OPEN HOUSE

To Be Held By Gun Club January 16th

The Taneytown Rod and Gun Club will throw open its doors on January 16, from 6 to 9 p. m. at which time members, their families and friends will be entertained at open house.

This is the first opportunity since the club house has been constructed for such a gathering to be held. Many hours have been spent by selfless citizens of Taneytown in both erecting the building and improving the grounds to such point that Taneytown Rod and Gun Club is the envy of statewide sportsmen.

Through entertaining at open house, members feel they will be afforded the opportunity to express appreciation to the many members and friends of the club, who during the past year, have made such progress possible.

Anyone in the community wishing to become actively affiliated with the club is cordially invited to attend this open house.

WOMEN'S GUILD MEETING HELD

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church was held Friday evening immediately following the preparatory worship.

The meeting was in charge of the officers and the theme for the year, "The Bible Speaks to Us Today", was introduced. Miss Mary Fringer was the pianist and chose for a prelude "Peace at Twilight."

Mrs. Morgan Andreas read the Call to Worship followed by the theme hymn, "Words of the Living God", and Mrs. Otis Shoemaker led the group in prayer. Miss Catherine Hill sang two lovely selections and was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Teresa Franklin.

A dramatization was given, based on the theme and portrayed Bible character challenging the women along various avenues of service, leadership, talent, and love. During the drama presentation Mrs. George Motter sang a verse of the hymn, "Lord, Speak to Me." Those taking part were Mrs. Glenn Martin, Mrs. G. Emerson Rue, Mrs. Harold Anders, Mrs. Romaine Motter, Mrs. William Airing, Miss Helen Bankard, Mrs. Ellsworth Lambert, Mrs. George Motter, Mrs. Murray Baumgardner and Mrs. Otis Shoemaker.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Glenn Martin. The women voted to make a contribution to the March of Dimes. Various chairmen gave reports including the education report by Mrs. George Motter, who outlined the work of the year. At the conclusion of the business meeting, all enjoyed a brief social period to meet again in February with the Stewardship committee, Mrs. S. Harley Holter, Chairman, in charge.

ELEMENTARY P.T.A. MARCH OF DIMES BENEFIT PLANNED

At a special meeting of the Taneytown Elementary School P.T.A. Executive Committee on Thursday afternoon, it was decided to hold the annual March of Dimes Card Party on Monday, January 26th. Mrs. Lucille Remsburg, was appointed general chairman and she will announce the refreshments, table, prize, and publicity committees.

The committee also discussed at some length the school savings plans and programs available to schools through local banks. The fact that it does involve a great deal of school time, plus the fact that saving habits would seem to be a responsibility of the home, left the committee in doubt as to a definite decision. A representative of the plan may be in the community later on to describe the programs, and a definite decision to a recommendation to the school will be made then.

FARM BUREAU PLANNING GROUP MEETS

The Taneytown Farm Bureau Planning Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Overholzer, Wednesday, Dec. 31, 1952. There were 12 members, 2 guests, and 6 children present. We all enjoyed a turkey and oyster supper, with all the trimmings, after which we enjoyed a program or two on television.

Mr. Hubert Null then spoke to us of his trip to Seattle, Wash., and showed us some slides, snapshots, and folders which he secured on his trip and tour. They were very interesting and enjoyed by all. A short business meeting then followed, at which we decided we would try and make our supper an annual affair, as well as a picnic in one of the summer months. Meeting then adjourned.

4-H WORK

The Taneytown Agricultural 4-H Club held their December meeting in the basement of the E. U. Brethren Church. At this meeting they held their Christmas party, as well as election of officers. Meeting was called to order by Vice-Pres., Mary Klein. The 4-H pledge was repeated by all. Officers for the coming year are as follows: Pres., Mary Klein; Vice-Pres., Harvey Dickinson, Jr.; Sec., Margaret Poole; Cor. Sec., Marjorie Dickinson; Treas., Charles Gartrell; Club Reporter, Herbert Klein.

The club sent two representatives to the square dance for 4-Hers, which was held at Westminster High School for the March of Dimes. They were Mary Klein as queen, and Robert Flickinger as King. Our club also donated $10 to the March of Dimes. After the business meeting we sang Christmas Carols, with Roberta Garvin kindly playing the piano for us. Refreshments which were donated by all of our parents were then served.

COUNTY SCHOOLS

Funds For Their Operations Explained

ARTICLE VI — Financing Public Schools in Carroll County:

Funds for the support of the public education program comes from two sources: (a) County Treasury (b) State Treasury, Md. School Law provides that the State shall share in the cost of the educational program so as to insure an adequate education in all sections of the state. The law further requires each county to levy at least .65 cents per $100 of property assessment for the support of schools in State support.

All funds for the support of schools must come from some form of taxation. County funds in Carroll county must be raised entirely from taxes on real estate. From this source of income, the County must provide its appropriate share in the cost of school operations and must build and maintain its public school housing facilities.

The principle of equalization has been of paramount importance in insuring that no Maryland children are denied opportunity because of being born in the less wealthy sections of the State. The Maryland counties are required to set up personnel and facilities for the offering of the minimum program in public school education. In all counties where the local required levy does not provide sufficient funds to finance the minimum program, State money is made available to make such program possible. This element of Maryland school financial support is of extreme importance in maintaining school service at an adequate level throughout the State.

Expenditures for support of education are grouped under various budget accounts:

1. General Control. (a) Operation of County offices (b) Clerical Services (c) Administrative salaries (d) Salaries related to pupil personnel services (e) Telephone and mail service.
2. Instructional (a) Salaries of teachers and supervisory personnel (b) Costs of textbooks and materials of instruction (c) Library books and other costs related to instruction.
3. Costs of Operation (a) Wages of Custodians (b) Janitorial Supplies (c) Fuel for heating (d) Electricity, Gas and Water (e) Cost of Repair and Maintenance (a) Repair and Replacement of equipment (b) Wages of Maintenance personnel (c) Repair of buildings. Upkeep of grounds.
4. Auxiliary Agencies (a) Transportation program (b) School Health Expenses (c) School Lunch Program Expenses (d) Expense of Physical Education and Athletic program.
5. Fixed Charges (a) Insurance (b) Workmen's Compensation (c) Employees' Retirement.
6. Capital Outlay (a) New Buildings (b) Alteration of old buildings (c) New equipment for buildings.

Costs in all areas have been increasing as they have in every field of service. Continued support on both county and state levels is essential to the maintenance of good school service.

County financial support in 1951-52 school year for current expense amounted to approximately $91 per pupil and was supplemented by State funds in the amount of $108 per pupil. These figures include all costs except those for new buildings and new equipment.

"Maryland can't raise all the money it needs to provide adequate school facilities, a survey showed today, but it's better off than at least 30 other states and four territories.

And only two states are known to be in a better position.

The survey made by the government ranks the Free State third in this respect among 33 states whose education requirements and financial ability to meet them were reviewed."

The beautiful in character is also the good, welding indissolubly the links of action.—Mary Baker Eddy.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE C. A. SOCIETY

To Be Held, Monday, Jan. 12 in Westminster

The Carroll County Children's Aid Society announced today that Clark L. Mock, Executive Director of the Baltimore Family and Children's Service, will be the speaker at the agency's twenty-third annual meeting. The meeting, to which the entire community is invited will be held at 2 p. m., on Monday, January 12 in the parish house of the Methodist Church of Main Street.

The Carroll County Children's Aid Society, a Branch of the Maryland Children's Aid Society, has been serving children and parents in this county since it was organized in 1929. The agency's major function is providing foster family homes for children who are deprived, either temporarily or permanently, of their own homes. The agency also provides adoption service for those children who need adoption placement and whose parents release them for legal adoption. In addition the Children's Aid gives some advisory service to parents who are having problems in relation to their children in their own homes.

Mrs. David T. Reedy, chairman of the planning committee for the annual meeting, stated, "The community is fortunate in having an opportunity to hear Mr. Mock, who is a well known figure in the Family and Children's Welfare field, discuss some aspects of Protective Service to Children and of Family service. "Professional social work," she added, "is like medicine in that new methods and new skills are being constantly developed to help meet old problems. Mr. Mock," she said, "will talk with us about some services that are yet unavailable in Carroll county. We hope very much that all the people in the county, men and women, who are interested in children and in preserving family life, will attend the meeting on January 12th."

SCOUTS AND EXPLORERS BUSY IN TANEYTOWN; COLLECT PAPER SATURDAY

A rush of events in the holiday season has occupied members of Troop 348, Taneytown, especially the Explorer Scouts, who are working on merit badges required for higher scout ranks.

Firemanship was dealt with in successive meetings by Explorer adviser John F. Frock and Crew Leader John Perry, culminating in an instructive lecture by George T. Kiser, past-president of the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company, who demonstrated the company's equipment and examined the following Explorers on their scout requirements: William Abrecht, Jr., Robert Bowers, Larry Eckard, Kenneth Frock, Stanley F. Frock, Romanus Haines, Donald Lawyer, Larry Markle, Ronald Markle, Larry Martin, John Perry, Robert Rock, George Shriver, Jr., Harold Slaybaugh and Ray Slaybaugh.

Carried on simultaneously has been a physical development project, the explorers teaching scouts in the latter's meetings a series of exercises designed for body-building. One phase which interested everyone was the weight-lifting apparatus of Larry Markle, who showed its advantages and put most to shame with his ability, although Robert Bowers, Larry Eckard, and Robert Fuss, even if unpracticed, just about matched him. Bowers and Eckard ultimately earned the badge in physical development, and Eckard and Fuss finished up athletics, notable for its running, jumping, throwing, pull-up, and swimming classifications by weight. A topical game proved popular when resurrected by Mr. Frock. It goes by the simple name, "Push him out of the circle", but becomes quite a duel when the opponents are well-matched.

Explorers Perry and Ray Slaybaugh leader and assistant of Crew 2, were guests at the Lions Father and Son night. The pre-Christmas Board review was conducted by Raymond E. Haines, newly appointed by American Legion Commander Francis E. Lookingbill as Troop committee chairman for 1953. He was assisted by Bernard E. Elliot, institutional representative, and by committeemen Lookingbill, Neal V. Powell and Galen K. Stonieser, together with neighborhood commissioner F. W. Westine.

THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Your Observer sat in The New Theatre in Baltimore looking upon that famous Band Master come to life—John Philip Sousa—in the movie called, "STARS AND STRIPES—FOREVER!"

Needless to write that I was thrilled—as it carried me back to the days in Philadelphia when I used to visit Willow Grove Park when my Grandmother, Miriam Caroline De Sousa DeLeon's nephew—this grand Band Master was right there—My Beloved Father's first cousin and which makes him my second cousin! His name was deSousa but due to professional reasons he dropped the "de" and called himself "Sousa and His Band."

The very expression—the dark complexion, the eye glasses, the straight figure and the moustache and goatee—were perfection. One of the biggest things they did not catch was the swinging of his arms in time to the music down—backward and then forward and up again! That is what he was known for—his special kind of leading—his individual personality! That was truly missing especially for those who knew that great Band Leader so well! However, there was a sweet story surrounding all the music he wrote mostly of Band numbers from the time he was with the United States Marine Band and when he resigned to go to New York and have his own band which he organized in that city. He traveled extensively and to all Foreign Shores and was decorated by all Nobility in every country!

You will love every minute of that one, I am positive. The two young lovers in the show portray excellent parts and you will learn how the "Sousaphone" came about! The picture is in Technicolor and as each period is played, it will fascinate you right from the start! Don't miss it! You will sit in your seat and hum the strains of the never-to-be-forgotten marches and you will applaud loudly when the Grand Finale tune of the Greatest Musical Show on Earth brings forth—STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER!"

Last Monday—before school started, I drove up to my native city of "Brotherly Love" to visit and "Show off" the historical places of interest to several guests. All the places are right down town which makes it all within walking distance so whatever you do, folks make the special trip up and follow the routine below that Your Observer directs. The adults will be just as thrilled as the school children and you will never forget it for you know that these United States were really created in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776 when the Continental Congress voted the final form of the Declaration of Independence! The nice part now and as it should be is that all the buildings are free whereas just a few years back—each one was 25 cents admission. Philadelphia was the Capital from 1790 to 1800. Did you know that? Ride to 6th and Chestnut Streets and from then on just walk and then the entire buildings can be viewed and entered. Of course, there will be little souvenirs in each one if you desire to purchase them which are on sale but that is not necessary even.

Independence Hall was originally the State House. In 1740 the Assembly authorized the erection of the tower on the south side of Independence Hall to contain a staircase with a suitable place therefor hanging the bell. Did you know that our very own Liberty Bell in 1751 was ordered from England? That bell arrived in 1752 but was cracked while being tested and so the bell was recast by "two ingenious workmen". The tone was not satisfactory and was cast again in 1753. The bell filled its routine by being rung on public occasions. During the Revolution when the British Army occupied Philadelphia in 1777 the bell was removed to Allentown where it was hidden for almost a year and was returned to Philadelphia after the departure of the British. The Liberty Bell is the most venerated symbol of patriotism in America and its reputation as an emblem of liberty is worldwide!

The Custom House is right next door and then a walk to old Christ Church, turning that corner you can visit The Betsy Ross House where the first flag was made by Betsy Ross. In old Christ Church you can sit in the very pews where George Washington sat also Betsy Ross and her husband. William Penn and Benjamin Franklin had pews there, too and Morris—one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Visiting hours are from 10 until 4. Plan a bus trip and enjoy every minute of it all. Individuals come from all parts of the world and you are so close!

Have a grand week-end and don't forget to hold tight to those New Year resolutions of which Your Observer is doing. See you next week, D.V. Until then, I am

Faithfully,

FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1953

IS THE HANDOUT ERA ENDING?

In mid-December an Associated Press Dispatch from Washington said, "The new Congress, appeared primed to join with great gusto in President-elect Eisenhower's promised drive to slash federal spending."

"Republicans and Democrats alike...voiced overwhelming sentiment for budget cuts ranging from $5,000,000,000 to more than $20,000,000,000."

This is some of the best news that has come from the national capital in a very long time. It unquestionably reflects public opinion in this country today. All observers are certain that the President-elect gained a great many votes by his stand on federal spending and taxation. And most of the other winners, in both parties, emphasized economy and eventual tax reduction in their campaigns.

It looks as if we may be coming to the end of the handout era at last. It has been an era of incredible waste of our money—and, as is inevitable with spendthrift government, it has been an era of widespread corruption. One of the greatest and most necessary tasks confronting the Eisenhower government is to replace prodigality with thrift.—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CARTHAGE, ILL., REPUBLICAN: "A little more than a century and a half is not a very long time in the history of man, and the principle of freedom of speech, worship, press and assembly, the right of due process of law and trial by jury, security against unlawful search and seizure and protection against cruel and unusual punishments is still a somewhat revolutionary idea. The struggles of men in many parts of the world today are for just such principles. We in America who regard these rights as part of our heritage should remember that preserving the documents does not preserve the ideals. Only a strong and alert, freedom loving people can do that."

DENVER, COLO., MINING RECORD: "Our national problem is to restore a sound currency. Inflation does more than levy a tax on every housewife's food basket; it eats away at every undertaking of the nation and in the extremity will sap the economic strength upon which our real defense rests. We have had 20 years of a slowly depreciating currency and seven years of a rapidly rotting currency. The new President has no greater task than to choose a man who can, and who will give the country once more a sound money."

NELIGH, NEB., LEADER: "The growth of industry-wide bargaining, together with compulsory unionism, have already aroused many of our people—including the workers themselves—to the dangers inherent in what is rapidly tending toward labor fascism."

Eisenhower Urges Nation Support March of Dimes

NEW YORK CITY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower called on the American public to support the 1953 March of Dimes being conducted throughout the nation during all of January.

He joined in the annual appeal after meeting the two Raleigh, N.C., sisters who are pictured on the 1953 March of Dimes poster. They are Patricia, 6, and five-year-old Pamela O'Neil, both of whom were stricken with polio but now are recovered completely.

"It's hard to believe that these are the same little girls whose pictures are on the March of Dimes poster," he noted. "Now they're completely recovered from polio, thanks to the generosity of the American people."

He urged all Americans "to help the others like them by joining the March of Dimes."

Later, he joined the poster girls in making a short film which is being shown by television stations throughout the nation.

This year's March of Dimes follows the all-time record polio epidemic of 1952 in which more than 55,000 were stricken. At the beginning of 1953, there were 58,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

Purina Laying Chows now research-formulated on the HIGH-EFFICIENCY PRINCIPLE

High efficiency simply means that the formula is designed with more digestible energy ingredients... and with less fiber. So there's more actual, usable feed in every bag. Thus, your birds eat less to make the same number of eggs you used to get on lower-efficiency rations. You can see how this may lower feed cost per dozen. "Some people talk a lot"

But only some people. Most people on a party line are considerate of others. They give up their line quickly in an emergency. They space their calls and keep them reasonably short so they won't miss important calls. This kind of cooperation helps anyone on a party line get better telephone service.

The faster the better

In a way, Long Distance telephone service is like tobogganing. The faster it is, the better you like it. There's one sure way to speed this service. That is to call by number, instead of giving the operator just the name and address of the party you're calling. This saves the time necessary for her to call information for the number. Make a note of Long Distance numbers you call often and keep them handy. You'll find it'll make Long Distance telephone service faster.

January is a good month to —

Make New Year's resolutions—and keep them....File income tax returns....Study last year's books to see where the weak spots in your farm business are and make changes to boost farm profits....Select hatchery and order chicks for early delivery....Complete breeding of cows needed for fall milk production....Check cattle for lice and grubs and treat with rotenone....Start feeding grain to bred ewes so they'll be in condition to give lots of milk after lambing....Attend Agricultural Society meeting in Baltimore....Order spring seed catalogs....Spray peach trees to control leaf curl....Make final selection of turkeys for the breeding flock....Give cattle exercise by turning them out when weather permits.

THE W. H. DAVIS COMPANY

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

HERE you see pictured the Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER—engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.

★ It has 188 Fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.

★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.

★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.

★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive. Now adds far swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.

★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.

★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thoroughly mastered that it may well be one of the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can do true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or to its brilliant brothers, the 1953 SUPERS and SPECIALS.

And no words can really tell you the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience—when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you come in and see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

FEESERSBURG

Since the holiday season is over and the Christmas tree and all its decorations have been stored away until another year rolls around, it may be out of date to write anything more at this time about Christmas. But today, there came my way a copy of the "Wolfe's Tale" the school paper published by the students of the Elmer Wolfe school. It contains an editorial titled "Give Yourself for Christmas" which I present, and hope was written by a student. It is a mature editorial, and one that speaks for itself. You will enjoy reading it and so I take the privilege of inserting it in this column: "When the Christmas season comes we are all reminded of the spirit of giving and sharing. Often we think only of the material gifts which we may give our friends and family, or of the things we can give to help the less fortunate. This is important, but there is another kind of giving which we must not forget. To give ourselves we must consider what we are. What are the students of Elmer Wolfe school? First, they are youth; youth with many opportunities and full of promise. They have the opportunity to learn to sing, to play, to dance, to write, to grow. They have the promise of becoming fine men and women with success in the future. Added to this, they have fine families, homes, friends, school and teachers. What can you give of this? You can give much. Give yourselves to take advantage and to appreciate all of your opportunities. Your gift to the future and to the past must be yourself to learn the most; play, dance and sing the best; to grow and be healthy; to love and to understand. Give yourself this Christmas and all year long, because the world needs youth with knowledge, strength, skill, love and kindness. If you won't give yourself to your opportunities, your spirit of Christmas is lost."—The Wolfe's Tale.

Using the first Sunday in the new year as a beacon to distressed and disillusioned christians, many pastors, made inspiring sermons to their congregations. Rev. Dr. John Bonnell, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, New York City expressed some comforting words in his first sermon of the new year. He called happiness one of the blessings of life found by the way. Not only is there a right to be happy, there is a duty to be happy. So much sadness exists in the world that we are all under obligation to contribute as much joy as lies within our power. "Happiness," Dr. Bonnell explained, "depends not so much on the externals of life but on our ability to deal with our misfortunes. Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."

It is true that man cannot live by bread alone, nevertheless there are times when he must give thought to his stomach as well as his soul. The average U. S. wheat yield for 1951 was about 16 bushels an acre, the average British yield about 40. However on a Norfolk farm, 90 miles north of London, three brothers, John, George and William Turrell, have produced a fantastic 131.7 bushels to the acre. The land on which the crop was raised was once sea bottom and was pasture from pre-Roman times to the end of the last century, when it became an apple orchard. In 1937 the trees were cleared off, and a year ago, the land was planted in wheat for the first time. The tremendous yield was attributed to the amazingly fertile soil, good weather, good farming and strong-stemmed wheat that did not collapse under the weight of over-sized heads.

Grandmother may have kept cookies in an earthen jar and even pickles in the ancient people of Israel went to great lengths to keep their important legal documents and manuscripts in what looked like a cookie jar, but it was a vessel made from clay. Modern women today may not keep their important papers in a jar, but many do keep their household money in a teapot or coffee can. To women that seems the most sensible place to hide money. It's so easy to get to.

William Leitz, who was operated on last Friday at the Union Memorial Hospital is progressing satisfactorily and expects to return to his home in Keymar the last of this week.

Worse than finding half a worm in an apple, after eating most of it, is finding one black sock on the floor, when the washer, with your best linen has been running ten minutes.

In the course of the past 35 years, 75,000 wives have appealed for help in locating their missing husbands, and only 15 husbands have asked to have their wives located, according to one of the bureaus that undertake to find what is lost. This bears looking into for it either proves that wives don't leave their husbands as fast as husbands leave their wives or that the husbands don't think their wives worth locating after they are missing.

If you are 60 and approaching retirement and wondering what you are going to do with all your spare time read "What to do when you Retire" by Marie Ray. Miss Ray points out that "making a better world" can be as exciting as making a million dollars. Women especially are urged to take more active interest in civic work and politics.

There are some days when I can positively love my teenager's teachers. Today was one of them. Why? Because of a booklet one of them gave my daughter. If I had received one like it at the age of 13 I would have been spared many hours of wondering unhappily to myself and of being scared to death by Victorian standards and superstitions.

A dime is the smallest coin made by the U. S. Mint and when spent alone doesn't buy very much, but when spent with millions of others, buys health and happiness for thousands of polio victims. This is the month when America reaches into its pocket and contributes to the most thrilling medical event of the year. Last year, first real hope of conquering polio by use of a new drug. But this drug would never have come about if America had not contributed so generously with their dimes to the yearly polio drive. Now that victory over the dreaded disease is in sight, let us give this year more than ever, so that the victory over the polio germ will be complete.

We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it.—G. B. Shaw.

Additional committeemen for 1953 are Clarence A. Harnet and Stanley W. King. Scouts George Abrecht and Francis Nelson were advanced to Second class rank, and besides the Fireman ship badges reported, Robert Fuss earned public health and wood work.

The same evening Commissioner Westine reviewed the troop's charter renewal application with the committee and formally inspected scouts and explorers, who responded to roll call with data on their present rank, nights camping, subscription to Boys' Life and uniform.

Scout activities, for ages 11-13, have centered around pacing, measuring, mapping, and direction, with some other tests brought into their program by means of a "password" needed to gain admission to a particular meeting. For example, two tent pegs were required December 18; another time it was "the number of steps I take in 100 feet". Explorers Bowers and Rock taught methods of ascertaining a north-south line by compass, watch, sun, and stars, as well as estimating widths and heights not susceptible of direct measurement. On charter night, Pine Trees George Abrecht and LeRoy Barnes, Jr., surpassed other patrols and even explorers with their knowledge of map symbols.

A post-meeting hobby of making lanyard-out of craft sticks was excelled in by Grant Harman, Francis Nelson and Peter Westine, while Robert Fitz was the lone adept at the difficult Turkish head "knot" used for neckerchief slides. Explorer games introduced into scout favor included the familiar old trickster "Crows and Cranes" presented by Eckard and Bowers, and an improvised soccer by Fuss.

Test trips to the woods at Natural Dam enabled George Abrecht, LeRoy Barnes, Jr., Robert Fitz, Ronald Hopkins, and Francis Nelson to complete outdoor work in tracking, wild life, and cooking.

The program of both scouts and explorers will be furthered by the proceeds of a paper collection Saturday, January 10. Citizens are urged again to cooperate in saving rags, magazines and papers for the troop in their periodic drives. In case of bad weather, this scrap gathering will be made the following Saturday.

STATEMENT BY SENATOR JOHN MARSHALL BUTLER (R. of MD.)

The retirement of Senator Herbert O'Connor of Maryland from the Senate of the United States, culminates an outstanding career of more than thirty-one years of public service, which has been particularly noteworthy in contributions of leadership and foresight.

Senator O'Connor has been a valuable and effective member of the Senate. His conscientious participation as a member of the Committees in Expenditures in the Executive Departments, Interstate and Foreign Commerce and Judiciary, as well as his membership and later chairmanship of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, will long be cited as an excellent paradigm to be observed by other Senators, including myself.

Senator O'Connor has been especially helpful to me in the past two years, and his willing counsel has always been available to me. Though our official association in the Senate has now been terminated, it shall be my purpose to endeavor to emulate his great vision and leadership.

I join with Senator O'Connor's many friends throughout the Nation and the State of Maryland, in commending him for his unselfish and exemplary accomplishments in the field of government.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"DON'T CATCH COLD" WARNS

MD. TUBERCULOSIS ASS'N

This is the season for colds. True enough, but colds strike almost as often in spring, summer, and fall as they do in winter. No respecter of persons, they are pretty casual about the time of year as well.

The common cold is the most common in fact, of all illnesses in this country. It has been estimated that Americans suffer between three and four hundred million colds a year—an average of two to three colds per person. Insurance companies have estimated the loss to American industry due to colds at more than a billion dollars a year.

No specific preventive or cure has yet been found. Most of the scientific work with vaccines and drugs for preventing and treating colds is still in the experimental stage.

There are, however, sound precautions that all of us can take to reduce the number and severity of colds. The cold is highly contagious. The virus which causes it is spread from person to person, often through coughs and sneezes.

We can help to guard against colds: By dressing for the weather.

By keeping in good physical condition. Infection frequently occurs when body resistance is low. Plenty of sleep, exercise, and a nourishing diet are good insurance.

By avoiding close contact with those who do have colds.

If, in spite of precautions, we do "catch a cold", it is best:

To get as much sleep and rest as possible.

To eat lightly and drink plenty of fluids.

To cover our own coughs and sneezes and do our best to keep from spreading the virus to others. Colds are most contagious in the early stages.

If fever accompanies a cold, call a doctor. It may be a sign of influenza, pneumonia, or some other serious condition. Whatever the trouble is, prompt diagnosis and treatment offer the best chance for rapid recovery.

The teachings of Jesus were simple, and yet he found it difficult to make the rulers understand, because of their great lack of spirituality.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Simplicity of character is no hindrance to subtlety of intellect.—John Morley.

WANT TO WIN a trip to Queen Elizabeth's coronation, with all your expenses paid? Then listen to "Grand Slam," on CBS Radio weekday mornings. Irene Beasley gives details of the contest, which she launched recently. The contest is based on the correct answer to the following question: How many prizes did "Grand Slam" carry to home players from September 30, 1946, up to and including October 3, 1952? The two winners and a member of each of their families will take the trip to London, a side trip to Paris, and do other delightful things. The contest closes January 16.

YOUTH FIGHTS CRIME. Outstanding example of what television can do to help youth fight crime is the case of Martin Kane, Private Eye (NBC TV Thursdays, 10:00-10:30 P. M. EST, and NBC Radio, Sundays, 4:30-5:00 P. M. EST) when a crime rally held by the Gravesend Youth Center, in Brooklyn, used a kinescope of "Martin Kane, Private Eye" program to show the dangers of the teen-age dope menace. The showing was witnessed by a thousand parents and their teen-age sons and daughters, and was followed by talks by Brooklyn's Assistant District Attorney, congressmen and educators.

WHO'S THE MOST beautiful school teacher in America? "Our Miss Brooks" (CBS Radio Sundays) is going to give her a week's vacation in Hollywood during the Christmas holidays.

The two runners-up get $100 savings bonds, the three pupils who send in the pictures of the winning teachers (photos or snapshots) receive $50 bonds.

The contest, closing Dec. 5, is open to all grade and high school pupils—public, private and parochial—in the United States; only pupils may submit pictures, each may send in only one. Send them to "Our Miss Brooks" Beauty Contest, P. O. Box 53, N. Y. 46, N. Y.

YOU CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT ELECTRICITY AND WITHOUT ADVERTISING—BUT WHY TRY?

Smart Styling of '53 Chevrolets

Front-end styling of the completely re-designed Chevrolets accentuates the appearance of power and fleetness in the new line. As shown above, the surface of the hood this year extends farther forward before curving abruptly down to the radiator grille. Adding its note of beauty and distinction, the outer rim of the grille encircles the parking lamps and center bar mounting three decorative "prop bars." Increased performance, comfort and convenience are outstanding features of the 1953 Chevrolet line.

1953 BUICK—NEW POWER, PERFORMANCE, STYLING

Buick introduces for 1953 a Golden Anniversary line of cars with outstanding engineering developments which include the world's newest V-8 engine and an advanced Dynaflo transmission. Pictured above is the two-door, six-passenger Riviera in the Super Series, most popular hard-top in the Buick line. Its new engine, leader of all V-8s, turns up 170 horsepower with a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo gives it vastly improved performance and greater economy with no sacrifice of Buick's completely smooth acceleration. It has a re-styled front end incorporating a sturdier grille, two-piece bumper, and a futuristic headlight arrangement. A new alligator-type hood, long-flowing body lines, new moldings and ventiports, and horizontal rear fenders with bullet-shaped tail lights, give the car an ultra-modern, sleek appearance. The interior features fresh new colors and tasteful trim. Its wheelbase is 121½ inches and offered as optional equipment are wire wheel covers and power steering.

FLINT, MICH.—Buick today presented its 1953 Golden Anniversary line of cars, featuring a high compression, valve-in-head V-8 engine of new design in both the Roadmaster and Super Series, a new Twin Turbine Dynaflo that greatly improves performance and economy, and fresh new styling inside and out.

The new engine, which develops 188 horsepower in the Roadmaster and 170 in the Super, is of the 90-degree "V" type with a compression ratio of 8.5-to-1, the highest in the industry.

Buick's power steering, which proved so popular last year, has been made standard equipment on the 1953 Roadmaster and is offered as an option on the Super and Special.

Power brakes, which take 75 per cent of the effort out of braking, are offered as optional equipment on the Roadmaster.

New styling features include a new front end, new headlights modeled after those on the Buick's famed XP-300, new rear fenders and interior trim combinations unequalled for beauty and luxury.

Buick's generous-sized bodies continue to be featured in 1953. They offer the maximum roominess and comfort available in the industry.

"We have made more important styling and engineering changes in the 1953 Buick than in any model we have produced in the last 25 years," said Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors. "Our new engine and new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, coupled with our many styling improvements, make the 1953 Buick the newest car on the market today, and the most outstanding value we have ever offered the public."

Buick's 1953 Special Series is powered by the time-proven F-263 Fireball straight eight engine with stepped up horsepower and compression ratio. The improvements in the straight eight engine, plus the new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, make the Special the outstanding performer in its class.

The 1953 Buick line comes in 12 different body styles, including the Skylark sports car which will be produced in limited quantities. The wheelbase of all Roadmaster models has been reduced 4½ inches for easier handling and parking. The wheelbase of the four-door Roadmaster sedan has been reduced from 130.2 inches to 125.5 inches, and on the two-door Roadmaster it has been reduced from 126.2 inches to 121.5 inches.

From a styling standpoint the new 1953 Buicks are new inside and out. A new and wider grille provides better cooling for the engine and gives the car a lower look. The top line of the hood has been extended forward to give a bolder appearance to the front profile. The headlights are housed in a new bezel patterned after the XP-300, and parking and directional signal lights have been incorporated into the headlight bezel.

The hub of the newly-designed steering wheel is decorated with a red, white and blue Golden Anniversary medallion with a gold replica of a 1903 Buick embossed upon it.

Sweepers and rocker panel moldings are continued on all models. The rear windows are of the one-piece wrap-around type with no posts to obstruct the driver's vision.

Buick's V-8 engine has a piston displacement of 332 cubic inches in both the Roadmaster and Super Series. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo takes hold with a more solid feel than its predecessor because torque multiplication has been increased, yet it retains the same smoothness of operation that has distinguished Dynaflo from other automatic transmissions. Acceleration is faster and quieter.

Power brakes, which are optional on the Roadmaster, give the driver toe-tip braking for any stop. A special safety feature permits direct braking action in case the vacuum which provides the power is lost.

Confess—Follow

Lesson for January 11, 1953

ANOTHER of those Bible words which are easy to misunderstand, is the word "confess." Ordinarily we connect this word in our minds with a court of law, or with some wrong that has been done. When we say the prisoner signed a confession, we mean he admitted he was guilty. When Catholics go to confession, they are expected to tell the priest all about their sins. In the English Bible the word sometimes has this meaning, as when John says that if we confess our sins, God will forgive (1 John 1:9).

Where Do You Stand?

But there is another meaning of these words "confess" and "confession" which is quite different. It does not always mean to admit.

Sometimes it means to declare, to announce publicly and proudly, as plainly as possible. For instance, Paul tells Timothy (1 Tim. 6:13) that Jesus, before Pilate, made a "good confession." Paul is not saying for a minute that Jesus admitted that the charges against him were true. What he means is that Jesus stood up for God and his duty, he did not let down his flag, he stood out for the truth.

The expression is often used, referring to Peter's saying to Christ, "You are the Christ," and it has come to be known as "Peter's confession." This does not mean that Peter admitted something; on the contrary he affirmed something. He was declaring his belief, he was letting it be known where he stood. The Christian church has made much use of this word, but it might be clearer if we used some other words sometimes. All churches will tell young people and new converts how important it is to "confess" Christ. We could just as well say "standing up for" him; voting for him and having one's vote put on record. When Christ asks: Are you with me? Confessing means simply saying openly: Yes!

Christ Never Outranked

There is something else tied up in this idea of "confessing" Christ. It includes saying something about Christ. Peter's confession, according to Matthew, was "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Luke reports that he said, "You are the Christ of God." Mark reports simply: "You are the Christ." All agree that Peter declared Jesus to be the Christ. To us, "Christ" is a name; to Peter it was a title, the highest title he knew. When a first-century Jew used the word "Christ" he meant there was no one else in his class. He meant God's chosen beginner of a new age. There was no higher word that Peter could have chosen than "Christ." So to this day when we say that a Christian confesses Christ, we ought to mean that he puts Christ above all others, that he knows no one can outrank Christ. We mean what the old hymn says, "All hail the power of Jesus' name, let angels prostrate fall."

More than Mouth-Christians

But there is still another word the church has always used, because Jesus used it: Follow. Confession alone is not enough. It may take courage to confess Christ. It takes sincerity and also stick-to-it-iveness to follow him. Confession can be done in a burst of enthusiasm; following takes the long pull. Confessing Christ means saying he comes first in your life. But does he? Who or what is really first? There are a great many—too many—church members today who have been as much of a Christian as they can possibly be—with their mouths. They have confessed Christ as Son of God, as Lord and Saviour. They have said, in effect, that they wish to be counted on his side. But when they "joined the church" or were "confirmed," that is about as far as it went. They hardly even warm a pew nowadays. What is needed is something more than mouth-Christians, voice-Christians, word-Christians, shouting Christians. What is needed is following-Christians.

It is noticeable that almost immediately after Jesus had praised Peter for his confession, he called him Satan, the very devil. For it was plain that Peter was thinking along lines quite different from Jesus. Following Christ means thinking more and more as he would think.

Source and Resources

IN starting, expanding, or maintaining a business or in undertaking any proper endeavor, adequate resources are of vital importance. But before resources can become available, a source must exist, and the one requiring assets for whatever purpose should begin by acknowledging God, Spirit, Soul, as the infinite source of all good—of all the ideas, activities, and qualities essential to individual progress. For our resources are spiritual, never material, even though they appear to human sense in a form that meets the human need.

A source is that from which anything comes forth, and the Bible makes it clear that all that is good, that is, all that is real, comes forth from God. The very first statement in the Bible is (Genesis 1:1), "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." And this same chapter of Genesis concludes with the statement that "God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." Good, of which God is the sole creator, is constantly pouring forth, for, as Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, states in the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 507), "Creation is ever appearing, and must ever continue to appear from the nature of its inexhaustible source." Thus both infinite source and infinite resources are ever present, incapable of depletion, instantly available to all alike. One who understands these truths is well equipped to overcome the evidences of lack and limitation which mortal mind would attempt to make him accept.

The Old and New Testaments both contain conclusive proofs of the availability of good. Particularly outstanding is that instance when the master Christian, Christ Jesus, fed more than five thousand men, women, and children, although five loaves and two small fishes were his only apparent means. Realizing as he did the infinite nature of Spirit, Jesus refused to be limited by a material sense of supply, and so the multitudes were fed. This recognition of man's infinite source and resources is available to everyone to apply to his daily needs. In fact, the breaking of limitation through acknowledging, as did Jesus, the real source and the consequent resources on which each one may draw, is the only way in which to solve the problems arising from present-day conditions where commodity prices are increasing and many needful things are in short supply. Now is the time to say with the Psalmist (Psalm 103:2, 4), "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: . . . who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies." . . .

The divine source can never cease to pour out good, because it is infinite, inexhaustible. Hence spiritual resources to which one always has recourse are ever at hand. Their proper utilization furnishes salvation for mankind. —The Christian Science Monitor.

GIVE US THE FACTS?

an Associated Press date line pertaining to the situation in Middletown, as follows:

"The State Board of Health ordered the Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown today to build a sewer system and sewage treatment plant, and to have it in operation on or before July 1, 1954.

"The absence of such a system, the board said, is 'a menace to public health'.

The action was taken at a closed meeting yesterday, but announcement was withheld until notice was formally served on town authorities by an officer of the Frederick County Health Department.

"The Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown, as explained, because the department wanted the town authorities to learn of the action through a formal order, rather than through newspapers or radio.

The Health Board order read:

"To the Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown:

"It is ordered by the State Board of Health of Maryland that your construct and place in operation on or before July 1, 1954, a sewer system in Middletown in accordance with requirements hereinafter set forth.

"The absence of a sewer system and a sewage treatment plant is a menace to public health.

"The installation of said sewer system and sewage treatment plant shall be done in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the State Board of Health under sewer permit No. 4648."

Another article appearing in the same paper Dec. 31, 1952 gave the views of the Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown, as follows:

"The Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown filed in Circuit Court Tuesday a petition requesting that an order of the State Board of Health requiring them to construct a sewage system be vacated and set aside.

Among reasons cited in the petition for setting aside the order was that the order would impose upon the taxpayers in Middletown an "intolerable financial burden destructive of property values and thus compelling a substantial number of citizens to abandon their homes and seek residence elsewhere."

The order of the State Board of Health passed on December 18 and served the next day on Commissioner Robert H. Routzahn required the Burgess and Commissioners of Middletown to construct and place in operation on or before July 1, 1954, a sewer system and sewage treatment plant according to specifications approved by the health board in 1951.

The petition states the petitioners are dissatisfied with the passage of such an order in that it is unreasonable, unlawful and not necessary for protection of public health or comfort, and adds that the state health department has not made a finding of fact that would justify issuance of the order.

The petition further alleges there are no funds from which a sewer system and sewage disposal plant could be constructed, and the petitioners believe the town has no assets of sufficient value which may be pledged to command from the usual sources of credit the necessary funds to construct the sewage system and plant.

In stating that the construction of the system and plant is an economic impossibility, the petition states that factor was not duly considered by the State Board of Health at the time of passage of the order.

Dr. Forbes H. Burgess, County Health Officer, stated in September that the problem of untreated sewage running into Tanner's Branch, which flows through Middletown, is a serious problem.

The health officer also asserted at that time his office was receiving constant complaints about the sewage problem in Middletown. In the order of the health department to the Burgess and Commissioners of that community, the board stated the absence of a sewage system is a menace to public health.

Named as defendants to the action are Robert H. Riley, chairman, Thomas S. Cullen, Maurice C. Pincoffs, Ralph J. Young, Lloyd N. Richardson, George L. Anderson, A. L. Pennington, Huntington Williams, constituting the State Board of Health. Robert E. Clapp, Jr., and Amos A. Holter are attorneys for the petitioners."

FARMS WANTED

The Taneytown office of Strout Realty, under management of R. L. Zentz, received nation-wide recognition for the large volume of sales amounting to $296,275.00 for the year 1951. Even though property was moving slower during 1952 the volume of sales by the Taneytown Office nearly equalled that of the previous year. The large Fall Strout Catalog boosted up the year-end sales of past year. Soon the new large spring catalog will be off the press and distributed to prospective purchasers throughout the world. To meet our present demand for spring occupancy, and also the large flow of buyers this new catalog is expected to produce, we need at once many reasonably priced dairy and stock farms and many small country places in the sections of Reisterstown, Westminster, Hampstead, Manchester, Silver Run, New Windsor, Taneytown, Mt. Airy, Libertytown, Frederick and Woodsboro.

If you wish to sell let us know. No obligation whatsoever to list with us. No sale—no charge.

QUESTIONS

Q. My birds are stuffed up with a cold. What shall I do?

A. They need Dr. Salsbury's Can-Pho-Sal. It loosens up clogged mucus in nose and throat. Makes it easier for birds to breathe, reduces effects of colds. Use Can-Pho-Sal -- spray or vaporize -- several times a day. In severe cases, use it as a nasal wash. Try Dr. Salsbury's Ar-Sulfa, too, for infectious coryza.
