85c TAX RATE FOR TANEYTOWN

Sanitary Sewer System About Completed

The tax rate for Taneytown this year is 85c per $100 on real estate, business and personal property.

An ordinance was passed pertaining to the plumbing code in connecting to the sewer. It was announced that work on the sewer is expected to be completed by Nov. 30 and the disposal plant is expected to be completed within a week. Permission is expected to be granted to some property owners to connect to the sewer by the middle of this month. Carel Frock has been hired as full-time operator of the disposal plant.

W. F. Wilson and Sons, sewer contractors, were paid approximately $50,000 for work completed during September. The contractors also submitted a request for extra compensation for changes in plans.

It was announced that property owners soon will receive their tax bills, water bills and application forms to connect with the sewer. The application form must be filled out and returned to council and then permits will be greated which should be mits will be granted which should be submitted to plumbers.
Also discussed was the matter of

A TRIP TO ROCK CITY, TENN.

Leaving Taneytown picked up Rt. 40 at Frederick, to Keysers Ridge, then on 219 past Deep Creek Lake on to W. Va., thru Monongahela Forest. Then on to Charleston, the capitol of the state, where we saw the gold dome on the capitol. From there we took the new turnpike to Princeton, W. Va., a distance of 88 miles of su-perb highway containing 76 bridges and one tunnel a very beautiful piece

The next part of the trip was rather uninteresting until we reached Ashville, N. C. From there the scenery was simply grand thru the Smoky Mountains and the Indian Reservation where we saw the Indian chiefs all bedecked with finery and feathery head-gear. In east Tennessee we traveled thru a gorge the like of which we did not think existed this side of the Rocky Mountains. Next we came to Chattanooga, Tenn., and Rock City, atop Lookout Mountain. We by-passed Pittsburgh and at Bedford we came upon the Lincoln highway and with a feeling of pride we looked over the tree-covered mountains of our native Pennsylvania.

We found the roads good, with plenty of picnic tables along the way, especially at scenic points. Ohio had the best accommodations, with a well of water at most picnic tables. The entire trip was very much enjoyed, the distance covered being 1757

TANEYTOWN STUDENT HONORED

Diane Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thomas, Taneytown, was one of the 28 Towson State Teachers College students chosen as guides for the "Schoolroom Progress, U. S. exhibit at the Pennsylvania Station in Baltimore, September 27-October 3.

Contained in two railroad cars, the display was sponsored by the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, of Dearborn, Michigan, and the Encyclopedia Americana. The first railroad car contained three schoolroom exhibits including a frontier school of the early 1800's; a rural schoolroom of the 1870's; and a city schoolroom of the same period. The second car featured a kindergarten classroom; and elementary classroom featuring a television set, duplicating machine, a tape recorder, and a modern sink; an office practice classroom containing a variety of business machines; and a "dream kitchen" home economics classroom.

Among the historic classroom materials were a page from Noah Webster's dictionary notes, and a letter from one of the McGuffey brothers to a former student.

WESTMINSTER YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

> BIG PRIZE FOR THE TAX COLLECTOR

Headlines the country over were made when, for the first time, a contestant on the fabulous TV program, "The $64,000 Question", risked going all the way to win the grand prize. Had the winner, a personable young Marine captain, missed any part of the tough seven-part final question he would have lost the $32,000, less taxes, he had already won

The news reports of this, of course, said that the captain won $64,000. Actually, however, he won $35,000 or less. For the federal income tax will take about $29,000 of the prize and any state income tax will be in addi-

The tax collector didn't have to take the big final risk-and he didn't have to possess the remarkable fund of specialized knowledge that made the win possible. But just the same, he will get close to half of the profit!

Family finds telephone saved enough in one week to pay for a whole month's service

This family* kept a record of the actual travel, time and expense the telephone saved them. One week was enough to convince them telephone service doesn't cost-it pays!

Among the calls listed were those to make arrangements to have the car picked up for repairs-to order groceries-to arrange transportation for a friend, thus avoiding a long trip-to have a wedding present delivered from town. Each saved time, trouble and considerable travel expense. In fact, the actual money saved in one week by using the telephone was enough to pay for service for an entire month!

In almost countless ways, the telephone can save you money, time and trouble, too. So use it often-let it work for you. Now that you think of it, aren't there some calls you should make right now?

"Hey, Pop, there's our stop"

Since the early days of the horseless carriage, Marylanders have been buying with confidence from the marketers of Betholine and Sinclair. Almost 60 years of petroleum service have convinced motorists that they will always get the best in automotive fuels and lubricants when they drive in at the familiar Betholine-Sinclair sign. As a result of this record, Betholine-Sinclair stations have multiplied and today Betholine-Sinclair dealers are pumping more and more power into more Maryland cars than ever before. Drive in ... you'll enjoy dealing here . . . where the men in white serve you right.

Jesus Is Real

Lesson for October 9, 1955

IT IS hard to say what is the most important doctrine of the Christian religion. Probably you would get more votes for the doctrine we call the Incarnation than for any other; because so many other doctrines hinge on this one. If you do not believe in the Incarnation you haven't much left of the Atonement, and (if you really face it) you have lost what is most valuable in your doctrine of God. Be that as it may, if you asked for a vote among people who have given this some serious thought, as to what is the most distinctive Christian doctrine, you Dr. Foreman would have a practically unanimous answer: The Incarnation. This is expressed in various ways both in the Bible and in Christian theology. About the simplest way of putting it in Bible language is that "God was in Christ" (II Corinthians 5:19). The simplest way of putting it in theological language may be that Christ was #### both human and divine. Jesus Was a Real Person

You wouldn't think it necessary to hammer on the point that Jesus was a real person, that is to say that he really was, and didn't just seem to be, a child and a boy and a grown man. Yet the church has often had to call a halt to men and movements that explained-away the real humanity of Jesus till there was really nothing left of it. The great church council held at Chalcedon (the Evanston of that era) in 451 A. D. found it necessary to sayin their own way of course—that Christ is as much divine as God is divine, and as much human as you and I are human. For some strange reason, however, the reality of Jesus as a human person is forgotten or denied by men. Again and again we have to be brought up with a start by the gospel story, the story of a real man. Like all real men, Jesus grew from a real boy. The modern interest in childhood and the realization that "the child is father of the man.' The Child Grew

Legends, tales without foundation, have made the boy Jesus into a smaller-sized adult. According to some of these legends, when Jesus went to school, the very first day, he not only knew the alphabet already but he delivered a philosophical discourse that astonished the teacher. Luke does not give us any such picture of an already-grown mind in a tiny body. He gives us a glimpse of a real child really growing. At first he grew without trying, of course, as every one does. What he ate and drank made him taller and stronger. He learned the Aramaic language, spoken in his village and in his family, just as children learn their mother-tongue everywhere in the world, just by hearing it and trying to speak it, till it becomes as natural as breathing. His mind grew by what was put into it, because it was a really human mind. Dolls are all the same no matter what goes on around them; human beings on the contrary grow or shrink, depending on their surroundings. It is not too much to say that if (for instance) Jesus' mother Mary had been a different kind of person, he would have been different too. To think otherwise is to fancy Jesus a kind of doll.

The Boy Moved Forward As has been often noted, Luke uses a different word for Jesus after his twelfth year. Before that, he "grew,"—the same word used for flowers and buildings, elsewhere in the Bible. After that, he "increased"-and the word always implies will, effort. Up to a certain age a child can't help growing; he doesn't even give it a thought. But after a certain age, not the same in every one to be sure, if a person grows he has to put his mind on it; and he can choose the direction in which he will grow. Jesus could choose his friends; he could do what he would with his spare time. He grew by his work in the carpenter shop, we may be certain; but what about the hours when he was not working? When Jesus was fully grown, we know how familiar he was with the Scriptures. We know how well he understood people. Could he have achieved any of this without trying, without growing? (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S. A. Released by Community Press Service.) TANEYTOWN ORGANIZATIONS
