PRIZE WINNER AT MERCERS-BURG EXERCISES

Mercersburg, Pa., June 1—Wirt Patterson Crapster, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Walter Crapster, Taneytown was a prize winner at the 51st Com-mencement exercises of the Mercers-burg Academy held here this morning. Head Master, Charles S. Tippetts presided and awarded diplomas to 88 Seniors. The prize list included awards for excellence in all academic branches and for distinguished service of The Academy.

The Kennedy and Y. M. C. A. Bible Prize (third prize).

STATEMENTS OF INCOME TAX

All persons who estimated their income tax for 1944 before April 15, now have received, or will soon receive small statement slips from the government. Some people are confused, though the slips are very plain. They show what you paid and what is still due. On or before June 15 you must send in one-third of the amount still due, unless you find your esti-mate was too high or two low. In such case you will return an amended estimate and pay according to that.

RECEIVES ATHLETIC HONOR AT MERCERSBURG ACADEMY

Frank T. Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Parish, Taneytown, Md., was awarded the "M" with bar in varsity tennis at an assembly of the Mercersburg Academy held May 29th. Headmaster Charles Tippetts presided and presented the insignia for performance in spring term athletics. Parish was manager

SUGAR STAMP INVALID

Sugar Stamp 37 in War Ration Book 4 will never be used, OPA announced. Because many housewives mistakenly sent this stamp to their local boards when applying for home canning sugar, instead of the correct stamp—Spare Stamp 37—OPA has announced that Sugar Stamp 37 will not be used at all, so that no one will suffer for this mistake.

DIMMED-OUT PEDESTRIANS

Don't be a dimmed-out pedestrian. The driver can see you four times as far, says the American Automobile Association if you wear something white or carry a white handkerchief, paper, or other white object while walking on the roadway at night.

1944-45 FUEL OIL RATIONS

The Carroll County Ration Board at Westminster announces that the fuel oil aplications for the 1944-45 season for heat and hot water have been mailed out. Consumers are urged to complete these applications and return them immediately, so that they may receive their rations promptly, and have their tanks filled while dealers are in a position to supply them.

GASOLINE

Effective June 1, B-2 and C-2 gasoline coupons will not be valid for der control by the time the pods start use at filling stations. Persons who to form, cryolite and arsenicals still hold these types of coupons may apply to the Ration Board to have them exchanged for valid ones.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED IN TOWN

Orderly, Impressive Exercises Made Up the Program

With the weather ideal for summer, Taneytown held one of the splendid observances of Memorial Day for which it is noted. The principal features were the unveiling and dedication of an honor well. Demonstrator, showed us a new method of cake baking. All ingredients very creditable parade, and the program in the cemetery of the Reform-

The participants and a large number of citizens and visitors assembled at the soldiers' memorial, at East Baltimore Street and the Uniontown road, where the unveiling and dedication of the honor roll took place. Merwyn C. Fuss, president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the committee for the day, presided. In an appropriate address he told of the action of the Chamber of Commerce in erecting the Honor Roll which is to bear the name of every man and woman from this district who is in the armed forces. The roll is as complete as possible to date, and other names will be added as they enter the service. Mr. Fuss appealed to all the people to back these loyal citizens, with prayer, by personal letters, and especially by the purchase of war bonds.

Samuel E. Breth, a member of the committee to erect the honor roll, in a brief address presented the Roll to the town. He made special mention of Merle S. Ohler, chairman of that committee, who did such a large part of the actual work of making and of the actual work of making and erecting the memorial. Mayor Richard Rohrbaugh in a fitting manner accepted the memorial on behalf of water and gas rent and often a rent in your clothes at the end of the month.

Then we have insurance to meet, such as life, sick and accident, fire, accepted the memorial on behalf of the town. A dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. Charles S. Owen, of the Presbyterian Church. Music by the Jr. I. O. O. F. Band, and the Myers Band, of Westminster, a salute by a squad of Minute Men, and taps, concluded this part of the program. (The address of Mr. Samuel Breth will be found in another column).

The parade followed the usual order, led by the State Police, the Mayor and City Council, ministers and others in cars. In line were the Jr. I. O. O. F. Band, the Wm. F. Myers and Sons Band from Westminster, Company C, of the National Guard, Wastminster, two companies of Min Westminster, two companies of Minute Men, a large number of school children with flags, and others, all directed by marshals on prancing

At the speakers' platform in the cemetery, with the use of an amplifyer exercises were rendered so that the large crowd could easily hear, and the finest attention was held to the end. Music by the Myers Band opened the program. Rev. A. rvin led in prayer. Led by Mrs. Wallace Yingling the audience sang "America." The local Band rendered an appropriate selection.

Chairman Fuss introduced as the speaker for the day, Rev. Allen S. Meck, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church, of York, Pa. Dr. Meck recounted some of the loyalty and devotion of our patriots in all the wars in which America has engaged, and made clear the significance of Memoral Day. It was an earnest appeal for service and sacrifice to win a righteous peace, and to bring about a better world.

Dr. Meck does not fail in comparison with the noted and able speakers who have addressed Taneytown gatherings in former years.

A firing squad fired the military salute, and taps by Francis Staley ended the program. Rev. L. B. Hafer pronounced the benediction.

THOSE PESKY BEAN BEETLES AGAIN

According to County Agent Burns the bean leaf beetles, which passed the winter as adults hiding in or near bean fields of the preceding season, are back at their destructive work. Their presence is readily observed by the characteristic round holes eaten in the bean leaves and the chewed stems of the bean seedlings at or below the ground level.

Mr. Burns describes the insect as being reddish to yellowish in color about 1/4 to 1/5 inches long with three or four black spots in a row along the inner edge of each wing cover and a black around the wing covers. They cut holes up to ¼ inch in diameter through the first leaves that appear. The beetle's are seldom seen as they feed at night and hide seen as they feed at night and hide under cloos during the day. The females lay their eggs in the ground around the base of the bean stems and the slender white larvae that hatch from them chew the roots and modules and feed on the stems just below the soil surface were as less below the soil surface, more or less completely girdling the stem and killing the plant. Where this insect is destructive, recommendations for its control, given by Dr. C. Graham, Extension Entomologist of the University Maryland, consist of dusting with 20-20-60 mixture or spraying with calcium arsenate or cryolite. Two pounds of calcium arsenate to 50 gallons of water or Bordeaux mixture or 3 lbs of cryolite should be used as soon as the damage is observed. If the insect has not been brought unto form, cryolite and arsenicals should be discontinued and only ro-tenone used thereafter in controlling the pest.

OUR TAXES

Opinion Expressed by a Contributor

We hear much about Congress simplifying the way of collecting taxes. Now I have a formula which not only simplifies the collection of taxes but also saves many tons of precious paper, which we are urged to save It also would release several thousand hard working people in Washington and elsewhere, to relieve the great man-power shortage we are being constantly told of, who are now sitting around seeing if the complicated forms are filled out right or if there might be a slight mistake. My plan would be for the employer to deduct a flat 50% of every workers wages, (because they will get it anyway) and turn it in to Washington as our contribution to the war effort, then with what is left of his or her salary, could be budgeted something like this. At least 10% for war bonds, or buy one each week if you can, then we have the regular bond drives, the Red Cross drive, the Hospital drive, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. drives, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts drive, and several other which do not come to mind just now, but they are all very necessary and wor-thy of our whole-hearted cooperation and support. Then we need to attend to the items of taxes. We have State, County, Road and usually Road Bond taxes, School Gas and Poll tax, besides the thousand and one hidden taxes, which the taxes are afraid to let come to light. Then we must have business license, auto license, drivers license, fishing and hunting license and possibly a few more. You have house rent, garage rent, sewer, water and gas rent and often a rent such as life, sick and accident, fire, automobile and a couple dozen others. Then there is coal and wood with which to keep warm next winter, if you are able to get it. Of course that is only a small item but should not be overlooked. We must have some sort of recreation, which is absolutely necessary, and requires a small expenditure, and a few inexautomobile and a couple dozen others. small expenditure, and a few inexpensive clothes as we travel through life, which is only another small item

Then we have Doctor bills, Hospital bills and perhaps some overdue bills. We have church dues, Lodge and Club dues, not to mention Union dues which are due first, if you want to work and make a living, then we have the small item of living costs, which some experts claim have only arisen a couple percent, but if you want to see a five dollar bill disappear like magic, just lay one on any store counter, and buy a few potatoes, some meat and several other items, and you won't have change enough left to cover a dead man's eyes.

A certain lady in our country has said a person can live and work on fourteen (14) certain and work on urteen (14) cents per day. Now if such is the case, since we all have Victory gardens, I estimate it could be done for eleven and a half (11½) cents, thereby saving 75c per month with which to buy extra war stamps. Please understand me I am not complaining, just making a few timely suggestions to save us poor mortals the usual March 15th headaches.

CLOSING EVENTS OF

Class Day, Baccalaureate, and Graduation Are Events.

Class day for the graduating class of the Taneytown High School was observed last Friday evening as outlined in last week's issue.

The sermon to the graduates was preached in Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday evening by Rev. Guy P. Bready former vice-principal of the school. It was an exceedingly timely sermon, packed with wise and helpful counsel for the young people. Life for the graduates was likened to a journey to a far country. The speaker warned the graduates that the public would want to know more than the mere fact that they were graduates. "What do you know?" "What is your aptitude?" "What is your attitude?" These, he said, are the principal questions that the world will ask Graduation, was the storications. Graduation was the star feature of the events. This was on Wednesday evening in the High School auditorium. The program was as follows:

"Praise Ye the Father" Gounod,
arr. by Seredy; Processional; Invocation, Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe; Chorale, Bach; Prayer Response; May Time, Norman, arr. by De Lamater; Or-chestra; Address to Graduates, Honorable R. SAM BRETH'S PRESENTATION ADDRESS, MEMORIAL DAY

"Some months ago, the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce began to study and plan as to how that body could best give recognition to those from this area who had become members of the armed forces. It was finally decided that an honor roll should be erected, and upon this honor roll would be listed the names of those men and women who at the time of their induction into the service were residents of the Taneytown election

This honor roll committee was composed of the following members of the Chamber of Commerce: Merle of the Chamber of Commerce: Merie Ohler, chairman; Rev. Owens, James Myers and myself. While this committee has made every effort to have this honor roll accurate and complete, there will, I am confident, be found names inscribed thereon that to not helengt there are that do not belong there and, likewise names should be listed that have been omitted, but I wish to state here and now that the Chamber of Commerce stands ready to keep this honor roll up to date, and to correct any discrepancies, should they be found.

We are all familiar with the saying that on any committee it is the chairman who does the work, and in this case that saying is certainly true for Mr. Ohler was chairman and he designed the supports—then he made them; he then painted the board with a half-dozen coats of paint; he then had the stencils cut, and he stenciled all the names on the board; then, not fully satisfied, he went back and Meats, Fats—Red Stamps A8 thru

We feel that the location for this honor roll has been properly selected by the committee. Is it not proper that this honor roll should stand beside the bronze tablet which lists for posterity the names of those men who in their generation when their country called heard that call and answered it? Those names on the enze tablet are, in many instances, the fathers of those sons and daughters whose names appear on this hon-or roll that we are dedicating today. DETROIT LETTER Conditions Existing in That City

Much as we hate to be always writing about the strikes that are happening in this city, we cannot let our column pass by and not notice what is going on at this time. It seems that the members of the CIO, or UAW whichever you choose to call it seems whichever you choose to call it, seem to think that now is the time to cause all the trouble they can, and so we have, not only the workers in the war plants causing a stoppage of most vitally needed supplies, but also the employees of the bakeries, medical supply plants, etc., are adding to the worries of the head men of the Labor organizations by walking off their jobs, and refusing to accede to the frantic demands of said leaders, who publicly proclaim that the actions of their former meekly led supporters is threatening the very existence of the labor organizations. For several days women have been unable to obtain bread at the stores, unable to obtain bread at the stores, and we know of but one large bakery that is able to give grocers their usual supply of this most vital food. It seems that the drivers are causing the trouble, and while the inside workers are able to get out the usual amount of bread, they cannot get it into the hands of the public on account of the drivers refusal to deliver the bread to the retailers.

the bread to the retailers. The strike of the bread wagon drivers is principally for an increase of wages, but those of some of the other places affected, are for very trivial causes, as that at one of the large breweries, which was collected. large breweries, which was called because the company had refused to reinstate a driver who had been discharged for what the company deemed a very good reason. Almost everybody has heard of the great medicine and drug producing plant of Parke-Davis Company. Well, it is partly closed down on account of a strike for higher wages, and in all of these cases, the men seem to have gotten out of control, and at present writing, no settlement seems in sight. We sincerely hope the time may soon come when we may find something more cheerful to write about than what it has been our misfortune to have to do the past year.

Our Governor, after examining more closely the law passed at the extra session of the Legislature, which is intended to give our boys from this state, a chance to vote at the Fall election, has again called the legislators together to further strengthen the law, which has been pronounced almost everywhere as the best one put into effect in the United States. He wants to be sure that the boys are not deprived of their right to vote, and thinks that the law needs some changes. The session is called for June 19th, which date will not be soon enough to allow the boys to vote in the Primaries, but for not only Federal Officers, also for the candidates for State and County offices, something the proposed Federal laws does not do.

We notice that our former Senator Brown, who was recently head of the OPA, who is now Chairman of the Board of the Detroit-Edison Co. has run into difficulty with his former Bureau, in an attempt to get allotment to buy a car, which seems to have though necessary in his new position, but which is said to have been an effort to get an "A" card, as the Company furnishes him a car for official business, and he has a car at his home. It seems that the car he wanted to buy is the one the Company furnishes him, and as regulations do not allow rationing boards to issue "A" cards for fleet car, maybe he thought that this was one way to get an extra allotment of gasoline. It looks as if he will have to get along with his present allowance, like every one else, except those who patronize the Black Market, and we have a suspicion that the number of these is not small.

We have recently heard of murders committed in almost any conceivable place, but this week one was committed in the last place anybody would think of. The body of a woman was found in one of the churches of this city, and not in the basement or any out of the way place, but in an aisle of the main auditorium. So far no solution or even a definite clue toward solving the mystery has been turned up by the police, and it maybe that this crime will be among the number that will remain unsolved as many are that have been committed in the past year

I cannot close without bragging a little about the fine Spring weather we are having. The prospects are for a banner fruit year in this sec-tion, and if there were no strikes and touched up the painting on the board and all the stenciling, which meant that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the committee that all that remained for the rest of the rest not be such a bad place to live in. But you know we cannot expect everything perfect in such a large city, with several hundred different nationalities, many of them the least desirable type of humanity. JOHN J. REID.

WARNING TO LABOR

It is a matter of encouragement to the people of America when a high official in a labor union sounds such a wholesome warning as came from R. J. Thomas, international president of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO organization, when he reminded his organization that they must see to it that "the good name of our union is maintained; that the acts of isolated handfuls are not permitted to continue, to the detriment of us

Warning that unless the unauthorized strikes ceased at once, the union could not survive and "restrictive legislation, worse than anything now on the books, will be enacted," Mr. Thomas pleaded for obedience to the union's constitution and the "nostrike" pledges made at conventions.

Referring to the irreparable harm that even a handful of undisciplined members could accomplish, Mr. own house in order at once, cease all tack as no union can withstand."

"you can fool par, of the re ple all the time, and all of the people part of the people part of the time, but you can't fool All of the people ALL THE TIME". Can he win in 1944? I think not. These are the facts in the case: There are from 11 million to 13 million democrats registered in the country, while there are from 13 to 15 million republicans registered as voters. In addition there are about 8 million unattached voters. If he holds ALL the Democrats, which is not likely, and the Republicans hold all the Republicans, also not likely, then he will have to secure a large majority of the unattached votes to win. Yes, Roosevelt will be remembered for a long time, perhaps a century, because it will require that long to pay the enormous debt he has foisted on the people by his boon-doggling. When he entered office we had the enormous debt of 19 million dollars which has grown until now in eleven short years it has reached the small sum of 240 billions, and if war continues thru 1945 will likely reach the 300 billion mark, and that sum is just two times the value and worth of all the physical property in the whole United States. Poor coming generations, what ponderous burdens you must bear because WE of the present have not had the courage to say

PRAYING IN WAR TIME

We have noted that outstanding military leaders, as well as men high in government, have recently been recognizing the place of spirituality and prayer in this time of world war. Churches have been urged to open their doors for prayer on invasion

This is good counsel, but we are inclined to believe that invasion will be so gradual and progressive that we will not be able to definitely fix the day or the hour. But why wait until a particular day? One of our troubles is that we rush to prayer in the moment of crisis, and then forget.

The Bible Society Record, Published by the American Bible Society, for April, carried a more practical suggestion a daily prayer which we reproduce here:

FATHER, we thank Thee that, like leaves of healing, Thy Word is being scattered over the whole earth; that in a dark time the entrance of Thy Word is giving light; that divine counsel and comfort are being given to troubled hearts; that young men are cleansing their way by taking heed thereto according to Thy Word; and that statesmen are returning to the tested wisdom of the Book. As the vista of a new world opens before our eyes, we would see it shaped according to the pattern shown on the Mount. For the Bible is Thy recorded will, and we would follow its teachings, for life or for death. May this blessed Book fortify and purify the hearts of our fighting men, inciting them to heroism and chivalry, and to a new awareness of the holy cause for which they do battle. Inspire, we pray, all of us on the home front to seek to attain the Scriptural level of service and sacrifice. Make warm within the hearts of all preachers of the gospel a glowing loyalty to Thy Word, and to the Christ whom it reveals. And Thine shall be the glory in a transformed world. Amen.

Hold FHA Mortgages

Life insurance companies hold 27 per cent of all FHA mortgages on one to four family houses and 53 per cent of all FHA mortgages on mortgages, and another company has more than 50 per cent of its assets in this type of home financing aid. One of the companies newly interested in the field has, after only two years, more than $50,000,000 of FHA mortgages. Approximately 30 per cent or well over a billion dollars of the home mortgages held by the insurance companies is in FHA insured mortgages.

Tough Nut

The babassu palm blankets boundless square miles of Brazil south and southeast of the Amazon. It is thickest in the coast states of Maranhao and Piauhy. Trees are estimated at 13 billion, each bearing two to four bunches of 200 to 600 nuts twice a year. There are each year probably no less than 13 trillion of these lemon-size nuts, which are easily harvested by picking them from the ground where they fall when ripe

How much does it cost to bomb Berlin?

SUPPOSE, in the dusk of an English evening, 1,000 huge bombers soar over the Channel and head for Berlin.

By the time those planes return to England, their motors will have consumed 2,400,000 gallons of gasoline!

The cost . . . of the gasoline ALONE . . will be more than $380,000.

To pay for the gasoline used on ONE such raid, 96,000 Americans would have to invest at least 10 percent of their next pay check in War Bonds!

You get a big kick out of reading about those 1,000-plane raids. You know that such raids, if repeated often enough, will soften up the Axis. But . . .

What are YOU doing to help pay the cost of those raids? (In addition to the gasoline they use, it costs Uncle Sam TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS to build 1,000 4-motored bombers . . . plus the cost of training the 10,000 men who make up their crews!)

Modern war is expensive business . . . its cost runs into fantastic figures. 30,000,000 American wage earners are now putting an average of 10 percent of each pay check into War Bonds every pay day . . . but still it isn't enough!

Our air raids on the Axis are increasing in frequency and intensity. When land operations really get going, the cost will be staggering.

More and more Americans must join the Pay-Roll Savings Plan . . . more than those already in the Pay-Roll Savings Plan must begin to jack up their War Bond purchases . . . must start to invest more than 10 percent!

Remember . . . War Bonds are the finest investment in the world today. You get back $4 for every $3 you invest. And . . . the more War Bonds you buy now, the quicker the Axis will be licked . . . and the less the war will cost in the long run.

Think it over. And every time you're tempted to put a nickel in something you don't absolutely need—put it in War Bonds instead!

KEEP ON BACKING THE ATTACK!

Health Service Fights Malaria

Mobile Control Forces Will Deal With Outbreaks Army May Cause.

WASHINGTON. - Mobile control forces to deal with possible outbreaks of malaria in any area are being organized under the auspices of the United States public health service as a measure for the pro-tection of the civilian population against returning malaria carriers among the armed forces, according to reports in the American Medical Journal of Public Health.

In addition to the public health service, it was learned, the army and the navy also are giving "very careful and thoughtful attention" to the problem of malaria control. To this end, general hospitals, prisonerof-war camps and other concentration points of returned troops, are being subjected to surveillance, and, if necessary, control of the malariacarrying mosquito.

Sufficient numbers of mobile units have already been organized for operation in the areas outside the socalled malaria sectors. These units will be available in case of the appearance of "small explosive epidemics that may result from the advent of returned troops.' However, public health authorities do not believe that there is any danger of malaria being spread widely through this country by returning soldiers.

Nature on Our Side.

"It is believed," Surgeon Gen. Thomas Parran said in a recent issue of the American Journal of Public Health, "that history will repeat itself and that such outbreaks will die out, because, as in the past, the environment is not favorable to perpetuate the infection. But we should accelerate nature's process with mobile control forces to deal with outbreaks in any areas.

"The triumvirate of modern malaria control is the physician, the engineer and the entomologist. Equipped to analyze a situation these three approaches, trained to organize effective control, these teams will be available to deal with any emergency outbreak, whether of malaria or other insect-borne disease." Major O. R. McCoy of the tropical disease control station, surgeon general's office, said in the same issue of the journal that "where local authorities do not have the personnel, supplies or equipment to conduct anti-mosquito work, the United States public health service, with its special organization for and federal malaria control activities, which have been very active around military posts and hospitals, a great deal has been done to inform diagnosed in areas where the vices in charge of her pastor Rev. ranged for teachers in medical & Son, funeral director. Nephews schools. In New York state special of the deceased will serve as bearers. training in diagnosis of malaria has been given in Albany for laboratory personnel. While all these preparations are being made to be ready for any possible emergency, the actual situation at present is, it was learned, disease entirely. The increased interest in malaria control due to the return of troops from malarious areas is expected to help in this drive. The International Health division of the Rockefeller foundation, the world's leading organization in malaria control, is cooperating in the work. Dr. R. E. Dyer, director of the National Institute of Health, United States public health service, said recently that while malaria probably will not become a public health problem in this country through the establishment of centers of infection, nevertheless, it was important for physicians to watch for signs of infection in discharged troops, so that proper treatment of the infected persons could be instituted.

Gave Wife's Best Years To Navy, Sailor's Plaint

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The Rev. Stephen J. Meany, S. J., "Fighting 69th" regiment chaplain wounded during the Makin island invasion, asked for a drive for home leave for men who have been away from home more than two years. To support his argument he quoted an inscription he saw in a navy boat in the Pacific: "I have given the best years of my wife to the navy."

Pet Cat Goes Aloft On Barrage Balloon

LONDON. - Soon after the crew of a barrage balloon in East Anglia sent up a balloon recently, they noticed that Tibs, their pet black cat, was missing.

When the balloon was hauled down later, after being aloft for 21 hours, they found Tibs curled up asleep in a comfortable silken balloon pocket.

Apple Pests

In an effective spraying program for apples the most important problems to be solved are the control of apple scab, of codling moth, of bud moth, of apple maggot, of plum curculio, and of rosy aphis.

Save Feed

Feed can be saved in young growing animals by providing a well-balanced ration high in protein that will promote maximum growth and shorten the time of maturity.

Elevate Brooder

If chickens scratch litter against the stove, set the brooder stove on bricks and put a rim cut from an old barrel around it. Fill the inside of the rim with mud or earth.

Dry Cow Feed The specialists recommend supplying dry cows with feeds containing plenty of vitamin A. A deficiency of this vitamin can cause them to lose their calves, and calves born with a deficiency of vitamin A will be susceptible to calf diseases, especially scours. Cows getting green pasture, hay with green color, or silage made from crops having green leaves will have their vitamin A needs taken care of. Five pounds daily per cow of pea green leafy alfalfa hay, or five pounds daily of a yellow variety of sweet potatoes will furnish the needed supply of vitamin A during the dry period.

Consumption Studies

Consumption studies indicate that families with incomes of $500 to $1,-000 per year spend nearly twice as much for food as do families receiving less than $500 per year. This same trend continues, but rises less steeply, with families in the higher income brackets. For instance, families with income of $2,000 to $3,000 per year spent in 1936 over $50 per person per year more for food than did families with incomes of onehalf that amount-$1,000 to $1,500.

'Off-Flavor' in Pork

Properly processed tankage, when fed to hogs, will in no way cause an off flavor of the meat. The same is true for properly processed fish meal. In the case of feeding fish, however, where there is a high oil content, this will cause the development of an off, or rancid, flavor in the meat.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson-Ser-mon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 4th.

The Golden Text will be from Jeremiah 10:16—"He is the former of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance; the Lord of hosts is his name."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible—James 1:17— "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

The Lesson—Sermon also will include passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following, page 331—"The Scriptures imply that God is All-inall. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas."

Rich Uncle

A young 4-F of my acquaintance works at a government-operated chemical laboratory in a distant state. He came home on leave a few months ago and scratched around considerably on his father's big farm collecting rocks. When he went back, he took the rocks with him, also notes on elevations and thicknesses of strata. He said he had always believed those shale glades might have value. Now he would find out!

More recently he was at home again with a business-like glint in his eye, discreetly silent on the subject of his mineral samples. After his first home-cooked breakfast he went horsy and saddled a nag. Not pleasure; it was a business trip. He cantered directly to the home of his mother's uncle, the richest retired capitalist thereabout. When he took to horse again, he was a sadder but wiser young man of affairs.

Had Bad News Apparently the young man's home acres are full of a good grade of valuable ore, near the surface and not costly to recover. He had visions of incorporating a new, local industry soon after the war, offering jobs to the whole county's discharged service men and unemployed war workers. All he needed was capital -that's what he thought. He had even checked markets, demands, and prices for years back and had drawn probable production and profit charts for his prospect.

"Uncle Jeff knows his business," the lad said woefully. "He says he has $100,000 to put in such a venture if he can figure a way to come out whole. I showed him how we could gross $100,000 easily the first year, but he got out tax sheets and showed me that a 100% return on an investment of $100,000 is no good to him. The most he would be allowed to keep, along with his other income, is less than $3,000." An Old Story

This young man went to a lot of trouble to learn what economists have been saying for two years. From his great uncle's point of view, a profit of $100,000 a year was only 2.8% return on a $100,000 investment, thus:

Net profit............$100,000 Normal profit...$8,000 Normal tax 40%.....$ 3,200 Excess profit ..$92,000 E. P. tax 85%..... 78,200 Total taxes - 81,400

Net profit after taxes......$ 18,600 Personal income tax 85%.... 15,810 Income remaining$ 2,790

Of course a $3,000 yearly income is $60 a week, good pay if it is a salary with no investment and no risk of financial loss. When a man puts up the tenth part of a million dollars (or when ten men go together and invest a million) it is seldom in "a sure thing." There are always risks to run in industry.

Money Plays Safe

All investors expect their money to work for them. For a man of much wealth, $100,000 earns only a small "salary." Such men are very careful therefore to put capital in a safe place with little or no danger of loss-like municipal bonds, for example. That's the gravest prospect facing the United States at the close of the war: Danger of having service men come marching back victorious over various armies of various dictators, to find no work at home.

The American people need a great many items, and are ready to buy them. Manufacturers know how to make them, good enough for any body at popular prices. Making these things can provide good jobs for millions of men, but will it have pen? Well-there is one sure way to spoil the prospect; Keep the taxing system exactly like it is now, so people who invest in industry can't benefit from it. Investments are absolutely essential to making jobs.

Farm Notes

WFA points out that farmers can save money and at the same time make a substantial contribution to the war effort by buying higher analysis fertilizers.

. . . Formaldehyde is now available for agricultural uses, according to the AIF News, publication of the Agricultural Insecticide and Fungicide association.

Feed Silage to Ewes

Good, clean corn silage fed at the rate of a bushel crate or about 25 pounds a day to 10 ewes is suggested by livestock extension specialists. If the silage is fed with a good legume hay, the bred ewes should maintain thrifty condition without grain until about three or four weeks before lambing time.

Good Farmer

A good farmer must know more than a doctor, a lawyer, a mechanic, or an industrialist. He must know soils, be a veterinarian, an agronomist, a botanist, a chemist, a mechanic, a forester, a biologist, and a horticulturist," says Louis Bromfield-a farmer.

PAUL IN EPHESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:8-10; Ephesians 2:4-10; 3:14-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.—Ephesians 2:10.

Not peace-but a sword! With such graphic words Jesus indicated that His coming into the world would set men apart, either for or against Him (see Matt. 10:34-42). The gospel is the good news of redemption for all mankind, but the attitude of men toward the gospel divides them sharply, into the saved and the lost. Which are you?

Our lesson, telling of Paul's ministry at Ephesus and giving part of his letter to the Ephesians, shows that the gospel does divide but that that the gospel does divide, but that it also gives quickening grace and strength for Christian living.

I. Dividing (Acts 19:8-10).

Paul had a long ministry at Ephesus and a very successful one, but at the same time it was a stormy, trying experience. After all, do not those elements often go together?

Paul began in the synagogue. That was the proper way, and his custom. He ran into opposition, and after three months he had to seek another place to meet the people. But notice, he did not give up and leave town.

The teaching of any truth results in division, and especially is that true of the gospel. It was found before long (vv. 23-41) that winning people to Christ interfered with the heathen business interests, and then things began to stir.

One wonders why modern business set for the destruction of men's souls by rotten plays, movies, books, amusements, and by the saloon is so content to let the church alone. Is it because our testimony does not harm their business? If so, we are certainly not walking in the foot-steps of Paul or of Christ.

Christ is a divider of men. Yes, but those who stand on the right side of that divide also receive

II. Quickening (Eph. 2:4-10).

Dead men, spiritually, come to life when they meet Christ and believe on Him. We were all dead in tres-passes and sins, entirely unable to help ourselves, when God in mercy and grace quickened us.

He did this for us, but also for His own glory. That really is the most adequate explanation of grace. It was and is for His glory, a showing forth (v. 7) of the exceeding riches of His grace, through all the ages to come. Being saved, then, is not (as some describe it) a foolish thing of little import, that takes place in some mission or little crossroads Sunday school. It does happen there, thank God for that, but it reaches clear up to the highest heavens, and on into all eternity. This business of bringing men and women, boys and girls to Christ is the greatest of all occupations. Let's be busy about it! Be sure to note in verses 8-10 that it is all of grace. No works can enter into salvation. We are "his workmanship," not the result of a cooperative enterprise or creation. But at the same time do not fail to stress that we are created "unto good works" (v. 10). The professed Christian who talks about being saved by grace, but who does not live it out in the good works which God has ordained as the proper expression of salvation by grace, should not be surprised if the testimony of his lips is not believed.

If we are quickened to newness of life in Christ, we ought to bring forth fruit. That is not possible in our own puny strength. But wait, the gospel which divides and quickens is also-

III. Strengthening (Eph. 3:14-19). Paul prayed for the Ephesians, but somehow one feels that he prayed for the Christians of all time, for every member of "the whole family in heaven and earth" (v. 15) who bear the name of Christ. The writer is rejoicing today that he belongs to that family, but he wonders how it is with you who read these lines. Do you belong? Paul prayed in the Spirit, that is evident as one reads these sublime words. It is a comforting and encouraging thought, too, for Paul here asks for a Christian experience for his readers, which seems quite impossible of attainment, except for one thing. It is the power of God which is to bring it about. Prayer in the Spirit is prayer that God answers, always and fully. So we read with confidence these magnificent, enriching petitions, and we say: "O God, make me that kind of a Christian, a real Christian." Observe that there is to be a strengthening of the inward man by the Holy Spirit. This is not some-thing "put on" or acquired. It is God's gift.

Note also that it has a normal development, a growth in the knowledge of Christ because of an ability to "comprehend" (v. 18). Is not that our great need? We are unspeakably rich in Christ, but we do not seem to know enough to take out our inheritance.

LOVE

Many, many years ago, Agathon, the Athenian poet held a banquet at his house in honor of having won the first prize in a drama contest. He had invited his best friends. And when they had assembled they began to discuss their favorite topic—love. Phaedrus said, "Love is the most powerful of the gods. It is the principle that turns and new people into Phaedrus said, "Love is the most powerful of the gods. It is the principle that turns ordinary people into heroes. The lover is ashamed to be a coward before his beloved. Give me an army made up of lovers and I will conquer the world.

Pausanias went a step further. He said, "but there is difference between earthly love and heavenly love. Earthly love is the attraction between two bodies, heavenly love is the affinity between two souls. The vulgar love of the body flies away when the bloom of youth is gone, but the noble love of the soul is eternal."

Aristophanes always acted the clown, he had a new theory of love. "In the beginning the two sexes were united in one body. They were round like a ball, with four arms, four legs and two faces. They were powerful beings and were planning to scale the walls of heaven and attack the gods. Zeus struck upon a plan. He cut these mortals apart making them male and female. Ever since that time they have been trying to get back together again. This effort of reunion is called love.

Then Socrates unburdened himself. "I have been struck dumb with your wisdom. But I have still another theory. Love is the hunger of the human soul for beauty. The lover not only wants to find beauty, he wants to create it and perpetuate it. That is why the sexes love each other wants to chind beauty, he wants to create it and perpetuate it. That is why the sexes love each other and seek to reproduce. That is why parents love their children. For the soul of the parent does not only create children but partners and co-workers and successors in the quest for been and successors in the quest for beauty. And what is beauty? Beauty struth. And truth leads directly to

The guests agreed with this Home-spun Philosopher that he was right and then proceeded to drink each other under the table. The contest continued all night. One by one they fell asleep until Aristophanes and Agathon alone were awake to listen to the soliloquy of Socrates. And it wasn't very long until they too fell asleep. The day was dawning, Socrates took a final drink in honor of the wine god, Dionysus, and went off to take up his daily business of spreading wisdom among the citizens of Athens.

Camera Helps Build Planes

Photographic Equipment Is Used to Speed Up Output Of Flying Fortresses.

SEATTLE.—If Paul Bunyan, legendary giant of Northwoods fame, could sneak into the Boeing Aircraft company's photo-template darkroom, he'd have a field day.

He could make dandy snapshots on their six-ton camera and easily turn out 300-pound contact prints on their mammoth printing machine. He could probably even tote the camera home to photograph him-self moving mountains and drinking rivers.

But Bunyan's mythical feats with this gigantic camera will have to wait till the millennium. For now, Boeing's photographic equipment does a mighty job of speeding Flying Fortresses down those assembly

Like Dressmaking. Here, too, is where part of the photographic supplies formerly available for civilians' Sunday picnic snapshots have gone

Building of a Flying Fortress is, in a minor sort of way, like dressmaking. Each of the bomber's 30,000 parts is made according to a pattern, or template — a guide to show aircraft workers which part goes where and how.

Two hundred hours of layout time were required to make a "pattern" template by hand in the old days. But when Pearl Harbor sounded the knell, Boeing engineers knew Uncle Samuel needed bombers - but fast. Replacing the hand method with a photographic system of making templates meant a considerable slice off production manhours.

Boeing was among the first to make templates via cameras, and today the company's photo-template shops are tops in the aircraft industry.

A Superman Feat.

Before the war, the proud result of three hours of one man's work was one square foot of template. Now, in superman fashion, Boeing's gigantic cameras grind out an average of 3,000 square feet of phototemplates each day.

Master layouts of each bomber part are drawn on steel sheets in the engineering department and then taken to the photo-template darkroom for reproduction. A huge easel, face of which resembles a waffle-iron, holds the layout in

Now comes the $20,000 six-ton camera-Paul Bunyan's "Brownie." Precision is the essence of focusing the master drawing onto a glass negative. One-thousandth of an inch off center means a new negative.

Just like Bunyan's picture, the negative is swished in developer, fixing bath and hypo. If the negative were Bunyan's, he would print his snapshots on photographic paper. But "printing papers" for Boeing's negative are steel plates, coated with a light-sensitive emul-

The six-ton camera which made the negative also pinch-hits as an enlarger. After the sensitized steel plate is placed on the waffle-iron easel and exposed, it is developed, fixed and washed in 360-gallon tanks. Nearly one ton of the hypo crystals that used to be plentiful on drugstore shelves are used for one fixing

'Super-Fighter' Plane to Be Ready by RAF Soon

LONDON. - The Royal air force soon will have a new "super-fighter" with "more sensational performance than any now in use," it was stated recently in a cryptic an-nouncement circulated to the London press.

The quasi-official announcement, not credited to any specific government agency, said the plane "will be ready this spring."

It said an enormously powerful, highly supercharged engine fitted the plane for fine performance at great heights.

Asked for details, the press officer of the Ministry of Aircraft Production said neither his office nor the Air Ministry was ready to make an official announcement but admitted the story as appearing in London morning papers had been sanc-

$5,106,989 Gifts Made to Help War

40,000 Donors to Treasury Since Pearl Harbor.

WASHINGTON.-More than 40,000 persons have given to the govern-ment since Pearl Harbor $5,106,989 in amounts from 1 cent to $50,000. These donations include a $5 gift to start a reward for the capture of Adolf Hitler.

Soldiers, ex-soldiers, schoolgirls, old men, widows and children were among those who had sent donations to the government to help win the war, the treasury department said. All the gifts are put in the treasury's fund, called donations to the United States for war activities. When the donors specify what war activity they want their money spent on, the treasury adds it to the proper account.

The largest cash gift from an individual came from a New Jersey business man who sent $50,000 "to be used for furthering the war effort in any manner deemed advan-tageous to our country's interest."
The treasury does not reveal the names of the donors.

A schoolboy in Sacramento, Calif., sent $20 to be used by the coast guard, saying: "My grandfather is giving me $20 for my birthday. Here it is."

An army captain in Tennessee sends in his pay check every month. He is only one of hundreds who make regular donations, and write apologetic letters when they are obliged to skip one of these self-imposed payments.

The $5 donation to establish a fund to capture Hitler came from a farmer in North Carolina. An elderly woman in Massachusetts was one of many who sent in donations to finance appendicitis operations. These donations followed newspaper stories about a pharmacist mate who performed an appendectomy in a submarine.

Walnut Hills (Cincinnati) schoolgirl sends in $1 a month with a long chatty letter to the President, explaining her progress in school and her social goings-on.

a Naples hospital. "We feel we have one of your best Civil war generals fighting with us," Dedier said. "Many of us have studied his tactics until we know them like a book. Tito understands them best of all.

Aerial Score of Yanks WASHINGTON, D. C. — The army air forces destroyed 9,463 enemy planes in the air and 1,579 on the ground in 1943, Secretary of War Stimson reported, while losing 2,809 in aerial combat and 76 on the

This edge of nearly four to one, he said, represented a careful tabulation of results from all theaters. From Army Since 1941 WASHINGTON, D. C .- The army reported that 1,058,000 enlisted men were discharged from December 1, 1941, to January 31 of this year. Of the total, 844,000 were given honorable discharges, exclusive of discharges to accept commissions. It included 196,000 men discharged because they were over 38 years of age. The majority of honorable discharges, the army said, were for physical and mental disability.

Praise Given to Litter

Bearers in Combat Zones WASHINGTON, D. C. - The litter bearers, the unarmed medics of the war, are saving many lives and reducing appreciably the extent of casualties in fighting in Italy, the war department said.

Disregarding enemy shells, land mines and booby traps, these litter bearers often have to carry stretchers 12 to 18 hours over winding slippery mountain paths.

The department cited as typical of first aid detachments a medical battalion commanded by Lieut. Col. Frank P. Pipia of Brooklyn, N. Y. Its litter bearers "did an outstanding job" in the Cassino sector, the department said. Ambulances and jeeps could get no closer than seven miles from the wounded. Relay stations were set up and volunteers from armored and antiaircraft units helped the medics carry the wounded.

Corp. James Bowers of Shelbyville, Mo., with seven litter bearers, reached an outpost after an all-night climb and found eight wounded men in an exposed spot. He raised his Red Cross flag and with his men, in full view of the enemy, went out and got the wounded. "Fortunately, in this instance the Germans with-held their fire," the department

Japs Accused of Firing

WASHINGTON, D. C. - The Norwegian information service reported that a Japanese submarine crew machine gunned Norwegian seamen in an open lifeboat and made motion pictures of the massacre. The incident was reported by a survivor of the attack, said to have reached an African port recently.

"After the Japanese torpedoed our ships," the survivor was quoted, "we were in a lifeboat, seven men and our captain. The submarine hailed us in English, and when we went alongside they took the skipper aboard. Shortly afterward we heard him screaming. Then some Japanese appeared with machine guns. I slipped into the water on the far side of the lifeboat."

The survivor said he escaped by swimming under water.
