PAPER DRIVE

Boy Scouts Will Make Collection Saturday

The fourth of this year's paper drives will be made by Taneytown Boy Scouts of Troop 348 on Saturday, July 16, at 8 a. m. Rags, magazines, and iron, besides paper, are solicited, and Mayberry, Greenville, and Copperville will also be covered, as well as the Emmitsburg road to Pine Hill. Residents are asked to place these articles at the curb or roadside and a postcard request addressed to "Boy Scouts, Taneytown" will insure other pick-ups if desired. The collection will be made rain or shine.

Recent meetings have consisted of swims at Crouse's Mill on the Middleburg road followed by inter-patrol competitions, and last Wednesday, at the difficult feat of fire-building with wet wood after a hard rain, this event was won by the Fox and Flying Eagle Patrols under Peter Westine and Donald Sharrer, leaders, and including Ronald Putnam and Donald Reaver. In second place were the Panthers, Grant Harman, assistant leader, and Edward Reaver. Visiting with them were candidates Michael Cutsail and Richard Sell.

The week before the Flying Eagles built the first fire for a marshmallow roast, that time with Lee Sherman also helping, while the Foxes and Raccoons joined forces to put up the best-pitched tent, John Myers and Larry Weishaar constituting the Raccoon contingent in this temporary partnership.

On July 30 the troop will embark on its annual week's summer encampment at Broad Creek, Whiteford, Md., for which a large and promising group is forming. The troop campsite selected for 1955 is Cochise near Arrowhead, which was so popular last year.

INCOME TAX DISTRIBUTIONS

Maryland Subdivisions Receive $7,510,939.31

J. Millard Tawes, State Comptroller, announced today that checks totaling $7,510,939.31 are being mailed this week to the counties and incorporated cities and towns of Maryland from income tax revenue.

Mr. Tawes stated previously that during the year distributions of $3,833,764.89 had been made, which makes a total of $11,344,704.20 paid out during the fiscal years ended June 30, 1955 to subdivisions of Maryland as their share of the income tax paid by the residents.

Distribution this year is approximately $2,000,000.00 more than made during the prior fiscal year.

Under the Maryland law, thirty-four percent of the tax paid by residents is distributed to the subdivisions wherein they reside. "Baltimore City" Mr. Tawes explained, "receives 34 per cent of the tax paid by persons residing therein. This year its share is $4,461,432.45 or approximately 59 per cent of the total amount distributed. This presents an increase of approximately $700,000.00 over last year's amount."

The taxpayer resides within a rural or unincorporated area of a county, the 34 percent is distributed to the County Commissioners. If he resides within an incorporated city or town within a county, then the share is divided equally between the county and the city or town.

If the taxpayer resides within a rural or unincorporated area of a county, the 34 per cent is distributed to the County Commissioners. If he resides within an incorporated city or town within a county, then the share is divided equally between the county and the city or town.

The Comptroller stated that the matter of distribution requires considerable work on the part of the Income Tax Division. This year more than 584,000 returns were segregated by residence, the tax being paid by residents of more than 180 subdivisions totaled, and their share thus determined.

Mr. Tawes pointed out that the distribution is made from the returns. When taxpayers fail to indicate exactly where they reside, the problem is more difficult. In such cases, research work is necessary through the use of prior year returns, directories, etc.

The Comptroller also called attention to the necessity of completing the line on the Maryland return which pinpoints the exact location of the taxpayer's residence.

The distribution for Carroll County is as follows: Hampstead, $2,168.67; Manchester, $1,678.52; Mt. Airy, $1,647.51; New Windsor, $962.87; Sykesville, $2,378.72; Taneytown, $2,752.65; Union Bridge, $1,419.51; Westminster, $13,060.99; County Commissioners of Carroll County, $84,717.46.

MEETING OF KEYSVILLE CHURCH SOCIETY

The Keysville Evan. Lutheran Missionary Society met Tuesday evening to discuss the topic "What Is Happening in Japan?" The leaders were Mrs. Rachel Rostian and Mrs. Dixon Yaste. "Spread, O Spread Thou Mighty Word" and "O, That the Lord Would Guide my Ways" were the songs used with Miss Vallie Shorb at the piano. The scripture lesson was read and prayer offered by Mrs. Yaste. This was a very interesting meeting. Mrs. Yaste used the map throughout the discussion. She brought clearly to our attention the size of Japan, its large population and the part the church was playing in helping to educate and Christianize the people. It is a fascinating and challenging story. Discussions were led by Mrs. James Cushon, Mrs. Helen Dougherty, Mrs. Mary Devibiss, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Mrs. May Baumgardner, Mrs. C. R. Clute, Mrs. Loren Austin, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Mrs. Luther Keeney. Mrs. Larry Dougherty played "The Three Bs" and "Git Along, Little Dogies" and Miss Judy Kiser played "There's Music in the Air" and "Hawaian Love Song."

Mrs. Clyde Wilhide conducted the regular business meeting after which Mrs. Robert Stine introduced Mrs. Robert Hummel, of Steelton, Pa. She took the group on an imaginary airplane trip around the world. All got on board the good ship W. M. S. and were off. Miss Nancy Stine represented the Statue of Liberty. As we flew along looking back at New York harbor one could see the Statue of Liberty growing smaller. Mrs. Robert Stine, and Mrs. Gilbert Stine were the hostesses on the ship and Mrs. Hummel was the pilot. As the different countries were visited the pilot gave a description of the country and the hostesses gave souvenirs to each passenger, such as rice for India, tea for China and fans for Japan. In Ireland all kissed the Blarney Stone. As we drew near to Paris Mrs. Roy Baumgardner, Mrs. Bostain and Miss Beverly Priest modeled hats of the latest creation. The tulip gardens were very pretty. All enjoyed a very interesting and educational trip and landed safely back in Maryland singing "Maryland, My Maryland." Thanks to Mrs. Hummel and the Stine sisters for charting the plane. It meant lots of work planning and carrying out every little detail.

The hostesses for the social period were Mrs. Mary Devibiss, Mrs. Luther Keeney and Mrs. Gregg Kiser. They served iced tea, frankfurter sandwiches and pickles.

"KEEP MARYLAND BEAUTIFUL"

Avoid Cluttering our Highways with Trash

A special campaign, "Keep Maryland beautiful", has been inaugurated with Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin's appointment of a special statewide committee to carry out the theme.

W. Sherard Wilson, state 4-H Club agent with the University of Maryland Extension Service, has selected each county Extension staff to select an individual to represent the 4-H Clubs from their county. These persons will make up the 4-H Club representation of the Governor's committee. Also on the state committee are other organization members representing farm people, conservationists, garden clubs, veterans, labor, industry, youth groups and others concerned with "keeping Maryland beautiful".

To help stamp out a creeping, growing, ugly, man-made blight Maryland needs your help. You can:

1. Avoid throwing bottles, cans or other trash on highways.
2. Carry a "litter-bag" in your own car, put trash in it and empty in your own trash can when you get home.
3. Be a good housekeeper on your highway as well as in your own home or yard.
4. Help with local projects such as erecting road signs, etc.

DID YOU KNOW? Last year Maryland spent over $100,000 just to pick up trash along the highways. This figure doesn't include the cost of regular maintenance.

That it is against the laws of Maryland to throw trash on the highways? It's true. And it's a punishable offense.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness! Many individuals have said this past week, "I'll never complain about cold weather again!" I wonder if they will really remember that when cold bitter days arrive as did a few last winter.

The gladiolas around the big blue spruce tree which I purchased in the five and dime are just about ready to bloom—white ones and purple ones. Am anticipating the beauty of those special colors as I usually plant all colored gladiolas.

Have not seen but a few of those beastly Japanese beetles due to the fact, I have showered all the trees with a very special DDT powder. (Several times before July) Had all the trees thinned out by experts, also the very low branches and those touching the tree next. Such a marvelous gadget—long pole with a curved hook at the high end all the tree trimmer did was to pull the string and—Zip, fell the branch.

Did you see the little grandmother on T. V. Tuesday night with the $32,000 and ready now for the $64,000 question and all the correct answers of the Bible. Here's hoping that if she does go back for the last question that she will give the correct answer. Eh? You will know before reading this column.

So many fine good plays are on T. V. these days so do not attempt to hesitate about that purchase of a T. V. set. Don't say "I'll wait" when you can really be enjoying it all right now.

The very first cool day will drive up to Philly to see "Cinerama Holiday!"

"Love Me or Leave Me" with Doris Day and James Cagney was most interesting and musical. It is supposed to be the life story of Ruth Etting, a girl in the 20's. The coloring is most beautiful Cinema-scope and a real tender love story. It will bring tears and you will hear real loud "Ohs" from the audience when a terrific slap across the face is given to Doris Day by Cagney. However, the catchy numbers of "It All Depends On You" and the ever popular number, "You Made Me Love You" will erase that slap from your memory as the picture and story continues. Of course you will detest the brutal Cagney but that is good acting, in fact, I heard a number of people state, "Cagney stole the show!" It is being shown at the Century which is delightfully air-conditioned. Don't miss it!

If you really love that man in your life whatever you do, don't permit him to take a shower (the suddenness and shock is bad for the heart). Let him rest awhile before he eats his dinner regardless of the type of work in which he is engaged. Restrain him from constant hurrying for it is very bad for him either in winter or summer. Remember always, Mrs. Housewife, you can sit down in the house any time you desire during the day but your husband never does that unless he is really ill.

This is for the July born from June 20 to July 20th inclusive. In other signs of the Zodiac the men and women do not differ in the same sign but the 'Crab' Sign are just the opposite as to the sex. The women are great talkers and are inclined at times to exaggerate while the men are very quiet and do not make friends easily, in fact, they can count their friends on one hand although they may have a number of acquaintances. Coolidge was a typical "Crab Sign". The men are very close with money while the women of this same sign are just the opposite and would or will share anything they possess with a friend. They are very neat dressers and the women are many times quite beautiful. They are talented in art, music and love dancing. They are real 'homemakers' and prefer a beautiful home to anything else in life. They excel as mothers and always make the very finest regardless of the number of children. The men are very jealous and should not marry until late in life. They are very fine mechanics and can do anything around home.

So long, folks, until next week end D.V. Have a grand week end and be sure you slow down in everything you do this hot weather. I am,

Faithfully,

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HATFIELD PA., TIMES: "A $2,500 auto made by hand would cost $17,500—and consequently there would be very little automobile production. cause of greater productivity per man, we have so much more for so much less, that millions can buy things which they could not otherwise afford. With the passing of time, tools and machinery have gradually replaced muscular effort. Today 90 per cent of our total energy is mechanical, 10 per cent muscular. Without efficient equipment and machinery our workers could produce little more than their grandfathers. Machines don't make a few things for a few rich families. Mass production means mass distribution, mass consumption. More machines mean more goods for more people!"

BOOTHBAY, ME., REGISTER: "Suppose that each of us was assessed in one lump sum the same amount we now pay in hidden taxes. This lump sum would have a pretty sobering effect, and those of us who clamor for more and more government services and subsidies would be likely to revise our thinking considerably. . . . The inescapable fact is—that the people have to pay for what their government spends. The amount they pay is going to be the same, whether it is taken from them a cent at a time or in one fat, fearful sum."

PORT GIBSON, MISS., REV- EILLE: "Postal Service News tells the story of the jaybird, looking for nesting material, swooped down on a dilapidated rural mailbox, grabbed a letter in its beak, and flew off. A member of the family startled the bird with its heavy cargo, and the letter was dropped—an envelope containing a pension check. Those interested in improving their mailboxes can secure helpful information from their carriers."

Long, Slow Cooking Is True Secret Of Italian Cooking

NEXT time you're searching for something unusual, try this satisfying version of a famous Italian dish. It's a taste-tingling dish which is spicy and pungent with a rich and fragrant tomato sauce which brings compliments galore.

If you chill the meat mixture before handling, the meat balls are more easily formed.

Italian Meat Balls and Spaghetti (Serves 8)

- Sauce:
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
 - 1/2 cup chopped onion
 - 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 2 6-ounce cans tomato paste
 - 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 teaspoons chili powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon oregano

- Cheese Meat Balls:
- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1/2 pound ground pork
 - 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 - 1/2 cup chopped parsley
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 1 cup tomato juice
 - 1 egg beaten
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon oregano
 - 1/2 cup rolled oats (uncooked)

1 pound thin spaghetti
For the sauce, heat olive oil in large skillet. Brown onion, green

Much of the preparation for this Italian Spaghetti and Meat Balls can and should be done in advance to let the flavor ripen. Cook the sauce slowly and add the meat balls to it. Leaving in the refrigerator overnight for use the next day is a good solution.

pepper and garlic in hot oil. Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Simmer over low heat for an hour.

While sauce is cooking mix together all ingredients for meat balls. Shape mixture into 24 balls. Brown them in hot shortening. Place meat balls in sauce during the last half hour of cooking.

Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water according to directions. Drain well. Serve meat balls and sauce over spaghetti.

Try Something New With Baked Chicken

Chicken is a favorite food for many people, and they like it well in many versions. Here are two of the most delicious ways of preparing chicken that I've found in some time.

This baked chicken is rich with a sizable chunk of butter and plenty of milk while the casserole is good for family or company dinners.

Lebanon Baked Chicken (Serves 4-5)

- 1 2 1/4-3 1/4 pound chicken (ready to cook)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 pound butter
- 3 cups milk
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Roll pieces of disjointed chicken in flour and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt butter in baking dish, add chicken and bake in a hot (425°F.) oven until thoroughly browned, about 15 minutes. Add scalded milk and bake uncovered in a moderate (350°F.) oven until the meatiest pieces are tender, about one hour, turning occasionally.

Chicken Casserole De Luxe (Serves 6)

- 1 3-pound chicken (ready to cook)
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 medium onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 8-ounce package egg noodles
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 1 cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook chicken, celery and onion until tender. Remove meat from bones and chop fine. Strain stock. Add noodles to stock and cook eight minutes. Drain liquid from noodles. Combine chicken and noodles in mixing bowl. To soup add enough stock to make 3 cups and season with salt. Add soup-stock to chicken and noodles and mix. Place mixture in greased casserole and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 30 minutes.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

D. J. Hesson is off on a trip of a week or more to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Attention is called to the advertisement, in another column, of the coming of John P. Harris' New Century Shows. Trained animals, acrobatic performances and fun, are given as the chief attractions. The show is well recommended and will no doubt be largely attended.

Tyrone—The joint S. S. at Baust church will hold their annual celebration in the grove of Jacob Rodkey, Jr., near Tyrone, on Saturday, Aug. 12th., in the afternoon and evening. A band of music will be present to enliven the occasion. Prominent speakers have been engaged. Ice cream, confections and other refreshments will be on sale for benefit of the school. No pains will be spared to make this the best yet.—Messrs. Ephraim and Edward Winter, who were reported on the sick list, are at this time very little improved and are still confined to the house.—After considerable trouble caused by the wet spell, farmers have finished housing their grain and now busily engaged gathering their timothy hay. Present indications are for a very large corn crop; fodder will be immense.

Copperville.—L. D. Sell and sons have improved the appearance of the dwelling of W. H. Shriner with a coat of paint.—Miss Ethel Garner is on a visit to her brother, John A. Garner, of Rawlings, Md.—Raymond Shriner and sister, Ina, attended the Christian Endeavor convention, Baltimore.

Harney—Mrs. Henry Hyser, of Wellington, Sumner county, Kansas, is home visiting her mother, Mrs. Lavinia Shriner, and other friends.—Mrs. Jacob Newcomer, and grandson, Marion Bush, returned home Tuesday, from Arendtsville, where she was visiting her daughter Mrs. Dr. Wolff.—Mrs. J. B. Elder, son and daughter, Joseph and Pauline, of Emmitsburg, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hess.

Uniontown—Mrs. Thomas Routson is visiting her son Dr. T. Clyde Routson, of Buckeystown, Frederick Co., Md.—The Church of God Sunday School will hold their annual festival on the public school ground, on Saturday evening, July 22nd. The Taneytown Band will furnish music for the occasion.

Did you ever spend the afternoon in your doctor's office waiting to see him? Friend of mine ran into that problem the other day and finally left—and left a note for the doctor, too. It read: "I've gone home to die a natural death."

KITCHEN TIPS

This is the time of year you'll find your home freezer especially valuable. Our Home Service Advisors have discovered several freezing hints that may prove helpful—

1. Strained food for a very small child may be prepared in advance, frozen in ice cube trays and packaged, using one cube for each meal.
2. Pastries may be frozen successfully and stored up to six months.
3. Always have the makings of one or two complete meals on hand in the freezer—they may save the day in a crisis!
4. Bread that is to be made into sandwiches will spread more easily if frozen first.

It's easy to jelly consomme. Just shake can well, store in coldest part of refrigerator. After four hours, open can and spoon consomme into chilled bouillon cups.

The average housewife in her lifetime will wash a stack of dishes higher than the Empire State building. (Have you seen the new automatic dishwashers?)

Homemakers Pick Practical Features In Dream Kitchen

WHEN more than 6,500 women, along with Secretary of Agriculture Benson went through the "dream kitchen" shown at the National Plowing contest recently, it's interesting to note that they picked practical features from it which they would like to have in their own home at some future time.

Among the things they liked were a glamorous built-in oven and range unit, a "lazy susan" corner cabinet, an unusual but easy-to-keep-clean color-scheme, mirrored wall cabinets, a table top water heater and an automatic ice-maker refrigerator.

Cooking Unit Rates High
As practical as it was handsome, the built-in LP-gas unit attracted most of the attention. The oven can be positioned at a height convenient to the homemaker. Burners can be placed separately in the kitchen for step-saving efficiency. Next most interesting to farm homemakers were two "lazy susan" corner cabinets. When opened, revolving trays full of utensils or supplies can be had at finger-tip reach.

Women who visited a "Dream Farm" kitchen voted the LP-gas built-in oven as their most wanted appliance. Along with Secretary of Agriculture Benson, they inspected the handsome kitchen at the National Plowing contest at Olney, Illinois. Beverly Potter, winner of the 4-H baking contest cuts a piece of prize-winning angel food cake for the secretary.

Cocoa brown was the color used for the walls. It blended with durable, plastic counter tops in a tan linen pattern and a dark brown asphalt tile floor. Wall cabinets with mirrored sliding doors above an auxiliary wash-up sink in the utility room provided towel storage.

Table Etiquette Demands Grace

Various rules included in the etiquette of eating are all based on consideration for other people. The idea that lies at the bottom of most of the rules is that one must eat as quietly, as unobtrusively and as gracefully as possible.

Occasionally various details crop up which call for explanation. Here are some which have troubled others, and perhaps you or members of your family.

One lady says she never knows from which side of the chair she should approach the table. Where, too, should one sit in the chair?

The answer is easy: whichever side of the chair it's easiest and most graceful for her to be seated. As for sitting, it's best to sit far enough back to eat easily. Whatever position is chosen, one should be able to relax and enjoy the meal.

Fork or Spoon

Someone has asked if she could not eat very tiny peas from a side dish with a spoon rather than a fork so as to get the liquid with this Vegetable. Side dishes or vegetable dishes are no longer being used and vegetables are to be served on the dinner plate. Vegetables are to be eaten with a fork. If you want the juice, use a tiny piece of bread for the juice and eat this with a fork.

Spaghetti offers a problem to some people, but with practice this problem can be solved. Holding a dessert spoon in the left hand, wind spaghetti on the dinner fork, steadying with the spoon. Raise the filled fork of spaghetti to the mouth but let the spoon stay on the plate.

Finger Foods

Bread, rolls and crackers are meant to be eaten with the fingers. However, in the interests of consideration for others, never take a large portion in the fingers but break into small pieces on the plate and lift a piece to the mouth. Sandwiches are finger food, too. Large sandwiches should be cut into small bite-sized pieces while any filling left from them on the plate should be picked with a fork and eaten in this way.

Corn on the cob should be served in small ears or broken in two. Grasp the corn in one hand only as this is least noticed.

FEESERSBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

As the polio vaccine fiasco continues to unfold I am wondering what effect it will have upon the future contributions of money from the public who have in the past contributed so generously to all health drives. The government officials, who are responsible for the current mess do not seem to realize the extent of damage they have done to public confidence.

The public has given millions of dollars to help perfect the vaccine, but more important than the money it contributed was the unlimited faith the public placed in those persons who used the money toward a humanitarian cause. Now when the children should be receiving the results of all this faith and money, the program is bogged down in a political quagmire due to one woman's vanity. It Mrs. Hobby can do no more than to cry "socialized medicine" every time someone reminds her that she owes the public something, then the President snouder her without any further delay. Not only has Mrs. Hobby shown little concern about public reaction and her duties as a public servant, but she is displaying all the bad traits of a woman's make up by not admitting she is wrong and trying to pass the buck to someone else. Her conduct will reflect for a long time on all women who may in the future aspire to a high place in government service. There are many ready to say that there is no place for a woman in the cabinet because of their emotional instability. Mrs. Hobby has done nothing to counteract this impression.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boone, of Uniontown, Mrs. Claude Bonn, of Mt. Union and Deanne Crouse are attending the National convention of the Christian Endeavor Societies in Columbus, Ohio, this week.

David Amers have as their guests for several weeks Miss Juronna Davis, of Frederick. On Sunday the Millers attended a friendship reunion at meadow branch church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kahl, of Uniontown and Washington, D. C., have as their guest for several weeks Miss Anne Carr, of England.

Thunder storms ranged over Carroll County all last week bringing loss or ruin to some sections but to other only a trace. Some of the lightning was quite vicious. This week we are enjoying the cooler, dryer air and trying to catch up on work we put aside during the hot spell.

Mrs. Claude Deberry was given a surprise birthday party at her home Sunday by about 50 members of her family.

It seems as if the Department of Agriculture is awakening to the fact that the high cost of milk is due in some degree to the strict sanitary regulations in some areas. A certain amount of sanitary laws are necessary but some of the ideas thought up are ridiculous. One farmer's wife has long complained that the dairy barn on their farm gets done over every year while she has had to live in the same old kitchen for the past ten years. There are times when even the cows resent all the pampering they get. I wonder sometimes if the men who have written some of the health regulations have ever been around cows. The other morning I was scared almost out of my wits. A truck from Baltimore bearing an advertisement for diaper service pulled into the driveway. My first thought was that the crazy health department of Baltimore was initiating diaper service for cows. Imagine my relief when the driver asked if we had a baby in the house.

Books won't stay banned. They won't burn. Ideas won't go to jail. In the long run of history, the censor and the inquisitor have always lost. The only sure weapon against bad ideas, is better ideas. The source of better ideas is wisdom. The surest path to wisdom is a liberal education.—Alfred Griswold.

Fifty years ago wearing perfume was the earmark of vulgarity. And the use of make up was tolerated only with raised eyebrows. What would the cosmetic industry do if convention still frowned on painted women.

And what would women do if they had to live with the faces nature gave them?

One of the stores in Hanover displayed in their window last week a bathing beauty of grandmother's era. We looked at the get up for a long time and wondered how long one had to stay submerged before the last layer became water soaked. Going swimming in those days must have been quite discouraging.

A rally day will be held at Pine-Mar, Sunday by the county Christian Endeavor Societies. Afternoon and evening services will be held with a box luncheon and social activities.

Mr. and Mrs. David Buffington, of Catonsville, were recent guests of the Millard Roelkes.

Comic books in this country sell a billion copies a year, and the money involved is about 100 million dollars. This is four times the amount spent by all public libraries and is more than is spent for text-books in the nation's elementary schools. Why? No one seems to know the exact answer, but it is a pet theory of mine that comic books by the use of pictures are easier to read than other books. Since our schools are turning out such poor readers, naturally they turn to the comics which tell their story in pictures.

Apple dumping season is with us. Our own comment, is don't eat too many.—Ruth Roelke.

There seems to be a definite color scheme in the Petunia-Flocks flower bed at the home of Mrs. Daisy Dinterman right on the corner at Keysville, very pretty. Some very attractive red geraniums have been planted and are blooming at the two new homes in Keysville, one belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Grushon and the other to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stonesifer.

Recent visitors for supper at the Carroll Wilhide home, near Detour, were Bud Hagan, of Glen Arm; John Barnhardt and Morris Yoder, of Long Green, Md. They were on their way home from the Volunteer Firemen's Convention in Cumberland. They also visited another niece of Mr. Yoder's, Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and family.

Mrs. Loren Austin and Mrs. Melvin Bostian, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stunkle, of Washington, on Sunday, July 3rd.

The Keysville-Detour Homemakers will hold a covered dish supper at the home of Mrs. Cecil Priest on Thursday July 21st at 8 p. m.

We are indeed thankful for the cool breezes this morning (Tuesday) after more than a week of hot and humid weather.

It may be a mansion, it may be a dump; it may be a form of an old oak pump. It may be a palace, it may be a flat, it may be the room where you hang up your hat. It may be a house with a hole in the floor, or a marble hotel with a "man" at the door. It may be exclusive, or simple, or swell, a wee bit of heaven or one little cell. Just kindly remember, wherever you roam, that Shakespeare was right, "There is no place like home!"

BOARD OF EDUCATION

at the North Carroll and Uniontown schools. It is expected and hoped that the Uniontown project will be completed in time for use at the opening of school in September and that the North Carroll High school work will continue with the expectation that this building will be ready for occupancy in September 1956.

The Board approved the appointment of a county committee for the study of school problems including school buildings, financing, pupil distribution, school population, integration of Negroes and other important problems facing the county board. The superintendent was directed to set up meetings of this committee as promptly as possible at which time the problems mentioned will be explained and the opinions of the committee members sought for the purpose of assisting the county board in making the important decisions which confront them with respect to the coming year and those to follow. It is expected that reports from the county committee will be extremely important to the local board in making decisions on the issues mentioned as others which may arise. Recommendations had been made from the various school districts of the county for membership on this committee and after consideration the Board directed that letters be written to those who had been suggested for membership requesting them to participate in this important work. Those recommended from the various districts to whom letters will be written are as follows: Sykesville School District: Mrs. Jay Smith, Mr. Lee Forthman, Mrs. Grayson Fleming, Jonathan Dorsey, Floyd Iglehart, Wilbur Wimmer, Mrs. Frank Greenwood, Mrs. Wilbur Boller, Taneytown High and Elementary School District, Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, Delmar Little, Murray Baumgardner, Mrs. Kenneth Koutz; the Uniontown School District: Mrs. John McCormick, Mrs. Ralph Dutterer, Rev. Donald Warrenfeltz; Charles Carroll School District, Mahlon Peck, Ivan Dutterer, Jr.; George E. Thomas; Hampstead School District, Melvin Miller, Mrs. Katherine Sieverts, Mrs. Bertie Houck, Stephen A. Lerda; Sandymount School District, Howard Bonner, Mrs. Elizabeth Russell, Edwin Armacost, Mrs. Beulah Kilgore, Mrs. Mary Shilling; Mechanicsville school Dist., Mrs. Arthur Boone, Mrs. A. Olin Grimes; Freedom School District, Mrs. Edward C. Cramm, Mrs. Horatio S. Fox, Lee Miller; Winfield School District, Mrs. Robert Haight, Mrs. Evaline Krimgold, Leroy Stegman, Mrs. C. M. Waltz, Jr.; Mt. Airy School District, Sterling Cullison, Mrs. William Carter Jackson, Mrs. Virginia Linton, Charles Eyer; Westminster School District, Willis Wampler, Nathan Winestock, Urban Bowman Rev. Harold Bomberger, Rev. Harold Hodson, Rev. Paul Helm, Jesse Royer, Edward Weant, Ralph Hoffman, Landon C. Burns, Earl Beard, William M. Allenberg, Herman Ramsburg, Henry Himler, Mrs. Gladys Wimer, Dr. Lowell Ensor, Miss Mae Prince, Robert B. Pond, Lloyd M. Elderdice, Samuel L. Bare, Jr., Mrs. Brady Briceon, Mrs. Ray Riley, Mrs. Mamie Dixon, Robert Dorsey, Francis W. Gates, Rev. Harry M. Dixon, Mrs. Margaret Sheppard, Arthur Neal, Alen Collins; Union Bridge School District, Dr. Thomas Legg, Henry Kanowicz, Mrs. Joseph Coshun, Frank Bohn. The superintendent was authorized to prepare for a meeting of the above committee and to present the problems as adequately as possible with the privilege of inviting the school principals and members of the Board of Education to be present and participate in the discussions.

A number of questions were considered in connection with special work in the maintenance and improvement of buildings during the summer as well as matters related to the teaching staff for September. The Board approved the designation of custodians for service in the county schools during 1955-56 as follows: Taneytown High School, James R. Ditzler; Uniontown Elementary School, William Eckenrode; Mechanicsville Elementary, Frank Brothers; Charles Carroll School, Curvin Pickett; Sykesville School, Jno. Pickett; Westminster School, Lawrence Fleming; Westminster High School, Ollie Fritz, Luver Owens VanFossen, Mrs. Anna Cross; Westminster Elementary School, Harry Brothers; West End Primary School, Fred Jenkins; Hampstead School, Noah Bosley; Winfield School, Stanley Pickett; New Windsor School, Ezra Miller; Elmer Wolfe School, Alvin Conaway; Mt. Airy School, Leland Pickett; Johnsville School, Edward Jason; Freedom District School, George DeVries.

The Board gave approval to a number of adjustments in transfers in the teaching staff approving these on the basis of convenience to teaching and improvement in the school operations. A special report was considered from the Carroll County Public Health Department describing the health work carried on in the schools during 1954-55 and the accomplishments in school health service made possible by the services of the nurses.

Attention of the Board was called to the fact that John F. Wooden, Jr., Supervisor of High Schools, would participate during part of the month of August in a special workshop on economic education to be operated under the auspices of Goucher College at Towson. Mr. Wooden occupies an important position in this workshop and many important problems connected with the relationship of economic education to the regular school program are studied and reported upon by experts in both economics and education. The Board gave preliminary approval for the building plans at Mt. Airy for the senior high school project which is planned to be built on land adjacent to the present Mt. Airy school location. It was noted in this approval that present conditions at the Mt. Airy School are extremely crowded and that the more rapidly work can be started on the project to improve conditions the more adequately the educational needs of this part of the county will be met. The Board adjourned at 12:30 p. m. to meet for a regular meeting in August.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Children Develop Clothes Sense While They Grow

IS THERE a little girl with a birthday coming up? She's probably up to her pony tail in toys right now, but both she and her mother would welcome clothing as a gift.

Today's clothes for young girls, anywhere from age four to fourteen, are designed with real style sense. Girls, too, learn to appreciate clothes if they have something to say about its choice and thus learn many a valuable lesson about choosing and dressing.

Good Construction Grandmothers or dotting aunts who want to give a little girl something special might well pick a lovely pastel colored corduroy coat that comes with leggings to match. These are offered in delicate pink, blue, maize or white and will make the little ones look like cherubs. Naturally they soil quickly because of the pastel colors, but then they wash quickly, too. They will come through repeated washings without losing any of their original fit if they're sanforized. The lustrous sheen never lapses into a drab look.

Just like grown-ups, today's little miss wants an outfit for lounging, playing or watching TV. Made of a plaid flannel, this pedal pusher overall has a good roomy cut which will be comfortable as well as smart.

Sweaters are Practical Sweaters make wonderful gifts and no little girl can have too many because they're growing so fast. In addition she can wear them to school with orlon skirts that need be only washed and hung to dry without ever even pressing though they may have tiny pleats all around. New sweaters for little girls are as glamorous as they are for their mothers or older sisters. Made in beautiful pastel shades, they can be worn with collars or "ropes" of jewelry. If you select them in nylon, orlon or sanforized wool, they can be sudsed, rinsed, rolled in a Turkish towel and then spread to dry. No blocking is needed.

Cranberries Offer Colorful Desserts

Famous clipper ships sailing from Gloucester and New Bedford always carried open wooden casks filled with tiny crimson berries. These were cranberries which were eaten raw by sailors to prevent scurvy, a deficiency disease caused by lack of Vitamin C. Women who stayed at home made plentiful use of these cheerful looking berries, too, which are still enjoyed in these times with somewhat easier recipes. You'll like:

Fluffy Cranberry Custard (Serves 6-8) 1/2 cup sugar 2 tablespoons cornstarch 2 tablespoons water 4 eggs separated 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind

Cook the first four ingredients together over low heat until very thick, about 15 minutes. Stir in egg yolks gradually. Cool. Just before serving, add salt to egg whites and beat until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in remaining sugar and orange rind. Fold in custard mixture. Mound into dessert glasses and top with cooked whole cranberry sauce.

HISTORY OF HARNEY

PART IV

PART V

We now leave this spot and follow the stream along Mason and Dixon's line to its mouth. We look to the right of us, and we see Rock Creek, whose waters were tinged with human gore during the hard fought battle of Gettysburg, July 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, 1863, come flowing gently down past many fertile farms which are located along its banks. Just as this stream leaves the Keystone State and flows into Maryland, Rock Creek and Marsh Creek unite and form the Monocacy. Just how this stream got its name is unknown; tradition has it that an Indian and a white man met at one time upon Red Rock, our present position, and as they approached each other, the Indian said to the white man "memonocacy down", meaning he would knock him down over this cliff of rocks, and, after that the stream was called Monocacy. We pass on down stream for several hundred yards, and we see an old mill which was built by a man by the name of Sheets in 1828.

The Sheets' at that time owned a tract of about 700 acres of land surrounding this place; we are told that when the stone wall for this mill was first built, inexperienced hands were employed, and it fell down three times for them; five masons worked on the job, and one morning they went down to their work, and discovered that the wall had again fallen down; three of them went back of the house which was some distance from the mill for their breakfast, and the other two gathered up their tools and carried them across the creek on the hill. Mrs. Sheets of course asked where the other two were and was told that they had a little job of pointing to do, before they could come that it would get too dry if they left it. About this time the two gentlemen arrived, and the three left; after the two finished their breakfast they started back, but none of them ever started to work, but all "skipped out" across the creek, and left as rapidly as possible, without ever presenting their bill, and Mrs. Sheets had to get another set of masons to finish the job.

Mr. Sheets carried on the milling business for a number of years, sometimes by employing a miller, and at other times by renting the property; he afterwards sold out to Daniel Sell, who rented the property for a number of years, and finally it was owned by Peter Sell, who also rented the property until a short time before his death, when he sold it to its present owner, William E. Myers, who, in 1893, began to think he was getting behind the times, and had a full set of rolls put in and today it is considered one of the finest mills in the county; during the present summer of 1895, Mr. Myers built a new house on the property, which without a doubt is a very handsome and comfortable dwelling.

The fording at this point was very dangerous, and after a number of horses, and a man by the name of Glosser had been carried down stream and drowned, the commissioners of Carroll and Frederick counties met and decided to build a bridge across the stream, and in 1879 a large and handsome wrought iron bridge was erected, with one long span of two hundred feet across the main stream, and two short spans of one hundred feet each, thus making the entire bridge 400 feet in length. During the summer of 1890 a most terrific cyclone passed through this section, doing much damage to property, besides blowing this bridge down, but it was again rebuilt in the Spring and Summer of 1891.

We leave this spot and go down stream nearly a mile further, where at the close of last century, a little mill was built on the eastern side of the stream. Just who built the mill we are unable to say, but an old miller by the name of Shellhaus is the first that we have any account of. How long he owned the property, we are unable to say; the next owner was Abraham Null, and after some years the property went into the hands of his son, Samuel, who built a clover mill. This mill was intended to hull clover seed, and we are told, did its work to perfection. Later on, probably in 1844, Mr. Null built a large foundry and employed quite a number of hands in the shops.

During this time the clover mill was torn out, and the building used for a backsmith shop. In the foundry, Mr. Null made stoves, one of which Mrs. Lovinia Shriner has in use at the present day; he also cast a great many of plow shares, and did nearly all kinds of work belonging to the business. During this time, Wm. Crapster kept store at this place; the store was at one time flooded, and much of the goods badly damaged. Sometime during this period the mill was blown down, but was rebuilt soon after, made much larger, and did quite an extensive business; the only trouble connected with this mill, was in keeping a dam across the stream, to supply the proper water power; the dam has been torn out quite frequently, thus causing great expense to the different owners.

In 1893 while the mill was owned by Joseph Steiner, it caught fire and burned entirely down; the property was then sold to Andrew Stonesifer, who built a fine roller mill, and also put in a new dam, and today this mill stand has a good trade, and is quite a convenience to the farmers of that part of the community.

We now come back to the Lutheran church tower to take a look over the surrounding community. From this point, the first thing that we see, is that many hundreds of acres that were in woods from the beginning of our work, have long since been converted into beautiful farms with their broad acres heavily covered with a rich and abundant harvest. As we look to the south, we see in the distance the church spires of Taneytown; coming nearer we notice the village of Longville, and upon coming still nearer, we behold the stream of Alloways hurrying rapidly toward the Monocacy, and we behold upon its banks the site of an old mill, and upon investigation we find that Charles Hess grandfather of Mr. Daniel Hess, came from Germany to this country some time during the Revolutionary War, bought a few acres of timber land on the banks of this stream, and built a flax-seed oil mill and lived in the mill, and made oil of a very superior quality. Later on he built a house, and then put a set of choppers in his mill, afterwards a machine for grinding plaster was added and a saw mill was also built; we are not certain, however, that Charles Hess built all of these additions to his oil mill. Some of them may have been made after the property went into the hands of his son John, who milled for a number of years, when the property was sold to Abraham Hess, who afterwards tore the mill down, and devoted his time to tilling the soil.

When we look to the east, we see in a distance the steeples of Littlestown, and as we come nearer we behold many beautiful farms along the way. As we take a glance to the north, we behold Gettysburg with its historic battlefield, its famous Round Top, its ever green cemetery, and its beautiful monuments. As we approach our present position from that section, we see beautiful farms all along the way, and our entire surrounding presents a scene of peace and prosperity.

And now, before leaving this in the hands of some future writer, we desire to take one last look over the town, and we find we have 50 comfortable houses, 177 inhabitants, 3 stores, 2 cigar factories, 3 blacksmith shops, 1 coach repair shop, 1 boot, shoe and harness maker shop, 1 barber shop, 2 hotels and 2 churches.

A VOICE FROM THE NORTHWEST

Salem is the capital of Oregon. It is a city of beautiful homes, and well-kept lawns which are adorned with variegated flowers and shrubs. The flowers are luxuriant and gorgeous. All streets are lined with trees, many of them with cherry, peach, apple, pear, and nut trees. A number of the streets are named for Presidents, such as Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, Madison, Harrison, Garfield, Taft, and Roosevelt.

The weather was cold until Mrs. Enfield and I arrived. We were accused of bringing some of the warm North Carolina weather with us, for upon our arrival in Portland warmer weather greeted us. At present it is pleasantly cool.

We boarded a Piedmont plane at 6:30 on Saturday evening, at the Asheville airport, arriving in Portland, Oregon, on Sunday morning at 6:00 o'clock, PST or 9:00 o'clock EST.

From Asheville we flew, flight 5, to Johnson City, Tenn., where we deplaned and flew in another Piedmont plane, flight 27, to Cincinnati. At this latter city we flew, flight 44, in a plane of the Delta lines, at an elevation of 6,000 feet.

From Chicago to Portland we traveled by United Airline, flight 645, at an altitude of 16,000 feet. On this flight was an elderly man with a heart condition, who resorted to an oxygen mask between Chicago and Denver where he left the plane. After a 50 minute stop at Denver we were off on the last lap of the journey to Portland. Because of the glare of the high snow and ice-capped mountains, each passenger was given a pair of plastic sun-goggles.

On the following Friday, we witnessed with 50,000 others, from the streets, the Junior Floral Parade, and on Saturday morning, the 47th annual Floral Parade Pageantry, from the windows of our room at the Imperial Hotel in Portland. It took two hours for the parade to pass a given point, and according to estimate, was witnessed by 400,000 to half a million spectators. Never had we beheld such a gorgeous display of flowers as adorned the 50 marvelously decorated floats, representing significant events. Various cities, towns, and schools participated with one or more floats. Portland itself is called the City of Roses.

Nancy Wyly of Jefferson High School was chosen from a number of contestants as queen for the Rose Festival. The Grand Marshal was the cowboy star Montie Montana, who, with his educated pinto horse, Rex, and a nimble bit of rope twirling and lassoing of policemen, drew the usual acclaim from the spectators.

First lady of Portland, Mrs. Fred L. Peterson, and former first lady of nation, Mrs. Bess Truman, shared convertible during parade. Former President Truman, in Portland for a Democratic rally, took part in the parade, riding in an open convertible with Mayor Fred L. Peterson of the city. There were a few boos among the cheers as their car appeared, and a Democratic supporter urged "the ex-President not to mind them. 'That's all right', said the former President with a grin and a nod toward Peterson, a Republican. "The Mayor and I are splitting them 50-50."

The Golden Rose skiing races wound up the Rose Festival. This is the last competitive skiing event at Mount Hood until next winter. Twenty-three men and seven women competed.

Queen Nancy I took her royal entourage to Timberline Lodge to preside over the annual Golden Rose Ski tournament on the slopes of Mount Hood. The course was in excellent condition, the entire 1 1/2 miles which drop 2500 feet having been salted Thursday and Friday, before the ski races on Sunday. This is believed to be the first time in the United States that a whole course has been salted to provide uniform conditions.

The salting was done that neither racers nor spectators should be disappointed by lack of snow. In spite of hot weather during the last few days of the annual Rose Festival, there was plenty of snow for the Golden Rose skiing, an estimated 150-160 inches, in fact.

In another article, I shall endeavor to write about a few of the floats and the events depicted by them.

Obey God's Laws

Lesson for July 17, 1955

LAWs are of various kinds. Some laws are arbitrary, some are made by the nature of things, or rather express the nature of things. To take an example of an arbitrary law: What is the fine, where you live, for exceeding the speed limit or for parking in the wrong place? Let's say it is ten dollars for going too fast, and three for illegal parking. If the alderman, or whoever it was that made the law, should decide next Tuesday to change those fines to fifteen and four dollars, respectively, they would have a right to do it. There is nothing in the nature of things that makes parking on the north side of Main Street wrong, and nothing that makes three dollars the exact amount to charge the offender, practical though it may be.

Dr. Foreman

Some Laws Cannot Be Broken
There are other laws which are not on the statute books but are much more rigid, and rigidly enforced, than regulations about parking or school attendance. We sometimes call these laws of nature; but they are really laws of God. There is no law printed in a book anywhere that says that if a person neglects the care of his teeth he will get a toothache; but that is a law nevertheless. It is, so to speak, written into the physical constitution of every man. There is a higher sort of law still, called Moral Law, which is likewise rooted in the nature of things. Examples of moral laws: To every man belongs his due; whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap; hate and you will be hated, love and you will be loved. Such laws can be disregarded; they are disregarded every day; but they cannot be broken. They are not at all like arbitrary laws. There is a ghost town where parking spaces can still be seen marked on the pavement. But you can leave your car there now for a month and never get a ticket. The town government has just folded up and gone away. But God never folds up nor goes away. There is a corner in a city where once a left turn was permitted; now it is against the law. The traffic department changed its mind. But God does not change his mind.

How Nations Break Laws
Now, every nation, every community, every club or organization of people, has the right to make up its own constitution and by-laws, its rules, ordinances, regulations, laws and statutes. And it has the right to change these. Most nations, however, do not like to admit that there are laws which bind them. They do not like to feel that there are unchanging and unchangeable laws which govern them and all nations. Nevertheless there are such laws, laws of God; and nations have been broken for trying to break them. Consider the case of the country of Judah. Prophets had been warning that country, its leaders and its people, for years, that disobedience would bring disaster. Ezekiel, whose book makes fascinating though often puzzling reading, did make one thing quite plain: that Judah's sins had reached the breaking-point, that God's axe would fall, that Jerusalem would be destroyed. Scarcely any one believed him. But when Jerusalem actually and finally fell, then "they knew that a prophet had been among them."

Crime and Punishment
What were some of the divine laws, rooted in the nature of things, which Judah as a nation had been breaking? We can name the two most important: Love and Justice. The nation lived by hate, fear, distrust and selfishness. As a nation, they hated other nations. They tried to build a little iron curtain around themselves. They would not trust other nations and they would not keep treaties they had made themselves. They let down their moral standards to the point where the typical Judahite (to judge from the pictures the prophets paint) was loose in his relations with women, undependable and dishonest in his business dealings, irreligious even in his "religious" acts, irresponsible in his civic duties. . . . you can fill out the discouraging list from the pages of Ezekiel, or other prophets. You cannot build a good country with bad citizens, that is another law that cannot be broken, though Judah tried hard enough to break it. When disaster finally struck, the citizens were astonished; but God's prophets were not.

Hard Salt Block Proves Its Merit

Five Year Test Results Reported

Long a topic for debate, the hard salt block for dairy cattle has proven its merit in a five year test recently concluded by the animal husbandry department at Cornell University.

The test, under the supervision of Dr. S. E. Smith, showed that cows get about one ounce of salt per day from a block—enough to meet their supplementary salt requirements. Smith said this was the first scientific work done on salt requirements for cattle in nearly 50 years.

The familiar hard salt block for dairy cattle meets all salt requirements for herd, says report which concludes cattle will consume more loose salt than they actually need.

The tests proved that cows will consume more loose salt from a box than they will from a block and that the extra salt is "luxury consumption." In fact, Smith says, "cows will consume up to four times as much salt as they need, if it is made available to them in loose form."

According to Smith, cows with not enough salt will show definite deficiency symptoms. Cows with no salt develop a marked craving in approximately three weeks. They start licking stanchions, eating soil and licking the overalls of the workers. When the supplementary salt is withheld for about a year, cows decline in milk production and develop a poor appetite and heart abnormalities.

Dr. Smith pointed out that cows will recover from a deficiency within 24 hours if fed sufficient salt. Milk production goes up, their appetite is recovered, and they gradually regain their health.

An interesting sidelight of the experiment proved that it is the sodium in salt, not the chlorine, that cows need most.

Corn Silage Replaces Hay in Dairy Ration

Corn silage can take the place of some hay in the ration of dairy cows.

Feed good corn silage at the rate of three pounds for each pound of hay you take out of the rations, says K. A. Kendall, dairy production specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

At that feeding rate, the cows will get about the same total nutrients, Kendall points out. But you should still be sure that your cows get at least one pound of good-quality hay and three pounds of silage for each 100 pounds of live weight to keep production up.

Since corn silage has much less protein than hay, you'll need to feed extra protein in the form of a grain mixture along with the corn silage to be sure cows get enough protein.

The dairy scientist suggests that you feed a grain mixture that ranges from 14 to 16 per cent protein, according to the roughage quality. Lower quality roughage requires a higher protein mixture. Then feed the grain according to the production of the cows.

Trench Silo

Trench silo shown above is built 66 feet long and filled with 9 feet of silage, will hold 200 tons, enough for over 30 dairy cows. The 18-foot width is considered enough for self-feeding as many as 50 animals. Width may be varied. Concrete is most satisfactory floor, but crushed rock, railroad ties or similar materials may be used. Best time to push up bank walls is in fall, so they'll have time to settle. Trench then may be given final shaping in spring, before putting in floor and sides if desired.

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible—a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom—yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick—with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

TRAVELING

We love to travel the great highways,
Beneath the sky on cloudless days.
Along the way we onward glide,
Down by the beautiful countryside.

We cross the brook with its babbling song,
As on its way it flows along,
We cross the brook and we cross the bridge,
Down through the valley and over the ridge.

We gaze at the mountain in the distant scene,
Bedecked by trees with foliage green.
The cattle are grazing on the hill,
And all the world seems peaceful and still.

The fields are waving with golden grain
Kissed by the sunshine and the rain.
We get a breath of the new mown hay
As on the heaps in the fields it lay.

The valley and hills are filled with corn.
Refreshed by the dews of the morn.
We walk the homestead with lawn so green
Where life seems peaceful and serene

The flowers that grow by the edge of the lawn,
Bloom in the twilight and the dawn,
We hear the birds singing in the trees,
And we hear the buzz of the busy bees.

We travel on and now and then,
We stop awhile at a shady glen.
And there we take a little snack,
To satisfy until we get back.

We keep traveling on and on,
Until the pleasant day is gone,
When we come to the close of the day,
We turn back the homeward way.

The sun that sets in the western sky,
Paints the clouds that float on high.

No artist that was ever told,
Could paint a picture like we behold.

Then we wonder more and more,
Of the golden things we have in store.

With cheerful thoughts that make us smile,
We feel that living is worthwhile.

We return to our humble home,
Very thankful for our little room,
We are a little tired but still un-surbed,
Thanking God for the beautiful world.
