SERVICE MEN LETTERS Many and Varied are their Experiences

England, Sept. 27, 1944. Dear Mr. Stonesifer:
Well it's been a long time between letters so I will try and tell you the latest news

I am still in special service running a theatre in England. Here of late we have had some very big stars at our base, not so long ago we had Bing Crosby. His show was very good and the fellows really enjoyed The day he came to our Camp it rained from early morning until late that evening. He was late in getting to our theatre but the fellows stood in the rain and waited for him. I talked to him before the show and as you know by the papers a buzz bomb hit his hotel and he lost all his clothes. Well outside of that he was really on the ball. Another big event at our base was the night a General presented our Field Commandere with a cup. Our base, (for a period of three months,) put out the best work and showed the best progress in new ideas which will help win this war. The army had newsreel camera men here and we had free doughnuts, hot coffee,hamburgers and beer as well as coffee,hamburgers and beer as well as a stage show and dance. Everyone really had a good time, but the next day every one was back on the job helping to lick Hitler. There is a lot of things that I can't tell you because of censorship but it has to be that way. Oh yes I almost forgot. I want to thank you for sending me the Carrell Record, it sure is sweet to read roll Record, it sure is sweet to read about the news of your home town. Although sometimes it bad news; as in the case of some of the fellows who have died in France. Well its getting late and my last show is just about over so will close for this time. As a tap dance

Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 13, '44 Well I guess you are quite surprised to be hearing from me again, I was just sitting here in my tent with nothing much to do and happened to think of you and decided to drop you a few lines. I have been on the sick list for a couple of days with a little fever, but expect to go back to duty in a few days.

Yes things are rather hot out here in the Pacific, sometimes more ways than one. We have a run in with the Japs occasionally, first it was Guadacanal then Trawa then Sapian, and of course now I am expecting to come nome some time in the near future. Well I guess I have said about all there is to say for the present. Hop-ing to hear from you soon. A friend, SGT. MARTIN NUSBAUM, Co. C. 1st. 2nd. Marines, care Fleet Postoffise San Francisco, Calif.

It has been my intention to write you long before this but my days pass quickly it seems into weeks. I want to thank you for sending me the Carroll Record paper. As a rule it arrives Wednesday morning and is very much appreciated here in San Diego

School has been going very nice so far. I have completed the first four weeks and starting Monday will go to the butcher shop for practical work. There we will cut all the meat required for the entire station. The station comprises a number of camps and is much larger than I dare say. In fact I have no idea just how many could be here. We have nice barracks and class rooms. The grounds in the station are pretty and very well kept.

San Diego is nice in its own way considering but is as can be expected be an overcrowded Navy town. I have not been in town so much as studies have kept me rather busy. Mexico is rather close and hope before I have to leave will have the opportunity to visit for a day or two.

I would like to say here that I certainly did enjoy my visit to Taneytown in August. Everyone was very nice, kind of spoiled me. Now I want another. That is impossible and doubt if I get any leave when school is over. Some that have just finished got East Coast duty that being the case might get a day or two.

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness in sending the paper. Sincerely, J. T. ALBAUGH S. C. 1/c U S N R

CHILDREN'S AID

Presentation of Cash Prizes to Victory Gardeners

The annual financial campaign of the |Carroll |County |Children's Aid Society wil again be conducted this year, the date being October 16-28. The goal of the drive will be $4000.00

The campaign was officially opened on Saturday, October 7 at the campaign outing which was held at the Westminster Riding Club. This is an annual affair to which campaign workers and foster parents and children are invited. All campaign material and instructions are distributed to campaign workers at this meetings to those present.

Due to the illness of Mrs. Frank T. Myers, President, the meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. David H. Taylor, who extended greetings to those present.

The first number on the program was a doll sketch presented by four young ladies, the Misses Dori and Ellen Arnold, Mrs. Sterling Beard and Miss Norma Sprinkle. This was a great delight to the children.

Mrs. Taylor then turned the meeting ever to Mrs. Royd Puten who was

PAPER COLLECTION

Citizens Urged to Bundle and Place in Frontof Home

The seventh general paper collection will be directed by the leader of the local Boy Scout Troop 348 Thursday, October 19th.

Since this is a week day, citizens are requested to have paper, rags and cardboard tied, put out on the side-walk in front of their homes before they leave for work, and weighted down so as not to blow away. The collection will begin in the afternoon. It is planned to collect more frequently if this time works satisfactorily, since Saturday is out of the question for many Scouts.

Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican Presidential candidate died in a New York Hospital last Sunday morning. Death was due to coronary thrombosis. He was aged 52 years. He is survived by his wife, who was at his side at the time of his death, and one son Phillip, a Lieutenant (j. g.) on duty with the Navy "somewhere in the Pacific."

The Associated Press has the following to say about the career of Willkie: "Willkie's nomination as Republican "Willkie's nomination as Republican candidate for President at the 1940 convention in Philadelphia was a unique event in American political history. He was a former Democrat. He had the backing of no orthodox political organization. Moreover, some members of the "Old Guard" freeward on him frowned on him.

Yet, in losing the election, he polled 22,333,801 votes—the largest popular vote ever given a Republican Presidential candidate.

And from this he went on to still greater prominence. In 1941 he went to England to observe war-time conditions and left behind him there a message for the German people—that "we German-Americans reject and hate the aggression and lust for power of the present German Government."

In 1942, Willkie made a 31,000mile tour of the Middle East, Russia mile tour of the Middle East, Russia and China as special representative of President Roosevelt. He carried letters to Marshal Joseph Stalin and Generallissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. He described his travels in a book, "One World," which sold 1,500,000 copies.

A native of Elwood, Ind., Willkie had lived in New York since 1933 but never cut himself off completely from his home state.

DR. CRAWFORD AND QUARTETTE AT WESTMINSTER H. S.

The Rev. Dr. Percy B. Crawford and his famous radio and recording quartet will be present in person at the Westminster High School auditorium, Longwell Avenue extended, Friday evening, October 20, at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Crawford is known throughout the entire English speaking world for his popular radio program, "The Young People's Church of the Air—Around the World." This famous program is heard each Sunday over a National network of 250 stations. Thousands of persons, both young and old, around the world have learned to love this radio program. Dr. Crawford has been often called "the young people's friend." Dr. Crawford is the President of King's College, Philadelphia, and also conducts several Bible Conferences for young people during the summer months. Pine-brook Camp is one of the camps which is known to thousands of young people in the east.

Because of this unusual opportunity to see, hear, and meet Dr. Crawford and his famous quartet, everyone is cordially invited to attend this meeting. A splendid program has been arranged by Dr. Crawford and his quartet. Dr. Crawford is especially anxious to meet the young people of the county. There is no charge for admission. Free-will offering.

TANEYTOWN SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

Held in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church

The Taneytown Dist. S. S. Rally was held in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Sunday, October 8th, was well attended and the program exceptionally good. Approximately 350 Sunday School officers and pupils were in attendance. The program was directed by the President, Harry Mohney.

Special music was rendered by the Girls' Glee Club of our High School under the direction of Mrs Wallace Yingling, assisted at the organ by Mrs. George L. Harner. Their numbers were well rendered. The Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, Professor of Theology at the Seminary at Gettysburg presented the needs of the Sunday School in a most challenging manner. Comments were to the effect, that this was one of the best Rallies that the District has held for years.

During the business session the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Norman Hess; Vice-President, Daniel Naill; 2nd Vice-President, Delmont Koons; Secretary, Lloyd Wilhide and Treasurer, Murray Baumgardner. The Rev. Guy P. Bready, of Grace Reformed Church installed these newly elected officers. A new feature in the activities of the association was the presentation of an attendance banner to the school registering the highest rercentage in attendance for the year. The Banner was given to the Piney Creek Presbyterian Sunday School which had an average attendance of 79% of their enrollment throughout the year. Each year, this panner will be held or transferred to the school with the highest percent at-

OUR JR. BAND

Will Play at Football Game in McSherystown

The Taneytown Jr. I. O. O. F. Band will play for a football game at the Delone High School in McSherrystown, Pa., on Sunday, Oct. 15. Members will leave the band hall at 1:15. Members are asked to wear full uniforms, unless the weather is too cold for white—then wear capes and caps over warm clothing. In case weather is doubtful, information can be se-cured from Manager David Smith. The beginners class is now forming

-it will begin lessons on October 24, at 7 P. M., in the band hall. This is open to any child in this community and all instruction is absolutely free. Any parent interested in having children join the band should see Mr. Menchey, in the band hall, on Tuesday night—from 6:30 to 9:30 P. M.—he will supply all information.

ON THE DIAL OF WFMD

The Rev. Jimmy Roberts, well known to countless listeners through his popular "Pilot Program," heard over WFMD each Tuesday at 2:30 P. M., has added another series as yet untitled but which will be patterned after the Pilot Program. This new series will be heard Tuesday mornings at 10:15. The Pilot Program will continue to be heard at the regular time 2:30 P. M. Tuesdays.

Quincy Howe, CBS New Analyst, who is heard over WFMD each week-day except Thursday at 6 P. M., will write a book, tentatively titled "A. Short History of the Modern World": a Contemporary Story of the 20th Century through 1945."

The Rev. John Smithson has returnred to the air and is now heard over WFMD each Friday afternoon at 5:30 P. M. Winniemae Lint's new series, 'The Adventures of the Little Tin Soldier,' presented over WFMD each Tuesday and Thursday at 5:30 each Tuesday and Thursday at 5:30 P. M., is attracting a great deal of interest among children and their parents. Miss Lint, who is WFMD's musical director, plays her own musical interludes on the piano and solovox during the programs.

The "Sing Along Club," previously heard in the mornings over WFMD, has now moved to the 5:00 P. M. period, Mondays thru Fridays. Harry Savoy, on the "Kate Smith Hour" (WFMD-Sundays at 7 P. M.) told Ted Collins that his uncle sells bathtubs to millionaires—and then went on to comment: 'That's one way to soak the rich.'

"Uncle Joe" Johnson has joined the staff of WFMD as Assistant Produc-tion Manager, and in that capacity will work closely with Ed McCurdy in developing new live studio programs.
"Uncle Joe" is well-known to radio listeners, having formerly been featured over WSVA and WINC as "Uncle Joe" and his Barn Dance Gang, and will very soon become familiar to listeners in this area.

George Burns and Gracie Allen. presented in their regular program over WFMD every Tuesday night at 9:00, are currently being heard every day Monday thru Friday on a special five minute transcribed program at 2:15 P. We are too apt to try to make ourselves big by belittling others. Instead of frankly and freely admitting that we have a lot to learn that other people might know, and remembering its correlative thought that maybe we know some things that it would do them good to learn, we shut ourselves up in a mirror lined room. We need to discard the mirrors, open the windows and see what is outside.

Let us face this problem of differences with some intelligence. None of us can know too much. None of us but who can learn from others. None of us but who has something to give in exchange.

How about it? The next time you run up against a "different" person, can't you say "Here is my opportunity." You never can tell-maybe you'll teach him as much as he will teach you.

If you analyze the statement with which I started, you find it boils down to "We don't like what we don't know". In that lies the solution. Knowledge is the key to understanding. It's hard to dislike someone you know well.-Ruth Taylor.

GET OUT AND VOTE

At least one (maybe two) political party is passing word around through its avenues of intelligence, that the election may be lost because several million voters, it is feared, will stay at home. This writer can't figure out who can possibly get hurt if everybody gets out and votes, and we are in favor of every man and woman doing that very thing.

Under the American system all the people are supposed to be running this country of ours. And if the estimate of the Gallup Poll that the number of votes will be only 39,500,-000 in 1944 turns out to be correct "the wrong man" may be elected by reason of the absentee voters-because that is 16,300,000 fewer votes than were cast in 1940.

Regardless of politics no American voter should allow himself, or herself, to become a guilty party by failure to vote in the election of a President. So, everybody should go to the polls and vote.-National Industries News Service.

Une Kilowatt Hour OF ELECTRICITY

And since you buy electricity by the kilowatt hour, you should know what you pay for. Even though you can't see a kilowatt hour, there's no mystery about it. You buy enough pounds of meat for a meal-you buy enough kilowatt hours to run your electric appliances. It's that simple. But with cost the similarity ends. Unlike other things the cost of electricity has been steadily coming down. And here's proof! Each pile of pennies below represents the AVERAGE cost of a kilowatt hour in the year shown under the pile. You can see for yourself just how much the cost of electricity has been cut.

HERE COME THE RESERVES!

CHOCK TROOPS may capture vital beach heads. But then must come the reserves ... to hold them!

In the same way the profitable farm must have financial reserves behind it to be safe. No owner or tenant can operate satisfactorily when one crop failure, one crisis of sickness, accident or weather, can push him over the edge of disaster.

For you, as for countless farsighted farmers and ranchers all over the country, War Bonds are an investment in farm security as well as an obligation to your country.

While they are helping to equip our Armed Forces, your Bonds are also building up a backlog of strength for you against emergencies Just when you'll be needing money most for vital postwar replacements, every three dollars you've invested will come back to you at maturity increased to four... to help pay the bills!

So put every War Bond you can behind the war—and your farm!

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . Now!

2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this

3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.

4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will

5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production

FEESERSBURG

The Sun came up so bright this Monday morning, then popped under a cloud and now we have threatening skies at 9 A. M. but the tractor and harrow has been busy already in a 5 acre field; the corn gatherer too has completed its work in the big field, and everything seems quiet now—not that all the work is done, but hand work makes less noise.

Pvt. 1/c Samuel Lesight arrived home at an early hour on Sunday A.

M. from Camp Pickett, Va. to attend church and commune with his wife (nee Rosellen Wilhide) at Mt. Union. Recently he was sent on a mission to Ga.—and never knows where next.

Pyt. Orville Bangs, of Dundalk, Baltimore, spent Sunday night with his uncle the Maurice Grinder family. He had a furlough from a camp in Texas, to which he returned early this week.

A former pleasant neighbor of a few years ago, Mrs. Caroline Wood, of Rocky Ridge community—made a brief call at the Stuffle home in our town last Friday. She is all activity and has been working as hard as ever The Samuel Wood's occupied the cottage built by W. Shaffer.

Miss Arlene Grinder graduated from the Georgia Maude School of Beauty Culture in Baltimore on Fri-day; and her class mates gave her a farewell party, some nice gifts-and choice refreshments.

Rev. George E. Bowersox, Jr. held his last service at Mt. Union on Sunday morning, when he spoke earnestly on the Good Shepherd and "All we like sheep have gone astray." organist rendered sweet music, and beautiful flowers were at the chancel. About 75 persons communed, some of the regular attendants who are in their country's service were missed. Mr. Bowersox and family will leave Uniontown next week for his new charge at Salisbury, Pa.

Mrs. Clara Wolfe, delegate to the work undertaken. Young women since work undertaken. Young women since Jan. 1944 have been accepted as missionaries—2 to Africa, 3 to India, of members who departed this life the past year, 35 names were on the roll for the memorial service. All sessions were well attended. As the term of Mrs. M. Edwin Thomas had expired, Mrs. F. Lee Fresh, of moun-tain conference of Md. Synod was elected president.

The last we've heard from Mrs. Ella Koons Crumbacker who has been ill the past month at the home of the son, Orville C., in Waynesboro, is that she is somewhat improved—tho still confined to bed. She has had a long life of remarkably good health—but sickness never seems good.

but sickness never seems good.

Crumbacker called to see Mrs. Ada Coleman McKinney who was brought home from the Frederick Hospital last week considerably improved—but now comes convalescing-time. We know she has good care, and hope for her safe recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wolfe arrived at the home of his brother, Cleon Wolfe on Monday evening; the men to attend a special meeting of the K. of P. Lodge at night in Union Bridge; returning to Philadelphia by early train the next morning.

A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mrs. Frances M. Diffendal, 33 John St. celebrated her 98th birthday on Monday the 9th, but it did not leak out until too late for a celebration, so the members of Mrs. J. D. Belt's S. S. Class of which her daughter, Mrs. Nan Dutterer is a member decid ed, although the day was past they would do something about it any way, so Tuesday they held Open House and gave her a miscellaneous shower from until 4, although Mrs. Diffendal has been confined to bed since the 28th of last October when she fell in her home and broke her right hip, and her hearing and sight are very much impaired, she stood the ordeal like the Prooper she is, did not get nervous, but just tired from shaking so many hands. There were 16 present including the teacher. Mrs. Dutterer very ably assisted by Mrs. Charles R. Byers served punch, cookies and pretzel sticks, and all spent a most enjoyable time, and she received lovely gifts of fruits of all kinds and canned goods, 23 cards, $11.25 in cash from relatives and two lovely baskets of good things from the J. W. Shunk family, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bowers, of Taneytown, all of which were very much appreciated.

P. E. WINS SAFETY AWARD

The National Safety Council, at its annual Safety Congress meeting in Chicago, last week awarded first prizes to the Potomac Edison System as the winner of two of its National Fleet Safety contests.

Potomac Edison won the passenger car contest and the truck contest, two of the Councils' national contests which are sponsored in an effort to reduce the number of automotive accidents over the nation.

Competing against 49 other public utilities companies' fleets, PE's recof only two truck accidents in 954.000 miles won for it the top award with Montana Power Co. (Butte Mont.) and Toledo Edison Co. (Tole do, O). finishing in second and third places, respectively.

In the Passenger Car Contest, PE's record of chargeable accidents in 836,000 miles of automobile driving was better than that of any of the other 39 companies entered. To-ledo Edison Co. provided the principal competition for PE in this contest and its record of one accident in 960,000 miles earned for it the second place award. Finishing third was The Borden Co. (Chicago Milk Division, Chicago, Ill).

A writer for pulp paper magazines whose specialty is yarns of the wide open spaces of the far West, standing at Forty-second and Broadway as if picking up inspiration for stories of the clatter of hoofs from the rattle and bang of

A big truck loaded heavily with bunches of bright green bananas making a traffic stop at Thirtyeighth street. And into my mind popping that inane old song, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," which was true in these parts for quite some time. . . Women clustered about the window of a store in which is the sign, "Going out of business—All hats $1.95." And there isn't any "and up" after the $1.95 either. . . . An ice truck blocking Forty-second street with irate taxi drivers blowing their horns furiously. Isn't there some kind of a law against such noise? . . . That big store on Sixth fancier, I don't dare go in there because I'd surely come out broke, and my purchases wouldn't help my home standing either, our apartment already being too well gadgeted.

A big artists' supplies store where neither the customers nor the clerks ever seem to be in a hurry. . Hotel sign: "Rooms for servicemen 65 cents a night." Seems like the last time I saw that, it read 60 cents. . . . A leather goods store with various articles of merchandise in the window bearing big price tags on which, in very small letters, is printed, "plus 20 per cent govern-ment tax." . . . Strains of music coming from a third floor hall, where various acts go to do their rehearsing before exhibiting their talentsor lack of them—to the public. . . . A marine, with plenty of service on his chest, inspecting a display of wicked looking knives in the window of one of those army and navy stores. And announcing with a shake of his head, "One of them wouldn't last two minutes in real action."

A big white steamer churning the Hudson into foam as it makes its way swiftly downstream . . . and that reminds me that I should thank my old friend, Ollie Dustin, for sending me a copy of "The Lake Erie Breeze." Liked the article by Capt. Frank E. Hamilton titled, "Confederate Spies Seize Great Lakes Vessel," a bit of Civil war history I'd forgotten completely. . . . My thanks also to Miss Seroun Araxie Mesrobian, Detroit, for her gift of tasty cookies and chocolate candy of a make I like best of . . Back to Riverside drive: A pretty little nurse girl looking admiringly at a white-clad petty officer whose attention, alas, is firmly held by a chic blonde.

'Bedspring' Mines Are Sowed by Nazis U. S. ARMY IN FRANCE.-The

Nazis have resorted to the use of portable barbed-wire obstacles in efforts to hold up the Yanks. These barriers look like gigantic spiral bedsprings to which have been attached anti-personnel mines set to explode with a minimum of pressure. These gadgets are being coped with successfully however, it is reported.

FRIENDS

Friends—what magic in the word, Easy to say, and so often heard, But what connates the thought? Can friendship be by money bought? Friendship is a thing that's born And grows to life estate—born Of free will and without guile
And if 'tis nurtured will grow the while.

We plod along the road of care That carries us, we know not where, But in the end, if we are kind Full friendship give if we're a mind To do our part, tis give and take That cause the wheels to move And progress make

What is this stupid thing called greed The Devils creed-returned with speed. Friends are those who stand secure,

When raging storms around us roar, They are dependable in times of need And never stoop so low To show their greed. The friend is he who by the wayside

The sick Samaritan, and to him is kind, So if upon the journey

You would friendship have Be sure that you yourself True friendship give. W. J. H.

MARRIED

ALBAUGH—FLEAGLE

The wedding of Miss Katharine Lana Fleagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar K. Fleagle, Mayberry, and Harman G. Albaugh, Taneytown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albaugh took place Saturday evening, October , 1944, at 6 o'clock, in Emmanuel Baust Reformed Church.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, C. Fleagle, who gave her in marriage. She wore a costume suit of brown gabardine with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The matron of honor, Mrs. Stoner Fleagle, wore a brown suit and accessories with a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mr. Albaugh had as his bestman, Kenneth Shorb, Taneytown. George E. Dodrer, cousin of the bride, was the usher. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. Miles S. Reif-

Before the ceremony a fifteen minute organ recital was given by Mrs. Martin Koons, among her selections being "To a Wild Rose," "Indian Love Call," and "Drink to me only with Thine Eyes." She also played the wedding march and the recessional. Mrs. George Dodrer sang, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly" was sung by Hively Gladhill.
The church altar flowers were white chrysanthemums and the chancel was decorated with palms. The bride's mother wore a fushia dress and hat, and the groom's mother was dressed in purple, both had corsages of white rosebuds. There were about 125 guests in attendance at the wedding, and also at the reception which was held in the Parish House. Those assisting in serving were: Mrs. Kenneth Shorb, Mrs. Theodore Jester, Miss Kathryn Myers, Mrs. Stoner Fleagle, Mrs. William Lawyer and Miss Belva

Both the bride and groom are em ployed at the Blue Ridge Rubber Company, Littlestown, Pa. Mrs. Albaugh is a graduate of Taneytown High School, and Mr. Albaugh, of

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 25th.

The Golden Text will be from I Thes. 5:9, 10—"God hath not appointed as to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live to-gether with him."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible-John 10:30-"I and ny Father are one."

The Lesson-Sermon also will inlude passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the fol-lowing page 26—"Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine or belief. It was the divine Principle of real being which he taught and practiced.'

> - × Banish Fruit Stains

If material on which you find a fruit stain is washable, stretch it over a large bowl and pour boiling water through the fruit or berry stain. If the stain is stubborn, on white or cotton, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or chlorine bleach. With non-washable fabrics, use a 10 per cent solution of acetic acid to sponge colored materials. Materials where color will not be affected may be sponged with warm water, then hydrogen peroxide.

Homespun Philosophy

THE ETERNAL CANVASS

This story begins "once upon a time" for I do not know the exact time nor much of the circumstance. Once upon a time a little boy saw his mother mistreated by a burly landlord. This scene was so deeply impressed upon the boy's mind that several years later he painted a picture of it. This was hung in a famous gallery for every one to see. Among the spectators that came to see the picture was the unkind land-lord. He immediately offered a large sum for the picture so that no more people could gaze upon his dastardly deed. I don't know whether the boy sold the picture or not, but I am inclined to believe that he did not. am certain that he wanted that scene to cut into the conscience of the contemptible landlord.

But time will erase that scene. The canvass will decay and fall in dust, or some catastrophic event will eliminate it sooner. It will not last forever. There is, however, another canvass upon which that scene was recorded. A canvass that never decays nor can be destroyed. It is the Eternal Canvass painted by the Great Master.

We paint our histories upon that canvass. Each little event, each great undertaking is recorded by one that paints with a flawless hand. There are no mistakes made. There is an innumerable host passing beneath that picture as it hangs in the Art Galleries of Eternity. They see our life in review.

Why not live'a life so that when it is recorded it will inspire others to good and noble deeds. There is always someone that looks to us as an example to shape his life after. Some boy or girl watches every move we make. Let us point them to glorious things.

The Great Master paints with indelible ink. When once the imprint is made it cannot be erased. Unkind words cannot be recalled, untruthful statements cannot be denied, base, means and treacherous deeds cannot be disowned. There it is and there it remains for all the world to see. If this eternal picture were painted upon a material canvass so that the physical eyes of man could behold it. I am afraid, many people would go about with down cast eyes and a look of shame upon their faces. As it is they hide their shame under a cloak of spiritual callousness. Some day it will all be revealed. These pictures are not painted from memory or with foresight into the future We paint what takes place now. No guess work! It is accurate and precise in every detail.

Tosses Horseshoe, Turns Up Diamond

Is Second Largest Found in North America.

PETERSTOWN, W. VA. — When William ("Punch") Jones was pitching horseshoes with his father 12 years ago a shoe turned up a bright bit of stone, the youth put the stone in a pocket and thought little more

He thought the stone was unusual, but because he did not want to be ridiculed he refrained for years from having it examined by an ex-

When he did overcome this reluctance, the expert said the stone was a diamond, the second largest ever found in North America, and it might be of great value. So the stone which young Jones carried as a curio now is in the National museum in Washington, D. C., as a loan from the youth and his father, Grover C. Jones.

The story of the diamond and its finder was told by R. J. Holden, professor of geology at Virginia Polytechnic institute.

Holden said the diamond is larger than the Dewey diamond of 23.75 carats, found near Richmond, Va., in 1855, which for many years was the largest found in the United States. The stone found during the horseshoe pitching match weighs 34.46 carats.

The Jones diamond is white, with a slight greenish tinge, and has one visible impurity, a black spot. Holden said its value had not been de termined, that depending upon the quality of the stone. No standard price can be placed upon it because of its size.

If it is used in the gem trade, for use in rings and other forms of jewelry, it will be of great value, he said. Its museum value, he added, would be about $75 a carat, or $2,500.

Sicily Harvest Worries

Italian Authorities SALERNO, ITALY.—Agriculture Minister Fausto Gullo expressed concern over the harvest in Sicily where, he said, agents of Sicilian separatists are telling farmers to consume the wheat themselves and not send it to Italy. He warned that the Italian government and the Allies would take strong measures against violations of the harvest laws.

This year's harvest is one of the most important concerns of the Italian government, and Granaii del Popolo (granaries of the people) have been set up to take care of it. They consist of local committees, representing all agricultural classes and presided over by the mayor. They decide whether the yield declared by farmers corresponds to the amount actually harvested. Penalties, including imprisonment, are provided for infractions.

Anything but the Truth

By ETHELYN PARKINSON McClure Newspaper Syndicate WNU Features.

M ISS Kitty Herrick and Miss Patty Lou Lee wished they were in swimming. But since Lieutenant Gavin Cornwall simply loathed athletic women, they lay quietly on the beach, clad in sun hats, goggles, lipsticks and the briefest of sun suits. "It's false pretense to act like a house plant, darling," Kit was saying, "when you're really the best girl athlete in our high school."

'No one here knows that," Patty "Besides, anything goes-in love!"

"Anything but the truth, darling! And I wonder if it's love!" Kit sat up suddenly. "Look, Pat - competition!" A tall, blond girl was striding up the hotel steps. "Smooth," Kit observed.

"She's simply all muscles," Pat replied. "If Gavin looks at her twice, I'll eat my sun hat!" At that moment the door opened and Lieutenant Cornwall barged out. Stepping aside to let the blonde pass, he stood gazing after her.
"We-ell!" Kit whispered. "You'll admit he never looked at you that way, darling.' "Listen, Kit," Pat said, "that gal seems familiar. Let's go peek at the register."

"'Miss Eugenia Williams," Kit read. "Mean anything, Pat?"

"No . . . but she looks familiar."
"Oh, forget it! It's two o'clock.
Your precious Gavin will be taking his nap. Let's sneak a swim." The girls went around the bluff, out of sight. When they trailed back, Gavin was on the porch. "Think I'll go in for a coke," Pat said.

But just then Eugenia Williams strolled across the piazza and into the refreshment bar. After her went Gavin. Kit grinned. "Too late, Pat!" Pat's eyes narrowed. "Kit," she whispered, "let's have a look at her room. I'll investigate while you stand sentry. As a detective Pat was trium-phant. "Tennis rackets, golf clubs, hiking boots! And on the flyleaf of a book—'Love to Speed!'" "'Speed!'" Kit's eyes popped.

"Then she's -"

"She's Speed Williams, the swimming star. Sh! Here she comes!" They met her as they walked down the hall. "We were just going to call on you, Miss Williams. We're Kit Herrick and Pat Lee."

Eugenia Williams smiled. "Come in, girls. Have a chocolate."
Kit glanced around the room.
"Play tennis, Miss Williams?"
"Love to! But—"
"Golf?" Pat inquired sweetly.
"Nothing I converged."

"Nothing I enjoy more, except swimming. But —"
Pat sighed. "I wish I were athletic. But there's one advantage. Gavin Cornwall simply loathes athletic girls! When he was twelve, a ten-year-old girl saved his life in the water. It gave him a complex.'

"I see." Eugenia nervously picked up a book. "Well, to tell the truth, I'm not going to be very active while I'm here. Doctor's orders. No swimming at all."

"I think you'd better tell Gavin darling, served a week later. "They've had all those movies and rides and walks. And they do look right chummy, reading together on the beach.

Pat sat up. "Look," she cried.
They watched, electrified, as Eugenia climbed to the diving platform. Her beautiful body struck the water cleanly. She swam out-out-Pat clutched Kit's arm. "Kit!

What'll you bet that crook screams for help?" And just then, as if it were timed, Eugenia screamed. Gavin dashed into the surf. "Good," Pat whispered darkly. "Wait till he knows Speed Williams has made a monkey of him."

The next morning, Pat, primped and perfumed, was waiting on the veranda when Kit appeared. "Toddle on, Kit. I'm waiting for Gavin." "Gavin! But -"

"I phoned him in his room. Told him I simply had to talk to him for his own good! He said he had a little business first -

Eugenia Williams' voice came from somewhere around the corner. "I'm sorry, Gavin. I - I just couldn't swim."

"How utterly crooked!" Pat whispered. "Just wait till he finds out who she is."

But Gavin was barking: "No one can swim with cramps! You were purple, Eugenia! Your pulse was almost gone! Why go in the water if your doctor tells you not to?'

"They told me you didn't like athletic girls, Gavin. I had to let you know that I — well, I —"

"That you're Speed Williams? I knew it all the time!" Gavin growled. "I've followed your career since I was twelve. Ever since you saved my skin and made me deathly afraid of girl athletes." His voice dropped. "Until I found you could be just as helpless — need me just as much, darling —"

Kit tittered hysterically. "Telling the truth! Both of 'em! Such lack of finesse! So crooked! Where you going, Pat?"

a good swim, tennis, golf and a hike before luncheon. Join me?" "For everything but lunch," Kit giggled. "Because for lunch, darling, I guess you'll be eating a sun

JESUS' UNDERSTANDING OF MAN

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 12:9-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—And needed not that any should testify of man; for he knew what was in man.—John 2:25.

What is a man worth? That depends on your point of view. In a museum stands a collection of small jars containing minerals, water, etc., which make up the body of a man, and which are valued at less than a dollar. But there is more to man than his body.

And that "more"—intellectual and spiritual-is what determines his real value. Jesus understood (yes, and now He understands) man, and places a high valuation on him. That is worth knowing in a world where the price of humanity is often figured on the basis of his usefulness in warfare or the factory.

Jesus really understands man. He

I. Need (v. 9). The first thing Jesus saw in the synagogue was not the leaders, or the beautifully appareled rich, or the learned scribes. He saw a man with a withered hand, one who needed His help. The enemies of Christ complimented Him by expecting Him to see the crippled one—and they "watched him" (Mark 3:2), for it was the Sabbath.

Do we see the real need of humanity? Does it speak to us and prompt us to helpful action? If not, are we like our Lord and Master?

II. Value (vv. 10-12).

They who would not hesitate to save a sheep in distress on the Sabbath did not want the man to receive help. Thus they put property above the person of man, and showed their low valuation of man.

The dignity of man's personality, the fact that he is made in the likeness and image of God, the great potentialities which exist in every man-all these should urge upon the Christian church the need of a new and higher estimate of the worth of a man-or a boy or a girl. Let us look at them with God's eyes, and seek to win them for Him.

III. Faith (v. 13). No doubt this man had tried countless times to straighten out that withered arm. It was the very thing he most wanted to do, but it was quite impossible. Is Jesus then charging him with the impossible, asking him to do what cannot be

No, for He saw in this man the desire to be whole and faith in God's ability to make him whole. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan puts it well: "We turn from a contemplation of a withered hand and look at the face of Jesus. The moment we do this, we know that the command is possible because He commands it, however impossible it may ap-To look into that face must inevitably have meant to be certain that He was not there to reveal disability, save as He was also there to put an end to it '

IV. Enmity (vv. 14, 15a).

Jesus saw the good in man. He also saw the evil. He was not unaware of the hatred and the dark devices of His enemies. Until the day when He was to permit them to take Him captive in the garden, He withdrew from them, leaving them to their evil designs and their wicked unbelief.

Sometimes when we see how the wicked seem to flourish in our day, how they appear to go on without let or hindrance, we are prone to forget that there is One who "sits in the shadows," and who knows and notes not only their ungodly deeds, but also their sinful thoughts.

He knows, and that is enough for us. Let us not be seeking vengeance, nor fretting ourselves because of evil doers. God knows, and He will care for it all.

V. Weakness (vv. 15b-21).

Men hesitate to admit their weakness to one another, always trying to keep up the appearance of strength and success. Well, there is no need of that kind of subterfuge with God. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust" (Ps. 103:

Jesus sympathized with those who were physically ill and He healed them (v. 15). What comfort there is in knowing that He is present at the sick bed of every believer, and that He is able to heal as it may be His will and purpose. Only He can do it.

But there is something even more precious here. Man is weak not only physically but spiritually. His spiritual light may at times be nearly out, just a smoldering wick instead of a brightly shining lamp. We might be tempted to say that it is so weak, so disagreeable, so smoky -let's put it entirely out. But not He will, if permitted, fan it into flame again. Then, too, man is like a broken reed. The picture is that of a stick cut to use for support as one walks. And then it breaks-what shall we do? Break it into smaller pieces and throw it away? Yes, that is what we will do if we have not the spirit of

Shark Fishing Proving Profitable Off West Coast

The despised scavenger of the sea, the soup-fin shark, has proven a real "gold rush" to fishermen on the Pacific coast.

Working on shares, the men have returned with as much as $3,000 each for a week's work. Thus the stealer of bait, destroyer of nets and freak of nature has proven to be the most profitable venture for fishermen in recent years. With new devices for locating schools of sharks, the present expectations are that this new bonanza may con-

The war has caused a shortage of cod liver oil. Most of the Norway plants were burned to keep them out of the hands of Nazis, and it may be years before the former importance of the Norwegian cod liver oil industry can be restored. However, despite the failure to secure the 72,000,000 pounds of cod liver oil annually from Norway, the American Pacific coast fishermen are now well on their way to furnish this void, and with profit to themselves.

The soup-fin shark is a freak of the water. Its liver sometimes is one-fifth of its total weight. While lower in vitamin D content than cod liver oil, species of shark will run from 20 to 30 times greater in vitamin A potency.

Not all the sharks that are now being caught are from the waters near the Pacific coast of America, the industry is also proving profitable off Puerto Rico. Off the coast of Florida, the industry is showing considerable progress. Most of this specie weigh 500 pounds or more.

In addition to the oil and shark steaks, the sharks are used for fertilizers, and the skins find their place in war industries.

Camel Fallacies Brought To Light by the Yanks

The Yanks in addition to learning about war have found out many new facts about camels, and exploded some of the fallacies.

The camel's hump is composed of nearly 80 pounds of fat, and not of water as often stated. This is about one-fifteenth of the weight of a

The pouches serve to moisten the food which is to be masticated during rumination, and not as a reservoir for water. The water is contained from general circulation, as saliva is. The camel's normal reserve of liquid water seems in fact to be stored all over its body, as is the case with any other animal, except the camel can store water in the tissues underlying its skin.

Camels get drunk on fresh water. When deprived of salt and given fresh water to drink they may develop "mad staggers," which is water intoxication. They can also suffer from getting too much salt. They must be given salt with their fodder if salt-bearing vegetation is not available.

Camel's milk is unusual in being rich in vitamin C in which the milk of most mammals is poor.

Large Reindeer Loss

A loss of from two to three million pounds of meat, 20,000 to 30,000 of muclues and from 10,000 to 15,000 parkas, is resulting annually by reindeer slain by wolves of the Alaska district. Alaskan reindeer men agree with army observers that unless drastic steps are taken to fully protect the once vast but now shrunken herds the reindeer industry in the north is doomed. The annual loss is from 20,000 to 30,000 deer. The Eskimos have no desire to save the herds, as fish and game are still plentiful for their needs, and they can earn more money as laborers on government projects. The present bounty on timber wolves is only $50 which is not attractive enough for experienced hunters and trappers to wage a campaign against the marauders.

Makes Improved Gauze

A new cotton gauze bandage that tends to fit and cling better than orgauze and which allows greater freedom of movement in bandaged joints has been developed by the U.S. department of agriculture. The gauze has a high degree of stretchability which makes it partly self-fitting so that it conforms to irregular surfaces and has sufficient elasticity to make it flexible and somewhat self-tightening without restricting the circulation of the blood. It has a roughened surface which causes layers of the bandage to cling together. It is especially desirable, in head, knee, arm and elbow dressing. It is made of chemically treated ordinary open-weave gauze and has been used with success in New Orleans navy hospitals.

Juveniles Need Aid

Handling youthful delinquency has become one of the most important problems of social workers and parent organizations. Various causes for the delinquency have been given, among which are war, homelessness, parental neglect, abnormal family relationship, want of moral or religious education, lack of employment, dislike of work, destitution and many other reasons. Various groups from coast to coast are agreed that prevention is more important than cure, and that whole some recreation centers, directed educational and moral training, parent cooperation and partial employment must be provided.

Good Tools

Men used to harvest wheat with a thing called a cradle. A cradle is a museum piece now, most able-bodied farmers never saw one. It is a scythe (blade like Father Time carries) with a wooden frame attached to catch the straws as they fall, so the workman can lay them straight for bundling. Even I can remember seeing farmers cradle patches too small for maneuvering a reaper.

Swinging a cradle is hard work. There is almost none of it done these days. But farmers didn't quit using the device for that reason. They still find plenty of hard work to do. The cradle was cast aside because it was inefficient, extravagant. It used to take the profit out of a wheat crop to pay enough men $1 a day to harvest it. But Mr. McCormick's reaper changed all that.

Mechanized Farming Some people complained for a while about farm machinery putting men out of work but that's not what happened. No machine can do a man's work. Machines serve men, help them earn more by helping them do a bigger day's work. Today one farmer with good tools produces as much as 30 farmers did 100 years ago. In those days twothirds of America's laborers worked on farms; now only 18%, and these can overproduce.

Machinery, American inventiveness, helps working people. There is no hocus-pocus about it. No straight-thinking person needs any high-brow economist to help him read these three sign-posts: (1) In the long run, people get paid for what they produce. (2) With good tools, which call for investment, they can produce more. (3) Investments in machinery raise the workers'

Men vs. Machines

It's a fact that employers who work men on purely mechanical jobs are always faced with a three cornered problem-men, money and machinery. They can hire a man's body for wages or buy a machine that will do the same work without getting tired. If interest and depreciation for the machine is less per year than the man's wages, the employer is likely to buy the ma-

Being replaced by a machine may sting some satisfied laborer's pride but he is soon benefited by learning to manage cold steel rather than compete with it. This is the very first lesson, the A-B-C of American prosperity built on intelligent work; volume production, low in cost and good. Nowhere else on earth can the man who swings a sledge enjoy his own automobile and bathtub.

What Volume Does Wages for men are figured by the hour; depreciation on machines by the year. The result is interesting: If two men work eight hours apiece and keep one machine running 16 hours a day, the owner thus doubles his cost. So the owner's margin per unit of sale is wider lower his price without cutting the quality. Result: Wages up, prices

Workmen's wages go up with production but that same volume is what lowers the cost of everything the workman needs to make his home as comfortable (his life as abundant) as that of his employer or anybody else. But volume production requires investment in good tools and training for men to use them. When investments are unsafe in America we may well start rehearsing with grandpa's cradle.

Brush Overcoats

Overcoats and other articles that cannot be washed should be brushed thoroughly, paying particular attention to folds and seams where dust and lint accumulate. Place the articles on hangers and put them on the line to air for several hours before giving them moth-preventive treatment and storing them.

Incurable Disease

A number of poultry growers have chicks affected with epidemic tremors, which causes paralysis and sometimes a rapid vibration of the head or some other part of the body of the chick. As the disease is incurable, chicks so affected should be destroyed.

Spared Deportation

The eastern band of Cherokees now living on Qualla reservation in North Carolina retained their land through the sacrifice of Old Tsali, who gave himself up to die so that other fugitives of the tribe would escape deportation to the west.

Kerosene Expands

Place the kerosene stove so that the fuel tank is not near a hot stove, radiator, hot-air register, or in the sun. Air inside a tank subjected to such heat expands and causes the kerosene to overflow onto the floor.

Sew This Dress-Buy More War Bonds

Designers, faced with limitations on fabric, have been turning more attention to detail. One of the nicest features of this sophisticated date dress is its fine hand finished appearance. Make it of light cream wool, with soft gathering at shoulder and waist, accented by large jewelled buttons. Watch your savings by sewing turn into more War Bonds for victory. Suitable patterns are available at local stores.

BURGLAR ALARM

Last July, the Office of Price Administration leased 4,500 square feet of space in a Milwaukee, Wis., office building promising to pay an annual rental of $5,625. In view of the "imperative need" for speed and space, established firms were scattered to the four winds resulting in extensive moving costs. A thousand dollars was spent by the corporation operating the building to install a burglar alarm system.

The New Deal bureau never occupied the space and on October 1 it cancelled the lease.

Do	esn't	Huri	Hair

Doesn't Hurt Hair Despite all the time-honored notions to the contrary, washing does not hurt the hair, an expert says. With the right kind of soap, thorough rinsing and drying, the application of a little oil to hair that tends to dryness, shampooing neither dries up the scalp secretions nor increases dandruff. Instead, the dirt, dust, scales, grease, and infectious agents are removed, the liability of further infection decreased, the circulation improved, and the general tone and appearance of the scalp and hair brought up to what they ought to be -and seldom are.

Only physically and mentally peret volunteers are accepted for the oject, according to prison officials, smuch as there is an element of nger involved. Up to the present ne, it was said, no fatalities have curred. The men have expericed illness of varying degrees.

The experiment was deemed necsary because neither quinine nor more recent substitute, atabrine, tually cure malaria.

Armed forces personnel who reonded to those drugs were found be very susceptible to a recurnce of the disease as soon as they turned to a malarial environment.

I price outlook is more promising than a year ago, the Department of Agriculture says. Total calf slaughter this year will reach an all-time high. The large slaughter has resulted from high butterfat prices in relation to dairy cow prices, a weak demand for calves by cattle feeders, relatively high prices for veal calves for slaughter and record numbers of cows on farms. Prices for lambs are likely to average higher this fall and winter than a year ago, and ewe prices, now lowest since the fall of 1941, are expected to continue lower than a year
