

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

THERE ARE MANY WHO ARE HUNGRY

The "Old Ladies" who shed copious tears at the passing of Tom Bereman experienced a hunger which only a lonely heart can know anything about. The world is not as kind to the aged and helpless as it once was, of ours are made to feel they are in "Too often these fathers and mothers the way. Why shouldn't they when they are placed in county homes, church homes, and other institutions for the aged? "There is no place for them in the inn." Will anybody else take the same interest in them as Tom? No, they felt their only friend was gone, that the single person in this big cold world who cared for them had passed away, and they were left behind. Many centuries ago the Psalmist had similar experiences in that he exclaimed: "I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me; refuge failed me; no man cared for my soul." The loneliness that is most lonely is the loneliness felt in the presence of people.

When we possess youth, have plenty, enjoy health, we cannot understand and appreciate many problems of the less fortunate. But many things will grow clearer when you approach the sunset of life, and behold the lengthening shadows on your horizon. The hunger of a forlorn famishing soul is intense, and must be satisfied.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," saith the Master of all good work and noble workmen.

LOOKING AHEAD
 BY GEORGE S. BENSON
 President—Harding College
 Searcy, Arkansas

Ten Million Votes
 If one of the first steps of socialization—government ownership—should come now in this country, ten million voters would be added immediately to the payroll of the federal government. Sounds unbelievable, doesn't it? Ten million votes could make quite a showing on a Tuesday of any November. Mr. Wallace, or any other candidate, could go far with that kind of backing.
 There are approximately that many persons employed in the transportation industry in the United States. Transportation would be one of the first industries to be marked for nationalization, in this country as in Britain. This would include waterways, airlines, and possibly our trucks and their drivers. (Note on airlines: the British Overseas Airways Corporation, government owned and operated, is expected to show a $32 million loss!)

Is This Fantasy?
 Even in taking over American railroads, a would-be dictator could get possibly 1,500,000 votes. There are that many people employed by our railroads. Not all of them would vote the party line, at first. That would reduce the number of rail employees somewhat, until replacements were available. Of course, a new and revised form of WPA would be set up to absorb the unemployed. But even a WPA-er can vote. Either way, perhaps, the government would appreciate votes!
 Lest we carry this satire too far, I will interrupt by saying that such a mess as the above is not sheer fantasy. It could happen here. The worst thing about it is that the general public, and even many folks in the transportation industry, are unaware of the danger. Yet, economic collapse and consequent government ownership is quite possible. The nation would not have to go Communist or be conquered by Russia for this to happen.

Socialism, Quickly
 Yet, some of those who are closest to the transportation industry fear that collapse may come. The trouble lies in outmoded forms of Federal regulation. Too much bureaucracy can take us to socialism more quickly than we think.
 This setting of the scene for trouble goes back a generation. The nation has compromised on policies so long that the result is a patchwork of rules and regulations that creates as much inefficiency as possible. Over 50 government bureaus are charged with supervising some kind of transportation, with little overall coordination of policy. Actually, in event our common carriers find business no longer profitable, the government is already well prepared to begin the take-over.

Elbow-room!
 The trouble is that despite the largest volume of peacetime traffic, too few of our common carriers are able to make enough profit to attract capital to the industry. If nationalization comes in this country, it may well come because private capital has dried up as far as transportation is concerned.
 The problem is this: We must have efficient, low cost transportation, and we must have it the American way. At a time when our railroads, like other forms of transport, are trying desperately to reconstruct themselves after an all-out job in wartime, we can ill afford to shackle them with heavy tax burdens and other financial obstacles that prevent rehabilitation. As the president of one of our largest life insurance companies puts it: "Our railroads need financial elbow-room."

Archives Building
 Mighty doors of bronze guard the entrance to the archives building in Washington, D. C. Each of the doors is 35 feet high, nine feet wide and one foot thick, and each weighs more than 10 tons.
"Rock Hound"
 An oil field term for a geologist is a "rock hound." He acquires this appellation because he looks rocks and ranges over like a coon dog. Another descriptive name for the scientist is a "pebble puppy."

Self-Made Hero Admits He Falsified Army Records
CHICAGO—John A. Keller, Jr., who wanted to be a war hero, pleaded guilty to a charge of falsifying army records.
 Keller, a Peotone, Ill., salesman, went to work as a clerk in Washington's huge Pentagon building during the war and came out a self-appointed second lieutenant.
 He worked in the officers' records branch, and wrote his own record, complete with parachute raids behind enemy lines in Europe.
 He awarded himself numerous medals and citations, including the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantry Badge and the Purple Heart with oak leaf cluster.
 At his hearing Federal Judge William J. Campbell asked him why he did it.
 "I don't know," Keller replied. "It was a foolish thing to do."
 His atrophied right arm kept him out of the army, he said.
 Keller's wife, a pretty blonde with an honorable discharge from the Waves, wept. She said her husband had lost his job as a salesman because of the episode.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sundry School Lessons
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 3; Luke 3:1-23a;
7:18-35; John 1:19-34.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 1:59-67,
76-80.

No Greater Prophet

Lesson for January 23, 1949

"OF ALL the characters in history, which one do you admire most?" We know how Jesus answered that interested question.

Dr. Foreman

He had a great array of personages from whom to make his selection. But he took as the Great Man of all time, up to his own generation, no heroic figure from the past, no king, general, scholar or prophet. The greatest man, for Jesus—or at least one so great that he could think of none greater—was one of his own contemporaries, a cousin of his who was in jail at the time when Jesus said of him, "Among those born of women none is greater than John." Known to us as John the Baptist, that is, John the Baptizer, we seldom realize either his greatness or the close connection between his life and that of Jesus.

John of the Jordan

WE DO not know how much Jesus himself owed to John. We do know that John was the man who first called the public's attention to Jesus. John it was who gave some of Jesus' most important disciples their first training; John who introduced to Jesus, and turned over to him, some of his own followers. It may be significant too that Jesus' first preaching was identical with that of John (compare Matthew 3:2 and 4:17).

Some Christian scholars have gone so far as to suppose that it was John's preaching that stirred the young carpenter from Nazareth to leave his shop and begin his great work as teacher.

Whether this is so or not, we do know that it was the baptizing by John which led to the baptism of Jesus, and that Jesus' baptism was the turning-point between Jesus' private life and his short and stormy public career. It is quite clear that if there had been no John the Baptizer, the story of Jesus would have been very different from what it actually was.

Only a Voice

JOHN'S own picture of himself is not a picture at all. When they asked him to say what he was, and half-expected him to declare that he was the Messiah, the long-looked-for King, John said only, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness."

John, so far as we know, never accepted dinner invitations, he was never under the roof of any friend, and he had no roof of his own. People even called him demon-possessed, he was so far removed from ordinary life.

But Jesus was always in people's homes. That is one reason why the greatness of John fades before the greatness of Jesus, for a Voice makes a poor companion. Jesus had the human sympathy that John lacked, and John well knew this. "He must increase, but I must decrease," he said.

Repentance: Seed and Fruit

NEVERTHELESS the Voice spoke truth. John must have been a powerful preacher, for his meetings were held miles from the nearest town, so that to reach him from Jerusalem one would have to travel through wild country infested with bandits. Few modern preachers, without benefit of advertising, music or choir, without even a tent, would dare to start a revival meeting 15 rough miles out of town. But John did—and the people came in crowds. We do not have the full report of his preaching that we have of the preaching of Jesus, but we do know that he broke the hard crust of his listeners' conscience.

He made them see how unfit they were for the Kingdom of God for which they prayed; he broke down their pride till they went down to the Jordan and were baptized under the open sky, in public confession of their sins.

When men asked him, What shall we do? John did not have the fuller, higher message that Jesus later had. But he did make plain two things about the good life, the life that pleases God: it cannot even begin without repentance and confession of sin, but it does not end there. Repentance is not a simple granite milestone on life's way; it is a seed which if it is real will bear fruit.

Down the Line

with Johnny Bell

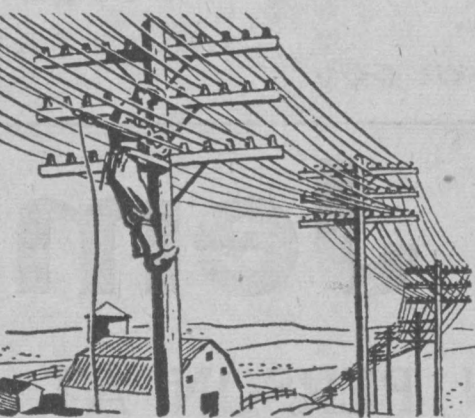

We call it "the spirit of service"

The man was making slow headway against the howling wind. It was bitter cold and the swirling snow seemed to attack him angrily. Halfway down the block he fell in beside a young woman headed in the same direction.

"Pretty tough going," he volunteered. "Not so good, but it might be worse," she smiled back at him. They trudged along together. "Say, this is fierce," he said. "No day for you to be out. My office will be practically closed and so will yours. If I were you, I'd turn back. That's what I'm doing. I can do my business by telephone today." She smiled again and waved her hand cheerily. "Nope," she said, "I'm on my way. I'm your telephone operator."

6,200 miles of wire added in 12 months

During the past 12 months, as part of our job of extending rural telephone service, we've strung 6,200 miles of open wire and wire in cable... added 9,400 new telephone poles... and installed 5,400 telephones, bringing the total number in service to 53,700. We're making good progress on our $6,900,000 program to bring better service to more families in the rural areas we serve.

Can you spot "the missing link"?

Your party-line telephone is just like a link in a chain. When one telephone receiver on the line is left off the hook, the chain is broken. No one on the line can call or be called.

So won't you see that your telephone stand is free of books and other objects that might keep the receiver from its proper position. And please hang up carefully after each call. That way, you'll help your neighbors and yourself to better telephone service. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

YOU CAN'T WIN ... by Yourself!

There's still a lot of fighting to be done. There are things that need to be stopped, things that need to be changed, things that need to be avoided. You KNOW it.

But are you going to try to lick the world by yourself? Of course not. Not after what YOU'VE learned about TEAMWORK. You know America's problems can be licked with teamwork.

That's why ten thousand ex-service men and women from World War II are joining The American Legion every day. That's why we know you'll want to be a Legionnaire.

What are the sorts of things local posts do?

They provide equipment for hospitals... they distribute food and funds to the needy... they provide counselling service for veterans and their families. They do these things and many more in every line of civic improvement.

"TOP FEED" PURINA LAYENA CHECKERS

FOR EXTRA EGGS

Yes, give your laying flock the extra feed needed for extra production. Regardless of what mash you're using—"Top-feed" Purina Layena Checkers.

Since most hens do not eat enough mash "top feeding" Layena Checkers gets more quality mash into the hens and helps make 'em lay more eggs. Easy and economical, too!

SEE HOW "TOP FEEDING" GIVES YOU DOUBLE OR TRIPLE PROFIT OPPORTUNITIES FROM 100 HENS

ORDINARY PRODUCTION

19 lbs. of feed for body and 4 lbs. for eggs per day will support an "ordinary" production of 40 eggs per 100 hens. These 40 eggs will just about pay feed, labor and other costs.

EXTRA PRODUCTION

3 additional lbs. of Layena Checkers per day are enough to make 20 additional eggs. In other words, for a cost of about 15c many growers make about 80c worth of eggs—or 65c extra per 100 hens a day.
