This column is not for use in advertising any money-making program, fair, supper, party or sale. It is intended for news, personals, and such matters as may be of community interest. Churches are especially given free use of our Church Notice Column, for brief notices concerning regular or special services. Larger events will be cared for elsewhere in our columns. Churches, Lodges, Societies, Schools, etc., are requested to use our Special Notice Department for money-making events.

Miss Beulah Castle, of York, spent Sunday with Mrs. M. H. Reindollar and family.

Misses Audrey, Betty and Mary Six spent the week-end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Six.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Six have purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reifsnider the lot next to their property.

Dr. and Mrs. Oscar P. Huot left yesterday (Thursday), for New York for a visit. They expect to return to Taneytown April 20th.

Mrs. Guy A. Ourand, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. M. C. Waltersdorf, of Washington, Pa., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John O. Crapster.

Pfc. Ralph W. Vaughn returned last Saturday to the Hospital in Camp Carson, Colo., after spending 28-days with his home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vaughn.

Ralph Eckard, S2/c U. S. N., of Jacksonville, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eckard, Westminster, spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eckard.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weisser and daughter, Ladonna, returned to their home in Columbia, Pa., last Sunday. Mrs. Weisser and daughter had been spending several days with Mrs. Weisser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Bankard, George Street.

Visitors at the home of Rox Six and family the past week were: Mrs. Ross Adams, Mrs. Catherine Coblenz and daughter, Mrs. Helen Flook and daughter; Mrs. Carrie Hiner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Six and family; Mrs. Harry Freet, Mr. Carroll Six and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Six and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Grier Keilholtz and son, LaVerne, Keyville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Troxell, York, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Keilholtz, Emmittsburg, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dinterman and daughter, Diana Alma of Rocky Ridge, Md., visited with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nogle, of Thurmont, Md., on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond E. Bowers, Fairview Ave., entertained to a farewell dinner on Sunday in honor of Mrs. June Powers, Hanover, Pa., who recently enlisted in the WAC's. The following guests were present: Mrs. June Powers, Hanover, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Bair, sons Reuben and Robert; Mr. Edward Brady, all of Edge Grove, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reinaman and Mrs. Raymond E. Bowers and children, all of town.

Miss Ruth Waltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Waltz, of Silver Run, was taken to the University of Maryland Hospital last Saturday. She has had 12 blood transfusions, most of the donors have been members of her family. Mrs. John Sies, Taneytown, went to the Hospital, today (Friday) to give her blood. Miss Waltz has been employed at the Blue Ridge Rubber Factory, Littlestown, for the past two years. A few years ago the Waltz family were residents of Taneytown.

Mr. Guy T. Frushour of Philadelphia, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Arthur Myerly last week-end; Mrs. G. Cleve Stambaugh and daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Wise, were callers Thursday, and Sunday Mrs. Wilbur Z. Fair and twins Wanda Anne and Wayne Allen, and son, W. Z. Jr. were visitors. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Myerly visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Reaver, near Harney, where one of the Reaver twins Mary Catherine, is confined to bed, on Doctors orders for a six weeks rest, due to mummuring heart.

About thirty members of Trinity Lutheran Missionary Societies attended Middle Conference in Grace Lutheran Church, Westminster, Thursday—Mrs. W. V. Garrett, Frederick, conducted the morning and afternoon devotions. Mrs. Wesley Sadler a former missionary to Africa, gave an inspiring talk about her work. Mrs. Sadler is quite young, having gone to Africa at the age of twenty-one. She, with her husband, have been missionaries there for 5 years. She gave definite reasons why she believes in "Foreign Missionary Work." They plan to return to Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hahn, E. Baltimore St., gave a dinner last Sunday in honor of their son, Edwin who was visiting them. Those present at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. David Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koons, Mrs. Lum Fleagle, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Erb, daughters, Margaret and Betty and son, David and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warehime, Mrs. Delmar Warehime and son; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hahn and son, Billy, of Frederick, and Mr. Edwin Hahn, Ashland, Oregon. (In last week's issue the names, Mr. and Mrs. David Hahn, were omitted from the list of guests that attended the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koons, on Sunday, April 1st.)

POT-LUCK SUPPER

Oddfellows Will Stage Unique Event

Taney Lodge No. 28, I.O.O.F., of Taneytown, will have an outstanding social event for members and wives, with invited guests in the Lodge Hall next Thursday, April 19, at 6:30 p. m. It will be in the form of a pot-luck supper, whatever that is, to be served in radio style as to time. Members and guests are cautioned to be on time.

Officers of the Grand Lodge will be in attendance. A special invitation has been extended to the Rebekahs. Members may bring a friend who is interested.

There will be plenty of "pot-luck" and entertainment in the form of special music, group singing and other features.

The supper will be served under the direction of Howell B. Royer, by a group of ladies which he has organized. We hear they have invaded the poultry houses of the community.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of Rev. A. W. Garvin, chairman; Percy J. Bollinger, Merwyn C. Fuss, Norman S. Devilbiss and David Smith.

PAGEANT OF COSTUMES

Thursday, April 26th., at 8 P. M., the Carroll County Historical Society will present the Pageant of Costumes in the auditorium of the Westminster High School. Miss Dorothy Elderdice, well known for her skill in stage craft, will direct the show. Models will appear on the stage wearing costumes from early times on down through the years.

To complete the pageant as an activity of the Carroll County Historical Society, Miss Elderdice has asked that anyone in the county having a garment that is interesting because of its age or associations, permit to be used in the show. These garments can be worn either by the owner, or by someone else, or can be used just as an exhibit in the auditorium. This appeal here is made particularly to the people of Taneytown district. Several interesting dresses have already been entered, and we are asking that all of you look in your old trunks and drawers covered trunks up in the attic, shake the mothballs out of Grandma's wedding dress, dust off Grandpa's high silk hat, perhaps find some old lace mitts, a dainty fichu, a tiny parasol, a quilted petticoat, hoopskirts, and a host of other treasures of the long ago. Don't hold back for someone else to do this, but enter into the spirit of this "Remember when" occasion and be proud of Taneytown's history, second to none in Carroll's districts.

Persons wishing to enter an exhibit can consult with Mrs. Walter Bower. Remember the date, Thursday, April 26th.

SPRING CONCERT

The Western Maryland College Little Symphony Orchestra will present its 14th annual Spring Concert in Alumni Hall, on Friday evening, May 4, at 8:15 P. M.

This year the orchestra is presenting three major works, two of which are seldom heard in this country. The first, is an Overture by L. Van Beethoven, dedicated to King Stephen, Hungary's first great benefactor and first performed, February 9, 1812, at the opening of the New Theater in Pesth.

The second number of unusual interest will be the performance of the Cantata, "The Walrus and the Carpenter," words by Lewis Carroll from "Through the Looking Glass," with a Prologue and Epilogue by G. Ellerton set to music by the English composer Percy E. Fletcher. This Choral Ballad or Cantata will be sung by a group of 150 elementary children from the Westminster and 13 Carroll County elementary schools together with selected voices from the eighth grades at the Westminster High School and students of the public school music class at the college. Mrs. Norman Hunter is training the chorus parts at the Westminster schools. The other music teachers in the County are training two representatives from each school to sing in the concert.

The third number on the program will be Symphony No. 1, in C Major by Beethoven. This work was first performed in a concert in Vienna, conducted by the composer himself on April 2, 1800. There is no admission charge for this concert.

COVERED DISH SOCIAL

The Women's Missionary Society of Piney Creek Presbyterian Church had a covered dish social, Wednesday April 4th, at 7:30.

A very bountiful supper was served, after which the following program prepared by Mrs. Charles Stambaugh, was very much enjoyed: Song, "Oh Worship the King" with Betty Stambaugh accompanist; Bible reading, Eugene Stambaugh; Prayer, Miss Stambaugh; Piano solo, Betty Stambaugh; Bible characters were given as a quiz; a reading by Mrs. Stambaugh; songs by the group Benediction by Rev. Mr. Owen.

"I'd kinda like to drive a car around."—Lt. Walter Ehlers, 23, Congressional Medal of Honor recipient, returned to home town of Manhattan, Kan.

"St. Peter, take note!"—Long Beach, Cal., man who willed $250 to a church.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT IS DEAD

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt died very suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage at Warm Springs, Ga., Thursday of this week at 4:35 P. M., EDT which was 3:35 P. M., at Warm Springs, aged 63 years.

The President had appeared in good health, and was sitting about 2 P. M., our time, while sketches were being made for a portrait. Suddenly he complained of a severe pain in the back of his head, and in a few minutes lapsed into unconsciousness. He never rallied, and about two and a half hours later he slept away.

Mrs. Roosevelt, members of the family, the Vice-President and members of the cabinet were summoned to the White House. Word was sent by Mrs. Roosevelt to her four sons in the service, and military and naval authorities arranged to notify all the armed forces throughout the world. All flags were ordered to be displayed at half-mast, beginning this (Friday) morning.

Mr. Roosevelt had gone to Warm Springs, about ten days before his death, expecting to take a three weeks rest preparatory to the San Francisco conference.

The body will be returned to the White House today (Friday) and funeral services will be held in the East Room tomorrow afternoon. The remains will then be taken to Hyde Park, N. Y. where the burial will take place on Sunday.

SCHOOL BILLS SIGNED

Maryland Will Have 12-Grade Course

Annapolis: Educators, educational parent-teacher and civic groups and individuals interested in the progress of education have given overwhelming approval to the new public school improvement program, which was enacted into law through signing by Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor of 12 educational bills, it was announced at the executive offices today.

The volume of correspondence in approval of the educational program and commending the Governor and the Legislature for its passage, has exceeded by far any previous correspondence on Legislative enactments hitherto, it was declared.

This program provides for twelve years of public school education for pupils of every section; reduction in average size of classes for greater teaching efficiency; increase in teachers' salaries, to make it possible to retain and secure secure competent teachers; elimination of tuition in the State Teachers' Colleges, to encourage prospective teachers to enroll; and a planned broad-gauged expansion of adult and vocational education together with specialized training courses adapted to the needs of returning veterans, and increased use of visual and radio educational helps.

CHANGE IN SPEAKER'S SCHEDULE

Due to war emergencies Robert St. John has been forced to cancel all lecture engagements during the month of April but will appear in Westminster, on Friday evening, May 18, 1945.

Mr. St. John will cover the San Francisco Conference for the National Broadcasting Co. and will return east on May 15, 1945. Being on the scene in the deliberations for a world peace should make his appearance here even more interesting.

Mr. James R. Young who was scheduled to appear on May 18, 1945 will be present on April 20, 1945. The lectures will go on as scheduled except for the reversal of the dates for each man.

The ticket sale will close on April 15, 1945. Admission will be by ticket only. There are approximately 200 seats still available. No tickets will be sold at the door on the night of the lectures.

"Kiss the American flag each morning, and also the bed you sleep in!"—Message of Brooklyn G.I. on Leyte to the home front.

"The chairs in the Senate are harder than those in the House."—Ex-Representative Magnuson, Wash., State, elected to upper-branch.

SERVICE MEN NEWS

Activities Our Local Boys Noted

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Staff Sergeant Ellwood E. Fream, 19, of Taneytown, Maryland, waist gunner of "Lady Be Good" a B-17 Flying Fortress of the 452nd Bombardment Group, has been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievements while taking part in 8th Air Force bombing attacks on vital German industrial targets and on Nazi military strong points, in support of advances by Allied ground forces. The presentation was made by Colonel Burnham L. Batson, of Manchester, Connecticut, group commander.

Sgt. Fream is a member of the Third Air Division which was cited by the President for its historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany. Flying in what is considered the toughest theatre of aerial warfare, he has helped his bomber fight its way thru severe enemy opposition to attack such objectives as the oil refineries at Hamburg, the marshalling yards at Rheidt and chemical works at Weisbaden, Germany.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fream of Taneytown. Prior to entering the AAF in September 1944, Sgt. Fream was employed by Harry B. Dougherty, there.

Howard William Sullivan, ship's cook, USNR, husband of Mrs. Neda Strasburg Sullivan, RFD No. 2 of Union Bridge, Md., has reported for duty at the Atlantic Fleet's Amphibious Training Base, Camp Bradford, Va. He will join a crew being formed to serve aboard an LST (landing, ship, tank), largest Navy amphibious ship capable of making a beach landing.

A former employee of Baumgardner's Bakery, Taneytown, Md., Sullivan joined the Navy in March 1944. He is a graduate of Western Maryland College.

Now in training at the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station, at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., is John Haines, 18, of Taneytown, Md.

Apprentice Seaman Haines will receive six weeks of basic training, including lifeboat work, fire fighting, breeches buoy, mess, sea rules and traditions, swimming, ship construction and equipment, gunnery and physical training.

After completing "boot" training he may enter deck or engine training, including three weeks of practical experience aboard a training ship at sea or he may apply for one of the specialized schools of training.

DEAR MR. STONESIFER:

I wish to thank the citizens of Taneytown who are responsible for the service kit I received. I have finished my processing here and in the future I will be shipped to some other camp. At the present time I am on the band detail, so I will stay in this camp for about twenty-one days or possibly longer. So far we of the band detail have played at the retreat twice. At this retreat some of the boys who were wounded or else performed heroic deeds were awarded some kinds of medals for meritorious service. After this is over the band pass in review and play a few marches. The whole ceremony does not take longer than an hour after it has once started. The leader of our band seems to be a nice fellow who is called "Sergeant Zipper Bag". I don't know what his first name is, but his last name is Bag. I will give you my present address, which now is:

PVT. CHARLES G. CONOVER
No. 33991245 Barracks A-6

NOTED AUTHOR TO BE HEARD IN LECTURE

Will Speak in Westminster High School Auditorium

The Carroll County Teachers Association wish to call the attention of the general public to the change in speakers for the first of their series of lectures.

On April 20, 1945 at 8 o'clock, at the Westminster High School, Mr. Jas. R. Young, noted author, will be the speaker instead of Mr. Robert St. John, NBC Commentator. This change is caused by NBC sending St. John to cover the conference of nations beginning in San Francisco, April 25th. Due to this unforeseen situation Mr. Young will exchange lecture dates with Mr. St. John who will speak on May 18th. Although this change is occurring we feel that all subscribers will greatly benefit, because Mr. St. John will return with more intimate information due to his association with the inner circle at the conference.

Mr. Young is author of the book and motion picture, "Behind the Rising Sun." He lived in Japan over 14 years. As a Tokyo newspaper man and correspondent for INS he learned to talk Japanese, and to become acquainted in all classes of Japanese groups.

For 61 days he was in a solitary cell in a Tokyo prison, subjected to daily inquisitions, while his captors sought to force from him the admission that certain of his news stories to which the Imperial government objected were false.

Young's imprisonment was the result of his truthful and accurate reporting of Japan's militaristic intentions and her already historic barbarity in occupied China.

Tickets for this series may be purchased from any teacher in Carroll County. No tickets will be sold after Monday, April 16th.

TRAINING DOGS OR ALLOWING THEM TO RUN AT LARGE BETWEEN MARCH 1 AND SEPT. 10 IS UNLAWFUL

Our attention is repeatedly called to the fact that persons are allowing their dogs to run at large pursuing wildlife which, at this season of the year, is very detrimental.

Paragraph G of Section 21 of Article 99, Annotated Code of Maryland, provides it shall be unlawful for any person to permit his dog or dogs to run at large on any property other than that owned or tenanted by him between March 1 and September 9 and pursue game or destroy the eggs or nests thereof under a penalty of Five Dollars ($5.00) and costs for each offense.

Many species of ground-nesting birds are setting up house-keeping at this time and dogs running at large, especially hunting dogs, seriously curtail the production of ground-nesting birds. Research has proved that if a dog flushes a bird from the nest during certain stages of incubation the frightened bird will not return to the eggs. In such cases sometimes the bird builds another nest but seldom lays a full clutch of eggs the second time and small broods are the results.

All dog owners are requested to cooperate with this Commission and the general community where they live to curtail the activities of their dogs in the field during the nesting period since dogs running at large oftentimes cause a great inconvenience and annoyance to the general neighborhood and in a great many cases destroy valuable properties. Therefore, it is dangerous to production of wildlife populations to have them disturbed at this time or during their housekeeping period. Our Regional and District Deputy Game Wardens are provided with posters which are placed in various sections of the counties calling the dog owners attention to this law and are instructed where dogs are found running at large pursuing game or destroying nests or eggs to have the owner of said dogs arraigned before a court of justice for trial and prosecuted for violation of the law. Therefore, Mr. Dog Owner, please keep your dog on your own property.

WHAT ABOUT GERMANY?

Everyone else has ventured an opinion as to what must be done with Germany, so here is my two cents worth.

The advice given to date ranges all the way from maudlin sympathy for a "poor misguided people," to a Nazi-like cry for revenge. But it seems to me that the one thing that has been overlooked is—what are we trying to accomplish? Do we want another war? Or do we want peace based upon a firm foundation of justice?

To those who plead for leniency, I would ask—"Are you willing to open the jails in your own town and let the thieves and murderers loose upon your own family?" To those who cry for revenge, I would recommend the seventh verse of the eighth chapter of the Gospel according to St. John.

Some advocate the backing of an anti-Nazi group. That is good—provided the group comes from within, and has established its good faith by direct action against the Nazis. This cannot be a group from without or under foreign domination for as such it cannot win the German people. The regeneration must come from within. We must as Lord Vansittart put it, break Germany of its national fallacy that only the weak repent. To which he added: "There are just men in Germany, but they are always out."

Although the public does not realize it, the organized German trade unions were the first group to be destroyed by Hitler. Next came the Jews. Then the Catholics. From the scattered remnants of the democratic elements may come the rebirth of Germany—but the move must come from them. All we can do is to give them opportunity to act. We cannot permit the continued enslavement of the worker and leave free the industrialists and the Junkers. Nazism is only today's mask of German imperialism.

Here is a warning from the past: "Justice is the only possible basis for the settlement of the accounts of this terrible war. Justice is what Germany shall have. But it must be justice for all. There must be justice for the dead and wounded, and for all those who have been orphaned and bereaved that Europe might be freed from Prussian despotism." It was Woodrow Wilson who said that in 1919. Our sentimentalists destroyed it. What will we do?

We cannot and we do not want to destroy a nation, but we can wipe out the cancer at the heart of that nation. This time the cure must be permanent even if the knife cuts deep. The German people must earn their way back to health. Until they have done so, there is no place for Germany in the society of nations.—Ruth Taylor.

SOLVING THE PROBLEMS

People sometimes remark that the problems that confront the nation and the world are so vast that the individual person cannot expect to exercise any influence in settling these great issues. People often feel that they are helpless and at the mercy of great forces of public opinion and of political power, and they are unable to affect these forces in any way.

They should realize that they have their share in shaping public opinion, and they should do their best to make that opinion reasonable and effective. The individual is of course only one person in a nation of 138,000,000 people, so his share is ordinarily not a large one. If he tries to inform himself, he exerts influence, and he and all those like him are the final power that shapes the life of the country.

The traditions of our country, its habits of thought and its convictions on fundamental principles, help, to solve the problems of the nation. If some plan is proposed that seems contrary to American ideas, this lack of conformity to fundamental principles is perceived by countless people, and they protest against an idea that seems contrary to our customs and ideas.

So the masses of the people really determine the future of the country. The way they vote at elections and primaries gives them a chance to express their views. Their applause at public meetings, their conversation at their social gatherings and in their home and elsewhere, helps to shape the public opinion which finally becomes a resistless force.—The Frederick Post.

WHERE HE GUESSED WRONG

One of John L. Lewis' chief organizers reports that the effort to line up dairy farmers as a branch of the coal miners' union is concentrated this year in five districts. This freakish experiment of the miners' boss has faded out in other regions.

The idea of forming labor unions of dairy farmers was turned down by the American Federation of Labor because so many dairy farmers are employers. The A. F. of L. could not see labor unions composed of both employers and workers. Since Mr. Lewis picked up the notion, farmers have fought back against his invasion as against on other move ever made by labor.

During recent years Mr. Lewis has also attempted to put the coal miners' industrial type of organization into the railroads and the construction industry where craft unions have been operating for many years. He likewise went into the much more legitimate field of the gas companies and other industries related to coal, through his unique "District 50" of the United Mine Workers. No other such "catch-all" unit is to be found elsewhere in the American labor movement.

The success of District 50 in organizing the gas and chemical plants appears likely to survive. But the Lewis attempts to embrace farming, the railroad industry, the building trades, etc., seem today more than ever crude overtures which were properly repulsed.—Christian Science Monitor.

10,000 AUTOMOBILES

In 1942, when all automobiles manufacturers stopped making cars, there was a sizable stockpile of new cars still held by distributors and dealers. The sale of those cars was frozen—and since then they have been handed out with the greatest care, only going to people with exceptionally high priorities.

But in spite of the way they were guarded, there are only 10,000 of these cars left today. To make them last as long as possible, the requirements necessary to get one have been tightened even more. Until now there were 26 classifications of people able to buy them. But from now on, there will only be eight such classifications.

If you want a new (1942) car you must be: a government employee engaged in such an occupation as fire-fighting or crime detection; a physician; a public health nurse; a minister; a member of the armed services who needs a car for official business; a taxicab owner; owner of a car rental business engaged exclusively in renting cars for essential purposes.

And if you are a member of one of these groups, there are still many detailed requirements which you must meet to get a new car. However, you can still buy a 1942 used car if your ration board agrees that you need it for essential use—that is, if you can find it.—Rhoderick Papers.

THE CHURCH SPEAKS FOR FREEDOM

The steady expansion of governmental authority over the individual in this country is alarming spokesmen for America churches. One of them, Dr. Paul Hutchinson of Chicago, for 20 years managing editor of the Christian Century, warns: "We are going to have a more tense situation between the church and the state after the war than before."

"The constantly growing powers of the state have to be challenged by the church in the interest of freedom."

"If we have a period of economic disturbance and uncertainty after the war, in which the state is pledged to supply 60 million jobs, we will discover that the attainment of such a goal will be possible only with the aid of some species of what we call planning."

"We all recognize the dangers of uncontrolled individualistic competition in business. Nevertheless, we have to recognize that planning, when planned by the state, involves the power of the state to control the individual, including the most minute details of his life.

"What many people do not realize is that when government plans run into difficulties, the only way government has to deal with these difficulties is to ask for more power."

"It is this process by which the state seeks to increase its power that eventually brings us to the place where all the power is controlled by the state. Then you have a totalitarian state."

"The churches of Europe woke up to this situation, but not until the totalitarian government was there—I hope in this country we have the foresight to see this danger early and stand for freedom of the individual." —Industrial News Review.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE

There will be no postponement of the international conference scheduled to be held April 25th. The unreasonable demands of Soviet Russia stirred up a whirlwind of resentment in Washington, all to the effect that "Stalin can't do this to us." But the President and the Secretary of State and all the "old cool-heads" offered explanations, compromises, arguments and advice in favor of frank, open discussions at San Francisco.

We old Washingtonians witnessed a similar spectacle in the days of Woodrow Wilson when that great leader left the discussions and arguments over till after the war. Then it was too late. That is the situation that must be faced right now—and if there are serious disagreements at San Francisco the statesmen of the United States must stand by our own people and never surrender the one great objective of permanent peace.

Stalin may be green in international affairs—perhaps also selfish. On the other hand the United States has been dragged into two European wars—and it is safe to say that we saved England, France and the occupied nations on the Eastern front. Really, Joe, we did a lot towards saving your folks.

The Dumbarton Conference was a success, so far as framing a charter. The San Francisco Conference has been called for the purpose of approving—and improving—that Charter.

There must be no irreparable disputes over the plans of Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin at this time. There is plenty of reason to hope for, and expect the San Francisco gathering to be crowned with success.—J. E. Jones.

WHERE AMERICA STOPS

The recent protest of Cecil B. DeMille against arbitrary assessments by labor unions for the support of political issues which the union member as a free citizen and voter may personally oppose, is focusing proper attention on a democratic principle which needs to be reaffirmed.

This motion picture producer turned his back on $2,050 weekly in radio show fees rather than pay a $1 union assessment. He declared political freedom and not the closed shop was the issue. "If a union board makes the decision as to what the worker shall support irrespective of his belief, America stops right there," DeMille said.

The working man and everyone else has the right to be politically free, and to cast his vote in the way he sees fit.

He asserted "there has been built up in this country an unelected government which is superseding in power and authority the elected government. That statement should be seriously pondered."

If this grab for power continues, just as it did in Germany and Italy, all individual rights and freedom will be gone. The right of elections will eventually vanish. Such a condition is a threat, too, to organized labor, which is leading the public to suspicion and distrust in the motives and methods of organized labor.

There should be no power which would dictate to a person for whom he should vote.

If we want a decent America, those tendencies must be fought at every turn.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

FROM CIRCUSES TO PLASTICS

THE PEANUT—BROUGHT FROM AFRICA IN A SLAVE SHIP—HAS BECOME AS AMERICAN AS BASEBALL AND THE CIRCUS. TRADITIONALLY ASSOCIATED WITH SMALL BOYS AND ELEPHANTS, THE PEANUT IS TODAY A STAPLE FOOD, INCLUDED IN THE RATION KITS OF OUR ARMED FORCES.

A CROP THAT IN THE SOUTH IS SHARING INTEREST WITH KING COTTON, THE PEANUT NOW PROVIDES OIL FOR MANY USES AS WELL, AND—LOOKING AHEAD—PLASTICS. ONE OF THE MEN IDENTIFIED WITH THIS DEVELOPMENT WAS AN AMERICAN NEGRO BORN IN SLAVERY—GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER. A SELF-TAUGHT BOTANIST, HE DIRECTED HIS RESEARCHES TOWARD THE WELFARE OF THE SOUTH—

MATCHING AMERICAN RESOURCES AND AMERICAN RESOURCEFULNESS.

AMERICAN HEROES

WHEN the tanker Virginia was struck by enemy torpedoes and exploded, Mike Kuzma, seaman, suffered severe burns in the blazing gasoline. He ignored his hurts, however, when he saw two shipmates worse off. He succeeded in towing both men out of the flaming area and supporting them until picked up by a rescue crew. Kuzma was awarded a Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal. Hundreds of thousands of dollars in War Bonds must be sold to replace that tanker and the fuel.

U. S. Treasury Department

Be glad it didn't happen here!

BE GLAD no Gestapo agent burst open the door to your home, demanding your money, your clothing, your furniture—yes, even your children . . . to be sent into slavery for the Reich.

Be glad no Nazi Storm Trooper burned your crops to keep them out of the hands of his pursuers, killed your livestock to feed German war lords, burned down your home to show you his might.

It could have happened here, you know!

Why not put our thankfulness into concrete form? Why not buy the War Bonds we ought to be buying? We haven't bought enough, yet, you know . . . not nearly enough. And there are men across the sea fighting our fight who are asking what we are doing at home. Have we an answer for them?

You will need your War Bonds as urgently after the war as Uncle Sam needs your money today. You will need new machinery and equipment, new fences, new buildings. So BUY NOW! Don't spend a dollar unless you first ask yourself: "Does my country need it more?"

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!
2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

CORRESPONDENCE

Latest Items of Local News Furnished
By Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Thursday, if at all possible. It will be necessary therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Wednesday, or by Fast Mail, west in W. M. R. R., Thursday morning. Letters mailed on Thursday evening may not reach us in time.

All communications for this department must be signed by the author, not for publication, but as an evidence that the items contributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted.

FEESERSBURG

Bright, beautiful and frost, beginning the second week in April. Flowers, blossoms, and we tender leaves have been nipped, but O these are good nights for sleep. The big lilac bush has but one bloom on it this season, but the white ones are blooming and frost bitten. Anyhow it is wonderful to us!

There was preaching service at 9:30 a. m., at Mt. Union on Sunday, when Rev. Birx preached a splendid sermon on "The Peace that Jesus gives." The organist gave fine selections of music, and many pretty flowers adorned the front of the church. For Sunday School later there were full classes, and a good memory lesson on the Bible "The Book of our Faith." This Wednesday evening some of the men will meet at the Parish House to clean up the ground.

The Church Bulletin makes an appeal for Lutheran World Action, to be presented on Sundays, April 29, and May 6th. During February and March Pastor Birx officiated at three funerals and had the wedding of Donald L. Crawford and Mary J. Bohn at the parsonage. Several persons gave memorial donations for the Bulletin, and there are excerpts of letters from some of the Boys in service to the Pastor. Announcement of the installation service to be held at St. Luke's (Winters) on Sunday afternoon, April 22. All are expected to be there, as there will be no other worship service in the Parish that day. Rev. L. M. Keller, D. C.—president of Md. Synod and Rev. C. H. Corbett, of Thurmont, will deliver the message. Mrs. C. Margroff was home again—after being with her oldest daughter in sickness, near Accident, Md.

Good news from our sick folks, they are all getting well again. Miss Emma Reifsnider will get out of the Hospital this week. She is recovering nicely from her operation for appendicitis, and has fared well with cards, letters and flowers from friends.

Mrs. Frances Crabbs Lambert was back to church, but the arthritis hasn't forsaken her entirely—tho she looks well and was cheerful.

Mrs. Addie Crumbacker accompanied her relatives of Clear Ridge—the Charles Crumbacker family to Baltimore, on Saturday evening to see their friend—Mrs. H. McKewin who recently sold her home in the city and will locate elsewhere. Her son Gordon and wife came in later and they had pleasant hours of conversation and cards; then were invited to a table laden with good things to eat—a real luncheon; then home in the wee small hours. Friendship is precious.

Miss Carrie Griffith and her younger sister, Miss Dolly the school teacher—who once spent their vacation with their cousins, the G. Crouse of Mt. Union—are selling their nice home on North Calvert also, and will take small quarters. "Chance and change are busy ever."

Mrs. Maurice Smith, near Woodsboro, and her daughter, Mrs. Hattie Saylor, of Frederick, were callers at Grove Dale on Friday. Mrs. Smith has made quite a business of selling cards—of many varieties and toilettries; her son-in-law, Carmi Saylor is serving in the Aleutians.

G. Scott Crabbs, from service at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., and Samuel Lesight from Fort Bragg, N. C., were home at the week-end. There's just one thing wrong about these furloughs—they are soon over.

Miss Sue Birely with Mrs. Ruth K. Zollicoffer for driver, took Mrs. Addie Crumbacker, Mrs. E. Scott Koons and Mrs. Bruce Shirk on a tour last Friday. They motored to the York Home for Aged to see Miss Lillie Kroh who is more than busy with the afflicted, so only made a brief out door call—but they were all glad to see her; then they stopped in York to see our early friend—Mrs. Guy C. Stover, who too was ready to go out on an errand of mercy. They stopped at the Great Pottery Gift Shop between York and Hanover—and were charmed with its contents; then on to Hanover for some shopping. From 9 a. m. until 7 p. m.—and they had a full great day.

This week occurs the spring conferences of the Missionary Societies of the Lutheran Churches of Md. Synod. Our own Middle Conference meets this Thursday in Grace Church, Westminster. May this be a full attendance to hear the fine program as arranged.

April 10, 1866, the American Society for prevention of cruelty to animals was chartered; April 12, 1861 Fort Sumter was fired upon—and the Civil War begun—which cost many thousands of lives; April 14, 1865 President A. Lincoln was assassinated—the Nation's loss; April 14, 1912 was the sinking of the Titanic, when that great vessel struck a huge iceberg and sunk off Cape Race, and many lives lost.

A Cardinal, an Oriole and a Blue Bird have been added to our Recreation Park. One day we saw them in the trees, and knew some one was giving us a surprise; no they don't fly nor sing—but look cute and pretty—and we enjoy them.

"It's mighty close, sleeping two in a mailbox!"—Jimmy Durante, rehousing shortage.

FRIZELLBURG

The Never Weary Class of Baust Lutheran Church held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening April 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Haines with Mrs. John Thomas as hostess. The meeting came to order with Mr. Vernon Zimmerman in charge. The topic for the evening was "We Shall Rise." Mrs. Kenneth Lambert read a poem "A Morning Hymn." We sang hymn "Christ Arose"; Scripture Lesson was read from 1 Corinthians 15th Chapter 20-23; Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Thomas. Discussion on the topic followed. We then sang hymn, "He Lives." Minutes were read; roll called and dues collected amounting to $5.30. The meeting closed by singing class song and closing prayer, after which a very enjoyable time was had by having a novelty hat sale. The hats were auctioned off to the highest bidder by Kenneth Lambert, no one knew what they were getting until they opened the bag. And what a laugh we all had when the purchaser modeled the hat. The hats were trimmed with anything and everything from a mouse trap to a box of chocolate, some with blooming flowers and fruit. Others with small trinkets and useful things from the 5 and 10. You could buy a hat for as little as 35c worth more and as much as $2.00 worth much less, but we all had a good time and had $13.85 to add to our treasury. The class presented the newly married couple with a lovely gift. A large three-tier wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom was cut and served by the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas to all members and friends present, along with other delicious refreshments. Our next meeting will be held May 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hull with Shirley Welk as leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers and Carl Cole visited last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Zimmerman and family, near Piney Creek Church of the Brethren. Other guests at the same place were: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Zimmerman and Mrs. Bessie Freese. The latter returned home after spending the past month with the Mr. and Mrs. John Teeter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Myers were made very happy this week by receiving a letter from their son, Ervin, saying he was on his way home for a short visit. Ervin is doing Radar work in the Navy and has been in the South Pacific for the past 18 months. Mr. and Mrs. Myers have two other sons in the Navy. Homer is in Scotia, N. Y. at a naval supply base and Donald is in Miami, Fla., he has completed a special course in refrigeration and is waiting for a ship.

Mrs. May Formwalt who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Master for the past two years has returned after having a pleasant visit with friends in Hanover, Pa. Sgt. Howard Carr, who has been stationed at Fort George Meade for some time left today for Indiantown Gap, Pa., where he will receive a new assignment.

We missed Ezra's Home-spun in last week's issue and hope he has caught up with his spring work, and will not feel too tired to give us something good to think about.

We need friends in adversity to comfort us, we need them in prosperity to show us how little prosperity is worth without them, we need friends in every day life to lighten its drudgery, we need them in our religion to prove to us the nearness of the brotherhood. Do not expect them to be perfect any more than yourself.

UNIONTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lightner and daughter, Brenda, Union Bridge, were Sunday guests at the Walter Rentzel home.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fritz spent the week-end visiting relatives at Washingtonboro, Pa. Mrs. Howard Miller who had been a patient at a Baltimore Hospital is recuperating nicely at her home here. Mrs. John R. Corbin in company with Mrs. John E. Corbin, Westminster are visiting for a few days with the latter's mother, Mrs. N. Ling and sister, Miss Mabel Ling, New Oxford, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wachter, of Johnsville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bankert, on Saturday evening. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young, Westminster, called at the same home.

We are proud to say that Uniontown district went over the top in the Red Cross Drive to the amount of $318.14. The chairman for Precinct No. 1, Mrs. Harold Smelser with the following collectors, Mrs. Lloyd Devilliss, Mrs. John R. Corbin, Mrs. Harry Reese, Mrs. Helen Myers, Misses Dorothy Crumbacker and Mary Lee Smelser with Miss Thelma Horning as Treasurer, Precinct No. 2 consisted of Mrs. Howard Richard as chairman with the following solicitors Mrs. Howard Carr, Mrs. George Dodder and Miss Catherine Myers. This committee wishes to thank the community for their loyal support in this drive. The quota for the district was $450.00. Precinct No. 1 contributed $461.62 and Precinct No. 2, 306.52 making a grand total of $768.14.

Mrs. Monroe Feeser and Miss Edna Dayhoff visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Heiss and daughter, York, Pa., from Friday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosevelt Dubs and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swartz, Hanover, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Flora Shriner and Miss Blanche Shriner.

Bernard Devilliss is a patient at the Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore.

Mrs. John Heltbrille and Dicky Welty spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tignor, Baltimore. Bernice Flygare WAC stationed at Brookley Field, Ala., has been promoted to 1st Lt.

Lt. Charles H. Smelser, pilot completed his mission on Feb. 15th. He made 35 missions and was asked to remain. He is now operation Officer at the 8th Air Force Base in England.

LITTLESTOWN

Two Memorial Services were held on Sunday in the morning. One service was for Ernest W. Mayers who was killed in France, November 8, in the St. Paul Lutheran Church. The chancel and altar was filled with flowers. He was a member of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Alpha Fire Company and A. O. K. of M. C. Lodge Rev. D. S. Kammerer delivered the sermon. His subject was on words of assurance followed by singing, "Peace, Perfect Peace," the gold star was pinned on the flag by the only child of the deceased. While the congregation stood in silence, taps were sounded by Robert Scholl. In the afternoon in the Redeemer Reformed Church services were held for Clarence R. Wisotzky who died in Belgium, the same day that he was wounded. The chancel and altar was filled with flowers. The members of the John W. Ocker Post attended in a body. Rev. Boltz, delivered the sermon. The gold star was pinned on the flag by a brother of the deceased. He was aged 20 years. He was a member of the Glider Infantry.

The Rev. Kenneth D. James, chairman of the Red Cross has announced that the amount collected was $4,005.80. The drive went over the top by 155.80.

James D. Boyd, S. C. 3/c has returned to Manteo, N. C. after spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Boyd.

The National Council of Catholic Women will sponsor a united clothing drive.

"The Forest Prince," an operetta in three-acts was given in the High School Auditorium Friday evening. The play was of a 16th Century Russian life.

Health Officer H. S. Roberts quarantined the home of Mrs. Bernard Shadle, East King St., on Monday. Her little daughter, Sandra, has contracted Scarlet Fever. The child's father is serving with the U. S. Army overseas.

The Littlestown Lions Club held a group meeting with the Westminster and the Union Bridge Clubs in St. John Church Social Hall. There were 103 Lions and guests present.

Mrs. Carrie E. Hagner, nonagenarian widow of Hanson O. Hagner, one of the oldest residents of town died on Thursday night at her home, Park Avenue, following an illness of about seven weeks. She was aged 92 years and was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Her husband preceded her in death 48 years ago. Surviving are eight children. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with services conducted at the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. D. S. Kammerer officiated. Interment was made in Mountain View cemetery, Hanover.

LINWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore are now residents of Linwood having moved on Thursday to the John D. Rupp apartment.

Mrs. Willis Ronk (nee Helen Brandenburg) of Ashland, Ohio, is visiting the William Brandenburg family. She will be accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Samuel Brandenburg.

Mrs. Fannie Garver entertained the Loyal Crusader's Class Wednesday evening.

The Missionary Society of the Linwood Brethren Church met at the home of Mrs. John Drach, Sunday afternoon for their Mission Study, "West of the Date Line." A covered dish supper was enjoyed.

A number of our citizens attended the musical by the Union Bridge Lion's Club, at the Elmer Wolfe High School, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wantz, of New Windsor, delightfully entertained the Aid Society of the Linwood Brethren Church last Friday evening.

EMMITSBURG

Lewis H. Stoner who was originally appointed by officials in charge of the honor roll, to accept contributions for the Honor Roll Fund, reports that the total amount received by him, was $201.65, (donated by relatives and friends of those in the service from this district), was turned over to a committee of Francis X. Elder Post, The American Legion, by order of the original committee. It was incorrectly stated recently, that the money was accepted by local civic organizations in this connection.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Heal?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 15th.

The Golden Text will be from Jer. 17:14—"Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible—I Cor. 15:34—"Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God; I speak this to your shame."

The Lesson-Sermon also will include passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following, page 327—"The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning. There is no other way."

ALL NATURE SINGS

April showers bring May flowers
So the Sage of old hath said—
We know that full truth was spoken
For it is around us spread—

Spread in grass, in bud, in flower—
Spread in Nature everywhere
Nothing e'er hath been neglected—
God gives all with much to spare.

Birds are singing in the orchard,
Building nests in fork of limb,
Later young with joyous measure
Sing each day their mating hymn.

Sing the songs that God hath taught them
Out in Nature's bounteous space,
They have only praise to give Him
None will e'er His name disgrace.

DRIED SKIM MILK, Dried Buttermilk—At The Reindollar Company 2-2-tf

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

About the Town: A professional looking, gray-haired gentleman at the English Grill tapping his spectacles on the table in time with a hot jazz tune to which skaters on the Rockefeller ice rink are whirling . . . and an elderly woman at a nearby table, confiding to her waiter, "Swing music seems to appeal to all ages, not just high school youngsters." . . . The waiter smiling as he replies, "It's a change for him, madam—that's Dr. Frank Black, the symphony conductor from NBC across the street." . . . William Gaxton and Victor Moore having tea together at Schrafft's Georgia room.

Cuff Notes: "Stage Pictorial," the first fan magazine the theater has had, which recently made its appearance on the newsstands, proved an immediate hit. It's a profusely illustrated publication with stories and pictures of all Broadway shows, which will be issued quarterly until the newsprint situation permits it to become a monthly. Mat Dorfman, well known Broadway publicist, is the publisher. . . . Crooner Andy Russell forwards this army story: A. G. I., who had been returned to civilian life, wrote the lieutenant of his former outfit: "After all I've gone through under you, it gives me the greatest pleasure to tell you to go to the devil." . . . The message was returned with this notation: "Sir: Any suggestions or inquiries concerning the movements of troops should be entered on army form No. 3132, a copy of which is enclosed."

Here & There: Martha Scott getting off scot-free as a friend picks up her dinner check at Theodore's. . . . Majestic Maggi McNellis invading the 1-2-3 in a weird little chartrouse hat that looks as if it came out of Hedda Hopper's hat hopper. . . . While Diana, glamorous chirognomist (palmist to you) sits in a palm daze over Elisabeth Bergner's hand. . . . Libby Holman, the blues singer, wearing her hair in the mood indigo at Le Ruban Bleu. . . . Femme spectators at the St. Regis Maisonette eyeing Jane Pickens' trim legs enviously—she's wearing real rubber boots. . . . Grand Dame Ethel Barrymore, sheathed in royal purple velvet, making one of her sweeping entrances—into a taxicab. . . . Jimmy Murphy, Morton Downey's Welshman Friday, forlornly wending his weary way up and down 52nd street at 2 a.m. . . . Morton is overseas but Jimmy, a creature of habit, just can't keep away from old haunts.

Jottings: When Shirley Temple was a guest on Milton Berle's "Let Yourself Go" program, Berle was reminded of the woman whose minister asked her what she had named her new daughter. . . . "Shirley," replied the mother, "after the famous Shirley Temple." . . . "Yes, yes, of course," mused the minister. "Let me see, who's preaching there now?" . . . Bob Hawk contends that a lot of girls have to use soft soap to get an expensive ring on their finger. . . . Imogene Coca, Ruben Fleu comedienne, insists that she wants to open her own club just so she can call it the Coca Cabana. . . . Al Pearce has penned a new tune titled, "You're the Only Girl For Me, Darn It." . . . Broadway is where wolves first tempt and then attempt.

Faces & Places: Luscious Jane Murtah with hair as golden as a candle flame, attracting plenty of male moths at La Martinique. . . . Evelyn Knight, the alluring songstress, and an air force loopy cutting up ke-and-shenanigans at the Chateaubriand. . . . Petite songstress Anita Ellis, who hails from sunny Cali-form-a, taking in the sights of Central park in the snow—Ellis in Wonderland. . . . "Sir" James Dwyer, the sawdust trail-blazer, who used to be a vaudeville favorite himself, chatting with rounder Romeo Vincent at the stage door of Loew's State. . . . Bill McCullom, one of my favorite night club columnists, and his attractive wife who was the first white child born in a village away up near Hudson's bay, going here and there together.

Remarks: Garry Moore declares that folks who don't know which way to turn have no business in a revolving door. . . . Abbott and Costello maintain that another case when two heads are better than one is when a man is selling toupees. . . . Ad from a Boston paper: Wanted, laundryman, wet and flat; married man preferred. . . . Tommy Dorsey defines alimony as a man's "cash surrender" value. . . . Diplomats predict a showing of teeth at the peace table—let's hope they are wisdom teeth.

Nice "Bracelet" Fit; Locksmith to Rescue

DENVER.—A peace officer left his handcuffs on the front seat of a car he took to a garage for repair. The repairman's 15-year-old son saw the cuffs and tried them on. After a fruitless search for the sheriff and a tryout of keys at the police department, a locksmith was called to free the youth.

COMMUNITY LOCALS

The Fire Company had two fire calls within the last week. Last Saturday the Company responded to a call at the Parish farm along the Westminster-Taneytown road to extinguish a fire caused by a tractor. The other call was to the Harry Angell home near Harney, where a fire had started in a wash house.

Those who called on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Shryock, near Detour were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burdner and daughters, Delores, and Mrs. John Shryock, of Emmitsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiser, of near Keysville; Mr. Marlin Stonesifer, near Emmitsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hahn and daughter, Roseanna, Rocky Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stonesifer near Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Troxell and grand-daughter, Rebecca, near Detour.

The Ministerial Association of Taneytown reminds us of V-E day arrangements for the churches. If the news comes any day before 3 P. M. people are asked to meet in their respective churches at 3 P. M., for service, and at 8:00 P. M. in the Lutheran Church for a joint Communion service. If the news comes between 3 and 7 P. M., the joint Communion service will be held at 8:00 P. M., and the services in the several churches as may be announced at the joint service.

J. EARL CLEM

J. Earl Clem, aged 49 years, a veteran of World War I and track foreman for the Pennsylvania Railroad for many years, died suddenly at his home, in Taneytown, on Wednesday morning, April 11, 1945, at 1:30 o'clock. He had been in his usual state of health and was stricken during the night and passed away before Dr. C. M. Benner, Taneytown, who was summoned, could reach his side. Dr. James Marsh, New Windsor, Carroll County Medical examiner, issued the death certificate attributing death to a coronary condition. Mr. Clem was the son of Mrs. Emma Sluss Clem and the late Jesse D. Clem. He was a member of the 109th Engineers in the First World War and belonged to Hesson-Snyder Post, American Legion, of Taneytown. He also was affiliated with the Moose Lodge of Hanover and the Brotherhood of Railroad Maintenance. He was with the Pennsylvania Railroad 31 years and was track foreman for the last 15 years. Until 15 years ago he resided at Ladiesburg, Frederick County. He moved to Hanover where he resided 8 years until he was transferred to Taneytown 7 years ago.

Besides his mother who resided with him, he leaves his wife, the former Alice Tape, and one son, Sgt. Kenneth E. Clem, with the Army Air Corps in England.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, meeting at the late residence at 1:30 p. m., with further services in Grace Reformed Church, Taneytown, and burial in Haugh's (Mt. Zion) cemetery, Ladiesburg. His pastor, the Rev. Guy P. Bready, will officiate. Friends may call at the home Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. C. O. Fuss and Son are the funeral directors.

JAMES H. BOWERS

Funeral services were held March 27, 1945, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in the Harvey Bankard and Son Funeral Home, Westminster, Md., for Mr. James H. Bowers, who died in his home on 9 South George Street, last Sunday, March 25, aged 88 years, 2 months and 13 days. He was the oldest living member of the Reisterstown Evergreen Church of Brethren. His pastor, the Rev. Wm. E. Rupp, officiated.

He was twice married. His first wife was the former Emma Jenkins. From this union four children survive: Harry A., Mrs. Bernice E. Ritter and Mrs. Geo. M. Wiegand, Baltimore, Md.; Edward German Bowers, Boyersburg, Pa. His second wife, the former Elizabeth Shellie, also preceded him in death, about eight years ago. From this latter union, four children, are also yet living: Raymond R. and Carroll W., of Baltimore; Charles Monroe and Mrs. Margaret Hoel, Westminster. He is further survived by thirty-four grandchildren. The pallbearers were: Jonas Miller, Walter Corbin, David Clingan, O. M. Blizard, Edward Orndorff and J. Edw. Greenholtz. He was buried by the side of both of his deceased wives, on a beautiful summit, in the Finksburg cemetery, in Baltimore County near Reisterstown.

In Loving Memory of my dear husband, JOHN A. BARNHART, who passed away 3 years ago, April 9, '42.

No presents now just flowers, Dear Upon your grave to lay: In tears I pray to meet again in Heaven Above some day.

Loving Wife, DAISY.

In Memory of CLARENCE B. REAVER, who departed this life suddenly April 10th 1943 2 years ago.

Homespun Philosophy

By Ezra

Well, there is no use talking I slipped up last week. The Editor was absolutely right. I had a high fever—I was positively burning up. Everybody called it by a long technical name I can't spell. But confidentially I think it was spring fever. At least it was nothing sulphur and molasses couldn't cure.

I am very grateful to the Editor for printing his little note in the place of my column. It was very nice of him. So I think I'd center my remarks this week around country newspaper editors.

After you get to know these gentlemen they turn out to be almost human. But until you do know them they are half-wits, numb-skulls and muddle brains. They usually start out very early in life to practice their preferred occupation. They print a little mimeographed paper and sell it for an exorbitant price to the gullible neighbors. Such neighbors will duly register their "ohs" and "ahs" and the little squirts will be boosted in their ambitions to become immortal newspaper editors. As soon as they have memorized the alphabet they hound some printer's shop to get a job as a printer's devil. They usually succeed because they are a source of cheap labor. About a year ago he was called as a witness in an important case before the County Judge. The opposing lawyer protested against accepting his evidence. He began cross-examining him in this fashion. "Dennis Grady (that was not his name), do you know who made you?"

"Sure I know; but, why ask me such a foolish question?" said the editor.

"Make him answer, your Honor," insisted the lawyer.

"Answer the question," "Well," said the editor, "it was Moses."

There was a laugh through the court room. "That will do," said the lawyer victoriously. "And then with a note of sarcasm, 'The witness says Moses made him. That is, indeed, an intelligent answer; it indicates more intelligence than I gave the witness credit for having. It shows some faint knowledge of Scripture; but, it is not sufficient to qualify him to be sworn in as a witness.'"

The impact of what the lawyer was up to at last dawned upon the editor, and quickly he said, "Your Honor, can I ask the lawyer a question?"

"Certainly?" said the Judge.

Turning to the lawyer he said, "Who made you?"

The lawyer thinking he could confound the editor thought he would carry the joke still farther, said, "Aaron, I suppose."

As the laughter cleared from the court room the editor turned to the Judge with a sigh of relief. "Well, your Honor, our minister told us just last Sunday that Aaron made a calf; but who would have supposed that the creature got in here."

That story leads me to say that no matter how half-witted country editors are reputed to be, don't underestimate their ability to rise to a specific situation. You must admit that little note last week did the trick.

French Joyous, Foe Raze Town

Nazis Ravage Valley When People Defy Himmler's Demand for Labor.

GERARDMER, FRANCE. — The Germans burned and blasted 30 miles of the once beautiful Meurthe river countryside of eastern France in an orgy of destruction planned as methodically as a military campaign, the mayor of this ruined town said.

Special engineers crated pyres of gasoline and straw, weighted down with furniture, in most homes and farm buildings. Large houses were destroyed with aerial bombs. Special squads went through factories and broke up all machines with sledgehammers.

The 60-year-old mayor, Andre Boucher, told about the destruction after correspondents had driven through the valley of the Meurthe en route from the American Seventh army to the French First army sector. The valley was a scene of incredible destruction. Almost all the houses, whether clustered in hamlets or isolated far up the mountainsides, were destroyed by fire or explosives.

Carefully Planned.

The houses were destroyed by a special SS "Command Post for Destruction," which, the mayor said, descended upon Gerardmer on November 9. The area was divided into sections, each under a chief of destruction. All were connected by phone with a central headquarters, where a lowering SS officer sat with a map on which was drawn the plan of devastation.

The mayor said Heinrich Himmler, German gestapo chief, had visited Gerardmer on September 7 to confer with six German generals. While taking a cold bath in the lake, Himmler saw many boys and girls enjoying themselves.

"How is it," Himmler demanded of the mayor, "that these French youths are able to amuse themselves while the young men of Germany fight for the Fatherland?"

That night, the mayor said, a German soldier brought him an order from Himmler that all males from 14 to 60 must be assembled to build fortifications for the Germans. On November 8 the Germans took 600 men off to the woods, but 500 escaped. The next day the mayor was ordered to appear before the German commandant, who showed him a map with a small area in the center outlined in red ink.

All to Be Destroyed.

"He told me that the entire population of that area, 11 by 8 miles, must join together in an area less than a square mile, which would be spared from destruction," the mayor said. "Everything, the commandant said, would be destroyed. He said he did not know why—that it was an order from above."

That day the Germans went into action as the people of the valley fearfully assembled in their assigned place. By November 16, the mayor said, all the houses were burning.

"On November 18 the Germans were gone and we were alone in our ruins," the mayor said. "On November 19 the French arrived. There was no demonstration. We were glad to see them. But what sorrow they could not have come a day or two earlier."

Doctor Installs Movie Machine in Waiting Room

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Patients don't mull over old magazines while waiting to see Dr. Harold B. Johnson—they "take in a movie" instead. Dr. Johnson has installed motion pictures in his waiting room. Equipment consists of a projector and screen, complete with sound.

The doctor, a general practitioner, says his work multiplied many times since the beginning of the war, and he wanted to make waiting pleasant. He gets two reels weekly. During the brief interval when reels are being changed, lights come on automatically and the radio plays. The projector is operated by a girl assistant.

400-Year-Old Quarry Is Largest French Shelter

PARIS. — The world's largest single air raid shelter, a 400-year-old underground stone quarry, is being viewed with the greatest interest by U. S. Eighth air force officers conducting a bomb-damage inquiry.

The quarry, used in prewar days to grow mushrooms, is near the Renault automobile plant and was converted to a shelter to accommodate 20,000 plant workers. Its 100,000 square feet of floor space is an orderly labyrinth of connected tunnels 10 feet high and 50 miles in length.

Brother Meets Sister On Far Pacific Island

SEATTLE, WASH. — It happened on a far Pacific island — Clifford Derosa Jr., machinist's mate second class with the coast guard, was doing shore patrol and warned a WAC she was walking toward an out-of-bounds area. It was his sister, Ruth. He had returned for a rest period after service at Leyte and she had been transferred from an Australian base. They had been separated 19 months.

Weedy Lawns
The most common sources of weeds in lawns are impure seed mixtures, weedy top soil and manure incorporated before seeding, or top-dressed afterwards, and wind-blown seeds.

Peppermint Oil
Peppermint oil is used for flavoring chewing gum, candy, toothpastes, pharmaceuticals, soaps, lotions and other toilet goods, and as a household flavoring extract.

Clean Chest
Place several layers of clean paper in the silver box at one time, then slip the soiled one from the top without removing the silver.

'Brain' Foods
Thiamin, particularly, is backed by scientific study as being directly related to learning ability. Since the body doesn't store this vitamin, we need an abundance of it every day. Whole-grain cereals are the best source. Milk, meat, eggs, whole-grain or enriched breads are also rich.

New York Cabbage
Three main types of cabbage are grown in New York state: the Danish or storage type; the kraut or domestic type; and the market or truck-garden type. Annual value of the cabbage crop is between 3 and 4 million dollars.

Scared Deer Runs Second to Scared Yank in Germany

Jerry's Experience Leads to Deluge of Similar Exciting Events.

IN GERMANY. — Whenever the boys get to telling tales of the animal kingdom, somebody always comes up with the story of Pfc. Jerry Silverstein of Los Angeles and the scared deer.

An infantryman of the 407th regiment, Jerry recently found himself in a sector under intensive shelling, the Associated Press reports. He just was embarking on that intricate military maneuver known as "getting the hell out of here" when a frightened deer passed him as though he was standing still.

Just then another shell landed, practically in Jerry's pocket. He uncorked a brand new burst of speed and proceeded to pass that deer—just as though it was standing still.

Everybody agrees that it's one of the best stories of the war until some low-lived debunker inevitably explains that when Jerry went by, the deer really was standing still—caught in a barbed-wire entanglement.

Beasts Another.
The same regiment also boasts Sgt. Carroll Corbly of Des Moines. He's undoubtedly earned the recognition of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Several military vehicles had been blown up while trying to cross a live minefield when Carroll saw the frisky colt prancing around on the same deadly sod.

This Iowa boy likes horses. Risking his own life, he moved through the minefield, caught the colt and led it to safety. Then he watered it and turned it loose in a more peaceful pasture.

Inevitably, such yarn-spinning eventually turns to the food phases of animal life. One such concern Pfc. Michael Chism of Louisville, Ky., and his quest for "moo juice."

The Kentucky doughboy saw a cow grazing in a nearby field one morning and promptly thought "A-h-h-h! Fresh milk!" He borrowed a bucket and set out in pursuit.

But bossy was not accustomed to milkmen carrying rifles — so she lumbered off with Chism hurrying after. He cornered her in a neighboring communications trench and was advancing to assume the accepted milk extraction position, saying: "Soo! Bossy. Soo! Bossy," soothingly. Then he spotted a German, also cornered.

A Different German.
If the German had only shown some signs of fight, Mike could have shot him and then gone ahead with his milking. But this was an uncooperative German. Unlike the cow, he wanted to give up right away. Sadly Mike took his prisoner and empty pail back across No Man's Land.

Pvt. Gordon L. Benn of Hyde Park, Mass., was more fortunate. Helping to hold the line near a newly captured German village, this armored infantry regiment soldier saw a plump pheasant light on the ground a short distance in front of his foxhole.

One shot from his rifle, a hurried trip out into the open and back into the foxhole. Gordon had a roast pheasant dinner.

Capt. Raymond Latvamaki of Ironwood, Mich., and his light tank company of the 771st tank battalion went in for domestic livestock in a big way following the capture of the town of Welz. Despite a heavy artillery and intensive fighting, survivors in their eventual bivouac area included five cows and some chickens.

Latvamaki's men "assumed the responsibility" for the livestock. Fresh eggs and milk now are included in the company's daily menu.

Fliers Lose Lives to Save Pal Already Safe
A U. S. PHOTO RECONNAISSANCE BASE, FRANCE. — Two crewmen sacrificed their lives by riding a flak-crippled night photo reconnaissance plane to a crash landing in the mistaken belief they had a wounded gunner aboard.

They were Lieut. Gordon Hulse, Needham, Mass., pilot, and Lieut. William Leavenworth, Crawfordsville, Ind., navigator and photographer.

The gunner, Sgt. Claude H. White-man, Plymouth, Ind., had safely bailed out as the plane fluttered back toward its base on one good engine. It split in half when it was finally grounded at the base.

Each Citizen's Share of Public Debt Near $2,000
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Your share of the public debt is going above $2,000 in the next fiscal year.

If you're interested in setting up—even if you do, you'll have to keep right on paying taxes—the exact figure is calculated at $2,118.12 on June 30, 1946. That will be an increase of $293.47 over the $1,824.65 per capita debt next June 30.

It's going to cost us $606.20 apiece to finance the war and keep the government going through the year starting July 1. The cost this year is $722.38.

Soaring Wings

JANICE pulled her sweater closer about her as she hurried across the dunes, the thermos jug cuddled under her arm. It had been a blistering hot day, but with night-fall the wind shifted east, and even now a spray rode in with the waves. It was tedious work spotting from the watchtower on the rocky ledge, and Barry would appreciate the coffee.

She smiled softly in the darkness, warm at the thought of Barry and how much he meant to her. She couldn't imagine what life would be like without him to tease her affectionately. They had grown up together in this tiny New England village, sharing experiences, perfectly content with their narrow little square of earth, but then war came, and its shadow blotted out the sun on the crags, the peaceful fishing dories, and the graceful flight of sea gulls across the harbor. Everything suddenly assumed a stern and vital purpose, and a man became ambitious, restless.

"Golly, Jan, I'd give anything to enlist right now," Barry's serious mood touched the girl, and she shuddered slightly. She was thankful Mrs. Conroy depended solely on him. He worked with a new determination, a zeal that hinted he was under pressure.

The feeling swept through the village like wildfire and uniforms mushroomed overnight. Even Fred Willis with his warped, distorted mind and his crooked back seethed removing more timber than he had in the beginning, without exhausting the forests, is explained by the natural tendency of trees to reproduce themselves, when harvested properly.

Nearly 60 per cent of our original forest and its subsequent growth has served no economic purpose. More than 4½ trillion board feet died from disease, insects, windthrow and other natural causes. Fire killed almost 1½ trillion board feet, and more than 2 trillion board feet was cut to clear land for farming. Wood waste in industrial operations accounted for only about ¼ trillion feet.

Thus, wood which disappeared from the national stockpile in 300 years, but which did not find useful occupations, totaled 8 trillion, 715 billion board feet—more than there was when Columbus first landed in the New World.

Of the 45 per cent removed for fuel, the survey discloses, the greatest single drain has been caused by the farmer, who cut for fuel, or otherwise destroyed, more than 2 trillion, 100 billion board feet of merchantable timber.

Homemade Candler
An electric light and a tin can with removable or stationary top makes a cheap and easily constructed egg candler.

When being canded, the eggs are held in a slanting position with the large end against the hole through which the light passes. The egg is grasped by the small end, and while held between the thumb and the tips of the first two fingers it is given one or two quick turns on its long axis. This causes the contents of the egg to move and throws the yolk nearer the shell, allowing its condition to be more carefully observed. The fresher the eggs, the smaller the air space. Blood spots or other foreign matter can also be easily detected as can watery whites and yolks.

Farming Took Most Wood From Forests

Era of Agricultural Expansion Cut Volume

THE demands of agriculture have played the largest role in reducing forest acreage in the United States, a survey by American Forest Products industries discloses. Almost twice as much timber has been removed as existed when the original settlers arrived, although sizable stands of commercial forest yet remain. The apparent paradox of

PIONEERS OF FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 12:1, 2; Acts 7:4-12:17.

GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed. . . and he went out, not knowing whither he went.—Hebrews 11:8.

Bible history is a story of men of faith called and used of God to carry out His purpose in the world. These thrilling accounts of worthwhile lives are to be our special concern during the three months we study the history of Israel and of the Church.

I. A Call and a Covenant (Gen. 12:1, 2).

God was now ready to make known His choice of a man to be the father of His chosen people. He went down into Ur of the Chaldees in the midst of heathen worship, and called out a man who had faith in the true God.

Abram, "when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went" (Heb. 11:8).

The Lord called him out from his own land and kindred, to get him away from his heathen forebears and their worship. God wants separated believers in our day, too (read and ponder II Cor. 6:17, 18). That call comes to every believer. To those who are to serve Him, there is a definite call much like Abram's (see Matt. 10:37-39).

With the call came a great covenant, a seven-fold promise given in Genesis 12:2, 3. That covenant God repeatedly renewed with Abraham and his descendants. It has been partially fulfilled, and God has put Himself on record that every bit of it shall be completed. He keeps His promises.

Why did God choose Israel? It was an act of His sovereign grace, not based on their merit or goodness. He had a threefold purpose: (1) That they should be the repository for His truth (the Old Testament) in the earth; (2) that they should be the channel for the coming of the personal Redeemer to the earth; (3) that they should be a national witness to the one true God amid the nations of the earth.

They accomplished two of these, but failed in the last, and are now under God's judgment for that sin and failure.

II. Obedience and Opportunity (Acts 7:4-7).

Abram went out at God's command, even though he knew that it meant suffering and trial, being obedient without question or hesitation. Bible history reveals that God delights to do mighty things for those who give Him unquestioning obedience.

God did great things for Abraham, and yet he did not live to see the fulfillment of the promise. He knew it was to be so, realizing that God's plan was to be carried out in the children which he did not yet have (see Heb. 11:9-11).

Here is a lesson for us. Our faith today, and the measure in which we apprehend the grace of God for life and service, will bless not only us, but our children (Ps. 103:17). For their sakes we ought to seek to increase the spiritual heritage of our families. Certainly we should do nothing to blight their lives (Exod. 34:7).

One may not be able to boast of the greatness and fineness of one's ancestors, but one can be determined by the grace of God to be a good ancestor.

Observe that Abraham's obedience opened up the whole history of blessing and usefulness to the entire nation of Israel, a history not yet concluded by any means. Think what opportunity he might have destroyed by disobedience.

III. A Family and Its Faith (Acts 7:12-17).

Stephen, a portion of whose address of defense before the council is here before us, reviews the history of God's dealings with Israel. Tracing the line down through Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph, he recalls how God provided a haven of plenty for them in Egypt until they were ready to be brought up into the possession of their inheritance—the land of Palestine.

Lack of space forbids the review of the lives of these pioneers of faith. The study would be most illuminating, for it repeatedly throws into sharp contrast the awful failures of these men when they forgot God, and the mighty victories they gained when they believed Him.

In spite of their failures they were essentially men of faith, for God has counted them worthy of a place in that remarkable list of heroes of faith found in Hebrews 11 (see vv. 17-22).

The days in which we live are not pioneer days in the usual sense, but they are days when God is calling for new pioneers of faith to serve Him in a befuddled and bruised world. There are stirring days ahead for the Church of Christ if we as Christians will, like Abraham, hear the call of God and go out in loving obedience to Him.

Warming Speeds Up Many Household Tasks

A little warmth will speed up many a household job ordinarily done cold. Egg whites whip better if they are at room temperature rather than cold. The various ingredients in cake blend better if all are the temperature of the kitchen rather than some cold and some warm. Dried fruits and dry beans "soak up" faster in hot water than cold. Hot water is better than cold for rinsing rice, both before and after cooking. In making mashed potatoes hot milk is better than cold because it helps soften lumps, adds to lightness and keeps the potatoes hot. In sprinkling clothes for ironing warm water penetrates and spreads through fabrics faster than cold water. Placing the sprinkled and rolled-up clothes on a warm (not hot) radiator for a short time also helps get the ironing ready in a hurry. Before rubbing oil into shoes to preserve the leather, have the oil slightly warm and the shoes at room temperature. The leather will absorb the oil faster and better. Set a bottle of furniture polish in warm water a few minutes before using, because warm polish penetrates the pores of the wood faster. Wax goes on floors and other surfaces more easily and smoothly if it is not too cold. Paint also needs to have the chill off to spread smoothly. Plant scientists advise tepid water instead of cold. Washing machines, electric mixers or other household motors kept in a cold place should be brought into a warm room a few hours before using. Otherwise the oil or grease may be too stiff to lubricate properly.

Waxed Soles and Heels Extend Life of Hose

An old European practice for saving wear on heels and toes of stockings has been revived and recommended for use in this country by USDA research people.

The practice consists of rubbing paraffin or candle wax on heels and toes of hose. In actual tests on wearing machines this treatment kept hose free from holes four times as long as those untreated.

The wax is merely rubbed over the heels and toes of the stockings before each wearing. Even if waxing is not repeated until after several launderings, enough remains to add considerably to the durability, the experiment showed. The wax can be used on cotton, wool or rayon hose. If only a thin film of wax is applied, it will not interfere with the proper laundering of the stockings, nor will it change their appearance, Miss Lane reports.

New Screen

After protracted interference proceedings in the patent office to determine priority of invention—proceedings in which there were several contenders—patents have been issued to Harry W. Thomas and William Dubilier for a nylon window screen which may well displace screens of metal wire after the war. If a hole is made in such a screen with a pencil or any other sharp instrument it will disappear merely by working the material with the fingers. The government is now using about 50,000,000 yards of this self-healing screen material.

Each thread has a series of regularly recurring obtuse crimps in alternately opposite directions so as to form a succession of oppositely directed troughs. After a hole is made in the screen and the fingers do their work, the displaced threads slip back into their proper troughs and stay there, so that the screen looks just as it did before. Without the crimps there would be no troughs, and the displaced threads could not find their original places.

Chinese Speech

The Chinese must rely heavily on variations in pitch and expression of speech because their vocabulary contains so few "vowels" or separate sounds conveying speech. The Chinese language in the Peking dialect contains only 400 vocables, compared to uncounted thousands in the English language.

Because of this limitation, it is not what you say but how you say it that is the more important. The Chinese word "shih" is heard in nearly every sentence but with any one of many meanings, depending on whether it is said in a tone that is low and plaintive or high and sharp or that slides from one tone to another. The tones are what make Chinese sound strange and like a sing-song to the American ear.

English also contains many words or vocables that sound alike, such as "aisle," "isle" and "I'll," but the use of tones eliminates any chance of confusion.

Farm Workers

In pre-machine days, when it took three-fourths of the country's manpower to feed the nation, there was little food for export, little labor for munitions plants. Today, by the aid of farm machinery, approximately one-fourth of the people employed on farms can fill the national larder. In the last hundred years, half of the nation's manpower has thus been gradually released to industry.

In 1920, approximately 83 per cent of all persons in the United States 10 years old and over, gainfully employed, were working on farms. In 1930, only 21 per cent of that group were engaged in agriculture.

Fixed Laws

Economic laws are laws of nature, rigid. They are divine laws in the same sense that the law of gravity is a law of God. Such laws were in force long before the first man-made statute was ever written, and no natural law was ever repealed by act of parliament. Natural laws can be broken but they all carry within themselves suitable penalties for violation; hard to escape.

Under natural law, every producer earns a profit when he serves the public well; takes a loss when he serves the public poorly. When manipulators, government planners or any other kind, use artificial price controls, they violate natural law. It makes no difference whether the aim is greed or to protect "lame ducks" from loss. Price controls encourage incompetence.

Wheat Price Parity

Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, recently told an audience of wheat growers in St. Paul that U. S. production last year was 1100 million bushels compared to 800 million in a typical prewar year. This is deemed to forecast a post-war over-production of 160 million bushels or more a year. There is a law compelling government to hold up wheat prices for two years after the war.

Taxpayers may as well brace themselves. It is time to start wondering what it's going to cost per bushel to prop up the wheat price and hold it at parity; or what bonus per acre must be paid to non-growers of wheat for not growing wheat. Another wonder: Can the price support be removed after two years or must the taxpayers continue guaranteeing a wheat price indefinitely?

Observe Natural Law

There is an honorable way: Leave each industry's problem for men of that industry to solve. Using wheat as an example, permit the Department of Agriculture to prepare such data as Mr. Wickard gave the farmers and make the figures available to the whole industry. Let the farmers use their own judgment in the light of the facts. They will do a better job than government men, and it will not cost the taxpayers anything.

One advantage is obvious: Men of an industry can consider an industrial problem unblinded by a dust storm of political considerations. Government's proper function is to serve the citizens. Government can get statistics more conveniently than an organization of business men, and government experts undoubtedly can offer valuable interpretations, but interference is not help.

Men Can Think

Business men can understand government figures, interpret them and apply what they have learned. Figures from the Department of Commerce and the Census Bureau have benefited many industries in the past, interpreted by statisticians in the employ of trade associations. If wheat is over-produced one year, bread will be cheap. The next year, wheat men can plan more cautiously.

What did the cotton subsidy do but open the gate for rayon to storm the cotton planter's market? A fictitious wheat price can only bring that industry some similar calamity. It is bad enough to have loyal citizens taxed without mercy to build a false price structure; worse when you know that the result will be to lift a big essential industry off its economic foundation and permanently cripple it.

Test Sleeping Sickness Cure

Doctors Believe Drug Gives Hope of Relief From Scourge of Africa.

NEW YORK.—Para-arsenosphenylbutyric acid is a long name, but it gives hope of a short cure for the scourge of Africa, sleeping sickness.

The new drug, on which a report appeared in "Science," an official journal of American scientists, will be "very important" commercially in Africa if it is as efficacious in the treatment of livestock as current results indicate, officials of the United States public health service said at Baltimore.

The compound, composed of arsenic, butyric acid and another element, was developed in collaboration by Dr. Harry Eagle, Dr. G. O. Doak, Dr. H. G. Steinman and Dr. H. J. Magnuson, medical researchers of the public health service in the agency's venereal disease research and postgraduate training center at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Tried Out in Africa.
Last summer, Dr. Eagle took it abroad and used it for wide-scale experiments in cooperation with the sleeping sickness services of the Gold Coast, Nigeria, the Belgian Congo and the British forces in West Africa.

More than 200 human patients were treated with seeming success in the field trial, and it is expected that the study ultimately will include more than 1,000 persons treated. Similar experiments are planned for Northern Rhodesia, French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa and Sierra Leone. The wide geographic distribution of the cases treated assured the inclusion of a variety of strains of the trypanosomes, the sickness-causing organism carried by the tsetse fly.

African sleeping sickness makes large areas of the continent uninhabitable. If the new treatment is a cure—and the experimenters will not say it is until they have had a year to observe the apparent cures—it will have the advantage of curing in two weeks or less a disease that formerly required three or four months of laborious treatment. This would facilitate mass treatments.

Holds Limited Promise.
The compound holds promise thus far only in cases where treatment is applied early. Where the brain and central nervous system have become affected there is much less hope of lasting good results.

Results also indicate that the drug may not be effective against some forms of trypanosomiasis—the scientific name for the disease—appearing in animals. Most of the humans who received experimental treatment were African natives, members of various Negro tribes, but the experimenters said that results would be equally good among other races.

African sleeping sickness has no relation to what is popularly called sleeping sickness in the United States—epidemic encephalitis, or encephalitis lethargica—which is caused by some yet-undiscovered virus.

There is, however, a closely related disease, also believed to be carried by a fly, in South America, but the health service's researches have not yet extended there.

Tiny Air Compressor Will Help Mighty B-29s

CLEVELAND.—A tiny, 10-pound air compressor, designed to lessen the vulnerability of B-29 Superfortresses to enemy antiaircraft fire by flipping their bomb-bay doors open and shut in a fraction of the time now necessary, is in production.

Officials of the Weatherhead company announced that the units, which have 250 parts and are capable of exerting 1,500 pounds pressure, are now being assembled at the company's Cleveland plant.

The instant action of the compressors enables the bays to open, release their load and snap shut again in life-and-death seconds, permitting the crew to take defensive positions and action immediately on completion of the bombing run.

Ingenious G.I. in Alaska Now Touring Sourdough

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA.—War brought Pfc. John White to Alaska, but did not prevent him from having an automobile to drive around Anchorage while off duty.

An ingenious mechanic, White bought a stalled jalopy for $40 and to it added parts from six old Model T's and a 1922 Oldsmobile. The result spelled Bouncing Bertha, which can do 45 miles an hour on two gallons of gas and has a pickup of at least three girls per block.

False Teeth Now Being Rationed in Germany

STOCKHOLM.—A Berlin dispatch said recently that false teeth will be rationed strictly in Germany from now on, and can be had only by special permission of authorities.

Official permission also will be required for dental repairs, the dispatch to the Dagens Nyheter said. The applicant must be able to prove an "imperative need" and turn in the old fillings.

OPEN SEASON FOR TAKING TROUT IN MARYLAND

The open season for the taking of trout in Maryland waters is April 15 to July 15. The Commission has planted trout from the hatcheries and nurseries in all of the important trout streams of Maryland and since the season opens on Sunday, April 15, we feel sure there will be thousands of persons take advantage of the opening date since our law does not prohibit fishing on the Sabbath day.

Section 96, Chapter 708, Acts of 1943, provides as follows: "It shall be unlawful to fish in the non-tidal waters or streams which have been stocked with trout between the hours of 8 P. M. and 5:30 A. M. during the open season for taking trout, namely, April 15 to July 15, both dates inclusive."

This law was enacted to prohibit fishing at night-time and was enacted in accordance with standard time, however, since the enactment of same daylight savings has been adopted in Maryland in cooperation with the Federal Government, but we do not recognize the daylight savings time to affect these hours here-in quoted as enacted by Section 96 of Article 99. Therefore, under the daylight savings time it would be unlawful to fish for trout between 9 p. m. and 6:30 a. m. There are many enthusiastic anglers, especially in the western Maryland counties, who await the hour for the trout season to open.

COMMUNITY CONCERT MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

The Board of Directors of the Westminster Community Concert Association took action at the last Board meeting to change the time for the annual membership campaign to early Spring. This was done in order to have wider choice of Artists and dates. The increase demands for good music and a limited number of available musicians make this a wise decision.

The annual campaign will be conducted the week of April 13th-21st opening with a dinner meeting at the Charles Carroll Hotel on Friday April 13, at 6:30 o'clock, for workers. Headquarters will be at the W. H. Davis Co. Garage, 31 W. Main St., Westminster. Mr. K. Ray Hollinger, who has done such a splendid job in the past as campaign chairman, will again serve in this capacity.

The final concert of the very successful current season will be given by Dalies Frantz, pianist, April 16 at 8:15 P. M. in the Westminster High School Auditorium.

The officers of the association are: President, Mrs. J. Edmund Lippy; Vice-President, Philip Royer; Campaign Chairman, K. Ray Hollinger; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Gladys M. Wimer; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Charles H. Maus; Treasurer, Pearre Wantz, Jr.; Board of Directors, Joseph Mathias, Thos. BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

The Board of Education of Carroll County met in regular session on Tuesday, April 3. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and all bills presented ordered paid.

The resignation of Tina S. Cohen was accepted and the following teachers were appointed for the remainder of the school year: Helen Glatfelter, West End; Isabelle Devine, Mount Airy; Viva Engle, of Hampstead. Leaves were granted to Ruth L. Maus and Madeline Bankert.

Sheldon Shealer was appointed bus contractor at the Elmer Wolfe school to succeed Charles Snyder, resigned; effective as of April 3.

Library aid was granted to several schools and the superintendent was instructed to purchase materials of instruction and to ask for bids for coal for the school year 1945-46.

The Board authorized a change in the date of the closing of schools. All schools in the county will close on Tuesday, June 12th. This change is necessary by the loss of two days during the year because of bad weather.

The superintendent gave a report to the Board on the records of Carroll County students in the freshman class at Western Maryland College. The Board was pleased with the record made by these students.

The following dates of graduation exercises in the county high schools have been approved:

Monday, May 28—New Windsor.

Tuesday, May 29—Mount Airy.

Wednesday, May 30—Manchester Sykesville.

Thursday, May 31—Taneytown.

Friday, June 1—Westminster and Robert Moton.

Monday, June 4—Hampstead.

Tuesday, June 5—Elmer Wolfe.

Thursday, June 7—Charles Carroll.

The meeting adjourned at 12:00 o'clock.
