SOLDIER WRITES Former Taneytowner Stationed in Japan

We received a very interesting let-ter from Paul Sutcliffe, a former em-ployee of The Carroll Record Company who is now serving his Uncle Sam in Japan. We enjoyed the letter so much, that, although we do not have his permission to do so, we are sure he will not object to our shar-ing it with his friends and many acquaintances here in Taneytown. Paul is the son of Mrs. A. T. Sut-cliffe and the late Rev. Alfred T. Sutcliffe, former pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown. The latter follows:

letter follows: Saturday, Nov. 13, 1948.

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: Dear Mr. Stonesifer: I thought that maybe you and the fellows in the plant might be inter-ested in how my final outcome was in the way of getting settled in the army for the rest of my enlistment. As you know by my old address I sent you, I enlisted for the 1st Cal-vary Division which is stationed in Janan serving with the rest of the Japan serving with the rest of the occupational forces. After spending about two weeks on the high seas, I arrived in Yokahoma and immediately went to the 4th Repo Depo which is the Processing Center over here in Japan where the army screens you out and classifies you as to where and when you go to your permanent outfit. Like I said, I thought I was headed for the 1st Cav. Div. But lo and behold, the Army decides that out Leister, Mrs. Mary Wilt and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley King were Sunday sup-per guests of Miss Sallie Mae Fow-ler, in Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bollinger are now in their newly furnished apart-ments in Reisterstown. Mrs. Bol-linger has given up her position in MacArthur and the Far Eastern Com-mand. I live, eat and sleep at the Finance Building and work down in the center of Tokyo at MacArthur's headquarters. As a matter of fact, I have already seen the old boy and have passed him on the street and have rendered the proper salute. As any old timer or veteran would say, "I've got it made, if I don't foul up." The occupational army is made up of four divisions: 1st Cavalry, 24th and 25th Infantry, and the 11th Airborne. These four divisions make up the These four divisions make up the Eighth Army which in turn with one or two other divisions and corps make up the Far Eastern Command which General MacArthur is commander-inchief. His staff is made up of the men and officers who are in the GHQ. So you can see that I have gotten a very nice job and at the same time an important one that I consider myself very lucky. You might say in a certain sense that I have gotten on the gravy train or what is known as easy street. By that I mean that I have no guard duty, KP, marching, dismounted drill, living in barracks, going on maneuvers, hikes, and etc. We have about two parades a year:

My custom for a long time has been to first glance at the front page of the Record, taking in the local current happenings, then straightway I turn to your anecdote featured on the editorial page. I seek your com-ments for a selfish and profitable reason, since I find the wisdom therein a benefit added, worthy of much merit. To me, W. J. H., your words ring of true thought and broadness, We have about two parades a year: one on the 4th of July and the other one on Army Day. Occasionally we practice for the parades, but as for the good old line outfit routine, Mr. Paul has none of that now. Oh yes, I am now a man, last Saturday was my birthday and I was 21. So, all in when your bit of wit and wisdom is and in our lives.

Every Kiwanian is urged to be presthere. You will enjoy every minute of the drive!

bill' Now, this is calling all "Teen-agers" How nice are you in your home? The other day was talking to a lady who stated that her girls and even the boys were not nice to either she or her husband but they ware lowaly to strangers and in other were lovely to strangers and in other homes. Does that shoe fit you? Why not be nice in both places at your home where you are living with those all year round? Make it a joy for your parents just to have you around and see the happiness that will core of it all of it all.

Ever listen in, Mothers to those "Teen-agers" over the air? They will surprise you with their thoughts and surprise you with their thoughts and expressions. If they carry them out, they will be wonderful adults when they get full grown! Last week as I was returning to "Around The Town" saw a sign one the back of a car advertisement of "Reno"—you know the place I mean! Then the couple in the car sure were "hugging up" as they drove slowly toward the town. Your Observer would not give the license number of course but it did strike Your Observ-er real funny when you come to think Walter Rosenthal, Baltimore, reck-less driving, (driving on wet paint line). $11.45. that couple happen to be! That nice magazine—"The Busi-ness of Farming" is enjoyed by many and I look forward to it as much as any big reading matter. Those cute homes and the pictures fascinate me and I often think that is just how every farmer should live in every-thing very modern for he is so dething very modern for he is so de-serving. What would we do without him? Perhaps if the city girl could be taken to the farm to live in just such as those pictures describe he would love marrying the farmer! That's thought now bringing the city to the country instead of the other way round.

The nice chubby young man from our chain store endsted with the United States Air Force weeks ago! That's wonderful, George!

Your Observer was very much pleased to see a big truck slow up on the 71 Highway when the driver saw sion Crusade was held. Miss Regina a 'Duck Family' crossing to the oth-er side of the highway at my "Good Neighbor's" little house at the Keys-ville road. If that license number could have been seen it sure would have been right here but due to the awful rainy day and mud it was invisible. Our State Policeman "Around the Town" is some one out of this world! Your Observer saw him do the work of three policemen just recently which was amazing. He is one of the type that I wrote about in a previous col-umn. Betcha, if it came to investi-gating Maryland Police would be "TOPS" in everything all over these United States! Before coming to Ma-ryland my old Dad used to tell me ryland, my old Dad used to tell me of those fine men and everything he stated about them are facts. Have always noticed they are very conscien-tious, too. All are sympathetic some more than others. Years ago, I wrote about them and it was published in the Sun paper of Baltimore and this is how the heading read, "She Likes Our Police Force!" A letter arrived the other day stat-ing that I had it on Drew Pearson about my prediction of Truman so to top that off that nice little chubby man in the hardware said to Your Observer "You and Truman were the only ones that knew it!" You may recall since last July, I had placed it in three different columns as late as the one before election day. Here's another for you, readers—we won't have war as long as Truman is right there in the Big White House unless something unforseen would pop up that would be unexpected. Was over to a grand supper at the Middleburg Church and believe it or not, we had music with our meals and that was done by a lady from "Around The Town". Those women surely can cook and it was nice seeing so many faces that I had not seen for some time Women are convinced of course about all "Hair-do's", but there is a certain great big husband over Mid-dleburg way who looked admiringly at his little slim wife when she was complimented on her recent hair do complimented on her recent hair-do. Her appearance really now is of a 'debutante'. She was charming! Now don't all run to the Beauty Salon at one time but call and make your appointments ahead of time!

was followed by a short address of welcome by Rev. Father O'Brien, C. M. of St. Joseph's. Miss Patsy Dunham, secretary, gave her report and Miss Patricia Jasper, treasurer, re-ported a balance on hand of $1.07 with no withdrawals.

The president called upon the various units for individual reports in financial as well as spiritual matters. Since there was no new business, the president recognized the various speakers on the subject, "Why I Think Some Marriages Fail."

The speakers were: Patricia Jasper, Beverly Ford, Joseph Young, the Rev Mr. Casey, Peggy Patton, and James Eckert. At the close of this discus-sion, the Rt. Rev. Monsingor Vaeth gave the gathering his views on the subject.

Monsingor Vaeth then told the group of a coming missionary endeavor for our own religious orders in this vicinity. A Mission Month is to be designated, during which time would be devoted to the learning and studying of these orders, as well as collecting funds for the missions here at home instead of the usual foreign missions. This plan is known as the Baltimore Plan. We are first to have our mission dues paid and then care for any foreign or home missions.

He warned us to beware of false clergymen soliciting funds, and gave examples of how they work. It was decided that the next meet-ing would be held at St. John's High School in Westminster, on Thursday, December 16. For discussion the topic will be "My Comments on the Bishops' report." Due to the broadness of such a topic, each unit will be notified which phase of this subject to take.

The meeting was closed with prayer and the song "Missionlands, My Missionland." Solemn Benediction was held in St. Joseph's Church with Rev. Michael O'Brien, C. M., as celebrant, assisted by seminarians from Mount St. Mary's Seminary. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by several members

An important occasion in my childhood was butchering time. It was important to me because I was given the bladder of the slaughtered hog to blow up, which I did with delight and pleasure for when finished I had my own foot ball, the only kind I was ever fortunate enough to possess.

Soon farmers, the land over will be busy butchering their fattened hogs. In my day a hogshead (large barrel) was dug in and filled with water and in a fire close by old plow shares and other pieces of cast iron were heated red hot and dumped into the water until it beame boiling hot when the slaughtered hog was plunged into it and withdrawn and scraped because the hair was then easily removed. When opened the liver, lights and heart were taken out for use (except the lights) and the intestines which were carefully cleaned for casings for the sausage. Liver, face, and some from removed backbone were carefully and thoroughly boiled and ground into pudding, my favorite dish, while the feet were parboiled and picked for souse. I sometimes now go down town to one of large restaurants in season and call for my favorite pig kunckles and sauerkraut. Such things once so plentiful have now become luxuries.

What a splendid opportunity now for the wise farmer to cash in if he has turned his wood lot into a pig pasture and dumps in his corn to fatten the beasts.

At Baltimore prices a thrifty farmer could retire after one or two sea-W. J. H. sons.

WHAT. NO LABOR LAWS? unreasonable that trade

by losing more of their annual income than they get in increased wages

And, please remember that President Truman went before Congress at the time of the railroad strike two years ago to ask the right to draft srtiking railway workers into the Army under wartime power. He had his fighting clothes on that day. Actually, he has little excuse to oppose anti-strike legislation, particularly since Democrats joined Republicans in defeating his vetoes of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Any Congressman who is not familiar with the Wagner Act and the Taft-Hartley Act, and the way these laws have been kicked around and denied backing by the White House, ought to resign his place in the councils of the Nation. This may be rather a rash statement, but I don't know how an honest reporter for Family Newspapers can fail to stand firm in the belief that definite and necessary laws for the benefit of all people must include the relations between employers and workers. If we can't clean up that mess at home we are not apt to succeed in our efforts to make the World safe for humanity .---National Industries News Service.

unions like the AFL and the CIO should ask for the repeal of the Taft. Hartley Act, while a crippling strike on the high seas has tied-up shipping and put the Merchant Marine out of business. One report is that an effort will be made by the new Administration to scuttle the Taft-Hartley Act and its predecessor the Wagner Act. Well-independent of what National industries or trade union bosses and new member of Congress may think, the fact is that labor strikes are one of the underlying causes for inflation.

And it also seems perfectly reasonable to expect that differences between employers and wage earners should be adjusted in the future-by leaving out strikes. The scheme to combine "one-fourth of the Taft-Hartley with three-fourths of the Wagner Act" is a childish scheme that may very well be ditched. Why? Uneder the old Wagner Act President Roosevelt took the law in his own hands and set-up commissions, arbitrators, and other hand-picked politicians to "win" the strikes-the way they were told to by the President of the United States.

President Truman has brought the Taft-Hartley Act into the open. He vetoed it twice, and Democrats joined Republicans in passing it over those vetoes.

John L. Lewis was an outstanding figure in proving that the Courts of the land are to be trusted in interpreting the Taft-Hartley Act. The decisions of Judge Goldsborough received the approval and the applause of the American public.

Incidentally, while this correspondent for your Family Newspaper is "neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet" he has said in this correspondence to Family papers throughout the Nation that wasteful strikes should cease to be considered as a political issue. When the question is debated and argued forwards and backwards one reaches the indisputable belief that most workers who go out on unjustified strikes wind up

FEESERSBURG

While the White House is being repaired the President and his family will live in Blair House for nearly a year. From the time a child begins to talk he or she knows what and where the White House is but few people know much about Blair House It was built 124 years ago and bought by the Federal Government in 1942 as an official residence for guests of the government. It is one of Washington's few remaining landmarks. Square, four stories high, its front, door almost opening into the sidewalks of Pennsylvania Ave., less than a block from the White House it is more comfortable than 'it looks. Drawing rooms on the first and secand floors stretch the full length of the house. It has a large wood-perneled dining room and a second floor library, overlooking a small rear garden. There are seven bedrooms, most with connecting sitting rooms. The house is an antique collector's dream. It is fitted with fine pieces of early American and French furniture. Old glass and china are in locked cabinets. One small, main floor room has its walls decorated with cartoons of the Civil War period. Another has a fine collection of Sand-wirh and other early Amerilan glass. has a fortune in original Currier and Ives prints. Dr. Joseph Lovell built Blair House in 1824 and when he died in 1836 it was sold to Francis Blair for $6,500. Today it is worth More than $250,000. Winter's church will be re-painted

HOME

It is more than brick and motar With a roof to shed the storm; It is more than walls and windows With a hearth to keep us warm;

It is more than just a tavern Where hungry mouths are fed Dr. when the journey's ended, We rest our weary head.

It isn't just a hangout When there's nothing else to do When the nightly dates are through

It's a haven when we're battered

By the tempest of the day, Where there's peace and understanding

That will chase our cares away

It's the place our hearts return to, Though our errant feet may roam; It's our earthly bit of heaven-It's that paradise called home!

Last night while the world was doz-

And everything was in slumber still Jack Frost came slyly on a visit And painted everything from hill to hill.

He caroused around and peered at All vegetation within his sight, And then he gently kissed it A most frosty good-night.

He left very pleased with himself. And went speedily on his way So that the blazing sun of morning

Could beam on his display. No man no matter where he may be

Beneath the rising sun Could have ever painted the world In crystal white, like Jack Frost

AUTUMN

We are approaching the end of autumn. To many people autumn is the favorite season. They appreci-ate what it manifests rather than ate what it manifests rather than what it means. Autumn fascinates them by reason of the beautiful tim-ed leaves, and the vari-colored for-ests. These are evidences of the whisper of death. Back of these gor-geous colors is the fundamental truth that a period of decadence is begin-ning to reign in nature.

in at a period of decadence is begin-ning to reign in nature. In nature, fall is a time of inac-tion, sleep, dying, death. One signi-ficant lesson we may learn is that even in death there can be a mani-festation of the beautiful. Autumn also is a season of partings. The tree narts with its leaver, the tree parts with its leaves, the rose with its bloom, and the orchard with its fruit. The tree bereft of its foliage stands naked to combat its foes, and to wrestle with wintry-storms. How different is spring! It is the youth of the four seasons. Springtime youth of the four seasons. Springtime is the season of promise. Autumn is the season which declares the fulfill-ment or the lack of the fulfillment of the promise of spring. Spring is a coming of new life, autumn, the de-parture of life. Spring spells birth, autumn, death. A birth is a happier occasion than a death. However, in each there is hope. Do not lose sight of the fact so easily forgotten each there is hope. Do not lose sight of the fact so easily forgotten that death is the doorway to life. Except a grain of wheat falleth into the ground and dieth it abideth alone. Springtime is phophecy. Autumn is history.

The vicarious principle may be ob-The vicarious principle may be ob-served in autumn. It lays down that spring may take up. Autumn lays down the old that spring may take up the new. All nature becomes in-active in the fall in order that spring may become active. Autumn requires nature to yield its energy one year that it may enjoy a more abundant life the next year. So it goes for all life-both in nature and in man. Spring-autumn, youth-old age, the former a promise of growth, the latter a period of decline. A period of rest, sleep, inactivity followed by a glorious awakening to new energy, new life, and new fruitage.

S TAN JACKSON owned the serv-ice station beside the pine grove a few miles outside the town. It. was a good location and Stan made a fair living. He was a happy-go-lucky sort and everyone liked him, but he had one great fault. He loved to talk. Once he got started it was hard to head him off. Mice were his pet subject at that moment, and he claimed if everyone started to catch them systematically, the country would be saved a million every year. This was Saturday and he'd been busy all day, and so had the cash register. 'What's going on now?" Highway Patrolman Clancy asked as he stepped in.

Stan looked up 9 - Minute the corner where he was bent over J Fiction fixing something.

"I'm trying to catch a mouse," he answered, "and having a time of it, too."

"Trying to save a million dollars, I'll bet." Clancy laughed. "Listen, Stan," Clancy turned serious. "There've been a lot of service stations robbed lately. Don't leave too much cash around."

"Oh, they'd never bother with a place like this." Stan's mind wasn't on Clancy's warning. "Now if I could only catch that mouse." Clancy fled.

The next few hours were busy ones for Stan. The farmers, in town for the evening, were his main customers, but now they were gone and he could close.

Hardly had he settled down when there was a "snap."

"Ah," he cried. "I've got you this time!" Jumping to his feet, he rushed back to the corner. He pushed the box aside, but the mouse was gone, and so was the cheese. Perplexed. Stan scratched his head. This mouse had put it over him for almost a week.

"I'll get you yet!" he muttered shaking a fist.

THE CAR grinding to a stop woke him up. Hardly before he was out of the chair, the door opened and a man stepped in. "Good evening," Stan said. The man looked hard and grim.

"Stand where you are!" The voice sent chills up and down Stan's spine. "Put up your hands." An automatic's snout was pointed where Stan had always considered his heart was. Right now it was pounding in his mouth. His hands shot up with all possible speed. A flashy girl came in and stood beside the man. "Wise guy," the man sneered.

"Yeah, wise guy," the girl said. Stan's eyes stole toward the cash register. There was almost $200 in it. If Clancy were only here. Stan's ears were straining for the sound of the motorcycle. "Here," the man said curtly,

CHRISTMAS SEALS TB Is Everyone's Fight

There are three things that every | individual can do to help in the unremitting war against tuberculosis: Arrange to have his chest X-rayed regularly. See to it that every adult member of his family does the same. Buy Christmas Seals.

This year the nationwide 42nd annual Christmas Seal sale opens November 22 and continues until December 25.

Since 1904, when the National Tuberculosis association was founded, TB has been forced down from the leading cause of death in this country to seventh place.

It is estimated that this represents a saving of four million lives. For if TB had continued at the 1904 rate more than four million more persons would have died of TB between then and now than actually did.

The greater the sale of Christmas Seals, the greater will be the activi-ties of the 3,000 tuberculosis associations-and the nearer will the nation, and the world, be to completeeradication of the disease.

Disease, like ignorance, thrives in the dark. Careful estimates place the number of active TB cases in this country at 500,000. About half of them are known to health authorities and are receiving treatment.

That means that approximately 250,000 people with TB, perhaps ignorant of the fact they have it, arenot only endangering their own lives but may be spreading it to others.

They don't know they have tuberculosis, but that is no excuse. They should know.

In a continuing, nation-wide cam-paign the National Tuberculosis association, cooperating with the medical and nursing professions, the U. S. public health service and state and local health departments, is working ceaselessly to induce every person 15 years of age and over to have a chest X-ray taken regularly. An enlightened, generous American people is still the most effective weapon devised for beating tuberculosis in the United States.

Chest X-Rays To Check On TB

An insidious aspect of tuberculosis is that it has no symptoms in its early stage, when it is easiest to cure. It can be detected, however, even in the early stage by means of a chest X-ray. These people are taking no chances with TB by getting their chests X-rayed. Tuberculosis assoclations cooperate with health departments in providing X-ray services from Christmas Seal Funds.

"Don't try it, sap!" the woman said coldly, motioning him back. A pair of small, beady eyes stared out of a hole in the wall. The mouse started to run across the floor. The girl screamed and, dropping the gun, scrambled up on a chair.

Cursing, the man turned. All the fury in Stan's fist crashed into his face. He went crashing into the wall and slumped.

In the excitement the sound of the motorcycle had gone unnoticed. Clancy stepped inside, surveyed the scene and quietly asked. "What goes on?"

Stan sighed with relief. "You're just in time."

"I think so," Clancy said, dryly, taking the gun out of the shaking hand. "This might go off and damage someone . . . even you.' After the two had been taken away, Stan served Clancy coffee in the rear. Clancy asked, "How did you get the drop on them?'

"Well," Stan replied, "be banded the gun to the girl. Mi-gosh, wait!" he cried, rushing out front. In a few seconds be was back "Look at this," be cried, bolding up the trap The mouse was pinned by the tail.

"Ah! Success!" Clancy chuckled. "The mouse proved my argument," Stan beamed. "It saved the country $200."

Story of Revolution Lesson for December 5, 1948

THE MOST important history in the world is in one small book. The most important movement, the most revolutionary, the one that is destined to change the world more than any other, is the Christian church. The story of how it began is in the book of Acts. No other book in or out of the New Testament tells this story: The history the beginnings

Dr. Foreman of the one and only international, interracial, worldwide movement that sets out to aim at nothing less than a complete transformation of mankind, the Revolution from Within, the Christian Church. . . .

What the Church Is

THERE are hundreds of churches today and they do not all agree. But every church, whatever its name or peculiarities, aims to stay on the course marked out by the Christian church when it was one and undivided, the church of the Apostles. We look back to the story in Acts to see what the true church

In the very beginning, the church was not the place where the Christians met for worship. It was not the officers. The Apostles themselves were not the church. The church was not a thing at all; it was people.

In Acts these people are seldom called Christians and never called churchmen or church-members. They are given more meaningful names. They are called "disciples," that is, learners, students. They are called "believers." They are called "brothers" for their life was like that of a family. They are called the people of "the Way,"—travelers together to the same destination. The church, in short, is a fellowship, the Family of the Friends of Christ.

How the Church Began

THE infant church Began THE infant church was like all human babies; it began small and poor. No bystander would have expected it to live; but it had life in its heart. Two forces set that church on its way. One was the command of Christ.

The people who were in it, or rather the people who were the church, took their orders from Christ. It was because of him that they went out to bear witness to him to the "uttermost parts of the earth."

Arc," joins the crusade against tuberculosis by purchasing her Christmas Seals early. Miss Bergman urges others to follow her example in a trailer which will be shown in movie houses throughout the country during the annual Christmas Seal Sale from Nov. 22 to Dec. 25.

Old Spanish Proverb

An old Spanish proverb says: He who would bring home the wealth of the Indies must carry the wealth of the Indies with him. To this Samuel Johnson, an indefatigable traveler, added: "So it is in traveling. A man must carry knowledge with him if he would bring home knowledge."

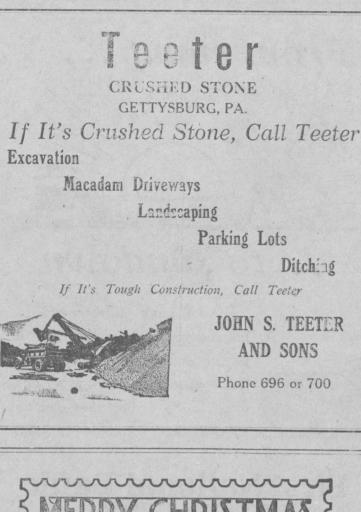

Vitamin A

Things that are naturally colored, particularly green or yelow, such as cream, butter, eggs, carrots, squash, sweet potatoes and all manner of green vegetables contain Vitamin A. COLORED is the word to remember. Get lots of color on the table; it's fashionable, anyway.

How time flies! That's a common expression you've used repeatedly. Keep it in mind when you think about your future and what you can do to make your future secure? There's no trick to security. Just enroll today in trick to security. Just enroll today in the payroll savings plan where you work. Every pay day from now on you'll be setting aside, in United States Savings Bonds, money that actually grows. In 10 short years you'll be get-ting back $100 for every $75 you're wisely setting aside today. U. S. Treasury Department

Here's what has happened to telephone costs

It is our policy to furnish the most and the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

This policy has not changed. But circumstances have changed.

Today, it costs more to provide telephone service - and more to maintain it. Here's a chart comparing the average investment in plant and equipment per telephone in 1939 with the investment required for each telephone added today.

Then the people were filled with the Holy Spirit; they were guided constantly by the Spirit. The book of Acts has often been called the "Acts of the Holy Spirit" rather than of the Apostles.

Leaders

 $G_{\mathrm{they}\ \mathrm{can}\ \mathrm{does}\ \mathrm{for}\ \mathrm{people\ what}}$ guidance of the Spirit was never a substitute for human leadership. A true church is not a mob: It acts, as the New Testament church did, in an orderly fashion.

One of the church's first problems was that of finding leaders. The history in Acts is largely the history of certain leaders-John, Peter, Paul. But these were not alone. Not even the Apostles tried to run the church like a dictatorship. The people themselves chose the officers who were ordained by the Apostles.

FIVE things the Apostolic church did, and these mark any true church today. They "continued in the Apostles' teachings;" the be-ginning of all our church schools and Sunday schools is in that brief phrase. They formed a fellowship; the church then was not a list of names of people who cared little for one another; it was a true family.

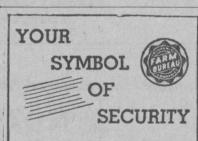

They observed the sacraments; they and their households were baptized, and they continued "in the breaking of the bread." Baptism and the Lord's Supper have always been observed in some form in every Christian church! They 'continued in prayer;" a church in which only the minister prays is a feeble affair.

Above all, they were "witnesses." That is to say, they told the story of Jesus-his life, his teachings, his death, his resurrection. Jesus lives! Jesus is Lord! So the Apostles preached, from Jerusalem to Rome and far beyond. But their preaching would have been mere shouting in the wind, if Christ had not lived again in thousands of everyday Christians.

WHEN rising costs forced us to as! for higher telephone rates in 1940, we asked-in the public's interest - for only the bare minimum required at that time.

Recent wage increases, however, when added to further increased costs of construction, materials and supplies, have brought telephone expenses to an all-time high.

The rate increases previously granted are less than we asked for and much less than needed to meet today's increased costs of operation.

That's why we have had to ask the Public Service Commission for another increase in telephone rates.

While we want to furnish service at the lowest possible cost, telephone rates must be sufficient to meet our day-by-day operating expenses. And there must be enough left over to pay a fair return to investors - the people in all walks of life whose money is used to build telephone facilities. Otherwise they won't continue to put their savings into the telephone business.

Without the investors' money, we cannot complete our current vital construction and improvement program - a program designed to meet the growing telephone needs of Maryland.

It is our job to provide the kind and amount of telephone service you want and need.

We are asking for only enough to do that joband no more.
