Going by the way of Frederick the party arrived at the National Airport at 12:50 P. M., where they had lunch After watching planes arriving and leaving for many destinations the next stop was in the National ceme-

Another interesting stopping point was at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Following the interesting viewing of the printing of U. S. currency and bonds the group divided, some going to the Federal Bureau of Investigation building while others spent their time in the Smithsonian Institute.

The evening meal was another highlight of the day. Several members who were unable to spend the entire day with the Chamber of Commerce joined the party for the evening meal at a famous Sea Food Restaurant in Washington.

Following the meal the next entertainment on the agenda was the ball game between Washington and Boston. The double header game was delayed by a heavy thunder shower, the second game ending after 12 o'clock midnight.

The group arrived back in Taneytown about 2:30 this morning. Mr. M. C. Fuss and Mr. Edmund Morrison and the committee in charge are to be congratulated on the fine and well-planned program for the C. of C. Annual Picnic.

NEW LANDMARK FOR TANEYTOWN

Rev. Owen Points Out the Value of the New Park

When the proposed park, described in last week's article, is completed, it will constitute one of the chief landmarks of Taneytown, and will be known far and wide. Toward this end much has already been accomplished. The land has been purchased, graded and sodded. A model baseball diamond has been completed, fenced, and is now in use. A grandstand has been erected and water pipes in-stalled. These, together with other achievements, have already been comachievements, have already been completed free of any debt. This has been paid for by the generous response of interested citizens and friends of Taneytown, who believe in the future of our community.

Now the second phase of the undertaking awaits completion. That consists of the creation of a beautiful park as skatched on the man located park as sketched on the map located in the window of the Taneytown Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Here everyone can see what it will be like when it is finished. In the park there will be a lake, swimming pool, play ground facilities for the children, picnic tables, a pavillion, and shade trees. It all has been artistically sketched by the Landscaping De-partment of Maryland University.

The cost of finishing the park will be much less than the average person will imagine. Under the wise and conscientious management of those in charge, part of the work is being donated or done at nominal cost by interested persons.

With the help of all this park can be completed before very long. The formation of the land is naturally suited for a small lake and swimming pool. These can be constructed at a very low cost. And when the park is completed and paid for it will belong to the people of Taneytown.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN Says the distinguished poet in surveying the opportunities we miss:
"For all the sad words of tongue or

The saddest are these: "It might have been."

Let not such an epitaph ever be pinned over any worthy undertaking in Taneytown like the park now being constructed.

ing constructed.

For example, one of the lamented stories sadly told by the business mn of Cincinnati, as related in another article, was how that city missed the golden opportunity of becoming the Detroit of America, the automobile capital of the nation. The airty that had made the carriages of city that had made the carriages of America could now be making the au-tomobiles. This opportunity was first almost anv Taneytown. But here is one opportunity knocking at our door which the wide-awake citizens of our community, will not miss, neither let it pass by.

OBJECT OF OUR PRIDE

When visitors come to our community we like to tell them about merits of Taneytown. We tell them about our institutions and show them our attractive schools, beautiful churches and industrial plants. We take our visitors out East Baltimore street to see the magnificent homes artistically designed and ornamented with attractive shrubbery and flower gardens. We take pride in these things. It helps to make people want to come to Taneytown to live or establish their business here.

Rut one of the choicest places we will love to take our visitors, will be to see our beautiful park when it is completed. That also will be the pride of our hearts, All these things will become an emblem of the culture and wealth of Taneytown. It will help foster the community spirit that will nut any town on the map.

This new park will be a place where we will love to go for our outings for friends and family groups. There, under the shade trees by the water where the cool breezes blow, will be a choice spot for our summer nicnics and social gatherings. One citizen has said that he would like to see such a park in Tanevtown where the Sunday Schools could hold their annual picnics, and where the churches could hold their Sunday evening vespers. It was his conviction that neople would come to such a place for an attractive Sunday evening program during the summer. This is being done with success in many other communities. At the nresent time Taneytown has no facilities in the community for any of these things.

Everyone in Taneytown will want to get behind this undertaking with enthusiastic support and have a share in its completion. Then each one can proudly say: "The park belongs to me. I helped to build it." And it will stand as a thing of beauty, a joy forever, and an emblem of what God and man, working together, can fashion for a choice community.

salad, rolls, potato chips, deviled eggs, tomatoes, iced tea, coffee and cake, a short program was presented. Knowing the historinic ability of those taking part one cannot be surprised at the appreciation of the audience. Those interested in "Plan-ning the Husband's Banquet" were: Mrs. John Tyler, Mrs. Charles Stambaugh, Mrs. William Abrecht, Miss Elizabeth Annan, Miss Catherine Hess and Miss Anna Galt. "Betty's Blunder" a skit with Mrs. Francis Walker and Eugene Stambaugh as Betty and sister's beau was most amusing and provoked hearty laughter. Mrs. James Lord, Jr., gave "A Trickster Tricked" in her own inimitable way. And thus ended another

NEWLY SURFACED STREET AND ROAD

August meeting.

At the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown, Monday evening, bids were opened for the completion of Roberts Mill Road in the north-east of town as follows: L. R. Waesche & Sons, of Frederick, Md., $4341.50; Nickoles & Erb, Inc., Sykesville, Md., $411.20 and W. Wilson Utz. of Taneytown $3701170.

The awarding of the contract was made to the last named firm who will build a macadam street, wide to the corporate limits on Roberts Mill Road. This road construction was continued from this point, the corporate line, by the County Commissioners to Taneytown Rod & Gun Club Grounds, the work being done this week by Nickoles & Erb, Inc. It is planned to complete this road through to Stumptown in the near future. When this road is finished a surface road from Taneytown will join the Sell's Mill road leading off from the Taneytown-Westminster road and will almost give the public all hard roads leading to Taney-

In seeking a gleam of light in today's confusion— "Tis a wondrous day to be alive in..let's bend our backs to the load—Professor Beard epitomized a philosophy of history in four sentences: (1) "Those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad;" (2) "The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine"; (3) "The bee fertilizes the flower that it robs"; and (4) "But it must be dark to see the stars." Mr. Reifsnyder extracted from these kernels considerable nutriment in a short space and closed with the obshort space and closed with the observation that we must go through a period of testing. #### WORLD WAR III

Must we have another war? We already have it in Korea. American soldiers are giving their lives by scores and hundreds to help that good people who really desire to live in peace, and would if Stalin would call off his followers in Northern Korea.

We have noble leaders in those parts, MacArthur and others who will in the end win but not until many American homes are made to mourn for loss of brother, father, husband.

Jesus was the Prince of Peace, yet he said "I came not to bring peace but the sword." How soon will World War III begin? That depends on Stalin and his evil-minded colleagues. Will war come in 3 or 4 years? He means to fill each other country with his followers so that he can seize these countries and compel them to do his bidding.

He has so far outsmarted the leaders of other lands-Roosevelt, Truman, even Churchhill, and has already brought into his fold the European countries to the east of Russia, and is making great headway in China.

Surely Armageddon is approaching, and faster we fear than we de--WJH

SENSIBLE SOLUTION

At least one American city is doing something reasonable about the all-night parking of automobiles on city streets.

Milwaukee, according to a report to the International City Managers' Association, has repealed its ordinance prohibiting such parking, and has substituted a system of permits at a rate of $4 a month where garage space is unobtainable. The revenue will be used to provide public off-street parking facilities.

Most cities in the United States forbid cars to be left on the streets overnight. In many areas there are valid reasons of police or fire protection for doing this.

But the ordinances often are enforced arbitrarily sketchily or not

Some residential zoning has so far omitted provision for garages that streets are the only practicable place for automobile storage.

Due to several factors, Washington, the national capital, has found its streets seriously obstructed by not merely all-night but all-year parking. Under such conditions, the Milwaukee solution has a refreshing content of common sense about it.

An Automatic Electric Bed Cover

It will be blanket time sooner than you think! And until you've done your cold weather sleeping under an automatic electric bed-cover you haven't experienced the delights of perfect rest. No more crawling between chilly sheets.

Turned on a few minutes before retiring, your automatic cover will provide a cozily pre-warmed bed. Never again will you wake shivering to dig out extra covers, or rouse hot and irritable to toss off unneeded blankets. All through the night the automatic control maintains the same even, just-right warmth, regardless of sudden outside temperature changes.

TYPICAL AUTOMATIC CONTROL

You'll enjoy its featherweight freedom. You'll have only one cover to store, one cover to wash, one cover to handle in making beds.

Automatic bed covers are available in a wide variety of beautiful styles, materials and colors. They are easy to wash in your own machine, cheap to use (less than 2¢ a night), and inexpensive to buy.

Reserve yours today and be prepared for new delights in next winter's

The Frizellburg Homemakers Club sponsored a sight-seeing trip to Washington on Tuesday. Mrs. Walter Senft of this place was chairman of the committee arranging this trip. On their way to Washington they witnessed a terrible accident between Gaithersburg and Rockville, The traffic was tied up for about a mile. A car went over an embankment striking a pole, which was completely severed and landed on its top and was demolished, the injured were taken away in the fire truck ambulance. The bus continued on its way on reaching the city they first visited the Cathedral, after a tour of this beautiful structure they enjoyed a picnic lunch on the grounds adjoining. They went to the Botanical Gardens and then to the Monastery, after which they spent several hours at the Zoo. On their way home they stopped at Martin's Dairy Bar for their supper. There were 27 ladies on the bus driven by Mr. Harvey Leister. All expressed themselves as having thoroughly enjoyed the

FEESERSBURG

Dr. Thomas H. Legg, democratic candidate for the State Senate and Union Bridge's leading citizen, enter-tained the candidates of his party at "Trevanion", his country home, near Taneytown, on Friday evening. A sup-per was served, followed by a meeting of the state Central Committee. Dr. Legg showed his guests through the fine old mansion which was built in 1817. The old slave quarters, dungeon and cook house adjoining the main house are still in good condition and are of great interest to the visitor. The estate even has its own chapel, which at the time the man-sion was built, was as necessary as a kitchen. Besides Dr. Legg, Union Bridge has two other candidates this year. They are Mr. Lee Erb, Democrat, and Mr. William Main, Republican, both running for Judge of the Orphans' Court.

The Mt. Union Lutheran Sunday School held its annual picnic last Thursday evening at Rocky Ridge Park with 105 children and adults present. Each year the picnic grows in popularity due no doubt to the work of the committee on arrange-ments. This year the children were taken from the parish house to the park by straw ride which was a treat all its own. At the park the sliding board proved popular to both the young and not so young. Old-fashioned games were played which did not include "postoffice". When everyone was tired and hungry the refreshment bell rang and every one hurried to get their fill of ice cream, cake and soft drinks. Those on the committee who deserve a round of applause for a delightful evening were Mrs. Russell Bohn, Mrs. Donald Lambert, Mrs. Harry Buffington, Ralph Bair and Earl Wilhide.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, Ray Crouse and Mrs. Frank Martin enjoyed an outing at Miami Beach, near Baltimore. In the midst of their fun a heavy storm came up and they were forced to take cover. It's too bad we didn't get some of the rain here

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fink and children took a drive Sunday to Hagerstown over the mountains by way of Thurmont and Blue Ridge Summitt and on home by way of Hag-ertsown and Middletown. This is a beautiful drive especially in the fall

Virginia Ellen Miller, Baltimore, spent a week with her grandparents the David Millers.

Now that this tale will have a happy ending it can be told. Two weeks ago my better half lost his wallet containing a considerable sum of money and some valuable papers. He had an idea he lost it in the hay field while raking hay and so he spent two days going over the hay, but the pocket book was not found. Finally everyone gave it up as one of those unfortunate happenings and almost forgot about the event. Sunday morning while walking around the chicken yard I found the wallet. I told the head of the house where I had found it, he remembered chasing some chickens and evidently lost it then. Incidentally I did not get any reward. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waltz, of Clear Ridge, were callers Saturday evening at the Lee Finks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and children recently enjoyed a trip to Niagara Falls. Mrs. Grenville Erb spent last week at Atlantic City and this week is visiting friends in Philadelphia. If you've ever watched a mother cat with her new kittens, you've noticed how anxious and disturbed she is if anyone picks up one of them. Every new mother has this anxiety whether she be animal or a human. When you visit a friend or relative with a new baby don't handle the infant unless the mother asks you to, and never, never kiss him. It doesn't mean a thing to the baby anyhow.

The Lions Club of Union Bridge, will hold its annual Carnival, August 17. 18 and 19 at the Firemen's Park This is a modest organization, doing its good deeds for the community without fanfare or publicity. It deserves the community's support.

Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Booher were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coshun and daughter, Evelyn and son, Ralph, and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Roelke and daughter, Nancy.

The Francis Scott Key Grange held its regular monthly meeting Friday evening at the hall in Keysville with Master Millard Roelke presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crum, of the Walkersville Grange were special guests and Mr. Crum gave an informative talk on how to make a grange an interesting and necessary part of the community. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served by Jean Stonesifer, Richard from Friday evening till Sunday Stonsifer, Nancy Roelke and Fred Stonesifer. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bohn and Mr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Leitz, Baltimore, were dinner guests of the Cleon Wolfes, Sunday.

Mrs. Bruce Shirk who has been a patient at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, has returned home and is getting along satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keyser and Mr.

William Deberry were Sunday visitors at the Russell Bohns.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonn and daughter, Patsy and son, Neal, left Sunday for a vacation through the New England States.

Miss Kay Luttrell spent Tuesday with Nancy Roelke, at Mt. Union.

O'er many weary miles we've trod Together, you and I, My day time comrade who, at night So faithfully stood by.

This world will little realize How much I grieve to lose The faithful friend that you have been My good old pair of shoes!

BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY HELD

On the eve of her 85th birthday surprise dinner party was given for Mrs. David M. Mehring. It was held at Basehoar's Inn, Littlestown, Pa. Twenty one gathered around the festive board. In the center was a large beautifully decorated birthday cake. Potted plants and trailing ivy were used to further decorate the table. A sumptuous dinner was served and after the cake and ice cream were eaten, Mrs. Mehring was guided to a nearby table where lovely gifts were piled. The party sang "Happy Birthday" and she removed of the same of the s sponded graciously by telling of her appreciation for all the nice things that had been done in her honor.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation for the cards and gifts that I received on my birthday. These expressions of love and friendship helped to make my 85th birthday one to long remember. MRS. D. M. MEHRING.

MANY THANKS

Millija Liepins has asked us to express her appreciation for the many thoughtful remembrances received on her birthday, August 8th. Millija was so overwhelmed by these expressions that it was impossible for her to write her thanks in English as adequately as she would have liked. It was her first birthday in America, and it cannot help but remain a memorable occasion to her in years to come-especially when the kindness and generosity of the American way of life was so beautifully shown by the people of Taneytown. Millija is looking forward to meeting all of you who helped bring her so much happiness at this time. MR. AND MRS. ROBERT W. SMITH

Steel Production

America's steel capacity, now the largest in history, is being further expanded and improved. Today it stands at more than 96,100,000 tons, of steel ingots a year. By the end of next year it will have been increased to 98,800,000 tons . . . an increase of more than 7,600,000 in four years.

Farm Income

Net income from farming to all persons on farms increased again in 1948. However, the prices farmers had to pay for family living and maintenance were the highest on record; and in terms of what it would buy, net income from farming for all persons living on farms was the lowest since 1941.

Control Cattle Grubs

A spray mixture to control cattle grubs is made by mixing seven and one-half pounds of a material that contains 5 per cent rotenone into 100 gallons of water. Another mixture that will give good control is a dust that contains about 2 per

Uses of Soybeans

Today, the soybean is used for producing high protein flour. It also is used in producing 53 per cent of the vegetable oils used in making shortenings and 44 per cent of that used in margarine. It is the source of 64 per cent of all the oilmeal proteins fed in producing this nation's livestock, hogs and poultry.

Ile de France

Ile de France, launched March 14, 1926, made her maiden voyage to New York on June 22 of the following year. Up to September, 1939, she carried 245,000 passengers in 346 crossings of the Atlantic. During her war and postwar repatriation service, for which she received the Croix de Guerre with Palms, she carried nearly half a million troops.

Personality in Dogs According to books, dogs have personality and character traits, just like people. Terriers, are friendly and have courage and tenacity. A Spitz is an independent dog who wants to be treated fairly and squarely and the Pekingese is "the meek sister" of the dog kingdom.

Food for Sharks

A meal consisting of an old boot, a discarded shirt, a sack of coal or several tin cans often will quench the appetite of voracious kinds of sharks. Contrary to popular belief, attempts to drive off a shark by blows or splashing "are likely to be futile" if persons in the water are bleeding from injuries.

Earl Sets Up Roadside Mart To Save Estate

LONDON.—The traveler or motorist passing Stafford may stop at the roadside and buy apples and cabbages grown by the premier earl of England and Ireland.

Not exactly from his lordship, of course, but certainly from fields owned and managed by the 34-year old Earl of Shrewsbury and Waterford. The earl lives in stately Ingestre Hall and is known locally as the "tilled Barrow boy."

The vegetable stand is not a pose or a stunt. The roadside enterprise, the earl explains, is just a commonsense effort to help save what is left of the premier earldom of the realm. It was created in 1442, and while it is not the oldest earldom in the land, it is the first in prestige protocol.

Cash Running Out

Under a Socialist administration and in an age in which the rural landlord is fast running out of ready cash, desperate measures were called for to preserve at least the heart of the old estate.

There was a good deal to save and the earl, passing out farm produce, is by no means a pauperhe's just land poor. One measure was the sale of a third of the 6,000 acre estate; another was the roadside vegetable stand. The earl formerly sold produce and game to dealers and restaurants. He decided to reduce prices to the ultimate consumer and increase his own earnings by cutting out the middleman.

He now dreams of setting up a string of stands and shops to be provisioned by the thousands of acres still under his control.

He is equally proud of the sign on the vegetable stand which informs the passer that the 21st earl of Shrewsbury and Waterford is 'licensed to deal in game." Such licenses are difficult to get, but the earl has his. Some of the games for sale is shot by the earl himself in the woods and fields about Ingestre

The auction sale of about 2,000 acres, divided into 13 farms and numerous small plots, was a spectacular example of what is happening to Britain's aristocracy. It's not as cushy to be an earl as it

Kept Old Tenants

When the earl decided he had to retrench by selling some lands which had been in the family since the year 1170 he arranged, as far as possible, to have his old tenants buy the properties they occupied. The sale was necessary, said the auctioneer, because of the "merciless taxation" to which the land has been subjected. The sale realized about $414,000 under the old valuation of the British pound.

"That's pretty good," the earl remarked ruefully, but Sir Stafford Cripps (chancellor of the exchequer) will get most of it."

The former tenants, who are now just neighbors, are as proud of the premier earldom as the lord himself. They boast that the seventh earl of Shrewsbury won 40 battles in the 15th century wars against France, and that the 20th earl. granfather of the present holder of the title, deserves well of history because he got the bright idea of putting rubber tires on hansom cabs. London became a quieter town.

Scottish Writer Has Term For Modern Big-Word Usage

PERTH, SCOTLAND.-There is a word for all that fancy, modern, streamlined wordage you've been hearing and reading lately — it's "barnacular."

That's what author - journalist Ivor Brown calls it. And he says those "ten-dollar words" are clinging like parasitic barnacles to the vernacular, the plain, old language most people speak every day. For instance, he points out that no one is ever "ill" nowadays he is just "maladjusted." A "bad boy" is that no longer, he is a "juvenile delinguent."

"If a man calls food 'food,' " Brown went on, "he is branded as a simple fellow, but if he can write a memo about 'units of nutritional intake' he is regarded as indispensable and, most likely, gets a raise in pay."

served that no one is ever "poor" anymore—he is "underprivileged." "We have 'wonder girls,' 'glam-our girls' and 'swim suits,'" he said, "and only 'blondes' appear in court. Brunettes either stay innocent outside or the color of their

WASHINGTON. - Seldom irritable, the President was showing signs of it as he had to repeat himself several times at his regular news conference because reporters couldn't hear him.

But it wasn't his fault, he said. He blamed the poor acoustics on the fact that someone had spilled ink on his nice, inch-thick office rug and it was out being cleaned.

Dying Felon Chooses To Remain in Prison After Term Expires

JOLIET, ILL.—A sick, old convict, whose sentence has ended, has decided to stay in prison. He will remain at Joliet penitentiary as a "guest of the state" because he is homeless, friendless and dying.

Alex Rhode, 73, has not known much else but prisons. He has passed most of the last 42 years in some penal institution. He had been serving a 10-year sentence for larceny, had saved up $600 and was looking forward eagerly to his release from Joliet.

But for 90 days he had been in the prison hospital, complaining of stomach pains and nausea. He wanted to get an outside hospital but all were full. Then the warden told him he could stay on at Joliet, coming and going as he pleased, whenever the doctor said he was able.

Rhode still wanted to get into an outside hospital.

The prison doctor asked him where he'd go if he were released that minute. Rhode said he might stay on a bus until he got to Cali-

Then the prison doctor said: "We have not told you this before, Alex, but you have an inoperable cancer, You must have regular blood counts and transfusions. You could never stand the trip.'

Rhode paled, then accepted a pack of cigarettes from an inmate nurse.

"There's no one to care for you outside," the doctor reminded him. "Here, these inmate nurses will treat you like their own father."

Rhode was silent, took a long look out the prison window.
"I guess I'd better stay," was all he said.

Paris' 'New Look' for Men Embodies Prune-Color Coat

PARIS.—There's a "new look" for men which has been unveiled here. It includes plunging purple neckline and all.

It's all because tailor Gaston Waltener believes man today is in a state of "vestimentary in-feriority." Then Waltener showed an audience what he would do about it.

Four young men from the con-servatory of dramatic arts there were no male fashion models w' would hold still-turned and walked about to show such confidence-boosting ensembles

A black ski outfit, with red paisley scarf and green laced boots.

Finger-length coats. Alligator skin shoes with inchhigh crepe soles.

A purplish, prune-colored dinjacket with a "plunging neckline"-plunging to the middle of the stomach.

Most poisonous comment came from a British reporter: "If I'd known this was coming up, I'd have worn my dungarees.

Priests Sell Rare Antiques For Dime-Store Price Scale

CARTHAGE, TUNISIA.-Tourists with a taste for real antiques now can buy pottery treasures at dimestore prices right in the ruins of ancient Carthage.

The authenticity of their early Christian or even pre-Christian origins is vouched for by the learned Catholic "white fathers" in charge of excavations.

Their sale, in fact, is due to the enterprising fathers. In the past 70 years they have dug up more than their museum, the best of its kind in Africa, can hold.

A hundred francs, about 28 cents, will buy a little round pottery perfume bottle; for 500 francs one can have a slender tube or iridescent glass used by fourth century beauties to hold their perfumes.

Early Christian oil lamps, made from red clay with pressed flower or animal designs, with wick openings blackened by use showing through the mold and dust of centuries, are offered for 200 to 400

A tray of Punic coins, green with age but with beautiful animal traceries, carries a "100 francs each" price tag. The bargain special is a bowl of stone sling shot balls at 10 francs per "bullet."

Forrestal Residence Leased As U.S. Visitor Guest House

WASHINGTON. - The federa. government has leased the residence of the late James V. Forrestal, one-time U.S. defense secretary, as a guest house for distinguished foreign visitors. The annoucement was made by the state department.

The lease, signed with Forrestal's widow, was to run from October 12, 1949, to June 30, 1950, with the right of renewal.

Situated at 3508 Prospect Avenue N. W., in the old Georgetown area of the city, the big Georgian brick house sets high on a bluff overlooking the Potomac river.

The house was leased fully furnished, with the Shah of Persia expected to be its first occupant.

He Loved Teaching

Lesson for August 13, 1950

WHAT WOULD you do if you had a million dollars? Several thousand school teachers were asked that question a few years ago. Seventy-five per cent of them gave the same answer: "I'd resign." They weren't real teachers, they were only hired help. The other twenty - five per cent were the real teachers. A great university teacher, Palmer of Harvard, wrote that he had the perfect job. Believe it or not, he said, "Harvard actually pays Dr. Foreman me for doing what-if I could afford it-I would gladly pay Harvard to

No Finished Product

THE REAL thing about teaching is that you are dealing with people, young people, growing people. In every other line of business, whatever you turn out begins to depreciate almost as soon as it leaves the factory.

It doesn't take long for butter to get rancid, or bread stale. A coldstorage egg is a feeble imitation of a fresh one. A car that has changed hands once, even if it has run less than 1,000 miles, is already a "used" car on its way to the junk-pile.

But the products of the teacher's classroom are by no means "finished" products when they leave it, even if it is a finishing school. If the teacher's work has been done well, the product will go on improving for years, instead of running down.

Three Aims

PROFESSOR EZRA, of Babylon and Jerusalem, was one of history's most famous teachers. We note (Ezra 7:10) the same three aims in Ezra's life that you would expect to find in all good teachers. First of all, he "prepared his heart" to do what he did. The 'heart' is the Bible expression for character, for life as a whole. No one can be a truly good teacher who has a bad character.

Now Ezra prepared his heart to do three things. The first was to "seek the law of the Lord." What a teacher teaches may be as important as who his pupils are; and Ezra's "subject" was the law which God had given his people—part of what we now call the Old Testament. Nowadays this is called research, but a simple word for it is just study. A lazy teacher is a poor one. A good teacher will spend TERMS OF SALE: CASH. more time studying than any of the pupils do-and will learn more, too. In fact, the best way to learn anything, including the Bible, is to try to teach it for a while.

Second, Ezra prepared his heart to do the law. The old sneer, "He who can, does; he who cannot, teaches," is true of poor teachers, not of the good ones. Particularly not true of Bible teachers. The aim of Bible teaching, from Moses' time till now, is always practical. "Truth is in order to goodness." as the Presbyterians say. One who has not tried out the Bible ideals in daily living will never do for a Bible teacher.

And third, Ezra set out to "teach in Israel." Your research scholar may or may not make a good teacher. The good teacher is not bored by teaching as some researchers are. He loves it. He is happiest chicken house.

Take Yourself, for Example

NOW LET US see how this comes out in your own home Sunday school. If yours is like most Sunday schools, the main trouble with it is that they can't find enough good teachers, enough people who really want to know about God's word themselves, who live and love to help others know it.

The Rev. H. M. Lewis of Texas has said in his essay, The Dividends of Teaching:

"When you begin to teach you will realize that at last you have found a purpose for your religion . Teaching gives a motive, the highest motive, for all acts of religion and for all pursuit of knowledge—'For their sakes.' Every Christian has the missionary obligation and is by virtue of his profession of faith, a missionary,-'Go, teach all nations.' Make your particular nation young America and your special opportunity systematic work in the Church school. Once you believe that you must be a teacher because you are a Christian . . . you will have heard your life's call."

GRAINS OF SAND

Grains of sand and water drops Form the land will rear the crops. Times of plenty, times of want Find us fat or find us gaunt. What if it is cold today? Tomorrow's sun will chase away All the frost from out the air Never fear and never care, For the seasons as they go Bring us rain or bring us snow. Sun or rain, cloud or clear We have naught to dread or fear For it is the time of year
To bring forth the crops to cheer,
Happy, happy is the time,
Serpents creep and squirrels climb Any day at any time
Of the things now possessed
Carroll Record is the best.

No Reward Withheld

ANY are the instances in the Bible of great rewards bestowed on those who put their trust in God and sought to do His will. Among others, we find in Gene-sis the record of Joseph, who through his humility and uprightness of heart, his reliance on God, found release from unjust imprisonment, was made ruler over all the land of Egypt, and saved the world

Just and adequate reward always accompanies right motives and actions. This is a divine law, universal and eternal, for right motives and actions have their source in God, their impelling force in Truth and Love. Therefore, the real reward that is substantial, true, and enduring is spiritual in its nature because it is God-given, and the law of God brings to view the evidence of reward in ways that human thought can understand.

Christ Jesus did not ignore the human need for shelter, food, and clothing, for health, happiness, and fruitful occupation; but he said (Matthew 6:33), "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Our reward, then, as well as the source of our joy and satisfaction, is not in the things that are added, but in the spiritual treasures gained through seeking first to understand God and to do His will.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 307), "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you. daily supplies." Thus is our human need met; but our confidence must be in God, our reliance first and last upon Him, and our thought receptive to the spiritual good He imparts, "while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal" (II Corinthians 4:18).

True thoughts and ideas are from God, divine Mind. They flow ceaselessly, abundantly, and impartially to all. They are the angels of His presence, bringing with them the peace and unfoldment of good that satisfies all longings. We must welcome spiritual thoughts and true ideas. Our motives must be Godgiven and our acts Love-impelled. We must shut out the aggressive mental thieves of doubt, fear, stupidity, carelessness, criticism, trickery, and the like that would rob us of the right thinking and right doing which bring the healing reward. Because God is all-knowing Mind, no hypnotic suggestion of the carnal mind can obscure, delay, or destroy the reward. . .

The promise is, "Behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be" (Revelation 22:12). Many are the rewards to those who seek God, good, purifying their thoughts, motives, and actions; for the quality of our thinking is measured back to us in kind, and our reward equals our spiritual intent.-The Christian Science Monitor.

MINNESOTA DESCRIBED BY

The column this week will present interesting facts of a few places in Minnesota through or near which the North Coast Limited passed en-route from St. Paul to Portland.

One studies about these places in school, and elsewhere reads about them, but always, they seem to be so far away. However, when one has the opportunity to pass through them or to view them at close range, they take on new meaning and importance, so that one finds one's-self saying, well, these places are not so very far away after all. Inventions have brought the ends of the earth closer together until there is scarcely an East and West; North and South. We are told that Minnesota is an Indian name meaning "Land of Sky Blue Water". The name of Father Hennelin is a household word in a number of sections of Minnesota. He is said to be the discoverer of St. Anthony Falls, and became a captive of the Sioux Indians, in 1680.

Probably, most high school students have heard during their high school training that Minnesota is the state with more than 10,000 lakes. Some of these and their environs make for delightful resorts in summer for peo-ple from both the United States and Canada. Detroit Lakes is one of these pleasant resort centers. The lakes of Minnesota teem with pike, bass, and crappies. The fishing and boating cannot be excelled. Lake Min-netonka and the Falls of Minnehaha are famous spots of beauty.

St. Paul, with a population of around 400,000, is the capital of the State. The residents of the city pride themselves in their marble State Capitol, and which is one of the most beautiful buildings in the United States.

St. Paul is the center of nine rail-road systems. It is also a center of agricultural and educational interests, its being the site of the State Agricultural College, and the location for the Minnesota State Fair.

Other colleges in St. Paul are Macalester, Concordia, St. Thomas, St. Catherine, and Hamline Univer-sity. The city was named for the sity. The city was named for the Apostle Paul.

Minneapolis, the larger of the Twin Cities, with a population of more than half million, is situated a little more than a mile from its Twin sister, on the west side of the Mississippi River. The North Coast Limited crosses the river between the cities on the famous Old Stone Arch Bridge. Many people have heard of the widely known Art Institute of Minneapolis. We are told there are 22 flour mills within the corporation, and eleven lakes.

Two hours ride from St. Paul

Two hours ride from St. Paul brings one to St. Cloud. It is the site of the State Reformatory, and which can be seen from the train. The city is situated in three counties, and is the seat of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, and the Minnesota State Teachers' College. Granite quarries and fabricating plants afford chief industries in the district. One of the first American pioneers in this section of the state was Lieutenant Zebulon M. Pike, for whom Pike's Peak is named.

A fellow passenger informed the which can be seen from the train.

Peak is named.

A fellow passenger informed the writer that Little Falls, another town passed, is the biggest "little pig" market in the world. Auction are held weekly. Once Little Falls was the home of the "most primitive man" in the upper Mississippi region. The Father of Waters is crossed here for the last time by one going West, and the last time by one going West, and for the first time by the passenger

One of the principal potato shipping points in the state is Wadena, named for an Indian Chief, Wadena, and means, "Small Prairie." Frazee, once a busy center of the longing and lumbering industry is now an extensive farming community. The last oig sawmill closed in 1920. Mirages are common in summer in the vicinity of Moorhead which is the last town passed through in Minnesota on the westbound journey.

Next week we shall take up places of interest in North Dakota as the train proceeds toward the Great

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

(Continued from First Page) building facilities were completed at the Mt. Airy school, at the Sykes-ville Elementary School, at the Man-chester Elementary School. These buildings were occupied and used during the 1949-50 school year. Additional construction occupied during the same school year include considerable addition to the Westminster High School, including new classroom and shop facilities, cafeteria and gymnasium changes. Currently under construction and expected to be ready for occupancy in September 1950 are an addition to the high and elementary school at Union Bridge; a new elementary school at Taneytown; a new elementary school at Westminster; a small new elementary school for colored pupils near Eldersburg near the present location of the Johnsville School; addition to the elementary school at Winfield; the East End Elementary School at Center and Green Streets, Westminster and the West End Primary School in Westminster are currently undergoing changes and additions which are expected are to be completed by Sept. 1950, or as soon as possible thereafter. It is expected that the Westminster Elementary pupils will occupy the buildings at Westminster, (West End, East End, and the new elementary school on Center Street extended).

The organization of the elementary schools in Westminster include twelve teachers at the Center Street extended location and twelve teachers at Center Streets, five teachers at the West End location.

Currently under construction are school improvements at the Charles Carroll High and Elementary school, and at Sandymount School. It is expected that these projects will be completed as early as possible during the autumn of 1950. Plans are preparation for improvements and additions at the New Windsor High and Elementary School which improvements it is hoped to begin in the fall of 1950. The complete new elementary schools at Taneytown and Westminster include twelve classrooms, general purpose room for use as cafeteria and auditorium. During the summer improvements have been made to the athletic fields at Manchester and Charles Carroll, as well as painting and maintenance work in most of the schools of the county. The age of the existing buildings in the county has made necessary the many additional changes and improvements to the old buildings which have been taken care of as rapidly maintenance and repair men nave engaged in repair work and improvement of existing buildings throughout the summer of 1950. The Board of Education hopes to be able to continue the improvement program as harness, and many other articles.

The Board of Education and its staff is working arduously to see that further improvements are carried on as rapidly as possible to accommodate the increasingly high rate of enrollment in the public schools of the county. The enrollment in 1950-51 is expected to be in the neighborhood of 8,000 pupils including those pupils who were retained for a twelfth year and who will graduate from a twelve year program of education in June 1951.
