COUNTY SCHOOLS

Annual Eisteddfod Will Be Held

Friday, April 27

Spring musical activities in the public schools will include 3 special musical programs to be held during the spring months; announcement regarding these is made by the Office of the County Board of Education through the Superintendent, S. M.

planning and execution of the programs described with the cooperation and assistance of the principals of the county schools and the teachers responsible for music instruction in the various public schools. The events described will be those which include groups of pupils from the county schools where they have been brought together for the presentation of Special programs. On March 16, at 8:00 p. m. ar-rangements have been made to hold the Third Annual Orchestra and Band Concert which is being arranged for at the Westminster High School auditorium on this date. The program is being prepared under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Sampson and Mrs. Martha Bill, County instrumental teachers of music. Participants will be brought in from the schools of the county to present the concert which will include an orchestra division cordially invited and encouraged to attend this activity as it has been pro-nounced very worthwhile during the past two years and it is encouraging and stimulative to the participants for a large audience to be present. The annual Eisteddfod (County Music Festival) is being arranged for Friday evening, April 27, at 7:30 P. M. in Alumni Hall, Western Mary-land College. The Eisteddfod has become a tradition in Carroll county having been organized during the administration of superintendent Maurice Unger. The purpose of the fes-tival is to encourage the music in the schools of the county by bringing together selected numbers from all of the schools and by preparing and presenting at this time group numbers which have been prepared by the respective music teachers in the county schools as well as combined chorus numbers which are rehearsed in the schools and presented for the first time at the music festival. It has been customary to bring for this af-fair an expert in the field of music education to act as adjudicator. The adjudicator this year will be; Pro-fessor Wilbert Hitchner, head of the music education department, Temple

University, Philadelphia, Pa. The various numbers in the program will be directed by the music teachers of the county schools and Mr. Royer, the

and a band division. The public

SCHOOL NEWS

The school library will receive another large selection of books shortly as a result of additions to the library fund. A check was received this week from the local Kiwanis Club, fund. and this together with an allocation from the Board of Education will make a very valuable contribution to the educative value of the library. The March of Dimes campaign recently conducted in the school received fine cooperation with a total amount of $53.65 being turned in to Mr. John Wooden, chairman of the school campaigns. All patrons cooperating are to be congratulated for the collection for this worthy cause. The school wishes to thank patrons who cooperated by purchas-ing seeds from pupils during the recent seed campaign. Proceeds will be used to purchase greatly needed athletic supplies. Miss Sammis of the State Department of Education was a guest of the school on Tuesday. She was particu-larly interested in the recreational activities conducted during the lunch hour and in the rhythmic phase of the physical education program. Teachers of the school have tickets available to be sold to the public for the evening of plays to be held on Wednesday, January 31 at 8:00 in the Westminster High School auditorium. This event is sponsored by the Carroll County Teachers Association.

The elementary student council held its regular meeting on Monday. James Wolf as president presided over the business session. The com-mittee in charge of the school Xmas tree was congratulated for their fine job. It was decided to plant flower bulbs on the school grounds as soon as weather permits. David Gunther was appointed chairman to take care of the new flag. It was recommended by the council that all students near the flag pole should stop and face the flag, as a sign of respect, when it is either going up or down. The council also recommended that town pupils not arrive at school so early. This would eliminate the confusion caused by the lack of playground facilities.

Emblems have been given to all members of the orchestra, safety patrol, and student council for the work they are doing. The emblems are in the new school colors of green and white.

A cold brisk sunny January day ushered the Inaugural ceremony of our 58th Governor in the Senate Chamber of the State House in the quaint city of Annapolis. Governor McKeldin is our fourth Republican Governor of Maryland. The entire procedure was Television which was the first Video of any Governor of Maryland. Your Observer sat back and enjoy-de it all on T.V. There was a huge throng both indoors and out for the big event. My youngest son was there (a lover of McKeldin) in his nice National Guard uniform. Some-how "Maryland-My Maryland" has how "Maryland—My Maryland" has always appealed to this Quaker jady! Both wives of the Governors ap-peared most charming in their "In-augural Outfits" and it was most gracious and charming to see the withdrawal of "The Lanes" retiring to the "Mansion" to welcome the Mc-Keldin's after the services were over Keldin's after the services were over. Thinking of T.V. shows, what a wrestler and a beauty who had stud-ied for the Opera and then switched to wrestling! Her name is Gloria and she is but nineteen years of age she is but nineteen years of age, a local Baltimore Miss who made her debut at the Coliseum two weeks ago on a Tuesday night and won the bout. The cruel "Golden Terror" as he is called is anything but 'Golden'! He would not win the bouts if he was to be disqualified each time he pulls his opponent to the floor by his hair which he did regularly and continues to do. He is just about the most uncouth and horrible appearing man on any wrestling platform and is actually repulsive. He is hated by the mob who attends the feature. On the show with Horace Heidt,

"It is Better to Build Boys than to Mend Men" this past Monday night was quite unfair. In the two previous programmes with the colored youth, Jessie Owens-Baritone as Champion -he had been built up for an awful 'let down' as the show was held in Richmond. In this city, the colored is always in the back ground and naturally the applause which was registered showed the winner to be a very fine Accordian player who was supposed to have won with the ap-plause registering which showed,that the player had won over the Cham-pion. In a case, like that if Your Observer was a judge there would have been two winners and given the same prize. Their slogan was not lived up to as one boy should never be made sad by making another glad. Never will I forget that colored youth in the background who could hardly rise at the end of the show when he saw his defeat-that was letting a boy down who had been built up week after week with his wonder-ful voice. I think there are thous-

FEESERSBURG

The person who can invent a remedy to keep people from worrying will not only have done a good deed for humanity but can be assured of dying a millionaire. Psychologists have lately been telling us by books-radio and television that we positively shouldn't worry about practically anything. Most of us would gladly give up worrying if only some one would offer us a practical way to do so. Or the other hand, if nobody worried about anything, this wouldn't be a very happy or safe world to live in. The high-spirited young man that worries about crashing his car into a roadside ditch, learns to drive carefully and becomes a safe driver; the verson who worries about debts learns to be thrifty and avoids overspending; the parents who worry ov-er their children's future try to bring them up with high ideals and thereby make good citizens of them. Yes, it takes a certain amount of worrving to make us strong and prepares us for many unpleasant things of living. habit of affecting unconcern The about any unpleasant situation until t actually happens is childish and inrealistic. Too much worry can kill you, but too little can be just as fatal.

"Do you like yourself?" Don't be as startled as I was when I first read as startled as I was what in I may also at that question from the page of a book recently written by John Stein-beck. Most of us take for granted that we do like ourselves but here is what Mr. Steinbeck has to say on that score: "For a very long time I didn't like myself. It was a very dif-ficult time and very painful. I did not like myself for a number of reasons, some of them valid and some of them pure fancy. I would hate to have to go back to that. Then gradually, I discovered with surprise and pleas ure that a number of people did like me. And I thought, if they can like me, why can't I like myself? Just thinking it, did not do it, but slowly I learned to like myself and then it was all right. Most people do not like themselves at all. They distrust themselves, put on masks and false They quarrel and boast and fronts. pretend and are jealous because they do not like themselves. But mostly they do not even know themselves well enough to form a true liking, and since we automatically fear and dislike strangers we fear and dislike our stranger-selves. If we could learn to like ourselves even a little, maybe our cruelties and angers might melt

Hope you did not miss the third Grade pupils in "Mary's Visit to Storyland, The Sleeping Beauty and The Wedding of The Painted Doll" which was held in the auditorium of the Taneytown Elementary school on Tuesday evening at the Parent-Teacher's meeting Although, Mary had a cold she was perfect in the main role and may be a coming act-ress. Every child played his or her part perfectly and the entire affair was truly a sweet children's pro-gramme. was truly a sweet children's pro-gramme. The oldsters were quite fas-cinated with it all and quietness pre-vailed to such an extent throughout the programme that the atmosphere was actually electric! Who really does not enjoy a Fairy-tale story? Your Observer never tires of reading one aloud Much credit should be given those who made the evening possible. The character of Mary was done beautifully regardless of her cold, the Fairy was without a doubt truly "Fairy-Conscious" all the while and as for the Sleeping Beauty-well one did not have to have an imagina-tion. Congratulations to all those in the cast from start to finish. Two sweet young girls approached Your Observer on the street to pur chase tickets for "The Toast of New Orleans" which was to be shown at "The Earle". Enjoyed every minute of the cinema as Mario Lanza is my favorite Star! Part of that famous Opera "Madame Butterfly" was acted and sung by this great artist and Italian tenor who in my estimation has a voice. The beautiful love story of Madame Butterfly and the Lieut Pinkerton U.S.N. will always be refreshing to the audience. In the Opera, the Ship is shown and the Lieut saying that he loves Madame Butterfly and he will return! In the part played and sung by Mario Lanza in "The Toast of New Orleans" he sings and acts beautifully as the real lover, Lieut. Pinkerton which is the finale expressing his great love. The finale expressing his great love. The two pictures "That Midnight Kiss" and "The Toast of New Orleans" are two toppers! Mario Lanza will have the comparise to prove the comparison of the provide the second second were the attractive aprons! Two of our Doctors around our town were there sitting opposite Your Ob-server and showed they were enjoy-ing the full family style dinner which really can only be served in any country place! any country place!

What a grand aerial erected by that smart and wise farmer! It appears to be as fine as the ones erected for the stations in the suburbs of the big city. His son is surely going to be if not already a "chip off the old block!" That capable little only daughter of his will be some day a real "Homemaker"!

real "Homemaker"! Now, here's one and most interest-ing, too! The United Research laboratory of Philadelphia reported that three years of experiments on white rats showed a "hog hormone will grow hair where hair is supposed to grow." Albert Roberts who is the President and director is credited with develop-ing the hormone. He stated it is taken from the pituitary gland located near the hog's brain. He stated that every hair in a human has a life span of between two and six years—then it falls out. That will be something grand, Ladies for the Bald head man in your life to which to look forward with much anticipation. Roberts further stated, "The new dematrotropic hormone activities the hair follicle and produces new hair"! The price of hair cuts in the city of Brotherly Love is now $1.25—per. The finest of all shampoos this world over is, "Lustre-Creme" because it makes your hair naturally soft, clean and gleaming and gives back to the scaly the necessary oil. So run right to "Doc's," Ladies and one try will convince you of the fact! Here's a cute one and a true one! A beautiful young girl watched the window dresser many times as he changed the windows of dressing twice weekly in the big city. Now, the window dresser has married the lovely girl and the couple reside in Miami, Florida! Your Observer mentioned once before in this column that old saying of, "Babies Cry for it, women sigh for it and Men die for it"! Just love that's all! In 1938, Your Observer and the family had a cute rustic cabin in Bre-ton Woods right among the pines which grow many feet skyward. There was much fascination to those needles lying upon the ground and as the woods were approached, the most delightful aroma of "Pine" always filled the atmosphere. All the ways inled the atmosphere. All the neighbors had their family name per-haps on a tree near the entrance of their premises, or a hanging artistic sign or above the entrance of the rustic porch. Ours was named, "The Love Cabin" and just that sign in-trigrade both recurs and ad an ther trigued both young and old as they passed by. Love is not given enough in life, Folks which shows in every day life! Perhaps there would not be WARS if there was more love! So long, Folks. Have a grand week-end. Be good and be careful and if there is a weaker brother along the road in life bowed down by cares and strife—never be too busy or pre-occupied with your own afairs to stop and offer a helping hand.

The Great Teacher Lesson for January 28, 1951

WE HEAR a lot about a "better world." God pity the poor lout who thinks the world as it is, is all right! And may God stab awake those who are afraid to try to make this world better.

If you want to see a group of people who are not afraid, and are really working at this, go your nearest Sunday school. There you will find teachers of religion. They may be doing a good job or Dr. Foreman a poor one; but anyhow they are trying. And when one of these teachers succeeds, even a little, in what they are all trying to do, the world has already been made a little better.

Greatest of Teachers

EVERY Sunday school teacher, or any other sort, for that matter, should study the methods of Jesus to see what good teaching can be. He is and will always be THE Teacher.

His object was not to teach science or history. The only technique he taught was the most important of all-the technique of fine living. His object was to teach "what we are to believe concerning God, and what duties God requires of man."

In short, his subjects were Faith and Life, not separately but welded into one. . . .

Down Where We Live

HIS method was always simple. He did not use long words, he did not "put his hay on such a high shelf that only intellectual giraffes could reach it," as Billy Sunday expressed it. Common people heard him gladly, because he taught in the kind of language they used, he spoke of things that were familiar to them.

So the good teacher today never teaches over the heads of the class. This means he has to have a good imagination, has to make believe to himself that he is one of the class instead of the teacher. He has to remember how the world looked to him when he was a boy, he has to stay young in heart.

Jesus could surely have taught more profoundly than he did. Indeed, he said at the end of his two toppers! Mario Lanza will have the greatest opportunity ever given a modern singer when his next pic-ture, "The Great Caruso" is released. Watch for it! What a grand dinner prepared by all the men of the Mid-dleburg church last Saturday! Ummm good! The one's standing by to serve you immediately if your plate ap-peared as though it could hold some-thing else! The only thing I missed were the attractive aprons! Two of our Doctors around our town

"I have many things to say days, . but ye cannot bear them now." However true a thing might be, he would not say it if his hearers were not ready for it.

Truth in Pictures

THEN Jesus taught in pictures; we call them parables. The best-loved and remembered parts of his teachings are the stories he told. Every one of them was simple; they were about the kinds of people his listeners knew or had often heard of.

The good teacher will always use illustrations. But the best ones will come right out of the experience of the pupils. Jesus never quoted from a book his hearers had not read. He never used illustrations that only a Ph.D. could understand. Furthermore, he never tried to teach two things at once.

A teacher, looking over a Sunday school lesson, may find it full of suggestive ideas; but it is generally better to pick out one truth and illustrate it in several ways, as Jesus did when speaking of the Kingdom of God, than it is to try to bring out everything that could be brought out, and so confusing the class. . . .

Making Them Think

NOW some teachers, trying to be N simple, succeed only in being dull. The good teacher must keep the class awake, otherwise no one can learn anything. There is a good motto which might be borrowed by all Sunday school teachers: "Nothing that is not interesting; not everything that is interesting; nothing merely because it is interesting.'

Jesus gained attention and interest in various ways. One was the "cryptic" nature of his teaching; that is, it was often puzzling. There was often something that sent listeners away thinking: Now what did he mean by that?

Confucius once remarked: "I give my pupil one corner of an idea. If cannot get the other three corners for himself, I do not want him for my pupil." So Jesus often gave out one corner of a truth and let his hearers (and ourselves!) Will be seeing you next week. D.V. wrestle out the other three.

GOLD RUSH Fishermen Hit It Rich

CORDOVA, Alaska — Alaska's crab fishermen have struck it rich —a $300-a-day bonanza.

The stribe is as rich as any of the lucky old-time sourdoughs early day gold findings.

"A yarn that a couple of men were making $300 a day in a new gold strike would arouse terrific excitement," Clarence Martin, Cordova Times publisher reports. "Yet the crab fishermen are making that kind of money-and it is just as good as if it came in nuggets."

Cordova is one of the big producers of canned and frozen crab. The species is known on the Pacific coast as the Dungeness. But unti recently all of the Cordova area catch was taken from Prince William sound, adjacent to the town

Catch 3,000 & Day

Because the sound's crab beds always supplied enough of a catch to make a good living for the fishermen, few of them ever ventured outside

It was during the closed season in the sound that a venturesome fisherman decided to try his luck in the Gulf of Alaska - the vast body of north Pacific water that washes the breadth of Alaska's southern coast.

He put out his traps and brought in a first day's haul of 3,000 crabs. A Cordova packing plant paid him 15 cents a crab-$450 for his day's efforts.

Some half a dozen fishermen were working the same area, each with from 100 to 150 traps. After several weeks of fishing, the boats continued to bring in from 1,800 to 2,500 crabs each. Small boats are manned usually by a man and a boy, or by two men at most, so the daily take has been running $150 to $200 each.

Since the fishermen already had the traps for the Prince William sound fishing, just about the only additional expense is for the bait and the boat operation.

Processors Earn Big Pay The men and women who process the crab meat are making big money, too. The packing plant crab 'shakers'—they literally shake the meat from the shells-are the elite of the packing crews. A skilled 'shaker' can remove about 450 pounds of meat a day. At nine and a half cents a pound, that's $42.75 for a day's leg shaking. All this is happening in a season when the crab catch has been slim in such normally happy hunting grounds as Washington state coastal waters. Cordova fishermen believe they have tapped a vast storehouse of crab meat, and that they have only touched the edges.

June 21 marks the first day of summer, that time of year when every-one's thoughts turn to vacation, whether it be to travel, to visit the seashore or mountain, or maybe to go fishing, or, maybe a swell vacation in that new home in the suburbs, the one you have dreamed about so long. Whatever it is, you can make those dreams a reality by investing, regularly, in U. S. Sav-ings Bonds. You alone can answer the question "Will you be up or down in 1960?" If you want to be up and coming, enroll during the Independence Drive for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. U. S. Treasury Depar

In tests with a new rabbit repellent Br'er Rabbit showed so little interest in carrots that the researchers discontinued using the food. Far more popular were beans, lettuce, corn, tulips, daffodils and hyacinths.

In tests at the University of Florida the new repellent greatly re-duced the amount of damage in vegetable and flower gardens. Cottontails that nibbled at and damaged 80 to 100 per cent of the lettuce plants in untreated patches, steered clear of lettuce that had been sprayed or dusted, the scientist reported.

Newest of Heavy Metals Not so Heavy After All

CHICAGO — The discovery of a new metal, much lighter than expected, has been announced by Dr. Edgar F. Westrum of the University of Michigan. The metal is americium.

Plutonium, the modern atom bomb element, is the universe's ninety-fourth element and the heaviest substance among the ninety-eight elements known. Americium, just obtained in its silvery metallic form, has only about half its parent's density.

This means that even though americium's atomic weight is greater than that of plutonium, two bricks of americium would be necessary to counterbalance one of equal size made of plutonium. This is because inner forces give the americium atom a more expanded structure.

Housewives Donate Curtain Rods to Korea War Effort

KOREA-The lowly curtain rod has gone to war.

Occupation housewives in Japan threw their curtain rods into the air war against North Korea when a critical shortage developed in the supply of pipes necessary to extend fuel lines to the large wingtip tanks to give the jets extra time over the target area.

The demand was met by stripping dependents' homes of tubular Jap-anese manufactured rods, which happened to meet exactly the Air Force requirements.

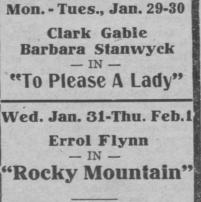

"It cuts down a little on our privacy," one Air Force wife said. "But this isn't a private war, either.'
