LETTER TO THE EDITOR

During National Newspaper Week, the Carroll County Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to send sincere thanks and appreciation for your cooperation in publishing of our news items the past year. Your prompt printing of our accomplishments from time to time has kept the reading public aware of the current activities of their chapter. There are more than 6000 members in Carroll County and approximately 600 volunteers inter-ested. Completion of courses offered in Home Care of the Sick, First Aid and Swimming Instruction are worthy of publication, as well as coordination of the chapter's leaders with Civil De-fense leaders. The production committee is always on the job with comfort and health items for hospitalized veterans. The gray ladies continue to erans. The gray hades continue to serve, without remuneration, every week. To mention just some of the things being done constantly, how-ever, unless the newspapers through the medium of the press would print these items of interest, many of our activities would go unpetied. Accin activities would go unnoticed. Again thanks to The Carroll Record for your cooperative spirit.

LOCAL NEWSPAPER: THE HEARTBEAT OF THE HOME FOLKS

The hopes and fears and aspirations of us and our friends-these, by the simplest law of nature-concern us most. The daily record of our community is close to the top of things that matter.

In all our towns we Americans have our "Sox" and our "Tigers". We have that crashing halfback down the street. He's added up so many touchdowns the rest of America is beginning to talk about him. We have our clubs and our Community Chests and that "old gang of mine" that meets at the corner. We have that amazing new preacher with his cutting edge of eloquence. We have our schools. And we have your boy who has just gone to the army.

Oh, we have so many lovable, splendid things that the American hometown newspaper has woven into the durable fabric of civic pride! Clothed in that fabric as in armor your newspaper goes forth to battle for clean government in the city hall, for abler judges in the courthouse-always to fight for the good.

Newspapers raise uncounted millions of dollars each year for those who need it most. They may be caring for disaster victims or substituting for Santa Claus at tens of thousands of homes come Christmas; or they may be buying milk for the baby, braces for a crippled boy, a wheel chair for an amputee, records for a weterans' hospital. The list is endless.

Newspapers organize safety campaigns, teach driving, finance traffic lies, sponsor health forums, give swimming lessons, pay for summer camping, promote soil and forest conservation, own experimental farms, start knot-hole gangs for pint-size boys, and horseshoe tournaments for their grandfathers. Minnie Tuttle was married yesterday. The hometown paper cheerfully set aside three-quarters of a column to tell the folks. Minnie Tuttle topped the glamorous of Hollywood in the wealth of her publicity, it was her day. It's everyman's day and everywoman's day in the home-town paper.

THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND

The days of our years-they are all there. Life without its daily local record would be too dull for living.

All of this is to say: There is no form of communication in America in which the medium and the people are so closely-so affectionately-intterrelated. Your local newspaper tells your story. It is the source of your news; it is the faithful, dependable purchasing guide for you and your community. In its lines are the heartbeats of the home folks .--- By Grove Patterson, Editor, Toledo Blade.

It's America's largest selling V-8!

Four out of five V-8's on the road today are V-8 Fords! Ford introduced the V-8 engine to the low-price field more than 22 years ago . . . and is still the only car in its field to offer the smoothness and responsiveness of V-8 power. Add to this Ford's long, low silhouette, its clean, modern styling and its colorful, smartly-trimmed interiors, and it's easy to see why Ford is America's most popular V-8 car.

There's no engine so modern!

Ford's Y-block V-8 has an extra-deep block that extends below the crankshaft for more rigid support, longer engine life. New short-stroke design, turbo-wedge combustion chambers, free-turning overhead valves and exclusive Automatic Power Pilot squeeze the last ounce of power from every drop of gas! With 130-horsepower, Ford's Y-block V-8 is the smoothest, most responsive engine in Ford's field!

There's no V-8 priced so low!

Only Ford offers a V-8 in the lowprice field! And no car near its price gives you Ball-Joint Suspension . . . for smooth riding and easier handling. Only Ford in its field, gives you Full-Circle Visibility . . . the most windshield area . . . the most rear window area . . . the most total glass area! And, with many other exclusives such as suspended pedals and Center-Fill Fueling, Ford is America's best buy!

We once had a queen of a cat, a persian, and the only place she would sleep was on the bed in the guest room. At one time we actually had 25 cats on the farm. That was the time when our offspring collected cats instead of antique pitchers. But not everyone likes cats and certainly there are cats that despise the human race. The old superstitution that cats have nine lives is untrue for they easily fall prey to certain diseases and the ones that live around the barn are always meeting with an ac-cident. But though they may not have nine lives, the life they live belongs strictly to them, for man has never been able to master the cat family. FEESERSBURG

Two weeks ago we commented in this column on the Union Bridge Vol-unteer Ambulance Service. We suggested at the time that a charge be made for the use of the Ambu-lance and a check be made on calls so that the Ambulance would be used only for emergencies. We are more than happy this week to be able to tell the readers some things about the service which may erase some of the Ambulance. The reason there is no fixed charge for the use of the Union Bridge Ambulance is because this service is classified as "Volunteer", and as such receives from the County a sum of five hundred dollars per year. If there was a charge, no fimancial help would be forthcoming from the County. Those who drive the Ambulance volunteer their service, too, and if a charge was made for the Ambulance it would follow that the drivers also would have to be paid. Since "Volunteer Service" is service with a heart, and generally the best kind of service one can re-ceive anywhere, it is believed by many that no advantage to the community would be gained by placing the ambulance under any other set up. It must be emphasized, however, that althought the Ambulance service is "Volunteer" and will remain so, those who make use of it should realize that they have an obligation to the community, too. A trip to Baltimore should be worth a ten dollar contribution from those that can afford it, and a trip to Frederick, five dollars. Most everyone today five dollars. Most everyone today carries Hospital insurance and I believe all policies allow from ten to twenty dollars for an Ambulance. Anyone using the Ambulance, having

God Has the Answers

There is one point Job reaches in his final faith, which was not in his first faith. For the story of Job is about a man who began with a faith which was real but untested. and came through storm and stress to a better faith, better because wiser, better because tested in the tempest. He began with believing that God ought to explain to him all that God was doing. He ends with a faith that has given up that claim. God does not answer him and yet he is satisfied. How could this be? It is clear that Job did not think that God is puzzled by his own universe. God's wisdom is infinite. Job believed that the universe "makes sense" to God, since it is His. The change in Job's thinking was just here: At first he thought God ought to tell us what he knows. At the last Job realizes that God does not have to tell us all he knows, and will not.

God Is the Answer

Nevertheless Job's cry for light did not go without response. For he learned that in every darkness God is the light. God himself is the answer. He learned that the right question to ask in the presence of life's tragedies is not always "Why is this?" but rather, "How may I meet it?" Explaining life is less vital than bravely bearing life. In a storm at sea the passengers and even the crew may be in greatest distress. They may not know where the storm came from, nor how much of the ocean is swept by it, they may have no notion of where land is; but they do not mob the bridge demanding a weather map and a lecture on meteorology. They have confidence in the captain. An ounce of confidence is worth a ton of explanations. So it is on the voyage of life. We are all passengers across an unplumbed sea, whose winds we cannot chart and whose storms are not made to our order. But Godis the Captain. Knowing he is near, we are content to ask fewer questions.
