Because the date of November 18 one of the nights for classes of the Leadership Training School, conflicts with the Chamber of Commerce banquet it was decided by the school on Thursday evening that an extra 15 minutes would be added to the remaining nights and eliminate the night of the 18th. Therefore the school will convene at 7:15 on the nights of November 17, 24 and 26th in the Reformed Church.

Her friends in Taneytown are sorry to learn of her condition.

REV. BREADY WRITES

Thanks to People of Key-ville and Taneytown

To the Editor of the Carroll Record: Will you kindly say for me through the columns of the Record to all the good people of Taneytown and vicinity that I appreciate more than I can ever say the kindness and affection of the very fine folks with whom I have had the privilege and pleasure of living and working for more than thirty years.

Especially am I grateful for the kind expressions of friendship from those groups with whom I have been associated rather closely:

(1) To the Reformed Church and Sunday School at Keyville for the "Farewell Party" several weeks ago in the Parish House when the retiring pastor was made to realize how hard it is to leave a people whose loyalty to their church and their pastor was as refreshing as it was sincere.

(2) To the Kiwanis Club, of Taneytown for the farewell arranged to honor me on the occasion of their annual "Hallow'en Party."

(3) To the organizations of Grace Reformed Church at Taneytown for the inspiring program which was presented on Thursday evening, October 28, as a formal farewell to me and to my family.

We, myself, Mrs. Bready and Mary Ellen, are deeply appreciative for all these expressions of good will and friendship. We shall always be mindful of the many favors which we received while we occupied the parsonage. We sincerely hope that the many friendships formed during our years of association with the Taneytown community will continue warm and as close as if we intended to maintain our residence there as before.

I appreciate very deeply the gifts that were presented to us on each of the above named occasions.

(4) It was indeed heart-warming to hear from so many friends their regret at our leaving our late home, those who came to the home and those who stopped us on the street. It is fine to be able to remember that even after so many years, we had not worn out our welcome in Taneytown.

I regret, exceedingly that due to change in the time of our moving and to the rainy weather, I was not able to say "goodbye" in their homes to the "shut-ins" especially, I hope to see you all again soon.

We are busy of course, trying to find the things which we had packed so carefully in boxes, and of course, forgot to mark them, so that the things we needed first are the last to come to light. As soon, however, as our home is livable, we hope to see any and all our friends who may be coming to or passing through Lancaster. Once more, our address: 511 N. School Lane, Lancaster, Pa.

Very sincerely yours, GUY P. BREADY.

85th BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Every year on the Sunday nearest Mr. Peter Baumgardner's birthday his children and their families gather in his home to celebrate it. Sunday, the 7th, they had an oyster and ham dinner, with many other good things to go with it, including a birthday cake and candles. Tuesday, the 9th, Mr. Baumgardner was 85 years old, a good age to reach and especially when one is as active and alert as he is. The family circle was complete with everyone present, from the oldest to the youngest.

There were his four children, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, the daughter-in-law and son-in-law, also Mrs. David Mehring and Mrs. Martin Conover.

Mr. Baumgardner lives alone in his house and goes next door to his daughters for his meals.

RECREATIONAL GROUND FOR TANEYTOWN

A Park For Our Town is Being Planned By Our Businessmen

For a long time the people of Taneytown have wanted a place where the whole family could go for relaxation and play. A place where the older ones could pitch horse shoes, or play shuffle-board. Where the younger ones could play tennis, badminton, hand ball, baseball or softball and where the kiddies could have a place of their own, with swings, seesaws and sandbags.

An up-to-date baseball field, with a lighting system that would make possible night games, would help to eliminate Sunday baseball.

All this is no longer wishful thinking, but is fast becoming a reality.

The Taneytown Recreation Association has been formed and is now being incorporated under the laws of Maryland. It will be governed by a group of 12 directors, chosen four years by the public at large.

It is non-profit sharing insofar as members are concerned and its only object is to furnish recreation to the people of this community.

The Association has purchased a large tract of land situated within easy walking distance from the square. It can be entered from either Frederick or West Baltimore St., and will have a parking lot large enough to take care of all cars.

While the Association has gone ahead with this project, it now feels that it would not be fair if the town, and every organization, and individual were not given an opportunity to help bring about the fulfillment of this long desired need. The land is being surveyed, the deed is being transferred and it will soon be ready to go ahead.

The cost of grading, draining, landscaping, fencing and building will be considerable.

We sincerely hope that all will cooperate by giving financial aid when solicited. It is to be your Park. Help make it a success.

QUOTA FOR FUNDS FOR CAS OVER SUBSCRIBED

The local campaign for funds to carry on the work of the Children's Aid Society in the county has met with exceedingly gratifying results in all instances. The quota of $400 has been over-subscribed in the amount of more than $500 and contributions continue to come in.

Should anyone who has not yet contacted the committee and cares to help support the cause, there is still time and the donation would be gladly received.

Miss Belva Koons who has acted as chairman of the drive in Taneytown District desires to thank all who have had a part in making it a success. Miss Koons also wishes to thank the committee members who assisted her in soliciting the folks of the district. They are as follows: Mrs. William Hopkins, Mrs. Edgar Phillips, Mrs. Wayne Crum, Mrs. James Burke, Mrs. Chester Cartz, Mrs. Miss Ruth Perry, Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Miss Clara Devillib, Mrs. John Teeter, Mrs. Franklin Fair, Miss Ruth Snider, Mrs. Abbie Angell and Mrs. Alice Wolfe.

THE DAFFY DILLS

A three-act farce, entitled "The Daffy Dills," will be presented by the Christian Endeavor Society of Grace Reformed Church, on Tuesday evening, November 16, in the Taneytown High School Auditorium.

Richard Dill, an average American business man of thirty-nine, a young widower, has married unbeknown to the rest of the members of his family. He finds that he has to go away on a business trip just about the time that his new wife, Elaine, is to arrive at the Dill home. Complications begin to arise immediately.

You will go into hysterics at the antics performed by the various members of the Dill family when "Elaine arrives since they have already built up a dislike for her before her arrival. Each member of the Dill family tries his best to discourage "Elaine" so she will want to divorce Richard. "Elaine", however, proves to be a match for the whole family. To add to the difficulties, "Cousin Maude", who the family has never seen, comes to visit the Dill family.

You will want to see the melancholia grandmother, the twins, Doris with her hallucinations and Dud with his St. Vitus dance; brother Red, who has fits and his keeper, Pete; sister Carol, who is in the last stages of T. B. and her nurse, Aimee, who has a decided lisp; Widow Woggles, who has quite a set back when she finds that Mr. Dill is married and then how she fits into the scheme of things. Arnie, the negro cook, is sure to cause many laughs with her witty sayings.

After all the efforts of the Dill family to discourage their new "Stepmama" and "Stepmama's" endeavors to watch the antics of the Dill family you will find quite a surprise when Papa Dill returns and the family affairs finally get straightened out much to the delight of every one concerned.

This play will give you a full evening of good entertainment with a laugh between every line.

KIWANIANS MEET

The History of Cement Outlined to the Club

Mr. Raymond Wilson, Supt. of the Union Bridge Cement Plant, spoke to the Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting Wednesday evening. The club met at Taney Inn with President George L. Harner in charge.

Mr. Wilson was introduced by Kiwanian Raymond Wright, chairman of the Classification and Membership committee. Mr. Wilson spoke of the discovery or beginning of the use of Portland cement and continued a description of its usefulness and importance in the building of the world to the present day.

The Union Bridge Plant is one of 160 plants of this type in this country. This plant employs about 160 men and has the enviable record of many years without a loss time accident. Some of the ingredients or materials used to make a 94 lb bag of cement require 150-lbs shale, 24-lbs. coal, 800 gals water and 5-KW hours of electricity. This plant has a 1000-bag capacity per hour.

Kiwanian Felix Westine had his father and son as guests at this meeting.

Plans for next week's meeting, to be held at Camp Cozy, were made.

Southern States Hybrid corn, along with blue, red and white ribbons, will be awarded winners in the show. First-place entries will compete in a district show in January. Legion Post Wins Second Prize

Hesson-Snider Post No. 120, of the American Legion, won the second prize for the group of Veterans making the best appearance, in the Armistice Day parade held in Brunswick, on Sunday, November 7, 1946.

The line-up for the parade was as follows: The Commander, the six man color guard, the Firing Squad and the Legion members. The local Boy Scouts received an award of ten dollars for their participation in the parade.

The members of Hesson-Snider Post wish to thank everyone who helped make the annual American Legion Armistice Day card party a success.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Through the kindness of Hesson-Snider Post 120, American Legion, Taneytown, twenty-three Scouts of Troop 348 were transported by bus to the railroad center of Brunswick, Md., on Sunday, Nov. 7th, in order that they and the Legionnaires might march in the parade celebrating Armistice Day. The hills of that city were lined in great depth, with a throng of people, and the spectacle of floats, service units, bands, and auxiliaries was a sight, not to be forgotten.

Not the least interesting feature of the occasion was a check awarded for their participation, and it was gratifying to learn that the Taneytown Legion Post was adjudged the second best of all those appearing, their prize likewise consisting of that most useful of awards, a negotiable piece of paper. Most of the Troop were able to take a hike across the Potomac to Virginia soil, and one group climbed a hill from which they caught a panoramic view of the entire town as it lay along the river front, rising behind the network of rail lines threading their way through the watergap.

A green-bar council of all leaders of the Troop will be held in the Scout hall at 6:30 tonight (Friday). Others interested in planning the early winter program are invited to attend.

Contrary to a previous announcement, the time of the regular Monday night scout meeting has been set ahead to 7 o'clock. All members of the Troop will please note well.

C&P ASK 20% RATE INCREASE

Application Filed With Public Service Commission

With its earnings declining rapidly and expenses at an all-time high, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City today filed an application with the Public Service Commission for an increase in telephone rates.

W. G. Morrel, C. and P. vice-president and general manager, declared that while the company has not completed its studies, it was estimated rate relief producing approximately $3,600,000 in additional annual net revenue, after taxes, would be required to place the company on a financially sound basis and to permit it to furnish adequate telephone service to the public in Maryland.

The company, which in 1947 was granted its first general rate increase in 21 years, reported current operating expenses, including wage costs comprising the largest item of expense, are the highest in history.

Recent wage increases to employees have again added substantially to the company's already high costs of doing business. Construction costs, it was pointed out, continue at record levels.

The company's application brought out that rate relief granted last year was "substantially less than necessary to restore and maintain the company's earnings at an adequate level."

The petition noted that the impact of the company's unprecedented construction program has materially and adversely affected earnings, with the continued public demand for telephone service since January 1, 1947 compelling the company to make plant additions totaling $49,000,000.

Additions are now being made, the petition set forth, at current cost levels of more than $500 per telephone added or more than double the average investment cost per telephone of less than $200 in 1947. As a result, it was stated, the company's present rates are "geared to the prior low cost levels and not to the higher cost levels now being experienced and which the company may reasonably expect to experience in the immediate future."

In its application the company emphasized that the decline in earnings will be "further aggravated" by other increases in expense levels which have been substantially accelerated by increases in wages granted employees in October.

According to the application, the company's earnings have rapidly declined until current earnings amount to less than 3 1/2% on net original cost investment and are far less than this rate upon the present fair value of its property.

The petition declared that "the conditions surrounding the company's operations in this state, both now and for the foreseeable future, afford no basis upon which the present inadequately low earnings can be expected to improve under the company's existing rates." It was stressed that the company's tremendous construction program is not one-half completed and the full impact thereof has yet to be felt.

In its application, the company said it will be required to spend for construction purposes at current cost levels approximately $60,000,000 within the next few years in order to continue to improve and expand telephone service as demanded by the public of Maryland.

It was pointed out that under existing rates, the company is earning far less than a reasonable return upon the fair value of its property used and useful in rendering service to the public and is failing to earn its minimum requirements necessary to provide adequate service and to attract the additional capital which is essential if the company is to meet present and future service demands.

Asking that the Public Service Commission decide what constitutes a reasonable return upon the fair value of the company's property, the C. and P. requested in its application "a prompt hearing upon and an early decision by the Commission in view of the company's patently inadequate earnings."

INGATHERING AT MT. UNION

The annual ingathering of the Mt. Union Church, with St. Lukes (Winters) co-operating with gifts, was held in the Mt. Union Parish House last Sunday evening with Mrs. Paul C. Leister in charge of the program.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Frank Bohn. Pastor Theisz gave the invocation. Caroline Baker sang a solo "The Finger of God Points There," accompanied by Mrs. Theisz. Patsy Bohn, played several special selections. The speaker was Sister Martha Hanson, Director of the Baltimore Deaconess Training School and Home. She told of the work done by the sisters of the home and stressed the need of young girls to enlist their time to carry on this work.

Sister Magdalene, a friend of long standing to many persons in this vicinity accompanied Sister Martha. She told how she found ways to serve God and the sisters after she was stricken blind some years ago, which was very inspiring to the large number of members present.

Both sisters thanked their many friends for their liberal donation of almost a hundred jars of fruit and vegetables, also cash donations.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Your Observer started out to visit one afternoon last week at the Parsonage of Rev. Bready "Around The Town". I did not know just which house was the Parsonage and as I parked the old Lincoln near the Parsonage of the "little Minister with the long black coat 'which is so befitting' he came along!"

I made inquiries and we walked to the square together when we came upon the daughter of the Minister upon whom I wanted to call!

We walked to the parsonage together and when I entered, there were two Ministers who greeted me in the hall way! One was that nice Lutheran Minister of whom I had spoken in a recent column. He happened to be leaving the Parsonage after his call.

Rev. Bready and I then sat in the living room and never have I enjoyed a chat with any Minister regardless of denomination more than I did this Minister.

He has actually grown with the town! He is most serious and yet now and then a pleasant experience of something funny he would tell. Immediately, Your Observer realized he had been a teacher. He is surely a brilliant man. The community will miss him a great deal and it will be rather difficult for their next Minister for a while as that Congregation (most of them) will be making comparisons with their retired Pastor and the new one that stands in the pulpit! No one can take another's place for each one of us have our own personality as it should be. Rev. Bready in his conversation was delightful that the half hour past by too quickly. The one thing that Your Observer regrets that I did not know this fine man sooner.

The parsonage fascinated me of the interior which is beautifully built and most substantial with its large convenient rooms laid out in an ideal arrangement. Right then, I thought it was lovely to grace any Bishop of any denomination!

As Rev. Bready and I walked down the steps to the sidewalk, I disliked shaking hands feeling that it would, no doubt be the last time I would see this man who was in the biggest business of all "God's Business!"

I somehow felt depressed as I walked to the car thinking why should there be different denominations? Why can't we all be of the same church? Just as a Bishop stated at the Amsterdam Conference and as all "Europe feels—"GOD DID NOT MAKE ALL THESE DENOMINATIONS BUT THEY WERE 'MAN MADE' but he felt sure that God loved all regardless!"

With that one thought helping me to think and remembering that when I was a little girl, I attended many churches of all denominations never joining any simply because there were so many that it was confusing to a child's mind.

Then as I drove in the direction of "Loves' Retreat" I felt that "God is Love" and that "Love Leads All" and without love there could be no religion!

I had to stop to see the little Priest "Around The Town" who is getting along beautifully since his recent illness. I always feel so "At Home" when I talk with him.

On another day, I hope to visit Rev. Garvin as that afternoon was entirely too short but which was enjoyed—every minute by Your Observer.

Now, here's to the State roads. "Around The Town" surely looks fine and those workmen and their boss can be given much credit. As quickly as that is finished and completed I do hope the State Roads will get to work very quickly on making the road wider on the 71 highway where cars fly past.

The second time within a year a child could have been killed—once going to the school bus by a speeding truck and the other time on this past Monday returning at 4:40 by a privately owned vehicle. Both times the child jumped to the embankment. The driver of that school bus is just about the finest that Your Observer has ever seen being most cautious. He knows his 'stuff'. He blew the horn to make the driver stop on Monday. So it is best as I wrote in columns of months ago before a life is taken to have the roads widened as quickly as possible. Not to wait as in the big cities after the life is taken!

The speed with which traffic goes by here, Your Observer expects to see cars right in my front yard some time! This is more noticeable after working hours of 4:30 during the week and the thick traffic on Sundays. Here's hoping!

Upon returning from church on Sunday a little past the town again saw those two cute little boys with big signs held high over their heads—which read "Pups" and "Pumpkins" for sale!

Now Your Observer is wondering of which sold more rapidly—those pups or the pumpkins!

So long. See you next week. Have a grand week-end. Hope the day will be as beautiful as this past Sunday.

Your OBSERVER.

All conditions point to a profitable year for cattle feeding operations, says the Animal Husbandry Department at the University of Maryland.

POOR POLLSTERS

If ever pollsters were disappointed, those who predicted Dewey's election are the lot. But they should have known better and predicted differently.

We all now realize that the Dewey crowds were small and not so enthusiastic while those who greeted Truman were large and noisy. That fact should have convinced the pollsters that Truman was the one who would win and not Dewey.

But after all it won't make much difference to you and me. If Truman can make and keep the country as happy as he seems to be we will have four years of prosperity. If he can keep the world at peace he will save millions of lives and billions of dollars for the American people. All for one and one for all should henceforth be our motto.

W. J. H.

LOOKING BACKWARD AND FORWARD

This poor old Government of ours has functioned upside down ever since the European war lords began to "fight it out." In World War I there were 37,508,696 casualties, of which the United States suffered 364,800. We were drawn into that war for the simple reason that European nations purchased arms and war materials in America, and our own foreign ships were bombed by submarines when they were carrying those purchases to Europe.

Our casualties in World War II were 948,574—almost a million. We tried, and used every honorable means to keep out of both those wars. It is universally admitted that we have used our best efforts—backed by honest and patriotic hopes and desires to establish Peace.

The treachery and opposition of Communist Russia still blocks all roads to World Peace. The voters have turned the whole mess over to President Truman and his followers. Wish them luck!—J. E. Jones.

High costs force us to ask for another increase in telephone rates

Higher wages an important factor

When rising costs forced us to ask for increased telephone rates in December, 1946, it was our first request for an increase since 1925. In the public's interest we asked for only the bare minimum required at that time.

Since then, telephone costs—like those of every other business—have gone up. Recent wage increases, together with the high costs of construction, materials and supplies, have brought our expenses to the highest level in history.

The rate increases previously granted are less than we asked for and much less than needed to meet today's increased costs of operation.

That is why we have asked the Public Service Commission for another increase in telephone rates.

Our earnings are not enough to attract investors' money

We must have sufficient income to meet our day-by-day operating costs. And there must be enough left to pay a fair and reasonable return to investors—the people whose money is used to build telephone facilities. Otherwise, these people will not continue to put their savings into the telephone business.

Since 1939, our plant investment has increased by over $70,000,000—or more than doubled. But our 1948 earnings for each dollar of plant investment are 25% lower than they were in 1939.

Our earnings under the rate increases granted are insufficient to attract the additional capital needed.
And, without the investors' money, we cannot put up the buildings and add the equipment we need to meet public demand for service.

What we have done and what we plan to do to provide more and better telephone service in Maryland

To maintain good telephone service, we have spent more than $60,000,000 since V-J Day for buildings, central office equipment, cable, wire and other telephone plant. And we must spend $60,000,000 more in the next few years to meet the public's telephone needs.

This tremendous program will mean more dial service, more individual lines for party-line subscribers, additional facilities for faster local and long distance service, and improvement of telephone service in rural areas.

Good service at fair rates is in the public interest

We don't like to have to ask for higher telephone rates.
But there is no other course open to us. Our financial situation is such that there is no margin in our earnings to absorb today's high operating costs.

Telephone service must not become a bottleneck to the growth and industrial development of the state.
It must keep pace with the growing needs of Maryland and of your community!

It is our job to furnish the kind of telephone service you want and need. We are asking for only enough to do that job—and no more.

Telephone rates are up much less than most other prices

Compare today's prices with prewar prices. What do you pay today—

FOR FOOD? DOUBLE?
FOR CLOTHING? 90% MORE?
FOR MOST OTHER THINGS?

Telephone rates in Maryland have gone up, on the average, less than 20%.

Hunting season is almost here and for no reason at all except that I like it I give you this poem called "Small Hunter":

Up from the lower pasture
The boy returns—a man
This time no small excuses
Tell how the rabbit ran.

Two furry feet clutched fiercely
He tries to hide in vain,
With nonchalant acceptance,
His pride, his joy—his pain.

Our community has just about recovered from the election results. Both Republicans and Democrats were surprised. The Republicans surprised they lost and the Democrats equally surprised they won. But now let's forget our party affiliation and for the next four years just be plain good Americans. The press ate crow so maybe it would do every one a little good to eat some too.

William Arthur wishes to thank his many friends and neighbors for their beautiful cards and felicitations which he received on his 91st birthday. "As we advance in years we really grow happier, if we live intelligently. The universe is spectacular, and it is a free show. Increase of difficulties and responsibilities strengthens and enriches the mind, and adds to the variety of life. "To live abundantly is like climbing a mountain or a tower. To say that youth is happier than maturity is like saying that the view from the bottom of the tower is better than the view from the top. As we ascend, the range of our view widens immensely, the horizon is pushed further away. Finally, as we reach the summit it is as if we had the world at our feet."

Flight of Business

What should a business firm do when it finds that wage demands have put its expenses up higher than the income it can reasonably expect? This is the plight facing many businesses today. Some of them are taking flight to fairer climes. Perhaps you have heard of the big textile factory that decided to leave New England. No, it didn't just go to the South. It decided to leave the States entirely and go to Porto Rico. It had to go somewhere. It had to stay in the black, or close down.

Our industries will not all go to Porto Rico, but this incident is a handwriting-on-the-wall message addressed to all of us. When a business reaches the saturation point, where it cannot collect more income (in the form of new business), increased sales or higher prices, then something's got to happen. If it cannot cut expenses then it may go broke. This situation is tough on little businesses especially, but it's dangerous, even to big ones.

Glamour Prosperity

Maybe this thing explains our increasing rate of business failures. When the break-even point is so high and so close, even a little drop in income or a step-up in expenses can put a company in serious danger. It doesn't make any difference, either, that the volume of business today is so big. Most of our companies have to do two to five times the amount of business they did before the war, just to break even.

A Mutual Interest

American workers are smart. Their good sense is needed today as never before. They can do a lot to help industry get on a sound footing. They know we can avoid misunderstandings that are so common if everybody sees that industry's problems are also America's problems. Labor can seriously consider the important things. Labor can help work out solutions that are to the best interest of both industry and the general public, knowing that these are also very important to labor.

Take this inflation, for example. That old spiral, that always catches you right between the pay-check and the grocery store, can be scotched. One solution is greater production. Labor knows a lot about production problems. Are workers any less interested in higher output, because high output is something that also interests the management and the public? No, they still want production to be high. Increased production, if it delivers goods to the public, softens the danger of runaway prices. High output also makes it possible for the company to pay continued high wages.

Our Own Creation

Some American workers have had experience with businesses that couldn't pay. A company that is in danger of folding up is no good as an employer. Therefore, the problem facing the boss in his effort to show more income than expense is also the problem of the workers. If a business gets on the run (to me it may not want to move to Porto Rico), this indicates that something is seriously wrong. Ten to one, the income is not up to the outgo. Labor may have some of the answers.

A lot of Americans may be fooled by the seemingly endless bounty of business. Government, also, is expected to give and give and give. Yet, it doesn't make sense to expect either of them to keep on giving forever. Neither government nor business ever actually creates a dollar of wealth. Each can give benefits only out of that which it receives. By the same token, our high living standards are actually the products of our own intelligent work and continued high production.

Uncle Sam Says

There are few Americans who cannot get a thrill out of watching crops or flowering plants grow. And by the same token there are few who cannot feel the satisfaction of planting their money where it will grow. Invest in U. S. Savings Bonds and your money will grow, producing $4 for every $3 put into these bonds. Your country needs your money and you will need money to do the things you dream of today. If you are a wage earner see to it that your name is included with those already enrolled for the payroll savings plan.

SEASON HUNTING OF RABBITS OPENS MONDAY, NOV. 15

Once again the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock and Maryland hunters are looking forward to the annual open season on wild waterfowl, quail, rabbit, pheasants, grouse, woodcock, wild turkey and deer. Now is the time to oil up that fowling piece and go over your equipment so that all will be in order when the magic hour arrives. A short resume of the open season now approaching is not only of interest but a careful study of the laws may prevent accidents later when afield with dog and gun.

The seasons and limits are in accordance with both State and Federal laws, and all dates mentioned are included in the open season.

The upland small game season on quail, pheasants, rabbits, ruffed grouse, wild turkey and woodcock open uniformly on Monday, Nov. 15. However, the wild turkey season closes November 30, (no open season on turkeys in Garrett County) and the woodcock season December 14th. (The open seasons on squirrels and mourning doves are already closed and are past history.)

If you are interested in hunting the raccoon and opossum the open season is November 1 to January 31 included. (Note: Upland game season closed in Allegany and Garrett Counties during open deer season.)

It is to the hunters own interest to carefully observe the daily limits. On one day of the open season he may take 6 quail, 2 ruffed grouse, 2 cock ringneck pheasants, one wild turkey per season only, 4 rabbits, 4 woodcock.

The Maryland deer season rates special mention. This large and valuable game animal has increased in the State from almost nothing to a herd of approximately 15,000 animals. It is believed there are now deer in every county in Maryland. There is an open season of six days beginning Monday, December 6, and extending through Saturday, December 11, with a limit of one deer per licensed hunter, in the following 6 counties only: Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Cecil and Worcester. Deer may be taken in the counties named with a rifle, giving muzzle energy of 1200 foot pounds or more, (for list of legal rifles, write Maryland Game and Inland Commission), or with a shotgun loaded with a single ball or slug. All deer must be weighed and checked at a local designated checking station, and it must not be cut up until checked, and remember the only legal deer are males with two or more points on an antler. The law also provides that deer may be taken when there is snow on the ground and with unplugged shotguns.

Many human lives may be spared in this State if the following safety reminders are followed:

- 1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns taken down or with bolt open into your automobile, camp or home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and bolt are cleared of obstruction.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
7. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat hard surface.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Two College Students Look for Excitement

Vets Volunteer to Do Anything For Sufficient Money

SEATTLE WASH.—It was a dull weekend at Rainer hall on the University of Washington campus, where two student veterans, Kermit Hoelt and Ray Bennigson, lived, and they were looking for excitement and travel.

"How about advertising," suggested Bennigson. They finally agreed on the wording, and here's what appeared in classified columns the following week:

TWO VETERANS, over 6 feet, do anything, anywhere, anytime for sufficient compensation. ME. 9984, Rm. 357.

The men received about 30 telephone calls, mostly from curiosity seekers. There were several offers of odd jobs, which Hoelt and Bennigson turned over to friends. They're considering the proposition of a man who said he had a $16,000 gold mine in the Cascades and needed two young men to go in with him because his partner had died.

Hoelt is 6 feet 4 inches tall. His home's in Vancouver, Wash. A veteran of naval aviation, he is a senior and, unless "something exciting" is offered, he plans to enter law school.

Bennigson, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches, is from Spokane and St. Louis. A navy veteran and a private flyer, he's a sophomore studying radio announcing and playwriting.

Why the mention of their height in the advertisement?

"That made it more intriguing," Bennigson explained. "We thought someone might phone and ask us to deliver a package to Bangkok."

Nobody did, but the excitement-seekers aren't discouraged. They're going to place the ad again and spend a few more days close to the telephone.

MEN AND MISSIONS SUNDAY

The churches of the U. S. A. and Canada are participating widely in the observance of Men and Missions Sunday. It is reported that over 50,000 churches will share in this 18th annual observance on next Sunday, Nov. 14. This observance is sponsored by the Laymen's Missionary Movement of America. Rev. Charles S. Owen, the local chairman has communicated with the other pastors of the community about the observance of this day. The general plan is to have a layman or two speak briefly on the subject at the church service before the sermon.

In the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church the speakers will be Paul Snyder and Charles Stambaugh. In the Taneytown Presbyterian Church the speakers will be Elder B. Walter Crapster and Dr. W. P. Bradley.

As an added feature, an inspiring radio talk will be broadcast over more than 400 stations across the North American continent, as well as from Hawaii, throughout the week of November 7th.

The speaker on this radio program is Dr. Arthur H. Compton, the distinguished scientist and Nobel prize winner, who is the honorary chairman of the Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which is promoting the observance of Men and Missions Sunday. It is of special significance that no missionary work is undertaken by this Movement, but instead it seeks to induce laymen generally to support in greater measure the missionary work of the churches with which they are identified.

THE SEASON'S CHANGE

The seasons change from day to day Cold in December, warm in May—What makes these changes as they come? They come no matter where our home.

The Sun moves South in winter time Leaving a cold and dreary clime, But is this bad for human kind To leave change thus to sun and wind?

Tis Natures plan, by God 'twas given To make of earth a well planned haven.

In winter time all nature sleeps—Tree sap has flown to the deep.

In Summer time the sap is high To make the fruit we love to buy It is pleasant here after all—Whether winter, summer, spring or fall.

So mankind his affairs arrange—Regardless of the seasons change—We set our sail to meet Gods plan.

W. J. H. 1946.

Let's Think

by G. H. ENFIELD

DO YOU READ, AND WHAT?

Another special week calls for more special stress. November 14-20 is Book Week. Books are important in the lives of people everywhere. During Book Week plans should be made for putting books in action to the end that children and adults in the school area, especially, may enrich their lives as they associate with the truly great characters of history, literature, science, philosophy, and art of both the past and the present, so they may live nobly in the future.

You who are given to selecting good food for the body should give consideration to selection choice books for the mind. Book Week is not intended for one to gormandise one's intellectual appetite with reading material for a few days to satiety and then take a mental vacation. It is meant to start a habit that will grow and develop through the years. The purpose of Book Week is to acquaint people with the names of choice books and with the names of their authors, on many subjects, and in various fields.

So much good reading could be made to consume some of the time given to gossip and idle jesture and leisure. The Bible says, we speak that we do know. Voltaire once apologized for his small library. He could boast of but 6,000 volumes! Few minds, however, have ever influenced any age as did that of Voltaire's.

To be a man of a book is to be a man of strength and influence. You do not need to become a walking encyclopedia but you do need to become a well informed individual in this day when so many momentous problems must be solved intelligently. A few books well digested provide more nutrition for the mind than a whole library meagerly read. "When we write," said W. H. Hudson, "we do as the red man thought, impart something of our souls to the paper."

Through books, we may talk with kings, queens, statesmen, philosophers, saints, scientists and poets, of the ages. George Matthew Adams reminds us, "Books are like people who wrote them." "Select such books as are written by the kind of people you would like to know and love." A book that is the true expression of a man's mind and heart possesses the quality of immortality when the author's thoughts live in life and after life.

Read to understand, to think, to meditate, to imbibe. How poor the world would be were there no good books in it! When human friends are too far away to cheer and to comfort, a book is a friend indeed! A book frequently speaks a language which human lips cannot utter. Thoughts gleaned from a book often fill a lonely heart. Who then can afford to ignore books or to neglect reading them! What a price one pays who says, I have no time for them!

Treat books as you would treat your dearest friends. Be kind to them. Do not abuse them. Strained not their backs. Do not insult them with dog ears. Let them tell you their secrets, and as you open their pages and peruse, they in turn will open your mind. Salute Book Week! Make the most of it!

SHOOT STORY
The Master Mind
 By G. K. Heintzman

SAM SHAPIRO was down to his last two bits. As he walked away from the poolhall he tilted his hat down over one eye and muttered unkind words about all poolplayers and their descendants down to the third generation. Into Sam's fertile mind came the 64-dollar question: How was he going to hoist the two bits into a decent roll?

Sam didn't know exactly. Yet somehow he had always managed to stay in the dough, right from the days when he used to shoot marbles with the boys until later in life when he graduated to the poolroom. Sam attributed his success to his great ideas. He also held the firm opinion that everything in this world was a racket.

Sam pushed up his hat and scratched his noggin. Idea No. 1 was to drop over to Joe's lunch room and meditate on ways and means. Idea No. 2 was to put whatever he ate on the cuff.

Sam smiled. He took the quarter from his pocket and began flipping it in the air. Just as he passed the Banker's Trust building he missed a catch and the coin fell. Before he could recover it a strange hand darted out from one side and picked it up. Sam turned quickly and saw a pleasant-faced beggar with a tin cup, sitting on the bank steps. "You missed the cup, sir," the beggar said smilingly, "but I don't mind reaching—not for a quarter."

SAM'S EYES popped. He stared at the quarter. Only a fool would try to snatch two-bits from a beggar's tin cup on a busy street. He wished it was dark.

Sam scratched his noggin but all was quiet. The beggar's cheery voice spoke again. "You seem to be thinking, son," he said. "Will you tell me your name?"

"Sam Shapiro," Sam snapped. He hadn't thought of an angle on how to get his quarter back. He was mad.

"Sam Shapiro is a nice name." There was a strange quality about the beggar's voice. But Sam was not one to appraise matters like that. He even failed to notice that the beggar had produced a check book and fountain pen and had started to write. He tore off a check made out to Sam Shapiro $100. He handed it to Sam. "Don't ask me the reason, son," he said. "Just walk into the bank and cash it. It's good."

Sam took a squint at the check and his eye riveted on the signature. He saw idea no. 3 right there in that signature. Everybody knew that E. Wilson Dodds was president of Banker's Trust. And already Sam could see Mr. Dodds' face when he informed him that a screwball beggar was outside handing out checks with Mr. Dodds' signature. It should be good for a five-spot at least.

INSIDE the bank, Sam stepped up to a cage marked "Paying Teller" and held out the check significantly. "I'd like to see Mr. Dodds about this."

Mr. Dodds is out," said the teller. He took the check with a courteous smile. "It won't be necessary to see Mr. Dodds about this," he said. "If you can identify yourself I'll cash it for you."

Sam gasped. He couldn't figure out the game. Nevertheless they weren't going to catch him napping. "I'm not trying to cash this check, pal," he said. "I'm only trying to inform you that there is a screwball outside writing checks with Mr. Dodds' signature on them."

The teller laughed out loud. "It's quite all right, sir. That was Mr. Dodds! He often wondered if there was such a thing as charity in this modern world. So today he put on that disguise and decided to give $100 to the first 10 people to have pity on him. . . . And let me congratulate you, sir. You are the first person to cash a check."

DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 55.

Voices of God

Lesson for November 14, 1948

"WHAT became of our lost mules?" That is the kind of question which prophets once upon a time were expected to answer (1 Samuel 9:1-10). Some people still have this notion about prophets in the Bible, as if they had been gypsy fortune-tellers, tea-leaf readers or astrologers. They were nothing of the sort. It is not possible to open the Bible to the books of the prophets and read history-in-advance, finding out when the next war is coming and when the end of the world is scheduled.

Dr. Foreman

If we could really use the prophets of the Bible in this way, then any reader of these books could write history accurately in advance; but no one has done this yet.

Hired Man and Aristocrat

The genuine prophets, whose writings make up so much of the Bible, are something far loftier than mere fortune-tellers. They are authentic voices of God. Because of the way they spoke, the timeless truth of what they said, they are God's spokesmen to our own times as well as to their own, and to all times.

The Bible prophets were not "professionals." They had no churches to support them. No regular meetings were arranged for them. You never would have read in the Jerusalem Journal, if there had been such a newspaper, that the Rev. Dr. Isaiah would preach at the temple at 11 a. m. and there would be special music. Few ever knew when or where a prophet might speak.

No one knew beforehand where a prophet might come from. Amos, for example, was a hired man from a sheep-ranch. Micah was a small-town preacher. Isaiah was a highly cultured citizen of the capital, intimate with all the important people. Ezekiel was a trained priest, loving ritual and pageantry. Jeremiah was a lonely, hunted man, living often in jails. Daniel was a member of a king's council, wealthy and famous.

They were all kinds of men, these prophets, but one and all, they were God's voices, pleading, warning, teaching all who would hear.

Their Times and Ours

HUMAN nature is always much the same. One man alone, or one man with another man, or a man with a woman, or a man in a crowd—in the Eighth century before Christ when Amos preached, or now in the 20th century after Christ, the same sort of situation brings out the same temptations, the same sins. The prophets often sound quite modern, but that is only because the human race is so old-fashioned.

The prophets looked about them and saw a world much like our own. They saw people spending more than they could afford; they saw wealthy women dressing in competition with one another while poorer women starved; they saw crowds of business men attending religious services on Sabbath mornings and spending the rest of the Sabbath figuring out how to cheat their customers on Monday.

The prophets lived in evil times and they brought the judgment of God to such times—then, now and always.

Sins of Society

IN AN American town there was a lynching one Saturday night. The next morning there were four sermons in the four little churches of the town; but not one of the preachers had a word to say about that lynching or any lynching or about the causes that produce such crimes.

The prophets never would have missed an opportunity like that. They were not afraid to speak out, even when they had the whole community against them.

What Does God Require?

IT IS easier to say "Don't" than "Do." It is easier to criticize than to construct. But the prophets did not stop with warnings. They have given us a pattern for living, which Micah summed up in those matchless, inspired words: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Everything that is good, in public life or in private, is included in those 22 words.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Wanted: Men and Money!

There are two chief ingredients in the American recipe for prosperity and economic well-being. The first is men, honest-to-goodness men. These must be men who are not afraid of work, who will not be stopped from getting a job done. They are men who believe in honest work, who give value for value received. They have pride and satisfaction in doing a good job well. Indeed, our American workmen (there are today few Americans who do not work) have no equal anywhere.

Then there is money. Money is the most popular exchange for work. We "make" money. Therefore, we can say that money is stored-up work. Another name for this stored-up work is capital. We Americans have found that if we take money and men, then let them both work together for full production, the result is a prosperous and progressive community. In the main, the recipe needs good workmen and plenty of capital.

Use the Recipe
The formula has worked wonders for us. Our nation has benefited by having so many good and honest people. By using the tools that capital has bought, we produce the things that all of us need. Will this formula continue to work us wonders and bring us the kind of prosperity that is the envy of the world? Can we keep these good living standards that seem so commonplace to us? Yes, if we can depend on the ingredients of our recipe: men and money! In a nation of free people, men and money can continue to do the job.

We have the men. Employment is good. Yet, there is danger that we may lose the other half of the team that has made America great. Money (capital) to buy the tools of production is getting hard to find. Since 1930, America's stock of tools has gradually slipped back to where it was in 1920. This is the first period in our history that we didn't gain in the tools of production. Our tools are of less total value, and they also provide fewer horses (horsepower) to workmen.

A Nation's Builders
Now, if we had no men of vision and promise, we certainly could not expect the money to do its part. But we do have men. America has intelligent young men, willing to build their dreams into realities.

What need have they with money? You see, "harebrained" ideas, like Alexander Graham Bell's telephone, require money for development. New products, new manufacturing processes, new inventions, new businesses—all must have capital. In a free economy that permits competition, capital works hand in hand with men to give the nation the jobs and the goods that it needs and wants. Men and money!

Boost the Team!
In losing the money, there is also danger of losing the men. Inventiveness and ambitions may not be killed, when rewards are not available. If we do not have capital to invest, to explore new developments and new businesses, with hope of larger profits ahead, then what happens to your men? They don't invent, and they don't develop anything! No new jobs, no new products, no progress. No getting ahead. It's national suicide.

Why is there so little money today for investment and risk? Our tax system puts heavy burdens on incentive. Taxes take away the money. Twenty-five cents out of every national income dollar in America now goes into taxes. Half the total income of Americans making $5,000 or more annually is turned over to tax collectors. With strict economy in government, this would not be necessary. We must give risk-money a real chance to team with men. Only that way may we keep America prosperous and jobs plentiful.

Uncle Sam Says

Can you keep on the "up" side of life's see-saw? The bumps come when you are on the "down" side and they aren't funny. For most of these bumps are financial ones and they hurt, unless you cushion the shock. Millions of Americans have discovered the safe, automatic pillow against financial bumps. That pillow is U.S. Savings Bonds. By allotting only $2.50 a week, you will accumulate $1440.84 in ten years. There are two convenient methods for the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds—the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan in where you bank.

Captain of Industry

Butch wants a bicycle. Lots of lawn and lemonade and baby-sitting lie between Butch and that bike, but we're betting on the boy. He has energy and our national habit of working hard for what he wants. He's American business—in miniature.

There are many names for Butch's philosophy. You can call it Free Enterprise, Opportunity, Democracy, or Capitalism, if you want.

But whatever the name, America owes it much. For our most valuable natural resource lies in the ambition and the initiative of Americans such as Butch.

Free enterprise—and hard work—will bring Butch and his bike together. They are what built America and the American way of life. No nation on earth has found a satisfactory substitute for that combination.

Our Butch (remember him?) recently was honored by The Reader's Digest.
