ALUMNI MEET

Plans Made and Annual Banquet Committees Appointed

On February 18, 1952 at 8:00 the members of the Taneytown High School Alumni Association met in the high school for their regular meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and stood approved as read. The treasurer's report was also given. Various bills were presented and ordered to be paid.

David Wilhide gave a report on basketball activities. It was brought to the attention of the business managers, that they should be sure to have referees and scorekeepers for all games to be played at the high school.

A committee was appointed to find out various prices and kinds of filing cabinets in which to keep Alumni records and supplies. Janet Royer was appointed to set up the new card file system of keeping the names and addresses of Alumni members.

Motion was made, seconded, and passed that the Association would again this year present to a boy and girl, of the high school, a trophy for sportsmanship in athletic activities for 1952. Edward Sell, Ruth Jean Ohler, and Ann Wilson were to secure information concerning these trophies.

It was decided by a unanimous decision that the members would work harder on their annual activities and events and not to take on any other activity such as a minstrel show or play until next year.

Plans for the annual banquet were then discussed and committees were appointed.

Miss Joanne Koons, member of the Senior Class, asked the Association if they would help the Girl's Athletic Association buy warmup jackets for the girl's basketball team for next year. No definite decision was made at this time.

The meeting then adjourned and refreshments were served.

AIR RAID WARNING TEST

He also asks that the employers cooperate in order that their people may take their places and remain for the full time. The test cannot be successful unless each person assumes their full share of the duty entrusted to them. Newly organized sections are asked to do the best they can until better organized.

The purpose of the air raid test is to acquaint the public with all phases of the alarm system.

ADDRESS BY GOV. MCKELDIN

Speaks at Meeting of the Maryland Press Association

As the darkness of ignorance and misinformation intensifies over the enslaved areas of the world, there is a steady growth in the responsibility of American newspapers to hold high a beacon of enlightenment.

Freedom of the press in this country is more than that which the words imply. It is more than your freedom as publishers to publish what you know. It is more than your freedom as writers to transfer into print the knowledge that you gain. It is more than a privilege of gathering and distributing news and opinions.

Above and beyond all this, freedom of the press is the guaranteed right of the American people to be informed of what is happening in this country, and to be made aware of what may or could happen, regardless of whom that knowledge may help or hurt.

I realize that you, in the performance of your duty and the fulfillment of your obligation to your readers have a constant fight to keep open the proper sources of information.

I know that in this free land of ours there have been attempts at government by secrecy, and particularly

I know that unpleasant things have happened, through no fault of the press, before the people became aware that they were happening.

But I know, too, that it was the press which eventually, and usually quickly, brought them to light, and forced into motion that great machine of correction—American public opinion.

The American press has done a wonderful job for the people of America, and indeed for the people of the world. This freedom—this right of the people to know—is one of our great sources of strength—and our strength is the hope of freedom loving men, women and children everywhere.

In Maryland, we are particularly fortunate in this regard. We have great dailies of international renown. We have other fine dailies devoted to their communities; and we have weeklies that compare favorably with any in the world. We have editors and writers with the hearts to praise and the wills to condemn.

A Special Meeting of the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown was held Monday evening, February 18, 1952 in the Municipal Building.

P. T. A. MEETING

Pupil Needs Studied at Taneytown Elementary School

The regular February meeting of the Taneytown Elementary Parent-Teacher Association proved to be an exceedingly valuable contribution toward a better understanding of the emotional needs of children. After singing of the National Anthem and Invocation, the elementary school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Robert Kersey, presented several numbers. The president then introduced Miss Evelyn Maus, county supervisor of pupil personnel. Miss Maus spoke briefly on the great need for parents to have a sympathetic viewpoint toward the varied activities and conduct of children. She pointed out several examples of how the lives of pupils are effected by the care and understanding given by parents. The organization of Parent Study groups throughout the state was also explained. The film "Meeting Emotional Needs in Childhood" was then shown. It pictured the behavior of adults and children who were not well adjusted emotionally and contrasted this behavior with that of emotionally secure families. The Cub Scout movement was suggested as one means of meeting this need. After the film, several vocal selections were presented by fifth grade pupils under the leadership of Miss Margaret Shreeve.

During the business session, the president, Mr. Singleton Rensburg, called for reports of committees. The chairman of the March of Dimes Card Party, Mrs. Robert Clingan, reported that $159.95 had been turned over to the March of Dimes. It was voted to make this an annual event. The association also voted to turn over to the school the sum of $100 with which to develop the music and reading departments of the school. Mr. Rensburg requested that all persons attend the joint P. T. A. meeting to be held at the high school in March. The next regular elementary P. T. A. meeting will be held on April 15, with Governor Theodore McKeldin as speaker. The date of April 22 has been reserved for the spring operetta and April 25 as the P. T. A. food sale. A nominating committee was selected to prepare a new slate of officers. The members are Mr. Glenn Reever, Mrs. Roy Phillips, and Mr. Kenneth Lambert. The meeting was then adjourned.

CARROLL COUNTY ELEMENTARY PRINCIPALS ORGANIZE

At a meeting held in the Westminster Elementary School on Wednesday, Feb. 20, the elementary principals of Carroll County voted to form an elementary principals association as a department of the Carroll County Teachers Association. The main purpose of the association are to unite the elementary principals of Carroll County for the purposes of promoting their common interest in the welfare of pupils, in professional growth, and in the elevation of the elementary principalship.

The organization meeting was opened with an informal address by Mr. William Woolston, principal of the Catonsville Elementary School. Mr. Woolston explained the purposes and reasons for the necessity of an elementary principals group. He described in detail the workings of the Baltimore County group and made certain recommendations for the formation of such a group in Carroll County. Miss Ruth DeVore, county supervisor of elementary education, endorsed the plan and gave her recommendations as to its adoption.

The new association will hold nine meetings during each school year. Membership will be open to all elementary principals and vice-principals of Carroll County. Associate members will include a different classroom teacher from each school each month, as well as the county superintendent and his staff. Officers elected included: president, Stanley Stahl, Taneytown Elementary School; vice-president, Lionel Yohn, Winfield Elementary School and secretary-treasurer, Grace Riley, Sykesville Elementary School. Former members will be accepted by the treasurer at the next meeting which will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 26, integrated with the professional meeting sponsored by the Board of Education Staff.

MARYLAND BUDGET IN COMPARISON

Senator Hoff Explains How Money Is Spent

In 1946 the Budget of Maryland for all purposes, was $66,468,000. Since 1946 the cost of our State Government has risen approximately 170% and today the taxpayers of this State are being called upon to support a record breaking budget of $176,387,656.

This tax burden, superimposed upon the ever increasing Federal taxes, deserves close scrutiny by the citizens and taxpayers of Maryland. Why has our cost of State Government risen approximately $110,000,000 in the past six years? What is this money being used for? Where does it come from? And must we spend so much?

Lets examine this Budget more closely to see where these many millions of dollars are spent: (The following figures are approximations only).

|--------------------------|------------|------------|
| Education | 16,800,000 | 55,400,000 |
| Roads-Highways | 16,900,000 | 33,500,000 |
| Welfare | 7,300,000 | 8,100,000 |
| Mental Hospitals | 3,100,000 | 12,300,000 |
| Health-Hospitals | 3,200,000 | 7,800,000 |
| To Towns-Counties | 4,700,000 | 26,400,000 |
| Administration | 2,200,000 | 8,400,000 |
| Protection | 2,100,000 | 4,700,000 |
| Aid to Hospitals-Schools | 1,300,000 | 3,600,000 |
| Reform and Correction | 1,300,000 | 3,100,000 |
| Conservation | 1,000,000 | 2,700,000 |
| Debt Service | 4,000,000 | 3,000,000 |
| Judicial-Legislative | 1,100,000 | 1,700,000 |
| Miscellaneous | 1,300,000 | 6,500,000 |

There can be no question but that much of the increase from 16.8 millions to 55.4 millions for educational purposes has been necessary. In 1946 Maryland ranked in the low thirties among the states in the United States with respect to the overall educational picture. Today we rank among the top ten states. But, in spite of the fact that we would all like to see Maryland have the best educational facilities in the country, we are confronted with the ever present question: Can we afford it?

The expenditure of the $33,000,000 for roads and highways is based on the estimated revenue from the gasoline tax, titling tax, transfer fees, etc. Not all of the income from these sources is used for roads. The income from these taxes ($53,100,000) is used to maintain our State Police system, administrative costs of the State Road Commission and Department of Motor Vehicles, part of the cost of maintaining our county roads systems, etc.

The Welfare item of $8,100,000 is only a part of the total welfare expenditures in Maryland. In addition to this sum the Federal Government contributes $1,100,000 and the political sub-divisions $4,000,000. This year the total expenditures for Welfare in Maryland will be $19,432,759, not including the cost of maintaining the State Training Schools for boys and girls. Can we afford it?

In Carroll County approximately $190,000 will be spent for Welfare purposes. In 1937, during the depression, about $10,000 was spent in the County for this purpose.

Our Mental Hospital expenditures rose sharply as the result of the famed "Norton Articles", published several years ago, showing deplorable conditions in some of our State mental institutions. Undoubtedly many improvements and corrections were called for. But there is now a belief, shared by many informed people, that the state went overboard in attempting to correct the then existing conditions and that many of the millions spent and to be spent have been and will be wasted because of our failure to develop the program of improvements more slowly and carefully.

Numerous and recurring stories of waste extravagance and duplication in the Department of Mental Hygiene and its institutions have led this writer to believe that there must be some fire to create such an abundance of smoke.

Bracken Lee, Governor of Utah, is responsible for a material decrease in the budget of Utah over the past few years. Utah is, I believe, the only state where the cost of state government has decreased instead of increased. He has accomplished this feat of financial phenomena by recognizing

'THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Well, Gentlemen what did you think of that cowardly Lord Leslie either on T.V. or right there at the Coliseum the other night? How quickly he vanished through the crowd to the dressing room when he thought he was the winner knowing that he did wrong. There is nothing that the public dispises worse than a coward! Eh?

Thinking of T.V. Did you know the actual cost to operate a T.V. set monthly is a total of from 60 to 75 cents? And this estimate is based upon actual use of the set from about 100 hours a month! So, don't let your electric bill tell you a different story. Of course, if you have a 20 inch set and keep it turned on ten hours daily, the bill will be much higher.

Now, here's a cute one and from a little boy near the town. "I am one of four children and I do not get any spending money of my very own. Do you think that is right, Mrs. Observer? I always read your column and I know you will tell me the truth. I go to the movies once in a while. I am too young to work to make any money so what am I going to do?"

Well, dear little reader of mine, I will tell you the truth as much as I can. By that I mean as much as I am able to do as you did not tell me about your Dad especially as to what kind of work he does. You must understand that many children save money this way. First if they are presented with little gifts and they keep it for that rainy day. That is a wise little boy. Many years ago when my three little sonny boys were small and they were given money, they would run right to the corner store and purchase a bag of candy. Yet they were given much sweets right in our own home and always a good chocolate candy after the dessert which was always a real habit after a meal was completed. I tried to show them and teach them how wrong it was to spend every cent for then they would not have anything to buy some little thing at the school or when it was necessary. One of the boys had spent his candy for school when we lived in the big city and he was always so late coming home. One day, in the early Spring it was one of those real downpours to bring those May flowers and my little boy came home so wet that anyone could have wrung the clothes out and I quickly put him in a warm tub of water and gave him a real rubdown. But it was too late as he had remained in the soaking wet condition for so long that he had contracted a dreadful cold and became ill and was put to bed with a real fever and then missing so much school and then consequently failed in his studies in school and was not promoted. There are so many lessons to learn from just these kind of things that happen daily and which you will understand as the years go on. You stated that you go to the movies sometimes with your Mother.

Well, then, if you would rather have that money in your hand explain this to your mother and I am sure she will understand. I appreciate you missing me as the school bus passes the old homestead. Your letter was such a sensible one and when you write again be sure and write the details as I cannot answer otherwise.

The interruption on Saturday night on TV on Channel 2 was a real surprise for all Americans showing the funeral of the late King of England as he was called, "The Good King". What pomp, ceremony, colorful pageantry of years ago was shown and displayed of the royal funeral which ended with the burial of George VI in St. George's Chapel at Windsor Castle. The very sad face of the Duke of Windsor was indeed most pathetic.

Now, here's a new wrinkle and straight from the International Airport! If you cannot NEVER to PUK chase an outside aerial for your TV set, just take one of those concrete blocks and tie the aerial of your TV around it and lay it on the ground! Works beautifully!

And this from Florida from a very wonderful lecture on Arthritis! COD LIVER OIL! If you can't take it plain purchase the peppermint flavor and mix a tablespoon with 2 ounces of fresh orange juice by pouring it from one glass to another and drink this about four hours after eating your evening meal. Never serve juices of any kind, that is the first thing in the morning before you eat a piece of bread and butter first—DRINK THE JUICE LAST! Milk must always be at room temperature. Never drink any cold drink at all! NEVER DRINK WATER OR COFFEE WITH YOUR MEALS! Hope it is beneficial to you. Just keep on trying it for a month and see if you don't feel better. The only cost will be purchasing the Cod Liver Oil.

Now, here's a lovely thought for all of us! There is a lady in our little village who is an R. N. If anyone is ill in the community she learns about it immediately and runs quickly daily to spend hours doing for the sick. She is a very wealthy woman and one of the very finest characters Your Observer has ever known! How wonderful it would be if we had more of those kind of people! So long, folks. Have a grand week end. As you drive along think of all the grand things about each individual for that can really make "LIFE BEAUTIFUL!"

Until next week D. V.

I am,

Faithfully,

YOU AND YOUR CONGRESS

Out of the "chamber of horrors" in Room 313 of the House Office Building is coming information enough to sustain hours of heated debate when Congress begins discussing military spending.

For example, the armed services, for purposes of inventory and purchasing, have 20,000 different descriptions of venetian blinds and roller blinds, 200,000 different descriptions of lumber.

Room 313 is the House Armed Services Committee meeting room. Here a subcommittee is holding and will continue to hold hearings as part of its investigation of waste in military spending.

Around the hearing room walls are displays of shoes, pillows, blankets and many other items, with price tags, which illustrate the subject the subcommittee is probing. The display shows, for example, that each of the services buys practically the same type of shoes for its men but at varying prices. The intended moral is that if they got together in their buying of such items, millions of taxpayers' dollars would be saved.

The subcommittee says the displays show "horrible examples" of waste in military spending. Thus, as the hearings opened, Chairman Hebert (D-La.) a former newspaper editor who knows the value of publicity, dubbed the oddly decorated hearing room the "chamber of horrors."

The hearings so far have produced one fact that promises to be discussed at length when Congress gets around to debating new appropriations for the Defense Department. The fact is that for years Congress has not known much about how the armed forces spend a great deal of the money they get from Congress.

A serious matter any time, that becomes more serious than ever before in peacetime—because the Defense Department is slated to spend more money than ever before in peacetime. The President's 1953 budget calls for military spending of over $51 billion (compared to $40 billion this year and $20 billion in 1951). In short, the Defense Department is to spend more money than any other single organization in the country and, as a matter of fact, in the world.

Another fact which promises to heat up Congressional debate is that while Congress ordered armed services unification in 1947, there has been virtually no unification of military buying. In fact, as Rep. Cole (R-N. Y.) notes, there appears to be a trend toward "triplication" rather than unification. The Air Force wants to establish its own procurement service, like the Army's and Navy's.

The subcommittee quickly got a taste of the resistance to unification that flavors a large portion of the Pentagon, and didn't like it.

The subcommittee got tough and is staying tough. It found that while a standard purchase and supply catalog for the various branches of the service was ordered prepared five years ago, none has been completed yet. The subcommittee called Deputy Defense Secretary Foster to explain. Shortly after he testified—and was grilled—Foster signed an order to speed up the cataloging.

Pointing to its "chamber of horrors" displays, Chairman Hebert declared that "millions and billions" of taxpayers' dollars had been wasted through delay of unified purchasing of standard military clothing items.

Munitions Board officials were summoned to explain the delay but said they didn't know the answer. They thought some one among the high military brass was to blame but weren't sure who. The Munitions Board, however, has now decided that unified clothing buying is a good idea and will get going on it. The subcommittee, taxpayers will be pleased to learn, is getting results.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DELANAV, WISC. ENTERPRISE: "One of the primary editorial policies of The Delavan Enterprise has been to create an interest in local government. This purpose is founded on the fundamental belief that a true and working democratic federal government is based on strong small units of democratic self-government such as is found in small cities and townships. We believe that strong democracies at the very core of our life will protect us from socialistic tendencies of government on higher levels."

SOMERVILLE, MASS., JOURNAL: "There have been frequent speculations as to the limit of the total tax 'take.' It would appear to us, judging from the outcry in Congress about the President's 85 billion dollar budget, that the limit has been reached, and this belief is given added substance by the almost unanimous agreement among Congressmen that economy is an inevitable 'must' if an incentive-economy is to be maintained and enterprise is to be encouraged to progress."

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "Very few of the great corporations are owned or even controlled by wealthy stockholders. More than 18 million stockholders and individual owners of property pay taxes and employ men and women. The stockholders of many of the great corporations, such as U. S. Steel and American Telephone & Telegraph, actually outnumber the employees of the corporation."

OSKALOOSA, IOWA, DAILY HERALD: "In the hills north and west of Duluth are the world's greatest known reserves of iron ore, sufficient to meet the nation's needs for centuries to come. Then why build the St. Lawrence Seaway?"

In this Free State, thank God, we have an unusually well-informed people.

Yes, daily and weekly, you tell the story of what is happening in the world, in the Nation, in your State and in your communities. You expose the greatness of this venture and weakness of that. You cite the accomplishments of government and you tear the veil from the scene of corruption. You expound the efforts of man and government for the betterment of humanity; and you expose the foibles and false promises of politicians.

But all of your great service is not on the sensational side. All of your contributions to the welfare of your readers and to your community do not deal with war, politics and corruption in high places.

Indeed, one of your greatest contributions, for which you are being honored here today, is your promotion of safety on crowded public highways in a speed-mad era of transportation. No record of highway safety can be called good while lives are being lost—but ours has improved. That improvement could not have been accomplished without your cooperation and that of the other facilities for the distribution of traffic information, warnings and advice.

Last May, I called you to Annapolis and told you of an increase of 26 per cent in the deaths on our highways during the first quarter of the year. I asked your help. Your response was quick and effective. In the last three months of the year, the highway fatalities were 13 per cent below those of the corresponding period in 1950.

We came through four major holidays—Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day and New Year's—without the loss of the life of a Maryland citizen on the highways. By contrast, there had been eight deaths on New Year's Day of the previous year.

We know you did not participate in this great campaign against destruction and violent death in the hope of reward or personal honor. You did it because the facts were placed before you. You did it because of your understanding and the journalist's natural love for humanity. You did it because you know the men, women and children of your communities. They are your friends and neighbors. You don't know which lives you saved or may have saved. You don't necessarily care, because the very knowledge that you saved some is a great satisfaction to you.

Because of this unselfish attitude of public service on your part, I know that yours was not a one-year campaign.

You know as I know, and as the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission knows, that the great highway hazard continues, day in and day out, and that the fight for caution and efforts toward maximum safety must be a continuing one.

The awards which will be made here today are but small tokens of our appreciation and of the appreciation of all of the people of Maryland.

Yes, you will continue to expose the evil of the world and praise the good; you will salute the patriot and condemn the traitor; you will help bring strong and just men into the service of the people, and you will tear down the structures of improper power. But you will find the time as you always have to perform the great, but usually unheralded, services for the health and happiness of your neighbors—the folks at home—who are the real strength of America. Again we thank you.

ANOTHER GREAT AMERICAN

Two great American Presidents have their birthdays in February, and only ten days apart. George Washington was born in the State of Virginia, February 22, 1732; Abraham Lincoln was born in Kentucky, February 12, 1809. Greatness is not confined to the length of time, or the number of years one lives, else many Americans would not have become great, for they were cut off early in life. Greatness is found in a certain inner quality of being which is given expression in deeds and services.

Selfishness is at a minimum in the personalities of those who have been and are benefactors of mankind. A great man is a good man, "for goodness is an indispensable ingredient of greatness."

Great statesmen are not guilty of stooping to the levels of mere politicians. A vote for a statesman means also a vote for the principles and for the ideals for which he stands. An upright man is upright in his ways of government. To a statesman the welfare of his country comes first—his own re-election is merely secondary. His word is his bond and his bond is himself. He breaks no promises nor connives for self-aggrandizement, at the expense of the tax payers. Money does not enslave an incumbent in public office who has the qualities of a Lincoln, or a Washington, or a statesman, but the possibility of gain does attract a certain type politician, and office seeker.

Washington surrendered the habits, and pleasures, and life, of a man of wealth to serve his country. And into the fabric of this young country he built those sterling qualities which characterized himself. Every true American today is proud of those qualities of the United States which represent the true spirit of a true democracy, established therein by the Fathers and later Statesmen of our Nation. True greatness does not enthrall but liberates; it does not enslave, it sets free. Democracy holds aloft the torch of freedom that the enslaved peoples of the earth may be encouraged to throw off the shackles of thralldom imposed by those greedy for wealth, for rule, and for power.

"Great epochs are ushered in by great men. Great men are ushered in by God. The era of the Revolution and the era of the Civil War were eras of great men. By every measurement known among the sons of men our Nation may claim two of her sons who stand head and shoulders above their fellows as great—Washington, the Father of his country, and Lincoln, the Saviour of his country."

Washington possessed the rare spirit of a genuine soldier—self-effacing, courageous, enduring. What other great general ever had such limited resources! One-sixth of the population of the colonies which at that time numbered three million people were slaves, and another sixth were not in sympathy with the struggle against Great Britain. Washington had practically no government. Three of his generals—Gates, Mifflin, and Conway—were actually working for his removal. And in his most desperate hour Arnold was plotting to betray him.

Both Washington and Lincoln were men of deep religious instincts. Both were men of prayer. Washington on his knees in the blood stained snow at Valley Forge, Lincoln on his knees on the worn out carpet at the White House. While Lincoln is loved today by not only America but the whole world, Washington is revered.

We still pay tribute to Washington in the tribute written by Richard Henry Lee, and read by John Marshall, on the formal announcement to Congress of the great Commander's death:

"First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

THE BUDGET

two political and administrative truisms:

1. That every department in a state will spend every dollar allocated to it—if it can, and
2. That every department can operate just as effectively and efficiently with less money and fewer personnel.

These facts are just as true in Maryland as they were in Utah. Our various departments have in them individuals who were given jobs, as "political rewards," by every Governor back to, including and perhaps beyond the late Albert Ritchie. If there were no vacancies, jobs were made. Many of these employees are loyal, capable and efficient. Many are not.

A recent Governor, seeking to reward a faithful lieutenant, created a new department for him to manage. That department now costs us about $275,000 a year to maintain, and employs 50 people. The heads of the department are qualified and capable individuals and the department produces some excellent work. But can we afford it?

The condition that exists in Maryland exists in all of the 48 states as well as our national government. Only one state, Utah, has done anything about it in recent years. That state has proved the cost of government can be reduced.

The cost of Maryland's government can be reduced by the same determined efforts and cooperation by and between the Governor and the Legislature that accounted for the successful results in Utah.

I regret to report that there is no sign of such "determined efforts and cooperation" in Annapolis.

Until there is we will be taxed to support our steadily increasing budgets—whether we can afford it or not.

Until next week, when I hope to discuss the taxes that produce our State's revenues. I am

Sincerely yours,
STANFORD HOFF.

Boys' Village

Unsung Village Aids Boys

CHELTENHAM, Md. — The oldest boys' village in the country is located at Cheltenham. It is known as "Boys' Village of Maryland," a home for wayward Negro youngsters of the District of Columbia.

It was started as a school for Negro boys in 1872 and was reorganized as a village by the Maryland legislature in 1949.

It is set in the middle of 1,265 acres of good farmland. There are 350 youngsters in the village and every one has something to keep his hands busy. Some milk the cows. Others till the soil with tractors. About a quarter of the land is planted in truck and grain crops. A herd of 94 purebred cows supply milk to the village.

After Five Years

Illinois Village

Gets Water System

MENDON, Ill.—It took five years, but the village of Mendon, population 700, finally has its water system.

The move to secure a water system for the village started back in 1946. The state of Illinois had set up a fund whereby municipalities might receive a sum to enable them to begin some project of benefit to the entire community. Mendon used its portion of the fund to conduct a survey to locate possible water sources within the village.

The next step was to gain 150 property owners who would guarantee using the water if and when the system was completed. In November of 1947 a special election was held for approval of selling general obligation bonds in the amount of $20,000 to help defray the cost of building the system. The balance was to come from the sale of water revenue bonds.

That Mendon wanted the system was demonstrated on election day when the proposition carried, 140 to 16.

The contract for building the system was awarded to the Rees Construction company of Quincy. A well digger from Batchtown moved his rig into the village and tried several locations, but failed to develop a well supplying the required amount of water to meet state specifications. Later, another company tried without much better success.

Despite discouragement the people of Mendon, in a mass meeting, gave the mayor and village council a vote of confidence. A well digger from Kansas City was contacted in the summer of 1950. He moved into Mendon, prepared to stay until he was successful. During the winter of 1950 he was able to develop four wells in the south part of the village.

In the meantime, construction costs had increased above the limits of the $20,000 bond issue previously approved. Local voters again went to the polls on March 3, 1951, this time to get approval on a bond issue of $40,000. The issue carried by 276 to 6.

Harvard Officials Plan High School Safety Class

HARVARD, Ill.—As result of complaints and a petition to the town council by residents living in the vicinity of the high school, Harvard will conduct safe driving classes before the entire student body.

The petition was presented at a recent meeting of the council by residents who charged that many high school drivers were speeding or were reckless during the noon hour and after school. Residents in the high school area said that with some 75 grade and pre-grade school children living in the locale, the situation had become serious, and it was feared some child would be either injured or killed.

The council decided that the police chief and city attorney would appear before high school students to go over the rules of safe driving, and at the same time warn that unless the violations ceased there would be wholesale arrest and heavy fines.

The council agreed, also, that the talks would be the last warning and after that convictions and fines would be sought.

Harvard, a community of 3,200 has been plagued in recent months with increasing teen-age traffic violations, especially at night.

Mayor John McCabe blamed the parents for allowing children to stay out late at night and drive cars at high speeds. He reported special duty police, in private cars, would be hired in order to stop the recklessness if necessary.

ALUMNI BASKETBALL GAMES PLAYED

The Taneytown High School Alumni Basketball team saw plenty of action this week. Bill Rittase's boys won two of the three games which they played and the Alumni girls coached by Virginia Sanders won one and also lost one. The loss was the first of the season for the girls, who were undefeated going into Wednesday night's contest.

On Tuesday night the Taneytown Alumni boys defeated the Springfield Independents, 38-32, in the only game of the evening. On Wednesday evening they repeated their first when they nosed out a good Gettysburg Alumni team by the score of 56 to 44. Then on Thursday the New Windsor Forty Niners turned the tables and ended the Alumni boys winning streak at 2, by defeating them 44 to 37.

The season record of the boys now stands at 3 wins and 5 defeats.

TRIBUTE TO THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

In this day when American democracy is being slapped in the face, and kicked around the world's battlefields, and the ideals and principles of the American government are being sold by many for a mess of pottage, and by others are being trampled under foot whose smell is that of Communism stench, I invite you to read Abraham Lincoln's tribute to the Declaration of Independence in the first speech of his Senatorial Campaign of 1858. Even then Lincoln was a statesman and not a mere politician seeking office.

The following is his tribute: "These communities, (the thirteen colonies), by their representatives in old Independence Hall, said to the world of men, 'we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are born equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.' This was their majestic interpretation of the 'economy of the universe. This was their lofty, and wise, and noble understanding of the justice of the Creator to His creatures. Yes, gentlemen, to all His creatures, to the whole great family of man. In their enlightened belief, nothing stamped with the Divine image and likeness was sent into the world to be trodden on, and degraded, and imbruted by its fellows. They grasped not only the race of men then living, but they reached forward and seized upon the furthest posterity. They created a beacon to guide their children and their children's children, and the countless myriads who should inhabit the earth in other ages. Wise statesmen as they were, they knew the tendency of prosperity to breed tyrants, and so they established these great self-evident truths that when, in the distant future, some man, some faction, some interest, should set up the doctrine that none, but rich men, or none but white men, or none but Anglo-Saxon white men, were entitled to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, their posterity might look up again to the Declaration of Independence, and take courage to renew the battle, which their fathers began, so that truth, and justice, and mercy, and all the humane and Christian virtues might not be extinguished from the land; so that no man would hereafter dare to limit and circumscribe the great principles on which the temple of liberty was being built. 'Now, my countrymen, if you have been taught doctrines opposite with the great landmarks of Declaration of Independence; if you have listened to suggestions which would take away from its grandeur, and mutilate the fair symmetry of its proportions; if you have been inclined to believe that all men are not created equal in those inalienable rights enumerated by our charters of liberty, let me entreat you to come back—return to the fountain whose waters spring close by the blood of the Revolution. Think nothing of me, take no thought for the political fate of any man whomsoever, but come back to the truths that are in the Declaration of Independence. 'You may do anything with me you choose, if you will but heed these sacred principles. You may not only defeat me for the Senate, but you may take me and put me to death. While pretending no indifference to earthly honors, I DO CLAIM to be actuated in this contest by something higher than an anxiety for office. I charge you to drop every paltry and insignificant thought for any man's success. It is nothing; I am nothing; Judge Douglas is nothing. BUT DO NOT DESTROY THAT IMMORTAL EMBLEM OF HUMANITY—THE DECLARATION OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE." G. H. ENFIELD.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Paper Collection Will be held Saturday

Regular paper gatherings by Scouts of American Legion Troop 348 will be resumed in Taneytown this Saturday, Feb. 23, others following at six-week intervals, through the cooperation of J. N. Sell, Littlestown. Boys will meet at the Scout hall by 8:30 Saturday morning, and citizens are urged to support these drives for newspapers, magazines, books, and more especially rags and scrap iron.

The first really successful attempt to signalize explorer work as an entity in Troop 348 took place February 4th under Explorer Adviser Stanley F. Frock, who outlined the kind of program this branch emphasizes.

Election of officers resulted in Robt. Bowers being unanimously chosen Senior crew leader. Others designated were Robert Sents to be Deputy Senior crew leader, Donald Lawyer, secretary, Kenneth Frock and Thomas Sell, Crew leader, and Ray Slaybaugh and Larry Eckard Assistant crew leaders. Explorers will meet the first Monday of the month; when this occurs, another night that week will be named for Scouts.

Members of the Fox patrol, Larry Markle, Ronald Markle, George Shriner, Lee Rock, and Robert Rock were chief participants in the troop wood cutting expedition on the Rock farm the weekend of February 8th to 10th. They were assisted on Saturday in the cutting up of fallen logs for use in the Scout hall stoves by Donald Lawyer, patrol leader, and Miles Stonesifer, also of the Foxes, and by Kenneth Frock, who heads the Pine Trees.

A party on St. Valentine's day was held in the Scout hall, with arrangements superintended by Larry Martin, program, Robert Bowers, refreshments, and Wilbur O. Thomas, decorations.

Among those present were Janet Forsythe, Evelyn Bond, Shirley Cluck, Wanda Webb, Susie Trent, Frances Eyles, Catherine Fogle, Doris Jean Angell, Donald Airing, Lee Rock, Harold Slaybaugh, Stanley F. Frock, Larry Eckard, Larry Markle, Robert Bowers, William Abrecht, Donald Tracey, Ray Slaybaugh, Romanus Haines, Robert Waddell, Carroll Houck, George Shriner, Robert Fuss, Wilbur C. Thomas, William Plickinger, George Abrecht, Lee Barnes, Russell Walker, Robert Fitz, Hasso Stewart, Grant Harmon, Larry Martin, Francis Nelson, and John Perry. Despite, or perhaps because of, the length of the stag line, an enjoyable atmosphere seemed to reign, although the radio as a provider of danceable music is an uncertain medium in the early evening hours, to judge from one experience. Special thanks go to Robert Waddell, formerly a Scout and member of the Order of the Arrow, for helping out on the refreshment detail.

The ruggedness of the Alaskan life was vividly described at the meeting of Monday, the 11th, when Stuart A. Widener of the Carroll District Camping committee visited with Troop 348 and brought with him many articles of native make. Questions by Scouts were innumerable and readily answered, and an interesting feature was his demonstration of making fire with flint, steel, charred cloth, and tinder. As Mr. Widener said, however, "Give me matches anytime, and the natives now say the same thing."

The paper gathering Saturday will be a joint effort of both Scouts and Explorers, and it is hoped that the encouraging help of Taneytown residents will be repeated on this and future occasions.

Allow Time When Mixing Colors
Different colors of paint, enamel and lacquer dry in different ways. Some dry lighter. Some change quite a little. Consequently, if you can't match a wet sample of the coating material—when you think you're close to the desired result you're sure to brush out a sample and let it dry. It's best to brush out your sample on a surface similar to that on which the coating will be used.

Bicycle Accidents
Study of the claims paid on the lives of industrial policy-holders during 1946 through 1950 show that seven-eighths of the fatal bicycle accidents were collision with motor vehicles, and that most of the remainder were the result of falls of bicycles. Three-fourths of the deaths were among boys five to 19 years of age. There is evidence that motorists are giving increasing attention to safety.

Will they inherit socialism?

You wouldn't want to leave a socialistic America to your children. Most Americans wouldn't.

But you may — without realizing it. For socialism wears many false faces. You can't always tell it at a glance.

It's socialism, for example, when the federal government takes over for keeps the rights and responsibilities of its citizens on any pretext.

It's socialism when the government steps into and takes over a business or industry.

It's socialism when people urge you to give up the freedom to run your own life and let the government run it for you.

Today in America, there are people who would like to see an all-powerful federal government own and operate our railroads, our medical profession, our electric light and power companies and other businesses and services. Perhaps they're not all socialists, but what they suggest is socialism — even though they never call it that.

And they'll have their way unless you act now. Here's what you can do: Start thinking of your future and your children's. Exercise your rights as a citizen. Discuss this danger with your friends and neighbors. Use your ballot wisely. And above all, learn to recognize socialism behind the many false faces it wears.

Secret of Courage

Lesson for February 24, 1952

THERE are different kinds of courage. One is physical, either enduring pain or enduring the prospect of it. Another is moral, enduring ridicule and slander, or the prospect of it. Some occasions call for both kinds.

Just as there are different kinds of courage, so there are different causes of it. Physical courage may be in some cases no more than the result of ignorance.

Dr. Foreman

A passenger on a boat during a storm said to an old salt: "I'm not a bit afraid." The old Irish seaman sniffed. "Them as knows nawthin' fears nawthin'," he said.

Men who have been in combat can recall some character who lacked all the virtues but one; he was never afraid. Physical courage can even be instilled by drugs or by rum. But moral courage cannot be induced by drugs, alcoholic or otherwise.

It takes more than a tough nervous system to stand up against slander, hatred and ridicule. Some men who can take a razor-blade and calmly operate on themselves for snake-bite, cannot stand the sight of human snakes who try to hiss them down.

The Inner Circle

JESUS was always on the lookout for brave men. Indeed, he made brave men.

There were three men in his innermost circle—Peter, James and John. They were men of quite different temperaments; tradition reports that they differed widely in age also. But for whatever reasons, Jesus treated these men differently from the other nine.

That is, he kept them close to him on certain occasions when the rest were left behind or shut out. These three were his only companions at the mount of transfiguration. They were the only three he allowed in the room where he brought Jairus' little girl back to life. They were the three he took with him into the garden of Gethsemane to share his agony. They failed him there—they failed him at other times as well. But the point is that Jesus kept on with them, he did not give them up as hopeless cowards, he gave them more of himself than he gave to any other mortals in his time.

It was as if the Master had said to himself, these men, at least, shall know me. And though they failed him, the time came when they did not fail.

Our story in Acts shows how these men stood up against odds; against all the weight of popular opinion, all the force of law, all the attack from the leaders of society, these men stood up with a simple courage. They showed both physical and moral courage at the same time.

And even their enemies, surprised and baffled and blind as they were, understood the secret of their courage: they knew that they had "been with Jesus."

Heroes Without Medals

NOT all heroes wear medals. To this very day there are Christians who show the same kind of courage made famous by Peter and John. When a minister in Louisiana or Kentucky speaks out against the gambling which has become an octopus in his community; when he not only risks a dynamite bomb on his front doorstep from the gambling lords, but the name of "crackpot" from his neighbors; when the ministerial association of Gary, Ind., dares to stand up against powerful business interests in that city in the name of decent housing for the poor; when a Frank Graham of North Carolina dares to stand for Christian fairness to the Negro even when it means continual slander and political defeat; when Kefauver dares to stand up against corruption; you can be sure that the secret of such courage is the old one: these men have been with Jesus.

The story of Christian missions is full of such things. More than fifty years ago a heathen mob was about to tear a missionary named Pitkin to ribbons. They asked him if he had anything to say first, "Yes," he said, "tell my son to come out here and finish my work."

They killed him; but the son did come. And one of his first converts was a man who as a boy had seen the elder Pitkin die. He had never been able to forget that kind of courage.

In our own time another missionary, with the axe literally above his head, was asked: Aren't you afraid?—Afraid of what? he said. If you kill me I shall go straight to heaven.

SCHOOL NEWS FROM TANEYTOWN HIGH

P.-T. A. Meeting Was Held Feb. 12

The Taneytown High school PTA met Feb. 12, 1952, at 8 in the school auditorium. It was reported that the PTA supper was very successful. A net profit of $358.87 was received. To everyone who contributed in any way many thanks!

A letter was received from Mr. Jenness stating that he has arranged to have a new water line brought in to correct the drinking water situation.

Through the efforts of the PTA a new light has been installed at the corner of the building nearest the front parking lot. This is certainly a much appreciated improvement to our school.

A motion was passed that the PTA will give a prize of $2.50 to the home-room having the highest percentage of parents present. It is hoped that the attendance will improve.

The meeting night of the PTA has been changed to the second Monday night of the month. An exception to this rule will occur in March when the vocational guidance meeting will be March 24 with Dr. Cromwell acting as moderator. This will be a joint meeting with the Elementary school PTA to be held in the high school. Mrs. Shipley is arranging the program.

The date of the school Card Party will be April 17. The PTA has consented to help with this project. Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Refreshment, Mr. and Mrs. Carel Frock, Publicity, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Luckenbaugh; Card tables, Mr. and Mrs. Doty Robb; Prizes, Mr. and Mrs. George Crouse.

The FFA is sponsoring a paper collection Feb. 28. If it rains, until the election will be postponed until the first Thursday night of March.

The theme for the PTA was "Brotherhood of Man." A movie was shown illustrating the theme after which Rev. Harold Bomberger, pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Westminster gave an address. He stated that our world is a neighborhood and it is up to us to make it a brotherhood. We can bring this about by learning the facts about races, and practice brotherhood in our homes.

The meeting was adjourned with refreshments served by the 8th grade. During the last week pupil activity at the school included a trip by the Jr. Business class to the Gettysburg radio station. Also the Junior High School viewed Nature's Half Acre at the local theatre supplementing their science program.

The Student Council and the Key Club will jointly sponsor a benefit movie, Mr. Deeds Goes to Town in the auditorium Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 1:45.

Sportswise the Tigers are to meet Manchester on the local court Friday evening, Feb. 22. On the 25th they will begin their participation in the county basketball tournament in Gill Gymnasium, Western Maryland College at 6:30 p. m.

DEFENSE BLOOD PROGRAM

The next visit of the bloodmobile to Carroll County occurs March 10 when the stand will be made near Finksburg. Use of the club house of the Congoleum-Nairn employees has been offered and accepted for the purpose.

To have sufficient number of donors available so that a minimum of 150 pints of blood will be collected, it is essential that many more pledges be secured than are currently on hand. The limited number of people living and working in the vicinity of Finksburg makes it necessary to call upon Hampstead, Gamber, Sykesville and Westminster areas to augment the list of pledges.

Boy Scouts are assisting the defense blood program by distributing pledge cards in a door-to-door canvas in Hampstead and Sandymount areas. It is hoped the response to this effort will be generous. When you receive a pledge card, sign it and hand it back to the Scout or mail it to Red Cross at 206 East Main Street, Westmin-ster. If you do not receive a card, make your pledge to donate a pint of blood by calling Westminster 212.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 59, and are in reasonably good health, you can spare a pint. Share it with someone in the armed services whose life will depend on your aid. Nature will give it back to you before long!

DUTY IN U. S. NAVY SCHOOL

LCDR C. L. Null, USN, son of the Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Null of Taneytown, Maryland, has reported to the S. Naval School, All Weather Flight at NAS, Corpus Christi, Texas, for duty involving training in the latest procedures in all-weather instrument flying.

Upon completion of his training he will report to NAS Atlantic City, N. J.

The Navy's All Weather Flight School is designed for advanced training of Navy, Marine and Coast Guard pilots in instrument flight. The course includes instruction and practice on such things as Radio Range orientation and approaches, Direction Finding, Instrument Letdown Systems, radar Ground Controlled Approaches, and the latest in aids to air navigation, the Omni-directional Range.

During the period of instruction the student receives much ground school work to prepare him for his actual in-flight practice. Also, he learns much about the art of passing this instrument knowledge on to other aviators.

These pilots completing the course are truly qualified all-weather aviators. They are more fully prepared to carry out their assigned missions, whether those missions are supplying much needed material by transport aircraft, or flying through the thickest weather to engage in actual combat.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: President, Harvey Dickerson; Vice-President, Robert Flickinger; Treasurer, John Dudder-er; Secretary, Donald Lawyer; Reporter, Merritt Copenhaver, and Sentinel, Carl Weant. Mr. Allenberg agriculture teacher at the school, is the club adviser.

A committee, with Melvin Bowling serving as chairman, was appointed to arrange for the magic show which is one of the club's first activities. Donald Carl was appointed chairman of the community paper collection which will be held on February 28, at 7 P. M.

It is the hope of the club that the community will take an interest in the worthy organization and will support any of its projects or activities.
