STREET IMPROVEMENT

Bids Opened on Tuesday by State Roads Commission

The State Road Commission asked for bids for the improvements of the roads (streets) in Taneytown. The closing date for the receipts of these bids was August 2, 1948.

This project includes macadam widening, drainage installations, removal and replacement of sections of roadway, and the resurfacing of sections of State Route No. 32 and No. 71 within the corporate limits of Taneytown, a distance of 1.575 miles—(Macadam base course, penetration macadam surface course and asphaltic concrete surfacing, specification 'B').

These improvements are greatly needed in Taneytown as the shoulders become quite bad in the Spring and Fall and during heavy rainfall. The balance of the time the conditions of the shoulders are rough, dusty and unsightly.

The State Roads Commission advised us that bids were received from two reliable contractors, and were opened in the Commission's Office on Tuesday. Upon favorable recommendation of the State Engineer the contract can be awarded.

FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Large Parade Thursday Evening Featured the Week's Program

The many showers this week cut down on the attendance at the Firemen's carnival held on the Fair grounds but the weather man finally smiled Thursday evening and permitted the "fire fighters" and their assistants to present one of the largest parades of fire fighting equipment in the history of Taneytown.

The parade was late in starting but with the forty or more units in line and the uncertainty of the weather presented a problem in starting the large parade on time.

The line-up was as follows: State Trooper James Poteet, three mounted horsemen, P. O. S. of A. Band, of Hanover, under the direction of Prof. Menchey (former director of the Taneytown Junior Band); Greencastle Hose Company with its Ladies' Auxiliary; Gettysburg Hook and Ladder Truck; Littleton Fire Truck; Fairfield Fire Truck; Smithburg Fire Truck; Lutherville Truck; Gentleman and Lady on horses; Westminster Fire Company; Pleasant Valley Company; Westminster Fire Truck; Mt. Airy Fire Company; Pikesville Fire Truck; Ladies Auxiliary and Fire Truck from Owings Mills; Trick auto with its sense of direction uncertain; Emmitsburg Fire Truck; Thurmont Fire Truck; New Midway Fire Truck; Arcadia fire truck; Walkersville fire truck; New Windsor fire truck; auto with "Miss Maryland" gracing the back seat; several ponies; Taneytown Junior Band; Ladies Auxiliary of Union Bridge Fire Company's truck; Manchester's Ladies Auxiliary and the Manchester truck; Ladies Auxiliary of Sykesville and the Sykesville truck; Lincolnton truck; Pleasant Valley truck with the host, Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company with its three pieces of equipment and the ambulance at the end of the line of parade.

The parade formed at the High School building and proceeded to the Fair grounds by the way of Fairview Avenue and the Square. Long after the parade had passed down E. Baltimore street the traffic moved very slowly due to congested conditions at the Fair grounds entrance, but under the guidance and supervision of State Troopers Poteet and Stallings and City Officer Roberts no serious traffic snarl was experienced.

Two days remain of the Carnival and with the kindly forbearance of the weatherman the Taneytown Firemen hope to make up for the first part of the week with a Band Concert this Friday evening and on Saturday evening the presence of Joe Phillips and his Dixie Pals should draw many people to the grounds to enjoy the many other kinds of entertainment prepared for the public.

COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE OFFERS ASSISTANCE IN CONTROL OF JAPANESE BEETLE

Traps and bait for Japanese Beetle Control are exhausted and therefore will be no more leasing of this material from the County Agent's office.

There is available at this time a limited quantity of Spore Dust and Impregnated Soil, which, upon request by card or telephone from areas of heavy infestation of beetles, will be distributed free of charge from the County Agent's Office.

The Spore Dust and Impregnated Soil is applied to lawns and meadow lands where it inoculates the soil for a period of eight to ten years, killing the beetle grubs.

This material is not injurious to animals or fowl. It is considered to be one of the most effective means of ridding the country of the Japanese Beetle.

TRAIN SERVICE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Passenger Train to be "Taken Off" in Taneytown

One of the "landmarks" of Taneytown will pass into history when the railroad passenger service is discontinued on August 14th.

The August 2 issue of The Frederick Post contained the following article:

"After more than 30 years continuous operation the Pennsylvania Railroad's only passenger train between Frederick and York, Pa., will discontinue the run, August 14th.

L. Ignatius Kennedy, local freight and passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, said yesterday that notices of discontinuance of the combination passenger, mail and express trains Nos. 563 and 566 have been posted at all company stations along the line.

Passengers on the Frederick-York run are being handed individual printed slips announcing cessation of the train, August 14.

The Frederick Agent said he is informed by the Postoffice Department that the mail transportation which has been handled by these trains for more than 30 years, will be carried to the districts now served by rail, on Star Routes.

No designation of how the express shipments being handled by railroad in the territory, will be carried after cessation of the run, has yet been announced. The discontinuance of the once-a-day railroad run, will not affect freight service, Kennedy concluded.

While the only "four or five passengers" arrive on Train No. 563 in Frederick and depart on No. 566 daily the train is used somewhat more extensively commuting between other stations between here and York. The company maintains, however, that the patronage does not justify the service.

The morning train from York has been scheduled to arrive in Frederick at 10:02 A. M. each week day. The return trip to the Pennsylvania city is slated to begin at noon. The running schedule between the two cities of the branch line, is two hours and 35-minutes.

Only two round-trip trains have been operating on this line. The daily freight train will continue to operate after August 14, when the passenger local is "pulled".

Meanwhile, it was reliably reported that a commuter's meeting to protest the discontinuance of passenger service over the branch line, has been called for Thursday at Hanover. Officials of the railroad who could be reached last night, however, said that they did not believe the protest would be sufficiently strong to effect the restoration of the discontinued schedule.

There is some doubt as to when the first passenger train arrived in Taneytown and after consulting some of our oldest citizens and the files of The Carroll Record, we found the following:

"The warehouse business in Taneytown has been the town's most important industry for years. On July 1st, 1871, T. H. Eckenrode, Taneytown's pioneer warehouseman, established the business (The Taneytown Elevator Company) in the building now occupied by The Reindollar Company. On the 24th day of the same month the first train reached Taneytown and the first shipment of grain was made a few days later, prior to which, all farm products were transported by wagon, formerly to Baltimore, and subsequently to Hanover and Littleton, as the railroad reached those places."

(Ed. Note. The above article does not mention the train carrying passengers or whether the train was mixed—passenger and freight. Who knows?)

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

The regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters Past chiefs Club of Taneytown, Temple No. 23 was held at the home of Mrs. Virgie Ohler, on Tuesday evening, August 4, 1948. The meeting was opened by singing "The Old Rugged Cross." Scripture lesson was read by the hostess. The Lord's Prayer; Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved as read; Roll-call was answered by 16 members telling how they enjoyed their vacation. A number of guests were also present. Our President, Mrs. Ethel Garber presided during the meeting. Our next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maye Baker, on Tuesday evening, September 7, 1948. "A Happy Birthday to You" was sung in honor of the birthday of one of the members, and she was presented with a beautiful doily. After singing "Brighten the Corner Where you Are" a motion was made to close the meeting with the Mizpah Benediction to meet on September 7th the first Tuesday night of the month. The hostess served refreshments.

There is to be a special speaker from the State E. E. Convention at the Taneytown E. U. B. Church on Sunday morning, September 7, 1948. The State E. E. Union is holding its annual convention at the Western Maryland College this week-end, beginning Friday and ending Sunday afternoon.

Speak, move, act in peace, as if you were in prayer. In truth, this is prayer.—Fenelon.

AROUND THE TOWN

Wish all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Remember the nice girl 'around the town' in one of our banks? Recently Your Observer learned of her marriage and the other day met her accidentally. That bride, folks has really grown more beautiful! Lots of luck in the happiness that lies before you!

The other day, as Your Observer was walking 'around the town' met a couple who I immediately realized were strangers and along with them was the cutest little curly headed boy of less than two years. Your Observer smiled at the little fellow whose little face appeared as a cut out picture of his Dad. This time it was the proud father who spoke to me coming over to me and said, "We waited just twenty years for that little fellow and now we wish he would have a little brother and sister with whom he could chum! "You see what I mean, folks when I write there are fine people all around us in every walk of life!"

There is a most gracious and charming retired school teacher and her bachelor brother who selected Carroll County as their home. They are from New York City and live in secluded Bruceville.

In a column in the very near future I will write of a real true story of a bride whom I want for my daughter!

Two new additions have been added to "Love's Retreat"! Cutest Boston Terriers named Lady Evadne and Sir Florian!

Met an elderly single woman the other day who has remained the 'bachelor girl' so she could be nurse for her widowed invalid sister. Each day one hears and sees Goodness spread all over and we do not know the half of the fineness in the world.

Many of my readers, no doubt listen to the morning program over WBAL of Molly Martin and heard the voice of Your Observer on Friday morning. For the benefit of those who have never met Molly Martin must write that she is as sweet as she looks and has a face of a beautiful doll.

Did you know that all Counties of Maryland have just about the finest schools in the United States?

There is a new little improved gadget on the floor sifter that will please many a housewife for with one turn it sifts the flour three times!

Well, Your Observer finally did get a smile from the serious young man at the Potomac Edison! That chap has a fine face and betcha he is a good man. His fine head has made me compare him with Daniel Webster!

The following poem was composed and sent to me by my dearest friend who resides in Baltimore and thought you would like to share it with me.

Dedicated to My Beloved Friend
On through life we travel far
Often reaching for a star;
Not knowing that life's greatest treasure
Is counted most on friendship's measure.

Let fools search out this old earth's gold
I'll count my wealth in friendship old;
My life is full if at the end
My hand can clasp yours—my beloved friend!

So long. Will be seeing you. Have a grand week-end even if you do not go out for a drive!
Your OBSERVER.

U. S. Trade Sui
At Holland's Orderliness

Americans who have returned from a visit to The Netherlands this past year have spoken with admiration and amazement of the country's physical and social aspects, which were utterly contrary to the conditions they had expected.

What excited their astonishment above all were the orderliness, the neatness and normalcy of daily life, both in the cities and rural areas.

Coming from other war-ravaged European countries, as many of these travelers did, they found it hard to convince themselves that Holland had suffered more intensely from the war, that it had been the last country to be liberated, and that its postwar economic situation is beset with seemingly insuperable difficulties.

Strikes there have been and they still occur in Holland, but they have been sporadic and have not affected the greater majority of workers. Instead, there has been closer collaboration between management and labor than ever before in the history of the Dutch labor government.

Latter Days of Jesse James

Life of Jesse James after his "death" makes the early days of this outlaw pale in comparison. After revealing his identity as the famed outlaw, "J. Frank Dalton" confided these adventures to a Chicago woman. After the shooting by which he was popularly believed killed, James toured Europe with a circus. Returning to the U. S. he moved to Indian territory and was appointed U. S. marshal. At one time he chased many of the gunmen with whom he had operated. He went to Brazil with a scientific expedition to study head hunters, fought with the Canadian army in France during World War I and put in a year hunting ivory in Africa. Later he entered a home for Confederate soldiers, still under the name of "Dalton".

How Hybrid Corn is Produced

"Families" of corn seed were inbred for generations. Plants were made to fertilize themselves. This is comparatively simple with corn. Pollen from a plant is sprinkled on the tassels of the same plant. The plant is kept from mating with any other plant. After many generations of this inbreeding, two families of plants, entirely unrelated, are "mated" to each other. Pollen from plants of one family is sprinkled on the tassels of another. Results are startling. The new plants, called "true hybrids", produce far more corn on far fewer acres, and with less labor, than ever has been possible before. Now a way has been found to do inbreeding successfully with an insect—the bee.

"Self Service" for Meat Markets

America's food industry is now considering the pre-packaging of meats which will enable housewives to serve themselves at the butcher's counter. There are, of course, many difficulties in the way of presenting fresh meat in this way, such as refrigeration, special cutters, preparation, pricing and others. "Levels of efficiency now considered visionary can be reached by America's food industry," says Sidney R. Rabb, chairman of the Super-Market Institute. "Using the nation's super markets as a working laboratory, we can develop many ways of cooperating with the grower, processor and manufacturer, yes, even with the government."

Cities Need "Small Change"

Because of higher transit fares, several cities have had to get millions more small coins for "small change". Detroit has increased its street car fare from 10 to 13 cents; Chicago upped its street car fares from 10 to 11 cents, and its elevated fares from 12 to 13 cents. Transit fares have been increased in 44 of the nation's largest cities in the last two years.

Slight Danger Noted In DDT Dusted Corn

Tests of Silage Show Minute Trace in Milk

Farmers are being told to use DDT dust or spray for control of European corn borer. This raises a question. Can corn dusted or sprayed with DDT be used for silage for beef or dairy cattle without danger to the animals, or to people who use the milk?

Tests in Wisconsin showed there was a trace of DDT in the milk of dairy cows fed silage made from canning factory pea vines which had been dusted with DDT. The amount of DDT was so minute, however, that it was not considered dangerous.

On corn, an application of 30 pounds of dust (containing 5 per cent DDT) per acre might amount to two ounces of DDT per ton of silage; that is, if all the dust stayed on the corn, which is extremely unlikely. Even that much would result in only about a gram of DDT daily in the ration of a cow or steer.

DDT toxicity studies at a private research farm indicate no danger to animals from considerably larger amounts. Even so, if any farmer fears a trace of DDT in milk from silage made from sprayed or dusted corn, he can feed the silage to steers, heifers or dry cows.

Twice-Day Record

With a record-smashing total of 1,118.8 pounds of butterfat, Crestview Toitilla Susan, purebred Holstein dairy cow owned by Lakefield Farms, Clarkston, Mich., has established a new all-time U. S. butterfat figure for cows being milked twice daily. "Susan" produced close to 1,400 pounds of table butter during the year.

Herds and Flocks

Fall pigs have advantages over spring litters because they are farrowed under more favorable conditions. Sows and gilts have been on summer pasture soaking up sunshine during pregnancy. Iowa State college swine specialists say fall pigs usually come stronger and more pigs are saved.

Turkey raisers are being advised now not to put baking soda or salt in drinking water for poult, because use of these in excessive amounts causes a condition known as "water belly."

Burn the carcass of every animal that dies of anthrax. Don't open the carcass. Soak in with kerosene, cover it with a load of cobs or straw, put a load of manure over them and set fire to the pile. If possible, burn anthrax carcasses right where the animal dies.

Castrate pigs any time after they are a week old. After castration, keep them on clean grass pasture where there are no mudholes, to reduce danger of lockjaw infection.

Caution Urged in Feeding Salt to Poultry Flock

Extra salt will control cannibalism for a short time after it is added to the ration of chickens, according to Pennsylvania State college. Usual amount is two teaspoons per gallon of drinking water. Salt should be fed only long enough to stop cannibalizing, except the small amount contained in the mash. Feeding large quantities actually may prove harmful.

Learning to Make People Laugh Is Serious Business

Clown School Teaches Its Students How to Be Amusing Buffoons

CHICAGO. — Laugh while you learn.

That well could be the slogan of Rosalie's school for clowns.

The school is run by Mrs. Rose Wegner, a plump woman who loves good, clean fun, and her daughter, Lenore, a blonde, dark-eyed girl who is quick with a gag.

They hold classes twice a week in the basement of their home. The students put on paint and costumes and really have a circus.

One lad plays an accordion. Another dances with a dummy. A lad in an old mammy getup takes a bow. A pal fitted with phoney arms eight feet long smacks him on the bustle with a rubber hand as big as a catcher's mitt.

It seems odd, in the midst of such goings-on, to hear Mrs. Wegner say: "Clowning is serious business." She casts a sober glance at a pupil going through a drill. He wails. Tears squirt from his trick spectacles.

Requires Training

"It takes a lot of training," she says. "They can't put on a funny suit and hat with a duck on it and go out there and wait for folks to laugh. They have to plan acts. They have to learn pantomime. They have three months of coaching before they make their first appearance."

She spells out her ideas on what it takes to be a clown.

They must be tall and agile, should have talent and a sense of humor. They can't be shy or too bold. She wants no part of coarse men. They don't go over with the kids—and kids rank first with her.

The Wegners—the boys call both of them Rosalie—started the school eight years ago. Rosalie, sr., had been on the stage. Rosalie, Jr., got the knack of make-up at the Chicago Art institute. Each has a flair for making odd garments.

Costumes Are Varied

Costumes have checks, polka dots, stripes. The basic make-up is a brilliant white. All the colors are gay. There are no seedy bums or weeping Willie characters.

"We give all of them the happy look," Rosalie, sr., says. "The world can use some of that."

The two Rosalies turn out a lot of props. One is a giraffe 22 feet high. They took it over to a park to see if it would catch the public eye. It did. The first man who saw it drove into a tree.

The Wegners, like Alice, live in a Wonderland. False heads look right back at you. There are pandas, rabbits, a horse, monkeys, an elephant—all, of course, cut out of the whole cloth.

Rosalie, sr., says 30 young men are studying clowning. They work or go to college. The school gets night and week-end clowning jobs for them at carnivals, picnics, dances, parades and church and kid parties.

A few of them want to be full-time clowns. Several "grads" have gone into night clubs and the theater.

"Dry Cleaner" for Oranges

Oranges are cleaned and polished for the market by a dry-cleaning machine devised for the fruit-grower. It consists of two cylinders which revolve side by side. On the outside of each cylinder are spirals covered with rubber matting. Soft rubber, flexible piles about three-quarters inch high extend from the matting. As the cylinders revolve, the spirals turn toward each other and intermesh. The oranges are dumped onto the drums and as they work towards the outlet, are turned over and over, the rubber piles removing dust and grit and polishing the fruit.

Do You Envy Profits?

All the talk about profits and profiteers has put a lot of us on the wrong track. There has been so much of this misleading talk during the past decade that some of our youngsters are beginning to think there is something immoral about making a profit at all. Some of them take it so seriously that they think the profit system should be junked in America.

On the contrary, I am convinced that the profit system is the very spark-plug of our economy. I have given this subject a lot of study. However, it isn't very difficult to see that workers are in for trouble if they are employed by a business that doesn't make a profit. More than this, I think profits are too small for the good of workers and the good of the American public.

First Aid to Labor

Some people seem to think that if no profits were made at all, the workers would get more wages. This cannot be. My belief is that the part of the sales dollar called profit actually helps the workers more than it helps anyone else. More than that, I believe it can be proved that the part of the sales dollar called profits actually helps labor more than does the part of sales dollar called wages.

Consider an example. Fifty years ago it required 8 hours' work for one man to shape the top of a gasoline tank for an automobile. He was paid less than $1 for the job, which he did by hand. Finally, the automobile idea caught on, and vehicles sold. From profits, the companies have continually built up better and better plants. Tools are good and efficient. Working conditions are always being improved. Profits have brought all these things.

Profits Pay Off

Nowadays, an auto worker shapes the top of a gasoline tank in one minute, instead of eight hours. He is happy to work in a clean and sanitary plant. He uses modern tools that are productive and efficient. Most of the back-breaking labor is done by electricity or other power. Even after the cost of keeping up the plant and its modern tools, the modern auto worker earns $10 a day instead of the $1 a day of fifty years ago.

Was it wages that enabled the worker to increase his pay ten-fold? Just asking for higher wages didn't mean that they were forthcoming. There was more to it than that. It was profits that built the improved plant and bought the improved tools. Had no profits been made the workers would still be working for $1 a day, or less. This is not difficult reasoning, but it shows what profits are worth to the workers.

Everybody Profits

What about the public? If the modern automobile like the Ford or Chevrolet had to be made by hand, it would cost $50,000 to make at present wages. Yet, with modern tools such a car is made and sold for less than $2,000. That is what profits have done for the public. Today it is possible to buy an automobile for 4 per cent of what it would cost if no profits had been available for better plants and tools.

This money for modern plants and efficient tools can come from only two places: from profits, or from loans. But the business that is not making profits cannot borrow for long. In reality, then, this money must come from profits. Better plants and tools couldn't be had without profits. If we stop profits we stop increases in wages and we stop the march of production toward lower prices. That way, we injure both workers and the public.

Insect Control Keeps Dog Happy in Summer

While human being may refer to hot weather as "the good old summertime," there is nothing good about it from a dog's viewpoint, as it generally means the flea and tick season in full swing, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City. Fleas and ticks not only make a dog miserable but can also endanger the dog's health and perhaps that of his owner.

Few people seem to realize that aside from the annoyance they cause the dog, fleas cause many skin irritations and also carry the eggs of the dog tapeworm. If a flea-bitten dog, in biting himself, swallows one of these insects, he then may become infested with tapeworm and suffer the effects caused by these debilitating internal parasites.

Flea control is a simple matter for the dog-owner, now that DDT is available in good supply. A thorough powdering every two or three weeks with flea powder containing five to ten percent DDT will keep a dog free of fleas during the entire season that these pests are active. Beside powdering the dog, the careful owner should see that his bedding is changed at frequent intervals. Use of the DDT powder in the dog's bed or sleeping box is also helpful.

Ticks, beside causing irritating skin conditions and a weakened condition in dogs, also present a source of danger to humans. Dogs in areas where there is a heavy infestation of ticks should be sprayed regularly through the summer with one of the several effective tick remedies now available. Ticks should never be removed by hand, but should be picked off with tweezers and dropped in a can or jar of kerosene.

One of the oldest countries in the world, with a royal house which traces its descent from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, Ethiopia covers some 350,000 square miles of mountainous north-east Africa, bordering on the Sudan in the West, on British Kenya in the South, and on French, British and formerly Italian Somaliland and Eritrea in the East and North. Her population is more than 12,000,000, many belonging to the Coptic Church, one of the oldest Christian faiths in existence. Addis Ababa is her capital. The country's official language is Amharic (see map). Ethiopia was represented on the first Special Session of the U.N. General Assembly by Ras H. S. Imru. Her flag is green, gold and red, with the country's emblem, the Lion of Judah, in the center.

U.N. Facts and Faces LUXEMBOURG

Luxembourg, one of the smallest countries in the world's family of nations, has an area of 999 square miles and more than 300,000 people. The Grand Duchy, which touches on Germany, Belgium and France, suffered under German occupation in the Second World War. Practically every bit of her land is cultivated by small landowners. Despite her small size, Luxembourg supplies the world from an enormous output of iron and steel. As a trading nation, Luxembourg is allied economically with Belgium and the Netherlands in the first important post-war customs union, called Benelux. Foreign Minister Joseph Bech is Chairman of Luxembourg's Delegation to the United Nations General Assembly. Her flag has red, white and blue horizontal stripes.

Worry and depression on dark, foggy days are responsible for many deaths quotes a noted health specialist who states "I have known a perfectly healthy man to get bad news at breakfast and then go out and get pneumonia straight away. FEESERSBURG

August the 8th month in our year was originally called Sextilis and was the sixth month in the pre-Julian

Roman year, which received its present name from the emperor Augustus. The preceding month, Quintilis had been called "July" after Julius Caesar, and the emperor chose August to be rechristened in his own honor because his greatest good fortune had then happened. In that month he had been admitted to the consulate, had thrice celebrated a triumphs, had received the allegiance of the soldiers stationed on the Janiculum, had concluded the Civil War and had subdued Egypt. As July contained thirty-one days, and August only thirty, it was thought necessary to add another day to the latter month, in order that the month of Augustus might not be in any respect inferior to that of Julius.

Those who realize the value of time comprehend the importance of employing it to best advantage. A writer has appropriated time in this manner: "Take time to live; for that is what time is for; killing time is suicide. Take time to work, it is the price of success. Take time to think; it is the source of power. Take time to play; it is the fountain of wisdom. Take time to be friendly; it is the road to happiness. Take time to dream; it is hitching your wagon to a star. Take time to look around; it is too short a day to be selfish. Take time to laugh; it is the music of the soul. Take time to play with children; it is the joy of joys. Take time to be courteous; it is the mark of a gentleman.

"Sometimes" reported an European relief worker, "a single incident in the day's work brings home in the most vivid and touching manner the tragic experiences and the overwhelming needs of the children of war". Then she related how, in one humble dwelling where several small children were present, she handed a little girl a glass of milk. With her eyes big as saucers, the little one looked up into the face of her benefactor. Then she whispered, "How far down may I drink?"—Adrian Anderson.

In spite of the adverse weather conditions most farmers have harvested their wheat and barley. Both grains are way below normal in their yields. In fact, I heard one farmer say who had planted 30 acres of wheat that he made more profit on 2 rows of cabbage than he did on the entire wheat crop. In spite of this discouragement, the farmers philosophically think of the next year. Something in their temperament keeps them looking ahead, never backward.

A couple from New Hampshire that we know decided to spend their vacation in Baltimore, where they were born and raised. En route they visited the battlefield at Gettysburg. The guide who showed them around talked glowingly about Northern strategy and Northern heroism. Americans have always been noted for their ability to collect souvenirs from hotels, restaurants, battlefields and the Empire State building. If you accused them of stealing, they would be very indignant for the majority feel that's its just a game. Not many stop to think of the damage or the cost to hotels to replace the things taken away such as towels, blankets and silverware. One would never think that guests at the White House would be souvenir hunters but according to a recent book published silverware disappears from the Presidential residence at an alarming rate. The more important and stately the dinner, the more silverware disappears.

Garage Owner Permits Plane Pilots to Do Own Repairing

COMPTON, CALIF.—George Adams runs a profitable business at the city airport because he fired all his help and lets customers do their own work.

After he went broke offering expensive service by crack mechanics, Adams struck on the idea for his self-service airplane garage. "Most of the boys simply hauled their ships off into corners of the airport and did their own repair work," he says. And, as CAA aircraft inspector, Adams thought such tinkering was unsafe.

Now, for a small parking and tool rent charge, plane owners bring their ships to Adams' hangar to make repairs under his supervision. They have fun doing it; Adams makes a profit.

 the fruits and vegetables of the Pacific Northwest are processed in Salem's canneries.

The daily bustle of a small city is intensified when the legislature session brings lawmakers, lobbyists, and political writers to town. Salem is then overcrowded and surcharged with an excitement that does not subside until adjournment.

Salem was founded by Jason Lee, who was sent from New England as a Methodist Missionary, in the fall of 1834. The town was laid out in 1854, and the first lots sold were purchased with wheat. In choosing a name for the town, which had one house when it was platted, the Calapooia Indian name "Chemeketa", a name now of one of the important streets, and means "place of rest", was proposed, but the missionary brethren preferred a Biblical word, Salem, with a similar meaning.

The city has had a steady industrial, commercial, and institutional growth. You will find here linen and paper mills, canneries, packing houses, ironworks, sawmills, and sash and door factories.

Other observations later.

SHORT STORY

Birthday Gift
 By MAUDE NORMAN

THE sound of a ragman's horn came in the open window of the room, where, with housewifely zeal, Nancy Winters was busy with spring house-cleaning. A gleam came into her eyes. She thought, "I'll give him that pile of magazines Ted has in the garage and all those pop bottles he is always promising to take away, but never does. I'm tired of having them around."

The ragman looked around hopefully as he loaded the bottles and magazines on his rickety old truck. "Any olda clothes, Ma'am?" he asked. "Any olda rubber or iron?"

"No, that's all . . . wait a minute." She darted into the garage, returning with a pair of old grey trousers. "Here, you may as well take these, too."

She gave her husband a particularly warm kiss when he came home that evening. "I'm almost dead," she sighed as they were eating dinner. "At first I thought I would open a can of soup or something easy to prepare, but then I remembered how nice you were, so I made you this meat pie and upside-down cake." Thus she tried to pave the way to tell him what she had done.

"It beats me why you have to kill yourself, trying to do everything in one day," Ted answered. "The house always looks all right to me without you having to tear it apart every so often. Thanks for the swell dinner, Honey. Guess I'll work on the car for awhile."

"That reminds me," she interrupted hastily. "A ragman came by today and I let him take those pop bottles and magazines out in the garage."

"You what?"
 "And I let him take those dirty old pants out there too," she rushed on.

"You mean you gave those pants away?" Ted shouted. "Those pants had fifty dollars in the pocket."
 "They did unless you took it out. Did you?"
 "Of course not. It never occurred to me. . . . Oh, Ted! What have I done?"
 "Gave away your birthday gift, that's all. I've been saving all year to buy that wrist watch you wanted. I thought I had found a safe hiding place in those pants. Perhaps we can get it back. Did you notice a name on the truck?"

NANCY shook her head despairingly. "There wasn't any name, but there was a phone number. I noticed that because it was the same number as our house. Main 1152."
 "That's a lot of help. We can't look through the whole book."
 "We could look under 'Junk Dealers,'" she cried.
 "Here it is," she exulted, after a few minutes' search. "Tony Rozalle, 1346 Clark street."
 1346 Clark street was a shabby little house, whose back yard gave ample proof of its owner's occupa-

Nicaragua, the largest nation in Central America, was discovered by Columbus in his last voyage. Its 57,000 square miles are studded with lakes and several still-active volcanoes. The nation's 1,172,000 inhabitants depend mainly on agriculture, although important mines are being developed. Unlike its highland-dwelling neighbors, Costa Rica and Honduras, Nicaragua's main population is in the lowlands. Its Caribbean shore—known as the Mosquito Coast after the Indian tribe living there—has tropical jungles and a huge rainfall. Managua is the country's capital. Its president is Dr. Victor M. Román and its Permanent Representative to the United Nations is Dr. Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, Ambassador to the U.S.A. Its flag carries one white and two blue stripes and the country's crest.

SCRIPTURE: Jeremiah 38:1-39; 18
DEVOTIONAL READING: Matthew 25:31-46

Ebed-Melech, The Ethiopian

Lesson for August 8, 1948

ARE you ready for a real story? Then turn to Jeremiah 38, and read on to verse 18 in the 39th chapter. This interesting story reveals a hero, Ebed-melech, by name, which means "the king's slave." This may have been his official title rather than his personal name. Anyway, he is the hero of our story, and a very admirable hero, indeed.

He was a Negro, and Ethiopian eunuch, in charge of the king's chambers. Zedekiah, as the story reveals, held Ebed-melech in high esteem. He was, obviously, a most honorable man. How he had come to know Jeremiah, and to esteem him so highly, is a subject for profitable contemplation. The devotional reading, Matthew 25:31-46, offers final opinion on the value of Ebed-melech's ministry to Jeremiah. The golden text, "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men," Galatians 6:10.

JEREMIAH'S FRIEND
EBED-MELECH was Jeremiah's friend. When he saw what the princes had done to Jeremiah, he went to the king and begged him to allow him to draw Jeremiah out of the mire in the dark dungeon. He knew that Jeremiah would soon die in this awful place, and Ebed-melech risked his life in making the request to rescue Jeremiah. The wonder is that the princes had not ordered Ebed-melech slain. Evidently, they recognized the hand of God.

Like as this Negro servant in the long ago served God by rendering kindness to a man of another race, so may we today serve God and civilization by good will and kindly service to all races.

FREEDOM THROUGH A SLAVE
THE story of Ebed-melech's kindness to Jeremiah lifts to enabling example the act of a slave on behalf of freedom. The world's benefactors are those who understand freedom, and cast themselves in utter self-forgetfulness into the struggle for right against wrong.

What had Jeremiah done to receive such harsh treatment? He had delivered God's message to the people of Jerusalem, warning them that the city would be taken by the Chaldeans, and how they might escape destruction. Jeremiah was proclaiming freedom—not always a popular course. For this effort to help the people, he was thrown into the muddy dungeon. This servant of the king was the only man in Jerusalem who understood the purpose of Jeremiah.

A FRIEND INDEED
GIVING permission from the king to rescue Jeremiah, Ebed-melech devised prompt methods of letting down old pieces of rope and rags, telling Jeremiah how to fasten them under his arms, and with the aid of thirty men drew him up from the mire, and brought him into the court of the prison.

And then God spoke words of great reward to Jeremiah on behalf of Ebed-melech. "But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord."

WHO SIDES WITH GOD
EBED-MELECH'S noble ministry to Jeremiah lifts up a banner for every true follower of the Lord. Who sides with God must always win. That is the lesson of the lesson. We should never have known about this Negro, had he not cast his all on the side of God.

"Who sides with God must always win,
No cause to him is lost."

Social People

It seems clear to me that God designed us to live in society—just as He has given the bees the honey; and as our social system could not subsist without the sense of justice and injustice, He has given us the power to acquire that sense.

Voltaire.
Our Creator would never have made such lovely days, and have given us the deep hearts to enjoy them, above and beyond all thought, unless we were meant to be immortal.—Hawthorne.

Christianity is not a theory or speculation, but a life and a living process.—Coleridge.

BOTH BORROWERS AND LENDERS

AS THE NATION HAS MOVED FORWARD FROM RELATIVELY SIMPLE TO MORE COMPLEX WAYS OF LIVING, MOST OF US HAVE BECOME BOTH BORROWERS AND LENDERS—DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY.

-BORROWERS, FOR EXAMPLE, THROUGH THE MORTGAGE ON OUR HOME

-LENDERS, AS THE FUNDS OF OUR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY ARE INVESTED IN HOME MORTGAGES.

AS BORROWERS WE ARE INTERESTED IN OBTAINING MONEY ON FAIR TERMS. AS LENDERS, WE ARE INTERESTED IN A RETURN THAT ADEQUATELY REWARDS AND ENCOURAGES THRIFT—AND THIS IS TRUE WHETHER OUR THRIFT BE THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE—SAVINGS ACCOUNTS—OR INVESTMENTS.

U.N. Facts and Faces SYRIA

Syria, whose history reaches back more than 5000 years to the dawn of history, is a traditional meeting ground in the Middle East of hundreds of peoples and cultures. The Republic of Syria was separated from the Ottoman Empire in 1918 and has been self-governing since 1941, when a League of Nations mandate held by France was ended. Most of her 3,000,000 people work at farming, stock-raising and trading in her 73,000 square miles of territory. Syria, which is a member of the United Nations Security Council, is represented at U.N. Headquarters by Faris bey el-Khoury, President of Parliament. The Syrian flag has horizontal green, white and black stripes and three red stars.

U.N. Assembly Leaders Talk Over Work

POULTRY BACTERINS

To aid in the prevention of such poultry diseases as cholera, typhoid, or paratyphoid, try one of Dr. Salsbury's bacterins. May be used on healthy flocks when there appears to be danger of a disease outbreak; or on healthy birds of flocks in which infection is already present. We can also supply you with bacterins "tailor-made" from cultures taken from your own diseased birds.
