TRIP SOUTH

The Wilhides Describe Two Weeks Auto Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide left July 26, on a two weeks trip through the South passing through the following states and points of interest. Going to Frederick, Md., and following Routes 15 and 29 to Charlottsville, Va., where we visited Monticello the home of Thomas Jefferson, a man whom after seeing the home, many have said Thomas Jefferson was a man with ideas far beyond his day. Passing thru North Carolina, we saw colored folks picking tobacco hauling in mule drawn carts to be dried in the tobacco shed of which we observed and then hung in bunches ready for market. South Carolina fields of cotton just bursting into bloom. Georgia the pine trees with the V shaped cuts and buckets hanging beneath to catch the pitch which flows from them. Talked with a colored boy who was emptying the buckets into a barrel the product to be sent to a refin-

We were told to follow A1A the scenic Route from Jacksonville to Daytona Beach, along the way we observed the Marine Studio and watched the feeding of fish. Porposes umping 6 to 8 feet to catch a fish either being held in the hand or mouth of a lady or gentleman at exhibit time; also saw a sea diver walking through the Aquarium, carrying a basket of small fish to feed the larger ones all under 6 or 8 ft water. Passing through Daytona we drove over to the Beach along the Atlantic Ocean and rode several miles up and down the Warm day, sunshine, the bathing was being greatly enjoyed. Driving on to Key West crossed 18 bridges ranging in size of % mile to the 7 mile bridge which spans the Pigeon Key. Called on Rev. Sellers at Rock Ledge but they were on their vacation. Attended Lutheran church then.

Left Key West for Havana, Cuba Monday by plane, 45 minute ride very smooth and beautiful leaving Monday morning, July 30. First when we landed we were assigned our hotel of which ours was the Packard Hotel, then we were given a ticket for a sight seeing tour through the city where we saw the Capital, Parliament buildings, beautiful Cathedral, Perfume Factory, the cemetery where all graves were covered with white mar-ble slabs level with the ground or in vaults. We also took a country tour along with two other couples from Atlanta, Ga. We had met and traveled together while in Cuba. This was a tour of the country surrounding Havana. Baseball stadium with a seating capacity of 35,000. The Tannery for Alligator skins tropical gardens, many beautiful homes of Amercans who control enterprises in Cuba. Cubans welcome the people from U. S. very cordially.

The next afternoon we arrived back in the States visited the Turtle Crawl saw the Aquarium where they were tored on to Acala, Silver Springs, pletted" Singing Tower, Tallahassee from here crossed the Mobile Bay Bridge to Louisiana 1½ mile draw bridge. Drove along Gulf of Mexico saw longest man made beach of white sand in the world beautiful homes facing the Gulf of Mexico. We gathered some shells along beach, visited several cemeteries some were of long chain of vaults, single vaults and one which was very unique but interest-ing to see and hear the story told of how they bury. This was a grave of which 7 burials had been made in this grave previous; each time the ground has to be removed, the pine casket which has rotted in the damp soil is thrown on truck, the bones placed on side of grave to be put back again or placed in sacks just so all the families bones are in the same grave. We talked with the three colored men who were just finshing the digging of the grave the funeral to be held an half hour later, then bury in this grave. They cannot redig a grave for 2 years, but rent a plot of ground in case two in a family die within two years. One family has had 17 generations buried in 1 grave, following this custom.

Enroute 11 we left New Orleans drove thru Mississippi to Alabama where Aug. 5, we visited Steele Baptist church and Sunday school, Southern Hospitality shown very strongly to a lady inviting us to a chicken dinner at her home but owing to lack of time we could not accept.

Rock City, Alabama attracts thousands of visitors every week. Visited Hodgensville the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln and Bradstown, plantation manor immortalized in song by Stephen Foster. Visited the Calumet Farms, Lexington, saw trotting horses practicing on the tract. This is also the home of Citation known as the greatest horse of all time. Holding the world's record in 1948. Leaving Lexington we pased thru Covington, Alabama, Cincinnati, Ohio, Colum-bus, Wheeling, W. Va., Cumberland, Md. and home Carroll View Farm, covering a distane of 4,268 miles, passed thru 13 States.

FIRE COMPANY'S REGULAR MEETING

Plans Made to Hold a Horse Pulling Contest

The regular meeting of the Tan-eytown Volunteer Fire Company was held in the Municipal building Monday evening with president George Kiser presiding.

Under the supervision and direction of the University of Md. College wark Md. A horse pulling contest, open to everyone's team of horses, will be held on the Taneytown Fair grounds, Saturday, Sept. 1, 1951. Liberal money prizes will be offered in each event. LeRoy Smith is the chairman of this big event and full particulars will be given in the next issue of this

Plans were made to participate in the parades held at the following places: Parkville, Aug. 17; Dundalk, Aug. 18; Emmitsburg, Aug. 30! Frederick, Aug. 31 and Glyndon, Sept. 31.

All members are urged to attend the parade August 25, at Chambers-burg. The truck and cars will leave Taneytown at 1 P. M. sharp. The committees reported as follows: one member, Kermit Reid, was reported sick; one fire hazard reported corrected; 1 fire call July 14; 8 ambulance calls were made. Applications of three new members were received. Before adjournment of the meeting all members stood in silence out of respect for a departed brother, Carbaugh who died July 18, 1951.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The new 1951 telephone directory for Carroll County was delivered this week, according to an announcement by W. B. Hopkins, local manager for The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, of Baltimore City.

According to Hopkins, a total of 10,600 copies of the directory were printed with the familiar cover showing the spirit of communication on a gray background. There have been about 8,000 changes in the listings since the previous issue, he said, and an increase of twelve pages or about 600 additions. For the first time bold type listings will appear in the directory's alphabetical section.

Referring to telephone growth in recent years, Hopkins said, "From 1946 to 1951 our gross expenditures in Carroll County, to expand and improve our plant, have amounted to over $11/2 million. This program was carried out during a period of steadily mounting operating expenses and in face of rising costs of materials and supplies. In Taneytown for instance a new building was erected, the latest type dial switching equipment was installed and extensive expansion and improvement of outunloading the days catch of the fish. side cables and wiring was com-

The number of telephones served by the new Carroll County directory has increased over 500 in the past year, it was said. How this increases the value of the service to each customer was explained by citing growth figures for the Taneytown exchange where the number of telephones has more than doubled since 1939. "This means", Hopkins said, that each Taneytown customer has twice as many telephones in his exchange which he may call or receive calls from"

Noting that 1951 is the 75th anniversary of the telephones, Hopkins furnished the following tabulation for Carroll County telephone offices showing growth in the past dozen

FARM BUREAU INSURANCE RANKS SECOND

The Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company now ranks second among all mutual companies in the nation as judged by premium income from auto policies, according to National Underwriter magazine. A premium gain of 27.2 percent in 1950 raised the Columbus firm from third to second place Earned premiums, on automobile business only totaled more than $50,000,000 last

Other figures published by National Underwriter show that from 1949 to 1950 Farm Bureau Insurance, jumped from ninth to fifth place among all auto insurers-mutual, stock, or reciprocal.

C. W. Leftwich, vice-president, actuarial, said "The record is all the more gratifying when it is considered that, whereas most of the leaders in the industry do business on a nation wide basis, our company operates in but 12 states and the District of Columbia."

THE RED CROSS

Double Quota for Kansas Flood Relief Work

The Carroll County Red Cross Chapter is happy to announce that the response to the appeal for help for the Kansas Flood sufferers has been immediate and generous, the contribution to date of approximately $1500 doubling the local quota of $750.00. The week of August 5-12 was proclaimed by the County Commissioners and by the Mayor of Westminster Kansas Flood Relief

The Carroll County Chapter chairman, Mr. Hazard Clarke, arranged that coin banks with posters were placed in the banks and stores over the county. Rev. A. F. Schildwachtér, rector of Ascension Episcopal Church, in Westminster, headed the ministerial committee to raise funds through the churches. The steering committee has been headed by Mrs. Lamme who was assisted by Mrs. Charles Morrow, Mrs. Virginia Minnick, Mrs. Gladys Wimmert, John Mc-Cormick and Lawrence Card. Workers from the various districts included Mrs. Frank Dorsey and DeVries Her-ing, Sykesville; Mrs. Henry Freter, Berrett; Charles Arnold, Taneytown; Mrs. Harold Smelser, Uniontown; Miss Clara Baile Beck,, Mt. Airy; Col. S. S. MacLaughlin and Mrs. Leslie Hamill, Westminster; Mrs. Helen Luttrell and Dr. T. H. Legg, Union Bridge; Mrs. C. E. Nusbaum, New Windsor; Miss Emma Trump and H. Austin Peregoy, Manchester; Mrs. William A. Hartman, Hampstead.

Members of this comittee got in touch with local service clubs and other organizations. The citizens of Carroll County may well be proud of their achievement in topping their quota. Since some chapters have fallen short of their goal, it is earnestly hoped that anyone who has not yet had the opportunity to give will send in a contribution because the emergency in Kansas continues. The rehabilitation help needed by people with little or no resources will depend upon the response of the American people through their Red Cross. Announcement of specific contributions by districts will be made next

CARROLL COUNTY WAR MEMOR-IAL MEDICAL CENTER PROGRESS

Contracts for the erection of the Carroll County War Memorial Medi-Center have been awarded to Allen F. Feeser for the general construction of this $125,000 project, and to J. H. Allender and Sons for the plumbing and heating.

Priority orders for some of the controlled materials have been received from the United States Department of Commerce, National Production Authority. Steel mills are working on these quotas. In the meantime, preliminary work has been started.

been graded, some grading of the building site is done and the public utilities water, electricity and tele-phone companies are perfecting their plans, and are ready at a moments notice to make their installations.

To the splendid workers, who responded to the emergency call sent out by the county chairman, Scott S. Bair, and to those public spirited citizens and friends of the county, who have declared their support through cash, pledges and encouragement, the Carroll Connty War Memorial committee is most apreciative, and assures them the work will be getting under way very shortly.

TOUR WILL BE MADE BY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The pilgrimage of the Historical Society of Carroll County to historic spots in Hampstead and Manchester districts Augus 22 is attracting considerable interest among friends and members of the society.

After visiting Bachman's Mills at 5 o'clock, the caravan will observe the Mason and Dixon stone above Manchester as they proceed to old Whistler's Mill.

There will be a supper interval under the white oak tree of the Lutheran church in Manchester At this time members of the Historical So-along with that of Irving College. Resuming the tour, the cars will pause at the site of Richard Richards' old fort. At White Hall Tavern, still standing, Mrs. Walter Kriel will tell its story. In Hampstead another old house which once served as tavern will be noted in passing. This will be followed by a visit to the site of the earliest land grant in Hampstead district, near the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelbaugh. The grant was taken out by Richard Richards July 18, 1738. The tour will also include the Stansbury home which marks the site of Mirely School and Wesley Church, formerly Brown's Meeting House. The pil-grimage will end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Tracey, Hamp-

Cars wishing to join the caravan will assemble at the home of the Historical Society, 206 E. Main St, West-minster at 4:30 in the afternoon of August 22 or at the home of Mr. Clarence Bachman at 5:00.

The president of the Historical Society of Carroll County is A. Earl

IT'S SAFER TO WALK, NOW

One of the brightest spots in the notable reduction in pedestrian July, 1951. deaths. Since 1937, while all other traffic fatalities were increasing five per cent, pedestrian fatalities have been reduced by 44 per cent.

This is an accomplishment that reflects great credit on the States and cities that have taken positive measures to protect the man on foot.

Yet, study of the reports filed with the AAA in the most recent Pedestrian Protection Contest show that the advances made so far are but indicators of what could be accomplished were more attention paid to the problem of the men and women who walk in traffic lanes. If all the cities and States had pedestrian death records as low as the winning States and cities, our pedestrian death toll could be cut in half, and half

The victories that have been won in the battle against pedestrian casnalties prove once again that accident- prevention programs, soundly conceived and vigorously carried out do pay off in lives saved. And no better inspiration could be wanted by those who have dedicated their careers to the reduction of traffic accidents .- Maryland (AAA) Motorist.

"AND WE QUOTE-"

Clarence Manion, Dean of the College of Law, Notre Dame University, says in his book, "The Key to Peace". "All over the world there is an immediate demand for enormous quantities of pure Americanism, but unfortunately, the demand comes at a time when we are experiencing a critical shortage right here in the United States".

President Truman, in his Detroit anniversary speech: "Never, not even in the bitterest political campaigns, have I seen such a flood of hes and slander as is now pouring forth over the country"

Louis Bromfield, famous author and farmer, arguing the case of "plowless tarming" in Successful Farming magazine: "Pretty farming and clean farming have cost this nation billions of dollars in lost, depleted and deteriorated soil. We are still paying the bill in terms of high prices, and in high taxes to subsidize farmers who can not make a living on that same soil."

Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson (in another speech at Detroit): "We have always held the door open to a real and permanent settlement of the world's problems. Perhaps a demonstration of America's might, such as we are building now, will cause Russia to enter that door willingly and with real meaning."

Jennie Lee, wife of Aneurin Bevan, on the subject of the impending revolt of British working women demanding equal pay with men: "We have been too quiet. Good manners do not pay".

"THE LIGHT THAT FAILED"

Every now and then someone asks, 'What's become of the 'everlasting' match? Who owns patents on it? Why isn't it being sold?"

Frequently the questioner implies For a long time mankind believed American match manufacturers are keeping this device off the market.

Does it surprise you to know that cooking with electricity improves all three?

Foods cooked electrically retain more of their vitamins, minerals, appetizing appearance and flavor. The original quality is not lost as it is in cooking on antiquated stoves.

Cooking with electricity is so simple and easy, and results are so certain that cooking becomes "a joy instead of a job." And you always do things better when you enjoy the method of doing them.

An electric range always automatically provides the same heat for the same switch position. By eliminating all guesswork about length of cooking time and correct heat, cooking with electricity can make any cook a good cook and make a good cook a superb cook.

ONLY AN ELECTRIC RANGE GIVES ALL THESE ADVANTAGE

- √ COOLER kitchen
- √ LOW COST of operation
- ✓ BETTER and MORE HEALTHFUL
- √ FAST as fire without flame → PERFECT RESULTS everytime
- ✓ AUTOMATIC OPERATION
- √ CLEAN--no smoke, no soot √ EASY---simplest way to cook
- √ SAFER for home and family
- √ MOST MODERN way of cooking

Sister Elizabeth Kenny, the Australian nurse, whose theories and treat-ment of polio threw United States Medical circles into an uproar when first introduced, is incurably ill and has little time left in the world. The world famous nurse did not name the disease with which she has been stricken. Miss Kenny, who is 65 said she would continue her fight against the ravages of polio until she did for it on her way row to the died. She is on her way now to the United States on what may prove to be her last visit. Her journey is eased by the fact that the American Congress in a special bill granted her "freedom of the United States." She is the second person in history to gain this distinction, which allows her to travel back and forth without passport or immigration formalities.

The first was Gen LaFayette. Experience may be the best teacher but sometimes her lessons are tragic ones and hard to take. At least Merhle Wilhide found it so when he tried to get rid of muskrats that were ruining his pond. After using several methods which brought, no results he decided to pump carbon monoxide gas into the muskrat Whether he succeeded in exterminating the offending muskrat is not really known, but he did exterminate all the fish in the pond, much to the sorrow of his family and the friends who enjoyed fishing and swimming in the pond. It is hoped by this reporter that the farmers having ponds will read this and take warning from some one else's bitter experience and be careful what they use near their ponds containing fish. As soon as the water is safe again the Wilhide's plan to restock their pond with fish. It is with deep regret that we have to report such bitter lessons may save someone else from making the same mistake.

There are 2 million and a half trucks on farms now, nearly twice as many as in 1941. Miss Pat Dilly, of Detour, has been visiting Miss Caroline Baker this past

Most every one by this time has formed his or her opinion about the West Point dismissal of 90 cadets for violations of the honor system. It seems to this reporter that the father's comment to his cadet son who was among those dismissed best sums up the most typical of a mature father's reaction. It was "Well, you have been caught cheating, so take your medicine like a man." Every parents duty is to stand by their children through the good and the bad, but standing by does not mean upholding them in doing wrong. Neither should parents make excuses for them when they violate a moral code of ethics. We, as parents, have a duty to perform, both as a trust for our children and for our country. And that duty is to teach once again that personal honor means something; that one's word should be as good as one's bond and that one's integrity is above the price of gold or false hon-

CHARLES B. REAVER

Charles B. Reaver, well-known building and supplies contractor and farmer died at his home near Taneytown, Saturday just one hour after he was suddenly stricken with a heart attack.

In his usual good health, Mr. Reaver had conducted his business for the day and made several usual trips to Taneytown, and had retired for the evening. At midnight he was stricken with a heart attack. The family physician was summoned and at one o'clock Mr. Reaver was pronounced dead. He was aged 57 years.

The deceased was a member of the Grace Reformed church, the Taneytown Rod and Gun Club, the Taney-town Chamber of Commerce and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown, Pa. He was honorary member of the Hesson-Snider Post American

He was a son of the late James and Mary Brown Reaver. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Carrie Dutterer Reaver; ten children, J. Here is the story of a grotesque sculpture at Lincoln Cathedral which is one of the oldest in England, first built 1074-92 and rebuilt 1141 and 1186. The imp is supposed to represent the devil and may have resulted in the phrase "the devil looking over Lincoln" referring to a bitter critic. Thisimp or devil had the ugly look of an envious person; one suffering from "sour grapes" even to the aspect of a swollen stomach. Fuller wrote in 1662 of the proverb, 'He looks as the devil over Lincoln" that "Lincoln Minister is one of the stateliest structures in Christendom....The devil is supposed to have overlooked this church with a torve and tetrick (grim and gloomy) and countenance as maligning men's costly devotion"

In fact, the devil was seriously considered in early church architecture, some having devil's door in the north wall ("the devil's side") to let the devil out during baptisms and communions! Have a grand week-end (Even if it is on the old front porch). Will be seeing you next week. D.V. Until then. I am,

"My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "Fling out the Banner" sung during the meeting. Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide had as her special contribu-tion a motion picture of the Life of George Washington Carver.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Gregg Kiser. The nominating committee reported the nominations of the lowing. Pres., Mrs. Gregg Kiser; Assistant Pres., Mrs. Carroll Wilhide; Treas., Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Robert Stine; Statistical Secretary, Mrs. C. R Cluts.

Mrs. Clyde Wilhide conducted the Thank-offering service. The offering was received at this time.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Mark Baumgardner, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Mrs. Luther Keeney, Mrs. Robert Stine and Mrs. Charles Cluts. Delicious cake and punch was served. Our visitors were most welcome and come again.

THE PATH FROM HOME

The path which leads away from home Is the longest path of life, The path o'er which multitudes roam, A path of pain, tears and strife.

If you can't walk the narrow path Where roses ever bloom, Be wary of the winding path That leads away from home. The home you have is the home you make By your spirit, deeds and words; If your home you'd change, then change your ways,

Is the counsel of your Lord. When once you start a crooked path It grows more crooked day by day, You can only straighten the curves By changing all your wavs. G. H. ENFIELD.

MARYLAND MUSINGS

Now's the time of year to beware of cutting your lawn too close. It shouldn't be cut closer than 11/2 inches so that it can pull through a dry, hot spell.

Improper wiring is one of the most frequently found hazards on Maryland farms. Ventilation in your poultry houses will add to the comfort of your flock during hot summer months.

Flat Paint wenects Light Evenly

From a mat or non-glazed surface, light is reflected in a uniform manner in all directions. For this reason flat paint is advisable for most rooms. The exceptions are the rooms which are frequently subject to steam or grease-the bathroom and kitchen, in other words. In these rooms it is more desirable to have the gloss-type finishes which he frequently washed than to avoid the high lights.

The Man Franklin

Author, diplomat, scientist, are some of the well-known talents of Benjamin Franklin, but we may also add the titles of "weatherman" and "explorer" as feathers to his cap. Franklin did valuable research in the study of the Gulf Stream and the subject of weather prediction. He also laid plans for the first American expedition to explore the Arctic regions.

Use Sparingly

Poultry manure is a good fertilizer but it is high-powered. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, warns that it must be used in small amounts in the garden. Because of its high nitrogen content, poultry manure stimulates plant growth and too much will cause spindling

Uncle Sam Says

More than 60 million workers will unite in the 68th observance of Labor Day, Sept. 4. Today, more than ever before, the workingman realizes the opportunities which have been opened to him. One of these is future financial security through the U. S. Savings Bonds Payroll Savings program. Millions of his co-workers have found that the regular, automatic pay-day investment in Savings Bonds provides not only a cushion against emergencies but is an assurance of security when he is really to retire. Enroll for the Payroll Savings Pian where you work.

Angler Who Fished Banks Soon Is Netted by FBI

NEW YORK, N.Y.-The FBI recently announced the capture of a unique angler who fished not for fishes, but for greenbacks behind teller's windows in banks.

The "fisherman", Peter Hanson, 51, was captured with one of his favorite rods-a paper-covered ruler with a wad of chewing gum on one end.

Agent Edward Scheidt said the angler "poached" on a bank in Kansas City and one in Weehawken, N.J., by fishing through the teller's window. Fingerprints on a rod he left behind in the Kansas City bank led to his cap-

Asiatic Religious Belief Fostered 'White Elephant'

An ancient Asiatic religious belief, a financially embarrassed king, and an animal's liquor bill, were responsible for bringing to our civilization the term "white elephant" which has come to mean any regrettable and unprofitable possession.

Research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, examining the customs of mankind, have discovered that in Siam a white elephant was considered to possess the soul of a dead god. Therefore when a white elephant was captured, it immediately became the sacred property of the king-and was baptized, worshipped, and finally buried and mourned like a human being. One King of Siam gave the white elephant saying its probable start when he initiated the custom of giving the elephant to any member of his court who has displeased him. The elephant-god could do no work, could not be ridden, and the huge cost of his upkeep soon meant financial ruin to his new owner.

A British King, Charles the First, in 1629, had the misfortune to receive a white elephant as a gift from Siam. Unfortunately, Charles was financially embarrassed, due to an un-cooperative Parliament, and even considered selling the crown jewels to raise funds. The cost of keeping the elephant was so high that the King and Queen had to give up their customary vacation at Bath. The record regarding the elephant's maintenance makes note of the fact that "from the month of September until April, he must drink, not water but Wyne, and from April unto September he must have a gallon of Wyne a day."

It is believed that this old occurrence firmly implanted the saying "white elephant" in the English language.

Manhole Cover Blows Topa Man Flies Through Air

JANESVILLE, Wis. - There are many stories about people who fell through manhole covers, but Towald Tovland, 79, of this city, is perhaps the first to have one explode beneath his feet.

Hovland had the misfortune to be standing on a downtown manhole cover when a sewer blew its top. He was tossed into the air and came to rest about four feet away. For no explained reason the cover had suddenly lifted into the air in an unexplained explosion followed by a burst of flame. Hovland and eight others waiting for a bus on the street corner were taken to a doctor's office and treated for minor

Uncle Sam's Radio Programs Soon May Originate at Sea

WASHINGTON, D.C.-Uncle Sam is attempting to speed up his "cam-paign of truth" against the Commu-nist world. Newest wrinkle developed by the department of state is a project known as "Operation Vagabond," a powerful medium wave radio station on a fast oceangoing freighter. Approved by both the joint chiefs of staff and the national security council, the project was also authorized by President Truman.

The first floating station is schedthis month. If it proves successful and effective, four more will be added to form a ring of radio relay stations being built around the tee, in fact, recommended that the figure be cut as low as $9,533,000, despite the appeal by Truman for the adoption of the complete transmitter program. Although the president did not mention the amphibious phase specifically, it is understood that the joint chiefs of staff have fought for it as a potent weapon in the cold war and a nucleus for a world-wide propaganda system in the event of another world conflict.

hind the project, as well, the most apparent, however, being that it will complete the ring of the U.S. radio relay stations around the world and give more scope to broadcasts

"Dear Francis: Sorry to interrupt anything so important as a honeymoon-even a delayed honeymoonwith anything as trivial as business. However, the Santa Ruiz deal broke sooner than expected. Fred Lang is having to take his wife to a higher altitude. You have been appointed district manager for that area. Instead of reporting here Monday, please go directly there. Fred has arranged for you to take over their place. You're a lucky dog. It's a nice, two-bedroom house, furnished. Best regards,

"Got a letter from the boss," said Slim. "The Santa Ruiz deal's gone

"Really!" cried Bill. An instant later she was out on the porch. "Let's see!" Slim handed it to her. When she reached the part about the house, her face shone. "Oh, Darling, I'm so tickled." "My big, sweet District Manager!" said Bill, softly. "A real house! Let's celebrate.' "Okeh," grinned Slim. "How about dinner at the Lodge?"

"Wonderful," said Bill. "I'll finish dressing."

Slim sat down in the rocker again; stretched out his legs. Life was pretty wonderful. He sat there thinking about his new job, then picked up the camp paper. His eyes caught a news item. "Well, I'll be done-gone!" he

"What is it?" called Bill.

"Oh, this darned newspaper," grumbled Slim. He read sarcastically. 'After a two weeks stay in Silver Pines, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mc-Dermott leave Sunday for San Francisco.' Mr. and Mrs. BILL McDer-

Among those present were "the Bill McDermotts." Never "the Francis McDermotts." The man from the city directory had become very confused when he interviewed them. In the directory, it said quite plainly, "William McDermott (Frances)."

Now she was back again on the porch. Slim stared at her in amaze-

She had on a pair of Slim's slacks. She'd folded up the pant legs and they bulged in wads at her ankles. His flannel shirt hung clear to her knees; his tennis sneakers stuck out like snowshoes. His big hat came down to her eyes.

Slim seethed. Things like that did something to a man.

"How do I look?" she asked, her face perfectly sober.
"What's the idea?"

"Don't fit so good, do they?" asked Bill, twisting around, lifting her shirt tail and tugging at the baggy seat.

Bill came over to Slim. She grinned at him, tweaked his nose, sat in his lap.

"This is going to be a new life for us. A new town. New friends." Bill squirmed around on Slim's lap. She took an envelope from a pocket, handed it to him. He opened it with some difficulty. It was a legal document.

"What's this?" asked Slim. "Read it," said Bill. "Read the last paragraph." Slim read aloud.

"This court hereby stipulates that in the future Willa Weatherford Mc-Dermott will be legally known as Violet Willa Weatherford McDermott . . . .

"Violet!" snorted Slim. "It's not so bad, Slim," whispered

Bill, "if you just say 'Vi'." "Vi," ventured Slim carefully. He took her in his arms and kissed her. He paused once to whisper, "Vi work combating the nation's number one killer—heart disease.

New Drug Gives Additional Hope To Hearf Victims

The drug, which safely increases the pumping efficiency of the heart over long periods, was introduced to medical men by Dr. Frederick Steigmann, director of the department of therapeutics of Cook County hospital, Chicago, and professor of medicine of the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

The new product, named Myocardone, a derivative of animal heart muscle, is produced by Chemico Laboratories, Inc., Indianapolis pharmaceutical products manufacturers. It was the subject of a paper delivered by Dr. Steigmann at the 35th annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology held at the Public Auditorium, Cleveland.

Definite Improvement

Over a period of a year, Dr. Steigmann studied the effectiveness of Mycardone tablets in 58 patients who were victims of severe and prolonged cardiac conditions. He reported that in most of the cases, "when Mycardone was administered there was definite subjective and clinical improvement," and added that, "It has definite therapeutic value in various cardiac

The long-recognized medical fact that the heart is the one organ which can be removed from the body and, when kept in proper circulating solutions, can continue spontaneous function, formed the basis for research into Mycardone by the late Dr. Vincent A. Lapenta. Indianapolis surgeon and research chemist.

Pumping Power

Dr. Lapenta, who had made numerous contributions to medical and surgical research, including the development of an effective blood coagulant still widely used, sought a substance within the walls of calves' hearts that would help increase the pumping power of the human heart. With his son, B. E. Lapenta, founder of Chemico Laboratories, he developed the highly purified and concentrated Myocardone used in Dr. Steigmanns tests. At Cook County hospital, the 58 patients studied included 19 who suffered from painful angina pectoris, a disease caused by spasm of the coronary arteries. In addition, 24 patients with cardiac decompensation showed such common symptoms as dyspnea (shortness of breath), dependent edema (swelling of ankles), orthopnea (inability to sleep in prone position), and lung congestion. Ten patients complained of dizziness, headaches, and other symptoms due to high blood pressure, and five were being treated for arteriosclerotic heart ailments caused by hardening of the arteries. Most of the patients had formerly received other medications, such as digitalis and nitroglycerin. They were placed on Myocardone therapy exclusively in the County hospital survey.

Factors used as standards to indicate improvement following use of Myocardone included decreased number and severity of attacks, increased capacity for exercise, and general feeling of well-being.

The study thus far has shown that the beneficial response to Myocardone continued for considerable periods after the medication was discontinued. Myocardone is currently being made available to the medical profession and plans are completed for large-scale production.

Christians and Law

Lesson for August 19, 1951

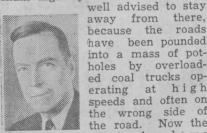

A mericans are not noted for their respect for law. Sometimes big business is the reason. In a certain southern state there are two counties through which run some main highways. But tourists are well advised to stay

into a mass of potholes by overload-

ed coal trucks operating at high speeds and often on the wrong side of the road. Now the Dr. Foreman state has laws against overloading trucks; it has laws against speeding. here is an honest state police department. But although various arrests have been made, the head of the police department reports that in those two counties they never yet have been able to secure a single conviction in the courts. Why?

Who Is to Blame?

SOMETIMES politics is to blame.

That is to say a man wants to That is to say, a man wants to get, or to hold, office, so eagerly that he will ignore or defy the law in order to keep his little place in

There is another county where a policeman shot a law-breaker resisting arrest and attempting to shoot the officer. The county judge tried to make three successive grand juries indict the policeman, but after looking into the facts they all refused.

Here was the interesting spectacle of a judge on the bench (elected there) trying to make the law work against itself, trying to force a grand jury to indict an innocent man. The thing was, the policeman was from out of the county, but the man he killed, being a bootlegger, had many friends who were also friends of the judge.

But we can't blame big business, or mean politics, for the lawlessness of America. If individuals respected the law, if every man respected the law just as he wants others to respect it, we could handle business and we could get rid of dishonest politicians

An official high in faderal circles, who had had plenty of opportunity to observe, remarked last spring, speaking of controls, that every one wants the man controlled, everybody wants to control somebody else, but nobody wants to be controlled.

That's just the trouble. We can make all the laws we please, but so long as we are the kind of people who will not respect a law if it cramps our own style, then we need not be surprised at the sort of thing a senate crime committee digs

No Government Is Perfect

MANY of us try to excuse ourselves by saying that the government is inefficient or even crooked, and that the laws are unfair. Christians, certainly, can see very easily the failings of both government and law. But Christians ought to be the very persons to set the example of respect for law and government.

Consider the New Testament. Hardly a single Christian mentioned in that book had the least thing to do with making the laws of those times. The government was from the top down, the exact opposite of democratic. None of the early Christians could vote or hold office.

The government, whether in Palestine or in Rome, was in non-Christian hands. The laws lacked a good deal of being wholly just and fair. Nevertheless, Jesus and Paul and Peter, all of whom suffered from the laws of their times, urged men to pay tribute (taxes) to Caesar, to support the magistrates, to obey the laws. Even a selfish, moneyhungry and often cruel government like that of Rome deserved support.

Jesus and Paul alike remind us that we rely on government for protection; that government, in spite of all exceptions, is on the side of good men, not against them.

If we had no government we should miss it and want it. St. Peter, writing to Christians who were actually being persecuted by the government, urged them nevertheless to be loyal to the authorities. There may come times-indeed, human nature being what it is, such times are bound to come-when a government proves so corrupt and unjust that it deserves to fall; but even then the way out is not the way of lawlessness. Reforms come best from the law-abiding, not the law-

Men Will Trail As Woolies Play Follow-a-Leader

Men who can live alone and like it while chaperoning thousands of strong-minded but misguided fe-

For such a job applicants must have plenty of common sense, more than a little knowledge of psychology, and a capacity for endless walking. Their prospective charges, observes the National Geographic Society, are among the most un-predictable of their sex, belonging as they do to the sheep family.

Today the wages offered for sheepherding are the highest in the occupation's long and colorful history-about $250 monthly and found (food and sleeping equipment). Yet the shortage of competent herders in the U.S. is so acute that late reports blame it for an "alarming" decrease in the nation's wool production. In an attempt to remedy this deficiency, efforts are being made to bring to this country groups of the finest sheepherders in the world, the Basques of northern Spain. They are reputed to have not only the necessary experience but -even more important-the indispensable temperament for the job.

All Jump

Such temperament appears to be alien to most Americans, whose disenchantment with sheep tending has fathered the canard that herders are either eccentric already or likely to become so. Actually the opposite is nearer the truth since resourcefulness and understanding of the erratic feminine behavior in the sheep family are necessary to match and master flighty woolies. (Most males are slaughtered for meat while lambs.)

The first concern of a good herder is to keep his flock together, for "a sheep alone is a sick sheep." Essentially timid animals and easily frightened, sheep follow the dictates of the herd instinct, with few exceptions. They hate to go over the brow of a hill because of what might be on the other side, yet they will blindly follow a leader.

Little Lost Lambs

The herder's problems ae multiplied during lambing time. A newborn lamb a few feet away from its mother is lost. The mother can only locate her stray lamb by its smell, which would mean sniffing through an entire herd. Most ewes are conscientious mothers but some take maternal duties with exasperating indifference.

One remedy is to imprison the ewe with her lamb, holding the mother still while the baby feeds, until she accepts responsibility. If the ewe refuses, she is marked for mutton and her lamb must be cared for in other ways. Clothed in the skin of a dead lamb, the unwanted "bum" may be adopted by the dead lamb's mother. Otherwise the "bum" must be bottle-fed by the

After lambing season, from March through May, the herder looks forward to shearing in June. The heavy wool is another hazard in the sheep's life. An animal caught on its back and weighed down by wool may die within the hour if the shepherd does not help it to its feet.

One experienced herder voiced this despairing opinion of his charges: "A sheep is the one animal that's born with an ambition to die as soon as possible."

Experts Support Return To Old-fashioned Methods

CHICAGO—When it comes to baby care, the old-fashioned way is best, a Detroit physician told the Illinois State Medical Society.

Speaking before the sections on Obstetrics and Gynecology and on Pediatrics at the Society's 111th annual meeting in the Hotel Sherman, Dr. John C. Montgomery of Detroit cast his vote, based on long experience, against the modern hospital's newfangled central nursery.

The new idea in obstetrics is called "rooming-in." It means placing the baby with the mother immediately after birth and making her and the father responsible for its care from the beginning. Hospital practice of recent years has been to separate them until they leave the hospital, except for brief

"Rooming-in is being accepted in a wider area throughout the country," Dr. Montgomery said, after an extensive review of the pros and cons. "It is nothing new, but rather a return to an older method of care and one which is still employed in many parts of the world.'

right kind of exercise.

This is the opinion of C. H. Mc-Cloy, research professor of physical education at the State University of Iowa, who says that a person of 60 can feel 20 years younger if he'll exercise for 20 minutes a day and take a 15-minute walk.

You'd agree that he knows what he's talking about if you could watch McCloy—an active youth of 65-plus, himself—do the 25 chin-ups which he can do with ease. average performance of all World War II servicemen was only eight chin-ups.

Follows Routine

McCloy devotes an hour each day to strenuous exercise, and plans to continue this routine until advised by his doctor to stop.

"People should be careful not to overexercise, and all persons should be checked by a physician before starting a program of exercise," he

With all the benefits of modern science and medicine, there is no reason for you to lose a large amount of your strength and vitality with advancing age, McCloy maintains. A man of 60 should have at least 85 per cent as much vitality as one of 25, he says.

"Most people should be healthy until they wear out," he claims.

"Some, however, are limited by bad hearts or other organs, but even these persons can be helped a little by exercise. This exercise should be prescribed by a physician who has specialized in this field of medi-

The problem of keeping older persons in good physical condition will become a vital one in years to come, since the number of persons in our society over 65 years old is constantly increasing.

By 1980, McCloy points out, only 55 per cent of the American population will be within the wage-earning age group and about 40 to 45 per cent will be supporting the entire society. This will include the 15 per cent who will be over 65, the 30 per cent younger than the wage-earning group and others who do not work
