The Apaches were close on their heels, and the Goochies ran a strong third.

Daily tent inspection brought honors to Tents 4 and 5 inhabited by William Albrecht, Robert Bowers, Kenneth Frock, Robert Fuss, Carroll Houck, Donald Lawyer, John Perry, and Miles Stonesifer. Ice cream was the reward, earned from penny fines

HISTORICAL TOUR

The Historical Society of Carroll County invites members and friends to join in a pilgrimage to historic spots Wednesday afternoon August 22. The caravan will assemble at the home of the Historical Society, 206 E. Main St., Westminster at 4:30 or at the farm of Mr. Clarence Bachman at 5:00.

The site of old Bachman's Mills will be the first stop. The host and hostess will be Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bachman, present owners of this property, which was the first land grant in Manchester district, 1744.

The quaint old stone house which belonged to the miller in early days was built in 1785. It is the only surviving structure of the thriving eighteenth century settlement which comprised a mill, post office, brickyard, church, distillery, and blacksmith shop.

Flour from the mill and whiskey from the distillery were taken by wagon into Baltimore; a day's journey. When the drivers turned in for the night, their horses were left out in the open. But their bridles were laid all night by the fire so that the horses' mouths would not freeze the horses' mouths in the morning.

The present picturesque farm house, built in 1818, has been in continuous possession of the Bachman family. The mill which used to run twenty-four hours a day for six days a week operated until twenty years ago.

Leaving Bachman's mills, the caravan will proceed to other places of interest. Each person will bring a box lunch to eat under the white oak tree at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Manchester.

The president of the Historical Society of Carroll County is A. Earl Shipley. The manager of the tour is Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes.

THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you: every morning smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Mister, the next time you attempt to throw your cigarette out your car window please do hesitate for it may save one of those awful fires that sweep the country mainly in Forests this time of the year. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are burnt up yearly all through a careless smoker.

All companies who make cigarettes regardless of the brand brag about the contents but never a word to the one who purchases them in any ad to be careful what that very cigarette may cause! It could be done as to advertising in a most diplomatic manner!

When that famous actress arrives in the picture "Kind Lady" by no means miss it at the "Earle"! She tops any of the old timers and she still is the "Queen" or the first lady in Hollywood!

And thinking of old timers, that really old time favorite of the screen of many years back (FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN) will visit Baltimore from Aug. 20 through 22 on his first return to his home town in many years. He is touring 35 cities in connection with his latest film "David and Bathsheba".

Thinking of famous personalities, the "grand old man" one of the "Life Begins at 80" died recently. He always began his answers with, "Well, I'll tell you just how it was" Remember?

Thanks for these nice notes from a gentleman farmer over New Windsor way! Never, never have I received such compliments. I'll keep on writing if you keep on reading! It's folks like you who make one feel super-duper! (Even if I am such a little columnist!)

Here's to the Ladies. Have you read about that new Shampoo Permanent? If you are not blessed with naturally curly hair, just shampoo your hair by letting the foam or soap suds on your hair for fifteen minutes instead of the immediate rinse. Then rinse after that time is up and set in the pin curls while wet. This amazing liquid shampoo requires no special curlers and you will be amazed with the curl and wave lasting so much longer!

If at any time you are in and near Charleston, S. C., on your vacation, it will be interesting to visit a relic of the early days of the Church of England in America! It was built in the year of 1711 and was called the Church of St. James' Goosecreek but because of its location finally became known simply as the Goose Creek Church. It is located 16 miles north of Charleston near U. S. Highway 52. The church was constructed of stucco and the royal arms of the British may still be seen above the chancel! It was built in the heart of a forest just one mile from the town of Otranto. Otranto was the home of Dr. Garden for whom Linnaeus named the Gardenia. Nearly is an old farm known as the Oaks, from an imposing avenue of oak trees said to be more than 200 years old leading to it. The Goose Creek church contains many memorial tablets.

Now, here's to the businessmen around our little town! Don't be afraid to fix up and modernize your store. It will make it much more attractive not alone improving the town but to the customer who then will become a steady one! Eh? Look at the dime store in Westminster and it is doing a tremendous business since it has been modernized with that new look!

Am wondering if many of the school children have really "done things" that are truly worthwhile during all that spare time? When Your Observer was going to school, we were always asked to write a Composition on just that upon our return to the next grade in Sept. This to the farmer's wife! Have you ever made Cherry Jelly? Recently at a very special dinner (A Christening one) this delicacy was one of the good eats upon the table and never have I tasted anything to compare with it in the "Jelly Line". It was without a doubt—out of this world! The color, too was most beautiful and transparent.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BUFFALO, WYO., BULLETIN: "The first cause of inflation is runaway spending by the Federal government. President Truman has asked for wide control powers over every aspect of the national economy, as a means of 'controlling inflation.' But the chief cause of inflation is already—and always has been—under his immediate and direct control. No emergency powers are needed to curtail his wild spending spree. All that is needed is a will and a determination to stop crazy, reckless, wasteful spending in Washington."

ROSEBURG, ORE., NEWS-REVIEW: "The control propaganda, spread over a long period of years, has weakened faith in free enterprise and free competition. Confidence in our American system of economy has been sapped by continued boring within by propagandists. Which is better, to have the price of a beef-steak advance 10 cents, or to have the ceiling controlled at 8 cents, and then pay 25 cents in taxes to regulate the price, pay subsidies to grain and livestock growers?"

SYCAMORE, OHIO, LEADER: "Representative John Phillips, of California, brings the discussion into every home in the land, in terms of life insurance. 'It was a struggle to pay for those first insurance policies. Today the $10,000 insurance paid for in 1913 would buy only $3,800 worth of consumer's goods. It would have needed $26,000 of insurance then to have $10,000 in purchasing power today'. That's inflation. Is it not time to think about deflating the inflaters in public office?"

WHOM WILL BE THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

The next presidential election is well over a year away, but all the political camps are speculating on who the candidates will be, and the hopefuls are out looking for delegates. And there are plenty of straws in the wind.

Some months ago it was widely forecast that Mr. Truman would not run again. Recent developments make it look as if that forecast was decidedly wrong. More and more people, including both supporters and opponents of the President, now think that he will ask for and receive the nomination. There are various reasons for this. Mr. Truman has been nettled by the setbacks Congress has given his program—particularly in civil rights and welfare legislation—and he obviously believes that if he takes his case to the people they will support him. He is intensely resentful at the attacks on Dean Acheson and other members of his Administration and he wants his policies and his appointments to be justified by another victory at the polls. And he believes, in all sincerity, that he is the best man available for the biggest job in the world.

If Mr. Truman does not run, he will name the Democratic candidate. There is no argument about that. The power of the presidency is so great these days that it is inconceivable that the nominating convention would go against his wishes.

On the Republican side, Taft leads, but he isn't in by a long shot. The Senator from Ohio occupies a curious position. All concede that he is one of the ablest men in the Senate. He probably knows more about the complex workings of the government than anyone in public life today. He is thorough and conscientious and at times he comes close to brilliance. He has organized and led the President's opposition, and he has more to say about GOP policy than anyone else. Yet, even among his friends and admirers, there is a feeling that Taft could not win—that, from the vote-getting standpoint, he might be a weak candidate. This is the feeling that Taft must overcome if he is to be nominated. In the meantime, he has more convention votes in his pocket than any other Republican possibility. It has been said he is General MacArthur's choice. If that is so, he has gained an important asset.

Most curious of all is the Eisenhower situation. The General's prestige is enormous, here and abroad. He has a record which is almost beyond criticism. He has a warm and attractive personality, and little of the austerity that is generally associated with top military men. But no one knows—or, at least, no one in a position to know has said—whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. Eisenhower followers in both parties are urging his candidacy. And no one knows what his views are on many vital subjects. The general opinion is that he is a strong internationalist in foreign policy, and that he tends to a relatively conservative stand on domestic policy.

The polls indicate that Mr. Truman's popularity is at a very low ebb. They also show General Eisenhower at the top in public esteem. But it is not likely that Mr. Truman puts much stock in polls after the 1948 miracle.

A few think that Mr. Truman may decide to voluntarily retire, come out for Eisenhower, and thus dumfound the Republicans. Others are equally certain that Eisenhower will run on the GOP ticket if the nomination is offered him. In any event, the General is the biggest question mark in all the speculations. — Industrial News Review.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

FOR THE MOMENT

What we do is a reflection of what we are; and what we say is a reflection of what we think or don't think.

Expressions of love are responses to one's longings to be loved.

In the Multnomah County Medical Society Bulletin, Oregon, appears an interesting placement of ads, according to Dick Fagan. After a number of ads for various medicines is an ad for an undertaker, followed by an ad for bank loans.

Too many people rely on such expressions as "out of this world" to describe everything from music to refreshments.—Writers Monthly.

Twelve streets and avenues in Salem, Oregon, have names of Presidents of the United States. They are: Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson.

Joe Stalin didn't intend for any man to step on his daughter's toes. Svetlana's wedding gown had a 63-foot train.

In the Oregon Journal is a picture of two persons of the opposite sexes engaged in osculation. Beneath the picture is the following ad:

"There isn't a man alive who isn't annoyed and embarrassed by tell-tale lipstick smears.

Now at last, you (and he), can say goodbye to all that with Hazel Bishop's revolutionary No-Smear Lipstick that lets you kiss and keep your secret!

No wonder over six million women have already changed to Hazel Bishop No-Smear Lipstick—and more and more are changing every day!"

They who claim their religion is the Golden Rule are keeping God from entering the front door.

A bathroom and a powder-room should not be one and the same. The waiting period is too long.

There will also be a Tom Thumb wedding. The soloist will be Billy Bowers. Others participating will be: Bride, Bonnie Brown; bridegroom, James Stonesifer; Maid of honor, Dottie Lee Baley; Bestman, Byron Baer; Flower girls, Sandra Selby and Sandra Stonesifer; Bridesmaid, Peggy Fleagle; Usher, Kenneth Feeser; Father, Chalmers Warehime; Mother, Nancy Myers; Guests, Eddie Koons, and Patricia Heagy; Minister, Johnny Myers.

The bride will wear a long white satin gown. Her maid of honor a full length lavender gown, her bridesmaid a gown of blue net over taffeta and her mother will wear yellow. The flower girls will wear pastel shades of organdy.

The Littlestown band will also furnish music during the evening. Suppers will be served from 4 to 7 p. m.

bright was a member of the Church of the Brethren and a former teacher of the Sunday School.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. Marshall Wolfe, Bridgeport, Va.; Margaret Weybright, at home; Ralph P. Weybright, near Detour, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hoover, Frederick; five grandchildren, one great-grandson and a brother, H. B. Stoner, Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Weybright home in charge of the Rev. Marshall Wolfe, her son-in-law, assisted by Rev. Samuel R. Weybright and Rev. Robert H. McKay. Burial was in the Rocky Ridge Church of the Brethren cemetery. Funeral arrangements were by C. O. Fuss and Son, Taneytown.

SHORT STORY

A Home For Young Dan

By MAUDE NORMAN

ALONG the highway trudged a girl. Cradled in her left arm was a blanket-wrapped bundle. From her right hand swung a heavy suitcase.

A car braked to a stop as she paused to rest. "Want a ride?" the driver called.

The man opened the car door, taking the suitcase from her hand. "Say, that weighs a ton!" he exclaimed. "Don't tell me that's a baby you've got there."

"I'm going to my husband's people. They're really not his own people, but they raised him."

"How come they're letting you walk? It's none of my business," seeing her quick flush, "but a fellow can wonder, can't he?"

"They don't know I'm coming," she said. "But I had no other place to go and I thought they might let me stay and work for my board. I want my baby to grow up in the country where he can see things growing, instead of being cooped up in one room in the city."

"That's rich. You're leaving the city for the country and I'm doing just the opposite."

"You mean you're leaving all this," her hand indicated the green fields they were passing.

He laughed harshly. "Looks pretty, doesn't it? But there's a lot of hard work goes with it."

"You work hard in a city too."

"Sure—but you know where you're at. Here, you work your head off, then a freeze comes along or a hail storm or something and all your hard work is gone. I used to have great plans about what I would do on my farm when I got out of the service. Say, what's the matter with him? Is he sick?" as a loud wail issued from the blanket.

"No, he's cold and wet and hungry—and" her voice broke, "so am I, hungry, I mean."

With an annoyed exclamation he turned the car around. "I didn't intend going back," he scowled, "but I can't stand having that poor little tyke cry like that."

"Where are you going?" she asked, hushing the baby.

"Back to the farm—to give you a chance to take care of the baby and rest a bit yourself. You needn't be afraid, my aunt and uncle are there."

"I'm not afraid," she retorted. "You look just like a picture my husband had of a buddy of his. Only your hair isn't red as his must have been, because Dan always called him 'Red'." She smiled. "He was always talking about his wonderful Red."

The car almost went into the ditch. "Say, what's your husband's name?"

"Dan Webster."

"Well, I'll be darned! No wonder your face is familiar. You're Sally! Dan had a picture of you he was always showing me. So you're Sally! What d'ya know!"

"You're not."

"Sure, I'm Red. The fellows called me that because my face gets red so easily—Say—where is old Dan? We lost sight of each other when he was sent to the Pacific and I was kept in France. Why are you alone? He's not—?"

"I think you'll like it here, Sally."

She nodded.

Red was silent until they had turned into the driveway of a pleasant old farm house. "Here we are," he said cheerfully, getting out. "Take care of young Dan and I'll have Aunt Sarah fix you a lunch of those eggs and that milk you were talking about."

"And you're leaving all this," she breathed, "for the city."

"Nope, I've changed my mind. I guess all that was wrong with me was, I was lonesome. I've been thinking, Dan was my best friend and I don't believe he'd mind me taking care of his wife and baby—that is, if she's willing. How about it, Sally? I know it's a crazy thing to ask. But somehow, I think Dan would rather you would stay here and help Aunt Sarah than go to those slave-drivers. And who knows what will happen in a year or so. After all, young Dan will need a father. I think you'll like it here, Sally."

Sally raised misty blue eyes. "Yes, I think Dan would be pleased," she said softly.

Strip Film Attachment

An attachment for 16 mm. projectors that enables strip film to be shown without loss of light or the danger of overheating the film has been introduced. The attachment, called "Unoscope," fits the lens opening of most 16 mm. silent projectors. Then, instead of projecting the film over the regular film track, the strip is wound on the Unoscope by a hand-operated feed knob. Separate shots can be held indefinitely.

Patented Block

It seems that even the common cement building-block can be improved and patented, according to National Patent Council. Patent No. 2,540,349 has been issued to Robert S. Reed, Three Rivers, Mich., for an improved building-block. The improvement claim is that the block is bisected lengthwise, a fibrous insulating material separates the two halves, and web reinforcement holds the halves together.

Cairline Memorial

A miniature doghouse in natural bronze, complete with polished name-plate, in which to keep Fido's remains after he has passed to dogdom's great beyond is the latest creation of Memorial Bronze Company, Ellenville, N.Y. The cremation urn, according to the company, "is the most healthful and respectable means of disposition of animal remains."

Metropolitan Traffic

Traffic congestion climbs continually in 12 metropolitan areas of the U. S. Reason, says the Bureau of the Census, is that one-quarter of the nation's population now lives in metropolitan areas of Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Detroit, Boston, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Washington, and Baltimore.

Improve Working Conditions

To an office which looks crowded, planned painting can bring a sense of spaciousness. Light colors, which make the most of the natural light that falls upon them, and velvety, flat finishes that reflect light evenly, without glare can actually increase efficiency.

Unstick Drawers

If the drawers in your dresser stick in damp weather, cover the inside surface with a thin coat of fresh shellac on a dry day. Unfinished wood swells in damp weather and causes the drawers to stick. The shellac seals the surfaces and prevents sticking.

Collector's Choice

A hardware-supply house found one dealer particularly backward about settling his account. Letter after letter, first polite, then threatening, was dispatched to no avail. At last a representative went to see him and asked, "Why haven't you sent us any money? Things going badly?" "Oh, no," was the cheerful reply. "Everything is fine. But those letters of yours were so good I copied them and sent them out to my delinquent customers, and they have brought in nearly everything that is owing me. I felt sure there must be another letter or two, so I was holding back until I had your entire series."

Seasonal Sign

Whenever you see a man with a handkerchief, socks and tie all matching, you may be sure he is wearing an Xmas gift.

LET'S GET THIS STRAIGHT

Two thoroughly inebriated men were driving like mad in an automobile. "Shay," one fumbled for his words, "be sure to turn out for that bridge that's comin' down the road toward us."

"What do you mean, me turn out?" the other retorted. "I thought you were drivin'."

Never Can Tell

Not long ago Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia sent his car to take Arthur Krock, the Washington columnist for the New York Times, out to Byrd's Virginia estate. As the writer approached the car he noticed that the front seat was pretty well taken up by a huge Great Dane and that the back seat was crowded with the Senator's small grandchildren. He started to sit in front with the dog, then changed his mind and climbed in with the children.

He had no sooner cleared a space for himself than one of the children bit him.

WHIZ AT FIGURES

A pretty girl taking public-service examinations had this problem put to her: If a man buys an article for $12.25 and sells it for $9.75, does he gain or lose by the transaction?

The young thing pondered deeply, then answered: "He gains on the cents but loses on the dollars."

Needs Protection

Billy Brown, unsuccessful candidate for police chief of Butternut Corners, was seen shortly after elections striding down the main street with a long-barreled pistol in his hands.

"Hey," called one of the town constables, "what are you parading around with a gun for?" You were't elected police chief!"

"I know that," countered Billy. "I only got seven votes out of 3,000, and if that's all the friends I've got in this town, I need a gun!"

Next!

In the Club Room, recently, an actress noted for her apple-polishing of big shots sashayed over to critic George Jean Nathan's table and cooed: "I just can't tell you how much I enjoy your reviews."

"Well," suggested Nathan, "send over someone who can."

HE REMEMBERED

"Jones," said the chemistry professor, "give me the formula for water."

"H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O," Jones rattled off rapidly.

"What!" exclaimed the prof. "Are you trying to be funny?"

"No, sir," stammered the student. "I thought you told us yesterday it was H to O."

Synthetic Analgesic Rated More Lasting Than Morphine

A new, synthetic pain-killing drug made from coal tars has been described by two Pittsburgh physicians after extensive clinical trial as giving more effective and more lasting relief from pain than morphine with a significantly lower incidence of nausea and vomiting.

The drug, called Dromoran, was synthesized in Switzerland by research workers of Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc. An adequate substitute for morphine, which is made from poppies grown in the Middle and Far East, long has been sought by scientists in the United States to free the nation from dependency on lines of supply vulnerable to international tensions. Dromoran is now being manufactured in the United States by Hoffmann-La Roche from coal tar derivatives which are readily available and plentiful.

The Pittsburgh physicians, Drs. Erik Keutmann and Francis F. Foides, both of Mercy Hospital, reported in the New England Journal of Medicine that they used the new synthetic analgesic on 311 patients following surgery to relieve pain. A similar group of 312, carefully matched as to age and sex, were given morphine to allow comparison of results.

The doctors reported that Dromoran acted as quickly after injection as did morphine, but noted this difference: "... its duration was somewhat longer." The first dose, they stated, afforded complete relief in 66.5 per cent of the cases as against 46.2 per cent for morphine under the same conditions.

Morphine failed completely in 5.8 per cent of the patients. Only 2.6 per cent got no relief from pain with Dromoran. Drs. Keutmann and Foides summarized their findings in these words:

"Dromoran gave complete relief from pain in a considerably larger percentage of cases than did morphine, and with Dromoran the incidence of the most troublesome side effects, nausea and emesis (vomiting), was decreased."

Call Your Color

Colors which have never before been seen are being produced daily at the University of Illinois. Inspired by a spherical shaving mirror, Prof. Jozef Cohen of the psychology department has produced a machine which can mix colors in proportions nature never has known, or produce intense simple colors. More important, any color or mixture can be produced or repeated with scientific accuracy. He terms the machine an "analytic-synthetic-colorimetric - apparatus" or briefly, "ASCA". The viewer looks through a binocular-like eyepiece into a sphere the size of a big bowling ball. Inside the white sphere he sees a disk the size of a telephone dial. Here is where the color appears, or two colors, as the disk can be split vertically and a different color shown on each half.

Follow Your Personality

Home furnishings, like clothing, should be chosen to express the personality of the owner. In even so simple a thing as a place mat for the table, one's choice may be determined by one's personality. One type of person will instinctively choose a lightweight mat of fine linen thread with a delicate design of drawn work suggesting the use of fine crystal and china. Another type will choose a mat of heavy cotton yarn, sturdy in texture, which is associated with heavy pottery and wooden candleholders. Both choices portray types of personality which the Chinese centuries ago sensed in life forces and designated as Yin and Yang. The Yin person likes fragile, delicate fabrics, fine lines, and light gay colors. The Yang person is drawn toward the heavier fabrics and sturdy utensils with an emphasis on strength, weight, and depth of color.

"She'll hit 80!" (she almost did)

You can count the broken bodies but it's hard to total all the lives that are hit hard because someone had to "hit 80." But even one broken heart is too high a price to pay to prove you can win a race to the cemetery. So drive a little slower—live a lot longer. You'll be way ahead.

Be Careful—the life you save may be your own!

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 25:14-30; Acts 2:43-47; 19:23-41.
DEVOTIONAL READING: II Corinthians 8:1-9.

Christian's Spending

Lesson for August 12, 1951

ONCE upon a time, so they say, a Scotchman opened his pocketbook in December, and a June-bug flew out. That story belongs to the class of stories that sound funny because they are impossible, like the Paul Bunyan stories, or the one about the fly that fell off a marble and broke his back. No man is so stingy that he could go from June to December without opening his pocketbook to spend a single cent. Spending is something all of us do, all the time.

Dr. Foreman

Is Your Money Yours?

"IT'S my money and I can do what I please with it." That is the average man's attitude toward his money. But it's not the Christian attitude.

In the first place, Jesus' parable of the talents reminds us that all the conditions, and all the energy, and everything else that makes earning money possible, are in the long run the gifts of God. "It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves" is just as true now as it ever was.

God it is who gave us life in the first place, who has preserved us, and endowed us with whatever gifts and capacities we have. We are not our own, we are bought with a price, as Paul puts it.

However, we earn our living, whether as farmers, business or professional people, if it had not been for the blessings of God we could have earned nothing at all. One bedrock principle of the Old Testament is that the earth is the Lord's. Put that together with the New Testament principle that the Christian belongs to God, and you have arrived at the great principle of "stewardship."

Profits or Profit?

THE earliest Christians of Jerusalem pooled all their resources and dealt them out to all, in proportion to their individual needs. This experiment in sharing the wealth failed; and one main reason for the failure was that they paid all their attention to consumption and none at all to production.

No matter how smoothly you distribute the wealth, if some one is not producing, the whole pile will vanish in time.

Nevertheless, those earliest Christians did have a firm grasp of a real truth; namely, that when a Christian spends money he ought to have the needs of the community first in mind, and not his own profits. Does this sound too idealistic?

Well, even the law, slanted though it may seem toward the protection of wealth, puts limits on the ways a man can spend his money. If it can be shown that what he pays his good money for is hurtful to the community, the law will clamp down on him, in many cases. You can't keep a skunk farm on Broadway. It may be your money, and your skunks, but it's not your Broadway.

To take another angle: down in Atlanta (Georgia) a highly successful industrialist, when he died, left the stock in his company to his employees. They had helped him earn his fortune, he said; they should share in the proceeds.

Does not our community help us earn whatever we do, earn? And doesn't the community deserve consideration in the spending?

The Money-God

NO temples on our main streets are labeled "To the God Mammon." But money is often a god, all the same. On Mammon's altar how many things and men are sacrificed! What will men not do to "make a fast buck," to turn a neat profit? Honor, decency, truthfulness, health, even life itself, will be given up before consenting to cut the profits down.

Every great entrenched evil—gambling, prostitution, corrupt courts, liquor traffic—is as hard to dislodge as the silversmiths of Ephesus, and for the same reason: The people who stand to make money out of sin never care what happens to the sinners.

But let us watch ourselves. Do we smalltimers criticize the paunchy big-shots because we really hate the way they sacrifice everything to greed, or is it because we are envious?

Making Poultry Pay

—THE DR. SALSBUARY WAY

Tapeworms in poultry have staying power. Although bodies of the worms may be expelled, heads often remain. To get "heads" and all, use Dr. Salsbury's Cloro-Caps. For a flock-type tapewormer, use Dr. Salsbury's Wormal. Also gets large roundworms, cecal worms. Spreads easily on mash. Both products expel tapeworms*.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

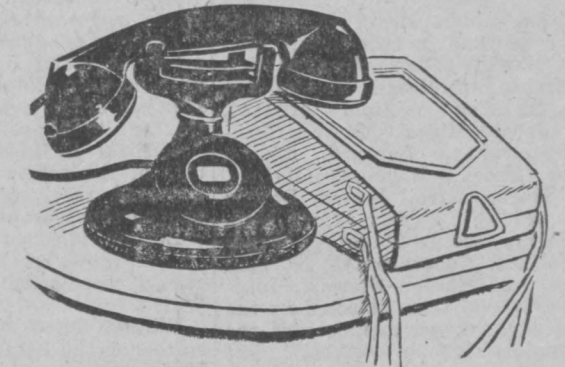

Strong language

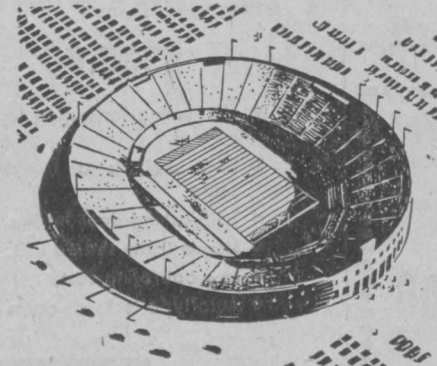

From a 1919 telephone directory: "Ringing on a line before 6 A. M. or after 10 P. M. is positively forbidden, except for a doctor. Subscribers must not hold the line for more than 5 minutes. Butting in, interrupting a conversation, whistling, or making other noises will be deemed cause for removal of telephone." Things have come a long way since then. Today, modern equipment and methods make the telephone more readily available to more people... and there's more and better rural service.

Off the hook

A telephone off its cradle, or a receiver off the hook, will cause your line to register "busy" to anyone calling you. And if it's a party line, all telephones on your line will be "busy." Care about this small detail will help both you and your neighbors enjoy better service. And that goes for a long list of calls, too. Spacing them out makes it possible for others to reach you quickly... often with calls you wouldn't want to miss.

Speaking of Bowls

The Rose Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Yale Bowl, plus Yankee Stadium and Soldier's Field, plus much more space would be needed to assemble the 600,000 people who work together throughout the nation to give you such excellent telephone service. That's a lot of people—but there's a lot of work to be done. In times like these, the nation is hurrying. And the telephone, Long Distance especially, hurries with them and for them. This vast network of Long Distance lines is one of the first, and strongest, of our national defense lines.

Your kitchen will be COOLER
when you cook with
ELECTRICITY

On scorching summer days do you dread the thought of working over a hot stove?

No need to—not if you cook with electricity!

Because electric heat is flameless it requires no air for burning. So it is possible to completely insulate the oven on all six sides. Heat stays in the oven and out of the kitchen.

And the surface units do not waste their heat on the kitchen air either. Pots and pans rest right on the electric coils. The heat is transferred directly to utensils and food.

Electricity cooks the food instead of the cook. And a cooler kitchen is only one of the many advantages of cooking with electricity. Added together they make it by far the best and only completely modern method of cooking.

ONLY AN ELECTRIC RANGE GIVES ALL THESE ADVANTAGES

- ✓ COOLER kitchen
- ✓ LOW COST of operation
- ✓ BETTER and MORE HEALTHFUL
- ✓ FAST as fire without flame
- ✓ PERFECT RESULTS everytime
- ✓ AUTOMATIC OPERATION
- ✓ CLEAN—no smoke, no soot
- ✓ EASY—simplest way to cook
- ✓ SAFER for home and family
- ✓ MOST MODERN way of cooking

There are electric ranges to suit every need and every purse.

ACTIVITIES OF THE BOY SCOUTS

for minor infractions of the rules. Third place went to Tent 3, where Philip Halter, James Null, Robert Null, and John Thomas put up.

Waterfront advancements earned were: Stanley F. Frock, Scout life guard and Senior Red Cross life saving; Philip Lawry, Canoeing and Swimming merit badges; Andrew Alexander, Life Saving merit badge; and George Shriver, swimming merit badge. Passing from intermediate to swimmer were Glenn Boyle, Robert Fuss, Donald Lawyer, James Schildt, and Russell Walker, while Hasson Stewart went from beginner to intermediate. Other Scouts who were swimmers from the first day's classification were Andrew Alexander, Philip Lawry, James Null, Robert Null, Frederick Schlerf, Robert Sentz, George Shriver, Miles Stonesifer, and Peter Westine. Progress was made, however, by even the lowest beginner.

A volleyball court was set up Monday by the Project and Headquarters details when Mr. Albrecht supervised the improvising of a net from binder twine. Tuesday a challenge by Hightop (whose members were from Randallstown in Ranger district) resulted in two closely contested softball games. The participants from Dan Beard, in two age groups, included William Albrecht, LeRoy Barnes, Robert Bowers, Nelson Breneman, Bernard Brown, Kenneth Frock, Romanus Haines, Robert Hoch, Carroll Houck, Donald Lawyer, Philip Lawry, James Null, John Perry, George Rogatkin, Frederick Schlerf, Robert Sentz, Norman Steketee, and Hasson Stewart. Wednesday a special team selected by the patrol leaders defied members of the camp junior staff in softball, but were nosed out by a late rally as darkness put an end to the excitement.

Thursday evening's boat and canoe races saw Dan Beard win third place among the 22 sites in camp, our representatives winning the following places: Second in the 2-man canoe race, Robert Sentz and Miles Stonesifer; second in 4-man canoe race, Andrew Alexander, Philip Lawry, Sentz and Stonesifer; 1st in tug-of-war, Alexander, Robert Bowers, Donald Lawyer, Philip Lawry, John Perry and Russell Walker.

Friday afternoon featured a swimming meet, with Dan Beard again coming out third, considerably helped by Stanley F. Frock, who, though a senior leader, was entitled to enter. Places were: First, 25-yard freestyle and second, 50-yard freestyle swim, Stanley F. Frock; third, 100-yard medley, Frock, Philip Lawry, George Shriver and Miles Stonesifer; third, cross-country, Mr. Frock, Kenneth Frock, Donald Lawyer and Philip Lawry.

Not to be forgotten as a Friday fixture was the second annual shrimp dinner prepared by "Chef" Albrecht, Andy Alexander, and their cooking detail of the day. Such ardent anglers as Wilbur Garrett, Robert Null and Miles Stonesifer contributed fresh additions to this menu from the nearby creek. Null had achieved recognition for the first fish caught during the week, and to Stonesifer went the prize for the biggest.

That evening order of the Arrow pledges were "tapped out" in a colorful ceremony at the closing campfire, those elected from Westminster being Robert Null and Charles Schuler, those from Taneytown Kenneth Frock and Donald Lawyer.

Appreciation is expressed to those assisting in transportation, Messrs. A. D. Alexander, W. L. Barnes, J. V. Frock, Lawrence Myers, Wilbur C. Thomas and F. W. Westine.

The entire stay was filled with fun and profit, and already the talk is of 1952, for which three sites have been chosen, one to be drawn by lot at a Baltimore meeting in the fall.
