Then the procession moved through the town to the Sunrise Cemetery, about two miles away. There similar exercises were conducted, with the Rev. Charles E. Held offering the prayer.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT T. H. SCHOOL

Thirty-Seven Seniors Receive Diplomas

Dressed in the traditional caps and gowns, thirty seven Seniors marched up the aisle of T.H.S. auditorium Sunday evening, May 29, at 8 p. m., at the Baccalaureate services.

The professional, "Praise Ye The Father", was played and sung by the orchestra and chorus. Rev. Edmund Welker gave the invocation, after which "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" was sung by the entire congregation. After a responsive reading of Psalm 192, led by Rev. Arthur Garvin, the girls' chorus sang "I Waited For The Lord" by Mendelssohn. The scripture was read and a prayer was offered by Rev. Gideon Galambos. The mixed chorus rendered a number "Hark, The Vesper Hymn is Stealing", a Russian air. Following the sermon by Rev. Miles Reifsnnyder, the congregation joined in singing "Now The Day is Over". Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Morgan Andreas, and to close the service the chorus sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" by Lutkin.

Class Night was held on May 31, 1955 at 8 p. m.

The program was opened with a hilarious one act comedy, "Call It A Day". The setting of this play is a doctor's reception room. Mrs. Culver (Sylvia Koozts) the doctor's wife, has to give up a luncheon engagement at the last minute in order to help her husband (Wayne Baumgardner) in his office because his receptionist has been taken ill. During the afternoon which follows, many kinds of people from all walks of life come into the office. It is turned into an uproar as all patients rush and scramble to get into the doctor's office first.

After the play there was a short intermission during which time several numbers were sung by the Senior Quartet.

"The Pink Dress", a drama in one act by Donald Elser, was then presented. It deals with a high school senior, Cora (Marsha Reifsnnyder) who, like her mother blames the father (Robert Royer) for the poverty in which they live. Cora finds herself caught in a web of hatred and distrust. Ironically, it is her despised father that saves her from destroying herself.

Following the second intermission a one-act play, "Three On A Bench", which takes place on a warm day in May in the Park, was presented. As the curtain opens, two young lovers (Thelma Motter and Kenneth Crouse) are quarreling. A heavy set woman (Nancy Baker) with a Cupid's touch enters, seats her bulk on the bench, shares her lunch with the young couple, and talks constantly. She finally sends the made-up lovers on their way.

Following the plays, a Lectern was presented to the school by the Senior class in memory of Mrs. Adelaide Mac-Donald. This presentation was made by Marsha Reifsnnyder and Wayne Baumgardner.

Sylvia Koozts, Senior Class President, presented the key to the Junior Class, which was accepted by Joan Stiel, President.

The program ended with the singing of the school song and "Aloha Oe" by the Junior and Senior Classes.

Commencement exercises for the 1955 graduating class will be held this evening (Thursday), June 2, at 8 p. m. (D.S.T.) in the school auditorium. Thirty-seven members will graduate at this time.

The program for the evening will begin by the seniors marching into the auditorium to "Praise Ye The Father" by Gounod. The invocation will be offered, after which the mixed chorus will sing the response, "Two Chorals" and "Die Fledermaus" will be played by the school orchestra. Greetings will be presented by Mr. Samuel M. Jenness, Superintendent of Education in Carroll County. Dr. Basil Crapster, Assistant Professor of History of Gettysburg College will be the guest speaker. Dr. Crapster is a former student and graduate of Taneytown High.

"Integer Vitae" will be sung by the mixed chorus, followed by the awarding of the diplomas by Mr. Clyde L. Hesson, Vice-president of the Carroll County Board of Education. Awards will be presented to the outstanding pupils of this class for the following achievements: Scholastic, Commercial, Activity, Citizenship and Sports.

The program will end with the singing of "Golden Days" by the senior class, followed by the benediction and the choral response by the mixed chorus.

TOWN ELECTION

To Be Held Monday June 6th

The election of three City Councilmen will be held Monday, June 6, 1955 in the Municipal building from 1 to 6 p. m. An Amendment will also appear on the ballot for the voters' consideration. The following letter explains the amendment:

To the Editor of Carroll Record Taneytown, Md.

Dear Sir:

On July 15 of last year the writer, representing a group of investment dealers, came to Taneytown to purchase an issue of $650,000 Taneytown, Maryland Sewer bonds maturing in each of the years 1956 to 1994. Some of the bonds were subject to a tax limitation of 75 cents on each $100 of assessable basis.

We agreed to buy all of the bonds if the Mayor and City Council would use their best efforts to have legislation passed by the General Assembly which would remove this limitation insofar as taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds was concerned. This the Mayor and City Council agreed to do and they passed a resolution to this effect. The Mayor and City Council acted in good faith and presented a bill to the General Assembly which was eventually passed and signed by the Governor. However, in the meantime, the Municipal Home Rule amendment to the Maryland Constitution had been approved by the voters and makes it necessary for the voters of Taneytown to approve the action of the General Assembly at a Town election. It is my understanding that this question will be placed before the voters of your City on June 6 for their approval.

The approval of this amendment by the voters will not involve any additional cost to the users of the sewer system of Taneytown. It will simply be carrying out the agreement of the Mayor and City Council and make effective the resolution passed on July 15, 1954 when the bond issue was sold.

The investment dealers who purchased these bonds are interested in having this amendment approved because they assured the investors who purchased the bonds from them that every effort would be made to have this done in due course.

I hope that you, as editor of the town paper, will publish this letter so that the voters will realize that it is only a matter of keeping faith with the purchasers of the bonds and that the approval of this amendment, as stated above, will not add one cent to the taxes and assessments they will have to pay for the servicing of the principal and interest on the bonds.

Very truly yours,
J. CREIGHTON RIEPE,
Partner in charge of the Municipal Bond Department

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The Orange Blossom's sweet aroma (and only one vase filled) is delightful throughout the house.

I have picked the pink and white Peonies (without buds) and they are most colorful in the dining room.

Did you see the Bull (which was the most tame) on the Show of Arthur Godfrey's on Wednesday night?

And that reminds me of a Horse story told to me the other day. A riding horse was sitting down just as a dog would do and a neighbor called my friend in great alarm stating the horse must be ill. The friend did not wait to run to the gate but jumped over the fence and there sat "Barbara" gazing all around and when she heard her Mistress call her, she stood on all four! She made inquiries about this and learned that the horse was taught that as a very young colt!

And thinking of Arthur Godfrey was most surprised to get a letter from him asking me not to believe everything I read about him in the papers that he is only trying to improve his radio and TV shows. Why, Arthur, I never doubted you in the first place.

Having dinner one Saturday night that nice young Joseph Tydings arrived and sat down with a sweet young girl at our table. He introduced her and then several weeks later, I noticed the engagement was announced. That young lawyer has everything it takes to be a real political man and is really liked by everyone immediately who meets him. Betcha, he will have a real big future and in the very near future at that. He is the most sensible young man for his years I ever met.

Read where a mother of 40 years has delivered all her own babies and gets out of bed the same day! I can hear the many husbands right now! Eh?

What a grand surprise was given to me last Friday night by the three churches! A real surprise birthday party! There was a real pound cake like the wedding cakes of years ago in Philly and this was made by a Virginia lady. Ummm best yet in dear old Maryland!

Ladies, I have learned this week that an expensive seamless stocking is really worth while and gives the leg much glamor!

The most friendly jewelry store is right in Baltimore! Leon Levi is the name on Lexington Street and they do sell just about everything. It really pays to be nice to the customer and that is the reason the customers always go back. They are more reasonably priced in every article than other stores. Mr. Levi is always right out near the front to greet you as you enter and he not alone hands out cigars at Christmas time but all through the year to every man who enters. To my surprise he is now handing them to the ladies to give to the best man in their lives. Such little niceties he does, too, which pleases the customers. To give you an idea, I recently lost my watch and told Mr. Levi of the fact as I went in to purchase one. After my purchase he said, "Now, if you find your watch I will gladly take this one from you!" It's the little things that count, folks.

Now here's the sweetest story betcha you ever read or heard about. Three weeks ago an elderly gentleman called to make an engagement for the day to be married. He had the finest face anyone would ever want to look upon. I never saw any finer! He said to me, "You won't forget the date now, will you?" I replied, "No sir, I could not for that is my birthday!" Just before the wedding day, he returned to make sure that I did not forget! When the day arrived, he brought in a very elderly lady as his bride, in fact appeared older than he. After the ceremony he said so sweetly, "I have loved this lady for 60 years and I lost her! She married someone else and so did I. I am a widower and she a widow. Then I went to hunt her up and this is it!" Compare that one, folks, if you can! She was 79 and he 80.

Now, young man, if you are hesitating to "pop the question" due to no diamond ring this is especially for you! Have you ever seen a beautiful Zircon stone? For this column, I made special inquiries at that wonderful department store in Baltimore—Hochschild Kohn Co. where the customer is always right and (my favorite store) and where they have numerous styles of much beauty. The information circular of the Department of Commerce—Bureau of Mines states that the Zircon as a gem has not been as well known as it's properties warrant. A fine white or colorless Zircon has about 86% as great dispersion of light as the diamond. It's brilliance and beauty so nearly match that of the diamond that even experts have been deceived by them. Zircons are mined right with the diamond, The Kimberly Diamond Mines of South Africa! You can purchase a solid gold either in white or yellow ring with a lustrous Zircon for the small sum of $11.20! It truly is the most beautiful I have ever seen! So, Lover Boy, go right down and take your girl along. There are all prices according to size. Have a grand week end. Be careful when you drive. See you next week D.V. I am,

Faithfully,

Woodson, Jr.; Supervisor of High Schools and Assistant in Administration in Industrial Arts and Building Equipment, Gerald E. Richter; Supervisor of Elementary Schools, Ruth E. DeVore; Supervisor of Elementary Schools, Charles E. Reck; Supervisor of Cafeteria & Home Economics Education, Mrs. Josephine West; Supervisor of Music, Philip S. Gilbert; Assistant Financial Clerk, Mrs. Diana L. Hess; Stenographer and Secretary, Doris L. Bural.

The Board approved the appointment of John Pickett as custodian in the Sykesville School and gave approval for the use of the Sykesville building for a supper at the time of the annual carnival.

Bids were opened on the construction of a new facility at the Uniontown School including: a general purpose room, new heating plant, and kitchen. Bids received were as follows: General Contract: Allen F. Feeser, Taneytown, at $37,609.00; Edward E. Stuller, Taneytown, at $39,785.00; Plumbing & Heating Contract: George L. Harner, Taneytown, at $10,677.00; J. H. Allender Sons Co., Hampstead, at $11,728.00; Westminster Hdwe. Co., Westminster, at $12,700.00; Manchester Hdwe. Co., Manchester, at $9,748.00; Electrical Contract: Mid-Town Electric Co., Taneytown, at $3,935.73; Edgar J. Stem, Westminster, at $3,606.00; J. E. Shaeffer, Reisterstown, at $3,700.00; C & M Appliance Co., Union Bridge, at $5,100.00. The Board considered the serious need for these facilities at Uniontown and after consideration action was taken to accept the bids of: Allen F. Feeser for the General Contract at $37,609.00; Manchester Hdwe. Co. for the Plumbing and Heating Contract at $9,748.00; and Edgar J. Stem for the Electrical Contract at $3,606.00. It is expected that work will begin at the close of school and every effort will be made to see that this facility is completed for use at the opening of school in September.

The Board considered the prices submitted on supplying oil and coal for the schools of the county during the year 1955-56. After consideration action was taken to approve the purchase of these fuels from the various suppliers throughout the county. The superintendent was directed to issue orders as necessary.

Action was taken on several matters connected with the transportation of pupils in 1955-56.

The superintendent reported briefly to the Board regarding delay in the administration of the second series of vaccinations for polio and announced that the vaccinations would continue as soon as the Wyeth Vaccine is approved.

The Board was given information regarding the awarding of district scholarships to Western Maryland College which will be a matter of business at the June meeting.

In a motion the superintendent was directed to proceed to organize a staff for summer painting and other maintenance work in the schools of the county during the summer of 1955.

The Board also approved the necessary steps to qualify the cafeteria workers for membership in the Social Security System.

Action was taken to authorize the superintendent to take whatever steps seem necessary in connection with the distribution of pupils in the crowded districts of the county by the reassignment of pupils to other schools where circumstances may require this action.

Approval was given for the superintendent to immediately begin to secure sketches for new buildings at Mt. Airy and Westminster. Further study was authorized to reach a proper solution of the building problems in both of these areas, the Board favoring, at this time, the construction of senior high school facilities at both locations if funds can be secured. It is expected that planning will go on during the next several weeks toward the end that final plans can be prepared during the summer and contracts approved with work beginning in late summer or early fall. It is hoped that both buildings can be completed for use in the school year 1956-57.

The superintendent reported on negotiations connected with the attendance of Frederick County pupils, especially in the Mt. Airy School. This report indicated that proper study has been given through the State Department of Education and a new formula approved for use in reimbursement for capital outlay charged and current expense costs in these cases.

The Board adjourned at 12:45 P. M. to meet for another regular meeting in June.

In other respects our stores have been greatly improved within a few years, until now they are both handsomely equipped and excellently stocked, and it is difficult to find a better place anywhere to go for merchandise.

"On orders from the White House, federal agencies are getting up a list of all the jobs they do which private enterprise could do instead. The judge was giving the defendant in a divorce action a rather stern lecture over his actions in abandoning his wife. Concluding his remarks the judge said, "So I've decided to grant your wife $40 per month." "That's fine judge," the worried defendant said, brightening. "You know, I think I'll try to slip her a couple of bucks every now and then myself".

More Farm Fires Happen in Winter

Heating Systems, Sparks Chief Causes

Farm fires—which cost an estimated 3,000 lives and $142 million each year—are most likely to happen in the winter.

A survey in one mid-western state showed that although there are over 10 buildings on the average farm in the state, 64 per cent of the damage by fire is to the dwelling, and over 75 per cent of the dwelling fires were caused by fires and heating systems, or sparks on the roof, both winter hazards.

Some good winter precautions: 1. If roof is shingled, be sure shingles are in good condition and that there are spark arresters on the chimneys.

2. Keep chimneys in good condition. They should be regularly inspected, particularly at the roof line, and cleaned. Repair cracks. Entry into the attic is necessary for a thorough inspection job.

3. Keep stoves, furnaces, ranges, and fireplaces clean. Furnaces

Most of the damage done by farm fires is to dwellings. Keeping chimneys well repaired—clean and with no cracks is one way to assure flying sparks won't cause you to lose your farm home. It's also wise to keep an eye on heating system during dangerous winter months.

and wood stoves should be at least 18 inches from walls, beams or woodwork unless such are properly insulated.

4. Equip fireplaces with sturdy metal screens. 5. Portable oil heaters should be on level surface, away from furniture, draperies or other combustibles. Never fill one while it is lighted. Keep the fuel supply outdoors and refill heaters there.

When heaters are burning, keep a window or door open slightly to provide an adequate oxygen supply.

Old Dairyland Pastures Can Be Easily Improved

Some old seedings of dryland pastures will respond to mechanical treatments and save complete plowing, say research workers in agronomy.

In recent tests, treatments included ripping pastures at 5 and 8-inch depths on a 20-inch interval, plowing grass into rows about 42 inches apart, and disking. Research workers also seeded alfalfa and sweet clover into a series of plots plowed into 42-inch rows.

Results showed that western wheatgrass production would increase slightly after the disking treatment. After other treatments, production of western wheatgrass declined.

Plowing into rows and seeding legumes increased forage yields, and, except for rows seeded with sweet clover, one would expect treatments involving legume seeding to outyield mechanical treatments 19 times out of 20.

Grasses plowed into 42-inch rows and seeded with alfalfa produced 83 per cent more than the untreated area. This treatment appeared to be the best way of increasing yield of seeded pastures in low productivity.

Flower beds and pretty gardens are often mentioned here. Often some of the prettiest are not mentioned because they are located on the farms away from the main highway. On Saturday when visiting at the home of the late Mrs. Edgar Valentine, I enjoyed the many different beautiful flowers which were planted all around the inside of the lawn fence. This is the largest display I have seen in this community. Mrs. Valentine, I am told, kept up her interest in the flowers, and they gave her so much joy up until her death. I understand a motion picture was made of her and her little granddaughter, Susie, with this collection of flowers.

FEESERSBURG

Mrs. Lowell Birely, a member of the 1901 class of Western Maryland College, entertained thirty members of her class at a luncheon Saturday at Grovedale the Birely home. A color scheme of green and yellow was used for the tables set up in the dining and living rooms. The house and gardens, which have recently been done over was a riot of color with blooming flowers everywhere. A bronze vase filled with yellow rosebuds was especially beautiful. Serving as hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Paul Leister, Miss Caroline Baker, Mrs. Cleon Wolfe and Mrs. Russell Bohn. Decoration Day was bright and sparkling after the rain on Sunday. Traffic was heavy on some roads and Frederick as usual was bottle-necked on its main streets. We attended services at Mt. Olivet cemetery and twice on our way we were stopped by parades. In Walkersville the main highway was blocked until a parade passed and in Frederick traffic was delayed until one passed. No one seemed to mind as most everyone has a weakness for a drum and bugle, and a uniform. We especially took notice of a small American flag flying over every veterans grave in the cemeteries and it is fitting that this is done. The organizations responsible for this special recognition deserves our deep gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Halm and their two children of Towson were week-end guests at Merry Knoll Farm. Mr. Halm went trout fishing on Monday at Thurmont and landed two. But he said they are fed too good as they aren't hungry enough to snap at a fly. Maybe they are just too smart.

Someone sent me a suggestion which I tried and liked so well that I am passing it on to you. Try using cocoa to flour your chocolate cake pans after you have greased them. It gives the cake a rich color and, needs only a topping of whipped cream to make a tempting dessert. Wonderful if you are pressed for time.

We can't remember how many years week have written this column nor how many messages we have received for and against it. There have been quite a few and we have enjoyed all of them. A good reporter writes in such a style that the reader understands exactly what the writer is intending to say. Words are tricky things for often one word has several meanings. So it goes with "figures of speech"—an implemet used by everyone to score a point. Several weeks ago there appeared in this column a paragraph about the DAR, which has caused quite a furor because we used the term "illegitimacy." This word was used as a figure of speech and we are sure that most of the readers understood it that way. It certainly wasn't used to reflect upon anyone's personal birth, since the aim of this column is to entertain and inform... and not to hurt anyone's feelings or pride. We do think that the DAR needs to develop a little humor and the ability to laugh at itself once in awhile. Lots of other people do. While the DAR thinks I was too harsh with my opinion some of the prominent women of Carroll think that what I wrote was "Priceless." To be honest, we must confess that the members of the DAR as individuals are fine, civic minded leaders in their community. It is only when they get together at a convention in Washington with the spotlight turned on them that they change into a reactionary organization. This is not to be construed as criticism. It is only a sad reflection on the metamorphosis that overtakes most of us when we are subjected to the limelight.

In one of the states campaigning against trash-dumping along highways, a sheriff traced a trash-dumper through an un-opened letter found in the rubbish. The offender was arrested and fined. Asked what the un-opened envelope contained he admitted it was an unpaid bill from a trash-hauling company.

Did you hear about the farmer's wife who was being asked some questions by an interviewer? When asked what make of garbage disposal unit she used her answer was: "Poland China."

While on an outing to Hershey on Saturday with her son Douglas, Mrs. Claude Bohn had the nerve splitting experience of seeing her pocket book go overboard into one of the small lakes. She told her story to one of the managers who said she had one chance in a million of ever seeing it again.

However, the water in the small lakes empty out into screened spillway and Mrs. Bohn being lucky did recover her pocketbook which contained her driving license and a considerable amount of money. A happy ending to a tense emotional experience.

Children's Day Services will be held at Mt. Union Church this coming Sunday at 11 a. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. On Monday evening at 7 p. m. the Missionary Society will hold its annual covered dish supper in the parish house. Members are urged to bring a guest.

June is the month for graduates and brides. A few graduates will take off their cap and gown and step right into a bridal dress and veil. Marrying young seems to be the modern trend and we wonder why. For there seems to be golden opportunities for everyone to try a career before taking on the responsibility of a home and children. However, there is a growing feeling among girls that there isn't enough males to go around and marrying young is the only way of being sure of getting a husband. Boys don't have to worry about not enough girls for the ratio is about two to one in their favor. Maybe in the not too distant future girls will assume the same attitude about marriage as their brothers do. That it is something for old age and should be avoided until one is about thirty.

The main thing that is wrong with the younger generation is that too many of us don't belong to it anymore.—Ruth Roelke.

F. NEAL PARKE

Francis Neal Parke, a judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals from 1924 to 1941, died in Baltimore last night, (Wednesday) at the University Hospital. He was 84.

Judge Parke had been seriously ill since he suffered a heart attack three weeks ago at his home in Westminster. He had been in the hospital in Baltimore since that time.

He served on the Court of Appeals when judges on that appellate bench also sat as trial judges in the circuits. As a member of the Bond Commission, he dissented from that group's recommendation which established the Court of Appeals as it now exists—comprised of full-time appellate judges with no trial-court duties.

He was appointed chief judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit—which gave him a position on the appeals court—by Governor Ritchie in May, 1924. He retired in 1941 after reaching 70, the constitutional age limit for jurists in Maryland.

While sitting as a trial judge in Carroll county in 1925, he upheld a State statute, which had been on the books for 30 years but never challenged, giving an editor or reporter of a newspaper the right to refuse disclosure of their sources of information.

Judge Parke, a bachelor, had spent his entire life in Westminster, Carroll county, where he was born on January 6, 1871.

He was president of the Maryland Bar Association in 1924 and 1925, served for a time on the State Board of Law Examiners and was a member of the Commission on Governmental Efficiency and Economy, the commission set up to deal with problems of the courts and the laws.

After his retirement from the bench, he returned to the private practice of law in Westminster.

He was the son of George Parke, who was registrar of wills in Carroll county. He was educated in the public schools at Westminster, at Western Maryland College and at West Point, which he left after two years because of ill health.

He is survived by a brother, George Joseph Parke, of Norfolk, Va.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in St. John

"BLOCK THAT SNEEZE"
The sneeze of a person who has a cold, or has one "coming on", can infect a whole room full of people.
A sneeze, unless blocked with a handkerchief, will shoot droplets loaded with cold virus and traveling at 150 feet a second. When the droplets evaporate, they release the infection agents.
So—Block That Sneeze!

JEST JOKIN'
The prospect proved most exacting and the foreign-car salesman was growing impatient.

"Definitely" was the reply. "You see, I know the man who shot that crocodile."
"It looks rather scuffed in this spot," remarked the customer.
"Well, yes," replied the salesman, "that's where the animal struck the ground when it fell out of the tree."

HISTORY OF HARNEY

PART IV

First Public School

Prior to this time (1887) we had no public school in this place; our children were compelled to walk to Piney Creek, and, in the winter, when the roads were bad, many of them had to stay at home; thus the education of many young people was sadly neglected. During this year an effort was made, and a public school started in a room above S. S. Shoemaker's store and Mr. J. A. Angell was appointed as teacher. The school was kept in this room for several years, until Mr. Shoemaker built an agricultural warehouse, and finished the second story for a school room, and H. O. Harner has been employed as teacher for several years; the school generally numbers from 40 to 45 pupils.

Building, Business, Fire, Etc.

In 1888, James Eckenrode built the Union Hotel. He conducted the business for some years, when the property went into the hands of its present owner, Mr. T. H. Eckenrode. Since that time the property has been rented. During this year J. V. Eckenrode built a frame house on Emmitsburg street, and fitted it up for a cigar factory. In the fall of 1887, a factory had been started in J. W. Hess's summer house, by J. V. Eckenrode and Jacob Newcomer, with William Yealy as foreman. In the Spring of 1888, Mr. Newcomer, bought Mr. Hess's property, moved to town, and as soon as the new building was completed the factory was moved and the business conducted by the firm of Eckenrode & Newcomer. At one time they employed about 45 cigarmakers, and the business was flourishing.

In 1889 George Kemper and Daniel Hess each built new houses on Littlestown street. In the fall of 1890, the firm of Eckenrode & Newcomer was dissolved, and the factory has since been run by Eckenrode. During this year the Lutheran church was built, a full account of which will be given in our history of the churches, and Mr. Eckenrode built a double house on Emmitsburg street, adjoining his cigar factory. These houses have been rented to different parties ever since.

In the Spring of 1891 Mr. Newcomer started a cigar factory in Andrew Degroff's building, which had been previously occupied by G. W. Myers, jeweler. On May 15th, 1891, a castle of the Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain was instituted in the room over Newcomer's Cigar Factory. Soon this Order began to grow, and the room became too small. Mr. S. S. Shoemaker then put up a building on Littlestown street; he fitted up one of the lower rooms for H. A. Heck's boot, shoe and harness factory, and the other for J. W. Reck's barber shop, and reserved one room for his own use; this room, however, he has since rented to J. Newcomer for his cigar factory. The entire upper part was fitted up for a lodge room which has been handsomely furnished and occupied by the Order ever since.

In February of this year, Daniel Good's barn caught fire one morning, and was entirely destroyed. How the building caught was unknown; this caused great excitement for a short time, but as it was pouring down rain at the time, and the wind was coming from the south, no other property was in any particular danger. In 1892, John A. Bishop, bought a lot on Littlestown street, from J. W. Slaughter, and built a new house. Grier Shoemaker also built a very large, as well as one of the most handsome houses in the community, just at the edge of town, on a tract of land bought off of the Peter Sell farm.

In January of this year Andrew Degroff's large machine shed, just back of the U. B. church, caught fire one evening about 9 o'clock, and was destroyed, with its entire contents, which consisted of two steam threshers, one clover seed huller, and many other articles, besides a full set of farming implements. The origin of this fire is unknown, this time a portion of the town was greatly in danger, and it was only through the earnest efforts of the citizens that no further damage was done.

In 1894, S. S. Shoemaker sold out his store to W. A. Snider, who is at present conducting the business. Henry Kemper also built a new house on Littlestown street, near the square. In the early part of the present year, 1895, John T. Ohler built an addition to his house on Emmitsburg street and weather-boarded the old part, finishing up with several coats of paint, making a decided improvement to his property.

We will now leave the town for a short time, and go to the west about a quarter of a mile; we find ourselves on the bank of the Monocacy, perched upon the summit of what is known as "Red Rock"; this cliff of rocks rises to the height of nearly one hundred feet from the waters edge. From this point we desire to view the western section of the community. We see in the distance the famous Blue Ridge mountains extending north and south for many miles, and as we come nearer, we see the country decked with beautiful farms and magnificent forests.

A FAMOUS OLD HOUSE

We look again and we see the bright sparkling waters of Marsh Creek come slowly rippling down, amid rocky cliffs, through green meadows and shady forests; across this stream several miles above its mouth, we see just at the foot of Harper's hill, the natural dam, which is a ledge of rock 15 or 20 feet high, extending from one bank of the stream to the other, thus forming a complete dam. The waters from this place were used many years ago, to run an old mill which stood a short distance below. We come on down past several fine farms until within about half a mile from the mouth of the stream, and we observe an old brick house standing upon its right bank, which was built in 1793, some say by a man by the name of Stewart, but we are inclined to believe this to be only supposition.

This house stands exactly on the Mason and Dixon line, one half in Pennsylvania, and the other in Maryland, with a line running through a large hall passing through the center of the house. Upon asking why the house was built that way, we are told that the builder was a slave owner, and, desiring to keep his slaves to work on his farm which lies principally in Pennsylvania, he built the house so he could keep his slaves on the Maryland side. Later on a man by the name of Patterson may have owned the property, and finally it was bought by William Walker, but, so far as we can learn, Mr. Walker never lived on the farm, but we are told that for many years he kept one room furnished on the Pennsylvania side, but why this was done we have not been able to learn.

While he owned the property it was rented to quite a number of different parties, among the first was a family by the name of Patterson. Mrs. Patterson, we are told, was a very cruel woman; it is said that they had taken a small boy to raise and that they almost starved him, and when he was so weak that he could not work, the woman caught him and run a flesh fork through his ear, and pinned him down to the floor, and beat him shamefully, then shut him up in an old shed, where he died shortly afterwards. A post-mortem was held, and the stomach cut open and found to be entirely empty; the woman was given a trial at Gettysburg, and cleared, but it is supposed that money is all that saved her. This did not clear her in the minds of the people and she has hung in effigy to a large oak tree near Piney Creek Church, thus plainly showing the opinion of the people. This, of course, was long before lynching became so popular.

After this, the farm was rented to Stultz, Spangler, Shriner, Sando, Lightner, and perhaps others, whose names we have not learned; finally, however, the property came into the possession of Joseph Witherow, who lived there until his death, which occurred in 1890. Since that time the property has been in the possession of his heirs. Six years ago Mr. Witherow had a new roof put in the house; the first roof was of shaved cypress shingles, and had been on the house for 96 years. This family seems to be a rather unfortunate people; Mr. Joseph Witherow had a leg broken; his son John, also a leg broken; Washington was kicked by a horse; Mrs. Lydia Witherow and her grandson were both nearly killed from being kicked by a horse; a few years ago, Wm. Witherow's house was burned, and lastly, Miss Emma Witherow narrowly escaped with her life, by the horses running off with the binder while cutting the harvest this year.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: Enclosed you will find $2.00 to cover subscription to The Carroll Record for my present subscribing year which has nearly run its course and for another year.

It is with pleasure and considerable interest that I read the Carroll Record from front to back. This is especially so, now that my visits to Taneytown are so infrequent.

It is difficult for me to imagine anyone not subscribing to The Carroll Record who has lived in Taneytown for any length of time. Of course, there is the money consideration, but it is comparatively infinitesimal.

Very sincerely yours,
JAMES C. ELLIOT

April 14, 1955 Liverdem, France To the Editor:

Just a few lines of appreciation and to thank you for sending so regular to us the Carroll Record, while we are completing a tour of duty in Europe. It has kept us up on home news and events, and we certainly look forward to it each week. Thank you ever so much. We remain,
M/Sgt. & MRS. CALVIN S. POWELL and FAMILY.

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: Just a line to commend you highly for the grass roots opinions which you put in the paper. I never fail to read them.

The one about the comic books from the Christian Science Monitor was exactly what I have been thinking for the last month or so.

Best regards,
E. H.

I could never think well of man's intellectual or moral character, if he was habitually unfaithful to his appointments.—Nathaniel Emmons.

One backward step, one relinquishment of right in an evil hour, one faithless tarrying, has torn the laurel from many a brow and repose from many a heart.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Punctuality has been called the politeness of kings. It's more than that: it's plain good business.—Carter Dickson.

About Repentance

Lesson for June 5, 1955

IT IS easy to talk about large groups of people, even so large as to include millions of persons, as if they were one single person. We talk about "Russia" as if it were one big bandit. We talk about "America" as if the nation lived under one hat. We speak about General Motors or the Church in the singular; "it" does so and so or says this or that. Evangelists call on "America" to repent, as if America could walk down the aisle and shake the evangelist's hand and join the church. Now if there is one thing Christianity stands for, it is the responsibility of individuals, by themselves, before God. And yet there is some meaning in all the talk of immense aggregations of people as if they were single persons.

Dr. Foreman

Seducing the People

In olden times, so olden that most people have forgotten all about them, there lived a king, not well-known to fame, named Manasseh. In his time a king could "be" the country in ways that no king now enjoys. Kings in those days had absolute power. The smart ones did not push their people too hard; they only held out the carrot, so to speak, in front of them. But a king, especially when his country was a small one like Manasseh's Judah, could just about make his country do what he wanted it to do. If the king was bad, the people were bad; if the king repented, the people repented with him. The days of such kings are over, nearly everywhere. And yet, without the title, there are men today whose desires, notions, ideals, prejudices, ambitions, hatreds and loves can be so communicated to others that they can deliver the vote, if they need to, of millions who follow their lead. It is said that King Manasseh "seduced the people." He did this without benefit of radio, TV, or advertising in slick magazines. Nowadays how easy it is to seduce the millions! One "spot" on one radio station can reach a hundred thousand people. Pictures can be made so lifelike that they can deceive almost anybody that is not smart. Seducing the people is simple, if you have the money.

Half-gods Arrive

"When half-gods go, the Gods arrive," sings a poet. You can turn that around and still be right. When God goes, half-gods will swarm in. When bad Manasseh ruled his land, for a long time he would have nothing to do with the true God. But he was not an atheist, not by any means. He put up altars all over the place, even in the courts of the Lord, you could hardly get out of sight of some place of worship in Jerusalem. He dealt with mediums and with wizards. All sorts of bad religions and silly superstitions flourished under his majesty's patronage. You may be sure he was no lone idolater. You can hear them saying down on the farms, and out in the little villages, "well, if it's good enough for King Manasseh, it's good enough for me." So it is still and always. There have been times when religion "declined" as the quaint phrase puts it, here in America as in ancient Judah. But that was only the declining of the true religion. Other religions and cults and superstitions flock in to take Christianity's place. People simply will not live in a religious vacuum. They would rather be idolaters than atheists.

A High-flyer Humbled

This King Manasseh lost a war. For some time he was a prisoner in an enemy country. When he came back home again he was a changed man. Prison had given him leisure to think. Things were different in Judah after that. He did his best to undo the evils he had set the example in doing. He went to church, as we would say, and he listened to men of God. It was a little too late, for his son Amon had already gone too far in the ways of evil to turn back. But still it was well that he repented, for many of his subjects served the true God thereafter, as he did. Suppose America—that is to say, millions of Americans, leading men and women in every walk of life, repented this year of even one of our national sins—say drunkenness. It would be good to repent . . . but would that bring back all the lost week-ends?

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MISSIONARY RALLY

The Carroll County Missionary Rally was held in the Carrollton Church of God, Sunday evening with a good attendance. Invocation by the county President, Mr. Merritt Copenhaver, Taneytown.

Special musical numbers were presented by several societies. A trio, "I'll be listening, somewhere for my name," by the Winfield Church of God C. E. Society; duet, "I know He's Mine," by the Rev. Cock's daughters of Westminster Church of God.

Scripture, I Thessalonians 1—by Rev. Cronise H. Barr, Pastor Loci; Solo, "My Home Sweet Home" host church C. E.

Miss Jane Bachman, a missionary home on furlough from Colombia, South America, was the guest speaker; Scripture, Philippians 2: 14-15-16. Do all things without murmurings and disputings; That ye may be blameless and harmless the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world. Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain." Miss Bachman is stationed in Colombia, S. America. She spoke of a native named Marcelos, whom had accepted Christ and was a Christian. How they climbed mountains for 6 hours at a time, over muddy roads, to hold meetings, where, when they arrived at their destination they were greeted with men with guns, knives, stones and sticks. But somehow their lives were always spared. They finally persuaded some of the natives in the darkest jungles to become Christians. Marcelos, the native Christian recently dedicated a church naming it, "The House of Bethany" after being a faithful witness of God, and escaping the perverseness stubborn crookedness, that he met many times face to face. She closed her talk with the words, "Are you a Witness of God? Will you say, 'Here Am I Send Me!'"

This was a real Mission challenge.

The liberal offering will be used for the Missionary work sponsored by the Md. C. E. Union for the "Vivian Gay Fund" stationed in Costa Rica, Central America.

Rev. Barr spoke of a special service he held at the county jail Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 p. m. where testimony in both song and word were given to those who need Christ.

Mr. Roger L. Boone, State C. E. Pres. announced the Boat Excursion to Betterton, Saturday, June 18th. (He has the tickets) Pine Mar C. E. Day, Sunday, July 17.

Let's Think

by G. H. ENFIELD

THE PSALM OF PSALMS

When we say the Psalm of Psalms, of course we mean the 23rd Psalm. This Psalm is better known than any other. It is quoted oftener. More people know it by memory. It is used more in devotional services. It is read more frequently at funeral services.

The 23rd Psalm is a Psalm of the heart. It sprang from the heart. And it appeals to the heart. It fits man's needs as a glove fits his hand.

The 23rd Psalm offers three pictures of God:

First, as a Shepherd. He is my Shepherd; therefore, "I shall not want."

Secondly, He is Leader and Guide; therefore, "I shall fear no evil."

Thirdly, He is Host; therefore, "I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever."

In each of the three capacities, as Shepherd, Guide and Host, the Lord provides for this under His care. "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake."

A Host, He prepare a table before me in the presence of mine enemies. He anointeth my head with oil. My cup runneth over. In the Orient, to eat at one's table, means also to be under one's protection. Unguents are always an accompaniment at the banquet in an Oriental monarch's palace. The cup runneth over with abundance. "I shall not want."

Surely, in the sense of "only, nothing but", goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life. No pursuit by enemies, but the watchful protection of Heaven's wolfhounds, Goodness and Mercy shall follow me.

The person of the pronouns change as the shepherd and the sheep become more intimate. The "he" in the green pastures becomes the "thou" in "the valley of the shadow". When the sun is sinking, and the way is growing dark and ominous, the one accompanying the Shepherd through "the valley of the shadow of death" draws closer, and as though in a whisper, says, Thou art with me. There is no longer fear of torrential mountain streams, robbers from the hills, and wolves.

The rod and thy staff comfort me. These are symbols of authority, protection, and security.

Goodness and Mercy are the wolf-dogs of the valley of the shadows that pursue the traveler out into the open of liberty and heavenly light.

There must be a willingness to be led in order to secure protection, and guidance. There is too much shooting out in front of the Leader, and prospecting for one's self. From this restlessness arises much of the fret, chafing, and disappointment of earth.

The figure of verse four gives some comforting thoughts about death. It is not a state, an enduring condition, or an abiding place. It is a passage way, a transition, a valley through which to walk. The befitting pace is described as a walk.

Death is crossing over a seam in the carpet. It is the door from this world into another world. It is the gate to Life.

NEW FIRE TRUCK ARRIVED AT ROCKY RIDGE

The Rocky Ridge Volunteer Fire Co., is happy to announce the arrival of the new fire truck—a 1955 V-8 Dodge and plans are being made for "Open House" on Sunday, June 5 from 2 to 4 p. m., at the engine house. The public is cordially invited to come and inspect the new truck at this time.

The equipment and apparatus consists of a pumper of 500 g.p.m. capacity, a booster tank of 400 gallon capacity, hose, ladders and other minor equipment which is in compliance with the Maryland Fire Underwriters Rating Bureau.

Light refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fire Co.

A couple of old-timers were discussing the state of the local roads as they sat on the porch of the general store.

"Tell me", said one of them, "how is the road out past your place."

The other chewed his tobacco thoughtfully as he phrased his answer.

"Well, I'll tell you", he replied after a short pause, "that road is so blamed good that sometimes in dry weather, the cars go so fast the dogs can't even get a bark apiece at 'em."

An American was explaining to a British visitor the construction of an electrical sign his concern was about to place on Broadway. "It will contain", he said, "20,000 red lights, 16,000 white lights, 10,000 blue lights, and in the center of the sign, a sunburst of orange and purple."

The Englishman was impressed. "Most extraordinary", he said, "but don't you think old chap that it will be just a little bit conspicuous?"

A bone to the dog is not charity. Charity is the bone shared with the dog, when you are just as hungry as the dog.—Jack London.

organizations, church and school groups are invited to take advantage of this special day. Refreshments may be purchased in the park or you may pack a picnic lunch, tables available in the pavilion.

Guests present at the meeting were Miss Virginia Patterson, Washington, Mrs. Joseph Hahn, Westminster and Mrs. S. Nicholas Metcalfe, New Windsor. Following adjournment tea was served by the hostess with Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes presiding at the table.

Skilled Workers Now Dominate Labor Force

NEW YORK — Industrialization and technology have brought a pronounced change in the skill and make-up of the American working population, with far-reaching social and economic consequences, according to data compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Perhaps the most dramatic of these developments has been the diminishing role of the unskilled laborer, once such a familiar and important part of the American scene. Back in 1910, for example, common laborers represented close to a fifth of the entire male nonfarm labor force and outnumbered the craftsmen, or skilled workers, by more than a million.

Since then the number of unskilled workers has fallen by nearly two million while the skilled groups have known a big increase. As a result, unskilled laborers made up only one-twelfth of the male nonfarm labor force in 1950, and they were outnumbered by the craftsmen by a margin of more than two to one.

The number of skilled workers nearly doubled in the 1910-50 period, but the biggest gain has occurred in the semi-skilled group in which the typical machine operator is classified. There were some five million more semi-skilled male workers in 1950 than in 1910, and the group as a whole now makes up about 20 per cent of the male nonfarm working population as against 11 per cent in the early part of the century.

Water Witches: Art or Accident?

KENT, Ohio—Water witches are making water wishes come true.

Call it art or accident, science of superstition, but water witches and their tree-branch divining rods still play an important part in the hunt for life-giving water.

Water witches, or dowzers, usually have their own favorite branches to use in their dowsing operations. Popular trees for water-hunting sticks include the apple, beech, willow, hazel, peach as well as many others.

While innumerable kinds of forked branches can become magic rods in the hands of experienced dowzers, nothing will work for some would-be water witches who are not endowed with the necessary "mystic power". Holding his forked stick in front of him, the dowzer walks slowly over the area where he wants to locate water. When he reaches a spot where water lies beneath the earth's surface, the stick automatically points downward. Why it becomes agitated, no one knows. Not even the water witch.

In England, members of the Society of Dowzers report good demand for their services. The Royal Engineers, during World War II, included a special company of dowzers to assist in finding water for troops in arid regions. Their services were considered invaluable.

Sky's No Limit Where Bird Flight Concerned

WASHINGTON—How high can a bird fly? When Sid Edmund Hillary and Tensing Norkey were nearing the top of Mount Everest last year, they were astonished to see a bird flying at the 27,000 foot level.

But that particular avian high flier failed by some 2,000 feet of beating what is generally regarded as the world altitude record for birds.

Scientists photographing the sun over India once sighted a flock of geese at 29,000 feet, the approximate height of Mount Everest. In migration across the lofty Himalayas, these geese set the record.

Ornithologists for several reasons do not stress altitude records of birds. They point out that the birds themselves do not strive for marks, flying high only to clear obstacles or storms, or to find tastier insects. The record-holding geese probably could have gone higher had they wished.

Did Somebody Bad Steal Church Wedding Bells?

SAN FRANCISCO—Who's stolen the wedding bells? This was the puzzling question for a time when the wedding chimes disappeared from the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

When the bells were missed the Rev. Victor Brazzanella notified police and a search was started.

The priest himself solved the mystery. He said he was informed that his own parishioners had the chimes taken out for repairs and had forgotten to tell him.

Any drawer, and of course, that means most of them, contain assorted items which do not in themselves lend neatness and orderliness. However, when they're placed in compartments according to their size, you can keep them neat and find them in a moment.

Start in Bedroom

Bedroom chests and dressing tables are usually cluttered in the average household, so plan to start the project there. You can get a plastic knife box to keep your hose well assorted. Another and smaller plastic box such as is frequently used for spools and buttons can be used for jewelry. This fits into dressing table or shallow chest drawer.

For lingerie, handkerchiefs and scarves, use small plastic bags designed for this purpose. These will fit neatly behind the plastic compartments described above.

Sewing machine drawers can be kept neat as a pin with partitions made of plywood. Inside these compartments you might place plastic boxes which are divided to hold a spool or several buttons, pins, needles, etc.

Divided plastic boxes are wonderful for restoring order to desk drawers. You might plan to use one box to hold address book, ink bottles, stamps and address labels. Another divided box will hold pencils, pens and rubber bands. Another drawer can then be used, without compartments for stocking stationery, envelopes and postal cards.

Should your desk require more organizing, you'll find that a leather file made like a bound book will hold all manner of bills, statements, paper and memos. This is attractive enough to sit right on top of the desk.

SPRING CONCERT

Singers from the three Presbyterian churches presented the fifth inter-church concert last Saturday night, in the Taneytown church auditorium. Miss Georgia Ingram was the program leader. Mrs. Mary Rosensteel of Emmitsburg played "God of our Fathers" during the procession of 45 chorists into the church. Pastor Galambos offered the invocation. "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung by the audience. Miss Georgia Ingram greeted the guests and opened the program.

Judy Koontz from Piney Creek sang "Little Gardens" accompanied by Miss Betty Jane Stambaugh. Pastor Galambos played Christian Sinding's "Rustle of Spring" on the piano. Two Emmitsburg girls, Rebecca Hays and Sarah Gray sang a duet "Thinking of me" accompanied by Mrs. Mary Rosensteel. Miss Betty Jane Stambaugh from Piney Creek masterfully presented C. W. Barker's "Woe unto the foolish prophets", a soprano-solo accompanied by Rev. Galambos. The Taneytown Church Choir sang "The Holy City" with William Abrecht, Jr., as soloist and Mrs. Edna Stunkle at the piano. "Two Galilean Fishers" a play was presented by Stuart Peterson as narrator and two Piney Creek boys, Larry Koontz and Clyde Weant.

Emmitsburg's 17 member adult choir presented magnificently "The Lost Chord" with Mrs. Mary Rosensteel conducting. William Abrecht, Jr., of Taneytown, sang a duet with Pastor Galambos, "Living for Jesus". Miss Georgia Ingram accompanied them in the piano. Piney Creek's 12 member Youth Fellowship Choir sang two selections "Heart Divine" by A. Dvorak and the 23rd Psalm, with Miss Betty Stambaugh at the piano.

Mrs. John Francis Spangler, soprano soloist from Emmitsburg sang beautifully "The Hills of Home" with Mrs. Rosensteel accompanying. Miss Georgia Ingram led the audience into the wonderful world of piano classics by playing Debussy's "Clair de Lune." Miss Betty Jane Stambaugh sang Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" accompanied by Pastor Galambos. The joint chorus of 3 churches sang under the direction of Miss Margaret G. Shreeve, "The Heavens are telling" from Beethoven and "Beautiful Saviour" from Melius Christiansen.

Following the concert, Mrs. Lillian Crumbacker together with the ladies of the Berean Circle welcomed over hundred people in the Manse, where delicious refreshments were served, and families from 3 churches and 4 communities enjoyed a wonderful time of friendship and fellowship.

Drive Safely! Did you know that when a car is going 60 mph it can't be stopped completely under 264 feet? That's twice the distance between home plate and second, and 12 feet more.
