KIWANIANS MEET

Dietician and Lecturer Addresses Club

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening, at 6:30, at the Taney Inn, George L. Harner, President, presiding. Thirty-four members were present; also Kiwanian Larry Parrish formerly a member of this Club, now a member of the Manassas (Va.) Club, and Rev. Miles S. Reifsnyder of the Westminster Club.

The period of group singing was in charge of David Smith, Chairman of the Music Committee, with Mrs.

Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

The program was in charge of the Achievement Committee, Charles L. Stonesifer, Chairman. Mr. Paul O. Sampson, who has been on the lecture platform for forty years, was presented as the speaker of the evepresented as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Sampson chose as the subject of his address, "Proper Eating." He said in part, "Forty-two percent of the men examined for service in the last World War were rejected, and of those rejected, eighty-five per cent could trace their rejection to faulty eating. A committee of twelve scient eating. A committee of twelve scient. ists, who made an exhaustive study of the effect of sugar diet on health, reported that white sugar is the number one enemy of health. Each person in the United States consumes each year 123 pounds of sugar, besides that which he consumes in fresh fruits. Worms will not touch sugar. Honey and maple sugar are acceptable substitutes for granulated sugar in a healthful diet.

Lemons should be used instead of vinegar for an acid effect. Bi-carbonate of soda is an alkali, but it is caustic in its effects and is a cause of stomach ulcers. The bran and grit of wheat, which we need for their vitamins and mineral salts, are fed to the hogs, and we use synthetic vitamins instead. The peel of potatoes, carrots, apples, and other fruits and at 8:30, it was also announced. vegetables, should not be thrown

Many so-called heart attacks, often fatal, are nothing more than gas attacks, due to indigestion. Someone has said that one-third the food we eat keeps us, the other two-thirds keep the doctors and the druggists. Mr. Sampson traced constipation, arthritis, and diabetes to faulty eating. Diabetes starts in the mouth because the saliva is not able to change the starch into maltose. Cancer is due to the use of refined food. Fruit juices, taken at the beginning of a meal, spoil digestion because they neutralize the digestive acids. Starch and sweets in the same bite is not healthful. Hence, the eating of sweet cake is not recommended.

Immediately after the meeting, the Board of Directors held its regular monthly meeting. The meeting next week will be in charge of the Membership Classification Committee, Raymond K. Wright, Chairman. On Tuesday evening, October 26, a delegation from this Club will visit the Westminster Club for the purpose of presenting the "traveling gavel."

TANEYTOWN TAX RATE 70c PER 100

At the regular meeting of The Mayor and City Council of Taneytown, Md., held Monday evening the City's tax rate was set at 70c on each $100. assessment. The rate is the same as last year. This year's tax bill will be for fourteen months instead of the usual twelve months, due to the change of the year ending of the city's business to June 30 instead of the first Monday in May. This change is made to meet the requirements of the new law passed at the last regular session of the Maryland Legislature.

The resignation of Officer Harold S. Roberts was accepted with regrets. Mr. Gerald Daley was appointed to fill the vacancy.

AUTO STUNT SHOW ON FAIR GROUNDS

Sponsored by Hesson-Snider Post No. 120, American Legion

After weeks of negotiating, Commander Neal Powell, of American Legion Post 120, spokesman for the ternoon and evening performance in the Legion's big Thrill day program at the Carroll County Fairgrounds, this Saturday.

The Wagner troupe of daredevils feature all the former star performers of the late "Lucky" Teter's thrill show and come to Taneytown direct from the leading state and county fairs in New York and the New England States where they have performed before more than 1,000,000 spectators during the past Sum-

The Hell Drivers will race, smash and crash speeding automobiles and motorcycles in 20 high speed events in the two hour program of auto and cycle thrillers. The matinee performance, a special performance arranged by the Legion Post for the kiddies at reduced prices for both children and adults, will get underway promptly at 2:45 P. M.

The evening performance of this nationally known troupe of motor maniacs is scheduled for 8:30, and all indications point to a capacity crowd jamming the fairgrounds to witness the first stunt show staged here in a number of years. Floodlights will be installed for the night show.

In the event of rain Saturday, the Hell Drivers will remain over for a rain date showing on Monday night,

Ten of the nation's outstanding daredevils, recruited from Hollywood's daredevil organizations, will attempt such breath-taking thrillers as the long distance car leap over a truck, a daredevil's ride on a speeding cycle over a parked car from a launching ramp to a receiving platform, car crashes through flaming firewalls, the complete roll over of a speeding automobile, and the 30-ft "tunnel of fire" thriller in which Ernie Peterson, world's champion motorcycle daredevil from Montreal, sends a speeding cycle racing through a roaring mass of flames.

Such topflight daredevils as Buddy Steele, Dale O'Brein, "Lucky" Lee Grable, Bud Carlson, Bobby Swain, along with Peterson, will perform in front of the grandstand in the L'egion's big Thrill Day jamboree.

There were 252 men and six women on hoard from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Virginia with the following from Taneytown and vicinity: Calvin W. Binkley and Walter L. Brandenburg, Linwood; Franklin Fair and Earl Roop, Taneytown; Ivan Myers, Thurston Myers, Charles W. Reddick and Preston Saylor, Union Bridge; C. W. Sparks, Upperco and Frank Summer Westminster.

Fifteen of Pennsylvanias Pullman cars and diners made up the train which left Tuesday evening at 5:45 P. M. for the return trip giving the folks a full two days in St. Louis, Mo. Other places visited were the great Shaws Gardens, St. Louis Zoo, where trained apes were putting on a show for the kiddies and the Jefferson Memorial where the Lindburgh Trophies were on display, also other points of interest.

All spent a very enjoyable trip hop-ing that next year they might again be privileged to take another trip covering what they were unable to see this time.

CHILDREN'S AID APPEAL

Anyone's heart is touched by a ittle child-happy or sad, healthy or sick, rich or poor-in some fashion we respond to their need of adult protection. The first in each of the above groups come from homes where there is a certain security, and therefore they are manifestly not our responsibility. The second category in these groups, however, merits our deepest concern; and it is to this group in particular that we must lend a helping hand.

What better way can we assume that responsibility than to do our share in supporting the laudable work of our local organization-The Carroll County Children's Aid Socie- of education. dependent children. To provide the essentials of living-food, clothing, home and love is the purpose of the Children's Aid Society. They are secured and insured by YOUR gen-

Mrs. Esther Taylor, clerk at the Draft Board office in Westminster, was joined by personnel of the two Boards in pointing out that 18-yearolds must register within five days after their birthday at Board headquarters, Westminster.

Registrants who propose to ask that they be classified as essential to agriculture, are requested to accompany their questionnaire with a writing in which they set forth in de-tail, their farm status. An affidavit executed by their employer should also accompany the farm form, or writing, it is explained.

A registrant who is unable to complete the questionnaire may obtain help by presenting himself at the Library Room of the Courthouse, in Westminster, between 7 and 9 P. M. Thursday and Friday of each week

There is no charge for this service.

Although the first draft call is not expected until November, classification has already begun at Board office in the Charles Carroll Hotel, Westminster, and notification will go out to registrants as the work progresses.

Although no draft call has come to the local Boards, they have been told to prepare for one. So far, according to Col. Henry C. Stanwood, Selective Service Director for Month. Selective Service Director for Maryland, the state expects to have to supply 143 young men during the month. They will come from 66 local boards in proportion to the num-ber of registrants listed at each board

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every FOR DRAFT A smile that shall last until the next

I wish you health—life's greatest help to bring you happiness! Almost three years ago, Your Ob-server was 'new' Around The Town and after my house was in order, I ventured to the town to shop. Upon entering the first store, I saw standing behind the counter, a living picture so beautiful and so rare that my feet seemed glued to the floor at the

This picture was a living one of my Beloved Mother when she was a girl of eighteen years of age. The same big beautiful dark brown soft eyes, the very dark chestnut brown hair, the smooth olive complexion, the even features and the full lips which were parted showing a perfect set of teeth. The dark hair was be-low shoulder length, parted on the side and held together by a narrow coral pin. The white uniform which she wore fitted snugly over a very shapely figure.

I managed to move slowly toward the counter but somehow I could not ask immediately for the desired purchases which I had written down and itemized on a scrap of paper. I looked into the eyes that looked into mine and in that minute, I well knew that we were going to be friends.

This girl standing before me looks so much like the picture on the wall in my living room that the resemblance was startling.

"I have a picture—a portrait of my dear Mother," I managed to say. 'I'll bring it tomorrow when I come

"You are about seventeen years of age?" I asked interrogatively.
"I will be this coming winter on December the third!"
"That was my Mother's birthday, too" I replied as I picked up the purchases and quickly left the store.

Upon the short drive home my thoughts were entirely of this girl.
She impressed me immediately of

She impressed me immediately of the good sound sense, the ability to do things, her love of order and thrift and the wonderful disposition to top it off. I felt that God had sent me Around The Town to meet this girl to have her for my very own daughter. It may seem strange for my readers when they read that I never wanted anything so much in my life as that wonderful girl for my daughter and I was positive that my eldest son would immediately fall in love with her.

The following day, with my Mother's portrait in hand, I called at the store and as soon as I unwrapped the portrait which was a copy of a larger picture done in oils on porce-lain in a oval frame of gold as a daguereotype and handed it to this girl, her face lit up and she said, "Oh, there is a big resemblance. I can see

I then invited this lovely girl to my home. She played the piano beautifully and her singing voice was charming. Strange to write that the voice was exactly as my Mother sang. I soon learned she was a girl that loved home. All this appealed to me and she wrapped herself around my My eldest son was expected from

I whispered so that the whisper was only audible to the ear of my Minister's-"Oh, I am afraid that someone else will get her.'

"You must be patient as you stated she told you she was going to business school and that will take the greater part of the year. By that

Somehow my better judgment gave me to understand that no girl as fine as she would be single long. The fol-lowing year, she attended a business college and after graduating was employed and was very busy that I rarely saw her although we talked over the phone a number of times.

It was on one of these calls that I had the shock of my life. It was just before Christmas when she told me that she would be announcing her engagement. I somehow sensed the young man was seated in the living oom right then and I quickly wished her everything that was good in life and said quickly "Goodbye"! I actually was stunned and sat there not realizing holding on to the phone.

THE FUTURE

Can we have peace? A worthy Irishman once said, "Be Gorea, I'll have peace if I have to fight for it." It looks now very much like we have reached this state. The United Nations is a noble experiment and but for Russia would be a complete

But we should not worry much on that score. It takes a hell to make a heaven secure. Russia by her attitude, is driving the rest of the world to a more perfect union. I do not fear Russia, I know that we, the people of the United States are far in advance of Russia and if we keep our senses will continue to be so.

The children of this generation, or their children will have to face the issue. A war so destructive that the imagination cannot conceive its horror is ahead of us. None now living will ever see it. The two systemsdemocracy and Totalarianism (Bolshevism) cannot long endure, side by side without clashing. That is foretold in scriptures. Armageddon is ahead and will surely come to pass. The advice to the soldiers of the Revolutionary war-trust God and keeps your powder dry-still holds

I do not fear the future for my country. God is still on our side. W. J. H.

FEESERSBURG

A reader of this column-a male, has sent met a letter and asked me to comment on the wives who send their husbands off to work without any breakfast. The only thing that I can say is that I am not acquainted with any of those kind of women but I am going to let the reader speak for himself and here is his letter: "Maybe I ought to mind my own business but there is one situation in this country that burns me up. It's these lazy, pampered wives who stay in bed, peacefully and unconcernedly asleep, while their husbands go off to work with no breakfast at all, or at best, with a cup of coffee or a hunk of burned toast they prepared them-selves. Just for the heck of it, I conducted a little gallup poll among my buddies. Out of 12 men, there are only two whose wives get up each morning and make them breakfast. Any doctor will tell you that breakfast is the most important meal of the day for any one. To go without food until lunch—a matter of a good 16 or 17 hours with nothing to gat but coffee or fruit juice—is bad for anybody but especially bad for a man who has to work, whether with his hands or his head. He needs a decent breakfast to provide energy to carry on whatever job he has to do to earn those pretty little pieces of paper without which he couldn't buy the blankets under which his pretty little wife slumbers. Here's one problem it would pay you wives of America, to think twice about.' says one man of America. Well, girls you have read the letter. Are you

AROUND THE TOWN

(Continued from First Page) vonderful son and to my Minister" That night as the family arrived for dinner, I tried to be cheerful but somehow it was registering differently. "Mother, you look as though you lost the best friend in the world" I tried to laugh but it appeared to be so artificial. I waited until the meal was over and we were all seated in the living room, I whispered the news softly in my husband's ear and as his brows knitted, he raised them saying, "You're joking?" Before, my son would approach me on the sub-ject asking for this lovely girl, thought it best that I tell him of the fact. I then broke the news to him as gently as I was capable of doing and his expression was one I will never forget. He lit a cigarette picked up a magazine turning the pages quickly and said, "It must have been very sudden, Mother." Frankly I never heard of anything

From that time on every now and then this lovely girl and I chatted a few times over the phone. Finally, she brought the young man to meet us. Quite a handsome youth, very refined and most quiet. I liked him. I wished them all the happiness in their future lives together but my heart was heavy as I bid them "Good-

The wedding date was set for the last day of July and a special invita-tion written by the "Bride I wanted for my Daughter" was sent to me which was a correspondence note. It stated at the end that she would very much like to have me there. That was all! The wedding day arrived and it was just five minutes before the ceremony that I arrived at the church "Around The Town." There were quite a number of people present and all was very still. White Gladiolos were on the altar. There was no music-no wedding procession. Just then the side door leading to the pulpit opened and in walk-ed the Minister praying with his back toward the guests. As he turned to face us, to my surprise this lovely girl and her sister arose from the first pew as did the groom and the bestman and walked toward the Min-

The bride was dressed in a white street dress with a large picture hat with an open crown and matching shoes. All was so sweet and full of simplicity which was carried out in every detail.

As soon as ceremony was over and the couple left the auditorium, quickly followed rapidly walking down the church step to the lower hall where they stood. Somehow, I wanted to hold this lovely girl in my arms before any one approached them—this girl "The Bride I wanted for organization held rites at the C. O. my Daughter" telling her of all the Fuss and Son Funeral Home. Monday fine things I hoped and prayed would come to her throughout life!

So long, folks. See you next week and always remember that we cannot have everything we want! Your

COMMUNITY LOCALS

Ground has been broken on George Street for the new C. & P. Telephone building. This building will be modern and of brick construction and will house the new dial system, office and equipment for the company in the Taneytown area. The land was pur-chased from Merwyn C. Fuss and was formerly a part of the Erining property.

The Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church closed its 160th session at Mechanicsburg, Pa., on Thursday night by assigning the pastors to churches for this next year. The Rev. A. W. Garvin was assigned the Taneytown Charge for the 11th year. The former superintendent of Conference, Rev. John H. Ness, resigned on July 1st to be the associate secretary of the denominational pension board. The Rev. Paul E. V. Shannon, pastor of York First Church was elected superintendent of Conference for four years. The Rev. J. H. Schmitt, of Frederick, was assigned the Fayetteville Charge and the Rev. J. Ness, Jr., goes to Frederick. There were no other changes

Tagging Western Fish

Salmon, striped bass and sturgeon now are being tagged in the San Pablo bay by the California division of fish and game. A commercial gillnet boat is being used to catch the fish. Return of tags from the marked fish released by the division will be used to evaluate the probable damage to the salmon and striped bass fisheries by proposed dams and other projects. The San Francisco Tyee club is cooperating with the division by marking salmon outside the Golden Gate with tags furnished by the bureau of marine fisheries. A reward of one dollar is offered by the state for return of each salmon tag, and the Tyee club has placed rewards of from 10 to 50 dollars on several tagged

OPENING NIGHT, MONDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1948

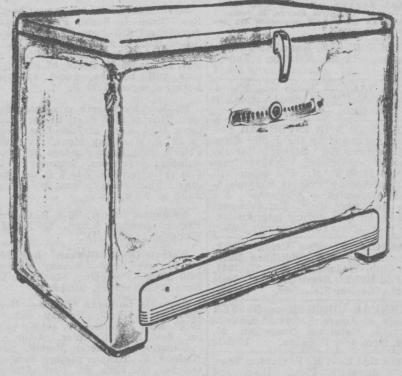

One term, 15 lessons—3 hours' instructions, 8:15 to 11:15 each evening, 85c. No spectators during instructions.

These Lessons Will Continue Every Monday Evening

This class is for young and old, married or single, I will guarantee to teach 150 scholars as easy as 15. If I can't, I will refund your money. Come and try the first lesson, and see if you like it. I look for 100 scholars the opening night. Make up your group of 2 or 4 and join opening night or come alone. I will guarantee to teach, and prepare you to dance, all the steps that are danced, in all the dance halls and clubs. I will also teach you to lead and follow in a crowd. I prepare you to have confidence in yourself and not depend on others. Start coming early as all my classes number over 150.

NOTICE—If you are interested and would like to join the class remember there are hundreds just like you who would like to learn, but don't know where to go. Interest as many as you can, by cutting this ad from the paper, then show it to those that can't dance. Encourage those that can't dance to join this class Monday. Stop and think how many hours instructions you are getting for 85c.

SCRIPTURE: Genesis 11:27-25:11. DEVOTIONAL READING: Hebrews 11:

God's View of People

Lesson for October 10, 1948

"YOU can learn more about hu-I man nature from reading the Bible than from living in New York," said a Yale professor who had tried it both ways. He was right; for in New York you are likely to see your neighbors only on the outside, while in the Bible you are introduced to people on the inside.

of the Bible is its Dr. Foreman plain stories about people, all sorts of people-simple great, wise, foolish, saints and sinmers. They lived thousands of miles from here, and thousands of years ago. They dressed differently and many of them spoke in languages now dead. Yet somehow they live in these inspired stories.

ONE of the great biographies of the Bible is that of Abraham. If you will read it in Genesis you will see it is not like one of our modern biographies; it does not follow a continuous line, but consists of short incidents strung together sometimes without connection.

It is more like an album of pictures than like a movie. Yet putting all the pictures together we get an impression of a remarkable man.

Indeed, Abraham was one of the most remarkable men who ever lived. Without a church, without a Bible, without prophet or priest or tradition, born in a nation and a family that "worshiped other gods," as Joshua said later, somehow Abraham came to know that there is but one God, and not only to know that as a fact but to know that God as a friend. (In fact, Abraham's name among the Arabs to this day is "The Friend.") We must call Abraham one of the great religious geniuses of all human history.

Yet he does not stand alone. The Bible is a book of saints; the letter to the Hebrews calls the roll of some, and ends by saying time is too short to name them all.

Now a saint is not a person who lives totally without sin. A saint is one in whose life goodness is stronger than evil; a saint is one who actually lives as a friend of God, for whom God is the central fact in all his life.

THESE are no whitewashed plaster saints, the great and small figures of the Bible stories. They come before us just as they were. Abraham, for example, at times was a coward, a liar, a bigamist, a slave-holder.

We must not suppose that everything any character in the Bible did was right, or is right today. The writers simply tell the stories, seldom using adjectives like "bad" or "good" or "noble" or "mean." We are left to make our own judgments.

We are shown what effects sin has on men, we see how evil spreads by suggestion and imitation, we see er, electric lamps, alarm clock, set of how temptation works. God inspired hand painted dishes, lot of other the biographers; but he does not dishes, and cooking utensils, wash inspire men to tell lies or to cover tubs, jellies and preseives, 2 glass up evil by calling it good. So do not be shocked to find that even a saint like Abraham had feet of clay. consisting of 4 rooms, pantry, bath

The Light That Shines

FURTHERMORE, when you read ment is made to these Bible biographies, you can on day of sale. trace a very interesting story through them all: namely the story of the human understanding of Right and Wrong.

But in Old Testament times, as in the case of Abraham, we must remember they were in the dawn-years before the sunlight of Christ had risen. Some of the things Abraham did would get him into jail nowadays; but some of those very acts were then the mark of a gentleman.

Sometime when you are discouraged and think the world is growing worse, all you need to do is to think back to some of these old Bible stories. What the very best people did then, is now by Christians seen to be not always good.

The human race has progressed, and nowhere more than in its knowledge of what is right to do. And even so, a man like Abraham, as good and great as he was, shines with an even brighter light across the centuries, challenging us to rise above our times as he often rose above his own.
