It was the Secretary, Edward Reid. It was decided to postpone their annual drive for funds which is normally held at this time. The reason for this was that the Bi-Centennial organization has made plans to turn all profits, if any, from the forthcoming celebration, over to the Memorial Park. Therefore, the committee felt that they should wait until after the celebration, and upon receipt of the profits, and if found sufficient to do the necessary improvements at the park for this year, they would not park for this year, they would not hold the drive. But, if the receipts are not up to their expectations, and they feel the need for more funds, they will then announce to the citimeter of Tanantawn that they plan to zens of Taneytown that they plan to enjoyed by all. make the drive, which would probably take place in August. Mr. Hubbard's pastorate extended from the time of his ordination until Nov. 18th, 1829. This coming Sunday will be Mother's Day! Somehow, I am always appreciative of the fact that it was Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia who was responsible for making "Mother's Day" a national special day in honor and in memory of all Mothers

Mothers. All my readers, I do hope and pray stands, in order to provide English preaching for Taneytown and the surrounding country. This led to the formation of a Presbyterian church in Taneytown. many things Mothers love just go ahead and plan it for this Sunday. First of all send her flowers—a corsage. The thrill of the flowers arriving and then opening the box by herself without anyone looking on will be wonderful to her. Then take her out for dinner—anywhere as long as it is OUT! (And I think you know just what I mean).

If she says and (I know she will) "Oh, it will be so wonderful to have the children home for this day when we can all be together." Discard that and just simply say "Mother, we have made other arrangements for this is Mother's Day." Tell her that you love her and how you have appreciated all the things she has done for you in life. Do that before it is too late when she will not be able to hear or smell the flowers that the family always gives. When the time comes and she closes her eyes forever—that she won't be able to hear all the nice things you are saying. I have heard people say, "My Mother knows that I love her dearly and we were never a family to show any demonstration of affection." How awful! Just gaze in the eyes which will become moist when you say that you love her. Start right now and let it be lasting all the years and years to come.

the years and years to come.

I know of a young man who did not gaze upon his Mother—ever—not one word of appreciation even of kindness just because he had cold English blood through his veins and of which he bragged. Folks, I'll never forget the day when this Mother was lying in her easket and that san stand lying in her casket and that son stood alone fully five minutes and gazed down into the still face. Another little Mother at the end of Mothers Day sat on the porch and just rocked and rocked. As I went up on the porch to greet her—what a heavenly exprespresent.

A special Mother's Day program will be given at 8 p. m. by the Youth Choir and the children of the Sunday School. The program is entitled "A Tribute to Mother." This program will consist of special music and readings in honor of the mothers of the land. The public is cordially in what I mean, Folks?

How wonderful was the trip to Winchester to view the annual event of "The Winchester Apple Blossom Festival". Although, skies were gray and a drop of rain was felt now and then, the crowds were pouring in for the second day of the affair called "A Pageant of Springtime" by the "A Pageant of Springtime" by the author Garland R. Quarles. It was the 27th Apple Blossom Festival and the Queen Shenandoah Patricia Ann held. Forty Senior or Junior High Priest was crowned the day before School choruses will attend. The enthird All-Maryland Band Festival tire affair is produced by the pupils will be staged on Friday, May 14, and teachers of the high school. It was most colorful as Spring arrived leaving Winter far behind and all with very beautiful and appropriate costumes representing the with Ballet! It was cute to see the entire Child's programme with Humpty Dumpty on the school wall, Miss Muffet who was scared away by the big spider and the Wedding of the Painted Doll. Not forgetting "Mistress Mary" had a garden. All the music was catchy and some pieces very old timey which the audience enjoyed especially the one of the "Gay Nighties" put on by the Seniors. There was a dance and Panto-mime of the Indian Dance and Shawnee Legend and then "The Spirit of 76" (Every individual rose for one) Then Stonewall Jackson's Way. The Reader of the verses was heard very clearly and much louder than previous years which made it all the more enjoyable. Then came the Blue and the Gray (and I think the "Gray" is still a little more pronounced as in all the years gone by of which old Virginia still holds). Then came the Parade of the States and the drill of the 48 States and the band playing beautifully, "This is My Country", "West Virginia", "Maryland, My Maryland", "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", "It's A Grand Old Flag", "Stars and Stripes Forever", "Columbia, The Gem of the Ocean" and the Grand Finale "The National Anthem". (Also met quite a few of my and the Gray (and I think the "Gray" them". (Also met quite a few of my Sisters of the Rebekah Lodge). The restaurants and eating places were doing a thriving business in fact hundreds lined up at each entrance regardless how small or large the eating place was. The Amateur Radio Station pulled a real fast one. Sold 'Chicken in the Box" all ready for the price of one dollar. It was a complete meal. Ummmmm good!

TIME ON THE METER

Laws are made by customs more often than customs are made by law. This was the basis of the English common law, in which courts undertook merely to say what was the custom of the community. And the influence of custom, even quite recent custom, is making itself felt in the city council of Detroit.

Councilman Charles N. Youngblood has asked his city to change the law which (nominally, at least) requires anyone pulling up to a meter with unexpired time on it to deposit another nickel.

other municipalities have made perfunctory efforts to persuade automobile owners that they should pay up even if the pointer is some distance from raising the red flag. But car owners reason differently: The city has been paid its stipulated rate for the time; why should it collect twice? And a motorist finding time on a meter feels no more than compensated for time he has left on other meters. The president of a middle western university some years ago sagely refrained from posting "Keep Off the Grass" signs on the campus. Instead he watched where people would wear paths naturally in passing between buildings, and there instructed his groundskeepers to lay sidewalks. His example may be commended to the lawmakers on parking meters.—Christian Science Monitor.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Americans just can't ever seem to remember somehow, after the shooting stops, that a strong, ready and efficient merchant marine is essential to national prosperity as well as national defense. Chairman Thor. C. Tollefson (R. Washington) of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, reminded the Congress the other day of some of the facts-oflife. In World War 1, he said, we paid three billion dollars for ships that could have been built previously for 840 million; and in World War II, emergency construction cost more than 14 billion, instead of the prewar price of four billion! In each instance, of course; we would also have saved priceless time-which in this jet-bomber age means more than ever mefore.'

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Dr. Detley W. Bronk, president of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and also head of the National Academy of Sciences, asked thoughtful men to shed their fear for the future, adding, 'Weary, bewildered men covet security .... In other words, the explorers of today are the imaginative scientists and the reward is new worlds undreamed of by Columbus and his colleagues. Dr. Bronk's is a clarion call for courage and faith in the future."

GREAT FALLS, MONT., LEAD-ER: "We have evidence there is a brand new philosophy being promoted In Washington. It comes from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. He says: 'The people can spend their own money for their own account and in their own way for what they want much better than the government can spend it for them'. For more than 20 years the people have been given to understand that only Washington had all the answers".

PROPOSED LEGISLATIVE PRO-GRAM FOR SCHOOLS

A five-year legislative program for public education was announced today by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Maryland State Teachers Association. All candidates for State offices have been asked to state their positions on the various aspects of the proposed program through a questionnaire distributed by the teachers' organization.

Heading the list of proposals made by the two statewide organizations is a recommendation for $200,000,000 for school construction during the five-year period, 1955-60. The recom-mendation calls for the State to shoulder at least one-half of the financial responsibility for this pro-

A recent statewide survey, conducted by the Maryland State Department of Education indicates a need of 5,919 new classrooms by 1960. This represents an increase of nearly 1,000 of the estate of William H. Owings, executor of the estate of t represents an increase of nearly 1,000 classroom units per year for the next six years. This is a predictable requirement based on the number of children already born and waiting to enter school. Currently swollen school enrollments will increase at the average annual rate of 22,000 pupils through 1960.

The State's share of this proposal, $100,000,000, would be provided at the rate of $20,000,000 each year over the five-year period. If the funds ahe provided through 15-year State bonds, the cost would be$1,150,000 per year for each $20,000,000 of State monies. To completely amortize the bonds would require 20 years (because the final $20,000,000 would not be issued until the fifth year) at an average cost of approximately $6,000,000 per

Several aspects of the proposed legislative program are concerned with increasing the supply of quali-fied teachers. Milson C. Raver, Executive Secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association, which has a membership of 10,000, pointed out that statistics released by the State Department of Education show that while 2,859 new, qualified teachers were needed to staff Maryland schools this year the total number of gradthis year, the total number of grad-uates from all teacher training institutions in the State totaled only 831

last June.

To alleviate this situation, the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Maryland State Teachers Association recommend that the State minimum salary schedule be raised to $3,200 to 5,000 for fully be raised to $3,200 to 5,000 for fully certified teachers, beginning in 1956-57. The present scale of $2,500 to $4,300 will be raised to $2,800 to $4,600 in 1955-56. An additional annual increment of $200 for the master's degree, following the second year of experience, is also proposed. The cost to the State for this program would be $6,328,000. This estimate is based on current personnel. statistics because of the difficulty in projecting the number of teachers who will qualify for the master's degree by 1956-57.

In light of the fact that the average monthly retirement pay for Maryland teachers (counties only) was $75 per month, or only $900 per year, in 1953, the 2 statewide groups have recommended that the Maryland State Teachers Retirement System be improved. The estimated increase in the State's annual contribution would be $1,000,000.

A further proposal, aimed at increasing the supply of qualified teachers, has been made regarding the programs at the five state teachers colleges, Bowie, Coppin, Frost-burg, Salisbury, and Towson.

Joseph A. Hunter, President of the Maryland Congress of Parents and ward.—Edwin P. Whipple.

Teachers, representing a membership in excess of 100,000, declared: "Many of the faculties at our state teachers colleges are already overcrowded. To provide for four or five times the current enrollments, which will be necessary if we are to have a satisfactory supply of teachers, will require the continued expansion of facilities at these institutions." "Therefore, we propose that the State complete as rapidly as possible the remainder of the building program which was previously recommended by the State Board of Education."

The cost of this expansion program, if the money is provided over a five-year period with 15-year State bonds, will be approximately $460,000 per year.

It is also recommended that the new salary scale for faculty mem-bers of the state teachers colleges, which was approved three years ago by the State Board of Education, be adopted. The additional annual cost would be approximately $46,000.

A final request for aid for teacher training institutions calls for increased appropriations for maintenance and operating expenses.

Since 1951, the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Maryland State Teachers Association have sought an extension of State aid to public libraries in the amount of an additional 40 cents per capita. In 1953, 10 cents per capita was provided by the Legislature. The funds now available, including both State and local support, amount to approximately 55 cents per capita for the maintenance of our public libraries. The minimum support recommended nationally for this purpose is $1.50 per capita.

Therefore, additional state aid in the amount of 30 cents per capita for public libraries is requested in order to provide approximately 85 cents capita for operational costs. additional appropriation of $702,000 per year would be needed to finance past year, the school report card has stirred up quite a controversy. Our county fortunately has been spared this discussion so far. For how long one is not disposed to say for there has never been a perfect system for measuring human ability and we doubt very much if one will ever be perfected to suit everyone. There are some persons that work well under pressure and thrive under the whip competition and there are others who do their best work alone and with unlimited time and freedom of moveunlimited time and freedom of move-ment. A set grading standard, while it may be fair to the competitive type person, would be totally unfair to the slow plodder type. Noncompetitive grading systems seems to work best with the more adult type of student. But some important educators con-tend that regardless of the type of tend that regardless of the type of grading a child's personality develops in general accordance with what sort of people his parents are.

In view of the fact that Americans are currently destroying themselves on our highways at the rate of 38,000 per year, the final point in the proposed program of these two statewide organizations recommends that the teacher-pupil ratio in high schools be increased to allow for the inclusion of driver education in the State Minimum Program of Education. The cost to the State would be approximately $960,000 per year.

Turning our thoughts to more pleasant subjects-have you noticed now beautiful Carroll County is? It seems that Mother Nature brought out all her magic during the month of April and turned our county into a "Garden of Eden". Some persons may think that the lowly Dandelion is a She's reached the twilight of the setpesty plant and doesn't belong anywhere, especially in a Garden or Eden She made sacrifices; often poorly but we think the star-like flower adds a mushing touch to lawns and fields. In this one simple plant Nature has taken a lot of time and thought. The plant is edible and each fuzzy head of nower has over one hundred seeds. Each seed is attached to a minature parachute and when air-borne can travel quite a distance. Sometimes when one has examined the elaborate precautions Nature has taken to insure the survival of the plants one cannot help but assume that the vegetable kingdom is Nature's favorite step-child. The colorful beauty of step-child. The colorful beauty of nowers and vegetables shows that Nature spent most of her time on them and when it was the animal kingdoms turn to have some attention she did a haphazard job and by the results showed that she wasn't particularly interested in how her efforts turned out, or what they turned out. In fact the animal kingdom must have been a door-step child.

HISTORY OF TANEYTOWN

(Continued from first page) Presbytery in 1831, and was dismissed o another in 1833; he seems to have abored in Taneytown in 1831, but was ikely only a supply. Rev. Nathan Harned was the most enthusiastic of all the young men who labored here at that time, at one time he announced that the General Assembly had deided to establish Presbyterian churchs all through this neighborhood, but the plan has never been carried out.

On the 13th. of May, 1838, Rev. John P. Carter, being appointed by the "General Assembly Board of Missions" took charge of the churches at Taneytown and New Windsor. He was installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and on the churches at Installed October 20th 1922 and oct Taneytown and New Windsor. He was installed October 29th, 1838, and continued to be pastor of the churches for five years, resigning the charge December 17th, 1843. Mr. Carter lived to be a very old man and died only a few years ago in Washington, D. C. He was well known to all Presenters in the Politimers Presenters. byterians in the Baltimore Presbytery.

After Mr. Carter's resignation the church was vacant until Sept. 1st. 1844, when Rev. Jacob Bellville, a licentiate, was unanimously elected pastor, and soon after ordained and installed by the Presbytery of Baltimore; Mr. Bellville was pastor for 4 years. He resigned the charge about the 1st. of September, 1848. Mr. Bell-ville, now a D. D., is still living; until one year ago he had charge of a large and prosperous church in Pottsville, Pa., but resigned his charge because the duties were too onerous for him; he is still however a vigorous man and preaches quite often in different churches. During his term of service here he taught a private school and is still kindly remembered by many of his former pupils. The pulpit was supplied for some time between September 1997. tember 1848 and June 1849 by the Rev. Mr. Connell

Rev. James Williamson was installed pastor in June, 1849, and served the church until May, 1854, making a pastorate of 5 years. The church was vacant from the time of Mr. Williamson's resignation until, 1857, during part of which time it was supplied by Rev. E. L. Dodder, a licentiate. April, 1857 Rev. William B. Scarborough was ordained and installed pastor. Mr. Scarborough was pastor until Decemits own pulpit. For many years previous to this it had been united in the same charge with the New Windsor church, and had received aid from the board of Home Mission. At this time it asked the Rev. Isaac M. Patterson, then pastor of Piney Creek and Emmitsburg to supply the pulpit; both congregations consenting, he entered on his duties on the first Sabbath of January, 1869. Mr. Patterson resigned July, 1873, having preached in the Taneytown church 4 years and 7 months.

In 1853, during Mr. Williamson's pastorate, the congregation bought the lot now occupied by Dr. G. T. Motter, from John K. Longwell, of Westminster, for the sum of $1100. It had a house on it as large as the front building of Dr. Motter's residence, and had been the residence of Mrs. Longwell's father, Major John McKaleb. It was used as a parsonage until the last few years of Mr. Scarborough's pastorate; at that time he lived in New Windsor and the property was rented. When then Taneytown church pecame part of the Piney Creek and Emmitsburg charge the property was sold to Mr. Thomas Rudisel, and coneyed to him by deed dated April 1st., 1871; the consideration was $3126.

The joint board of trustees for the Union church not having been elected for a number of years, there was no board of trustees of the church, the property being vested in the session, which attended to the secular as well as the spiritual interests of the church. In January, 1871, the congregation was incorporated by the laws of Maryland. In the spring of 1891 when Mr. Rioseco became pastor the trustees bought the lot where the par-sonage now stands from Jerome A. ### "MICHAEL'S HOME"

On January 23, 1768, Michael Null, tanner, of Frederick county and Province of Maryland, bought 42 acres of land from Samuel Owings, Balti-more county, of the same province. Later, he bought more land from Daniel Brown, William Digges, An-drew Sheaver, Ullerick Reaver, George Trucks, and William Duncan. In 1806, all the land was resurveyed as "Michael's Home", and contained 236 acres.

Mentioned in the Taneytown history, published in The Carroll Record, was a pipe organ, donated by Michael Null, to the German Lutheran church, of Taneytown. This organ was made by Adam Ault, of Hanover. We have the receipts signed by Adam Ault, acknowledging the different payments made on the organ. This organ is now in use in a Lutheran church in Newcomerstown, Ohio, altho' the original works have been replaced. Hubert Null and wife visited the church especially to see the organ.

Among the deeds, we found a paper which stated that Michael Null owned five shares of stock in the Westmin-ster, Taneytown, and Emmitsburg Turnpike. We were puzzled as to what sort of turnpike would have existed in 1817, and were informed that it was a plank road. We have in our possession a highly prized cherry desk which was owned by Michael Null. In it were found papers stating the amount of currency left in it at the time of his death. The amount was recorded in pounds, shillings, eagles, and other forms of currency not used in this country any

Two of the fields on the farm called "Michael's Home", now owned by Hubert J. Null, hold special historical interest, (to us, at least). One is the "Tanyard Field"; the other, "The Race-track Field."

The "Tan Yard Field" joins the A.

W. Feeser Canning Factory property, on the Littlestown road. The story of how the large tanning vats, sunken in the ground, had been filled and plowed over, has been filed and plowed over, has been handled down through the generations.

"The Race Track Field" lies on the south western side of the farm, and adjoins the Sam Breth property, near the High School Crounds on George the High School Grounds on George ber 8th, 1868, a pastorate of 11 years and 7 months. In January, 1869 the presbytery dismissed him to the Presbytery of Zanesville, Ohio. He is now living near Plainfield, Ohio, farming, and boundary of "Michael's Home" on

Challenge to Evil

Lesson for May 9, 1954

F YOU have never read the story of Elijah and the prophets of Baal, you have missed one of the most dramatic stories of the world's literature. And yet however you take it, you may be left with the feeling that this tale does not belong in the twentieth century. Nobody believes in Baal any more, and miracles like fire from heaven that will in one instant burn up animals, wood, stones and deep trenches full of water-such miracles just don't happen any more. But this is more than a wondertale out of the far past. Like all of Dr. Foreman the Bible, it has something to say to us today as to men of all times and places.

When Evils Are Idols

Every age has its Baals. Idols are not always made of stone or wood. They may not be in any physical shape at all, an idol may be an idea, a "spirit of the times." It can be a desire or a dream. All idols are bad because they are always in place of the true God; but the worst idols are evils which are so popular that they are taken for granted. The Baal against whom Elijah fought his brave battle single-handed was the god of the royal family; and it was so nearly the god of all the nation that Elijah had the impression that he and he alone could see the hollowness of this cruel god. The truth was that the worship of Baal was not a theological heresy; Baal was not simply a wrong name for God. Baalism involved crimes in Baal's name; no true worshipper of Baal could be pure or kind of heart. Baalism was worse than a national religion; it was a national cancer and the end of it would be national, death. Elijah knew it; but nobody else knew it; and so when he attacked Baal the authorities marked him down as a bad character. So, far from thanking him for challenging a great evil, he was run out of the country like an ordinary criminal.

Why Reformers Are Hated

You can divide all citizens into two kinds. One (whether realizing it or not) takes for its motto "Whatever is, is right." The other kind sees that some things that are, ought not to be. And a few of this other kind begin to agitate and talk about changes that must be made. They are sometimes called reformers; but they are usually called worse names. One hundred years ago and more, there was a book written by a man named Helper, which pointed out in detail the bad economic effects of slavery in the state's that practised and legalized it. The book was not answered; it was banned. In at least one state it was a legal offense to own a copy of it. Helper himself was attacked in newspapers and in pulpits. For he had dared to challenge the Baal of slavery. In those days, in the north as well as in the south, to be an "abolitionist" was to be low-rated as a crack-pot or a liar, or worse. Nowadays, two of our Baals are war and the liquor traffic. What happens to persons who say a word against that great temple of the Pentagon? What happens to people who come out with the truth about the effects of liquor and propose even to limit liquor advertising? They too are called crackpots, liars and worse.

The Tide of Tomorrow

Elijah was mightily discouraged at one time. It looked to him as if the whole country was against him. God had to explain to him that there were seven thousand good people still in his country, even if he was the only man who had the courage to speak out. It is always that way. For one person was has the nerve to challenge evil in a loud clear voice, there are thousands who believe as he does, only with their mouths shut. But the important thing was not that Elijah had some sympathizers. The important fact was that he was on the side of God. Little David never looks as if he had a chance against Goliath; but the real reason why David is stronger is that God is for him and against Goliath. Those who are against God, no matter how popular they may be, are pushing against the tides of the universe; the Elijahs, ridiculed and outlawed though they be, when they challenge the destroyers of man, in the name of God, know that God at last always wins.

Way back when . . .

Remember how far ten miles in the country used to seem? And twenty miles, why, that was quite a journey! Now, of course, it takes only a few minutes by automobile and only seconds by telephone. Yes, the telephone leaps the miles to save you time and trouble-helps you avoid unnecessary trips into town—gets you the information you need-keeps you in touch with friends and relatives. When you stop to add up all it does for you you'll probably say, like so many others, "My telephone is worth more to me than it costs."

Gets things done

Remember the story of Tom Sawyer, and how he got his pals to give him a hand whitewashing the fence? Thanks to the co-operation, he got the job done in no time flat, and was off to the old swimming hole. Co-operation works wonders on the telephone party line, too. When party line users co-operate by sharing the line considerately, the value of the service goes up for all concerned. And when one party line neighbor starts it, all seem to take the hint and return courtesy for courtesy. That's when the service does the most for everyone!
