SERVICE MEN LETTERS Many and Varied are their Experiences

Dear Friend:

Oct. 22, 1944.

You probably think I've forgotten you by this time. Well far from it. I think of you every time I get the Carroll Record, but writing time seems to be rationed here at Fort Riley. I want to thank you a million times for sanding me the Pacard II tests in sending me the Record. It certainly helps a lot to enlighten a fellow on the happenings at home. I haven't been anywhere yet, in comparison with a lot of the boys from Taneytown but I know that they, as well as I will never be able to show our appreciation for the cooperation you have shown us oy sending the paper.

I suppose you'd like to have a little news as to what I'm doing and what Ft. Riley and the State of Kansas is like. Well here goes.

I'm in the Cavalry training for special service. Most of my training consists of learning Army administration, filing, classification, payroll, and pracfiling, classification, payroll, and practically all army clerical work of this type. We do, however get quite a bit of field work such as drilling, manual of arms, etc. The food here at Fort Riley is excellent. Our Mess Sargeant has had thirty years in the kitchen and he certainly knows how to treat a soldier's stomach. There isn't a trooper in my outfit that doesn't say that he feels better than he ever has in his life.

Well so much for myself. Here's about Fort Riley. It is the largest, or maybe I'd better say, one of the largest Cavalry Schools in the world. We have here one of the largest and best Rills ranges in the largest and best Rifle ranges in the states. Our polo field is excellent. Polo however, went out when the war came in. Men are trained here in both horse and mechanized Cavalry. General Patten, Joe Louis and Mickey Rooney as well as many other well known personalities have received part of their train-

I might describe Kansas in this manner. I'd much rather be in Maryland in the vicinity of Taneytown. It's known as the "Sunflower State" and once you're here you can understand why it has acquired this name. Brother, you really get sick of sun-flowers after your here awhile. The country however is very beautiful now. We troopers here in I troop have fully decided that Kansas, as a whole, is a wonderful State; (to be

Well, I must close for the present time. Again I'd like to thank you for the Carroll Record. I'd like to add this before closing.

I've met people from all over the States since I've entered the service, but the finest people I know are right there in good old Taneytown. I guess we don't appreciate the fact that Taneytown is made up of wonderful people until we've been away from it and have seen what goes on else-where. Keep the old town just like it is so that we can all get together when this war is over and have all the fun we used to in the good old

Hope to see you and that famous. ear to ear smile of yours, one of these days before too long. From a trooper at Fort Riley.

Somewhere in Italy Oct. 23, 1944. Gentlemen:

I wish to inform you of my new address. Our battalion was renamed a few months ago and I haven't had the opportunity to rotify you of the As you can see, I'm still in Italy, although we are getting farther north all the time. The weather here is beginning to get cold and according to the people here it really gets cold during the winter, with often as much as four to six feet of snow. I hope by that time we'll be in a more desirable climate. The country, cities and towns here in northern Italy are a lot cleaner and more modern than in the south and the people are much friendlier. At the present time, we are bivouaced on a large estate which was strument of Torture." formerly owned by a rich Fascist associate of Mussolini. We are occupying the houses and buildings for sleeping quarters, shops and offices. The surrounding country is full of just such estates as this. The art work and architecture are almost too wonderful for words to describe. Now and then there is a vacant spot where a fine original painting or tapestry hung and has been carried off by the Germans.

Again, many thanks for fulfilling my subscription and I'll be looking forward to getting the old home town news. Yours truly.

OFF HIGHWAY GAS COUPONS EXPIRE

Farmers and other non-highway gasoline users are notified by the Office of Price Administration that any "E" and "R" coupons, not serially numbered, will expire November and may be exchanged for valid ration currency at their local War Price and Rationing Board. The expiring coupons can be identified by two points: First, they have no serial numbers, and, second, they bear the capital let-"E" and "R" with no number after them. Currently valid coupons bearing serial numbers are lettered E-1, E-2, R-1 and R-2.

TANEYTOWN MAN KILLED IN ACTION

Pvt. Frank S. Unger Gives His Life For His Country

Mrs. Emma J. Unger, Taneytown Route 1, received a telegram from the War Department on Thursday, November 2, 1944, informing her that her son, Pvt. Frank S. Unger was killed in action in Italy, on October 24th.

Private Unger entered the service in December 1942 and went overseas October 6, 1943. He was unmarried, living with his mother, and in civilian life was a carpenter by trade. He was 35 years old. During his army service he spent but one night on fur-lough with his mother.

He has four brothers, Charles, of

REPORT OF PROGRESS OF CHILDREN'S AID DRIVE

Westminster District gets the credit for being the first to go over the top in obtaining the quota in the Children's Aid Society Financial Drive for $4000.00. This district deserves a great deal of credit for turning in such a fine report and for sending it so promptly. Final reports have not been received from the rest of the districts, but it is hoped that they will meet with as equally fine success.

The Campaign Committee appreciates the time and effort that has so willing been given by the district chairmen and solicitors throughout the county during the past two weeks

The Chrildren's Aid wishes to extend appreciation to all who have made contributions and is asking those who might have been missed but who still wish to give to kindly send their contributions directly the Children' Aid Society office. It is difficult for the solicitor to contact everyone. The $4000.00 which is the goal of the drive, is very necessary for the continuance of the splendid work of caring for Carroll County's Dependent Children.

LETTER TO THE N. Y. SUN

To the Editor of the Sun-Sir: There are two things in Governor Dewey's record that should inspire confidence in his leadership: He never prosecuted the violators of the law in a spirit of revenge, nor for the purpose of gaining personal, political advantage, but solely to show the truth for the truth, whatever the issue. Then he has proven his ability to place responsibility on capable shoulders. This we are told marks a great man from a man of mediocre caliber.— Sara Tawney Lefferts,

INJURED IN FALL

Mr. George A. Arnold, who has been confined to his room for the larger part of the year was able to get out and down town last Friday. In the evening of that day he slipped on a rug at the home of his son, Bernard J. Arnold and fractured his left hip and left arm.

On Saturday morning he was removed to the Frederick Hosiptal Hospital for quite a while.

MISSING, HEARD FROM

Soldier Writes to Parents Telling of His Safety

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wantz, E. Baltimore Street, received the following letter from their son, Pfc. Robert Wantz, who was reported by the War Department on September 25 missing since August 29 in France. The parents did not hear from their son from August 24 until October 28 when on the latter date they received the following letter: France Sept. 24, 1944

Dear Mother and Dad:

I guess you wonler what happened to me. Well I had a great time in the last month and a half, I was captured by the Germans last month and I was a prisoner for twenty-one days. I wrote you a letter from the prison camp. I don't know if you got it or not, it had to go through the Red Cross. I found out a lot about the Germans in that time.

They treated me good, they gave me the best they had, we didn't eat so good, but they ate the same that we had. The Americans recaptured us back. I don't think you got the missing in action card from the War Department because they stopped it when they recaptured us. I got all my mail and packages, and boy was I glad to get it when I got back to the American lines. That candy sure came in good, I got a letter from Hahn, I got the Carroll Record with Kenny Crumbacker's picture in it. I didn't like to hear that he was killed. When I was captured I was in one of the hottest spots you could get in.

Everything is alright now. I will have to close now. Write and tell me how everything is back there. My address changed a little. I am in a different company now. Your son, (Everyone in this community were glad to hear of Robert's safety.—

OVERSEAS MONEY GIFTS SHOULD NOT BE IN CASH

Persons who missed the October deadline for mailing Christmas packages overseas and who plan to send a belated gift of money to Army and Navy personnel should send the money via postal money order, the Army and Navy Post Offices emphasize.

At many places where service men are stationed, it was pointed out, there is a local prohibition against the importation of U. S. currency, and cash sould not be used if received.

Army personnel can cash postal money orders at any APO or by presenting the order to their company Navy men and women whether land based or aboard ship, present the order to their Navy mail clerk. In both cases, the money is paid in local currency at the rate of exchange in effect on the date of the presentation of the money order. on domestic orders there is a $100 limitation on the amount that can be sent on a single postal order.

Late gift articles can also be sent Army personnel, without a written request from the service man, if they weigh less than eight ounces. ever, Army post office officials say there may be no assurance of their receipt by the addressee before Dec.

CAUTION REQUIRED IN MARKING BALLOT

Amendment Numbers Different from Order of Advertisement

In an editorial published last week over my signature the proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Maryland were mentioned by numbers, but the numbers indicated their order in the legal advertisement and not the order on the ballot, and this might confuse voters. In order that there may be no mistake I am calling attention to the matter here, and I am now referring to the amendments by the order in which they appear on the ballot. The numbers are not on the ballot.

It is highly important that voters should mark their ballots so as to vote on the amendments, for if we ignore these because of vast amount of printing, we allow the legislators to change the constitution at will, and we might as well have no constitution.

No. 1. This amendments applies to gifts or sale of land to church. It ought to be adopted. Vote "For Constitutional Amendment."
No. 2. The statement is very long

It would make radical changes in our courts. We consider it bad. The Carroll County Bar Association is against it. Vote "Against Constitutional Amendment... No. 3. This is linked up with No.

2, and applies to the assignment of Judges to Courts. Vote "Against Constitutional Amendment." No. 4. Applies to State's Attorney. My personal opinion is that the present provision is sufficient. Vote

'Against Constitutional Amendment.' No. 5. This is an amendment to allow the creation of a Redevelopment Commission for Baltimore. The rights of the public seem to be properly protected, and we can afford to vote "For Constitutional Amend-

No. 6. Has to do with advertisements of Amendments. There are arguments both for and against it. We have not advised people how to vote on this question.

Summing up, we advise that you vote for the first amendment, against the second, third and fourth, and that a voter shall be his own judge as to the fifth and sixth. Of course, every voter must be his own judge as to all the amendments.

TANEYTOWN WAC IN TRAINING

of the WAC private, was the first American officer of the Tank Corps to be killed in action in World War I. For the past 14 years, Pvt. Chamber-Smith entertained for the day their Department. Prior to her enlistment in the Women's Army Corps she was a coding and editing clerk in the Letburg. Pa.

ODT URGES SENDING CHRIST-MAS GIFTS BY DEC. 1st

Considerable impetus was given pleas to do Christmas shopping early by the Office of Defense Transportation Department's warning that De-cember 1st is the final date set by the Government by which Christmas gifts must be sent if delivery by Christmas is expected, within the United States. This action is imperative, ODT officials explained, to avoid peak mands on transportation both rail and motor, including local delivery systems.

"War essential transportation needs must be met first," Director J. Mon-roe Johnson said. Nation-wide transportation facilites and local delivery services are heavily burdened. The problem can be solved only by public recognition of our mutual responsibility to do all in our power to avert peak demands on transportation and delivery services in the weeks just prior to the holiday."

In the last two years the answering of government questionnaires has cost this manufacturer of building materials and industrial products more than one-third of a million dollars, the figures show. This is at the rate of over a dollar a minute.

The trend indicated by the I. C. S. survey will bear watching. The population "surplus" of rural districts has for many years given new blood to American business. Let us hope, as additional thousands of our young men and women prepare themselves for business careers, that they will find, much closer to home, the opportunities and satisfactions that have so long been identified with the "big cities."-The Pilot.

Price Rises

Despite the greater increase in the supply during the 1938-1943 period than in the 1913-1918 period, the rise in the prices of farm products after the outbreak of the present war was nearly as great as during the First World war. In 1943, the price level of farm products was 97.9 per cent higher than in 1938. This compares with a price increase of 100 per cent from 1913 to 1918.

VATT HOUR of Electric

And since you buy electricity by the kilowatt hour, you should know what you pay for. Even though you can't see a kilowatt hour, there's no mystery about it. You buy enough pounds of meat for a meal---you buy enough kilowatt hours to run your electric appliances. It's that simple. But with cost the similarity ends. Unlike other things the cost of electricity has been steadily coming down. And here's proof! Each pile of pennics below represents the AVERAGE cost of a kilowatt hour in the year shown under the pile. You see for yourself just how much the cost of electricity has been cut. Reddy Kilowatt

"The folks should see me now

"POP never would let me run the tractor for fear I'd put it on the blink. Wish he could see me handling this baby!"

Hundreds of thousands of our soldiers, who went away little more than boys, will come back mature men with fine mechanical training, glad to turn their new skills to the running of the farm.

But they're never going to be satisfied with worn-out equipment, or out-of-date machinery. They're going to want the best. And after handling our tanks and planes and guns, they're going to know what the best is!

While your son is away, are you really preparing for his return? You're buying War Bonds, yes—because it's the duty of all of us to help meet the expense of this war for our Freedom. But are you buying enough to lay the foundation for a prosperous postwar farm as well?

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

- 1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . .
- 2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this signature.
- 3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
- 4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
- 5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Gredit Association.

TRIPLE THREE BRIDGE CLUB

The Triple Three Bridge Club had a happy inspirational thought of in-viting their friends to join them in a Hallowe'en covered dish supper, which was held Monday evening at Big Pipe Creek Park. Those who planned the evening's pleasure were: Mrs. Clyde Hesson, Mrs. Harold Mehring, Mrs. Edith Bauugardner, Mrs. Norman Baumgardner, with Mrs. George Shriner, hostess. The basement of the dance hall, with a large open fire-place at one end with huge logs burning on it, was an ideal setting for such a party. Tables arranged in a square, lights dimmed with Hallowe'en trimmings. and the glow and warmth of the fire, made everyone feel "when do we eat?" After a long wait for the "huge porkers" to get roasted, at last appetites were satisfied. Supper consisted of roast pork, escalloped potatoes, baked beans, peas, sauerkraut, pickles, bread, pumpkin pie and coffee.

The stirring music of the fine four piece orchestra drew old and young to the dance floor upstairs, dancing, 500 and bridge were the evenings entertainment.

Hearty thanks were felt for the gracious hospitality of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George Shriner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Shriner, Mr. and Mrs. George George Shriner, Mr. and Mrs. George Harner, Mr. and Mrs. Norville Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Putman, Mr. and Mrs. George Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morelock, Mr. and Mrs. Konneth Koutz, Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Koutz, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Yingling, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fair, Mr. and Mrs. George Dodrer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Breth, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koons, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mehring, Mr. and Mrs. James Baumgardner; Mrs. W. IS IT FAIR?

It is not fair to present to the voters of Maryland at the election on November 7, the Constitutional Amendment appearing on the ballot, Chapter 772, to change the Judiciary Article of the Constitution.

This Amendment presents to the people a radical, ill-considered and illdrawn change in the Court of Appeals of Maryland. The present Court of Appeals is to be abolished and a new Court of Appeals created as of January 1, 1945. Two of the most able judges on the Court, Judges Bailey and Capper from the First and Fourth Judicial Circuits, will immediately be removed from the new Court of Appeals and ultimately the new Court will consist of three judges from three newly created large county appellate circuits, and two judges from Baltimore City. The judges of the new court will not be permitted to do any trial work unless assigned to such work under certain conditions by the chief judge who will be the administrative head of the Maryland judicial system. The chief judge would have broad powers to assign trial judges from Baltimore and the Counties to sit in the Court of Appeals, and judges of the Court of Appeals to sit in the trial courts under certain conditions. Also he will have power to shift judges from Circuit to Circuit. That is dangerous. The trial judges of the State would be required to report to

These far reaching changes in the Maryland judicial system must be carefully considered by the voters of Maryland. Common justice requires that the younger voters must thoroughly understand and approve the proposed change as they must have their life, liberty and property protected by the new Court of Appeals for the larger part of their

It is grossly unfair to the members of the armed forces, the Red Cross workers, the ambulance drivers and all Maryland voters who serve their nation in the military or related services to have this radical change in their Court of Appeals thrust upon them at this time. Although the proposed amendment is set forth in full on the absentee ballot, the members of the armed forces are not able to consider carefully the proposed amendment; they have had the benefit of no discussions concerning this proposed change and one ventures to say that without some professional assistance, very few members of the armed forces will be able to understand the practical effect of the proposed amendment. Indeed, many distinguished lawyers disagree as to the effect of this hasty, ill-drawn legislation.

Those who serve the nation in the auxiliary forces are for all practical purposes disfranchised at the present time. Although they must abide the decision of the voters at home on this important question, they have absolutely no voice in the matter.

It is also unfair and unjust for those who favor the radical change to force its consideration upon the voters at home.

In the first place, the hearts and minds of the voters at home are occupied with winning the war. They have no time and no disposition to consider involved, technical and far reaching changes in the basic structure of the State judicial system. In the second place, the issues in the presidential election are vital ones and greatly concern the voters. The voters have little inclination to give the close and careful consideration which should be given to the poorly drawn, highly controversial and dangerous changes in the structure of the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The presumption of those who forced this proposed amendment through an unwilling General Assembly should be rebuked! Their attempt to put over this ill-considered and revolutionary change on the voters of Maryland while the voters are overseas, are pre-occupied with the war effort and with great national issues, must be frustrated! Vote against that Amendment on the ballot on November 7th!!

HIGH EGG PRODECTION

Maryland egg production continued on the increase during September, according to an official report from the State Crop Reporting Service and the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics, received by the University of Maryland Extension Service.

During September, Maryland hens laid an estimated 30 million eggs, compared with 24 million a year ago. Thus, the total Maryland egg production from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1 ported at 372,000,000 eggs, while the figure for the corresponding period last year was 337,000.000 eggs. The number of eggs per 100 layers this year has averaged 1,068, compared wth 963 last year.

The number of layers on hand in Maryland during September was reported at 2,813,000. A year ago there were 2,509,000 layers on hand in the state

FOX—In Loving Memory of my dear par-ents MARY, who passed away Novem-ber 4, 1918 and JOHN, who passed away January 23, 1937. TO OUR MOTHER

When a mother breathes her last farewell
The stroke means more than tongue can tell;
The world seems quite another place
Without the smile of mother's face.

TO OUR FATHER

The rolling stream of Life rolls on, But still the vacant chair Recalls the love, the voice, the smile Of the one who once sat there. LOVING CHILDREN.
Daughter and son-in-law, MURTY and VICTOR.

In Loving Memory of little BETTY FRANCES WEISHAAR, was killed 2 years ago, Nov. 5, 1942.

Broken is the family circle Our dear one has passed away.
Passed from the earth and its darkness
To a bright and perfect day.

She was only a little rosebud. A sweet little flower from birth God took her home to Heaven, Before she was soiled on earth. By his sister and brothers, SANDRA, JIMMIE and LARRY.

There are parents who miss you sadly,
And find the time long, since you went,
And we think of you daily and hourly,
But try to be brave and content.
But the tears we shed in silence
And breath a sigh of regret,
For you were ours and we remember,
Though all the world forget.

By his parents, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM S. WEISHAAR. RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF MRS. NANNIE V. HAHN

Whereas, An all-wise Providence has removed from the circle of Taney Rebekah Lodge No. S3, Sister Nannie Hahn. And we deem it fitting to make a permanent record of our loss and of our high regards for our deceased Sister, therefore be it Resolved, That we record our appreciation of the character and spirit of fraternity manifested by our Sister Nannie V. Hahn, deceased; that we give expression to our sorrow and sense of loss in her passing away, and that we extend to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy with them in their great loss.

Resolved, That our charter, be draped in her memory, shall remind us of our own frality, and admonish us to make the most and the best of the days alloted, to us.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 5th.

The Golden Text will be from Romans 5:14—"Sin shall not have dominion over you; for ye are not under the law, but under grace."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible, Hebrews 11:5—"By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him; for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God."

The Lesson-Sermon also will in-The Lesson-Sermon also will include passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following, page 214—"If Enoch's perception had been confined to the evidence before his material cancer he excell before his material senses, he could never have 'walked with God' nor been guided into the demonstration of life eternal."

Good Forage

One acre of fertile soil, correctly seeded with the Ladino clover mixture or with straight Ladino, produces enough forage for 1,000 or more birds during a good growing season.

Animal Refuge

To provide shelter for small animals and furnish nesting places for song birds, farmers should permit fence rows to remain standing and to clean brush but not to burn it.

Homespun Philosophy

The other day as I was walking down the street of Taneytown I stopped in front of the town's fine Grocery The propretor, whose name Bert, drove up in his freeair jalopy which he uses as a delivery truck. As he stopped with jerk, a youth in his early teens called from his perch on the steps in front of the store.

"You are some driver Bert! I saw you coming up on the wrong side of "Well, what of it? I got here, did-n't I?"

"What do you call good driving?"
"I have only one rule, Leland. Keep in the middle of the road!"
"What do the other drivers do who wish to pass you?" "If I am in the middle of the road, they can pass on either side."

"Suppose some one comes toward

"I haven't met any yet that would ot turn out of the way for me." What interested me about this conversation is the rule that Bert gave deland. "Keep in the middle of the coad." But I am afraid, this rule discoad." closes Bert's early training. He must have driven a horse and buggy on country lanes before he maneuvered a twenty-three horse power truck on modern highways. In those days and under those conditions there was only one track on the road. When two vehicles approached each other they both left the track and managed to get Roads today are built for speed and power and are therefore constructed with two, three and four tracks. Keeping in the middle of such a road attracts destruction.

Of course, Bert was joshing the youth, but I believe, he was also in a philosophical mood. He was thinking of the road upon which everyone travels, the road of life. It is another of those narrow roads like the country lane. You stay in the middle of the road or you drive in the ditch. The ditch is usually full of sink holes and gutters. If you are unfortunate enough to slip into one of them you stay there until some one helps you out of it.

Keep in the middle of the road! It is good sound advice when you are not driving an automobile. Avoid going too far to the left or to the right. Extremes are dangerous. The middle of the road is the only place that affords safety and comfort. Don't be afraid of being called old-fashioned. Driving your individual area down the middle. your individual ego down the middle of the road is still the best method. If anyone comes from behind to pass you he can pass on either side. If he comes head on he will try to miss you. You've got a good chance.

Last Game Takes All

By E. M. PARKINSON McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

As Clara Rivers parked her car before the Northville Farmers' Bank, William Hudson thrust his long face inside the window. "Car's gettin' kinda run-down, ain't it, Clara?"

Clara laughed, a plump, middleaged spinster's pleasant laugh. "I'm not squanderin' money on new ones. I learned a lesson, William, when my father died and I got that mean note from one of the bank directors, threatenin' to foreclose on my farm. Lucky I found Pa's money in time. Only that letter rankles. I keep wonderin' who done it."

"When I find out, they'll answer to me!" William's voice dropped. "Ye know how I feel about ye, Clara. Any time ye say the word—"
"Sh! Someone's comin"

William nodded contemptuously. "Dumbest businessman in the Big, good-natured Bruce Bigelow ambled over, grinning. "Mornin', Clary. Mornin', William. Well, William, you sure outsmarted me last week. Heard you sold my hog for twice what you paid me.'

"Well, ye begged me to buy."
"Dumb," Bruce chuckled. "That's me!" he turned to Clara. "Clary, I picked up a nice box of chocolates. Could I bring it over tonight?" Clara flushed. "Well, Will and

"Sure!" William broke in. "I'd enjoy eatin' chocolates while I beat ye at smear, Bruce. Or this here old ladies' game, annygrams. Hear ye've taken it up lately.

He went off and Bruce looked at Clara ruefully. "Clary, you ain't gonna marry William?" Clara snapped, "If so, I wouldn't starve. I admire a smart man,

"I know, Clary, but maybe I got reasons for appearin' so dumb!" "Then you better prove it, Bruce. You got just tonight."

All the way home Clara fumed. She was so angry at Bruce that she'd almost have taken William Hudson, if it weren't for her awful uneasiness about the note. She took it from its hiding place back of the old Seth Thomas clock and read it for the thousandth time. It was typed in capitals on the bank's stationery, and signed only DIREC-TORS. Every director had declared indignantly, "Clara, if we find out who did this, we'll oust him!" Well, after a year, maybe she ought to forget. But. .

At ten that evening Clara could have cried. Bruce had lost every game. "You boys play this final one without me," she said, looking straight into Bruce's eyes. "Last game takes all.'

The first plays went badly for Bruce. He held one word; BEAR. He drew A and made MA. "Take your MA to make MASS," William William's eyes narrowed. "Take your BEAR to put with MASS and make EMBARASS!" Clara gasped. "But-"

"Hush!" Bruce said. "No kitbitzin'!" He acquired two words, RITE, and STRING.

'Take that RITE to make EN-TIRE," William said. Bruce drew and passed. "Nice take from now to February."

"Thanks," William sneered. "I'll take your FEAR to put with BUY and make FEBUARY."

Clara burst out, "That ain't the way to spell -" "'Never mind," Bruce said stern-William had nineteen words. "Twenty words out," Bruce sighed. 'Last game takes all. I'd sure like to win. It's - urgent!" "Urgent, eh? I'll jest take your CUR to put with my HINT and make URCHINT! Hate to win so easy, Bruce.

Bruce leaned across the table, admiringly. "You got a lot of big words, Will. Pushin' 'em around, addin' a little here and there, you could make a little sentence.'

Suddenly, before Clara's eyes lay a familiar message: VERY UR-CHINT YOU PAY UP WITH INTERREST BY FEBUARY OR SOMETHING EMBARASSING WILL

HAPPEN. "Remind you of anything, Clary?"

Bruce asked. Clara went to the clock and returned to spread a worn paper on the table. "What's that, Clara?" William asked hoarsely.

"Just the note you sent me, Will, when Pa died." William's face purpled. "Look here! This ain't proof-

"Tis," Bruce said quietly. "I tried out every other bank director, before witnesses. None of 'em's got just this way of spelling these words. Maybe you'd like to resign. Will, without lettin' the town know why." He turned to Clara. "Sorry about losin', Clary."

Clara smiled meltingly. "You won the last game, Bruce. Last game takes all—including me!"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL CUNDAY JCHOOL Lesson

THE CHRISTIAN AND THE RACE PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT-Acts 10:9-16, 34, 35; 17:24-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation be that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to Him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

Now is the time to really face the race problem. It must be met, or America will see more of the regrettable hatred and violence which has already showed itself.

The only satisfactory answer—the only right answer-can be found in the Word of God. On its principles we must build in solving any problem, and that is especially true with regard to the vital matter of human relationships.

How to Solve the Race Problem I. Pray (10:9).

So often we struggle and plan and work, and last of all we pray. That should be the first thing, not the last. It was as Peter prayed that he saw clearly the need of a changed attitude toward the Gentiles.

Doubtless some Gentiles would also have a changed attitude toward the Jews, if they really prayed about it. In fact, all of our prejudices based on race, creed, financial or social position would look cheap and untenable if we prayed.

Conferences, efforts toward mutual understanding, education of children (and grown-ups), tolerance, all these are good; but let us not forget to pray, and to do it first.

II. Listen to God's Word (10:10-16). Peter had a special vision, an unusual revelation from God. We no longer need such a direct communication of God's plan and purpose, for we have the written Word of God, and the Living Word has come in the person of Christ.

What we need now is to read and to hear the truth of that Word—and then to heed it. Everywhere in the Bible we find the declaration of man's equal rights. We learn that God hates discrimination or prejudice, that no nationality is unclean (v. 15) or unworthy of His grace and of our fellowship.

We know these things are in the Book; why do so many of us fail to listen to its message? We are bound by it whether we listen or not, so had we not better listen and

III. Be Governed by God's Principles (10:34, 35).

"God is no respecter of persons." Why are we? The expression literally means "receiving a man's face," that is, judging or evaluating him not by what he has proved himself to be, but by his outward appearance, the look on his face.

God is interested in man's heart and what is in it (I Sam. 16:7). We should do well to follow His leading and not be controlled by the a man.

Note the basis of acceptance with God (v. 35), namely, a right attitude toward Him. No matter what a man's color or race may be, the grace of God in Christ Jesus can reach him, and bring him into acceptance with God.

IV. Recognize God's Authority (17:24-26).

God made the world. He rules the world and all that is in it. He is above man, and it is He who gives man the very breath of life.

That being the case, we all stand on the same level-we are equal before Him.

Everything God made was (and is) very good (Gen. 1:31). That means that He knows nothing in His nature of one group being despised and persecuted by another group self-designated as a master race.

All men are of one family (v. 26). It is God's Word. Let us believe it, and be thoughtful and kind toward the members of our own "family. We all know how disgraceful family fights are, and how they hurt. Could it possibly be any different in the family of God? Let's quit the bickering, and together work for God's glory! We can do it-for we may-

V. Count on God's Nearness (17: 27, 28).

Sometimes children fight and quarrel because they know father and mother are away and will not hear or punish. Well, God is not far away. He is "nearer to us than breathing, nearer than hands and feet." In Him we (and that means all of us) "live and move and have our being.

He is here; let us not act as though He were far away. But above all, let us recognize His nearness as our life and strength, the One who enables us to live as we should with one another. We need His grace for that purpose. Let us count on it.

"We are all His offspring," that is, by creation. Then by our sin and rebellion we made ourselves the 'children of disobedience' (Eph. 5:6; Titus 3:3). But we may (and many of us have) become the true children of God by faith in Jesus Christ our Lord (John 1:12). As such, we are all brethren beloved, eager for our fellow's good and for God's glory.

Election Day Results May Puzzle U.S.

Possible for Candidate to Lose After Winning Most Popular Vote.

WASHINGTON. — The constitution of the United States apportions electors to each state on the basis of their membership in congress These electors, constituting an electoral college, are selected by each state, their names usually appearing on the ballots directly under the presidential candidate.

This year's electoral college will have 531 votes apportioned among the 48 states. New York with 47; Pennsylvania, 35; Illinois, 28 and California and Ohio with 25 each lead. Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, and Wyoming will have three each, one for each of their senators and one for their lone representative in

The number of persons who actually vote, or are qualified to vote has no influence on the number of electoral votes cast by that state. It is possible for 15,000 votes in one state to have one electoral vote, while in another state the number may be 150,000 or more Pronounced in 1944.

This will be even more pronounced in 1944 elections where some states have lost a large percentage of their electorate, while others like California have had large increases in eligible votes, although in both cases the number of electoral votes assigned will not be affected.

In case of a close election it is possible for a president to be elected who does not receive a majority of the popular vote. This has happened in the past and may happen again.

In 1932 Herbert Hoover received 59 electoral votes with a popular vote of only 15,761,841. Four years later Alf Landon, who received a larger popular vote, came out with only eight electoral votes.

In 1940 Wendall Willkie, with more than 22 million votes, received 82 electoral votes. The popular vote was so close in 15 of the states that a small number in each of these states could have changed the electoral vote for a defeat for President Roose velt instead of a large electoral ma-

"Moreover between the War Labor Board, the War Manpower Commission and the Office of Production Management they are being squeezed between the irresistible forces of arbitrary price controls, wage controls and labor controls," he continued. They can't change he continued. They can't change jobs for better ones unless the War he continued. They can't change jobs for better ones unless the War Labor Board and the United States Employment Agency says they can. Except in very special cases they can't have a raise in salary or wages unless the W.L.B. tells their employer that it's all right. They accept all this as a part of the War Program—but they expect government to have some plans for them when the war is over. They do not want to be neglected forever.

"The problem of the neglected man is a problem for the next administration." Whether the Republican Party and the real Jeffersonian Democrats are going to get a chance to return this nation to economic sanity is all bound up in the question: Are we going to lay down a policy that will preserve economic freedom and full opportunity for all of our citizens, or are we going to

of our citizens, or are we going to, have complete government control?

Striking hard at the two major pleas on which the New Deal Candidate seeks to perpetuate himself in office for sixteen years, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for President, last week subjected America's Foreign Policy and domestic labor relations program to searching analysis in speeches in New York and Pittsburgh.

Scoring the Roosevelt policy of secrecy and "one-man" diplomacy in the field of foreign relations, Governor Dewey presented to the New York Herald Tribune Forum meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on the evening of October 18th, a concrete program for the future course. crete program for the future course of this nation in seeking to assure a "One-man" rule by Roosevelt on the home front has endangered the hard won rights of labor and threatened the future economic security of the working man," Governor Dewey stated at a rally in the heart of industrial Pittsburgh, Friday night, October 20th.

"Every American must learn the inescapable conclusion," Governor Dewey said in his Forum address. "We must never again run the risk of permitting war to break loose in the world. Together with all freedom-loving people, we have had a narrow escape. We dare not take another chance. This war must be the last war.

he continued. "If we are to be successful in our future labors to bring about lasting peace, they cannot be the property of one party or one man. They must draw their strength from all our people, everywhere. Only a united America can exercise the influence on the world for which its strength and ideals have equipped it. "I am equally convinced that to

"Some 15 months have passed since Italy's surrender. We have sent over a batch of alphabetical agencies. They brought with them invasion currency bearing the legend 'Freedom from want. Freedom from fear.' What a mockery that must seem to the Italian people. Here is the comment of the Vice Here is the comment of the Vice President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, who has just returned from Italy. He reports 'Mass unemployment, hunger, despair, degradation, delinquency and painful disappointment . . .' because the Allies have not 'helped the Italian people help themselves.' He quotes the solemn warning of the Pope as follows: 'The great democracies must show greater interest and concern for Italy if er interest and concern for Italy if she is not to plunge from one dictatorship into another.'

velt take the Secretary of War or the Secretary of State to the conference? As usual, he took neither. Instead, he took with him, the Secretary of the Treasury. In the end, the Treasury plan was scrapped. "Meanwhile, Germany's propaganda Minister Goebbels has seized upon the episode to terrify the Germans into fanatical resistance. "Look at Rumania. On September 12, 1944, an agreement was made restoring peaceful relations. This was no mere military armistice. That agreement fixed the future frontiers of Rumania. It disposed of Bessarabia and Transylvania, two of the worst trouble spots of Europe. It dealt with economic matters. matters.

"Now, who negotiated and signed that agreement? It was signed by the authority of the government of the U.S.S.R., the United Kingdom and the United States by Malinovsky. That treaty was signed by a representative of Soviet Russia acting in behalf of the United States.

"The day after it was signed, the Secretary of State of the United States declined to comment on the ground that the terms had not been received from Moscow in time for "Our objectives and our methods must be known to our people and approved by them so that they will be willing to support them and to sacrifice for them in all the years to come. Ten million Americans are making sacrifices today beyond any our nation has seen before. Some will come home permanently scarred. Some will never return. These tragedies must not visit us again. Our dead must not have died in vain.

In his address on labor at Pitts-burgh, Governor Dewey asserted that the New Deal reputation as the friend of labor was false.
"I say that social gains are not "With legal process tossed out the window by act of Mr. Roosevelt, the railroad workers were forced to hire someone who knew his way around the White House. So the Railroad Brotherhoods had to hire Mr. Roose-velt's third-term national chairman —that eminent authority on Belgian paving blocks, Boss Flynn of the Bronx. This was the man who once appointed the notorious gangster and gunman, Dutch Schultz, as a deputy sheriff of the Bronx. And did Mr. Roosevelt's political manager lend his aid for nothing? The price of his services to the relief of the services to the s of his services to the railroad workers of America was $25,000:

"That sort of business must come to an end in this country.

"The time has come to face the facts that the New Deal is a bank-rupt organization living only to extend its power over the daily lives of our people. It did some good things in its youth, but now it seeks to live on its past.

"The years that lie ahead will be largely peacetime years. They will bring great problems and great oping them.

THE MARCH OF THE MAIMED

Tramp, tramp, tramp, The army is marching, Back from the fields Where the battles were fought.

Forth they went gaily, Return now they weary; What caused this change That has in them been wrought?

Faced they machine gun and steel Fought they brave soldiers well, Out on the battle fields, Legs, arms, lay rotting!

Deep in shell-holes, buried alive, Are husbands and fathers, the widows survive; Out from the fray, with what yet remains March tens of thousands to marshal refrains.

Gaze on those dereliets! Not well each one! See for yourself, friend, What war has done!

First is an army of thousands of men Reft of their reason, shell-shocks re-Note well that great army, cross pinmired Now they are cripples, and oh! so tired.

Blind men by thousands now march in view; Before this war came they could see just as you; Now while life lasts they will remain In total darkness—war did that to them.

Last in review come—horrible sight! Faces disfigured. How they afright All the children now at the review; Older ones ask "Can such things be true"?

Eyes torn from sockets, chins blown away, A hole o'er the gullet liquid food to receive,

Poor disfigured creatures, bear wrong for a while Poor souls still active, but can't even smile,

Men, women, world-wide, are you sane? Can you having sanity, let war remain?

Gaze on that army of maimed men! Do you want such things to happen again! W. J. H. again!
