ANNAPOLIS LETTER

Bills Pertaining to Taneytown Introduced

To the Editor: Dear Sir:

As the 1951 Session of the General As the 1951 Session of the General Assembly nears a close a total of over 1200 Bills have been presented for consideration. And, as usual, action on a vast majority of these measures has been deferred until the closing days of the Session.

There are many Bills involving appropriations that under our Consti propriations that, under our Constitution, must await the passage of the Budget. As soon as the Budget is passed a small flood of appropriation Bills will be released from the Committees that have been holding them until they can be acted upon.

Other large numbers of Bills have been held until the last days of the Legislature simply because of the legislature habit of 'not doing today that which are to find the legislative of the legislative habit of 'not doing today that which are to find the legislative habit which the transfer of the legislative habit of 'not doing today the legislative habit of the legislative habit of 'not doing today the legislative habit of 'not doing to habit of the legislative habit of 'not doing today the 'not doing today the legislative habit of 'not doing today the 'not doing that which can be put off until to-

There is no doubt but that this method of procedure promotes bad legislation Bills, with amendments, are brought before the several bodies with such rapidity that it is next to impossible to give proper study and consideration to each one. Commit-tees attempting to study the measures assigned to them are harassed by groups and individuals that want one Bill killed or another Bill passed. Pressures and influences of all kinds are exerted upon the individual members of the Legislature in an attempt to obtain support for or to defeat other measures.

Members of the bodies are called upon to meet in committee or in session from morning until midnight or later. Everyone is tired, tempers are frayed, votes are traded, deals made and unmade and, to the initiative and unitiate alike, the whole process becomes a "rate race."

By way of explanation, not justification, it can only be said that it has always bearpared that way it is has always happened that way. It is as much a part of our State legisla-tive process as operating for several calendar days under the date of a single "legislative day", or of turning the clock back when the session nears its Constitutional end. (The latter is literally true. This function is usually performed by a cap-tain of the State Police who uses a long stick to push the clock's hands back when they near the midnight hour of the 90th day.)

TEACHERS SALARY BILL Senate Bill 429 would give all pub-lic school teachers an increase in salary of $200.00 over their present salaries. At the time of this writing it appears improbably that this Bill will pass. The behind the scenes political forms. will pass. The behind the scenes political forces (both parties) are attempting to keep this Bill bottled up in committee knowing that its passage will require the imposition of a new tax or the increase of an existing tax. Senate Bill 424 would permit hunters and trappers of muskrats in Car-roll and several of the adjoining counties to kill these animals between December 15th and March 1st of each year instead of the present season starting 15 days later. It seems that the pelts are more valuable earlier in the season.

RED CROSS DRIVE ENDS MARCH 31

It is Hoped That Taneytown District Will Meet its Quota

The Red Cross drive for membership and funds is progressing very well in the Taneytown District. Indeed we understand from headquarters that we are well out in front in the county in our endeavors to fill our quota and finish our work. There are still a few organizations who sub-scribed last year who have not yet sent in their contributions and we hope to hear from them in the next two days. Checks should be made out to the American Red Cross and sent to the Birnie Trust Co. The Birnie Trust has been an enormous help in handling the funds and we want to thank Mr. Murray Baumgardner for his aid. There are also a few solicitors who have not been able to finish their contacts, but we hope and expect it will all he done but the end of pect it will all be done by the end of March.

The town of Harney which comes within the Taneytown District is the first to finish. Under the able leadership of Rev. and Mrs. Thurlow Null they have turned in over $100.00. Mrs. George Shriver and Mrs. Ethel Strickhouser assisted. To them all our heartfelt thanks.

Mr. Elwood Baumgardner who had charge of the Business and Commercial interests finished second and has also gone over the top. Congratula-tions and our thanks to him and to all who contributed to make his work such a success.

The Keysville Area under Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide and Mrs. Charles Cluts has also finished and reports an increase over last year. We are very grateful for their generous response. Another report will appear next week when we hope the drive will have been entirely completed.

LIONS CLUB MEETS Red Cross Field Director

was the Speaker

The Lions Club met on Tuesday evening at Taney Inn with Lion Singleton Remsburg presiding. Members of the Club were exceedingly glad to welcome back Lion President Robert Feeser, who has for the past several weeks been under the doctor's care.

During the business session of the club, awards were made to the fol-lowing Lions for bringing new mem-bers into the club: Raymond Perry, Wilbert Hess and Robert Feeser.

The program portion of the meeting was under the direction of the Health and Welfare Committee whose chairman is Lion Kermit Reid. Lion Reid introduced as speaker for the evening, Mr. Leonard Myers, who is Field Director of the Red Cross stationed at Fort Meade, Md.

Mr. Myers spoke briefly concerning his job as Field Director which is substantially that of a public relations man. The speaker briefly outlined the many activities carried on by the Red Cross, particularly during a crisis such as we are now experiencing. It was noted by Mr. Myers that the two largest single items being taken care of at the present time is the helping of service men and their dependents (particular emphasis being placed on new recruits) and the collecting of whole blood. It was noted that the blood project alone was noted that the blood project alone has been directly responsible for the saving of thosands of lives.

A few of the many services carried on by the Red Cross were noted as follows: providing relief in civilian emergencies, giving first aid courses in connection with the Civilian Defense Program producing aid and fense Program, rendering aid and rehabilitation to returned war veterans, and furnishing aid to civilians affected by local catastrophes,

Because of the great number of activities performed by the Red Cross it was necessary to set the goal for subscriptions this year at eighty five million dollars. This goal can only be reached by individuals giving liberally to the Red Cross.

It was announced that at the next meeting the program would be in charge of Lion Delmar Riffle, who is chairman of the Community Betterment Committee.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

Mr. Bingham, Jr. of Cambridge Rubber was the Speaker

The March meeting of the Taney-town Chamber of Commerce was held in the Town Hall last Monday night. David Smith, vice-president, presided. C. G. Bowers reported for the committee on a correct voting roster for the incorporated limits of Taneytown and all citizens entitled to vote therein. He reported that the matter had been presented to the Town Council. On motion it was voted that the Chamber of Commerce present each year to a member of the graduating class an award of merit. The area of activity in which the award will be of activity in which the award will be given, was left open, and will be determined in consultation with the High School Principal.

The guest speaker of the evening was George H. Bingham, Jr., Vice-President of Cambridge Rubber Company. He is the son of the late Geo. H. Bingham, noted Senior Justice of the U. S. Circuit Court, District No. 1, which includes most of New England and Puerto Rico.

land and Puerto Rico. The speaker gave a travelogue of his trip to Europe last summer visiting England and many countries on the Continent. He pointed out that these neighbors of ours, now costing us so much, have been brought very close to our borders by means of airplane and radio. Consequently what they do effects us very seriously and compels us to be deeply concerned

In particular he commended the Schuman Plan which was publicized so much in the press last year. This economic plan for France and Western Germany, would pool the material resources of both countries in one overall program. It is believed that this plan will bring not only better prosperity to the peoples involved but also eliminate many of the causes of intermittent war by promoting

The audience was very pleased with the interesting travelogue and the keen analysis of the political and economic problems in the countries he

PLANS FOR MUSICAL FEST

The committee for the Musical Fest to take place in the Reformed church n town on the evening of Sunday, April 8th., is making very good progress towards having a very fine program. Thus far, several churches in our community have responded towards promising to have two male numbers from their church to render vocal numbers during this musical program. The idea of the program is to have at least 8 churches represented, with two numbers from each. This program of mens voices should promise to be one of outstanding entertainment and enjoyment. Plan now to keep that evening open in order that you will not miss it. This is being sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Grace E. & R. church.

THE CHANGING SEASONS

Spring is here. Soon farmers will be in the field preparing ground for the true American.

Lincoln's heart was as big as his the planting of corn. The roots of surface, hence it is possible to raise two crops at once in the same ground, and we did that on the farm at home. pumpkin seed. We had enormous pumpkins, called barrel pumpkins, but they were not quite that large. The pumpkin is one of the most nutritious foods for cattle and will pay large dividends in increased milk if fed to them, as food during the winter months. We had a simple slicing machine with revolving blades which cut the pumpkin into suitable size for feeding.

difficult fruit trees, peach, apple, cherry, pears were grown and formed a good cash crop in the fall. We got 50c to $1.00 per bushel for our apples. Now I pay 29c for 5 pounds and am glad to get them at that cost. If farmers could get half the price they would receive about $3.00 per bushel for these apples. Three dollars per bushel is not chicken feed.

Well here's hoping each may have large crops and few pests to destroy them.

TRUCKERS WEIGHT LAW HEARING

At the hearing on the proposed changes in truck weight laws this week in Annapolis, it was brought out that the U.S. Government has requested Maryland, along with all other states, to retain present truck weight laws.

In a letter sent to Governor Mc-Keldin, Defense Transportation Administrator James K. Knudson has asked that no changes in the law be made for the duration of the present emergency. letter relates that the existing shortage of railroad freight cars the most acute in the nation's history, making it necessary for trucks, already overburdened, to carry a still greater portion of both military and civilian freight.

Mr. Knudson wrote: Unjustifiable state limitations on sizes and weights of trucks, and restrictions intended to harass and burden highway trans-port....cannot be tolerated in time of national emergency such as this, nor can they be permitted to impede our gigantic defense effort."

A large number of groups and citizens attended and testified at the resident heaving. Both sides present.

Let's Think

G. H. ENFIELD

Not every man is a Lincoln, nor is every Lincoln Abe. Few men have climbed from the lowest depths of circumstances to the loftiest heights of prominence. Failure to reach the peak frequently is not due to the steepness of the mountain but rather to the calibre of the climber, Lin-coln had many obstructions to sur-mount, and innumerable obstacles to remove. A less ambitious person would have continued splitting rails. Why should one swing an axe who is qualified to pen immortal documents. Know yourself. Find yourself. Dedicate yourself to the greatest achievement of which you are capable, Lincoln would say. The peak and the valley may be far apart, but a Lincoln would shorten the distance. When a Lincoln leaves the lowlands he bound to arrive at the highlands. No one will reach the summit who keeps saying, "I can't." Such a person defeats himself before he starts.

Born in obscurity, Lincoln later discovered himself and rendered a life of sawing. Knowing life's hard life of service Knowing life's hardships, he dedicated his life and talents to lifting loads from the shoulders of the common man. Having little conventional learning, he walked mile after mile to borrow books. Like his Master he came to fulfill. He filled full the containers he possessed. Today his philosophy lives in the hearts of the simple, and the wise consult it for guidance. Lincoln symbolizes the planting of corn. The roots of physique. It had to be large to take in all the common people. He once said, God must love the common people for He made so many of them.

Lincoln rose because he was willing to stoop. He stooped to elevate the unfortunate, the less privileged, The wise farmer will plant in every and forgotten. Even a pig stuck in the mire knew the pull of those mighty hands. Greatness springs from humility. And no less a person than the Son of God once said, Blessed are the meek (humble): for they shall inherit the earth. Not now; they shall inherit the earth. Humility was a perennial plant in Lincoln's garden

On the other hand, some thought Lincoln was stubborn. No man who has moral convictions and stands by them escapes that accusation. Lincoln was a hero in a moral conflict or on a battlefield where a moral issue was On hillsides where cultivating is at stake. He was in politics but he was not a politician. He could not be bought by the toss of a coin. Neither was he a five percenter.

What other great American has so indelibly stamped his imprint upon the peoples of the world? With each passing year he grows in affection and esteem of the American people, for it can be said of Lincoln as it was said of Oliver Cromwell: He had on his battle face.

Yes, his battle face was worn for the American people, and for the country he loved, and the Union he

WASHINGTON LIVED TO SERVE On the 22nd of February, the United States of America honors the memory of George Washington. The United States honors Washington to-day because Washington, many, many years ago was the Foster Father of this incipient nation.

Great men make great holidays. No holiday is more significant than the person whom the day honors. In this connection I might mention the birth-day of Lincoln, of Washington, St.

day of Lincoln, of Washington, St. Valentine's Day, and Christmas.

Our observance of the day suggests our conception of the person for whom the day is celebrated, and of his ideas, and ideals. Are we always satisfied with the public inter-ways satisfied with the public interpretation of our conceptions?

Great men have their faults as well as their virtues. They are human personalities and not divinities. However, many of their deeds might be attributed to divinity. Washington was not a paragon of excellence or perfection. A hiegrapher writes "on perfection. A biographer writes, "on occasion he lied, he swore, he flirted, he gambled, he lost his temper, and he whipped his unruly slaves." On the other hand he bought his slaves-but didn't sell them, for fear they might fall into the hands of an un-

Washington lived and died with his boots on. The person who idles away his time and talents makes no contribution to the progress of the world.

It is said of Washington that the danger of his soldiers was his danger, and they in turn called him the "Necessary Man." Upon his retirement from the army, Washington asked for no reward, and refused to mention his conquests. To his soldiers he exclaimed, "I have not only grown gray but blind in your service." His vision was greatly impaired. He was a man of few words and seldom made a display of his emotions. Simplicity, detrmination, and duty, were a few of his sterling qualities.

Washington was shy and retiring.

LETTER PRAISING RED CROSS

Reprint from Baltimore Evening Sun, March 13. To the Editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun.

I'm a sailor, not a writer, but there are a few things I would like to say about the American Red Cross. They are things that the average person does not know.

For about two years I worked in the Chaplain's office of one of our larger warships and while there I had dealings at one time or other with most of the men in the 3,000 man crew, some in trouble, some with trou-ble at home, and it is the ones with trouble at home that the American

CARROLL COUNTY WELFARE BOARD MEETS

The Board met to discuss current operation of the agency and to look at the services and expenditures of the department for February. Assist-ance was granted to 338 families and individuals during the month of February at a cost of $15,147.74. This represents an increase of a little over $500.00 over the January expenditure due to a small increase in the subsistance allowance standard. In 46 cases a service other than public assistance was given. Nine cases were closed as the persons were no longer eligible for assistance and five new cases were granted assistance. Two of these cases were granted assistance for one month only.

It was found that so far 19 men and women under the age of 65 who are receiving Public Assistance were permanently and totally disabled after a review by a doctor in the State Department of Health; eight have been referred to vocational rehab-

ANNAPOLIS LETTER

In 1948 the voters of the State voted for a Constitutional Amend-ment that provided that the State Legislature should meet for a 30 day session in even numbered years in addition to the regular 90 day session in the odd years. The Amendment also provided that in these 30 day sessions the General Assembly day sessions the General Assembly shall consider no Bills other than (1) budgetary, (2) an acute emergency or (3) legislation in the general public welfare.

The 1950 Session was the first of these 30 day sessions. It was soon found that these three classifications of legislation contributed practically.

of legislation constituted practically no restriction at all. Local bills dealing with officials salaries, bingo, duck shooting, etc., were passed with an "acute emergency" clause tucked on to the bill. Other state-wide bills involving divorces, game laws, fishing licenses, jurors, and the like were passed as being in the "general public welfare." The net result was that the session was no more restricted than the regular 90 day session.

H.B. 450 has now been introduced to limit these 30 day sessions to consideration of the budget only.

This Bill is, in my opinion, a step in the right direction. If only the budget were considered for a period of 30 days it is quite possible that more effective work might be done in finding and trimming out the unnecessary appropriations. I estimate that there are not three departments in the State where cuts in personnel, automotive expenses, office supplies, new furniture, traveling, communication and printing could not be made at a considerable saving to the taxpayers of the state and without materially handicapping the department's work.

Duplication of services in a number of the departments constitutes a waste of hundreds of thousands of If the work of the General Assembly were concentrated on these items I have no doubt that material savings could be made. As it stands, only half of the Senate (The Finance Committee) and less than one-fifth of the House (Ways and Means Committee) works on the budget and a great portion of the time of these committees is spent on local and other state-wide measures not related to the budget.

In my opinion it would be better still to repeal the Amendment set-ting up the 30 day session. Every year the Legislature meets the departments of the state demand more partments of the state demand more money, and, in recent years, have been getting it. Every year the Legislative meets the budget gets larger and larger. Every year the Legislature meets the taxpaying citizens are given a heavier tax burden to carry. With sessions every two years, instead of each year, the taxpayers could be assured of at least one year of freedom from tax increases.

AUTOMOBILE INSPECTIONS

H.B. 179, providing for semi-annual inspections of motor vehicles has, at this writing, passed the House of Delegates and is now before the Senate.

The Bill provides that each motor vehicle shall be inspected by some garage or other authorized agency twice each year, at a fee of 50c for each inspection. In other respects it is very similar to the inspection law passed ten or more years ago and later repealed because it turned out to be completely ineffective.
Only the smallest fraction highway accidents result from defective vehicles. Practically all accidents are caused by the negligence of a driver.

It would seem to be a wiser move to require the periodic reexamina-tion of licensed motor vehicle opera-

At the request of both the State

At the request of both the State Police and the State Roads Commission Senate Bill 324 was introduced to provide for control over roadside stands erected on the highway right the right-of-way, for the purpose of selling merchandise or produce.

At a hearing on this Bill it was disclosed that a large number of accidents have resulted from the congestions caused by trucks and stands placed on the sides of our heavily traveled highways for the purpose of selling goods or produce.

This Bill would require anyone wishing to use the highway right-of way for this purpose to obtain a permit from the State Roads Commission. If, in the judgment of the Commission, a traffic hazard would thereby be created the permit would be denied, or a location specified where no hazard would result.

County State Road officers would be authorized to invented.

County State Road officers would be authorized to issue the permits. This Bill would not prevent a property owner from erecting a stand or placing a truck on his own land adjoining the highway right-of-way. AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATION

Senate Bill 233 eliminates the necessity of registration of motor vehicles by "engine number" if there is some other factory serial number stamped on the frame of the vehicle. This would permit the owner to change the engine in his motor vehi-cle without the necessity of changing his registration with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

This Bill has been reported favorably to the Senate and is now on its way through that body.

INVENTORY TAX

In addition to any traders' or other type licenses required to do business there is imposed on all businesses a state and county tax on the average inventory carried by such business during any year.

A large number of businesses carry an inventory of a type that does not turn over rapidly. In such cases the annual inventory tax is paid on the same item for one or more successive years. Such a situation is obviously unfair as the tax can, in a few years, consume a large portion, if not all, of the anticipated profit from the sale

A Bill is now being prepared to exempt from the inventory tax any items upon which this tax has been paid in former years.

CLASS TRIP

9th Grade Visits Eastern Shore and Annapolis

On Thursday morning, March 15, 1951, the 9th grade accompanied by Mrs. Yingling and Mrs. Shipley left on buses chartered from Harvey Leister for the Eastern Shore of Mawrland While ryland. While enjoying the ferry-boat trip across the Chesapeake Bay we had an opportunity to see the de-velopment of the new Bay bridge. We reached Stevensville on the Eastern Shore in 25 minutes.

Due to the level country roads we soon arrived at Cambridge, Md., where we visited the J. M. Clayton Company. This is an oyster, crab, and fish packing house. Here we saw the equipment used for dredging and tonging as well as all the processes thru which oysters pass until they are ready for shipping. We were fortunate through the courtesy of the owners, to have the opportunity to visit the oyster beds in a buy-boat. This took us out on the Choptank river for a distance of ten miles. On the dredging and tonging boats the oysters are sorted and the small ones are put back into the river.

are put back into the river.

The first step in the plant after the oysters are brought in, is the job the oysters are brought in, is the job of taking the oyster out of its shell, which is called shucking and the people who do this are called shuckers. This work is done by the Negroes who usually sing Negro Spirituals as they work. They sort the oysters into three grades, standard, selects, and counts. On busy days, near a holiday, 500 to 700 gallons may be shucked. Piece work is done and the workers receive 85c a gallon shucked oysters. ers receive 85c a gallon shucked oysters. The oysters are washed by compressed air and water method. They are then packed by hand into various sized tin containers, iced in wooden barrels, covered and labeled. They are now ready for shipping. In the near future a self-packing machine is being installed. The two important bi-products of oyster shells are grit for chickens and fertilizer. Crab shells are ground till they look like very fine meal. These have 30% protein in them and are used in livestock food.

From Cambridge we went to Easton where we were guided by four high school boys and girls through the Tidewater Inn which is compared to the Hotel Statler in Washington. Rooms of importance are the lobby, dining rooms, and bedrooms. The inn is noted for its seafood din-

They then took us to the Third Haven Friends Meeting House where Mrs. Dixon told us the history of the church and said that it was probably the oldest of its kind in the world. In addition, another church has built that is equipped with electricity and heat; the original one is used only during the summer season.

From there we went to Mrytle

Grove Estate, owned by Robert G. Henry. This estate belongs to the Goldsborough tract and contains 1800 acres. It is known for its unusual box-wood gardens and a 200 year-old magnolia tree.

The next stop was at the Wye Oak Tree, a white oak, which is Maryland's state tree, located at Wye Mills. Also at this location we visited the Wye Church, recently restored in true colonial style. The church is very picturesque with its "coat of arms", its boxed pews for worship and its hand carved pulpit of walnut, elevated from the side of the church. Under the altar is buried the first did a great deal to help the church.

The last place we visited on our tour was Annapolis. This city has several interesting colonial homes, particularly the Hammon-Harwood house and the Chase-Lloyd House. Our state capital is the oldest capital in day-to-day use. It contains the room in which Washington resigned his commission as head of the Conhis commission as head of the Continental Army and in which the United States ratified the treaty ending the War of Revolution. Also in the State House is an American flag known certainly to have been carried in that war. In addition we visited the House and Senate chambers and considered it a great privilege to sit in the chairs of our representatives and Senators.

FEESERSBURG

Overflow congregations were reported in most churches for the Easter rites, the most heavily attended event in the year. Some churches scheduled extra services and beautiful cantatas. Morning churchgoers on Sunday found the weather a little chilly for new spring bonnets and clothes. But afternoon strollers, warmed by a cheery sun, were able to doff top coats and display brilliant new fashions. The day's general coolness was due to Easter's earliest arrival since 1940. It won't fall this early again until 2008. Many persons were brave enough to attend outdoor sunrise services in Baltimore. They shivered in the 35 degree dawn huddled under fur coats and blankets for protection from the cold. The sun rose at 6:03 A. M. and glowed brightly for about half an hour before it was shut out by clouds. Many people remarked that it didn't seem like Easter because it was too early for flowers and earth was blue and brown. Most people associate Easter with green grass, budding trees, clear skies, south winds and beautiful blooming flowers.

In connection with Easter, spring and women's hats here is a little jingle which you may like; I went up to the attic in search of this and that—I opened an old box there and found my grandma's hat—'Twas made of straw and ribbons—the brim so wide and flat—so old 'twas almost stylish—my grandma's Easter hat—I'll be in church this Sunday—I'll sit where granny sat—and proudly I'll be wearing—Dear Grandma's

Easter hat. Carl Blankenship returned home Monday after spending a month in Arizona. He had a wonderful trip and fell in love with the countryside of Arizona. Farming out there is quite different from what it is here. Irrigation is needed to make the land useful, but it produces wonderful crops. The people are friendly and live at a more calmer pace than we do here. They realize that life for any individual doesn't last too long and so they are wise enough to enjoy it as they go along.

The Union Bridge Girl Scouts held an Easter egg hunt and breakfast on Saturday morning at their club room. I am wondering how many parents know that our local school—the El-Wolfe is not an accredited school, which means that good colleges, outside of Maryland, won't consider its applicants except under unusual circumstances. What should be done is to have it evaluated by an outside commission, which may cost us something but I am sure our community can afford it. Then the parents could decide which improvements and changes are important to our children, and insist that the board of education make the changes. It is no use to send our children to a school for 12 years if at the end of that period they do not know enough to enter a college of their choice. Our children are just as bright and intelligent as any group of children anywhere and should be given the same material and the same educational facilities as other schools in Carroll county. Not that the whole educational set up in Maryland doesn't need an overhauling—for it certainly does. All the new buildings in the world will not make up for the lack of good teachers and more of them. There is an awful lot to be done, and if the parents don't soon start it may very well be too late. By listening to the committees probing the source of crime in our country, by hearing to what length moral corruption reached into the highest places in our government, we can understand that once again it is up to us as parents to teach our children real moral values, and to see that they receive the best education possible. Children are the greatest resource of any country. Train and educate them in the right way and we can safely pass into their hands, our country and our liberty without one doubt or misgiving. But training children isn't easy. It calls for patience, endurance, love and skill on the part of both parents and teacher. But the results repay a hundred times for the effort. PROPERTIES RECENTLY SOLD

Robert L. Zentz, local representa-tive for E. A. Strout Realty Agent, Inc., reports the following real estate sales made recently through his office in Taneytown:
Charles W. Vanfossen home near
Big Pipe Creek Park to Joseph W.

Horton, of New Midway.
Ralph W. Thompson, 234-acre farm near Harney to Harvey A. Morrison, of Washington, D. C.
Willie F. Delauter small farm near Myersville, to Mrs. Eileen A. Ryan, of Washington, D. C.
Ray H. Ridenour modern home, near Thurmont, to Jacob H. Sell of Ma.

Thurmont, to Jacob H. Sell, of Mc-Knightstown, Pa.

E. Theodore Newcomer Betholine-Sinclair Service Station, Taneytown to Joseph W. Horton, of New Mid-

Donald Fogle property at New Midway to Robert E. Patchel, of Fuller-

A 180 acre modern dairy farm north of Woodsboro together with all livestock, machinery and dairy equipment, to Mrs. Mary E. Famous, of near Hyattstown.

Mr. Zentz reports a big demand for farms, country homes and properties of all kinds, and even though his office does very little local advertising he is continuously receiving a large volume of inquiries daily for such properties. This is, he states, mainly due to the world-wide distribution of the large Strout Realty catalogue. As millions of these large catalogues are widely distributed twice yearly. The latest new catalogue has just recently come off the press and calls are being made at this time for property recommendations for another new catalog that will soon go to press. E. A. Strout Mr. Zentz reports a big demand will soon go to press. E. A. Strout Realty Agency, Inc., is the largest real estate organization of its kind in the world and is now in its 51st year. The number of sales made for the first quarter of this year has beat all previous records and current demands are strong.

IN MEMORIAM

VALENTINE- A tribute of love to the memory of my beloved parents, HENRY ALBERT, who passed away February 20, 1940, and MARY LUCRETIA, who passed away Mar. 28, 1946.

TO FATHER You were so very kind and good, In action, words, and deeds, Made no murmur, nor complaints,

Made no murmur, nor complaints,
Seemed to have no need,
Your weary hours, your day's of pain
Your weary nights are past.
Your ever patient, worn out frame,
Has found sweet rest at last.
My thoughts of you are happy ones
And prompt this heart-felt prayer
God bless you in your heavenly home,
And keen you always in His care.

And keep you always in His care. TO MOTHER With broken hearts we watched you, And seen you pass away,
And though we loved you dearly
We could not make you stay.
You smiled the old familiar smile,
And prayed to God to bless and keep Each one of us throughout the years, And then you fell asleep So now I'll try to be content,

I know that you're at rest; For God works only for our good, And does things for the best. daughter VERGIE.

ABRA-A Birthday tribute of love to the memory of Kenneth F., on his 24th birthday, April 1st.

Dear Kennie, you are not forgotten, Though on earth you are no more, Still in memory you are with us, As you always were before. Although your soul is now at rest, And free from care and pain. This world would seem like Heaven, If you were here again.

Loving Mother, Dad and Sister, MARGARET ABRA.

More Corn . . . With Southern States Hybrids

Take a look at that big healthy ear on the left. The one with the deep, golden kernels and the small but well-filled cob. It's a typical Southern States Hybrid ear. And it means more corn for you to feed. And more corn for you to sell!

You see the difference for yourself - shell out a Southern States Hybrid ear and an ordinary hybrid ear to compare. You'll get more shelled corn from the Southern States Hybrid. Remember, a few dozen of these extra kernels per ear makes a whale of a difference in your total yield.

So ask for Southern States Hybrids . . . the hybrids that grow more corn on less cob. Double guaranteed, they're' your assurance of bigger yields.

God Invented Us

Lesson for April 1, 1951

GOD INVENTED it," says C. S. Lewis about the universe. It is a 20th-century way of saying what the Bible says about God and the world. There have been whole religious based on the idea that God is good and spirit is good, but anything which is not God or not spirit is bad. If this were true, then our bodies would be bad, and all the physical world about us would be bad; our souls a vast fortress of evil. This is not the truth the Bible tells. The story of Creation in Genesis tells us that when God had finished with making the world he saw that it was good, very good. He invented the world, he invented spirit and matter both, he invented us body and soul. Whatever evil is now in the world and in man did not come from God, it is not a mistake of God's. The world, as God invented it and intends it, is good.

The World Did not Happen

HE Christian church has changed some of its ideas about creation, but it has never ceased to believe in creation. Very few churches, if any, now affirm that the world was created in precisely six 24-hour days, and still fewer would be willing to name the dates on which creation took place.

Nevertheless the Christian church has not given up, and will not give up, her belief that God created all things. The doctrine of creation means, first of all, that the one God willed the universe and what is in it.

The universe did not happen, it did not make itself. It was not made by different gods working against one another. Zoroastrianism, for instance, teaches that the world was made by two gods, one of light and one of darkness. Whatever the god of light created, the god of darkness would make something exactly opposite. No, Jews and Christians alike say, there is only one Creator, the infinitely wise and good

Nature's Laws

NON - RELIGIOUS philosophers have sometimes said that the world explains itself. But Christian philosophers, not to mention Jewish ones as well, have seen that the world does not explain itself. There is too much evidence of pr and design running through the patterns of the universe. Definite laws can be discovered and to some degree understood.

The same laws which govern matter on this planet, and indeed the very same elements, the "building-blocks of the universe," are to be discovered in the remotest stars. If the universe were an accident it would not be tied together as it is.

It would not be a universe of law but one in which nothing could be counted on, nothing expected. It would be no universe but a multiverse, a mad world, indeed no world at all but an infinite confusion. * * *

Why Are We Here?

BUT CREATION means something more personal. It means that we ourselves have been called into existence by the Almighty,-not by a god of mere sheer power, but by the one God of infinite and allpowerful Love. Man is not here on this planet by some trick of blind fate, mankind is not a mere fleck of foam tossed up by the restless ocean of the Infinite soon to be washed away in the ebbing tides. Man-that means also, we ourselves -are God's invention.

We are not now as he intended us, to be sure; sin has changed the picture sadly, as we shall be thinking next week.

Why are we here? We are here because God put us here. This means that life has a meaning; but also that we cannot find that meaning without knowing the will of God. His will is for our welfare; only the Creator knows what is best for his creatures. God intended this world to be used by us, not abused.

When any man or group of men get the notion that this world belongs to them alone; or when one generation misuses the resources of the lands and the waters, leaving to their descendants a wasted earth, then God's will in creation is being defied. But when we take his will as life's guide, we are on the way to fulfilling his purpose in Crea-

Talk about antiques! Don't fail to visit that lady who has just about as many pieces of lovely antiques to fill a few homes. The display is most attractive and all the pieces are chucked full of charm. Your Observer was quite surprised, too, to hear how beautifully she played those ivories and soon learned she was a pupil of the lovely lady over in Detour. Now, this from Denver. Eight years ago, Dr. H. D. Niblack whose reducing salons were sprinkled throughout the country, planned to retire and live off the fat of the land. But at that time he was 'on the road' selling vitamins and other tablets. He would fill his pockets with avacado seeds accumulated in California and carve them on the trip back to Denver. Often he would carve the features of the person sitting opposite him or across the aisle from him. As he chipped away with thoughts of retirement running through his head, he little realized that he was carving out a new business. Today his new factory in Denver is turning out $100,000 worth of hand-carved, uniquely-west-ern furniture monthly. An artist is handpainting Niblack western figurhandpainting Niblack western figurines on ties. Dr. Niblack handles business affairs in his new "Wesstyle" headquarters at 1606 Broadway and plans to begin a class in woodcarving in the fall. "I've never worked harder in my life", he said, with the aid of a man who does not know what hit him. From the seeds he carved went to larger things as to blocks of wood. And that is how it all started. His wooden characters are something beyond describing as to the grotesque expressions. He organized "The Den-ver Hobby Club" eight years ago. So now that "Osteopath" has been transformed into a creative business man in his type of business. His father was a retired circus man and his mother an artist in oils. So there nis mother an artist in oils. So there you have it, folks. You never can tell. So long, Folks. Have a grand weekend. Will be seeing you next week D. V. Until then, I am,
Faithfully,
