THE SANITARY SEWER

Bond Issue Passed by Legislature and Signed by Gov.

Taneytown's Bond Issue Bill has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. The Bond Issue is for a $500,000 fund to enable the City of Taneytown to provide for a complete sewerage system.

The only information given out by the City Council is that a referendum vote will be held. They stated that no definite time has been set for the election but in all probability it will be after the election for three Councilmen which will be held in June.

The enabling legislation giving the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown the authority to issue $500,000 in bonds to provide funds for the construction of a sanitary sewerage system and sewage treatment plant for the City of Taneytown passed both Houses in the 1953 session of the Legislature.

Introduced by Senator Hoff, the bill was passed as "an emergency measure and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety" of the people of Taneytown and was signed by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin.

Provision for a referendum was made so that the registered voters of Taneytown now have the opportunity to obtain a satisfactory sewage disposal system which will not only benefit the community but will also enhance the value of private property in the area.

Over one-half of the properties in Taneytown have sewage disposal conditions which are not acceptable, according to Health Department officials. Many businesses are discharging raw sewage into storm drains which in turn flow into Piney Creek.

But not only are the business establishments responsible for the dilemma, but many private homes do not have proper disposal systems and are contributing to the unsatisfactory condition. Lack of adequate facilities are causing a public health nuisance to the entire community, Health Department officials say.

In most instances, either because of insufficient space on individual properties or because of the nature of the soil, the septic tanks and underground disposal methods will not handle the wastes and the sewage flows to the ground, to ditches or to the streets. Quite often residences do not have provisions to take care of waste material below the ground floor and sewage coming from basement washbasins and toilets are not taken care of in the disposal systems. There are also cases where the wastes go to abandoned wells.

Private systems often discharge sewage on the soil surface in the immediate area, where the waste materials are a potential health menace to all those who come into contact with them, especially children who play in the water, a Health Department official pointed out.

The inadequacy of the existing sewage disposal methods should not be tolerated by the community any longer, the spokesman said. The main object is now to remedy the situation, he said, and the only sound solution would be a sewerage system for the entire city.

About 88% of the exports are from the mines of the country consisting mainly of silver and tin.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Cullum)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The grass over the country sides and the lawns are getting to be a beautiful green after the many rains for this is April, you know—the month that brings the flowers that bloom in May!

Well, Folks—And what did you think of the all girl Wrestlers at the Coliseum last week. There is much more action with girl wrestlers but it is awful these terrific punches which no doubt will tell on them as the years come on. June Byers that gal from Texas is not so good looking but tough and rugged! After seeing such lovely figures on the mat, the men who wrestle right there will be rather repulsive. "Little Nell" surely tried hard to get that fabulous belt! She is without a doubt a "good looker!"

Were you disappointed of the Arthur Godfrey show last Wednesday night down in Miami? Perhaps, Your Observer was expecting too much as many others whom I interviewed.

When you go down to the "LANE BAY BRIDGE" be sure you dine at Mallard's "The Tidewater Inn" in Easton. A delicious meal and lots of sea food. Ummmmmm good!

These days, Your Observer finds the days or hours too short as with many responsibilities have taken up "The Gray Lady" course to work either for the Army or Navy—does not matter which as long as it is for UN-CLE SAM! Then, too, once weekly, the three hour duty on the "WATCH TOWER"! More about the former in a later column!

Thinking about meals on the B & O—last year their loss was $1,550,000. That is a fact and right from headquarters. They serve these meals to accommodate and please the traveling public.

And don't forget, Mr. Husband start saving right now for that trip by B & O this summer. Leave car at home and you won't have a worry or responsibility in the world and when you return you will admit that it was just the best vacation ever because you relaxed completely!

Two years or three ago, I told you in this column not to hesitate in purchasing that T.V. set as it was an—

REFORMED LAYMEN MEET

The annual Spring Laymen's Conference was held Thursday, April 16, at Baust church with about 80 men in attendance. Mr. Ernest Brillhart, of Manchester, President of the Laymen's Conference acted as toastmaster.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. Miles Reifsnider, after which a delicious turkey supper was enjoyed by all.

After the meal the group was led in singing by Rev. Morgan Andreas, who also announced the date of the fall meeting which is to be held Oct. 16, in the new Parish House in Taneytown. Rev. Edward Butkowsky, of Hellsbottom, Pa., is to be the speaker. Rev. Ray Abbott, of Silver Run introduced the speaker, Dr. Bela Vassady as a citizen of the world. He was born in Budapest, Hungary, studied in this country and then returned to Hungary to preach. He was there during World War II, and now is Professor of Systematic Theology at the Lancaster Seminary.

Dr. Vassady related some personal experiences, regarding his name and during World War II.

During the siege of Budapest by the Russians while he and some citizens of the town were seeking protection in a cellar his words of comfort were the best for the worst; expect the best but take what comes.

The mission of the Christian church today is to bring salvation to the world through a deeper spiritual unity and by following the teachings of Jesus.

Churches behind the iron curtain are granted freedom of worship. The people can go to their respective churches but are now allowed to bring the church into their daily lives.

Dr. Vassady asked the question, "Do we in America put Christ in our daily lives? Do we profess our faith in public?"

Since Christ died for the world all Christians should be citizens of the world.

The meeting was closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

IT'S RUSSIA'S MOVE

While the Reds were using the pitiful caravan of 600 sick and wounded exchange-bound UN prisoners of war to shield the forward movement of vast quantities of munitions and supplies, the Soviet UN representative, Andrei Vishinsky charged the United States with "quibbling", "digging up outlandish complications", and holding up the renewal of truce talks at Panmunjom.

And while our patrol and bomber pilots, high over the long, dusty trail from the Yalu to the battle front and Kaesong helplessly watched this new enemy power build up, President Eisenhower, in a Washington address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors turned the other cheek to Soviet Russia.

"the new Soviet leadership", he said, "now has a precious opportunity to help turn the tide of history. We welcome every honest act of peace. We care nothing for mere rhetoric. We care only for sincerity of peaceful purpose—attested by deeds—What is the Soviet Union ready to do?"

The President went on to outline the steps to peace, to propose a five-point program for world disarmament, and a world fund supplied out of armament savings of all nations for "roads and schools, hospitals and homes, food and health", a fund to serve "the needs rather than the fears of the world".

"The first great step along this way must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea," declared the President. Then followed the most significant words we have yet had from this Administration "This means the immediate cessation of hostilities and the prompt initiation of political discussions LEADING TO THE HOLDING OF FREE ELECTIONS IN A UNITED KOREA".

The emphasis is ours. We hope it is yours too. We hope it is every American's. For this statement refutes last week's forecast of defeat... the hint, denied by the State Department, and subsequently attributed to Secretary Dulles, that we would accept a Korean peace based on the continued division of the peninsula into two nations with the old boundary (approximately the present battle line) moved north eighty or ninety miles.

From beginning to end, President Eisenhower's memorable address has made it clear that courage and honor and high principle are still essential to that "golden age of freedom and of peace", for which all peoples hunger.—National Industries News Service.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

PERRIS, CALIF., PROGRESS: "In the strike of electrical workers against the Southern California Edison Company, the firm's president, W. C. Mullendore, vigorously exercised his Constitutional right of freedom of speech by presenting the company's side of the controversy. For exercising the right of free speech, however, charges of unfair labor practices have been filed with the National Labor Relations Board against the Edison Company by the electrical workers union. Labor, no less than management, should recognize that for this Nation to remain free, Constitutional rights cannot be denied groups or individuals".

ROSEBURG, OREGON, NEWS-REVIEW: "If the free world can be lulled into acceptance of Russian declarations of peaceful intent, the Reds will gain time to adjust their internal position. Freed from external pressures, they can devote full attention to establishing stronger holds over the Soviet sphere of influence, tightening controls, and building up aggressive strength. Naturally, we must show an interest in any peace overtures. But, from the lessons of the past, we should remain fully aware of the real purpose behind Red declarations. We should intensify, rather than relax, our pressures."

EAST ROCHESTER, N.Y., HERALD: "the Delaware Courier ran a story as follows, 'Congress has adjourned! Let us be thankful for this mercy if for no other. It has shovelled money right and left as if the Treasury were a bottomless reservoir of gold'. But this was March 8th, issue of the Delaware Courier, in 1853. It must be admitted that time change nothing, and the battle against the federal government was just as acute 100 years ago."

SENATE CLOAKROOM

Heads of many governments have lately been to Washington and more will follow to confer with the President and the Secretary of State.

We Americans are likely to feel that too often these foreign representatives are purely selfish, go back home with their pockets stuffed with dollars, leaving nothing in exchange but quite often, at least, they leave behind some very good words of advice.

Rene Mayer, France's eighteenth premier since the end of World War II, intimately familiar with European political problems, was a recent visitor. His background is the sort that we Americans often look upon with distrust associated with an international banking firm, the House of Rothschild, a financial wizard juggling falling French francs with a slight of hand that is unintelligible to Americans accustomed to a sounder currency. Such people are looked upon as being too European. We suspect them as being shrewd, wily politicians—of being new Talleyrands or Metternichs.

But Premier Mayer, in an interview shortly before he returned to France, left us with some very sound, though solemn, advice. Asked if he thought the chances for peace more favorable this year than last, Premier Mayer replied as follows:

"In my opinion the real problem is to know if the free world will succeed in maintaining and developing its effort to end the 'cold war'. In this respect one must make public opinion understand what the cold war is. It can go on a long time. A sustained effort will be necessary. If we can convince public opinion of this necessity, then, in my opinion, there will be no war. If, on the other hand, the people lose the feeling that an imminent peril exists and relax their efforts, then the door may be opened to war."

That is as good a summary of the world situation as I have seen in a long time, and much as I hate to admit, a much more eloquent expression than those by many of our American statesmen.

But what does it mean? Where will it lead? Malenkov's peace offensive has been launched in a much more intensive manner than that waged by Stalin, which successfully perverted the word "peace" until it became synonymous with war. That was one of our major defeats in the cold war.

Indications are that an actual truce may be negotiated in Korea, conferences on safe air access into Berlin are being held, pressure on the West along the European front is lessening, the Russian anti-semitic campaign appears to be less intense. The soporiferous Communist propaganda drones on.

We who really want peace may grasp too eagerly for an outstretched olive branch—taught to be friendly and forgiving we may naively misinterpret a Russian "peace" gesture as a true sign of friendship.

Americans are faced with the problem of developing what amounts to a split personality. We must be true to our religious teachings and our political philosophy—and at the same time we must react to any sign of friendliness from the Communists with a certain skepticism which is alien to our national personality.

As Premier Mayer expressed it, we must recognize that the cold war can go on for a long time, but if we maintain our military strength there is a possibility that war may be avoided.

However, if we let ourselves become weak then the Communists will take advantage of our weakness and war is almost certain.

The cold war can be a long war—but it is not as dangerous as a full scale World War III. The chances of the survival of Western Civilization may well rest in our ability to maintain for a long time, strong defenses, and a just, though firm, attitude toward the government in the Kremlin.

It might help to recall that the early pioneer had faith in his God and his rifle—the one sustained the other until the wilderness was made safe.

President Eisenhower's major foreign policy speech last week will very likely be one of the turning points of history.

The Soviets were informed that the free world was ready for peace, wanted peace and would work for peace. But, the President advised the Kremlin, a soldier's pack is never so heavy as a prisoner's chains, to quote from his inaugural address.

The Commissars in the Kremlin undoubtedly did not like being reminded by the President of the United States that "Now a new leadership has assumed power in the Soviet Union. Its links to the past, however strong, cannot bind it completely. It future is, in great part, its own to make."

The Soviets can if they wish come to terms and their intentions should be known in the very near future. The President listed a number of things which will indicate if the Communists wish to end their aggressiveness and the armaments race. The next move is up to the Soviets and the world is watching closely.

If the Kremlin does not choose to pursue the road of peace the prospects of war are frightening. On the other hand, if they come to terms with the free world we can expect the government of Russia to conduct itself as a member of the family of nations? I sincerely doubt that we can.

If the Communists lose this round they will probably retreat within their own boundaries, further isolate themselves from all contact with the rest of the world, revert to what would amount to another period in the Dark Ages.

The reasons for such action are clear. If the Communist plans for expansion are frustrated by the West then the positions of the Soviet leaders become less secure. Consequently there will be a need to enforce greater discipline and to consolidate their power. They will not be able to afford even the slightest bit of light from the lamp of Western Civilization to reach inside Russia. The Kremlin will wrap itself into a cocoon to await what it hopes will be another Spring.

Too secret to photograph... Too big to believe!

America's newest atomic project is being rushed to completion in Pike County, Ohio.

Details are secret, of course. But this much is known: The A-bomb project will be the biggest single electric power customer in history.

Two of the largest electric power plants in the world will supply the needed power. Together they will generate more electricity than New York City uses... nearly as much as all the people and industries in Ohio now use.

To speed America's defense, they are being built fast. From the construction workers to the equipment manufacturers, everyone is geared to record-breaking performance.

These are impressive facts, but so is this fact...

The two big coal-burning electric plants were conceived, designed and are being built by a group of neighboring electric light and power companies. Fifteen of them have joined together to form the $400 million Ohio Valley Electric Corporation to finance and operate this huge power project.

This means quick action for the Atomic Energy Commission. For the companies will supply urgently needed power for construction from their own systems—even before the new electric plants are completed. It also means that a large reserve of electric power will always be available should the atomic project ever need it!

Here's further proof that the very biggest electric power jobs can be handled quickly and efficiently by America's Electric Light and Power Companies. For if one company alone can't do it, several together can—and will!

nounced time and time again about Color T.V. being placed on the market. It still is uncertain and think of all the pleasure you are missing. If you do not want to buy a new one there are plenty of used ones which have been traded in just for a larger screen. When you do buy one be sure you purchase from a reliable dealer and there are plenty of them. Your Observer still has the little set of "MOTOROLA" purchased right there in Carroll County. (Four years old this coming September).

Were you surprised when you read that legal formula by Judge Moser in the Grammer case, "YOU SHALL BE HANGED BY THE NECK UNTIL YOU ARE DEAD"? and he did not add, "and may God Have Mercy on your soul!"

No more than this Columnist expected for the most brutal planned "MURDER", I ever read! Nuff Sed!

Did you see the Auto Show on T.V. in New York with that charming actress, Irene Dunne? It was just different—that's all! No other actress can compare with the little original laugh of hers in every picture and I do think I have not missed any of the Irene Dunne making.

That reminds me whatever you do when the picture called, "CALL ME MADAM" arrives at the Earle or your town Movie—do not miss this one. You will love every minute of it as it is superior to the original show. It is a Technicolor picture and the gowns are a WOW!

Don't forget Ladies now that the weather means, "No hats" visit your favorite Beautician and be sure to keep your crowning glory looking it's best at all times.

Your Observer visited the dear little Deaconess in Elkton last week so as I could give her a real write-up in "The Christian Advocate". She was born four months later than the late Queen Mary of England—just 86 years of age. I titled the article, "THE MOST UNFORGETTABLE CHARACTER I'LL EVER MEET". Remember, folks when she visited "Loves Retreat" how pleased she was with the little town of Taneytown?

Ladies, did you get one of those lids for your frying pan? They are priced $1.25 and you will say they are super duper. They retain the heat when frying and the heat steam escapes through the small holes and there is no danger of any splashing of the grease on the cook! They surely must be selling them in all the County stores by now.

Round dining room tables are gradually creeping back to the dining room and there is much charm about them. Such a homey appearance! Have you tried that new polish for the silver called, "Dip Brite"? It is the best this Homemaker has ever used and the silver seems to remain shined for a longer time and this cleaner seems to get into the little crevices so nicely.

Now, here's a laff! The "Ex" of Jane Froman was given a real rebuke by a Judge in New York which the actor applied for as to the "10,000" grand awarded Jane Froman for injuries suffered in a plane crash in Lisbon, Portugal during the second war! He said that he should be reimbursed for the loss of her "aid, comfort and society!"

Hope that wonderful star of "The Great Caruso" fame "MARIO LANTAZA" will be sensible and come to the front with our American Producers out in Hollywood. Seems he is too fat and as for his state of mind—well—all real musicians are most temperamental!

Have you ever noticed, folks when something is required to be accomplished, the one who is always chosen is a very busy individual and I have learned that is for the simple reason that then they know it will be done!

Many Anniversary sales are now going on and—oh—they are real whoppers—some goods actually below cost! (For a complete close out).

If you have a burning sensation in your stomach after drinking fruit juices by all means omit all citrus fruits. Your Observer, discovered that it means too much acids are not good for you!

If you desire nice shapely ankles, girls by all means purchase a pair of high top lace shoes which they call, "The Old Ladies" "Soft Shoe". Keep them on all day in the house as you go about your work and you will notice weekly that you will be compelled to draw in the laces tighter which means your ankle is getting prettier and then, too those type of shoes are grand for your feet.

So long, folks. Have a grand week end. Be careful when you drive if you are going for a drive. It is nice to sit back on a Sunday afternoon and watch the traffic for a change. See you next week. D. V. I am,

Sincerely,

YOUR OBSERVER.

MY TOWN

I wouldn't trade my little town For a dozen Empire States Or a hundred other buildings With their stories piled like crates.

A little town's just big enough For me to feel a part; And still it is just small enough To hold close to my heart.

HISTORICAL MEETING DRAWS LARGE CROWD AT COURT HOUSE

The County historians were entertained at their Thursday meeting in the court house at Westminster by an account of 1853 conditions reported by Walter V. Bennett, president of the Board of County Commissioners. Mr. Bennett had just completed research which will be of considerable value to the society of the country.

He gave a report of 100 years ago which listed taxes on slaves, silver plate, jewelry and other personal belongings. He told of the formation of Middleburg District in 1853 as one of 10 districts in the county. He said that the largest political body seemed to be the 143 supervisors of roads. Today, with 850 miles of country roads, there are only 33 men charged with official duties of that nature.

The population of Carroll County in 1853 was 16,000 and Westminster 1,400. There were 853 slaves, with 379 in Freedom District. The 1853 budget for Carroll County was $19,019.57.

There were no public schools in Carroll County in 1853, although the budget called for $9,000 for educational purposes. Now the county allots nearly $2,000,000 for one year's educational costs.

The largest landowner 100 years ago was John McKalep in District 1, Taneytown. Freedom District boasted of its rich landowner George Patterson, Baltimore merchant, whose daughter Betsy married Jerome Bonaparte in an elopement from their Baltimore home. McKalep owned 2,500 acres and Patterson, 1710 acres with 33 slaves. Large landowners in Westminster 100 years ago were Peter Royer, 400 acres and David Roop, 486 acres. The name of Francis S. Key was listed with 500 acres at Terra Ruba, the home of Francis Scott Key, who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner."

Miss Lillian Shipley, program chairman of the Historical Society announces that open house will be held from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m., May 1 at the Shellman House. This affair is being arranged by Mrs. Test Kimmey, Mrs. A. Earl Shipley, and Mrs. Joseph L. Mathias. Sr. Miss Carrie Mourer will be the speaker May 14 at the Historical Society House. The district meeting will be June 25 at Taneytown.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The Historical Society of Carroll County announces the opening of the restored Shellman House May the first with visiting hours from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. The restoration has been supervised by Mrs. Joseph Mathias, Mrs. A. Earl Shipley, and Mrs. Harry Kimmey.

A record in the Frederick County Court House reveals that on May 2, 1807 William Winchester, son of the founder of Westminster, deeded the property now designated 206 E. Main Street to one Jacob Sherman. Originally a rural tavern keeper in Lancaster County, Pa., Sherman chose Westminster as a desirable place to retire. In 1807, according to family tradition, he built the sturdy brick home which still stands and presented it to his daughter Eve, married to David Shriver, Jr. Further court records show that on March 10, 1812 Shriver sold the property back to his father. It was then the young engineer left Westminster for Cumberland to supervise the survey of the National Road from Cumberland to Wheeling, W. Va., and later to St. Louis, Mo.

On March 3, 1845 the home was purchased from the Sherman estate by John Fisher, Esq., cashier of the Union National Bank from 1829 to 1863, described in old chronicles as "A man of substance". Although the Historical Society has not been able to establish that John Fisher ever lived there, it is well known that his brother Jacob did.

George Jones of Pittsburgh purchased the property June 20, 1864 and deeded it in trust to his sister Katherine Jones Shellman for the benefit of her children. It remained in their hands through the rest of the nineteenth century and the first four decades of the twentieth. For that reason the Historical Society of Carroll County continues to call the home which it acquired in 1939 the Shellman House.

Colonel James M. Shellman is remembered as Burgess of Westminster, Lawyer, first auditor of the Court, and architect of the Carroll County Court House. When Mrs. Shellman moved into the home shortly after her husband's death, she conducted a private school there for many years. Extracts from her diary were preserved and published by her daughter Mary Bostwick.

"Miss Mary" was one of the most public-spirited citizens Westminster has ever known. She not only instituted Memorial Day here but also for sixty years she personally led the boys and girls of the town to decorate the Civil War graves every May 20.

A bit of Civil War history was enacted in the home at the time of the battle of Gettysburg. Colonel Gilman established brief headquarters here and threatened Westminster with destruction unless the town would provide him with 100 suits of clothes and $5,000. As General J. E. B. Stuart passed by he stopped long enough to water his horses and kiss the little Mary who forgot for the moment that he was Johnny Reb.

We can have posies right under our noses. We read that flowers will bloom at the neckline this Spring in the form of tie on collars that fit perfectly over cordigan neckties that are so popular this season. You may make them of daisies, lilacs and hyacinths. For Mothers Day, try pink or white carnations or lily of the valley would be sweet, or maybe you would like pink rosebuds with blue forget-me-nots. They would be beautiful especially for the younger set.

"The noble woman does not find roses in her path; she leaves them there."

"It is better to make sure that one's own work is right than to point out whether the other one's work is wrong."—Sunshine.

FEESERSBURG

This is the time of year when ants start to build neat little hills along the garden paths and to hurry to and fro carrying in their mouths a load sometimes twice as large as they are. One observer saw an ant dragging along a grasshopper six times its own weight. This is equivalent of a man dragging four and a half tons.

Another ant, suspended by gripping a string with its hind feet, held in mid-air a pair of gloves eleven hundred times its own weight. To match this a man would have to hang by his toes and support by his teeth more than eighty tons. Fighting ants never let go. Even when their heads are snipped off their jaws remain clamped to their enemies. It is said that in India and Algeria ant heads are some times used to stitch wounds. The edges of a cut are pressed together and the widely opened jaws of the ant are attached to the edges of the wound, the ant snaps on to the edges and hangs on. Then the voodoo surgeon snips off the bodies of the ants leaving the head with the jaws that serve as stitches. Primitive but effective. We have often been cautioned by poets and philosophers to go to the ant and be taught some well-needed lessons. Anyone who has ever dug up an anthill and watched the ant at work must be impressed by their patience, energy and wisdom.

Sometime ago the editor of a small weekly newspaper (not the Carroll Record) wanted to increase the circulation of his paper and hit upon the brilliant idea of secreting a wire recorder in the local Beauty Shop. The choice news he published. The paper circulated faster and so did the editor. He is hunting big game in Africa and expects to be gone at least a year. I wonder what would happen if our editor tried that idea. Hm... wouldn't you like to read the paper?

It looks like we will have no deep-dish cherry pie this year. The tree was in full bloom when winter swooped down from Canada Monday and Tuesday and blew its icy breath on fruit buds and tender grass. Its too cold for the bees to be out to tantalize the blossoms so we no doubt will eat raisin pie instead of cherry pie.

Mr. and Mrs. Day Dintaman and sons, Dana and Charles, of Oakland, Md., were week-end guests at Merry Knoll.

It seems to be the concern of everyone as to what is wrong with our schools but it took an English school teacher with enough courage and insight to condemn the faults in one sentence. This is it: "The teachers are afraid of the principals; the principals are afraid of the supervisors; the supervisors are afraid of the school boards; the school boards are afraid of the parents; the parents are afraid of the children—but the children aren't afraid of anyone."

Another try is being made by Frederick to collect $200,000 advanced during the Civil War to prevent the town from being sacked and burned by the Confederate Army. A bill was offered Monday by Senators Butler and Beall, Maryland Republicans, to have the town repaid by the Federal Government. Aren't we ever going to get the Civil War settled? And I don't see why Frederick should be repaid her ransom money by the taxpayers all over the United States. The town was spared by the Confederates and full value was received for the money spent by sparing the life and property of Frederick's citizens, at that time. I certainly feel sorry for future tax-payers if World War one, two and three drag on forever like the Civil War has been dragging on in the U. S. for the past one hundred years.

Do you have a rocking chair in the house and are you carrying around a few extra pounds? I mean extra pounds around your waist line. One doctor says the rhythmic rocking to and fro in an old-fashioned rocking chair tends to stimulate circulation. Anything that arouses the circulatory system is all to your good. So take your exercise in a chair rocking away.

Why does a moth pick your best dress or suit to make a meal on? I don't know, but this is the time of year to make sure that dress or suit is made uncatchable by using the new moth sprays on all woens before storing them away. The Department of Agriculture has a new potion, EQ-53 to protect your washable woens. For non-washable woens use household DDT spray. Both of these formulas will protect your things for a year.

Mrs. Margaret Davis, mother of Mrs. David Miller remains critically ill at the home of the David Millers.

The construction of Utopias used to be despised as the foolish refuge of those who could not face the real world. But in our time social change has been rapid, and so largely inspired by utopian aspirations, that it is more necessary than it use to be to consider the wisdom or unwisdom of dominant aspirations. Marx, though he made fun of utopians, was himself one of them, and so was his disciple Lenin. Lenin had the almost unique privilege of actually constructing his Utopia in a great and powerful State; he was the nearest approach known to history to Plato's philosopher king. The fact that the result is unsatisfactory is, I think, mainly due to intellectual errors on the part of Marx and Lenin—errors which remain intellectual although they have an emotional source in the dictatorial character of the two men. Western democrats are constantly accused, even by many of their friends, of having no inspiring and coherent doctrine with which to comfort communism. I think this challenge can be met. Note: The above is taken from a new book by Bertrand Russell and the title of the book is "The Impact of Science on Society." It should be read by all mature people.

The punishment suffered by the wise who refuse to take part in the government is to live under the government of bad men.—Plato.

I shall always be partial to the month of April for this is the month that I first uttered a protest against everything in general and it seems I have been doing it ever since.—Ruth Roelke.

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Who is he? Where is he? What does he do? He may be in your own home. He isn't particularly conspicuous except in faithfulness to duty. And this is sufficient to make one conspicuous in our day when many shun responsibility, and are more concerned about their pay than about their duty. The forgotten man is so often a most needed man. He is forgotten because his type of work does not place him conspicuously in the public eye. Nevertheless, he is of public interest because he renders public service.

Our faulty philosophy and practice that only he whose wealth is considerable is worthy of recognition, puts the man who renders menial service for a livelihood beneath the notice of those with more desirable jobs and better pay.

The grave digger, the street cleaner, the janitor, the reader of meters, the taxi driver, are all worthy men as far as their jobs are concerned, and may be men of enviable moral qualities. A man's job does not necessarily dignify the man. But the man frequently dignifies his work. Whether fortune smiles on one is not the ground for one's acceptance or rejection. A great soul recognizes merit wherever it is found, whether on Broadway or in the city slums, in a mansion or in a hovel. The veneer of conventionality shuts from sight so often the really genuine in many people.

Who responds so quickly to the "call" of need as the man whose collar may be a bandanna, whose shirt may smell of the sweat of the honest toil whose shoes may be twisted and torn, and whose hands may be calloused! Should such a one always be obliged to enter the back-door, when he gives his life to enable you to go in and out the front door?

Pride goeth before destruction, And a haughty spirit before a fall.

The forgotten people forever feel they are on "call duty". Your comfort is their meat and drink continually. They have but one life to live, as do you and its consecration is to service even though it may be menial. They will not allow their lives to be wasted or to go to seed. The Forgotten Man! He is the man who does not forget.

G. H. ENFIELD.

ALUMNI COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR BANQUET

On Monday, April 20, 1953 members of the Taneytown High School Alumni Association met in the high school for their regular monthly meeting. President George Sauble presided. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report was given with a balance in the treasury of $184.19 on April 20, 1953.

Due to circumstances beyond our control the play "Mamma's Baby Boy" has been postponed until some future date.

A suggestion was made that each member put forth extra effort in gaining new members.

It was decided to purchase the trophies, for sportsmanship for the Senior girl and boy, from the W. E. Sell's Sporting Goods Store in Hanover.

Committees were appointed for the annual banquet and dance to be held June 6th, 1953. Menu—Miss Helen Bankard, chm.; Audrey Fair; Program—Doris Harner, Chm.; Earl Crouse, James Fair; Decorations—Senior Class; Reservations and Tables—Janet Royer, Chm.; Ann Wilson, George Freeman, Marlin Kittase.

Janet Royer was appointed to contact Mr. Edward Reid and reserve the Recreation Park for the annual weiner roast to be held August 17th.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. George Sauble. Meeting adjourned.

NEW WELDING METHODS TO BE DEMONSTRATED HERE

Mr. Earl Alfred Crouse, owner of Crouse Implement and Tractor Company, Littlestown dealer for the Lincoln Electric Company, manufacturer of arc welding equipment, just returned from Cleveland where he spent a week in an intensive training course to learn the latest welding developments and how to conduct welding clinics to teach them. Crouse cited new hardsurfacing materials as one new development of special interest. "Machinery will never wear out," he said, "if you were always able to put hardsurfacing metal at the right place at the right time."

Crouse said he went to the Cleveland course to be able to serve better the welding needs of this area in making and maintaining machinery that is vital to production in both farming and industry. The course included, in addition to new welding developments, training in all types of welding operations and other uses for welding equipment such as soldering, brazing, cutting, gouging and hardsurfacing. New machines and electrodes were studied along with new service methods for trouble shooting.

Special emphasis was put on how to conduct welding schools, several of which Crouse plans to have in this area.

Let's Think

G. H. ENFIELD

WHY AM I HERE?

As we look out over life and behold our fellowmen, the one question which arises in our minds is, why are we here? And since this is a personal question, it resolves itself into why am I here? This is a most natural interrogation for one who thinks about life's possibilities, opportunities, responsibilities, privileges, obligations, and senses relationships between man and man, and to God.

Why am I here? What is my primary mission on earth? Is it to get to or to give? To serve or to be served? Life on earth is too short not to have a purpose. It is aimless without a goal. Direction indicates a way for one to go. Some get on the wrong path and turn back, others continue.

There is east and west, north and south, up or down, right or left. And each of these calls for decisions. One's purpose in life determines the decisions he makes. The answers need not be audible and what one does are answers to why I am here, and footprints indicating the direction taken.

We have lock boxes for our jewelry and other material possessions. Are we as thoughtful and as cautious to find safe and secure places for our lives, abilities, and talents? Why am I here? Jesus, and Paul, and Lincoln, and Longfellow, and Edison, and Gladstone, all, knew why they were here. Each came to the crossroads of life, and there at the meeting of the ways each chose his direction on the basis of his purpose for his life—his God-given endowments. In the process of being used the potentialities became actualities. Thus he dignified, and magnified his powers, and projected himself by the contributions he made to the welfare of man kind and to the progress of the world. Thus each answered for himself the question: Why Am I Here? by the life he lived, and by the service he rendered.

P. E. BOWLERS COMPETE

Top-notch bowlers from the four-state Potomac Edison and Blue Ridge lines system were scheduled to compete for the R. Paul Smith Trophy on April 11, at the annual PS System Bowling Tournament held in Hagerstown, Md.

At least 20 teams were expected to be in the competition and for the third year.

The 1952 PE Bowling Tournament promises to be one of the most exciting in company history. Four company divisions hold two legs on the Smith Trophy—the Hagerstown General Dist. Offices, Winchester and the Frederick District—and one team has one leg on the big gold award—Luray. The first team gaining three legs on the trophy retains it.

Taneytown utility company bowlers who bowled for the Smith Trophy include: Sing Remsburg, Captain, Archie Conner, Jake Hartsock, Dick Harman, Bud Wetzell, Bill Pheabus, Chick Troxell and Leroy Shiffer, Scorekeeper.

The three courses in the Bible, Vacation Church Schools, and the Youth Program will continue for the next five Monday nights at the Westminster Methodist church from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Details are in the hands of all Protestant pastors. The Rev. C. Lewis Robson, New Windsor, is the dean of the school. Mrs. Paul Beard, Westminster, is the registrar.

MARY'S LITTLE COLD

Mary had a little cold, but wouldn't stay at home; And everywhere that Mary went, the cold was sure to roam; It wandered into Molly's eyes and filled them full of tears— It jumped from there to Bobby's nose, and thence to Jimmy's ears. It painted Anna's throat bright red, and swelled poor Jennie's head; Dora had a fever, and a cough put Jack to bed— The moral of this little tale is very quickly said— She could have saved a lot of pain with just one day in bed! ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

Q. What mistake is most common in starting chicks?

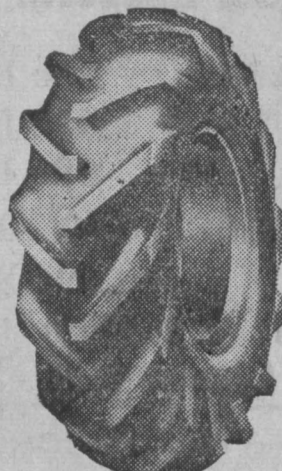

A. One of the commonest, certainly, is failing to get chicks eating and drinking. Be sure to teach chicks to do both. And -- right from the start -- give 'em Dr. Salsbury's Ren-O-Sal! This drinking-water medicine helps chicks grow faster, feather faster, start to lay earlier. Mix Ren-O-Sal, at 2 tablets per gallon, in all the water. Ask for Ren-O-Sal -- today!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: Acts 15:36-18:22
Devotional Reading: Psalm 61.

A Saint

Lesson for April 26, 1953

A SAINT: what picture does that word call up? A haggard figure in a loud-colored robe, sitting in a stained glass window? A hermit in a lonely cell, praying incessantly to God? All wrong. Saints have pretty stormy lives, as a matter of fact, and it often happens that the people who boarded with them did not realize they were saints at the time. Our famed St. Paul is no exception. He was, as we remember, a missionary, and missionaries have their troubles. They are something like salesmen; and like most salesmen, they are not selling in a vacuum. They are selling against some pretty keen opposition and competition. The story of Paul's work is like a series of fights.

Dr. Foreman

Indeed at the end of his life he summed it all up by saying, "I have fought the good fight."

Big Cities Are Bad

Paul was up against it all the time, one way or another. A good sample of the sort of thing that made his work hard was his stay in Corinth, not to mention his troubles with the Corinthians ever after. Corinth was one of the great cities of the Roman Empire at that time. It was a transfer point for cargoes bound from the east to the empire's capital, Rome. It was a center for professional athletics. Everybody in the place had the idea of getting rich as fast as possible. It was not noted for culture or for religion or morals. Indeed it was so bad that its morals would make a Roman policeman blush. When Paul wrote Roman I he was living in Corinth, and the horrible picture he draws is no more than he could see, so to speak, looking out of his window. Now big cities contain much good. They are the centers of world-wide Christian activities, in many cases today. But big cities are bad too, as everybody knows, and for much the same reason that Corinth was bad. The one god worshipped there, by the majority of its citizens, is Mammon, Money. Why do people crowd into big cities? Most of them are there, directly or indirectly, because they hope to make money faster than they could back home. What chance has the gospel of love in such a place? A real chance; but it has to fight.

Half-Religion

Paul stuck to cities for his missionary work because he was, after all, a city man and understood city people. But still it was a fight. Besides the indifference of people who cared for no god but themselves, there was bitter opposition from people who already had a religion, and a right good one. Paul suffered sharper attacks from the Jews than he ever did from downright pagans. People who already have something good are more likely to be fanatical against what is better than are people who have nothing. For instance, nowadays the great new revision of the Bible is getting more bitter opposition from people who have a good but old translation—the King James—than from people who don't have Bible at all.

High Brows

In Acts 17 there is told at some length what is only hinted at in Acts 18—the kind of trouble Paul had with the Greeks. In dealing with Greeks he was up against the true highbrows of his time. The Jew had a very practical mind; but the Greek mind was always worrying with very difficult questions, to which the answers have not all been given even down to this present day. Paul had to argue with these people—he couldn't just knock them over the head with Bible texts; the Greek mind didn't bash in easily. And Paul won some of them. Indeed he was more successful with them than he was with his own people, somewhat to his own astonishment. But that is one hurdle that Christianity meets everywhere: the opposition of people who want to have all their questions answered before they will consent to believe. There is surely nothing wrong in having a bright mind, and nothing at all wrong in having the best education one can absorb. But any person who insists on God's explaining himself to him before he, the man, will give his heart to God, is demanding the wrong thing. God's grace is for the humble.

4-H CLUBS WORK

Meeting of Leaders Held on Tuesday, April 14th

Seventeen 4-H Club leaders and parents met at the Hillsdale Club house on Tuesday, April 14, for a training meeting in clothing construction. The morning session was devoted to a very interesting discussion of the methods used in helping 4-H girls with their clothing project, teaching material they have found helpful, and ways of making their clubs more interesting and meaningful community organization. These volunteer leaders will be helping more than three hundred fifty girls throughout the county to higher standards for themselves in the choice and construction of their clothing.

During the afternoon the leaders prepared kits of illustrative material that will be useful to them in teaching clothing in their 4-H Clubs.

Those leaders and parents present for the clothing meeting were: Mrs. S. L. Hoke, Betty Young, Mrs. Eleanor Shipley, Mrs. Olive LeGore, Mrs. Charles Rohrbaugh, Mrs. E. Roger Lee, Jr., Mrs. Earle Blangner, Mrs. Donald Dell, Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Roy Graham, Mrs. Ralph Haines, Mrs. Francis Nelson, Mrs. Elmer Messinger, Mrs. George Harmon, Mrs. John Myers, Mrs. Paul Randall, Mrs. Denton Ensor, Miss Charlotte Conaway, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Evelyn D. Scott, Home Demonstration Agent.

The 4-H Clubs of Carroll County are holding a training school on "Keeping Records and Writing 4-H Stories" on Saturday, April 18, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., at the St. Paul's Reformed church in Westminster. The school is being conducted by Miss Dorothy Emerson, Assoc. State 4-H Club Agent, and is open to all 4-H Club members who are interested in learning to keep better records and write better 4-H stories.

CARROLL COUNTY COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS MEETING

At the meeting of the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers held on April 8th at the Taneytown High School, Mrs. Victor J. Ruby, of Sykesville, was re-elected President. Other officers for the 1953-54 season are Horatio Fox, Mechanicsville, Vice-President; Miss Ruth Kimmey, Westminster, Secretary and Ralph Young, New Windsor, Treasurer. Mrs. Thurman Warfield, District Vice-President presided during the elections.

Samuel M. Jenness, Superintendent of Schools for Carroll County was guest speaker and talked briefly on the Green Commission Report. He stated that education has reached a critical point and that the public school presents a very serious problem. He urged the members of the Council to do all they could to interpret the problems facing those in education to those who do not attend the meetings. He stated that the two primary problems were school facilities and teachers. Maryland, he said is producing only one-fifth of the teachers for which jobs exist in this State.

Mr. Paul M. Beckwith, Chairman of the Legislative Committee reported on the progress of the Bookmobile project. A bookmobile for Carroll County has been the goal of the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers for this year. Although, it has been discussed previously by J.T.A. groups, Mr. Beckwith and Mrs. Edward Derr, New Windsor, were appointed to work with the Davis Library in an effort to realize this goal.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS WILL MEET

A meeting of the Carroll County Farm Bureau members and their friends will be held at the elementary school auditorium adjoining the Westminster High School at 8 p. m. on April 23. The meeting is sponsored by the county Farm Bureau Planning Groups.

The program will feature a travel talk and showing of colored slides by Stewart Young, who was a 1952 International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to France, where he worked on farms and observed and took part in the everyday life and the organizations of the rural people.

The International Farm Youth Exchange is a project for young farm people to live and work on farms in other countries and seek to further international understanding between rural people. At the same time, rural youth from other countries come here for a similar experience.

COUNTY EISTEDDFOD APRIL 24

The twenty-sixth annual Carroll County public school Eisteddfod, (Music Festival), will be held in Alumni Hall, Western Maryland College, Friday evening, April 24, at 7:30 p. m.

Tickets may now be obtained from each school in the county and a limited number will be sold at the door before the program.

Every school in the county will present individual numbers and there will be a combined chorus of elementary children of 81 voices; a combined Junior High School chorus of 90 voices; and for the finale, a combined Senior High School chorus of 350 voices singing the Concertized Version of the Opera "Martha" by Friedrich von Flotow. The Opera will be accompanied by members of the college orchestra and county school players.

Dr. Paul VanBodegraven, Professor of Music Education, New York University, will act as adjudicator for the Eisteddfod this year. He will make comments about each individual number, which, in turn, will be typed and sent out to the school for the benefit of the performers and the music teacher. He will also make comments about the performance as a whole and will recommend suggestions for future programs.

Human hope and faith should join in nature's grand harmony, and, if on minor key, make music in the heart. —Mary Baker Eddy.

An exhibition game was played last Sunday on the Taneytown diamond resulting in a 4-1 win for the local boys over the Emmitsburg team. The attendance was light due to the chilly weather.

Another exhibition game will be played on the local diamond on Sunday with the Union Bridge team.

The season will officially open May 3 with Brunsdown at Taneytown. With warm weather it is hoped that the followers of baseball will turn out and support the "all-Taneytown" boys.

SPRING MUSICAL FESTIVAL AT PINEY CREEK

More than 200 people enjoyed the Spring Musical Festival of young people at the Piney Creek Presbyterian church, last Saturday night, April 18. Groups from Taneytown and Emmitsburg added to the success of the program.

The Rev. Gideon Galambos introduced the boys and girls of three communities. The pastor played both, the piano and the organ. Miss Betty Stambaugh of Hood College demonstrated the beautiful tones of a Hammond organ. A seven member orchestra of the Piney Creek Church played famous American military marches. George Crouse, Jr., presented the world-famous "Finlandia" of Sibelius with his flute. Betty Stambaugh played the trumpet, Kenneth Crouse the cornet, Eugene Stambaugh the trombone, George Tyler the violin, and Bob Peterson the guitar. Sylvia Kootz's monolog approved of a great talent in public entertainment. The girls of Piney Creek and a mixed group of young people from Taneytown, presented two plays. Doris and Georgia Ingram, Joan and Ann Stiel, Rev. Galambos, Bob Baumgardner and Helen Martin sang classic and religious anthems. Rev. Galambos introduced a young seminary student from Princeton, who is also a refugee from behind the Iron Curtain. Mr. Louis Kereszturi of Hungary. Mr. Kereszturi is Eugene Stambaugh's guest for the week-end.

Mrs. Estella Yingling conducted a 58 member chorus with splendid abilities and perfect success. Mr. George W. Crouse gave the inspiration to hold Musical Festivals and he gave the organ to this occasion. Mrs. Charles Stambaugh and the ladies of the Piney Creek Church held a reception for the 200 guests in the Social Hall after the concert.

WELFARE BOARD MEETING

The Carroll County Welfare Board met for its regular monthly meeting on April 14, 1953. The Board members discussed several cases in the community where there has been considerable problems. The Board reviewed current legislation introduced during this session at Annapolis. The most important effect has been the budget cut which will cause an appropriate 10% reduction in funds considered necessary for this year's operation in General Public Assistance and Foster Care Services. This might cause serious consequences if money is not available from some other source.

A report for the first quarter of 1953 prepared by the agency Director, William H. Koelber, shows that expenditures have been $45,832.15. This is approximately $1200.00 less than the same period in 1952.

There has been a marked decrease in the number of requests for financial assistance in the last four months during a time of year when requests are usually higher. It is difficult to know whether this trend will continue throughout the spring when opportunities for part time employment are available.

On the other hand requests for other services have risen to 137 cases showing an increase of 30 cases.

The Board reviewed action on a number of applications received during March where assistance was granted and where persons were found ineligible.

U. S. AND CANADA WEEK OBSERVED BY KIWANIS

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister St. Laurent recently cited the relationship that prevails between the United States and Canada as an outstanding example of international good will. The statements were issued in connection with United States-Canada Good-will Week which is sponsored by Kiwanis International and its more than 3,500 affiliated clubs. The observance is held annually in commemoration of the Rush-Bagot Agreement which went into effect April 28, 1818.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, in a letter to Kiwanis International President Walter J. L. Ray said, "The more the people of our two countries and of every other free nation manifest a spirit of good-will and co-operation in the interests of their common security and well-being, the more assurance there will be of a peaceful and prosperous and happy world."

"Kiwanis International is to be commended for helping to foster among us and our world neighbours the kind of friendly and working relationship upon which the preservation of our sacred trust of freedom so largely depends."

President Eisenhower, referring to the observance of United States-Canada Good-will Week stated, "By extending the hand of fellowship across the boundaries of nations Kiwanis does much to further the cause of international peace and understanding. Our friendly ties with Canada, extending over one hundred thirty-five years, have furnished an example for the rest of the world to follow."

"I pray the day may come when all the nations shall enjoy the same mutual respect, tolerance and good neighborliness that has been so long a source of pride and strength to our great continent."

The observance, designed to foster good relations between the United States and Canada, dates back to 1921 when the Kiwanis International convention held the first Canadian Day celebration. This was the forerunner of the present United States-Canada Good Will Week which will be observed the week of April 26-May 2.

During the intervening years, Kiwanis clubs have erected 25 bronze "peace tablets" at major ports of entry along the more than 3,000 miles of unfortified boundary between the two nations. The inscription on each tablet reads:

"This unfortified boundary line between the Dominion of Canada and the United States of America should quicken the remembrance of the more than a century-old friendship between these countries, a lesson of peace to all nations."

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown, this week, President J. Norman Graham announced that the club would observe United States Canada Good-will Week.
