A VISIT TO AN OLD CHURCH

On Thanksgiving Day the Misses Englar and Mrs. Margaret Nulton while visiting their cousins, Mrs. Margaret Franquist and Mrs. Lewis Elliot, near York Springs, Pa., went to see the Huntington Friends Meeting House. This was built in 1790, which followed the first log meeting House of 1745. We got the key and entered and saw what there was to see, which wasn't much. The building is stone, has two front entrances. The steps are just stone slabs, as they were taken from the ground. There is one large room with a partition that can be lowered. The men sit on one side, and the women on the other. The plainness of the building is beyond describing. No trace of paint brush ever touching any of the woodwork. The rafters, uncovered, added to the barrenness of the build-In one end of the room was a ing. small fireplace, and a pile of wood beside it. The only means of heat. Before the fireplace were a couple of small benches. The cemetery is be-side this church and it is well kept.

What a contrast to the churches of today—with beauty and comforts. From the number of benches and the size of the room these Friends must have been very faithful in their comng to meeting. One has to admire the devoutness of the faithful few who are left and still gather in their saced house. During nice weather they net the first Sunday afternoon of each month.

NOT JUST FOR A DAY-BUT ALWAYS

The people throughout the nation will again be called upon to put forth their reports to make a success of the nation's second S-D Day, Thursday, $4,000 a year-the check would have must be found for our country's pri-December 1.

Day, safe-driving Day might be, "So what? It doesn't concern me a bit. I'm a good driver".

To each of you who feel this way, please think this over carefully. Last in upper brackets. Strange as it seems, a News Review. very large percentage of those people who were killed and injured were NO PAPER CARRIED THE STORY people like you-good drivers and careful pedestrians. It wasn't only the incompetent and careless who died or were hurt.

I venture to say, however, that each one of those unfortunate people whose lives were snuffed out from these collisions, minutes before they died, may have had the same feeling about safety programs that it did not concern them. Many of these seriously injured whom I have interviewed have confirmed the fact that they thought accidents were always meant for someone else until it struck home to them. This information, I have picked up from injured persons in never forget it. emergency rooms at the hospitals, on the scene of accidents while awaiting to be removed to the hospital, and and from others permanently crippled speaking from wheel chairs. Many clergymen have also told me of the remarks made to them by people who were survivors in cars involved in these death-dealing crashes. The people have told them that they always thought these are the kind of things among the millions of motorists who that could not happen to them or never make the headlines. They had their families. President of the United States thinks happy days had a happy ending, it does. So do al lthe forty-eight governors and the Mayors of the cities throughout the entire nation, because they have all endorsed the S-D Day mon sense driving are evidence by acprogram. No one has the idea that a single day's effort will solve the traffic accident problem, but certainly the ten days prior to S-D Day and ten days following S-D should make everyone in the state safety conscious. Last year on S-D Day, Maryland did not have a fatal accident. There were no fatal accidents for the next two days following S-D Day. Also, Maryland had fifteen counties that did not have a single traffic accident of any kind. There were no injuries, no death, or no personal or property damage. These counties are as follows: Allegany, Calvert, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Garrett, Harford, Kent, Queen Anne, St. Mary's, Somerset, Talbot, Washington, Wicomico and Worcester. This proves without any question of doubt that it is possible to reduce the number of traffic accidents. We believe that this was as a result of the stepped up safety campaign. We have a perfect record and it is the hope of the Governor and every member of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission that we will be able to wire President Eisenhower at the end of S-D Day to advise him that Maryland did not lose its good record of last vear.

(Sciurus niger bryanti or sciurus niger neglectus.)

Note: S. Niger bryanti is the scientific name applied for many years to the large, gray fox squirrel that is found on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. However, recent studies revealed that this mammal had been given the name of Sciurus niger neglectus; but there is a question in the minds of many whether the squirrel now existing in small numbers in Dorchester and surrounding Counties is typical "niger" or a sub-species larger than niger. Therefore both names are given here.

The State of Maryland?" Executive Department GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION "S-D DAY" - - "SAFE DRIVING DAY" Thursday, December 1st. 1955 The accident rate on public highways is a matter of immediate and serious concern to all citizens. Nearly 200 national organizations have joined with the President's nmittee for Traffic Safety in sponsoring the second nationwide "S-D Day" -"Safe Driving Day", Thursday, December 1st.

Fifteen Counties in the State of Maryland on S-D Day last year wers accident-free, no deaths, no personal injuries and no property damages from traffic accidents.

This demonstrated that highway accidents can be reduced when motorists and pedestrians practice safe driving and safe walking.

The purpose of Safe Driving Day is to demonstrate the necessity for year around public support of sound, proven traffic safety programs.

Therefore, 1, Theodoge R, McKeldin, Governor, do hereby proclaim the first day of December, 1955, to be "S-D DAY". -"SAFE DRIVING DAY" in Maryland, and urge all citizens to practice safe driving, not only on that day . in daylight, dusk and darkness - but every day the year around, and to cooperate fully with the safety programs of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission and President Elsenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety.

In Loving Memory of our dear father and husband, CLEVE WEISHAAR, who passed away 2 years ago, Nov. 28, 1953

God saw the road was getting rough, The hills were hard to climb, He gently closed his loving eyes, And whispered "Peace be Thine" His weary hours, his days of pain His weary nights are past His ever-patient worn out frame Has found sweet rest at last. Loving WIFE and SON.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindnesses shown us during the sudden illness and after the death of father, Mr. Sterling A. Stull; for the many expressions of sympathy and floral tributes; also for the use of the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company ambulance

Mosquitoes May Cause Diseases Transmit Pox From Infected Flocks

Fowl pox, or sore head, of chickens, the dreaded disease which carries with it a great loss in egg profits for the poultryman, may be transmitted by the mosquitoes.

At least, it's a logical conclusion, say poultry experts at some of the nation's leading colleges. They point out that the disease is always more prevalent during the season when mosquitoes are plentiful, making "it appear that mosquitoes may be one medium through which the fowl pox is transmitted from flock to flock."

Where laying flocks come down with fowl pox, geveral weeks is required for them to recover. Mortality is usually low but the losses of egg profits are tremendous. Some poultrymen report the loss of 75 cents a bird in egg profits as the result of fowl pox.

This is a great loss though not unusual, but still a loss that can be avoided. It costs approximately one cent to immunize a bird against fowl pox. It can readily be seen that farmers who are

Poultry farmers should immunize their birds when they are between eight and 14 weeks of age and on range, using any standard fowl pox vaccine. The vaccine should be first checked for the expiration date.

European Farm Tour

How farming is done in other parts of the world will be seen by a number of American farm-ers accompanying Louis Bromfield, author and farmer, on a Friendly Farmers Tour to Europe March 6 to April 13.

Scandanavian Airlines System, Inc., announced recently that Mr. Bromfield will conduct the tour for two groups of farmers and their friends. One group will leave from Los Angeles, the other from New York, with the two groups meeting in Copenhagen.

Utilizing the facilities of private motor coach, plane, train and special travel counsel, the tour will cover the richest farming sections of Denmark, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, England and Scotland and will include visits to famous agricultural accomplishments as well as the original stock farms of today's breeds.

Those from the New York area taking the trip will pay an all inclusive price of $2,093.70; those from Los Angeles, $2,366.89, which includes hotels, meals, sightseeing, etc.

Mr. Bromfield is as famous for his potatoes, tomatoes, wheat, vegetables and herds, raised at 'Malabar Farm,'' as he is for his best sellers, "Mrs. Parkington" and "The Rains Came."

His Demands

Lesson for December 4, 1955

CHRISTIAN living is not a matter of vague general good will. A character in a movie remarked: "I'm not a mean man. If I heard that my neighbor's children had been eaten by wolves, I would feel some regret." Well, of course that didn't make him a Christian. (He turned out to be the villain, by the way.) But there seems to be a number of church members and others who think that being a Christian calls for nothing more than being generally at peace with the world like a turnip. Being a Christian is Dr. Foreman a far more demanding thing. And the demands are Christ's dedemands. He is not a trademark. a portrait of a Founder beaming on us benevolently from the wall. He is the living Christ, Son of Man and Son of God. He makes demands on his disciples, and he has a right to make them.

Discipleship

Those who were closest to Jesus in Galilee, those with whom he took the greatest pains, were called Disciples. Now the least that "disciple" can mean is "learner." The first demand that Christ makes on us who would call ourselves Christians, the demand preliminary to all others, is that we learn of him. We never should assume that we know all about Jesus-his character, his teaching, his purpose. It is a sobering question: How much of our behavior, our attitudes, our thinking in various fields, our relationships with other people - how much of this did we learn from Jesus, and how much did we copy from other persons, and how much is our own invention?

Decision

Another demand Christ makes of us is decision. This in three ways: decision for him, decision about him, decision with him. It is specially these last two that are highlighted in this week's passages from Luke. The decision for Christ is the point at which one begins to be a disciple. But besides learning, the Christian disciple has to decide, and act accordingly, about some questions that affect him vitally. One is the

Army Modernization Program Includes More Helicopters WASHINGTON - The United States Army is due to have a new 3-D look by mid-1959 and the third dimension will be one of height. In a modernization program designed to bolster the Army's aviation strength over the next 57 months, plans call for a six-fold increase in Army helicopter strength. In addition, greatly increased numbers of light utility aircraft will go into service for artillery spotting, reconnaissance, command and courier missions, column control, transportation of Army supplies and units, medical evacuation and aerial photography. Experience in Korea and World War II already has resulted in establishment of a sizeable Army air service. Today, the Army operates 3,300 aircraft, with an additional 600 light planes assigned to the National Guard. These planes give the traditionally earthbound troops vastly improved mobility, freeing both men and equipment from the limitations of muck, mountains, morasses, and roads.

Emphasis will be placed on a' build-up of Army helicopter strength, which now stands at less than 200. Under the present setup, most of the 200 helicopters are assigned to six Army transportation companies (each with 21 cargo and two utility 'copters), with the remaining rotorcraft distributed among the Army's 17 divisions.

By mid-1951, the Army's helicopter strength should rise to about 1,200. Twelve cargo battalions (36 companies) will account for 756 cargo and 72 utility helicopters. In addition, 26 to 28 helicopters and 16 fixed-wing aircraft will be assigned to each of the Army's divisions

Eye Uses Vitamin A To Help Us See

CHICAGO-What sort of adjusting mechanism allows us to see in near-darkness? Science says it's due to a substance called "visual purple" or "rhodopsin," which the eye manufactures from Vitamin A in the circulating blood stream.

We're temporarily blinded by approaching headlights because light bleaches out the visual purple, turns it yellow, and converts it back into Vitamin A, until the eye makes up a new supply.

The retina at the back of the human eve contains an amazing network of millions of nerve ends.

some called "rods" and others 'cones," because of their different shapes. The rods are spread over the entire surface of the retina, and respond without great detail to light of varying brightness and to. form and movement. The cones are in the center only, and respond in finest detail to color, as well as to light, form, and movement. We see mainly with the cones in daylight, when the pupil opening is small, but the rods take over the principal job in dim light. when the pupil is wide open.

Q—How can I replace old win-dows and still maintain the au-thenticity of an early-American house? A—This probably means there is not enough electricity coming into the kitchen. When the lights dim, this indicates that an ap-pliance is taking some of the elec-tricity needed for keeping the lights bright. The remedy is to have an electric circuit in the kitchen. decision about Christ which Jesus pushed on his disciples. "Who do you say that I am?" Jesus put this question only after they had been disciples for some time. (Why?) But it can be answered at any time, and it must be answered some time, if we have any title to the name "Christian." How seriously do we take Jesus Christ? That depends on what answer we give to his question: What do we think of him? Who and what is he? The more fully we know his importance, the more seriously we shall take him. Is he a dreamer, a poet, an impractical idealist? Is he a child of his age, important then, but now such a man as we can safely neglect? Is he a noble thinker, a stirring leader of men? Or is he, as Peter dared to believe, the Son of the living God? Does he come to us with the authority of one man's opinion, or does he speak as an ancient sage, or does he speak with the wisdom of the Almighty? He demands a decision.

Denial of Self

Now if we have answered the first two demands. for discipleship and for decision, we may be ready for the third demand. (This is the decision with him, spoken of just now.) We shall pay very little attention to this if we have not rightly met the other two. If we are not true learners we shall not even hear this, or we shall misunderstand it. If we think less of Christ than we ought to think, then this demand will seem egotistic, unreasonable, suicidal. It is only the Son of God who has the right to make such a demand. It is for nothing less than denial of self. There is a cheap substitute for this which is sometimes mistaken for it. It is called "self-denial" and may mean no more than going without ice cream for a while, doing without some luxury or other. Denial of self is something different entirely. Jesus puts it in terms of a crucifixion. To take up a cross was to be already on the last mile. To deny the self means to cease being one's own center-of-the-universe. It means "love thyself last." It means dying to oneself, as Paul put it, and living to God. It means 'Not I, but Christ, liveth in me.'

Railroads Speeding Up For Faster Travel

WASHINGTON-Railroad timetables are being revised to provide faster train service on major lines, thanks to diesel engines.

In recent tests a new dieselelectric train called the Talso reached a top speed of 102 mileJ an hour over the New Haven railroad's shore line. Officials hope to have the new equipment in operation sometime in 1955, maintaining an 85-mile-an-hour average between New York and Boston. which would cut more than one hour from the New Haven's present four-hour running time.

Fastest regular schedule now is the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad's Zephyr, run between East Dubuque, Ill., and Prairie du Chien, Wis. The train covers 54.6 miles at an average speed of 86.2 miles an hour.

The Illinois Central Railroad averages 81.8 mph. on a 53.2 mile run between Effingham and Centralia, Ill. .

Woman Asks Police to Make It Stop Raining

OGDENSBURG, N. Y .- Except for one entry Patrolman James E. Doe made on the police blotter during a recent rainy day, things were mighty dull.

The entry went like this-"Attention: Mark Twain! At 10:51 a.m. E.D.T. a telephone call was received at this station from a person (female) who refused to offer any identification and who demanded in a stentorian tone that the department take immediate action to prevent further rainfall."

No Ten Per Cent Here DALLAS, Tex. – Mrs. Lucille Gregory, 44, a gray-haired waitress at a 'drive-in restaurant will confirm the fact that they do everything big in Texas

Mrs Gregory said a customer left her a $151 tip for serving him a $1.50 steak.

She said a "nice looking man" in his 50's came in during the rush hour. She found the tip under a plate after the man left.
