MEMORIAL DAY

Services will Be Held in Taneysville and Harney

Taneysville's annual Memorial Day exercises will be held on Monday, May 31st. This event honoring our war dead is sponsored by the local American Legion Post in cooperation with the local business men. There will be a parade starting at 1:30 from the Legion Home, going through town, visiting all cemeteries, and ending in Taneysville Memorial Park where services will be held.

The Honorable Judge W. C. Sheely, from Gettysburg is the speaker for the occasion. Judge Sheely is a well known speaker in this area.

The stores, warehouses, banks and other business places in Taneysville will be closed all day.

The annual Decoration Day services will be held in Harney, May 28. The parade will form at 6:30 at usual place. The Gettysburg Band will furnish the music and march with the group of children and the other organizations which will be on hand to make a fine line of paraders. The Rev. Robert C. Benner, of Pine Grove, Pa., will make the address in St. Paul's church following the parade. A festival will follow at the Parish House and lawn of the Parish House.

ANNUAL ALUMNI BANQUET

Notice is given to all T.H.S. Alumni of the big annual banquet and dance which will be held Saturday evening, June 12, in the High School. The deadline for reservations is nearing very quickly and everyone is reminded to return their card or phone their reservations promptly.

The banquet will begin at 6:30 with a fried chicken dinner served family style by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Co. These ladies have served this banquet for the past several years and it can be promised that it will be the traditionally sumptuous dinner they are famous for. An excellent program has been planned by that committee to follow the meal, with classes holding reunions receiving special recognition.

Immediately following the program "The Tones", of York, Pa., will furnish music for dancing until 12 midnight. "The Tones" are very well known to most alumni and friends in this area. It was the alumni who introduced this top-flight group in this vicinity at their banquet 6 years ago and engaged them many times since for dances and banquets. One of the reasons that they are so popular for this affair is that even those who do not dance enjoy listening to their smooth music. So even if you don't dance, plan to spend the entire evening with your old schoolmates. You won't be sorry.

As usual, the officials are concerned about the slow response in making reservations. It must be remembered that even though costs have been soaring, the price of this affair has been held to only $2.00. This has been done principally to make it possible for everyone interested to attend. We feel it would be impossible to match an evening's entertainment anywhere else for the same price. This makes it more important than ever that reservations be made in plenty of time and canceled if something interferes. Actual number of dinners must be ordered for in advance to allow time to order food. If the Association must keep paying for unserved banquets every year, the policy will have to be changed and tickets bought in advance. This we hope to avoid as long as possible.

Because of many changes of addresses and the possibility of errors in addressing seven or eight hundred postals it is extremely possible that many Alumni of T.H.S. may have been missed. If there is anyone who has not received a card concerning the banquet, please send your name, address, and number of reservations desired to Mrs. George Fream, Taneysville. Or if it is more convenient just call Taneysville 5942 and make your reservations.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD MEETS

On Tuesday evening, May 18, the Taneysville Presbyterian Brotherhood held their monthly meeting at the church.

The Brotherhood had as their guests 11 members of the Piney Creek Presbyterian Brotherhood.

President William Abrecht reported that the Recreation Park has been reserved for Monday evening, June 14, for the Brotherhood's outdoor meeting. Final plans were made for this meeting and invitations have been extended to the Brotherhoods of the Reformed and Lutheran churches to attend as guests.

Rev. Gideon Galambos reported that the speaker for this meeting would be the Rev. John Tate, Baltimore.

An invitation of William Abrechts was accepted that the Brotherhood meet at his home in July.

Rev. Galambos introduced as the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Dixon A. Yaste. The topic of his talk was "The McCarthy Case", and he presented to the Brotherhood his thoughts and opinions in connection with Senator McCarthy. After his talk, the members held a question and answer period which proved to be extremely interesting. Undoubtedly this was one of the more interesting meetings held by the Presbyterian Brotherhood.

After the meeting, those present went to the manse where additional fellowship was enjoyed with the Piney Creek guests and refreshments were served by Myron Tracey and Archie Conner.

BI-CENTENNIAL IN TANEYTOWN

Plans Progressing Nicely, Rehearsals to Begin Shortly

Plans for the Taneysville Bi-Centennial continued during the past week with meeting of the various committees, and the commencing of the painting the scenery. The program material and advertisements are being sent to the printer as they arrive, and all materials must be in by June 1, which is this Tuesday, this being the deadline for the printing of the program. Thus far, only twelve organizations have submitted a history, and of these, there are only two church histories. It is the desire of the committee that all the churches of our town, and as many organizations as possible, be represented in this program with a history of each. But, if there is some omission, it will be no fault of the committee who has pressed hard and consistently to get them in time for publication. Therefore, if any of these who have not submitted their history, and still feel they would like to have it published, they still have this week-end to work on it, and get it in to the Program Committee by Tuesday. Only a few pictures were submitted for use in the program. More old pictures depicting old life, street scenes, buildings that once stood, the well on the square, the great fire of 1897, or any other that might be of interest to the persons who purchase the programs, would be welcomed by the committee.

Several inquiries have come to the attention of the parade committee concerning floats for the parade and pageant. Anyone wishing information on the building of floats may contact any member of the parade committee, the chairman, James Fiscus, or the general chairman, Edward Reid. All organizations or business places are welcomed to put floats in the parade, and if they are of historical value, or depict some phase of the life and growth of Taneysville, they may be used in the pageant.

Word has been received that a covered wagon can be loaned for the occasion, but it is necessary that it be hauled from above York, Pa. to Taneysville and returned after the home coming week. Anyone knowing of how or who would have a truck or low trailer to do this hauling should contact the Executive committee, and it would greatly aid them in getting this wagon here for the parade and pageant.

The assistant director, Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, is working hard on the completion of the cast for the pageant. A great many persons have consented to cooperate by being in the pageant. Rehearsals are to start for the different scenes on June 7th.

HISTORY OF TANEYTOWN

As It Appears in the 1894 Files of the Record

The last installment of the history of Taneysville taken from the files of "The Carroll Record" of 1894 was printed in last week's issue of the paper. The articles were written by the late Dr. C. Birnie.

Following is a paragraph quoted from the old issue of the "Record": "The author of these historic articles does not claim them to be perfect; nor absolutely free from errors of fact or omission, but he did the best he could with the time at his disposal and the authorities within his reach. The work as a whole, however, must be pronounced a success, and has well served a double purpose."

In this issue we publish the address given by Honorable F. Neal Parke of Westminster, delivered at Carroll County's Celebration of the 200th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington held in Taneysville, July 4, 1932. It follows:

The name and settlement of Taneysville have been an interesting part of our early colonial days. The large grants of land to those who had first settled in Saint Mary's county, in Charles county and in Prince George's county were in the course of a considerable policy adopted for the purpose of defining, defending, maintaining and developing the borders and frontiers of the province by inducing settlers to come and establish homes, conquer the forest, cultivate the soil, exploit the mineral deposits and establish and promote trade. The names of many of the pioneers persist among us. Their courage, industry, sobriety, tolerance and thrift have made this section a smiling landscape. Their blood flows in our veins, and they have left us keepers of a precious heritage whose safeguarding and preservation exact unceasing vigilance.

The origin of Taneysville may be attributed to the circumstance that, on the fourteenth of April, 1744, John Digges, of Charles county, obtained a patent for a tract of land which he named "Brothers' Agreement." The grant was for sixty acres in a small valley that "descends on the east side of a run falling into the north side of Great Pipe Creek and near a small path or road commonly called 'Farquhar Road', and was described as located in Conigosaheiga Manor, and, incorrectly, as situated in Baltimore county (1). At that period, this portion of the province of Maryland was known as the "back woods", sparsely settled, where Indians roamed and hunted the deer, bear, otter and beaver, and wolves and wild cats ranged and prowled, as is attested by the local names: Monocacy River, Indian Run, Deer Park, Buckhorn Branch, Bear Branch, Otterdale, Beaver Dam and Wolf Pit Branch. The boundary lines between the great counties of Baltimore, and Prince George were ill defined and difficult to ascertain (2). The tract lay west of the dividing line between these two counties, and was actually in that portion of Prince George's county which, in 1748, became the county of Frederick; and which, in 1837, was again severed from an existing territorial unit and embraced in the newly erected county of Carroll.

The original parcel of land did not include the site of Taneysville, but it was the nucleus of a subsequent grant upon which the town was first projected. With the patent of John Digges, of Charles county and later indifferently described as being of Richards, George Sexton, Andrew Richards, George Sexton, Andrew (Continued on 6th page)

SENATOR HOFF SPEAKER AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

On Monday evening, the Chamber of Commerce held a dinner meeting at the Taneys Inn.

Plans were made for the annual outing and the committee appointed to make arrangements for the picnic consisted of: Curtis Bowers, Carroll Wantz, James Burke and Leonard Gartell.

The members also decided that the Chamber of Commerce would have an entry in the Bi-centennial parade and that it would be either a band or a float.

Mr. S. E. Breth gave a report on the trip which he and Mayor Raymond Perry made to the Community Planning Conference which was held to give information on proper zoning of communities and the state road building program.

President Merwyn Fuss introduced as the evening's speaker, State Senator Hoff. He presented an informal but highly interesting talk on various problems facing both the state and towns. The highlights of his talk are as follows:

- 1—There are serious problems facing every community regarding a need for zoning.
- 2—Proper planning is a continuous effort in order to prevent a hap-hazard mis-location of business.
- 3—Besides protecting residential areas, industry also desires zoning protection so that they are not prohibited from expanding.
- 4—The State of Maryland has underway a huge road-building program and it is a program that is constantly subject to change.
- 5—The state budget is of necessity up due to higher costs and increased school and road construction.
- 6—The time is not too far distant when women will serve on juries in Carroll county.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It's May and the Circus! And always my birthday! When I was a child in Philly the big treat was taking me to the circus in celebration of the big day. So again, Folks, I was a child once more.

My minister escorted me to the big Round Top and there we sat munching on the peanuts (like everyone else seated there) trying to look at the three rings at one time. As I gazed around there were many children who remained home from school just for the big event. What surprises me is that each State does not give all the pupils in every school a special holiday. And who do you think escorted the children? Not many of the mothers but mostly the fathers. They seemed to be enjoying it just as much as their offspring.

The "big top" the greatest show on earth was really jammed full and every house garden even if it was just a lawn was selling parking space. Years ago in Philly it was either just "Ringling Brothers" or "Barnum and Bailey" and today with the consolidation the show is great. Even the clowns put out new stuff for which they got many laughs.

Although there were seals, lions, bears, monkeys and elephants, the masses seemed to watch the Doggie Acrobatic stunts. Who doesn't love a dog? Seeing that one, you will go away from the show and say, "Well, I must have a dog!"

The horses were wonderful and beautiful and the still nicer part were the beautiful girls. (Your Observer loves beautiful women!) Never has the circus had such an array of real beauty before.

The entire affair was a delightful spectacle with its catchy music of today and everyone was thrilled and excited. The costumes were radiant-ly lovely in all colors plus the spangles and sequins Con Colleano, the world renowned forward "SOMERSAULTING WIZARD" of the tight wire was simply incredible with his marvelous balancing! "Dreamland" was chucked full of Magic—the huge Floats with all the highlights. The colorful feature of old Mexico with the dancing Senoritas was glamorous. "MANTILLAS 'N' EVERYTHING!"

The astounding acrobatic stunts have been greatly filled with thrills that left one breathless.

The entire affair was simply extraordinary and plus the desperately daring deeds. The animals seem to be getting smarter each year as all are most accomplished. The Circus is very first year old—that is when the very 104 years was introduced to an American audience. This is the 84th Annual Edition produced by John Ringling North. And here's hoping it never stops for the Generations yet to come!

In later years (not like yesterday) there was something about stopping to take a drink of grand well water from the old "TIN" drinking cup. Today it is looked upon as just not the proper thing to do for health's sake! Well, Your Observer never resists the temptation of the drink and from the old tin cup which has been perched on a nail in Grandmother's day. The farm has belonged to the same family here in Harford County and either upon my return or in the direction no matter how big the hurry, I always have time to stop and drink from that old tin cup. Here's something and from a real Indian! If you have a pain in the back or in other words LUMBAGO—get about ten cents worth PARSLEY and put in on to boil with water enough to cover. Let it get cool and then drink it! And that Indian said with most emphasis, "It will cure any back ache!" No harm trying! Saw the cutest thing the other day. A tiny pair of white baby shoes tied by the laces to the mirror of his car. I took a good look and it was the proud young Father at the wheel! See what I mean, Folks?

What a lovely birthday gift—something I have been wanting for years! An excellent typing table plus the solid walnut swivel back chair!

Well, just keep on wishing like I do, Folks and you will get it eventually!

On June the 5th Unique Tyson Street will be open to the Public from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. A few years ago, Your Observer wrote about this little street which has changed hands and now is Artist's row. The fee is one dollar now which goes to the benefit of the new paths on the grounds of Camp Green top, the 8 weeks summer camp for handicapped children. Will be seeing you there!

Have a grand week-end and keep saying if you drive, "I'll drive slowly and live longer." Until next week, D.V. I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.

TIME TO SHOW OUR COLORS

"Nothing but flags! but simple flags, Tattered and torn and hanging in rags; And we walk beneath them with careless tread, Nor think of the hosts of the mighty dead Who have marched beneath them in days gone by".

These lines were written by Moses Owen some years ago after he had overheard a woman remark petulantly, "Nothing but flags!" as she walked through a room where the battle flags of the state of Maine are displayed in the State Capitol at Augusta.

We hope that Americans in every town in the nation may say the same thing this Memorial Day, not in disparagement, but in pride and awe and reverence for the one powerful symbol of human freedom remaining on this earth.

To this end, that every Main Street in our nation may be lined with flags from end to end, every one in America's 17,240 American Legion Posts has been alerted to help out—in hanging flags, in advising on proper display of the flag and in seeing that every flag in town is flying on May 30th.

"Right now, when we are beset with internal differences; when our trusted allies are wavering; when bloody Communism is growing imperious", declared National Commander Arthur J. Connell, "is the time for all of us to be reminded of our glorious heritage and the responsibility that goes with it. On this, of all Memorial Days, let us close ranks and face forward".

Our best reminder is our flag—symbol of glory, and pledge of faith.—U. S. Press Association.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ODESSA, TEXAS, AMERICAN: "... any government with strongly centralized power poses a threat to personal liberty. Each time we take another step toward socialism, government control and higher taxes in our own country, we should pause and think what life offers for the individual in countries where power is vested in the state".

COATESVILLE, PA., RECORD: "Some of the railroads are making it easier for families with a lot of baggage to handle it in railroad stations. Pittsburgh and Boston stations have carts one can rent for two bits and you get a dime change when you take it back..."

TRENTON, NEBR., REGISTER: "We value education highly and appreciate a form of government that allows free education to all whether or not they have the ability to pay—but are still strongly inclined to think that all families would be willing to pay in part for the education of their children, and from that would value the education more highly".

DILLON, S. C., HERALD: "We may not be in the throes of a depression but we are in the midst of a mild recession. One wonders how this could happen when the volume of money in circulation is by far the largest in the nation's history. It is because the value of the dollar is at a low level. As the price of labor and commodities goes up the buying power of the dollar goes down".

SOUTH BEND, IND., RECORD: "The security we have, the easier lives, the pleasures we enjoy all come from the investment of capital—and not in any way from magic words or high sounding terms."

Much of man's cruelty and injustice results from reaching conclusions without bothering to get the facts.

They say nothing pays better than the weather. Well the month of May sure has been a disagreeable month, it stays so cool and damp, but I suppose it will get hot enough before the summer is over. Someone has predicted the driest summer we have ever had. I hope they don't know what they are talking about. Don't you?

Having sold her farm to a Mr. Ricketts, of Taneytown, Mrs. Charles Baldwin had sale of her live stock, farm machinery and household goods, on last Thursday. A large crowd attended in spite of the bad weather and good prices were realized.

A very pleasant week-end to all.

FEESERSBURG

Governor McKeldin says he is going to make the tourists wait to come to Maryland as in the past Maryland has not received her share of summer vacationers. We hope he succeeds, for Maryland has a variety of things that would prove of interest to any traveler no matter what part of the world he or she came from. Take our own county for instance. It has never made any attempt to lure the tourists, but it has an abundance of things which would attract them if they were told about them. Most city people are always delighted with country living, and now that farm income is down, it may suit some farmers to open their homes to the tourist trade as a way of adding an extra dollar to their shrunken milk check.

Our county is close enough to the Gettysburg Battlefield that some of the visitors to that spot might be siphoned off to some of our picturesque towns like Uniontown, Taneytown, Frizellburg, New Windsor and the surrounding countryside. The streams in the county could appeal to the amateur fisherman, and for the expert the streams near Thurmont have enough trout in them to satisfy even the super-expert. If its scenery the tourist wants, then the nearby mountains and the rolling farm lands in our valleys should appeal the poetic instinct in even the most discriminating artist. New Windsor should have a strong appeal to the intellectual type of visitor with the World Center of international good will in its midst and the charm and cooperative spirit of its people radiating from every nook and corner. Maybe we should not focus the point of attention on any one town because all the small towns of Carroll County have their own particular charm and interest.

From Harney to Carroll to Union Bridge to Silver Run—all of them possess the serene and quiet pace of living that the wandering tourist is urgently seeking. So we hope our Governor succeeds with his plan and makes the world tourist conscious of our wonderful State and that the local people will make the traveler feel welcome and at home.

The Union Bridge Fire Company will open its annual carnival Monday evening. May the weather cooperate, or the Volunteer Fire Company is a vital necessity to every community, and it needs funds to carry on their good work. While everyone hopes they will never require the services of the Firemen, never-the-less it is a nightly comforting thought to know that we have an alert and conscientious corp of Firemen who at a moment's notice will answer a call for help, whether its to put out a fire or to rush someone to a hospital. If the community should support any one organization one hundred percent, it is the Fire Company.

In the course of a week I receive a good many phone calls pertaining to this and that but one of the nicest calls for a long time pertained to the teen-agers of our own community. The Juniors gave their Prom last Friday evening in the school auditorium with an orchestra, lovely decorations and good food. But what impressed me caller at the other end of the phone was the mature conduct of the boys and girls. Not one incident took place at the prom that called for the least bit of criticism. The conduct of the boys and girls was such that it made everyone concerned very happy and proud to be the parents, the teachers and the friends of such teenagers. This writer has noticed in the past few years that youth is growing up and doing it at an accelerated rate of speed. Sometimes I wonder if the unsettled state of world conditions is not already reflected in the thoughts and actions of our boys and girls. Whatever is changing our youth it is changing it for the better. For I know that today, the teen-agers are better equipped to deal with life realistically than their sisters and brothers were some years back. We do not wish to rob youth of a gay and happy adolescence, and place old heads on young shoulders, but we are happy to see that youth can have a good time without becoming reckless and heedless of the consequences of unrestrained conduct.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halm and two children of Towson were week end visitors at Merry Knoll. Through the expert fishing of Mr. Halm, breakfast Sunday morning boasted of broiled speckled trout from the Thurmont mountain streams.

Is your garden growing? Well, not too fast due to the cool weather. Some farmers have planted their corn over twice and something is playing havoc with the alfalfa.

A good many Americans right now think the best way to fight communism is to fight each other. It might do well to look at all the fuss and furor over the question of communism in an objective manner and try and see what the hysteria is doing to us as a nation. Is the bickering among ourselves serving our cause or is it best serving the cause we profess to be fighting? A little humor on the subject may help. I have been told a reliable person that some Witch Hunters in Washington believe that Carroll County is bedded down with communists. Do you personally know a communist here in Carroll County? Well, neither do I. It seems like a very ridiculous statement to say our county and the people we know so well are communists. We don't believe it, do we? But if this statement was made in California about us, they would believe it and no doubt insist we be investigated. If this witch-hunting doesn't soon stop all of us are going to wake up in the near future and discover that while we were tilting at wind mills here in the U. S. we lost every ally in the world and while we were busy looking at the Army-McCarthy brawl on T. V. all of Asia fell under Red domination. We have been watching an old fashioned Western picture with the villain going "that a way" and the hero falling into a trap.

The Missionary Society of the Mt. Union Lutheran church will hold its annual covered dish supper June 7th in the parish house at 7:30 p. m. Only fourteen more school days left. When that last day arrives what a happy time for teachers, pupils and parents, (I hope).

Don't be a litterbug this time of year. A litterbug is a person who dumps garbage along public highways, discards papers in public parks and in general makes a mess anywhere except on his own property. You are judged by the neighborhood you live in, so keep it looking neat and tidy. —Ruth Roelke.

HARNEY

The annual Memorial service will be Sunday evening, May 30, at the Sunrise E. U. B. church cemetery, meeting at church at 7 o'clock, with further service in the church. Mr. Jacob Sheetz, of Baltimore, will be guest speaker and will play the saxophone. The youth choir from Taneytown U. B. church will be present. Rev. A. W. Garvin, pastor.

The annual covered dish social of the Harney E. U. B. church, Aid Society will be held the third Tuesday of June instead of the 8th as previously announced due to activities at the high school on that date. So come bring a friend and have a good time of fellowship at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickhouser.

Services at St. Paul's Lutheran next Sunday, May 30, at 9 a. m.: Worship services in charge of Rev. Winberger, of Gettysburg, Pa.; Sunday School session at 10 a. m.

Decorations services in Harney Friday evening, May 28th, sponsored by a committee from V.F.W. Monocacy Valley Post Home 6918 and a committee from Lutheran Sunday school, the parade will form at 6:30 at usual place. High School Band of Gettysburg will furnish music. The children and all who can march in this parade plan to be here and make it the best ever. The Rev. Robert C. Benner, of Pine Grove, Pa., will make the address after the parade to both cemeteries in Lutheran church. A festival in the Parish Hall to follow. Music by band.

CUB SCOUTS TO SPONSOR CANDY SELL

At the meeting of the Cub Scout committee held on Tuesday evening, final plans were made concerning their annual sale of salt water taffy. The Cub Scouts will begin selling these boxes of candy on Saturday morning and throughout the Memorial Day week-end.

The Cub Scout committee hopes that the citizens of Taneytown will again co-operate in this worthy project and thereby have a part in the continuing growth of Cub Scouting. The local cub pack now consists of three dens with a fourth den now in the process of being formed. Taneytown can look with pride upon the excellent Cub Scout program which gives such fine training to its young sons.
On Memorial Day, the cub scouts will march in the parade. It is requested that the Cub Scouts wear their scouting uniforms to school on Monday, and that the parents send a note to the school principal so that the Cubs may be excused at 1 P. M. to march in the parade.
On Tuesday, June 1st, the Cub Scouts will hold their final pack meeting until fall. At this meeting, awards will be given out and several boys will graduate from Cub Scouting into Boy Scout work. It is hoped that all parents of the scouts will be present at this meeting.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET
The regular meeting of the Girl Scouts was held at Betty Ann and Patricia Fowler's house, on Monday evening. The meeting was opened by the President, Betty Ann Fowler, after which the minutes were read approved and the Treasurer's report was given. The meeting was then turned over to our Troop leader, Mrs. Fowler. At the next meeting our troop leader is going to give us a lesson on first aid.

The meeting adjourned with taps and silent handshakes. The meeting will be on June 7th.

Respectfully submitted,
PATRICIA FOWLER.

Piney Creek Grange will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday, June 1, at 8:30 in Harney.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF CARROLL COUNTY 5-27-54

Baltimore county or at little Cone-wago, as a basis to gather and combine in one huge tract the outlying vacant and unoccupied land, Edward Digges, the son of John Digges, and Raphael Taney, who had married Eleanor Digges, a daughter of John Digges, made application for the consolidation of this greater area in a new grant (3). Isaac Brooke, who was commissioned deputy surveyor of Prince George's county in 1747 and of the newly formed Frederick county in 1748, ran the courses and distances and, on May 22, 1754, a patent was issued to Edward Digges and Raphael Taney for 7900 acres of land under the designation of "The Resurvey on Brothers' Agreement" (4).

An examination of the land records of Frederick county and a comparison of the separate grants by the patentees make it clear that this wide domain was partitioned by their agreement and that a large section between Piney Run and Big or Great Pipe Creek was allotted in severalty to Raphael Taney. A few years later "Taney Town" was laid out by Raphael Taney, and the plat recorded on May 12th, 1762, by Timothy Bowes, clerk, among the land records of Saint Mary's county where Raphael Taney lived (5). The record book in which this plat was recorded was destroyed by the burning of the court house at Leonardtown in 1831, but the original plat was preserved because a certain William B. Gwynn caused it to be recorded in Carroll County in January 15, 1840 (5).

The plan shows a group of lots, containing eighty-eight of about one-half of the acre and two other larger lots, which were all called "Town Lots" and twenty-four much larger parcels which were designated "Out Lots". Eighty-eight of the town lots were grouped about the intersection at right angles of the highway leading from Frederick to York and a way that later became the road from Emmitsburg to Baltimore. These intersecting thoroughfares are the present Frederick and Baltimore streets of Taneytown.

The eighty-eight lots formed a rough cross; and, on either side of the foot of this cross but at some distance from the road to Baltimore, were the remaining two separated and large town lots, each of one acre, and these the proprietor dedicated to religious use. Although of a prominent Catholic family, Taney devoted Lot 87 to the erection of a Lutheran church while he consecrated Lot 88 for the building of a church of his own faith (5). This provision would indicate that at Taneytown there already existed a body of German Protestants who had entered the Province from Pennsylvania to unite with those of other races, language and creed to conquer the forest and the wildness of nature and convert the countryside to a pleasing prospect of fertility, abundance and wealth.

The founder of Taneytown did not long entertain his pious purposes, because on April 27, 1864, he conveyed the acre which he had set apart for the Catholics to John Weaver and Emerick Botts, and the lot is now the site of the cemetery of the German Reformed Church (6). The acre dedicated to the Lutheran congregation was enlarged by the grant of an additional half acre on which a church of that denomination had been early built, as is shown by the recitals of a grant by Raphael Taney to Conrad Boner and Henry Smith, dated November 1, 1768 (7). The present cemetery of the Lutheran congregation is on the original lot, and thus Lots Nos. 87 and 88 have become, in fact, what the Germans devoutly call God's acre (8).

After laying out the town and calling it Taneytown, Raphael Taney retained the fee in the land and offered to sell a leasehold interest in the lots. The town lots were to yield him an annual ground rent of two shillings and six pence a lot, payable on the first of every May. This rent he later increased, by one shilling, on the unsold lots. In order to secure buyers Raphael Taney executed a bond to the Proprietor on May 1, 1762, and caused it to be recorded in Frederick county on October 16 of that year. By this bond Taney agreed that he was obligated in the penalty of 500 pounds to convey, at or before May 1, 1765, by good deed to the respective purchasers the several leasehold interests in the town lots numbered 1 to 46 on the plat, provided that each of the lots to be granted were well and truly improved by the building of a good dwelling house, not less than twenty-four feet in length and twenty feet in breadth, with a stone or brick chimney, and were well "duttailed" and shingled. A deposit of two shillings on every lot was exacted of the purchaser as "caution money" (9).

The plat carries the names of the original purchasers, and fifty of the town lots are not shown to have been sold. The roll of the names disclosed by the plat includes the familiar and some strange names: Mark Alexander, Emerick (Americk) Butt (Bott), Henry Butt, Henry Brothers, Conrad Boner, George Baker, Jacob Coome, Henry Clance, Caspar Divil, Samuel Emmitt, William Elder, Philip Fish-bour, Robert Ferguson, John Christopher Fauser, Thomas Fisher, Charles Fair, Jacob Good, John Hoover (Hoover), Peter Hoffman, George Linkenfelter, William McFarland, Samuel Newcomer, Peter Owler (Olar), Samuel Owings, John Harmon Rosenplott, Augustus Sharrow (Sharra), Andrew Sharrow, Justice Sharrow, Andrew Shrior, John Shrior, George Seigler and Michael Tanner (5). The proprietor rescinded some of the original sales because of a failure of the purchasers to comply with the terms of sale, and he made a number of grants of the land among those whose sales he had declared forfeited, and the new names among these purchasers embrace: John Byars, Christopher Bowers, George Clarke, Archibald Crawford, Jacob Fletcher, John Gilbert, Joseph Groves, John Hall, Ulrick Hoover (Huber), Christian Hemper, Conrad Hockersmith, George Hockersmith, Thomas Kinard, Abraham King, Stoffle Lewis, Michael Lovely, John Oliver, Hannah Owings, Robert Owings, Thomas Owings, Conrad Pott, Kenard Pott, Emrick Pott, John Ross (tailor), Jacob Stiger, Philip Smith, Henry Smith,

Richard Vandike and John Weaver (10).

The name of Robert Ferguson appears on the plat as the purchaser of town lot No. 8, but apparently, he did not complete his purchase but forfeited his deposit of two shillings, as Raphael Taney conveyed this lot to Ulrick Hoover by deed bearing date August 13th, 1763 (11). Hoover (Huber) granted his leasehold estate in lot No. 8 to Mark Alexander and Andrew Stiger on September 23, 1768, for a consideration paid in "current money of Pennsylvania," which seems a significant discrimination against the currency of Maryland (12). Alexander, on June 19, 1773, received an assignment of the leasehold interest from one George Lemmon, but no deed has been found to him from Stiger, but this grant was regarded as vesting complete title in Mark Alexander, because on December 3, 1773, Alexander, who was then a merchant of Baltimore city, granted the leasehold estate in lot No. 8 to Adam Good, who was described as a "saddler." The ground rent of two shillings and six pence was declared to be payable to Jacob Good, who, on September 23, 1772, had acquired the fee in the town of Taneytown by a deed from Raphael Taney, founder and original proprietor, who survived until 1791 (13). This Raphael Taney and the eminent Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney were first cousins twice removed, and were descended from a common ancestor, Michael Taney, of Calvert county, who died in 1692, after having been sheriff of that county from 1687 to 1689 (14).

Upon this lot Adam Good, the saddler, became Adam Good, the tavern keeper, and his sign gave notice to the weary, worn and hungry that within the low roofed, plain log building of two stories, with its front upon the road from Frederick to York, its five regularly spaced and shuttered upper windows looking down upon what had been so recently the king's highway, its doorway, with sill slightly above the level of the traveled road, midway between the two windows on either side, and its wide, hinged door closing and concealing the cool depths of the stored cellar, would be found entertainment for man and beast (15).

The keeper of this humble inn would be unknown, and the modest cheer and hospitality of its host would be forgotten with the death of the solitary survivor whose memory could recall these traditions, except for a single chance guest, the great, the good and the noble, George Washington. His memorable visit rescues from oblivion the host and the tavern, and gives occasion for this commemorative celebration.

The first president of the United States was on no idle trip but upon public business. His purpose was to become better acquainted with the nature, the needs, the advantages, opportunities and development, and the social, economic, commercial and political condition of the country through which he had planned to pass. He traveled in state as befitted his rank, comfort and health. His chariot, drawn by four horses driven in hand, was the one about which his revilers raved as partaking too much of a regal state in the infant republic. In addition, there was a light wagon for baggage which required two draught horses. He had, also, four saddle horses, and a fifth led for his personal use. His attendants consisted of a military attaché, a certain Major Jackson, a valet, two footmen, a coachman and a postillion.

This imposing cortege proceeded over the rough, heavy and difficult roads from Frederick, past Cookerlyrs (now New Midway), where the great man dined, and, as the inevitable entry in his diary establishes, "lodged at Taneytown only twelve miles farther, being detained at the first stage wch had been presented to me in the morning." "Taneytown," his diary proceeds, "is but a small place with only the street through which the road passes, the buildings are principally of wood." (15).

The residents of Taneytown were few and its tavern but ill adapted to house and feed so unforeseen and illustrious a guest, but the celebrated Dr. Johnson has expressed the opinion "There is nothing which has been contrived by man by which so much happiness is produced, as by a good tavern or inn." It may, therefore, be argued that, at least for this one exalted day of its history, the landlord was transported to the height of his gastronomic art, and the landlady to the supreme effort of her accumulated domestic skill, and that Washington supped and slept in comfort, ease and happy relaxation after that, to us thrice blessed, morning rainfall, which had so mired the road, and so slowed his travel as to make Adam Good's tavern an acceptable refuge for this single night. If the assumption be unfounded, there can be no question that, however inadequate to the great event the tavern may have proved, Washington was warmly welcomed by the devoted compatriots of Pipe Creek Hundred. A few miles away were the mansions of his firm and assured friends, Thomas Johnson and Thomas Sim Lee. The first named had the presidency and renown of moving on June 15, 1775, the selection of George Washington as the commander in chief of the army of the colonies in revolt against England. Even nearer, at "TERRA RUBRA," was Major John Ross Key, a soldier in the Revolutionary Army, whose son, Francis Scott Key, at this time a child turning twelve years, was to give in a later conflict, poetic expression of the ardent and invincible spirit which animated and glowed in the hearts of the patriots who clustered about Washington at Taneytown, and which passed, as a flaming and unquenchable fire, to become the eternal possession of their enriched posterity.

The purchaser of Lot No. 1 of Taneytown was Jacob Good, a brother of Adam Good, who rose to the rank of captain during the Revolutionary War (16). Around Washington that day were the veterans who had fought with him the battles of the glorious Revolution which made us a free and independent nation. It would be invidious to name a few where it is impracticable to read a complete roll of these heroic men. Their presence recalled to Washington the proven valor of the Maryland soldier on many hard fought battlefields, where their indomitable spirit, their dash, and persistence in assault, their coolness, steadfastness and determination in defence had given them a splendid, permanent fame. Their homage on that day at Taneytown recalled their brilliant leadership under Gist, Smallwood and Howard; and, finally, with what poignant rush of memory, that spectacle of carnage where their desperate courage so moved the soul of Washington that, on the battlefield, in anguish, he cried out the perfect tribute of a soldier to his soldiers:

"Great God! What brave fellows I must stifle with this day's loss."

Even at this far remove of time, the thrilling emotions evoked by the presence of George Washington at Taneytown are not spent, but remain an inspiration to us, who, in freedom, stand

 His awful memory
 A light for aftertimes"

A man of the purest and serene integrity, of great mental vigor, careful and slow in reaching a conclusion, sound, wise and informed in his judgment, which was unmoved by passion or other consideration except that of the full and impartial performance of his duty, Washington was vigilant, fearless and prudent in action and constant and inflexible in purpose. He put his fortune, his talents and his fate at the service of his country. He led the armies of the colonies through an arduous war to a glorious victory, which made them free; established their political independence and created a nation. As its first president, he guided the country through the perils of its formative period with a resolution, sagacity and courage that gave a form, constancy and principles to its government and an order in the administration of all its branches that assured domestic tranquillity and prosperity and enabled the young nation quickly to assume its place in the seats of the mighty. Throughout his life, he supported misfortune with resignation and firmness in an unwavering belief in goodness and in the confidence that, under divine Providence, it must prevail.

The commander in chief of its armies, the first president of our country, the statesman who united a distracted people in a federal union of indestructible states, Washington is the object of everlasting admiration and veneration, and the great exemplar of his countrymen in the acceptance and discharge of their domestic, civil, political and patriotic obligations. If liberty and independence are to abide with this nation; if freedom under the law in speech, print and conduct, and in the worship of God in complete separation of church and state, but according to every man's belief and the dictates of his conscience is to be maintained; if education is to be provided and improved; if an active and wholesome participation by the citizen in public affairs is to prevail, and if an honest and efficient administration of public office and affairs is to be enforced, then must those here assembled, in company with their countrymen throughout the land, meet our present grave and difficult problems with Washington as the great pattern, and emulate in thought and deed the noble and venerable man chieftain and statesman whose life fulfilled best the adjuration:

Be just and fear not,
 Let all the ends thou aimst at be thy country's Thy God's and truth's."

Note A: The title to the lot upon which Adam Good kept his tavern passed from Adam Good to John McKellip on January 10th, 1807, Liber W. R. No. 30 folio 317 of Frederick County; from James McKellip to Susannah Fringer on April 1, 1856, Liber J. B. B., No. 20, folio 32 of Carroll County; from Susannah Fringer to John H. Crouse, on April 20, 1867, Liber W. A. McK., No. 34, folio 451; from Samuel Swope, trustee to Ephraim Hockersmith, on April 3, 1877, Liber F. T. S. No. 49, folio 25 etc.; and by will of Ephraim Hockersmith to his widow, Sarah A. Hockersmith, who later married Norman B. Hagan, whom she survived. Mrs. Hagan has consented to have a suitable tablet placed on the residence which now occupies the site of the tavern.

Lesson for May 30, 1954

WHY does a President of the United States go to church? He may have many good reasons which are not the principal one. He may do it because it has been a tradition since the time of George Washington. He may go because he likes the minister; or because he feels he should set a good example; or because he knows that churches help make good citizens and he wants to encourage churches just as he encourages schools, boy scout troops and the Red Cross. But a much better reason why Presidents and the rest of us go to church or read the Bible or pray, is that we feel the need of strength.

Foxhole Religion

A man who has been more or less independent all his life, not feeling any special need of God, will wake up to his need of something more than he has, when he finally gets into some trouble, some situation where he can't figure out the answers and where he knows he is not equal to the demands the circumstances make on him. We have seen in our time a President who has hardly taken office before he is baptized and joins a Christian church. Is this a sudden conversion? Probably not. Brought up in a devout Christian home, this man has always been aware of religion, he never denied God. But now, with a burden of responsibility and leadership which he never had before, he becomes not merely aware but acutely aware that by himself, even with all the human help he can get, by himself he is not enough. It has been said that there are no atheists in foxholes; and fox-hole religion has been low-rated as the religion of the scared-to-death. Nevertheless many a man whose religion began in a fox-hole did not end there.

A Dark Doorway to God

The Bible stories for this week describe several of the darker doorways to God. This is not quite the right way to put it, for God is not like a closed room. Rather, we are in closed rooms of our own, and the doors of our cells open out to the ever-present sunshine of God. Some of the doorways of life are somber enough, yet it is through some of the most forbidding of these that men and women have come through to a living faith in the true God. For example, the story of the woman of Shunem who had everything she wanted except a child. It was in her longing for a child of her own that her faith came to a burning-point. Then when the child was born and grew into boyhood and lay at the gate of death, again her faith blazed up. She did not usually seek the prophet Elisha except on stated days (she is not alone in this), but this time she went on the day of her distress. It was so with the king of Israel. His eyes were adjusted to the ordinary lights of this world; but on one memorable occasion God let him see the army of light surrounding his prophet.

Resources of the Spirit

Why is it that some people can endure what crushes others? To say it is faith that upholds the weak, is only part of the truth. The hymn says, "How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord, Is laid for your faith in His excellent Word!" The foundation is not faith; faith rests on the foundation, namely God and his promises. Faith alone is a poor support. It is God who is the true upholder of the weak. How shall the unseeing have their eyes opened? How shall those who never feel the nearness of God come to know him as ever present, our hope and our help? It is today as it was in the far-off days of Elisha; those who know God must make him known to others. If it had not been for Elisha, comfort and faith might never have come to the woman of Shunem. If it had not been for Elisha's prayer, the eyes of the young frightened king might never have been opened and he would have collapsed in panic. Faith, if you have it, is not something to be kept to yourself. It is something to share. Faith, if you do not have it, is something you may be helped to acquire, all the better, if you make friends with one who has faith.

FARMERS

The spittle bug, pea aphid and alfalfa weevil are making hay. The cutworm is cutting like a bramble scythe. Makes a fellow think, what next?

Summer storms with their wind and lightning danger, although never wanted, can come at any time. Be sure you have good Windstorm and Fire Insurance on your buildings and personal property.

I like to loaf and get around over the country, so will be glad to go over your insurance needs and show you how much money you can save, with the best of protection.

1/3 MORE
PROFIT

Two eggs laid before Christmas usually bring more money than three laid afterwards. That's why it pays to develop big, early-laying, heavy-laying pullets on PURINA GROWENA. Costs no more to feed than many poorer and cheaper rations — because it takes less PURINA to put a pullet on the nest.
