MEAT SCARCITY

In commenting today on the current meat shortage, Mr. Leo H. McCormick, State Director of the OPA stated that the picture' looks extremely gloomy and shows little chance for improvement before next fall, with a greater curtailment of civilian supplies to be expected between now and then.

"The War Food Administration which agency has charge of supplies and distribution of foods and tells us what to ration, and what not to ration, has advised us that we may expect approximately a 12% de-crease in meat supplies during the second quarter of 1945 over the first quarter of the year," he said. "I am not an alarmist but this situation combined with a heavy decline in livestock production, with government requirements increasing and with a heavier set-aside order means Drive the war, feel the true "pinch" of meat scarcities."

The tangerine sirup is described as light brown in color, honey-like, high in vitamin C, and with a sweet fruity taste. It can be bottled for home use as a table sirup or put up in large containers for shipment to manufacturers of other products as a source of sugar, vitamin C, or as a substitute for glycerine.

The beverage bases are also concentrates of tangerine juice. After concentration, the product is pas-teurized, bottled, and held in storage at 40 degrees Fahrenheit until used. The concentrates are described as having a fine fruit flavor, excellent retention of vitamin C, and with the high acid content desired by the beverage industry.

Combat Fruit Moth

frequently.

California is winning its battle against the oriental fruit moth, serious insect enemy of deciduous fruits and fruit trees, especially peach trees, but the fight is far from concluded and may continue for many years. The moth was introduced into the U. S. on Japanese cherry trees planted in Washington, D. C., in 1910.

Two new forces have successfully entered the field against the voracious insect enemy-millions of parasites produced by the University of California for the state department of agriculture, and new chemicals and chemical compounds. When new infestations are discovered, the parasites are rushed to the scene and soon prohibit further spread of the moth. Previous to the work done by California officials, it had been believed that the moth's spread could not be stopped because of its canny habit of rejecting the first mouthful of fruit it encountered, the mouthful consisting of the part of the fruit covered with poisoned spray. But now it has been found that some chemicals will cide, may give 95 per cent control. Tests made by U. C. have included 450 chemicals and above included 450 chemicals and above included above 450 chemicals and chemical compounds.

EZRA D. SPANGLER

Ezra D. (Spangler, well known carpenter, died Monday morning at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lake G. Weant, near Taneytown. He was aged 73 years. Mr. Spangler was a son of the late Samuel and Sarah Hahn Spangler. His wife, the form-er Sarah J. Myers preceded him in death seventeen years ago.

Surviving are a daughter. Mrs. Weant, with whom he resided; two grandchildren, Carl E. and Merle C. Weant and two brothers, S. Hezekiah Spangler, Silver Run and Hu-bert T. Spangler, Taneytown R. D. Mr. Spangler was engaged in carpenter business most of his lifetime and resided near Tyrone before mak-ing his home with his daughter. He was a member of Baust Lutheran Church.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Fuss Funeral Home, Tana/town with further services in Baust Lutheran Church. The Charles Birx, officiated. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

If you are very careful, you'll pick something like yourself to laugh at. That is a safe subject at all times. You can laugh and laugh until the tears run down your cheeks it won't hurt anybody, and it'll do you a lot of good. Of course if your feelings are Dear Sir: easily hurt you might at first resent so much hilarity at your own ex-pense. But you will soon get hardened to it. And before long you won't mind it a bit. I hope a couple of grouches,-I won't mention any names, but they live in Taneytown, will read what laughing.

When he laughs he laughs all over. He never laughs alone. Everyone that sees him laugh laughs with him. They can't help it. He tells the story of how he came to be a funny man. I think it bears repeating. Not to make all of us who read this ar-ticle funny men but to bolster our spirits and to make us smile at our He says, "When I was a kid down on the New York East Side, the

Missing for Dix Years; Police Officer Located

NEW YORK, N. Y.-A set of fingerprints ended a search for a former Brooklyn policeman who disappeared six years ago and whose estranged wife sought to have him declared legally dead. Patrolman Jacob C. Shaver disappeared July 29, 1938, and was dismissed from the department five months later after his shield was found in a subway.

When his wife, Vivian, applied for his full police pension in Novem-ber of this year, Mayor F. H. La-Guardia ordered the case reopened. Detective Joseph Lammey of the missing persons bureau dispatched Shaver's fingerprints to all branches of the armed services and learned recently that Shaver enlisted in the merchant marine at the outbreak of the war and now is at sea.

Spring Will Always

Arrive on Schedule Direful things that are shaking the world cannot hold back the arrival of spring. The first day of spring is scheduled for March 21, and will arrive on time. Spring will release the armies as well as winter-bitten soil. The darkest winter in our history will give way to the brightness of spring on March 21.

The return of spring is merciful assurance that life is immortal and creation normal and abundant. The real spring, announced by the robins, marble playing, house cleaning, early plowing, fishing and baseball, will soon be on its way.

Spring also means moving time in many sections of the country. It means to the gardener and the farmer, that trees can be moved or transplanted, the lawn will be fixed up, flower beds dug, and the vegetable garden laid out. But to young John and Jane, it means "pitching woo," the beginning of a new young spring love.

Stocking Tear Causes

Death of Innocent Man ST. ALBANS, VT .- A Swanton girl lied, a state investigator asserted, when she said she had been attacked by a man who died, the official explained, after the girl's brother had struck him.

State Investigator Almo Franzoni said that Eleanor Hoague, 16, had confessed to him she had torn her stockings on a wire fence and was afraid to tell her folks, fearing punishment. Instead, Franzoni added, she told her brother, Earl, 22, she had been attacked by Fred Wanzer, 42.

Franzoni said Earl Hoague struck Wanzer, who fell and suffered a fatal skull fracture. Earl was arrested on an open charge.

Coal now is receiving anti-freeze treatment. This is not because of Battalion in Long Fi lack of heating qualities, although some of the slate accumulations that were sold as coal last winter would suggest the possibility. The purpose is to prevent coal; particularly the small sizes, from freezing into a solid block while being transported in the railroad gondola cars. The treatment consists of mixing about 400 pounds of rock salt with a 50-ton cargo when the coal is loaded at the mines. One operator found that by having 1,200 tons of rock salt so applied at the mines he saved $12,000 in unloading costs.

Abundant Element

Aluminum is the most abundant of all the metallic elements found in the earth's crust.

Helium Gas Helium gas was first discovered and produced in Kansas.

Battalion in Long Fight WITH AMERICAN FORCES. -Those guys were never trained for that sort of thing, but they fought like hell," Capt. William Rodman, a young tank officer from Wynnewood, Pa., said recently of a handful of clerks and military police and mechanics who fought off a whole battalion of Germans for four days at a tiny but valuable village northeast of Marche.

Relieved two days ago after they had killed more than 40 Germans without a single loss, this unit of 90 men, holding their little group without even an order to hold it, also knocked out 9 of 10 tanks, he said, and one American jeep which the Germans were using.

The town, important because of its roads, was held lightly because it was supposed to be in the rear area.

Curtain Conservation

If you find that the long curtains look too badly worn for another month's use, see if the top halves aren't plenty good enough for sum-mer sash curtains. Wash the fabric, tint or dye it if color is preferred to plain white, and then put in top and bottom hems. This sort of thrift is true wartime conservation of fabrics.

JIM PAYTON felt compassion for the small, grief-stricken boy who had come to him seeking aid. "Get hold of yourself, Benny, and tell me what's happened," he advised. "They stole Daisy," Benny managed to say between sobs.

"Who did?" Jim prompted. "Them new folkses on the Berkley place. They was lookin' at her las' night, and they say they wants to buy and I's scared then they's fixin' to swipe her. When I come from school they is talkin' to my pop 'bout a barbecue up to their place tonight, and this mornin' she's gone and Pop say he don't know nothin' 'bout it, but he do. She's over there, I see her and I tell 'em she's my pig and they laugh and say, 'Call the sheriff.' They know he ain't listen to me and iffen he do Daisy's gonna be et time he git here.'

"We'll see about that right now," Jim promised.

Backing the truck over the narrow culvert into the highway, Jim recalled that agonizing moment weeks before when Baby Sue had toddled into the driveway behind him and Helen came running from the porch screaming, "Stop! Stop!" and he jammed on brakes. Benny idling near had seen the danger and dragged the little one to safety.

In gratitude to the boy for his courage and foresight, Jim had offered him anything he desired and that was when the black and white shoat changed hands and became Daisy. Since that day the thin youngster never left their door hungry. Jim and Helen had even attempted the reformation of Bill Reed, Benny's father.

"You're to let me do the talking," Jim explained before they reached the Berkley place.

"Yes, sir." Benny held his head high, proud of his importance in having a friend like Mr. Payton.

To Benny it was amazing the way white folks did things. Mr. Payton merely said he had come for Benny's pig, then loaded her and drove off. "Mr. Jim, they ain't make no trouble, 'cause they's scared of you, but dat ain't gonna keep 'em from doin' it again."

"You can stop worrying," Jim as-sured him. "We don't tolerate thieves in this neighborhood. They'll be moving on as soon as the owner learns of the trouble they've made. and I'll see to that personally this afternoon."

Jim put Daisy back with his own hogs until it would be safe to take her to Reed's place again. He wouldn't allow Benny to go home but kept him occupied all day, and after supper he put up a cot for the boy in the garage.

Benny hadn't been asleep long when his father came looking for him. He knocked at the door of the in norch and removed his hat when Helen came out of the kitchen. "'Scuse me, Miss Helen, I's a lookin' for Benny," he said humbly.

"How come he ain't? He belong to me. Ain't nobody got a right to take him."

"Oh, yes they have, Bill. The state can take any child, if he's not get-ting proper care."

Bill was frightened. "Honest, Miss Helen, I ain't never raise my hand to that young 'un, and does you ho'p me get him back I ain't mess no mo' wif new folkses till I know is they trash or is they aint."

"I wish we could help you, Bill, but I'm afraid it's out of our hands now."

"What they do wif him?" Bill asked haltingly.

"Take him to the orphans' home. But you needn't fret. Some nice family will adopt him, people who'll appreciate a bright boy like Benny. Bill's shoulders drooped as the shuffled hopelessly away.

"I'm out of patience with the man," Helen told Jim, "still, I can't help feeling sorry for him. You'd better see if Benny is asleep. wouldn't want the child to suffer for his father's shortcomings."

In the garage Jim looked at the empty cot. His guest had vanished. "I imagine he heard the conversation and went home but I'd better, make sure," he told Helen.

Everything was quiet at Reed's shack, and Bill's face was expressionless as he looked straight at Jim and declared he had not seen Benny since morning.

"It's too bad he ran away from you after we'd made up our minds to give you one more chance," Jim said loudly.

"I's here, Mr. Payton." Benny ducked under his father's elbow and bobbed up on the doorstep, facing Jim. "So you are!" Jim pretended surprise. "Couldn"t you have told us you were leaving, Benny?" he asked.

"Yes, sir, but I's scared when she say strange folks is gonna get me. Pop say he be good now, but iffen he do slip some I cain't leave him," he explained, "'cause he's my pop."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL CUNDAY CHOOL Lesson BY HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THE LAST WEEK

LESSON TEXT-Matthew 21:6-16. GOLDEN TEXT-Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest .- Matthew 21:9.

The official presentation of Himself to the Jewish people as their King, their rejection of Him and, what was even more solemnly meaningful, His rejection of the Hebrew nation because of their unbeliefsuch are the stirring events which face us as we go with our Lord into the last week of His earthly ministry. The first event in that sequence is the one we study in our lesson for today, namely, the coming of the King to Jerusalem.

I. Preparation and Presentation (vv. 6, 7).

The King comes, but even in His hour of royal triumph He gives to His followers the unexplainable but inestimable joy of meeting His need. 1. "The Disciples Did As Jesus Appointed" (v. 6). He had need of disciples who would do His bidding without question or hesitation. How precious is such obedience! Let us also go and do what He commands. He needed the colt and the ass. How simple and lowly was that need, and yet how glorious that man was ready to meet it! God's plans are worked out in the little things as well as the great. Prophecy was being fulfilled here (see v. 5) by a little thing. Is God waiting to carry out some great pur-pose through some little thing which you are withholding from Him? Why hinder Him any longer?

2. "And He Sat Thereon" (v. 7). Though He did not come with the pomp and trappings of an earthly potentate, the King of Glory came to His people to offer them for the last time the opportunity to receive Him.

He asks you to yield your life to His kingship. What will your answer bei

II. Acceptance and Rejection (vv. 8-11, 15, 16).

1. "The Multitude . . . Cried . . . Hosanna" (vv. 8-11). The fact that before the week was over some of the same voices cried, "Crucify him!" should not obscure the fact that there were childlike believers 16) who really had faith in Christ.

There is something inspiring about that picture of enthusiasm and devotion. Real faith in Christ ought to result in a fervor of spirit which will stir our hearts and our cities. Are we not altogether too dead and formal in much of our worship today? Do we not need more holy enthusiasm for Christ and 'for His Church?

Careful Screening Cuts T. B. Rate in Army

The incidence of tuberculosis, as reflected by the annual hospital admission rate, is only one-tenth as high in the army now as it was in the last war, the war department announced. Principal factor in the marked decrease in the army's rate is the screening process which is in operation to exclude men with active or potentially active tuberculosis before they are inducted into the army, Col. E. R. Long, chief consultant on tuberculosis for the

Another reason, he added, is the fact that among the civilian population tuberculosis is only one-third as prevalent now as it was during the world war. In the last war, the necessary technical equipment had not been developed for a quick and accurate detection of this disease in the thousands of men who were hurriedly mobilized. Now, by means of x-ray photography tuberculous cases can be excluded with great accuracy.

It was not until the spring of 1942, however, that this screening process came to be used universally in the army. Nearly one million men were inducted without this x-ray examination, which to a large degree accounts for the fact that ap-proximately 10,500 men were discharged from the army because of tuberculosis between December 7, 1941 and December 7, 1944. Since the beginning of this war, the army has rejected approximately 150,000 men who showed signs of pulmonary tuberculosis. Several thousand others were excluded by local boards of the selective service system before they reached induction centers.

Mahogany One of the Best Finishing Woods Mahogany responds as perhaps does no other wood to fine finishing, tate cleaning, to bring out the depth and lustre of grain and figure, to change color or tone. Mahogany has suffered the more when poorly finished, says this authority, which continues:

"The thick reddish hue and hard high lustre of much late 19th century mahogany is an example. The red was a stain. Used first as a perfectly legitimate means of obtaining uniformity of color, it gradually became a disguise for inferior wood substitutes, growing darker and thicker for the purpose, until it all but concealed the natural grain. The lustre was several coats of gloss varnish

"The finest mahogany finishes are those which do the most to bring out the natural beauty and color of the wood. Outstanding are shellac and wax, and oil and wax, both used extensively during the 18th century and responsible for the mellow gleam on rare old museum pieces and our most superior modern pieces alike. Both require time and skill, and are therefore expensive. There are today, however, vastly improved lacquer and varnish fins. Inrough them we are now able to reproduce almost exactly the rich patina associated with traditional design. Others, based on bleaching, bring out the full beauty of grain and figure in the lighter honey, wheat and amber tones popularized in modern design."

16). Small wonder, for not only had the children put them to open shame by recognizing the Christ whom they had ignored, but He had also ruined their polite religious "racket" which produced for them such a lovely profit.

Mark this—when anyone is dis-pleased with Jesus or with His children or with His work on earth, you can be sure that there is a reason, and not a holy, upright or good reason either!

III. Judgment and Compassion (vv. 12-14).

What a remarkable picture! In the midst of flaming judgment and destruction we find His loving compassion upon the blind and the lame. Folk who think that Christ has no message but love need to look on Him as He cleanses the temple. On the other hand, those who think that He has no word but judgment need to behold Him as He stands in the midst of the overturned tables and debris and heals the needy.

1. "Jesus Cast Out . . . and Over-threw." (vv. 12, 13). He knew where to begin to cleanse the city. He started in the temple. Absolutely right is the man who suggested that the place to start to clean up a city is not in the slums but in the churches.

You will not be ready to clean out the tavern or that other low place where the gang hangs out in your town until you have cleaned out the church if sin is being harbored there.

The same is true of the individual. A regenerated heart will bring a reformed life, not vice versa. You can live only after you have been born.

2. "He Healed Them" (v. 14). The very hands which had just overthrown the tables and cast out the money-changers now gently touched the lame and the blind with healing. The eyes which had blazed with holy indignation now shone with love and compassion. The scene of judgment and chaos became the house of prayer and of answered prayer. On the very spot where one man had received condemnation, another received healing.

Each one received that which He sought by his own attitude and action. How will you, my dear reader, meet Jesus—as your Judge or as your Sa-viour? You must make the choice. Choose Christ today.

Utility Beef

Utility grade beef needs to be cooked longer at lower temperatures, with more moisture, and often with added fat to make it appetizing. The more tender cuts of utility beef may be roasted if a temperature around 300 degrees is used, but tougher cuts are better if either pot-roasted or stewed with added moisture and fat, or if cooked in a pressure cooker.

Many homemakers like to vary the flavor of utility beef meat dishes with garlic, onions, tomatoes, vinegar, green pepper, spice, or garden herbs. If stew is the choice, some like a one-dish meal in which the vegetables are cooked with the meat. This sort of stew has higher food value and usually a more appealing flavor if the vegetables are added and cooked only until tender. One combination liked by many is meat pie with or without vegetables, topped with mashed potatoes, hot corn meal, or baking 2 NEW DOUBLE LAUNDRY SINKS

Lake Storage

Two hundred tons of apples from the Kelowna, British Columbia, crop of 1944 were put in storage in Okanagan lake. The Canadian National Railways granted permission to the B. C. Thee Fruits Ltd. to use its pier at Okanagan lake for the experiment in an effort to save apples which otherwise would rapidly deteriorate due to shortage of storage space. Herring net, 600 feet of it, was attached to the pier piles and then weighted with lead. The net sinks down into the water to a depth of 10 feet and covers the area under the pier. Culls, or low grade apples are being used and if they are saved by water storage, they will be used for dehydration and other byproducts and if the experiment is unsuccessful the loss will be negligible. Revolving belts will go down into the water corral, pick up apples and bring them into receptacles on the pier when required.
