VOLUNTEER WORKERS AWARD LUNCHEON

Doctor Robert E. Gardner, Supt. of the Springfield State Hospital, and Mrs. Gardner entertained at a Volunteer Workers Award Luncheon, on Tuesday, at their home in Sykesville. There were one hundred and twenty guests. Those from Taneytown were Mrs. John Teeter, Mrs. Rose Overholtzer, Mrs. Carroll Hess and Mrs. Margaret Nulton. After a delicious lunch eaten on the spacious porch and under the huge trees, the guests assembled on the lawn. Doctor Gardner expressed his appreciation for the work the volunteers had done in the past and asked for many more to help carry on the work that is being done for the patients. Each month there is an average of 225 volunteers at work in the various buildings.

Miss Ann Reifsnider, co-ordinator of the volunteer workers, gave out the certificates of awards given by the hospital in recognition of meritorious service. Mrs. Perkins, wife of Dr. Perkins, one of the hospital staff, had words of praise for the work the Red Cross, the churches, clubs and organizations have done and are doing. In wanting to define who a volunteer is she used what Kenneth Jackson of New York School of Social Work once gave as his definition, "A volunteer is one who is obedient to the urge of the uninformable." Another quotation that remained with us was "Hands that give service are holier than lips that pray." Others spoke of the good work being done. Some business was transacted. Afterwards some lingered to chat and re-new acquaintance. Dr. and Mrs. Gardner were the gracious host and hostess, and everyone left feeling it was a well worth-while get-together.

TEACHERS SALARY BOOST REJECTED

County Commissioners Decline to Approve $400 Raise

The Board of County Commissioners of Carroll county Tuesday declined to approve a $400 increase in teachers' salaries sought by the Carroll County Teachers Association.

The commissioners informed Superintendent of Schools Samuel Jenness of the decision after resolutions seeking the increase, adopted at a county-wide meeting of the teachers association Monday night, were presented to the board.

The next step was not clear. Association President Jesse Starkey, principal of Union Bridge High School said that at the meeting at which the resolutions were adopted, the advisory council of the association was empowered to plan "whatever action is necessary regarding the salary issues if there is no action forthcoming from the County Commissioners."

Approximately 325 Carroll county public school teachers attended the meeting held Monday night in Westminster elementary school, when statements were presented by spokesmen from each school in the county. Nine resolutions were prepared for presentation to the commissioners.

The increase was sought for the school year beginning September 1, 1952. It would have raised the teachers' salary scale in Carroll county to the $3,000-$4,600 range. The cost of the increase would have been reflected by approximately 16 cents on the county tax rate.

The salary request, which had the approval of the Board of Education, would have required a supplement budget of approximately $132,000 for the school year opening in September.

The resolutions said that among other reasons, the raise was being asked "due to the increased cost of living" and "in order to attract and retain highly qualified teachers."

The Frederick county teachers' salary scale at present runs from $2,600 to $4,100 for teachers with degrees. For teachers with Master degrees, the scale is $2,800 to $4,300. Teachers who have no degrees get $200. less.

Carroll county teachers were scheduled to meet Thursday night to plan further action in their bid for a $400 raise.

Jesse L. Starkey, president of the county teachers association, said he had been advised county commissioners turned down the raise request.

Starkey, principal of a high school at Union Bridge, said the association's advisory council will meet to map further action.

It was decided at this meeting since no direct reply from the County Commissioners has been received by the Teachers' Association the next step would be to meet the Carroll County Senator and delegates this evening to enlist their support and that a hearing before the Commissioners would be sought for Monday.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEETING

Mrs. Maggie Eyer was hostess to the Pythian Sisters Past Chiefs Club of Taneytown Temple No. 23, Tuesday evening, June 2, 1952. The meeting was opened by the Vice President, Mrs. Louella Feeser with the Scripture Lesson, followed with Prayer all uniting in the Lord's prayer; minutes of previous meeting were read and approved as read. Roll call answered by 14 members telling where they would like to spend their vacation.

The Memorial service held in the United Brethren church 26 members were present and we all appreciated Rev. Garvin's message which was helpful for every day living. The flowers were given to every day living. The flowers after the service. Our next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Clara Devillibus on Tuesday evening, June 24th. After singing Blest Be the Tie and Sweet Hour of Prayer. A motion was made to close with the benediction.

Note the change in time for the meeting instead of first Tuesday evening in July it is to be June 24th the last Tuesday in June. The hostess served lovely refreshments. Ice cream and strawberries.

KIWANIS NEWS

His topic was "Keys" comparing keys and locks with men and boys, having in mind the good that men of Kiwanis can do in helping to "open" the field for boys, especially those in the Key Club. A very good lesson was given by Rev. Andreas able talk.

Guests were Rev. Andreas son Paul (who was celebrating his birthday) and his father Mr. Walter Andreas of Leighton, Pa.

John Manspeaker, member of the club and Principal of Taneytown High School, expressed thanks to the club, in behalf of H. S. Key Club, for the financial assistance in sending one or two members of the junior club to the International Convention of Key Clubs to be held in Chicago.

THIS 'N' THAT (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

One of the most beautiful women, Your Observer has ever seen lives right in Carroll County, a few miles out of Westminster. I met her recently in a Doctor's office in the big city. She is tall and very stately plus a marvelous disposition! A very handsome son was killed in War 2.

At last Your Observer visited 'Longview' Nursing Home to make that special call there. I was directed to the room where that nice little lady was sitting so very busy making a quilt—you know the one who had written to me asking me to visit her.

The Proprietress and her husband then showed me through the spacious building which was amazing as it was much larger inside than anyone could have imagined before entering the building.

She is most kind and understanding and all the guests there seem to love her. She has built a new wing on the one side which is a tremendous hall and just about the widest doors to each room, I have ever seen. This hall leads out to a spacious porch which over looks the garden. As I was stepping out to the porch, a dear little aged lady from Gettysburg came to me telling me when she was ten years of age she could remember the "Battle of Gettysburg" so distinctly!

All in all those patients are very happy in their nice surroundings and then, too like that song, "It's so nice to have a Man around the House" as the husband of the owner assists her in every detail with the running of the institution or home.

Did you see on Tevey on Friday evening that beautiful and popular actress, Irene Dunn make her T.V. Debut? Now, I am convinced when it comes to looks—T.V. does nothing for you which was most evident with Irene Dunn as in the Movies she is positively glamorous!

Rain—Rain—Rain—and I heard someone say that there will be lots of it for the month of June!

Here's to any church group. If you desire to give something that will go over big for the children and the adults will eat it up—just put on a "Tom Thumb Wedding"—It went over so big here that many requests came to me to repeat it which we are doing this week.

If you enjoy paintings, sketches and anything pertaining to Art—it will pay you to just brouse around the department store windows this week and you will be amazed how many Baltimoreans are gifted with that brush and pencil. Your Observer looked over The May Company windows and all I could say was "Oh!" and "Ah!" There was the one called "Chicken Coops" by Gladys H. Goldstein that would make any farmer say, "Dern if that isn't just like ours back on the farm!" Then there was "Surveyor on the Bay" by Earl F. Hoffman which was something to brag about and there was the "Fire House at Gay Street" by Karl Berger that was most realistic and "Peggy's Cove" by Clyde H. Roberts which many have seen in real life and the one called "Shell in The Basket" by F. H. Redelins which was the most beautifully colored of any painting I have ever gazed upon for a Novice. It was outstanding with its vivid red and highlights. Your Observer expects to brouse around again when I can take more time.

Whatever you do plan a day if it will remain there longer than a week. All Baltimore should be most proud having so many artists right around us! I predict that we will hear from some of those artists in a short period of time as they will be "going places".

Horror how many are being killed on holidays and most of it through being careless and drinking!

It is wise to remain at home on holidays! What say you? We are learning this gradually.

Spent hours at the Baltimore Methodist Conference this past week and the reading of the appointments is most touching. Servants of God being placed in new localities. The highlight of the final hour is the Ordination Service when young men are offering to be Soldiers of God! Nothing could be finer!

So long, Folks. Have a grand weekend and begin thinking just what you are going to purchase for "Father's Day"—you know for the best man in your house! Until next week end D.V. I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

YOU AND YOUR CONGRESS

Bernard Baruch's influence is being felt in Congress again and its effects on such things as military appropriations and economic controls legislation should be known a few weeks hence.

The 81-year-old elder statesman, who helped administer government controls in both World Wars, has made three appearances as an outside consultant to Congress during the mobilization program that began at the outset of the fighting in Korea.

His most recent advice is that given to the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which conducts a running investigation of the defense program.

Baruch's latest recommendations include:

1. A defense budget that fits the risks this country faces, with no cuts that will imperil the country's security. (He did not name a figure.)

2. Stockpiling of weapons and ammunition.

3. Giving the President ample power, including strong control over prices and allocation of scarce materials.

Declaring that the United States is losing the armaments race to Russia, Baruch said "we can have the necessary defense and preserve the soundness of our economy."

The effect of Baruch's advice to Congress was strong in 1950. Then, after the outbreak of the fighting in Korea, Congress was deadlocked over the question of how much control power to give the President for the new emergency period. Some feared to give him too much; others feared Congress might not give him enough and be blamed later by the public for not doing so.

On July 26, 1950, Baruch told the Senate Banking Committee that Congress should freeze all wages, prices and rents, increase taxes and ration essential goods.

Almost immediately the deadlock broke and although Congress did not accept Baruch's advice completely, it did vote that President more power than he had requested.

The President did not employ his controls power in the wage-price field until several months afterward and Baruch now criticizes the Administration for that delay.

Last year, when Congress was considering extension of the economic and production controls, which were due to expire, Baruch recommended extending them intact. Congress was considerably less receptive to his advice than in 1950. Realizing that inflationary pressures had subsided somewhat during the one-year interval, Congress decided to extend the economic controls in less stringent form than it originally had drawn them.

While it is still too early to say how Baruch's recommendations will fare this year, certain conditions may be noted.

For one thing, many members of Congress, overwhelmed by the Administration's request for $51.2 billion for military use in the next fiscal year, are seriously concerned about the economy's future stability—realizing that it, too, affects national security. Moreover, refusing to increase taxes again this year, they hope to cut the total $85.4 billion budget substantially so as to hold down inflationary deficit financing. And since military spending accounts for 60 per cent of the budget, they feel it must be reduced. Besides, the Pentagon has developed a reputation for wastefulness.

Consequently, the House cut the military budget figure by $5 billion and the Senate, while hearing Pentagon pleas to do so, appears unlikely to restore the amount cut by the House.

While Baruch argues for stockpiling weapons and ammunition, the Administration's program has been to make ready ample military production capacity as a substitute for such stockpiling and Congress has gone along pretty much with this plan. Whether it will reverse itself as Baruch suggests certainly is open to question.

Meanwhile, Baruch recommends stronger economic controls than those now in force. But Congress sees more and more prices sliding below official ceilings as merchants operate mainly in a buyers' market Congress also hears the Wage Stabilization Board frequently referred to as the "wage stimulation board" and many in Congress are angered by the Board majority's rulings on such non-economic matters as the union shop.

Thus, the outlook for Baruch's recommendations in this field, too, remains doubtful.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

No one knows who the next President will be. But whatever his name and party label, he is in for a rugged time.

United States News & World Report recently dealt with what the new President will face in a brief but comprehensive feature article. As it observed, the job offers many unique assets and prerogatives. The Chief Executive lives in one of the most magnificent homes on earth. Legions of assistants and servants are at his beck and call. He is treated with the utmost deference by everyone. Hardly a wish goes unfulfilled. He is paid a large salary and receives a $50,000-a-year tax-free expense fund in addition.

But all these material benefits lose much of their lustre in the light of the enormous problems with which the President must deal—and of the fateful decisions he, and he alone, must make.

The U.S. News article is called "Troubles Ahead For Next President". Here, in capsule form, is the gist of what the magazine anticipates for him:

DEBT. Soon the national debt will touch the $275,000,000,000 legal ceiling. The President will have to choose between asking Congress to raise that ceiling or cut the spending. Either way, he will make political enemies.

WAR. It seems certain that the Korean War will still be going when he takes office, even though it may be relatively passive. This is a stale-mated, totally unpopular war. What will he advocate to end it?

BUSINESS. Many economists think that the boom is running down next year, it is forecast, there will be a substantial decline in industrial expansion. There will probably be a drop in profits—and that will bring a drop in tax collections, making the budget problem still more difficult. The ranks of the unemployed will be swelled. All this may happen very soon after the next President moves into the White House.

AGRICULTURE. Some farm commodities are in a surplus state now. Other surpluses are anticipated. So, as U.S. News put it, "The next President is to be caught between the pressure of city people interested in cheaper food and a farm population insisting that government support farm prices against substantial decline."

BUREAUCRACY. The President is the titular boss of 6,200,000 people—2,500,000 civilians and 3,700,000 military. This huge payroll is one of the primary causes of our outside Federal budgets. And here again the next President must make a difficult decision. In the view of U.S. News, "If he does not cut the payroll and the functions of the government bureaucracy, his financial troubles will grow. If he does cut the payroll, some people will be out of jobs, raising political fuss, and if he cuts functions some group or region will lose a good thing and also will raise a political fuss."

These aren't all of the problems the beleaguered next President will face—not by a long shot. And great problems we can't even anticipate today may also be his. But they serve to indicate the enormous and unavoidable burdens that are part and parcel of what is accurately described as the biggest job in the world.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ST. LOUIS, MO., LABOR TRIBUNE: "The bona-fide labor paper champions the institution of private enterprise based on private property ownership, and only attacks the abuses in the system which tend to weaken and corrupt it. The good labor paper considers our economic and social system the best ever devised to maintain democratic institutions and give free play to individual opportunity, initiative and talent."

FLUSHING, OHIO, HOME NEWS RECORD: "We believe the trend of our government in recent years has been definitely toward socialism and we view this with alarm... the prospect of socialism is frightening. The reason for this is quite simple—the past history of the results of socialism."

BROWNSVILLE, PA., TELEGRAPH: "Freedom automatically entails responsibility. One of the chief marks of the slave is that he does not need to be responsible because he has lost his authority over his actions. And when the freeman becomes irresponsible, he soon becomes a slave. Today the people of the United States are threatened by actual tyrannies from without and potential tyranny from within. But neither of these menaces so seriously threatens our liberty as our own irresponsibility. Whenever we subordinate the general welfare to self-interest (which is the essence of social irresponsibility) we weaken another stone in the foundation of our freedom."

FRANKLIN, IND., REPUBLICAN: "A government of law should be the friend of all men and enemy of none."

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!..

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial . . . and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We . . . and Imperial by Chrysler . . . are at your service, any time.

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more — and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power — with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it — and you'll have a lot of fun.

FEESERSBURG

May departed exactly as it came—wet and soggy. Farmers will be glad if they never see another like it, for there was rain 23 days out of 31 with rainfall averaging 8 inches in Maryland for the month. That is a lot of rain in any country, and too much to accomplish anything with farm crops. It was a real nightmare for orchardists. The rain kept the fruit from pollinating properly and retarded sprays to the extent that the bugs and fungus had a perfect holiday. June came in with perfect weather and as nature generally balances herself we can look forward maybe to nice, custom made weather—at least we can dream.

There was a short business meeting with Mrs. Ruth Bair presiding. Mrs. Donald Wurfenfelts gave a brief talk on Lutheran World Federation and Mrs. Cleon Wolfe talked about an unusual way of earning money for missionary work.

Mrs. Maurice Grider who is confined to her home with a prolonged illness is responding to treatment slowly but satisfactorily. Among friends and relatives who called to see her Sunday were Mrs. David Forney and Mrs. Kenneth Forney of Copperville, Mr. and Mrs. William Forney of Sunbury, Pa.; Mrs. Earl Shriver of Frederick; Miss Jane Crom of Westminster and Miss Mary Ogle, Union Bridge.

Miss Imogene Weybright, Detour, received the bachelor of arts degree summa cum laude at the 32nd graduation exercises Monday morning at Western Maryland College. There were 137 graduates this year.

Sometime this month an anniversary will pass. For most people, it will go unnoticed. Only for those who have beloved sons or husbands or brothers in Korea will the date bear any significance. For one day this month will mark the beginning of the 3rd year of war in Korea. On June 25, 1950, a war started and today it is no more near a conclusion than when it first began. This Korean War is a disheartening affair. For one thing, most of us have to keep telling ourselves over and over again that it is necessary and why. A war of activity seems much easier to bear than a war of waiting, and hoping with no end in sight for years and years to come. Some tomorrow of the future will tell us whether the Korean war was just a proving ground for tactics and weapons of war—a sort of prelude to a Third World War or whether it was the dike that kept Communism from spreading across Asia.

There will be Children's Day services at Mt. Union Lutheran church this coming Sunday. The choir will sing special music and the young people will present an interesting program. The public is invited to attend. Recently I heard a visitor from Europe say that the thing that fascinated her most about the United States was installment buying. Until she came here buying things on time was something she had never heard of, but she liked it fine. Not all Americans will agree with her for although millions of us do buy that way there are some who simply are horrified at the idea. Installment buying when it is used as it should be used—wisely—is a good old American custom. Economists point out the installment process puts articles of considerable worth in the hands of people of moderate means who would otherwise be unable to buy. Buying on credit is a sign of optimism both on the part of the buyer and the seller. One believes he will be able to pay and the other believes he will get paid. It's a fine belief in each other. No system is perfect, and there are flaws in credit buying as well as good points. The main one is that it costs the consumer 10 to 12 per cent more for an article on credit, but then think of all the fun one has in owning property. It's worth it.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Pfoutz and daughter Janet and son Gene of Hagerstown, Va., were visitors last week of the Monroe Fouts.

Miss Virginia Kubit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon was valedictorian of the graduating class of Washington Township High, Wayneboro, Pa. Virginia ranked first in her class with an average of 94.83. The Gordons, who now live at Blue Ridge Summit, Pa. formerly lived near Keymar and Virginia attended Taneytown school. On June 3, 1937, Mrs. Wallis Ward Simpson of Baltimore and former King Edward VIII of England were married at Monts, France. Fifteen years have passed since the world was all aglow over their romance. Maybe we need another fairy book love story to brighten our thinking and give us something to talk about besides politics, war and a no potato diet.

Mrs. David Buffington, Catonsville, spent the week end with the Millard Roelkes.

It seems to this reporter if the steel companies had paid their workers in increased wages what they have spent for page after page of advertising their case against the unions the steel strike would have been settled long ago.

Fifteen years have passed since the world was all aglow over their romance. Maybe we need another fairy book love story to brighten our thinking and give us something to talk about besides politics, war and a no potato diet.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church in New York explaining why he thinks St. Vitus is the patron saint of Americans: "The American people are so tense and keyed up that it is impossible even to put them to sleep with a sermon."

I believe "Ike" will make a good president, but I sort of hate to see him get mixed up in politics and endure all the mud that will be coming his way after this week.

It seems to this reporter if the steel companies had paid their workers in increased wages what they have spent for page after page of advertising their case against the unions the steel strike would have been settled long ago.

MATTHEW HENRY GALT

Matthew Henry Galt, son of the late Henry Galt and Ann Eliza Annan Galt was born at Taneytown, Oct. 9th, 1881 and died May 19, 1952, at Springfield, Missouri. He was apparently in good health and spirits when he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and became unconscious within 10 minutes after his wife reached him, dying 10 hours later in Springfield Baptist Hospital.

He was a graduate of Md. Agricultural College (now a part of Md. University) and University of Michigan and began the practice of law in Springfield, where many young attorneys trained with him and sought his advice long after they had opened offices of their own. Mr. Galt, who was an authority on bankruptcy law, still maintained his office in the Woodruff building and handled a few cases, although in recent years, he devoted much of his time to his dairy farms. He was very active as a dairy farmer, being business manager of both of his farms.

In addition to the beautiful home at Cherry and Glenstone Mr. Galt owned two dairy farms—west of the city. On one he kept a herd of 125 blooded Holsteins, the other was stocked with about the same number of Jerseys and Guernseys.

Mr. Galt has served as president of the Greene County Bar Association and of the Milk Producers Association and continued active in the fields they represented up to the time of his death. Being of a stoutly independent nature he had never sought a public office or accepted a political appointment.

He made warm friendships and served his friends well—but he wanted to be under obligation to no man. He is survived by his wife, who was Bertha Hansell, of Springfield, two daughters Mrs. Sidney Neate and Mrs. James Allee; three grandchildren, James Galt and Sidney Elizabeth Allee, Margaret Grayson Neate, all of Columbia, Missouri.—Excerpts from the Springfield News Journal.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

Pupils do not fully understand terms such as "international understanding" and "intercultural relationships" and other concepts necessary in education for today's youth. The Taneytown Elementary School, however, has been providing many opportunities for pupils to gain a better understanding of people of other countries. These opportunities have utilized a variety of activities such as the unique type employed by Miss Jordan in the fourth grade, who had as a guest, Miss Myro McDade, a former missionary in China. The period started with a Chinese breakfast of tea and rice, which featured real chopsticks. Miss McDade then led the pupils to understand the Chinese people are like us in many ways, even though of a different race. She also described life in China, showing cork carvings, writing paper and an artistic Chinese scroll.

A similar experience occurred when Ronnie Hopkins brought his friend, Jay Dunn to visit his school. Jay, who is from Alaska told the fifth and sixth grade pupils many stories about life in Alaska, and showed a number of souvenirs which everyone enjoyed. After hearing Jay's stories, the pupils have a much better understanding of Alaska and its people.

As a culminating activity of study being done in reading, Mrs. Koutz's third grade invited Miss Case's room to an English tea party at which Miss Ruth DeVore, county supervisor, was the speaker. Miss DeVore told about her trip to Europe, covering both the preparations, trip itself, and experiences she had. After speaking about each country she showed pictures, examples of which were The Tower of London, Cambridge University, Cathedral of Chartres and many others. Her talk was rich in geographical information and gave the children a good background.

On May 20 Mr. Charles Richlieu, a native of Hawaii but of America Parentage, visited with the fifth and sixth grades. He showed movies depicting the customs, work play, and life in general of the Hawaiians. One film of particular interest was showing Mauna Loa, their largest active volcano, during actual eruption.

Mr. Richlieu, an able speaker, easily had the attention of the pupils during his talk to them and in the open forum which followed. Of greatest importance was his emphasis on our relation to his country. The Hawaiian Islands are a possession of the United States and they hope to become the 49th state. However, few Americans are well enough informed to care whether that becomes a reality or not. Hawaiians pay taxes to this country but are not allowed to vote—nor even to elect their own governor, who, at the present time, is appointed by the President of the United States. They raise sugar cane but must send the raw sugar to the U.S. for refining and buy it back again if they are to have refined sugar for their own use. With it all they are a happy, fun-loving people, of many nationalities, living at the cross-roads of the Pacific. Seems as if we need to wake up and appreciate these people who really belong to us.

The pupils were very privileged to have such experiences and certainly benefited greatly by their presentation. They got a picture of the world no book could ever give them. It will soon be their task to help keep the bridge of international peace and good will open and they will be much more capable of doing so since having such a background.

HARRISVILLE NEWS

Memorial Day was a big day in Harrisville. It is estimated that 3,000 people were present for the program which began at 9 o'clock in the morning and concluded about 11 o'clock Friday night. The last feature was fireworks. This being a Home-coming, there were visitors here from Ohio, Virginia, Washington, D.C., Mechanicsburg, Pa., and Hyattsville, Md.

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roy Michael, of Harrisville, was killed instantly on Saturday when his body was carried through a machine spreader, when the machine struck a rock. The impact threw the child off balance, and set the machine into operation.

The program "Banners of Freedom" originating in Greensboro, N.C. was heard Sunday afternoon on radio.

What few Irish potatoes one can secure in this town sells at 12½ cents a pound.

During the afternoon of Memorial Day, the Harrisville baseball team defeated Shippery Rock, 12-6.

The New Purina Growena Checker-Etts with Purina's exclusive Formula 1028 providing the growth vitamins, B 12 and antibiotic feed supplements is the best growing feed we have ever tested. Pullet development is rapid and uniform, bodies are heavy at laying time and production, (the payoff), is high and steady after pullets start to lay.

As an example of the difference Purina can make, we point to a test run a few years ago. Purina-fed pullets were 1½ lbs. heavier per bird at 20 weeks than their sisters raised on a poor growing ration. Purina-fed pullets averaged 21 eggs per bird more in the fall and early winter when egg prices were highest. START...GROW...LAY...PAY...feed Purina All the Way! See us soon!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Exodus 20:15; Luke 16: 1-12; 19:1-10, 45-46.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Amos 5: 6-15.

Persons and Property

Lesson for June 8, 1952

STEALING can be done in more ways than one. The essence of it is keeping some one from having what he should rightfully have, and what he would have if you did the right thing by him. This "some one" may be a railroad company, or it may be yourself. If you pass your little girl off for ten years old when you buy a ticket when she is really twelve, you are stealing from the railroad. If you waste good money, while you are making good money, and never learn to save, so that you become a pauper in your old age, then you are stealing from an old man—yourself in fact.

Dr. Foreman

Money Should Be Good for Something Good

JESUS never bothered to tell people stealing is wrong. They know it. As Billy Sunday used to say so often: "When a man starts to tell you that stealing's no sin, don't argue with him. Search him!"

Jesus said a great deal about property, but most of what he said was positive, not negative; about the right use of property, not its abuse. One of his most difficult parables is the one in Luke 16 known as the parable of the "unjust steward."

On first reading it looks as if Jesus, or the rich man in the story, were praising a man for being dishonest. But we know Jesus would not do this. Dr. A. B. Bruce suggests that what Jesus was driving at was something like this: the employer of the "unjust steward" was not praising his dishonesty but his shrewdness in making the most of his opportunities.

We can all admire the smartness or a rascal even while we are condemning his rascality. We can wish that so much smartness were used for a better purpose.

"The children of this world are wiser . . . than the children of light" suggests that good people are not as smart as they ought to be. Jesus goes on to say, "Make friends by means of the mammon of unrighteousness." That is to say, although money in itself is neither good nor bad, and although money is often used for bad ends, it can be used for good purposes.

The real value of money is the good that can be done with it. Money lost by gambling (for instance) does no good; it is picked up by another gambler who will lose it in his turn. Money spent on an education, on the other hand, or sent to support a foreign missionary, is money invested in a brighter future.

The Pocket-Book Nerve

DR. J. G. PATTON says it's very doubtful whether a man is a true Christian unless he dedicates to God not only himself but what he has. It is easy to say to God, "Take my soul," because (as most people suppose) they have no special use for their souls right now; but it is much harder to say, "Take my money," because most people can think of plenty of uses for their money.

And yet it is never possible to give money to God, of course. He has no pockets, he has no bank account, he does not need to buy anything. When we speak of dedicating our possessions to God what we mean is devoting them to the cause and the service and the purpose of God.

The story of Zacchaeus is a case in point. This wealthy (and none too honest) businessman never did say right out, "I believe in Christ," or, "I want to go to heaven," or even, "I repent of my sins." So far as the story goes he was not even baptized.

Yet Jesus—and who should know better than he?—said, "Salvation is come to this house." Long before this Jesus had said, "By their fruits ye shall know them." And what Zacchaeus said he was going to do with his money was a very good sign of his conversion. When a man's pocket-book has been converted, the man usually goes with it!

Stealing in Church

THE STORY of Jesus and the money-changers brings out something else. Right there in the Temple stealing was going on, and respectable people had done nothing to stop it before Jesus came on the scene.

Stealing can still be done in church. When a congregation underpays the minister or the janitor, they are stealing; or if the minister and the janitor are lazy and no-account, they are stealing from the congregation. No one is free from the temptation.

Model Town to Rise As a Mining Center

PRINCE ALBERT, Saskatchewan — A planned boom town 450 miles northwest of Prince Albert, now only a mark on a map in an unsettled area, will be a community of 5,000 people by 1958.

Construction is to start soon on the town which has been named Uranium City. It will serve as the residential center for Saskatchewan's extensive uranium development area north of Lake Athabaska. Engineers of the Saskatchewan Resources Department made a contour plan of the site, which covers 150 acres of flat, sandy land along the Fredette River, about a quarter of a mile from the northwest shore of Martin Lake. It is situated on the "uranium road" being built from Black Bay on Lake Athabaska to the Eldorado Ace Lake Mine.

Recently an airport was completed near the future community. Uranium City will serve as a central town site for all mines in the area instead of each property having its separate communities. Housing regulations will be enforced to prevent development of a shack town.

Film Clubs Suggest For Small Town Shows

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, I. I. — Film clubs operating on the "Book-of-the-Month" principle have been suggested at the University of Illinois as a means of developing a market for a higher type of motion picture fare than is now available in the "one-picture-house" small town.

I. I. Raines, who made a survey of the preferences of a small-town motion picture audience, suggested the idea.

"Starting with a committee of teachers, professional people and other leading citizens," he said, "the exhibitor could enroll enough members to underwrite regular showings of outstanding films of the cultural nature which do not reach the small-town audience today."

Raines believes that by this means a community could secure documentary and experimental films which up to now have had no audience whatever outside of metropolitan theaters.

Iron Ore Bodies

In 1849 a group of Mormons was sent to Iron County, Utah, where they discovered part of the iron ore bodies developed extensively during World War II to supply Western plants.

Milestone Worshipers

One of the religious sects of India worships milestones. For this reason they often swiped the milestones from the Central Indian Railway and enshrined them in their temples.

Related Family

Western red cedar, whose technical name is Thuja plicata, belongs to the same botanical family as the Cedars-of-Lebanon used for Solomon's Temple in biblical times.

Keeping Covers

To keep covers of galvanized steel ash and garbage cans from being lost, attach them with a small piece of rope or chain to a post or structure near the container.

It's in the Tips

The bristles in nylon brushes must have long, fine tips. By holding the brush up to the light, fanning out the nylon and looking closely at the tips, you can observe these. The way a brush will pick up paint and release it is affected by the tips of the bristles. In other words, they govern the smoothness with which paint can be applied. Because of the wearing qualities of nylon, it is not necessary to obtain a long brush. A good 4-inch brush should not have more than 4 1/4" of bristle extending out of the ferrule.

Colonial Charm

A charming Early American dining room has walls painted a deep, dull blue, a beamed ceiling and random-width planks for the floor. The pine trestle-table is placed beneath a wide window which overlooks the garden. Pewter plates and tankards gleam on the shelves of a Welsh cupboard. Draperies are russet in tone. The russet hue is repeated in the hand-hooked rugs on the floor.

Grease Fires

Grease fires on or near kitchen ranges are ever-present dangers to homemakers, so fire prevention officials advise caution in handling and storing food grease and fats. The experts warn against using water on grease fires. To fight such fires, they recommend using galvanized pails filled with sand or portable fire extinguishers filled with appropriate chemicals.

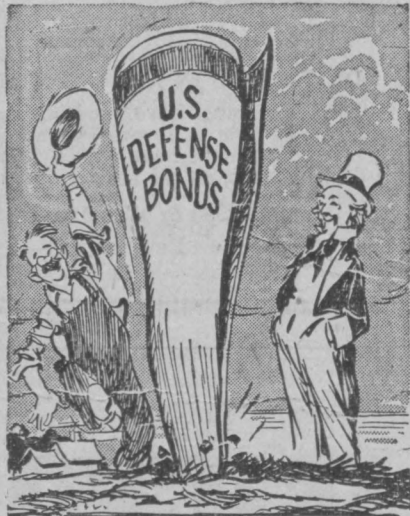

Two-Fold Discovery

Faraday's discovery of obtaining electricity from magnetism was observed through the use of an electroplating machine constructed by Prine and Company in 1844. Electroplating had a two-fold effect upon nickel introduced silverplated ware on a nickel silver base and nickel-plating itself.

Eye Cataracts

More than normal incidence of cataracts of the eyes and leukemia has been noted among Japanese survivors of the atom bombings in Hiroshima and Nagasaki. It appears that the atomic bomb has a tendency to stimulate these troubles, although not to a great extent.

Uncle Sam Says

The harvest season's about over, but how about sowing a new crop, one that will reap some extra dollars in seasons to come? Just plant part of your earnings regularly in U. S. Defense Bonds, and watch those earnings grow! This you can readily do through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. The longer you hold these bonds, the deeper they take root and the more interest they bear. In 20 years they will return you 77 per cent more than your original investment. U. S. Treasury Department

HINTS for the Handyman
No. 1 Setting Your Mower

Check the setting of the underknife with a sheet of paper. Turn mower upside down and turn blades slowly around—the paper should shear off as cleanly as though cut with scissors. If blades bind—or paper isn't cut across width of blades, correct adjustment of underknife. Screws are provided on mower for this.
