KIWANIANS MEET

Samuel Janness, Supt. of Schools, was the Speaker

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting at the Taney Inn on Wednesday evening at 6:30, President Geo. L. Harner presiding. Twenty six members were present. The period of group singing was in charge of Wallace Reindollar, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

The program, "Our Schools" was in charge of the Committee on Vocational Guidance. President Harner introduced Mr. Samuel Janness, Superintendent of Schools for Carroll County, as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Janness, in his address, reminded his audience that when the schools of Carroll County were opened for the year's work on Tuesday of this week, more than six thousand children were enrolled. Fortunately every teaching position in the County is filled. In spite of a greatly increased enrollment over any year in the history of the school system of Carroll County, adequate seating and supplies, text-books, etc. have been provided for all pupils, except that for the first grade in the Elementary schools, there is a temporary shortage of tables and desks. Mr. Janness called attention to the fact that the "War Babies" of 1941 and 1942 are entering school for the first time this fall, accounting for the tremendous enrollment of first graders. He promised on behalf of the school system the closest attention on the part of teachers and supervisors toward changing the undesirable traits and building upon the desirable traits of these young children in order that the real objectives of school training, which is not primarily to teach reading, writing and arithmetic, but to build attitudes for the development of more effective lives in the present-day world. He predicts a scarcity of teachers, especially in the Elementary field for the next ten years.

Mr. Janness referred briefly to the Bond Issue for Schools, which will be voted on at the election this fall, and asked the Kiwanians present to defend the issue.

Following the meeting, the Board of Directors held its regular monthly session. The meeting next week will be in charge of the Public Affairs Committee, Samuel E. Breth, Chairman.

DONKEY BALL GAME

The Taneytown Fire Department is sponsoring a Donkey Ball Game for the benefit of purchasing a new fire truck. The game is being played between the American Legion Hesson-Snyder Post No. 120 and the Taneytown Firemen. The date is Friday, September 17, 1948, the time is 6:03 P. M., the place is Taneytown High School field.

In town at present assisting with the advance advertising and publicity is Harriet Maricle, Donkey Ball Counselor. She tells us that Donkey Ball is played the same as softball with the exception that all the players except the pitcher and catcher are mounted on donkeys. The batter bats the ball, runs half way to first base where his donkey steers him, mounts the donkey and then proceeds, or shall we say hopes, to ride the bases home.

According to Miss Maricle, the donkeys are Santa Fe bred burros, a cross between a donkey and a pony. They range in size from a Saint Bernard dog to a full sized donkey. They are highly trained and because each has a personality of its own, they are named after famous persons. Take Gypsy Rose Lee, she just won't keep anything on her back, not even a good ball player—Betty Grable is fat in the right places—Miss America is the one with the shapely legs and tapering ears. There's Dick Tracey, Gravel Gertie with her B. O. Plenty, and many others.

And be assured the donkeys will put on a good show—the bigger the crowd, the better their antics. There will be thrills and spills and a good time for all. Be sure to bring the children as it's good clean fun. Tickets will be on sale tomorrow and can be procured from the members of the Fire Department. They will also be placed in some of the stores—watch the windows.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

The regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters Past Chiefs Club of Taneytown, Temple No. 23 was held at the home of Mrs. Maye Baker on Tuesday evening, September 7, 1948.

The meeting was opened by singing "Battle Hymn of the Republic". Scripture lesson was read by the hostess, The Lord's Prayer. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved as read. Roll-call was answered by 16 members by something relating to childhood days. This was very interesting and lots of fun. Also 10 visitors were present. Our President, Mrs. Ethel Garber presided during the meeting. Our next regular meeting will be held at the home of Miss LaReina Baker on October 5th. A "Happy Birthday to You" was sung in honor of one of the members and she was presented with a beautiful dolly. A report on the picnic was given and all enjoyed it very much, it being one of the best that has ever been held.

A motion was made to close the meeting with the Mizpah Benediction after singing "Follow the Glean". The hostess served refreshments.

The party left Keyserville July 21 and traveled a southern route to Texarkana, Texas, where they visited Capt. and Mrs. Horace Worley, a sister of Mr. Harner. Enroute they visited Natural Bridge, Va.; the Oak Ridge Atomic Energy Plant in Tennessee; the Red River Arsenal at Texarkana where Capt. Worley is Medical Supply Officer of the Red River Arsenal Hospital.

They traveled through Texas and Oklahoma, where the numerous oil wells, even on the capital grounds in Oklahoma City, attracted much attention. In Kansas they visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. David White and family, who treated them to their first airplane ride, a trip over the farm and adjoining country.

In Denver they visited Wilbur Hubbard, an instructor at Lowry Field. While there they drove up Mt. Evans 12,460 feet high, to see the sun rise. They then traveled south through Taos, New Mexico, home of Indian Pueblos, to Carlsbad for a tour thru the caverns, and a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Forrest.

Traveling into Arizona they saw the Painted Desert, the Petrified Forest and Meteor Crater on the way to the majestic Grand Canyon. They continued to beautiful Bryce Canyon and Zion National Park in Utah, then to Los Vegas, Nevada, and nearby Hoover Dam. From there a drive across the desert brought them to San Diego, California.

At Salt Lake City, the Mormon Tabernacle and other beautiful buildings were of interest along with swimming in Great Salt Lake.

Yellowstone National Park presented its varied hot springs, geysers, mud volcanoes, waterfalls, and snow-capped mountains. Wild life included elk, moose, and bears which all enjoyed feeding.

In the Black Hills they traveled over the famous Needles highway to Mt. Rushmore where are carved the faces of Washington, Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt and Lincoln. From there they went into the colorful, barren Badlands.

It is the privilege and duty of each citizen to vote for the man of his choice regardless of his party affiliation.

TIME GOES ON

You may stop the clock but you cannot stop time. Whether or not we are able to keep up with it, time moves on. If we fail to make the best use of it, we shall never have another chance. It is gone forever.

For convenience, man has divided time into shorter or longer periods—hours, days, weeks, months, years. But with the Lord, one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

Time earmarks every created thing. It leaves its mark upon every individual. Time makes a lot of business for the cosmetics. Few members of the fair sex can bring themselves to believe that they are still fair with furrowed faces.

Leave a community and return after two or three decades, and you will observe more incredibly than those who continued there what changes time has wrought. With the Creator, however, there is no past, present, and future. A thousand years are but as yesterday.

The passing years afford an opportunity for reflection. The writer attended Mountaineer picnic last Saturday. This annual event is always held the first Saturday in September and has been celebrated for many years. During the horse and buggy days perhaps the crowds were larger than they are now. But the same spirit prevails.

My first acquaintance with this event was in 1911 when a student pastor at Lewistown. For several years I was one of the speakers on this occasion. During those years I became acquainted with a large number of substantial church people. But last Saturday the larger number of those familiar faces were missing. During the thirty odd years time had moved on, taking these people with it. And upon those ones who remain of those former years, time has left its imprint. Hair has turned to silver, wrinkles play across the brow, and the outlook upon life is more circumscribed. Children and grand-children have come to take over the running of affairs, and to make their contribution to the progress of civilization.

An enduring possession of years-gone-by is memory. And how precious many memories may be! The memory of enduring associations only enriches the anticipations of reunions that await us.

Yes, Time Goes On.

G. H. ENFIELD.

DISPLACED PERSONS COMING TO CARROLL COUNTY

Through the efforts of Mr. Frank P. Parish, Taneytown Rt. 1, one of Carroll County's most progressive farmers, 125 families from displaced persons camp in Europe, will be brought to this county some time next month to be placed in homes on our farms.

Mr. Parish will leave shortly for Europe to make the selection from persons being trained in camp for farm work.

Carroll county is the first county in the United States to take advantage of this plan for the emigration of displaced persons in Europe.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Several times on different days, I saw a very sweet elderly lady "Around the Town" who has white hair, glasses and usually wears blue. She always has such a beautiful smile speaking pleasantly to me not knowing who I was. The last time of these meetings, Your Observer approached this lovely person introducing myself to which was the reply, "I am so glad to at last know who you are as some time ago I was to a sale in the country and there was a lady purchasing antiques whose name was the same. I turning to my friend said "Oh, is that Mrs. Love?" to which my friend replied, "Oh, no that is not—our—Mrs. Love!"

No you see, Folks just what I mean and how at home that made me feel for I felt really that I was in these part all my life! It isn't how you say but what you say that is always 'tops' with me!

Called on "Arlene" the other day but was rather disappointed not finding here there but a striking looking brunette (Beauty Operator) came forward to meet me. That Salon surely was a busy place in fact I did not see a vacant chair. The place was most inviting with its cool atmosphere on such a hot day that I actually felt refreshed just walking in and out again. Quite a few smart looking patrons were having hair-do's and what not!

Betcha, very few towns could boast of names like—Lord, Angell and Love!

There is a most fascinating person living out on a farm who has an only daughter. The family is from other parts and by the way have you noticed how many from other States desire to settle in Carroll County!

That nice—Joe Man after such a strenuous day which was about a 100 was not too tired to stop his truck returning from work to give a little child a handful of ice along life's highway. So many nice things are always seen even if not heard. Hence this column!

It is amazing how the "Carroll Record" get around and goes places. Heard from down Miami way that they would not miss one week of the paper. Now to top that off Your Observer, the other morning received a lovely letter from the former Mayor of Baltimore—Mr. Theodore McKeldin and also one from our Governor Lane of Maryland stating how much they enjoy reading "Around the Town!"

Still can't figure that nice little Bachelor with the perfect disposition why he does not marry. You know folks when his family admits he is the sweetest member of the family—that is something to crow about! Eh?

Am so glad to learn that so many couples are taking real vacations. Just keep that up as life is short!

The improved drug store "Around the Town" is surely getting the new look which gives it a real "Lifter Upper" and has the appearance of being City Bred! Now watch business pick up 100%.

Your Observer has often wished that I could could do things for the office of The Carroll Record. A nice little paper like ours deserves just the nicest kind of an approach to the main office. Think and talk that one over.

One of my close friends in Baltimore—a very smart doctor but who had some old fashioned ideas in hesitating to fix up the office. His wife and I put our heads together and mapped out a real "new look" and his waiting room and office was simply transformed so that in no time he increased his profession to such an extent that he now has two assistants. That's just plain human nature all over again for beauty always draws in every walk of life and besides it gives one pep to know they appear well in the other individual's eye. It creates immediately a delightful atmosphere. Never hesitate about giving anything that new look for it is smart and wise.

That little editor refuses to print anything Your Observer writes about him and yet he devours all nice things I write about those "around the town". That does not seem fair, folks. What say you? I dare you to approach that little man on the subject and torment him so that he will not omit things that Your Observer desires to write about him.

Many have asked about the column I stated I would write on "The Bride I Wanted for My Daughter" which is in the making now and will be in a near future column.

A very nice letter arrived from a lady from Long Island to Your Observer stating she used to reside in Carroll County, in fact, her husband had a business in a town one time a few years back but they pulled up stakes because people from these parts were so tight and down right stingy. Does that shoe fit you? One thing I detest is a stingy person for it makes them mean and causes an ugly expression on the face of the tightwad. Sort of a crafty expression. This Your Observer has noticed right along that people from Carroll County are entirely too cautious for their own happiness. Wish I could print all of that letter for it may do lots of real good.

Carries me back to a very wealthy aunt of mine (great-aunt) who was

THE RED NETWORK

I have just read again the Red Network and see more and more the danger confronting us by the Communist infiltration in our country. J. Edgar Hoover of the F. B. I. is doing a fine job, but he needs the help of every true citizen of this country in the battle he is waging.

The trouble is largely our own fault. We guarantee free speech and free press and free assembly and the Reds in our midst took advantage of this privilege which they deny us in Soviet Russia. America is a rich plum and Russia has a basket already prepared to carry it off.

They will not succeed in your time or my time, but eventually it is to be feared they may do so.

I abhor war, but it seems to me it would be better to have war and lose a few billion dollars, and perhaps a few million men now than eventually to lose all.

We have now the men and implements to prosecute a successful war, but in time Russia may catch up to us and when Russia does and feels superior in strength to us, Russia will pluck that plum.

Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty. We possess Liberty now but can we always hold it? Pessimistic I grant but better be pessimistic and safe than optimistic and lose all.

W. J. H.

PROFIT ISN'T THE TROUBLE

At more or less frequent intervals, the newspapers still carry accounts of consumer "strikes" against retail stores. The participants pledge themselves to cut their buying to the minimum until the storekeepers reduce prices by 10 or 20 per cent or some other arbitrary figure.

This kind of consumer feeling may be understandable. But to blame the retailer for today's steep prices makes no sense at all. If the storekeepers—particularly those dealing in staple necessities—made no profit whatever, the average family's buying power would be increased very little.

The proof of that is found in statistical breakdowns of what happens to the money spent in typical stores. Practically all of it goes to buy supplies, to pay wages and taxes, for rent and maintenance, and for other unavoidable expenses. All that is left as profit, in most cases, is two to five cents out of each dollar rung up in the cash register.

There is one main reason why this should be so—competition. In this country all kinds of stores compete with each other. Chains and independents are after your business. They try to outdo each other by offering qualities, more extensive stocks, improved service—and more reasonable prices. Under that kind of a set-up, no one is going to be able to profiteer for long.

Retailers will be among the first to cheer if prices ever come down. And, in the meantime, they'll sell you what you want at the lowest cost possible.—Industrial News Review.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat
THE PRICE of LIBERTY 1790 and TODAY
"IT IS THE COMMON FATE OF THE INDOLENT TO SEE THEIR RIGHTS BECOME A PREY TO THE ACTIVE. THE CONDITION UPON WHICH GOD HATH GIVEN LIBERTY TO MAN IS ETERNAL VIGILANCE."
These words were spoken in 1790, not by an American but in Ireland by John Philpot Curran in a speech upon the right of election.
They express a sentiment that was strongly felt by the citizens of our Republic and of other countries where the spirit of Democracy was rising and the right of election had been won by the people.
They apply with even greater force today, when the right of free election is being imperiled in various countries in the world. Maintenance of this right requires eternal vigilance.
THERE IN THE UNITED STATES THIS MEANS ACCEPTANCE BY ALL OF US OF THE RESPONSIBILITY TO PARTICIPATE ACTIVELY IN THE ELECTIVE PROCESSES OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WHAT MAKES AMERICA TICK?

WE TAKE FOR GRANTED, OTHERS MARVEL AT, THIS COUNTRY OF OURS—ITS TREMENDOUS PRODUCTIVITY—THE LIVING STANDARDS AND THE FREEDOMS OUR PEOPLE ENJOY. HOW HAVE WE ACHIEVED THESE THINGS? HOW DO WE KEEP GOING FORWARD?

THE ANSWER LIES, NOT ALONE IN OUR NATURAL RESOURCES NOR IN OUR GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION, THOUGH THESE HAVE HELPED.

—RATHER IT IS IN THE CHARACTER OF OUR PEOPLE—THEIR INDUSTRY, THEIR INITIATIVE AND SELF-RELIANCE; AND IN THE FORM OF OUR GOVERNMENT, WHICH HAS ENCOURAGED, NOT HAMPERED, THE FREE PLAY OF THESE QUALITIES OVER THE LIFETIME OF OUR REPUBLIC. CONSISTENTLY, WE HAVE PROVIDED INCENTIVE AND REWARD FOR INDIVIDUAL EFFORT—HAVE FOSTERED VOLUNTARY THRIFT—FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE PEOPLE AND THE NATION.

Answer to Puzzle Number 4

Series G-48

Night Preparations

A little boy from the crowded tenement section of a large American city was sent to the country to stay on a farm for the summer. His first day there, the setting sun was gilding the grass and roses of the old-fashioned garden, and he sat on a little stool beside the farmer's wife as she plucked a chicken. He watched the operation gravely for some time. Then he spoke: "Do you take off their clothes every night, lady?"

Lonely Isles

The remote British islands of Tristan da Cunha, in the far South Atlantic, are known as the "lonely isles." World War I was nearly over before news of its outbreak reached inhabitants of these islands. Years passed before the islanders heard of the armistice. By contrast, it was through World War II that Tristan da Cunha began losing its isolation. In 1942, a secret meteorological and radio station was set up there by the British royal navy and the South African air force.

Preventing Floor Dents

Small pieces of felt glued on the bottom of chair legs help prevent dents and scratches in linoleum floor covering.

Softening Marshmallows

Hard, dry marshmallows will become soft and pliable if placed, uncovered, in the breadbox with the bread for a few days.

To Flour Meat

Easiest way to flour meat is to place the flour, along with salt and pepper, in a paper sack; then drop the meat in and shake.

FEESERSBURG

Trees, like human beings and animals, also die of old age though few trees are permitted to die that way as they are generally killed by storms, insects, blights, soil erosion, fire or by the axe and saw of man. Most trees die of disease and the disease usually takes the form of decay in the trunk, which shuts off the water and food supply from the soil. The span of life of a tree is much longer in some species than in others and it is hard to tell just when a tree has reached "old age." Unlike a human who reaches his maximum height at a comparatively early age, a tree continues to grow as long as its alive, although after a certain stage depending on the species and other factors, the rate of growth slows down. Some trees live and continue to grow for thousands of years. The giant redwoods of California, famous as the oldest living things on the earth, have virtually achieved "the miracle of perpetual growth." A few individual trees of this species are estimated to be between 4,000 and 5,000 years of age.

Labor Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Holbrook were: Dr. and Mrs. Frank A. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Holbrook, Sr., all of Baltimore.

If you are a gum chewer or if there is a bubble gum fanatic in your home, you may be interested in some overpowering statistics put out by the Wall Street Journal. Americans are chewing 21 billion sticks of gum a year or enough to girdle the globe 38 times. Phillip K. Wrigley, the man who makes most of the chewing gum, says the more nervous people get, the more gum they chew. Evidently there are a lot of nervous people in the United States. The energy expended on all this chewing must be enormous and if one could find a way to harness it, a lot of electrical power might be saved. The English, who always look on the gloomy side, warn us that if we keep up this chewing, our faces will become distorted. The biggest worry about all this is what is to become of all the gum after it is chewed. One can't walk on the street now, without ones shoes getting bogged down in gum and just the other evening, I put on a new dress and went to the movies and when I tried to get up I was fastened to the seat with gum. The dress had to be sent to the cleaners, which made going to the movies an expensive affair.

When women cease to meddle the world will become a stagnant pool, tideless and windless, with the ship of humanity rotting idly on its shore. —C. Lee.

Visitors at Merry Knoll Monday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Shanholst and daughters, Margaret and Genevieve, of Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. George Roelke and daughters, Sylvia and Susan, and Miss Margaret Roelke, of Union Bridge.

The sale of household goods of William Wright near Mt. Union drew a large crowd Saturday afternoon. All one has to do is advertise a few antiques and people come from far and near. One has to wonder whether the craze for old things is partly due to a "fad" and not actually to the desire to possess something rare and old. The amateur collectors are the ones who run the price up for they seem to possess no idea of the actual value of whatever they are bidding on. Half the fun in collecting is getting a bargain. After all, if the buyer does not take this factor into consideration why waste time in going to a public sale. One may as well go to an antique shop and pay the price asked.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bohn and daughter, Marlene, of Union Bridge, took Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Wolfe for a drive over the mountains above Thurmont and on to Hagerstown on Monday. They stopped on the way for a picnic supper and to admire the beautiful mountain scenery.

If living conditions don't stop improving in this country, we're going to run out of humble beginning for our great men.

Are you comfortable as you read this? Are you reasonably happy in the midst of family and friends? Are those nearest and dearest to you out of harm's way? Think what time does! Five years ago this very moment we were in the very middle of the war. Mussolini had just quit as dictator, but we still hadn't conquered Italy. The freeing of Paris was still a long 12 months away. Think what time does! Only five years ago—does it seem even remotely possible that since then so much could have happened to all of us?

For many years the readers of this column have read with interest of the comings and goings at Grove Dale. When Miss Lizzie Birely wrote this column she kept open house to all her readers, and for many years made her home the center of this small community. With the passing of Miss Sue Birely last week Grove Dale saw its final chapter written for a house can reflect only the personality of its occupants. When they are gone it is only a house with four walls and a roof—nothing more. And so Grove Dale, built in 1879 and the home of the Birelys from that year until 1943 is only an empty house today.

"What did they teach you today?" The mother asked her little son upon his return from his first day in school. "Not much", the youngster reported. "I've got to go again tomorrow."

This morning the children started back to school 25,000,000 strong. The golden days of summer play time practically over. Now it's books and more books, noise and more noise, but isn't it quiet at home.

While visiting a country school the inspector of the Board of Education became provoked at the unruly noise the students were making in the next room. Angriely, he opened the door, grabbed one of the taller boys who seemed to be doing the most talking, dragged him into the next room and stood him in a corner. "Now be silent and stand there," he ordered. A few minutes later a small boy stuck his head in the room and said, "Please, sir, may we have our teacher back?"

Hanover won their last regularly-scheduled game in Wakefield Sunday to move into a 3-way tie for third place. They defeated Wakefield 7-2 with a rally in the eighth and ninth innings. Going into the eighth Wakefield was still leading 2-0, but Hanover scored 7 runs in the last 2 frames.

The Emmitsburg-Taneytown game was cancelled when President Cose sent last-minute notice that Emmitsburg and Blue Ridge Summit should play the first game to decide who will play in the post-season Shannhessy playoffs. Blue Ridge Summit defeated Emmitsburg 4-3 in a thrilling contest which went 11 innings. After a wild first inning in which Emmitsburg scored 3 runs and Blue Ridge Summit 2, with Blue Ridge adding another run to tie the score in the second; they went scoreless the balance of the game until the eleventh inning when Blue Ridge Summit scored the winning run.

Sunday Hanover will go to Emmitsburg to play the second game of the series. If Hanover wins Emmitsburg will be eliminated and the 4 top teams will begin the playoffs the next Sunday. Taneytown and Littlestown were assured of playoff berths 2 weeks ago and will not have any league games this Sunday.

Taneytown has an exhibition game scheduled for Sunday afternoon here at home on the High School diamond. The game is with the American Legion colored team from Frederick and will start at 2:30. This team has given the home boys some stiff competition in the past and ought to be a very good game.

YORK FAIR NEXT WEEK

Everything is in readiness for the Biggest York Interstate Fair, which opens next Tuesday, September 14th and continues 5 days and nights through Saturday, September 18th. This is the 96th annual exhibit of the York Interstate Fair, one of the largest expositions of its kind in eastern United States—a "World's Fair right at your door"—with education and entertainment for all.

Among the extensive improvements made during the year was the enlargement of the stage and the erection of a permanent covering over it. A 175 foot long truss cantilevers 18 feet over the race track, parallel with the front of the stage. The bottom of the stage covering is 34 feet from the floor of the stage.

Steel guard rails have been erected on both sides of the track, which is encircled by a five foot wire fence located ten feet from the outer guard rail, thus providing the greatest possible safety for both the public and the race participants.

The exhibits of livestock and agriculture will be exceptionally fine with keen competition between the 4-H girls and boys. Grandstand attractions this year are better than ever and exceptionally outstanding. They include many featured radio and Broadway vaudeville acts, with the pick of stage and circus specialties.

In addition to the races, vaudeville acts and revue, which will go on rain or shine, there will be special added attractions. John Reed King, famous radio star, will appear on Wednesday night, and Phil Spitalny, Hour of Charm All-girl orchestra, featuring Evelyn and her magic violin on Friday night—rain or shine. Saturday afternoon and night, the climax of the grandstand attractions will be America's most outstanding, original auto thrill show. Just one thrill and thrill after another.

Many plan to attend this greatest of all fairs in the east. It comes only once a year, and the York Interstate Fair is noted for its fine entertainment, exhibits and hospitality. Grandstand seats can be reserved now to avoid disappointment.

I'LL TAKE OVERALLS

If he was laden with gifts
Because it was his birthday;
You can be sure he responded
In the same peculiar way.

It didn't make any difference
If the gift was large or small;
All he ever wanted from you
Was a pair of overalls.

ZINKHAM — PATRICK

Brookside Place, Meadow Branch, near Westminster, Md., was the scene of a pretty wedding, September 4, 1943, when Helen Elizabeth Patrick, of Perry Hall, Fullerton, Md., became the bride of John Albert Zinkham, of Towson, Md. The ceremony was brief, though most impressively performed by Rev. William E. Roop, A. M., pastor of the Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren.

The bride was beautifully attired in a white suit, with becoming accessories. She had for her bridesmaid, Shirley V. Mellott. The bestman was Howard R. Zinkham, the groom's brother.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends, consisting of part of the officiating ministers family and some guests from Seattle, Washington. The groom was operating engineer, of the lately constructed, four track state highway, midway between Westminster and Baltimore.

After a short wedding trip, the newly married couple will reside in Towson, Baltimore Co., Md.

In Loving Memory of our husband and father.

JONAS E. HELTEBRIDLE

who passed away one year ago,
September 13, 1942.

One year, one long and empty year.
With days and nights of lonely tears,
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

Before our eyes he faded,
Growing weaker every day,
Doing all we could to save him,
Until God called him away.

God gave me strength to bear it,
Courage to fight that blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.

There is always comfort knowing
We will meet again some day,
When all griefs and pain are over
And the clouds have rolled away.

There is no final parting,
For all in His care,
And those who seem to leave us
Are waiting for us there.

I hope he is waiting by the river,
Just across the silvery stream,
Where sweet flowers are ever blooming,
And the banks are ever green.

By his WIFE and CHILDREN.
You were so very good, grandfather,
Until the day you passed away,
God must have loved you dearly,
When He took you from our side.

For above in the silent Heaven
There is a soul pure, we know,
If we could only hear you speaking
As we did a short while ago.

By the Grandchildren,
MRS. LEE HAITLEY and

inclined to lean a little on that side and which as a growing child I never admired. This aunt had a great love for Your Observer in her own peculiar way as she was up in years. Snow white hair with dark brown eyes and the most religious individual I ever met. She would not allow me to even hold a lead pencil on the Sabbath (makes me think of the Elsie Dinsmore books). No book was ever opened but the Bible on the Sabbath day and one was to remain indoors on that sacred day. However, each and every time I visited that palatial dwelling, I was handed a great big envelope with my aunt's will which I was instructed to read to her. (I always did as I was told by an elder). So the will read all her money, every cent, was to be distributed among charity and institutions, naming each one in rotation. When that day arrived and my great-aunt closed her eyes forever uttering a prayer which was just about audible some one had stated that Your Observer was remembered in the will. To my great surprise one hundred dollars was left to me, and I thought that the real reason for that was because I read that will each and every time. People are funny! Nuff sed!

Will be seeing you next week, folks. Have a grand week end and always remember, you can't take it with you. So long.

SHORT STORY

Interview

By
W. JOHN STEVENS

3-Minute Fiction

MISS ALICE DAVIDS sat in her office, marking the exercises of her high-school English classes. There was a timid tap on her door. The knob was turned gently and a face peeped in.

"Yes, Miss Hanson?" Ruthmary Hanson's pretty little-girl's face paled. "Miss Davids." She paused, unhappily. Then, as if her courage had been gathered up, "May I ask you a personal question?"

Alice Davids smiled. "Why yes, Ruthmary, but I can't promise to answer."

The words began bubbling out. "Miss Davids I know you'll think I'm awfully fresh."

honestly I'm not, I just have to know. Why didn't you get married instead of being a teacher?"

Alice Davids had had many experiences with students' questions. Now she felt she had underestimated Ruthmary. Her cheeks colored. She looked at the girl, who stared back miserably, looking like a goldfish as she opened and closed her mouth, trying to say something that wouldn't come.

Quickly her mind ran over what she knew about Ruthmary: Not too bright, just a good passing student. Ruthmary and she were friendly, but then she honestly liked all her students, and they liked her. Boy friends? Yes, there was Jim Townley, nice boy, good brains, fond of Ruthmary, and she seemingly liked him. Ambitions? Yes, that was it! Boy friend, ambitions; that motion-picture magazine that Ruthmary tried, unsuccessfully, to read one day in class. She smiled at Ruthmary, suddenly remembering that this child was just graduating and was eighteen.

Ruthmary, on the verge of tears, smiled back. "I'm sorry, Miss Davids, I guess I shouldn't have."

"Ruthmary," Miss Davids interrupted, "you and I have always been pretty good friends, haven't we?"

"Yes'm," she gulped.

"If I tell you, will you promise to keep it a secret?"

"Oh, yes, Miss Davids, I won't tell a soul, honest I won't. I just had to know for..."

"I don't have to be told, Ruthmary. You must have a good reason. It's a rather odd question but I don't mind answering at all. Not to a nice understanding girl like you. I like teaching very much, Ruthmary."

Miss Davids went on. "Yet, I know that if I had my choice, I wouldn't be here. My John and I had such plans together, such exciting plans." Miss Davids sighed. Ruthmary was now on the edge of her seat.

"We were brought up together, went to the same schools, had the same ideas about life. We both liked people, and we wanted our home and—but all that is over now, has been over for many years. Yes, dear, I like teaching, but most people aren't made to live alone, and that is especially true of women. No matter how much you like your work, no matter how successful, you still feel the emptiness of knowing that you have no one really close to you."

"Why didn't you get married instead of being a teacher?"

Miss Davids smiled sadly. "Here's a picture of us just a few months before he left me for her."

Ruthmary looked, through tears, at the handsome man who stood grinning at a much prettier Miss Davids, and then carefully put it down. She left the office without a word.

Alice Davids went back to her desk, and picked up the picture.

"You know," she mused, "you're rather a good-looking fellow at that. Wait till you hear how you broke my heart."

Still grinning she put the picture down. She was about to start looking for stationery. Then she thought—the themes.

"I've got to grade them first, dear brother, the letter from your broken-hearted sister can wait." Still grinning at her lawyer-brother she resumed grading papers.

GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College

Who Wants "Housing"?

The central planners are at it again. They are getting set to try to push housing legislation through the special session of congress. There is hardly a bill to be considered that the "planners" and socialist-minded experimenters will push harder than a public housing bill. They realize that government housing, and the huge and wasteful spending that goes with it, would put the federal government right in business.

What is the origin of the idea that our government should subsidize housing and pass out the costs of it to the taxpayers? Where does the idea come from that the government of a nation is obligated to furnish houses and lodging to its people? These ideas did not originate in America, the land of the free. They came from Europe and from Russia. These ideas have been tried over there. They have never turned out any results, except colossal failure.

Promise and Spend

The only lasting effect of European public housing has been public debt. Their projects did not give them more houses, nor eliminate slums, nor provide homes for the poor. However, their experiments did give the Socialists and Communists a free ride to power. Time after time, these political gangs rode to power on public housing programs—so easy was it to promise and spend, promise and spend. Now, their people continue to pay heavy taxes for projects long since dead.

It is amazing the lessons of history are thus ignored, and the American people are asked to turn over their housing problems to the government. Our nation is great today, and our land a land of plenty, because we Americans have had the initiative to do things for ourselves. We have not been willing, in the past, to turn our everyday lives over to an expanding government. Our fathers did not stand back and beg the federal government to do everything for them.

Unhappy Times

The British people have had unhappy times with public housing and subsidies. During the thirties they tried public housing on a large scale. But it was only after government had failed, that private industry came in and produced a real boom in housing. The present Socialist government in England is interested in public housing. It is routine there to interfere with the liberties and freedoms of the people.

The New York Times on May 5 carried a short dispatch from a small English town. It said that a carpenter had used his life savings and his own hands to build himself a small cottage, only to have government wrecking crews come in to tear it down because he did not have a permit to build. Demolition crews were called off only after neighbors had petitioned the Prime Minister and considered appealing to the King.

Freedom Easily Lost

The news story indicated that the "Ministry of Town and Country Planning" would have to decide whether the carpenter would be permitted to live in the house he put up with his own hands. Thirty years ago no Englishman could have thought that his rights and liberties would ever be subject to the whims of a government bureau, like that. It takes centuries to win freedom and liberty, but it is possible to lose the same freedoms almost overnight.

The Man for the Job

Lesson for September 12, 1948

HISTORY KNOWS some men only by their nicknames. Stalin is a nickname, so was Charlemagne. And so is Barnabas, one of the best of the early Christians. The apostles nicknamed him "Barnabas" and the name stuck, for it means "Son of Encouragement," and Barnabas' specialty was encouraging people who badly needed it.

Barnabas was not a brilliant man, perhaps not even a strong one, though he had an impressive "front." On a journey in the back districts the natives would take him for Zeus, king of all the gods. But it was not his looks that were important, it was his big heart.

When Saul was converted, there was an awkward situation when that young convert went back to Jerusalem. The little society of Christians there knew Saul for a tiger. They had suffered at his hands, they had seen their friends dragged off by his henchmen. So when Saul showed up among the very people he had terrified, when he not only showed up but claimed to be one of them, no wonder they were frightened.

All but Barnabas. Somehow or other shall we say it was God's Spirit in him? Barnabas was not afraid. He took Saul the Terrible by the hand, he introduced him to the church leaders, he told them his story, he sponsored Saul as we would say.

An Eye for God

AFTER THAT EXPERIENCE with Saul, Barnabas' friends came to think of him as a man who could probably see the good in any man or situation if there was any good to be seen. So when the headquarters church in old Jerusalem heard of a novel sort of church down in Antioch, they sent this "Son of Encouragement" down to see what went on. It was certainly no church on the Jerusalem pattern; was it a good one, or even a genuine church at all? Barnabas would know. And so he did.

Other men could see the large number of church members in Antioch; others could give you statistics about its rate of growth; others could tell you it was bi-racial, a daring experiment then as now. Some applauded, some raised their eyebrows.

But we read that Barnabas had eyes in his soul as well as in his head. What he saw, as he looked at that stirring new church with its new ways, was "the grace of God." All of us can see things on the surface, we can count noses, we can make reports for the papers. But seeing underneath, seeing the grace of God (or the need of it)—that is not so easy. Wanted for every church: A Barnabas!

Round Peg—Round Hole

WHEN BARNABAS had taken stock at Antioch he knew the place needed a man, and he knew the man for the place. Off he went across the Taurus mountains to Tarsus, where Saul was doing nothing particular, and he brought Saul to Tarsus and set him to work. Saul turned out to be, as Barnabas expected, the round peg for the round hole.

That team was a "natural"—but only Barnabas would have thought of it. Paul fitted in with the church, too. A tireless worker, he was just the man for that vital growing congregation. Getting the right people for the right jobs is still one of the big problems of the Christian church. Many a Sunday school class, for instance, now is withering on the stalk, only because the Sunday school superintendent has never found the right teacher.

The Hands of the Church

THE TIME came when Barnabas and Saul were sent out by that same Antioch church to be the first foreign missionaries ever deliberately sent out by any Christian church. The hands of the church were laid on them before they left.

To this day, when a man is set apart, by ordination, for a particular work in the Christian church, hands are laid upon his head. This is more than an antique ceremony, there is more than magic in it.

The laying on of hands may mean different things to different churches, but this at least it always means: The men so ordained are now the hands of the churches they represent.
