earners and lower-salaried workers had to spend $1.17 to buy the same things for which they spent $1 before Aug. 1939.

Price Administrator Henderson said the American standard of living will be reduced to the depression-bottom level by the end of 1943. Civilian purchasing power will be about three times the 1932 figure while available consumer goods will decrease 24 percent during 1942. To aid the anti-inflation program, representatives of the 550,000 shipyard workers in the nation's private shipyards agreed to relinquish approximately $80 million in wage increases, the WPB reported.

Local ration boards will be directed to open their records to public inspection as soon as practicable, the OPA announced. The agency also said gasoline dealers will be responsible for checking ration cards to determine whether they have enough units to cover purchases, to see that the descriptions on them apply to the cars for which they are presented, and to destroy or mark used ration card units. Commerce Secretary Jones announced the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will make $150 million available for purchase of tires held by consumers. The OPA authorized manufacturers to ship adults' bicycles to distributors, and said it will begin bicycle rationing in about three weeks.

The WPB notified stove manufacturers whose sales for the year ended June 30, 1941, totaled more than $2 million, as well as those in any of 39 "labor shortage areas," that they cannot produce domestic cooking and heating stoves after July 31. Manufacturers authorized to produce stoves were limited to certain approved types and to monthly iron and steel use of 70 percent of the average they used in the year ended June 30, 1941. New installations of air conditioning and commercial refrigeration equipment were banned, except for war and essential civilian requirements. Anti-freeze production was limited to 50 percent of 1941 output. Manufacture of colored sheets must cease July 1.

The Office for Emergency Management said an average of 3 1/2 percent of all American motorists are wearing irreplaceable rubber from their tires each month. To date about 5 percent of U. S. automobiles are laid up for lack of tires, OEM reported. The office also said 20 million of the 28 million passenger cars will go off the roads within 12 to 15 months unless car pooling can be made effective on a nationwide scale. The WPB said the wholehearted response of the American people to the wastepaper salvage campaign has brought an unusual surplus of the material. The Board asked continued collection, however, to meet large requirements for the manufacture of paperboard containers.

President Roosevelt said American forces are getting into the world fight more and more, and in new places all of the time. He said the increasing far-flung fight calls for increasing numbers of transport planes to enable the Army and Navy to get to the rapidly expanding battlefronts. The War Department said a substantial proportion of available flight equipment of domestic airlines will be transferred outright to the Army Air Forces. The airlines will also convert approximately 70 ships into cargo carriers which they will operate for the Air Service Command. The House passed and sent to conference a bill increasing the monthly pay of enlisted men in the armed forces. The House approved bill would increase the pay of privates and apprentice seamen from $21 to $50 a month; the Senate approved bill provides an increase to $42.

War Secretary Stimson said army field maneuvers will be held from the last week in May through the first week in November in the South and Southwest. The army said 1,500 volunteer officer candidates will be accepted each month under its plan to enroll Class 3-A registrants for training in Officer Candidate Schools, with allotments for each area based on the number of such registrants in the area. SS Director Hershey said the U. S. may have 10 million under arms by late 1943 or by 1944. He said men inducted through Selective Service after June 15 will be granted 14 days for concluding personal affairs before being assigned to active duty. Transportation and meals incidental to induction procedures will be at Government expense, he said.

Mayor C. H. Reeder displayed the British note, worth $1.10, and a letter from the donor, W. H. Dearwar of Haddenham, Cambridgeshire, asking that the money be placed in the proper fund for "relieving the victims of the Japanese blitzkrieg of Manila."

A Gold Eagle, Century

Ago, Was No Bargain

NEW BOSTON, N. H.—Farmer Joseph Dunbar had a reputation as a man of few words. His only speech on record contained 47 words, but they were potent ones and because of them the top of the New Boston Town hall is not adorned with a resplendent gilt eagle, hand carved from hickory.

With the selectmen ready to vote $5 to purchase the eagle in 1810, Dunbar spiked the plan at town meeting with the following brief speech:

"Gentlemen—and others, I have always reckoned the voters of New Boston were big fools, and probably always would be, but if they are willing to give five honest-to-goodness gold eagles for one gilt one, they are durned sight bigger fools than I had supposed."

25 Pounds in Ten Days

Makes Army Air Weight

HAMILTON FIELD, CALIF.—Donald Dobbie of Berkeley passed army air corps tests after losing 25 pounds in ten days in a determined effort to qualify. He was instructed to report February 12 at a California training school.

Before turning himself over to the army doctors Mr. Dobbie said his bathroom scale registered his weight at 189 pounds, one pound under the army maximum of 190.

Ten days earlier, when he applied for enlistment, he weighed 214 pounds. Told he was too heavy, he began an immediate campaign, under his wife's supervision, to reduce his weight by diet and exercise. Mrs. Dobbie signed an affidavit saying she was capable of earning her own living.

Long Alaska Hike Saves Two Fliers

Forced Down in Fog, They Walk 250 Miles to Town.

SAN FRANCISCO.—While fliers searched vainly for them over thousands of miles of fog-bound wilderness in the Yukon, Lieut. Col. Harold H. Carr and Corp. Richard Pompeo made their way on foot, with heavy packs, back to Fairbanks, Alaska, after their plane had been forced down 250 miles northeast of that city during a flight to Whitehorse.

The incident was reported at Fourth army headquarters here when Lieut. Gen. John L. De Witt, head of the western defense command, commended the men for "resourcefulness and soldierly qualities."

Colonel Carr and Corporal Pompeo took off from Fairbanks before dawn on January 17, but thick weather on the route to Whitehorse forced them to turn back. Out of gasoline, they landed the plane on a frozen river, damaging it only slightly, and waited two days in hope that aerial searching parties might find them.

After the futile wait they put the plane radio out of commission and started off on foot, carrying packs of bedding, food and firearms. Eventually, after a long hike, they found an Indian trapper, and thereafter they were directed to successive trappers until they reached Fort Yukon. There they obtained transportation to Fairbanks.

The leader of one searching party was Lieut. E. T. Yarborough, who recently was recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross for his part in rescuing a stranded pilot, Lieut. Elmer E. Booth, by landing his plane on an ice floe in the Turnagain arm.

Christ said to Peter, "Feed My sheep" (John 21: 16). That was a strange command to give Peter. Peter was not a shepherd. He was a fisherman. He was to follow Jesus and be a soul-winner, an evangelist. Christ's call to Peter had been to follow Him and be a fisher of men (Matthew 4: 19), but the Saviour, just before ascending to heaven, gave to Peter this command to feed His sheep—the duty of the pastor, the shepherd.

The inference here is plain, indeed. No disciple of the Lord is ever called to just one task and is completely free from the responsibility of every other. A real child of God has the obligation of performing any service which he may find at hand.

The Bible plainly teaches that God has called every Christian to certain specific tasks and has given him the gifts and talents necessary for the successful performance of those tasks, but this does not relieve the Christian from obligations and duties outside of his own particular field. Every Christian should be a soul-winner, though certainly all Christians are not called to be evangelists or pastors or foreign missionaries.

The Christian mother in her home has first of all a responsibility toward her own family and the duty of caring for her own children, but her obligations do not end here.

Everywhere she goes she should by her life and actions testify for her Lord.

The Christian businessman has the responsibility of his business and the duty of providing for his family, but he has a responsibility beyond these. There is an obligation in his case of personal witness and testimony to the saving power of Christ. There is the duty of helping to finance the spread of the Gospel, and there is the obligation of the strong to bear the infirmities of the weak.

I have known Christians who were so interested in foreign missions that they neglected the opportunities at their own front door. I have known Christian men, occupied with the effort of earning a living and providing material comforts for their families, who allowed their own boys to grow up practically strangers to them, without the companionship which every son has a right to expect of his father.

Modern life is complex. No Christian in this day has only one responsibility. In using the particular gifts with which God has endowed us and in following the path of service to which we have been called, we sometimes forget that we have an obligation to take advantage of every opportunity for service and testimony which God sends our way in whatever field of endeavor it may lie.

VOTING BY MEN IN SERVICE

Annapolis, May 19.—In order to protect the voting privileges of Maryland men and women in the military services, Governor Herbert R. O'Connor today has taken action to set in motion the machinery for this purpose.

The Governor notified Secretary of War Stimson that a proclamation is being issued under the Maryland law, which will permit the voting of men in the service who are away from the State. Anticipating that some difficulty may be encountered in learning the address of soldiers, sailors and marines, the Governor had Acting Adjutant General Petrott arrange with 3rd Army Corps Commander Reckord for the clearance of all information and mail between the men in the armed services and the Boards of Election Supervisors.

While the Maryland law authorizes the Governor to suspend the operation of the election laws in favor of service men by advertising in newspapers, Mr. O'Connor stated that he desired to forward to various camps, training stations and other posts, the copies of the formal notice so that as many as possible of the service men may be acquainted of their rights.

THE HONEY-BEE

The honey-bee flits by the hour Sipping honey from each flower; The bee starts at the morning light Nor ceases work until the night.

With infinite patience, toil and skill, She makes the comb that suits her well,

And in the comb where young bees thrive She fills with honey the whole hive.

She does not falter in her work Nor yet a moment her task shirk. She is the little busy bee, She works with zest tho she is free.

The bees task starts at rise of sun, At sun set her days work is done, Bees do not work just when they like, Bees never hold a sit-down strike.

When bees just eat—refuse to work— And all the regular bee-tasks shirk The workers in the swarm arouse And throw the drones from out the house.

In front of each hive may be found Such dead bees falling all around A lesson thus they teach each mate That work alone is each bees state.

If humans showed the thrift of bees Humanity could take its ease And not be troubled at each turn To feed the "leeches" who work spurn

A lesson to humanity Is found in every busy bee. Why then should man his duty shirk? Is there not pleasure found in work?

I am a little busy bee I seek honey industriously, I never loaf the sunshine hours While honey still is in the flowers.

W. J. H. 1938.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it pontoon, not "pontoon", as you do. Pontoon bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontoons is pictured here. The largest pontoon bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontoons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest pontoon, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 per cent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

Nurse's Appendix Halts Convoy on Way to Ireland

YOUNGSTOWN.—Second Lieutenant Florence M. McBride may never be able to boast that she won the war, but she can boast that she stopped an American convoy of troopships.

Miss McBride was one of the nurses sent to Ireland with American troops. Somewhere in the North Atlantic she suddenly was stricken ill and an immediate operation was necessary.

For a half hour the entire convoy stopped and wallowed in the sea as Lieut. Com. Lionel S. Auster, a New York surgeon, performed the operation. Miss McBride was recovering nicely when the convoy reached Ireland a few days later.

Lucas TINTED GLOSS HOUSE PAINT

WON'T CRACK OR PEEL IT STAYS ELASTIC!

Believe it or not—your house swells in summer and contracts in winter. Even daytime heat and night time cold expands and contracts the wood surfaces of your home. It takes an elastic paint to stay on without cracking or peeling. Lucas Tinted Gloss is made to flex with changing temperatures. Stays smooth and beautiful years longer! You can't equal Lucas Tinted Gloss by paying less. And it's foolish to pay more.
