A Taneytown Soldier Describes Trip to That City

England, Oct. 24, 1944.

Well it's been a long time since I wrote you a letter so will try and make up for it by telling you about a trip I took a few days ago. I can't you what the trip was for but will try and give you a picture of England at this time of the year.
When we left it was raining and the air was really cool especially in an open jeep. We drove for several hours before the rain stopped and the sun came out, but when it did it really made England very beautiful. On one road we were on we passed an American cemetery. The grass an American cemetery. The grass was green and very well kept. There were a number of soldiers digging fresh graves and several more hanging out the flags to dry. I guess they had buried some men in the rain that morning. Each grave had a white cross and I believe his dog tags. It really makes you stop and think when you see something like that. We stopped at a Red Cross Club for dinner and I really was surprised when we got lemon pie with real whipped cream on top.

In the afternoon it started to rain again so we didn't see very much the rest of the day. At six o'clock we stopped in a town for supper and it was beginning to get cold so we decided to stop there all night and fin-ish our trip the next day. At supper I met a paratrooper who was in the Hospital nearby. I asked him a few questions after supper and then we went to see a movie at the Palace theatre. I often wondered what it feels like to jump from a plane over enemy held territory. He told me that you just wanted to get out and go to work. I also asked how he was hurt and he told me that just about dark one evening he jumped in fox hole and at the same time a German had the same idea. The German knifed him in the left arm before the kid could kill him. He told me the German was only seven-teen. After we came out of the theatre I got another surprise, for the town we were in had its street lights on. It really was a good feeling to walk down the street and be able to see where you are going. We stayed at a Red Cross Club that before the war was a big hotel. We had running water in our room, both hot and cold, and the beds were soft and clean, and for a change we had sheets. We got up early and after breakfast left for London. On the way to London we went over a small mountain and the trees were beautiful, the sun was shining on the leaves and the yellow and brown colors really showed up. I have been to London many times and this time things were a little different. You could see where the buzz bombs had hit and in some spots the workmen

We got home about six o'clock in the evening and believe me we were ready for some sleep. We covered 500 miles in less the 129th Airborne Engineer Battalion.

Sieep. We covered but lines in less than two days. Well its getting late and I must lock up the theatre so will have to close for now. Oh yes, are you still sending me the Carroll Record? I haven't had a copy now in over a month. I guess the government gives the letters the best service. I really enjoy reading the paper as it gives me a feeling of home. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Taneytown Business and Social Group Beats Its Record

The Taneytown Chamber of Com-merce, which for years has been the outstanding social event of the year in this community, was held Thursday evening of this week in the auditorium of the Taneytown High School. In the number of persons attending, all records of the past were broken. Nearly 340 persons were seated, and a small army of ladies and high school students were on hand to prepare and serve the meal, which consisted of roast turkey and fried systers, with everything which goes along to furnish a full rounded banquet.

The continued growth of the Chamber of Commerce and the growing popularity of these occasions left executive committee at its wits end to provide for the guests in a wey in keeping with the records of form-The auditorium of the High School is the only place in the community large enough to hold the group. Then, too, there was no society or group that felt able to serve the meal, so the Chamber organized its own force under the general chairmanship of Prof. Geo. N. Showers, and the whole task was performed with skill and efficiency.

President, Merwyn C. Fuss, in an opening address referred to the war loan drive and asked the members and guests to support folks in the service and to remember them in prayer. He gave as the duty of a loyal member of the Chamber, 1. To be a home builder; 2. To be a church supporter; 3. To be a guardian of

Two periods of group singing led Vice-President Smith enlivened the occasion.

The crowning feature was the address of the evening by Rev. Imre Kovacs, of Phoenixville, Penna. There was enough good humor about it to grasp the attention, and enough sound philosophy to set the whole group thinking. The speaker is a native of Hungary and knows intimately the life of the various peoples and sections of Europe. He showed in bold contrast the difference between life there with its narrow nationalism, hatred and divisions and the life of America with its unity, its fellowship and its willingness to share. He pictured denomnationalism as it is over there, and in contrast the spirit of unity here. He portrayed the dire results of social differences, amounting almost to a caste system, and resulting in hatred, drinking and fighting.

The address was an eloquent plea for world fellowship—the only way peace. The speaker said the American way presents the most inspiring and a challenging ideal to the people of the world.

The program began with singing "Star Spangled Banner," and invocation by Rev. Guy P. Bready, and closed with the group singing, "God Bless America."

WEEKLY MEETING

Hear Carlton F. Sturdy of American Gan Company

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock at Clear Ridge Inn, near Uniontown.
President Clyde L. Hesson, presided.
The period of group singing was in charge of Harry M. Mohney with Mrs. Wallace Yingling at the piano. Twenty-three members of the Club were present; also the following guests: Charles Eckard, Mr. Nicewarmer, Mr. Nusbaum, Floyd Wiley, Elden Flick-inger, Norris Sell, Pvt. Gareth Stite-ly, of Fort Knox, Kentucky, Ralph Willing, of Baltimore, and Mr. Carl-ton F. Sturdy, of New York. The program was in charge of the Agriculture Committee, Edmund Nusbaum, Chairman. The chairman of the committee introduced Mr. Carlton F. Sturdy, of New York, representative of the American Can Company, as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Sturdy chose as his topic, "Food, and its Importance in War-time." Mr. Sturdy said in part: One important lesson that we have learned is that food is to be regarded as a munition of war more important than guns and tanks. Before a soldier can be presented on the fighting field as equipped for battle, his food needs as well as the products of the soil in providing those essential things as clothing, shelter, munitions, etc must receive very serious consideration. For instance the products of 42000 acres of cultivated land are needed to build a ship; the food products of 195 acres are needed to build a General Sherman tank; every time a 16 inch gun is fired, the ammunition used requires the alcohol from one and a half acres of wheat. Soy beans and peanuts are used extensively in the making of war munitions.

A further instance of the importance of food in the war effort is furnished in the fact that of the inductees rejected for army and navy service, more than one-third were rejected on account of mal-nutrition. This condition was due to the fact that in buying food, consumers be-fore the war were interested in bulk and quantity rather than quality. Ten millions of cases of canned goods are consumed every day; a ton of sugar

The American Can Company manufactures more than 20,000 kinds of containers, for food and other articles, and of many kinds of materials.
A "tin" can is made primarily of the finest kind of steel, on a par with the quality used for the finest kind of cutlery. The steel can is then lined with tin, of the thickness of one fortieth of the diameter of a human hair. The amount of tin is actually only about one percent of the mater-

Hence, the containers must be able to withstand the action of salt water and whatever conditions of climate are faced, whether in Europe, or in the South Seas, or wherever American forces are sent and where food supplies must follow them." Mr. Sturdy is connected with the publicity department of the American Can Company. His particular job is to contact as many people as possible through lectures and radio addresses, for the purpose of giving information regarding the care of food,, and especially how to get the most nutritive value, taste, flavor and security from spoilage from canned foods. made many suggestions along this line; perhaps the most surprising being one to the effect that food from a can, which is not to be used immediately, should be left in the can rather than being poured or dumped into a glass or earther vessel, how-

As I open the paper and read of what is going on, in and around town it is like talking to some one from home and knowing that the home town is still going strong.

We are going to 'Telephone School' and after long twelve hours a day, it is indeed a pleasure to set down and read home news.

Partial and scattered reports record contributions totaling $10,113.76, collected to Monday morning, Nov. 13 This amount so far collected will provide for only 1,000 of the 3,000 Carroll countians in the armed forces. The collections from industrialists and retailers have been generally satisfactory, but individual contributions, on the average, are too small and not in proportion to the need and importance of the appeal. The morale of our men must be maintained even after victory is won. Our boys are in this up to their necks. Our contribution must match theirs. Don't just give a "token" contribution. The job is too small for that—we must give-really give! A contribution of $1,000 was received this week from Alex Hack, president of the Westminster Shoe Company. Carroll County is justly proud of this local industry which has so patriotically guaranteed comfort and aid for the next 12 months to 100 "boys" from our county.

DODGING INCOME TAX

An article from the Maryland Motorist says the terrifically high income taxes of the past few years, with no substantial relief in sight, threatens to bring a change in our economy. However, taxes on capital gains are much smaller than on incomes, and that is why many agreements today are based on comparatively low salaries but include options to buy stock.

Two outstanding illustrations of this principle recently got into print. Charles E. Sorensen, who was paid more than $200,000 a year salary by the Ford Motor Company, accepted a salary of $52,000 when he became president of Willys-Overland but he was also given stock options which would yield him $1,000,000 in capital gains within six months. Likewise, when Joseph W. Frazer was made chairman of the board of Graham-Paige, he agreed to accept no salary for a year but he got an option to buy 300,000 shares of stock at $3.50 per share within five years, calculated to immediately give him a capital gain of $450,000 on that basis.

We are in sympathy with the taxpayer under ordinary circumstances, and we know how unreasonable are some of the practices in computing capital gains and losses, but we have no sympathy with mere dodgers. In cases like the above the true market value of stock so obtained ought to be counted as part of the salary.

TIRE CARE VITAL TO WAR EFFORT

by a shortage of truck tires.

Government officials are alarmed at the prospect that some of the American businessmen going around pulpwood now being cut may not with drooping mouths and tears in reach the mills on time because of this transportation bottleneck.

Pulpwood producers can relieve this situation somewhat by taking the best care of their trucks and tires until new tires and equipment become available. Everyone who has driven an automobile knows that the life of a tire usually depends on the care given it rather than on mile-

While abuses may vary in different regions, there are a few general rules which, if observed, will keep pulpwood moving to the mills throughout this crisis and will save producers time and money.

1. Don't overload your truck. Keep your tires properly in-2.

3. Recap your tires before they become worn to fabric.

By observing these simple rules every pulpwood producer who does his own trucking will be contributing doubly to the war effort and will help prevent a breakdown in the pulpwood supply machinery at a time when every pulpwood log counts .- Rhoderick Papers.

NO PAPER INCREASE IN SIGHT

Recent word from Washington indicates no easing of the tight paper situation, and it behooves each of us to act accordingly. Paper is made from pulp and pulp from wood. In the prewar years, paper was an overbuilt industry, yet today the prospect is that is will be "underbuilt" from the consumer's viewpoint until far into the peace. And this despite the fact that end-users like magazine publishers, commercial printers, and book publishers are cut back to 75 per cent of their 1942 consumption and have used every feasible means to stretch the pulp. All have cut their basic weights of paper, narrowed margins, cut out running heads, reduced their type-size, plead for different ends, but had to and so on. NEW TASK FOR AMERICANS

Eric A. Johnston, president of the All of us are familiar with the Chamber of Commerce of the United historic legend of an English King States, obviously is disgusted with who lost a kingdom because his American businessmen who harbor horse lost a nail and consequently a no hope for the future. "Sure, we shoe. Well,today pulpwood produc- are going to have a lot of problems, tion for war is seriously threatened such as reconversion and the staggering national debt," he said, "but I can't understand it when I see their eyes, saying we can't defeat them. If we can't solve our problems in this country after the war, no other nations in the world can solve theirs and we'll all go down to Davy Jones' locker together."

Mr. Johnston fears that the peoples of many countries in Europe, including England and France, may be so confused and uncertain after the war that they will be in a mood to toss their problems upon government and relinquish all economic freedom to a superstate that is the very antithesis of the American republican concept.

The burden of responsibility for keeping government free of the taint of any totalitarian domination may fall upon the United States, he said, adding: "Constant reliance upon government may allow a sick economy to totter around, but the gruelling race to personal freedom is never won by running on the wooden legs of any superstate."

He warned that the United States may have to provide the leadership to counteract a worldwide trend toward collectivism and government control and domination after the

Now, it is obvious that the leadership requisite for that task is not going to come from the pessimistic businessmen who view even the domestic problems ahead as insurmountable. A CONTEST WORTH WHILE

Many people conclude when an lection has gone contrary to their wishes, that it was no use to try, but this is far from true. The hotly contested race which ended November 7 will result in great good to the country. The positions announced by both candidates with regard to winning the war resulted in unity, not division, in the country. The arguments based on world peace did not to bring about a lasting peace.

The real difference between the parties was on the matter of handling domestic issues, and the conduct of the nation's business. Here the battle raged, and even here we are sure the country will be benefitted by the publicity. FARM BUILDING NEEDS STRESSED

Urges War Bond Investments

Asserting that approximately $50,-000,000 will be needed in the immediate postwar years to catch up with three years of delay in Maryland farm building and machinery repairs and new purchases, Dr. T. B. Symons, Dean and Director of Agriculture at the University of Maryland today declared, "It behooves every Maryland farmer to invest liberally in war bonds so that his cash can do double duty-help finance the war against Germany and Japan now and finance his own needs after the war when the bonds can be converted into cash."

Sounds Inflation Warning A member of the State War Finance Executive Committee, Dr. Symons made the appeal in connection with the Sixth War Loan Drive, beginning November 20 through December 16. He emphasized that Maryland farmers considered it their first duty to retire their debts and then to provide for ample financial reserves to obtain much-needed farm machinery and buildings after the war. Warning was sounded by Dr. Symons on investing present financial reserves in farm land and other investments having inflated wartime prices.

War Bonds Recommended War Bonds were recommended as a sound and suitable investment for farmers interested in helping the war effort and at the same time helping themselves by keeping their reserves in liquid investments, earning attractive interests, for postwar purchases of farm needs.

Points to Postwar Needs

In pointing to Maryland postwar farm needs, Dr. Symons referred to the state postwar farm building committee report, issued recently, which stated that an average of $1,000 per farm would need be expended following the war for the repair of farm buildings alone, as a result of necessary neglect during the war years.

Double Purpose Served A backlog of nearly three years of farm machinery orders exists in Maryland, it was said, and these needed purchases can be made following the war with converted war bond money. "Meanwhile," Dr. Symons concluded, "these funds, if invested in war bonds, can be doing battle duty for the nation and earning good interest for the Cites Agricultural Activity Due to the beehive agricultural activity, Frank W. Wrightson, State Chairman of the Sixth War Loan Drive, stated that Maryland expects a finer and more strenuous participation than ever from the counties. "They have always done a good job," he said, "but we believe the agricultural participation this time will be in a position to break all their previous records." Meanwhile, an executive meeting of the Agricultural Division was held at the War Finance Committee offices under the direction of R. H. Dixon, Jr., Deputy Manager. The Farm Executive committee includes: Paul Nystrom, of the University of Maryland Extension Service; Roy Brooks, Master of the State Grange; R. F. C. Weagley, President of the Maryland Farm Bureau; C. E. Wise, Jr., Secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau; Harry T. Nuttle, National Director of the Farm Bureau Brown, County Agent for Charles County and Edwin Englar, Secretary of the Carroll County Farm Bureau.

Be glad it didn't happen here!

B^E GLAD no Gestapo agent burst open the door to your home, demanding your money, your clothing, your furniture—yes, even your children ... to be sent into slavery for the Reich.

Be glad no Nazi Storm Trooper burned your crops to keep them out of the hands of his pursuers, killed your livestock to feed German war lords, burned down your home to show you his might.

It could have happened here, you know! Why not put our thankfulness into concrete form? Why not buy the War Bonds we ought to be buying? We haven't bought enough, yet, you know . . . not nearly enough. And there are men across the sea fighting our fight who are asking what we are doing at home. Have we an answer for them?

You will need your War Bonds as urgently after the war as Uncle Sam needs your money today. You will need new machinery and equipment, new fences, new buildings. So BUY NOW! Don't spend a dollar unless you first ask yourself: "Does my country need it more?"

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!

2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.

3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.

4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.

5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

The Golden Text will be from Psalms 84:2—"My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the large to do. It would create a real spirit of patriotism and lift our morale when it gets down in the dumps."

"I believe you are right Dick, you Lord; my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible—Proverbs 12:17—
"He that speaketh truth showeth forth righteousness; but a false witstrate Truth and Life."

MARRIED

STONESIFER—NULL

Miss Eva Null, of Taneytown and Pfc. Charles Edward Stonesifer, of Hanover, Pa., were united in mar-riage October 17, at 2:30 P. M. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John H. Hoch at the Church of God parsonage, Uniontown. The bridegroom having just returned from overseas duty, was wearing the Purple Heart.

RENTZEL-HARMAN

Miss Truth Harman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Harman, of Westminster, and Walter Rentzel, Jr, Uniontown, were united in marriage at eight o'clock. Saturday evening, October 21, at the bride's home. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John H. Hoch, the bride's pastor, in the absence of the family and a few friends. Miss Carmen Lavara, of Towson State Teacher's College acted as bridesmaid and Geo. Smith, of Fountain Valley as bestked, near Finksburg, last week:

Pfc. Kerby Snyder returned to his camp in Mississippi after spending a contown. The couple will reside at ples on the street corners.

blue suit and a carnation boutonniere. A dinner was served at the bride's home following the ceremony, consisting of "oh" so many good things, including a roast turkey with oyster filling, which fulfilled a promise, made to Miss Stambaugh cousin, S. Arthur Myerly, at the ear-liest moment he learned that Sgt. Wise was homeward bound on a furlough from the South Pacific. unique feature was two wedding cakes, one baked by the Baumgardner Bakery. Only a few relatives and very close friends attended the ceremony and dinner.

In the evening fifty or more friends from the neighborhood, assembled with the most earsplitting noise contraptions, and gave them a rousing serenade and wished them happiness and were treated to cookies, pretzels and potato chips and

Homespun Philosophy

The other day I saw Sterling, better known as Dick, in Frizellburg, his home town. He is a cow puncher and peddler, a public spirited citizen and one who devotes his spare time to the welfare of others (when he is not fishing). He dreve up to the gas pump, jumped out of his truck, and

Who would you suggest for such an important office?"

"Well, now you ask me something, but, I have a few suggestions. There is one public spirited man in this town that would make an excellent ness deceit."

The Lesson-Sermon also will include passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the fol-

He is intelligent and progressive, upright and fair, his integrity cannot be questioned, and he would be devoted to his duty far beyond anything asked of him. I mean Piggie! He would receive the votes from men and women alike, regardless of race, creed or color."

"Of course—Piggie, why didn't I think of him." When I came home I recalled this conversation with Dick and thought a lot about it. I think he hit the jack pot when he got the notion that every small hamlet should have an election. It certainly would put some life in our little cross road towns. It would do more. It would decentralize some of the power that is being stor-ed up in our Federal government. For twelve years power and more power has been constantly accumulated in Washington until today the American people are belabored with One Man Government. A mayorality election the smallest village would break this up. The American people could again breathe freely. They would be man. By VIRGINIA COUGHLIN McClure Syndicate-WNU Features.

ITTLE Nan brought the question home from school with her. "Mummy," she said over her steaming lunch, "our teacher was talking about Pen—Penelope today. Who's she?"

"Oh, just a story-book lady, dear," Dorothy Nevins told her daughter. "Eat your potatoes now. And, Thomas Nevins Junior, please scrub those awful fingernails of yours thoroughly before you go back to school."

"O. K." Slouched in his chair, Tommy was obviously not thinking of his meal, or of his hands, either. Like his younger sister, Tommy lived in an enchanted world of bright, delicious fantasy. His eyes were wide and expectant. "How about this Penelope? What story is

"I don't know," Dorothy answered.

"What did she do?" Nan's interest in the strange but somehow promising lady was keen.

Dorothy dropped kisses on the two dark heads. "It's been a long time since Mummy went to school. She has forgotten all about Penelope.' Seeing - disappointment cloud the children's small faces, she was immediately penitent. "Tell you what," she suggested, "I'll get out Daddy's mythology this afternoon and meet Penelope again. I'll tell you the story at bedtime. Will that do?" This was greeted with shouts of delighted approval.

Dorothy waved them to their afternoon sessions. For a relaxing moment she sank into a chair. The angelic whirlwinds, she thought lovingly, it would take ten mothers to keep up with them. Such beautiful children, she mused further, unabashed at her pride in them. The clock measured off the minutes, tick, tick, tick . . . Just one glance at its bland face and Dorothy was on her feet again. She set about washing the dishes. It wasn't until she'd dropped the first tumbler into the froth of white suds that she felt her morning's depression close in upon her again. It came, as it had come every day, almost stifling her in its dark, heart-sickening spell. Her hands faltered. But pretty Mrs. Nevins lectured herself. "Don't stop.

You've a job to do." Tucked in their respective beds that night, the little ones were obviously not the least bit sleepy. "Tell us the story, Mummy," Nan reminded. "Yes," urged Tommy, "you promised-" "And I shall keep my promise-if you'll both go right to sleep afterward. No thousand drinks of water." She smiled at each of them in turn, then began the story.

It was the tale familiar to almost everyone, the fable of Penelope, that valiant lady who refused to give up hope of her husband's return from the Trojan war. In terms suited to youngsters' understanding, Dorothy explained how time raced on and Ulysses was no longer believed alive, how Penelope went about weaving a robe, promising to marry one of her countless suitors only when it should be completed. The lady's handiwork was never quite finished, however, as she fashioned it during the day, then ripped the new stitches at night. Her artfulness saved her.

"Penelope was very wise," Dorothy ended, and the children nodded in agreement, their round eyes thoughtful

After the evening prayers, kisses and nose tweaking, Mrs. Nevins tucked them in, then went downstairs to the quiet living room. She switched on the radio and sat listening to the soft music but not hearing it, fingering the small socks she was darning without seeing them.

"Tom," she whispered, turning to look at the photograph that stood on the table. The smiling dark-haired man was young and handsome in his Army captain's uniform. There was capability in his lean face, strength in the line of his broad shoulders. "Oh, Tom," Dorothy asked, "why have I been such a baby? Other wives have waited for wars to end, haven't they? Always, throughout the ages, women have been buoyed by hope - even in Penelope's time. Penelope was very wise-wise to keep working and never, never to give up. I shall try to be more like her, Tom. . . .

The radio music stopped. There was utter silence until a young voice called from upstairs, "Mummy! Did the lady's husband come back?" "Yes," Dorothy answered, "after a long time Ulysses came home. Now go to sleep, darlings. Good night. She listened to their muffled re-

"Yes, Ulysses came sponses. home," she repeated to herself. Glancing at Tom's picture again she suddenly, happily, matched his reassuring smile with her own.

Sulphuric Acid

the sulphuric acid used in the United States is consumed in the fertilizer industry. It serves to break down insoluble phosphate rock, converting it into superphosphate of lime which dissolves easily in the soil and can then be drunk up as food by plant roots.

The second largest amount is used in petroleum refining, where it helps to tear the complex oil to pieces.

CHRISTIANITY AND DEMOCRACY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:13:17; Romans 13:8-10; I Peter 2:13-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.

No form of government can claim divine authority, for God's Word does not prescribe any special form of government. But (and this is most important) the principles upon which government should be established are clearly given in God's Word, and the form of rule which best fits into the teaching of the Word necessarily calls for our interest and support.

We find in the Bible the declaration that men are equal in the sight of God, that government is to be a ministry for God (see last week's lesson), receiving its authority from Him and serving Him in exercising that power. Men are to be loyal to the government be-

Our lesson carries forward the teaching of last Sunday. It tells us

The Christian Citizen Is-I. Subject to Both God and Country (Mark 12:13-17).

His devotion to God and the things of God is to be expected of the Christian. We almost said that it is taken for granted, and sometimes that is so true there is no reality in his life. But surely if he is a follower of Christ he must be devoted to Him and to His cause.

But what about his country? That relation appears anew in the striking story of Christ and those who came to test Him, yes, to trap Him with a skillfully worded question.

The Pharisees, who hated Rome for its domination of Palestine, and the Herodians, who supported Rome in its control of the land, were enemies, but they joined forces to tempt Christ. They knew that if He said "Yes" to their question, the Jews would be angry, and if He said "No," He could be condemned as a traitor to Rome.

The trap was set, but it caught only the crafty hunters. Taking their own pocket money He declared that if they used Caesar's money they ought to pay taxes to Caesar. The coin stood for an orderly govern-ment, benefits of which they enjoyed and which they ought to support.

No real Christian will evade his duty to his country whether it be to pay taxes, to take part intelligently in its government, to defend it, to pray for it, or otherwise to show his love. One of the blots on the Christian church is the lack of civic righteousness on the part of many of its

II. Devoted to Both Brother and Neighbor (Rom. 13:8-10).

The Christian loves his brethren; indeed that love is one of the tests by which we may know that a man is truly born again (I John 3:14).

But that love reaches out beyond the circle of the brethren and touches every man who has need of it. The teachers of the Jewish law had sought to circumscribe that word "heighbor," but the Lord effectively dealt with that viewpoint in the story of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10).

All the commandments concerning the vital matter of personal relationship are summed up in the one admonition, "Love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 9). When love controls, there will be no social dishonesty, strife or ill-will. There will be no violence to the person or property of another, for "love worketh no ill to his neighbor."

This is the real "good neighbor policy." Even between nations, we need more real love and less effort to impress one another by diplomacy and good will expeditions. Let there be less political manipulation and more loving, and we shall find our neighbor, both personal and national, responding in kind. Love draws out love from another.

III. Submissive to Both the Law of God and Man (I Pet. 2:13-17).

"Fear God" (v. 17); that is, be eager that there is no failure on your part to please Him by obeying His law. That we expect of the Christian. But we expect more; he is to be a law-abiding citizen, obeying the laws of his country "for the Lord's sake" (v. 13).

The believer may, by his godly faithfulness to his government, effectively witness against the ignorant criticism of foolish men who would have us think that being a Christian makes a man a weakling, or so other-worldly that he is useless in this world.

Our freedom in Christ is not an excuse for careless or wicked living. Not at all-just the opposite in fact. We "honor all men." How can that be done? Only by the grace of God; but by His blessing we can do it. That makes for the real appreciation of man, which is the very foundation of our democracy. If it means anything, it must have as its foundation principle the supreme value of human life and the dignity of the soul of man.

Green, leafy, red and yellow vegetables are the vitamin-rich foods so essential to nutrition. They are rich especially in vitamin A. At least one should be served on your table every day, and those who do not like them should eat them in spite of that, say the nutritionists. Some green leafy vegetables can be served raw in salads, others are cooked, and among these are the greens so highly esteemed as spring tonics by our grandmothers, who did not know about vitamins, but did know that greens were healthful.

Green Peppers

A dozen well-grown plants will yield a good supply of green peppers in late summer and fall. They are easily grown, requiring only a generous supply of moisture for their best development. The pepper is one plant that it is wise to sprinkle. Usually the watering is more efficiently done by taking the nozzle off the hose and letting it gently trickle over the garden and soak into the earth.

Clean Oven

One place where neglect can cause endless trouble is the oven. Unless the walls are always well, washed after baking or broiling, grease and cooking odors form stubborn film. After a time this causes an unpleasant smoky odor which affects the food put into the oven. For the same reasons the broiler pan rack should be removed and washed with the pots and pans.

Sheep Decline

The supply of sheep on farms declined for the second consecutive year from the peak reached at the beginning of 1942 to the lowest level since the beginning of 1939. The supply amounted to 51,718,000 head on January 1, 1944, as compared with 55,775,000 head in 1943 and with the 1942 peak of 56,735,000.

Scrub Burners

Cast iron burners on a gas range easily become clogged. It is no trouble to remove and scrub them in a pan of hot suds. If they are very dirty, boil them first in a solution of washing soda. Dried and fitted back in place, they are ready to do their

Those three thousand boys and girls from Carroll County, serving in he armed forces in all corners of the world, have learned of the proposed Carroll County War Memorial project. They are justified in expecting on their return home, something worthwhile and comparable to the sacrifices they have made. As a Memorial to those who will not come back, and a tribute to those more fortunate, Carroll County, with all her resources, should provide the finest Memorial, without extravagance, that could be had—and without sacrifice to any one contributor. the Sixth War Loan is launched on November 20, be the first to buy a bond for the Memorial—and buy the series "F" Bond in the name of the "Carroll County War Memorial Fund, an unincorporated Association, Court House, Westminster, Md." This type Bond can be held in denominations of $25.00 to $1,000.00, at the rate of $74.00 per $100.00 Bond. The Memorial Fund, invested in U. S. War Bonds, now totals, more than $23,500. Bonds, now totals more than $33,500. and is earning about $1,000.00 per year. Carroll countians should provide the goal of $50,000.00 with ease -hardship to no one but a real pleasure and satisfaction to every contributor. "BUY A BOND FOR A

It is expected that a record size group will attend the Carroll County Annual Banquet which will be held at the Manchester Lutheran Church, on Friday evening, November 17th. Miss Anna Englar, president of the New Windsor 4-H Club will be the toastmistress.

Among those appearing on the program will be Rev. Richard Lundberg who will speak to the group on their banquet theme: "Be Thankful," Nellie Getty, of the New Windsor Club will tell briefly of the girls club achieve-ments for '44, Milton Basier, of Hillsdale Club, boys club achievements for '44, Solomon Hoke of the Bachman's Valley Club of Senior Council activities and Bertha Peltz of the Senior Council will sing "Morning" accompanied by Miss Dorothy Clark of the Freedom Girls 4-H Club. Several awards will be made at this time by Miss Justina C. Crosby, Home Demonstration Agent and L. C. Burns, County Agent. Mrs. Gladys Wimert Will present the D. A. R. medals to the outstanding boy and girl in clubwork

In addition to 4-H Club members and parents, representatives from the various service clubs will also attend.

Lyou ask me. I think our owner is neglecting us.
Actually it isn't any harder for him to give us good care and to keep us in top laying condi-tion than it is to forget about us and let some of us die. All he has to do to get free help with his poultry management problem is to go to the Dr. Salsbury's dealer listed below and it'll mean dollars in his pocket and better care for us.

NEVER BEFORE IN HISTORY I WHAT A MAN SHOULD TELL HIS while in the throes of house clean-WIFE ABOUT HIS SOCIAL SECURITY ACCOUNT

> "Tell your wife that you have Government insurance protection and in case of your death, she should go to the office of the Social Security Board and apply for old-age and survivors insurance payments," is the advice of the Hagerstown Social Security

Board office manager to workers." "Tell her that your Social Security card is the key to your account with the Government, and if the time ever comes when she has to claim payment she should take your card with her when she goes to apply for benefits; because her claim can be handled be handled more promptly if the field office manager knows the account number on

"Tell her that your Social Security card should be kept in a safe place, along with any other insurance policy you may have. Show her the card and explain its value, so that she will not mistake it for a worthless paper,

"Tell her that the Social Security Board has set up an individual account for you; that your employer sends to the Government, every three months, a report of the wages paid to his employees; and on that report he shows your name in full, your Social Security account number, and the amount of wages paid you, during the quarter just past. When the Social Security Board gets this report, the information concerning your wages is transferred to your own ledger sheet and is added to your wage record. The wages credited to wage record. The wages credited to your account, year after year, will serve as a basis, later on, in calculating the amount of your benefits. In case of your death, the payments to your wife and children will depend upon the amount of wages shows a your Social Security account." "Information and assistance are available, free of charge, at any office of the Social Security Board. The Hagerstown office of the Social curity Board is located 74 W. Washington St., Hagerstown, Md.

SE DITCHE

The world is being slowly redeemed from savagery. Our foes grow weaker and fewer in number. The courage of liberty-loving men and women everywhere rises ever higher. On Thanksgiving Day this year our feet are more than halfway on the road to Peace and Victory. We give thanks for the quality of our fighting men and for the skill and determination of our leaders. We acknowledge with humility our indebtedness to Divine guidance. We have much to be thankful for —with the best to come.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

... was an expression of gratitude for a few simple comforts in a free land.

Today let's join in giving thanks to those who are working and fighting to preserve our freedom. We can never repay them for the job they are doing, but we can show our sincere appreciation. Let's do it.
