"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your . Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's grea.est wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

They say (as far back as I can remember) "In the spring a young man's fancy turns to love". Well, one would not have thought that either about the young, middle aged or eld-erly man if you had visited the won-derful "Boat Show" down in the Armory in Baltimore last week. Those gentlemen and (I noticed there were dozens) appeared as happy and enthusiastic as a boy with a grand toy. They all wore smiles from ear to ear and it surely did cause Your Observer to smile, too.

Never have I seen so many boats in or out of the water as at that Show and they were all types and beautiful. There was the Outboard Motor Boat with which any one would be fascin-ated. One could picture it flashing along at planing speeds or loafing over a favorite fishing hole at a slow over a favorite fishing hole at a slow troll. Those boats are made in Cockeysville, Md., and called "The Whirlwind". They were so complete in every detail. They build them in models called "The Fisherman" "Utility", "Standard", and "De Luxe". They range in price from $280.00 to $610.00

Of course, there were very few women viewing the Show and only those who were real interested were there. Many women have an idea that it is a waste of money to purchase any type of a boat but my advice is "if that man in your life desires such a sport go along with him even if you are not too enthusiastic yourself". It will now him dividends and even man will pay big dividends and every man or woman should have a hobby which is thoroughly enjoyed. You may think that beating is only for the summer—that is a mistaken idea for it means just five months of the year starting with the month of May through October and longer if you like. Then there is the Penn- Reel—for real pleasure which is fully guaranteed which is of a fine mechanism, precision-built of the best materials and expertly assembled by skilled craftsmen to give many years of de-pendable performance. They are man-ufactured in Philadelphia.

There is the "King's Cruiser" that is Sail 'n everything called Ab Telfa—Gothenburg, Sweden. That was a dream! The Sails can be taken down of course and used as a Cabin Cruiser. All types of Motors were right there at the show and I never saw so many parts mechanically. You can purchase any size boat you prefer. I heard one individual say that he liked the "Boat Show" much more so than the "Auto Show". There was the unfinished Cruiser for $645 by the Hakey Boat Co., built by a company called, "Noland's" on the Pulaski Highway, 5501 is the correct number. That was a "Jim Dandy" in my estimation especially if you have a "Handy" man around your house. To complete it would mean painting, bunks, seats and bulkheads. I recall one which I had built of all it was a Hull" which meant no matter how it rocked it would never roll over! It was 27 feet long and had a Chevrolet Motor. There were four Bunks and to be economical, I had purchased two studio couch mattresses and cut them in half shaping them to the lines of the bunks and made the four mattresses. It was in delft blue and at each Port Hole, I had made the cutest cretonne curtains to match. One night the family decided to remain over night on the Chesapeake and I am scared of any water but I did not want to be a Crepe Hanger so I went along with the rest but I kept that "Life Saver" over my arm all night, in fact, I said that I wanted to retire with the "Life Saver" restricted. with that "Life Saver" around me! I know, Gentlemen, this will bring a big laugh from all of you but that is the only thing in life I fear—the deep waters in any direction!

"The Old Town" Canoe Company also was showing their product and the nice part transportation is easily made by your automobile which you can keep at home all through the winter without paying any rent for space on the shore. "Old Town from Maine" has all types of boats and they are built beautifully. "Skipper Jr." is a fine strong, heavy duty trailer which can be attached to your car for carrying the heavy boat. There is no lifting when you load your boat or launch it. There truly is every kind of an improvement for the boats of today.

Chrysler Motor showed the very first Motor built for a boat and then today's improvement of America's No. 1 Marine Engine. The crowd was right there with the "Oh's" and "Ah's". Then, there was the New Kit—15 Fett. B. B "Relaxer" completely finished one-piece Fiberglas Hull with Molded-in colors for the price of $595 by the Beetle Boat Company, Inc., New Bedford, Mass. The prices run up to $849.95. The nice part and the grand guarantee is "Use your the grand guarantee is "Use your "BB" for 60 days and if not completely satisfied your money will be refunded promptly upon the return of boat, prepaid". That slogan makes anyone interested and creates confidence immediately.

The "Tommy Tucker" was shown there which was the Racer which Mrs. Foulkes of Essex used in 1953 in Florida in Sargana going 120 Miles Per Hour. See you next week, Folks, have a grand week end and if you can't get away from your business for a long vacation why not purchase a boat for the entire family and enjoy that grand Bay in this wonderful State of Maryland. I am,

Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER.

You can say that again. Man I was slated for the chopping block before I got Avi-Tab in the feed. Avi-Tab is called "first aid to poultry" because it helps birds during periods of stress. Hens slowed by "layer fatigue," chicks being vaccinated, pullets being moved to the laying house, birds recovering from disease—all benefit from Avi-Tab. It's an appetizer that helps build up a chicken. Try Avi-Tab when your birds encounter stress conditions.

FEESERSBURG (A Voice From Carroll)

The gardens of the Historical Society home in Westminster will undergo this summer a beauty treatment which will, when finished, bring a great deal of pleasure to all citizens nterested in the Society and put a feather in the hats of the women members of the Carroll Garden Club, who are sponsoring the project. The project itself is no small undertaking and the Garden Club's members will welcome all public support both in the form of moral and monetary gestures. The task of carrying out the Garden Club's plan has been given o Mr. Donofrio, landscape artist of West ninster, who has promised to contribute his talent on a non-profit basis. It is hoped that many indivi-dual Carroll Countians will be inter-ested enough in the restoration of he gardens to contribute funds for the trees, shrubs, and grass. As the Historical Home really belongs to all citizens of our county, it would be shown a fine civic pride if every 'amily would contribute just a mite and make the beautifying treatment of the gardens a real county affair. A large framed copy of the plans will be on display at the Historical House and anyone interested may visit the house and see them. -INCOME TAX FACTS No. 4-Get All Exemptions for Yourself and Dependents

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

Many taxpayers cheat themselves on their personal exemptions. Of course, there are others who get into trouble by claiming too many exemptions — like the cowboy who claimed an exemption for his horse because he loved him like a brother.

The rules for a taxpayer's own exemptions are the same this year as last year, but the new tax law has made it easier to get exemptions for dependents.

Your Own Exemptions Here's how to count your exemptions (each one takes $600 off your taxable income): One exemption for yourself, two if you are 65 or over, two if you are blind, three if you are both 65 and blind. The same applies to your husband or wife. If your husband or wife died dur-ing 1954 you can file a joint return claiming the exemptions including those for age or blindness, to which the deceased would have been entitled at the time of death.

Exemptions for Dependents

One exemption of $600 can be taken for each person who fits the definition of a dependent. This $600 is not doubled for age or blindness, the couple's gross income exceeds support. If a group of the couple's gross income exceeds The dependent may also qualify even though no one person support. If a group of persons who would otherwise be able to claim the dependent con-tributed more than half, any member of the group who contributed at least 10% may claim the dependent if all others who contributed 10% or more have signed a declaration that they will not claim the deduction.) dends and Retirement Income.

3. Not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife).

4. Be either a citizen of the U. S. or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama, or (in some cases) the Philippines.

5. Live with you (absence while attending school does not inter-fere) or be a close relative as defined in the tax instructions or be a cousin receiving institu-tional care for a mental or physical disability who lived with you before going to the in-

Children and Disabled Dependents Don't forget that a baby born any-time up to midnight December 31 counts as a full exemption.

A new feature this year is a deduction of as much as $600 for care of a dependent while the bread-winner is working. This deduction is available to mothers, widowers, as in the case of your personal exemption.

To count for an exemption, the flependent must:

As available to mothers, widowers, divorced and legally separated persons, who are allowed to deduct expenses up to $600 for the care of a son, daughter, stepson or stepependent must:

1. Have less than $600 gross income for 1954 (except that under the new law this does not leave of the care of the second for the seco

2. Have received more than half his support from you. (New Law:

Punch For St. Patrick's Day

Whether we can lay claim to an Irish heritage or no, many of us like to give a nod to St. Patrick's Day with at least one touch of green. So we turn to the green of flowers for our theme and blend them cleverly into a party bowl of fruit punch. For this you will need only the simplest of equipment — your favorite mold and the refrigerator refrigerator.

First, tie 3 or 4 flowers together. For St. Patrick's Day use green tinted carnations. Pour ¼ inch cold water into mold and place flowers in mold, upside down. Cut stems level with edge of mold. Fill mold with cold water and cover with plate to hold flowers in place but not quite touching bottom. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator overnight or for several hours. Just before serving punch, remove by running cold water over mold and you have a beautiful centerpiece for your punch bowl. Our punch recipe for your party comes from the Test Kitchens of Minute Maid Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice.

FRESH-FROZEN PUNCH

1 can (12 oz.) Minute Maid Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice 2 quarts ginger ale (undiluted) 1 can Minute Maid Fresh-Frozen Grapefruit Sections

Blend fresh-frozen orange juice with ginger ale. Pour into punch bowl. Add fresh-frozen (or canned) grapefruit sections. Place flower-filled mold, in center of punch to chill before serving.

You can swing this beauty for ID you think you couldn't afford the price of a new 1955 Buick?

You certainly can - if you can afford any new car. And we proudly show our price here to prove it.

For the delivered price of the Buick Special Sedan shown here is sharply competitive with those of the three best-known smaller cars-lower, in fact, than some models of those same cars.

Buick Sales Are Soaring

That's one big reason why Buick production and Buick sales are hitting all-time record highs today-and why Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of the best-known smaller cars.

But an even bigger reason is this fact:

The price you pay for a Buick buys you a lot more automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

It buys you big-car room and size and comfort and brawn. It buys you Buick styling, Buick power, Buick handling, Buick ride steadiness - and the fun and pride and satisfaction of bossing the hottest car of the year.

And it buys you the widest choice in the industry today. For there's a Buick to fit any price range you name - the low-price Special, the high-powered Century, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

So why not come in and see how easy it is to swing the Buick beauty you've got your heart set on? Then you'll see why the thrill of the year is Buick in a lot more ways

DID YOU KNOW-

-that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase? -that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three best-known smaller cars?

-that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

How to Pray

Lesson for March 13, 1955

PRAYER is contact. It is contact between man and God. It is contact of the finite with the Infinite. A Christian, a real Christian, who does not pray, is as absurd and impossible a figure as an athlete who never leaves his bed, a student without a brain, a human being who never eats. Not to pray is to lose contact with the living God. "Prayer is the Christian's vital breath" as the old hymn says.

All Christians Dr. Foreman know this but many feel puzzled about it all the same. Our prayers seem feeble and useless and we may even be tempted to give them up entirely; but many who give up praying would keep on if they only knew how.

There is so much in the New Testament about prayer, that a person may well read it through with this one question in mind. Let any reader who wants to try this, start out with a good translation of the New Testament (the R. S. V. for instance or some other modern and readable version) and a blank notebook. In each day's reading notice every reference to prayer-who prayed, why, how, what the result was; or what is said about prayer (as for instance by Jesus and Paul). Some points, it will be found, come out over and over again. Others may be touched on rarely. But few days will go by without the reader finding something that can be jotted down in the notebook, which may have for a title: What I Have Learned About Prayer from the New Testament. One thing will certainly come out from the first: Prayer is something God expects sorts of things that scare you away from prayer-your own insignificance, God's greatness, the strong possibility that you may not know what is really best for you, and so forth. But all those things were true when Jesus gave His friends those three simple commands: Ask! Seek! Knock! There are blessings that come only to those who ask. There is light to be found only by those who only to the voice of prayer. Without confidence, prayer ends before of all His children. Prayer is a privilege but i is also a duty. You can raise all the riddles about prayer you can think of-and they are many. You can think of all

In Jesus' Name

One thing Jesus said has met with much misunderstanding: "If ye ask anything in My name, I will do it." It is not right to think of this promise as attaching a magical influence to the form of words "In Jesus' name, Amen." It is not true that any prayer ending with those words is a prayer that will be answered, and any prayer not ending with those words will not be answered. That is not what Jesus meant at all. Take the story of the two prayers, the publican's and the pharisee's (Luke 18:9-14). Would the pharisee's prayer have been answered and honored if he had ended that proud petition, or rather that prayer of thanksgiving, with the words "In Jesus" name"? Of course not. If he had added such words they would have been out of place. A prayer in that holy Name is truly in the Name only when it expresses the mind of Christ, only when (so to speak) he could sign his name to it. The more nearly our prayers are like what our Lord Himself would think of, the more nearly they will come to being fully answered.

Our Lord's Prayer

The most famous prayer in the world, the one most often repeated by Christians, is the Lord's Prayer. Jesus did not intend this as a formula. A Christian who never prays except in these exact words would not have understood what Jesus taught about praying. What Jesus did mean by giving us this prayer is to show us the "manner" of prayer—that is, the lines on which true prayer must be made. The reader is encouraged to study this short but wonderful prayer again and again, as a guide to his own talks with God. One very important thought is in the very first word: "Our." If the first "How" of prayer is confidence in God, the second is harmony with the mind of Christ, and the third is suggested by this word "our"-remembering we are not alone. If any desire is selfish it is desire that God will not bless. CBased on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Released by Community Press Service.)

A PSALM OF THE HEAVENS

Psalm 19:1-6

There is nothing more beautiful in all literature than these six verses of Psalm nineteen. This portion of Scripture is exalted in thought, majestic in expression, and noble in praise. The poem was written in the days when men looked up toward the objects of heaven rather than down upon the things of earth. What one sees is what one thinks. In an early century a wise man said: "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he."

In his gaze of the heavens, the Psalmist recognizes the presence of God

The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims his handywork. Day by day pours forth speech, and night to night declares knowledge. There is no speech, nor are there words; their voice is not heard;

yet their voice goes out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world.

Day and night continuously pour forth their Creator's praise. Picture the glorious spectacle, and conceive the conception of the Psalmist in that far distant day and in that solitary country as he beholds the sun as it rises in the eastern horizon, journeys to the zenith of the firmament, then on to the western horizon, concealing its face in darkness until the break of a new day.

To the divinity within man, such phenomenon bespeaks of God. To the Psalmist the heavens serves as a tent for the sun, from which the sun goes forth each day like a proud, victorious bridegroom and like a strong man. In them he has set a tent for the which comes forth like a bride-groom leaving his chamber, and like a strong man runs its course with joy. Its rising is from the end of the heavens, and its circuit to the end of them; and there is nothing hid from its heat.

The beautiful hymn "The Spacious Firmament on High," written by Joseph Addison in 4712, and which is found in many hymnnals, had its origin in this section of the nineteenth Psalm of our English Bible.

These verses of the Psalm are worthy a place in your storehouse of memories.
