FRIZELLBURG

There will be a special Thanksgiving Day program at the Frizellburg Church of God on Thanksgiving morning at 9:30. Everyone is cor-dially invited and in light of the fact we all have so many things to be thankful for, it would behoove all who possibly can to take just an hour out of the day especially for praise and thanksgiving. The Women's Missionary Society of Baust Lutheran church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry K. Myers, with Mrs. Dennis Myers as leader. The lesson topic was "Puerto Rico, the Isle of Enchantment". The meeting opened by sing-ing hymn, 'The Church's One Foun-The presentation of the work in Puerto Rico is compared to a palm tree with its various ports and branches. Readings were given pertaining to the Roots-Foundations of our church in Puerto Rico, Trunk-Missionary staff and co-workers, Heart—Jesus, the Center and Branches-Division of our work. Mrs. Martin Myers read the "Thank-offering Thought". The President, Mrs. Delmar Warehime conducted a short business meeting. Thank you notes were read from Mr. Calvin Starner, Mrs. Richard Haifley, Mrs. Harry Welk and Mr. Martin Myers. 'A Litany of Thanksgiving" was read responsively. Mrs. Donald Warren-feltz and Mrs. Walter Myers, Jr., each gave a report on the convention held at Luther Place, Memorial Church, Washington, D. C. Quiz questions were asked and answered. The December meeting will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward Haifley on Wednesday evening Dec. 12th. A White gift service will be held and each member will bring their gifts for the children at Konorock School,

Miss Margaret Rodkey, while visting a friend had the misfortune to fall down the steps, breaking a bone in her ankle. A wrist watch is hardly considered luxury here in the United States where the average worker earns enough in thirty hours to buy one. In other parts of the world, where dic tators rule, such things as wrist watches are a rarity, for the average worker must toil 1,000 hours (an -hour day for 200 days) to make enough to buy one.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed Thursday, Nov. 22. Let us not forget to give thanks.

FEESERSBURG

Our neighboring town of Westmin ster has its civic "dutch" up because an article in this month's Ladies Home Journal described it as "a sleepy little town of about 6,000 persons in the hills of Maryland halfway between Baltimore and Gettys-burg, Pa." It seems Westminster doesn't want to be known as "sleepy but wants it understood that it is an up and coming modern community From reading the article in the Ladies Home Journal it impresses this reporter that Westminster doesn't know a compliments when it reads one. Any community can become a hustling, bustling miniature of a large city in this age of expansion, but it takes an unusual community to retain its charm and dignity and its "status quo" against the tide of bigger and better towns. Any individual or community with a deep respect for it self can live a serene and unperturbed existence in spite of change all around and I think that the Ladies Home Journal meant that Westminster had a distinct charm all of its own and needed nothing else to distinguish it by. For instance, take Court street and the Court House in Westminster and try to find its equal anywhere in the United States. There is a distinct Southern atmosphere about this street that faseinates every visitor and always amazes a life-long citizen of Carrol. county. The view from College Hill looking down toward the town reminds the visitor of those New England towns which too retain their early colonial charm. The people of Westminster are making a mistake when they want to advertise their town as a modern business center for there are thousands of Americans waiting a chance to settle in a "sleepy" Maryland town. It will soon be possible to fly to London from New York round trip for 405 dollars. Pan American World

Airways is going to establish next spring a regular tourist class service to Europe. This will have far reaching results. Once the tourists of America are turned loose in Europe and Asia, the job of selling Demo-cracy will be solved. When the Americans from small towns begin swapping recipes and advice on raising babies with the small town people of Europe then everyone will get to really know and understand each other and billions for guns will not be necessary.

school held open house Thursday. It will be of interest to every thinking citizen of Carroll county to learn that during the 6 month period from May 1 to October 31 there were 1053 traffic violations handled through the court at Westminster. Of these violations 378 were excessive speedng; 169 reckless driving cases and 26 cases of drunken driving. The total fines imposed were $4,423.20. These figures mean very little to the average person. It takes a tragedy like the one at Pontiac, Michigan, where eleven children, were suddenly made orphans by the death of their parents in an auto collision caused by the carelessness and recklessness of a teen-age driver, to bring home the danger that lurks on every highway. What happened to the parents of these eleven children can happn to any of us. The drinking driver, the reckless teen ager behind a wheel, incompetent adults all are a menace to every other driver on the highway. Small fines and a lecture of a Judge is not the answer. The answer is a stiff jail sentence and revoking the driving license of all those convicted of any traffic violation resulting in the njury or death of any person. It's almost time to observe another Thanksgiving Day. This year that which we should be most thankful for is our home and all it stands for in these years of fast changing values. In no other place can we find the mental and physical security that we find within the four walls of our home, surrounded by all we love and all who love us. We in our land have been most blessed for we have not lived to see our homes destroyed and our loves ones killed or scattered. Grant that we never shall! But let us not forget those in other lands who have not been so fortu-nate. Let us this Thanksgiving day be thankful for our own home, but let us share in some small way, our blessed gift with those whom tragedy and sorrow have not passed by. Santa Claus has taken on a different look in one of the fashionable stores in Hanover. He has put aside the red suit and donned a very color-ful outfit. We sort of like him in his now attire for he looks full of mischief.

SOME of these laws, indeed, could be taken literally today. For instance, take Exodus 23:2, first part of the verse. This says pretty clearly something that millions of people to this day don't understand. It means this: The number of people who say a thing is right, or is wrong, has nothing whatever to do with the question, IS it right or wrong?

Most young people, at least, have the notion that if "everybody does it" it must be right. Not at all. The Judge of all the earth is God, not a majority vote. A thing can be made legal by a majority vote in a legislature, parliament or the like. But not all the congressmen from Maine to California can make a thing right just by saying so.

Yet how many people in our time settle the liquor question (for example) by looking, so to speak, at the score board! A majority of our lawmakers voted to make the sale of liquor legal; so "it must be right." "Everybody I know" says it's all right, so "it must be right."

Every once in a while it dawns on some smart person that the right and wrong of the liquor question can't be settled, for a Christian, by a simple counting of votes for and against.

The number of cocktail parties in New York, Washington or Denver doesn't settle the question. It has to be studied from a Christian point of view, and the big question is not: How many people do it? But, is it right for those who are their "broth-ers' keepers"? Is it right for those whose bodies are to be temples for the Holy Spirit?

This year, as always, this most favored of nations has many sound reasons for thanksgiving.
