ALUMNI MEETING

Plans Made for Future Activities

The regular monthly meeting of the Taneytown High School Alumni Asso-ciation was held on Monday night, June 21, 1954 with President Edward Sell, presiding. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary and approved. The Treasurer's report was read and approved.

It was suggested that the system of making reservations for the banquet next year be changed—that is, each member desiring to attend the banquet forward the cost of their reservation, plus their dues to the Secretary prior to the date of the banquet. A dead line date for accepting can-cellations would be set by the Association, and refunds would be made up—to and including that date. This motion will not be voted upon until the end of the year—prior to the printing of the annual letter.

ADDITIONAL PLANS FOR BI-CENTENNIAL

Two New Features Added to Week's Program

At the meeting of the Executive Committee on Wednesday evening of this week it was passed that two additional features be added to the festivities of the "Home-coming week". It was decided that on Monday afternoon, July 26, they would hold a "Fashion Show" on the lawn of Misses Amelia and Elizabeth Annan. There will be a showing of fashions from years ago up to present day from years ago, up to present day models. A charge of $1.00 will be made, with tickets being sold in advance, and refreshments will be served by the staff from Taney Inn.

On Thursday evening, approximate ly 7 p. m., July 29, prior to the Old Fashioned Dance and Block Party, there will be a "Kiddies Parade", with Association decided not to enter a all entrants to be twelve years of age or younger. This will be a big time for the little ones in our community; to decorate up their wagons, doll buggies, bicyces, build floats on wagons or carts, dress up in costume, and show to the older folks. Prizes will be offered by the committee. Further details will be announced concerning this 'Kiddies Parade" in the near future, but it is not too early for the parents to take note and encourage their children and help them to partici-

It was reported that $225.00 has been received from the sale of balloons in the balloon contest. Over 800 have been sent off, and thus far 20 have been sent off, and thus far 20 have been returned. The farthest distance that any have come back from thus far has been Chester, Md. (on the Eastern Shore) and Martinsburg, W. Virginia. The balloon stand will be set up each Friday and Saturday evenings, near the square in town, for anyone wishing to participate in the contest, and thereby helping to finance the Bi-Centennial celebration.

The committee is still making an effort to get help for the refreshment stands on main street during parade, and at the park on each night of the pageant, and at the block party. Anyone wishing to give of their services by cooperating with these stands is asked to contact Mrs. Louise Riffle. The committee feels that there is also a need for another or two more suppers to be held in town during that Saturday. Any church or organization that so desires to put on a supper, either at the parking lot or at the Memorial Park Clara Devilbiss had the Bible reading followed with prayer by Mr. Murray Fuss. REPORT OF

Planning and Zoning Status

The continued economic prosperity of the Port of Baltimore is largely dependent upon the growth and de velopment of the industries surrounding the City of Baltimore. Present trends indicate that new business prefers to locate in less congested areas outside city limits where it has ready access to large land sites, labor markets, better working conditions, adequate supplies of water and less congested transportation facilities. Such industries materially affect the volume of trade of a port city by increasing the general export and import cargo and by publicizing the advantages of a particular location. Bal-timore, as a bulk cargo port, needs to increase her share of general cargo business, since general cargo is far more profitabel for the Port. One way to accomplish this is to have sound and progressive planning and zoning programs in the counties continguous to Baltimore which will afford new industries the necessary facilities and the land on which to locate their plants.

The purpose of this report is to inform the citizenry of Baltimore and of th five surrounding counties, ie (Anne Arundel County, Baltimore County, Harford County, Howard County and Carroll County) of the present status and county county and county and county and county and county and county of the present status. carroll County) of the present status of their planning and zoning efforts and point out present defects in their programs. We feel that it is imperative that these deficiencies be corrected to insure the future growth and prosperity of the Port of Baltimore as each of these five counties are vitally affected by the Port's flow of commerce.

of commerce. Carroll County is behind its sister counties in terms of progress but what it has initiated to date has nevertheless been in the proper direction. It has had an Enabling Act written into the laws of our State and if a refendum submitted to the County ers this November is adopted, a Plan-ning and Zoning Commission will be set up with the power to go ahead and develop the master plan for the use of land in the County. County poli-tical leaders have been very successful in recruiting all elements of the county leadership to support the adoption of this referendum in the coming election. Summarizing the five counties, we find that any agent of a prospective home builder or industry can go into the office of the planning commissioner in either Anne Arundel or Balti-more County and learn how the particular land in which he is interested is designated on the master plan. Al though these master plans have not been adopted as yet, it is only a question of time, given proper public sup-

SENATE CLOAKROOM by J. Glenn Beall United States Senator from Maryland

Maryland farmers receive 84 per cent of their total cash receipts from crops which are not supported by any Government price support program.

The per cent of cash farm receipts from basic commodities enjoying Government price supports is only 15 per cent of the total cash receipts of Maryland farmers, and 8 per cent of that is in support of tobacco-which, for reasons peculiar to tobacco farming, do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to greater acceleration and hill-climbing ability, you can save time without increasing your maximum road speeds.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies wider and longer.

You save time on deliveries. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission saves time and effort at every stop. Optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models. You save on operating costs. The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261"

(optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light-and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowestpriced line of trucks!

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck.

Minister and Wife Celebrates Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary

The Taneytown charge of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, consisting of the Barts, Harney and Taneytown churches, recognized the 25th wedding anniversary of their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur W. Garvin, on Sunday, which was a pleasant surprise. The Garvin's were married by the Pennsylvania Conference superintendent, Dr. Charles E. Fultz, now deceased; assisted by the couple's pastor, Rev. G. I. Rider, of Hagerstown, in the Lohr's Memorial E. U. B. Church Parsonage, Hanover.

The couple's pastor of childhood days, the Rev. Rider, brought the morning message during the worship period of the Taneytown church. Miss Mary ing message during the worship period of the Taneytown church. Miss Mary Alice Rue sang, "I Love You Truly"; Mr. Jacob Sheetz, of Baltimore gave several selections on his saxaphone, and the young men's quartet, Merritt and Glenn Copenhaver, Robert Fuss, and Arthur Garvin, Jr., sang in honor of the Looking around at our class reunion, it appears as though we are entering the "Metallic age"—gold in our teeth, silver in our hair, and lead in our pants.

The Garvins have served the charge for sixteen years. During that time the parsonage was renovated, the Taneytown church enlarged with a new furnace; Barts church was renovated and a social room made in the basement with a new furnace, and the Harney church was redecorated about nine years

After the worship service the congregation with relatives from Hagerstown and Portland, Ore., with friends from the community and surrounding territory gathered on the parsonage lawn for refreshments which were served in buffet style. There were nearly 300 persons gathered for this event.

The three congregations presented to the Garvins a Hotpoint automatic portable dish-washer. The children presented a Sunbeam deep fryer and many silver dollars and other useful and beautiful gifts were received.

The chairman of committees for the Silver Anniversary were Miss Catherine Karichuf of Barts church; Mrs. Robert Strickhouser, Harney church; Mrs. Hazel Clingan, Mrs. Joel Brooks, Mrs. Florence Flickinger, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cartzendafner and Mr. Ellsworth Feeser, of Taneytown.

Drop Your 'Kerchief?' Not This Year!

oles.—Shakespeare.

THERE'S A "NEW LOOK" in handkerchiefs this year . the ones for Valentine Day are designed to be appropriate the year around. Some have hearts and flowers worked into stunning designs. Another, an Irish linen print, when folded, has a big red heart with an orchid tied at the corner. This opens to a candy box design. Others fold to the shape of a heart and open to squares with widely scalloped edges. And clever too are the ones patterned with little Valentine cards carrying sentimental sayings. The handkerchief is headed for an important part in the year's fashion picture. Give one for a gift or wrap a gift with one. Pull it into a posy effect and tie it with a fancy bow. Kiddies 'kerchiefs are just as dramatic. Gay prints feature lacy hearts and there are numerous other original ideas to catch the feminine fancy The lovely lass pictured, wears a Swiss embroidery hanky as a corsage. It's studded with a big red, red rose and backed with a lacy film.

THE ARMY AND POLITICS: "The Book of Rules sets the Army apart from politics as the funda-mental order of its being—yet the Army now senses that it is being dragged into the thick of a politi-cal struggle. It knows it has ac-quired an enemy—yet no field manual has taught it how to proceed when that enemy is a Senator. And since it is certain that the enemy will return to the attack, strange new choices of action confront it. It can surrender to the enemy; or sit quietly under the attack until erosion eats away its respect in the nation, as has happened to the State Department; or it can resist, thereby plunging it-self into politics in a way alien to all American tradition."—Theo-dore H. White

EUROPEAN DEFENSE COMMUN-ITY: "Some of the most intense op-position to EDC (in addition to the Communists)—according to one par-ticularly well-informed French government official—is inspired by industrial-ists working on contracts for the French Army who fear that they will be supplanted by German suppliers if a European army is created... Back-ing up this agitation is an important section of French heavy industry section of French heavy industry which, though not directly interested in military procurement, hopes by de-stroying EDC to attack the Schuman Plan's Coal and Steel Authority. In the last few months French big husiness has poured more than $3.5 million into the anti-EDC campaign."—Edmond Taylor

THE RECESSION IS HERE: "The nature of the decline in industrial production highlights the disservice to public understanding performed by those who coined the phrase 'rolling readjustment.' The United States is not having a rolling readjustment. It is experiencing a major decline in total employment and output." - Oscar

JIM CONKLIN was working on a horse-shoe when shots shattered the morning stillness. He dropped the shoe back into the forge and quickly stepped across to the door.

By Denny McClung

The town was again silent and he could hear the sign above his head seeming to squeak out its message: JIM CONKLIN — Blacksmith and Livery Stable. Then the rattle of shots came once more.

Puffs of gunsmoke appeared at the O - Minute bank's windows, to bequickly an-Fiction swered by firing from townspeople hidden behind barrels and watering troughs across the street.

Six horses stood at the rail in front of the bank. A deputy dashed across the dusty street in an effort to chase the outlaw's horses off, but he was quickly driven back by a fresh volley of shots from the bank. The outlaw who had been left to hold the horses was lying in a heap beside the board walk. The six horses nervously shifted from foot to foot, but they stayed almost exactly in the spot where the dead outlaw had been holding them. Evidently they were used to shooting.

A few seconds more and he had crossed the creek.

Conklin called across the street to a grizzled man who had ducked behind a loaded wagon. "Hey, Jake, who's in the bank?'

"Don't know, Jim. Just six fellers rode into town about ten minutes ago and went into the bank. First thing anybody knew about a hold-up was when Ed Ferrell, the teller, made a break for the side door. He was just barely outside when they shot him down. Looks like we got one of them, though." He jerked his head toward the outlaw lying in the street.

Suddenly five men rushed from the bank in an attempt to reach their horses. But shots from across the street caused them to dive for cover in the empty lot between the bank and Conklin's shop. Conklin noticed that one man was carrying a couple of heavily loaded saddle bags. The money from the bank, he realized. Probably part gold and the rest cash.

Conklin watched for a moment and then went toward the back of the shop in search of some weapon. He was near the rear door when he came to a sudden halt. Something was moving through the woods behind the shop! Cautiously, Conklin eased his head around the

The outlaw with the money had deserted his partners and slipped away from the vacant lot next to the bank and made it into the woods. Now he was behind Conklin's shop and headed for the small creek about a hundred yards' beyond the edge of the woods. And suddenly Conklin realized why he was headed that way. The large corral that Conklin used for his livery stable horses was back in the woods! The outlaws had planned well. They knew exactly where to find fresh horses.

Conklin rushed to the street again. The other four outlaws were pinned down by now and couldn't possibly escape. But the one with the money

Conklin crossed the shop again and quietly slipped out the back way. He could hear the outlaw some distance ahead. Conklin ran across the open space and into the woods. A few seconds more and he had crossed the creek. Not far to the corral. He would have to be cautious. Every step seemed to crackle like thunder.

Conklin was at the corral now. He peered over the low log fence. The outlaw had caught up a horse and was ready to vault to its back. But suddenly he turned and saw Conklin.

Conklin quickly stood up, defenseless. But suddenly he realized he still carried the hammer he had been using on the horse-shoe! He drew back his arm and threw the hammer, putting every ounce of strength he possessed behind it.

The outlaw's gun was coming up to level on Conklin. But he was an instant too late! The hammer caught him in the pit of the stomach and he fell to the ground with a soft moan.

Conklin slowly crossed the corral to get the outlaw's gun, knowing as he went that the man was completely unconscious from the hammer's blow.

Opinions of operators showed a definite acceptance of LP-Gas with all the operators pleased with their experience, and none showing dissatisfaction or indecision It is felt that "know how" and utilization of the many advantages of LP-Gas accounts motor fuel. Elimination of exhaust odors, sludge and crank-case dilution, fewer overhauls, less driver fatigue, and a generally lower cost of LP-Gas per gallon, all contributed to the growing popularity of this motor fuel. The 411 LP-Gas busses on order for 1954 indicates the industry will have over 2,000 busses operating at the close of 1954.

The Chicago Transit Authority registered again as the biggest user of LP-Gas busses, with 675 busses in operation, and an additional 276 on order in 1954."

Here Lies Israel

Lesson for June 27, 1954

IN THE graveyard of nations there lie many whose very names are strange to us. But among all the unfamiliar names -Phus, Lydia, Elam and many another-there is one we all know: Israel. It was a going nation for about 200 years. Seen through the eyes of other nations

it was "small potatoes" as we know from inscriptions which have been dug up in recent years by the archaeologists' spades; it covered no more of the earth's surface than New Jersey does. But in its Dr. Foreman own eyes it was important; what nation is not? When Israel was just a little older than the United States is now, it crashed to nothing, and since that time has been only an unfragrant memory, a dead nation. The writer of II Kings 17 wrote its obituary.

The Nation Forgot God What killed Israel? The nation did not die of old age, for 200 years is not a very long time for a nation to exist and prosper. Something killed that country. It might be said that it committed suicide—but what was the name of the poison which it swallowed? In one word, it was sin. But that does not tell us much. It is like giving "disease" on a death certificate as the cause of death. What disease? What sins? Looking over the record as II Kings 17 sums it up, we can see that serious sin which was the root of most others: forgetting God. The nation forgot what God had done for them in times past; they forgot that he is a God of righteousness, they supposed he did not specially care what they did so long as their tithes were paid up and they had a good record of attendance at public worship. They had reminders of "God" all over the place, but these were idols, images of beasts. They used the word "God" without realizing either the goodness, the greatness or the holiness of the only true

Can God Be Despised?

High-lighted in the sad obituary of a dead-and-gone nation is the fact that as a nation they despised the law of God. How is it possible the Almighty? and individuals show their real contempt for God by paying no attention to what he has said. Millions of people in America today act just as if the Ten Commandments (for example) were only a set of by-laws for fanatical churchmen, or-worse still-as if they were an out-dated set of rules from a primitive civilization. To judge from what you may read in any newspaper, would the Man from Mars suppose that Americans, as a people, are living by any Law of Love? If all the church members in our country were practicing Christians, would this country be what it is? A nation's sins both by the actual sins of the sinful and by the consent of those who know better but do nothing about it. Now you can despise God and his laws for a while; but his laws are not arbitrary, they are not like basketball rules that can be changed every season. The roads that lead away from God and his laws may be wide, but they are short. They come to a very dead end. It is possible to despise God; but it is not

Paradox and Parallel

A nation can be simply peppered with religion and yet lose the salt of morality. In ancient Israel the name of God was everywhere; religious observances were going on "under every green tree" as the prophets said. But the more religion they had, the less morality. Israel died of a kind of moral dryrot, in the midst of shrines without number. Dr. H. P. Van Dusen has recently made thinking Christians sit up and take startled notice with these two sets of facts. On the one hand, since World War II church membership has increased till today it is at an alltime high. Church attendance is also at an all-time high. Religious reading is popular. Young people are interested in religion more than for years past. But on the other hand; alcoholism has increased enormously; divorce has shot up; juvenile delinquency has multiplied; drug addiction has increased; sexual morality is sinking to a lower level. Can it be that in America as in Israel we fail to gear our religion into our behavior? Can it be that perhaps for all our "religion" we really have made an idol of the Dollar? OUR DAILY BREAD

As to substance bread is of two kinds—material and spiritual. As to existence one is temporal, the other eternal. Each has a purpose to sustain life, the one, life of the body, the other, life of the soul. Much time and effort are given to providing sus-tenance for the physical life. So much thought and consecration should be given toward furnishing bread for the spiritual life.

"Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which en-dures to eternal life". (John 6:27, RSV). Here the author means do not give so much thought and time and effort to getting food for the body that one practically neglects to make any provision for the nourishment of the spiritual life—for one's soul. Wisdom invites her children to the spirtitual feast.

Prayer, Bible study, Observance of the Lord's Supper, worship and devotion, and Christian fellowship, strengthen and refresh and sustain the soul of man. These ministrations recognize Christ who said: "I am the bread of life", John 6:35.

Spiritual bread affords abiding nourishment. This bread is not a luxury, but a necessity. It brings satisfaction. This is because that he who eats thereof identifies himself with Christ. The better life does not find its sustaining qualities in the com-modities which one can purchase at the grocery store, but in ideas, ideals, hopes, dedication, and assurances. These are the vitamins received by eating the Bread of Life. We must have earthly bread, but heavenly bread is equally necessary. The latter kind of bread upholds one under life's perplexities. Great men and women have not eaten earthly bread alone. They also have to have ideas, ideals, a sense of spiritual values, purposes, and goals. They must have something more than material bread to keep the heart warm, the determination strong, and the purpose fixed.
"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."—Matt. 4:4.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Approximately twenty-five delegates and interested persons from the Taneytown area are preparing to attend a Watchtower district assembly of Jehovah's Witneses in Richmond, Virginia, June 24-27.

Mr. George Myers, congregational supervisor described the assemble as a "huge-scale four-day seminar of Bible discourses, forums and drama-tized discussions designed both for public consumption and for the training and advancement of public ministry of Jehovah's Witnesses".

"The local Bible educational work of our ministers will expand considerably as a result of the instructions and training we are going to receive at Richmond", Mr. Myers said. An official estimate of 10,000 people are expected at the assembly, he an-Featured on the program will be officials from the New York World headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses.

In 1953 Jehovah's Witnesses from this area attended the Watchtower World Assembly in New York where 165,000 people from nearly 100 countries gathered for eight days. Although the costs of running a farm have come down a little, there's been no let-up in the cost of living. Prices paid for items bought by farm families for living in February were 2% above a year ago and only a trifle below the highest point ever reached.

It was a very hot day in a small town. The bank inspector, walking into the bank, was quite surprised to find no one on duty. Peering into the cashier's office he spied two officials and the two clerks playing cards. De-termined to teach them a lesson, the inspector tripped the burglar alarm and ducked into a vacant office. Hardly had the clang of the alarm died away when the doors of the tavern next door popped open.

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.
