SERVICE MEN LETTERS

Many and Varied are their Experiences

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: Again I take this pleasure of writing you. I have completed my Boot Training and now have a new address.

Please send your paper on to my new address, as it sure means a lot to a fellow, to read in your paper about our home town folks. Thanks and my new address is—

MAURICE ECKENRODE S2/c Barr 610 Z, D. H. O. G. U. Bainbridge, Md.

The Carroll Record Co. Gentlemen: The Record sure helps to make this a small world after all. The first thing I always read is the letters from the boys in service. On opening my Record of June 23 the first letter was from W. E. Formwalt who gave his address as Manley 307 U. S. N. P. F. S., Chapel Hill, N. C. It so happens that I had a desk in the same building for the past 8 weeks and had to get the Record to meet some one from home. After reading his letter I made a B-line for his room, where I found him and invited him down to my desk for a long talk about good old Carroll County.

I want to thank you for sending to me wherever I have been, (and I have certainly moved a lot) the Record as I enjoy very much reading the news from Taneytown, and of its fighting sons. Truly yours,

HARRY S. BAUMGARDNER USNYFS, 215 Henderson St., Chapel Hill, N. C.

FROM THE ARMY FORCES

An Air Service Depot, "Somewhere in Ireland."—We have to keep one jump ahead of the enemy to beat them, and that means keeping one jump ahead of them on the efficiency of our aircraft. Highly trained aircraft technicians of a Service Group at an Air Service Command Depot "somewhere in Ireland" are constantly experimenting with new ideas for improving the speed and maneuverability of our fighters and bombers.

One such man is Private First Class Glenn D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of 55 West Baltimore St., Taneytown, Md. He works with but one thought in mind—that no German plane will be able to outfly our aircraft.

Pfc. Smith attended Taneytown High School and the Maryland School of Accounting. Prior to entering the service, he was employed as an auditor by Wooden & Benson CPAs.

TANEYTOWN HEALTH FOR VICTORY CLUB

Graduation certificates were distributed to twenty-five members of the Taneytown Health for Victory Club at their regular meeting held on Thursday, June 29, in the Home Service Room of The Potomac Edison Company. Previously nineteen members of the class had received similar certificates.

"Meats and Meat Alternates was the subject used by Miss Mary M. Meehan, Home Service Advisor. She said protein foods are necessary for the growth and repair of our bodies. There are first and second class proteins.

Several new and interesting recipes were given and food prepared using other foods from the "Basic Seven" to extend our protein foods. Carrot Meat Loaf, South American Goulash; Polish Stuffed Cabbage and Frankfurter Salad Bowl were some of the foods prepared and distributed as prizes to those attending.

The class decided to dispense with meetings during the months of July and August. August Meal Planning Guides may be secured at The Potomac Edison Company office after July 25th.

ARMY TRUCKS FOR FARM USE

The farmer in critical need of a truck may apply to his county Agricultural Adjustment Agency committee for a used army truck the War Food Administration announces. Upon the basis of applications on hand and further investigation, AAA offices prepare letters certifying to the needs for available trucks. These letters authorize truck dealers to negotiate with proper authorities and buy the trucks for resale to approved applicants. WFA warns that for some time relatively few persons who need truck for essential agricultural purposes will get them.

A HALF CENTURY OF NEWS SERVICE

The Carroll Record Closes its Volume Fifty This Week

With this issue The Carroll Record completes the first half century of its service to the community, and by an examination of its files a complete history of this section and even of the County and State could be written.

The most striking fact about the record is that the founder and editor continued in that capacity for nearly 48 of these 50 years, and until his death, April 28, 1942. He was the late P. B. Englar, a large part of whose active life was bound up with The Carroll Record.

The first issue of the paper was on Saturday, July 7, 1894 and one consistent purpose runs through all the pages to this date. Those who have tried to carry on since the death of Mr. Englar have tried to adhere to his policies and trust that they have not failed in this.

Certain features that appeared in the first issue are to be found in the paper today, while, of course, time and experience made changes, all of which aimed at least at improvement. The original purpose was to furnish a clean paper for the home, and to give the news when dailies and radios were not so common in the country as they are now.

Owing to limitations of force and the fact that for many years every bit of type had to be set by hand, the paper could not make the familiar boast, "All the news that's fit to print," but it has been notable for the absence of what is not fit to print and it has not followed the example of those modern publishers who regard nothing as too rough, vulgar and profane to be set down in type.

The paper in the start had only four pages, the actual size of the forms being 15 1/2 inches, thus giving a little more than half the space contained in the pages now.

A glance at the first issue of The Carroll Record is interesting. There were no headings of more than one line, quite a difference in format from the present, Baltimore Street had been scraped and swept from the square to the railroad, reminding us that streets then were dirt roads.

Four thousand people had been visitors at Pen-mar Park at a church reunion, which recalls our own visits there, but not now. Two baseball games were played, here on the fourth of July, between Woodsboro and Taneytown. The home team took the first, 24-10, and the visitors took the second, 19-7. The old fans will remember.

There was a strike on by the American Railway Union. That sounds familiar. The corner stone for the U. B. Church, on Middle Street was laid on the previous Sunday. The paper announced that a column devoted to church notices would be started in the following issue. It appeared as predicted with announcements from Rev. P. Rioseco, Presbyterian; Rev. Geo. W. McSherry, Lutheran; Rev. A. Bateman, Reformed; Rev. T. D. Mead, Catholic; Rev. T. Wagner, Mt. Pleasant United Brethren, Mt. Pleasant was 1 1/2 miles east of town, on the Westminster road and was superceded Nov. 18 of the same year by the new church on Middle St.

The county correspondence, now found on page 4, started on the first page, and occupied nearly half the page. The paper has never missed this feature. It was and is very valuable.

And now, grateful to all who have helped in any way to make The Carroll Record a success, we face the future with high hopes and confident expectations.

FIREWORKS FORBIDDEN

State Insurance Commission Lawrence E. Ensor has called the attention of the public to the fact that all fireworks are forbidden, unless approval has been obtained from the Insurance Department.

Under the law now in effect the term "fireworks" means fireworks of every description, roman candles, torpedoes, bombs, grenades, fire-balloons, signal lights and any combustible or explosive composition, or any substance or combination of substances, or article prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or an audible effect by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation. No section of the State is exempt from the operation of the law.

Any person violating the law by possessing or discharging fireworks is, under the law, guilty of a misdemeanor and the offense is punishable by a fine of not more than $50.00. Any persons selling fireworks in violation of the provisions of the Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished for each offense by a fine of not more than $200.

BAND CONCERT

The Taneytown Jr. I. O. O. F. Band will present its first free concert of the season this coming Saturday night, July 1st, in front of the Potomac Edison Company. The soloist will be Francis G. M. Staley, cornetist. The concert will begin at 8:30 P. M. Band members are requested to report at 8:15.

The regular weekly rehearsal of the band will be omitted next week, due to Independence Day holiday.

FIRE NEAR FREDERICK

Blaze Attributed to Static Electricity

A spark of static electricity ignited a tank-truck loading asphalt at the E. C. Valentine plant, on the property of M. J. Grove Lime Company, at Grove's, Tuesday afternoon, causing a three-alarm fire and momentary loss placed conservatively at $20,000. A huge pillar of dense, black smoke about 4 o'clock attracted hundreds of spectators from nearby Frederick. A fortunate explosion blowing off the 80-pound lid on one of six multi-gallonage half-filled asphalt tanks established a remote fire line and gave an opening for firemen to bring the blaze under control with "foamite" after an hour's battle.

An irreplaceable asphalt truck, costing when new $11,000 was a major item of loss, officials of the Valentine company said. The loss is "very partially" covered by insurance, a company official said. In addition to the monetary loss, the scarcity of vital materials will cause further difficulties in replacing the asphalt distributor and damaged storage tanks.

Six pyramided storage vats ranging from 6,000 to 10,000 gallons capacity, estimated to be half-filled at the time of the fire, in addition to the truck, were either destroyed or buckled by the flames. A pump house was completely destroyed and the boiler for the pumping plant "most seriously damaged." The entire loss is to Valentine's property, the auxiliary asphalt plant being on leased land of the M. J. Grove Lime Co. John H. Lentz, bookkeeper for Valentine, said last night.

A new driver, "Bob" Roberts, was in charge of the truck loading in the driveway under the storage tanks, Lentz continued. Helpers for Roberts were just starting to shut off the valve between the tanks and the truck when they saw a spark jump from the outlet pipe to ignite the asphalt in the tanker, he said the men reported.

The Valentine employees seized a small extinguisher from the truck to combat the flames which quickly got beyond their control. The Independent county engine was called. Fire spread from the truck to the tanks and a second call for fire-fighting equipment brought out the Independent city engine.

Water failed to arrest the flames and at 4:20 p. m. the Uniteds were called, on a third alarm, to bring chemicals. Before the "foamite" could be efficiently directed on the burning asphalt, an 80-pound lid of one of the top tanks of the pyramid six blew off with a loud explosion, releasing a column of flame amidst the dense smoke which earlier brought a large crowd to the scene. The tank lid was hurled 200 yards distant from the burning tanks and drove spectators back to a remote fire line, expecting other explosions which did not, however, occur.

Regular and volunteer firemen from Frederick, under the direction of Fire Marshal Roger Etzler, maintained a two-inch stream of chemical from the easterly side of the fire until it was announced under control about 5:30 p. m. City and State Police were early on duty to guard fire lines and take safety precautions. Linemen of the Potomac Edison Co., stood by to guard power lines in the vicinity of the fire.

Lentz, speaking for the head of the Valentine firm, said that fortunately none of the trailer-tankers of the company, used to haul asphalt from Baltimore for use on city and county road work, were involved in the fire. The company is also providing asphalt for government work at nearby Camp Detrick. The mixing plant at Grove's is an auxiliary center in the activities of the company which does not expect to be seriously hampered in road work now under way, he said.

There is now no priority on asphalt ingredients, of which an estimated 20,000 gallons was burned, Lentz concluded.—The Frederick Post.

KIWANIS CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting at Clear Ridge Inn, near Uniontown, on Wednesday evening, at 6:30; President Clyde L. Hesson, presiding. The period of group singing was in charge of Wallace Yingling, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

There were present twenty-four members, and two visitors: Messrs William Flohr and Willard Hawkins, members of the Westminster Club.

The program was in charge of the Committee on Publicity. The Chairman of the Committee, Rev. Guy P. Bready, introduced Rev. Luther B. Hafer, of Taneytown as the speaker of the evening.

In view of the nearness of Independence Day the speaker took as his topic, "Independence." He illustrated the value of independence by reference to the devotion of colonial patriots. He showed the slow development of independence and the short time it has had a place in the philosophy of government. He demonstrated the relative character of independence, individual liberty limited by the rights of others.

Mr. Hafer spoke of independence in the post-war world. He said it will not mean isolationism, nor the setting up of a super-state, but world conference and co-operation; and that there will be no permanent peace until independence, which is the divine ideal set forth in the prophecy of Micah, prevails in all the world.

REPUBLICANS NAME DEWEY AND BRICKER

Each Selected on First Ballot at Chicago Convention

The expected has happened and Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York has been nominated for President of the United States by the Republican Convention in Chicago, which turned out to be a harmonious and enthusiastic affair. One by one the candidates dropped out of the race until Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, represented the only real opposition. Then Bricker brought a glorious wind-up by seconding the nomination of Dewey, and asking that his own name be not presented to the convention. Dewey got all the votes but one, a lone delegate of Minnesota, who was pledged to McArthur, so the roll-call stood 1056 to 1.

The choice for vice-president was more of a surprise. It had been counted as settled that Governor Earl Warren, of California, would be the nominee, but Warren settled that by an unequivocal statement in writing that he would not accept. That added to the harmony by giving the leaders a chance to turn to Bricker. Dewey was consulted and agreed, and after conferences with Dewey leaders and Governor Martin, of Pennsylvania, Bricker agreed to take second place, with the result indicated. Bricker received every vote in the convention.

It was a hot, noisy convention, which ended Wednesday night amid wild demonstrations and confident predictions of victory.

POINTS TO HOME CANNERS

With products coming from the garden that are now ready for canning, a few simple points are given by Miss Justina C. Crosby, Home Demonstration Agent which may be of help in solving some of the problems that appear puzzling.

In using a pressure cooker, or canner, especially the war types, be sure to have enough water in the cooker—about 4 inches or more from the bottom—to prevent boiling dry. Let the water in the canner boil 10 minutes before placing the lid on. The jars of food may be placed in the cooker as they are prepared and while the water is boiling. After 10 minutes of boiling, to drive air out of the water, adjust the lid on the cooker filled with jars. Be sure to have the petcock open and let the steam escape for 10 minutes after it starts to come out.

If you do this, Miss Crosby says, all of your jars in the canner will be processed evenly at the right temperature; otherwise, there may be pockets of air in the cooker and some jars may be processed at a lower temperature than others, and you may not understand why some jars spoil and others do not. To insure safety in canning, she urges that all air be driven out of the water in the canner.

Another precaution mentioned by Miss Crosby is to be certain you know how to use the type of jar and closure you have. Follow directions carefully and complete sealing, after processing, only those closures that are not self-sealing. Never tighten self-sealing closures after processing even though they do seem loose. Before using self-sealing lids or rubbers, be sure to examine the composition material on the lid for flaws; also check the rubbers.

To prevent any "off flavor" that might be caused by rubbers, boil them 10 minutes in soda water (1 tablespoonful of soda to 1 quart of water for 1/2 to 1 dozen rubbers.)

"AT HOME" VACATIONS

The Office of Defense Transportation has issued an urgent appeal to everyone to make this an "At Home" vacation year, pointing out that travel accommodations are crowded beyond the point of comfort or pleasure. Reservations are uncertain and subject to cancellation without notice, the ODT said, as the needs of the Armed Services and requirements to care for the wounded will be met first. Families and vacationers, away from home may be stranded. ODT officials emphasized that a well planned home vacation will not only be more economical, comfortable and restful but refraining from travel will be a genuine contribution to the war effort.

UNION OPEN-AIR SERVICES

The Protestant Churches of Taneytown are again sponsoring a series of Union Open-air Services on the lawn of the Reformed Church, the services to continue each Sunday evening in July, beginning each Sunday evening at 7:30.

The Services will be in charge of the respective pastors, and the music part of the program will be furnished by the choirs of the co-operating churches. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

GASOLINE PANEL WILL NOT MEET JULY 4th

The Carroll County Rationing Board announces that there will be no meeting of its Gasoline Panel on Tuesday evening, July 4, because of the legal holiday. Gasoline Panel meetings will be resumed on July 11, and all pending cases will be heard at that time.

FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1944

H. PEYTON GORSUCH

It is often said there is no man whose place can not be filled, and that is true; but it is equally true that when some men and women are taken out line, we move on with a long time sense of something missing. A face, a voice, a presence, an influence, linger in our memories, but the physical presence is not here. So shall we feel now, that Mr. Gorsuch has been removed by the hand of death.

It was fitting that The Times, which he edited for thirty years, should carry the fine tribute from the pen of Dr. Fred G. Holloway. It was not surprising the Advocate, a business competitor and political rival, should pay him marked honor. It is certainly to be allowed that others shall be allowed to speak of their high estimate of him, and of their sense of loss in his passing.

The Carroll Record feels his going because of his long friendship for our own late editor, Preston B. Englar. They were long associated, and had much in common. Then, too, those who are trying to carry on in Mr. Englar's place, counted Mr. Gorsuch a real friend, and in the circles where we were accustomed to meet him, we shall not be able to avoid the feeling that something is missing.

Harry Peyton Gorsuch was a gentleman. He was not of the type that struts and parades, but of the kind whose gentleness shows in kindly manner, in thoughtful speech, in kindly consideration for others. And, being a true gentleman, he was an asset in the society in which he moved.

He was a citizen in the best sense. It would be altogether needless to speak of this when by common sense he was selected as the outstanding citizen of his city; but we can not refrain from adding our own testimony to that of his neighbors and associates.

He was a business man of no small caliber, starting in business early in life with a good preparation in the way of education, and having gone through a wide experience in business before entering upon his editorial work, he became a truly representative business man, one of those often misunderstood and maligned people who are nevertheless among the mainstay of any community.

He was a fraternalist. In recent years he could not be at his accustomed place in those circles where men come a little closer to one another than in the average walks of life, but for many years he was faithful and devoted, and his presence was a source of cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to his brethren. Now we shall see him only in memory, but that memory will be a blessed one.

The writer was absent from home when death claimed our brother, and did not know of it until after he had been laid to rest; and while we knew of his frailty, the word still came as a shock.

There is a compensation to those who have traveled with such high souls in the various spheres of earthly activity, and now must walk without them; for we are assured that that higher Lodge toward which we are moving, that glorious band of those who have conquered in life, is richer because of their presence there. So, not forgetting the still unfinished tasks of the day, we look forward toward the glorious morning which shall bring the reward of all our pilgrimage here. L. B. F.

DAYS OF ANXIETY

Countless families are having specially anxious days now, as the news comes from the invasion of France and as their boys may be among those invading forces. As they read of casualties, they ask if their beloved man could be among those thus stricken.

Life has these hard periods when there are special anxieties to be met. The families of the service men can have their philosophical thought, that the percentage of fatal injuries is likely to be very small.

The American policy is to attain such perfection of war machines and weapons that the percentage of casualties is greatly reduced. The superb system by which the wounded are quickly evacuated and placed in hospitals where they get splendid attention from extremely competent surgeons, doctors and nurses, indicates that everything possible is being done to keep the casualty list down. Nearly all wounded will recover.

The people who believe that a divine Father watches over all His children have a great source of comfort. People feel both refreshed and strengthened after they have offered a fervent prayer for the safety of their loved ones, and for victory for their grand cause. There should not be any feeling of over-confidence leading people to slacken up their war effort. The success of the invasion so far, and the weaker German resistance than had been expected, give reason to hope that this suspense will not last as long as many have feared.

The men at the front write to their families that they are all right, and the home people should not worry about them. It is probably harder for the folks at home to bear this anxiety than for the men at the front to meet the danger. There is satisfaction in feeling that they are serving God and their country and the progress of humanity.—The Caroline Sun.

RETAIN RIGHT OF CHOICE

Due to legitimate wartime controls by government, there is a growing tendency to extend bureaucratic domination of the people in many directions. This is illustrated in proposals advanced for Federal socialization of medicine, with enforced payroll deductions to finance a monopolistic program.

Contrast this European idea with thousands of pre-payment medical care programs now successfully operating in the United States, to cover the cost of doctors and hospitalization. Roughly, these can be classified into eight types, according to the National Physicians Committee for the Extension of Medical Service: (1) Company or employe medical service plans; (2) Regular insurance company group policies; (3) Medical society approved or sponsored plans; (4) Union sponsored plans; (5) Cooperative groups; (6) Consumer sponsored groups; (7) Farm Security Administration operations; (8) Private group practice clinics.

The foregoing offer means whereby an individual can provide against unusual or prolonged sickness or hospitalization costs under a program best suited to his requirements, instead of being compelled to pay for a Federal program, whether he wishes to or not.

The people of this country must assert their rights to retain their individuality, or they will find the professional planners in Washington telling them how to make every move in their daily lives. Medical care should be a matter of personal choice and the American medical system has led the way in making this possible.—Industrial News Review.

GOOD FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

It has remained for Eric Johnston, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, to lead the way in championing the American system of private enterprise. Instead of belittling our system as outmoded, as is too common a political practice here at home, Mr. Johnston, at a luncheon given him in Moscow by the Soviet Trade Commissar, said:

"In economic ideology, the practice of my country is different from yours. You are state-minded, collective-minded. We are most private-minded, most individual-minded, and, gentlemen, make no mistake, we are determined to remain so or even to become more so.

"I think each of our two countries should be allowed to pursue its own economic experiment, unimpeded by the other." Speaking of a "gulf" between the nations, he said: "Three bridges of practical cooperation can be thrown across it: (1) Our common determination to bring Hitler and fascism to an end; (2) Our common passion for production; (3) The bridge of export and import trade." The Russians applauded his speech and Trade Commissar Mikoyan congratulated Mr. Johnston.

We need more men like Johnston praising our own country and American private enterprise. Too many of our politicians are pussyfooting on this subject, while injecting government further and further into the affairs of private citizens, thereby limiting individual opportunity. Mr. Johnston can do missionary work at home as well as in Russia.—The Republican, Oakland.

FIFTH WAR LOAN SUPPORTED BY INDUSTRY

Payroll Savings Plan In Effect

Fifth War Loan coverage of all business and manufacturing firms in Maryland have reached a new high, according to W. Bladen Lowndes, Chairman of the Maryland War Finance Committee. Payroll savings plans are in effect in many of the firms with an average per capita quota of $97.75. A check-up revealed that over $25,000,000 in quotas have already been accepted, with some of them completed.

Governor O'Connor and his executive officers have reached 100% in payroll participation, as have the State Police, who were the first to govern the top. The State Game Board and other State departments have reached their quotas, also. Edwin R. Mowbray, executive manager of the Maryland War Finance Committee, in a statement on payroll savings, said, "Initial reports from all over the State reveal that top management in firms is enthusiastically backing the program of sales of the 'E' bond—the people's bond—to their employees.

Management knows that past experience shows that best results are obtained only where definite firm quotas are established and person to person canvasses made. Management and employee groups have again shown a willingness to go "all out" as we enter one of the most critical periods of the war, as well as what might be the most crucial time in the financing of the war.

First returns show that management of firms are cooperating to the fullest extent in establishing $100 cash quotas per employee. These quotas will be credited, with all sales to individuals within the firm, extra allotments during the Fifth War Loan, cash purchases and payroll deductions, during the months of June and July."

A War Bond Celebration in St. Mary's County on June 22 was turned into a grave and serious meeting when word came that Captain Walter F. Duke, Maryland's Air Ace, was reported missing on the eve of "Duke Day", when county residents were prepared to buy bonds in his honor. Speaking at the St. Mary's Theatre on Duke Day, Senator Millard Tydings held out the hope that the young captain might be found. Bond purchases at the meeting totaled $25,000. Captain William Hirsch, veteran of the North African campaign said that Captain Duke would march the pages of history with the Kellys, the Gentiles, and other air heroes.

A War Bond premiere held at Upper Marlboro on June 20 sold $76,775 worth of War Bonds, according to T. Howard Duckett, chairman of Prince Georges County, Corporal Lynn McAllister, returned hero, spoke and John S. White, Speaker of the House of Delegates appeared on the program. The Service Clubs of Anne Arundel County held a Rally at Carvel Hall on June 21. Captain J. G. Shillyday, who was shot down over Germany, told of his experiences during the seven months it took him to escape. Two more county war bond premieres are scheduled for Bethesda, Md., on June 27 and at Hyattsville on June 30. Tickets will be given to all who purchase bonds.

The Wine and Liquor Dealers of Maryland have broken all records by rolling up a total to date of $11,488,800. Their quota was $6,400,000, according to C. Delano Ames, State Chairman and Fred Jacob, War Bond Chairman. On July 4 Montgomery County will hold a War Bond celebration at Tacoma Park, Richard S. Green is Chairman of the county.

Symbol of Democracy

As if in the spirit of Independence day, this eagle symbolizes the esprit de corps of the fighting, freedom-loving marines stationed at a South American base. He is claimed to be the most ferocious mascot in the world.

HELL DIVING'S HIS JOB ..LENDING IS YOURS!

WITH guns blazing and a prayer in his stout heart, this American fighter is hell-bent on destruction of our enemies. HE is not thinking of how little or how much he's doing to help win the war. For him, the chips are down; but his fighting spirit is as high as the heavens from which his plane is diving.

In cramped foxholes and disease-infested jungles, on sun-scorched beach-heads—under and over the seven seas—other Americans are matching his courage. And their name is legion. They KNOW that war is a bloody business; that their lives, as well as yours, are at stake.

Is it asking too much of you to back these men up by buying more, and still more, War Bonds? There can be but one answer. You'll find it in your own heart.

And remember, too, as you dig deeper than ever before into your pocketbook or cash surplus, that the Fifth War Loan MUST raise 16 billion dollars. It is the greatest financing drive the world has ever known... to back up the greatest invasion drive the world has ever known.

CORRESPONDENCE

Latest Items of Local News Furnished by Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Thursday, if at all possible. It will be necessary therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Wednesday, or by fast mail, west on W. M. R. K., Thursday morning. Letters mailed on Thursday evening may not reach us in time. All communications for this department must be signed by the author; not for publication, but as an evidence that the facts contributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted.

FESERSBURG

A bright Monday morning—reminding us James Whitcomb Riley's poem—"Knee-deep in June"—for everything looks thriving after the good rain at close of the week; but what sad reports of death and damage caused by the storm on Friday evening. It was heavy here and continued until midnight, but we were mercifully spared from tragedy. The radio on Saturday gave reports of casualties which meant distress in many parts of the eastern States.

Miss Mary Bostian, of the Womens Hospital, Baltimore, is home with her parents, Horace and Lottie Biehle Bostian for her vacation.

Mrs. Adie Crumbacker spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week with the J. N. Starr's. Mrs. Starr is recovering her health, and been out for short rides in the auto. This matter of getting well requires so much patience—may she improve rapidly now.

Miss Mary Ruth Wheatley, from Federsburg, on the Eastern Shore of Md., who is taking a course of study in the Georgia Maude School of Culture, Baltimore, was a guest of the M. Grinders' for the week-end, and attended S. S. at Mt. Union with them on Sunday. From the low-lands, and splendid oyster shell roads, she had never seen any mountains, and tho' our country is hilly; so they took her to the Blue Ridge to see some rocks. She returned with Miss Arlene Grinders to the city by train on Monday morning. A pleasant visitor.

Dolores—only child of Carroll and Dorothy Utermahlen Rowe, of Bark Hill, was with her great aunt, Mrs. Clara Wolfe most of last week.

Miss Edna Sauerhammer and her niece, Mrs. Mary D. Groce, of Littlestown, spent a couple hours with the Birely sisters on Monday afternoon. They have plenty of the weeds; just now trying to keep ahead of the weeds; the sister, Mrs. Pauline S. Hinkel is in ill health, and others of the family are not well; and their chicken industry has not been as successful as usual—but their garden is and they gave us a generous sample.

We've had a mess of green beans, but given from a neighbors garden and just as good as ever. Truck loads of peas have been hauled past to the cannery recently.

Last week seemed to be "cherry week" when every one was buying, or picking cherries—white, red or black ones; then seeding, jarring and preserving them; and many of us seemed to be wearing colored gloves on Sunday, but it is our favorite fruit—they were all good, even when only the size of peas. We are not going back on raspberries—with their delicious flavors, but 35 to 50c per qt. We look another direction.

Last Wednesday was the time of the summer solstice when the sun was farthest north of the equator, and summer commenced. The days are two minutes shorter already but we have a bright new moon in the sky, one quarter gone, and our door life is popular.

Next Tuesday will be Independence Day on the birthday of our Nation. "Thomas Jefferson was but 33 years of age when he wrote the declaration that politically severed the Colonies from the British crown—without reference to any book or memoranda. It was presented to Congress on June 28; then debated, until July 4th when it was finally adopted and signed by every member present except one, when it was read to the people, the patriots of Philadelphia, rang the "Liberty Bell" in the Old State House—until it nearly cracked; and in New York City the people pulled down a gilded lead statue of the king—and melted it into bullets." Copied from a calendar.

Miss Sue Birely and three neighbors had a fine drive to Blue Ridge Summit recently and were charmed with the mountain views, the fine homes, a bird's-eye view of Camp Ritchie, the hospitality of friends and "Life can be beautiful."

Raymond K. Angel—who returned to his home in Catonsville about two weeks ago, after spending nearly 3 months in Fla.—gave us a call on Sunday afternoon, his family with him. He has gained some weight, and evidently had a pretty good time, until the "jiggers" attacked him—and they are something to contend with—stinging, burning, itching and swollen like hives. His daughter, Ruth was chaffeur. She continues her work as stenographer at Mt. University. His eldest daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Barthel returned from California a month ago, when her husband, Dr. Robert Barthel was ordered to Hawaii. Their beautiful child Richard is just learning to walk and very proud of the exercise. The son John Edward Angel is now at Clovis, N. M., in the Aviation Corps.

A card from Miss Caroline Baker at Camp Nawakwa, near Bigglesville, Pa. tells us it is nice there—altho it was raining then—"the scenery is beautiful and I like it. The picture on the altar at Fischer Chapel where they worship is interesting and lovely.

Many were missing from S. S. at Mt. Union on Sunday, when there was such good study on simple living—for a Temperance lesson. The monthly Missionary Offering was received; and empty jars from the Deacons Home were on hand for distribution, to be filled with fruit and vegetables this season.

UNIONTOWN

Miss Mary Bowersox, Westminster, was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Segafosse.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lignor, Baltimore, visited with the John Heltbride family, for several days last week.

Miss Dorothy Lambert is spending some time at Bainbridge, Md.

Mrs. J. C. Baumgardner is visiting her daughter, in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Roop and two daughters, Betty and Ann; Miss Mariana Snader, Miss Doris Roop and Miss Alice Lambert all enjoyed dinner at Druid Hill Park, on Sunday and then Miss Betty Roop returned to the Md. University Hospital, where she is a student nurse, after a vacation of 23 days.

LITTLESTOWN

Cpl. James R. Stonesifer, Marine Barracks, Mare Island, Calif., is spending a 30-day leave at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Williams. Cpl. Stonesifer was wounded in action in the South Pacific and was invalided back to this country. When he goes back he will go to Valley Forge Hospital as a patient.

A birthday and farewell party was held in honor of Pvt. Donald Staub at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver. A dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Appler, for their son Charles, who was stationed at San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Gertrude Kaler, wife of Herman G. Kaler, Cemetery St., died on Thursday morning at the Hanover General Hospital, where she had been a patient since June 14th. Mrs. Kaler had undergone an operation the day following her admission to the Hospital and a second operation had been performed a day before she died. She was aged 48 years. She was a member of St. John Lutheran Church. Surviving are her husband and three brothers. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon in St. John Church. Her pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, officiated. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

The Rotary Club, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther D. Snyder, E. King St. Ladies night was observed. The dinner was served on the lawn, after which a program was presented. The guest speaker was Dr. Thomas Cline, head of the English Department at Gettysburg College. His subject was "The Beauties of Nature."

A farewell party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lippy, near town, for Pvt. LaRay Hess who is going to Cherry Point, N. C.

A word to motorist. If you see a Fire Truck or Ambulance coming you must pull to the side of the road until they have passed. If you don't and Chief of Police H. S. Roberts sees you, why you may be called to Justice of the Peace office and leave some money there.

Mrs. Anna Killy left Saturday for Jacksonville, Fla., where she will spend some time with her son and daughter-in-law, Attorney and Mrs. George Study.

Pvt. James Rang, Camp Blanding, Fla., is spending a 18-day furlough with his wife and children, West King St. He will go to Camp Meade, Md.

Mrs. Sarah E. Basehoar, widow of Henry H. Basehoar, died Saturday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Feesser, R. D. 2. Death followed an illness of several days. She was aged 84 years. She was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at her late residence. Her pastor, the Rev. D. S. Kammerer, officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. Leon Haines, St. Thomas. Interment was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

The many occasional and well scattered rains, only light ones, are keeping gardens and truck patches in a flourishing condition. With a few more rains there ought to be a big potato crop.

The Certificates for Honorable service issued by the army air forces are now given to all persons who served as observers at the spotting station.

Some of the German prisoners at Gettysburg are brought to town every morning to work in the canning factory to can peas which is a good crop.

Oscar Brumbach, father of the Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of Christ Reformed Church, underwent a major operation in the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Wednesday. He is showing as much improvement as can be expected, considering his advanced age and the seriousness of the operation.

Mrs. Walter Gemmill and children, of Richmond, Va. are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mateland.

The farmers are having a hard time to find hands to help with the wheat crop which is extra good around here as many farmer boys were taken into the U. S. Army and the older men were given jobs in the factories.

The first of the series of union open air services sponsored by the ministers of the five churches was held Sunday evening in Crouse's Park. The service was in charge of the Rev. Theodore W. Boltz.

Adams County Blood Donors gave on Monday 122 pints of blood since January 1943. Two thousand and twenty-five pints of blood have been given.

Mrs. E. C. Sauerhammer is improving from her late illness.

MAGICIANS—Perform breakfast magic with new cereal combination—Post's Raisin Bran. Golden wheat and bran flakes plus seedless raisins. It's new!

VACATION SCHOOL CLOSING PROGRAM

The Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren was filled to capacity, Sunday night, June 25, to hear the closing program of the Meadow Branch Daily Vacation Bible School. The children presented the pageant, "Truths by the Wayside" which included the Bible memory work, prayers, and music of that which the children learned during the past two weeks. The pageant was directed by the teacher of music of the school, Marguerite Arbaugh. The Beginners class was in charge of Ruth Grove.

The first and second year Primaries were in charge of Katherine Bixler and Margaret Crist. The first and second year Juniors were in charge of Glenn Garner, Anna Petry and Ruth Rinehart. The Intermediates were taught by Lavinia Wenger. Dorothy Barnhart was secretary of the school. The helpers were Helen Wildasin, Betty Barnhart and Elsie Sies.

During the session 129 children were enrolled, with an average daily attendance of 107. Seventy-nine children made perfect attendance. Each day an offering was taken for relief and reconstruction work. The amount totaled $51.89.

During the handwork period, the children made things for needy people in addition to things for themselves. Sewing of boys' shirts was done for Greek War Relief. The following clothing was given for European relief: 105 garments (dresses, sweaters, coats, etc.), 7 pairs of shoes, 13 pairs of stockings, and one comfort. These things are being sent to the Brethren Service Relief center at New Windsor.

Other handwork was done as follows: 129 Bible notebooks, 18 orange crate bookcases, 10 reed flower baskets, 8 reed pencil trays, 16 framed pictures, 40 colored doilies, 12 flower baskets for the sick; 20 color books, 30 scrapbooks, 67 pieces of doll furniture, 131 book marks, 1 large scrap book recording the activities of the school.

The following people spoke in the daily assembly periods of the school: Rev. Miles S. Reifsnnyder, pastor of Baust Church; Rev. Earl Mitchell, pastor of the Westminster Church of the Brethren; Miss Mary Weagly, religious education leader; Rev. Philip Lauer, pastor of the Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren; Mrs. Charles Schaefer, Bible teacher of the Westminster Church of God; Mrs. John Metzler, director of clothing, Brethren Service Relief Center at New Windsor.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

What inspiration can be found in any land beneath the sun. As great as that that here abound. For battles fought, for victories won. How foolish were the English Lords. To think they ever could afford. To oppose those here abide. With freedom breathed on every side. At Plymouth Rock the Mayflower band.

Took firm possession of the land. They meant that here upon this soil. To work, to labor, sweat and toil. They meant that here 5th bond and free.

Should breathe the air of Liberty. They placed their full trust in the Lord. And boldly faced the savage horde. From that small band of yester year. Our strength and might does now appear.

That might now felt on battle field. Will never to opponent yield. W. J. T. 1944.

Be Well Dressed— Save Bond Money

Pinafores have come out of the nursery and taken the place they deserve in fashion. Besides being flattering and practical for warm weather, they are easy to make— an ideal choice for a beginner's sewing project. The raffish, be-ribboned pinafore pictured here is especially beguiling, and can be worn with or without a blouse. Make it yourself and put the money you save into War Bonds. The pattern may be secured at your local store. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before. U. S. Treasury Department

More Land
A recent inventory of Massachusetts soils shows that approximately 875,000 acres of land suitable for farming are now idle. To bring this land into production would of course take a period of 10 to 20 years, but it is something which should be thought of in connection with planning for postwar agriculture.

Wheat for Layers
Hens will lay well if wheat is used as the only grain in the scratch feed, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. If enough vitamin A is supplied in other feeds, ground wheat can replace the scarce corn in the mash.

Copper Soaps
Copper soaps are employed as rot-proofing agents in intensified methods developed to prevent rotting and mildewing of fabrics, particularly under conditions of military service, according to a report to the American Chemical society.

Fruity Base
For a gelatin salad with a rich fruity base, use unflavored gelatin and luscious whole fruit nectar as the liquid ingredient. Either apricot, pear, plum or peach whole fruit nectar gives delectable taste and palatability.

Fills Person
Serve a Calavo half-shell with a meatless meal; the absence of meat will scarcely be noted. This semitropical fruit affords stick-to-the-rib qualities which give the pleasant feeling of having eaten well.

Feeding Troops
Feeding troops overseas demands great amounts of concentrated, processed foods. It takes 270 days' supply of food, stored up in advance, for each man in overseas operations.

MEMORIAM
HARTSOCK—In Loving Memory of our dear son and brother, C. Franklin for his 20th birthday, July 5th.

Heavy are our hearts today. Memory brings you back once more. To the time when you were with us. To the happy days of yore.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance. Just a memory sad and true. Just the love of sweet devotion. Of those who think of you.

The flowers we place upon your grave. May wither and decay. But love for you who sleeps beneath. Will never fade away.

Loving MOTHER, DAD, BROTHER and SISTER.

WESTMINSTER BRANCH WINS ANNUAL AWARD

The Westminster Branch Office of the Automobile Club of Maryland was awarded the "Branch Trophy" at the annual meeting of employees held on Thursday, June 22nd, at the Park Plaza Hotel, Baltimore. This award is presented each year, by the Home Office Management to the Branch Office having shown the greatest improvement and advancement during the year previous. Westminster holds the distinction of having won the award the first time it was presented, in 1940; and also, Westminster is the first Branch to have been presented the award two years in succession, 1943 and 1944.

The Management of the Westminster office feels that the credit for this achievement is not due any one individual, but rather to the splendid cooperation and interest in the promotion and welfare of the Club, always manifested by each individual member of the Westminster Advisory Board and the membership as a whole. The members of the Westminster Advisory Board are as follows: Paul R. Garrett, Chairman; D. Eugene Walsh, Counsel; Percy M. Burke, Secretary-Manager; Charles W. Klee; A. L. Loy, Roy D. Knouse, Capt. F. Kale Mathias, Thomas W. Melville, G. Raymond and Raymond K. Wright. Miss Naomi A. Haines is Secretary and Touring Counselor, in the Westminster Office.

"I went on a three-day berry-eating marathon. It was worth it." Capt. Jack Bryant, airman returned from the Pacific and suffering a bad case of hives.

MRS. NORA V. SHOEMAKER

Mrs. Nora Kiser Shoemaker, widow of the late George A. Shoemaker, died at her home on George St., Thursday night at 9:50. Death was caused by complications. She was aged 65 years. Her husband preceded her in death six months ago.

She was the daughter of the late Jacob and Elizabeth Kiser. She had been ill for the past week and critically ill for the past three days.

She was a life-long member of Taneytown Presbyterian Church and was secretary of the Missionary Society and was treasurer of the Taneytown Library Association. Years ago she was a school teacher having taught at Pine Hill, Walnut Grove and Taneytown.

She is survived by three children, Mrs. C. J. Manning, New Windsor; Mrs. Wm. B. Abrecht and J. Kiser Shoemaker, of town, and eight grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Curtis G. Bowers, Taneytown.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late home in charge of her pastor, Rev. Chas. S. Owen. Interment will be made in the Piney Creek Presbyterian cemetery.

Friends are invited to call at the home Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. C. O. Fuss & Son are the funeral directors. The pall-bearers will be: Wilbur Shorb, J. D. Overholzer, John H. Shirk, B. Walter Crapster, Norval P. Shoemaker, John O. Crapster.

MRS. WALTER CLINGAN

Mrs. Delta V. Clingan, wife of Walter Clingan, near Taneytown, died on Friday morning, June 23, 1944, at the Hanover General Hospital, where she had been admitted four days ago. Death followed a two weeks' illness.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Lovie Ridinger, Harney, and the late Abram Ridinger, and was 34 years of age.

Besides her mother and husband she is survived by two children, George and Irene, and Ruth V. Ridinger, a younger sister who had been living with her, as well as the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Walter Munshower, Randallstown; Mrs. Dalbert Spangler, Harney; Lake Ridinger, Harney; Reynold Ridinger, Littlestown; Theodore and Ervin Ridinger, Harney. She was a member of Harney Lutheran Church and belonged to the Ladies' Aid of the church.

Services were conducted on Sunday afternoon, meeting at the C. O. Fuss and Son Funeral Home, with further rites in Harney Lutheran Church and burial in the church cemetery. Her pastor, the Rev. W. F. Rex, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Charles S. Owen, pastor of the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church. The pall-bearers were: Edgar Fink, Ernest Reaver, Howard Kump, Ernest Fream, Marlin Six and Floyd Strickhouse.

LESTER E. CUTSAIL

Lester Elias Cutsail, a farmer residing near Taneytown, passed away at his home Tuesday evening, June 27th, 1944, at the age of 54 years. He had been in declining health for the last three years but was bedfast only for two weeks. Complications were responsible for his death. He was a son of the late Noah and Mary Stone Cutsail. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, and of the Bible Class of the Sunday School.

He leaves his wife, Retta Bowers Cutsail, and one son, Benjamin, at home; also the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Harry Ecker, Harry and Milton Cutsail, Littlestown; Mrs. Milton King, Mrs. Carroll Leister and John Cutsail, Westminster.

Funeral services will be held today (Friday), at 2:00 o'clock at the C. O. Fuss & Son Funeral Home. His pastor, the Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. A. W. Garvin. Burial will be made in the Lutheran cemetery. The pall-bearers were: John Vaughn, Walter Hiltbrick, Wilbert Hess, Mahlon Brown, John Duple and Stewart King.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the use of cars and flowers, following the death of mother, Delta V. Clingan.

CANNING! CANNING!

L. Forest Free, chairman of the community mobilization committee brings to the attention of the citizens of Carroll County the No 1 obligation of this agriculture community to the war effort. The processing and canning of peas, beans, corn and tomatoes during the season, June 12th through October 15th, will produce 1,629,500 cases of these essential foods. The help of every available man, woman, boy and girl will be needed to complete the job.

Carroll County farmers are doing their part. They have under cultivation 18,057 acres in vegetables. Over 3,000 acres of peas have already been harvested and canned. There remain more than 15,000 acres and as the season progresses more and more workers will be needed to keep abreast of the harvest. Of the total production of canned vegetables in Carroll County 645,394 cases will go directly to the armed forces. Our boys will get 141,060 cases of beans, 296,598 cases of tomatoes and 149,486 cases of corn. These figures are based upon statistics available.

LOOKING AHEAD
 BY GEORGE S. BENSON
 President, Harding College
 Searcy, Arkansas

Voodoo Statistics

During my boyhood I knew one typical ante-bellum Negro, a picturesque character born 50 years, you might say, after his time. It was said of him that, with solemn Congo River ritual, he named one of his seldom-used pockets "The World." Promptly then he had his wife sew up the empty pocket. After that, when a fellow worker asked him for a chew of tobacco he could truthfully say, "I ain't got a bit 'a chewin' in The World."

This is not a pointless story. It describes an interesting philosophy, now in general use, notably by the Office of Price Administration. When the powers of this bureau find it impossible to stabilize a price (as they sometimes do) they promptly sew up the outlet with a so-called "line limitation," shift the trade to another store with somewhat fancier prices and call it a deterioration of quality; not a price boost—never!

The Magic Twist
 It's uncanny. People pay more for what they get although prices stay the same at all points of sale. Just consider the case of Mrs. Effie Stone, proprietress of Effie's Store Inc. Nobody has ever called Effie a modiste. She runs a sort of general store at the edge of a farming town and stocks some apparel, mostly cheap, working garments for farm families and mill people. Woolen skirts at $4 and ladies' suits at $20 are for Effie's quality trade.

But now the store is out of woolen skirts entirely. Effie can buy them at about $4.50 wholesale, and could sell them for $6 and show a profit but it's not legal if OPA rules are law. The trouble is that Effie sold no skirts above $4 for several years, including the months that OPA has since designated as a "base period." By doing this she automatically fixed her own ceiling price. The OPA's MRP rule No. 330 caught her.

High-Brow Humbug
 Nobody is fooled. Effie's highest allowable price for skirts is $4 and she can't get any more $4 skirts to sell. Her customers would pay more, in fact they are paying more. They still like the kind of clothes they wore during the famous "base period." But they are buying elsewhere, paying $8.50 for skirts in shops just opening; that have no "base period," or in big stores with higher "ceilings" upheld by more costly lines.

The very same sport skirts Effie used to sell at $4, the very same brand, can be sold legally by Ye Smart Shoppe at higher prices than they'd dare name if Effie was still a competitor. But Effie is out. She has lost her skirt business and her suit line is just ready to die the same death. She is not alone either. She has shopped around a bit with a merchant's instinct and has found dealers in other lines tangled up in the same red tape.

Who Said Scandal?
 A few days ago Effie went to the shoe section of a basement store to buy some cheap oxfords to work in; no luck! She found no soft shoes at low prices. She asked why and the salesman repeated her own $4-skirt story in other words. But later, at a fancy foot-wear salon she paid satin-slipper prices for what used to be called cheap shoes. Even this dealer did not get rich on the transaction either.

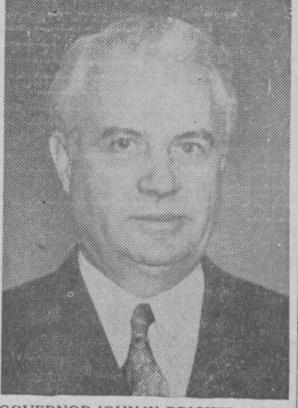

Choking competition does not help Mr. and Mrs. Consumer. Truly Effie's prices have not advanced, neither are her competitors' prices higher, but the cost of living climbs anyway. Price Administrator Bowles has called quality deterioration a national scandal, and I believe he has something there—but there are indications that the fault may be with regulations which we are glad to believe OPA is taking steps to correct.

Gay Jumpers and War Bond Savings

Pinafore jumpers are the bright stars of summer fashion. You will look fresh as a daisy in gaily flowered cotton jumpers, and white peasant blouses. They can be dressy, too, when made of soft rayon and worn with a frilly blouse. This pinafore is such a simple style to make that you will want several for all-occasion wear. Sewing for yourself is saving to buy more War Bonds. This or a similar pattern is available at your local stores. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before. U. S. Treasury Department

GOVERNOR THOMAS E. DEWEY of New York

Air Force Men View Liberty Bell

Air force men from the U. S. Army Air Force Redistribution center in Atlantic City as they visited Independence Hall in Philadelphia and stand around the cracked bell that is the symbol of the liberty for which they have fought. Because of its famous crack—which developed when it was sounded to mark the passing of Chief Justice Marshall in 1835—the Liberty Bell is seldom struck. But it was proper that on D-Day, the mayor of Philadelphia struck the Liberty Bell in a ceremony heard by radio throughout the U. S. and in England. The Bell and the Fourth of July are practically synonymous to Americans all over the world.

HE'S OFF ON HIS FIFTY-FIFTH MISSION

There he goes again—out to pour more destruction on the Axis—once more to face the death of enemy fighters and flak! He won't hesitate to go out on his fifty-sixth or his hundred and fifty-sixth mission. He knows he might not come back, but he keeps on going—giving more and more until the Hitler and Tojo crews are ready to "call it quits." This is only your fifth mission—and a mission which is mighty easy in comparison with the ones he makes every week. Stay in the fight by welcoming the Victory Volunteers—at least double your Bond purchases and then keep on. Your buying means "bombs away" for the Axis!

TREATIES

If we dare believe commentators we should think about some of our post-war responsibilities. Among them will be the arduous task of drawing up certain treaties. I understand treaties to be formal agreements or pacts, duly concluded and ratified, between two or more nations. What I do not understand is why so much trouble is taken to conclude and ratify them if in a few years they are broken or discarded by mutual agreement. What good are they? What significance do they bear in world politics? Are they perhaps a mere bromide to lull into a secure sleep dangerous eruptions in the status quo?

Do you remember? Do you remember a post card distributed by the National Council for Prevention of War, Washington, D. D. with the following contents, General Pact for the Renunciation of War. Signed at Paris, August 27, 1928. Proclaimed a Binding Agreement at Washington, July 24, 1929.

"The President of the German Reich, the President of the United States of America, His Majesty the King of the Belgians, the President of the French Republic, His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, His Majesty King of Italy, His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, the President of the Republic of Poland, the President of the Czechoslovak Republic,

"Persuaded that the time has come when frank renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy should be made. Convinced that all changes in their relations with one another should be sought only by pacific means. Hoping that, encouraged by their example, all the other nations of the world will join in this humane endeavor. Have decided to conclude a treaty.

Article I
"The High Contracting Parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

Article II
"The High Contracting Parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them shall never be sought except by pacific means."
I do not care to argue the value of such a treaty. All I know is that before the ink had time enough to dry Japan had designs on China, Italy was coveting an African Empire and Germany was grasping Czechoslovakia by the throat. If there is an honor among individuals that makes a man's word binding then that same honor should hold among nations. There are, of course, crooks among nations just as there are among individuals. We take precautions to safeguard ourselves against individual crooks. Why not do the same with nations?

In view of this fact, I should think a world police force and a world court would be in order. Then nations could be brought before the bar of justice for offences perpetrated by them and they could be suitably punished. That is as it should be.

JANE—All is forgiven. Tried magic new combination, Post's Raisin Bran. Think it's wonderful. Crazy about those crisp wheat and bran flakes with raisins.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

COURTESY TO THE
Stars & Stripes
With the American flag more and more in evidence because of wartime conditions, it is fitting that an increasing amount of attention be paid to flag etiquette. Pictured below, in preparation for the Fourth of July, are some of the "dos" and "don'ts" of flag display and courtesy.

ENTERING THE PROMISED LAND

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 1:1-9; 23:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:9.

The forward look is typical of God's people. They are always to go on. They are to be like Israel, to whom came the word, "Moses is dead," but "now therefore arise and go"—under a new leader.

Our lessons for this quarter center around the experiences of Israel from Joshua to David, a period rich in historical data, much of it with most helpful spiritual application. It affords a real opportunity for effective teaching.

Moses was now dead, but that only brought forth
I. God's Provision of a New Leader (1:1, 2).

God buries His workmen at the end of their day of labor, but God's work goes on. The people had become attached to Moses and had learned to trust his leadership (even though they often murmured). With his death we might have assumed that there would be a letdown, but that was not in God's plan.

The Lord works through men. He gives them abilities and uses them for His glory—often in a way which astonishes them and others. But let them not become proud, for God has someone to take their place when they are gone. They are not indispensable.

Sometimes people talk as though all the great leaders of the church had died, or were dying. Yet God has some obedient men who are ready to step into the gap.

Joshua was ready, when God was ready, and he stepped into leadership.

II. God's Promise of Victory (1:3-5).

The promise given to Moses was still good. God's promises are always good. They are the only really stable thing in a trembling universe. The question is, Are we ready to accept Him at His word?

If our love were but more simple, We should take Him at His word; And our lives would be all sunshine In the sweetness of our Lord.—Faber.

They were to step out by faith. The land was promised to them only as the sole of their foot should tread upon it. Israel never took out the full promise of verse 4. They lacked faith. Do we?

God honors those who believe Him and who move forward by faith to plant the foot of spiritual conquest in new territory. Some are doing it now. Are we?

The enemies of God's people were many and mighty, but they were not able to stand in the way of God's people when they were moving forward for Him. Here again, Israel failed. They did not drive them out, because they did not take God at His word. The application of that truth to us is obvious.

III. God's Plea for Obedience and Courage (1:6-9).

"Be strong and of good courage." There is a side to the believer's character which calls for submission, for turning everything over to God, for being sweet and spiritual. All that is good and very desirable, but it can never be substituted for that other side which shows virile courage and fearless abandon to the cause of our God.

Joshua was made to realize—as we must too—that serving God (and especially in a place of leadership) calls for a measure of high courage unsurpassed in any other pursuit of man. It takes all there is of a man to be a real follower of Christ—be sure of that!

This courage, however, is not to be confused with a foolhardy bravery which is reckless and unintelligent. No indeed, for it is based on the observance of God's law (v. 7).

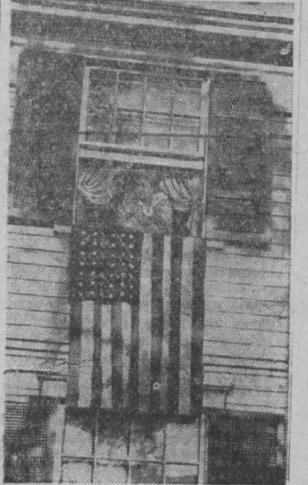

Note (v. 8) the importance of meditating upon God's Word. This (which is really a lost art in our day) means so absorbing the principles of the Word that our very lives are conditioned by them, and we are made ready to meet every problem in the light of its teaching.

IV. God's Purpose for the Future (23:1-5).

Passing all the great and stirring experiences of Joshua, we have now a glimpse of his closing days. He was counseling the people regarding the future.

It is the mark of a great man that he looks beyond the end of his own short existence and plans for the future. Many there are who are not concerned about what happens once they are gone. They have no vision, no concern about the continuity of life, in fact they come and go almost like the beasts of the field.

What about the future? Joshua reminded them that every blessing they had received, every victory they had won, everything, had come from the hand of God. There and there alone was their hope for the future. And it was enough!

In the absence of a staff or pole, the United States flag is hung in this fashion when displayed from a home. The stars of the Union are uppermost and to the observer's left.

When Old Glory is displayed with the other flags, the U. S. flag should be at the center or at the highest point. If they are flown from separate staffs, a few feet apart, the U. S. flag should be at the right of the line or the observer's left.

Here is the correct saluting procedure. Note methods employed by civilians. The Boy Scout gives a three-fingered salute and the police officer a military salute.

A definite "don't." It is absolutely incorrect and disrespectful to use the emblem as a tablecloth or decoration for the above speaker's table.

It is just as disrespectful to place the flag over the hood of the automobile as shown here. This happens too often in patriotic parades.

HAVE YOU A TRUE PICTURE OF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL?

MANY folks don't. They're as far from the real facts as this photo in an amusement park mirror!

Proof? In a nation-wide survey, 42% of the people sharply overestimated the amount of their last electric bill. 59% didn't realize that rates had been reduced in the last fifteen years—and 95% didn't realize how much!

Actually, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity today as it did fifteen years ago for the same money.

For the same money. That's the clue. You don't realize that rates are down, because your bill may be as much as it was fifteen years ago—or perhaps even more. But you have more electric appliances now. You're using more electricity—and you get about twice as much for what you pay.

Regains His Farm After Once Being Forcibly Evicted

Reoccupancy of Premises Is Expected to End Long Fought Litigation.

ELKHORN, WIS.—Evicted from his farm at Sharon in 1936, Ernest N. Kalb takes possession of the property under a decision approved recently by Federal Judge F. Ryan Duffy, of the Milwaukee Journal says.

George H. Belton, farm mortgage conciliation commissioner for Walworth county, who issued the decision, said that Kalb's reoccupancy of the premises was expected to end litigation that had continued since Henry and Helen Feuerstein began foreclosure proceedings against Kalb 11 years ago. Belton rejected a petition by the Feuersteins that a three-year moratorium granted to Kalb last year be shortened. The Feuersteins now occupy the 120-acre farm.

Resisted Deputies.

The case, one of several involving farm mortgage foreclosures that caused wide controversy in the 1930s, had its origin 11 years ago when the Feuersteins, who held a $6,000 mortgage, started foreclosure proceedings. In 1935 the farm was sold to the Feuersteins at a sheriff's sale, and when Kalb refused to quit the premises he was put off the property by Sheriff George O'Brien and 15 deputies armed with machine guns. Kalb met the deputies with a shotgun, but was disarmed when one of the officers struck him with a blackjack. His wife, armed with a club, struggled with another deputy.

Kalb was sentenced to serve a six-month jail term on a charge of having resisted an officer, but former Gov. Philip F. La Follette commuted the sentence to 30 days after agitation by farmers in Kalb's behalf. Kalb later sued the sheriff and County Judge Roscoe Luce, who had sentenced him, for damages of $29,000 on grounds that he had been evicted illegally, but the state supreme court in 1941 upheld a circuit court decision which dismissed the action.

At the time the sheriff's sale was confirmed in county court, a debtor's petition, filed by Kalb under the Frazier-Lemke mortgage moratorium act, was pending in federal court. The petition was disallowed, but in 1940 he filed a new petition on the basis of a United States supreme court decision which held that the filing of a farm debtor's petition in federal court deprived all other courts of jurisdiction in the matter.

Carried to Highest Court.

This petition, in which Kalb asked for a three-year period in which to pay his debts, also was disallowed, on grounds that Kalb did not submit a workable plan for meeting his obligations to his creditors as required under the Frazier-Lemke act. An amended petition, filed in 1941 and carried to the United States supreme court, was rejected, too, on similar grounds. The courts held, however, that the sheriff's sale was void.

Kalb's last petition was filed in February, 1943, and was allowed last October. The Feuersteins then asked that the moratorium, to begin when Kalb reoccupies the farm, be reduced, on grounds that no economic emergency exists as contemplated under the mortgage law. Judge Duffy on February 28 upheld the commissioner in rejecting their petition.

The Kalb family has been living at Sharon throughout the prolonged legal contest.

New British Armored Car Sets Mark in Fire Power

LONDON.—The British announced that they had developed a 12-ton armored car equipped to fire an anti-tank six-pounder while rumbling along from 18 to 42 miles an hour.

Called the "EAC Armored Car Mark II," the radio-equipped vehicle also mounts machine guns. The crew of four is protected by armor plate an inch and a quarter thick at the front and one inch at the sides.

Described as the "biggest most powerful British armored car yet seen in service on any battle front," it is powered by a diesel engine.

Bad Aim Capital Crime In This Case, Eden Told

LONDON.— Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told this one in a speech at a House of Commons press gallery luncheon:

"I was reproached by a friend of mine who asked, 'Is it true that you were opposite Hitler in the line in the last war?' I said, 'Yes, I understood I was from what Hitler told me.'

"So he said, 'Well, you ought to be taken from this room and shot.' "I asked, 'Why?' and he replied: "You missed him, didn't you?"

Woman Matador Gored, But Kills 2 Ring Bulls

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA.—Conchita Cintron, woman matador, was gored in the leg by the first bull she faced recently. Despite a large wound, she dispatched two bulls before surrendering to the crowd's insistence that she leave the arena. The cheering throng presented her with the ears of the first bull and the tail of the second as trophies. Conchita is billed as the world's only woman bullfighter.
